Public-Safety Workers Given County Pay Increase

By LEE DANCY
Herald Staff Writer

Salaries for Seminole County public-safety workers officially climbed into a bracket comparable to Orange County and various municipalities in the area Tuesday evening.

Firefighters and public-safety communications workers will not see their raises reflected in a paycheck for another week, however. The Seminole County Commission unanimously approved the interim raises to become effective during next week's pay period.

Instead of receiving a paycheck for the gross amount of $226, an experienced firefighter hired recently by the county will see his weekly pay jump to $250 before taxes. The same starting firefighter's annual salary will move from $11,764 to $12,968, representing a 7 1/2 percent raise.

The lump salary sum of $12,968 annually for a starting firefighter will surpass Orange County's initial pay of $12,608. A five percent cost-of-living raise approved by the commission

Tuesday morning for all county employees will give that $12,968 another boost, however.

The five percent cost-of-living raise takes effect at the pay period closest to the new year's beginning. Entry-level, trained, firefighters for the county consequently will see their annual salaries climb from $12,968 to $13,637, or $262.64 a week.

County Personnel Director Lois Martin said the 7 1/2 percent raise for public-safety workers was an "interim" pay increase. The county Personnel Board originally recommended a 10 percent raise for firefighters.

County Administrator Roger Neiswender said the 7 1/2 percent interim raise was granted pending a survey by the county of the current labor market. That survey will be completed sometime in late February, and then public-safety workers' salaries will be reviewed again, he said.

Raises for public-safety workers were requested by the department's director, Gary Kaiser. Since Jan. 1, Kaiser said, 11 firefighters and 15 communications workers have resigned to seek higher-paying jobs with other departments.

"We are still short six firefighters and three communications workers," he said. "We generally have a couple of vacancies all the time."

Low salaries generally have kept a trained firefighter from applying for a job in Seminole County, Kaiser said. The Public Safety Department has served as a training ground for many blaze battlers, he said.

An applicant without emergency medical training and at least 200 hours of firefighter training is offered $10,162 a year to start. Kaiser said the department spends approximately $6,000 to train these people if they are hired.

The original scheme for running the department did not include training rookies, however. Kaiser designed his department to function with fewer, highly trained, well paid workers, he said.

An average fire station in the county is manned by only two or three firefighters trained in all aspects of the job. Most municipal stations in the county have five or six firefighters on duty, each trained for a specific responsibility in quelling a blaze, Kaiser said.

Money for the raises granted public-safety workers Tuesday will come at the expense of plans for the county's alternate-life-support system. The majority of the $130,832 budgeted for 1981-82 for the county's new life-support system will be used to cover the pay hikes, Neiswender said.

Any further pay adjustment for firefighters would involve changing the millage levied for the fire district," Neiswender said. "We need money from alternate sources for fire because of the small (.221) millage level."

Plans to hire 13 new public-safety workers still have the green light, however. The $208,762 budgeted for new salaries will not be needed to cover the cost of raises within that department, Neiswender said.

County Approves Birthday Holidays

Birthdays became synonymous with holidays for Seminole County workers Tuesday.

Aligning itself with the state in offering 10 paid holidays annually to its employees, the County Commission approved a proposal to give workers a paid day off on their birthday by a 3-2 vote. Commissioners Bill Kirchhoff and Robert G. "Bud" Feather voted against the proposal.

Kirchhoff originally made a motion to give county employees the same holidays federal workers receive. The motion was seconded by Feather but lost on a 2-3 vote, with Commissioners Sandra Glenn, Robert Sturm and Barbara Christensen opposing it.

Each paid holiday granted all county workers has a price tag of $26,000 in salary money, said Eleanor Anderson, director of the county's Office of Management and Budget. A total $260,000 will consequently be paid by the county in salaries, with no work in return.

In 1976 county workers had eight paid holidays. In 1977 that number went to nine, and in 1982 county employees will be paid for 10 holidays.

To accompany a record number of county holidays, employees also will see a five percent cost-of-living raise tacked onto their paychecks beginning Jan. 7. The raise is two-tenths of a percent more than the 4.8 percent budgeted for the 1981-82 fiscal year.

The five percent cost-of-living raise will raise a county secretary currently making $8,834 on an entry-level annual salary to $9,282 a year, said Lois Martin, county personnel director.

Kirchhoff voted against the five percent cost-of-living raise after his motion for a 4.8 percent raise died for lack of a second. The five percent raise was approved by a 4-1 vote.

Computer problems were half of the reason a five percent, rather than a 4.8 percent raise was proposed, said County Administrator Roger Neiswender. If the commission insisted on a 4.8 percent raise, each employee's raise would have to be calculated individually, he said.

The five percent raise could be programmed into the county's present payroll computer system and calculated automatically for all employees. Neiswender said the current computer system can automatically calculate raises only on increments of 5 or 10.

A new system recently purchased by the county, to be installed in February, will be able to calculate raises on any increments, Neiswender said.

The commission unanimously agreed to review the cost-of-living raises six months from now. Kirchhoff proposed the five percent raise be dropped back to 4.8 percent when the new computer system was installed, but was able to secure only the promise of a review from his colleagues. — LEE DANCY

Elections Casselberry OKs Paramedics, Reelects Leighty, Embree

Casselberry voters Tuesday gave a vote of confidence to their two incumbent city councilmen—John Leighty and Tom Embree—and sent a message to the City Council that they want a paramedic service.

A total of 1,192 of the city's 5,766 voters, including 42 absentee electors, cast ballots in the election, for a 20.6 percent turnout.

Embree, 45, elected to a third two-year term, and Leighty, 51, the senior member of the council, elected to a sixth two-year term, celebrated their election victories at the Leighty home on Seminole Boulevard with family and supporters.

The party was delayed until nearly 10 p.m., however, while Embree was being elected worshipful master of the South Seminole Masonic Lodge as well.

Official returns gave Leighty 669 votes to 481 for his opponent, George Smith, while Embree received 611 votes to 545 for his challenger, Carl Robertson Jr.

And although his name did not appear on the ballot, Mayor Owen Sheppard, 52, also was officially reelected, since he ran unopposed. Sheppard has served one term as mayor and was previously a one-term councilman.

On hand to celebrate the victory with Embree and Leighty were Sheppard and City Council colleagues Frank Schutte and Bill Grier.

The taxpayers of Casselberry will begin paying for the paramedic service, approved by the voters, with the city's property taxes beginning next October.

The issue was approved by the voters 633 to 460.

Sheppard said today the binding referendum package approved by the voters permits a maximum tax levy of $1.25 per $1,000 assessed valuation of real property, after exemptions, next year. The service probably will begin in January or February 1983, after tax funds have come into the city coffers, he said.

He added that the city's emergency rescue vehicle will have to be beefed up with additional sophisticated equipment for the advanced life-support system called for in a paramedic program.

Councilman Jim LaVigne, a supporter of the program, has estimated that a levy of $1.25 would bring in about $150,000 annually with the city's current tax base. Sheppard said next year's tax base probably will be larger, and less than the $1.25 probably will be needed.

Paramedics also will have to be hired. — DONNA ESTES

Longwood: Pappas Upsets Hepp; Uskert, Lormann Win

June Lormann was the top choice of Longwood's voters Tuesday as they gave her a fifth consecutive term on the City Commission, reelected Commissioner Steven Uskert and chose a new councilman, Charles "Chick" Pappas.

A total of 754 voters, including 12 absentee electors—20.2 percent of the city's 3,726 eligible voters—cast ballots to reelect Mrs. Lormann and Uskert and to name Pappas a new city official.

Mrs. Lormann, who received 523 votes in her unopposed contest, said today she is "really thrilled. It's kind of neat." And, she added, the election races were clean. "I don't think anybody was made mad or upset."

Uskert, 68, who received 372 votes to 361 for his opponent, John Crystal, recognized he "could have lost without one or two families' support." He is completing his first term in office.

And Crystal, in a first bid for elective office, said he will not seek a recount. "The returns were counted on the computer a couple of times," he said. "I'll still be around," he told supporters Tuesday night.

Pappas, 62, who defeated one-term Commissioner John Hepp for the post, said today he is "still on Cloud Nine. I'm certainly elated."

Pappas also said he submitted his resignation Nov. 24 to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department from his job as court bailiff. "As of Dec. 31 I will no longer be employed at the Sheriff's Department," he said. "I'm more concerned with getting involved in the city now. I want to be a watchdog for the taxpayers. I want to concentrate on city problems and unifying the City Commission."

The three commissioners will be sworn into office Jan. 11. Current salaries of commissioners are $200 monthly plus $50 monthly expense allowance.

On Jan. 11 their salaries will be raised to $250 monthly plus $50 expense allowance. — DONNA ESTES

Lake Mary's Suit Settled With Paulucci

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The lawsuit between the city of Lake Mary and Paulucci Enterprises, which appeared to knock a city parcel out of the running as a site for the planned new Central Florida Crime Laboratory, has virtually been settled.

And millionaire industrialist and entrepreneur Jeno Paulucci is personally lending his influence to the effort to have the $4 million state facility built on the two-acre site off Rinehart Road.

The Seminole County Commission on Tuesday adopted a resolution endorsing Lake Mary's and Paulucci's efforts to have the new facility built in Lake Mary.

County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm said today the resolution is directed to the Seminole County legislative delegation. "I understand Paulucci has attempted to contact the governor. And if it is necessary for a favorable decision to be made on the Lake Mary site, the County Commission will go with Lake Mary officials and Paulucci to Tallahassee to discuss the matter," Sturm said.

"We feel the Lake Mary site is head and shoulders above the other one suggested in Orlando. The Lake Mary site would not be as congested and would be more accessible," he added.

Tom Stevenson, Paulucci's personal representative, said today a tentative meeting of Paulucci, city and county officials has been scheduled for Dec. 14 with State Rep. John Mills, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, in Tallahassee.

Lake Mary Mayor Walter Sorenson said today an agreement has been reached with Paulucci over the lawsuit and that he expects the City Council to formally approve the document at Thursday's 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Paulucci filed a lawsuit against the city over the 10 acres of property on Rinehart Road the city purchased from him April 23, 1979, for $50,300.

Paulucci said he sold the city the property for that price solely because the city said it would use the tract as a site for a City Hall complex. The suit was filed after the city announced its intent to purchase and renovate the current City Hall property at 158 N. Country Club Road earlier this year.

The city has contended there was no restriction on the sale.

Officials of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) said the Lake Mary site was practically eliminated from consideration for the new facility while the lawsuit between the city and Paulucci continued in court.

But Bill Willis, crime-analyst supervisor at the current Sanford Crime Lab, said today negotiations for a site in the Central Florida area for the new facility are "pretty much at a standstill. It's being handled in Tallahassee right now."

In recent weeks (FDLE) officials have said the site most favored at this point is a state-owned parcel on W. Robinson Street adjacent to the Orlando Police Department complex and the state's service center in Orlando.

JENO PAULUCCI
...joins crime-lab push

Gerald M. Bailey, crime laboratory division director, said today, from his Tallahassee office that while "no definite decision" on a site has been made, the state Department of General Services is in the process of doing a "workup on the feasibility of using the state service property in Orlando."

"The Lake Mary property is in the running," Bailey said today, adding again that "no formal decision on a site has been made."

"The Department of General Services is looking in the direction of the W. Robinson Street address, however," he asserted.

Bailey said Paulucci personally discussed the Lake Mary site with him by telephone Tuesday. "He volunteered to meet and have discussions with us. He made himself available to talk with us at any time," Bailey said.

Sorenson said today the two items in a proposed agreement between Lake Mary and Paulucci, turned down by the City Council two weeks ago, have been changed to the city's satisfaction.

The items banned the use of the Rinehart Road property by the city for storage of city vehicles and placed a restriction on the use of the property for other than governmental purposes during the lifetime and 21 years thereafter of Paulucci and his 19-year-old daughter, Genia.

Sorenson said the revised agreement eliminates the name of Paulucci's daughter and says the city will screen the property from view if vehicles other than passenger vehicles are stored at the site.

The agreement says that if the city decides against using the property for governmental functions, Paulucci will be given the first opportunity to repurchase the land at "fair market value."

Is There Life After Television? It's Possible

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — One youngster threatened to booby-trap his mother's room. She countered with bribery.

The object of the high-stakes bargaining was the family television — off limits for 53 families who voluntarily pulled the plugs on their tubes during November in a private school's novel experiment to increase reading.

One family had to fight the temptation of a new color set, cruelly delivered days before November began.

Many of the volunteers gathered Tuesday at the private, coeducational Wheeler School to discuss their month away from "Dallas," Monday Night Football and addictive daily soap operas.

Nearly 10 percent of the private school's 540 students and their parents volunteered for the experiment. None seemed to be suffering any ill effects of video deprivation.

The challenge was issued by Peter H. Hulstader, English Department chairman, who said he was "shocked at the steady erosion of reading skills."

"The logic behind the whole thing is to call attention to the fact that heavy, chronic TV watchers do not make good readers," Hulstader said. "It's not an attack on television. It's time. There's only so much time in the day and TV interrupts that time."

Tube withdrawal, although a painful experience for many families, was unanimously called a success by the 75 parents and children who reported on their month without TV sitcoms and cartoons.

Most agreed life without television did not necessarily mean more reading, but did encourage conversation, more family-centered activities and other pursuits.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Jury To Decide Fate Of Altamonte Man's Killer

TAMPA (UPI) — A circuit court jury that found Robert Patrick Craig guilty of two counts of first-degree murder took up the sentencing phase of the trial today.

The jury will decide whether Craig, 23, should be given the death sentence for the July 21 deaths of Lake County rancher John S. Eubanks, whose home was in Altamonte Springs, and ranchhand Walton Robert Farmer. The two were shot to death and their bodies weighted down with concrete blocks and dumped into a sinkhole on Eubanks' ranch.

Taxes For Jails Needed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Lawyers' fees and newspaper advertising might be taxed by the state to raise money to build county jails and eliminate crisis overcrowding conditions.

Gov. Bob Graham's state bond issue to finance jail construction passed the Senate Corrections, Probation and Parole Committee Tuesday, but with a new twist — a sales tax on fees for most professional services and newspaper advertising.

Taxing Trade-Off

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — House Speaker Ralph Habon says he will support an increase in the sales tax only if it is coupled with property tax relief.

The Palmetto Democrat told a news conference Tuesday he believes most taxpayers would be willing to accept a hike in the four-cents-on-the-dollar sales tax in return for putting the brakes on property taxes.

'Tax Revolt' Gathers Steam

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Ed Havill, the leader of Florida's "tax revolt," is confident he will have enough signatures to get a tax-limiting proposal put on next November's ballot.

"We have only been at it for two months, and we have collected 10,000 signatures," Havill, 40, Lake County property appraiser, said during a visit here Tuesday.

Bingo Law Ineffective

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A Florida Department of Law Enforcement investigator says the word is out among organized-crime figures that one quick way to make money is in Florida bingo.

Saying Florida has become a "laughing stock" in crime circles, Special Agent Dave Green told a House subcommittee Tuesday that the current state bingo law is entirely ineffective.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: The winter's first blizzard dumped more than a foot of snow in the Midwest before weakening and storms brought snow and sleet to the northern Rockies and East, where ice turned roadways into "instant skating rinks." Eight deaths were blamed on the storms. Gale-force winds lashed the Pacific Northwest coast for the third time in three weeks, hampering the search for four missing crewmen from a fishing boat that capsized near the mouth of the Columbia River. Gale warnings also were out along the northern coast of New England. Travelers advisories were in force over much of inland New England and northeastern New York state where sleet, freezing rain and snow made travel hazardous. Reluctant to let go of the Midwest completely, the blizzard still held forth over the western two-thirds of upper Michigan where rain changed to snow and freezing rain. Gale warnings also remained over lakes Erie, Huron, Michigan and Superior.

Another Sanford Jewelry Store Robbed

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man was arrested Tuesday and charged with stealing approximately $600 worth of gold chains from Kader Jewelers, 112 S. Park Ave., Sanford, according to Sanford police.

Jeffrey Wood, 22, of 25 Castle Brewer Court, Sanford, was apprehended shortly after the 3:30 p.m. robbery and taken into custody by Sanford police. He is currently in the Seminole County jail under $5,000 bond, police said.

According to store owner John Kader, 64, "This guy was hanging around the store and then just grabbed a bunch of gold chains, and someone yelled and he ran out the door."

Kader said he sounded the police alarm and then he and "several other employees chased after the robber northward down Park Avenue.

"Of course we couldn't catch him, but the police did," he said. "I got all my jewelry back, and the police also found some watches on him, but they don't know who those belong to yet."

Tuesday's robbery follows in the wake of another jewelry-store robbery Monday when a thief smashed the showcase window of Zales Jewelry Store, in the Sanford Plaza, with a hammer and made off with approximately $3,000 in men's and ladies' diamond rings, police said.

No arrests have been made in the Zales robbery. Police said the two incidents appear to be unrelated.

MAN DIES UNDER HOSE

An Orlando man was found dead Monday at approximately 12:30 p.m. underneath a south Seminole County home where he was repairing a leaking pipe.

Patrick Bouchard, 50, employed by A&G Plumbing Co., Orlando, was found lying in a fetal position under a house at 7721 Lady Frances Way, Orlando, by another company worker who went to check on Bouchard's work, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

The Altamonte Springs Fire Department rescue unit responded to the scene and after no vital signs could be found, the body was taken to the Seminole Memorial Hospital morgue in Sanford.

According to Seminole County Medical Examiner, Dr. G.V. Garay, Bouchard died as a result of heart failure.

James Colvard, owner of the residence where Bouchard's body was discovered, said Bouchard told him he was going to a local convenience store around 12:30 p.m. to get a sandwich. Bouchard returned around 1 p.m., Colvard said.

Bouchard was not seen or heard from again until his body was found at 2:15 p.m., deputies said.

YOUTH SHOT IN FACE

An 18-year-old Sanford youth was listed in serious but stable condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital today after he was shot in the face accidentally by another youth who was unloading a .22-caliber rifle at approximately 3:41 p.m., Monday.

Seminole Memorial Hospital officials said Jackie Oglesby, of Rt. 1, Ruby Street, Sanford, was admitted Monday afternoon and is currently in the hospital's intensive care unit receiving treatment for a gunshot wound to the right cheek.

Seminole County sheriff deputies said the shooting occurred at Oglesby's home when a 15-year-old Lake Monroe youth visiting Oglesby was unloading a rifle and it accidentally discharged.

Deputies confiscated the rifle and the shooting is currently under investigation. No charges had been filed as of this morning.

SOUTH COUNTY MAN ROBBED

A south Seminole County man's home was robbed Sunday while he was not at home, according to sheriff's deputies.

Michael Lennon, 28, 10770 Duke Ave., told deputies someone entered his home through a rear window by removing the screen and pushing up an unlocked window. Once inside, the thieves ransacked the bedroom and living room, stealing property valued at about $3,350, deputies said.

Among items stolen were a $750 stereo, a Sony color television set, valued at $600 and miscellaneous clothes and jewelry valued at about $2,000, deputies said.

THEY'VE GOT GAS

Thieves broke into a supply building located behind a Sanford dentist's office at 819 E. 1st St., at about 6 p.m. Monday and stole a cylinder containing nitrous oxide gas and a regulating valve, Sanford police said.

Dr. Andrew Greenberg estimated the loss of approximately $352.

Nitrous oxide, also known as laughing gas, is used in the dental office as a temporary pain reliever for patients receiving dental treatment, according to a member of Greenberg's staff.

Police said the perpetrator apparently used bolt cutters to remove the locks on the storage building and gain entry.

'Ski Mask' Rapist Sparks Interest In 9 States

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Law enforcement officials from across the country have jammed telephones at State Police headquarters trying to link unsolved rapes in their areas to the arrest of a suspect in Louisiana's "ski-mask" rapes.

Louisiana officials said the arrest of a suspect in at least 23 attacks during the past three years could clear up as many as 130 unsolved rapes in nine other states.

"I just got off the phone with a man from Ohio," Lt. Ronnie Jones said Tuesday. "We're getting calls from all over the country now."

John B. Simonis, 30, an unemployed owner of a flashy red sports car, has been indicted on seven counts of burglary and sexual assault in the June 7 rape of a suburban Baton Rouge homemaker and her 14-year-old daughter. Charges were pending against him in at least five Louisiana cities and as many Texas towns.

John Glenn Dickinson III, 26, and Frederick A. Boerman Jr., 27, were indicted as accomplices in the June 7 attack.

The attacks often occurred in the early evening or night. Women said a man wearing a ski mask would tie up their husbands — sometimes within earshot — and attack them while another man burglarized the house and a third waited in a getaway car.

Often, teenage daughters or visiting neighbor women also were attacked.

Similar attacks occurred in Houston, Beaumont, Orange, Texarkana and Woodville, Texas. The investigation also has extended to Arkansas, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana, Florida and California.

"The case just seems to be growing and growing," said Lt. Gary McDonald.

Altamonte Commission Wants Its Cut

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

While some may ask, "A penny for your thoughts?", the Altamonte Springs City Commission wants to ensure that any proposed statewide sales tax gets "a penny for the city."

At Tuesday night's meeting, the commission unanimously postponed deciding whether to support the Florida League of Cities resolution supporting a statewide one-cent sales-tax increase. Commissioners said they wanted more time to review the issue to ensure residents of the best possible source of revenue. The time is slated for discussion at the Dec. 15 work session.

"Last year the commission came out in opposition of the proposed one-half cent sales tax option," Vice Mayor Lee

Constantine said. "However, of all the proposals I have seen, this one has possibilities. Property taxes would be reduced."

According to City Manager Jeff Etchberger, the proposed one-cent sales-tax resolution by the League of Cities is the best for the state's cities.

"The big winner, of course, is Florida," Etchberger said. "However, this is the best proposal for the cities, giving us a larger portion of the rollback and the counties a small portion. That is also the reason the counties are pushing for another proposal and against this one. But either way the state will come out smelling like a rose."

Commissioner Cheney Colardo expressed her concern over supporting the tax because, she said, while it may reduce property taxes for city residents in 1982-83, "What happens after that? Do we hike the taxes way up after that?"

Etchberger said the city would have the ability to adjust the portion of the tax money to be applied to property, and, "a larger portion of the pie could be used to keep property taxes down."

Under the proposed resolution, Altamonte Springs could receive up to $900,000 from the tax, Etchberger said. Seventy percent of the tax would be applied to property-tax reduction and "as much as 25 to 30 percent would come to the city as revenue."

Commissioner Dudley Bates said he fears the tax-generated revenue will filter down to other cities more heavily populated than Altamonte Springs.

If Nuked, Send The Old

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Survivors of a nuclear attack should send the old, instead of the young, for food and water to reduce the delayed effect of radiation cancer deaths, a government study recommends.

The Energy Department study was presented at a news conference Tuesday by the Gray Panthers, an activist organization for the aged, and the Center for Defense Information, an independent research group.

"One means of reducing the delayed (radiation) effect on the population is to reduce the exposure of the younger people," the study said.

"Older people will come to the end of their natural life spans before reaching the end of the risk plateau. Thus the same exposure may produce fewer total excess cancers in this group than within a younger segment of the population."

The news conference sponsors cited the study, published in the September issue of the periodical Health Physics, as "proof" the Reagan administration believes a nuclear war can be won and that there will be survivors.

Maggie Kuhn, national convener of the Gray Panthers and a delegate at the current White House Conference on the Aging, said the study shows the old would be sacrificed for the young in ensuring the survivability of those who lived through a nuclear war.

'We Need Room To Spread Out'

"I just feel the people need to have access to their elected officials and that we need room to spread some things out, make a few phone calls, meet with city residents and be able to throw a few office supplies somewhere and lock them up," Altamonte Springs Mayor Ray Ambrose said concerning a request for office space in City Hall for the City Commission and himself.

The request at Tuesday's commission meeting for the office space resulted in the commission's directing City Manager Jeff Etchberger to research the possibility of providing the office space while also alleviating some of the overcrowding currently existing with other city departments at City Hall.

"I was taken on a tour of City Hall before the commission meeting tonight by the city manager," Vice Mayor Lee Constantine said. "We are crowded. In past years people have been moved around so much that we don't even know where they are."

Constantine said he doesn't think the commission "deserves a full-time office, but if the space is available and if plans for expanding are being considered," he said, he would like to see some room made for a commission work area.

Etchberger asked the commission to allow him to draw up a study concerning adding office space into the lobby in the center of City Hall.

"We can get about three or four good-sized offices out there," he said. "And we need the space. Ideally, we want to keep supervisors together with their employees. We would like to move Jon Martin (community development director) to an office near his staff."

Martin is currently occupying the office formerly used by the commission and city staff as a conference-work area, Etchberger said.

"I'm not asking for an office for the mayor but a desk for the mayor," Ambrose said. "We are limiting our access by city residents in not having a fixed location."

According to Etchberger, "Ambrose spends approximately two to four hours per day at City Hall, Commissioner (Cheney) Colardo is in City Hall at least three times a week for several hours, Commissioner Constantine spends several hours every morning here, Commissioner (Bob) Reis is here a couple of times a week, and Commissioner (Dudley) Bates is too new for me to have figured out his set pattern."

Etchberger said it may be possible "at some cost to the city" to provide more space for current city staff members and the commissioners. He said he would report to the commission concerning the matter as soon as possible.

NATION IN BRIEF

Allen Cleared in 1 Probe; Still Focus Of Another

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Richard Allen has been cleared of any criminal wrongdoing for accepting a $1,000 "honorarium," but remains under investigation for receipt of two Japanese wristwatches and mistakes on his financial disclosure statement.

The Justice Department said Tuesday it was dropping its investigation of the national security adviser for accepting the $1,000 from Japanese journalists for arranging an interview last January with first lady Nancy Reagan.

Casey Gets Mixed Review

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Intelligence Committee found today that CIA Director William Casey is "not unfit to serve," but that he was "inattentive" to details in reporting past business affairs.

A committee source, who requested anonymity, said by comparison questions raised about the spy chief seemed more serious than those surrounding embattled national security adviser Richard Allen.

Jobs For Controllers?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is offering an olive branch to union leaders — a possible change in administration policy that would allow 11,400 fired air traffic controllers to get other federal jobs.

The White House said Reagan expressed that possibility Tuesday during a meeting with Teamsters union president Roy Lee Williams and will restate it today when he meets with AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland and leaders of the 15 million-member labor federation.

Natalie Wood Buried

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Today's burial services for actress Natalie Wood were kept private to spare her husband, actor Robert Wagner, who was reported in shock and "devastated with grief" over her tragic drowning death.

Close friends said the time and location of the services were known only to a few.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Polish Police, Troops Evict Striking Cadets

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Polish riot police and army troops backed by helicopters stormed a paramilitary academy today and evicted striking cadets, breaking up an eight-day occupation in the greatest use of force ever against the Independent Solidarity trade union.

The ejection followed a vow by Prime Minister Wojciech Jaruzelski to get tough with Solidarity, including the possibility of passing anti-strike legislation.

Moslem Bombers Kill 150

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — The death toll climbed today past 150 and was expected to go higher in the Sunday terrorist bombing by Moslem extremists opposed to President Hafez Assad, hospital sources said.

The bombing, the worst ever in Syria's history, was the most daring strike ever by the Moslem Brotherhood, the underground fanatic group which took responsibility for planting dynamite in a car that exploded on a busy street.

Arms Talks Start Slowly

GENEVA (UPI) — U.S. and Soviet arms control negotiators sealed themselves off in a gray-walled room fitted with anti-bugging devices for their first round of detailed talks on limiting intermediate-range nuclear missiles targeted in Europe.

After two hours and 40 minutes of negotiations Tuesday, the two sides declared a two-day break to consult with their governments on the opening positions in the arms controls negotiations. The negotiators will meet again Friday.

No Phony Figures, Please

To no one's surprise, Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev has flatly rejected President Reagan's offer to scrap plans to deploy 572 new U.S. missiles in Europe in exchange for the dismantling of some 600 Soviet missiles aimed at Western Europe.

Instead, Mr. Brezhnev put forth a modified version of the long-standing Soviet proposal for a freeze in European missile deployments. Because the Soviets have forged a huge lead in theater nuclear weapons, their formula would grant the Warsaw Pact a permanent nuclear superiority over NATO.

Moscow's transparent gambit is, of course, unacceptable to the Reagan administration. Nor does the Soviet ploy attract any sympathy from the major NATO allies; witness its blunt rejection by West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt.

Thus, the stage was set for what must surely prove to be protracted and difficult Soviet-American negotiations in Geneva.

Nothing underscores more dramatically how tortured these talks will be than Moscow's blatantly dishonest contention that NATO possesses "approximate parity" with the Warsaw Pact in theater nuclear weapons.

Mr. Brezhnev has said repeatedly in recent weeks that both sides have "about 1,000" intermediate-range nuclear weapons in Europe. Therefore, argue the Russians, the U.S.-NATO plan to deploy 108 Pershing II and 464 ground-launched cruise missiles in Western Europe beginning late next year represents an effort to achieve nuclear superiority in Europe.

The real figures yield the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact a 3-to-1 superiority in both intermediate-range missiles and bombers and in the nuclear warheads with which these weapons are armed.

Mr. Brezhnev and his number jugglers in the Kremlin justify their own fraudulent count by including everything NATO has, and some things it doesn't, and then excluding more than 3,000 intermediate range nuclear delivery systems that are part of the Warsaw Pact arsenal.

These staggering omissions-of-convenience include: 350 SS-12 land-based missiles capable of hurling one-megaton nuclear warheads as far west as Great Britain; roughly 2,500 Sukhoi and MiG fighter bombers expressly equipped to carry nuclear weapons; 57 SS-N-5 submarine-launched, intermediate-range nuclear missiles; 100 new SS-20 missiles; and 85 of the Soviet army's force of 260 SS-20 mobile, multiple-warhead missiles.

Even if less than half of the Soviet and Warsaw Pact fighter bombers were assigned nuclear missions, the total theater nuclear forces at Moscow's command would still outnumber those of NATO plus the non-NATO French nuclear forces by a margin of 3-to-1.

And inasmuch as the Soviets insist on counting all U.S. F-111 bombers and F-4 fighter bombers in Europe plus A-6 and A-7 attack aircraft on carriers in the Mediterranean as nuclear capable, there is no reason to exempt comparable Soviet planes in Eastern Europe.

There are, to be sure, other ways to compute the theater nuclear forces of both sides. None that would include all comparable weapons on either side shows anything other than a pronounced Soviet advantage. Indeed, if only land-based missiles of intermediate range — 1,000 miles to 3,500 miles — are included, the Soviets maintain a monopoly of 640 to none for NATO.

The U.S. Pershing II and ground-launched cruise missiles now being developed are designed to counter this ominous Soviet monopoly.

The Reagan administration is on utterly solid ground in refusing to negotiate away these new NATO missiles in exchange for a Soviet promise to dismantle 100 or so of their older missiles or aircraft.

Moreover, the U.S. negotiating team in Geneva will be wise to begin by insisting that all comparable weapons on both sides be counted in the bargain. Otherwise, any resulting agreement would be as fraudulent as Mr. Brezhnev's current count of theater nuclear weapons in Europe.

The Seminole County Health Department is looking for a "few good men and women" who can speak English and Haitian Creole fluently. Sounds like a tall order, but Community Health Services Director Bernice Duncan is optimistic that "somebody out there will volunteer."

Ms. Duncan said there is currently a need for interpreters to work with the Haitian people who are migrating into the Seminole County area.

"We feel there are more Haitian people here than we know about and that could be largely because of the language barrier," she said. "We need volunteers who can speak the language so we can find them and get medical attention to these people, if needed."

Ms. Duncan said the health department learned of 14 Haitians Friday who are living in Oviedo, through the Seminole Memorial Hospital staff.

"One of the Haitian women gave birth and we have an agreement with the hospital that whenever they are aware of a Haitian family they will notify us so we can offer them services as any other county resident is entitled to receive," she said.

Ms. Duncan said the problem the health department is currently dealing with is that when they learn of a family, oftentimes the family is "distrustful and thinks we're here for reasons other than medical." She said the Haitians are not questioned by nurses as to whether they are legal or illegal aliens.

"That's not our concern," she said. "Our concern is to ensure the residents of this county of public health. We need to be aware of any possibility of disease entering this area."

Ms. Duncan said Margaret Stickney, the county's tuberculosis nurse, is currently assigned to work with the Haitian residents.

"But, she needs help," Ms. Duncan said. "We need someone who can talk to the people, tell them what we need to tell them, ask them what we need to ask them and interpret their replies."

Ms. Duncan said the health department is trying to exercise a "little foresight, realizing with the influx of refugees into Florida, many may seek residence here. We want to be prepared but we need community support."

If you speak English and Haitian Creole and can volunteer some time to working with the health department in this endeavor, please call Bernice Duncan at 322-2724.

Zero Option Or Zilch?

Nobody has been taken by surprise.

The Soviets saw Ronald Reagan's "zero option" proposal to free Europe of the threat of both Soviet and American intermediate-range nuclear missiles coming. They were so far ahead of him, in fact, that at the start of November Leonid Brezhnev in a West German press interview discounted it as a calculatedly unrealistic substitute for serious arms-reduction talks.

And both the pre- and post-proposal Soviet rejections could be anticipated in Washington. The Soviets may be open to at least discussion on limitation of arms expansion, but they are on long record as having deep distaste for any scheme involving dismantling of weapons systems already in being.

Nevertheless, the mere proposing of "zero option" has run up the American point score impressively in the superpower game. The peace-seeking initiative has passed to the United States and the image of the Reagan administration as a hard-nosed, weapons-happy loudmouth in diplomatic discourse has for the moment at least been softened.

It is not the first time that an American president has taken the wind out of Soviet sails with a bold proposal.

Dwight Eisenhower did it even more dramatically at the 1955 four-power summit with his proposal for a complete American-Soviet exchange of information on military establishments and the opening of each country's skies to aerial reconnaissance by the other. The American purpose was, in Eisenhower's words, "to convince the world that we are providing as between ourselves against the possibility of great surprise attack, thus lessening danger and relaxing tension."

Almost precisely the expressed Reagan rationale a quarter of a century later.

There was one difference, however. Eisenhower did take by surprise a Soviet team who had pushed for the summit for their own reasons — to confirm the post-war division of Germany and recognition of themselves as Stalin's successors. Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev had not been prepared to be put on so public a spot as the nyet-sayers to a peace-promoting initiative of such powerful world appeal. They lost more than face, and the peace initiative stayed with the United States until the Vietnam War turned disastrously nasty.

The 1955 summit took place, coincidentally but historically appropriately, in Geneva, where American and Soviet representatives meet at the end of November in renewed bilateral discussions on arms control.

The Reagan proposal has given the United States a powerful opening position. Soviet rejection in advance has in no way diminished its usefulness in the bargaining to come.

But it is only that. An opener. American negotiators, with the world watching, must display a reasonableness and willingness to give and take on the vital details of arms limitation, including above all limited nuclear disengagement, or the initiative will be lost. The world, including that part of it with which we are allied, will dismiss "zero option" as zilch — a propaganda ploy.

But if full negotiating advantage is taken of the opportunity, in full knowledge that the Soviets will never accept the proposal itself, the initiative may not only be maintained but real progress on the arms problem made.

Further, the Reagan administration may do more than dress up its world image. It might even come to recognize that in the long run America's real strength lies not in mountains of weapons but in a vigorously free society.

Upgraded Rations: The Bugs Are Happy

WASHINGTON — Try to imagine the most expensive meal ever prepared: A Roman orgy in the hedonistic days of Caligula or Nero? Maybe a multi-course glut at Delmonico's for Diamond Jim Brady and his freebooting buddies?

The last thing anyone would think of is a combat ration intended for the U.S. Army's infantry grunts. Yet that seems to be the titleholder. Nothing's too good for our fighting men, and the Army has already spent at least $2 million for a meal of glorified C rations.

What makes this extravagance downright appalling is that, for all the years of effort and expense, the rations may well be eaten, not by soldiers, but by a voracious little beetle called Rhyssalus dominica.

Here's the story: Twenty years ago, the Army brass decided to improve on the standard canned meal — known in Pentagonese as MCI, for "Meal, Combat, Individual" — which is given to GIs who are too far forward to be fed by the company cooks. The new ration was to be known as MRE, for "Meal, Ready-to-Eat."

Unlike the canned rations of World War II, though, the MRE had to be compact and lightweight. So the Army's research laboratory at Natick, Mass. (NLAB), was ordered to develop a package that would be as tough as cans, but lighter.

The solution was to put the ration in plastic pouches. It would be twice as expensive, but the generals decided it was worth it.

According to an internal Pentagon audit, however, there were bugs in the pouches — literally. The MRE, as first proposed, "had a high potential for insect infestation," the Surgeon General warned.

The Natick scientists then designed a new container — a polymeric tub-like carton that was impervious to insect pests. In other words, a plastic can. Unfortunately, the little plastic tubs cost too much, even for Pentagon spenders. Back to the old drawing board.

By late 1979, the NLAB scientists produced another plastic container — a 10-to-12 mil polyethylene bag, several times sturdier than your average heavy-duty trash bag. It was easy to produce and far less costly than the plastic tubs. But, as the Pentagon auditors understated it, the little bag was "unproven against insect infestation."

The Pentagon was so enthusiastic over the lightweight ration that it went ahead anyway and began buying and preparing the meals before the package was perfected.

"During the procurement planning, and at the time of the initial buys, there was considerable evidence available . . . that the MRE was susceptible to pest infestation when stored in military warehouses," a Pentagon report noted.

Yet the generals laid out $100 million for the insect-taming rations. That was two years ago; it's not known how many of the ready-to-eat meals have come off the assembly line since.

This much is known, however: The plastic pouches are catnip to Rhyssalus dominica. A source at NLAB told my associate Lucette Lagarde the beetle has proved "100 percent successful" in penetrating the MRE package. The Natick scientists estimate it would cost millions of dollars more to make the combat ration invulnerable to Rhyssalus dominica. That's in addition to the $2 million already wasted developing the inadequate package.

FOOTNOTE: Fortunately, the Pentagon procurement poolheads showed a little common sense when they ordered the $100 million worth of new rations. They took the precaution of buying $80 million worth of good old reliable canned goods as well.

10 Percent Interest Rate?

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (NEA) — Does the local auto dealer collect 18 percent interest on loans made to buyers of new cars? Is the neighborhood furniture store imposing a 21 percent finance charge on installment sales of sofas and dinette sets?

Millions of consumers must somehow cope with household budgets distended by such inflation-fueled interest payments — but not consumers in Arkansas, where the maximum rate legally allowed on consumer loans is a strikingly low 10 percent.

Moreover, that bargain rate is locked into the state's 197-year-old constitution, where it has proven impervious to repeated assaults mounted during the past decade.

The anomalous situation here provides a unique forum for an always lively and seemingly endless public debate about the appropriate level of interest rates not only in Arkansas but also elsewhere in the country.

No fewer than 43 states last year raised or abolished previous interest rate limits, while other states have acted upon or are reviewing their laws this year.

In a dozen states, there now is no legal limit on the amount of interest that may legally be charged in connection with retail installment sales. In 29 other states, the high ceiling ranges from 20 percent of 45 percent.

Indiana law defines usury as the imposition of interest in excess of 72 percent, while the usury cutoff in New Mexico is 45 percent. Colorado allows 45 percent interest on home mortgages, with a 36 percent cap on small loans.

An effort to bring Arkansas into line through passage of a federal law that would take precedence over all state ceilings failed recently when a subcommittee of the House Banking Committee voted 8-1 to table the proposed legislation.

Similar federal "overrides" covering other types of loans have been approved by Congress in the past. Currently in force, for example, is a law that allows all federally insured banks and savings and loan associations to charge up to 14 percent on all consumer loans, including those made in Arkansas.

This state's consumers are receiving only

"superficial bargains," says Jim Guy Tucker, a lawyer and leading Democratic politician who last year was hired by a coalition of auto dealers, other retailers and bankers seeking to amend the interest rate provision in the state's 1894 constitution.

To offset the revenue loss induced by making cut-rate consumer loans, argues Tucker, retailers have been forced to raise prices, limit credit availability or turn to other cost-cutting techniques that adversely affect consumers.

But when the House subcommittee recently dispatched staff investigators to verify similar claims made by an outspoken retail merchant, they found that prices for many items in his Arkansas furniture store were actually lower than those charged at his outlet in neighboring Texas, where the interest rate ceiling is a more conventional 24 percent.

Bill Becker, head of the Arkansas AFL-CIO and a leading defender of the 10 percent rate, acknowledges that it is "an anachronism" but insists that "the bankers and the retailers are too greedy, they want too damned much."

"We don't have much to brag about here except our interest rate and our (University of Arkansas) football team," adds Becker. "I have yet to see compelling evidence that the interest rate is hurting the state's economic growth."

A 1974 attempt to convince the state's voters to amend the constitution was defeated by an overwhelming 5-1 margin, but a similar effort last year lost by a far more respectable 54-46 margin — and there is additional evidence to suggest that a scheduled 1982 vote may be even more successful.

None of the state's leading politicians dared to support the 1974 proposal, but last year's ballot proposition was endorsed not only by Tucker but also by outgoing Democratic Gov. Bill Clinton and incoming Republican Gov. Frank White.

"They're clever, they've got the money and maybe someday they'll prevail," concedes the AFL-CIO's Becker in referring to his opponents. "But in the meantime, the folks of Arkansas are better off than consumers elsewhere."

JEFFREY HART

Chuck Colson Letter

Voters in New York State recently rejected a proposed $500 million bond issue designed to build some 4,000 additional prison cells in the state. They rejected it despite the heavy support given it by Governor Hugh Carey, the New York Times, and most of the media.

The voters were wise. It is too early to say that the vote indicated any widespread skepticism about prisons; the voters probably thought that $500 million was a lot of money for what they would get for it, and instinctively rejected the idea of half a billion to house that small number of cons.

But skepticism about the whole premise of the prison system is making an appearance. It has been expressed in this column. Both conservative William Buckley and liberal Tom Wicker have called for a re-examination of the whole system and its assumptions. Both have noted that it costs more than $20,000 per year to keep a con in a cell, and both have wondered whether there isn't a better — and cheaper — way to handle felons who are not dangerous to the rest of society — such as public works plus a better parole system.

I now hear from an old friend knowledgeable on this subject, Chuck Colson, whose eyes were really opened when he went to jail over Watergate (in his case more precisely, over his role in the campaign against Daniel Ellsberg).

Colson is now the head of Prison Fellowship, a Christian ministry to prisoners, and he has spent a lot of time in a lot of prisons during the last several years. He writes: "I have been picking up from around the country copies of your super column on getting non-violent offenders out of prison. What we're doing now is absolutus madness."

"Up until now, criminal justice reform has been the exclusive business of liberal dogooders, the multi-billion dollar bureaucracy called prisons has gone virtually unchallenged and untouched."

"The result is a bureaucratic monster nearly out of control. As you know, about half the people in American prisons are there for non-violent offenses. They aren't violent when they go in, but they sure are by the time we get them out. The hope for change will be when people like you and me can articulate the case and reach our constituencies. That's why I'm so grateful for your column."

The unforgettable sentence in Colson's letter is: "They aren't violent when they go in, but they sure are by the time we get them out."

The historical irony there is almost too sharp to bear. Our "correctional system" is based on 18th-century theory which has turned out to be utopian.

The idea, back then, was that criminals are created by bad environment. Therefore, people like Jeremy Bentham and William Godwin reasoned, remove them from the bad environment and re-educate them — hence, "correctional institutions."

In actuality, the prisons — as Colson points out — put the convict in a worse environment, and educate him or her to violence; after such education the prisoner is released into our midst.

We could solve the problem of prison overcrowding very easily.

Non-violent cases, people who have embezzled or committed stock fraud, or passed bad checks, or stolen a car, or perjured themselves, should of course be punished. But not necessarily locked up, at our expense. They should be required to make restitution, if appropriate, pay a heavy fine and serve their time performing some public service at a subsistence salary. This sentence could be supervised by a reformed parole system.

All of this seems pretty obvious. All that remains is for the idea to get around.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Sir, may I remind you of the number of shopping days until Christmas and that we retail merchants are getting up-tight."

PEOPLE IN BRIEF

That's No Fair, She Knew The Plot

United Press International
Sep opera star Jennifer Kunyon (Sally Frame on "Another World") says she never was nervous making her movie debut in the horror movie "And to All A God Night!"
"I wasn't frightened at all," she says.
"Since I knew who was getting killed and who wasn't." The movie will be seen on NBC-TV around Christmas.

Bottoms On Broadway

Timothy Bottoms and Laraine Newman are the new stars of the Broadway comedy hit "Fifth of July."
Bottoms, star of the films "The Paper Chase" and "The Last Picture Show," plays the role of Kenneth Talley, which was originated by Christopher Reeve and also played by Richard Thomas.
Laraine was one of the original Not-Ready-For-Prime-Time-Players on "Saturday Night Live."
"Fifth of July," by Lanford Wilson, has played more than 40 performances.

If Di Had Disappeared

If Lady Diana Spencer had disappeared shortly before her glittering wedding to Prince Charles, he might have hired a substitute, and Australian barmaid winner of a Lady Di look-alike contest.
At last, that's the theme of a new play in London, "Her Royal Highness."
Authors Royce Rytton and Ray Cooney describe it as "an affectionate comedy."
Its characters include Queen Elizabeth, Charles and Diana, and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.
Actress Evi Lohman is a passable double for Lady Di, though she seems happier as the brazen barmaid with a thick Sydney accent and the vocabulary of a stevedore.

FP&L May Go To High Court For Rate Hike

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida Power & Light Co. will have to try to the state Supreme Court now if it's still intent on getting a $476 million rate increase.

The Public Service Commission Tuesday stuck by its September decision to grant the Miami-based utility a $257 million rate hike.

The five commissioners denied reconsideration motions by FP&L, which wants $476 million, and Public Counsel Jack Shreve, who contended $257 million was $10 million too much.

PSC staff had recommended a $75 million increase in the $257 million rate boost.

FP&L is likely to appeal to the Florida Supreme Court. Shreve also could appeal, but he probably won't do so. He has called the commission's decision to approve only $257 million of the F&L request a victory for consumers.

He petitioned for reconsideration only after FP&L had reopened the case before the PSC through its motion.

The five commissioners made a few minor changes in their September order, including approval of the pass-on to consumers of FP&L's dues for membership in a national utility organization, but the rates will remain the same.

The HC stood by two big policy decisions it had made in the FP&L case. It reaffirmed its decision not to charge FP&L customers for construction of a nuclear power plant in St. Lucie county until the facility begins operation in 1983 and not to grant FP&L extra revenues to keep its earnings up with inflation.

Shreve has called these changes in PSC policy on "construction work in progress" and "attrition" two big wins for the consumers.

FP&L had contended in the reconsideration motion that the $257 million increase was inadequate enough to hamper its ability to borrow much needed construction money and possibly jeopardize its bond rating.

Shreve had asked that $10 million be chopped from the rate increase and another $64 million be earmarked as refundable in case the company experienced greater federal tax savings than expected.

FP&L's average residential rate went up $3.88 when a $146 million interim rate hike was authorized by the commission early this year. The permanent rate hike, which included the interim boost, required another $4.88 rise in the average bill. Bills actually went up only 89 cents because of a reduction in FP&L's fuel adjustment charge made possible by recent fuel cost savings.

Parasites Still Used Medicinally

Take Two Leeches And Call Me In The Morning

CHICAGO (UPI) — Several times a day the phone rings at Sargent's Drugstore from people in search of blood suckers. The answer is always the same: "No, I'm sorry we're all out of leeches."

Tucked under the "L" tracks in Chicago's Loop, Sargent's stocks apothecary delights such as wood betony leaves, Singapore patchouly oil and wahoo leaves.

But recently it changed ownership and out went the parasites, which had been on the store's shelves for nearly a century. Calls for them keep coming through — and the new owner, Glen Balas, is determined to bring the critters back.

"They're used mainly by people from the old country," said Clifford Fischer, a Sargent's clerk. "And they're used for headaches, circulation problems and tension."

The heyday of medicinal leeches occurred in the 1850s. Some people were known to have covered their bodies with as many as 80 a day.

Russians are still big on leeches. Doctors used them on Stalin before he died in 1953. And they were still being cultivated in the Soviet Union at least through the last decade.

They're used for headaches, circulation problems and tension.'

Other big leech customers are eastern and southern Europeans. In fact, Sargent's imported leeches come from remote wildlife areas in southern Europe.

Doctors in France's Bordeaux area have prescribed leeches for certain plastic surgery patients suffering from blood clots. The French doctors also use leeches after skin transplants and to help save fingers lost in accidents.

Surgeons, with the aid of a microscope, can restore blood circulation by sewing together the tiny artery within the finger. However, the smallest of veins cannot be repaired and the blood leaks into the finger, clotting and hindering the healing process.

The leeches are applied to the end of the finger twice a day to draw blood, allowing the reimplanted finger to form new blood vessels.

At $10 a leech, it's an expensive remedy. And an imported one from Europe.

"American leeches are no good," said clerk Fischer. "The leeches we stock suck up to a half of an ounce of blood in a half hour. Some swell up to the size of a hotdog."

India's Famed Taj Mahal Is Threatened By Pollution

AGRA, India (UPI) — Every day the auto-rickshaw driver Amin deposits tourists in front of the towering red sandstone gateway to the Taj Mahal, the symbol of India's heritage.

"This is India's pride. Tourists from all over the world come to see the Taj," the 35-year old Amin declares proudly. From the red gateway crowned by domed kiosks the Taj rises at the far end of the garden pathway mirrored by a reflecting pool.

Threatening this 17th century mausoleum built for Mumtaz Mahal, "the chosen one of the harem," are cancerous-like air pollutants that are eating away at sections of its gleaming marble.

Damage is already "pretty serious," said Ram N. Mirdha, a member of India's parliament and president of the private Indian Heritage Society.

Industrialization in Agra, a city of more than half a million people located 123 miles from the capital of New Delhi, has unleashed sulphuric oxide pollutants that have damaged not only the Taj Mahal but other historical monuments as well.

"We now are at a stage of industrial buildup in India," Mirdha said in an interview, "and to protect the Taj and other national monuments safety measures must be implemented to combat pollution."

Old age, monsoon rains and scorching heat are natural causes also plaguing the Taj, completed in 1642 by 20,000 workers hired by Shah Jahan. Despondent over the death of his wife, who died at the age of 37 giving birth to their 14th child, he ordered the Taj built as a lasting memorial.

The building has been damaged by air pollutants emitted from three main sources — two coal-fueled power stations, Agra's railway shunting yard where steam locomotives belch coal smoke 24 hours a day, and hundreds of small foundries using coal for fuel.

Mixed with rain, the coal smoke becomes an "acid rain," Mirdha explained. Falling on the bulbous dome of the Taj it develops into a "cancer of the stone which is gradually eating it away. It's a chemical reaction that can do anything."

Other heritage showpieces in the ancient city being damaged by acid rain include the Red Fort (built in 1574) and the mausoleum of Akbar, ruler of the Moghal empire from 1556 to 1605.

The pollutants are causing some sections of the Taj to lose their pure white glow, replaced by a gray or brownish tone. The acid rain also is causing flaking on the sandstone structure of the Red Fort.

The government of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi finally acted to save the Taj following a hue and cry from the Indian Heritage Society and other concerned people over the construction of an oil refinery about 30 miles from Agra. The conservationists rightly argued that pollutants from the refinery would hasten the deterioration of the Taj.

Mirdha went to the Prime Minister to convince her that protective measures needed to be implemented immediately.

"The Prime Minister is very much alive to this problem," Mirdha said in commenting on his meeting with Mrs. Gandhi. "She is very much concerned about what is happening to the Taj."

The government induced the two power stations to close by promising to provide Agra city with additional electrical power. The government-owned railway was ordered to switch to diesel engines in the Agra shunting yard.

But the numerous foundries "continue to present a lot of problems," Mirdha said. The government is conducting studies to determine the feasibility of the foundries converting to natural gas as an energy source.

Regarding the oil refinery which is due to begin production later this year, Mirdha said the latest technology will be used to remove most of the harmful pollutants emitted from the plant.

Also, monitors will be put up around the plant and the Taj to determine the pollution count in the air.

A government official in the department of culture said the plant will be ordered closed if the monitors show the emission of pollutants is above safety levels and remain closed until the pollutants dissipate to an acceptable standard, or there is a shift in the wind direction away from the Taj.

"The Taj is the showpiece of our human heritage," the official said. "We are taking preventive measures. Why should we wait for further damage?"

Georgia Becoming The Place For Location Film Making

ATLANTA (UPI) — Northwest Georgia theaters were packed every night for both showings of "When the Lights Went Out in Georgia" even though the movie never made the major theaters in Atlanta. The reason for the big turnout: "Some of my friends are in it," one patron said while waiting in a line that snaked several yards down the sidewalk. Georgia is increasingly becoming the location for filming movies and television programs. Georgia officials claim the state now ranks third behind California and New York in the amount of money spent on filmmaking. A claim also made by Florida and Texas. "We're No. 1 in location filming, second only to New York and Hollywood," said Ed Spivia, director of the State Film Office. "In initial production last year, we had 27 feature films or TV movies and the year before we had 28. We run nip and tuck with Texas and Florida, but we're ahead of them. Spivia said 175 film crews had spent about $400,000 in Georgia since 1972 — one fourth of that amount was spent last year alone. "Within a short distance of Atlanta, you can have raging streams, mountains, marshes and ocean. We have a modern city and the old world charm of Savannah," Spivia said. "All that Texas and Florida have is a lot of sand. We also have better technical facilities, architecture and air service." Perhaps more than anyone, actor and director Burt Reynolds has boosted the state's role in the film industry by using Georgia as a location for such box office hits as "Deliverance," "The Longest Yard," the "Smokey and the Bandit" films and, most recently, "Sharkey's Machine." Among other movies filmed in Georgia are "Hopscotch," "Little Darlings," "Conrack," "Buster and Billie" and "Four Seasons."

Valenzuela Whips Raines For BWAA NL Rookie Award

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fernando Valenzuela, the Mexican left-hander who last month became the first rookie ever to win the Cy Young Award, added another laurel today by being selected the 1981 National League Rookie of the Year.

NL Baseball

received votes.

The points were totaled on a 5-3-1 basis, with five points being given for a first-place vote. One voter split his first-place ballot between Valenzuela and Raines and named no one for second-place. Each player received four points from that ballot.

The result gave the Dodgers their third straight top rookie. Rick Sutcliffe captured the award in 1979 and Steve Howe in 1980. Since the institution of the award in 1947, Dodger players have captured the honor 10 times, far more than any other club.

Valenzuela compiled a 13-7 mark with a 2.48 ERA and led the league with eight shutouts, 11 complete games, 180 strikeouts and 192 1-3 innings. He began the season with a string of eight straight victories, five of them shutouts.

In the post-season, Valenzuela went 1-0 in the mini-playoffs and 1-1 in the NL playoffs, including a victory in the fifth

Valenzuela, whose screwball illuminated the strike-torn season and helped turn the World Series in favor of the Los Angeles Dodgers, received 17 1/2 of 24 first-place votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Association of America to outdistance Montreal Expos speedster Tim Lincecum.

Valenzuela totaled 107 votes while Raines, who appeared on target for a single-season stolen base record until the strike and injuries intervened, garnered 6 1/2 first-place nods for a total of 85 points.

New York third baseman Hubie Brooks was third with 8 1/2 points while Cincinnati right-hander Bruce Berenyi and San Diego second baseman Juan Bonilla finished in a tie for fourth. Pittsburgh catcher Tony Pena and New York center fielder Mookie Wilson also and deciding game against Montreal. Then with the Dodgers trailing 2-0 in the World Series, Valenzuela hurled a complete game triumph against New York despite having only sub-par stuff.

In one of the closest Cy Young votes ever, Valenzuela, of Sonora, Mexico, nipped Cincinnati's Tom Seaver by three votes.

Raines, 22, became a sensation for the Expos with his base-stealing exploits. Despite missing 54 games because of the strike and another 22 with injury, Raines still stole 71 bases, a rookie record.

Raines had hit .304, had stolen 50 bases in 56 attempts and was well on his way to challenging Lou Brock's single-season record of 118 when the strike hit on June 12.

Tipoff Classic Tonight

Greg Gets His 'Way' Colonial Trips Tribe

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

ORLANDO — In the end, Greg had his way. Which, was natural, since his name is Greg Way.

Colonial High's 6-3 guard snapped a 50-50 deadlock with just 2:06 remaining Tuesday night to lift the Grenadiers past Sanford, 57-50, in the season opening basketball game for both schools.

Tonight, Coach Bill Payne's young Seminoles take on another tough Metro school — Winter Park — in the first round of the Tipoff Classic Invitational at Winter Park High School. Game time is 7 p.m.

"Way took charge when they needed a bucket," pointed out Payne about the Tuesday night encounter. "He was the difference. That's what a senior guard does for you."

Colonial coach Zeke Kinney agreed. "Greg made the big basket," said Kinney, whose Grenadiers were picked to win the Metro Conference this year by a coaches poll. "That was the ball game."

The Grenadiers appeared ready to put the ball game away much earlier when they went to a tough, 1-3-1 halfcourt trap which blew a narrow 13-11 game into a 35-23 bulge at halftime.

"We knew it was coming," Payne said about the second-quarter trap. "We worked on it all week, but we just didn't handle it. We panicked and didn't try to penetrate the middle."

The Tribe started the game in a 2-1-2 zone defense to combat the Grenadiers huge size advantage. Colonial, despite missing 6-4 Jose Diaz, who failed to run the mile under six minutes and wasn't allowed to suit out, had 6-9 Barry Sullivan and 6-4 Dan Walker on the front line.

Colonial seized a 18-11 edge in a sloppy first quarter in which Sanford was hampered by eight turnovers — four of which were traveling calls by the usually reliable Richard Grey.

In quarter two, junior Calvin "Kiki" Bryant and senior guard Marvin Butler hit buckets to pull Seminoles within 22-21. The trap, however, took effect after that and six points by Sullivan — one of which was a rousing slam dunk — helped Colonial to go up by 12 at intermission.

Seminole hit 9-of-20 first half shots, but turned it over 12 times. Bryant was superb with 12 points, eight coming in the first quarter when the 6-1 sharpshooter hit from all angles.

Seminole

trap more," surmised Kinney about his successful second-quarter strategy. "But I was afraid of foul trouble. When they get it in the middle against Sullivan, it's 'hack city.'"

Payne was satisfied with his young club's first outing. "I was happy with the comeback," he said. "I thought we really did a good job. It hurt us when Torie (Hendricks) got in foul trouble."

"We couldn't press as much or as well as we wanted without him. But the kids (Mitchell and Gilchrist) did a good job. We're going to be okay," Payne concluded.

SANFORD (50): Gray 4, Butler 7, Hendricks 4, Detreville 2, Gilchrist 2, Bryant 18, Smith 7, Mitchell 6. Totals: 17 16-24 50.

COLONIAL (57): Taylor 0, Feeser 6, Wheeler 6, Leighton 0, Brantley 0, Walker 10, Martin 2, Way 15, Sullivan 18. Totals: 25 7-10 57.

Halftime: Colonial 35, Sanford 23. Fouls: Sanford 12, Colonial 20. Fouled out: Hendricks, Feeser.

Alexander Hits 24, JVs Fall, 69-63

Despite 24 points by sophomore guard Steve Alexander, the Seminole junior varsity dropped its opening game to Colonial, 69-63.

Alexander threw in 12 first-quarter points as the Tribe jumped to a 19-16 edge. Colonial, however, fought back to trail by just one, 29-28, at halftime.

"Alexander was awesome the first quarter," coach Tom Smith said about his blond-haired gunner. "But they came out hotter than a firecracker in the third quarter. We just ran out of gas."

The JVs pulled within 53-49 with 6:03 to play on three straight blocks by forward William Wynn, a basket by forward Tom Stiffey and another by point guard Steve Grey.

Colonial, nevertheless, pulled away by breaking the Tribe press in the final four minutes. Wynn had 10 points and five blocked shots for the night. Ike Walker and Stiffey each had eight points.

Dennis Lytle with 25 and Noel Wells with 16 paced the Grenadiers who are 2-1 for the year. Seminole is 0-1 and will play Evans next Wednesday.

'I'm Kind Of Surprised'

Huskers' Rimington Claims Outland

NEW YORK (UPI) — Junior center Dave Rimington of the University of Nebraska has been named winner of the 1981 Outland Trophy as the outstanding lineman in college football.

A 6-foot-2, 283-pounder from Omaha, Neb., Rimington is only the second center and the third junior ever to win the award, which has been presented annually for 36 years by the Football Writers Association of America.

Jim Richter of North Carolina State (1979) is the only other center to win the award and defensive end Ross Browner of Notre Dame (1978) and defensive tackle Zeke Smith of Auburn (1956) were the only other juniors to win the trophy.

"I'm kind of surprised," Rimington said. "I didn't expect myself to win. I figured there were seniors who were more deserving of it. I'm just very happy with it."

College Football

"I woke up this morning and I never expected anything like this to happen. I was surprised, but the whole year has been a surprise. I'm still shocked."

Kenneth Sims of Texas, a 6-5, 270-pound defensive tackle, and Roy Foster of Southern California, a 6-4, 265-pound guard, were the only other linemen to receive votes for the Outland Trophy.

Rimington guided Nebraska to its first undisputed Big Eight Conference championship since 1971 and became the first lineman ever to win the UPI Big Eight Player of the Year Award.

"He's the best center we've ever had," said Nebraska coach Tom Osborne, who has coached some pretty good ones during his years with the Cornhuskers. "When you combine strength (school-record 650-pound squat lift), quickness (5.0 in the 40) and intelligence (3.24 grade point average in business), I haven't seen a better one.

"I think he played awfully well this season. But he played awfully well as a sophomore, too. The center position is as difficult a spot as there is to play on the line and he has mastered it. And he played this season on a knee that will probably have to be operated on sometime after the season. Nobody's perfect — but Dave is a great player."

Coach Chuck Fairbanks of Colorado was even more praiseworthy of Rimington's talent.

"Rimington is the most dominant football player I've seen in college football since I've returned to the game," said Fairbanks, who just completed his third year as the head coach of Colorado.

College Basketball

not satisfied. He felt Notre Dame was disadvantaged with Bill Varner and Tim Andree not a full strength.

"I wish they could have played with Varner and Andree healthy," Knight said. "There's no better guard around than (John) Paxson. They play hard."

Especially in the early going, when the Irish were in command.

"We played well the first 12 minutes," Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps said. "Then we had some defensive lapses that led to some quick scores. Offensively, we just didn't execute."

Paxson, lethal from long range, finished with 24 points and Varner added 10 for the Irish. For Indiana, the freshman starters were John Flowers, who had 11 points, West German center Uwe Blab, Dan Dakich and Winston Morgan. Jim Thomas, the junior playmaker, also started. Elsewhere in the Top 20, No. 8 DePaul crushed Chicago Circle 78-43, No. 13 Georgia defeated Florida State 60-47 and No. 15 Missouri blasted Alcorn State 82-51.

At Rosemont, Ill., in a game pitting father against son, Terry Cummings scored 18 of his 20 points in the first half to carry DePaul. The victory marked the start of DePaul Coach Ray Meyer's 40th season and came against his son, Circle Coach Tom Meyer.

At Tallahassee, Fla., Dominique Wilkins scored 20 points in Georgia Coach Hugh Durham's first coaching appearance in Tallahassee since leaving Florida State three years ago.

At Columbia, Mo., Jon Sundvold and Steve Stipanovich combined for 26 points as Missouri won its 20th straight at home and provided Coach Norm Stewart with his 250th victory in 13 years at the Big Eight school.

Disgusted Knight Turns To Frosh, Hoosiers Roll

By United Press International
How disgusted is Bobby Knight? After Indiana's first game of the season last weekend, a 71-44 victory over Miami of Ohio, the Hoosiers' coach said: "I'm sorry they didn't win. As a basketball fan, of sorts, I always root for the team that executes better."

On Tuesday night, Knight did some execution of his own. He left his veterans on the bench for the opening tip and started four freshmen.

So with his experienced hands sufficiently shaken, the 11th-ranked Hoosiers rolled to a 69-55 victory over Notre Dame.

Indiana, down by 8 points in the first half, put it to the Irish thanks to 22 points by Ted Kittrell and 13 by Randy Wittman — all in the second half.

Ahead 26-23 at the half, the Hoosiers went on a 12-4 burst with 10 minutes remaining to lead 44-33. They stretched the lead to as many 17 points.

But Knight, ever the iron master, was

Crooms Opens Season Against Howell Tonight

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Cochair Chris Marlette's Crooms Panthers open the 1981-82 basketball season at home tonight with a 6:30 contest against Keith McAuley's Lake Howell Silver Hawks.

Last year Marlette's freshman had a spectacular 18-2 season which included the championship trophy in the Seminole Sunrise Kiwanis Freshman Basketball Tournament. The Panthers lost two games—both to Ocala Vanguard—by a total of four points.

The 18 victories improved Marlette's four-year Crooms record to 76-17. The former Sanford Naval Academy skipper, however, feels it will be tough to duplicate last year's log.

"We're not as big and our guards aren't as quick," points out Marlette. "But they've been working real hard and we'll fastbreak a lot again."

FORWARD

Panthers

This figures to be the Panthers strongest area. Marlette is grooming 5-11 Donald Grayson to replace departed William Wynn at power forward.

Grayson, like Wynn, is a strong rebounder and a good shot blocker. At the other forward, and sometimes at center, will be 6-0 James Rouse.

"James is probably our best all-around player," said Marlette. "He and Grayson both have great potential to be good ones." Fred Brinson is another solid forward.

CENTER

Rouse and 6-0 Ken Gordon will alternate here. Gordon is considered a strong rebounder by Marlette. He will receive help from 5-10 Anthony Hall who will throw his 190 pounds around inside.

GUARD

Marlette has four guards he plans on alternating. Brian Brooks is an excellent ballhandler and will be complemented by Rod Alexander, Jo Jo McCloud and Sam Redding.

RESERVE

Clifton Campbell, Robert Peoples and Brian Debose will provide the depth for this year's Panthers.

Lakers Silence Jazz, 117-86

Jabbar Sky Hooks In History Book

By United Press International

With one long, sweeping arc of his left arm, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar made basketball history Tuesday night.

Jabbar's left-handed sky hook with 3:54 remaining in the first quarter gave him 7 points in the game against Utah and 26,711 in his 13-year career, surpassing Oscar Robertson to become the second-leading scorer in NBA history.

Following his 14-point performance in a 117-86 victory over the Jazz, Jabbar has 1,701 points shy of Will Chamberlain's all-time record.

Another record of sorts may have been established Tuesday night — the Lakers limited the Jazz to 5 points in the second quarter. Although the official NBA guide keeps no statistics of that nature, it was believed to be the lowest team output for a quarter in league history.

Pro Basketball

Utah made only 2-of-13 field goal attempts in the quarter and 1-of-4 free throws while committing 11 turnovers.

Jabbar's contract, reportedly worth $1.1 million a year, runs through next season and the 34-year-old center has not decided whether to continue playing when it expires. He will need about 2½ seasons to reach Chamberlain's mark, which was accomplished in 14 years.

"I've been thinking about that a lot recently," he said. "There's no telling what I will do. I still feel motivated to play and I still have my health. It will be a season-to-season decision."

Suns 117, Clippers 94

At Phoenix, Truck Robinson, after missing one game with tonsillitis, returned to the lineup to score 25 points, dish off 7 assists and pull down 10 rebounds for Phoenix. Kyle Macy had 23 points and 10 rebounds and Alvan Adams added 21 points and 7 assists for the Suns.

Trail Blazers 121, Nuggets 113

At Denver, Calvin Natt scored 19 of his 30 points in the second half to help Portland snap Denver's five-game winning streak. Dan Issel scored 34 points to lead the Nuggets.

SuperSonics 103, Bulls 87

At Seattle, Gus Williams scored 25 points and Lonnie Shelton contributed 19 for the Sonics. Chicago, which lost for the fifth time in seven games, was led by Reggie Theus with 20 points.

Dolphins' Defense Makes Cliff Eat Kentucky Bucket Of Crow

Everybody hates to eat crow—especially on a sporting proposition. But my Monday night crow was mighty tasty, and I could eat a Kentucky bucket of it. I had predicted an easy EAGLE win, but the underdog DOLPHINS showed the same aggressive defense that marked their first three games of the season, and they humbled the mighty EAGLES.

Cliff Nelson

Football Prognosticator

BROWNS have on the road. The overall offenses of the teams are tied, each having averaged 18 points per game, but the OILERS have a 7 point home field advantage. The BROWNS have a 1 point per game better defense, and have scored an average 2 points better than the OILERS against common enemies.

Both teams have played erratically this year, each having lost some easy ones and each having won against improbable odds — such as the CLEVELAND CLIFFHANGER win over the 49ers two weeks ago.

There are upset indicators, and this game could go either way, but I give the nod to the HOUSTON home crowd by 2 points.

Admittedly, it was a sloppy game at times, marked by quarterback and coaching mistakes on both sides that sometimes bordered on the comic. In the fourth quarter clutch, however, MIAMI's backup quarterback Don Strock and the entire MIAMI defense combined for a brilliant final seven minutes that enabled the DOLPHINS to catch up, pass the EAGLES on the scoreboard, and stay there.

The playoffs go, since both teams are five games behind CINCINNATI in the AFC EASTERN DIVISION. It should be a good game, nevertheless, since both teams have statistics that are fairly close.

The OILERS index out a meager 2 points ahead of the BROWNS, and have a 7 point better offense at home than the

The DOLPHINS should now be able to ride high on this victory and win their final three over NEW ENGLAND, KANSAS CITY, and BUFFALO to end up 11-4-1 in either a technical tie with the JETS or one game ahead. In either event, this victory definitely puts them in a favorable spot for the playoffs.

They have now hurdled the biggest rock in the road, and now have to concentrate on not stubbing a toe on the smaller rocks.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Williams, Underwood Pace Rams To Frosh Cage Title

Lake Mary's George Williams scored 16 points and Scott Underwood added 10 as the Ram freshmen whipped Lake Brantley, 50-42, to take the First Lake Brantley Freshman Tournament in Altamonte Springs.

In the consolation game, Bishop Moore ripped St. Cloud, 56-36.

The Rams trailed at halftime, 23-22, but broke open a small lead by outscoring the Patriots, 12-5, in the third quarter.

"We played a little defense and got some rebounds," said coach Don Smith. "Bobby Counts and Kevin Hill did a good job on the boards, while Ken Alloway and Rod Metz applied the pressure defensively."

Raiders' Teams Play Tonight

Coach Joe Sterling's Seminole Community College basketball Raiders entertain Indian River Community College tonight at 7:30 looking for their sixth victory.

SCC, 5-1, dropped Florida College last Tuesday to atone for its lone setback—to the same Falcons at Temple Terrace—back on Nov. 24.

Arthur "A.J." Jackson is currently the Raiders hottest player. The former Boone product has moved into the starting lineup opposite forward Bruce McCray.

McCray, a member of Seminole Bill Payne's 31-3 semifinalist in state play two years ago, is joined by another Sanfordite—6-7 Reggie Butler—in the pivot.

Swift guards Eric Ervin and Travis Filer complete the starting unit for the Raiders.

While the men cagers entertain Indian River, coach Ileana Gallagher's women take a trip to Ft. Pierce to open their season against Indian River.

Gallagher's front line will include 5-11 Nancy Ginzinski and 6-0 Tina Dragalin at the forwards along with 6-0 Debra Dyer at center.

The guards will be composed of 5-4 Mary King, 5-4 Sherry King or 5-6 Mindy Patrick.

County Wrestlers Hit Mats

Seminole High wrestling coach Scott Sherman will roll out the mat against Leesburg tonight at 6:30 for junior varsity and varsity grappling matches.

Sherman returns five lettermen from last year with junior Vince Clark (128) leading the way. He is joined by Tony Williams (134), Nate Woodgett (140), Mike Thorman (167) and Gary Gonterman (185).

Elsewhere in the county, Skip Pletzer's Lyman wrestlers travel to Orlando to take on Colonial at 6:30 p.m. for a pair of matches.

Six returnees gloss the Greyhounds roster. Jay Hunziker (121), Juwan Lee (114), Joey Lockwood (128), Cory Stanley (140), Curt Schuster (147) and Jeff Brannen (UNL) are the Lyman veterans.

Another returnee—senior Todd Andrew who placed second in the state meet last year at 149 pounds—is currently sidelined with a broken wrist.

Also tonight, Ken Carpenter's Lake Brantley squad takes on West Orange.

Rams Kick Seminole, 12-0

The Lake Mary junior varsity soccer team opened its first season ever Tuesday with a decisive victory over the Seminole of Sanford, 12-0, at Lake Mary.

The Seminole setback was due largely to the fact that some team members had only joined the team a few days before the first game, and their practice time was at a minimum.

Andre Sanders was the leading scorer for Lake Mary with four goals, including a hard shot from the left side of the Seminole goal from close to 15 yards out. Tribe goalie Rob Cohen was unable to make the save in time.

Co-captain Mark Volchko kicked in four goals for the Rams, and Don Kelly contributed two to the effort. Jay Sapp and David Andreon each added one.

The Seminoles will play their second game against the Apopka Blue-Darters at Apopka this Friday at 3 p.m., while Lake Mary travels to Lyman at 12 noon Saturday.

Schwartz Leads Lady Rams To 46-38 Victory

Christian Clamps Lake Mary In Opener

By BRENT SMARTT
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary's junior varsity Rams opened their first basketball season Tuesday night in what coach Willie Richardson hopes will be the beginning of a very bright future of hoop tradition.

Although the younger Rams dropped a 62-51 decision to older Lakeland Christian, Richardson was encouraged by what he saw from his team.

"I guarantee we'll give some people some trouble after Christmas," predicted Richardson. "Right now, we're only going with seven people and they just wore us down."

"Give us some time to get in shape and we'll be tough." Three of Richardson's five starters come from the Rams football team.

Lake Mary, using a strong press and the excellent inside play of Darryl Merthie, hung close in the first half and trailed 33-31 at intermission.

That margin was shortlived, however, when Christian center Steven Roderick and forward Pat Smith hit a series of short jump shots to boost Lakeland's lead to 31 points.

This lead held up throughout the second half as both teams exchanged buckets and sat back in zone defenses.

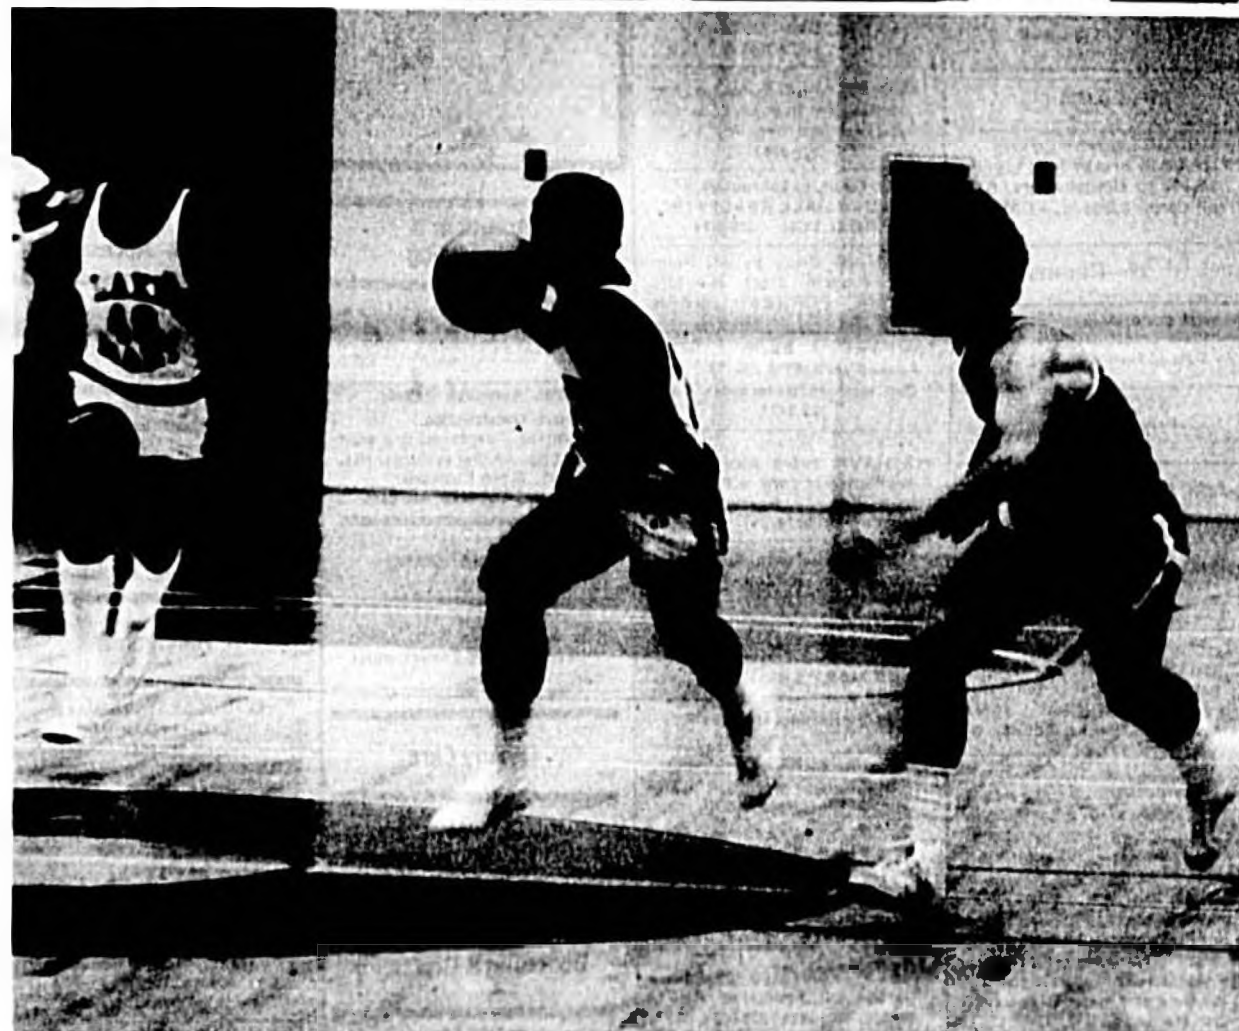

Merthie fired in 16 points and collected 10 rebounds in his first taste of high school competition. Sophomore Fred Miller was next with 12 points. Sophomores Kyle Frakes and Neal Wellon added eight points each.

Christian placed four players in doubles figures with Smith leading the way with 14. Roderick dropped in 12.

Lake Mary's Michelle Schwartz (right) pops in one of her 23 points Tuesday during the Lady Rams 46-38 victory over Lakeland Christian. Schwartz also had 18 rebounds for Lake Mary. Below, sophomore guard Fred Miller leads the fastbreak as freshman center Darryl Merthie (left) fills the lane. Merthie scored 16 points and collected 10 rebounds, but the Rams lost to Christian.

There Is No Time For Fun In Once-Thriving Libya

TRIPOLI, Libya (UPI) — It was early evening and Ahmed, at the "bar" of the beach hotel, was drinking bitter green tea. The "bar" does not serve hard drinks, banned in this "People's Jamahiriyah," as Libya calls itself.

Ahmed is a 25-year-old state employee. His hair is long, he wears blue jeans and has a fancy gold chain around his neck. Talking to him and others of his generation was an experience in its own.

Gazing at the blue Mediterranean outside the "bar," Ahmed spoke of the sin in which the rest of the world was living and was upset when asked what he did for entertainment after work.

"This is not the time for fun," he said. "We are building a country. We have no time for fun."

"The leader of our revolution, Col. Moammar Khadafy, says we should all join in building our new popular society ... He is busy building, and so are we," Ahmed said.

Once a thriving north African Arab country, Libya after 11 years of Khadafy has turned into a dull community of juvenile revolutionaries.

There is no private enterprise. The only property people own is their house and car.

"Private enterprise means one person making a profit at the expense of the others," Ahmed said. "This is wrong, and that is why you see no merchants."

Khadafy has gradually transformed his nation of 2 million into one large "commune." Community shopping centers have replaced small private shops.

All import licenses have been revoked, and only the state can import, everything from meat to shaving cream. And there is no parliament — not in the traditional sense, at least.

The country functions by the dictums of the "green book," which Khadafy wrote and dubbed the "final solution to the problem of the instrument of governing."

A 120-page document which forms the basis of Libyan everyday life, it prescribes solutions to the "problems" of democracy and socialism. It describes parliaments as a "misleading solution to the problem of democracy."

Khadafy has abolished all forms of traditional government — there are no government ministries, just "popular committees" — and Ahmed said "this was the best thing that has ever happened to our country."

"We are all parts of this society and we are all responsible," he said. "We all represent ourselves and no one can speak on our behalf. We have no political parties because, as the green book says, the party is the latest dictatorial instrument."

Khadafy also has abolished wages. The slogan "partners, not wage workers," is everywhere in Tripoli. Ahmed, like the other 2 million Libyans, is a partner.

And as partners no Libyan can work as a domestic servant, waiter, shoeshiner, or any other line of work in which production is not involved.

Khadafy's "green book" says "wage-workers are a type of slave, however improved their wages may be." He also says "domestic servants, paid or unpaid, are a type of slave."

At the Beach Hotel the waiters are Turks, the rooms are cleaned by Sudanese and the hotel switchboard is manned by an Egyptian. Western diplomats say there are as many as 500,000 non-Libyans, including 5,000 British, nearly 2,000 Americans and several thousand Italians employed in the oil and other industries.

As a true revolutionary, Ahmed had an explanation for everything, from the rows of closed shops to the ban on private enterprise. He is happy under the new system, which he says has given him all he needs. But he had little explanation for the country's low average incomes.

"I get 150 dinars ($525) per month for my participation in the people's information committee," Ahmed said. He also gets a house and a car.

"This is a lot," he said. "What do I do with more?" He had a point.

With private enterprise out, hundreds of shops are closed — waiting for the neighborhood committee to group them into community centers.

The few cinemas in Tripoli show "revolutionary" films. Travel outside the country is restricted and, if allowed, a Libyan can take only $500 out with him.

"A Libyan is entitled to a car, and he can take his time to pay for it," Ahmed said. "A monthly installment of $25 is more than adequate."

The banks pay no interest — "It is against Islam" — and thus do little or no business, at least with Libyans.

"We have liberated ourselves from all forms of traditionalism. We are free. We are members of the same society, a community which shares everything and has abolished unemployment," Ahmed said.

But the "salesman" at a man's shop cares little if 10 or 100 suits are sold — or none. He gets his $525 a month from the neighborhood cooperative regardless of the number sold.

"It is only barbers who have escaped the new system, and they are very expensive," Ahmed said. "But they, too, will be communized soon."

Cook Of The Week

Book Report Led Student Straight To The Kitchen

By LOU CHILDERS
Herald Correspondent

Twelve-year old Michael McCaskill, has been putting around the kitchen of his Lake Mary home since he was 8. In four years, he has cooked a lot of cookies, cakes and candy — the field of his culinary expertise — at least for now.

Two "light bulbs" came on for Michael when he was a student in Roger Eastman's fifth grade class at Lake Mary Elementary School two years ago.

After receiving a book report assignment from Mr. Eastman, Michael walked away from the library with a choice book — a cookbook. While reading it, the first "light bulb" was suddenly turned on for him as he discovered that you didn't have to buy a box mix to bake a cake — it could be done from scratch.

Rushing home from school that afternoon, Michael shared his new-found secret with his Mom, Barb McCaskill, who replied, "I know!"

Michael decided to bake and decorate a cake as part of his book report — an idea that won him favor with his classmates and his teacher. When the report was taken to school, the second "light bulb" was turned on as he learned cooking could be profitable as well as fun.

Michael's fifth grade classmates will also remember enjoying a second cake he decorated for their end-of-the-year party. It was a large, round yellow cake made from scratch, decorated with a smiling sun and the inscription, "Have A Super Summer." Michael's busy family life centers around his parents, Jerry, a surveyor with Disney's EPCOT, and Barb, a computer programmer at Lake Mary Elementary School, and his two brothers, Scott, 14, and Todd, 9.

Thanksgiving found the three boys each preparing his own contribution to the family meal. Scott made cranberry-orange relish, Todd cooked and mashed the sweet potatoes, while Michael baked pumpkin bread.

Besides cooking, Michael loves playing the snare drums in the Lakeview Middle School "select band," and when baseball is in season, he is a catcher on a Pony League team.

Right now, Michael is looking forward to Christmas, and he plans on baking gifts for relatives — and the mailman! One of his favorites is "Simple Peanut Brittle." It makes a gift almost anyone would love.

Also, the Peanut Butter Balls and Date Nut Balls are good for Holiday giving, and both recipes require little or no cooking.

At this time, Michael McCaskill is hopeful that one day he might be an astronaut. If his grades continue to stay up (he's usually on the "B" honor roll at school), maybe his dreams will come true.

If they do, he'll probably be an astronaut with cooking as his hobby.

LEMON SHORTBREAD SQUARES
1 cup flour
1/2 cup confectioner sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Combine flour and confectioner sugar; cut in butter until crumbly. Press mixture into 8-inch square pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

Beat eggs and sugar, add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Pour over hot crust. Bake 18 to 25 minutes at 350 degrees until lightly browned. Cool before cutting into bars. Sprinkle with additional confectioner sugar if desired.

DATE NUT BALLS
1/2 cup margarine
1 egg, beaten
1 package chopped dates (8 ounces)
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups crisp rice cereal
3/4 cup nuts
1 package coconut
Mix margarine, egg, dates and sugar. Cook until a thick paste forms. Remove from heat, cool. Add vanilla, cereal, and nuts. Shape into balls and roll in coconut.

PEANUT BUTTER BALLS
1 box powdered sugar
3 tablespoons peanut butter
1/2 cup butter
12-ounce bag chocolate chips.

Mix sugar, peanut butter and butter until they are not sticky and will hold together. Roll into balls. Melt chocolate chips. Dip one end of each ball in the chocolate. Store in refrigerator in an air tight container.

SIMPLE PEANUT BRITTLE
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup peanuts
1 teaspoon soda
Cook sugar, syrup, and water in a large saucepan until soft crack stage on a candy thermometer, stirring constantly. Add peanuts and cook until hard crack stage. Add soda, mix well. Remove from heat and pour onto buttered platters.
Cool partially by lifting edges with spatula. Keep spatula moving under mixture so it won't stick. When firm but still warm, turn over; pull edges to make brittle thinner in center.

Break into pieces when cold.
PEANUT BLOSSOMS
Hershey's kisses — unwrapped

Cream: 1/2 cup each, peanut butter, butter, brown sugar and sugar.
Add: 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix in: 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt
Make into small balls; roll in sugar. Bake at 375 degrees for 8 minutes. Remove from oven. Push a chocolate kiss down into each cookie; return to oven for 2-3 minutes.

BUTTERBALLS
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1 cup butter
2 cups flour
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Mix, shape into balls — half-teaspoon size. Put on greased cookie sheet. Bake for 15 minutes in a 325 degree oven. While still hot, roll in powdered sugar. Roll again while cool.

'Santa House' To Open

Plans are underway by the Orlando Area Council of Beta Sigma Phi to hold its 10th annual "Santa House" project for the benefit of Cystic Fibrosis, a genetic disease causing breathing difficulties and a leading cause of death in children.

This year, "Santa House" will be located at the Small Fry Educational Day Care Center on State Road 436 and Lake Howell Road. The dates are Dec. 12, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Dec. 13, 1 to 6 p.m.

"Santa House" is a nationwide fund raising campaign sponsored by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to further research efforts. Little more than a decade ago, most C-F babies died by pre-school age. Thanks to improved therapy and expanded research, many more are surviving into adolescence and adulthood.

Many activities are being planned for the children, including a Cartoon Room, Story Book Room, Puppet Room. For Mom and Dad, there will be a boutique offering handcrafted items, and a bakery featuring homemade goodies — both benefiting the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The tour is climaxed by a visit with the jolly old gent himself and a color photo of your child with Santa. Each child will receive a goody bag and some refreshments.

Giving Puts The Magic In Christmas

Just think how many ways you can express the joy and spirit of Christmas giving with homemade treats:

— Let children help in decorating Lemon Cut-Out Cookies, sparkling with freshly grated lemon peel. Even younger children can pop cherries and almonds on Christmas Almond Softies, prepared with dairy sour cream and Ground Oat Flour.

— Gather family members for an evening of gift wrapping these goodies.

— Bake Christmas Cardamom Braids twice, one to keep as a centerpiece, the other to give as a gift.

— Cut up candied fruits and nuts on one day for fruitcake; mix and bake on the following day.

— Tuck a frozen eggnog ring into the freezer to serve with Pineapple Eggnog Punch and Holiday Brownies for one of the seasonal occasions.

A COOKIE EXCHANGE

Christmas treats should express the bounty of the season. That's why there should be lots of cookies as well as a variety of them!

Plan on making two or three of your old favorites or selecting from Lemon Cut-Out Cookies, Holiday Brownies or Christmas Almond Softies. Then invite some friends to prepare their favorites. Now you're all set to exchange cookies with them.

You can have a wonderful afternoon or evening with this exchange while adding variety to your cookie cache. Why not present some as gifts while keeping others for your family and entertaining? It's all designed to put magic in a very merry Christmas!

LEMON CUT-OUT COOKIES

(Makes 4 to 5 dozen cookies)

- 2 1/3 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine flour, oats, baking powder and salt. Beat butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg, milk, lemon peel and vanilla. Add dry ingredients to butter mixture, mixing well. Cover; chill 2 to 3 hours. Heat oven to 350 degrees F.

Roll dough to 1/4-inch thickness on lightly floured surface. Cut with floured assorted 2 to 3-inch cookie cutters. Place on unbuttered cookie sheet. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until edges are light golden brown. Cool 1 minute on cookie sheet; remove to wire cooling rack. Decorate as desired.

HOLIDAY BROWNIES

(Makes 24)

- Brownies:
- 3/4 cup (1 1/2 sticks) butter
 - 1 cup granulated sugar
 - 3 eggs
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 cup all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract (optional)
 - few drops red food color
 - 2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
 - 1 tablespoon milk
- Glaze:
- 1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1/4 cups confectioners sugar
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 3 to 4 tablespoons boiling water

For brownies: Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Beat butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in eggs and vanilla. Combine dry ingredients; gradually blend into butter mixture. Divide batter in half. Add peppermint extract and food color to half of the batter. Add chocolate and milk to other half. Drop chocolate batter by tablespoons in checkerboard fashion onto bottom of buttered 13 x 9-inch baking pan. Fill in spaces with pink portion of batter. Swirl with spatula to marble. Bake 20 to 25 minutes, or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool on wire rack.

For glaze: Melt chocolate and butter over low heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Beat in sugar and vanilla until crumbly. Add water, 1 tablespoon at a time, until of pouring consistency. Spread over warm brownies. Let stand several hours or overnight. To serve, cut into bars.

CHRISTMAS ALMOND SOFTIES

(Makes about 5 dozen cookies)

- 1 1/4 cups Ground Oat Flour (below)
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 cup toasted, finely ground blanched almonds

Red and green maraschino cherries, well drained, cut in half or whole unblanched almonds (optional)

Heat oven to 400 degrees F. Combine flours, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Beat butter and sugar until light and fluffy; add egg and vanilla, mixing well. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour cream, mixing well. Stir in almonds. Drop by rounded teaspoons 2 inches apart onto unbuttered cookie sheet. Top each cookie with cherry half or almond. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until light golden brown; store in lightly covered container.

GROUND OAT FLOUR

1. Place 8 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked, in blender or food processor.

2. Cover; blend about 60 seconds. Makes about 1 1/4 cups.

PINEAPPLE EGGNOG PUNCH

(Makes 12 cups)

- Frozen Eggnog Ring:
- red candied cherries
 - green spearmint leaf candies
 - 2 cups dairy eggnog
 - 2 cups milk

Punch:

- 2 qts. dairy eggnog
- 3 cups unsweetened pineapple juice, chilled
- 2 cups lemon-lime soda, chilled

For frozen eggnog ring: Decorate bottom of a 4 1/2-cup ring mold with candied cherries and spearmint leaves. Combine eggnog and milk. Gently pour a small amount of eggnog mixture into mold. Freeze until solid. Pour in remaining eggnog mixture. Freeze several hours or overnight.

For punch: In large punch bowl, combine all ingredients. Dip frozen ring into hot water and carefully unmold into punch bowl. Serve immediately.

OLD-FASHIONED WHITE FRUITCAKE

(Makes 4 to 6 miniature or 2 large fruitcakes)

- 1 cup golden raisins
- 3/4 cup each red candied cherries and green candied cherries, cut in half
- 1/4 cup each chopped dried apricots, candied pineapple, candied lemon peel and candied orange peel
- 1/4 cup each cream sherry and orange juice
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1-3 cup unsweetened pineapple juice
- 1 teaspoon each vanilla and lemon extract
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 2 cups chopped pecans
- 1 cup toasted, slivered almonds

Butter loaf pans; line sides and bottom with brown paper. In large bowl, combine fruits, sherry and orange juice. Let stand 1 hour.

Heat oven to 250 degrees F. In large bowl, beat together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks, pineapple juice, vanilla and lemon extracts; mix well. Stir in flour, oats and baking powder. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form; fold into flour mixture. Stir in fruits, pecans and almonds. Spoon mixture into prepared pans. Bake 2 hours for miniature loaf pans, 2 hours and 10 to 15 minutes for 8 1/4 x 4 1/4-inch loaf pans, or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool completely on wire rack. Remove from pans. Sprinkle tops with plain or fruit-flavored brandy, if desired. Wrap fruitcake in cheesecloth; overwrap in foil. Store in tightly covered container in cool dry place.

NOTE: For a blended, mellow flavor, make fruitcake about 4 weeks in advance. Moisten cheesecloth once a week with plain or fruit-flavored brandy.

(See Note:) Use four 2-cup miniature foil loaf pans; six 1 1/4 cup miniature loaf pans; or two 3 1/4 x 4 1/4-inch loaf pans.

CHRISTMAS CARDAMOM BRAIDS

(Makes 2 braids)

- 4 1/2 to 5 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
- 2-3 cup granulated sugar
- 2 pkgs. active dry yeast
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 1/4 teaspoons ground cardamom
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
- 2 eggs, at room temperature
- 1 cup golden raisins
- 1/2 cup chopped mixed candied fruit
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel

Glaze:

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- chopped mixed candied fruit

Braids:

For braids: In large mixing bowl, combine 1 1/4 cups flour, oats, sugar, yeast, salt and cardamom. In small saucepan, combine milk and butter. Heat over low heat to 120 degrees to 130 degrees F. (Butter does not need to melt completely.) Gradually add to dry ingredients. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs and 1 cup flour. Beat at high speed of electric mixer 2 minutes, scraping bowl frequently. Stir in enough remaining flour by hand to make a soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface. Knead until smooth and satiny, about 10 minutes. Place in large buttered bowl, turning once to butter top of dough. Cover; let rise in warm place about 1 hour or until double in size.

Punch dough down. Turn onto lightly floured surface. Knead in raisins, fruit and peel. Remove 1-3 of dough for smaller braid. Cover; set aside. Divide remaining dough into 3 equal parts. Roll each to form a rope 26 inches long. Braid ropes; form into a circle on large cookie sheet. Pinch together ends to seal. Place a buttered ovenproof round dish, about 4 1/2 inches in diameter, in center of circle.

Divide remaining dough into 3 equal parts. Roll each to form a rope 16 inches long. Braid; form into a circle on large cookie sheet. Pinch together ends to seal. Place a buttered ovenproof round dish, about 3 1/2 inches in diameter, in center. Cover both braids; let rise about 45 minutes or until double in size. Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Bake 20 minutes.

Meanwhile for glaze: Combine sugar and water; stir until sugar is dissolved. Remove braids from oven. Brush with glaze; sprinkle with candied fruit. Return to oven; continue baking 8 to 7 minutes or until braids are golden brown and sound hollow when tapped. Remove to wire rack to cool completely.

To use as a centerpiece, stack braids on a decorative plate. Place a candle in center, if desired.

Miniature fruit cakes make loving gifts and Cardamom Braids serves as an attractive centerpiece.

Throw A Children's Party

'Twas some time before Christmas and all through the kitchen, All the children were busy, cookies a-mixin'. The cookies were decorated and put out to eat, In hopes that the children would find them a treat. The Santa cups brimmed to their tops with the punch. Enough for a party, Invite the whole bunch.

Christmas-'tis the season to bake and decorate cookies, enjoy punch from special cups, wrap presents and trim the tree. 'Tis the season when children's joy and anticipation are part of the Christmas spirit. 'Tis the season to give a Christmas party for your children. Invite neighborhood friends, school chums or young relatives.

For the youngsters' holiday entertaining, just fill a punch bowl with cheery Cranberry Sparkler and serve Santa-sized cookies.

The Santa-sized cookies will delight the kids. Giant sugar cookies can be made by cutting shapes freehand or by using a cardboard stencil. Delicious jumbo chocolate chip cookies have the surprise ingredient of cereal for extra nutrition. Mothers will like these cookies, too, because they can be made ahead of time, wrapped and frozen, then decorated when needed.

Make an occasion of the decorating. It can be done a day ahead or as part of the party fun. Cookies can be covered with sugar glaze, then decorated with a butter frosting made colorful with unsweetened soft drink mix for large areas of color. Use convenient tube frosting for outlines and other details. These merry Christmas cookies can be decorated with a tree, red-nosed reindeer, a wreath or a brightly wrapped package.

While children are drinking their punch and enjoying their cookies, let them be creative by making their own Christmas decorations. Provide styrofoam balls for each child to make tree ornaments. Put out pins, scissors, glue and a selection of sequins, beads, rickrack, stars, Christmas stickers, yarn, ribbons and scraps of fabric. Children can make their own tree-trimmers with relatively little supervision. Let them decide to keep their creations, give them away, hang them on a special tree or swap with each other.

For practical party favors, give away Christmas canisters that the children decorate themselves. Start with empty soft drink canisters. Cover each with construction or wrapping paper. Then let the children paste on appliques made from paper, felt, ribbons, pictures clipped from magazines or old greeting cards or other decorative bits. Each canister can be labeled with the child's name, a pet's name or just "cookies" or "candy." This special Christmas canister is just right for a child's treasures, whether they are candy or his own Christmas cards.

There are games to be played at Christmas parties, too. Using more empty soft drink canisters, decorated for the occasion, and plain white styrofoam balls, play Snowball Toss. Start with ten canisters arranged in a triangle, with sides touching, as for bowling. Each child stands behind a line and tosses three balls, trying to get them into the canisters. If a child gets all three balls into the canisters, let him throw another ball. Each ball in a canister counts 1 point. Children take turns tossing the balls, and the one with the highest number of points wins. After a predetermined number of rounds, award prizes such as a Christmas card address book, a calendar, a red pen or a pocket-sized game. Everyone should be a winner.

Don't forget to send them home with some extra cookies, their Christmas canisters and lots of smiles.

And you'll hear them exclaim as they leave for the night, "Merry Christmas to you, thank you, good night!"

CRANBERRY SPARKLER

2 envelopes (2-quart size) strawberry, cherry, raspberry or orange flavor sugar-sweetened soft drink mix
2 bottles (16 oz. each) cranberry juice cocktail or cranberry-apple drink
2 cups water
2 quarts lemon-lime carbonated beverage
Combine all ingredients in nonmetal punch bowl or large pitcher, stirring until soft drink mix is dissolved. Chill and add ice cubes, if desired. Makes about 4 quarts or 32 servings.

JUMBO CHOCOLATE CHIP CEREAL COOKIES

2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup softened butter or other shortening
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-1/2 cups crunchy nutlike cereal nuggets
4 squares semi-sweet chocolate, chopped
Mix flour with baking soda and salt. Cream butter; gradually beat in sugars. Add eggs and vanilla; blend well. Add flour mixture. Stir in cereal and chocolate. Using 1/4 cup dough for each cookie, drop 3 inches apart onto greased baking sheets and press with fork into 3-inch rounds. Bake at 375 degrees for 13 to 15 minutes, or until lightly browned. Cool 1 minute before removing from baking sheets. Makes about 16.
Note: Cookies may be wrapped and frozen.

GIANT SUGAR COOKIES

3-1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup butter or other shortening
1-1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1-1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 tablespoon milk
Mix flour with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening. Gradually beat in sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Stir in vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Chill 3 or 4 hours or overnight. Roll dough 1/4-inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut 6-inch cardboard patterns (angel, tree, star, bell) place on rolled dough and cut with sharp knife. Transfer with wide spatula to ungreased baking sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 13.

Confectioners Sugar Glaze: Gradually add 1-1/2 tablespoons (about) hot milk or water to 1-1/2 cups confectioners sugar in a bowl; blend well. Makes 2-3rd cup.

Columbian Butter Frosting: Sift 1 teaspoon unsweetened soft drink mix, any flavor, with 4-1/2 cups unsifted confectioners sugar. Cream 1/2 cup butter or margarine. Add sugar mixture, alternately with 6 tablespoons (about) hot water; blend until smooth. Makes 2-1/2 cups. (Recipe may be halved; prepare twice with 2 different soft drink mix flavors, if desired.)

Children make the colorful ornaments. A cheery red cranberry punch and Santa-sized cookies make the party.

Microwave Magic

Spiced Shrimp Makes A Nice Addition To The Holiday Buffet Table

We seafood lovers are so fortunate, we can have the very best because we live in Florida and it can be prepared in the microwave keeping it moist and delicious (not to mention quick).

When preparing fish or seafood in the microwave, use only the fresh or defrosted. Arrange fish in a single layer, do not overlap. Place thicker portion to the outside edge of the container. Stir the small pieces such as shrimp, scallop, or oysters during the cooking. Let stand before serving.

Approximate cooking time for fish is 3 to 6 minutes per pound. Use the minimum cooking time and check for doneness, more time can be added.

The fish should be opaque in color and flake easily when tested. Shrimp should be bright pink and fork tender. Scallops should be white and tender.

SPICED SHRIMP

- 2 pounds raw shrimp (peeled and deveined)
- 1/4 cup butter
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoon fresh parsley, chopped
- 1/4 teaspoon ground coriander

Midge Mycoff
Home Economist
Seminole Community College

- 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 cloves (teaspoon)
- 1-1/4 cups milk

Place shrimp in 1 1/2 quart casserole. Microwave, covered 100 percent power 5 to 8 minutes. Stirring occasionally. Do not overcook. Place butter in 4 cup measure. Microwave 100 percent power 45 seconds. Blend in flour, parsley and spices. Blend in milk. Microwave 100 percent power 3 to 6 minutes or until thick, (this is a spicy white sauce). Be sure to stir frequently to prevent lumps. Drain shrimp and stir into white sauce mixture. Serve hot. This makes a nice addition to the buffet table. Serves 6 to 8.

FISH POACHED IN WINE

- 1 pound fresh fish fillets
- 1/4 cup white wine
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tomato thinly sliced
- 2 teaspoon fresh parsley, chopped
- 1/4 teaspoon dried basil
- 1 tablespoon butter

Place fish in 12x8 baking dish. Remember single layer and thick portion to the outside. Add wine. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top with tomato slices. Sprinkle with parsley and basil. Dot with butter. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave 100 percent power 4 to 7 minutes or until fish flakes easily. Let stand, covered 5 minutes. Serves 4.

This is a quick to prepare entree, especially good for the hectic holiday times we are approaching.

Oyster stew is frequently served on Christmas Eve. The microwave makes preparation easy.

OYSTER STEW

- 1 pint fresh oysters
- 1/4 cup butter
- 4 cups half and half or milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons snipped fresh parsley

Combine oysters and butter in 2 quart casserole. Cover and microwave 100 percent power 5 to 6 minutes or until edges of oysters are curled. Stir in half and half, salt and pepper, cover. Microwave 100 percent power 9 to 10 minutes or until steaming hot. Stir in parsley. Serves 4 to 6.

Next week's column: Good bye turkey.

Picnic Fare For Fanciers Of Outdoors

The appeal of the outdoors is never more alluring than when fall breezes grace a favorite picnic or camp night. Treat your family and friends to a tallgate feast where the cooking is easy and the eating superb. Fill the brisk air with the smell of cheese franks and smoked sausage.

Cook slowly and turn often for even browning and heating.

FRUITY MUSTARD SAUCE

- 1 jar (8 oz.) spicy brown mustard
- 1 jar (12 oz.) Dijon Mustard or Apple Jelly
- 1 jar (8-1/2 oz.) Mango Chutney

Combine all ingredients and simmer gently for 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. Serve warm or cold over cheese franks or smoked sausage.

GARDEN RAVIOLI CASSEROLE

- 2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen chopped spinach
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 medium clove garlic, crushed
- 1/4 cup chopped red or green peppers
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 2 cans (15 oz. each) beef ravioli in sauce
- 3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 cherry tomato

Cook spinach according to package directions; drain well. Add Parmesan cheese and mix well. Sauté onion, garlic and peppers in butter until lightly browned; combine with spinach. Arrange layer of ravioli in 1-1/2 quart serving dish; save some of spinach mixture (about 4 tablespoons) for topping; arrange remainder on top of ravioli; then arrange another layer of ravioli. Garnish with spinach mixture and cherry tomato. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Place in basket or heat-retaining tote. Serves 4.

FUN FRANKS

- 1 pound Franks (8 to 10)
- 2 sliced onions
- 2 sliced tomatoes
- 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup prepared barbecue sauce
- Celery salt, coarsely ground black pepper to taste
- Heavy-duty foil

Cut Franks lengthwise almost through. Place half of them, cut side up, on sheet of foil. Add onions, tomatoes, cheddar cheese, seasonings, and barbecue sauce. Top each with another Frank. Insert toothpicks into each end. Wrap in foil and cook slowly on grill 10-15 minutes. Serves 4-5.

PRIMIVERA VEG SALAD

- 1 bunch broccoli
- 3 zucchinis, sliced
- 2 red peppers, cleaned and sliced
- 1 pound green beans, cleaned
- 1 pound mushrooms, washed, sliced
- 1 pound cherry tomatoes
- 1 cup sliced celery

Blanch broccoli, then zucchini, then red pepper, then green beans for about 3 minutes. Place in large bowl. Slice mushrooms; add cherry tomatoes and celery. Toss with 1 cup Curry Sesame Dressing. Serves 6-10.

CURRY SESAME DRESSING

- 1-1/2 cups salad oil or 1/2 cup olive oil and 1 cup salad oil
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon brown mustard
- 2 packets G. Washington Seasoning and Broth
- 1 teaspoon curry
- Nutmeg
- 2 tablespoons of Sherry
- 3 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds

Combine all ingredients in blender except sesame seeds. Blend for 1 minute. Makes 2-1/2 cups. Add sesame seeds. Use on Primavera Salad.

GRILLED STUFFED ZUCCHINI

- 4-6 medium-sized zucchini
- 1 clove, garlic, minced
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen spinach, cooked, drained
- 3 tablespoons bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons olive oil or cooking oil
- 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Wash zucchini and slice lengthwise. Scoop out centers with a small sharp knife. Sauté scooped-out zucchini, minced garlic, drained spinach and bread crumbs in olive oil. Stuff zucchini shells with spinach mixture; sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Place zucchini on 12" x 18" heavy duty aluminum foil. Bring long sides of foil together; fold over twice to seal securely. Fold ends over twice to seal. Grill about 6" from coals for about 20 minutes. Serves 4.

SMOKED SAUSAGE PATIO PACKETS

- 1 pound smoked sausage
- 2 cups frozen hash brown potatoes
- 2 cups canned peas, drained
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 4 slices of tomato
- Butter or margarine
- Salt and pepper

Heavy-duty foil, cut into 4 large pieces. Cut smoked sausage into four equal lengths. On each foil square, arrange one piece of sausage, 1/4 cup frozen hash browns, and 1/4 cup canned peas. Sprinkle the potatoes with salt and pepper, drizzle with butter or margarine, and top with sliced tomato. Place a slice of tomato on the peas. Bring edges of foil up to close the package loosely. Place on grill over medium fire and bake about 20 minutes, or until the potatoes are tender. Serves 4.

A Happy Season From The Kitchen

Homemade gifts from the kitchen herald the meaning of the season — a truly personal, thoughtful way to say, "Happy holidays."

If you are floundering with your Christmas gift list, surprise your friends and relatives with from-your-kitchen jellies, brandied orange slices, relishes, chutney and preserves. Label with a personal message and tie a cherry red bow around the jars.

ORANGESAUERNE JELLY

- 1 1/2 cups dry sauterne
- 1/2 cup fresh orange juice
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon finely grated orange peel
- 1/2 package powdered pectin (about 3 tablespoons)
- 4 cups mild honey

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions. Jars should be covered with water and boiled 10 to 15 minutes to sterilize.

In a large saucepan, combine sauterne, citrus juices, grated peel and pectin. Place over high heat and bring to a full, rolling boil. Immediately stir in honey. Return to a rolling boil. Boil hard for 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam.

Immediately but carefully pour hot jelly into hot, sterilized jars, one jar at a time, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Wipe rim clean, place lid on and screw band down evenly and firmly. Repeat for each jar. Invert jar for a few seconds; then stand upright to cool. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about six 8-ounce jars.

GRAPEFRUIT WINE JELLY

- 1 cup freshly squeezed, strained grapefruit juice
- 1 cup dry sauterne
- 3/4 cups sugar
- 1 pouch liquid pectin

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions. Jars should be covered with water and boiled 10 to 15 minutes to sterilize.

Combine grapefruit juice, wine and sugar in a small, heavy saucepan. Stir over very low heat until well blended. Cook until sugar is dissolved, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in pectin. Skim off any foam.

Immediately, but carefully, pour hot jelly into hot sterilized jars, one jar at a time, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Wipe rim clean, place lid on and screw band down evenly and firmly. Repeat for each jar. Invert jar for a few seconds and stand upright to cool. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about five 8-ounce jars.

BRANDIED ORANGE SLICES

- 8 thick-skinned oranges, unpeeled
- 4 cups sugar
- 1 cup white wine vinegar
- 2 teaspoons whole allspice
- 1 cup brandy

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions.

Cut oranges into 1/4-inch slices; cut slices into halves and discard seeds. Place orange slices in medium (4 to 6 quart) saucepot. Add water to cover; simmer until skin is tenderly drain. Combine sugar, vinegar and allspice in saucepot; simmer 5 minutes. Add orange slices; simmer over low heat 8 minutes. Carefully pack orange slices in hot jars, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Remove syrup from heat; stir in brandy. Ladle over orange slices, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Remove air bubbles with a non-metallic spatula. Adjust caps. Process 10 minutes in boiling water bath canner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 pint jars.

APPLESAUCE WITH BRANDY

- 2 quarts peeled, cored and chopped apples (about 16 medium)
- 2 oranges, peeled, sliced, and seeds removed
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon mace
- 3/4 cup brandy

Combine apples and oranges with water to cover in a medium (4 to 6 quart) saucepot. Simmer until fruit is very soft.

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions.

Drain fruit; put through food mill. Add sugar and spices; simmer over low heat until thick, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; stir in brandy. Carefully ladle into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space.

Process 15 minutes in boiling water bath canner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 pint jars.

MARINATED CELERY VEGETABLE RELISH

- 1 stalk (bunch) celery
- 1-3rd cup salad oil
- 1/4 cup white vinegar
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon marjoram leaves, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme leaves, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2 cups sliced carrots
- 2 cups green beans cut into 1-inch lengths
- 1/2 cup stuffed green olives
- 1/4 cup sliced pimiento

Trim tops from celery (save for soups, stews, etc.). Separate celery into ribs; cut ribs into 1-inch lengths; set aside. In a large saucepan, combine oil, vinegar, onion, garlic, salt, sugar, marjoram, thyme and black pepper; bring to the boiling point. Add carrots, green beans and reserved celery; stir well. Return to the boiling point. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, for 5 minutes. Cool. Stir in olives and pimiento. Spoon into jars or plastic containers. Cover and refrigerate at least overnight. If desired, pack into gift jars. Keeps for about one month, if refrigerated. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 quarts.

CARAWAY CELERY STICKS

- 1 stalk (bunch) celery
- 1 cup thinly sliced onion
- 1-3rd cup salad oil
- 1/4 cup white vinegar
- 1 tablespoon caraway seeds
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper

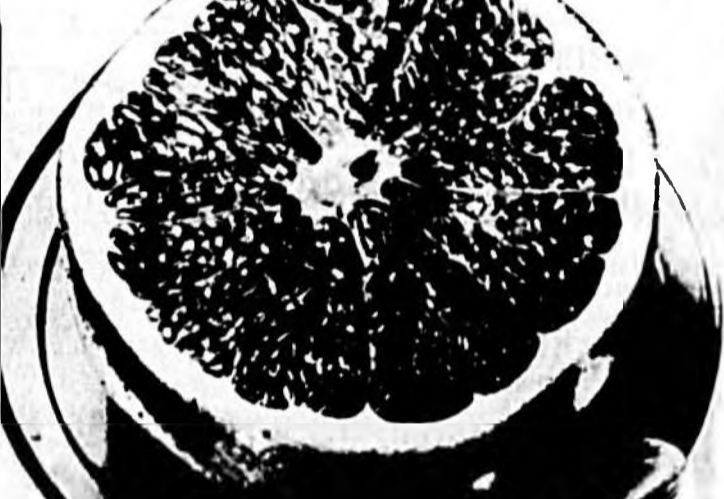

Trim tops from celery (save for soups, stews, etc.). Separate celery into ribs; cut ribs into 3-inch lengths; cut each length into 1/4-inch wide sticks. In a large bowl, place celery and onion. Combine oil, vinegar, caraway, salt, sugar and white pepper; mix well. Pour over celery mixture; toss well to coat. Cover and refrigerate at least overnight. If desired, pack into gift jars. Keeps for about one month, if refrigerated. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 1 1/2 quarts.

Make Homemade Candy For The Holiday Season

Candy making may seem difficult, but it really isn't. Not even chewy Nut Caramels. The trick for making caramels, of course, is to follow directions to the tee. If you don't have a candy thermometer to show a "firm-ball" stage, spoon a few drops of the boiling candy into a cup of cold water.

When shaped into a ball with your fingers and taken out of the water, it holds its shape. The candy maker's friend is creamy evaporated milk. It gives caramels the rich, caramel flavor and holds the coconut coating on the Snowballs.

Marshmallow Snowballs are easy enough for children to make. Nut Caramels take more time, but the results are worth it. If you'd like a folder of candy recipes, write to "Candies," Pet Kitchen, Pet Incorporated, P.O. Box 102, St. Louis, Missouri, 63166.

NUT CARAMELS

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup dark corn syrup
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup pecans, coarsely broken

Generously butter an 8-inch square pan. In small saucepan, heat butter and evaporated milk until butter is melted. In separate 2-quart saucepan cook sugar, corn syrup and salt over medium heat until it reaches firm-ball stage (344 deg. F.), stirring often. Slowly stir in milk mixture, so sugar mixture does not stop boiling. Stirring constantly, cook mixture until it reaches firm-ball stage again. Remove pan from heat and stir in vanilla and pecans; mix well. Pour into buttered pan. When firm, turn out onto cutting board or waxed paper. Cut caramel in 1-inch squares and wrap in plastic wrap. Makes 5 dozen caramels.

SNOWBALLS

- 1-3rd cup evaporated milk
 - 10 large marshmallows
 - 10 large marshmallows, halved
 - 1-1/4 cups shredded coconut
- In double boiler, place evaporated milk and marshmallows. Cook until marshmallows are melted. Dip halved marshmallows in mixture and roll in coconut. Makes 20 pieces.

ONION BURGER SANDWICHES

- 1 sweet Spanish onion
 - 1 lb. ground beef
 - Salt and pepper
 - 4 slices rye bread
 - 1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese, softened
 - 2 ounces blue cheese, crumbled
 - 1-3rd cup mayonnaise
 - 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - Dash of salt
 - 8 slices tomato
- Peel and slice onion. Separate into rings. Shape ground beef into 4 thin burgers and broil to desired doneness. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Toast bread slices on one side. Place broiled burgers on untoasted side. Combine cheeses, mayonnaise, Worcestershire sauce and salt. Spread part of cheese mixture over burgers. Top with tomato slices and onion rings. Spoon remaining cheese mixture over top. Broil until bubbly. Serves 4.

CHUNKY PINEAPPLE CRUTNEY

- 3 cans (1 pound 4 ounces each) pineapple chunks
 - 4 cups dark brown sugar, firmly packed
 - 3 cups cider vinegar
 - 2 whole cloves garlic
 - 1 package (15 ounces) raisins
 - 1 package (11 ounces) currants
 - 1 pound broken walnut pieces
 - 3 tablespoons chopped crystallized ginger
 - 2 tablespoons instant minced onion
 - 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 teaspoon ground allspice
 - 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- Combine pineapple and all pineapple syrup with remaining ingredients in a large kettle. Bring to boil; boil over medium heat 1 hour until thick. Pour into sterilized jars and cover. (There is no need to seal with paraffin.) This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 quarts.

PINEAPPLE-APRICOT CONSERVE

- 1 pound dried apricots
 - 1 1/2 cups water
 - 3 medium-size oranges
 - 1 can (1 pound 4 ounces) crushed pineapple
 - 3 cups sugar
- Combine apricots with water. Simmer, uncovered about 15 minutes or until apricots are soft and most of the water is absorbed. Grate 3 tablespoons peel from oranges. Peel oranges, removing all white membrane. Cut fruit in sixths and remove seeds. Combine apricots and orange pieces in blender and puree. Turn into large kettle; add undrained pineapple, orange peel and sugar. Simmer over low heat until thick, about 6 to 8 minutes, stirring frequently. Spoon into jars, cover tightly and refrigerate (or seal in sterilized jars). This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 1 1/2 quarts.

PICKUP SANDWICHES

- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 - 5 eggs, beaten
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt (optional)
 - Pepper to taste
 - 4 French rolls or hot dog buns, split
 - Butter or margarine
 - 1-3rd cup apricot or peach preserves
 - 4 hot dogs, heated
 - 1/2 cup shredded Swiss cheese
- Melt 1 tablespoon butter or margarine in a skillet. Combine beaten eggs with milk, salt and pepper; pour into skillet. Cook, stirring occasionally, until eggs are set, but not dry. Spread split roll with butter or margarine; place under broiler until golden brown. Spread one side of each roll with apricot preserves; top with a hot dog. Top other side with scrambled eggs and sprinkle with Swiss cheese. Place open sandwich under broiler just until cheese melts. Serve immediately. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 sandwiches.

DEEP SEA AVOCADO SALAD

- 1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned, or 1 cup canned grapefruit sections, drained
 - 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained
 - 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) shrimp, drained or 1/2 cup bay shrimp
 - Vinaigrette Dressing (recipe follows)
 - 2 Florida Avocados, halved
 - 1 small red onion, sliced in rings
- Marinate fruits and shrimp in dressing for 30 minutes. Fill cavities in avocado with fruit mixture. Garnish with onion rings. Serve on greens as a luncheon salad, with hot muffins. Makes 4 servings.

VINAIGRETTE DRESSING

- Combine in jar with tight fitting lid: 1/4 cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon dried chives. Shake well just before serving. Makes about 1/2 cup.

Coffee Cake Is So Easy To Fix

Add some warmth to a brisk morning by serving Almond Glazed Coffee Braid.

ALMOND GLAZED COFFEE BRAID
 2 tablespoons margarine or butter
 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
 2 tablespoons sugar
 2 (7.5-oz.) cans refrigerated biscuits
 1-3 cup powdered sugar
 1 to 2 teaspoons milk

1/4 teaspoon almond extract
 Sliced almonds, if desired

Heat oven to 375 degrees. In ungreased 8-inch round cake pan, melt margarine in oven. Stir in 1/4 teaspoon almond extract; sprinkle sugar evenly over margarine mixture. Separate dough into 20 biscuits. Roll each biscuit between palm of hands to form a 4-inch strip. Join 2 strips end-to-end, pinching to seal end well, to form one 8-inch strip. Continue with remaining strips of dough. Using 9 strips of dough, braid

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, Dec. 2, 1981 - 78

into three 8-inch braids. Starting at outer edge of pan, coil braids around edge toward center. Twist remaining strip of dough and place in center. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 22 to 25 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pan immediately. Combine powdered sugar, almond extract and milk until smooth. Drizzle over warm coffee cake. If desired, sprinkle with sliced almonds. 8 to 10 servings.

Tasty Beef Bites

You can be sure your holiday party will be a success when you serve a variety of hors d'oeuvres, including several meat items.

Beef appetite teasers are always popular on the party scene, points out the National Live Stock and Meat Board, for they are satisfying, delicious and keep guests coming back for more.

For a modern approach to Beef Liver Pate, put your blender or food processor to work to make an especially tasty version that combines beef liver, braised in sherry, with cream cheese and hard cooked eggs.

BEEF LIVER PATE

1 pound sliced beef liver, cut in 1-inch strips
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1/4 cup dry sherry
 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
 2 hard cooked eggs
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Brown liver and onion in butter in frying-pan, stirring frequently. Reduce heat; add sherry, cover tightly and cook slowly 5 minutes. Chill liver mixture in refrigerator. Place chilled mixture in blender or food processor, cover and blend until smooth. (Use low speed of blender or chopping blade of processor.) Cut cream cheese in sixths and eggs in quarters; add to liver mixture. Add salt and mustard and blend until combined. Chill in covered container several hours or overnight. Shape to form ball.

CURRIED BEEF NUGGETS

2 pounds ground beef
 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
 1/2 cup corn flakes, crushed
 1/2 teaspoons salt
 1 cup milk
 1-3 cup finely chopped peanuts
 2 tablespoons cooking fat
 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
 1 1/2 teaspoons curry powder
 1 tablespoon flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 1/4 cups apple juice
 1/4 cup flaked coconut

Combine ground beef, onion, garlic, corn flakes, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, milk and peanuts. Shape into 60 balls about the size of a walnut.

Brown meat balls in cooking fat. Remove meat balls. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Add 1/2 cup onion and cook 5 minutes. Stir in combined curry powder, flour and 1 teaspoon salt. Add apple juice. Mix well and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Return meat balls to gravy, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Serve topped with coconut. Yield: 60 appetizers.

SWEET 'N SOUR MEATBALLS

1 pound ground beef
 1 egg
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons onion, chopped
 1 can pineapple chunks (save juice)
 3 tablespoons cornstarch
 1 tablespoon soy sauce
 4 tablespoons vinegar
 8 tablespoons water
 1/2 cup sugar
 3 large peppers cut into 1-inch squares
 2 onions, quartered
 1 carrot, 1-inch slices (lengthwise)

Combine first 5 ingredients and form into 18 or more meatballs. Brown in small amount of oil, drain. To 1 tablespoon oil add pineapple juice and cook over low heat a few minutes. Mix cornstarch, soy sauce, vinegar, water and sugar. Add to pineapple juice and cook until thick. Add meatballs, pineapple chunks, peppers, onions and carrot. (It helps to blanch carrots and peppers first).

Apple Dish Real Family Pleaser

Imagine the aroma of baked apples wafting through the kitchen. Later, the enjoyment of serving hearty Apple Ring Tapioca to the family along with pouring cream. Here is a contemporary version of an old-fashioned dessert so easy to prepare. Select from a variety of apples—Cortland, Rome Beauty or McIntosh—that have distinctive texture and flavor.

APPLE RING TAPIOCA
3 tablespoons Minute tapioca

1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon mace
1 1/2 cups water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
3 apples
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Combine tapioca, 1/2 cup brown sugar, the salt and spices in saucepan; add water and lemon juice. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Core unpeeled apples and cut into 1/2-inch rings. Arrange 2-3 of the rings in greased shallow baking dish. Add tapioca mixture and top with remaining apple rings. Sprinkle with 3 tablespoons brown sugar and dot with butter. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes. Serve warm, with cream, if desired. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

Quick Yule Hints

1. Substitute candied fruits instead of raisins in cookie recipes.
2. Write names on lollipops with cake decorator's frosting. Makes great place cards for children's parties.
3. Use chopped chutney as a glaze for your Christmas ham.
4. Lightly press extra stuffing into buttered muffin cups; brush with butter, bake along with poultry during last 25 minutes of roasting time.
5. In a pinch, if you don't have 1 cup corn syrup, substitute 1 cup granulated sugar plus 1/4 cup liquid.
6. If you don't have 1 cup buttermilk, use 1 cup plain yogurt.
7. Instead of 1 teaspoon dry mustard, use 1 tablespoon prepared mustard.
8. One-half teaspoon lemon extract substitutes for 1 teaspoon finely shredded lemon peel.
9. If you don't have 1 cup light cream, use 2 tablespoons butter plus 1 cup milk minus 2 tablespoons.
10. A carefully deboned leg and thigh of a large (20 pound) turkey can be stuffed and served as dinner for two.
11. To garnish with fresh cranberries, drop them into thick, boiling sugar syrup, boil 1 minute; drain. They'll stick to glazed ham or turkey surfaces.
12. Cookies make fun Christmas tree ornaments if you roll them thicker than usual and prick a hanging-hole with a toothpick. Bake them, enlarge hole as soon as they're done, then cool.

HANUKKAH ORANGE CHEESE STRUDEL

- 2 Florida oranges, peeled and sectioned (1 1/2 cups)
- 2 cups cottage cheese, well-drained
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup packaged, dry bread crumbs, divided
- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
- 1/2 package (17 1/2 ounces) frozen puff pastry (1 sheet), thawed according to package directions
- 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine

Prepare orange sections; pat dry with paper towels. In small bowl combine orange sections, cottage cheese, sugar, 1/4 cup bread crumbs, egg yolks, flour and orange peel; mix well. Cut pastry sheet in half. Roll each half into a rectangle 7x15 inches. Sprinkle each sheet with 2 tablespoons bread crumbs. Divide cheese mixture in half and spoon down the middle of each sheet; leave a 1-inch border on each end and a 2-inch border on each side. Fold pastry over filling; moisten seams with water and press together. Gently slide pastry onto an ungreased cookie sheet, seam-side-down. Press ends together with the tines of a fork. Refrigerate 30 minutes. Pierce or slit dough in several places to allow steam to escape. Brush with melted butter. Bake in a 375 degree F. oven 30 to 35 minutes until crust is brown and crisp.

YIELD: Two strudels, 6 servings each.

When buying potatoes, avoid those with a green spot. This is known as "sunburn" and can be caused by too much exposure to either sun or store lights.

Dates Lend Rich Flavor To Pork

Although you may not be able to import it directly, that California sunshine can come to you via the date orchards in Indio, where luscious dates have just been harvested. Try Pork Chops California!

The dates add a subtle richness to the combination of pineapple, celery and onions, seasoned with soy sauce for an exotic flavor. The bland flavored pork chops take to this combination like a surfer takes to the sea — each lending its own special qualities to form a perfect union.

PORK CHOPS CALIFORNIAN
 6 pork chops about 1/2" thick
 1 small onion, chopped
 1 cup pineapple cubes and juice
 2 tablespoons soy sauce
 Dash of marjoram
 1 cup sliced celery

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, Dec. 2, 1981-98
 1 cup sliced dates

Brown chops on both sides in a small bit of fat in a heavy skillet. Add onion, pineapple and juice, marjoram and soy sauce. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Add celery and dates and simmer another 10 minutes until pork chops are tender. Don't overcook the celery. Serve on platter with fruit and juice spooned over the chops. Serves 6.

Hearty Meat Dishes

BARBECUED LAMB CHOPS
 1/2 cup (1/2 stick) unsalted margarine, melted
 1/4 cup honey
 1 tablespoon white vinegar
 2 teaspoons rosemary leaves
 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
 4 shoulder lamb chops, cut 1-inch thick

Combine unsalted margarine, honey, vinegar, rosemary, Worcestershire sauce and pepper; mix well. Lay lamb chops in a shallow pan. Pour marinade over lamb. Let stand 3-4 hours at room temperature, turning occasionally.

Place lamb chops on broiler rack, 3 to 4 inches from heat source; brush with marinade. Broil 10 minutes on each side, brushing occasionally with marinade, for medium, or longer for well done. 4 Servings.

PORK STEAKS AND CORN DRESSING
 3 pork blade steaks, cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick
 1 tablespoon cooking fat
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1 medium onion, chopped
 6 cups dry bread cubes
 1 can (16 ounces) cream-style corn
 1 teaspoon sage
 1/2 teaspoon salt

Brown steaks on both sides in fat; remove from pan and season with 1 teaspoon salt and pepper. Add onion to pan drippings and lightly brown. Add bread cubes and corn, sprinkle with sage and 1/2 teaspoon salt and mix to combine. Place stuffing in 13 x 9-inch roasting pan or baking dish. Place steaks on top of stuffing, cover tightly with foil and bake in slow oven (325 deg. F.) 1 hour, or until meat is done. 6 servings.

BEEF STEAK WITH VEGETABLE GRavy
 1 beef round steak, cut 1/2 inch thick (approximately 2 pounds)
 3 tablespoons flour
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 3 tablespoons fat
 1 can (12 ounces) beer
 1/2 cups coarsely grated carrots
 1 medium onion, chopped
 1 tablespoon currant jelly
 1/4 cup water
 1 tablespoon flour

Cut round steak into 6 serving-size pieces. Combine 3 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper; dredge and pound both sides of meat. Brown meat in fat in large frying-pan. Pour off drippings. Add beer, cover tightly and cook slowly 1 to 1 1/4 hours. Add carrots and onion and cook slowly, covered, 30 minutes or until meat is tender. Remove steak to hot platter. Stir jelly into cooking liquid; add water to 1 tablespoon flour to blend and combine with cooking liquid. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened; cook slowly 3 to 4 minutes. YIELD: 6 servings.

GAZPACHO
 Serve this chilled soup as a first course or as a luncheon meal.

3 medium Florida Avocadoes
 1 cup each, chopped cucumber and green pepper
 2 ripe tomatoes, chopped
 1/2 cup finely chopped green onion
 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 1 clove garlic, mashed
 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 2 tablespoons lime juice
 1 quart tomato juice

Peel and cube avocadoes. In a large bowl, combine all ingredients. Stir to blend; chill.

Makes about 2 quarts (8 servings).

Wife Can Help In The Kitchen

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB - My husband is 50, overweight and smokes. He will get angina pain when he exerts himself. His blood pressure is normal. I would like to help him since he is not making an effort to help himself, probably because his doctors have not told him to change his eating habits. I will change my way of cooking, but I don't know where to begin. Can you give me some suggestions to cut out the fat and cholesterol and yet provide a well-balanced diet so I can help him?

DEAR READER - Good for you. You do recognize that the problem often begins in the kitchen. A lot of fat, cholesterol and calories are hidden in the foods as they are prepared. Many breakfast rolls are high fat foods and since they are commercially prepared, they usually contain saturated fat.

Before getting lost on the point about the diet I must say it is absolutely essential that your husband stop smoking. That may be a big factor in his problem. The second step is to lose pounds of fat until he has no significant fat stores under his skin. I don't care what the pounds on the scales say; I am more interested in the evidence of body fat that most men have around the waist. Your first goal then is to feed him low-calorie foods.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 15-4, Diet to Prevent Heart Attacks and Strokes, which sets forth the general guidelines you need. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

As the issue I am sending you explains, you need to individualize, not generalize. You and your husband need to talk to your doctor and find out what his cholesterol level is. Then adjust his diet to lose pounds and lower his cholesterol if it is high. To do that you eliminate the fat, particularly the saturated fats, and cholesterol. You can use fortified skim milk, nonfat dry milk powder for cooking, the lean cuts of red meats, the white meat of poultry without the skin and the low-fat fishes (the flat fish such as sole). You can use whole cereal in reasonable amounts and fruits and vegetables without added high calories or fatty sauces and salad dressings. And your husband may benefit from a sensible, gradual walking program.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Is there such a thing as a "virus prone" individual? I'm 27 and seven years ago I had a severe case of infectious mononucleosis which progressed to hepatitis. Since then I have had countless bouts of influenza, sore throats, pharyngitis and another case of hepatitis. I have even seen a specialist in infectious diseases and he found nothing.

DEAR READER - Yes, people do have different levels of resistance to infection. We know that older people are often at greater risk of infections, usually because of medical diseases that are present.

Some children, in particular, are low in gamma globulin, a blood protein that is important in providing body immune defense mechanisms. I'm sure you have been tested for your gamma globulin level but it might be worth asking your doctor if you have and if it is normal.

In these cases, providing gamma globulin shots often improves immunity. Such shots also often help normal people to abort infectious diseases in the early course of an illness or provide temporary protection against getting an infectious disease.

For Thursday, December 3, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY

December 3, 1981

Family and relatives will play important roles in your affairs this coming year. Involvements in which you become immersed with kith and kin will prove very lucky.

TAURUS

(April 20-May 20)

Make haste slowly today regarding business or financial commitments. This is especially important if you are lending or borrowing money.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Normally you're the type who does more for others than they do for you. However, the reverse could be true today and you'll feel getting is more important than giving. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in each of the seasons following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI

(May 21-June 20)

In career matters today things are likely to work out better if you act on your own, rather than wait on sluggish associates. Take the bull by the horns.

CANCER

(June 21-July 21)

Your priorities could get a bit distorted today, to where you place greater emphasis on pleasurable pursuits than you do on productive ones.

LEO

(July 23-Aug. 22)

You're lucky today in areas where you apply your know-how and practicality, but the reverse could be true in involvements where you lack expertise.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Enjoy yourself socially with your friends today, but make it a point not to participate in any form of gossip regarding pals who aren't present.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Major achievements are possible today in career and financial areas, provided you chart the right course and hold to it. Beware of winds that could make you drift.

VIRGO

(Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Promises made to outsiders are likely to be kept today, but things you say you'll do for family members could conveniently slip your mind.

LIBRA

(Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

This is not a good day to discuss your material affairs with persons not directly involved. Their advice could be well intentioned, yet harmful.

PISCES

(Feb. 20-March 20)

You'll have good ideas today regarding how to get what you want, but there's a strong chance you could completely ignore them when the chips are down.

ARIES

(March 21-April 19)

Don't make assumptions today based on hunches or hearsay. Probe deeply until

WIN AT BRIDGE

Table with 4 columns: NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH. Contains card symbols and numbers for a bridge hand.

some very good defense.

The play starts simply. West leads his five of spades. East plays the nine and South the 10. The diamond king came next and West took his ace.

Now it was up to him to lead. A bad player might plunk down the ace of spades and hope to drop an unguarded king. West knew this to be an impossibility. East had played the nine so that South was marked with K-8.

A count of points indicated a distinct chance that East would hold an ace. Declarer still could have 17 HCP. Which ace would it be?

West came to the arbitrary conclusion that East was more likely to hold the heart ace so West shifted to a heart.

A heart shift wasn't enough. West led the nine of hearts to tell his partner not to lead a heart back. Had he led the three spot, East might well have played him for K-J-8-3 of hearts and weaker spades.

So West led the heart nine. East took his ace and led back the deuce of spades to leave declarer two tricks short at three notrump.

Plan To Pay Piper If Host Wants Music

DEAR ABBY: Here's some useful advice for the professional vocalist who is frequently asked to attend functions and sing for free.

When asked to perform, ask this question: "What is your budget for entertainment?" This implies that the performer expects a fee.

After all, no one would expect a plumber or an auto mechanic to donate his services, so why should entertainers be expected to?

I am reminded of the story told about the wealthy socialite who asked Fritz Kreisler, the famous violinist, to "come dine with us" next Friday evening.

Kreisler was delighted and accepted readily. She then quickly added, "And please bring your violin."

"Madame," Kreisler responded, "my violin never dines."

FELIX DE COLA
 DEAR FELIX: Beautiful! Kreisler should have gone and taken his violin — with no strings attached.

DEAR ABBY: Please, please warn parents about the danger of feeding their small children peanut butter! My beautiful 3 1/2 year-old grandson choked on peanut butter six weeks ago. The peanut butter lodged in his throat, cutting off his oxygen. His breathing and heart stopped and he was clinically dead for several minutes. He was revived by CPR, but there had been extensive damage to his brain.

Dear Abby

The child is still in a coma, paralyzed from the neck down. How long this dear baby will live in this condition no one knows.

The baby's father said he doesn't want his boy to be lost in vain and has asked for help in getting the word to other parents that warning labels should be put on peanut butter jars so other children can be saved.

I thank you, and am sure parents everywhere will thank you for helping to spread this message and for the lives it may save.

HEARTBROKEN IN CALIF.
 DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Your little grandson has my prayers, and his family has my sympathy. Be assured that millions of people will read this and, I hope, heed the warning. I agree, a warning label should be printed on every jar of peanut butter.
