Truman Takes Over Railway Lines Of U. S.

Declares Seizure Is Imperative For Protection Of Citizens Confronting Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—President Truman today ordered seizure of the nation's railroads at 1 P. M. (EST) Sunday. Acting because of the nation's life strike called for Monday by two railroad unions, Mr. Truman directed that Secretaries of the Army take over and operate the roads "in the name of the United States Government." In a statement, Mr. Truman also called upon "every railroad worker to cooperate with the government by remaining on duty." The unions have said they would work under government seizure. In fact, they have several times urged that the government take over the railroads because of their 18-month-old wage-hour dispute. Mr. Truman, in a brief statement, noted that the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors have declined to accept recommendations of a presidential emergency board for settling the issues. His statement went on: "In the strike situation thus confronting us, governmental seizure is imperative for the protection of our citizens."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Senator Holland (D-Fla.) today termed the call for a railroad strike next Monday the "most treacherous" since the invasion of South Korea. He reiterated a statement he made in the Senate last night and said he "hoped even at this late hour" that labor leaders will "reconsider this tragic decision which they have made and will quickly make it clear that no such calamity as this can befall our nation."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—President Truman talked over the nationwide railroad strike with his cabinet today. No one would say what action was planned but there were growing reports the government would seize the railroad no later than tomorrow night.

Railroad conductors and trainmen, who called the strike for Monday, have said they would work under government seizure. The cabinet session lasted an hour and a quarter.

Attorney General McGrath told reporters they "talked the whole" (Continued on Page Eight)

Buddy System May Repair Strained Korean Relations

TOKYO, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Americans here who are interested in Korea's future are highly pleased with the "buddy system" of U. S. forces in Korea. They see it as a counter-move against tendencies that otherwise might lead to total estrangement and even hatred between the two peoples.

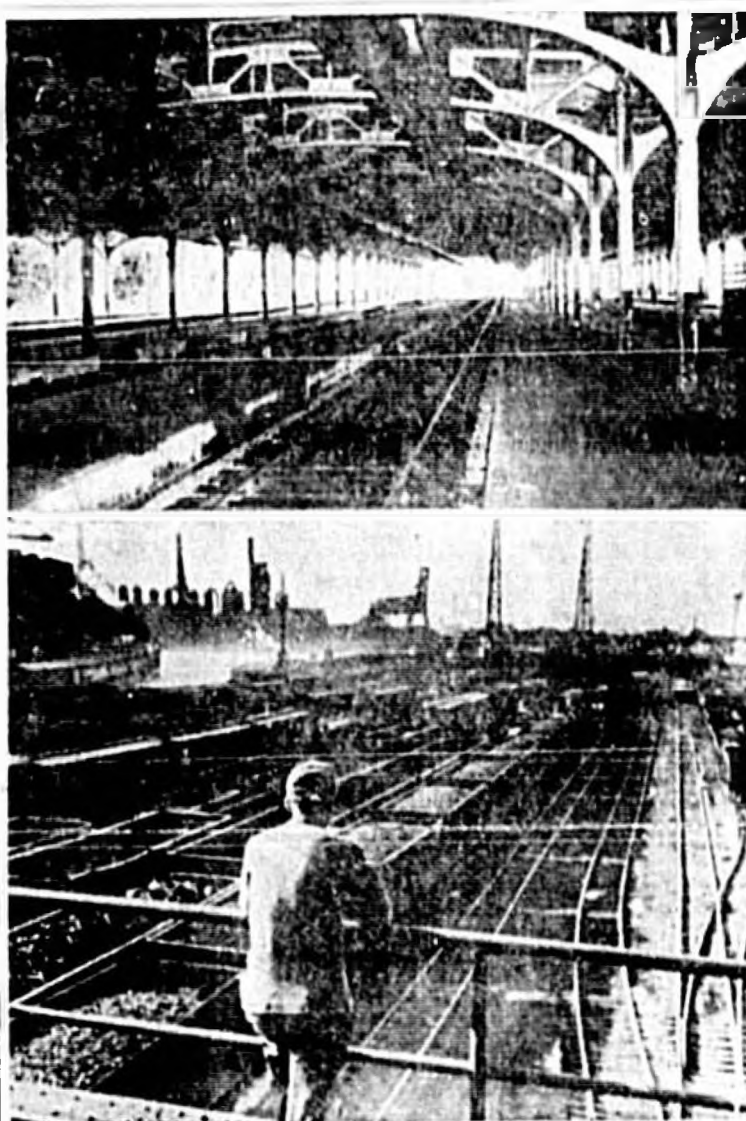

The buddy system and how it is working out was reported for the first time this week by AP War Correspondent Colman in a column in a column from the Korean front.

Under the buddy system—still on a small scale experimental basis—each American soldier has a Korean soldier with him from morning to night and is charged with teaching him the basics of living (Continued on Page Eight)

Pepper Accuses Nazi Prisoners Newspapers Of Let Out Of Jail Anti-Pepper Bias For Good Conduct

Senator Says Papers Prejudice Public Against Commoner

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) today said that many newspapers threaten the economic, social and political freedom in this country by "trying to prejudice the public against the common man."

Pepper told 400 delegates to the International Typographical Union convention that his recent defeat in the Democratic primary was due largely to what he called the antagonism and unfairness of several Florida newspaper publishers. He did not say which publishers he had in mind.

One of the major problems confronting the nation, Pepper said, is how to preserve freedom of the press and at the same time make some newspapers realize their public responsibility.

"A newspaper publisher usually has to be a millionaire," he said. "He has power to prejudice the little fellow and sometimes that power is used. I know of instances where newspaper publishers have tried to make labor organizers seem to be public enemies."

Pepper also had some criticism for organized labor.

He said it can be swayed on (Continued on Page Three)

Retail Food Prices Fall 0.3% During Month Of August

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Retail food prices have fallen 0.3 per cent since July 31, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

This tapering-off report on food follows a July 15 cost of living index which showed almost a record advance for the early summer.

The Bureau estimated that the retail food price index for 56 large cities on Aug. 15 was 209.0—figuring the 1935-39 period as normal or 100. That index was 0.3 per cent lower July 31 and 0.8 per cent below July 15.

Congressmen Urge Founding Of UN Force

Volunteer Force To Resist Aggression Open To Russians If Ruled Accepted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—A bipartisan group of 16 senators and 15 House members urged today the establishment of United Nations police force, made up of volunteers from small nations, to aid in combating aggression.

As proposed by the sponsors of resolution, to be introduced later in the House, the force would operate under an arrangement designed to prevent a Soviet veto of action to quell aggression.

The plan was outlined at a news conference in the office of Senator Sparkman (D-Ma.) who was named by President Truman yesterday as a United States delegate to the U. N. Assembly meeting next month.

Sparkman declared there are "hundreds of thousands of volunteers throughout the world who the Communist aggressors in Korea and elsewhere." He said he didn't know whether it would be possible to get around a Soviet veto of the proposal but "we must try."

The proposed police force would consist of land, sea and air forces, directed by a nine-member "police authority" drawn from the United States, three from the British Commonwealth and France, and three collectively elected by the smaller member states. Its decisions would be by simple majority vote.

As the sponsors explained it, the Security Council could block decisions of the authority only by affirmative action. Thus the United States would be in a position to veto any attempt in the council to call off the police force.

The resolution would leave the door open to Russian membership, provided she met certain conditions such as accepting international control of atomic energy and a general ban on nuclear weapons and production of armaments.

Johnson Asks Congress For Doctor Draft

Medics Not Older Than 45 Would Be Taken Under Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson today asked Congress to permit a draft of doctors and dentists up to and including age 45 for the armed services.

The request was made in a letter to Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee. Johnson enclosed a bill drawn up by the Defense Department. Vinson introduced it in the House and said his committee would begin hearings Monday.

Under the measure the draft would be in this order:

First, those who during the last year were students in the Army accelerated training program, or a similar Navy program, and who had less than 90 days of active duty with the armed forces. They would be largely educated at government expense.

Second, those educated during the Army Navy program and who served more than 90 days but less than 21 months.

Third, physicians and dentists who did not have any active service after Sept. 16, 1949.

Fourth, those who served the last number of full months of the armed forces during the last year.

Johnson wrote Vinson that so many volunteer units of physicians and dentists in the military service has been so small.

He said that unless a way can be found to bring in men with little or no past military service, it may be necessary in the next few months to make "substantial calls" on the 29,000 medical men in the "reserve pool."

Johnson said the reserve pool includes men who had long service during the war and conscripts, leaving military service, "to have their names placed on the list of reserves who could be called to active duty."

War In Korea Is Two Months Old Today And The End Is Not In Sight

TOKYO, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The war in Korea is now a month and a half old today.

That is not a long time for a military operation. As in troops fought longer for a similar purpose.

But an emergency budget for the war in Korea has been passed by the Japanese government.

The military government was swift. The North Korean army advanced like an avalanche over 200 miles yesterday and probably 300 miles today.

The Communist-led North Korean army would have a great advantage if they could capture Seoul, the capital of South Korea.

Sixty-two days in that time the North Korean army has swept over 200 miles from the Manchurian border to the southern coast of the peninsula.

Well over 100,000 soldiers and officers have been killed and 100,000 taken prisoner.

The government of the South has been forced to evacuate its capital, Seoul, and to move its government to Pusan.

Fighting Rages Thru Bowling Alley Corridor Threatening Highway To Pusan

TOKYO, Saturday, Aug. 26.—(AP)—A major battle over a new road to Pusan city broke out Friday in the Korean central warfare mountains.

It was being fought between United Nations forces and the invading North Korean army.

United Nations forces were attacking South Korean rearward ground they lost Friday morning. The first blow had been dealt by a forward force of 10,000 troops and tanks, pushing before a 20,000-man Red force.

It was the Communist fifth try in the week to open a road down from the mountains to the largest city left in the Allied southeastern part of Korea.

Gen. MacArthur's Korean rearward force reported South Korean forces were attacking the Communist back army at Red about 100 miles from the city.

The city was not identified by name.

The release also told of a large concentration of enemy troops, including a cavalry unit, heading for the northwestern front.

United Nations forces along the northwest Nakdong River today have 47 enemy tanks and 100 trucks, including a large number of anti-aircraft guns.

Except for patrol units and artillery firing on tanks of opportunity by our forces, the remaining sectors of the front remain quiet, the statement said.

An Allied spokesman said late Friday the South Korean sixth division was holding back Red forces from the city.

The Red force is reported to be about 100 miles from the city.

Yongchon is linked to Pusan by a main road. The road has been a main highway and a rail line running from Pusan to Yongchon. The road passes through the country good for tank fighting, south of the mountains.

All through Friday, the Red force was reported to be attacking the city.

Railroad Strike

Asked if seizure matters have been drafted, he repeated, "You will have to talk to the President about what he is going to do."

In response to questions, McGrath said another possible strike-stopping move, other than seizure would be to seek a court order against a walkout. But he emphasized that he was speaking only of possibilities.

Other Administration officials, unquoteable by name, said there was little prospect of an injunction attempt unless the workers refused to stay on the job under government operation.

While the Cabinet was in session, railroad trainmen and conductors sent to the White House a denial that they had broken any pledge which they called a strike for next Monday.

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday that the strike call—issued by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors late Wednesday—was put out within an hour after he had been assured by both management and unions that there would be no walkout.

The unions' telegram to the President this morning said: "We wish to personally advise you that at the concluding conference presided over by Doctor Steelman, in the east wing of the White House from 3:00 to 4:00 P.M. Wednesday, Aug. 23, 1950, no mention whatsoever was made regarding the calling of any nationwide strike and therefore any statement to the effect that we had broken our pledge is one hundred per cent false."

It was signed "respectfully" by W. P. Kennedy of the Trainmen, and R. O. Hughes, president of the Conductors.

The strike call was issued after the collapse of White House sponsored peace talks directed by Dr. John R. Steelman, assistant to the President.

Expanding on the telegram, Walter Monro a spokesman for the trainmen, told reporters that the unions had only given assurance that small "walk-out" without being allowed to end on schedule today and tomorrow, and that any other lock strikes would be held in abeyance.

The union earlier this week had called five day lock strikes on two short railroads and at three terminals.

OTTAWA, Aug. 25—(AP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent met union leaders today in an effort to settle a nationwide rail strike which has clamped a stranglehold on this country's economy.

The union leaders remained grimly silent as they emerged from an hour-long meeting to which they were summoned by St. Laurent in the Canadian government's first intervention in a labor dispute.

"We were asked to see the Prime Minister and we've seen him—that's all," said Frank Hall, negotiating chairman for 15 international unions with 90,000 members, "but I have to ask the Prime Minister for any more information."

A. R. Mosher, negotiating for the remainder of the 124,000 strikers, likewise had no statement. The union chiefs indicated they would remain in Ottawa for some time. Mosher heads the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees.

Reds Masquerade As Americans In Target-Spotting Piper Cubs

By HAL BOYLER

KOREA—(AP)—There is bandit-hunting in the air over Korea as well as on the ground. And the quarry isn't always Yaks (fast Russian-made fighter planes).

American artillerymen use cub grasshopper planes to circle over the front lines and spot enemy field guns and tanks. And some believe the Reds had somehow managed to obtain a few cub planes of their own which they called with American markings and send up to pinpoint Allied batteries for their gunners.

This may sound fantastic but in war anything is possible and the Communists North Koreans have proved to be tricky as well as tough fighters—skilled at all kinds of camouflage.

One day by accident I went along on a trip trying to track down one of the enemy aerial false pretenders.

I was flying with Lt. Don A. Morgan, 27, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., over the Nakdong River battlefield. We were in an unarmed T-6 "Mosquito" and our mission was to direct speedy fighter planes to enemy tank hideouts.

After Lt. Morgan had sent down two flights of fighters to their targets we suddenly got a new task. Heavy fire was falling intermittently behind our lines and the ground control officer called us on the radio.

I clapped on a headset and heard him say: "Every time one of those cubs flies over our battery we get some enemy tanks into our positions here. Can you check and see whether they have slipped a bandit in among our boys up there?"

"Roger," said Lt. Morgan. "If there's one around we will find him for you."

He banked the mosquito dizzily and we were off on our unusual quest. There were four grasshoppers in the area, all widely separated and swooping and fluttering about like wind-blown butterflies. One by one, we stalked them, flying up until our wings were only a few feet away. It gave you a feeling that both planes were hanging motionless in the air from two strings.

The lieutenant was enjoying the chase and so was I until we started after the fourth grasshopper. It was dipping and circling so much that I began to feel it was logging us. And then I remembered that our own plane was unarmored.

We drew up even with the last plane but the pilot was looking the other way. Morgan edged primly nearer and I could see the suspicion on his features. Tiny circles began to gather on my spine. What would we do if the other pilot was a North Korean?

Just then he turned and I found myself looking into the eyes of carrot-topped youth with a freckled face split by a grin as wide as Texas.

Morgan waved and reported in to the ground control officer: "All the cubs up here look like ours. The last one only had one man in it but he is one of our boys—unless the Reds sent a Red with red hair and freckles."

"Roger and thanks," replied the ground control officer, disappointedly.

When we landed I asked Morgan what he would have done if he had found one of the planes was a bandit.

"Oh, I could have opened my canopy and shot at him with my pistol," he said. "And if I could not get him that way we could have got behind him and rammed his fuselage with our prop. That would knock him down."

The little circles began to come out on my spine again at the thought of riding in a plane trying to saw another plane in half with its propeller. The ground felt warm and firm under my feet.

If I ever get mixed up in another aerial bandit hunt, I decided I want it to be in a B-36 bomber. It has six engines and lots of guns.

They aren't using any B-36 bombers in this theater. But I am in no hurry. I can wait.

HOME BUYERS GET BREAKS

CHICAGO—(AP)—If you don't think it's easy to buy a home today, consider Grandpa's day. The United States Savings & Loan League, citing current interest rates of 4 1/2 to 5 per cent—4 per cent for veterans—points out that in 1900 the typical rate was 8 to 10 per cent.

From 1900 to 1925 the usual mortgage expired in one to five years. Today terms run 15 to 30 years and in some cases 25 and 30 years. In the old days the borrower was expected to pay the full principal of the debt on the expiration date. Today principal and interest are paid off in equal monthly installments.

Rural Common Sense

By Spuds Johnson

FARMERS WOULD DO WELL TO SAVE NOW AS CUSHION AGAINST FUTURE TROUBLE. There is any truth in the statement that history repeats itself? Farmers had better hope not, for those who can remember know that the agricultural situation in the decade following World War I was dark, indeed. So far, the same conditions have not been repeated since World War II, and now, when prices are good and profits fairly high, farmers should prepare for that depression period that may come.

We can't foretell the future, but we can look back into the past and perhaps learn a lesson or two. When World War I ended in 1919, farmers had outstanding mortgages against their properties of over 7 million dollars. Their expanded farm operation were producing surpluses that could not be absorbed by curtailed domestic demand. Foreign trade had ceased almost completely. Rural banks that had opened during war years closed at a rapid pace, taking with them farmers' savings. Outstanding farm mortgages climbed to a record peak of more than 10 1/2 billion dollars by 1923 and a severe depression hit farmers' pockets before the rest of the nation was thrown into chaos by the crash of 1929.

After World War II, what? When the Japanese surrendered, farmers stood at something over 4 1/2 billion dollars—not as bad as after World War I, in spite of the large number of farms in operation. Banks have remained as sound as rocks because of government insurance, domestic demand has remained high due to high levels of business activities, and foreign trade has continued, thanks to the Marshall Plan.

Even with these aids, farm mortgages had increased to over 5 billion dollars by 1949 and it looked as if farmers were headed for more trouble.

Boil weevils almost immediately leave cotton plants that have been chemically defoliated.

 "Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, August 27.
 The Golden Text is: "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. . . And this is his name wherewith he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS" (Jer. 23: 5, 6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!" (Isa. 52: 7).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Master taught his disciples one brief prayer, which we name after him the Lord's Prayer. Our Master said, 'After this manner therefore pray ye,' and then he gave that prayer which covers all human needs" (10: 7-11).

 the Korean conflict, and about 3.5 per cent below the record high of July, 1948.
 An item-by-item survey in 13 large cities showed the index was forced down mainly by falling prices for such items as tomatoes, potatoes, onions and bananas. The Bureau also noted a drop of 0.7 per cent in bread and 1.8 per cent in round steak.
 Many other foods went up a little between July 31 and Aug. 15, said Ewan Clague, committee chairman.
 The survey included retail prices of 25 foods in three 14 cities: Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Richmond, St. Louis, San Francisco and Washington, D. C.
 While round steak dropped 1.5 per cent, all other meats advanced, with pork chops up one per cent and hamburgers, veal cutlets and bacon up a fraction.
 Bread had been at a record high on July 31. Butter, egg and coffee prices continued to advance about one per cent. Sugar prices were fractionally higher.

It's a very satisfying feeling

YES, it's good to slip into a truly fine automobile and sense its richness, its comfort, its room.

And there's a great thrill in touching off the waiting power of a great-hearted straight-eight and feeling its swift response at any speed. It's fun to count the quick, admiring glances thrown your way.

It's nice to have a car that parks easily, for all its inches. It's very pleasant to do away with gearshifting and clutch-pedal pushing, and know in its stead the utter smoothness of Dynaflo Drive's silken transmission of power.

And still that doesn't probe the depths of a ROADMASTER owner's secret satisfaction. For while he knows he has a fine car, by its look, its feel, its appointments—

While he has performance at his command that needs play second fiddle to no other on the road—

While he enjoys a very special measure of creature comfort in the quite matchless gentleness of ROADMASTER'S over-level ride—

He knows too that he has made an exceptionally wise investment.

He has spent his money for the things that make a fine car fine—and nothing simply for show.

He has paid the lowest price per pound in the fine-car field—he has the very satisfying feeling of knowing his dollars have given him solid merit, and solid merit alone.

We'd like to have you try ROADMASTER in honest comparison with the highest-priced cars to be found. We'd like to have you try to match it for room, for comfort, for finish, for handling ease and for ability on the road.

Undeveloped Markets

A West African deputy to the Consultative Assembly of the Council of Europe, speaking at a recent meeting of the Assembly, dangled before that body the prospective market for European goods which would be found in Africa...

Africa has a population of more than 175 million persons, most of whom live by primitive standards. What a market would be created for all manner of goods and materials if some magic could lift the average African family to a modern house, with furniture and bathroom and gadgets, to possession of an automobile of sorts and a wardrobe scaled to Western living...

There is a potential market of almost comparable size, and perhaps of something nearer to possibility, in the Western Hemisphere. There are more than a hundred million persons in South America and perhaps fifty million in North America south of the United States border.

In both Africa and South America there are many natural resources from which could be drawn the wealth to pay for something like a modern standard of living. How can the cycle be set in motion, how can a primitive people be set on the path of modern living?

Starting Them Young

In some European countries the plastic minds of children have been targets for subversive propaganda and later have become strong assets to Nazism or Communism.

In order to forestall such happenings here, many adults responsible for children are making a point of instilling intelligent patriotism and right thinking into their youthful charges. One project along such lines was carried out recently in the Harlem district of New York...

Patriotism, freedom and loyalty, as abstractions, are above the heads of children. But by hammering home simple concrete facts relating to these concepts, they may be led toward attitudes which tend to become habitual and will in time make loyal citizens of them.

Children And Streets

Preventing a child from entering the street at an unpredictable moment is one of the few things which seem to be utterly impossible. In some places ice cream makers selling their product from street trucks have adopted a policy of refusing to sell to children who cross the street alone to reach the truck.

A mother may spend countless hours in teaching her child respect for the street, yet it will be many years before she can be really sure that he will stay where he is safe. It will always remain one of the heavy responsibilities of every driver, while moving along a residential street, to keep a watchful eye out for the unexpected youngster.

Lesson In Greek

Amid the disillusionism in Korea and the deepening pessimism in Europe, it is helpful to recall that the forces of democracy recently have won a significant victory over the forces of Communism. It happened in Greece.

The establishment of a stable, democratic government in a country long torn apart by Communist shooting and plotting, is a fairly well known story. It assumes greater importance now that Communism has inflicted humiliating defeats on United Nations forces in Korea and is heaving its iron muscles in much of Europe.

The story of the Communist defeat in Greece is of special interest to Floridians because the man chiefly responsible for it was Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former University of Florida football coach.

General Van Fleet arrived in New York City last week, after two and a half years abroad, during which he served as head of the American military mission to Greece. He was officially honored at a City Hall reception and later at a luncheon where American and Greek dignitaries acclaimed him for liberating Greece from the threat of Communist control.

What the general said on that occasion is worth noting. Greece has given the free world proof that Communism can be stopped, the New York Times quoted General Van Fleet as saying.

Editor's Note: This is the fourth of a series explaining the big changes ahead for Congress in the next session. It covers the President's proposals for the new Congress. It is suggested that anyone following this series will be able to follow the changes in the legislative process.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—What will it mean to me in dollars and cents? That's the big question for people now drawing Social Security old-age pensions, or who will be getting them soon, as they try to figure out the changes in the law.

Starting Sept. 1, pensions go to a minimum of $40 a month for those receiving them, or who'll receive them in the future. The highest rate is $20 a month. The lowest rate is $10 a month. The average rate will be $12.50 a month.

In August, the most pension a retired worker could receive was $20 a month. In September, it will be $40 a month. The average rate will be $12.50 a month.

Old-age pensions go up again, in time July 1, 1952. The minimum of 20 will remain unchanged, but the maximum will rise from $20 to $40. But only those now on pension after July 1, 1952 will share in those increases.

No worker of course, can get a pension at all until he is 65 and has met the requirements for getting a pension, such as working long enough in a job covered by the law.

His wife gets a pension for herself, but not until she is 65 and has met the requirements for getting a pension, such as working long enough in a job covered by the law.

Suppose Jones was drawing the maximum pension in August, $40, and his wife was getting a pension of $10. How in three months will that be the maximum but did and his widow was getting her pension in August.

They would get the increases in all three cases—which will affect Sept. 1, with the wife still entitled to one-half her husband's pension and the widow three-fourths.

Here is what Jones and his wife or widow got in August and what they'll get in September if he was entitled to the maximum pension with August first and September in parentheses: Jones—$40 ($48.00); his wife—$10 ($12.00).

That's the maximum pension anyone is getting now, and it will be the new rate which starts in September.

But the "average" pension will be the size of the pension most retired people are getting at all times.

While $40 is the highest pension a retired worker can get in August, the average this month is $12.50. While the highest paid after Sept. 1 will be $48.00, the average will be $14.50.

Take the same family if Jones is entitled to only the average pension in August, with the August figures first and September in parentheses: Jones—$12.50 ($15.00); his wife—$3.12 ($3.75).

That's the maximum pension anyone is getting now, and it will be the new rate which starts in September.

But the "average" pension will be the size of the pension most retired people are getting at all times.

managed to hobble down alone, but most of them were being helped down with their torn legs and twisted arms and blood-stained faces.

The medics did what they could at the aid station. They bandaged wounds, eased the suffering with drugs and poured plasma into the veins of those whose other blood had gushed onto the battlefield.

And then the wounded were carried back down the dusty road they had walked over a few hours before. Back they went in ambulances—and some by helicopter to an advance hospital. Doctors mended the broken bodies as best they could.

That night I sat in a darkened hospital tent which would take them to a bigger and better hospital in another part of this tortured land.

The pressure came had been stepped out of the little canvas and stacks had been built to hold the stretchers. The ambulances rolled alongside the train and the wounded were lifted out and carried gently into the cars.

Most of the wounded were still alive. They were deep in sleep beneath the medical power brought by the drugs, most of them. A few stirred restlessly. One man whose face was swathed in bandages struggled to get out of the stretcher. The medics pressed him back while a young doctor gave him another shot of morphine.

Gradually he became quiet. Then came the sulking wounded with banged heads and arms and legs. There were no more stretchers so they filed into a bare, crowded car and eased themselves on the floor. A soldier came around with a blanket for each of them—except one.

"I'm sorry," the soldier said. "We're out of blankets, I'm sorry." The wounded man said, "That's all right, Mac. Don't worry about me." "Well, I'm sorry," the soldier said.

Just after midnight the train began moving, taking the men back to a life that never would be the same for most of them.

And that is a glimpse into the hell of this war.

SUGAR CONTROLS WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—(AP)—The government today put sugar back under export controls, effective Sept. 1.

The Commerce Department, which is in charge of export controls, announced that each export shipment of sugar valued at $500 or more will require a license, unless the destination is Canada.

Government officials said the supply of sugar in this country is good, and the action is only "precautionary."

Levy Gets 33rd Homer To Beat Packers By Score Of 6-4

Steinecke Protests; Tedesco Wins 18th Game With Good Job On Hill For Giants

The Sanford Giants, with the aid of Manager Ed Levy's three run homer in the seventh inning, defeated the Leesburg Packers by a score of 6 to 4 in a hotly contested game at Municipal Ball Park last night.

The game, which Leesburg Manager Bill Steinecke protested in the third inning when Levy was allowed two bases on a ball which went into the Packer dugout, was a thriller all the way.

Giant hurler Charlie Tedesco went the route to chalk up his 18th win of the season. Although turned in a good job on the hill, giving up 8 hits, most of them bloopers just out of the infield, walking only two and fanning three.

The Packers went ahead in the second inning by pushing across two runs on two hits and an interference ruled on the catcher when the Packer pitcher's bat hit Forsyth's mitt.

The giants came back in the third and tied it up by scoring twice on three bases on balls and two errors.

In the top of the fifth Packer left fielder Hendrix sent one out of the park with one mate aboard to go ahead 4 to 2.

The Giants trailed the Packers going into the bottom of the seventh. After Tedesco filed out to first, Chadlerston singled, went to second on Poelker's single and came home when Hafenecker singled. With Poelker and Hafenecker on base Levy connected for the Giants' big blow of the game, a homer over the left field wall for his 33rd of the season. Ed Jackson followed Levy with a double which was on the fence, just short of being another homer.

John Hafenecker had one going out of the park in the first inning but Packer left fielder Hendrix leaped into the air and came down with it at the foot of the fence.

Tonight the Giants remain at home to meet the Palatka Braves at Municipal Ball Park with Jim Singleton slated to start on the hill for the Giants.

Palatka Braves defeated the Leesburg Packers last night, 9-2, and moved into tie with Orlando for the Florida State League lead.

It was Daytona's 18th win in 19 games against Palatka.

The Islanders mixed 11 hits with seven errors to score a handsy victory. Rookie Bob Still an Orlando native, who came to Daytona from the University of Georgia, held Palatka to six hits but walked nine.

Savannah Indians And Columbus Slip In South Atlantic

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Savannah Indians and Columbus Cardinals picked poor times to slip from their winning to losing ways.

Savannah took an 7-7 defeat from Charleston last night to slip four and a half games behind first place Macon. Savannah has lost two out of three. The Cards were shut out 4-0 Columbia and now hold a slimmy one-game lead over fifth place Charleston. A loss of a first division berth means the Cards won't get in the South Atlantic League's Shauznesky playoffs. They have lost three in a row.

Homer Johnson homered in the seventh inning to give Charleston the winning run over the Indians. Nelson King pitched the nine-hit victory and would have won with ease if he hadn't tossed a home run pitch to Joe Mangini. The four bugged professed three runs.

Joe Savransky added a two-hit pitching job to his no-hitter in the season. Savannah needed the fine work to win for Columbia since Cardinal George Dries gave only four hits. Bobby Hazzie led off the fourth inning with a homer. Buzz Bell of Columbia meets Ross Grimes of the Cards tonight.

Macon apparently cured of its losing streak, won its third in a row 5-3 over Greenville. Lew Davis hit a two-run homer for Macon in the Peaches' four-run fourth inning.

The Jacksonville-Augusta game was postponed because of wet grounds.

The Intercollegiate Rowing Association will stage its 48th annual championship regatta at Marietta, O., on June 17.

Miller City, O., high school, with only 34 students, had the only undefeated prep basketball team in the state in 1950.

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—When Lubba Church reported to the Phillies at their Clearwater, Fla., training base last spring he had a fine record but his ego had been deflated. He appeared to have been suppressed. Some doubted that he would stick with the team.

"If I don't stay that's all right with me," said Lubba. "This has to be my last year in Toronto. One more year will help give me more experience. But I want to make the Phillies as well as the next fellow. That's a down to earth fact."

He never was sent back to Toronto and probably never will be.

A few months around the circuit and Church will get his feet on the ground. Manager Eddie Sawyer philosophized. It seems to have worked. Now Lubba is one of the most popular of the White Kid pitchers and a regular starter.

Emory Nicholas Church turned in 15 victories against 8 defeats for Toronto, great for a fifth place club. His earned run average of 2.35 led the International League.

This spring he looked ready even though he had a habit of trying to throw his fast ball past slugger like Stan Musial, Walter Coppe and Sid Gordon.

"What about Church?" Sawyer was asked a number of times. "Better wait," replied Sawyer each time. "Let's see what his attitude is."

You see, Sawyer had Lubba at Toronto in 1948 before he moved to Philly. The kid—Lubba—was 25 on Sept. 12—got a well head. He went on the radio and told how the league "was just a breeze for me."

But his record was too good to pass him by.

"What about this swell head, Lubba?"

"Well," began Lubba as though he were ready to get a load off his huge chest. "In 1948 at Toronto I won my first three or four ball games real quick. I probably got a little cocky. I wound up winning five and losing nine. It was the best experience I ever had."

You'll never hear Lubba Church popping off in the majors. That's minor league stuff and over the dam as far as he is concerned.

By the end of July he had a 1-0 record with the Chicago Cubs—his favorite pigeons. He had beaten them three, the last being a three-hit shutout. He would have blanked the Pirates but for a Ralph Knerer home. And in the game before that he had the Cubs blanked until Hank Sauer blasted a three-run homer.

Three starts in eight days and three complete victories. That's the swiftest start from Birmingham, Ala., had a string of eight scoreless innings in five games as a fireman in June. Relief pitching helped him find certain batters' blind spots. After his first win on June 14 Church gave up only three runs in eight relief assignments.

After getting his Army discharge—he served 33 months including two and a half years in the C. I. U.—Ben Chapman, then Phillie manager, signed Church off the Birmingham sandlots.

He reported to Salina, Kan., and led the Western League with 21 wins while losing 9 in 1947. Then he jumped from Class C to AAA at Toronto.

"Chappie (Ben Chapman) told me a lot about good pitching," says Church. "He levelled with me. Ed Walls, former Salina manager also helped me and so did George Fenshaw, Phillie pitching coach. George helped me for three years and his teachings have brought terrific results."

The six-footer right hander who weighs 160 pounds had a chance to go to Mississippi State on a full scholarship. But he decided on organized ball.

"After all," says Lubba, "in college you get to pitch only 10 games a season and in organized ball you can pitch 20 to 24 games if you stay in shape."

During the off season he will continue his studies at Louisiana State University where he is a commerce major.

Church, a good fielding pitcher, loves to hit and run. Chappie helped him in his hitting and in he played three games in the outfield for Salina.

The Cardinals, Tigers, White Sox and Pirates showed an interest in the southerner as an amateur but Chapman got to know him better than anybody.

Off his mid-season form, it looks like it's time for Church. In the spring about Sunday being the lay for Church he didn't answer back. Today he stands out as a true White Kid. He might get right down to the wire with Sawyer's two other "1-year-old phenoms," Ben Roberts and Bob Miller, to bring Philadelphia its first pennant in 35 years.

For the second year in succession, Syracuse University's women's basketball team ruled their respective eastern tournaments.

A 10-game, single round-robin schedule is being played by the eastern intercollegiate basketball league in 1950, its third season of a ten team league.

Chiropactor teaches that each of the 24 vertebrae from within it points out that all function is directed and controlled by the nervous system which also governs the basic resistance of the body. Health is a natural thing.

Sickness or disease does not come overnight. The climax may be reached in a hurry but the approach is gradual. A thing to remember about sickness or disease is that it attacks when vitality is spent, function is below par and withdrawals as resistance is increased.

Chiropactor is not limited to any particular type of ailment. Some of the many ailments for which it has an impressive record are: Arthritis, Asthma, Bronchitis, Constipation, Diabetes, Hay Fever, Headaches, Cardiovascular renal conditions, Liver Troubles, Neuritis, Lumbago, Sciatica, Stomach Troubles and Childhood Diseases.

Chiropactors point out that all function is directed and controlled by the nervous system. Falls and accidents often wrench the spine. This causes a subluxation or slight displacement which interferes with the normal function of the nervous system. The result is lowered vitality, disturbed function, disease.

Spinal adjustment is necessary to release the interference to the nervous system. This done, allowing for time and patience, nature makes repairs.

French Indochina Has Long Been Most Prized Possession Of French

AP News Features
French Indochina, snaking down the China Sea Coast and curving snugly against China, Burma and Thailand, once was France's most valued and valuable overseas possession.

Actually, it has never existed as a unit but as a handy, collective name for administration functions. In the comparatively untroubled days before World War II, French Indochina was comprised of their rich colony of Cochin China and the four protectorates of Annam, Tonkin, Laos and Cambodia.

Indochina, with a long, vulnerable seacoast and ambitious neighbors has for centuries been an object of invasion. The dominant French influence has come during the past two centuries. Chinese and Indian influences—as the very name of the area suggests—are the strongest, followed closely by that of Thailand (Siam).

Ancient History Is Secret
Much of the ancient history of the S-shaped strip is locked in mystery. It's a mystery summed up in Angkor, remains of an ancient city reclaimed from the jungle and showing traces of a vanished race.

France first moved into the land in 1787 when a missionary bishop effected a treaty between a native king of Cambodia and Louis XVI. It was never executed fully. But in the mid-1800s—when empire building was fashionable—Indochina was acquired piecemeal, starting with Cochin China. Since that time it has almost always been a source of minor trouble, civil revolts and attempts by the natives to gain their freedom from mercantile colonization.

The French Record
The ledger of misadventure administration of Indochina by France contains both red and black entries. There is ample evidence of exploitation of agricultural wealth—rice, rubber, tea, coffee, cotton, silk and tin. A century ago Frenchmen supervised the area which is a third larger than France. On the other side, France brought to Indochina a continental civilization, built modern buildings, instituted unifying laws and started an educational system. When France fell, however, only one of five Indochinese could read or write. But with France overthrown by Germany in 1940, Indochina was delivered without a battle to Japan by agreement of the collaborationist Vichy government.

In 1941 Japan moved into operational bases in the country, also initiating a peace with China which ceded to it some 21,000 square miles of rice lands.

Growth of Nationalism
For many years Indochina has had a growing nationalist movement. By the onset of the war it flourished wider than ever, and the defeated Japanese handed the country back to the nationalists, not to the French. Annam, Tonkin and Cochin China handed together as the Republic of Vietnam—the ancient name of Annam—determined to achieve independence. Although over a tiny percentage of the people actually were Communist most of the key posts in the controlling government, the Vietnam League for Independence were filled by Moscow followers.

A large number of non-Communist nationalists feel that the important battle is for freedom from France rather than the battle against Communism. France, immediately after the war, determined to fashion its policies on those of the Dutch in Indonesia rather than follow the example of the United States and Great Britain which gave the Philippines and India independence.

France's Comeback
France with the help of the U. S. and Britain managed to get back into Indochina and has continuous warfare against the Communist dominated Vietnam ever since. At first it attempted to get back in power with support local leaders. Then it depended on a French-educated, pro-French native. Finally it placed all its blue chips on a government headed by an ex-king of Annam, Bao Dai.

Bao Dai was lukewarm about accepting French support in view of vague promises about future independence. The U. S. and Britain recognized France's claims and the former emperor's government when the Red China and the Soviet Union recognized the pro-Soviet Union set up by the Vietnam.

Nazi Loosed

Nuremberg Dec. 22, 1947, on charges of exploiting Russian slaves labor and looting the German-occupied countries. The 2 1/2 years he already had been in prison were deducted from his sentence.

Last March, he denied that he was seeking his release in exchange for disclosing important information. A few hundred yards from the prison today Hitler's former press chief Otto Dietrich prepared to climb into a car. When photographers approached hastily, he slammed the door, pulled a gray cap down over his eyes and took off at a dog-trot with news men in pursuit.

A reporter called out to him, "That's no way for a former press chief to act!" He waved his hand without turning and shouted, "Nein Nein" (No, No).

As a reporter got closer to him the wisened-faced man leaped a fence and ran down a rail road track with reporters in full pursuit. Dietrich zig-zagged across a field and dove into a clump of bushes. Reporters lost his track as he dodged around farmhouses.

The small sedan which had awaited him rolled away towards the nearby center of the city. Prison officials said the 67-year-old Flick had been a good prisoner and at his release was employed at the prison library.

Others released today included Walther Darré, former food and agriculture minister; Karl Rasche, former head of the Dresdener Bank; Heinrich Lehmann, serving six years, former director of the labor supply for the Krupp empire; Kurt Rothenberger, former undersecretary in the Justice Ministry; Rudolph Lehmann, former lawyer, judge and SS general; and Fritz von Meer, chemist and former director of the big I. G. Farben Company.

The 11 others released today—little know figures—included six convicted of concentration camp atrocities and of atrocities against captured Allied fliers.

Prison officials said the eight leading former Nazis had been excellent prisoners and had caused no trouble. They had prison jobs ranging from gardeners to assistant in the prison leather shop.

None of them told prison authorities what plan he had for resumption of civilian life.

2 Months Old War

troops landed and started toward Taegu, 90 miles from the foremost Communist forces.

July 4—The Americans collided with onrushing Communist troops. The GI's were outnumbered and lacking in combat experience and firepower. But for three days the Communists were halted.

July 6—The first casualty figures were announced: 57 Americans killed or wounded, 192 missing. The second figure was the more significant. It gave evidence of one of the most deadly North Korean tricks—infiltration. From then on for a while, hardly a day passed that did not see American forces flanked, surrounded and cut off.

July 11—A tragic date. American soldiers were found with arms bound and shot in the back of the head. There was more of the same later but this was the first realization of the Red strategy of war. Two war correspondents were reported killed. Ray Richards of International News Service and Cpl. Ernie Peeler of the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes; more died later.

July 12—The Americans fell back across the Kum River, described as a natural defense line. They dug in for the first major stand.

July 14—The familiar report—guerrillas in the rear—came down from the Kum line. Soon there were battle reports of a bridgehead thrown over the river. Hours later the Americans were withdrawing again.

July 15—MacArthur, calm and appraising in the midst of continuing retreat, told the world: "The North Koreans have lost their chance for victory." July 20—The bitter battle for Taegu. It was epitomized in the story of Maj. General P. Dean, probably the last American soldier to leave the burning city—if he got out at all. The last words he is known to have spoken: "I just got me a tank." He was smiling and holding a baton.

July 21—The first American victory, minor and temporary, but a victory. Negro GI's attacked and recaptured the city of Yecheon on the remote central highland front.

July 23—Lt. General Walton H. Walker, commander of the U. S. 8th Army, told his troops the peril of retreat had ended, ordered them to stand or die in the attempt. In the full military sense this was the low point in American fortunes and it was the point where the Red tide was stopped. The war was five weeks old.

Korean "liberation day," Aug. 15, was approaching. It is known now that the Communists hoped to announce the complete smashing of the beachhead by that date. Later they cling to the more modest hope that by Aug. 15 they could announce the capture of Taegu, keypoint central city in the Allied defense position.

The beachhead is still there.

Taeju Is Still In United Nations Hands

And the North Koreans have sustained three big defeats. The first was on the south coast when American Marines, a combat team from Hawaii, and American infantry threw them back more than 20 miles and put one entire division out of action.

The second was in the Nakdong River bulge. There they jammed an estimated 12,000 men with tanks and artillery into a crowded loop on the Nakdong and tried to break out. Again the Marines plus infantry tore a division to pieces and completely punctured the bridgehead.

The third has just finished—or at least subsided—in the Taegu corridor where an American regimental combat team with South Koreans on its flank threw back wave after wave of attackers in five days of fighting. The Communists appeared today to have abandoned the effort to break through there.

Two months—the beachhead today is considered secure. Officers at MacArthur's headquarters assert too that the Red strength is draining rapidly. More troops, planes, tanks and guns are coming into the beachhead. Also still more are on the way from Australia, Canada, the Philippines, Hong Kong and Thailand.

MacArthur's foresight, weeks ago, proved out. The Reds lost the sprint for victory. They got all the way to the beachhead but failed to throw the doughboys out of Korea.

What is the outlook? Headquarters says the day is not far distant when a bigger and more powerful United Nations army will be strong enough to take the initiative. It will not be either quick or easy, intelligence says. There was a time when foreign newspapers described the North Koreans as "a peasant army." That day is past. American veterans tell you frankly "they did a terrific job." The North Korean Reds hopped off two months ago with a smart, well-drilled and powerfully equipped force.

It has been chopped down with terrible losses to the six shock divisions. But it is still a formidable force.

In all probability the United Nations offensive will be something more than a grinding overland drive. The long coasts of Korea can not be defended mile by mile. With command of the sea and air there undoubtedly will be more than one amphibious thrust north of the present beachhead, snatching the Reds in the side and cutting across their supply routes.

CEMENT SHORTAGE

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 25—(AP)—Woolson brothers today said it expected 2,164 tons of bagged cement to arrive Sunday aboard the SS Southland from Germany. The company said it had back orders for 20,000 tons and that the Sunday shipment would be mainly for use here.

Major Battle

reans have around the 120-mile battle perimeter.

From the east coast to Taegu and south to coastal Chingu Allied planes bombed strafed and rocketed the Red troops. Five bombs were heaped on supplies behind the lines and on installations and airfields.

The main fighting raged east of the blood-soaked "hanging alley" corridor near Kumhwa. The bloodiest combat was around Chongno, 25 miles north of Taegu and seven miles east of Kunsu, spreading the combatants over a blazing 12-mile front.

On the Sea of Japan coast 25 miles east of this battle, 10 North Koreans stabbed down from Yongdo and shoved back a South Korean regiment before Kizye, nine miles northwest of Pohang port. The South Koreans dropped back a mile and a half before a tank smash by the Reds.

The east coastal battle was touched off by a twin South Korean attack to the north from Kizye and the coastal Hungshao area immediately north of Pohang. Two South Korean divisions—the capital and third—jumped off in the offensive.

At the extreme southern front between Chingu and Masan port, 27 air miles east of Pusan, the No. 1 Allied port, two Red divisions appeared to have built up for a sweep to the east.

American artillery and mortar fire rained an estimated 300 Red positions in front of the U. S. 25th Division's 35th Regiment, battling in the hills west of Masan.

Earlier Friday the Masan front blazed with tank combat. The fighting got so close that handgrenades were used by American Negro infantrymen of the 24th Regiment. Principal action was in the oft-battered saw-tooth hills of Solok near Tundok, 10 miles northwest of Masan.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton with the U. S. 25th Division reported the attack near Tundok was repulsed. He said fighting for the hills continued Friday night. In that sector the North Korean army has ordered death by shooting for any soldier who retreats.

A copy of a general order seized by the Americans there Friday said: "1. Do not give ground. 2. Anyone withdrawing will be shot."

It led to a renewed American drive to get more Reds to surrender. The big battle northeast of Taegu topped the Saturday pre-dawn war scene.

AP Correspondent Tom Lambert with the U. S. 27th Infantry "wolfhound" regiment supporting the South Koreans, reported all and artillery bashing whipped down a Communist wedge behind Allied lines from an original force of 3,000 to 200. General MacArthur had estimated the original force at 1,000 Reds.

Correspondent Lambert said U. S. infantrymen were under artillery and mortar fire.

Taylor's bid for renomination as Democratic candidate for the six-year Senate term was turned away by 618 votes.

D. Worth Clark, former senator from Taylor's home town of Pocatello, won the nomination with 26,807 votes to Taylor's 25,949.

Housing Project

answers by Mr. Williams.

In response to a question from the floor as to how in selecting a site for the project, Mr. Williams reported that the present location had been selected with much care.

First, he said, all possible locations were considered by Architect E. J. Moughton and Engineer Fred Williams. The present site was approved by them, by the City Commission and by Public Housing officials who made a careful survey of potential sites, he declared.

Asked about the survey of dwellings made in Negro sections in order to determine the need of a housing project, Mr. Williams stated that of 2,100 dwellings surveyed, 2,000 lacked sanitary facilities as well as water. The Castle Brewer project is expected to house 25 families, he said.

The Sanford Housing Authority will own the building and will have title to the property the day it is completed, he told the Jaycees.

"But isn't it financed with government funds?" he was asked. "No," said Mr. Williams, "that's another popular misconception. It is financed with private funds by the sale of bonds in private investors. However, some tax funds may be used later to make up the difference between the debt on the project."

President W. H. Stemper told all Jaycees plans to sponsor its cooperation with the Sanford Recreation Department and State Game and Fish Commission, a "Fishing Hole" for youngsters at Lake Charn, Ovidale on Aug. 30.

Stemper is a native of western Asia.

MacArthur Declares Formosa Essential; Truman Cracks Down

General Says Peace In Pacific Can Only Be Assured By Holding Strategic Isle

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—Veterans of Foreign Wars today opened their 51st national encampment, a meeting which may have produced its highest news in advance—a withdrawal message from General MacArthur. As the first session of the VFW convention began with a memorial service for the nation's military dead, a program which was raised out yesterday, Commander Clyde A. Lewis told reporters he would read MacArthur's second cable from the platform, but would honor General MacArthur's request that the statement not be read to the delegates, Lewis said. But the conventioners were able to read the text of the original MacArthur message in Chicago newspapers circulating freely on the floor of the big arena auditorium.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—General MacArthur said today "we may have peace" by holding a Pacific Island defense line—including Formosa—but "lose it and war is inevitable."

MacArthur gave great military importance to Formosa, last major strong hold of Chinese Nationalist forces, in a cabled message to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The United States has no armed forces on Formosa, but the U. S. Seventh Fleet has been patrolling the Formosa Strait to prevent an "offensive" attack by Chinese Communists.

"This commander in chief of the United Nations forces fighting in Korea described a natural" defense line of islands in the Pacific.

"From this line," MacArthur said, "we can dominate with air power every Asiatic port from Vladivostok to Singapore."

MacArthur said Formosa, if held by the enemy, "could be compared to an unshakable aircraft carrier and submarine tender, ideally located."

He expressed his military views in a cable to the VFW, meeting in its 51st national encampment. The message was read by Clyde A. Lewis, VFW commander in chief.

The general declared that should Formosa fall, it "would constitute an enemy salient in the very center of this defensive perimeter."

"The military potential would again be fully exploited as the means to breach and neutralize our Western Pacific defense system an amount a war of conquest against the free nations of the Pacific basin."

The general said he was voicing (Continued on Page 2)

Northeast India Plagued By Floods As 5,000 Are Dead

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 28 (AP)—The war of horror which did still was changing today in the wake of the devastating earthquake 13 days ago, termed by scientists the world's fifth most severe recorded shock.

Spreading flood waters pushed further over tea gardens in Assam province, where the quake hit hardest. The death toll was in the neighborhood of 5,000.

Minor shocks continued in the province. Millions prayed in the streets and fields.

An estimated 5,000,000 persons were reported homeless. Property damage was placed at $50,000,000. Damage to crops, farm animals and natural resources was expected to push this figure much higher.

The throwing up of the rich subsoil threatened permanent ruin to Assam's tea industry, a major (Continued on Page Two)

Ex-CIO General Council Says He Consulted Reds

Senate Group Okays Bill For Draft Of Doctors, Dentists

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Attorney Lee Pressman testified today before a House Committee that he once was a Communist while serving as a New Deal lawyer and continued to consult with Communist leaders while he was general counsel for the CIO.

But Pressman told the House Un-American Activities Committee he did not accept Communist orders or directives while serving the CIO.

Pressman said that he broke with the Communist Party "organizationally" in 1935 after a year's membership in a cell that included fellow Agriculture Department workers Nathan Witt, John Abt and Charles Kramer. But he said that only now has the "ideological" break become complete.

Pressman has just returned from the American Labor Party on grounds it has come under Communist domination.

Pressman said that he never told anyone connected with the CIO that he had been a member of the Communist Party and nobody ever asked him. He challenged anyone to read to say statements in action while he was CIO general counsel that was contrary to CIO policy.

He said, however, that for a number of years he had "meetings and dealings" with leaders of the Communist Party to discuss policies and activities of the CIO. He said this was while he was general counsel from 1935 to 1940.

But the dealings, he said, were only such as "I deemed to be of assistance to the CIO."

Rep. Nixon ( Calif.) asked whether Pressman could give any instances in which the CIO had deviated from the Communist line.

Pressman supplied what he considered two. He said he helped CIO President Philip Murray prepare a statement regarding the release (Continued on Page Five)

Rotary Entertained By Stanley Brumley

Stanley Brumley entertained Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon today with a number of songs. He was introduced by Jack Hangan, program chairman, as a graduate of Seminole High School who had won his way to the first in the singing contest sponsored by the Florida Order of Eagles.

President Orville Touchton reviewed the work of the Rotary Business and Professional Woman's Club attended the District No. 6 meeting of the B. and P. W. Clubs yesterday at the Driftwood Hotel, Vero Beach. They were Mrs. P. M. Gingles, president of the local club, Mrs. R. E. True, Mrs. E. W. Routh, Mrs. Lois Smiley, and Mrs. Marion Harman.

Mrs. Eunice Gay, director of the district, presided. Mrs. Edna Van Acker, president of the Florida Federation of B. and P. W. clubs, spoke on "Echoes of Our National Federation."

She informed the group that there are 2,485 B. and P. W. clubs in the United States and stated that it is the largest women's organization devoted entirely to promoting the interest of business and professional women.

Asked by Sheriff Mero where he had been, "Cruel Man" named among other cities, Jersey City and Miami, vigorously denied he had been in jail and declared that he had been to jail but he did not know where he was going.

He stated that he had come back to see Police Chief Williams, and when asked where he is staying replied, "The Sanford Jail, that is the safest place."

President Prevented Delivery Of Speech To VFW On Need To Retain Chinese Isle

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Republicans put into the Congressional Record today the text of General Douglas MacArthur's statement on Formosa and sharply criticized President Truman for directing that the general withdraw it. Republican leader Martin (Masa) told the House it was "unfortunate" that the President sought to "suppress" the statement and is "another exhibit of a bankrupt leadership."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Truman has cracked down on General Douglas MacArthur for proposing to make a statement on Formosa which the White House regarded as an improper venture into the field of foreign policy making.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross disclosed today that Mr. Truman personally directed that MacArthur withdraw the statement he had sent to the Chicago encampment of Veterans of Foreign Wars. In that statement, MacArthur had declared the safety of the United States demands that Formosa remain in friendly hands.

This was, at the least, off target from the Administration's declared policy that Formosa's future must be settled at the international level.

So Mr. Truman, in addition to the crackdown on MacArthur, made public a letter to Warren Austin, the American ambassador to the United Nations, repeating his Formosa policy "to the end (Continued on Page Five)

Criminal Patients At State Hospital Go To State Prison

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Inmate criminal patients of the State Hospital may be sent to the state prison for safekeeping even though they have not been tried and convicted for their offenses, Attorney General Richard Ervin ruled today.

His formal opinion gave approval to a cabinet order directing that Victor Leonta, Tampa was slayer, and Woodrow George, who was charged with armed robbery, be sent to the Raiford prison until a new, more secure criminal building is finished at the hospital.

The cabinet also ordered Lonnie J. Parrish and Vaseo Joyner (Continued on Page Six)

Truck Receipts At Market Double '49

The truck receipt figures on produce brought for sale to the Sanford State Farmers Market during July and August are more than double those of the corresponding period last year, Manager Sandy Anderson announced today.

During the past two months out of state receipts amounted to 21,282 packages and Florida products totaled 15,583 units.

Figuring 600 packages or units to a car, this is the equivalent of 61 cars of produce, said Mr. Anderson. Florida produce was mostly sweet corn, egg plant and peppers.

Out of state varieties totaled 137,287 bushels. Other leading items were cabbage, 3,090 of the 60 pound sacks; pole beans, 890 units; corn, 362 crates; peaches, 247 crates; white potatoes 211 of the 100 pound bags; red blue potatoes, 242 of 50 pound bags and 879 bushel of yellow beans.

Businessmen Ask 'Tax And Save' Program

CED Calls For Cut In Domestic Spending And High Taxation To Stop Inflation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development today called for a swift and rigorous tax-and-save program to take the inflationary wallop out of military spending.

The businessmen's planning organization, in a special report, forecast that total defense outlays may zoom to a rate of $30,000,000,000 annually a year from now.

CED said it can be handled on a non-inflationary, pay-as-you-go basis if swift measures are taken, and offered a five-point plan of action.

It called on Congress to pass promptly the stalled mobilization act and President Truman's $3,000,000,000 tax boost as a "roughly adequate first step," on the treasury to start a major savings bond drive by Thanksgiving; and on the Administration to slash non-military spending.

Price, wage and ration controls are not yet necessary, the CED said, but it proposed that Congress set up a watchdog committee to ferret out and expose hoarding, speculation, and excessive price or wage raising.

The statement, written by the program committee of CED's Research and Policy Committee, was released today by Marion B. Folsom, treasurer of Eastman Kodak Co. and chairman of CED, and Myer Kestnbaum, president of Hart, Shaffner & Marx, Chicago, and chairman of the Program and Policy Committee.

"The Communist attack upon the Republic of Korea was a flash of lightning which made the basic facts of our world situation clear, far more than they had been before," said the statement.

The immediate need, it went on, is to take these five steps to restrain the inflationary potential "at its source, which is excessive demand."

"1. Curtail government non-military expenditures to the maximum possible extent.

"2. Raise taxes, so that as the military program absorbs production, taxes will withdraw income from private hands. (Continued on Page Five)

Attorney General Says Free Games Machine Illegal

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Attorney General Richard Ervin told the new Oklawaha county sheriff today that any coin-operated machine that offers "free games" is illegal.

Ervin told Sheriff Ferrin C. Campbell that operation of a "strip ball free play" machine violated the state's anti-liquor law and was illegal despite the fact it was licensed by the city of Crestview.

In an opinion several weeks ago, Ervin said all coin-operated pin-ball machines that offer free games as a reward were illegal.

The Attorney General said the fact that a city license has been obtained for the machine "does not make it lawful to possess them or to permit them to be operated, because the law does not permit the licensing of such machines."

He said any city ordinance authorizing such licenses would (Continued on Page Three)

Yanks In Korea Do Best To Make Daily Life As Normal As Possible

KOREA (AP)—It takes more than a war in Korea to make the American soldier give up the habits of home.

In a strange land of strange customs he tries in small ways to live the way he always has. Sometimes this effort is ludicrous. Sometimes it is sad. But always it is stubborn. For even on a battlefield the Yank insists on making his life as normal as he can.

So far I haven't heard any soldier say he was over here fighting for his children's right to eat good old grandma's good old blueberry pie—or to protect his favorite brand of toothpaste from Communist infiltration. But the Army hasn't made the mistake it did in the early part of the so-called World War—that of forcing off on the combat troops unknown brands of cigarettes and chewing gum.

The infantry then raised a fair and proper howl over that. The doughboys thought it only reasonable that if they had to suffer in foreign territory they should enjoy familiar cigarettes—and let the civilians who were en-

British Exporter Urges Shipments To Russia Stopped

Shipper Says He Will Export To Russia Unless Actee Acts

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—A British engineering firm, preparing to begin shipping $2,000,000 worth of machine tools to Russia Saturday, said today the British Labour government should withdraw the firm's export license for the materials.

The firm will go ahead with the shipment unless Prime Minister Attlee acts, its chairman, Joseph Greenwood, told reporters. He is the head of Craven Brothers, a large tool-making concern.

Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister and now leader of the Conservative opposition, charged last Saturday in a radio address that British firms were filling Russian orders, some of which were for tools "of a class required for the manufacture and repair of tanks."

The Ministry of Supply conceded that several British machine tool makers were filling such contracts for Russia and that Russian inspectors are permitted in the factories.

Bail Of Convicted Communist Chiefs Revoked By Court

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today revoked the bail of the 11 convicted Communist leaders and sent them back to jail to await trial.

The order was in a two-page decision by the three-judge court. U. S. Attorney Lyndon H. Brown said the court's action was "a vindication of the law."

The court's decision was a surprise. The 11 Communist leaders were released last fall of compromise to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

All but one of the 11 men have been free in bail totaling $750,000 which would be continued for 30 days after the decision.

President Signs Expanded Social Security Measure

Chief Executive Says Knowledge Rider Unfortunate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—President Truman today signed a bill bringing 10,000,000 additional persons under old age insurance, calling it "an outstanding achievement."

In a statement the President declared:

"Expanded coverage and increased benefits in old age insurance should now be matched by steps to strengthen our unemployment insurance system."

At the same time, we urgently need a system of insurance against loss of wages through temporary or permanent disability.

These and other vital improvements in our Social Security laws are needed in addition to the act which I have signed today.

U. S. Cruisers And Destroyers Join In Shelling Attackers From Sea Of Japan

TOKYO, Tuesday, Aug. 29 (AP)—The Korean Reds drove back the right wing of the Allied defense line on Korea's east coast Monday, then lost some of their gains to a South Korean counter-punch. But they were maintaining strong pressure on the Pohang sector Monday night.

TOKYO, Tuesday, Aug. 29 (AP)—Koreans drove back the right wing of the 120-mile long, jagged Allied defense line Monday night in southeast Korea.

U. S. pilots said the whole northern front—east and west from the Nakdong River to the east coast—was alive.

The most severe fighting was between Pohang on the Sea of Japan east coast, and 22 miles north of Taegu near the Red-held village of Udae.

Red infiltrators were seen behind South Korean lines north of Taegu.

The Reds were 2 1/2 miles out of Pohang.

AP Correspondent Hal Boyle at Pohang, 65 miles north of the main Allied port of Pusan, reported a U. S. cruiser and three destroyers joined land artillery in pounding the advancing Reds. But the North Koreans advanced in the north of the line.
