ARMAMENT CONFERENCE PROCEEDING

IN ATMOSPHERE OF FRIENDLINESS THAT BESPEAKS GREAT RESULTS.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—With the arms conference negotiations proceeding in an atmosphere of friendliness, increasing importance is attached to the outcome as a result of the informally expressed hopes of President Harding, that the convalescent might lay the foundation for continuing a series of conferences with the aim of perpetuating closer international accord.

How easy world problems would be if the nations would first find how to make a hit in grand opera.

NEW YORK MAN LIKES SANFORD'S FINE LOCATION

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF CANADIAN PACIFIC SEES MUCH OF INTEREST

James R. Nelson, formerly superintendent of the Canadian Pacific R. R. and expert in transportation and financial problems in New York City, who visited our city this week in company with T. S. Huff, stated that he was very much impressed with the strategic position of Sanford at the headwaters of navigation.

Mr. Nelson has spent a week in a careful investigation and commercial research of the city and its future, in consultation with Mr. Converse D. Marsh, the financier of New York. Mr. Nelson was much impressed with the activities of the city and the enterprise of the merchants and to borrow his own expression, he said that "he was sold on Sanford" for its courtesy, its pro-eminent farming industry and the genuine service rendered by all with whom he came in contact, and the slogan, "The City Substantial" was indeed appropriate.

JUDGE ANDREWS RULES ALLEGED CONFESSION OF LENA CLARKE ADMISSIBLE

What She Told Chief of Police Vestel That Night is Evidence

(By The Associated Press) ORLANDO, Nov. 26.—Judge Andrews today ruled the alleged confession of Lena M. T. Clarke to Chief of Police Vestel that she killed Frank A. Miltimore, admissible in evidence.

An expectant hush fell over the crowded court room when the state announced the next witness to be called as Chief E. D. Vestel.

No objections were raised by the defense as the witness related in a clear, concise manner the incidents of that evening of August 1 last when Lena M. T. Clarke, accompanied by Baxter H. Patterson, arrived at police headquarters around 9 o'clock and asked to see the chief of police.

The witness went on to testify how after talking with the postal inspector and establishing the identity of the woman he phoned for the keys of his private office and dispatched Frank Gordon, special detective, with the key to the room at the San Juan with orders to guard the room and arrest the man found there.

At this point E. W. Davis, leading counsel of the defense for Miss Clarke, who had requested Judge Andrews to properly instruct the witness in regard to refraining from answering any question before any objections of the defense could be ruled upon when he first ascended the stand, arose to object to the state's attorney's next question relative to what Miss Clarke had told the witness after the dead body was found.

Judge Andrews, after excusing the witness, ruled that the confession was admissible under the law.

GAINESVILLE AND DUVAL SHOULD SETTLE CONTEST

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 26.—With the ending of the official football season Thanksgiving day interest centers largely now as to which high school eleven will be awarded the state championship honors by the Florida Athletic Association sitting at Gainesville.

The issue undoubtedly lies between Duval high of Jacksonville and Gainesville high. No other team would hardly dispute the title. Some Duval supporters have advanced the claim that Duval is the winner by virtue of its showing against its opponents as compared to that of Gainesville.

As to whether the two teams must meet to decide the honors of course remains with the athletic association.

If they come together, Duval would seem to have the edge on Gainesville in comparative scores. Duval completely swamped Hillsborough high, 47 to 0, while Gainesville won from the same team, 28 to 0. St. Petersburg also fared better with Gainesville than with Duval, the latter winning 39 to 0, while Gainesville was held to a 6 to 0 score.

SUITS FOR ACCOUNTING AGAINST FIVE TREASURERS OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 26.—Suits for accounting against five former state treasurers were started today by Attorney General Brundage. Suit is directed against all treasurers who held office between 1919 and 1921 inclusive of the incumbent. FOOTBALL CLAIMED TEN VICTIMS THIS YEAR

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Football claimed ten victims this season, according to reports of the Associated Press. Three less than last year. Most of the victims were of the high school students, which appears to uphold contentions of experts that the proper training and physical conditions will minimize the danger from this sport.

PRE-COOLING PLANT FOR SANFORD

NEW YORK CAPITALIST ON THE GROUND LOOKING OVER PROSPECTS

Converse D. Marsh, prominent financier of New York City, has returned to New York after completing arrangements for the establishment of three pre-cooling plants in Sanford. Arrangements have been made to finance these projects with New York capital. Mr. Marsh's original intentions were to stay in Sanford but two days. The magnitude of the proposition, however, necessitated him extending his stay for the entire week.

Mr. Marsh was accompanied by James R. Nelson, well known in New York financial circles. They both expressed themselves as being impressed with the great possibilities that their pre-cooling project affords from an investment standpoint, and in addition will obviously mean a more efficient and profitable distribution of produce from the celery belt. The project will mean a capitalization of $1,000,000, preferred stock and $2,000,000 common stock, and will assist materially in the upbuilding of this community.

"BIG CHAP"

It is not necessary here to tell you who "Big Chap" is. Every one about this burg knows the scrappy little catcher of the Boston Red Sox. Mr. Chapman, with his brother Clyde, will conduct a produce business in Sanford this winter and the winters to follow. That's good news because it means we get to keep them both here as regular residents. His office is in the rear of Perkins & Britt's store and he invites all his friends to call and give him the "once over." And if you have produce, he'll buy it.

As you are no doubt aware I am a celery buyer and have spent considerable time in Sanford and I must say that it has been a pleasure to patronize your store, as I have always felt I was getting "more value for my money," as well as a lot of courtesy thrown in for good measure.

Wishing you continued success, I remain,

Very truly yours,

Gentlemen:—Your letter received just in time as I am leaving Jacksonville today for Colorado.

In regards to purchases made at your store I can freely say were perfectly satisfactory and the prices lower than Miami or West Palm Beach, the places I was in about the time of my purchases from you.

Thanking you for the kind treatment I always received by you, I am,

Gentlemen:—So Mr. Bonts was the lucky man to win the car. Well, I did not expect to be the winner, as I never did win anything in my life, but I was, and am, still satisfied with the purchases made at your store, both with the quality and also with the price, as I could not have done better in any town on my way home of the fourteen hundred miles run, including my home town.

I hope to call on you again next winter.

Yours truly,

Gentlemen:—I'll make use of this opportunity to say that I have always been real well satisfied with what purchases I have made from you and also with the courteous treatment on each occasion.

You have always shown appreciation of my patronage and with the quality of the goods you are handling, with the popular prices, you certainly are entitled to it.

Yours sincerely,

Perkins & Britt, Sanford, Fla.

Gentlemen:—I wish to advise that I am in receipt of your letter of April 23, stating that Mr. A. Bonts, the assistant store manager at Osceola, Fla., was so fortunate as to win the Ford car, which was disposed of April 16th.

I thank you for this information, as I am an out of town customer and could not acquire the same without communication.

I also wish to state that I was very well pleased with the articles purchased from your store while in Sanford last January and February. In Club, the Kiwanis or any other organization.

Another worth while project is to get behind and help the Sanford band. Let's help them get going as a real band should, help them secure uniforms, help them retain the services of Mr. Ball, the new leader, and help them make a name for themselves throughout the state. It won't only be helping them, it will be helping Sanford.

Any thing, no matter what it is that is for the betterment of Sanford and her people, Perkins & Britt are for it. They are willing to work night and day on any project that means a better Sanford. Let's all get together and make things hum, like they do in all live towns.

SOMETHING FOR THE KIDDIES

(Continued from Page One) name entered on the mailing list so that they will be sure to receive their's. By so doing, you will be doing your child a great favor, as they will all want them just as soon as the first copy comes out and many will not be able to receive them.

These little stories are made for Perkins & Britt by the Osborne Calendar Co., thereby assuring you that they must be good as this company has a name for putting out nothing but the best.

And in connection with these little folders, Perkins & Britt are to be congratulated on this method of advertising. They realize the value of pleasing the children and have spent good money for these little gifts.

In other towns where this series has been run the demand made on the store by the children has been much heavier than the supply. They want the small children, the child who is just learning to read or who has not advanced that far, to get these. And they are interesting little stories for adults too, stories that you will not hesitate to read to your children as they prove just as interesting to the grown ups and after the first one comes out the children will not be the only ones anxious for the next one.

Don't delay, but enter your child's name at once. There is not one penny of cost to you, and you don't have to be a regular customer of their's to get them.

Talking about live stores, did you ever try Perkins & Britt? If they are not alive to your needs, then the world is dead.

LET'S HELP THE H. S. BOYS

Have you ever attended a foot ball game in which the Sanford High School boys were playing and see them win? You haven't, not in a long, long time. There is a reason for this continued losing on their part and WE are to blame.

To make a foot ball team that can compete with those of other towns we must start in the eighth grade and build the boys up to it. Keep 'em at it year after year until they have entered High School and then the tune will be different. They can then win at least their share of the games and put up such a game that the people will be glad to turn out and look at it.

To do this there must be a paid coach to look after the boys, and to have a paid coach they must have money. We spend lots of money buying things for Sanford and we never even try to help our boys. We leave them to shift for themselves as far as athletics are concerned and even tho' these boys work hard they get no where because they haven't the proper help in a financial way.

Perkins & Britt are always interested in athletics or anything for the boy. They are willing to assist in anything for the betterment of the boy and would like some more of Sanford's worthy people to join with them and make the Sanford High School as good in athletics as they are in other things.

Most of those that patronize mail order houses never have tried Perkins & Britt. If they had, no more mail order house for them.

Perkins & Britt sell clothes that last, and give service that satisfies. Trade with them.

Perkins & Britt have a way of making you glad you trade with them. If you are not their customer, get right. And above all things, trade at home.

Get behind the Chamber of Commerce, they are working for you all the time. There is something in it for each individual, if every individual will work.

Perkins & Britt believe in advertising. They ought to, they have something to advertise. The man that don't advertise must be ashamed of his wares.

"The Store that is Different"

SOME THINGS THEY STAND FOR

A campaign of like nature was put on by a city about the size of Sanford not far from Chicago and the results of this campaign was read about in many of the papers throughout the country. It was proved what can be done with the proper co-operation of the merchants of a town.

Another thing this store stands for is to get behind and stay behind the local organizations that are working for the upbuilding of Sanford. There are too many merchants who say "Oh, we have a secretary for our Chamber of Commerce, let him do it." This is wrong. It doesn't mean as much for that Secretary as it does for the merchant to have people come to Sanford. If all the business men would get behind every little movement as well as all the big movements, this little old burg of ours would hum. Perkins & Britt stand ready at all times to furnish a man or the whole force if necessary towards furthering the work of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary ply to place of residence and age, but many men of 50 years are not as much to be trusted in handling a gun as a 10-year old lad would be. There is not much protection against the person who shoots whenever he hears a rustle in the bushes at a distance. Carelessness in handling a gun is responsible for most of the fatalities of the hunting season. Dragging a gun through the underbrush or over a fence, as so many persons do, is reckless in the extreme, and it is not surprising that so many accidents are reported. A gun may burst, but the hunter who can not keep away from the muzzle of his own weapon must be responsible if accident occurs.

The automobile will hardly soon be outclassed in making business for the corner and undertaker, but the hunting season may make its contribution to the fatalities, if those who hunt are not more careful than they have been in seasons past. Even the hunter who feels sure of himself and has reasonable insurance against the foolishness of others may become the victim of accident.

UNITED STATES STANDS READY FOR WORLD PEACE
 In one crowded hour of tense thought and forceful speech the President's conference on the limitation of armament passed from the phase of hopeful experiment to the assured position of a triumph justly won.

After Mr. Harling's heart-felt aspiration that this gathering may forward an "understanding which will emphasize the guarantees of peace," Secretary Hughes proved that this was not empty rhetoric by presenting a proposal of naval disarmament so much in advance of what had been expected that the electric thrill with which it was heard was felt in every capital of the world.

Come what may, the American proposal is itself an accomplished historic fact. It cannot be recalled. It will never be forgotten. There should be no question of legislative support. Judging by the hearty praise of men of both parties in Congress, there will be none. What form response in the country will take we do not need to ask. No man on Capitol Hill is so dense that he cannot read "in advance the verdict of his home town."

In calling the conference the United States assumed the task of formulating a proposal. Limiting this, for the moment, to naval disarmament, the nation that has most to lose in the scapping of the fleets, and least to fear from continued sea competition brings forward in effect, the Borah resolution plan of a naval holiday, but with a doubled period of ten years.

Should this "splendid beginning," as Mr. Borah generously calls it, prevail, Japan, Great Britain and the United States would not only tear up their blue-prints of future work but would junk old ships and even vessels now in construction, for which no conceivable use can be imagined except a recurrence of warfare that would wreck civilization. Within the limits of time and tonnage set, these nations would neither build nor buy nor sell the instruments of sea destruction.

In accepting the President's invitation to this conference, Great Britain and Japan committed themselves to nothing. What is before them is the American plan. They are at liberty to propose substitutes or modifications. But they will be, we believe, constrained by public opinion among their own people to frame such counter proposals somewhat in the broad spirit of international friendship and trust which the administration has so boldly and wisely manifested. Mr. Hughes has set forth not only a plan but a precedent which cannot be ignored—which may be fruitful even in meeting later the more complex and difficult question of land armaments.

For that matter, what possible objection can either power raise, at least in the limelight of open diplomacy, against a perfected agreement somewhat upon the lines proposed? It ends once for all the low two-power standard of the British "Blue-Water School"—but that standard is already part of the vast scrap heap of the war. It assigns to Japan a navy proportionate to her activities in one ocean, while we have watch and ward to keep in two—but Japan is as near bankruptcy and popular revolt as any nation of unsettled Europe if she insists upon carrying out a grandiose and futile policy of naval expansion. Let public opinion be heard in British and Japan, and even old school diplomats may see virtue in a plan that proposes for the present a sharp limitation of armament and expenditure and that in futuro may lead us further yet toward the sea police force of the Parliament of the World.
 Criticism and opposition the Hugh-as proposal must expect—not from naval strategists alone, the builders of armaments, statesmen too old or too set in their ways to yield to new urgencies, but also from amiable extremists who demand an instant and complete disarmament, which the nations probably should not and certainly will not undertake. Failure may await it—but at least we shall know where to lay the blame and where to award the credit. The path lies straight and plain. By his masterstroke for peace—Mr. Hughes has pointed it out for humanity to follow if it will. The United States at least stands ready. The republic is on record.—New York World.

WHAT FORD PROPOSES TO DO WITH MUSCLE SHOALS.
 With the press dispatches carrying daily reports on Henry Ford's effort to gain control of Muscle Shoals, which is worth millions of dollars, many readers are wondering what the manufacturer wants with such an expensive property. The Birmingham News, in the heart of Industrial Alabama, explains in detail what he proposes to do, and the New editorial is herewith reproduced in part:
 There has been considerable discussion of late as to whether Henry Ford would actually make fertilizer production one of the objectives at Muscle Shoals. Since there was nothing in his proposal in the form of a guarantee that huge quantities would be produced for the American farmer, it should be of vital interest to southerners and all other American agriculturists to know that Mr. Ford has declared that he intends "to produce more nitrate than all the cotton growers of the south will need" if he is permitted to lease the Muscle Shoals plant. Certainly, in view of the findings of the American Bureau Federation, whose special committee visited Muscle Shoals last spring, Henry Ford's business sagacity has been greatly exaggerated if he should fail to produce fertilizer on a huge scale. That committee reported:
 (1) The world is running behind in the production of nitrogen.
 (2) The price of Chilean nitrate (the chief source of supply) is increasing as the supply is becoming more inadequate.
 (3) The United States alone paid $85,000,000 in 1910 for Chilean nitrate.
 (4) The United States has paid, including 1919, altogether for Chilean nitrate, plus freight, insurance, etc., approximately $800,000,000.
 (5) To secure a cheap and home-made supply of nitrogen it must be taken from the air where it is inexhaustible.

It is reasonable to suppose, therefore, that the one man who was the pioneer in the production of a very reasonably-priced automobile would leap to the opportunity to produce, out of thin air, a commodity that is in such more demand by the farmers of the United States.

HAS FAITH IN PROHIBITION
 Loveland, O., Nov. 22, 1921.
 My Dear Bro. Holly:
 I notice in the Herald of a few weeks ago that you are having the BLUES pretty bad in regard to the prohibition laws and I am afraid that you have forgotten that GOD IS NOT DEAD and that we all need to trust Him more, pray more and work harder to bring to us the desires of our hearts.

I am sending you some clippings that I hope will cheer you up and open up a new vision of what is in the future for us if we do not lose FAITH and lay down our weapons of warfare. So cheer up and press forward and we will win the fight in due time.
 I can refer you to several cases in my own little village where the putting out the saloons has worked wonders in bettering the condition of men and families, but I will only give you one because it comes near to me.
 I had in my employ for 38 years a man who had the appetite formed for strong drink which he could not resist. Pleading with him and showing him how much better he would be (and his family for he had a good sized one), if he would quit drinking it was of no avail. I assisted him in getting a home so he could pay for it at $1.00 a week. It was often hard for him to do this sometimes because he spent his money for drink. But at last we drove the saloons from our village and his house was soon paid for and he now has over $200 in his credit in the B. & L. Co., drawing him six percent interest.
 There are thousands of cases in this country similar to this one and they should inspire us to greater effort to rid this country of the terrible curse and I hope you will use your paper and your best efforts to help the cause along.
 Yours very truly,
 A. B. BROCK.

LEGION WILL HELP CAMPAIGN FOR EDUCATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24.—Because the schoolroom is the cradle of the nation, because the foundation of every state is the education of its youth, the National Americanism Commission of the American Legion and the National Education Association have joined hands to promote and foster education and thereby strengthen and perpetuate a better Americanism, build a more intelligent and better citizenry and withal equip the youth of the nation more adequately to cope with life and forge ahead the interests and achievements of the entire United States.

The initial effort is to be made with the inauguration of "American Education Week," December 4 to 10 which is to be fittingly observed in every state in the union every city and every community. Governors of states mayors of cities and towns in every section of the country have already issued proclamations urging the citizens to observe this week in a fitting way and bend their energies toward the successful accomplishment of its objectives.

This is but the initial step in the elaborate plan of the two organizations working together for the accomplishment of their joint objective—better education and better Americanism. Each year this week is to be observed. As progress is made, situations clarified, definite plans will crystallize and solidify into perfected programs for this accomplishment.

Throughout the nation on December 4, Sunday, ministers will preach upon the urgent need for better education. From all over the country come eager acceptance of the invitation to preach upon this subject. And throughout the week, the press, pulpit, educators, patriotic bodies, national clubs, community clubs and other civic bodies will co-operate to make the plan a splendid success.

The main purposes of the week are to inform the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools, particularly of the urgent needs, and to secure co-operation and support of the public in meeting these needs and to teach and foster good Americanism.

"No service has suffered more from unintelligent criticism than the schools," Dr. Charl Orland Williams, president of the National Education Association, and Alvin M. Owsley, national director of the National American Commission, have said after a thorough preliminary survey of the educational situation in the United States.

"The average citizen does not read educational literature or accounts of teachers' meetings or visit schools to learn what they are doing or how the children are faring," the statement continued.

"The average citizen has a conception of school only as he knew it in his own school days. American Education Week should give the taxpayers who furnish the funds for the public schools first-hand knowledge of the service for which they pay. Educators cannot afford to neglect this opportunity to advertise its aims and purposes.

"It is the duty of all the friends of education to think seriously and work hard on the problem of keeping the idea of public education before all the people all the time."

It is the only protection you have in case the carrier changes or there happens to be a mistake in the account. Each carrier boy is supplied with receipt books, and is commanded to give a receipt by the Herald. See that you get your receipt at the end of each week if you are paying that way.

CHURCH TO GO ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF AUTO SALESMEN IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—Harvey Church, charged with the killing of Bernard Daugherty and Carl Ausmus automobile salesmen, goes on trial today. Church confessed to the crimes after he was arrested in Wisconsin, according to the police, but afterwards he repudiated the purported confession.

Daugherty and Ausmus went to Church's home here to deliver an automobile which Church had arranged to purchase, promising payment on delivery. When the men did not return the company and police started a search for them. Ausmus' body was found buried in Church's garage and that of Daugherty in the Des Plaines river.

Church spent last night in a cell next to Thomas F. Catherwood, who confessed to killing his sister-in-law, Mrs. Beatrice Sharples last Monday, for her Christmas savings of $65.

Both men admitted strangling their victims with a rope, although Church first used an axe to stun the two men.

DYNAMITE PLACED IN NEGRO THEATRE AT ST. PETERSBURG

(By The Associated Press) ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 26.—Two explosions early this morning wrecked the interior of a negro movie house on Ninth street. One charge of dynamite placed on the key board of a mechanical piano was reduced to splinters.

FORREST LAKE STATES HIS POSITION.

To the Voters of Sanford: It has come to my attention that efforts are still being made to have the people believe that if elected City Commissioner I would disrupt our present form of government.

Now nothing could be further from the truth than such propaganda, for the following reasons: First: I will be only one of three commissioners and could not do any act without being joined by one or more of the others.

Second: The City Commissioners cannot under the law abolish the present charter, even though they all combine.

The city charter can only be changed by an act of the legislature, or by a vote of the people themselves.

Furthermore, I have no desire to upset the present form of government, as it is the substance that counts in anything, and not the form. However, there can doubtless be some improvements made in the present charter as has already been demonstrated, for example, the present method of nominating candidates; but such improvements are matters for the legislature, or for the people themselves, and cannot be effected by the commissioners.

I believe that the administrative affairs of the city can be run on a more economical basis than is being done at present, and at the same time, with greater efficiency, and if elected I shall work to that end.

I believe that the law requiring a budget for each fiscal year's revenues and expenses should be rigidly followed, and that the administrative affairs of the city should be conducted on that basis.

I have made no statement or promise of what I shall do if elected, and shall not do so, except such public statements as may be published over my signature, as is this one.

Sincerely, FORREST LAKE.

Dear Sir: WHEREAS, the conference year is practically at an end and reports from different activities of the church are in order, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Stewards of the Church at Sanford feel a great deal of pride in the unusual progress that has been made in all lines of the church work during the past year as has been testified by the increased attendance at all religious services, by the increase of over one hundred names on the church roll, and by the loyal financial support which the church has had from this membership and,

WHEREAS, we feel that such a year should not close without our declaring our appreciation of the pastor whose untiring efforts, whose constant good will, and whose inspired words of spiritual guidance have been such a source of inspiration to this church in its every branch, and,

WHEREAS, all indications point to the consummation during the coming year of various plans of importance, which have been formulated for the growth in both strength and usefulness of our church, therefore be it,

RESOLVED, that this body present for your esteemed consideration the points as outlined above, which you will find amply substantiated in the detailed reports submitted to you at this time by the various departments of the church, and be it further

(By The Associated Press) CHELSEA, Mass., Nov. 26.—Four men held up an automobile from the First National Bank of Boston today and stole the payroll funds of twenty thousand dollars. The men escaped, although one is believed to be wounded. The bandits opened fire on the automobile occupants when the car stopped in front of a shoe store. Messengers returned the fire and one robber in the meantime grabbing the money bag.

PASSA GRILLE MAYOR WILL NOT QUIT JOB WHILE UNDER FIRE

PASSA GRILLE, Nov. 26.—The movement to oust Mayor J. J. Duffy from office which took the shape recently of a petition being circulated calling for a recall election, has been dropped. The petitioners were dissatisfied with what they termed the mayor's failure to clean up the island after the recent storm. The work of putting things back in shape, however, has gotten under way and the agitation against the executive stopped.

Mayor Duffy is reported to have told a mass meeting that he was ready to quit the job but he would not do so under fire.

LENA BELIEVES HER SOUL A WANDERING NOMAD OF THE EONS

ORLANDO, Nov. 26.—Lena M. T. Clark appears to believe her soul has been wandering around for eons, living in other bodies until it finally lodged in her own body. At least this is the opinion gained from a note she sent a newspaper reporter in the courtroom while the trial was going on Wednesday. The reporter sent Miss Clarke a note asking her if she believed in the transmigration of souls. To this note Miss Clarke replied on a slip of paper:

"My soul is not old nor young. There is no age to the soul. I was Esau. Jacob stole my birthright. It was not an angel he wrestled with till daybreak, it was Esau.

"Afterwards, I was Saint Cecilia. When I played, music whispered to me by spirits, the music upset my husband and he killed me."

Miss Clarke ceased her writing at the request of her attorney.

OUR WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

By Henry Clews & Co.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Once more the dominating factor in the stock market has been a great international event. Secretary Hughes' unexpected and radical proposal for the limitation of armaments was not only an influence of the broadest character affecting all financial relationships but was also an immediate market factor.

Steel and Shipbuilding Affected
Of course, the immediate and direct effects of armament limitation in the naval sense tend to be injurious to steel and shipbuilding shares, and as a result there was at the outset some fear regarding the possible effect of the program.

Some Budget Results
It would be easy to overestimate the immediate saving to be obtained from limitation of armaments. Those who compute it at about $250,000,000 a year so far as the United States is concerned are probably about as near correct as available figures will permit.

The Railroad Issue Again Up
Questions affecting the income paying power of the railroads are again brought to the front by the definite application of some fifty-two lines for the establishment of a lower scale of wages.

Business and Investment
The steady growth of investment funds is illustrated by the enormous oversubscription to the offering of New York telephone bonds during the past week, while the continued abundance of funds in various directions is making itself felt as an important factor in business development.

current funds. Weakness in foreign exchange, particularly marks, has been the least encouraging element in the financial history of the past few days.
