

Canaveral Port Gets Tract For Enlargement

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The cabinet today conveyed to the Canaveral Port Authority 77.5 acres near the missile test range for use in enlargement of Canaveral Harbor.

The conveyance contains a clause requiring that it be returned to the state if not used for public purposes. If the authority, which applied on behalf of the federal government, refuses the public purpose reverter clause, it will have to buy the land upon condemnation and pay the state the appraised value.

The cabinet, sitting as trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, also dedicated at the request of Brevard County a valuable area 2.5 miles north of State Road 330 on Merritt Island for public recreational purposes.

The land, comprising 80 acres, would be more valuable for commercial purposes, according to State Engineer William Kidd, but he said he doubted the state could get as good a site elsewhere for a park area under today's inflated prices in Brevard County.

Kidd is chairman of the governor's recreational development committee.

Fried Chicken, But Not Chicks

ROLLA, Mo. (UPI) — Charles Mayer, 100, began his second century of life Monday with this recipe for longevity: "Women, wine and fried chicken are the ruin of any man. I eat the fried chicken but leave the women and wine alone."

Oldest town in southeastern Alaska is Sitka, established by the Russians in 1799.

WHERE SHOPPING IS A PLEASURE

SEMINOLE PLAZA
HWY. 17-92 & SR 436
CASSELLBERRY, FLA.

By Julian Stenstrom
We had a nice New Year's Day. Hope you did, too.

Back at the ol' drawing board, can't think of a better way to get today's Clock ticking than to call your attention to a sign at a house trailer sales lot on U. S. 17-92. It says, "Your Wheel Estate Dealer."

Before we forget it — the Biddy Basketball League games originally scheduled for Friday night will be played tonight at Seminole High's Fleming Gymnasium. The change in the schedule was made because Seminole High's cagers entertain Boone High's Braves of Orlando in the local gym Friday evening.

Regarding Wednesday's editorial in The Herald, entitled "What 1964 Could Bring," Manager John Krider of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce explains that the St. Johns-Indian River Canal is not entirely a pre-requisite to the establishment of the proposed port terminal in the Sanford area. Certainly, as Krider points out, the canal would enhance the present tonnage now being shipped on the St. Johns on a one-day, dead-end basis. Further, Krider says the proposed cross state canal would enhance a local port terminal's tonnage even more.

Here's a reminder — if you haven't had an official one as yet — that parking meters in the downtown Sanford shopping district are back in operation today.

And, while we're on meters, we notice that free parking will continue in Winter Park's downtown shopping district for at least another 30 days. This move was authorized Tuesday by the Winter Park City Commission. Maintaining the free parking status is being considered a "trial period" to determine the feasibility of removing the parking meters entirely. If you think Sanford ought to do the same why don't you write the Herald and let us know. Here's your chance to sound off.

Customers wanting 1964 auto tags were lined up this morning from Tax Collector John L. Galloway's office, through the hallways, down the stairs, through the Court House doors, down the front steps and out on the sidewalk. You have until Feb. 29 to buy new plates.

Meanwhile at the office of Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker, only three or four Seminole residents were filing today for homestead exemption. Residents must file on or before Mar. 31. To file you must have the deed or sale contract to your home plus your 1964 auto registration.

The first regular meeting of 1964 for the Sanford City Commission is set for Jan. 13. However, a reorganizational parley will be held next Tuesday night.

As for the Seminole County Commission, this body will hold its reorganizational meeting on Jan. 11.

Here's a note for you parents. Infectious diseases, mainly among children, struck many more Floridians in 1963, than compared with 1962. The marked rise caused Dr. Clarence M. Sharp, director of the State Board of Health's Bureau of Preventable Diseases, to warn parents they should be more alert about vaccinations.

NEW YEAR'S BABY of Seminole County apparently is Albert Eugene Davis, who arrived at 7:25 p.m. Wednesday at Seminole Memorial Hospital. Unless challenged by still unreported babies who may have arrived earlier Wednesday in the county, Albert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Davis, R. R. 1, will receive all the presents listed in Tuesday's Sanford Herald.

Snow And Ice Storm Howls Into East

By United Press International
A paralyzing snow and ice storm swept into New England today, making highways treacherous and glazing power lines. Driving conditions were hazardous deep into the still-icy Southland.

Gale warnings were posted for parts of the Northeast coast and schools were ordered closed until Monday at Meridian, Miss. Stranded automobiles stood empty along slick roads from Tennessee through northern Alabama and Mississippi.

The storm that shocked Dixie over New Year's piled up heavy snow throughout Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York during the night. Eight inches fell in six hours at Buffalo, New York, six inches at Rochester, N. Y., and nine inches fell in southern Ohio. Freezing rain and sleet sloshed across New England as the fast-moving storm barreled for Newfoundland.

Mild westerly winds kept the Midwestern and Great Plains warning trend in full swing today. Temperatures in the mts were common through Montana and North Dakota at 2 a.m. EST, whereas only a week ago the mercury was plunging to 20 below.

Hazardous driving warnings remained in effect in many areas of Dixie despite the gradual melting of one of the century's greatest snowfalls. Workmen in South Carolina spent New Year's Day patching up utility poles and telephone service.

The 4th annual Mummers' Parade at Philadelphia was called off Wednesday when snow, sleet and freezing rain hit the city. The parade was re-scheduled for Saturday.

The Easter storm contributed heavily to the New Year's holiday traffic death toll, which broke the record for a 30-hour holiday period.

Sanford Naval Air Station attaches said the search was being made by its craft in a request by Herndon Airport Control Tower officials at Orlando. Herndon officials told the Herald they had not made such a request.

Navy officials here said the search was being made following a report by an airline pilot that he had observed the parachute on the water.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby, at 1:10 p. m., at the request of the Naval Air Station, dispatched his rescue boat for a surface search on Lake Monroe.

Ad Gimmick Pays Off Big
LONDON (UPI) — A British manufacturer of air refresher said today that a can of "awar-word enner" it put out as an advertising gimmick has become a big seller.

"The idea rebounded on us," the firm said, "and we have had so many requests for the cans that we have put the award word enner on the market at three shillings, six pence (19 cents apiece)."

TRADE WINDS President J. C. Robinson congratulates Horace S. Fleming, manager of the system's new Trade Winds Cafeteria which opened this morning in the Seminole Plaza Shopping Center at Casselberry. The unit is the seventh established in Central Florida. Another is under construction in Fort Pierce. Robinson said this morning that "We are especially pleased to join the business communities served by Seminole Plaza, and we are looking forward to participating in the wonderful growth which we feel is ahead for Seminole County." The Casselberry unit has a seating capacity of 350 and is staffed by 75 employees. Six winners attended a ribbon cutting exercise this morning. (Herald Photo)

'A Home For Every Man,' LBJ's Goal

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. — (UPI) — Robert C. Weaver, the housing and home finance administrator, arrived at the LBJ ranch today to map with President Johnson a new, comprehensive federal housing program which will go to Congress under the banner of "a home for every man."

Weaver flew today from Washington to the Texas White House with Postmaster General John Gronouski.

Both men were expected to see reporters later in the day, probably after lunching with the President at his ranch.

Johnson, Weaver and other members of the administration have drafted what a White House official described as "a most comprehensive housing program." It has as its aim, in the words of the President, "a home for every man."

A general outline of the housing program was expected to be included in the President's Jan. 3 State of the Union message to Congress. Johnson worked on the message for two-and-a-half hours Wednesday night.

He also telephoned the Democratic and Republican leaders of the Senate, Mike Mansfield of Montana and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Wednesday night to wish them a happy new year and discuss what the White House called "Senate matters."

The President also made two other telephone calls Wednesday night — to Coach Darrell Royal of the University of Texas football team which vanquished Navy 28-6 Wednesday in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, and to Navy Coach Wayne Hardin.

He congratulated Royal on the victory and told Hardin to tell his men they played a fine game.

Fender Benders Give It The Gun

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — An accidental fender bender here New Year's Eve developed into a series of intentional car crashes and ended with one angry driver shooting the other in the leg.

Police said James G. Beall, 21, of Riverview, surrendered on aggravated assault charges several hours after the incident and Carter Bryan of Gulfport, Fla., was hospitalized in good condition.

Beall and Bryan were driving in downtown St. Petersburg when one of them — police aren't sure which — changed lanes and bumped the other car.

The accidental collision led to a series of intentional fender benders that police said finally stopped when the two men pulled to the curb to argue about their crumpled fenders.

Beall reached into his glove compartment, took out a pistol, loaded it and shot Bryan in the leg, police said. He surrendered himself a few hours later.

The forecast for Georgia was fair but highways in many parts of the state were still treacherous.

Frost was expected in north and central Florida tonight.

North Carolina was expected to have what a forecaster called "rather nice winter weather for the remainder of the week."

Mild weather also was forecast for Tennessee which had 18 inches of snow in some areas.

"Mostly sunny and somewhat warmer," was the forecast for South Carolina.

Burglars Rob 3 Businesses
Burglars hit three Sanford business houses Wednesday night, obtaining $37.50 in cash and $5 in postage stamps.

Chief Roy Williams reported the theft of $52 in cash from a vending machine and a cash box at Ne-Hi Bottling, 549 Pecan Avenue; nothing from the Williams Hardware, 205 East 25th Street, and $5.50 in cash and $5 in stamps from the Furniture Center, 1100 French Avenue.

Castro Displays Russian Might

IDENTIFICATION CAR TAGS, to be given with each 1964 membership in the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, were displayed this morning by the senior trade body's 1964 membership committee. The committee (left to right) is Robert Beaser, Chamber President; Karlisle Hausholder, Arthur H. Beckwith Jr., Richard McCanna and Charles Robinson. Tags will be available to the public for a nominal fee. The committee is also asking each new car dealer in Seminole County to place a tag on all new cars sold. The committee predicted this morning that chamber members and other citizens of Seminole County will display these tags in every state in the union this year. (Herald Photo)

Fidel Marks Sixth Year Of Red Regime

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro, celebrating his fifth anniversary of power, issued a new warning to the United States and "the lackeys of imperialism" not to attempt another invasion of Cuba.

Addressing a massive throng in Havana's "revolution square" following a 45-minute parade of his regime's made-in-Moscow military might, Castro boasted that "with these powerful weapons he will be able to fight against the best units of the imperialist army of the United States."

He added: "They know that if (an invasion) would not be a military parade, they know that the Cubans will fight and will fight until the last man and woman. They know the Cuban people will not surrender."

"They know the Cuban people will not fight alone in that fight," in an obvious reference to the Soviet Union.

Before he spoke Russian-built supersonic MIG fighters screamed overhead, a massive parade of power unrolled across the city through "revolution square" after a 21-gun salute.

The all-out show of fighting is "ready to repel and conquer odious (U.S.) imperialism if it again attempts to sink its claws into our beloved fatherland," the official parade announcer said in a running broadcast monitored here.

Soviet surface-to-air missiles and a display of various anti-aircraft missiles were pulled through Havana's "revolution square" after Castro gave the order for the parade to begin at exactly 10 a. m. EST following a 21-gun salute.

Russian MIG-21 jets "capable of more than twice the speed of sound" flew overhead piloted by youthful Cuban pilots, the broadcast said.

There were other military planes including MIG-15 fighters and helicopters in the air while infantry troops and other units including Cuba's first woman paratrooper went by the reviewing stand where Castro watched.

Tanks, light and heavy artillery, mortars, anti-tank missiles and multiple light rocket launching units were in the line of march.

A constant reminder to many that the parade weapons were the kind used against exile invaders at the 1961 Bay of Pigs battle was boomed over Havana Radio. The announcer said the 21-gun salute "expresses to oppressed peoples of America that revolution is possible."

English Estates School Opening Delayed

The new English Estates Elementary School, Seminole County's first air-conditioned school, will not be ready for occupancy Monday morning as originally scheduled, according to an announcement today by R. T. Milwee, superintendent of the county's school system.

Every effort was put forth, Milwee declared, to have the school ready for use by the time classes resumed after the holidays. This means, Milwee explained, that English Estates will continue to operate, as it has since the opening of school last September — on a double session basis in the schedules, in effect at the time school closed for the holidays, will be resumed Monday morning and will continue until further notice. This applies to students of both South Seminole Elementary and English Estates.

South Seminole students have been using the Casselberry facility during the morning sessions and English Estates students have been using the same plant during afternoon sessions. Each school has its own office, principal and faculty.

Meanwhile, Milwee revealed that South Seminole Junior High authorities had been given permission to utilize the school's new music building recently constructed on the campus. The building consists of an office, vocal room and band room.

However, the Seminole school superintendent revealed that the school's new cafeteria, auditorium and large group class room — is still not yet ready for use. It was estimated that the new unit should be ready for use in approximately two weeks. Since South Seminole Junior High opened in the Fall of 1962, there have been no lunch room facilities.

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — Dr. Arthur Sinton Otis, author of the famed Otis Aptitude Test, died here Tuesday night at the age of 77.

Weather Eases Up Over South

By United Press International
The Southland appeared today to be in for some better weather after taking a parting shot from 1963 that covered most of Dixie with snow and ice.

Mississippi, one of the hardest hit states, began thawing out after one of its worst winter storms in history, but driving conditions over much of the state remained hazardous.

The weatherman promised a gradual warming trend in Mississippi with temperatures expected to climb into the low 50s.

Clear skies and sunshine were expected to help thaw snow and ice in Alabama. Tuesday's snow and ice storm left more than 16 inches of snow in some northern counties.

The forecast for Georgia was fair but highways in many parts of the state were still treacherous.

Frost was expected in north and central Florida tonight.

North Carolina was expected to have what a forecaster called "rather nice winter weather for the remainder of the week."

Mild weather also was forecast for Tennessee which had 18 inches of snow in some areas.

"Mostly sunny and somewhat warmer," was the forecast for South Carolina.

Ex-Russian Spy Goes To Canada

LONDON (UPI) — A top-level Russian spy who defected to the West two years ago has gone to Canada to begin a new life under an assumed name, informed sources said today.

The government said the spy, Anatoli Dolynstain, had been spirited out of the nation to "a Commonwealth country" which the sources said was Canada.

The details of Dolynstain's defection to the West were never announced here. One report said he turned himself in early in 1962 to an American embassy, either in Finland or West Germany, and was questioned by U. S. officials for months before he was allowed to go to Britain, as he had requested.

Other reports said he sought asylum from the British Embassy in Ottawa and was questioned here for 15 months before his defection became known last July.

There were opposition charges in July that the government, under criticism for a series of security lapses, had leaked the news of Dolynstain's defection to Britain to counter this criticism. It was never cleared up whether Dolynstain defected to the Americans or the British.

LBJ Calls Tax Cut, Civil Rights 'Must' Legislation

Medicare Bill Also On List For Action

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (UPI)—President Johnson headed his 1964 agenda today, saying he would like to see the Medicare bill passed and the tax reduction bill passed. Johnson was a "must" for the economic vitality of the nation.

The Chief Executive applied the same "must" label to the pending civil rights bill. He also wants the Medicare program for the aged enacted by the Congress which resumes its deliberations Jan. 7.

In the international field, the President plans an "unwavering peace offensive" in the new year to improve relations with Soviet Russia. According to associates, Johnson says the United States cannot "drag its feet a year until after the election" before granting the peace offensive and exploring the possible promise held out in a year-end exchange of messages with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

It is possible to report these and other viewpoints of Johnson at the start of the year on the authority of a key White House official intimately familiar with his feelings and thinking about official matters. This account does not represent an interview with the Chief Executive, but it does reflect his attitude as reported by an authoritative member of the White House staff.

The unemployment problem has figured frequently in Johnson's planning for the new year and legislation which he will recommend to Congress.

Walter Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, saw the President earlier this week. While Heller's emphasis was on the upward trend of the American economy in 1963, he called the unemployment situation the most serious problem on the current economic horizon.

The unemployment rate is around 5 1/2 per cent of the work force with more than 4 million persons out of work. According to the government, automation is displacing about 1.3 million workers annually and to complicate the situation further, about 1.2 million persons also are being added to the work force each year.

The President feels a substantial effort must be put forth on unemployment problems for the future. He is dissatisfied with present cures and programs that have been suggested.

"We may be underestimating what lies ahead and I am calling for new solutions and I am demanding new thinking on this entire problem," Johnson has been quoted as saying.

As part of his overall approach to economic improvement, Johnson wants more labor leaders and business executives actively participating in government.

He thinks the public service field in Latin America is particularly promising for U. S. labor leaders. And he thinks the government should draw more heavily on the reservoir of talent in business.

Johnson wants what he calls dynamic young businessmen in government. In this connection, associates said he speaks of wanting "action from the young and advice from the old."

Asleep At Switch

GORNE, Ind. (UPI)—Police called to investigate a car stopped at a railroad crossing Tuesday found the driver bent over the wheel.

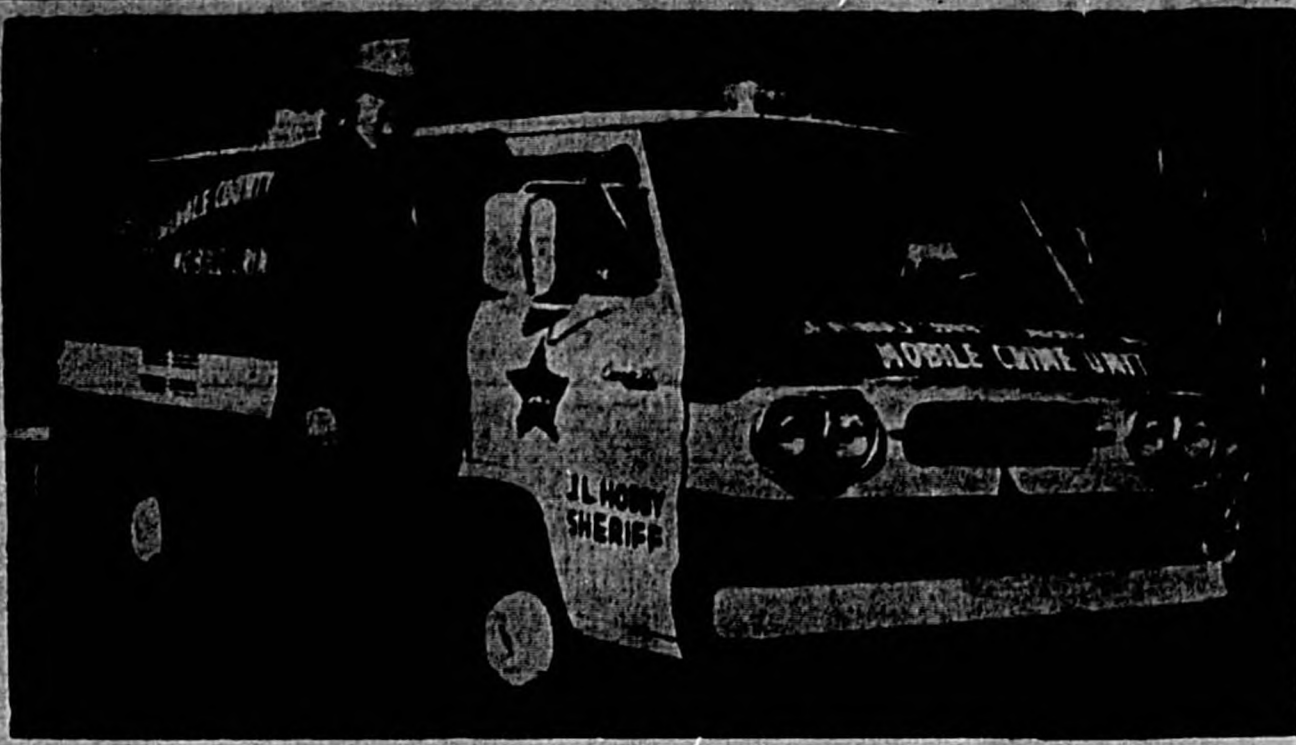

They woke the driver and he told them he apparently dozed off while waiting for a long freight train to clear the crossing.

In The Money

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (UPI)—When Community National Bank employees opened the vault Tuesday they found a little Pomeranian dog named Pompey.

The pet had visited the bank the day before with an employee and wandered into the vault.

During 1962, 1,761 daily newspapers in the United States enjoyed a combined circulation of 60 million copies daily.

SHERIFF J. L. HOBBY and his crime mobile

Mobile Crime Unit Praised By Sheriff

The Seminole County Sheriff Department's new mobile crime unit is proving its worth in aiding investigations of crime reports, auto accidents and many other similar incidents which happen from time to time in this area.

The unit has been in operation since October. It carries a wide variety of crime detection, rescue and apprehension equipment.

When the unit is dispatched to auto accidents, for example, its operator—Deputy Wesley Place—is able to immediately set up floodlights to illuminate the area, put out illuminated road markers and flashing red warning lights, take photos, aid accident victims with first aid and other emergency equipment, and direct other activities over a public address system.

Other equipment includes shotguns, radios, electronic sirens, hand held spot lights, desk and stool, lighted clip boards, a 750-foot mayon rescue line, fire extinguishers, ammunition, a complete tool box, fire axes and crowbars.

In addition the unit has hatchets, a black light detector kit, three cameras with tripods, a hand operated public address megaphone, fingerprint kit, sand shovel and saw combination, flood and spot lamps, portable light stands, 250 feet of extension cords, a 1,200 watt gas operated power plant, emergency gasoline, a battery charger and flares.

The unit is dispatched in response to practically all crime, emergency calls and rescue operations.

3 Hoffa Figures Lose Attorneys

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Three West Virginia men accused of jury tampering in the 1962 conspiracy trial of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa are without attorneys today.

U. S. District Court Judge Frank Gray Jr. Tuesday allowed attorneys William A. Beckett and Robert H. Burford, both of Huntington, W. Va., to withdraw from the case because they had not been paid for their services.

Beckett and Burford represented Albert P. Cole, Herman A. Frazier, and Alfred N. Paden, all of Huntington, Cole, Frazier, Paden, and Henry F. (Buster) Bell of New York were named in an indictment separate from Hoffa's, but also were accused of conspiring to influence jurors in the 1962 trial. Their trial date has not been set yet.

Hoffa and six others are scheduled to go on trial in Chattanooga Jan. 20. If convicted, the Teamsters boss faces 25 years in prison and a $25,000 fine.

Chicken Coop Sisters' Home

LONDON (UPI)—Two elderly sisters in nearby Hemel Hempstead fought today to stay in the unlighted, unheated chicken coop they have called home for 30 years.

"Nobody will take us from here," Miss Marcella Finnigan said defiantly as the winter wind whipped through gaping cracks in the shed's board walls.

"It would kill us to go into a stuffy home," she said.

But local officials, who called conditions in the old henhouse horrible, have applied for a removal order under national welfare laws.

The sisters—Marcella, 68, and Ella, 70—are expected to be in an old peoples home within a week.

"A place like that shed, without the remotest kind of comfort, could not possibly be a home for anybody," local health officer Dr. R. S. Hynd said.

But Marcella, a native of Ireland, said she and her sister have been "the happiest people on earth" since they took up squatters' rights on the shack.

Rags and brown paper only partially block holes in the walls. The sisters sleep in a double bed made of boxes nailed together. The mattresses and pillows are old burlap sacks stuffed with leaves.

A candle provides the only lighting. The floor is made of broken red bricks coated with mud. There is no sanitation, no water and no heater. When the wind blows, the chicken coop quakes and rocks.

Robbers Break Into Prison

PARCHMAN, Miss. (UPI)—A prison break—this time from the outside in—cost the Mississippi State Penitentiary $1,000 Tuesday.

Two armed men overpowered a night watchman and made off with the money from an office safe in the prison. Prison Supt. C. E. Bransome said he was sure the robbers were not inmates.

Pope's Advance Party Leaving For Holy Land

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—An advance party of Vatican officials, priests and novices headed for Amman, Jordan, today to prepare for Pope Paul's historic pilgrimage to the Holy Land.

The Pope leaves Saturday on a three-day trip to Jordan and Israel to pray "most humbly and briefly" on the land where Christ walked. He will be the first Roman Catholic pontiff in history to make such a pilgrimage.

The 66-year-old pontiff's pilgrimage will be doubly historic because it will provide the occasion for a meeting in Jerusalem with Patriarch Athenagoras I of Constantinople Istanbul, leader of the Eastern Orthodox Church which split with Rome more than 900 years ago.

They are scheduled to meet Sunday at the residence of the apostolic delegates on the Mount of Olives and Monday at the Orthodox patriarchate.

There has been no such meeting since Patriarch Joseph of Constantinople came to Italy in 1458 to see Pope Eugene IV in an unsuccessful attempt to end the split.

Brandt Determined

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, in the face of mounting criticism, said today he will continue to seek an agreement with Communist East Germany on traffic through the Berlin wall.

Castro Makes Pitch To U. S. For Normalcy

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro said Wednesday his government "wished" for normal relations with the United States but he said Cuba never would renounce Marxism as a condition for this.

At the same time Castro said he felt "it was possible" that there would have been "an eventual normalization" between the two countries under the Kennedy administration. He said he was not sure what President Johnson "is going to do... about Cuba."

The premier's remarks were made during a New Year's Day telephone interview from Havana with American Broadcasting Co. news reporter Lisa Howard.

Speaking in English throughout the half-hour interview Castro said "it belongs to the United States government to take the next step" in any move to restore normal relations.

"... For our part we are ready to speak, but of course, to normalize relations, it can never be over conditions of renouncing our political ideas. Never can we renounce our Marxism," he said.

Rep. Gross Tees Off On LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, who has been a thorn in the side of other presidents, is starting off the new year with some unkind words about President Johnson.

Gross said in a statement Wednesday that the new President already had shown that he talks "out of both sides of his mouth" and is "well-schooled in the art of political expediency."

The Iowa Republican, noted for his one-man stands against proposals of the previous administration, reached the boiling point because of Johnson's role in the foreign aid bill hassle.

He said that Johnson had demonstrated "tough and ruthless arm-twisting seldom, if ever, seen in Congress" to fight a restriction on credit guarantees for wheat sales to Russia.

Gross was among backers of an amendment to prohibit use of government credit guarantees for the commodity sales.

Johnson finally got Congress to allow such guarantees if the President considered them in the national interest.

In his attack on Johnson, Gross noted that the President had promised in a speech to Congress on Nov. 27 that he always would respect the independence and integrity of the legislative branch.

"Yet less than a month later," Gross said, "Johnson completely repudiated this promise and cracked the lash over the backs of members of Congress, forcing them to do his bidding."

Delay Blamed On Red Tape

RINGWOULD, England (UPI)—Ben Ford, who retired from the army 15 years ago after serving 40 years, said today he has just received a belated clasp to his long service and good conduct medal.

Tide Unknown Kicks His Way To Grid Fame

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — You won't find his name listed on the first three teams. The only thing to get his feet off the ground is the notation "R.S." — kicking specialist — beside his name.

He is Tim Davis of Alabama, and you can bet that Coach Johnny Vaught and his University of Mississippi team know who Davis is today.

Davis' record shattering performance in the Sugar Bowl football game Wednesday gave Alabama a 19-7 upset over Southeastern Conference champion Mississippi. The New Year's game of 36, 46, 21 and 25 yards nearly shook the Southern football world.

Never before had anyone kicked four or even three field goals in the 30-year history of the Sugar Bowl. Never before had anyone kicked a 36-yard, much less a 46 and a 25 yarder, in the Sugar Bowl.

Sportsmen covering the game made him an almost unanimous choice for most valuable player in the game.

Davis was just one of a flock of bright lights for Alabama Wednesday.

The Alabama defense did not give Ole Miss a first down in the first half, and did not budge until the last quarter.

When the game was at stake on the two-yard line, the Alabama defense held solidly. Tide players recovered six fumbles and intercepted three passes against the seventh-ranked team in the nation, a team that seldom made mistakes.

Sophomore Steve Sloan was a stand-out. He replaced Joe Namath, Alabama's sensational quarterback who was dismissed from the squad early in December. Sloan went through the 1963 season without completing a pass. In the first quarter Wednesday he completed three and sparked the drive that set up Davis' first field goal.

Johnny Vaught and Mississippi have seldom experienced such misery. The Rebels fumbled and almost unbelievable 11 times, a Sugar Bowl record. Perry Lee Dunn, the Ole Miss quarterback who was signed by the Dallas Cowboys right after the game, completed eight out of 10 passes, most of them in the desperate fourth quarter.

"We just couldn't seem to get started," he said after the game.

But Ole Miss looked like its brilliant self for several minutes. Mississippi scored on a Dunn pass to Larry Smith on the three, and Smith ran into the end zone for Ole Miss' lone touchdown. Billy Carl Irwin made the extra point.

Dunn then led another Mississippi march to the two-yard-line, but Alabama held.

2nd Round In Cup Play On

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Brazil's tennis team, which beat a plucky team from Poland Wednesday, was paired with West Germany today in the second round of the Sunshine Cup international junior tennis team matches.

The top-seeded South African team, which drew an opening round bye, was paired with Switzerland in today's competition, and the second-seeded U. S. team, which also drew a bye, faces Italy.

Brazilian ace Tomas Koch led his third-ranked team to a 7-5, 6-3 victory over Poland. Koch also won his individual match with Poland's Bronislaw Lwandowski 6-4, 6-4, 10-8.

Sweden's fourth-seeded team of Ove Bengtsson and Ken Anderson swept through Peru in three straight matches and is paired with the Argentinian team today.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

Today's column is a release we received from the Houston Colts of the National League concerning Little Nellie Fox. For many years the general infielder was a mainstay at second base for the Chicago White Sox. Nellie was recently traded to the Colts.

He's Still No. 2

One of the first things Houston General Manager Paul Richards said when he obtained Nelson Jacob Fox, the fiery little competitor from the Chicago White Sox, was — "Call Jimmy Adair in Dallas and tell him that he lost his number 2."

Fox, who celebrated his 35th birthday Christmas Day, is like many ballplayers, superstitious. And one of his biggest superstitions is wearing the numeral "2" on the back of his uniform.

Adair, the 456 first base coach, was more than happy to relinquish his number he had worn the past two seasons. "Listen," he said, "I'm so happy we got that little fellow, you can give him my locker, shoes, sweatshirts and anything else he needs. Just give me something to wear in that coaching box and don't worry what number it is."

The number "2" for Fox may have more significance than just a superstitious trait of a second baseman who has 14 seasons of outstanding major league history. For it is the base, manager Harry Craft who wears number "1," and as far as being boss on the field when play begins, it will be number "2" — Nellie Fox. Fox is a take charge guy and should automatically become the team captain and the leader on the infield.

Fox has a right to be superstitious and feel that there is a certain amount of luck in the game of baseball.

For it was luck or fate, whatever you want to call it, that has brought the 5-9 peppercorn from Chambersburg, Pa., as far as he is.

In midseason of 1950, the White Sox traded away their All-Star second baseman, Cass Michaels, and one of the players they took in exchange was Al Kosar. He was second baseman, and the White Sox insisted he be part of the deal because the only player they had left to play second base was Nelson Fox, a tiny guy with boundless energy but doubtful ability.

Kosar took over for Michaels. He injured his back and was sent to the minors, leaving second base in the hands of Fox by default.

"I wasn't any sensation," admits Fox. "I hit .247 that season and made about 20 errors. I just didn't have the knack of making the double play."

Paul Richards, who became the manager of the White Sox in 1957, didn't think too highly of Nellie, either, and Fox was ticketed to the minors. Richards tried to land Eddie Basinski, who had been second base sensation in the Coast League.

Once again luck intervened for Nellie. The Basinski deal fell through and Fox was the only second baseman in the Sox 1951 spring training camp.

Richards stuck with Fox, made him his Number One prospect, and with Paul this can be a production. This it was in Nellie's case. Joe Gordon, the one-time Yankee second baseman, was brought in to teach Fox the fine points of defense. Coach Doc Cramer worked to correct the star pupil's batting style. Richards was general over-seer and specialist on bunting.

"I guess very few players have had such a faculty to help them," Fox says. "Ray Berres almost pitched his arm off giving me special batting practice. My big flaw was hanging into the ball and hitting off my front foot with the left one hanging in the air."

"Richards worked hours with me on bunting. The technique? Hold the left hand loose to help deaden the ball and try to meet it with the end of the bat. When I'm bunting for a base hit, I attempt to put the ball right down the third base. If it's a sacrifice, the idea is to make sure the bunt is fair, so I don't draw quite such a fine line."

Fox is now regarded as the best bunter in baseball, and in some circles still the best all-around second baseman in baseball.

The luck and the long hours of extra work paid off — in many ways in major league records, 14 glorious seasons and a salary of over $40,000 per season.

Nebraska Win May Save Big Eight Contract

MIAMI (UPI) — Big Eight officials have a straight flush to spread before the Orange Bowl Committee today in the high stakes negotiations for the football classic.

Nebraska, the school that "couldn't" win a major bowl game, dealt the 12-7 winning cards over Auburn in the game that grossed about $100,000 per team in Wednesday's 30th annual New Year's spectacle before 72,447 sun-warmed fans.

After 10 years, the Orange Bowl moguls have been thinking seriously about ending their tie with the Big Eight to furnish the conference champion as one of the competitors. The decision whether to renew the Big Eight contract which expired Wednesday night could come in the next couple of days.

Nebraska's burly Cornhuskers stepped into the 70-degree heat as one-point underdogs to Auburn and with an 0-8 record in major bowls, including an ignominious 34-7 defeat by Duke in the 1955 Orange Bowl.

But on such little things as a play designed to gain only two or three yards are victories and big stakes won. Nebraska quarterback Dennis Claridge belted a record 63 yards for a touchdown on just such a play and it threw the Auburn Tigers into fumbling ineptitude for the entire first half.

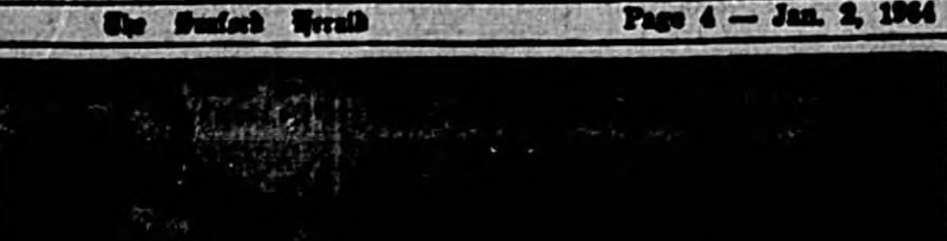

The play came on the second crack from scrimmage and Claridge admitted at game end, "It surprised me as much as it surprised Auburn."

Soon after, halfback Frank Selich broke loose for a 22-yard punt return that set Nebraska on the track for a 31-yard field goal by Dave Theisen, who had kicked the extra point after Claridge's touchdowns gallop.

A punt fumbled by halfback George Ross deep in Auburn territory set the stage for Theisen's 36-yard field goal in the second period that gave Nebraska 13-0 halftime lead.

Auburn, led by lean and hungry quarterback Jimmy Sidle, found itself to make the second half a different ball game. His running and passing carried the Alabamians on a 71-yard touchdown march in the third period. Sidle swept 12 yards around his left end for the score and Woody Woodall booted the extra point.

Sidle got Auburn's Tigers going again in the final period. His passes featured a 69-yard thrust but at the Nebraska 11, the Cornhuskers rose to knock down a fourth down pass and take possession with 1:30 minutes remaining. Claridge coolly managed to run up the clock for the victory that may mean more than just prestige for the Cornhuskers and the Big Eight.

Moving Out — There's a quarrel in Kansas City over the Kansas City A's use of the Municipal Stadium.

Pat Friday, general manager of the A's, shown here handing armload of uniforms up on a truck, moved the ball team out of the stadium and into a downtown building to give emphasis to his stand that he wants a better agreement. (NEA Telephoto)

SEC Teams Set For Openers

The No. 1 player on the nation's No. 1 college basketball team continued as No. 1 scorer in the Southeastern Conference this week while SEC teams made their final preparations for the conference opener.

Cotton Nash, Kentucky's All-American candidate, will bring a hefty 29.7 scoring average into Saturday's SEC opener for the Wildcats against Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

"King Cotton" and his "princes," Ted Deeken, third in SEC scoring with 21.8, have led the Wildcats to 10 straight victories and the No. 1 ranking in college basketball polls.

In the process, Kentucky has lucked the Sugar Bowl title under its belt and averaged over 95 points a game as a team.

In Kentucky's three games last week, Nash scored 23, 29 and 30 points, and won the most valuable player award for the Sugar Bowl tourney with his last two performances.

A distant second in the SEC scoring race is Mississippi's Donnie Kessinger, who scored a disappointing total of 22 points in his team's two losses in the Gulf South Classic last weekend. Kessinger is currently averaging 23.3 points a game.

Florida, which won the Gator Bowl tourney last weekend and moved firmly into the dark horse spot in the SEC, boasted the only other 20-point scorers in the conference. Both Brooks Henderson, the Gator Bowl's most valuable player, and Dick Tomlinson are averaging 21.1

points for Florida's six games. Louisiana State's Dick Malle, whose team finished sixth in the eight-team Far West Classic in Portland, Ore. over the weekend, is sixth in SEC scoring with a 19.6 average.

Vanderbilt, currently undefeated and averaging 62.5 points a game, boasted the No. 7 and 8 scorers in the conference in Clyde Lee and John Ed Miller. The Commodore's "scoring twins" are each averaging 19.3 points for Vanderbilt's 10 games.

With both Vanderbilt and Kentucky averaging over 90 points a game, a high-scoring battle is expected when the two clash Monday night. Each has a game still to play between now and then, Kentucky against Georgia Tech and the Commodores against Tennessee, but each is favored to win and go into Monday's match undefeated.

Tulane's Dale Gott, whose team has yet to win in nine tries, is ninth in conference scoring with an 18.3 average. Billy Rado of Georgia, with a 17.53 average, is slightly ahead of Auburn's Lee Dettore (17.75) for 10th place.

Leaders of the four teams not represented in the top 10 are: Alabama, Jim Booth, 14.7; Georgia Tech, R. D. Craddock, 15.0; Mississippi State, Doug Hutton, 16.3; and Tennessee, A. W. Davis, 17.8.

Ten of the SEC's 12 teams were scheduled to complete their final warm-ups before beginning conference play Saturday. The other two, Georgia and Alabama, met Wednesday night in the SEC opener.

Pro Teams Go For Bowl Stars

United Press International Pro football teams moved fast to sign up stars who competed in the New Year's Day bowl games as soon as their amateur careers were over, and the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles landed a big one in All-American guard Bob Brown of Nebraska.

The 6-foot-4, 175-pound Brown came to terms shortly after playing a major role in Nebraska's 12-7 victory over Auburn in the Orange Bowl. Brown was not announced, but it was believed the Eagles topped $15,000 per year plus a liberal bonus to outbid the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

The NFL grabbed the lion's share of the bowl stars who signed on the dotted line.

Three of Brown's Nebraska teammates signed with NFL teams— tackle Lloyd Voss with the Green Bay Packers, 252-pound tackle Monte Kiffin with the Minnesota Vikings, and linebacker John Kirby, also with the Vikings.

The Vikings also picked up two Auburn players—halfback George Best, their No. 3 choice, and end Howard Simpson.

The Dallas Cowboys of the NFL signed their No. 4 choice, quarterback Perry Lee Dunn of Mississippi, who also had been drafted by San Diego of the American Football League, and also signed Ole Miss tackle William W. Hall.

Three stars of Alabama, conqueror of Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl, signed pro contracts—two in the NFL.

Fullback Mike Fracchia signed with the St. Louis Cardinals of the NFL and Steve Wright, a 261-pound tackle, with the Green Bay Packers.

The Houston Oilers of the AFL signed Alabama half-back Benney Nelson.

North Has Three Top-Flight QBs

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — mind readily which one to start Saturday.

He's got Jack Concanon of Boston College, Bill Munson of Utah State and Dick Shiner of Maryland.

"All three are fine pro prospects," said Wilson. "All three throw the ball very well. I don't know which one I'll start. It's a tough decision. All of them have confidence and that's a big thing."

NFL To Look Into Slaying

MIAMI (UPI) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League said today his office will look into the shooting of former Chicago Bears player Tony Parrilli Wednesday as a "routine" procedure.

Parrilli, attending a New Year's Eve party at the bowling alley owned by Bears' end Mike Ditka, was accidentally shot to death during a scuffle in the wash room involving Bears' halfback Joe Marconi and an unidentified "Giant" fan," according to police reports.

Rozelle, here to attend Sunday's playoff bowl game between the Cleveland Browns and Green Bay Packers, said the league will investigate the incident "as a matter of routine as in the case in any-

Texas, Illinois Live Up To Advance Billing

Longhorn Air Attack Wins

DALLAS (UPI)—The backs made the headlines, but both coaches agreed today that the other team's line was the key factor in Texas' quarterback Duke Carlisle's architecture of a 24-6 victory over Navy in the 28th annual Cotton Bowl.

Texas deserted its usual ball control tactics and took to the air-planes to lay the foundation for victory and the coach of the nation's national champion Longhorns, Darrell Royal, said the change in strategy was a forced by Navy's defense which "jammed up on us."

Navy's heralded All-American Heisman Trophy winning quarterback, Jolly Roger Staubach, had a fine day statistically, but his effectiveness was humblingly unsuccessful because of a Texas line that, in Middle Coach Wayne Hardin's words, "simply kept coming and coming."

Carlisle was the hero of the game offensively by throwing 58 and 63-yard scoring passes to fleet wingback Phil Harris and darting nine big yards for another touchdown to boost Texas into a 21-0 lead that smothered Navy's hopes before halftime.

But, the same crew of linemen which held Navy to a minus 16 yards rushing was performing an equally magnificent chore on offense by giving him ample time to throw or work his run-pass options to a new Cotton Bowl record total offense of 281 yards.

All-America tackle Scott Appleton, who shared "outstanding" honors with Carlisle by overwhelming vote margins, led this Longhorn line stampede. But, at best, his play was just a shade better than that of such team-

Jim Grabowski Outgains All Husky Runners

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Rival coaches shuddered today as they thought of facing two more years of Jim Grabowski after watching the sophomore fullback pulverize the Washington Huskies in leading Illinois to a 17-7 victory in the Rose Bowl.

The 18-year-old Chicago youngster was voted "player of the game" and drew the praise of both his own coach and rival Coach Jim Owens for gaining 123 yards rushing, more than the entire Washington backfield was able to pile up.

"Grabowski certainly had himself an outstanding day running and deserved the player of the game award," said Illinois Coach Pete Elliott.

Although Owens would not admit one player could make the difference between winning and losing, Washington's hopes for an upset victory were dashed when quarterback Bill Douglas suffered a dislocated knee with the game only four minutes old.

Bill Siler, who missed nine games because of illness, tried valiantly to fill the gap but was rusty after only two weeks of practice. The Huskies also lost No. 2 fullback Mike Kuklinski with a broken leg minutes after Douglas was hurt.

If there was a turning point in the game, both coaches agreed, it came when Siler fumbled in the closing seconds of the first half and Bruce Capel recovered on the Washington 15. With two seconds remaining, the Illini got on the scoreboard on Jim Plankenberg's 33-yard field goal to make the halftime score 7-3.

George Donnelly's first interception in the third period opened the door and the Illini drove 32 yards to score the go-ahead touchdown with Jim Warren racing the final two yards. Then at the start of the fourth period after Donnelly made his second interception, Grabowski led the Illini 65 yards in 17 plays and plunged over from the one.

Washington had scored midway in the second period after Fred Custardo fumbled and the Huskies' center John Stupay recovered on the Illini 37.

A Siler to end Joe Manasco pass gained 18 yards and halfback Dave Kopyay ran

Los Angeles Open Friday

Los Angeles (UPI)—The gold rush of 1964 opens Friday when the world's top professionals tee off in the first round of the $50,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament—first stop on a year-long tour.

"Mr. Golf," Arnold Palmer, will be on hand to defend his title—but confesses that he is woefully out of condition to be playing up to his best.

"I haven't hit a ball since Nov. 12," said Palmer as he appeared in California Monday—still pale from a winter in the snow at his home in Pennsylvania.

But the smart money still makes him the favorite to win any tournament he enters. The other big names competing here will include National Open champion Julius Boros, big money-winner Tony Lema, Jay Hebert, Al Gelberger, Gene Littler, Mason Rudolph, Dew Finsterwald and Don January.

Daily Double Pays $292.80

Jai Alai started the New Year off on a prosperous note for holders of 4-4 combination Daily Double tickets Wednesday night at the Orlando Seminole Fronton, paying a whopping $292.80.

Winners of the twin feature were Pedro in the first ball and Arelio in the second stanza, both going in on the long end of the morning odds.

Tuesday night's program took a unexpected, but well received turn of events when a power failure plunged the fronton into darkness. The players took to the court anyway and in the dim glare of flashlights, rendered a round of Basque folk song impromptu performance developed into a full-scale songfest as an appreciative New Year's Eve crowd encouraged the surprisingly good players' chorus to continue their singing for nearly 45 minutes.

When play was resumed, Balloa bearded through the sixth game singles in one of the Jai Alai highlights of the evening paying a season's record $78.00 for the win. Gary was second to round out a 3-4 quintuple worth $92.40 and a 6-3 perfecta good for $232.80.

RON CLARKE crosses the finish line after shattering two world records in Melbourne. The 26-year-old Australian covered six miles in 27:17.6 and 10,000 meters in 28:15.6.

Leone Explains Program

The National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliates have had many years of experience in educating the public to seek medical advice and care because of certain symptoms associated with tuberculosis, says Dr. Frank Leone, Seminole County Health Director.

Meanwhile, a new nation-wide education campaign focused on two symptoms of respiratory disease — chronic cough and shortness of breath — is intended to move persons with one or both of these symptoms to seek medical care at once. It is expected that many physicians will have an increase in the number of patients coming to them for reasons.

Chronic lung disease is the fastest rising cause of total disability in the U. S. The combined death rate of lung cancer and chronic respiratory disease, including bronchitis, pneumonia, and emphysema in men, rose from 23.5 deaths per 100,000 in 1950 to 43.1 deaths per 100,000 in 1951. Social Security data indicates that worker disability allowances for chronic lung disease are surpassed only by those for heart disease due to hardening of the arteries.

Acute diseases of the respiratory tract are far the most common cause of illness in the U. S. Individuals with chronic respiratory disease total at least 10 million, and perhaps twice that number. Over a period of one year, acute respiratory diseases caused more than one billion days of restricted activity. There were 219 million days lost from work and 195 million days lost from school. Respiratory diseases cause 10 percent of all deaths; approximately 150,000 annually. They rank fourth among all causes of death in the U. S.

A comparison of these years 1952-1955 and 1957-1959 reveals that the percentage increase in deaths from respiratory disease exceeded the percentage increase in mortality from heart disease — the leading cause of death in this country.

These and other statistics on respiratory diseases were grouped under three main categories: Occurrence; Disability and Absenteeism; and Deaths.

As for occurrence in the year 1957-1958, more than 250 million acute respiratory illnesses were reported in the U. S. More than 10 million people suffer from one or more chronic respiratory diseases. About 10 million people have chronic sinus trouble; over eight million have more than two million have chronic bronchitis.

Regarding absenteeism and disability, acute respiratory diseases account for about 65 percent of all acute illness, and are the principal cause of absenteeism from school and work. Respiratory disease account for 49 percent of all days of restricted activity and work loss as well as for almost three quarters of the total days lost from school. The Social Security Administration provided disability allowances for more workers in their fifties and early sixties because of emphysema than for any other disease with the exception of heart disease.

The common cold is industry's number one health problem due to the cost to industry of absenteeism from that disease. Silicosis has been the outstanding occupational disease problem in American industry for many years.

Concerning deaths pneumonia and influenza combined represent the leading cause of death from respiratory diseases. They cause between 40,000 and 500,000 deaths annually. Cancer of the respiratory system causes well over 20,000 deaths annually. The death rate from this disease has increased almost 70 percent in the past 10 years. Asthma, bronchitis, emphysema, account for a total of about 15,000 deaths a year. Tuberculosis is still the leading killer among the contagious diseases still prevalent in the U. S. It causes about 11,000 deaths per year.

Excluding Tuberculosis, the other respiratory diseases fall under four main categories:

Acute respiratory diseases include the common cold, influenza, pneumonia, and acute bronchitis.

Chronic respiratory diseases are Emphysema, chronic bronchitis, lung cancer, bronchiectasis and pneumoconiosis.

Fungus Infections of the Respiratory Tract include Histoplasmosis, etc.

Allergies are primarily Asthma and hay fever.

Therefore, tuberculosis associations, Dr. Leone declares, now are attacking all respiratory diseases. It is believed that early diagnosis and successful treatment will assure prevention of prolonged disability from lung diseases.

Thought For Today

"We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him..." — Romans 8:28 (RSV)

Those who love God do not always have everything easy, but God does help those who love him to use their experiences — good and bad — in such constructive ways that they will become persons of faith and wisdom.

Helen Fuller Says Union Message

WASHINGTON — President Johnson and the late President Kennedy's right-hand man Theodore Sorensen will spend this week in intimate conferences on the State of the Union Message which Mr. Johnson will deliver to the Congress Jan. 8, Sorensen and his sons will occupy a guest house on the LBJ ranch while work on this significant speech goes on.

The major part that Sorensen is playing in the President's preparations reveals much about both men.

Next to his brothers, probably no man was closer to President Kennedy, in a serious sense, than the young lawyer from Nebraska who served as his Special Counsel in the White House. Despite their dissimilar origins the two enjoyed the closest intellectual kinship.

Son of a supporter of the insurgent Republican liberal George Norris, Sorensen grew up in the Midwest Populist tradition. When he was picked to join the staff of the newly-elected Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts, Sorensen was working for the dean of Senate liberals, Democrat Paul Douglas of Illinois.

Sorensen's relationship with the young Senator Kennedy ripened during their collaboration on the Pulitzer Prize book "Profiles in Courage". Sorensen supplied much of the research. Never a part of the Kennedy social circle, he worked quietly backstage helping to put their joint ideas into words, in campaign speeches, in the 1960 Inaugural Address and later in a myriad of Presidential messages.

On Nov. 22 Sorensen lost far more than an employer. It was natural, therefore, that in the early speculation about who among the Kennedy men would go or stay he was usually listed as one who was likely to resign as soon as he could responsibly do so.

This may still prove to be the case. But there is every sign that the President has other ideas.

Sorensen could fill a large vacancy in the Johnson organization. The new President has no one around him with Sorensen's special combined gift of quick analysis and of quick and felicitous style of expression. The literary quality and eloquence of Kennedy's public papers stemmed in part from the Sorensen touch. Ever quick to spot ability, President Johnson has evidently embarked on a campaign to keep his successor's valued aide by his own side in the White House.

Sorensen on his part has submerged his personal grief in the service of the new President. His unusual sense of public duty will exert a stronger pull on him than on some other intimates of the late President to continue with the new Administration.

It will not be the same, of course, working for an elder man with a very different style. But in some ways the Johnson regime will be a natural home for the young Nebraska. His upbringing makes him more like Austin than Boston. Mr. Johnson's roots, like Sorensen's, are rural and Populist. Even in little things the former Kennedy aide should be at home with the Johnsons. I recall dining with Sorensen at a French restaurant when he chose buttermilk instead of wine with his meal. That beverage is a customary choice

 It seems stupid of me sincerely opposed to communism to place their trust merely in armed might and cultural exchanges as though the world issue is between communism and capitalism.
 As the American Bishops' statement pointed out in 1959, "We cannot live as materialists and expect to convert others to our system of freedom and peace under God."
 We must try to do in our time as the early Christians did for pagan Rome.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

After his life may be snuffed out by a single cigarette? For tobacco is the Sword of Damocles that not only helps produce cancer death but also 500,000 heart deaths per year. So if you wish to live youthful from this harmful habit, be sure to apply the rules outlined below. And send for the booklet, too. It can add years to your life span!

CASE 2-28: Abe E., aged 44, is a cigaret addict.
 "Dr. Crane," he began, "I had a mild heart attack two months ago."
 "My doctor then urged me to quit all cigarettes, for my blood pressure was 180/100."
 "But I find it impossible to quit. So can you offer any psychological advice to help me?"

How To Stop Smoking
 The habit of smoking is largely a "muscle hunger" rather than a chemical addiction to nicotine.

Tests have been made where 90 per cent of the nicotine was secretly removed from the cigaret, yet most of the cigaret addicts never noticed any difference.

The person who feels nervous could drain off that surplus energy very easily by running a mile or engaging in shadow boxing.

But in the usual tense social or office situation, that is taboo.

For he would probably be considered a "nut" if he jumped up from his desk and began shadow boxing!

Yet his body craves physical exercise to drain off his pent-up energy.

So he indulges in hemispherical calisthenics or conoidal athletics via smoking.

For he reaches into his pocket for a cigaret. Then he puts the pack out in front of him, whereupon he becomes a hemispherical pitcher.

For he vigorously shakes the pack to make one of the cigarettes slide out far enough so he can seize it.

After that, he taps the cigaret on a table top and then places it in his mouth.

Next, he may remove it to spit out the flecks of loose tobacco that are on his tongue.

Then he solves for a match or cigaret lighter and lights the cigaret.

Thereafter, he waves his arm and hand back and forth at periodic intervals for possibly 5 minutes in the act of smoking.

The cigaret addict simply uses the cigaret in lieu of shadow boxing or other muscular outlets to drain off surplus energy.

Indeed, you addicts would calm down twice as fast if you'd hold a cigaret in each hand and thus smoke two of them simultaneously!

In order to break the medically unwise habit of smoking, be sure you try to satisfy that "muscle hunger."

Chew gum, for example, in order to wiggle your jaw for 30 minutes and thereby drain off energy.

Or carry a rubber ball and keep squeezing it in the very hand that formerly held your cigaret.

Or play with your key chain, or stretch a rubber band across the back of your hand between your thumb and the little finger.

Then try to wiggle the other fingers till you can get the rubber band off.

Also, learn the art of gay conversation, plus the strategy of paying compliments to your associates.

For the more extraverted socially you become, the less

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know there isn't one chance in a million of getting this in the paper, but I am going to write it anyway. I am eleven years old and I feel terrible. I live in Dallas and I want the whole world to know that not everybody in Texas is like the man who shot our wonderful President. It isn't fair that Texas should get a bad name because of one crazy misdeed-up killer. Both Abraham Lincoln and James Garfield were assassinated in Washington, D. C. and nobody held it against that city. McKinley was shot in Buffalo and they didn't blame everybody in the State of New York. Please write me, Abby, because it will mean a lot to so many good people.

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended a large church wedding and I saw something I had never seen before. When the bride came down the aisle, everybody in the church stood up and faced her! Now, I have attended many weddings in my lifetime, but I have never seen anything like this. Is this a new style, or did everybody stand up to get a good look at the bride because a few started it? We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Women who lose friends and alienate people are among this group:
The gal who is always expecting the worst to happen and can point out flaws in any plan.
The woman who can't make up her mind—even when she is doing nothing more momentous than trying to decide whether to have the creamed chicken or the fruit plate on a menu.
The one who is so intent on impressing you, she doesn't even get your name straight.
The woman who always does more than her share of the talking.

The woman who cultivates a bored look, is the belief that it makes her look sophisticated.
She who is forever apologizing.
The woman who is fundamentally a "busybody" and is always asking the kind of questions other people hope won't be asked.
The woman who thinks there is only one way of doing things—her way.
The woman who makes the most, conversationally, of her real or imagined ailments.
The woman who would much rather tell you something for "your own good" than to tell you something that would make you feel good.
The woman who is a born organizer, and complicates the simplest plan by insisting on running it according to a schedule—planned by her, of course.
The "good" woman who thinks she is just a little bit better than most people.
The woman who has never learned to listen.
The woman who rushes from one thing to another so fast she is always more concerned with what is going to happen next than what is happening at the moment.
How do YOU score?

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

South's jump to three no-trump is not recommended. His hand is worth a no-trump bid, but two no-trump is sufficient.
I was sitting South and it was close to the end of a long session. I had intended to bid two no-trump, but the number three came out of my mouth and I was at least one trick too high.
On the other hand, I did have something going for me. My opponents would think that I had a better hand than I did.
Sometimes mistakes don't cost you anything. Had I bid two no-trump the hand would have played there. My partner who had opened a minimum of minimums would have passed and we would not have reached the game that I made with the friendly aid of both East and West. West started with the unfriendly lead of the queen of diamonds. I ducked in dummy and East made the first error by signaling with the six.

West shifted to the three of hearts and the jack, king, and ace were played. I led the 10 of diamonds. West dropped the seven of spades and I played low from dummy.
Now came the next bit of help. East took his jack and returned the king. West completed his spade signal by dropping the three. I took dummy's ace of diamonds and returned the seven. East won with the nine and West continued the friendship campaign by discarding a heart.
That gave me one trick because I now had four hearts in addition to two diamonds, two clubs and the ace of spades.

"Incident of Ten Trees." You can even find psyches and neurotics in westerns these days. This plot promises more action than it delivers with most of the dialogue consisting of trite bromides. The Indians threaten a battle if she isn't turned over to them for execution as a witch. Favor not only has to contend with the Indians but one of his drovers (Royal Dano), a witty realist who also believes she's a witch.
8:30-9:30 p. m. NBC. Dr. Kildare. "Night of the Beast." A decidedly unpleasant plot involving revenge and rape. Bradford Dillman is almost convincing in his despicable role of a former medical student turned hoodlum, who criminally assaults Kildare's date (Carol Benson) while Kildare is rendered helpless by the hoodlum's henchmen. The girl survives the ordeal better than does Kildare, who decides to find the police can't locate him.
9:10 p. m. ABC. Victor. Borge at Carnegie Hall. This may be Victor Borge's show, but Italian tenor Sergio Franchi walks off with the honors. After a suitable period of clowning with Borge, the RCA Victor recording star scores with an aria from "Tosca," a delightful version of "Mimi" (Chevalier's, not Puccini's), a Spanish selection, "Maria," which he does with a guitar and a magnificent "Yours is My Heart Alone." Borge's humor is on the forced side and the Danish pianist is at his best when he concentrates on music, though he does get a few chuckles from misreading page numbers and from inflicting may-

Linda Lou Hipkins Weds Robert Tucker Gleeson

Linda Lou Hipkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis O. Hipkins Jr., Bryn Mawr, Pa., became the bride of Robert Tucker Gleeson, son of Cdr. Richard G. Gleeson, U. S. N., and Mrs. Gleeson, Sanford, Dec. 28.

Rev. E. Rafferty officiated at the double ring, candle-light ceremony at St. John Viannoy Catholic Church in Bryn Mawr. The church was decorated with red poinsettias and ivy. Each pew was marked with a tall lighted candle. As the guests assembled, the organist played selections from Bach and Beethoven.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk satin. The fitted bodice had a scooped neckline banded with pearl d'angle lace appliques and long, tapered sleeves buttoning over the wrists. The detachable cathedral train had small pinks at the waistline and broad appliques of pearl d'angle lace around the edges. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She wore her grandmother's pearls and carried a bouquet of Stephanotis and lilies of the valley, centered with two white orchids.

Cdr. Gleeson served as best man for his son, and ushers were Lewis O. Hipkins III, brother of the bride; Tanino Pedone, Westchester, Pa.; Randolph Rhoades, Phoenixville, Pa.; and Richard Gleeson, brother of the bride-groom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Samuel Risk, cousin of the bride, Cheshire, Conn. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Powell, Lancaster, Pa.; Carol O'Connor, Springfield, Pa.; Joanne Smith, Media, Pa.; and Penelope Gleeson, sister of the bride-groom. Marjorie Risk, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. The attendants wore matching formal gowns of red velvet, with scooped necklines, elbow-length sleeves and a controlled bell-shaped skirt. The waistline was edged with narrow red satin ribbon, ending in a small bow in back. Their flowers were cascade arrangements of red carnations and ivy. They wore matching pillbox hats with circular veils, white gloves and a single pearl on a gold chain, a gift of the bride. The flower girl wore white eyelet, sashed in red velvet, and carried a nosegay of red and white carnations.

The mother of the bride wore an emerald green dress in antique satin, with cap sleeves, and a matching pillbox hat with elbow length white gloves. Her corsage was a green and gold orchid.

The bride-groom's mother wore a shadow pink silk sheath with a high neckline and short sleeves, a matching mohair coat and a small hat of shaded pink flowers. She wore a corsage of pink callias. Grandmother of the bride, Mrs. L. O. Hipkins Sr., Ocean City, N. J., wore a gold brocade sheath, matching hat, and a green and gold orchid. Mrs. R. L. Tucker, Jacksonville, Fla., maternal grandmother of the bride-groom, chose cranberry wool in a sheath model with matching hat and wore a corsage of white orchids.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception at the Radnor Valley Country Club. The champagne fountain was rimmed with red carnations and the foyer of the club, where the receiving line formed, was decorated with tall baskets of red and white carnations. A seated dinner for 100 guests followed the reception, and the tables were centered with arrangements of red carnations and ivy. For traveling, Mrs. Gleeson wore a salmon pink wool suit with matching accessories and the archde from her corsage. We can't think of a nicer way to begin a bright new year than by arriving back in Sanford... It's nice up in the frozen north, and the snow and icicles are picture pretty... The outdoor Christmas trees, standing roof high, trimmed with hundreds of colored lights, reflected in the snow, is truly a sight to see. We're glad we saw it... had a wonderful time... loved our son's wedding... but oh! so glad to be back. We had a delightful surprise as we stepped off the train (six hours late), expecting to ride home in a taxi... there stood cute little Linda Allen Williams to meet us. That made the arrival home complete... to see such a friendly, smiling face.

Did you know that Peggy Jane Tyne and her mother made the muffs and pillow hats the attendants wore for her wedding Saturday night? Peggy gave them to her maids of honor and bridesmaids at a luncheon and we saw them then. All smocked with seed pearls... very lovely, and such tedious work. She gave them matching seed pearl necklaces to wear.

Mrs. Frank Mebane called to say she has a few tickets for the delightful musical opera, "Barbar The Elephant" (the second in the series of children's concerts presented by the Associate Board of the Florida Symphony Orchestra. The fantasy, with singing and dancing, will be Jan. 4... that's this Saturday... at 3:30 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium in Orlando. The orchestra will be conducted by Henry Maser. A wonderful opportunity to treat the whole family to delightful entertainment, so give her a call. The Mebanes went to Orlando for the Rosalind Ball this week, along with several others from Sanford. It's such a glittering social event we're hoping she'll tell us all about it.

Our good friends, Hilda and Clarence Powell had a wonderful surprise Monday night. They thought they were going to have a quiet dinner, to celebrate their 40th (can you believe it?) wedding anniversary, with their son, Dr. Neil Powell and his wife Patsy in Orlando. But the quiet dinner turned into a delightfully gay dinner and festive evening... for they were greeted by the strains of "Happy Anniversary..."

sung by very familiar voices, all very close friends of the Powells... John and Kees Ivey, Fred and Helen Williams, Georgia and Dr. Orville Barks and Cora Robeson... (Jim was too sick to go). Georgia Barks had given Hilda an orchid from one of her plants early in the afternoon and hadn't said a word—even though they have celebrated anniversaries together for years. The 40th is ruby, so Neil and Patsy gave Hilda a beautiful ruby ring in a Tiffany setting and a pair of sterling cufflinks, with two ruby stars in each, to Clarence. The guests surprised the Powells with a wonderful reminder of such a marvelous time. To top the evening, Neil got a long distance call through to Hilda's parents in Quitman, Ga. Isn't that a lovely way to spend any anniversary... especially the 40th? We've already offered congratulations... but would like to say it again, and hope we're around for the 50th and all those in between.

Mrs. Bradford Byrd had a wonderful visit with her son, A. K. Powers Sr., from Charleston, S. C. and her grandson, A. K. Powers Jr. from Indianapolis, when they spent a few days with her in her home on Hibiscus Court.

Sorry to hear Mrs. A. D. Zachary is a patient in Seminole Memorial Hospital... so thanks for the note Helene and we hope you and Bob have a happy and interesting retirement.

During the new year of 1964 we hope all your news will be glad tidings... and it will be a year filled with joy, and with the courage to meet those occasions not so joyous... filled with love... and understanding... and above all may it be a blessed and Holy year! I

Dr. Robert Sandberry officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a pink brocade suit, white kid gloves, a small white pill box hat with a veil of illusion. She carried a small white Bible and a bouquet topped with a pink orchid.

Pat Hammack, sister of the bride was matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a beige suit with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride-groom's best man was Wyatt Hammack. Ushers were Bill Thrift, brother of the bride and Mark Wand.

Morgan, Wing Wedding Solemnized In Alabama

Annette Thrift Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Thrift, became the bride of Dr. Kenneth M. Wing Dec. 22 at 2:30 p.m., at the First Methodist Church of Bessemer, Alabama. Dr. Wing is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wing of Anaheim, California.

Mrs. Thrift wore a royal blue sheath with matching hat and accessories and an orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding.

Following the ceremony there was a reception for more than 40 guests. Mrs. Louise Anderson presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Faith Burns and Miss Kathy Thrift served the wedding cake.

By Bernice Kelsey
Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Banks and daughter, Jeanne, of Gallatin, Tenn., spent a few days with Mrs. Banks' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Staley, Lake Charm.

Majorette Wins Championship

MISS BARBARA DIGGS

Another in a long list of outstanding honors won by Miss Barbara Diggs, Lyman High head majorette, was added last Saturday when she took the grand championship at the 10th Annual Tangerine Twirling Contest which has been held for the past two years at Seminole High School.

Barbara, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Diggs of Altamonte Springs, competed with some 190 girls here Saturday morning to win the championship and also performed that night at the Tangerine Bowl Game in Orlando.

Entries in the twirling contest came from all parts of Florida and some came as far as Indiana and Ohio to participate.

In group performances, Seminole High placed second while Sanford Junior High took third among the large teams. First place was taken by The Troysties of Evans High in Orlando.

Additional individual trophies and honors received locally will be announced at a later date.

Contest chairman was Pete Bukur, director of the Sanford Junior High Band and associate director for the SHS Band. Ernest Cowley, director of the high school band, was host chairman.

English coins acquired the name "guineas" from the unusually pure gold mined in Guinea, on the west African coast.

National Teacher Examinations will be given on Feb. 15 at Stetson for prospective teachers in Central Florida. Dr. George W. Hood, Stetson dean of students and director of guidance, will supervise.

Application blanks and information bulletins describing registration procedures and containing representative test questions may be obtained from Dean Hood or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J. Applications must be mailed so as to be received at the Princeton office not later than Jan. 17, Hood advised.

Scores on the National Teacher Examinations are used by a large number of school systems and teacher education institutions throughout the country as an aid in evaluating those qualifications of prospective teachers measured by the tests.

CHARLES MCINTOSH of North Orlando holds two of 50 trophies he and wife, Mary, have won for achievements in Sports Car Club activities during the past three years. He is a past president of the local club and she is a past secretary.

By Nona Grinstead

A family buys a sports car and soon friends are inviting them to attend meetings of a sports car club . . .

This happened to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McIntosh of North Orlando and now, three years later, they can show a collection of 50 trophies won for achievements in such clubs. Prominent members of the Seminole County Club, along with many other local families, their sons, Robbie, 18, and Chuckie, nine, also take an active interest in the hobby and accompany their parents on many rallies.

McIntosh's (Charles) has served as president of the local club and Mrs. McIntosh (Mary) has been secretary. Until recently they were co-authors of the newsletter, "The Mark-17."

They also hold membership in the Sports Car Club of America and have competed in Southeastern SCCA rallies for which he serves as official observer. Locally, he served as rally master for the Central Florida Council of Sports Car Clubs last year. These rallies, five hours long and covering 125 miles, started at the Farmer's Market in Sanford and wound up at the Mayfair Country Club.

Courses are set on lightly traveled public roads and all public speed laws are observed.

The McIntoshs, who presently own a SAAB and an MG, average participation in two rallies a month with Mary acting as navigator for all the trips. Emergency stops for the boys, who usually are along, don't help the time at all, however, the children were with them when they won their biggest rally, one with 45 cars participating.

Mark likes to tell of the time they were on a divisional rally (12 hours over a 300 mile course) in Albany, Ga., for which their car ran beautifully and came in fifth. On the return trip everything was going smoothly until, right on the Georgia-Florida line, the car stopped. He pushed and coaxed it for about 10 miles, then Mary, as women have a knack for doing, made the necessary repair with a bobby pin.

In addition to their activities with the Sports Car Clubs, he is a member of the Casselberry Lions Club, of the University of Florida Alumni and the Kappa Sigma Alumni. He served twice in the U.S. Army and at present is also active in the Army Reserve.

She is active in the Longwood Elementary PTO where she is a homeroom mother.

Another hobby enjoyed by all members of the family is sailing. They own their own boat and spend much of their time on summer weekends sailing on Lake Mailand.

They have lived in North Orlando at 20 N. Cortez Avenue since Labor Day, 1960.

Area Board Officials To Assume Duties

Municipal officials elected in December will be sworn in to office at the first meetings in the 1964 year of governing bodies in Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Longwood and Oviedo.

In Longwood, where the council will meet at 8 p.m. today, B. H. Ferrall, a newcomer to the board and Carl Lommer and B. R. Helms, selected to another term, will receive the oath of office.

Next Monday's 7:30 p.m. meeting in Oviedo will see M. L. Gary, mayor, and T. L. Lingo Jr., councilman, sworn in for another term of office while Robert L. Ward will take the oath for his term on the council.

Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swafford and Bob Newell, new councilman from ward two, will be seated officially by the board at next Wednesday's 8 p.m. meeting.

Casselberry officials will receive the oath of office at a 7:30 p.m. regular meeting on Jan. 13 when Owen Anstey will be sworn in as the new mayor and Mrs. Mary Hawthorne will begin her first elected term as clerk. Returning to office will be Clifford Overman and George Howard, aldermen, and Gus Sawyer, marshal.

Boards will be reorganized in Casselberry, Longwood and Oviedo and new appointments will be made following election of board chairmen. Appointments in Altamonte will be made by the mayor who also serves as chairman of the board.

Officials Named For Building New Bank

Rollins Sets Dates For Reunion

The Rollins College alumni reunion committee has announced that its annual reunion weekend will take place on the Rollins campus April 24, 25, and 26.

The reunion dinner and dance, and a variety of other activities will follow on Saturday, and the gala weekend will be capped with convocation and the president's reception on Sunday.

DeBary Post Signs 178

William G. Williams, first vice commander of DeBary's Herbert D. Gibb American Legion Post 259 and chairman of the annual membership drive now being conducted, reports that to date a total of 178 members have been signed.

The state of Florida has been the top state in membership for a number of years. Williams has issued an invitation to join to any non-member who is an eligible veteran. Those who have not already been contacted by a membership worker may get in touch with Williams for further information.

Legion Post And Auxiliary Set New Meeting Schedule

By Jane Casselberry

The new meeting date for American Legion Memorial Post 256 of Casselberry and its Auxiliary Unit has been set for the first Monday of each month. The first meeting will fall under this new schedule will be held at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Woman's Club Building on Overbrook Drive.

The first statewide veteran's census to be conducted will be made by the Department of Florida during January, February and March to determine the number of veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean Conflict now living in Florida.

It is estimated that there are between 700 and 900 thousand at the present time.

Post 256 is in charge of the survey in the Casselberry area and co-captains, Commander Harold Kryder and Vice Commander Marvin McClain, hope to complete the census during the month of January.

The following teams have been set up: Harold Kryder and Clarence Doebner have the area including Seminole Boulevard, Lake Drive, Crystal Bowl, Trailer Village and surrounding area; Marvin McClain and Ben Evans will have the area including South Triplet, Sunset Drive, Piney Ridge Road and the Country Club to Highway 17-92; Ken green and Ken Walbridge will take Howell Park and surrounding area to BR 436; Clyde Kerce and Wilbur Morsey have the area north of Melody Lane to the Dog Track Road on the west side of 17-92; Miller Evans and Larry Maplesden have the west side of 17-92, including homes between Melody Lane and Sunnyside Road and William Elder and George Mesack will take the area beyond Seminole Boulevard to North Orlando and parts of Longwood.

Most distant object visible to the unaided eye is the constellation Andromeda.

Krider To Speak For Civic Group

County commissioners have been invited as special guests for next Monday's meeting of the Forest City Civic Association when John Krider, executive director of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, will be guest speaker.

The meeting will be held at 7 p. m. at the Riksha Inn in Fern Park. Krider's topic will be "Benefits of Civic Associations."

The association's regular business session will be conducted under direction of John Bethes, president, who urges all present and prospective members to attend.

Biologist Brings Whale To Slavia

By Bernice Kelsey

First and second graders at St. Luke's Christian Day School in Slavia recently received the rare privilege of studying a whale at close range when C. M. "Chuck" Bindner, Orlando biologist, visited the school bringing with him a seven foot, 250 pound female whale which had come up on the beach south of Jacksonville to commit suicide.

Bindner, who specializes in display and promotion of educational programs before clubs, organizations and schools, this year is featuring the study of reptiles. He has a small museum in his own home and has collected many items of natural life which he will donate to a free, public museum if, and when, one is built in the area.

A graduate biology major from the University of Missouri, he has worked in New York, Boston and Massachusetts. His sons are students at the Slavia School.

The whale will be used by the biologist for study of its bone construction.

SLAVIA STUDENTS of the first and second grades at St. Luke's Christian Day School are shown gathered around Biologist Chuck Bindner's station wagon to see the whale which he brought to show and tell them about in an educational program given recently at the school. Bindner picked up the whale after it came ashore to commit suicide just south of Jacksonville.

Nikita Asks Ban On 'Force' Settlements

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has asked world leaders to reach agreement on banning the use of force in settling territorial disputes.

Khrushchev, in a series of notes to world leaders, said such a pact would "make it easier to find a solution of other basic problems," primarily that of disarmament.

Moscow Radio broadcast the text of the premier's 4,000-word statement, dated Dec. 31, and delivered to world capitals within the past 48 hours.

It asked for a four-point agreement forbidding the use of force in territorial border disputes.

The points were:

—Conclude an international agreement on the repudiation by governments of the use of force to settle territorial disputes and border questions.

—Undertake a solemn pledge not to have recourse to force for the changing of existing borders.

—Take a firm declaration that differences in social systems, lack of recognition and absence of diplomatic relations must not serve as a reason for one nation to violate the boundaries of another.

—Make solution of border disputes obligatory through peaceful means and in accordance with the UN Charter.

Khrushchev did not specify how the proposed agreement was to be arrived at. But he added:

"It will not be especially difficult to agree if, of course, the interested states will manifest their desire."

JOE B. BAKER, now rounding out his second three-year term as a Sanford City Commissioner, will not be a candidate to succeed himself in the city election next November, he announced today. Earl Higginbotham (right) will take his seat on the City Commission Tuesday evening when that body holds its organizational meeting for the year. Higginbotham unseated Mayor Thomas S. McDonald last November.

$40,000 Loan Executed At Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Formal agreement for a $40,000 state loan to the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District was executed today and the first $10,000 of the money is to be released next week.

State Sen. Mack Cleveland and John Krider, district chairman, met with the staff of the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund to execute the agreement, authorized by the trustees Dec. 3.

Cleveland said the money will be paid in installments of $10,000 a month with the first due next week.

The district has a maximum period of 20 years to repay the loan at a rate of not less than $2,000 a year.

The money will be used for engineering studies to set the route for the project, an offshoot of the proposed Cross-Florida Barge Canal. It will permit shipment of materials directly from the West Coast to the Missile Test Center at Cape Kennedy without having to travel up the St. Johns River through Jacksonville and back.

The canal will join the St. Johns near Lake Harney with the Intracoastal Waterway at Oak Hill. The District was anxious to get the engineering studies under way so the route could be set and property acquired before values in the area rise out of sight. Most of the property is to be obtained by donation of land owners without cost. Ben. Bernard Parrish, Titusville, said about 800 acres will be required for the project.

Reynolds, Smith and Hills, Jacksonville engineers, already are distributing maps showing the tentative alignment between Lake Harney and the Indian River near Oak Hill.

Lake Monroe Search Ends
An afternoon-long aerial and surface search for a floating object believed to be a parachute over northern Lake Monroe Thursday was abandoned late in the day.

Freezing Cold Hits Some Citrus Sections

The first cold snap of 1964 sent cold temperatures plunging into the 20s in north and central Florida early today and weathermen said citrus did well under the protection of smudge pots.

As the mercury plunged to 24 at Ocala and 23 at Bartow and Gainesville, the extreme south part of the state weathered the frost with temperatures in the middle 20s.

Warmer Saturday all over Florida.

The state's citrus belt, which is concentrated around Polk, Pasco, Hillsborough and citrus counties, had temperatures in the high 20s in low-lying pockets and mucklands ranging up to the 40s on high ground.

Citra, in the heart of the fruit belt, reported a 23 with heavy frost but weathermen of the Labelled Frost Warning Service said frost in the area was to be light "firing" trees with artificial heat.

Tallahassee had a 23 with moderate frost and Tampa felt a pre-dawn 32 which was two degrees colder than Boston. Jacksonville and Daytona Beach both suffered under a cold 31.

Miami and Key West escaped the cold front with a 30 and a 31 respectively.

The Frost Warning Service said there might be some very light damage to groves in low-lying areas of the north-central citrus belt but it would take several days to tabulate the effect of the cold.

The Florida forecast called for highs today in the upper 60s throughout the northern part of the state ranging into the 70s in the extreme south.

Saturday will be partly cloudy and mild, according to the Miami Weather Bureau.

Councilmen Lommler, Ferrell Take Oath Of Office

By Donna Estes
The oath of office was administered by Mayor A. J. Lormann to newly elected councilmen Carl Lommler and B. H. Ferrell at the regular meeting of the Longwood City Council Thursday evening.

Henry Ritterhoff appeared before council to present a petition signed by 80 residents of Wildmire Avenue expressing their concern about excessive speeding on the street. Speed limit is 25 mph on Wildmire and some 31 children live there, Ritterhoff pointed out.

Council discussed various methods of controlling speed from putting a "dip" in the street to erecting "children at play" signs.

The matter was taken under advisement with Councilman John Reams assuring Ritterhoff that some action would be taken in the near future.

Ritterhoff also complained about a hole in the pavement on SR 427 near Sanlando Springs Drive. He was advised that the city has no authority to repair a state road and that the matter should be referred to the State Road Department.

Putting street lights on Highway 17-92 from Orange Avenue to Sanlando Springs Drive was discussed. Action was postponed until council can confer with the power company.

Mrs. Geri Hittman, co-owner of Don and Geri's Restaurant, appeared to request that street lights be erected on Park Avenue immediately behind her place of business. She pointed out that the business has been robbed at night five times in the past seven years. Council assured that action would be taken on the matter.

The invocation to open the meeting was given by Rev. E. Ruth Grant of the Longwood First Pentecostal Church. The meeting was adjourned subject to call.

In a continued session of the last council meeting, held immediately preceding Thursday's meeting, a contract for $1,025 was awarded to Orange Paving Company for the necessary paving at the new City Hall.

The financial statement was approved and various bills were paid.

By the way, South Seminole and English Estates are the only schools in the county still on double sessions. But, that won't last too much longer.

We enjoyed chatting with Julian Adams Thursday when the former Sanford man flew his own amphibious sportsman's plane to Sanford. Julian, a native of Sanford and better known as "Lefty", was with the Air Force during and after World War II, and now, for a number of years, has been a pilot for Trans-World Airlines.

Julian landed his plane on Lake Monroe, lowered his landing wheels, and taxied right up to the boat ramp at the City Boat Basin. The Herald's staff photographer, several hundred people gathered to watch "Lefty" demonstrate his amphibious job.

By the way, have you tried to enter U.S. 17-92 from Park Drive and head south around 5 p.m.

A word of advice: don't try it if you're in a hurry. If 1-4 doesn't open soon somebody's going to have to build an overpass.

We're glad to see the Chamber of Commerce's metropolitan telephone system committee has started their program of promoting the adoption of the system. The committee is headed by Clifford McKibbin, Chamber President. Karlyle Housholder spoke on the system when he addressed the Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday noon.

New CC Chief Blasts County's Phone 'Wall'

A wall exists in county-wide telephonic communications in Seminole County which creates a major breach in this political subdivision, Karlyle Housholder, who assumed the presidency of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Thursday, told members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Civic Center Thursday noon.

Referring to the divided telephone system within the county, Housholder said that "this was a major matter during the Cuban crisis" for Sanford Naval Air Station officials.

Sanford, DeBary, Geneva and Oviedo now are served by the Southern Bell, with no toll, while South Seminole and Winter Park Telephone, with no toll. But a toll is charged between the areas by the two companies.

"It was necessary," Housholder stated, "that Naval officers and men be advised by telephone of the status of the individual squadrons during the Cuban crisis. Many of the Navy people live in Winter Park. Maitland, Casselberry and Longwood, and a time-consuming toll call was involved."

Pointing out that this communications problem has been studied for years, Housholder explained that Winter Park Telephone and Southern Bell conferees have agreed that additional costs of tying the two systems together in a non-toll basis for all of medical staff, who serve all the county.

"Most Sanford churches," the C. of C. president said, "have members who are Winter Park Telephone subscribers. Calls about Women's Circles, fellowship gatherings, business among church officers frequently involve toll charges."

He continued: "Some of our less fortunate neighbors have occasion to call the welfare office in Sanford for information or assistance. Many people in South Seminole have occasion to call the health department, the county clerk, assessor, tax collector, judge, sheriff and zoning director. The county offices, also, must call residents of South Seminole, and all these calls bear toll charges."

It is expected that approximately 15 months after the Bell firm has a favorable vote, the tie-in would be completed, since the work necessary is quite extensive.

"We have heard," Housholder concluded, "the complaint voiced that 'Sanford runs the county.' This is not basically correct but the communications situation may tend to divide the county more than any other factor. With all of the 'phone users of the county able to talk to anyone of us under the metropolitan plan, our county unity should develop rapidly... the inconvenience and cost of the present method of calling would be eliminated and a more unified spirit might prevail."

75 Per Cent Of City Taxes Paid

Sanford taxpayers placed 75.22 per cent of the current tax roll of $587,253 in the city coffers by Dec. 31, it was reported today by Tax Collector Henry Tamm. This compares with 74.82 per cent of $376,716 by Dec. 31, 1962.

Tax roll collections at the end of last month were $49,268, as compared to $431,519 at the end of 1962.

Tamm advised that for those not yet paid two per cent discount will be allowed this month and one per cent in February. However, a penalty will be imposed after April 1.
