

SPORTING GOSSIP

Winter Ball in Tampa

Tampa may be selected as a base ball college and winter quarters by Detroit, according to a dispatch received today, which states that Detroit is preparing to establish a base ball college in the south next fall with the idea of eliminating a large portion of the expense of training trips, and at the same time furnish training material for the major league managers to take to spring camps. At the college new players may be sent from league teams to be taught the science of base ball by former stars. The matter of offering inducements to the big leagues to establish their training camps at Tampa, and to send their teams here for spring training was brought to the attention of the board of trade this morning by a representative of the Times, and the board of governors in session this afternoon will consider the matter. Secretary Powell will be instructed to investigate the matter, and if there seems a probability that the big leagues may be induced to establish their training camps here without excessive demands on Tampa, the board of trade will very likely invite the establishment here of training camps and the base ball college.

President Bower's board of trade stated this morning that if training camps could be established here without the city having to stand too much expense, and if the leagues would play "real ball" here, it would prove an attraction to visitors. He does not, advocate, however, any decided steps in the matter of invitation until the proposition has been thoroughly investigated. President Bower agreed to bring the matter to the attention of the board of governors this afternoon, and request Secretary Powell to investigate further. — Tampa Times.

Brick Roads for St. Johns

The St. Johns board of County Commissioners will, if present plans are carried out, give the voters of St. Johns county an opportunity to vote on the bond question for good roads. The proposed amount of $200,000, which the members of the board advocated is sufficient to carry forward the work, so say those in a position to know, and will meet with considerable opposition. They claim that the $200,000 will simply do a few miles on the Jacksonville road and the same on the Hastings road. The good roads boosters want the county to bond for half a million dollars, and a committee will appear before the board of county commissioners at its next meeting and urge it to make the issue $500,000, and to build a brick road to connect up with Duval, Volusia and Putnam counties. What they want is a first class road that will go somewhere.

An Entertaining Firm

About four and one-half years ago the well known firm of D. A. Caldwell & Sons opened up a department store here on a very small scale. They are now carrying large stocks of clothing, ladies' and gents' furnishings, shoes, furniture and a thousand and one other articles incidentally sold in a department store. Ever since this firm opened up their chief aim has been to see how much they could sell of the highest grades and quality of merchandise for the least amount of money.

Following their usual custom, one or two members of the firm will go to the eastern markets for their large fall stocks, and beginning Friday, Aug. 16th, D. A. Caldwell & Sons will put on one of the most mammoth saving selling events ever held in Sanford. See their large double page advertisement in this issue.

Thieves Visit Colbert

Some thief visited the farm of W. M. Colbert on the west side last Sunday night and stole some seed bed cloth and several galvanized tubs. Mr. Colbert has determined to protect his property and has offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties. Mr. Colbert has also given his foreman orders to arrest all trespassers on his farm in the future and this rule will be enforced at all hazards.

Will Publish Sanford Directory

Dr. Miller, who by the way is the busiest man in Sanford these days with his medical practice and medical directories, states that as soon as he can issue the directories that he now contemplates that he will issue one for the city of Sanford and one that will be the most comprehensive and complete that has ever been printed for this city.

TO LOWER EXPRESS RATES

Florida Railroad Commission Will Cut Express Tariffs

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 9.—Following the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission that express rates must be reduced, the Florida Railroad Commission has issued a notice to the Southern Express Company in regard to a reduction within the state. A meeting is called of the commission to be held at Tallahassee Sept. 3 to consider whether or not certain schedules or rates and classifications shall be put in operation. This refers principally to fruits and vegetables and strawberries between points in the state. The Southern Express for years has gouged the growers in the state, not only in intra-state shipments, but also in interstate shipments, and it now looks as though there will be some relief.

The classification to be considered at this meeting is known as traffics A and B. The commissioners have notified the Southern's officers that they will give them a fair hearing. Tariff A is rates on fruit and tariff B on vegetables. Some comparisons of the rates now in and those which are proposed to be in effect are interesting. The express rate now for a 25 mile haul of oranges is 25c box, and it is proposed to make this distance is 25c crate and it is proposed to reduce this to 15c. Oranges on a 100 mile haul pay 35c box; proposed reduced rate, 27c. Vegetables for a like haul are now 35c; to be made 20c. For a 200 mile haul the present orange rate is 45c; proposed rate, 27c. On vegetables for the same haul it is 35c crate; proposed rate, 25c. With such reductions as these within the State and others proposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission out of the State, Florida growers will have a better showing to make money on vegetables than ever before. There is little doubt that the Railroad Commission will put these reduced rates into effect and the only way the Southern can maintain the present rate is to make a fight. Even if this is done the present tariffs cannot eventually be maintained. — Produce News.

STATE HAPPENINGS BOILED DOWN FOR THE BUSY

A Brief Resume of Florida Happenings That Will Interest The Hurried Reader

The State Bank of Palatka formally opened its doors for business last Saturday and the first day's transactions were exceedingly gratifying to the officials of this, the third banking institution for Palatka.

It is possible that the Moisant international school of aviation will be established at Tampa during the coming winter.

Marion county citrus growers and truckers have formed a mutual protective association.

Twenty-three mills is the tax levy decided upon for Pinellas county for the coming year by the commissioners.

Lakeland will have more visits from the long haired itinerant preacher. An ordinance has been passed placing the license for such performance at $5 per day, and we guess they will seek greener pastures. Other towns should emulate Lakeland's example and do away with all fakirs. Lakeland Telegram.

Gov. Gilchrist has issued warrants directing the execution of the death sentence upon Cain and Fortune Perry on Friday, Aug. 14th. The two men were convicted in May, 1912, by the circuit court at Gainesville, of murder in the first degree.

John C. Knight was arrested in Ocala on a telegram from Tampa and held for the arrival of Sheriff Jackson, who came after his prisoner, taking him back to Tampa yesterday. Knight lived in Ocala until a few months ago, when he went to Tampa to enter the employ of the Southern Express Company. He was in the employ of the express company at Tampa for a time, but later has been working for the Walker Construction Company of Tampa.

On account of the $150,000 bond issue at Lakeland being sold some time ago at private sale, it was decided that the issue be re-advertised. The last sale took place yesterday afternoon, the bonds going to the Southern Asphalt and Construction Company of Birmingham, Ala., they paying par for the same, less 3 per cent expenses, but the city of Lakeland to receive the accrued interest since March 1st. As money saved is money made, this will practically give Lakeland a premium of over a thousand dollars on the issue. As soon as they are approved by the New York attorneys work will be commenced on public improvements.

County commissioners of Santa Rosa county will consider petitions for a sub-tax district to be established for the purpose of obtaining funds with which to build a system of good roads in this county and the county's half of the expense of the bridge across Escambia river, connecting Santa Rosa and Escambia counties. The present board of commissioners pledged the building of this bridge and a hard road across the county. Fourteen thousand dollars is the amount Santa Rosa is spending on the road building this year. Milton Star.

Meat Will Be Higher

The highest price ever paid for cattle in the United States was given yesterday at the Chicago stock yards, when beef on the hoof brought $10.40 per hundred pounds. The nearest approach to this price occurred last week when $10.25 was paid. A Tuskola, Ill., dealer, got the highest price for an entire lot of corn-fed cattle.

Will Move to Sanford

F. J. Brusie, who was here several weeks ago with his little girls and made such a hit at the Imperial, will come back to his first love and make Sanford his home.

Mr. Brusie lived here about twenty years ago and was employed at the railroad shops at the time. He afterward drifted north and gave up the trade to engage in other lines, and had never seen Sanford until he was here a few weeks ago when the old longing to don the overalls took possession of him and he applied for the old job and received it.

He will bring the rest of the Brusies, the bright, breezy Brusies and settle down in the land of flowers for all time. We welcome them all back to Sanford. Once they get the Florida sand in their shoes it is only a question of time when they will wander back. It may take them twenty years to make up their minds but Florida will finally get them.

Presented With Watch

As a testimonial of their regard and well wished the employees of the Jacksonville division, A. C. Terry, presented D. G. Wagner, the retiring trainmaster with a beautiful gold watch, fob and chain Wednesday afternoon.

All the boys that were off duty congregated in the trainmaster's office and Supt. Higgins, who was on to the racket, kept Mr. Wagner upstairs until the crowd had gathered, and when he did arrive at his office he was unaware of what was going to happen until C. O. Taylor stepped forth holding the present in his hand, and in a few well chosen words presented the gift.

Mr. Wagner was so overcome with emotion at this token of regard from the boys that he could not speak for several moments, but finally rallied and thanked them all for their appreciation and regard. He also asked for their hearty cooperation and aid in the work of his successor and said that though he was leaving the service he hoped to see all the boys from time to time and wanted to hear good reports from them and know that they were succeeding and making good all the time.

The watch was a Howard, the watch so dear to the railroad man's heart, and was inscribed as follows:

To Trainmaster D. G. Wagner from the boys of the Jacksonville District, A. C. T. R.

The chain is of solid gold, twisted, and the charm contains a diamond setting and is embossed with the Knights of Pythias emblem on one side and the Masonic emblem on the other.

The gift and the spirit in which it was given demonstrates the high esteem in which Mr. Wagner was held by the associates and employees during his seven years' service with the Atlantic Coast Line Railway.

Mr. Wagner resigns to engage in other business and will probably leave Sanford much to the regret of his many friends.

New Hotel Progressing

W. T. Fields reports that the work of getting subscribers for the new tourist hotel is almost finished and this week will settle the preliminary subscription. In the midst of the summer season and in the face of many difficulties Mr. Field has performed yeoman service in inaugurating this great movement and deserves the thanks of every citizen of Sanford for going out singlehanded in the byways and hedges and getting up these subscriptions from the people. In a few days he will call the first meeting of the local stock holders and definite plans will then be formulated for the launching of the enterprise. If all the citizens of Sanford could realize the importance of the hotel proposition on our business life there would be more boosting and more money forthcoming from the people who are well able to give liberally.

Postal Clerks Not Slaves

An attempt to amend the postoffice appropriation bill to prohibit postal employes from joining secret organizations outside the department was defeated in the senate today by eleven votes after a sharp fight in which a possibility of a strike against the government was freely discussed. LaFollette refused to go further in his charge that officials had rifled his mail.

STATE BOARD OF TRADE

Formed in Kissimmee Yesterday at Good Meeting

WHITNER PRESIDED AT MEETING

Officers for Year Chosen and Next Meeting of Organization Will be at Ocala

Sanford's representatives to the meeting for the purpose of organizing a State Chamber of Commerce at Kissimmee yesterday have returned home and report the formation of a permanent organization. Hon. J. N. Whitner was elected as chairman of the meeting and presided with vigor and dignity. The annual meeting will be held in Ocala, H. Clay Standford of Kissimmee was elected president and H. H. Richardson of Jacksonville was elected secretary. Hon. J. N. Whitner was made third vice president.

The organization of this civic body has for its purpose the promotion of such laws and measures as will give the most publicity to all of Florida, work for good roads and also attempt to get the next legislature to make an appropriation to get out advertising matter descriptive of the possibilities and resources of the various portions of the state.

It is thought by some that the location of the secretary in Jacksonville will not be for the best interests of the organization but time will only tell whether this assumption is correct or not.

The chairman selected the following committees:

Credentials: J. J. Edwards of Lakeland, W. R. Royster of Palatka and E. Warner of St. Petersburg.

Resolutions: T. K. Bates of Sanford, C. H. Ward of Miami and John T. Cox of Lakeland.

Constitution and By-Laws: H. H. Richardson of Jacksonville, J. H. Humphries of Bradentown and E. M. Taylor of Titusville.

UNCLE SAM A BAD MAN

More Cigarettes Smoked and Rum Drank Than Ever Before

Washington, Aug. 11.—The people of the United States produce more whiskey and rum and smoked more cigarettes during the fiscal year 1912 than ever before in the history of the country, according to the preliminary report of Royal E. Cabell, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, submitted to Secretary McVeagh today.

The consumption of whiskey was exceeded only by the year 1907, but beer drinking fell off by a considerable percentage.

The unprecedented smoking of 11,221,624,084 cigarettes exceeded the records of 1911 by nearly 2,000,000,000, amazed treasury officials.

Stored in warehouses the country over are 263,786,070 gallons of whiskey and rum, the greatest on record.

The record production of these intoxicants for 1912 was 188,000,000 gallons, or 13,000,000 gallons greater than 1911. The consumption of whiskey and rum for 1912 was 133,377,458 gallons, the nearest approach to the record of 134,031,000 gallons in 1907.

Development in Florida

"Travel where you will in Florida, and it is the same story everywhere—developments, building, expansion," said Percy P. Vyle, the general manager of Vyle's Advertising Agency of Jacksonville, who passed through Sanford this week and stopped off between trains to chat with The Herald.

"The present developments are necessarily requiring large sums of money to carry on, and the fact that many large projects are being carried to a successful completion points to the one important fact that northern capital, so long shy of anything Floridian, is at last recognizing the possibilities of safe investment at higher percentage than hitherto they believed possible.

"The purchase of large tracts of land for colonization purposes has now reached the stage where the majority of absolutely clear title land has been taken up and the now available lands have various strings of timber, turpentine and other bases attached to them—strings which are holding up many would be purchasers, and which prevent the selling of the land with absolutely clear, cloudless titles to settlers.

Mr. Vyle spent the first days of the week in Eustis, where he went in response to invitation of the Eustis Board of Trade to take charge of Eustis' new descriptive booklet, advertising our picturesque situated neighbor.

The signature of Vyle on Florida Board of Trade booklets is now a familiar one, being a credit to the Board of Trade for employing professional help, and to the man who has made a study of municipal advertising.

Limes Have Good Market

Only a few years ago limes were a drug on the market. Nobody wanted them. At the present time they sell readily. Chase & Co. are now shipping about eight barrels daily from Miami. Hooks & Hughes shipped 30 barrels last week and receive about a car a day at present although last week they received five cars on one day. These limes are from the keys and are of a very good quality. Homer Hughes, of Hooks & Hughes says that the key limes stand shipment better and also bring better prices than do the mainland limes. He reports that they are not troubled with the stem rot as they were last year. Boats are a necessity in hauling the limes from the keys and quite a number of boat owners are making this a regular business. Miami is consuming at present quantities of watermelons. DeLand News.

Improves Dental Parlors

Dr. Cecil Butt has recently made extensive improvements in his dental parlors in the Yowell building. A new chair, one of the finest and latest improved models, two motors, new drills and other instruments of torture, all with electrical appliances, and the general doctor is now equipped to do all your dental work in record time. He was formerly handicapped in having but one chair, but this has been overcome, and with two well fitted offices and all the very latest machinery Dr. Butt undoubtedly has one of the finest dental parlors in the state. The public is cordially invited to inspect the office and see the wonderful mechanism of modern dentistry.

Chalker is Succeeding

Several months ago Chalker & Co. took over the Keely Garage on Oak avenue and though handicapped from the start by the run down condition of the place have forged steadily ahead and gained a reputation in Sanford for doing good work and giving the customer a square deal.

In a few weeks Chalker & Co. will have some new cars for the inspection of the purchasing public. They have deals on with several well known manufacturers of cars and have not yet decided upon the car that will be their leader, but they purpose to handle one high grade car and one light weight car for light and heavy pocket books. They are also equipping with new machinery for their repair shop and will later in the season put on a good livery service.

Though Blind Makes Hammocks

Among the many scenes of interest to the tourist in Orange county is the colony of negroes at Eatonville, where they have their own municipal government and live in peace and contentment.

Among their number is a blind negro man named Livermore, who has the touch and genius of Blind Tom, though not in the musical line. Livermore makes hammocks and his specialty is the brilliant red, white and blue hammock that is attractive wherever seen. He was in the city yesterday and had election tickets printed for the city election at Eatonville, in which he is a candidate for alderman.

In the hunt for evidence to convict the murderers of the gambler Herman Rosenthal, the state's attorney and the grand jury have unearthed a wealth of information showing that the gamblers and keepers of disorderly houses paid sums aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly for police protection. With the cooperation of all the banks in the city, District Attorney Whitman has been able to secure the names of four police inspectors whose bank accounts ran into several hundred thousands.

Within three hours after President Taft had sent back the steel tariff bill to Congress with a message of disapproval, the House today passed it over his veto. The vote was 173 to pass it, 83 against it, and one present and not voting. It is not expected to pass the Senate. In a message to Congress, the President said he disapproved the measure, because it provided for revenues only, and took no account of protection for American industries. He condemned the ways and means committee for refusing public hearings on the bill. His veto was expected.

William Bruce McMaster, American vice consul at Cartagena, Colombia, has been shot and killed. Dispatches to the State Department today reporting his death do not say whether it was an accident or a murderous assault. An investigation is being made. Mr. McMaster was killed last Sunday "while hunting," according to the report of the State Department. An attack upon his life two years ago and the strain imposed upon his relations with the Colombian judicial authorities because of his efforts to punish the would-be assassins excited the suspicion of officials there as to the cause of his death.

Governor Wilson will open his speaking campaign in Pennsylvania, according to present plans. The Governor today accepted an invitation to speak at the state granger picnic within two weeks. The location and date will probably be announced later.

The pension bureau today faces the greatest financial crisis in its history as the result of lack of funds to pay pensions. The San Francisco agency has a balance of exactly seven cents, and Detroit only four cents. Reports from all agencies received at the bureau tell the same story, of no money for the veterans and their dependents on the nation's pension lists. This condition is due to the delay of Congress in passing the pension appropriation bill. The extension of the old appropriation bill for a 15-day period so that one twenty-fourth of last year's appropriation might be used to pay less than one-half of the $15,000,000 due on August 1, has left 200,000 pensioners unpaid at Indianapolis, Knoxville, Louisville, New York, Philadelphia, and Topeka. There is no hope for them until Congress acts.

President Taft has been presented with a fine basket of East Indian mangoes raised in the United States. The bureau of plant industry, which is experimenting with hundreds of foreign fruits in the effort to find new varieties which will grow here, raised the mangoes in Florida. They came from a tree presented to David Fairchild, chief of the bureau of plant industry, when he was in India some years ago, by one of the princes. Mr. Fairchild says mango growing in the United States can be made a commercial success.

"We regard our enemy in this campaign as the 'ancient enemy'—the Democratic party," declared Chairman Hilles of the Republican national committee. "And we regard Mr. Wilson as the man we will have to defeat to re-elect President Taft." "Our friends," said he, "think the tariff will be the issue in this campaign. Mr. Wilson has emphasized the tariff question, and I am inclined to think that the fight for the Presidency will center about that issue."

A party of our young people were camping at Lake Honey this week.

The ladies of the M. M. S. society gave a carnival at the hall last Tuesday night, which by far surpassed any entertainment ever given in Geneva. The hall was beautifully decorated with palms and vines. Ice cream was served in a gaily decked booth, presided over by Mesdames Pattishall, Daniels, Harrison, Anderson, Gresham and Adams. Directly opposite, delicious cake of all kinds was served by Mesdames Speer, Moran, Seig and Culpepper. In one corner of the hall was a very realistic Indian wigwam, with Mrs. George Peters in charge, assisted by Miss Emma Proctor and Miss Addie Gresham. These ladies were dressed in Indian costumes, and presented a very picturesque appearance. Home made candy, contributed by the young ladies of Geneva was sold from this booth. The Japanese girls, with Mrs. J. V. Wicks in charge had their booth on the outside directly opposite the hall. Japanese lanterns were hung all around the booth, which was trimmed with palms and vines. In this pretty place, lemonade was sold by Misses Marie Daniels, Kate Flynt, Lola Gresham, Lydia Geiger, Ruth Little and Della Jones, all becomingly dressed in Japanese costumes. Close to this booth was a small tent, in which Miss Mayme McLain, as "Madam Fortuna" read the hand and told the secrets of all who wished to look into the future. This mysterious little lady was very attractive in her gypsy costume. Miss Mabel Daniels and Miss Ramona McLain, who were charmingly gotten up in Wild West costumes, sold quantities of confetti all the evening and Miss Gertrude Little and Miss Barbara McLain, as little Dutch girls, sold peanuts. But by far the greatest success of the evening was "The Nigger Minstrel Show." This part of the program was arranged and managed by Mrs. Curlett and certainly did credit to this lady's talent. The jokes were all original and the music new. The rag time swing of the coon songs pleased everyone. Each actor took his part perfectly. Especially good was the negro dialect of Miss Blanche Pattishall. Every number was well rendered and heartily applauded, showing that a Geneva audience knows how to appreciate a good thing. The effect of the stage setting was really artistic. One could not but wonder how it all could be arranged in so short a time. Mrs. Curlett had her player piano moved to the hall for the occasion and during the intermissions Mr. Curlett favored the audience with some fine selections. Miss Georgia Pattishall accompanied the singers. Those taking part with Mrs. Curlett were Misses Belle Eichner, Blanche Pattishall, Irene Peters and Mrs. Carrol Culpepper. Messrs. H. H. Pattishall, Payne Daniels, John Huddleston and Bertie Pattishall. During one of the intermissions Mrs. David Speer recited in her pleasing manner "A Woman's Curiosity." The applause which followed showed how this was enjoyed by all. Throughout the evening W. L. Seig, dressed as a clown, caused much amusement by his grotesque get up and humorous hits. Gordon Flynt also contributed his share of fun as a clown. Nearly every one in Geneva turned out to enjoy the good time, while Oviedo and Chuluota were well represented. The proceeds of the entertainment are to be divided between the two churches. The ladies of the M. M. S. society wish to thank Mr. Geo. Taylor for the efficient help he gave them during the evening of the entertainment.

WOODLAND PARK NOTES

No one could find fault with the weather man Sunday and the visitors to Woodland Park had an enjoyable day. Among the early visitors were D. H. C. Rabun, his two sons, Harry and Charlie, son-in-law, Mr. John Badger, Mr. Evans and Mr. Taylor, who all enjoyed bathing and pronounced the toboggan the finest thing yet. In the afternoon the Gertrude brought two loads, mostly ladies. Artie Smith brought his family and enough friends to fill his big year. Nearly every one went in swimming and had a good time. The Vincent brothers brought a party in their launch and were surprised at the improvements and facilities offered for enjoyment. The general verdict is: Woodland Park is too far in advance of the town to be appreciated as it should be. One man said: "If this was near our town of five thousand people your grounds would be over crowded every Sunday." WOODSMAN.

FROM MOORE'S STATION

Rev. C. H. Summers will be here this Sunday, Aug. 18th, to preach at 3 p. m. The Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. W. W. Miller Wednesday evening of last week. The ladies brought quilt blocks and pieced half of a quilt. The hostess served delicious lemonade and cake, which was much enjoyed. Mrs. W. R. Guerry entertains this week. The Farmers' Improvement Club is the name given the club formed here. The by-laws and constitution were approved and adopted at the meeting last Friday evening, at which there was quite a turnout. A varied program was given, which will be a feature of each meeting. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and bring their friends every two weeks on Friday evening.

I. D. Hart was here on business from St. Augustine last week.

Joe Guerry left Sunday for Arcadia to be gone some time.

W. W. Miller is having another well put down making four on his Miller avenue farm. He will also do some tiling.

Wade Hasty and nephew returned from a visit in Charlotte, N. C., on Saturday.

Walter Ingram is here again, after being in Jacksonville a couple of months. George Speer of Beardall avenue is in Tampa, spending some time.

Mrs. Frank Estridge is at home, after a two months' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Bert Herndon of Howell, Ga.

P. G. Miller left last week for Columbus, Ohio, and from there will go to Washington, D. C., to fill his position with the government.

Mrs. Louis Willis has been quite ill for the past week. Dr. Neal in attendance.

L. J. Hancock has returned from a visit in Illinois and Wisconsin. Mrs. Hancock will visit two sisters in Texas before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Muirhead and children have returned from a lengthy visit with relatives in Fort Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cameron went to Georgia this week to see a sister of Mr. Cameron's, who is ill.

CAMERON CITY CLIPPINGS

L. J. Hancock has returned from a visit in Indiana and Wisconsin. Mrs. Hancock, who accompanied him, has gone to visit a sister in Texas and will also be at home in a short time.

Mrs. H. H. Stevenson was the guest of friends here over Sunday.

Mr. Duke is building a barn for A. Dorner on Celery avenue.

Some of our people attended the meeting of the newly formed club at Moore's Station last week and report a pleasant, interesting meeting.

Miss Grace Rich and Miss Aileen Minnick are spending several days this week at the Worthington home on Lake Onoro.

The people of our community were shocked and grieved at the news of the fatal automobile accident of last week. We know that a man of Mr. Hildreth's worth and ability can ill be spared from any vicinity and to Sanford at this period of her development the loss cannot be estimated.

We notice that our car tracks and right of way are being put in shape for the running of trains and street cars and we hope to see them running in the promised time.

Caldwells, the enterprising dry goods people, have been distributing bills here this week.

W. B. Leberz of Jacksonville was here on business Tuesday.

The new barn of the Swain family is nearing completion and is a great addition to our little village.

W. W. Dressor is selling a horse that it will be well worth your while to see, if you are going to purchase one of the kind.

ENTERPRISE

Last Tuesday Paul Livingston, colored, while in bathing at the dock, was drowned. He came near drowning James Wilson. He caught James the last time he went down. Mr. Adams got James and pulled him out on the ferry boat and he was so dazed he did not know where he was at. It is a warning to other little boys to keep out of deep water.

Mr. and Mrs. Stead attended quarterly meeting at Osteen Sunday and report having a fine meeting.

Mrs. Davis and daughter, Mrs. Adams are spending a month at the beach at Port Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gordoff returned home after spending about six weeks at Daytona beach, all very much improved in health.

M. C. Whidden, contractor and builder of Orange City finished up the carpenter work on H. F. Quackenbos' house. J. H. and Joe Padgett have fixed up Green Spring for bathing parties.

H. S. Brook and family expect to move to Orlando and make it their home.

Capt. Tuttle has made a little change in the ferry. Parties who go over in the first trip have an hour to stay in Sanford.

Daily Thought.

Absence of heat and haste indicates fine qualities. A gentleman makes no noise, a lady is serene.—Emerson.

SANFORD, FLORIDA

TO CONNECT WITH ST. JOHNS

Kissimmee Wants to Make All Water Route to Jacksonville

Kissimmee is after an all water route that would make it the junction point between Jacksonville and Ft. Myers, via the St. Johns river and its tributaries, the Kissimmee and the Caloosahatchee. The Kissimmee Yacht Club has taken action in the matter and will press it upon Congressman Clarke's attention on an early visit to Kissimmee.

The route is entirely feasible and but a few miles cutting would be done in addition to that done by the Distons some years ago and by the United States government in improving the Kissimmee and the Caloosahatchee.

There are two routes to be considered for canals to connect with the head waters of the St. Johns river. One is to construct a canal from Lake Runymede to Lake Live Oak, a distance of one and one-half miles, from which lake a motor boat can now go into the headwaters of the St. Johns near Lake Poinsett. Another route, from the north end of East lake into the Econlockhatchee river, which empties into the St. Johns near Lake Harney, seems to be the most direct way.

"This project will do more for the up-building of this section of Florida than can be realized by any one today," says the Yacht Club communication. "When the Clyde line of steamers from Jacksonville ply the waters of Lake Tohopekaliga and East Lake, stopping at St. Cloud and Kissimmee, there will be an era of prosperity little known at present."

"We are in receipt of letters from many people in the north, some having already bought land here, who desire to come to Kissimmee by launch, by way of the Ohio and Mississippi river, across the Gulf and then up the Caloosahatchee and Kissimmee rivers. Some have enquired if Kissimmee is the head of navigation to the north, as they desired to go on through to Jacksonville. Others would come through the other way, so the number of boats passing through on this route, and the amount of commerce carried through would soon be very great indeed."

Will Need Sidewalks

Should the new brick paving go on Park avenue, or even if it does not, there should be sidewalks laid from Tenth street to the Oviedo branch or even farther. Under present conditions the pedestrians take their life in their hands every time they attempt to walk on this road, for there is not room enough to pass a car or vehicle of any kind. Even if the walks are not hard surfaced at present they should be laid out and graded and give the people a place to walk. There are supposed to be sidewalks on the streets of the city limit, and they should have Park avenue surveyed at once and these sidewalks started. This part of Sanford is growing despite the handicaps under which it labors and with sidewalks would prove a promenade of importance.

Had Their Goat

During an interim of the Sanford Orlando game on Tuesday a large goat that had been tethered in the bushes near the ball park was led into the field for the delectation of the visitors. His goatship was placarded appropriately for the occasion and was escorted around the field by Jim Harris, much to the amusement of the Sanford and Orlando fans.

As there is no doubt about the goat question or who is the keeper there was no question raised by the visitors about the propriety of leading in the animal right before their very face. It is really painful about Orlando and her ball team and the picture of the goat brought tears to the eyes of the many faithful Orlando fans who have followed their team to so many defeats.

When will the slaughter cease?

Going to Coronado

Several Sanford parties expect to go to Coronado next week, where the fishing is said to be better and the beach smoother than anywhere else on the Atlantic seaboard. At the Atlantic Hotel Mrs. Allcott is making special preparations for the Sanford people and the rates are so reasonable that the house will hardly hold the people that intend going. Several of the fishermen who expected to rent a cottage have given up the plan and will stay at the hotel on account of the superior accommodations and the low rate.

She Was a Man

At the Star Theatre this week a very clever female impersonator is holding the boards and his make-up is so good that the Johnnies on the front row actually fell in love with him. Coming out in a bathing suit in the last act the lady discarded hat and hair and "it" was only a man. The act is good and every one should see it this week at the Star.

Died in Alaska

J. L. Miller returned home from Leesburg on Tuesday where he attended the funeral of his brother, George Miller, who died in Alaska. Mr. Miller was in the U. S. army and enroute to Alaska the transport was ice bound for sixty days, the troops suffering so much in the intense cold that many of them died from the effects of the exposure. The remains were shipped from Alaska a month ago and just arrived in Leesburg last week.

Houses Are Scarce

Although this is the dull summer time or supposed to be, there is a scarcity of houses here and every day new people are hunting houses. At the present demand and the rent received it does seem that some of the Sanford capitalists could arrange to erect a few more houses before the winter season.

Copies of Herald Wanted

Parties having copies of The Herald of Friday, Aug. 9, can get five cents for them, as the edition is exhausted and members of the family of the late W. D. Holden are anxious to get about ten copies. If any one in Sanford can muster a copy of last Friday please bring it to The Herald office at once.

Notice of Application for Tax Deed Under Section 8 of Chapter 1885, Laws of Florida

Notice is hereby given that F. H. Rand of Sanford, purchaser of Tax Certificate No. 151, dated the 6th day of June, A. D. 1910, has filed said certificate in my office, and has made application for tax deed to issue in accordance with law. Said certificate embraces the following described property, situated in Orange county, Florida, to wit: Lot 4, Block 10, Tract 13 of Sanford. The same land being assessed at the date of the issuance of such certificate in the name of J. H. Prevatt.

Unless said certificate shall be redeemed according to law, Tax Deed will issue thereon on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1912.

Witness my official signature and hand this 15th day of July, A. D. 1912.

WOMAN'S GREATEST BLESSING

This Information May Be Of Untold Value To Every Reader Of The

Woman's greatest blessing is health. Without it her happiness is wrecked. Ignorance of the proper treatment of the diseases peculiar to her sex causes this deplorable condition.

Poor health comes to all classes, the society woman and the woman who does her own work.

Women's diseases often remain hidden and untreated because her natural modesty shrinks from consulting a physician and the disease goes on uncared for and is well advanced before she awakes to the truth. Her many duties often seem of greater importance than health itself and she neglects proper treatment until her life is a wreck.

The knowledge that Reno's New Health will surely cure Beauty, Profuse, Painful, Irregular or Suppressed Menstruation, Sickly Periods, Constant Weariness and Weakness, Depression, Cramps, Dizziness, Violent Headaches, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Back and Groins, Leucorrhoea, all Inflammations, Ulceration and Discharges of the Vagina and Uterus, is of untold value to every reader.

It may be that today you are well and strong and are not in need of medical treatment, but weakness and disease come to every woman and then the knowledge that Reno's New Health will cure you will save you years of suffering and perhaps life itself.

The sickly woman is the saddest wreck,—not only for herself but also for the loved ones around her, on account of the misery and sadness she causes them. Her children are likely to be sickly and peevish and too weak to properly fight the battles of life. How important, then, it is for every woman to have health.

Reno's New Health is sold under an absolute guarantee that it will not cost a cent unless it will do all that is claimed for it. Weigh well this statement. It means your restoration to perfect health and womanhood without risking a penny.

Every woman who is weak and ailing or who suffers with the diseases peculiar to her sex should use Reno's New Health at once and be restored to health and happiness.

WE WIN WITH WILSON

Election for school trustees next Tuesday in Sanford. Don't let the election go by default.

Several Sanford parties are considering the advisability of purchasing a large tract of land at the beach and establishing a Sanford summer colony.

Time for Jacksonville Board of Trade to organize another Good Roads tour. Secretary Richardson has been elected secretary of the State Board of Trade. Let the band play.

The latest word from Washington is that appropriations are to be cut short. Hope this will not cut out our dredging operations in the channel of the new government building for Sanford.

August and September are the months to spend at the beach, when the nights are delightfully cool and the fishing is good. There is just enough chill to the water to start your circulation and make you feel like living.

Children under fifteen years of age are not allowed to drive a car in Sanford. Neither should a child under fifteen years of age be allowed to drive a team of any kind in Sanford. There is just as much danger in one as the other.

The Sanford Herald asks what is the matter with a South Florida Press Association. The bookworm, maybe.—Pensacola News.

Well even that is better than having the bubonic plague.

The Sanford Herald asks what is the matter with the South Florida Press Association. We don't know, unless we are all so busy we don't take the time to organize. The West Florida editors are the only ones that have time to fish, play ball and hold talk-fests—in fact, over in that end of the state they are taking off time to observe Sunday properly, and the first thing we know they will all be running for office—nothing else to do you know.—Lakeland Telegram.

There seems to be some real opposition to Hon. J. M. Cheney on the Federal Judgeship. The Florida senators are holding up the confirmation and this gives rise to criticisms from the Tampa papers, claiming it to be another scheme to have a Jacksonville man appointed. It is simply a case of political patronage and it is not confined to any party, for they all practice the game when they can. If there is no valid reason for holding up the appointment of Mr. Cheney, except to give the place to a Jacksonville man, the senate should confirm him. He is an Orange county man, and that is recommendation enough.

BAD ENOUGH

"Miami, the new-world modern Caribbad" is the way the Miami papers exult about the discovery of a well of sulphur water near that city. Puhaw! There are sulphur wells and springs all around Tampa and we haven't said a word about Caribbad.—Tampa Tribune.

According to Charlie Jones Caribbad in Tampa and all the other boys beside Carl. What a wonder that Jonesy was not turned into a smoker when he looked back upon Sodom.

IN BRITISH TERRITORY

Press dispatches report that in Saskatchewan, Canada, during the parade of an American circus the mounted police assisted by other Canadians stopped the parade and tore the American flags from the wagons. The circus people were powerless to stop this desecration of the flag and the parade proceeded with the British flags flying. This is rather a strange act on the part of a friendly nation and should cause righteous indignation among the American residents of Canada. Just now the Canadian authorities and the Canadian railways are anxious to annex as many American citizens as they can for the new territory and such actions are calculated to make all loyal Americans stay on their own side of the line until such time as they can cross under the stars and stripes and take the British flag as they have already done on two different occasions. This old way of letting British, Mexicans and what not rubbing it in is getting monotonous and it is about time America was using some of those high priced battle ships and working the standing army that has been standing too long.

APOPKA TRIBUNE DEAD

The new paper at Apopka—the "Tribune," which looked strikingly well, petered out after printing only two numbers.

That is the inevitable result of newspaper ventures in small places. That and the Taft Messenger died within the month.

The Citizen was born in Apopka and the town made a brave attempt to support a printing office, but it removed to Winter Garden and finally was brought to Orlando.

The fact is it takes nerve, money and a more than generous support if a paper is to live in a small community where the business does not warrant it and where a man with talent cannot afford to go.—Orlando Citizen.

LIFE SAVERS NEEDED

At every beach resort of Florida there should be some provision made for employing a life-saver, or for the installation of equipment capable of use in emergencies where through ignorance or miscalculation bathers have reached a dangerous distance from shore.

Throughout the summer, thousands of people from the interior, as well as those from neighboring states, wend their way to the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of Florida to enjoy the cooling breezes and invigorating salt baths. Few, if any, of the resorts have adequate facilities for guarding against a loss of life.

It is no uncommon thing to read of death by drowning at the famous beach resorts, and in nearly every instance a life boat or a life saver could probably have prevented a fatality. Pablo Beach has contributed to such horrible reports; the beaches at St. Augustine and Daytona have also given up the toll of human life. Other places could be included in the list. At neither of these beaches, so far as is known, can be found a life boat or men employed to protect bathers. There should be a state law so stern and rigid that every county or municipality that has jurisdiction of a bathing beach could enforce protective measures. It should be considered a felony to neglect installation of life boats or life saving appliances.

The public in general can never be taught the dangers of the seashore. The person who has encountered the undertow along a beach and has escaped its clutches understands the dangers which lurk beyond or close to the breakers. But the bather whose dips in the ocean are infrequent never knows just how far to go. It is these who must be protected, and their protection is incumbent on the authorities. Just as much protection should be given at the seashore as on the public highways. The life of the public is a public charge, and its protection should be carried on at the expense of the public.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

THE VACATION HABIT

Glorious is the vacation habit, especially for hotel keepers. For others, it is apt to be the time for the hardest ticks of work.

To save a quarter, you carry your suitcase to the station, which requires about as much effort as is necessary to take care of a vegetable garden for a week. The traveler seats himself in a thick and squishy upholstered car seat, in hot weather, while even the most menial housemaid has a wicker chair on her abady kitchen porch, and would rather sit on the ground than in such a sweet box as falls to the lot of the tourist.

You gradually slump down into your seat, vainly endeavoring to make a right angle fit into the perpendicular human spine. A brisk walk about the station while the train is having a ten minute stop would make you feel yourself again. But you dislike to make it look as if you weren't having a good time.

Arrived at your hotel, boarding house or camp, you proceed the next day to climb a mountain, play seven sets of tennis, or tramp fifteen miles with a fish pole. Your only previous training for the past eleven months has been covering the half mile walk to and from your business.

After suffering next day from an advanced stage of dilapidation, you deplore your growing years, look anxiously for gray hairs and begin to think of retiring from business.

It takes a philosopher to rest on a vacation. If you are not a philosopher you will probably work harder and fret more trying to keep cool and comfortable than you would to go out and get lamed up playing base ball.

There are two classes if people who get full physical benefit from a hot weather outing. The first consists of those who are contented to sit around on the piazza, sleepily listening to the clicking of the knitting needles, drinking in the peace of the forest or the shore.

The other class consists of the people who keep themselves in constant physical training by daily exercise at home. Such persons are rare. There is an endless number who think they can't walk half a mile at home, but who will cheerfully play a nine-inning game of base ball when on a vacation. They pay for it.—Ex.

Rattler Killed Bull Dog

Nick Zernovean, who lives on the Murray place, lost a valuable bull dog on Wednesday of this week. The dog was a puppy unacquainted with the ways of a snake and especially of a Florida rattlesnake, and when in his wanderings over the place he happened to see the rattler under a pile of boards he immediately tried to get at him. The rattler was a wise old guy about six feet long and when the puppy attempted to reach into the hole to pull him out he struck him on the nose. Any ordinary pup would have given up the ghost and the fight right then, but not so with the bull dog. Though only a puppy he was game to the core and enlisting the help of another dog tore in after his snakeship and literally chewed him into ribbons.

Nick brought the puppy to town immediately and enlisted the services of a doctor, but the poison had circulated through his whole system and he could not counteract the effects. Nick said the snake seemed to be as large round as his arm, but no real estimate could be gained as the dogs tore him to pieces.

Peek-a-boo Hosiery

Up in staid, old-fashioned Milton peek-a-boo apparel of course has never been seen, but editor Allen of the Gazette has heard of it and gives his readers this description: "It is claimed that the new peek-a-boo stockings that are now being worn are the coolest things of the kind that ever happened. The interstices of the peek-a-boos are about an inch square, and will stretch farther. They need no darning; you couldn't darn the darn things for there isn't a darn thing to darn. It is really no stocking at all. She how wears them may know that she pulled on her stockings, but others who look without the aid of strong glasses will know nothing about it—so it is said."

Gypsies in Town

A bunch of greasers struck the city on Wednesday. They look like genuine gypsies and are swarming over the place telling fortunes, begging and taking everything that is not nailed down. If they decide to stay a few days the police force should change their decision and use a little sole leather where it will do the most good. These migratory birds are undesirable and should not be allowed to get into the state. The ladies are obnoxious with their fortune telling stunt and when turped down in their scheme for the nimble nickel usually turn a stream of vituperation upon the luckless householder.

Moving to Sanford

A. W. Wathen and family are moving to Sanford today from Clermont and they will lease the Tuggles house on First street and rent out apartments and rooms for the season.

Mr. Wathen comes to Sanford because of our superior school advantages and good water. He owns a fine orange grove in Lake county but he was so far from school that he was doing his children an injustice in sending them so far to the country school and decided to come to Sanford, where he could get the double advantage of primary, grammar and high schools.

Being a subscriber of The Herald kept him informed of the superior attractions of this city over all others, hence his decision.

Heir to Aster Millions

John Jacob Astor, Jr., heir to $3,000,000 by the will of the elder Astor, who lost his life when the Titanic foundered in mid-Atlantic, was born in the historic Astor mansion at No. 840 Fifth avenue, New York, Wednesday morning.

With the most noted specialist in New York and a big staff of trained nurses Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, who is the daughter of a man of moderate means, is surrounded with all the comforts that great wealth can command.

The beautiful young widow determined that the infant should first see the light in the family mansion which her husband bequeathed to her. Already thousands of dollars have been spent in equipping a large model nursery for the baby boy to perpetuate the name of her husband, who lost his life with the hundreds of other men for the women and children in the Titanic disaster.

New York Vigilance Committee

New York, Aug. 15.—The resolute determination of the citizens of New York to rid their police force of its system of graft and blackmail was given forcible expression tonight at a mass meeting at Cooper Union when they appointed a vigilance committee of prominent men and women to see that public officers now engaged in exposing "the treasonable alliance of the police with organized crime" do their full duty.

The mass meeting which typified the public indignation aroused by revelations of police corruption growing out of the murder of Herman Rosenthal was attended by a crowd that overflowed the hall. There were 4,000 persons in the auditorium with hundreds standing up while blocking the streets outside were thousands more who clamored for admittance.

Smith Takes a Vacation

C. A. Smith left today on the Clyde Line for New York, from whence he will go to his old home in Connecticut to spend a few months with his family. Mr. Smith has been a resident of San-for for almost two years and for some time had what was known as the "Fix-It" shop, where he doctored furniture and everything that needed fixing. Afterward he opened up for business at his trade of tinning at which he is an expert, and he expects to return to Sanford in the early fall and engage in the roofing and general repair shop business.

His family lives in Connecticut, where his daughter is principal of one of the city schools of Springfield and he cannot coax them into leaving their old home. Mr. Smith came to Florida for rheumatism and never suffers with his old ailment in Sanford, and intends to make this city his home for the greater part of each year.

Having some valuable beach property on Long Island he will be engaged for the next few months in putting his property in shape and getting ready for his trip to Sanford in the fall, where he expects to greet all his old friends and customers.

Picnic Parties—Why mess around in the woods, when for five cents you get conveniences, shelter and amusement at Woodland Park. Why risk moccasins, stringays, leeches, etc., and drowning, when for ten cents you can use a pool built for the purpose, clean, sanitary, safe. Open Sundays and Thursdays. To let other days. The launch Gertrude leaves City Dock at 9, 11, 2 and 4. 25c for the round trip. Special rates to parties.

THE HOUSE OF CUNNINGHAM

DUE to its individuality of service; its individuality of methods; its increasing efforts in behalf of home-owners, this house-furnishing store has made itself known from one end of Florida to the other. Its prestige is by no means limited to Jacksonville—it is an institution for the State in general.

THIS store is the depot and market for the output of the finest furniture made in America, handling such products as are manufactured by Berkey & Gay, Chas. P. Limbert, Luce Furniture Company, and, in fact, all the very best concerns of Grand Rapids are fully represented. And upon the merits of such creations has this business attained the remarkable success that it is at present enjoying.

OUR PIANO DEPARTMENT

ONE of the finest appointed Piano Stores in the South is located on the first floor of our building. The display embraces only the finest makes—the kinds that are dependable and worthy. In the list are the "Steinway," the "Kohler & Campbell" and "Autopiano," all of which we, being State agents, are able competent to handle throughout the State.

Dr. Love of DeLand was in the city yesterday, looking after his trucking interests.

Mrs. H. E. Hester has returned from a trip to Coronado beach and New Smyrna.

Mrs. D. A. Caldwell and little Joe are visiting relatives in Leesburg for a few days.

Wofford, Sanford's able second baseman, leaves for Charlotte, N. C., where he will play ball.

D. G. Wagner left yesterday for Kissimmee where he will spend several weeks on business.

If you know any local news, please send it to the Herald. It is up to you to keep the paper informed.

Mrs. T. A. Brotherson and little son Tom, left Wednesday night for a visit to relatives in Hawthorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler of Salem, Fla., are the guests of Mrs. Tyler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Caraway.

Boost day next Thursday at Holden Park and every loyal fan is expected to turn out and root for Sanford.

Dr. L. R. Phillips and family are spending a few weeks at Daytona Beach. They are accompanied by Mrs. Tracy.

Last great game of the season at Holden Park next Thursday. Come out and see the Orlando players driving a goat.

Orlando may win the game next Thursday and you should be on hand to witness this great feat of strength and awkwardness.

Next Thursday will be Boost Day and Pennant Day at Holden Park and a great crowd is expected to turn out and enjoy the fun.

Mrs. T. A. Newlan will entertain the Reading Circle of the Methodist church on next Tuesday evening at her home on Union street.

Hon. J. N. Whitner, A. P. Connelly and T. K. Bates represented Sanford at the State Board of Trade meeting at Kissimmee yesterday.

Orlando expects to run in a few golf and tennis experts on the Sanford team next Thursday and you must be at Holden Park and see the fun.

A fine poultry plant has been started here by a couple of Ohio men who make a specialty of White Leghorn chickens and Indian Runner ducks.

Mrs. M. C. Doyle and daughter, Miss Mae, left on Tuesday morning on the boat for Jacksonville. From there they will go to Waynesville, N. C.

Remember that next Thursday will be your last opportunity to see a real good game of ball at Holden Park this season. Come out and swell the crowd.

There have been a number of prospective land buyers in town recently, most of them being truck gardeners from the north hunting a southern location.

Mrs. H. C. Gerror of Sanford passed through the city yesterday, enroute north, to spend a few months visiting relatives.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

Sanford, Fla., Aug. 8, 1912 After this date I am no longer responsible for any bills that my wife should make.

99-2tp F. HATCH.

Harry Crippen has accepted a position with J. L. Miller in the new bakery and will drive the wagon and wait on the trade at the store on Magnolia avenue.

New people are coming to Sanford every day and homes are getting scarcer. Some enterprising man could relieve the situation by building more houses.

R. E. Huffman, timber cruiser of the U. S. Land Office at Gainesville was in the city today on business connected with the government timber and home-steads.

Services at the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., conducted by Rev. H. C. Garwood of Green Cove Springs. All are cordially invited.

Hancock in the Hoosier state where she will stay until the frost drives her to Sanford.

If you don't think Orlando has a ball team go to Holden Park next Thursday and are their representatives in ball uniforms. You can hardly tell them from real players.

R. E. Tolar Wednesday night for his vacation, goes first to Hyannis, Mass., to join his wife, after which they will visit several points of interest before returning home.

Percy Vyle, the irrepressible "ad" man of Jacksonville was in the city on Wednesday looking for business. Percy is a real Florida booster and knows the state from end to end.

D. D. Safford is in the city for several days. He was formerly of the Sanford police force but removed to Jacksonville several months ago where he has engaged in business.

A very pleasant little impromptu dance was given by some of the young people Monday evening, complimentary to Miss Audrey May of Port Tampa, the charming guest of Miss Essie Purdon.

Hon. Seth Woodruff, who lives in Orlando and divides his time between here and the beach, was in the city on Wednesday and stated that Orlando would soon have brick roads just like Sanford.

Sanford may decide to give Orlando a game next Thursday and thus enliven the jaded Tourists. You must be at Holden Park and watch Orlando go through the motion of trying to win a game.

M. L. Wright, one of the efficient, affable and handsome Wright brothers in the postoffice left Wednesday for North Carolina, where he will lick molasses off the light bread instead of licking stamps.

E. A. Randall, who has been counting money and keeping up with overdrafts at the Peoples Bank for several months left yesterday for South Haven, Mich., where if she is willing he will probably bring her back.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Runge and the children will leave tomorrow for Coronado Beach. Mrs. Runge and the children will spend several weeks at the Atlantic hotel and enjoy the salt breezes but Mr. Runge will return on Monday.

D. G. Wagner has returned from a visit with his family at Newport, Tenn. Mr. Wagner reports Mrs. Wagner as greatly improved and her many Sanford friends will rejoice to know that she will return in the fall in perfect health.

Bargain chasers filled the store of D. A. Caldwell & Sons this morning when their big Dollar Sale started. This sale bids fair to be a record breaker and many people from a distance are in the city to take advantage of the low prices.

Herman Hutchinson was in the city for several hours on Wednesday and witnessed the ball game. Herman has been engaged in the Pastime Theatre in Orlando for several months and will enjoy a few weeks vacation while the theatre is undergoing repairs.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church held their regular business meeting on last Tuesday afternoon in the church. Mrs. J. K. Mettinger presided at the meeting by appointment of the president, Mrs. H. H. Chappell, who was detained at home by sickness in her family.

LaVerne Hart is looking so sad that his friends were becoming alarmed about him and on inquiring the cause learned that Mrs. Hart and the baby have gone to Philadelphia to visit Mrs. Hart's sister, Mrs. J. B. Stryker for several months. Verne could join the Bachelor's Club and forget his loneliness but he says that don't take the place of the baby.

Editor Kellar of the Reporter-Star was said to be present at the ball game on Tuesday, but as he never showed up near The Herald office we cannot vouch for the statement. Bro. Kellar was alleged to be very much peeved over the victory (?) and that his rich, warm Kentucky blood was almost boiling over when the Orlando team was butted by the goat.

FAMOUS "BONEHEAD" PLAYS ON MAJOR LEAGUE DIAMONDS

Explained by Leading Baseball Players To

HUGH S. FULLERTON

BY ED. KONETCHY,

First Baseman St. Louis Cardinals, Who is Considered by Many Experts as the Best First Baseman in the Game Today.

You may think it odd, but the fact is that I won a ball game by what I think was the worst mistake I ever made. Maybe I wouldn't admit that if it had lost the game, except to fellows I know well enough, but it was. Lots of times I read how someone makes a boneheaded play when I know it was a good play, and lots of times I read about them making good plays that are good plays only because they get away with them. Any play is a good play as long as it is a help toward winning a game, and any play is a rotten play if it loses a ball game. The fans want to win, and if you win they don't care a rap for the science of it. I'll let them call me a bonehead every day if I can win ball games by it.

We were playing the Chicago club early in 1911, and fighting them off their feet in the series. I think it was the third game of the series. It was a fierce fight all the way, as every game of the series was, and the score was close when we came down to the end. We were tied, and neither had scored many runs, but late in the game Chicago got a runner to second base with one out, and we were battling to keep them from scoring the winning run. Hofman was at bat and I was watching closely to see what our pitcher was handing up to him, and playing a little bit closer to the bag than usual because of Hofman's speed in coming down to first. He hit the ball a mile a minute, almost over the corner of the base, and as I saw it coming I knew it was up to me to stop that ball or the game was gone. It didn't look as if anyone had a chance to reach the ball, but I jumped over and made a slap at it with my mitt. The ball jumped up just in time to hit the edge of the mitt hard, and I knew I had blocked its force and that it was only a base hit instead of the triple it would have been had it passed the mitt. I really didn't know where the ball was, but saw it rolling slowly back of me into right field.

That far I had made a nice play and a lucky stop. I jumped after the ball, and in doing so I must have lost my head. I knew the runner was certain to beat the ball to first. He was ahead of Sallee, who was coming over to cover first, when I picked up the ball, and there wasn't a chance to catch him. My play, without doubt, was to get that ball back to the plate to prevent the running from second trying to score, and if I could hold him at third, which ought to have been easy, we still would have a chance to cut off the runner at the plate or to try for a double play. I was so anxious and rattled that I leaped on the ball and cut loose at full speed to first. Sallee was covering as fast as he could, but the way I threw he couldn't have caught the ball any more than he could catch a cannon ball. The ball went past him like a flash, struck the dirt, bounded straight into the catcher's hands, and the runner who was trying to score from second was out by ten feet at the plate.

It took us a long time to win that game. We tied in eleven innings that day, tied when we tried to play it off, and we finally won it late in September.

Trout and Tar.

In Hampshire, England, in a region of fine trout streams, experts have been engaged in working out a road-tarring composition that will not injure trout when the drainage from the road reaches the streams. As a result of the experiments the county council has adopted specifications stipulating that tar for use in road spraying shall be derived exclusively from the carbonization of bituminous coal, and must not contain more than 0.2 per cent of water or ammoniacal liquor, the distillate above 270 degrees centigrade, and the pitch must together amount to not less than 75 per cent by weight of the tar. The free carbon is not to exceed 17 per cent by weight. When analyzed the wash from a road on which such a mixture was used was found to be free from contamination by tar, lubricating oil, fuel oil and gasoline.

Men Didn't Count.

"Has the Seventh regiment military passed here yet?" asked a woman on the morning of May 30, as she joined a group of people who were watching the formation of a part of the Decoration Day parade. The man addressed replied that if she meant the Seventh regiment, it had passed long since. "Are you quite sure it was the Seventh regiment military?" she questioned anxiously. "Quite," was the response. "Well," confided she, "I came out to see the Seventh regiment military, but," glancing rather contemptuously at the members of a G. A. R. post, standing about at the intersection of two streets waiting for the word to "march," "I don't care to see those; they're just men. I can see plenty of men any time; what I want to see is soldiers!"—New York Press.

Cost of Living.

"Maybe my little peep won't count for much in the general complaint against the high cost of living, but I want to chip in, just the same, because I have struck an original note," said a typewriter salesman. Last week I moved I do that pretty often. This time I went into a rooming house where the landlady requires a deposit on latchkeys. It was an ordinary key. "Thirty-five cents," said she. "How's that?" said I. "I have roomed in other places where a deposit was required, but they wanted only a quarter." "I know," said she, sadly, "but everything is so high these days." That argument was incontrovertible; things are high, so I paid the deposit.

Tragedy in Bird Migration.

Very many of the birds that start for the south never reach it. Not the least of the dangers on the way is the encountering of the dazzling electric lights, tall buildings, telephone and telegraph wires, and other obstructions in the cities, especially on cloudy nights when the flight is low. At such times the morning reveals the tragedies of the night, when little bruised bodies lying here and there in the streets tell of the havoc wrought. Terrible sufferers in this respect are the warblers. Also countless thousands of migrating birds have perished miserably by being blown out to sea by adverse gales; and blizzards and unusually severe snowstorms have claimed unnumbered victims.—H. M. Laing in the Outing Magazine.

Physical Impossibility.

A young Englishman came to Washington and devoted his days and nights to an earnest endeavor to drink all the Scotch whisky there was. He couldn't do it, and presently he went to a doctor complaining of a disordered stomach. "Quit drinking," ordered the doctor. "But, my dear sir, I can't. I got so thirsty." "Well," said the doctor, "whenever you are thirsty, eat an apple instead of taking a drink." The Englishman paid his fee and left. He met a friend to whom he told his experience. "Bally rot," he protested. "Fawncy eating 40 apples a day."—Saturday Evening Post.

The Way of a Lawyer.

The prisoner was charged with so trivial an offense that the judge told him that if he would plead guilty he would let him off with a fine. "Before we plead guilty," replied the man's lawyer, "we'd like to know what the fine will be." "Isn't it rather unusual to attempt to bargain with the court?" asked the judge. "Perhaps it is, your honor," replied the lawyer, "but in this case the prisoner has only $12, and as my fee is $10, we can't afford to plead guilty if you intend to fine him more than $2."—Youth's Companion.

Justice.

A young man going a journey entrusted 100 dinars to an old man. When he came back the old man denied having had any money deposited with him, and he was had up before the khasee. "Where were you, young man, when you delivered this money?" "Under a tree." "Take my seal and summon that tree," said the judge. "Go, young man, and tell the tree to come hither, and the tree will obey you when you show it my seal." The young man went in wonder. After he had been gone some time the khasee said to the old man: "He is long—do you think he got there yet?" "No," said the old man; "it is at some distance; he has not got there yet." "How knowest thou, old man," cried the khasee, "where that tree is?" The young man returned and said the tree would not come. "He has been here, young man, and given his evidence; the money is thine."—From the Oriental.

Community of "Swappers."

Members of the Jacket colony, state of Massachusetts, poor whites descended from a Frenchman who settled there before the Revolution, are indignant over the action of the state police in preventing the exchange of a wife of one of the leading Jackots for a horse. The Jackots would rather barter than eat. A patriarch had indulged his propensity of swapping until he had nothing left but his clothing and his wife. In exchange for a horse he gave his wife to his brother. The horse was worth $5. Twelve hours later the patriarch swapped the horse for another horse. His brother took the woman to Brocton, and his efforts to swap her for anything of equal value attracted the attention of the police. They made the patriarch take his wife back, but the brother protested that the exchange was made in good faith.

Dignity of a Free Press.

In one of his speechmaking tours Attorney General Wickersham had to stop in a small western city, and, in the course of his stay, was standing on the street corner talking to a lawyer. There walked past the couple a man who wore the bandages and bruises which indicate the activity of the human fist. "My!" exclaimed Wickersham. "That fellow's been beaten up." "Yes," said the lawyer, without concern. "He's the editor of a scandalous paper that's printed here. He writes stuff about prominent men and women." "Who beat him up?" asked Wickersham, greatly interested. "Oh, I don't know," replied the other. "His paper comes out every Tuesday evening, and he looks that way every Wednesday morning."—Popular Magazine.

Saved From Dreadful Death.

An extraordinary scene occurred in the cemetery at Zurawica, Galicia, during the funeral recently of a local landowner. The priest had given his last benediction to the departed and the coffin had been lowered into the grave, and the family and friends were throwing clouds on it, when suddenly hollow cries for help broke from the grave. Most of the mourners ran away panic-stricken, while the priest and sextons got out the coffin and opened the lid. To their amazement, they found the supposed dead man alive. He soon recovered and was able to walk home unaided. He is now perfectly well.

Wesley on Early Rising.

John Wesley satisfied himself of the expediency of early rising by experiment. "I waked every night about 12 or 1, and lay awake some time. I readily concluded that this arose from my being longer in bed than nature required. To be satisfied, I procured an alarm, which waked me the next morning at 7 (near an hour earlier than I had waked the day before), yet I lay awake again in the night. The second morning I rose at 6; notwithstanding this, I lay awake the second night. The third morning I rose at 5; nevertheless I lay awake. The fourth morning I rose at 4, as I have done ever since, and I lay awake no more."

Hadn't Realized Its Value.

A workman called at the home of President Taft's brother, Charles, in Cincinnati to perform some odd job, and he paused to note the priceless paintings in Brother Charles' private gallery. He was attracted to a small original Van Dyke and moved up closer to get a better look. "Ah!" he exclaimed. "I've got that same thing down home. Yes, it's exactly like that. My wife got it some place here in town. Are they worth much?" "That one is worth $35,000," he was told. "Hum!" he murmured. "I guess I'll have ours framed."

Wit and Humor.

William Dean Howells, at a dinner in New York, praised humor, which is compassionate, and decried wit, which is cruel. "In a word," said Mr. Howells, "the joke where you see the point is always ever so much funnier than the one where you feel it."

Don't Suffer!

"I had been troubled a little for nearly 7 years," writes Mrs. L. Fincher, in a letter from Peavy, Ala., "but I was not taken down, until March, when I went to bed and had to have a doctor. He did all he could for me, but I got no better. I hurt all over, and I could not rest. At last, I tried Cardui, and soon I began to improve. Now I am in very good health, and able to do all my housework."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

You may wonder why Cardui is so successful, after other remedies have failed. The answer is that Cardui is successful, because it is composed of scientific ingredients, that act curatively on the womanly system. It is a medicine for women, and for women only. It builds, strengthens, and restores weak and ailing women, to health and happiness.

If you suffer like Mrs. Fincher did, take Cardui. It will surely do for you, what it did for her. At all druggists.

"A FORMAL INVITATION"

A ship driven by a violent storm had at last foundered on the rocks near the shore, and the life-saving crew was busily preparing to render assistance. In the excitement, an old lady approached the captain of the crew and asked if anything was being done to save the unfortunate sailors aboard the sinking ship. "Yes, mam," the captain replied, "We have sent them a line to come ashore." "Goodness gracious," exclaimed the old lady, "I should think they'd need a formal invitation!"

Are you meeting with any problem in the care of your grove, pineapple field or truck farm, that you do not quite understand, and would you like to have expert advice to help you in arriving at a correct solution? If so, this line is being thrown to you. The Ivory Box

By TEMPLE BAILEY

(Copyright, 1922, by Associated Literary Press.)

When Capt. Caleb Bridge came home nobody expected him. He was officially dead. Nearly two years before his vessel had been run down by a great steamer which was making a record trip. Two of the crew were saved. It was supposed that the captain and his men were lost. Capt. Caleb's widow mourned, but hoped. Finally, as ship after ship came in with no news, she adjusted herself outwardly to the situation. She opened a little shop and sold meat pies and baked beans. She owned her house and garden, but taxes had increased and her income was small. Hence life became increasingly hard. Her pies were delicious and her beans melted in the mouth, but customers were few, and when there was a long rainy season sales were slow and there were often meat pies left on hand.

Caleb Bridge arrived home at night, and walked straight to his house. He stopped short at the gate. Before the front door burned a feeble light in an iron lantern. In the window was a sign—"Hot Beef and Pork Pies."

"Well, of all things," ejaculated Capt. Caleb.

In the fifteen months of his enforced absence, he had thought of his wife as comfortable. He had known that her wants were few, and he had consigned her income adequate.

And now she was selling meat! It did not seem like Sarah to sell pies. A feeling of faintness came over him. What if Sarah were dead? What if she had married again? He clutched at the fence. Other women had married, when their husbands had not come home. He had read a bit of verse like that once, and the husband had gone away. That would be the only kind thing to do to go away.

He saw plainly that he must not walk in unannounced. He must first find out whether his coming would embarrass Sarah. He cast about in his mind for some method of proof. He could not ask the neighbors. He did not want to be recognized. If he had to go out of Sarah's life forever, he would leave for parts unknown.

A light flared up in the front window. He could see a shadowy form behind the curtain. Then he saw two shadowy forms. There stole out on the air a savory fragrance as of fish chowder. He was hungry and tired and the October wind was keen and cold. He drew his jacket tightly about him. His hand went in his pocket and he drew out a small square object. He started. Then he murmured:

"That's it. She'll remember that." He waited patiently until the light was turned down and the occupants of the house adjourned to the kitchen. Sarah would be washing the dishes. Somebody was helping her now—and it was a man!

His impulse was to turn away—but his heart held him to his own hearthstone. He crept softly up the steps. The door did not creak as he opened it. Like a shadow he crept to the table, then crept back to the threshold, and there was no sound as he closed the door.

After many minutes a woman's shadow entered the room. The light still burned dimly. She came to the window and drew up the curtain, looking out into the gusty night. It was Sarah. She had on a black dress and white apron. Her face was in the shadow, but she seemed to gaze toward the sea with an air of longing.

Caleb's heart bounded. He wanted to cry "Sarah," but dared not.

The woman turned back toward the table and turned up the light. Then she stood very still, looking down. She seemed held to the spot. She was as if she had been turned to stone. When she had turned her head toward the door, she saw a shadowy figure behind the curtain. Then she saw two shadowy forms. There stole out on the air a savory fragrance as of fish chowder. He was hungry and tired and the October wind was keen and cold. He drew his jacket tightly about him. His hand went in his pocket and he drew out a small square object. He started. Then he murmured:

"That's it. She'll remember that." He waited patiently until the light was turned down and the occupants of the house adjourned to the kitchen. Sarah would be washing the dishes. Somebody was helping her now—and it was a man!

His impulse was to turn away—but his heart held him to his own hearthstone. He crept softly up the steps. The door did not creak as he opened it. Like a shadow he crept to the table, then crept back to the threshold, and there was no sound as he closed the door.

After many minutes a woman's shadow entered the room. The light still burned dimly. She came to the window and drew up the curtain, looking out into the gusty night. It was Sarah. She had on a black dress and white apron. Her face was in the shadow, but she seemed to gaze toward the sea with an air of longing.

Caleb's heart bounded. He wanted to cry "Sarah," but dared not. The woman turned back toward the table and turned up the light. Then she stood very still, looking

STILL A DAY OF REJOICING

Frenchmen Never Forget to Celebrate the Anniversary of the Fall of the Bastille.

The anniversary of the destruction of the Bastille, that grim old fortress identified with royal despotism and cruelty, which took place July 14, 1789, was enthusiastically celebrated throughout France. When the Bastille was stormed and its defenders beaten, the victors expected to release a large number of prisoners, but under the gentle rule of Louis XVI, the old prison was all but empty. The vaults restored to light only seven prisoners.

"Three of these," says Lamartine, "gray haired men, were shut up legitimately and had been from family motives withdrawn from the judgments of the ordinary courts of law. Tavernier and Withe, two of them, had become insane. The third was the Count de Solapgen, 32 years before sent to this prison at his father's request. Whether he had been guilty of some crime or was the victim of oppression was an inexplicable enigma. The other four prisoners had been confined only four years. They were arrested in Holland on the requisition of the bankers they had defrauded. These seven prisoners of the Bastille released, caressed, even crowned with laurels, carried in triumph by their liberators like living spoils snatched from the hands of tyranny, were paraded about the streets and their sufferings avenged by the people's shouts and tears. The intoxication of the victors broke out against the very stones of the place and the embrasures torn from the towers were soon hurled with indignation into the ditches."

The anniversary of the fall of the Bastille is now marked by a lofty column of bronze erected to the memory of the patriots of July, 1789, and 1830.

fooling the Kaiser.
A long smile and a quiet chuckle are reported from Berlin consequent on a confidence game of which the emperor William II. was the victim during his recent sojourn at the Greek island of Rodos. It seems that the authorities of the island, advised of the coming of the Kaiser, wished to give him an agreeable surprise. Knowing the interest he took in archaeological excavations, they decided to do some digging under his very eyes.

Hardly had he embarked when an announcement was made that a number of ancient statues had been discovered. He wished at once to see them and exhibited great satisfaction when under his eyes there was exhibited a number of marbles of great beauty. He had these transported to a neighboring hall and declared that he would send them to the museum at Berlin.

It soon came out, however, that these works were apocryphal. The authorities had bought them of dealers in fake antiquities. It is said that the Kaiser was furious when the fraud was made known to him. Had it happened in Germany the tricksters might have perished for these marbles.

Dream as Foundation of Reform.
The reason why there is not more reform is that not enough people are dreaming.

SPORTING GOSSIP

Same Old Story

"If you have tears to shed, step out in the wood shed and shed 'em."

The same thing happened at Sanford yesterday that has happened about eight times recently in rapid succession. Orlando lost the game in the ninth through rotten playing and many think poor judgment.

Wilson was put in the box to pitch when out of condition and after protesting, stating that he had understood that he was not to pitch that day and had spent two hours in the lake swimming. At least three other pitchers were here and there seems to have been no reason why one of them could not have been used. Langford, of Rome, Ga., was slated to pitch the game but was ill, but there were Vaiden and Randall, either of whom were in pink of condition. Notwithstanding he claimed to be out of condition, Wilson allowed only six hits, while Ray, the great strike out pitcher, gave up eleven, many spectators looking for Sanford to take him out of the box before the game was over.

At the beginning of the last half of the ninth Orlando had Sanford beaten by a score of four to three and it looked like it was all over but the shouting, but, you never can tell. Lowe, the first man up singled to left, Brittain was hit by the pitcher, both advancing a base on a passed ball. Bundy, the next man up, hit a slow ball to pitcher, who fell, throwing wild to White at score, both Lowe and Brittain scoring.

In the first inning Stump made a clean hit to center and Howatt one to right, sending Stump to third, Howatt stealing second, but with two men out Orlando failed to score, Randall going out from short to first.

In the second Bowen was safe through an error by first, Boyer following with a clean hit to right, sending Bowen to third, and in an attempt to catch Boyer stealing second Bowen scored. White went out from second to first; Wilson struck out and Brewster went out from short to first.

Nothing was done by Sanford until the fourth when Farmer, the first man up, walked, Swink sacrificed him to second and Moreland hit to right for two bases, scoring Farmer; Roberts hit to right fielder, who dropped the ball, Moreland scoring, Lowe retiring the side from pitcher to first.

In the fifth Orlando tied the score, Wilson hitting to pitcher and beating the ball out by a crafty slide, Brewster sacrificed him to second, Cole was walked on purpose, Stump hit to first, Wilson taking third and Cole second, Howatt hit a long fly to right, Wilson scoring on the throw in. Randall grounded to first, retiring the side.

In the seventh, Orlando marked up two more. Brewster flied to center; Cole was safe by an error on the part of the first baseman; Stump hit for two bases on left, scoring Cole; Howatt singled to right, scoring Stump; Randall was hit by a pitched ball. At this stage of the game, Bowen was taken sick and was replaced by Vaiden, who fanned; Boyer hit through short, but White fanned, retiring the side. In this inning Orlando made three hits and two runs and it looked very much like a blow up, but Ray kept his head, striking out two with two men on bases.

In the eighth Sanford scored again, Ray putting a safe one to left; Farmer was out on a fly to right; Swink hit to center; Wofford fanned; Moreland hit to third who fielded the ball well but lost his head, failing to touch the bag which would have caught Ray at third Roberts went out on a fly to center, retiring the side.

As given above, the ninth resulted disastrously, Sanford scoring two runs and winning the game with none out.

Summary—Runs: Sanford 5; Orlando 4. Hits off Ray 11; off Wilson 6. Struck out by Wilson 7; by Ray 8. Bases on balls by Ray 2; by Wilson 2. Hit by pitcher, Brittain and Randall. Errors, Sanford 2; Orlando 3.—Reporter-Star.

Sanford 2, Orlando 0

Two to nothing tells the story of another close game gone to Sanford and like many others, was handed them by errors at critical times.

It was a good fast game with the exception of the fifth inning when on two errors and a scratch hit (a bunt hitting foul and rolling fair) Sanford put two across the plate. The first scored from third on a sacrifice fly and the next one on a hit to second who fumbled.

"Gen." Lee and Langford were the opposing pitchers and it was a mighty twirling battle from start to finish with honors about even—the men behind Langford losing the game for him. Lee was in fine form, allowing only four hits and striking out six men. Langford gave up five hits and struck out three men, but walked only two against Lee's four.

The features of the game were a two base hit by Brewster and a double play pulled off by Bowen and Brewster. Roberts also made a quick recovery after misjudging Bowen's long fly to left and got it before it hit the ground. Roberts, at first, thought the ball was going over the fence and started to climb up after it when the ball made a sudden drop and so did Roberts, and he managed to nab it a few feet inside the fence. A one hand stab of a pop out by Bowen after he had fallen among the autos was also quite spectacular.

Sanford played a new man, Childras, on second, and he showed up well. Wofford was shifted to third and Brittain warmed the bench.—Reporter-Star.

School District Election

The school district election will be held next Tuesday in all the districts in Orange county. The following clerks and inspectors have been appointed:

- Sanford—A. T. Rositer, R. C. Maxwell, J. H. Rose, inspectors.
- Apopka—H. H. Witherington, A. C. Starbird, W. T. Wilson, inspectors.
- Oviedo—Will Lawton, Dr. Marshall, H. B. McCall, inspectors.
- Oakland—Will Tilden, Mr. McMillan, Douglas Sadler, inspectors.
- Fairview—J. T. Robertson, J. D. Henderson, R. D. Eunice, inspectors.
- Lockhart—J. E. Rose, Chester Wofford, Mr. Shaw, inspectors.
- Beulah—J. A. Reaves, J. S. O'Berry, W. H. Robinson, inspectors.
- Zellwood—H. C. Jones, C. H. Baker, Wm. Edwards, inspectors.
- Longwood—Chas. Ensminger, Mr. Dunn, W. H. Woodberry, inspectors.

Orlando and Brick Roads

The movement to bond this road district in the interest of the building of good roads is gathering force slowly but surely, according to a statement made this morning by Seth Woodruff, the father of the plan.

"I think I have sounded public opinion on the measure pretty thoroughly," said Mr. Woodruff, and I find it is well nigh universally favored. The people I think have awakened to the absolute need for good roads. And the sentiment seems to favor this method. The men with whom I've talked seem to feel that the plan for building good roads by direct taxation has been thoroughly threshed out, and found to be impracticable."

Mr. Woodruff said that he will begin the circulation within two weeks of a petition, asking the county commissioners to call an election to determine whether or not the bonds are to be issued.—Reporter-Star.

Will Return to Sanford

Louis Jamies has been in the city several days looking over his farm and other property. He has been engaged for several years in Jacksonville on the experimental farm and having a practical experience in the farming game proved a valuable acquisition to the experimental farm, as it took a good man to endeavor to raise Sanford products on Jacksonville soil.

Mr. Jamies is seriously considering returning to Sanford and settling down for life, as he states that in all his experience he has never seen any land or section as well adapted for the high priced winter vegetables as the Sanford section where irrigation and drainage can be worked to such good advantage the year round.

His many Sanford friends will welcome Louie back again and hope that he will make a fortune this season to celebrate his return.

The California Crop

The news to the effect that the California fruit crop for the present year is exceedingly small, while not received as good news, is none the less of importance to Florida growers, as if there is a great shortage in the California crop, Florida should reap the advantages in greatly increased prices for her fruit, which is recognized as the best there is to be had from anywhere at any price. The situation should be carefully studied by all who have fruit. They should acquaint themselves with the facts so that they may not be imposed upon.

Marlow Succeeds Wagner

D. C. Marlow has arrived in the city and will succeed D. G. Wagner as trainmaster of the Jacksonville division. Mr. Marlow is a railroader of many years' experience, having been in the general offices at Wilmington and afterward coming to Lakeland and other points where he has been engaged for some time. He will now make Sanford headquarters and will receive a warm welcome from the people of this city.

STATE HAPPENINGS BOILED DOWN FOR THE BUSY

A Brief Resume of Florida Happenings That Will Interest The Hurried Reader

Two carloads of machinery have arrived in Lakeland for the new 100-ton ice plant. Work on the brick building is progressing rapidly. The plant when completed will represent an investment of $100,000.

A water softening plant is now being urged for St. Augustine municipal water works plant by several citizens. It is stated that for small expense such a plant can be installed and it changes the artesian water, making it better for drinking and for bathing and other uses by softening it.

Shipments of pears from Archer during the past two weeks have been heavy. The fruit is bringing good prices in eastern markets.

West Tampa is to have a new post office. The present building is inadequate to handle the volume of business passing through that office, so United States has issued orders to lease a larger building.

A large saw mill is to be erected near Elkton at an early date. The mill will also manufacture barrel material which will supply the surrounding community.

There is a movement on foot for the organization of a young men's Civic Club in St. Augustine. Such a club would no doubt prove very beneficial to that or any other city.

Five miles of the Jacksonville-St. Augustine highway in Duval county is to be bricked. Brick are now being hauled and scattered alongside the John Anderson boulevard from Loretta to Bayard. This will bring the paving almost to the St. Johns county line.

The vegetable growers of Manatee county are organizing into an association for mutual benefit.

Miami's celebration, which occurred in the past week, was conceded to have been far beyond its expectations. The largest number of visitors that the city has had in all its sixteen years as a city was accorded to its birthday party.

On Wednesday of last week there was consummated in Brooksville the organization of the largest semi-public service corporation in the history of Hernando county when the Brooksville Light & Power Company took over the Brooksville waterworks and the ice plant, the new company to be operated under the name of the Brooksville Light & Power Company.

At a meeting held in Vans Agnew and Crawford's offices, at which a majority of the attorneys practicing in Osceola county were present, the Osceola County Bar Association was formed. W. B. Crawford, Judge Parker and R. G. Johnson were appointed a committee to draft resolutions and outline a constitution and by-laws. After this feature has been attended to, the organization will meet to perfect a permanent, body. The local lawyers feel that it is their duty to militate against the itinerant and non-eligible practitioners who have been encroaching on the legitimate business of the attorneys in this county. It seems that a great many notaries public are performing the functions of a regular attorney and this, according to the Bar Association, is not permissible. It is the intention of the new body to prosecute all such violations and in all other matters to conserve the province of the legitimate lawyer.

At the morning service last Sunday Pastor Kilgore extended an invitation to the male members of his congregation to remove their coats if they so desired, and a few availed themselves of the privilege. Now, if he would permit the ladies to remove their headgear were man would take more comfort in attending divine service, and also be able to see as well as hear the preacher.—Bradentown Herald.

Banks and trust companies over the country are to be asked by the Democratic National Committee to receive and remit to their proper places all campaign contributions, not only to the Democratic but to the Republican and Progressive parties.

SANFORD GIRL TAKES HONOR

Little Margaret Neal Wins First Prize in Baby Show

Sanford undoubtedly has the finest lot of beautiful and healthy children that can be found and while Sanford people are aware of this fact, the babies do not attract our attention as readily as that of a stranger, probably due to the fact that we have more babies and prettier ones than our less fortunate neighbors. But let the Sanford people take a trip to another state and the comparison of children redounds to the credit of our city and never fails to carry off the honors.

At a baby show given last week at Monticello, Tenn., little Margaret Neal carried off first honors among the vast assembly of little southern beauties. Margaret is the little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Neal and with her mother is spending the summer at Monticello, Tenn.

The Nashville Banner describes the awards as follows:

Nearly 1,000 people paid a dime each to see the show and were well rewarded for the outlay for all the children were beautiful and each deserved a prize. In the first class, one year olds, the prize went to Ralph William Richmond of Monticello, a handsome brunette. In the second class, a Nashville boy carried off the honors, Geo. Crockett Webb, a beautiful brown eyed blonde, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dwight Webb.

In the third prize, early, haired Juanita Rapier of Chattanooga was winner. Fourth class, Geo. P. Stafford of Birmingham was winner, a handsome lad. In the fifth class, a dainty blonde lassie, Margaret Neal of Sanford, Florida, was the winner.

Hastings Ships Seed Potatoes

Days' shipment of seed potatoes for fall planting are now being made from Hastings, says the Hastings News. While for the spring or main crop, northern grown seed potatoes must be planted for the fall or second crop, home grown seed is used. Each year the farmers save a certain number of barrels of potatoes from the spring crop, storing them in a barn or loft or cool shed. During the summer these potatoes furnish a supply for the fall, the largest being taken for that purpose. Those left are used for seed. Hastings farmers obtain the best results from planting potatoes the size of walnuts and using them uncut. The fall crop is planted during September or early in October and the same cultural methods are followed as with the spring crop. Fall potatoes mature by the first of January and may be harvested in time to allow the same ground to be used for the spring crop.

This crop is used to supply local demand and a ready demand is found for them at from $1.50 to $1.00 per barrel from a b station. As in former years growers have a surplus supply of seed and this is now being offered for sale at prices ranging from $1 to $1 a barrel according to quality of the stock.

Orlando Lady Killed

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 18. — Three young women were killed and a fourth was probably fatally injured late today near Frostburg, when a Baltimore & Ohio eastbound passenger train, running over the Western Maryland railroad extension, struck the party just after they had stepped off the west bound track to avoid an approaching freight train.

The Dead—

Mrs. Oscar Schneider, Orlando, Fla., 27 years old, who came to Frostburg for "home coming week."

Jennie Schneider, 32 years old.
Bessie Williams, 32 years old.

The injured—

Edna Raley, 27 years old, head crushed and internal injuries; probably will die.

Minnie Schneider, 30 years old, bruised and suffering from shock.

SANFORD PENNANT DAY

Winning Team To Receive Flag Next Thursday

WILL BE MADE GALA OCCASION

Sanford Splendid Base Ball Team Will Be The Honorees Of The Great Fete Day

Sanford ball team won the pennant. Of course you have heard of the wonderful series of wonderful games played this season between Sanford and Orlando and how the wonderful playing of the Sanford team won the pennant.

Said pennant is in process of making and next Thursday will be the glad occasion when the heroes of the diamond will swell out their manly bosoms and receive the reward of merit in the shape of a pennant.

Thursday will also be Boost Day and every loyal fan is supposed to come out and help along a good thing.

The series is drawing to a close and enthusiasm is not exactly at fever heat on account of the easy victory for Sanford but Orlando claims that on the occasion of our Boost Day and Pennant Day they will take the game just to demonstrate that they can play ball. However, we will not worry about the game if it is a good snappy one, and the crowd now promises to be a record breaker and plenty of fun.

The band will play and the ladies will be there to do the honors and the ball park will resemble the stadium at the Olympic games. The last grand rally of the season and plenty of excitement. Half holiday will give every one a chance to see the game.

Await More Evidence

New York, N. Y., Aug. 16. After being in session for more than two hours today, the grand jury considering the Rosenthal murder notified Whitman that they didn't feel warranted in handing up further indictments of murder in the first degree until more evidence has been heard. This evidence is expected to come from Schepps, now enroute from Hot Springs. No additional indictments are expected until his arrival. This turn in affairs came suddenly after Assistant District Attorney Moss this morning had practically completed the case against all the defendants before the grand jury.

The grand jury met at noon today and it was generally reported that indictments would be handed the court before the end of the day. The coroner's inquest was late getting under way. Many prominent men were impounded on the ship, Daniel Frohman, a theatrical manager is the foreman.

Schepps Safe in Jail

New York, Aug. 20. Schepps, the alleged paymaster of the murderer of Rosenthal, arrived here this morning and was taken immediately to the west side prison where he was locked in a cell. Although only a material witness, Whitman said he would be arraigned as a matter of form.

There was a flash between Whitman and the detective of the police department when the train pulled in with Schepps. The detective said that Deputy Commissioner Dougherty sent him to take Schepps, and he tried to take charge of the prisoner, but the prosecutor would have none of it. Schepps was taken immediately to the west side prison and put in a cell.

FIRE FIEND AT BARTOW

County Seat of Polk Suffers Serious Loss Last Sunday

Sunday morning at 3:30 an alarm of fire awakened the sleeping inhabitants of Bartow. As the fire was in the heart of the city it caused no little fear. The brick building on Broadway belonging to Jasper Summerlin and occupied by T. P. Carpenter, Hardware Company and a Greek fruit stand and restaurant, was totally destroyed, as well as the contents of the two stores. It is not known just how or where the fire originated, whether in the hardware store or in the fruit store, but likely in the latter.

So rapid was the spread of the flames that it looked almost hopeless at first to try to confine the fire to the one building, but the heroic efforts of the Bartow volunteer fire company succeeded in getting a number of streams of water upon the flames and it was soon apparent that the fire was under control. The hardware stock was not covered by insurance, only a small amount, $1,000, being carried on the stock. The loss is a great one to T. P. Carpenter & Co.

The J. N. Hooker brick building on Broadway and Summerlin streets, occupied by the M. B. Johnson garage, was damaged considerably, entire inside of the building burning out and destroying the stock of supplies carried by Johnson, also damaging a number of machines belonging to the company. A number of machines belonging to private citizens were also badly disfigured and might as well as been burned as for the use they will be as pleasure cars in the future. The Johnson company carried no insurance whatever, so their loss is a total one. The building is cracked, scorched and marred, the entire front being burned out, the windows all out and the damage considerable to it, as the walls will likely crumble from the heat. The gasoline in the rear was carried out by a number of brave men and fortunately there was no explosion. Drs. H. O. Cox, E. A. Law and A. A. McLeod were among the ones having cars in the garage that were badly damaged. Dr. Cox had two machines in the building, as the doctor is away in Canada on a camping expedition with a party of Bartow friends.

Death of Mrs. Laughton

Geo. H. Fernald received the sad intelligence last Friday morning from Mrs. Fernald of the death of her mother, Mrs. E. J. Laughton, which occurred in Boston on that date. Mr. Fernald left immediately for Boston to assist in the arrangements for the funeral.

Mrs. Laughton had been spending her winters in Sanford and had many friends here who were shocked to hear of her sudden death. Mrs. Fernald and Mrs. Laughton left here several weeks ago for the north and at that time Mrs. Laughton was apparently in the best of health. Further particulars will be given later regarding the funeral.

Special Session of Legislature

The efforts of the Jacksonville Board of Trade to obtain a special session of the state legislature for the purpose of considering legislation to enable the city of Jacksonville to acquire and improve properties for municipal terminals have been crowned with success and, after consideration by Gov. A. W. Gilchrist, following a visit from a committee designated by the local trade body, a proclamation convening the legislature in session at noon on Oct. 1st, has been issued from the executive offices at Tallahassee.

The proclamation in question bears the date of Aug. 17 and is directed to the members of the two branches of the legislative body. The issuance of the call for the special session is generally regarded as the first step in an almost certain victory for the proposition, inasmuch as a large number of the members of the legislature are believed to be heartily in favor of the bill.—Times-Union.

Important legislation that must be acted on before congress adjourns stands today as follows: Panama canal bill before the President. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills, in conference between and now before the senate, with provisions abolishing the commerce court. The naval sundry bill and army appropriation bills, in conference between the two houses. The general deficiency appropriation bill, before the senate committee on appropriations. The Indian appropriation bill, conference report pending in the senate.

The coming week will be one of moderately high temperatures in the southern states and generally over the middle west, according to a bulletin from the weather bureau. In the northern states and west of the Rocky mountains temperatures will be near or below the seasonal average. "The precipitation during the week," the bulletin says, "will be light and local over the southern half of the country and generally above the normal in the northern states. The next disturbance to cross the country will appear in the northwest Tuesday and across the middlewest about Thursday, and the eastern states Friday or Saturday. There are no indications at the present time of a disturbance in the West Indies.

The question whether colored attorneys shall be admitted to the American Bar Association will be submitted for decision to the annual meeting of the organization next week at Milwaukee. The executive committee of the association tonight made a special report regarding election to membership of three negroes. This report will be presented at the annual meeting as a basis for action.

Governor Marshall will be officially notified that he is the choice of the Democratic party for Vice President of the United States at 2 o'clock today. The event is expected to bring on one of the most notable gatherings of Democrats ever held in Indianapolis. Weather permitting, the ceremonies will be held in the open. There is to be erected at the Indiana Democratic Club a stand facing the square. Thos. Taggart, National committeeman from Indiana, will make an address today at noon. This will be followed by a parade through downtown streets which will end at the club house. Mr. Taggart will introduce Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, chairman of the notification committee, who will formally notify the Governor of his notification.

The plans are in pursuance with the campaign popular subscription idea, Chairman McAdoo made it known by giving out a statement embodying a letter which he announced he had sent to every bank and trust company in the United States requiring them to agree to receive and transmit subscriptions to each of the three national parties. He accompanied his letter to the banks with a letter from Nominee Woodrow Wilson, who declared that "to bring about an election of the President through a campaign financed by popular subscriptions would be a distinct and gratifying triumph."

General William Booth, head and founder of the world-wide organization of the Salvation Army, whose health has been slowly giving away since he was struck with blindness last June, is reported to be in a grave condition. General Booth was 83 years old on April 10 last, and because of his advanced age little hope is held out for his recovery. Nevertheless prayers for a continuation of his useful career are being offered up in every Salvation Army station in all parts of the world. General Booth is the son of a Nottingham carpenter. He chose preaching for a profession, but his sympathy with the poor took him to London and in the slums of the East End he started the work that has developed into an everlasting monument to his memory.
