

Increase Dividend First Federal Will

First Federal Savings and Loan Association announced today an additional dividend of three and a half percent a year for the first half of 1957. The announcement was made by Howard Paville, president, at a meeting of the directors of the association's office.

The third quarter will pay a dividend on Dec. 31 at the rate of three per cent a year on savings credited as of that day, it was said.

In arriving at the decision to increase the dividend rate by a half per cent a year, the board members reviewed the 1956 operations and studied forecasts for the coming twelve months.

"These forecasts feel that the coming year will be fully as good as the one just closing. That in itself says a great deal," Paville said. "We know that Florida is one of the fastest growing states in the nation, so that adds optimism. Our community looks great for 1957."

"That concerns us most of course. Our feeling now, as it always has been, is that we must keep up in the development. The funds placed in savings accounts are used to build, buy and improve homes as borrowers avail themselves of these savings."

The First Federal officer continued that business men know that people could not stay here without homes in which to live and that more people meant more business; money kept and used "at home" led to an expanding local economy.

$26 Is Needed For Relief Quota

Only $26 is needed to meet the quota set for Seminole County in the Hungarian Relief Drive which is being conducted under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

Frank Evans, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross, revealed this morning that 44 of the 67 Florida counties have either reached their quotas or have over-subscribed them.

Seminole County has not yet met its quota of just $485, said Evans, and "we're told on every side that we are prospering."

Ike's Fiscal 1958 Budget Is Expected To Call For Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's fiscal 1958 budget is expected to call for more than $2 billion over this year, it was learned.

The budget will balance for the third straight year, informed sources said, but substantial tax cuts are out for the time being. This includes the small business tax relief proposed by a presidential cabinet committee last summer.

Exact details of the budget are under secrecy wraps until President Eisenhower submits it to Congress in mid-January. But it is certain to include bigger figures for defense, atomic energy, farm programs and interest on the public debt.

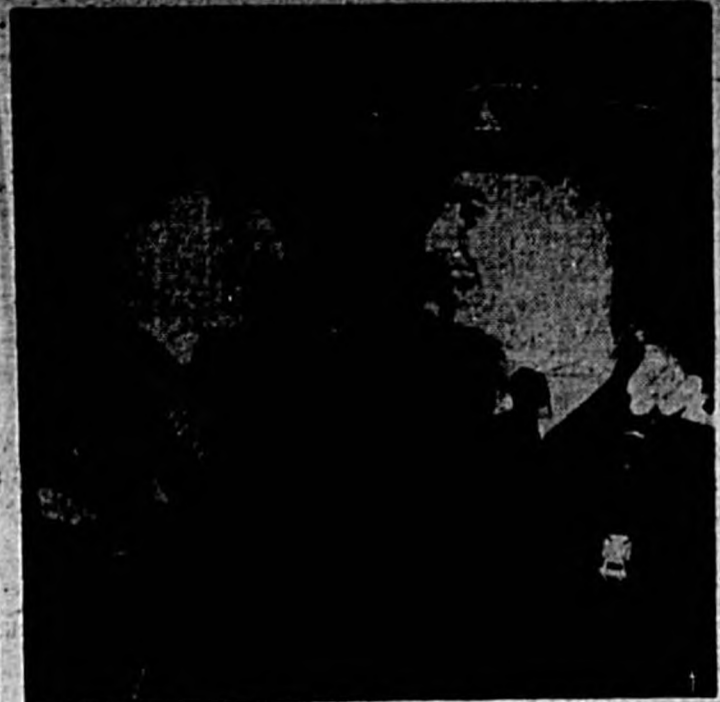

Bank will add to spending if the British draw on it.

The second biggest budget item, interest payments on the national debt, will rise 200 or 300 million over this year's $7,100,000,000.

Farm programs are on the books for the current year at $5,700,000,000. Expansion of oil bank participation and increased price support payments for this year's record crops are expected to push the total higher.

The Red regime's immediate problem was to get coal mines into full scale production. An attempt to pressure "volunteer" workers into the mines failed and the government announced it was "drafting" peasant farmers to work coal mines in the Pecs area. IT WAS BOUND TO HAPPEN sooner or later. Jimmy Durante met a girl whose nose was even bigger than his. "It's meant a fortune to me," said Jimmy, "but I imagine it's a cause of some embarrassment to you. Why don't you get it fixed?"

Defense Gets 2 Billion

The projected increase for defense is roughly 2 billion.

Congress will again be asked to increase revenues by raising postal rates.

The budget is for the 12 months starting next July 1. It will be the largest in peacetime history.

In the current year the government is spending almost 70 billion and taking in about 71 billion in taxes and other revenues. The economic boom may further swell tax income.

The latest official figures published in August estimated expenditures at $65,100,000,000 and income at $69,800,000,000. This would have meant a 700-million surplus. But well qualified analysts now say these totals are too low.

Prediction Necessary

No budget figures are concrete until Congress approves them. In presenting the fiscal 1958 outline to Congress, Mr. Eisenhower must in effect predict what will happen in the following 18 months, with no sure knowledge of how the economy or the international situation will turn.

Biggest item in the new budget is defense—$6 billion. The Middle East crisis has not altered defense spending plans but rising prices and development of better weapons have.

The Air Force will get most of the 1-billion defense increase over this year and half of the defense total.

The Navy will get about 10 billion and the Army about 9 billion.

The Atomic Energy Commission is spending about 2 billion this year. It will get a little more for fiscal 1958.

Aid Level Unchanged

Foreign aid spending will continue at about the current level—$4,200,000,000. Reports the government is considering a little Marshall Plan to help Western Europe in its Post-Suez financial dilemma have been squelched.

Abdominal Noises Help Doctor Diagnose Trouble

By HERMAN N. PUNDSEK, M.D.

EVER listen to your stomach? You'd be surprised at what it has to say.

The growls and gurgles of abdominal organs which a physician hears through his stethoscope generally give him a pretty good idea of what is going on inside. They aid him in diagnosing various cases.

Origin of most of these sounds can be classified as active or as passive.

Active Sounds
Active sounds are noises caused by the passage of contents of the intestine and contractions of intestinal musculature. When the bowel is distended with gaseous or fluid contents, you can hear a "fluid" sound.

Passive sounds, on the other hand, are produced when a portion of the intestine, which is greatly distended with fluid or gas, moves because of a slight change in the patient's position or because of his breathing. In such instances, you can hear—with the aid of a stethoscope, of course—a run of gas bubbles rising to the surface of the fluid.

When this is heard, but there are no active sounds, it usually indicates that paralytic ileus is present in some degree. When fully developed, paralytic ileus has a characteristic "melody" of high-pitched sound as a few gas bubbles rise to the surface of a sense loop of intestine shifted prolonged the healing process.

either by respiratory or external movements.

Incidentally, the pitch of these various intestinal noises is another distinguishing feature. This varies from the loud low rumble which undoubtedly has embarrassed many of you time and time again, to a high pitched "beep" of an intestinal wall tightly stretched.

In cases of acute intestinal obstruction, high-pitched notes will be produced by the tense gut. In chronic obstruction, however, the pitch is low because the bowel is not distended.

Abdominal noises also are an aid in diagnosing stages of peritonitis. Increased activity of the gut is noticed in local peritoneal irritation. The sounds of intestinal movements spreads as peritonitis advances.

Then, in general peritonitis, intestinal movements halt completely and there are no sounds at all.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. A. What prevents a fracture from healing?
Answer: It may be due to improper setting, scar tissue or soft tissues improperly located between the healing sites of the broken bones. Sometimes failure to consume a diet adequate in vitamins and minerals may be at fault. The older the person, the more

11 Die As Military Transport Crashes While Trying To Land

McGUIRE AFB, N. J. (AP)—The Air Force said today 11 persons were killed and 26 injured when a C-121 military air transport crashed and burned Sunday while attempting to land at Dhahran, Saudi Arabia.

The announcement said the 26 injured were in "good condition" at a Saudi Arabi hospital.

There were 37 persons aboard the $1,500,000 Super Constellation when it crashed at 3 p. m. one mile east of the U. S. airbase in Dhahran.

An Air Force team was to fly from the United States this afternoon to investigate the crash.

The four-motored plane carried about 34 persons when it left McGuire AFB Dec. 28 for the journey to the Azores, Tripoli in Libya and Dhahran. The flight originated from Charleston, S. C. with a crew of 11.

The craft discharged a number of passengers at the Azores. Earlier, a Military Air Transport Service spokesman said the plane carried "military personnel and dependents—but more military than dependents."

The plane originally was believed to have carried 41 crewmen and passengers when it crashed a mile from its destination. The plane burned on impact. Officials said it was "badly damaged."

Association Seeks Largest, Smallest Product In State

The Florida State Retailers Association is looking for the largest and the smallest product manufactured in Florida.

There is all kind of conjecture as to what these two products actually are. Suggestions range from dignified to doughnuts, but neither is correct.

Extensive publicity awaits the largest and smallest Florida-made products and the companies which manufacture them. The retail association's search for them in connection with the state's second annual Festival of Florida Products, February 14 to 23.

Nominations for the biggest and smallest products of Florida industry should be sent to the Florida State Retailers Association Headquarters, Box 735, Winter Park.

The merchants' organization this week is alerting all Florida retailers to the advertising potential of the festival program. A special brochure lists a series of suggestions on store cooperation, ranging from window displays to band concerts.

The Festival of Florida Products is a perfect medium for dramatizing, to residents and tourists alike, the state's phenomenal advancement in agriculture. (Continued on Page Seven)

Plan Told To Resist Advances

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats today laid plans for a "microscopic" study of President Eisenhower's expected request for authority to use armed force if necessary to keep Russia out of the Middle East.

They made clear that the President will have to do a major selling job to win congressional approval of the so-called "Eisenhower doctrine."

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which he is a member, will study this "pretty delicate and far-reaching proposal" thoroughly. The committee member said it was "premature" for him to say whether he is for or against the proposal. But he also pledged a "thorough—and I mean thorough"—study of "what led up to this debacle" in the Middle East.

Government sources disclosed to the press over the weekend the administration's plan for resisting possible Russian advances in the Middle East. The sources said it is felt the United States must step in to fill the vacuum left by the sharp decline of British influence in that area.

The plan includes two main points: a warning to Russia to keep "hands off" the Middle East, backed by a threat to counter any Russian move there with U. S. armed force, and an economic aid program running possibly as high as 400 million dollars to help Middle East nations maintain their economic independence.

The President is expected to ask Congress for a declaration of policy that the United States would use military might, if necessary, to block any Soviet aggression or subversion in the area.

New Sign Directs Incoming Traffic To Business Area

A huge neon sign directing incoming traffic from the north into the business district of Sanford was erected at the corner of West First St. and French Ave. Saturday morning.

The sign, authorized by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, measures 15 feet long and is six feet high.

Workers completed the erecting of the sign late Saturday afternoon and it was turned on Saturday evening.

The sign, in the shape of a huge arrow, is constructed of red glowing letters and is bordered with a brilliant green.

It is erected on an eight inch steel pole 10 feet from the ground and is visible from the turn into French Ave. from the Lakefront road. It is placed on the northeast corner of West First St. and French Ave. and faces north.

Flames Demolish Frame Dwellings; Others Threatened

Fanned by strong blizzard-like winds, flames destroyed two frame dwellings just outside the city limits in Goldsboro and threatened two more immediately across the street from them, Saturday morning shortly after 10 o'clock.

The Sanford Fire Department answered the alarm at 1400 Dixie Way, but were unable to fight the blaze since the two houses were located about two city blocks from the city limits line which runs along Roosevelt Ave. in front of Crooms Academy.

A City Ordinance prevents firemen of the City Fire Department from answering alarms of fighting fire outside the city limits except when homes are registered with the City.

Only the Sanford Naval Air Station fire apparatus kept the fire from spreading to the two frame homes opposite the holocaust that reduced the four and five room homes to ashes.

The two houses were occupied by brothers, Cleophas "Boy" (Continued on Page Seven)

County's Business Increases 64.2 Pct. In Last Ten Years

The business growth of Seminole County was underlined this week when the physical count of names of businesses listed in the November, 1956 Reference Book of Dun & Bradstreet was completed. The new count showed an increase of 64.2% in the last ten years, according to C. L. Hook, District Manager at Jacksonville, which office covers this area.

He disclosed that in 1946, there were 263 rated businesses listed in the towns comprising Seminole County, and the count of these same towns in the new book showed 435 names. The Reference Book lists commercial enterprises—manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, and other businesses generally—those buying regularly on credit. It does not, however, include some service and professional establishments, such as real estate brokers, barber and beauty shops, stock brokers, etc. This figures for all businesses in this (Continued on Page Seven)

Tourist Throws Rock At Mona Lisa On 'Whim'

PARIS (AP)—The Mona Lisa smiled her enigmatic smile today while experts touched up the minor damage inflicted by a heedless Bolivian who flung a rock at the painting on a "whim."

Damage to Leonard Da Vinci's great 16th Century masterpiece was reported "slight" by museum art experts, but they said it might have been "irreparable" if it had not been guarded by a protective plate of glass—the only painting in the museum so protected.

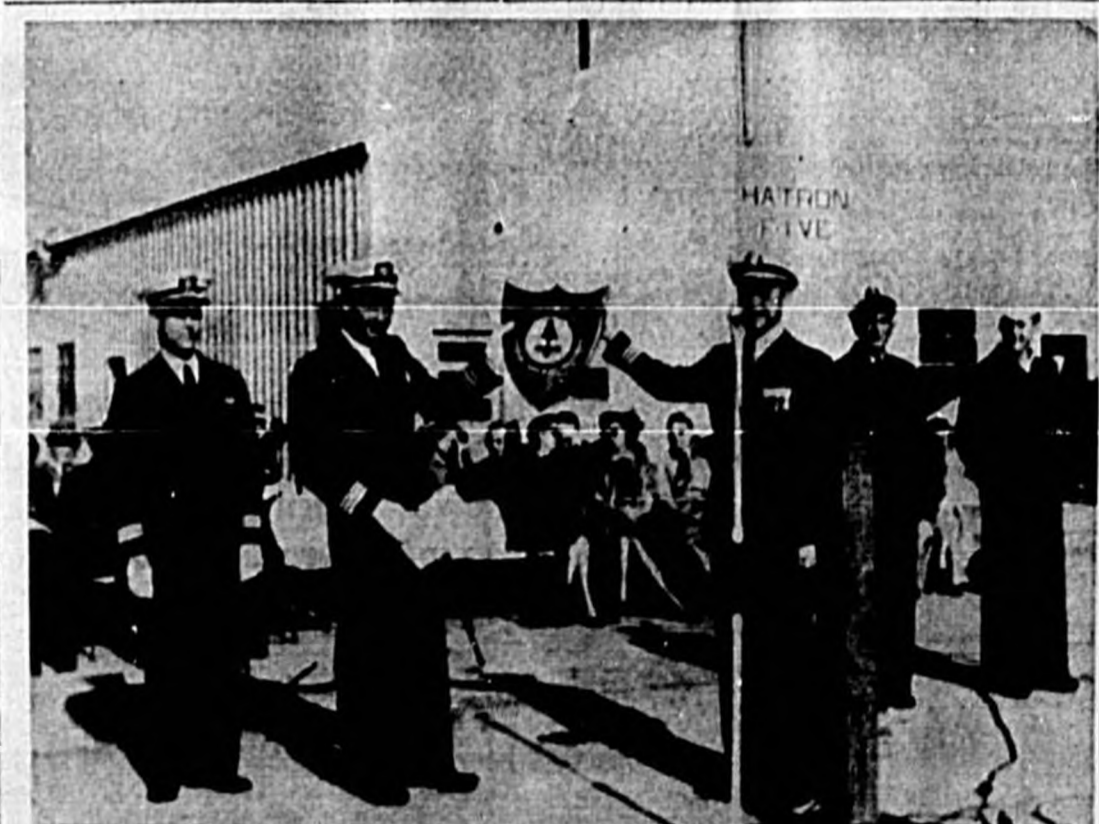

The stone shattered the glass in the lower left hand corner of the painting, far below the famous smile, and flaked a chip of paint the size of a fingernail off the left elbow.

A small hole was made in the Mona Lisa's dark brown robe but not enough to hurt the value of the picture the Louvre says is "priceless" and which art experts say is worth more than one million dollars.

Ordinance Okayed Today By Officials

The special meeting was called by Mayor F. D. Scott. A session of only five minutes was necessary for the roll call vote approving the ordinance. Delivery of the certificates is expected by Feb. 1.

'Savage Sons, Get New Skipper

In a traditional and impressive change of command at the Sanford Naval Air Station, Cdr. J. M. Tully, Jr., relieved Cdr. P. H. Speltz as Commanding Officer of the Navy's famed Heavy Attack Squadron Five.

While the squadron personnel, attired in full dress uniforms, were assembled in parade formation, Cdr. Speltz began the ceremony with the reading of his orders which relieved him as Commanding Officer and further assigned him to duty with the Bureau of Aeronautics. Cdr. Tully then read his orders assigning him to duty as Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Five.

In assuming his duties as the new "Skipper" of VAH-5, Cdr. Tully became the ninth Commanding Officer of the renowned "Savage Sons of Sanford". He had previously been the Squadron's Executive Officer for 18 months. Cdr. Tully graduated from the United States Naval Academy in December 1941. He then served on the USS Clark which served in the Battle of Guadalcanal and on the USS David W. Taylor which was engaged in the occupation of Kwajalein and Majuro Atolls.

In April, 1944, he entered the Navy Flight Training Program and received his Naval Aviator Wings in August 1945. Since then he has served in tours of duty with Fighting Squadron 98 at Los Alamitos, Calif.; as Commanding Officer of Carrier Air Service Unit 33, also at Los Alamitos; and as Executive Officer of Fighting Squadron 19A aboard the USS Boxer. This was followed by a duty assignment in the Office of Naval Operations after which Cdr. Tully served as Assistant U. S. Naval Attache and Assistant U. S. Naval Attache for Air in Mexico City, Mexico, with additional duty in the same Attache duties to the Embassies at Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica and as Assistant Naval Liaison Officer to the American Council in Belize, British Honduras.

His outstanding work in the assignment has been evidence by commendations for subsequent recalls of short periods to Central America during troubled times of flood or revolution. Cdr. Tully presently resides with his wife, Ruth, and their two children at 2506 Inequus Ave.

Cdr. Tully relieved Cdr. P. H. Speltz who took command of Heavy Attack Squadron Five in March of 1955. During this period with Cdr. Speltz in command the famous squadron has added many notable accomplishments to its illustrious record as the Navy's oldest Heavy Attack Squadron. In his farewell remarks Commander Speltz commended the Officers and men of the squadron for their outstanding performance in carrying out their squadron's mission as the Navy's first and strongest striking force.

The "Savage Sons of Sanford" squadron was first commissioned in 1948. Their first efforts were to prove the feasibility of the Navy's long range attack capability. Part of this effort resulted in (Continued on Page Seven)

BOTH SIDES OF THE 1957 inaugural souvenir medal are seen in Washington, where the design has been cast in both silver and bronze. The medals have been made in gold for President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon, whose profiles appear on the front.

SHOWN IN THESE FIRST official photographs is the new U.S. Air Force B-58 bomber, the supersonic Convair "hustler," as it made a test flight over Fort Worth, Tex. At top, the delta-winged craft sits up dust as it takes off. At bottom, the still-like 16-wheel main landing gear reaches for the runway as it returns from its flight. The craft is powered by four J-79 jet engines with afterburners. It is 95 feet long, has a wingspan of 55 feet, and needs a 3-man crew.

LIDIA DOMOLKY, 29, happily hugs her brother, George, 25, in New York as she arrived with other members of the Hungarian Olympic team who decided not to return to their Red-dominated homeland. George arrived in the United States two weeks earlier as an escapee, but Lidia, former Hungarian world fencing champion, did not know he was here. "It's like a dream," she said. (International)

Department Works Out New Daily

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Home economists of the Agriculture Department have worked out a new daily food plan to help the housewife round out an adequate family diet.

The plan distributes essential foods into four groups—milk, meat, vegetable-fruit, and bread-cereals. It is simpler and more compact than the basic seven food groups set down in the popular National Food Guide, published in 1946. Some department officials predict the new pamphlet will be widely and eventually replace the food guide in popularity.

Under the basic seven-food group, the department recommended this foundation diet: 1 Leafy, green, and yellow vegetable, one or more servings daily; 2 Citrus fruit, tomatoes, raw cabbage, one or more servings; 3 Potatoes and other vegetables and fruits, two or more servings; 4 Milk, cheese, ice cream, three to four cups of milk for children and two or more cups for adults, alternatives of milk equivalent in cheese and ice cream; 5 Meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dried peas, beans, one to two servings; 6 Bread, flour, cereals whole-grain, enriched, or restored, some every day; and 7 Butter and fortified margarine, some daily.

The four-group plan draws an adequate foundation diet into this form: 1 Milk group—children three to four cups daily; teenagers, four or more cups; adults two or more cups; pregnant women, four or more cups; nursing mothers, six or more cups. Cheese and ice cream can replace part of the milk; 2 Meat group—two or more servings of beef, veal, pork, lamb, poultry, fish, or eggs, with dry beans and peas and nuts as alternatives; 3 Vegetable-fruit group—four or more servings, including a dark green or yellow green vegetable important for vitamin A at least every other day; citrus fruit or other fruit or vegetable important for vitamin C daily; other fruits and vegetables including potatoes; 4 Bread-cereals, group—four or more servings, whole—grain, enriched, restored. The minimum number of servings listed forms a foundation for a good diet, the department said. To round out meals to satisfy the appetite many persons will use more of these foods and everyone will use foods not specified—butter, margarine, other fats, oils, sugars, and unrefined grain products. The department said these "other" foods frequently are combined with the suggested foods in mixed dishes, baked goods, desserts, or other recipe dishes.

CECIL A. TUCKER, II
Agricultural Agent

A note I received the other day from the Extension Agricultural Engineer, Tom Skinner, emphasized use of a special rust-inhibiting oil on spray and fertilizer equipment not in use. The two greatest enemies of such equipment are rust and corrosion, for they will shorten the life of your equipment.

Prompt cleaning of this equipment when you have finished will remove most corrosive materials. Fertilizer applicators can be cleaned most easily by using a high-pressure stream of clean water to dissolve and cut fertilizer residue. The application of oil can follow after drying—the sooner the better—to prolong the life and service of the equipment. This applies not only to the heavy equipment used by the farmer, but to the small, lighter equipment used by the home owner, as well.

At every Christmas season 4-H Club Christmas parties are inevitable. The county-wide 4-H Club Christmas party, sponsored by the girls' and boys' 4-H Club County Councils, was a great success. Over 150 people attended this gay jolly event at the Home Demonstration Council Center on Dec. 17. The entire party—games, refreshments, and all—was sponsored and carried out by the girls and boys themselves. A number of parents, friends and leaders were there, and seemed to enjoy themselves equally well.

On Dec. 19 the Oviedo 4-H Club boys and girls held a joint Christmas party at the Oviedo Swimming Pool picnic area. Winners were roasted, games were played, gifts were exchanged, and fun was had by at this leader-sponsored Christmas party.

The party had been planned some two weeks earlier at a night club meeting. The boys' club under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Battle, Oviedo, met jointly with the girls' club. After a business meeting they divided into their respective clubs for educational demonstrations.

This week we salute the Battle's for their interest in youth and in "battling" juvenile delinquency through an organized club program. "It's better to build boys, than to mend men" is certainly a good slogan to follow, anytime. (If there are any particular questions or subjects you would like to see discussed in this column, just drop a card or letter to County Agent's Column, Court House, Sanford.)

A very Merry Christmas, and a prosperous and Happy New Year to each of you from Seminole County's Extension staff.

WEDDING CEREMONY JUST A JOKE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Knox County bride of 23 days admitted she asked her husband after the wedding ceremony, "what have I done?"

"But it was just a joke and he knew it," said Mrs. Kyle W. Long in answer to a divorce bill filed by her husband. In her crossbill Mrs. Long filed for a bed and board decree. The pair was married Dec. 2 in Greenback by a justice of the peace.

Lead Poisoning Cases Are Sometimes Fatal

By HERMAN H. BURDISEN, M.D.

LEAD is a very useful metal and one of the oldest known to manufacturing storage batteries. Careful handling is essential to prevent filling the air with lead dust.

Even placing your hands in ordinary gasoline frequently or for long periods can be dangerous since tetraethyl lead is easily absorbed through the skin.

But probably of most concern to the majority of you is the lead which your youngster might take into his body by chewing on a window sill, table or something else coated with lead paint.

Should this happen, give him plenty of epsom salts and milk and make him vomit. Best way to do the latter is to place him across your lap in "spanking position," hold his head with your right hand, and move the ball of your left index finger along the roof of his mouth and down the back of his throat. Then get him to a doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Y. L.: About 15 years ago, I had erysipelas and almost died. Why is it we do not hear about this infection any more?

Answer: Erysipelas, caused by the streptococcus germ, at one time was a very fatal disease. In this condition, the skin over certain parts of the body becomes red and swollen. Since the advent of penicillin and the other antibiotics, this disease is no longer a major medical problem.

New Foods On Market In '56 Are Great Boon To Homemaker

Culinary Queens received plenty of help during 1956. New foods appeared the whole year through to boost kitchen regimens.

Episcurean as well as good plain cooks welcomed a new variety of condensed soup: vegetable beef. The soup needs only to be heated and yet offers the old-fashioned flavor that takes hours of preparation in home kitchens.

Hurry-Up Cooks who like more than salt and pepper in many foods were interested in a new Italian-style seasoning that blends seven herbs: marjoram, thyme, rosemary, savory, sage, oregano and basil. Onions appeared in concentrated granulated form to give dishes prepared by short-order cooks the aroma and flavor of French fried onions.

Cooks who don't like to crack hard nuts pointed to a new group of vacuum-packed nuts. These come in convenient one-and-two-cup size cans, and with reusable lids. Kitchen artists can choose among pecans, walnuts, black walnuts, almonds (in the skin or blanched). A similar can of salted nuts contains a mixture of pecans, cashews, almonds and filberts or Brazil nuts.

Priscilla Paige, who is bored with her job in a New York office and unmarried, grasps at an opportunity to escape her unstimulating existence when she is notified of an unexpected bequest from a great-aunt and inherits her inheritance in a small town in Maine. She is attracted by what follows. Her older, wiser friend, Rita Lambert, accompanies Priscilla on the auto trip to a picturesque town called Lookout House. The two decide to remain in appearance to be most courteous until they know more about why three different men have taken a curious interest in her and in them. The men are Bill Duval, who says he is a writer; Rod Gallagher, a businessman; and Louis Alvarez, a wealthy yachtsman.

The local belle, Peggy Romero, is naturally annoyed that Priscilla has attracted the attention of her two best beaux, Pete Craig and Dick Devereaux.

CHAPTER 11

"DICK MADE a professional call to the girls last night," said Pete. "The younger one—her name's Priscilla Paige—ate too much shrimp or the wrong kind of shrimp or something. Gave her a tummy-ache. All the drugstores were closed and somebody told them about Dr. Devereaux."

"Did the treatment include meeting them at the drugstore this morning?" Peggy's tone was a little displeased.

"I didn't say he met them. I said he was talking to them—in fact, he was buying them a Coke. Anything wrong with that?"

"No, but a little unusual, don't you think? If you think about it, he was buying them a Coke in the middle of the night. Why didn't you say so in the first place? What does she look like?"

"Priscilla? I've just told you. Like Lauren Bacall. The other one is darkish, black hair, dark eyes. Her name is Rita Lambert. She writes or something."

"Well, I haven't seen them and I haven't any interest in them. Mother said two ladies had rented the Glass cottage for a short while. . . . Was she really sick last night?"

"Priscilla? Of course. Why else would she have called the doctor?"

Peggy swung her feet to the floor and sat up. "If I were in a strange town and was bored, and I knew there was a young, attractive doctor around, I might have indignation or some other minor ailment."

Pete looked at her speculatively.

"You might, at that. But in Priscilla's case, I think the indignation was genuine. Look, Peggy. Instead of showing your claws, it would be a nice gesture if you'd call on those girls."

Peggy said, "I may do that very thing. If I'm going to have competition, I'd like to look her over. And I'll ask Dick about them—whether they're the kind one should call on."

"Give me a little time and I'll let you know," Pete got up. "I'm going to ask Priscilla for a date."

"Sometimes, Pete, I dislike you intensely. I think you do things just to aggravate me."

"Do you ever do anything to aggravate me?" Pete demanded, looking at her, not smiling. "And I won't ask her for a date to aggravate you. I'll do it because I want a date with her. And I'll tell you something else: don't be surprised if Dick does the same. He may have asked her for a date tonight. How about riding around with me? We may run into them."

Peggy was on the verge of saying no. But she had talked to Dick once today and he hadn't said anything about seeing her tonight. Pete would probably do just as he had said, manage somehow to wangle a date with the newcomer. And perhaps it might be well in the beginning to let that girl know she had priority on Pete. So she said she would be glad to see him tonight, and as her folks were dining out, he could take her over to Maud's for dinner.

After Pete had gone, she continued to lie there in the hammock. She washed there were a half-dozen eligible men here, so that she could make Pete and Dick jealous. Did she dare date Louis Alvarez? He was attractive and he had a beautiful boat. Of course, he was too old and Mama would probably have a fit if she did. Then there was Bill Duval. He and Dick had fished together, and Dick said he was writing a book or collecting material for a book or something. He rode around a lot in that red Buick, must do all his writing at night. Oh well. . . . Peggy stretched out in the hammock and was almost immediately asleep.

Bill Duval walked over as Dr. Devereaux got into his car in front of Hicks' Pharmacy.

"Got a minute, Doctor?"

Involuntarily the young doctor's eyes went to his wrist. Then he said pleasantly, "Sure, I can take it, anyway. What's on your mind?"

"Women." A smile played over Bill's face. He opened the car door and got in.

The doctor laughed. "I thought perhaps that was it. The girl in the red Buick? I saw you watching us there in the drugstore. Why didn't you charge in, as Pete did, and get an introduction? I started to call you and just about that time you walked away."

"Who are they? And where did you meet them?"

Dr. Devereaux smiled. "The younger one's name is Priscilla Paige, the other one is Rita Lambert. They're from New York. Like you, Miss Lambert is a writer. I think they are here to get material for a book. Miss Paige ate too much shrimp last night and I was called."

"I see," Bill said. "A patient, an attractive one, calls the doctor at night. The doctor meets her next morning for a Coke."

Dick laughed.

"The older one looks Spanish," said Bill. "I understand her name is Zerrita. That's Spanish, isn't it?"

"I don't know about the name, but I'm sure Rita isn't. That accent is just plain New Yorkese. The younger one, Priscilla, told me her mother's people were Southern."

"If they're from New York, why does their car have a Connecticut license tag?"

"Has it? I didn't notice. Anyway, I'm sure they said they were both from New York. Why do you ask, Bill?"

"But it down to curiosity. One doesn't see many strangers who linger here for no apparent reason."

"Now that you mention it, the curiosity seems to be mutual. When you walked by, Miss Lambert asked who you were."

"She did?" Bill looked up from the cigarette he was lighting.

"Priscilla said something about having been in Apalachicola a couple of days and that they had seen you everywhere, wondered if you were following them."

Bill extinguished his match. "Why should they think they are being followed?"

"Because they see you everywhere they go. I assured them you were quite respectable, that you were a writer collecting material for a book. Miss Lambert looked as skeptical as you did when I told you she was a writer."

"I wonder," Bill said sardonically. "Maybe it's just another coincidence. Two Spanish people here at the same time. You haven't seen the girls talking to Alvarez, have you?"

Hungarians Set Example Of Courage, Resolution In Fight For Freedom

Only time can put events in their proper perspective. The news that makes black headlines today may be as dead as the pharos tomorrow. But it seems certain as anything can be that history will record that the most significant and far-reaching event of 1956, and perhaps of many years, was the revolt in Hungary.

This uprising was not successful in the ordinary sense of the word. Rifles and improvised grenades and flares, unfortunately, are no match for tanks and artillery. But in another, more fundamental sense, this act on the part of an oppressed people was almost incredibly successful.

It showed that courage, and the willingness to risk death and torture in the pursuit of freedom exist in undiminished vigor in this chaotic world.

It showed peoples everywhere, once and for all, the cruel true face of communism. This is enormously important. Reports from country after country state that membership in communist parties has abruptly declined, and that the circulations of communist and communist-sympathizing organs are shrinking. Well-known writers and other molders of opinion, who out of a mistaken and stubborn idealism once supported or tolerated communism, have openly proclaimed their defection from the party and from the Kremlin. The ruthless acts of the Soviet government and the Red Army have excited almost universal horror.

It showed, above all, that communism contains the seed of its own destruction, and that its very structure is crumbling. A view that is held by all manner of experts was thus expressed by Kurt S. Lachmann, a journalist of long experience in Eastern Europe, in U.S. News and World Report: "What we are witnessing now is the gradual decomposition of the entire communist system... the ideas of communism are dead. What remains is the lumbering, armored body of Soviet military might."

This does not mean that there can be any relaxation in the Western world—its governments and forces must be more wary and alert than ever. To quote Mr. Lachmann: "Dictators... are being cornered. It is well to remember that cornered animals often are dangerous." Desperate fanatics are capable of the most desperately fanatical acts. There is always the possibility that, seeing their own world collapsing under the weight of its sins and excesses, they will attempt to bring all the rest of the world down too.

This is speculation. But there is nothing speculative about the fundamental lesson that has come to us out of Hungary—a lesson that is destined to be read to us again and again, as communism goes through its death agonies, however long that may take. Super-government, all-powerful government, monolithic government, socialism, communism—whatever name you want to use—is the implacable enemy of human freedom. It reduces the individual to the stature of a cipher. It makes a mockery of every concept of human dignity, human rights, the preciousness of human life.

Communism is simply the end of the line for that kind of government. Socialism is a way station. So are all other systems of government that attempt to do for the people what the people can and should do for themselves.

The thousands of Hungarian refugees who have been airlifted to this country know what slavery is, and how it is brought about in the modern world. They, along with the legions of their compatriots who fell victim to Soviet ruthlessness and savagery, placed the ultimate value on freedom. They risked all to gain it. They have set an example of courage and resolution that every American should understand and admire.

Moreover, the Hungarian blood-bath—and all other ugly fruits of communism we see—should make every American resolve to keep the freedom we have, and to forever defend and support a system of government that is based on a high concept of the individual, and on the principle that the government is best which governs least.

Happy New Year

Just about everybody will welcome the New Year tonight in some way or another. The celebration will be just about the biggest in the history of our country.

However, the manner of welcoming the brand new year will vary as do the manners of men. Some will welcome the newly arriving 1957 with prayer, others with merely the listening to noise of bells and whistles, still others with revelry and merriment, and probably another large segment of the nation with the lifting of a cocktail glass and a toast.

There's another group who will attend church where services are provided and undoubtedly millions more will sleep peacefully through the pushing of one year out of the way as another makes its debut.

The year 1957 will attempt to slip into existence with only the ticking of clocks aware of the fast approaching event. But as the hour, minute and second hands of clocks around the nation lifting themselves high in a salute to 1957, the noise of celebration will drown out the ticks of clocks which take us into the first of the twelve months to come.

There's one thing in common, however, with all of the groups. They will be saying, in unison—HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Democrats are said to be arguing over which faction of the party should set policy. Disagreement among Democrats—or Republicans, for that matter—is in the same general news category as dog biting man.

A fellow we know has a foolproof way of making at least one resolution that remains unbroken at the end of the year. He doesn't make it until ten minutes of twelve on New Year's Eve.

After Santa has answered all those letters from youngsters wouldn't it be fine if Father could send him the bills that arrive a bit late?

Biggest Little Stories Of Year

By H. D. QUINN
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — The biggest little stories of the year packaged and filed for ready historical reference:

Evangelism
In January, in Exning, England, the 3,800 villagers bounced awake on Sunday dawn to a horn's persistent blare. The Rev. Robert Henry Craig said he drove through every street with thumb on horn button because hardly anyone had been showing up for his 8 a. m. service.

Higher Education
In February, in Rudderfield, England, Malcolm Lee, 22, set an intercollegiate potatochip eating record—23 bags in 103 minutes.

Low'r Education
Same month, Long Branch N. J., Mrs. William Schlenger, grammar school PTA head, polled parents by phone: "Do you know where your children are right now?" But she hit a snag: "On many of the calls, children answered who didn't know where their parents were."

Married Bliss
Again February, Santa Monica Calif., Mrs. Ruby Burkhalter shouted: "The house is on fire!" Neighbors turned in the alarm. Fire engines screamed up. "Oh, my goodness," said Mrs. Burkhalter. "There's no fire. I was just trying to get my husband out of bed."

Innocence
In March, in Miami, Fla., Jim Ahern, in his parked car listening to a morning radio show, noticed an attractive woman passing. Someone on the show chose the moment for a wolf whistle. The woman, Ahern said, opened the car door, slapped him resoundingly, slammed the door and walked away.

Fractured
In June, in Poitiers, France, Louis Vuillemin rid himself of a 33-room chateau that he couldn't sell because of high repair costs and taxes. Police said he used 130 sticks of dynamite.

Modern Life
Again June, Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Doris Hamsher, 30, told how she broke her leg. Dancing, she heard the jukebox switch from a waltz to rock-'n'-roll. She shifted gears, and speels, quick. The leg couldn't stand the strain. It snapped.

Idea Of Life On Mars Discredited

By DELOS SMITH
NEW YORK — The only possible thing on Mars which suggests there is life on that planet has been discredited, it has been revealed.

Dr. Carl Sagan, University of Chicago astronomer, told the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that the Martian green and blue "may be most illusory."

Those colors have been seen on Mars through telescopes for years, advancing with the Martian spring, receding with the Martian winter. They were thought to come from some simple form of plant life.

But last fall when Mars was almost as close to earth as it can get, it was only 55,000 miles away astronomers using one of American's most powerful telescopes saw hardly any green-blue at all, Sagan said.

The telescope was the 84-inch reflector, of the McDonald Observatory, operated by the University of Chicago. "The dark areas of Mars were an almost uniform gray," Sagan said. "Occasionally there were very faint traces of green-blue patches."

However, it will comfort space travel enthusiasts who some day hope to visit Mars to know that Sagan hasn't given up the idea that there may be life on the planet.

"It is just possible that this year Martian organisms were suffering a severe drought, inhibiting a more vivid color display," he said. "The observed extensive dust storms and the reformation of the South Polar ice cap after melting may both indicate an un-

Beverly Rogers, Donald Simon Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Beverly Varn Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Felton Rogers, and Donald James Simon, son of Mrs. Jewell Simon and the late Jewell Simon, were married Friday, Dec. 28, at 3:30 p. m. in All Souls Catholic Church.

Father Lyons officiated at the double ring ceremony which was performed against a background of tall baskets of white gladioli and full mums, white pom poms and palms.

Mrs. Eugene Roumillat provided nuptial music for the ceremony. The lovely bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a formal wedding gown of champagne lace and nylon tulle over bridal satin. The scalloped portrait neckline was embroidered with iridescent sequins, and self-covered buttons extended down the neck of the bodice. The bouffant skirt was styled of tiers of lace and tulle. She carried a white satin prayer book topped with a white orchid and streamers.

Maids of honor was Miss Betty Land, of Jacksonville, and bridesmaids were Miss Martha Taylor, of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Charles Comeaux, sister of the groom, from Lafayette, La. They wore identical gowns of ecru tulle blue taffeta, fashioned with long fitted torso and full ballerina length skirts. With these were worn sashes of royal blue, and their flowers were pale yellow full mums with satin streamers.

Larry Simon served as best man for his brother and ushers were Edwin Varn, cousin of the bride, and Charles Comeaux, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a teal blue taffeta cocktail dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink camellias.

Mrs. Simon, mother of the groom, was dressed in black, accented with white collar and cuffs. Her accessories were black and white and her corsage was white.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ella Varn, wore navy blue with white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and ferns.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. R. T. Humphrey, in her decorations. Mrs. Humphrey used white and silver with touches of red. In the entrance was a large bouquet of white gladioli and ferns, and the bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth, centered with a spray of white gladioli and ferns. At one end was the beautiful three tiered wedding cake, topped with a bride and groom, and at the other was the sparkling crystal punch bowl and serving cups. The table on which the bride's

Conning The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

Elizabeth Court in Grove Manor has been buzzing lately. Nearly every one has had company, Marilyn Forrest's father, Dr. Robert Mason of Murray, Kentucky, and Marilyn's best friend Mrs. James Rudy Albritton, her husband and daughter Linda, have been house guests during the holidays. The Albrittons are also from Murray, The A. W. Sigworths of Schenectady, New York, and their son David have been visiting Doris and Fran Francisco. Mrs. Sigworth is Doris' sister. And another point for Sanford! Ruth Hodges father, Mr. Garrett from Williamsburg, Virginia, was back here for Christmas. He liked it so much, he had to look the town over again. Monty Lillibee's mother is returning to Minnesota after quite a long visit. Betty McBrainie is expecting her sister for New Years, Veras.

Dr. and Mrs. Sydney Vail of Atlanta Georgia left for home today, after spending Christmas with their daughter and son-in-law, Polly and Doc Savage of Little Venice. The Vails drove off with the top of the car loaded down with bamboo and other flora and fauna gathered on the Florida shores.

Congratulations to Pat and Kay Dwyer and (especially Kay), on the birth of their first, a boy. Also understand that Joan Weigle is in Seminole Memorial quite ill. We are all hoping she will soon be better.

There is great activity at Gretchen Hall's house in Loch Arbor. Gretchen is returning to Sanford on Sunday, and all is being put to rights against her coming. Lou Johnson, for one is determined to see that all is in readiness. He and Roy Symes built a roaring fire in the barbecue Thursday night and asked a goodly crowd in for lobster, cooked as only Roy can do it. Jo's mother and father were here from South Carolina, and Roy's sister was also present. It was very interesting hearing about some of the Christmas presents distributed among Sanford friends, especially that of Jane McKibbin's to Andy Garraway. The man who has every thing these days had better watch out!

Friday night brought on several open houses. We had one out here that almost went on without me. My little Judy had to go to the hospital, and when I reached home a great many of my guests were already here.

Possibly you can imagine my panic as I watched the clock tick on realizing that they were arriving and I hadn't even been home for two hours. But Bob and Della came through, and fortunately my dear friends are very good in the kitchen. Especially Anita Hadden, Polly Brubaker, and Harriet Williams. Bill Lemons came bounding in with punch glasses, cream cheese, and greetings at the door, so all turned out well. I think the table arrangement was especially lovely, and Mr. Roseter did me a great favor by delivering it way out here. Three tall white candles sprinkled with silver were set amidst silvered holly and beautiful variegated carnations, white chrysanthemums, pepper berries, and red carnations. This was placed on the red table cloth and a silver punch bowl to me was a joy to behold. (And I can say this because it was not my doing.) It should behoove me to be modest about my own party, but I can brag about Della's rolls and ham, and cheese dip. Attending were Ruth and Forrest Norvell, Paul and Retta Speltz, Will and Joy Weber, Ronnie Weber, Dottie and John King, Jane and Cille Heard, Mary and Bart Pecker, Betty and Jim Guy, Polly and Don Savage, Olivia and Andy Simmons, Helen and Andy Carraway, Cecil Heard, Price and Lucille Heard, Mary and Bart Peterson, Marge and Bill Hill, Dusty Rhodes, Al Deanna, Ben and Kay King, Pat and Dave Todd, Shirley and Jim Rosa, Bill and Betty Lemon, Jean and John Dooley, Patty Murphy, John and Harriet Williams, Tommy Peterson (Penney under the weather, sorry to hear), Jo and Roy Symes, Bill Hutchinson, (Sally in Hobe Sound

Here to spend the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Speer Jr., are Mary Rose, a student at Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Ga., and Tommy, a student at U of F. Also visiting the Speers for Christmas was Alec Powers, of Atlanta, Ga.

Here to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lyon was their daughter, Miss Ellen Lyon, of Tallahassee, who brought with her a guest, Miss Jeanie Phillips, also of Tallahassee.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Point and son, Clarence, of Newport News, Va., are visiting their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Torbett.

did not look handsome in his gray flannels, and he does know better than to wear red flannels to a party in Sanford. I have a feeling that this will not satisfy him, but oh well.

Wedding Breakfast Held At Mayfair Saturday Morning

The Mayfair Inn dining room was the scene Saturday morning of a wedding breakfast honoring Miss Nixie Kirchhoff and Paul Coleman and the wedding party. The affair was given by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman.

At each place setting was a small net bag filled with rice, fastened to a place card, and a beautiful arrangement of white gladioli and net centered the table.

Invited to be present were the bride and groom-elect, Miss Nixie Kirchhoff and Paul Coleman Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kirchhoff, William Kirchhoff, Miss Gretchen Kirchhoff, Robert Howard, Miss Betty MacDonald, Mrs. Harold Rice, William Buchanan, Mrs. Marine Jenkins, the Rev. and Mrs. John Thomas, the Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Zimmerman, Miss Joyce Heitzel, and Mrs. Sara White.

Mr. and Mrs. Juthe Hold Open House Friday Evening

ALATONNE SPRINGS—One of the gayest holiday parties was Friday when Mr. and Mrs. Kristian A. Juthe held open house from 5 to 7 p. m. at their home overlooking picturesque Lake Florida.

125 guests were invited for the occasion. Egg nog was served from a table overlaid with a pink and silver cloth centered with an arrangement of silver magnolia leaves and pink and white ornaments. Silver candelabras holding burning pink tapers and crystal punch bowls of cut glass were used.

Assisting in serving were, from Winter Park, Mrs. Juthe's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Juthe, Mrs. Louise Stoddard and Mrs. Harry Benson. Also the Meses, N. B. Choise, Lester McCombs, T. L. Gorham, Robert S. Bradford and Clifford Knox.

Mary K. Medler Lawrence Baxter Wed Recently

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Mary Kate Medler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Medler of Chevy Chase, Md., to Lawrence Baxter. The marriage took place on Oct. 17 in Chevy Chase.

Mrs. Baxter has many friends in Sanford, and her mother, Mrs. Medler, is the former Miss Eugenia Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Swaim of this city.

Colored Slides Are Shown At Meeting Of Audubon Society

Bronsons Reveal Son's Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bronson today revealed the marriage of their son, Herbert E. Bronson, to Miss Barbara Ann Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Carter, of Moultrie, Ga.

The couple will make their residence at West Palm Beach while Mr. Bronson is undergoing transition training in C-34 type aircraft, after which they will have permanent residence in the Azores.

Nixie Kirchhoff, J. P. Coleman Are Wed In Episcopal Ceremony

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony Miss Nixie Mae Kirchhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kirchhoff, became the bride of John Philip Coleman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Philip Coleman, of Atlanta, Ga.

The double ring ceremony took place at Holy Cross Episcopal Church with the Rev. H. Lyttleton Zimmerman and the Rev. John Thomas officiating. William Kirchhoff, brother of the bride, served as acolyte and lit the candles in the seven-branched candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a ballerina-length gown of white peau de sole and lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and a yoke of lace. Long molded sleeves ended in points over the wrist. She wore a tiara of miniature white flowers and pearls, from which fell a shoulder-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a white prayer book topped with white camellias and lily of the valley.

Maids of honor and only attendant of the bride was her sister, Miss Gretchen Kirchhoff. Robert Howard, of Atlanta, served as best man, and ushers were Ralph Langford and Damon Hicks, also of Atlanta.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1617 E. Second St.

After Jan. 10, the couple will reside in Atlanta at 1497 Logan Circle, N. E.

Mantle Is Named Athlete Of Year

By OSCAR FRALEY
 United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK 30 — Youngsters took over the top spots in practically every sport in 1956 as honors for the athletes of the year went to master Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees.

The 25-year-old Oklahoma cloudler led a wave of 20-year-olds into the crest of their various sports as the old-timers began to fade. And even in golf, previously dominated by the 40-year-olds, the individual leaders were 33-year-old Jackie Burke and 30-year-old Harvie Ward.

The only other "elderly" leader was Mrs. Pat McCormick, the 20-year-old California housewife who scored a double Olympic diving victory.

Sport by sport, the individual leaders were:

Shuffleboard Is 'Fine Relaxation'

Joe Murray, head of the Sanford shuffleboard courts, has a remedy for the stale man or woman who has been sitting around twiddling thumbs too long.

"We play shuffleboard here every day, year round," he said, "and there's no requirement on membership."

Of the four districts in Florida, Sanford is a member of the Northern district. The Sanford shuffleboard team, who have won more matches than they have lost, play such towns teams as Winter Park, Sanlando, Longwood, DeLand, Orange City, Mt. Dora, City Island, New Smyrna, Pecos and Coronado.

"It's a fine relaxation, and a good competitive pastime," Murray said as he played a close game Sunday. "Almost everybody that tries it likes it" he added. "It's fun, it's something to do, and it's a social thing."

At first appearance the game seems easy. The player jokes, talks, and laughs with the person they're playing against and seemingly just shuffle to get one of their puts on a scoring zone.

But with close scoring ramifications become more apparent. Each put is thought out beforehand, each pattern planned to block the opposition and lay the guard for a good slide for a score. Game is 75 points, and sometimes it's a prolonged affair when two teams of two quick-witted sharp-shooters each oppose each other.

No Racing Program At SOKC Tomorrow

LONGWOOD—The Sanford-Orlando kennel club will interrupt its 201 eighth record season for one day Tuesday as a courtesy to the Elks Tangerine Bowl charity football game in Orlando.

There will be no racing program Tuesday night, but the track will continue its regular schedule with matinee and night performances on Wednesday.

The Sanford-Orlando racing meet, which is now entering the busiest weeks of the season, extends through Feb. 28.

The Tangerine Bowl twirling champion will put on a special New Year's Eve performance at the track tonight.

Residents Urged

To Help Reduce Postmen's Hazards

Postmaster Joel S. Field today ...
... appealed to the residents of San- ...
... ford to help reduce the hazard of ...
... slips and falls for letter carriers ...
... and other postal personnel who ...
... call at their homes.

Field emphasized that the Post ...
... Office Department is not alone in ...
... facing a problem of employe in- ...
... juries from slips and falls and ...
... said he hopes also that his appeal ...
... will be of assistance to employes ...
... of delivery and service agencies ...
... —utilities, dairies, grocery stores, ...
... cleaners, department stores and ...
... the like.

The local postmaster noted that ...
... Washington Post Office Depart- ...
... ment headquarters had recently ...
... reemphasized the problem of slip ...
... and fall hazards for the nation's ...
... mailmen. In making a new appeal ...
... to postal patrons over the coun- ...
... try to help with this problem, ...
... Acting Postmaster General ...
... Maurice H. Stans noted that a ...
... recent random check of 281 ac- ...
... cidents selected for analysis show- ...
... ed that, of the 281, a total of 269 ...
... occurred on walks, steps or stair- ...
... ways, of postal patrons.

Mr. Stans noted in his state- ...
... ment that injuries to postal per- ...
... sonnel, including some in this ...
... community, account for a total ...
... cost of $5,568,928 during a recent ...
... 12-month period, according to re- ...
... ports from the U. S. Department ...
... of Labor. And he indicated, a ...
... very large part of this total an- ...
... nual medical and injury pen- ...
... sation cost to the government ...
... was due to slip and fall injuries ...
... on the job.

"Repairs to broken or defective ...
... steps and walks also will assist ...
... greatly in preventing broken ...
... ankles, legs, wrists and the like ...
... for the neighborhood carrier and ...
... others," he said.

Bomb Scare Seems To Be Spreading

NEW YORK — A bomb ...
... scare epidemic which has plagued ...
... New York for the past week ap- ...
... peared to be spreading nationally ...
... today. New York police stepped ...
... up their huge manhunt for the ...
... "mad bomber" who has planned ...

The theater "scare" brought to ...
... 109 the number of bomb threats ...
... made by phone since Christmas ...
... Eve when a device, ascribed to ...
... the mad bomber, was found in a ...
... telephone booth at the New York ...
... Public Library. During this pe- ...

Sellout Crowd Is Assured For Sugar Bowl Tilt Tomorrow

NEW ORLEANS, La. — ...
... Sugar Bowl officials have pro- ...
... dently laid claim to the "most at- ...
... tractive" match of all the post- ...
... season football classics, with a ...
... sellout crowd of 80,873 assured ...
... for the Jan. 1 meeting between ...
... Tennessee and Baylor.

While the Cotton and Orange ...
... Bowls are having disposing of ...
... tickets, Sugar Bowl General Man- ...
... ager Fred Digby said the the ...
... contest pitting Bowden Wyatt's un- ...
... defeated Volunteers against Sam ...
... Boyd's Bears "has caught the ...
... fancy of the people."
"I think everyone agrees that ...
... this is the most attractive of the ...
... bowl games this year," Digby ...
... said.

The sellout was the first for ...
... the Sugar Bowl since Oklahoma ...
... defeated North Carolina on Jan. ...
... 1, 1949.

Dartmouth had its best football ...
... record in seven seasons in 1956 ...
... when the Big Green had five wins, ...

MICKEY MOUSE

THAT'S THE THIRD GUY WHO'S RUN INTO ME THIS WEEK!!!

AGENCY

JUST A LITTLE SOMETHING TO DRIVE AROUND TOWN IN!

HI, UNCA MICKY! I BOUGHT A CHEMICAL SET WITH MY CEREAL COUPONS!

BWOM! MORTY!

GOSH... YOU HEAR THAT! LET BUST THROUGH THE SOUND BARRIER?

BLOONDI

WHICH STUPID IDIOT MADE THE MISTAKE ON THIS IMPORTANT CONTRACT?

I HATE TO SAY THIS, MR DITHERS, BUT YOU MADE THE MISTAKE YOURSELF.

BOO HOO BOO!

MR DITHERS, WHY ARE YOU CRYING?

IT HURTS WHEN A STUPID IDIOT LIKE DAGWOOD FINDS OUT THAT YOU'RE A STUPID IDIOT!

RING

OH... AND JUST GOT IN THE TUB

RING

WHY DON'T YOU PUT THE MAIL IN THE BOX INSTEAD OF RINGING THE DOORBELL?

I LIKE PEOPLE TOO MUCH

THE LONL RANGER

MR BAINES, WHY DO YOU WANT YOUR OFFICE SAFE BLOWN OPEN?

THAT'S NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS! JUST DO THE JOB, COLLECT YOUR PAY AND LEAVE!

BAINES! YOU'RE TALKING TO THE WRONG MAN!

THE DYNAMITE IN MY SADDLE-BAGS PROVES I'M THE MAN CALLED 'BLASTER'. THIS MAN'S THE 'LOVE RANGER'!

HOW DID THE LOVE RANGER GET YOUR LETTER OF IDENTIFICATION?

HE TOOK IT FROM ME WHILE I WAS KNOCKED OUT FROM AN ACCIDENT.

THE LETTER WAS ADDRESSED TO YOU, BAINES, SO I DELIVERED IT.

INSTEAD OF LETTING ME EXPLAIN HOW I GOT IT, YOU SAID I WAS THE MAN HIRED TO BLOW OPEN YOUR SAFE!

GRANDMA

AH, THERE HE IS!!

I'LL SKIP DOWN TH' ALLEY AN' CATCH HIM AT TH' NEXT CORNER!!!

WHOA, YOU LITTLE RASCAL!!

GOSH, WHAT I GO THROUGH, JUST T' SWEEP MY FLOORS!

I'D LIKE A BOOK THAT ISN'T TOO EXCITING!

TOMORROW IS BAKIN' DAY AT MY HOUSE AN' I'LL HAVE LOTS O' GOODIES ON HAND!

YA SEE, I CAN'T GET INTERESTED IN ANY STORY...

...THAT'LL MAKE ME FORGET TO CHECK UP ON TH' VISITIN' KIDS EVERY FEW MINUTES!

OZARK LIKE

...AND SINCE SHAKY HIPS CAUGHT OZARK'S FIELD-GOAL TRY FORWARD OF TH' END ZONE INSTEAD OF BEHIND TH' GOAL LINE---

IT'S NOT A TOUCH-BACK!

RIGHT, SHAG? IT'S A SAFETY!

WHAT A BREAK! WE WIN TH' GAME AND TH' CONFERENCE CROWN! 15-13!

MAH HERO!

SHUCKS, THAT'S TH' NICEST PRESENT AN' EVEN GOT PER MISSING! A FIELD GOAL!

WITH A VICTORIOUS AND GIDDY OZARK, OZARK MAKES PLANS FOR A TRIP...

DINAH'S SAID GONNA BE SURPRISED WHEN AN SPRING MAN IDEA FER OZARK'S BEHAVIOR TO HER THOORA!

(YAWN) BECKON AHLL HIT TH' BACK--IT'S GETTIN' LATE!

LATER, AS OZARK SLEEPS, A NOTE IS SLIPPED UNDER HIS DOOR...
