Anti-Communist Refugee Program Sought By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., says President Eisenhower wants Congress to authorize a permanent anti-Communist refugee program.

Brownell said the program would:

1. Cover admission of refugees from Communist terror in all Iron Curtain nations.
2. Permit admission of a "certain" number each year—the number to be set annually by Congress.

The program also is expected to include a request for authorization to admit many more thousands of Hungarian refugees.

Brownell outlined it Sunday during a television interview. It is scheduled to be submitted to Congress in the near future.

Other congressional news:

Southerners: Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said the Southern Democratic leadership in Congress fails to represent the Democratic Party of the people. He said he would "be very happy" if some unnamed Southern conservatives left the party.

Budget: Sen. Styles Bridges (NH) accepted the "invitation" of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey to cut President Eisenhower's record budget proposals.

Housing: A House veteran committee reported that housing loans to veterans are going up through certain discount practices. The committee said lenders now are discounting loans at as much as 6 1/2 per cent.

Man, Juvenile Caught; Charged With Larceny

Through the cooperation of law enforcement officials of two counties one white man and a juvenile have been apprehended and charged with the larceny of many items taken in breaking and entering in the southeast section of Seminole County.

Sheriff Luther Hobby said today that a suspect, James H. Johnson, 23 of Orlando, is being held on two grand larceny charges. More charges are likely he said.

The companion of Johnson in the alleged wave of breakings and entries in the Oviedo section was a 16-year-old youth who is reportedly from Slavia. The youngster was turned over to his parents pending a hearing in Juvenile Court.

According to the officers investigating the series of breaking and entries, both the 23-year-old man and 16-year-old boy have confessed to the charges emanating from the various breaking and entries reported in Southeast Seminole County. A gas engine and water pump irrigation unit was recovered when Johnson was apprehended.

Acting on a complaint filed by Deputy Sheriff H. Smart, Justice of the Peace Hugh Duncan issued a warrant for the arrest of Johnson who was picked up in Orlando by Smart and Deputy Sheriff J. P. Walker of Orange County.

According to the deputies some of the stolen items were in Johnson's car. It was revealed that the presence of the stolen goods in Johnson's car was known by investigating officers and efforts had been made to suit some of it in Cocoa and other outlying areas.

The southeast portion of the county had been plagued by thefts of gasoline from farm equipment, farm buildings, and road department equipment. Tools, accessories and tires were recovered and investigating officers say that "more is to come," as the investigation continues.

Sheriff Hobby said today that there is a possibility that "more arrests" will be made in the case. Johnson, it was said today, "has a criminal record and served a sentence for larceny in 1952."

One-Time Resident Here Guided Missile Expert To Get Bronze Star

One of world's first experts on guided missiles and push-button warfare, Clayton William Bailey of Tallahassee, is scheduled to be awarded a Navy Bronze Star soon for helping perfect the science of flying aircraft by radio control.

Tall, slender and softspoken, Bailey now is retired from the Navy with the rank of commander and lives with his son and son-in-law on Piedmont Drive north of Tallahassee.

Bailey helped make military and scientific history as a result of the aviation and electronic work he did with radio-controlled airplanes in the 1930s and during World War II. Eight other Naval officers with whom he worked are also to get awarded for their work.

Today, more than 20 years after he and his associates started their experiments, Bailey is not prone to talk too freely and loosely about the radio-control work which once was kept under a strict veil of secrecy.

Moved to Sanford
A native of Pelham, Ga., Bailey lived in Sanford for about seven years before leaving high school at 17 to join the Navy in 1920. He was apparently not just another country boy who joined the Navy to see the world, for ten years later he was an electronic authority, a pioneer test pilot and radio expert respected by the big brass.

In the 1930s Bailey was assigned to do experimental work with a select and highly secretive group of Navy men toying with the idea of perfecting radio-controlled airplanes to be used as realistic decoys for warship gunnery crews during target practice sessions.

Docks, Terminals Project Answer To Industrial, Commercial Growth

Every incentive in the books for the development of Sanford's potential in water freight traffic has been read and reread—and now another has come to light in a report from one of Florida's West Coast cities.

According to a release received in Sanford only Saturday, Tampa's port has jumped to fifth in the nation in 1956 in the number of export and coastal cargoes unloaded.

In the same report, the Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce has revealed that ports of Philadelphia and Hampton Roads, ahead of Tampa in 1955 when Tampa ranked seventh, yielded the higher position as cargo unloading at Tampa reached a total of $2,614 for 1956.

The figures, said the report, represents a 22 per cent increase over 1955.

Reason for bringing to light this report from one of our own Florida cities is because of the vast amount of freight moving into a port that actually could move into a Docks and Terminals located on the St. Johns River in Lake Monroe.

Actually, Sanford, with a Docks and Terminals available for water freight traffic, has at its fingertips an equal area to be served as that of Tampa. The potential in growth and in industrial expansion is far above the percentage of growth in other sections of the state.

It is believed that with a Docks and Terminals located here at Sanford, industrial expansion would be a widespread movement in an area hitherto never explored or even visualized.

Even the savings in freight rates by rail would be enormous. It is substantially reported that freight rates to Sanford are higher than those to Orlando—simply because the port terminal in Tampa is a gauge by which the freight rates are set. In other words, it can be said that a freight shipment from Jacksonville to Sanford would be more expensive than the freight rates from Jacksonville to Orlando.

Expensive to inaugurate a Docks and Terminals at Sanford? Not when freight rates would become less expensive and local merchants and businessmen could compete "on an even keel" with those in nearby Orlando. One merchant remarked recently that the difference in his bid on a certain project in comparison with a competitor in Orlando and Tampa would be "in the difference in freight rates."

We are aware of the necessity of shipment of freight by rail—but the rates to two cities within 19 miles of one another should not vary so much as has been pointed out by those who must depend on freight routes getting the merchandise to the Sanford market.

Not only would Sanford be benefited by a Docks and Terminals project, but all of Central Florida would be served from a shipping center here. No doubt, a forthcoming survey will bring out the potential in this area for such a project on Lake Monroe.

One Sanford Businessman, stated of his opinion regarding the building of a Docks and Terminals here at our city, answered "We are twenty-five years late starting it."

Regardless of the cost and the method of financing such a project, every businessman should be vitally interested in the early construction of one of the most important sources of revenue with which Central Florida has ever been confronted.

The interest which barge lines have shown in the proposed Docks and Terminals should be convincing proof that the project would not only be a paying one but would be a project that would necessitate expansion, year upon year.

If we are looking for growth, industrially as well as commercially and populationwise, the Docks and Terminals project is the answer.

Every facility that will add to the traffic coming into and going out of Sanford is important—and we are convinced that the Docks and Terminals is the topmost project on the list of those to be considered.

Our City Commissioners, as leaders in our City; our Chamber of Commerce members, as leaders in our City; should be convinced by now that the next project to be undertaken and completed should be the Docks and Terminals.

Integration Problem

There is plenty of room for disagreement about the crucial issue of racial integration in the South. No reasonable man can deny this. Nor can any reasonable man refuse another the right to express a point of view and to uphold it by every legal means. That is the democratic way of shaping our society.

Threats and terror, and violence of citizen against citizen, are not legal means, however. Those are the means of anarchy.

Neither should groups force themselves upon one another in carrying out their demands—such methods incite hatred and violence, create animosity and tend to provide an atmosphere of "who's right?" me or you.

Threats and terror and violence have been used in some parts of the South—even in our own State—to enforce a point of view. And seemingly, law enforcement agencies and authorities do not know who the originators of such violence are. The blast of dynamite has riven the night air, crosses of terrorism have flared against the night sky, buses have been ambushed by gunfire—in an effort to halt the spread of integration?—or to bring the racial dissatisfaction into greater prominence?

No American citizen, whatever his beliefs about racial integration, can rightfully condone such anarchic behavior. To condemn it is not to condone a point of view about integration; that is not the issue here. To condemn threats and terror and violence is to condemn a blow struck at the foundations of democratic society.

That is the issue at stake in these cases of violence and terrorism in the South. All law-abiding citizens—Southerners and Northerners alike, those who believe in segregation and those who believe in integration—should join in protest against those violations of what President Eisenhower has described as "the American tradition of deep respect for the orderly process of law and justice."

Each side should abide by every law, whether it be City, County, or State until every means of justice has been used in an attempt to provide an answer to our problems.

The use of arms on the part of the State or the nation, is wrong and unjust—for as we have already pointed out "Nor can any reasonable man refuse another the right to express a point of view and to uphold it by every legal means" and the carrying out of a Federal order above that of a State with the use of arms does not express "Democracy."

We have a long way to go, economically, socially and lawfully in the question of integration. Whether it be tradition, local laws, State laws, or the complete understanding of Democracy—there is much yet to be accomplished.

BEHIND A COUPLE OF EIGHT BALLS

Herlong Report

Another State of the Union address has been received. Whether it was because the President had been here so recently to deliver his special message or because the message was couched in such general terms, it was quite obvious that it was received by the Congress with something less than the usual enthusiasm. The coolness, if it can be called that, was evidenced on both sides of the aisle. It was hard to understand this because the President is certainly personally more popular than any Member of Congress or than either political party, for that matter. He outlined his program for the 85th Congress, but will doubtless dwell in more detail in his inaugural address in subsequent messages to the Congress, he will no doubt ask for specific legislation on the various issues. As has been my custom, I will again translate this proposed program into a questionnaire and submit it to you at an early date. I really do want to know how you think on these vital measures.

It will be interesting to learn whether the tremendous vote that the President received in our district meant that the people also overwhelmingly endorse his program or whether this endorsement was of Eisenhower, the man. Your answer to this questionnaire should be quite revealing in this respect. Because I am your voice in Congress, I want to make certain that I speak for the majority of you, and I can't know your wishes unless you tell me. I am sure you must know that it will be impossible for me to agree with all of you, because all of you don't agree. I shall temper your answers with my own judgment and such specific information as I may have that you don't have. From it all will, I believe, come a sound and sensible position on our great legislative problems. I have introduced four more bills land medals. But, look, Don— isn't it worth the risk?

Some Off-Beat Facts, Figures

ATOM REACTOR—Last year the University of Florida put in for one of the Atomic Energy Commission experimental atomic reactor plants and was turned down. They then applied for an educational reactor. It will be approved any day now. This installation will cost about $250,000. It will be a great asset for the University and a feather in the cap to Florida.

NEW ASSIGNMENTS—Two Florida Congressmen have been given new committee assignments. Dante Fauci was named to the Foreign Affairs Committee. He retains his seat on the Government Operations Committee, but was dropped from the Post Office and Civil Service Committee. Billy Matthews was voted to membership on the District Committee. The District Committee is charged with the management of the city of Washington—and membership here is almost the same as being a city commissioner in any large American city. Matthews is expected to add strength to the Southern representation on the Committee and uphold the Southern viewpoint on all important matters. This is the committee that held the recent hearings on integration in the District schools.

WANTS A CHANGE—Congressman Syd Herlong has introduced a bill calling for a change in the Electoral College set up. Herlong wants from each state to be divided between the candidates in the same proportion as their population vote within the state. "It will reduce the appeal that minority block votes now have," he said. It will reduce the importance of small but powerful pressure groups that can sometimes shift an entire state's vote under our present system. This will be a fair way to count votes. It is more in keeping with the ideals of our democracy."

NEW PAPER WEIGHT—Senator Spessard Holland is proud of the newest gadget on his desk. It is a paper weight. Made of clear plastic. In its center is embedded a gold medal. A small gold plate fastened to the outside reads, "Spessard L. Holland, award for Distinguished Service to Organized Agriculture." It was presented to the Senate on December 12th at the Annual Convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation at Miami Beach. The Federation is the largest farm organization in the country. Has more than six million members.

CHANGE OF PLANS—The time and place has been shifted for the big reception for Governor and Mrs. Leroy Collins. Instead of the senate Caucus room, it will be held at the Kenwood Country club in Bethesda. Instead of the 22nd of January, the day following the inauguration, it was set for Saturday the 19th, between 5 and 7 p.m. It is put on by who can get there are invited to attend. It is being put on by the Florida State Society and the University of Florida Washington Alumni Club.

MORE THAN $4 BILLION—Last year, Congressman Paul Rogers helped push through the Kennedy-Rogers Act which will put into effect some of the money saving proposals contained in the Second Hoover Report. His first move this session was to introduce another bill that will take care of a few minor provisions of his first bill that were killed in committee last time. On the Senate side, Senator Holland is co-sponsor.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaking of the dangers of inflation and the high cost of government, as President Eisenhower did in his budget message, here are some off-beat facts and figures:

The Tax Foundation, 30 Rockefeller Center, New York, recently calculated that number of persons on the United States government payroll exceeds the population of Sweden; 7.4 million and 7.3 million, respectively.

On a rough estimate of $3,500 as the average annual cost of a government employee, the federal payroll would be about $26 billion. Sen. Harry F. Byrd D-Va. has heckled presidents for years to cut the federal payroll. This is the straight road to economy, says Byrd. The trend seems, however, to be against him. A news item reported this week that some corridors in the enormous Pentagon building here are being partitioned to make more desk room for more government workers.

Deficit Financing Responsible

World War II and the Roosevelt-Truman policies of deficit financing substantially increased the public debt during the past quarter century. The annual interest on the public debt increased from $60 million in 1933, when FDR took over, to $7 billion in 1956. The debt has increased from just more than $1 billion as of March, 1917, just before the United States entered World War I, to nearly $275 billion today. The interest is a first charge on Treasury revenues each year.

When the Treasury comes up at fiscal year-end with a surplus, which hasn't been often for many years, the administration must decide whether to cut taxes or make a public debt. It is a hard choice.

May Not Record

The returns will not be in as President Eisenhower's first two years of tax collecting until the present fiscal year ends on June 30. He is averaging around $9 billion a year, however, which may give him a posthumous record when all the returns are in.

Mr. Eisenhower was in the red for a couple of years, but balanced the budget with a surplus to boot in fiscal 1956. He expects to repeat in the current fiscal year. The public debt has increased about $6 billion since he took over in 1953.

From 1933, when FDR entered the White House office, to the end of the Truman administration, the public debt increased from $12.5 billion to $286 billion. In the Roosevelt-Truman years, the budget deficit in balance with a surplus three times and 17 times in the red. World War II was partly responsible for all of this.

VICTOR MATURE once appeared in one of those super-colossal pictures directed by Cecil B. DeMille. The script called for him to wrestle with a lion. "Get in there and fight!" ordered De Mille. "There's nothing to be afraid of. Why, this old lion has no teeth."

"Could be," demurred MATURE, "but I'm not even aiming to be gummed to death!"

Will Rogers once heard a talk about lexicographer Noah Webster. "Webster," observed the lecturer, "had amazing command of the language. Audiences were spellbound by his mastery of words. His English was just perfect."

"Mine would be, too," interrupted Rogers. "If I wrote my own dictionary."

Guard Against Poison From Carbon Monoxide

By NERMAN H. DUNNIGAN, M.D.

WITH the doors and windows closed tightly against the outside cold this time of year, your home might be inviting an unwelcome caller—carbon monoxide.

Probably the most widespread poisonous gas connected with everyday living, carbon monoxide is invisible, tasteless and odorless. Even in small amounts it can be deadly.

Faulty Equipment

Faulty heating equipment accounts for about one-fourth of our yearly toll of deaths from carbon monoxide. It may be a dirty or badly adjusted furnace, boiler, fuel burning stove or space heater. Even a faulty refrigerator can be blamed.

A clogged vent chimney or flue pipe might prevent gases from being properly released, and carbon monoxide might flood the home.

This gas can poison you by combining with the hemoglobin in your blood. It prevents blood from carrying oxygen to the body tissues.

Development of certain symptoms should lead you to suspect that carbon monoxide fumes are present. These include headache, dizziness, weakness and nausea. You may become irritable, perspire suddenly, become in 5 to 30 minutes, mentally dull and absent-minded. Your legs may ache and you may have hallucinations.

Sometimes you can recognize asphyxiation by carbon monoxide by the cherry-red color of the victim's skin, eyelids, lips and ears.

A person suffering from poisoning by this gas must have fresh air immediately. If the room can't be ventilated quickly, take him outside.

Keep Him Warm

Apply artificial respiration to him if breathing weakly or not at all. Use plenty of blankets and hot water bags to keep him warm and let him rest just as long as he wants.

Even though only one part of carbon monoxide in 700 parts of air can be fatal, exposure to this gas doesn't always mean death. In fact, only about one out of 100 persons exposed to carbon monoxide fumes is a fatality.

Paris physicians recently reported they have been able to revive victims of carbon monoxide poisoning more rapidly with an intravenous drug, cytochrome C, than with the usual procedure. In 20 cases of coma, they said, the drug was effective within 5 to 30 minutes.

Conning The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

Things have been lively in Sanford this weekend, and I am still tracking down other activities that must have been going on.

Betta Speltz and Lois Elder were the honor guests at a sherry party given Friday afternoon by Mike Stone. Gerbera daisies were arranged in two bowls throughout the room, and of course Mike's dried arrangements are always notable. The sherry bottles were tied in a large silver punch bowl filled with ice, and platters of hors d'oeuvres were passed. Seen at this very successful party were Sandra Ortman, Mae Edwards, Gella Linker, Ethel Fitzsimmons, Pumpkin O'Day, Lois Elder, Betta Speltz, Ruth Tully, Evie Williams, Mildred, Mary Libbey, Betty Hazlett, Betty McCracken, Amy Barber, Jean Piton Judy Smith, Jean Tegefild and Sonia Blackwood.

The first meeting of the After-Five Club was held at Betta and Doc Linker's Friday evening. The members of this club are all former VAH-Fivers who are now on the staff, in HATTU, Eason, or leaving town at the Speltzes and Elders are. The host cooked hamburgers, and all the old Fivers sang as they reminisced about the good old days. Next week, they are to meet at the Tegefilds and then go to the Imperial House for dinner. Attending this first meeting were John and Jean Dibley, Mae and Dave Edwards, Helen and Harry Griffin, Jean and Carl Tegefild, Jean and Cy Piton, Lois and Art Elder, Betta and Paul Speltz, and Judy and Jack Smith.

Lou Johnson invited the girls of VAH-7 in for coffee Friday morning to bid farewell to Elaine Bass, who will go back to New York when Marine deploys with the squadron. Elaine plans to enroll in Cornell University, where she will get her degree. Lou served a tremendous variety of delicacies, among which were cheese biscuits, fudge squares, banana nut bread, and tiny cinnamon rolls and Danish pastries, the last ordered from the local bakery, and were remarked to be just perfect, which is a good little piece of information to file away in the old bean in case a coffee comes to mind as the next entertainment. Present at the party were Bonnie Baraban, Rita Bauer, Katie Cummins, Kay Dwyer, Doris Francisco, Ruth Hodges, Mary Libbey, Dot Mann, Betty Meyer, Thelma McMurray, Jane Miller, Terry Price and Gretchen Hall.

Sorry to hear that Rusty Lilleboe has gone home to be with his mother, who is very ill, and also Marilyn Forrest's father suffered a heart attack, and Marilyn has flown to Kentucky to be with him.

cepted and also put in for HATWING. So here they are in Sanford, in the same squadron (which is a luck squadron), and if some one took this plot and made a movie of it, it would probably sell a million, especially with an ending composed of Pete fading out slowly as he sings The Lowland Sea, as the HATWING bombers take off into the horizon.

Here I am and I still haven't said anything about their music. Calypso is probably the most popular contribution, and then St. James Infirmary Blues is a real favorite. If you haven't heard these characters, you are missing something, and the golden opportunity presents itself tonight at the ball room of the Mayfair, because Pete and Tim will perform for the pleasure of the crowd. Hope to see you there.

Mixed League Calls Special Meet

By Alan Mauer

W. Wheldon resigned the presidency of the Mixed Bowling League last week after the regular night's bowling in a specially called meeting. Last Thursday's meeting was conducted with only a few bowlers present after the League games.

A new election was staged, and C. Haig was chosen to fill the vacated post. Haig immediately called a special meeting for this Thursday night, Jan. 24, and urged that all bowling members be present. The meeting is slated for 7:15, at the alley, prior to the regular bowling meet. All members are to be affected by the meeting and all team captains are especially requested to be prompt.

There is some indication that there may be a shakeup in the league, presently undergoing the storms of its first season of existence.

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK 27—Big time baseball in such off-campus sites as Madison Square Garden still is reeling under the effects of the 1951 scandals but Ned Irish, the father of the commercial doubleheaders, isn't planning to surrender.

ning to carry on as usual in the future.
But there can be no doubt but what off-campus college play doesn't have the drawing power of pre-scandal days. And he's going to find it difficult to lure the big draws out of their own bulging field houses.

In the days before the "fixes," twin-bills at the Garden usually were sellouts which attracted 18,000 fans each and every time. This year the "crowds" have been averaging a mere 4,000.
Irish contends that the crowds "aren't particularly down." This is either a tribute to his game-ness or a knock against his eyesight. But he does admit that "over the country the crowds are on the upswing."

"Ten years ago, there were many colleges which didn't have the large field houses they have today," Irish contends. "Now they don't go on the road as much as they used to, which may be a partial answer."

Hit The Road
In other words, back in the pre-fix days, the colleges with a building program hit the road and made themselves a big reputation as well as a lot of money. This helped build—and fill—those field houses in which they sell out today.

Another influence is that after the scandals, there was a tremendous back-to-campus movement to remove the players from the reach of the big city gamblers. But now only the Big Seven has a ban against off-campus play and that is highly elastic in view of the fact that Iowa State uses the new Des Moines Stadium and the conference tournament is held in the Kansas City Municipal Stadium.
Irish sees the current stumbling block, at least as far as Madison Square Garden is concerned, in a lack of local talent.

Low Caliber Teams
"The calibre of such teams as New York University and St. John's lessened after that trouble with the boys," said Irish, who prefers not to mention the word "scandal."
"But if all those New York boys now playing for North Carolina, as example, were put for NYU, would you be getting with such a team in the Garden," he added.
"And if Kansas played here with Vin Chamberlain, you'd see a capacity crowd in hand. We just don't have the team, right now?"
So Irish, who stated this doubleheader business in 1934, is plan-

Hockey Essentially Is Simple Game

By CLARENCE S. CAMPBELL
President
National Hockey League
As Told To United Press

MONTREAL 27—Hockey is one of the easiest of all games to understand. "KON HE FLY" is one of its most outstanding features.

Essentially it is a simple game. Those watching it for the first few times should not be too much concerned with the colored and dotted lines and circles on the ice. They all have their special function which the spectator will absorb quickly.

Basically it is a contest between two teams, using six players each at any one time—each trying to put the "puck" into the opponents' "goal" by means of their sticks which they employ with wizardly skill.

Awsome To Witness
The first impression the new fan will get in his closest to the action will be his personal identification with the actions of the players. At first he will be struck by the constant surging of play from one end to the other, the crashing of bodies and the heavy thud of the puck off the boards and the goaltender.

Gradually he will recognize the sheer artistry of the goalkeeper as he uses different tactics and maneuvers to keep the puck out of his net and "clear" it for one of his own players in an effort to launch a counter attack.

The goalie has two defenses to protect him. Their chief job is to prevent the opponents from maneuvering into a scoring position by riding off or steering them into the corners and intercepting the puck by anticipation. "poke" checking the puck off his opponent's stick.

The art of the three forwards are directed primarily to scoring goals and to do this they must have speed, deception of movement, stick-handling ability and a hard accurate shot. Most of all they must be able to work as a unit. To get maximum results a forward must be able to make fast, accurate passes and receive them from an angle while traveling at top speed. Watch how he stops it when he is unable to reach it with his stick.

Note Faking Movements
Watch also how the puck carrier will use his body or the puck to decoy an opponent into the first move in an effort to pass him.

The forward must also be a good checker, adept in taking the puck away from the other team, either with his stick or by body-checking him.

Throughout the constant attack and counter-attack will also appear the strategy of the coach. His ingenuity in substituting his players to get his strongest line against the other team's weakest checkers, or juggling his best checkers against the opponent's strong line when he is ahead and trying to protect the lead, is all part of the battle of wits between the coaches.

But above all to get the minimum enjoyment from hockey, you should be partisan. The only non-partisan fellows are the three men in the striped shirts—the referee and the two linemen.

Seminole Quintet Beats Lakeview Five 58-53 For 1st Conference Win

The Sanford Seminoles cage quintet hit the high stride of their season last Friday night when they played nip and tuck with Lakeview for three quarters and then blazed a fourth quarter burst of power defensively to crack the Orange Belt Conference for their first dropping the Red Devils from Winter Garden 58-53.

Perhaps the most thrilling game of basketball witnessed in Sanford for more than a decade was seen by the largest turnout of the current season as some 400 fans were on hand to cheer the Seminoles to victory.

For the first time this season the team was a functioning unit, with little differentiation between offense and defense. The final results of the game opened new vistas of hope for the Seminoles as they contradicted the early season prognostications that they couldn't win a conference game.

The seniorless starting club played heads up ball all the way, and were taken aback only in the second quarter, when tall Tom Norris got hot on his rebounding.

Never before has this writer seen such improvement in a group of boys as they displayed in Friday night's extravagant display of determined desire.

In no other attempt of complete reversal of attitudes and playing habits met with such success as has the insistent demands of coach Bud Laver and his assistant Dick Silvers.

The unity of team work is displayed in the evenness of scoring; the pack was led by much improved, high hurdling Joe High with 16 points, backed up by sharpshooting Geill Dandridge with 14 points. Ball hawking, Claude Hittell, showing sporadic indication of much improvement with 10 points, smooth operating Ken McMurray with eight points, and the alternating right guards, Bruce McCoy and Red Phillips, with four points each.

Every man that played had an opportunity to score and did so.

NEW BMYRNA BEACH—Florida will be well represented in the first annual National Sports Car Day races over the 2.4 mile New Smyrna Beach Airport course Sunday, Feb. 10, but the state drivers will face rugged competition from the outside ranks.

Other Florida drivers already entered include Duncan Forling of Tampa, with a Lotus; James Wesley of Winter Park, with a modified Ferrari; Joe Shoppard of Tampa, with a modified Lotus; Jim Quackenbush of Daytona Beach with a Porsche and Dick Dungan of Bradenton, with a Lotus.

Jr. High Quintet Is Knocked Out Of Unbeaten Rank

DeLand Junior High finally knocked the Sanford High cage quintet out of the season's unbeaten ranks Friday, but it took the youngsters in DeLand two overtime periods to stack up the three point lead that gave DeLand the 25-25 victory.

The double overtime thriller took place in the DeLand High School gymnasium, where the Sanford Juniors had relaxed somewhat after dropping the two "big" ones, Mainland and Ormond Beach, the week before.

Coach Howard Gordie's charges laid down their usual high standards in the first quarter, and the baby Bulldogs took advantage of the laxity.

Mike Roberts and Alex McKibbin tied for top scoring honors with each tallying for eight markers to lead the losing Sanford Juniors.

Gordie expressed confidence in the boys, however, and said that he thought the story would be different when they faced DeLand again later in the season.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL CAGERS DRAWING CAPACITY CROWDS
Attention potential basketball mentors of 1962-63! Your personnel material is already drawing capacity crowds. Last Friday night the Seminole auditorium was all but packed as the Grammar School basketball teams made their public court debut at the halftime intermission between the Lakeview-Seminole game.

Under the direction of Grammar School principal, Harold Heckenbach, the blues and the golds clashed in a head-on rough and tumble brand of basketball that made parents hearts pound with pride, spectators shout with enjoyment, and young peers gaze in admiration.

Dick Richards aided Heckenbach in the officiating duties that kept both men on their toes. Taking an early lead, the Golds moved ahead to a six points lead, but the Blues bounced right back to pile up eight points in quick succession and take the game by a hard-fought 6-8 score.

The baby warriors from Seminole led the game the first half, the tremendous receive strength of the baby red Devils paid dividends in the second half as they pulled away from the Seminoles, giving them a deficit they couldn't overcome.

Jack Harper, g-10 red Devil junior, led the attack for the Lakeview cagers by personally accounting for 18 points. His classmate Don Holland was the insurance for the Winter Garden visitors as he tallied for 12.

Dick Silvers praised his boys for team effort, even though his charges fell before the Devil attack. They did an excellent job against a superior ball club, he remarked. "They not only made the game interesting, they made it thrilling, and eight points difference is pretty close in my books."

Jr. High Basketball League's Season Schedule Revealed

Fred Ganas, coordinator of the Seminole County Junior High Basketball League, Friday, revealed the season schedule of the league for the five week period beginning Jan. 21 and extending until Feb. 21. Ganas said that after the regular season the Sanford Junior High School P-TA would sponsor a countywide Jr. High championship basketball tournament.

Ganas said that Sanford Junior High would not be able to participate in the tournament because of its larger size. Instead, Junior High would send a B team into the league, which would put the team on a competitive basis with the other schools involved.

Sanford Junior High basketball coach Howard Gordie voiced approval of the plan. "I think it's only fair to the other schools," he said, "and also it will afford us the opportunity to give our young boys an opportunity to pick up some valuable experience."

During the season every school will see action on Mondays and Thursdays, and no school will have an open date.

Gov. LeRoy Collins today said he was enthusiastic with the statewide interest being shown in the Festival of Florida Products, Feb. 14-23, and urged all groups which have not entered in the contests for promotion awards to do so at once.

Atomic Task Forces To Be Stationed At Trouble Spots

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department plans to station atomic task forces, armed with the latest bombardment missiles, at trouble spots around the world, officials have said. Such forces would provide powerful support for U. S. and Allied ground troops.

There is a possibility that two of the atomic support units will be stationed in the crisis-torn Middle East to bolster the flank of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Baghdad Pact. Plans to create six newly atomic task forces were disclosed by President Eisenhower in the 38 billion dollar military budget he sent to Congress. He said the units would be a great help to the Army in its mission of maintaining "mobile and versatile forces suitably deployed and ready for immediate action in case of aggression."

Where, When Will Princess Grace's Baby Be Born?

MONACO — The question of where Princess Grace's baby will be born has been coupled with an older question: When? There was no doubt that time is drawing near for the arrival of the first-born of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace.

ENCHANTED HARBOR By DOROTHY WORLEY

CHAPTER 24
PRISCILLA came out of her introspection to hear Dick say, "When do you leave Apalachicola?"
"I'm to let Alvarez know definitely about the house right away. And when that is settled, I suppose we'll be on our way."
"But Tuesday is Harbor Day. It's a big day here. Aren't you going to stay for that?"
"I—probably not. Rita is anxious to get away."
"I'll miss you, Priscilla."
"I'll miss—all this, too."
"I was wondering if perhaps along about Christmas-time—I'm due for a vacation then—if you would let me come to New York to see you?"
"Are you just talking, or do you really mean that?" Her eyes were dark and shining as they met his.
"Of course I mean it," he said, twinkling in his deep voice. He leaned over and kissed her lips. Then he said, "Don't be angry, Priscilla. But you look so sweet with that moonlight on your face, and that was because—because I like you a lot."
Priscilla's heart was beating fast. She wasn't angry and there was no use pretending. She moved away a little, squared about to face him. "If you really mean it, I should like very much to have you come at Christmas." Her voice was friendly. "I shall look forward to it."
"Then it's settled, because I do mean it." His voice was definite and happy. A link was established.
She said lightly, "Then it's a date." And thought, I don't believe he'll really come. He may think so now, but he'll change his mind after I'm gone.
There was a long silence. Presently Priscilla spoke, and it was of something else. "Look, Dick, the moon has gone under the clouds, and just a short while ago there wasn't a cloud in the sky."
"We're due for some rain. And there are reports of a hurricane brewing somewhere in the Gulf. I don't think Apalachicola is in its present path, but of course those things change. We'll probably have squalls, anyway." He broke off. "Now we're on the weather. How did we get started on that?"
"The moon, remember? It's out bright again, but that bank of dark clouds looks discouraging. And it's windier."
"Let's hunt up Rita and tell her," Dick suggested.
"That'll be up for Christmas." Priscilla laughed. "Well, there's the one he was looking for. He wanted to find out about us and it was at his suggestion that Dick asked you for a date—the reason they've been so attentive to us. Bill told me this himself."
Priscilla started to say something, but the words seemed to stop in her throat. She stood there looking at Rita with a curiously bleak feeling. Finally she said, "It's hard to believe that of Dick. There was a note of protest in her voice. "What on earth are they trying to find out?"
"I don't know. Seems Lookout House is mixed up in it. Bill thinks Alvarez wants to get hold of the place for some reason besides what he says. He asked me to persuade you to hold off selling until he gave the word—imagine that!"
Priscilla sat down on the side of the bed and pushed her hair back. "Why doesn't he tell us more?"
"He isn't ready. He wants to talk to you tomorrow, and he said something about waiting until Harbor Day, next Tuesday. He seems to think that has something to do with it. I may be wrong, but if I were in your place, I'd go ahead and sell the house tomorrow. I'm going to say something you may not like, but if you have any romantic notions, it would be wise to forget them. Dick is just helping Bill get information and amusing himself with a little flirtation on the side. Oh, he's nice. I'll admit that, but it rubs me the wrong way, thinking how they've gone about this thing."
Priscilla got up. "I suppose you're right, Rita. I knew it was too good to be true." She had a feeling of having come down to earth with a thud.
Rita thought, watching her, I've hurt her and I'm sorry, but it might as well hurt a little now as a lot later on. She said, with assumed cheerfulness, "Well, we've had an interesting visit here, anyway. I'd like to find out more just what this mystery is, but I don't suppose we will. We'll be gone before then. Listen! It's pouring outside. And just while ago the moon was shining brightly." Rita gave an involuntary shudder. "I wasn't going to say anything about it tonight, but I suppose I might as well. This note was under the door when I got back. Read it." Priscilla took the single sheet of paper and read the message in pencil:
Keep the money intact. Do not spend it.

Tito Is Expected To Visit In U.S. Despite Objections

WASHINGTON — Marshal Tito, strongman of Communist Yugoslavia, is still expected to visit the United States this year despite congressional objections. But new outcries from several congressmen have complicated what was a delicate matter to begin with. Tito would be the first Communist official invited to this country.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said some time ago he thought a visit by Tito would serve a useful purpose—to build Tito up as a symbol of independence from Russian control. The United States and Yugoslavia have been discussing the matter privately ever since.

Rep. Alvin E. Kohn (R-Wis.) said in an angry speech Wednesday that he will resign his House seat in protest if Tito accepts a U. S. invitation. Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) backed him up. He said if Kohn resigns his Wisconsin constituents should send him back to Congress and "show the State Department what the people think."

The heavier shaded area indicates sections where precipitation was less than 50 per cent of normal. Russia Explodes Nuclear Weapon

WASHINGTON—Russia has exploded another nuclear weapon the Atomic Energy Commission announced Sunday.

The reminder of Soviet power came only two days after three U. S. B-52 H-bombers circled the world non-stop in a demonstration of American strength.

The AEC said Russia exploded the nuclear weapon Saturday.

The terse announcement gave no indication whether the test involved an atomic or hydrogen weapon or its size.

The blast apparently was the fifth in Russia's current test series the Russia announced it had completed. The series started in August.

The announcement brought to 17 the number of times the United States has reported a Soviet nuclear test.

As usual the AEC gave no indication where it got its information. However the country has an elaborate monitoring system for detection where it got its information.

THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC became the first member country of the United Nations to contribute money to the U.N. Emergency Relief Fund. Here, Ambassador Dr. Enrique de Marchena, chief of the permanent Dominican Republic U.N. delegation, is shown as he delivered a $2,000 check to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in New York City.

Man (Continued From Page 1) had been dabbling without success in the field of radio-controlled ships, planes and tanks.

But Bailey's group of experimenters harnessed the power of radio beams and were able to eventually make empty planes do almost anything. As a result, the United States led the way in using "flying bombs" planes loaded with explosives, to harass the enemy in World War II and the Korean War.

Much of the work done by the group with which Bailey was connected is still "highly classified" in military files in Washington.

Concerning the awards, Bailey said, "It's nice to know they finally are to be recognized. I'm especially happy for Oscar Smith." (Oscar Smith was in charge of putting the drop airplane into practical use at a time when many Navy men strongly opposed the project).

Today in Tallahassee Bailey said he rarely does any electronic experimenting or flying. He said he does tinker a bit with radios and television and gets a big kick out of hi-fidelity music.

Bailey said his teen-age son "has no inclination whatsoever" toward the field in which his father was so proficient. He said he and his wife decided to live in Tallahassee after his retirement from the Navy because it was the only place both ever have been able to agree on as a good place to.

Police, FBI Say Telephoned Bomb Threats Cranks

HONOLULU—Police and FBI agents in Honolulu, Seattle and three other West Coast cities blamed cranks today for telephoned bomb threats that touched off a series of airliner searches during the weekend.

One threat was received in the FBI office in Honolulu early Sunday and another threat was telephoned to the United Airlines office in Seattle Saturday night.

Seattle police held a 29-year-old former mental patient they said admitted making two telephone calls to the United Airlines reservations desk at Seattle. Detective said FBI agents and United officials interviewed the unidentified man. He was to be questioned by a psychiatric police said was familiar with the ex-patient's case.

Planes operated by Pan American World Airways, Northwest Airlines, Qantas, and Japan Airlines underwent searches when they landed Sunday at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle.

At least a dozen planes and probably more were searched at all five airports.

Morals Charges Placed Against 3 Men, Youth

New Prime Minister Faces Parliament For 1st Time Today

LONDON — Harold Macmillan faces parliament for the first time as prime minister today. Opposition Socialists planned to greet him with new demands for guarantees against another Suez-style "armed conflict."

His official status as prime minister to succeed Sir Anthony Eden will be only a few hours old because he first must be formally elected as leader of the ruling conservative party.

Extra Guard Ordered

Scotland Yard ordered extra guards around Parliament to prevent Communist demonstrations.

The Big Questions

Parliament demanded personal answers from the new prime minister on five major questions:

1. Immediate general elections which Macmillan has already rejected.
2. A "summit" conference with government heads of the United States, Russia, France and India.
3. An invitation to President Eisenhower for "Big Two" talks in London.
4. New moves to have Communist China admitted to the United Nations.
5. A disarmament and proposals to ban further nuclear arms tests.

More Negotiations Planned For Water Main Extension

City Manager Warren E. Knowles will negotiate further with the Wefour Corporation of Miami Beach relative to the extension of City water mains to an area more than half-mile outside the City limits.

A request has been directed to the City of Sanford as to "what they will do" about the water lines to a sub-division site near the Sanford Naval Air Station on Sanford Ave.

The development, announced several weeks ago, would ultimately number up to 2,000 homes according to officials of the firm in Sanford to close property deals.

However, commissioners expressed concern that there is a possibility lots will be sold in the sub-division as well as homes.

Concerning reimbursement to the Wefour Corporation for funds expended in the payment for water mains outside of the city limits, Commissioner Earl Higginbotham said "We will reimburse them at the end of each year on the basis of the number of homes built and sold."

Commissioner Merle Warner said "I'm afraid that this is just a lot selling venture."

Doctors Can Now Pay Annual Fee To Park Anywhere

Parking spaces marked "For Doctors Only" is a thing of the past for the City of Sanford according to action taken at last night's special meeting of the Board of City Commissioners.

Instead, doctors will be given the privilege of paying an annual $90 for the privilege of parking in any available parking stall that is metered.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham argued "Everyone should have the same privilege — there isn't any doctor making emergency calls now — every citizen should have the same right."

Mayor David Gatchel said "This will cut out deadwood parking places in the downtown area."

Four commissioners voted for the measure with Commissioner L. Wilson voting "no" because "I think it is too much money."

City Attorney Willis C. Hutchison Jr. explained that "the primary purpose for parking meters and truck loading zones is to keep traffic moving in an orderly manner."

Truck loading zones are for the purpose for which they are marked. These zones, said the commissioners last night, are not for parking trucks. The Sanford Police Department will enforce the regulations.

Top News In Brief

Three white men and a 16-year-old youth are being held in the Sanford jail today under charges of committing lewd and lascivious acts in the presence of a minor and with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The quartet, ranging in age from 18 to 31, was apprehended last night by Lt. Joe Hickson and Patrolman Carl C. Dodson, following a complaint from the father of a 12-year-old girl.

Two girls, one 12 and the other 13, were involved in the acts.

The men being held and who are being turned over to Seminole County authorities today are: Clinton Underwood, alias "Lucky," a sawmill worker from Tennessee, a married man with a family who made his home at 210 1/2 W. First St.; Spencer Dugan, 17, an automobile painter whose address was given as West 2nd St.; Charles Edward Rich, 25, a bulldozer operator who allegedly lived with Underwood; and a 16-year-old juvenile. Another man involved in the escapade is to be picked up later, said Chief Williams. "We have the warrant for him now," he said.

According to Chief Williams, the five white men had the two girls, one who has not been taken into custody, in the woods out from Lake Monroe. They later had had the girl in the "vime of Underwood."

On a complaint from the father of the young girls, Lt. Hickson and Patrolman Carl Dodson found the men. The girl, who was lodged in the Seminole County jail by order of Judge Ernest Householder, Juvenile Judge for Seminole County, attempted to get away by crawling out on the roof of Underwood's home. The other child, 13 years old, had returned home.

Chief Williams said "We have had the same girl three times for running away from home and had turned her over to her parents and to Judge Householder."

The three men and one youth are being turned over to Seminole County authorities today under $2,000 bonds for the lewd and lascivious acts in the presence of minors charge and under a $500 bond for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Follies' Rehearsing, Casting Starts

"We want as large a cast as possible and plan to have a lot of fun," exclaimed Dean Reeder at last night's Talent Party at the Mayfair Inn.

The party was held to get talent for the High Fever Follies, sponsored by the Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, which will be presented Feb. 8, 9.

Due to the tremendous turnout of last night's "Talent Party" Cargill Associates have decided that the quality and quantity of the talent warranted another director Dean Reeder will work with the new director in producing the High Fever Follies.

"Those who want to sign up for the talent in High Fever Follies may do so by calling 2356," said Mrs. Stone, General Chairman of the production.

The new man will arrive in Sanford either today or tomorrow to take over the co-directing of the forthcoming show.

Mrs. Robert Stone, chairman of the Follies, introduced Reeder, who is associated with the Cargill Producing Association of New York and who will direct the Follies.

Reeder lauded the auxiliary for

Commission Okays Proposal For New Post Office Here

The Sanford City Attorney, W. C. Hutchison, Jr., was instructed last night to prepare a resolution favoring a new Post Office building for the City.

Action on the matter came following a discussion with the Board of Sanford City Commissioners by Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider.

Krider told the Commissioners, "I would like to explore the possibilities of constructing a new Post Office for Sanford."

"We need a resolution from the City Commission pointing out the deficiencies of our present Post Office building," he said. And Krider explained that the present location is in a crowded area, there is no possibility for expansion in the present building, we need additional Post Office boxes.

"There's no future in the expansion of the present Post Office," Krider told the commissioners. "We've increased in population and we serve a larger area."

It was also stated that new plans for a Post Office Building here could include office space for the numbers of federal agencies operating in Sanford at the present time.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham proposed that the City Attorney be instructed to prepare the proper resolution. The proposal received unanimous approval by the Board.

Ike Gives Personal Approval

WASHINGTON — H. Meade Alcorn Jr. of Connecticut today was elected Republican National chairman.

Alcorn was elected unanimously, without contest, by the GOP National Committee after he was given the personal endorsement of President Eisenhower.

He succeeds Leonard W. Hall, who is retiring Feb. 1 after almost four years as chief of the party organization.

Alcorn, 49-year-old former speaker of the Connecticut Assembly and onetime district attorney for Hartford County, was Hall's second in command last year for handling arrangements for the GOP national convention.

His election as national chairman came as no surprise.

Easy Choice

The President's support for Alcorn was reported to a committee meeting by former Sen. Harry Darby, Kansas national committeeman. Darby headed an eight-man subcommittee which conferred with Mr. Eisenhower earlier this morning.

"He made it clear to us that he would like Meade Alcorn to be chairman," Darby said.

Letter-Contract Fails To Meet Board's Approval

"This thing is getting further away and more fantastic," said Commissioner Earl Higginbotham at last night's meeting of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners when the matter of a contract with Fred Blair Jr. for his services as a consulting engineer in City Planning was discussed.

A contract submitted by letter was presented to the Board of Commissioners by City Manager Warren E. Knowles who immediately said "I cannot recommend this."

Commissioner Merle Warner said "I just want to drop the matter at this time."

The contract was not made public but in discussions by the commissioners it was revealed that Blair had proposed a $75 per day charge for his services in supervising a city-paid engineer, for a period of approximately 18 months, which was recommended by the City of Sanford's Zoning and Planning Board.

"We're interested in City Planning but we're not interested in building an empire for one man such as this contract suggests," said Commissioner Higginbotham. The City Manager was instructed to notify Fred Blair Jr. that the letter-contract submitted on Jan. 16 did not meet with the approval of the Board of Commissioners.

There was no indication that the Board of Commissioners would renew their city planning proposal (Continued on Page Four)

Rotarians To Take Part In Erection Of Scout Building

Sanford Rotarians, at their weekly meeting yesterday afternoon at the Yacht Club, voted to participate on a strictly voluntary basis, in the erection of the main building at Camp La-No-Che, in Lake County to be used by Boy Scouts of the Central Florida Council.

Taking part in the discussion as to the best means of building the matter on an individual basis were H. B. Pope, H. H. Coleman, George Stine, William A. Laffler, Randall Chase, M. L. Raborn, Henry Simpson and Charlie Morrison. Since Rotary rules and regulations preclude the assessing members to provide funds for any project regardless of merit, the club voted to endorse participation in the building and to ask the board of directors to work out ways and means of having each Rotarian, if he so desired, make his pledge to the project.

The idea of increasing the luncheon fee was turned down as being an assessment rather than a voluntary pledge and it was finally decided that the average contribution should be about $10 per member per year for a three year period. The project got off to a good start with the donation to the fund of $100 by Robert Gregory of the Big Lumber Co. here.

George Stine presented to the club its newest Rotarian in the person of D. S. (Bud) Talley, President Charles L. Parsons welcomed back Andrew C. Stine, after an absence due to illness.
