

Rollins Players To Offer Hamlet In Theater

Richard Shattuck To Have Leading Role In Shakespeare Play

WINTER PARK, Fla., Feb. 12.—Production of "Hamlet," announced for Thursday and Friday nights, Feb. 21 and 22, is now engaging the attention of the Student Company of Rollins College, under the direction of Dr. Earl E. Fleischman.

For years this year play has been the vehicle for virtuous acting. For years the young Prince of Denmark has been identified with one great actor after another. It has been Booth's "Hamlet," or Barrymore's "Hamlet," or Mansfield's "Hamlet."

As a result there has developed a definite interest in watching what subtleties an actor could extract from the rich material of characterization given to the part of Shakespeare. Consequently the actual story of "Hamlet," the atmosphere of the eleventh century court of Denmark, the almost melodramatic situation into which Hamlet is plunged, and the import of the play as a whole have been subordinated and confused by acting traditions.

Only recently, in the more spectacular developments in direction and design, has the play itself emerged into a living, pulsing whole, but the emphasis in this development has shifted to the other extreme: from a personal interpretation of a character to an impersonal and symbolic presentation of an idea.

The Rollins Student Company in the forthcoming production will endeavor to do two things. The first is to play Hamlet as the young student plunged into the bitter disillusionment of his lot to face life suddenly in its worst and most sordid aspects. Richard Shattuck, who is probably best remembered for his acting in the role of Death in "Death Takes a Holiday" last year, is to play Hamlet, not Hamlet the mature and poet of letters, but Hamlet, the strange, young prince, impetuous in his emotions and tortured by his over-sensitive and high-strung mind.

The second aim of the Rollins production is to create the castle of Elsinore and the rich, reckless, full-blooded life of their eleven hundred years ago.

It is possible, no real man appearing in a series of scenes against a background of minor characters, but will seem rather a man apart, trying to escape from the insistence of the court that threaten to overwhelm him with its activity and callous gaiety.

The king, played by Robert Warfield, and the queen, played by Ruth Dawson, uncomfortably aware of Hamlet's inner guilt; Polonius, the over-pretentious old chamberlain, played by Theodore Ehrlich; his ray young son, Laertes, interpreted by Albert Warren; and Ophelia, portrayed by Catherine Gray, are all people, as important in their relationships to each other and to Hamlet as he is in his relationship to them.

The castle setting has been designed as a unit and is built in permanently lower, battlemented, jutting masonry. Within this solid framework, shifting velvet curtains and the play of lights are the only interruptions to the rapid flow of the action which

Hardly Million Persons Affected By Old Age Plan

Pension Scheme Would Cost States Only $110,000,000 Yearly

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The Administration yesterday sent to the capital an estimate that less than a million persons would be eligible for old age pensions, and that the total cost to the states would be about $111,000,000 annually.

Some congressmen have estimated that the pension plan would cost around $400,000,000 yearly.

The table, drawn up by the economic security committee, was based on the number of persons aged 65 who are receiving relief in the states, plus those who are getting old age pensions in states that have pension systems.

The Senate Finance Committee was receiving testimony from spokesmen for Illinois Manufacturers Association and others opposing the economic security plan. The House Ways and Means Committee moves from battleships to throning of iron chambers, to burial and conventional division of acts and scenes.

"Hamlet" is to be produced by the students as the Founders Week dramatic production and will be staged at the Annie Russell Theatre.

Coughlin Accuses New Dealers Of Okeying Socialism

Priest Says Economic Laws Now Used Are Radically Wrong

DETROIT, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The Rev. Father Charles Coughlin in an address yesterday charged that "through the agency of his appointed high officers Mr. Roosevelt shares the responsibility of having endorsed a most radical leaning towards international Socialism or Sovietism in relation to the rights to private property ownership."

Father Coughlin said he referred to the articles in the charter of what he identified as "The Public Works Emergency Leasing Corporation." He said the corporation was chartered in Delaware Jan. 2, 1934, but "was withdrawn just the day previous to the meeting of our Seventy-Fourth Congress last month."

The incorporators, Father Coughlin said, were Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior; Oscar Chapman; and Theodore Walters.

The priest read from what he said were the articles of incorporation of the Public Works Emergency Leasing Corporation, quoting its articles as giving the corporation power over "the maintenance and operations of bridges, structures, and buildings—of every kind, nature and description," and the right to acquire personal property and to acquire, hold, lease, dispose of any franchises, licenses, grants, concessions, patents and other similar things.

"Read the histories of the first or second and third international conventions of the communists," Father Coughlin said. "Scrutinize the economic laws or edicts which have emanated from Moscow since 1917 and I challenge you to describe a more comprehensive theoretic onslaught against private property."

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

He is with the news line will be made later this week.

It was incorrectly stated in a front page news story Saturday that Judge Smith sentenced a negro to 15 months at Sanford penitentiary after the negro had pleaded not guilty to a charge of shooting a gun into another negro's home. The negro necessarily had to plead guilty before he could be sentenced, since the case did not reach a jury.

A special table will be reserved for Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce members at the dinner dance which will officially open the Mayfair Hotel tonight, it was announced today by Gordon Barnett of Fern Park, president of the organization. All Jaycees expecting to attend were urged to make a reservation with Frank E. Swift, manager of the hotel, at once. They should say that they will be seated at the Jaycees' table.

Believe it or not, but a salt water floorer weighing eight and one half pounds and measuring 11 inches across and two feet long was removed from the waters of Lake Monroe yesterday afternoon by Jim Bailey, local man who was using a net to catch a quantity of fish. This unusual catch was displayed in several downtown locations this morning to attract more than passing interest.

Featuring the proposed Gulf Refining Company which is soon to be erected south of the Orange State Oil Co. properties on the lakefront is a 1450 barrel gasoline storage tank 30 feet in diameter by 35 feet high. Four smaller tanks, 10 feet in diameter and 25 feet high will be used to store Ethyl gasoline and kerosene, while in the front portion of the lot will be a warehouse garage, and loading platform.

From London, England today came a request for a copy of the Sanford Herald and literature descriptive of Sanford and Seminole County to be used in connection with tourist activities and Florida products. The material was forwarded by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Oklahoma Towns Ready For Glare Of News Publicity

Kennamer Murder To Open In Shawnee Monday Morning

AWNEE, Okla., Feb. 12.—This little town of 2,500 inhabitants is ready for the beating glare of publicity which has centered on Flemington, N. S., since Bruno Richard Hauptmann went on trial charged with murdering the Lindbergh baby.

Pawnee has prepared for the biggest show since the "run" of '33, when the Indian country was opened to white settlement—the Phil Kennamer murder trial.

Kennamer, 19-year-old brilliant son of a United States judge, is charged with murder in the admitted slaying of John E. Gorrell, Jr., his friend, last Thanksgiving. He said he killed Gorrell, son of a wealthy physician, when the two broke over Gorrell's plan to start $20,000 from H. F. Wilcox, oil millionaire.

An insanity defense has been indicated.

Like Flemington, Pawnee is equipped to accommodate the small army of newspapermen, photographers, witnesses and attorneys which the sensational case has attracted. The trial was moved here from Tulsa, sophisticated "oil capital of the world," on a change of venue.

The Pawnee county court house, though new, has a court room seating only 180 spectators and witnesses, after provision is made for court attaches and the press. Three hotels have but 100 rooms between them, and they were sold out 12 hours after the trial was moved here. Available rooms in private homes had become scarce today.

Special wires have been run in by telegraph and telephone companies to handle more than 100,000 words of press copy daily. More than 10 writers have made press reservations.

Originally scheduled to begin on Jan. 28, the change of venue delayed the trial until Feb. 11. Opening of the Kennamer case, which reached Tulsa financial and social circles, will center near the close of the Hauptmann trial.

London Firm Broke After Gambling Spree

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The fall of ruin left by a wild gambling spree in London's commodity markets was strewn last night with the wreckage of another old-established mining-lane brokerage firm.

Rolls & Sons, founded in 1861, went in the wall—the third victim of the ill-fated pepper pool that collapsed last week and the fourth in a series of crashes resulting from high speculation in such heavily products as peanuts, shellac and white pepper.

CARROLLTON, Ga., Feb. 12.—(AP)—A verdict of accidental strangulation was returned by a coroner's jury in the death of a 19-year-old student at the West Georgia College here, who was found dangling from his bed with a belt buckle around his neck.

The body of the youth, Harold Whitehurst, 22, of Dublin, was discovered Saturday in the college dormitory, suspended from the middle tier of three sleeping cots. Sheriff J. L. Webb of Carroll county said it was believed the boy had fastened himself to the upper tier with his belt, while reading and then accidentally slipped off the bed.

Norton paid a visit to Deland last week. He went from there to Tampa and Sunday started the return trip to the Lone Star State.

Tax Settlements Already Made Not Affected By Rule

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The State of Florida prepared yesterday to appeal to the United States supreme court for reversal of a federal circuit court decision that a vital portion of the so-called Futch Act of the 1933 Legislature is unconstitutional.

If the state loses its appeal, the result would be the virtual death of the Futch Act, which provided for payment of delinquent county and district taxes with bonds over a period not exceeding 18 years.

The federal circuit court of appeals in New Orleans ruled this part of the Act to be unconstitutional, its decision for the time being affected only St. Lucie in-lieu district and the Sumter county commission, but attorneys and state officials here said affirmation of the decision by the United States supreme court would be a guide that other counties and districts could not accept the bonds in lieu of cash for payment of delinquent taxes.

Tax settlements which already have been made with bonds probably would not be upset, even if the state lost its appeal, officials here said.

Dirigible Macon Lies In Floor Of Pacific, Two Of Crew Missing

Terrible Explosion Causes Craft To Crack Up Enroute Sunnyvale Base
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11 (A.P.)—The giant dirigible Macon, destroyed by a mysterious disaster at the bottom of the Pacific while 81 survivors being brought here by two members of the crew missing and when a failed to reveal the bodies today they were given the fate of every American dirigible the vessel as she neared her base at sunset last night suddenly burst as she through equally air 118 miles south of San Francisco. Personal leaders estimated that the dirigible was destroyed by the further development of the air craft, already in the air, and when the dirigible was launched at least three days into the crash of the dirigible. President today gave a message to the Navy for its work and said no more would be asked of the dirigible to replace the dirigible.

Italy Ready To Spend Millions On African War

Ethiopian Emperor Sends Defiant Retort To Mussolini, Blaming His Nation
ROME, Feb. 12.—(A.P.)—The Italian government was said authoritatively today to be ready to spend $500,000,000 on a two year military campaign in Africa in the event hostilities break out with Ethiopia. Italian military plans became known as Negades Yesus, Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie defiantly retorted holding Italy responsible for the frontier conflicts which precipitated the present crisis. The Ethiopian communication a government spokesman said, created a "melancholy situation." It was learned that Italy is responsible for the frontier conflicts for the colonial service. A battalion of 300 Fascist militia left Rome quietly for Italy early today with full colonial equipment. Meanwhile at Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian and Italian governments agreed today to the establishment of neutral zones where hostilities recently have occurred, and to appoint a boundary commission. British and French diplomats worked hand-in-hand at Rome and Addis Ababa Tuesday to avert war in Africa as Ethiopia's diplomatic representative in Rome said flatly his country would not pay one cent indemnity for Italian slain along the Italian border. Although official circles in London expressed confidence that Mussolini would act with moderation and Italy-Ethiopian peace negotiations went forward at Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian government was reported to be sending 70,000 men along the frontier, while Italy had 200,000 ready for the call to the colors. The Ethiopian chargé d'affaires said his nation has 1,000,000 men available to fight Italy, asserting Ethiopia expects no foreign ally and needs none. He declared Mussolini's demands for satisfaction in the recent border controversy must be modified to be accepted. Addis Ababa the government announced that the attack near Godegode Jan. 28, latest in the long series of border incidents which (Continued On Page Two)

Jury Gets Hauptmann Case; Reilly Takes Exception To Trenchard's Charges

Richard Hauptmann, whose fate was placed in the hands of the jury at 11:23 o'clock this morning

Court Stresses Disputed Reliability Of Condon, Hochmuth In His Final Words

FLEMINGTON, Feb. 12.—(A.P.)—The jury trying Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnaping and murder of Charles Lindbergh, Jr. began its deliberations before noon today after being instructed that it must return three possible verdicts: Murder in the first degree, the same with a recommendation for mercy, or acquittal. The final charge of the Court paid particular attention to the disputed reliability of important state witnesses, Dr. John Condon and Amanda Hochmuth and the defense theories that a gang perpetrated the crime and that hood leader Fisch gave Hauptmann the ransom money he had. "Do you believe that?" were the concluding words of the Court's remarks about each of these defense contentions. Defense exceptions to the charge were heard after the jury retired at 11:23. Justice Trenchard's charge, though brief was sharp and to the point. No word came from the jury at 1:30 o'clock, two hours and 30 minutes after it had retired. In the name of all laws, written and unwritten, a little freedom in gray study this courtroom yesterday demanding that Bruno Richard Hauptmann be executed (Continued On Page Two)

Capital Has Much To Keep It Busy East Coast Train With Conjecture

Many Injured As East Coast Train Hits (Open Bridge)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(A.P.)—Although Congress was in recess, the loss of the Macon, another Administration maneuver against the payment of the bonus, and the late chance of a Supreme Court decision in the gold case made for a busy day in the capital today. President Roosevelt and Secretary Swanson, rejoicing that the loss of life was no greater on the dirigible, showed there would be no immediate attempt to replace it. They did not consider that lighter than air craft were to be displaced by finally, however. Not mentioning the bonus, the President, at a press conference, repeated his view that any increase in the budget should be accompanied by revenues to meet its cost. His words were addressed specifically to the full restoration of government salaries on April 1, but the principles embraced the $2,100,000 cash veterans proposal. The Senate and House committees were kept busy on the 20-hour week, social security, and relief proposals without speaking any startling testimony. The less seriously injured were given medical attention at the scene and those more seriously hurt were taken by motor to West Palm Beach, 30 miles south of Jupiter. (Continued On Page Two)

Engine Goes Through Draw Into Waters At Jupiter Inlet

JUPITER, Feb. 12.—(A.P.)—Twenty to 25 persons were injured, one apparently seriously, yesterday as the second section of the "Florida Special," crack New York to Miami tourist train, with 100 passengers aboard, ran into an open draw on a bridge across the Loxahatchee River near here. The locomotive dived through the draw into the river, the engineer and fireman leaping to safety with minor injuries. The tender plunged between the bridge and the water. The baggage car, 10 Pullmans and a club car remained on the bridge but were damaged by the sudden impact with the elevated draw. Mrs. Jane Ogle, hostess on the club car at the extreme rear of the train, apparently was the most seriously hurt. She was taken to a hospital in an unconscious condition. Other injured passengers suffered from cuts, bruises and shock. There were reports several persons had broken arms. The less seriously injured were given medical attention at the scene and those more seriously hurt were taken by motor to West Palm Beach, 30 miles south of Jupiter. (Continued On Page Two)

Labor Board Asks Clarification Of Section Seven - A

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(A.P.)—The National Labor Relations Board jumped into the partially closed scrap between the American Federation of Labor and the Administration with a suggestion that the famous section 7-a of the Recovery Act "should be clarified." Federal officials for months have contended the clause guaranteeing employees' rights to bargain collectively should be enlarged to specify "majority rule" and to outlaw company unions. Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, former chairman of the old national labor board and an experienced hand in dealing with the violation, has said he would introduce a bill to "improve these changes." But that measure has not yet (Continued On Page Two)

Apparently the bondholders are determined that the harassed and over-burdened taxpayers of Florida shall have no relief, even though such a relief is to help on the bondholders themselves. Bridge Which Replaces Titusville Ferry May Be Opened For Traffic In 30 Days

MARSH 12 probably will see the opening of the wooden bridge now being erected across the St. Johns River to replace the Titusville ferry east of Geneva, it was learned here today. By that time the new road grade will have been placed in such condition as to permit of traffic, and the bridge will have been erected. The bridge is one which was built and operated across the St. Johns River at Lake Monroe. It was demolished about three months ago and removed to the Titusville ferry site by State Road Department crews. The authority for the statement that the bridge may be opened within 30 days came in a letter from C. B. Treadway, chairman of the Road Department, reading as follows: "In reply to your inquiry of Feb. 1, I wish to advise that the bridge over St. Johns River west of Geneva was removed from Sanford where it was replaced by a new structure. "It is to be hoped that the grade from Geneva west to the St. Johns River can be surfaced out of the first available federal funds, and we expect to include this year's amount state funds to play the worst part of this road in a fair traveling condition. "If an advised by our Engineering Department that it will be possible for the traveling public to use the grade in its present condition and cross the bridge within approximately 30 days."

High Court Studies Law Against Drunks

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 12.—(A.P.)—The question of whether state-wide prohibition repeal would not a state law against drunkenness was raised in the supreme court yesterday. A bill of habeas corpus was issued by the court directing Sheriff Frank E. Hennessey of Leon county to show cause why George Haynes, a negro convict, should not be released from custody. In his petition for the writ, Haynes contended the law against drunkenness was killed along with the "bone dry" prohibition laws, with the adoption of the prohibition repeal amendment, last November. Officials are of the opinion that work may be continued through the Dept. of March. Projects that now to be resumed include the sewer reconstruction project, the sidewalk project, near Southeast High School, and all sewing room activities.

Shippers Agree To Handle Only Well Bleached Celery

Calling for the co-operation of all celery growers and shippers in Seminole County a group of prominent Sanford-Oviedo shippers endorsed a resolution in which they agreed to ship only well-bleached celery from this section for the remainder of the season. The resolution was offered by H. F. Wheeler, prominent Oviedo grower, during a meeting held in the Finch Building and attended by representatives of practically every local celery shipping organization. Too much green celery is being packed into Southern markets and sold in trucks, it was agreed by the shippers, and it was held that this practice will tend to damage the price range now in existence. Growers, it was agreed, should exercise greater caution in the selection and cutting of their celery, and all are to understand that the shippers represented at the meeting have definitely decided to turn down green celery passing through their hands. Shippers and members of the Florida Celery Control Committee will meet at the Finch Building at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning for a joint session with Florida members of the committee. Shippers attending this morning's meeting, included: H. F. Wheeler and E. F. Lee of Oviedo, John Meech, Sr., Charles Dunn, J. B. Chapman, H. B. Davis of the United States Department of Agriculture, J. C. Hutchinson, W. H. Scott, A. W. Wilson, M. E. Colson, E. R. Dunn, and H. E. Squires.

An Expensive Trial The Hauptmann trial was probably one of the most expensive trials in the history of this country. According to an estimate prepared by the Associated Press, when all bills are in, it will have cost in excess of one million dollars. Not all of this, of course, has to be paid by the state. Some of it represents the expenses of the newspapers, radio, and others who have been interested in the trial. But as the Associated Press figures it, this is how these costs line up: Reward by State of New Jersey (if Hauptmann is convicted), $25,000. Ransom money paid by Lindbergh, $50,000. Sum spent by Dr. Condon in personal hunt for kidnapers, $10,000. Radio (wires, commentators, time, etc.) $30,000. Witnesses, transportation (some from Europe) troopers, deputies, court officers, admission tickets, miscellaneous expense, $30,000. Jury, salary and expense, $1,800. Lawyers (prosecution, defense and personal expense), $20,000. Transcripts of testimony, court stenographers, etc., $60,000. Reporters, special writers, photographers, artists, etc., $18,000. Wire costs, messengers, telephone and telegraph operators, tolls, airplanes (for speeding pictures), railroad, bus and private car costs (at $20,000 a day), $600,000. Living costs of trial attendants (press, radio, etc.), $30,000. MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN BY GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—This is about a sick 'cello, a still more sick 'celist, and a really kind man. It all came to the surface in George's hall when George's 'cello played the 'cello's requiem. It was a 'cello with a somewhat difficult name—Cassell—Trullax. But it began some years back in Boston, when a director of the Boston Symphony hired a young 'celloist to play a program for some weeks. The 'celloist was tall, handsome in the Russian way, vigorous, played beautifully. A friendship began, fees were forgotten, and the house became the Boston home of Cassell-Trullax. And then one day, the man and his musical friend met on a London street. Cassell-Trullax was sick at heart. His 'cello was worse. 'Celos sufficiently good for his use cost heavily. The friends had dinner together. Next day the Boston musician telephoned the 'celloist in London. He asked to be taken to see the best London collection of fine musical instruments. Cassell-Trullax was busy and worried, list of course he said yes. The two inspected violins by Stradivarius and Guarneri, but his eyes were fixed on other matters. Then Cassell-Trullax asked to see some good 'cellos, if any there were. The dealer brought out a Montagnana buried for 70 years in an English country house and just resurrected. The tall young Russian was amazed. A bow, and promptly folded himself about the instrument and forgot even his friend. The friend tapped him on the shoulder, after a time, and said something. The 'celloist paid no attention. The friend smiled, spoke to the dealer, and departed. As luck befell, the dealer was always at home for hours. He called, 'Catch the best 'cello,' said the dealer when he arrived. 'This is left the 'cello for you as a gift.' Cassell-Trullax confessed that for some time he had been really, really believe his 'cello had turned up to be had played his new get in public. The friend had asked that nobody know who bought the 'cello. But there is nothing like a Russian. 'Your friend had to leave to also for lunch taking some records. 'I am too grateful to allow him to remain anonymous,' said 'cello. 'He is the treasurer of the Boston Symphony—Ernest B. Dana.' Cassell-Trullax smoothed the 'cello, as if it were alive, and smiled. He took it on a day so calm and quiet and serene that he was about to head my report. 'All Quiet on the Western Front,' there came a summons to the telephone. 'You have made a mistake,' a soft voice cried. 'I myself am just a 'cello.' 'It awfully decent of you,' I said. 'What is your name?' 'Wherefore and with... business of yours?' ...and hung up, leaving me to prearrange the fine perplexities of womankind.

Another Blow To Dirigibles The disaster which befell the dirigible Macon off San Diego will help strengthen the opinion of many that the United States should abandon further building and experimentation in this type of aircraft. It is too early even to know the cause of the accident much less to form an opinion as to the practicability of the dirigible as demonstrated in this particular case, but the fact that there was an accident at all will furnish material for renewed efforts to have our government withdraw from the dirigible field and leave it exclusively to some other country. That the United States has had an inordinate amount of hard luck with its lighter-than-air craft cannot be denied, but that Germany inversely has had an equal amount of good luck must also be admitted. It appears not to be so much a case of the type of aircraft as it does the way the airships are made and how they are flown. Germany seems to have the knack, America, apparently, does not. This is no reason why the United States should give up in despair and say: "We do not have sufficient engineering skill to build dirigibles, nor enough brains to fly them. We must leave this field to Germany which does have the skill and the brains." The trial of lighter-than-air craft is really a tremendous gamble. On one day the sky will be filled with dirigibles carrying tremendous cargoes of freight and passengers. If the United States drops out of the pioneering effort now it will have to take it up again and try to catch up with some other country which has stepped way out in front.

Huge Problem Faces U. S. In Financial Security (Continued From Page One) As all events, the treasury's bill for the next few years will not be vast, relatively speaking, but the problem of finding sufficient money, officials believe, will begin to be more acute in 1938. In that year the government will start making contributions to the old age insurance program. Up until that time, under the present theory, income from payroll taxes will balance out. But from 1933 on to 1940, Uncle Sam must make huge payments, supplementing payroll tax collections, because of the relatively heavy percentage of those who will retire after making contributions for only a few years. The government is estimated to need a total of $1,400,000,000 in 1930. After that time, sponsors say the cost will be downward and the situation gradually will be made self-sustaining, the percentage of those who have been paying into the fund only a few years at time of retirement dropping sharply on it finally the system may be self-supporting again. The problem of collecting the two types of payroll taxes proposed, those involving compulsory old age insurance and those for unemployment insurance, will be the most immediate government concern because of the vast numbers of taxpayers involved. Two related systems may be adopted. One, applying to the larger businesses, industrial firms and other corporations, would be a parallel to the income tax. The employer would pay annually the required tax on his payroll, something that payroll act evidence if required. Under the other, probably to be used for the smaller businesses and individual employers having only a few workers, a stamp system would be used. The employer would buy stamps representing the aggregate of the payroll tax for a given period and these stamps would be pasted in small books held by the employe. The fact that there will be two parties to the tax will aid in double-checking returns. Tomorrow.—The Children's Program.

Futch Predicts Repeal Of Tax Foreclosure Law (Continued From Page One) The bondholders seem to think that they can crack the whip of mandamus and get scaling over the heads of the taxpayers of Florida and get away with it and at the same time herd them down the lane walked on either side by the so-called earnestness of non-tract enforced by the federal courts. "Since the bondholders persevere and how so loudly for maintenance of the original status of the bonds at the time they were issued, I feel certain that when the legislature convenes in April, it will give them that exact status by repealing the tax foreclosure law and all other remedial legislation which has been enacted since the issuance of these bonds, placing the status of the tax deed back to where it is not worth the paper it is written upon. "I feel confident that the legislature will go still further and relieve the bondholders of what must be to them the very odious duty of paying for the payment of bonds and interest. If the bondholders must have their full... CITY NEWS BRIEFS (Continued From Page One) A Public Hearing Commission was in Sanford yesterday on business connected with the inspection of all hotels, restaurants and boarding houses. The Municipal Zoo may be extended westward on part of the site of the old farmstead field if plans of the Park Department are successful. Coast line railroad officials are being contacted for permission to use the pre-territorial status, I for one am ready to give it to them, and I believe I will not be by myself when the legislature meets.
