Heavy Commie Attack Repulsed

DAVID COOK, president of the Sanford Junior High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, is congratulated by Principal Hugh Carlton on the organization's work in beautifying the school grounds. The group is standing in a bed of petunias, edged by border grass. All around the area are ligustrum, red cedar, jasmine, palms, boxhorns and many other plants donated by the FFA. From left are Lloyd Wall, secretary; Richard Jura, treasurer; Storm Richards, reporter; Cook and Carlton.

SAIGON (UPI)—U. S. and Australian troops drove off a heavy Communist attack 30 miles north of Saigon before dawn today. At least 20 Viet Cong were killed and 11 were wounded and captured. The Communists, attacked by mortars, machine guns, tanks and machine guns, started the headquarters of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division's 1st Brigade and two battalions of combat troops—one American and one Australian—were heavily wounded nearby. Heavy American mortar fire broke up the attack, and Australian patrols ambushed the Communists as they fell back. Allied casualties were described as "light." In other fighting, 127 Communists were reported killed today—14 by South Vietnamese troops, 26 by U. S. Marines, 14 by troops of the 1st U. S. Air Cavalry and 11 by the 1st Infantry. Elsewhere in Vietnam: The commander of South Vietnam's only jet squadron, Maj. Nguyen Ngoc Bien, was run over by a jet on a runway in a freak accident at Pleiku air base. His disabled plane was being pushed off the runway when the brakes failed. Bien leapt from the plane and was run over. A U. S. Navy patrol boat was called in to the coast near Tam Ky to provide gun-fire support for Vietnamese troops ashore. The patrol boat blasted Communist positions with 20 81mm mortar shells. Today's attack on American and Australian positions north of Saigon was the first attack Allied contact with the Communists since early this week. The Reds attacked separate defensive positions laid out by the two battalions about a mile apart. Some of the Communists, while by white phosphorus shells, fled into the pre-dawn darkness with their clothes blazing.

Jailbirds And Jailbirds

MIAMI (UPI)—The Mosler murder jury came back today for more of the battle of the courts. The defense is producing an array of jailbirds to discredit the testimony of the previous array and jailbirds produced by the prosecution. The alternate jury is being asked to assess one wild story against another wild story—and some of the story tellers on both sides are the basest sort of criminals. On tap today is one Willy Mendez to say what one Billy Frank Mulvey told in the Harris County (Houston, Tex.) jail does not live at all with what Mulvey said as a prosecution witness. Mulvey has become the most maligned character in the entire case as far as his personal integrity is concerned. A parade of witnesses has said they wouldn't believe him under oath.

Senate Critics Fighting LBJ's War Chest Bid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is pledged that "there will be no mindless escalation" of the war in Vietnam but is standing behind his determination to take all necessary steps to halt Communist aggression. In a major policy statement seen as a reply to critics of his policies, the President said that "the measured use of force must be continued" in an exercise of "prudent firmness under careful control." Johnson said the U. S. aim was limited to keeping the North Vietnamese from conquering South Vietnam. He said that no act of the United States would risk the entry of Red China into the war "if there is any reason left behind the wild words of jokers."

Key To The Future Is Education-Burns

TAMPA (UPI)—The Governor's Conference on Education opened here today with an estimated 1,400 delegates working to draw up guidelines for the state's educational system for the next decade. The morning session was taken up with a welcome from Gov. Haydon Burns and a status report on the current system. The delegates were prepared for delivery to the conference, that Florida must be willing to pay the cost of education in such an educational system. Burns noted that the burden of paying educational costs now falls largely on property owners.

Attorney Facing Charge, Suicides

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (UPI)—The sheriff's office said a prominent attorney who recently was charged with tax evasion traveled more than 1,000 miles to a remote desert spot and shot himself dead. The body of John G. Dorsey, 47, of Minneapolis, was found in the field 15 miles east of here. He was shot once in the right temple with a .45 caliber pistol. The sheriff's office said before firing the fatal shot, Dorsey apparently drove 91 miles from here to Flagstaff, Ariz., then drove back toward Flagstaff, parked the car and walked through mud and snow one-half mile across the field.

Skyway $$ Plan Delay Requested

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Governor Haydon Burns today asked Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson and Treasurer Howard Williams to back his proposal to delay a decision on refinancing the Sunshine Skyway until after the spring primaries. Kelly, in a telegram to Dickinson and Williams, urged them to help delay a decision on the proposed $225 million refinancing "in the best interest of the public." He also said the issue should be removed from the campaign as an issue.

Snow Piles Up Across North

United Press International Snow from a late-winter storm piled up today from the Atlantic coast to the Midwest. Light rain fell in Florida and engineers in Iowa worked to try and melt a 10-mile-long jam in the Mississippi River at Davenport. Four inches of snow fell at Ashville, N. C., and inches fell at Cape Girardeau, Mo., Blytheville, Ark., and Potosi, Ky., were dented with ice-lash falls. Elsewhere, a storm developing off the Florida coast triggered rain and snow to spread more rain and snow up the Atlantic seaboard to southern New England by tonight.

Demonstration

MANILA (UPI)—An estimated 2,000 torch-bearing Filipino demonstrators, brandishing anti-American placards and chanting "Yankies... monkey go home," marched in front of the U. S. Embassy and prevented Ambassador William McCornick from leaving the embassy compound.

Jimmy Stewart On Bomb Raid

AGANA, Guam (UPI)—Actor James Stewart disclosed he flew as an official observer on a bombing mission over Vietnam. The actor, a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve, said he piloted the giant B52 bomber on the return flight to his Strategic Air Command (SAC) base here. He said he took no active part in the bombing raid. Stewart's tour was part of his two-week active duty demand of all reserve officers annually. He spent the time on an inspection tour of Military Airlift Command and SAC facilities.

Senate Critics Fighting LBJ's War Chest Bid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's assurance there will be no "mindless escalation" of the Vietnam conflict was a major speech in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. The major forum for the "great debate" was Senate consideration of Johnson's $4 billion request for more military hardware to fight the war. A vote on the measure was threatened with postponement until next week. Sen. Warren Morse (D-Ore.), who wants to restrict the "blank check" authority of South Vietnam, said the President in an August, 1964, resolution, rejected Johnson's declaration in New York he is pursuing "prudent firmness under careful control." Morse said: "Some ask if this is a war of attrition. The answer is plain: It is not." Our country is in Vietnam to prevent the forestal conquest of South Vietnam by North Vietnam... "We are using that force and only that force—necessary to stop the aggression..."

Non-Smokers Liable To Lung Cancer, Too

MIAMI (UPI)—A Cuban doctor said today he is convinced that non-smokers are just as susceptible to lung cancer as smokers, according to his statistics in the book "Lung Cancer and Cigarette Smoking." Castillo, a resident of Miami since Cuba came a Communist state, is a specialist in respiratory diseases. His book is based on his study in Cuba of 1,554 lung cancer cases and 1,132 case studies of persons who had quit smoking in 1954. In a book based on 30 years of study, Dr. Juan J. Castillo said smoking is "just one of the causes of lung cancer, but not the only one." He said that "biological or chemical" factors are related to "hereditary or congenital" factors and listed others as "precipitating" ones related to environment. He called the cigarette smoking habit "a precipitating factor" and listed others such as air pollution, pesticides and other irritating factors present in the air of cities. His studies of the 1,554 lung cancer cases showed that 31 per cent were smokers and eight per cent non-smokers. On the other hand, examination of the 1,132 cancer-free cases showed that 54 per cent were smokers and 45 per cent were non-smokers, he said.

3 Institutions Get $30 Million

NEW YORK (UPI)—The late Alfred P. Sloan Jr., former president of General Motors Corp., left $10 million each to three institutions, his will showed Wednesday. Sloan died Feb. 17 at the age of 90. Named as beneficiaries of the bequests are the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., and the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer and Allied Diseases, both in New York. The will, which was offered for probate Wednesday in Manhattan Surrogate's Court, did not provide for Sloan's surviving sister and three brothers. He noted, "no provision is made in this will for members of my immediate family and various of my relatives and friends because I have made provision for them through the establishment during my life of a substantial trust for their benefit."

Museum Slated At Gainesville

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The University of Florida has received a $1.1 million federal grant to help construct a new building to house the Florida State Museum. University President J. Wayne Riffe said that school officials hope to raise an additional $400,000 from private sources so a $2.2 million building can be constructed for the museum. Museum director J. C. Dickinson said present facilities in the Seagle Building in downtown Gainesville allow the display of only about one per cent of the museum's holdings. Ghana, the former Gold Coast, was Britain's first African state to gain independence in 1947. It is still a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations but has no defense agreements with any other nation.

400 Visit American-Slovak Fete

BESEDA DANCERS from Masaryk town were on hand in colorful native dress for 14th Annual American Slovak Day at Slovak Gardens in Fort Lauderdale. The community building was dedicated by Mr. and Mrs. Karol Belohlavak, managers and only surviving founders of Slovak Gardens, a retirement community for Americans of Slovak origin. Though past eighty they are both still active. He made the dedication in the Slovak language and Mrs. Belohlavak, known fondly as "The mother of the garden," cut the ribbon and was presented with a bouquet of flowers. The $12,000 duplex was dedicated by Mrs. Sophia Masaryk of Uniontown, Pa., president of the Zivens, a national Slovak society, who presented a check for the new building in behalf of her organization. Visitors came from as far away as the Philippine Islands and Czechoslovakia, and nine northern states, for a joyous reunion. Many friends were reunited who have not seen each other since school days. Many local political figures were among the visitors who enjoyed the dinner of barbecued chicken, sausage, cabbage rolls, sauerkraut, pastries and kolachki. Sen. Herb Skibben and Judge Richard Cooper of Orange County and Judge Yolie Williams, and Commissioners John Alexander and Lee Gary from Seminole, were among those present. A telegram was read from Gov. Haydon Burns expressing his regret that he was unable to attend and praising the American Slovaks for the success of their endeavors. Speaker for the occasion was Bernard Edenfield of the district Social Security Office, who spoke on benefits available from Social Security and Medicare. Music was provided for the occasion by the Eastern Seminole Genevra Band under the direction of Richard Zetter, accordionist, Louis Janacek of Zephyrhills, and violinist Helen Elias of New York. Master of ceremonies for the program was Stephen Mayzar, legal advisor for Slovak Garden. August G. Hotak, president of Slovak Gardens, welcomed all those attending and told of the struggle that culminated in the last four months. The youthful Beseda dancers, in their authentic costumes, came from Masaryk town to present folk songs. Boy Scout Troop 62 of Winter Park presented the colors. Ghana President Ousted

LONDON (UPI)—The army and police today seized President Kwame Nkrumah and his cabinet, a military broadcast from Accra said. One broadcast gave other army units an ultimatum to lay down their arms by midnight — indicating some mid-day coup. Nkrumah at the time of his ouster was aboard a 21-gun motorcade in the city of Accra. He received a 21-gun salute from the Red Cross. Nkrumah had left Ghana earlier this week on an independent Vietnam peace mission. Politically, his goals for Ghana were socialist and he developed cordial relations with a number of Communist nations. The reported coup was the seventh takeover in Africa in the last four months. The others occurred in the Congo, Leopoldville, Central African Republic, Upper Volta, Chad, Nigeria and Dahomey. Only Tuesday, Uganda Prime Minister Milton Obote took over full control of his government, dismissing his cabinet to head off an expected coup. "The myths surrounding Kwame Nkrumah have been broken," the Accra Radio broadcast by Col. E. K. Kotoka said. Kotoka, 46-year-old commander of Ghana's 2nd Infantry Brigade, said all political prisoners would be released. Nkrumah, who liked to be called "Osagyefo" (The Redeemer), has been the target of at least three assassination attempts that have been announced. He had been afraid to appear in public during most of the past two years. In Washington, U.S. officials said diplomatic reports from Accra confirmed that a coup had been attempted. There was no further report from embassies in the Ghanaian capital. Ghana, the former Gold Coast, was Britain's first African state to gain independence in 1947. It is still a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations but has no defense agreements with any other nation.

Which Way Will The Wind Blow?

Trying to figure out who is going to win the Class A Group 6 Tournament this weekend is like trying to figure out the weather — you know what the elements are, but the can tell which will be the most dominant.

So we went to the coaches and asked them. Coach Murray Arnold of DeLand says, "Lyman and Sanford both have the momentum going for them and that means a lot in a tournament. Lyman has given us trouble all year and Sanford has knocked off three big Class AA schools in a row. We're going to try our best, but I don't see how we can come out ahead."

Coach Dick Copeland of Lyman says, "DeLand is always tough on their home court and Sanford has given us some good Metro teams in their last few games. We're very inconsistent. Sometimes we'll be playing great ball and then we turn sour. Can we win 14? I like to think so, but you never know."

Coach Mack Blythe of Seminole (Herald) says, "The kids seem to think they can win it. But DeLand has some real good shooters and Sanford has a great rebounder. I think they'll be a close one. We're going to try to beat them at DeLand."

No Hope For Florida Military

The fourth team in the tournament, Florida Military, doesn't seem to have a ghost of a chance. They were pulverized by DeLand twice and Seminole trounced them 63-19.

But sometimes that is the kind of team that can beat you in a tournament, points out Copeland, who opens the Group 6 play Friday night at 7 p.m. against the DeLand military school.

The Seminoles and DeLand meet in the nightcap in the DeLand High School Gym at 8:30, with the two winners meeting Saturday night for the right to advance to Region 10.

If you look at comparative scores, it looks like an even struggle between the three schools. DeLand and Seminole have never met, but DeLand and Lyman have fought three times with DeLand winning twice by a total of six points and Lyman taking the third overtime.

Seminole and Lyman have met twice, both winning at home. If you compare height and defense, Lyman has the edge. The Greyhounds can start four boys 6-2 or taller, while both Seminoles and DeLand are blessed with just one big man.

If you compare records and home court advantage, DeLand looks like a sure bet. The Bulldogs will be on their own court and Lyman will be on the road. DeLand's record is 17-4 mark, much better than Lyman's 11-8 mark and Seminole's 6-17 record.

If you compare caliber of competition, the road goes to Seminole. The Rebels 18 Class AA schools and won the last three in somewhat convincing manner.

DeLand Looks Like Favorite

Weighing all the advantages you come out feeling that DeLand should be in the favorite role. And then you talk some more to Coach Arnold of DeLand. He's really crying the blues now.

"We may not even be able to start five men on the court," he says. "We have three men down with the flu and another with a sprained ankle. We may have to start four guards, the tallest being 6-3. The Rebels are a center CHI. Co. just came down with the bug and that's his tallest reserve, 6-2 Roman Yoder. He's been sick since Wednesday practice, and the last time I saw it, it was as big as a balloon."

But Arnold still has hot-shooting Jesse Grove, and somehow colds or flu bugs always seem to disappear on the days of big ball games.

Lyman Has Problems, Too

Copeland, too, is having problems with ailments. Lyman is only carrying nine men and one of those, Fernan Roman, hasn't played for three weeks because of dental trouble. I doubt if he'll be ready for the game, says Copeland.

The Lyman coach also says his high scoring guard Richard Moore has just come down with the bug and that his tallest reserve, 6-2 Roman Yoder, sprained his ankle in Wednesday practice, and the last time I saw it, it was as big as a balloon.

But Arnold still has hot-shooting Jesse Grove, and somehow colds or flu bugs always seem to disappear on the days of big ball games.

Will 'The Pack' Show Up?

One thing is for certain, unless Seminole and Lyman students and fans leave their terrace night clubs and television sets, DeLand will have an huge advantage — if the crowd.

If you see the Seminole basketball team needed more road support, it will be Friday night. If "The Pack" shows up in force at a basketball game, it should be this weekend.

But if the past is any indication of what to expect you'll be able to count the fans on your fingers and toes and still have a digit or two left to point at the vacant seats.

Wouldn't it be awful to have a Seminole-Lyman final Saturday night and then have no one show up to watch it?

ATLANTA (UPI)—The superbly balanced Kentucky Wildcats place their No. 1 national ranking and unbeaten record on the line Saturday against the tough Tennessee Volunteers.

Playing at home in the Southeastern Conference's regional television game, the Wildcats (22-0) will be favored over the Vols (16-7). But, the contest should give an indication of what to expect a week later when Kentucky must play at Tennessee.

All five Kentucky starters are averaging in double figures and Coach Adolph "Burr's Hunter" will be the highest scoring team in the "Wildcats" illustrious history if they maintain their 89.2 pace over their final three games. The third is at home against Tulane March 7.

Junior Pat Riley (6-3) and Louis Dampier (6-6) are the pacesetters at 21.4 and 21.1 points per game respectively. Sophomore Thad Jaracz (6-5) is averaging 14.0 and senior Larry Conley (6-3) and Tommy Kron (6-5) have 12.1 and 10.3 marks.

The 20th-ranked Vols had a 10-game winning streak going before being edged out at Florida Monday night. In the past two seasons was last Dec. 7 when sixth-ranked Vanderbilt topped them by three points (53-50).

Key to Vols' hopes of ending Kentucky's unbeaten string is 6-9 senior Red Holman who has come along fast the second half of the season to become the No. 2 rebounder in the Southeastern Conference and one of the league's most proficient scorers. Holman's average is only 18.3 points per game but he's hit at a 31-point-per-game clip over the past 11 games.

Ron Widby, a 6-4 junior who handles the Vols' scoring chores during football season, leads Tennessee in points with a 17.6 average. He's had a 19.3 mark during the 11-game span when the Vols posted a 10-1 record.

Tennessee's status as an SEC contender collapsed in mid-January when the Vols lost three straight league games—by one point at Vanderbilt, by one in double overtime at Mississippi State and by five at Auburn. The two games were Mississippi snuffed an 11-game losing streak Wednesday night at the expense of Tulane, 91-70, while Auburn turned a bit of ball stealing into defeat for Georgia, 74-63. The two games were the only contests in the Southeastern Conference.

St. Joe, Western Ky. Display Cage Prowess

By United Press International After their first-round NCAA victory over St. Joseph's and Western Kentucky went out of their way to introduce themselves.

The seventh-ranked Wildcats showed their credentials to Providence by walloping Lafayette 61-16 Wednesday night and the 14th-ranked Hillsdoppers said hello to Loyola of Chicago by smothering the Puerto Rican Olympians 114-59.

St. Joseph's faces the eighth-ranked Friary March 3 at Blacksburg, Va., while Western Kentucky meets the fourth-ranked Marquette March 7 at Kent, Ohio. The NCAA announced its member-alumni selections and pairings Wednesday.

NIT selections Penn State and DePaul had tougher lineups impressing their tournament. The Pittsboro Lions broke open a close game to nip Bucknell 66-47 and the Blue Demons rallied to shade Notre Dame 73-71.

Elsewhere, Connecticut dined Rutgers NIT appetizers by blasting the Scarlet Knights 96-84, and North Carolina State completed an earlier game with Wake Forest that had been halted by power failure by beating the Deacons 101-73.

St. Joseph's rolled up a 53-39 halftime lead en route to its seventh straight victory. After opening up a 27-point lead midway through the second half, the Hawks cleared their bench but continued to pull away from the Leopards, whose six-game winning streak was snapped.

The Wildcats' Wayne Chism's 20 points leading the parade, Western Kentucky broke up at the intermission break and rolled to its 21st victory in 23 starts.

In the Wednesday semifinal Officers' Wives, Suzy Reno from RVAH-9 team leads the league with a 438 series, including a high single game of 156.

The Staff Wives topped the LVIAH-6 "A" with 4 points in the game of 156. The RVAH-12 took three points from the RVAH-3 with the good bowling recorded by Rita Cavess' high single game of 172-119 series; and Bonnie Mattison's high single game of 151.

The RVAH-9 and RVAH-11 split the games with two points each with good bowling recorded by Suzy Reno's high single game 156-438 series and Kitty Snyder 147 high single game of 151.

Colts Win, Banquet Is Tonight

The Colts pulled away from the Rams in the second half last night at Bill Fleming Memorial Gym, winning the playoff game for the later, immediate league championship, 48-32.

The Colts had tied the league up the night before with a 38-37 conquest. The new champions will be awarded their trophy along with the runner-up Rams in the City's Youth Basketball Banquet tonight at the Civic Center at 7:30 p.m.

The Junior League champion Sanford Electric team will also receive its trophy. The Electricians finished the season with a perfect 14-0 slate, winning both halves of the season.

Members and coaches of all 14 teams will be guests at tonight's banquet. Seminole High School basketball Coach Mack Blythe will be the guest speaker and former body league players Lamar Olson and Bill Bracken will also speak.

In last night's game, the Rams couldn't stop big Mike Stubbins in the second half. The Colt center scored 18 of his 24 points after intermission. The score at halftime was 18-18 in favor of the Colts, who outscored the Rams 14-8 in the third quarter and 15-6 in the final period.

Ben Widfire helped out Stubbins with nine points while Jim Patterson and Mike Ferrell had 12 and 10 respectively for the Rams.

Both teams had 12 2-pointers during the regular season.

TEEPEE TALK

The Seminoles

Comical happenings occur anywhere, anytime; however, Seminole High School appears to be the launching pad for more of the unusual and amusing antics.

RICK PEDRICK, a 1963 graduate of Seminole High got his "fifteen minutes" earlier than his fellow students. It appears. Recently on a package sent by him from Atlanta to Sanford was this message: "I'm Rick Pedrick. I go to school in Atlanta and I also work at the Greyhound bus station. Please say 'Hi' to everybody in Sanford for me."

The boys, this month, are using a new way to save stamps and postage? BOTH the boys and girls FUTURE TEACHERS' workshop is a highly prepared teaching techniques they hope to use in their classrooms. The workshop was held at Seminole High on March 11. The juniors and seniors engaged in this activity. They were divided into various county schools to see how it feels to direct the class from the other side of the fence.

Modern Math Advantages Told

By Donna Eates
Advantages of the new modern math being taught in many of the country's public schools were outlined by Caren Gager, math teacher at Sanford Junior High School, at the regular meeting of the Longwood Elementary School Parent-Teacher Organization.

Gager stated that tremendous advances had resulted from math research in abstract algebra, topology, and the measure theory.

Modern math is only "the physics of math," he said, "and has the advantages of giving students an explanation of why and how of integrating all fields of math and teaching them to work together as opposed to separate unrelated units, and of emphasizing deductive reasoning which is the basis of the physics, geometry, and trigonometry."

Further emphasizes the structure of math and of learning by discovery, thus making the subject more interesting and bringing math alive.

Use of mathematical language makes students no longer hold math in awe but as a tool to be used.

Gager also gave a brief history of math from the Egyptian to the modern day. She mentioned that the Egyptians had no positional value, to the present Hindu-Arabic system, where numbers have a definite position.

The talk was well received by the audience and Principal Louis Kooly announced efforts would be made to arrange a course of instruction for the school in the near future.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My son was recently married. The bride's people were all out and put on a beautiful wedding and reception. My Uncle Adolph and his family were sent an invitation. Uncle Adolph did not show up, but his wife and six children attended the wedding and reception. Toward the end of the reception, I asked the wife, "Where is Adolph?" She replied, "That is a good question." I was floored.

Abby, this family did not give the bride and groom so much as a wedding card, yet the wife and six children, both are happy and contented. It's nobody else's business.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to seem petty, but when my husband and I invite a widowed lady friend out to dinner, should my husband remove the napkins and get the table set for her?

DEAR ABBY: A woman I know who is 62 years old married a boy of 23 1/2 years.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 45-year-old boy who is very lonely. As I have nobody to write to, I write you. I am a student in a drug store. I have to take my medicine. The problem is that I have to take it every day. I have to take it every day. I have to take it every day.

Jacoby On Bridge Jacoby and Son

Here is an other of Eddie Kantar's hands from the San Fernando Valley Bridge Set. This time you are in a normal four-suit contract and West opens a trump.

You win in your own hand and note that although both you and your partner have full values for your bids the chances are that if West holds the ace of diamonds, you are going to go down.

If there anything you can do about that? Yes! You can try a deceptive play that may work.

You win the first trick in your hand and lead a heart toward dummy. West plays low and you rise with dummy's king. Now you return to your hand with another trump and lead a second low heart.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 45-year-old boy who is very lonely. As I have nobody to write to, I write you. I am a student in a drug store. I have to take my medicine. The problem is that I have to take it every day. I have to take it every day. I have to take it every day.

Exaggerated Coiffures Out

Architectural hairdos, where a woman's hair looks like a frayed hose's mane and professed by certain top fashion magazines, have little appeal to most women.

The selection of the 10 best styles for 1968 is selected by several thousand hairdressers, all the women have realistic styles that flatter their features but do not shock.

Despite exaggerated coiffures of fashion models, the hairdressers point out the coming hairstyles will have the new year's number. Short curly locks and high gulches turn over the cheekbones like the shape of '67.

Everything's going to be coming up curly, it seems. The hair will be bracketed by the dryer doing her homework. But the ears may continue to be left out in the cold, so all women should look to special neck and throat care. Hair often will be brushed back behind the ears, forming another "V" at the nape of the neck. The curly shape touches forehead treatments, too, whether the hair is combed over the brow or back to the crown for height.

When the hair is piled, it will spiral into giant curls or twists also the lead for evening wear. So the curly lock is not necessarily a casual one to wear with bell-bottomed jeans.

The young stylists selected as the Ten Best Coiffured Women of 1968 (voicing through the Hairdressing Guild of Professional Beauticians) are: Sophia Loren, Virginia Liza, Joan Crawford, Claudette Colbert, Carol Lyster Bessner, Barbara Bair, Diane Baker, Lee Phillips, Ann Hand and Robin Duke.

It is interesting to note that Claudette Colbert has changed only minor details of her famous hair silhouette in 30 years while Joan Crawford believes no woman over 40 should wear her hair long. It takes time to be well-coiffed. So the women admit. Broadcaster Lee Phillips visits the Antoine salon before 9 o'clock every morning for a comb-out and has her hair washed every three days. She spends the time under the dryer doing her homework. But the ears may continue to be left out in the cold, so all women should look to special neck and throat care. Hair often will be brushed back behind the ears, forming another "V" at the nape of the neck. The curly shape touches forehead treatments, too, whether the hair is combed over the brow or back to the crown for height.

A swinging "teen time" spirit was dominant at the Tangerine Drive lakefront home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Terry Saturday afternoon, Feb. 19, when they entertained at an "all-girl" party honoring their daughter, Miss Pat Terry, on her 18th birthday.

Playing the current hit records and participating in the latest craze dances added to the merriment of the party activities, which was highlighted with the opening of the lovely girls.

During the evening afternoon fete the guests enjoyed munching on Coke, chips, dips, sandwiches, punch, ice cream and a tablespoon of hors d'oeuvres. Serve with dried cold rock lobster meat.

For a delicious dip for rock lobster tails, soften 1 (3-ounce) package of cream cheese. Blend it with 1/4 cup each of dairy sour cream and minced stuffed olives, 1/4 teaspoon each of salt and sugar, and 2 tablespoons of horseradish. Serve with dried cold rock lobster meat.

Homemakers

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

I would like to thank our Society Editor, Doris Williams, for taking over for me while I was confined to the local hospital. It's very good to be out again but must admit I sure did enjoy my stay in spite of really being ill.

While there I had the pleasure of meeting the head dietitian of the hospital. Of course we talked the different diets of patients. Mine at the time was a soft diet—in other words mostly purees. I asked her for her favorite recipe.

She sent it to me and it's Swedish Meat Balls and it will feed 25 people. Here is how she does it.

SWEDISH MEAT BALLS
1 lb. boneless chuck
2 lbs. boneless veal
1 lb. boneless pork
Grind all three together.
1 1/2 lbs. bread—Soak in milk and squeeze dry.
1 lb. celery
1 lb. onion
Chopped fine and browned lightly in oil.
3 eggs, beaten lightly
3 tbsps. salt
1 tsp. white pepper
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. mace
1/4 tsp. ginger
2 cups milk or cream
Combine 6 ingredients. Place all ingredients in bowl and mix thoroughly. Turn into 1/2 to 3/4 oz. balls and place in greased baking pan. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees.

VELVET SAUCE
1/2 lb. butter
2 1/2 cups flour
Simmer 3 minutes without burning, stirring constantly.
1/2 tsp. chicken stock
1/2 tsp. milk
2 tps. salt
1/2 tsp. white pepper
1/2 tsp. lemon juice
Combine and bring to a boil. Add cooked butter and onion and continue to cook 5 to 6 minutes or until sauce boils. Remove from heat and add 1 cup sherry wine. Remove meat balls from oven and place balls in a colander and rinse with cold water. Add balls to the sauce and heat.

AVOCADO AVALANCHE
2 tps. lemon juice
1 cup cream
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup anchovy paste
Four lemon juice over cream and avocado. Mix cream cheese with remaining ingredients. Blend avocado and cream mixtures until smooth. Place avocado seed in center of dip to prevent darkening. Cover and refrigerate at least 3 hours before serving at room temperature. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

COCO NUTTY SPREAD
1 pkg. cream cheese
1/2 tsp. lemon juice or orange juice
2 tps. chopped pecans
2 tps. flake coconut
1/4 tsp. grated lemon or orange peel
Cream juice and cheese until smooth. Add remaining ingredients using 1/4 tsp. peel and mix thoroughly. Spread on separated crackers. Makes 1 cup.

It's An Exciting Life Aboard The FDR

By Fred Van Pelt

Sanford Naval Air Station... a few days, take it all in, and report back to The Herald's readers so they will have a better understanding of the mission of Sanford Naval Air Station.

South Pacific, the latter en route against North Vietnam. Pursuant to Navy instructions, this writer reported early one morning at the operations office at Naval Air Station Jacksonville for air transportation to the FDR.

another try. These "misses" are called "bolters." Around and around they went for seemingly hours as the plane crews qualified for ratings as pilots landing a carrier.

CDR. WM. D. FRIES of the FDR and Sanford.

Then we were over the clouds, and saw below us the shadow of the airplane. There was a rainbow in a circle around the plane's shadow. The end is marked off as a basketball court for the crewmen when they are not busy. Below the hangar deck are the machine shops, crew's quarters, hospital, mess halls (one end is marked off as a "bar"), storage space for fuel, and above the engine room.

There were a few flights the second afternoon and evening, as four remaining pilots completed qualification. The FDR had returned just before last Christmas from an eight-month tour in the Mediterranean. It had been out the last week of the year and was to be put into its home port at Mayport for a two-month overhaul.

PHANTOM aims for the "bullseye"

After a while the pilot told us we were about 20 minutes from the FDR. He pointed to the instrument, which indicated 12 miles yet. We were "ridging" a radio beam directly toward the aircraft carrier. And there was! One second we were flying at about 30 miles an hour. And bingo! We were stopped, on the flight deck! My stomach uncoiled itself from my spine.

This machine is utilized in case of cardiac arrest and is determined by use of the "mini-pump," an electronic device that transmits action of the heart via a television-type tube. $150 Million For Vanity

There is more than just pork barrel politics to the Florida Congressional delegation's objections to Air Force plans to move the launch site of its manned orbital laboratory project from Cape Kennedy to California's Vandenberg Air Force Base. What should interest taxpayers who might otherwise be aloof from a Florida - California struggle is that the move is estimated to carry a price tag of $150 million. Floridians in Washington thus far have gotten unsatisfactory answers from the Air Force on why the move is deemed necessary. There have been assurances that Cape Kennedy's activity will not be seriously reduced by the need to put the MOL into polar orbit (which can be done from Kennedy), too, as a Tiros weather satellite only two weeks ago demonstrated). There has been some reference, too, to the fact the Air Force believes the project, which would be primarily a military one, could be kept under tighter security conditions at Vandenberg. Which may be getting close to the Air Force's real motive. The Air Force controls Vandenberg lock, stock and barrel; at Cape Kennedy it is simply a tenant overshadowed in publicity, and to some degree controlled, by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which has principal responsibility for Cape Kennedy operations. The Air Force has admitted that it would spend $200 million to construct the MOL launch facilities at Vandenberg. At Cape Kennedy, $150 million has already been spent for launch pads to test the Titan III-C booster which will lift the laboratory into orbit, and for another $50 million these facilities could be improved to provide all that is planned at Vandenberg. The $150 million difference is sufficient to have attracted the interest of the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee which will discuss the matter in detail today. Other committees concerned with the armed services and appropriations also may delve into the matter. Members of the Senate and House from all 50 states, as representatives of the taxpayers, are entitled to a full explanation of the move to spend an extra $150 million to duplicate at Vandenberg what already exists at Cape Kennedy. If security is the Air Force's principal argument we suggest that a powerful lot more security can be imposed on operations at Cape Kennedy at less cost than $150 million. And if, as we suspect, the main reason for the move is to save Air Force pride by taking the MOL project out from NASA's bigger shadow, $150 million is too much to invest in the Air Force's vanity mood or in the questionable future (reprinted from The Tampa Tribune).

Thought For Today

All scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness.—II Timothy 3:16.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

John Ada and her church women's group in this Lenten "Dieting Contest." Mrs. Crane and I are starting it, too, so we'll be down 15 pounds by Easter (April 10). And cost your hands to diet if they are too fat) or stop their tobacco habit, as outlined below. Clergymen recommend this in your next sermon! CASE Y-46: Ada G., age 38, has a common wily go-brother. "Dr. Crane," she began, "my husband just kisses me on the cheek or gives me a little peck on the mouth, instead of a thriller-diller kiss. "Why, he snuggles me more affection toward me than if I were his mother!" "So what can I do to revive his courtship ardor?" Ada weighs 158, though she tipped the scales at only 118 on her wedding day. "Wives, you can't fool the Lord," said Dr. Crane, with the class of a truck. "If wives may evoke the dignified affections of a good old motherly soul but they don't excite a man's ardor. Yet a man of 65 or 70 will perk up and act kitchin around a slender girl!" So don't blame your husband's stogy romancing on his age! Start a "Dieting Contest" in your church women's group. At all plump girls weigh in at the contest. Then check your poundage at future meetings and give your church $2.50 for each pound that you shed. For every pound of fat you lose, save a minimum of $2.50. By means of this "Dieting Contest" many church groups have given an extra $500 to $1,000 as a pre-Easter offering and without disturbing their family budget an iota. If you give, thus start slenderizing, you will soon notice a quick pick-up in your husband's ardor! He will then come out to the kitchen and give you a movie type kiss when he gets home, instead of slouching down in his easy chair with merely a "Hello, honey." And if he is a cigarette addict, coax him to quit tobacco for he will then save $2.50 per week, which can also be added to your church contribution during Lent. Ada agreed to launch this "Dieting Contest," and 14 other members of her church group joined her. By using the speedy dehydration diet outlined in the booklet below, they averaged 19 pounds reduction within the first 19 days. Then they shifted to the more moderate dieting plan whereby they shed an extra 1 1/2 to two pounds per week. These 15 women averaged 19 pounds weight loss apiece during Lent. So they gave an extra dollar to their church. And seven of their husbands quit tobacco, thereby saving $15 apiece during Lent. But far better from Ada's angle, was the renewed ardor of her mate. For he now would rush out to the kitchen to kiss her with fervor. So send for the booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. You thus insure your own marriage. Meanwhile, you add a gay contest for your church. The booklet may be easily duplicated, and may easily duplicate $100 or more to their Lenten gifts.

Pie-In-The-Sky

By Phil Newman
It was back in October of 1959 at the Soviet Communist party's 20th congress that then-Premier Nikita Khrushchev coupled a denunciation of Josef Stalin with a challenge to the capitalist world to all-out economic competition under the heading of co-existence. The 21st congress, in January, 1959, saw the denunciation of the "anti-party" group and the introduction of a seven-year plan which was to produce the highest per capita production in Europe by the end of 1965 and in the world by 1970. Denunciation of the anti-party group resulted in the exile or removal from power of seven men formerly high in Soviet councils, including former premier Bulganin, Molotov and Malenkov. The 22nd congress, in October, 1961, followed the usual pattern of political and economic in almost equal measure. The quarrel between the Soviet Union and Red China began emerging into public view and to the long-suffering Soviet people Khrushchev made another of the pie-in-the-sky promises for which he was to become famous. His economic program declared: "In the current decade 1970 the Soviet Union will surpass the strongest, richest capitalist country, the United States, in production per head of population. . . . everyone will live in easy circumstances, all collective and state farms will become high productive and profitable enterprises, the demand for well-appointed housing will, in the main be satisfied, hard physical work will disappear. . . . Soviet party congresses, usually attended by more than 1,200 delegates plus representatives of Communist parties throughout the world, are more noted for color than for substance and since 1961 none has been held. In March of this year, the 22nd congress will be held, and it also is expected to follow the pattern. Politically it could produce a showdown between the Soviet Union and Red China whose relations have worsened steadily under strains of the Vietnam war. The most extreme action could be a formal break between the two. This could only come if the Soviet leaders have decided that reconciliation is impossible. Economically, the pattern already has been set. As usual the Soviet people have been promised more of everything — quadrupled automobile production, doubled television set output and increased most supplies under a new five-year plan. Heavy industry is to be boosted by 49 to 82 per cent and consumer goods by 43 to 56 per cent. Automobiles mean more roads, more filling stations. More would mean a greater upsurge in agriculture than has been possible so far. Agriculture increased only one per cent last year and grain crop failure may be expected to affect both most and heavy products. In contrast to Khrushchev's excessive promises, economists believe the goals may be reachable. But, perhaps more vital from the Western standpoint is a statement contained in the economic report saying: ". . . the most vital task is not to allow a new world war to break out."

Dick West's The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., a New Jersey Democrat and southsayer, has just weighed in with his annual list of New Year predictions. It's a funny thing about Thompson's crystal ball. For some strange reason, it seems to emit mainly partisan prognostications. As, for example, this entry: "March — Richard M. Nixon appears on 'What's My Line' Stump panel." Some pundits demanded that the crystal ball give them equal time, it probably would show Hubert H. Humphrey appearing on the same program with similar results. I think it is in the field of athletics that Thompson's powers as an oracle reach their peak. Here of the sports pages will readily agree with this prediction: "November — Sonny Werhne signs college state Billie Hershey for $2 million bonus. Hershey promptly buys majority control of New York Jets and ousts Werhne. We can't afford the guy," Boffe said. The crystal ball obviously recognizes that professional football has become a financial giant second only to Wall Street and Las Vegas. One wonders how much longer the administration can ignore the price of football players in its efforts to control inflation. Two television networks now, in effect, have their own football leagues. They even call time out for commercials. Some pundits fear the game will eventually be totally dominated by television — that it will become more of a program than a sport and that scripts will be written to make it more dramatic, as in wrestling. After reading Thompson's predictions, however, I am convinced the situation will be just the reverse of that. In a few years, one of the networks will sign a $10 billion contract with one of the football leagues. The contract will take the football league into the 21st century and buy the network.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The steady deep rift over Vietnam policy in the United States is not the one between the hawks and the doves. It is between those who see a large role and those who see a limited place for U.S. power in the world. It is the 20 years since World War II, the United States government — under four different presidents — has played the big role. One way or another, it has employed its power in Western Europe, Greece and Turkey, Cyprus, Lebanon, the Congo, Thailand, Laos, Vietnam, Korea, Guatemala, the Dominican Republic and elsewhere on the Asian mainland. Much of the time, in fact, the United States has been the world's one-country substitute for the United Nations in its role as pacifier and subduer of those who would subvert others. America played this part as a matter for Asian alone. These critics, in other words, are the advocates of a limited world role for the United States. It is some of these critics who today are arguing within the emotional context of the controversial Vietnam war that we have no business either in that country or anywhere on the Asian mainland. Beyond complaints about specific aspects of our presence in Vietnam, more than a few objectors make the general point that this is a matter for Asians alone. The critics, in other words, are the advocates of a limited world role for the United States. Left unanswered, in any response, is the question of who fills the breach against tyranny in a world with no other single powerful champion of freedom — and no concert of powers able and willing. The "limited-role" advocates seem to argue that this should be no concern of ours. They are committed to our noninvolvement in Vietnam, more than a few objectors make the general point that this is a matter for Asians alone. The critics, in other words, are the advocates of a limited world role for the United States. To their opponents, this presumes a world innocent of the uses of power and, hence, unreal. Clearly the gulf between the two is great. It has existed for a long time. Vietnam simply makes it freshly visible.

Editor, Herald: There may be some that sign up for Medicare insurance who do not know that it does not pay doctor bills. . . . that is, the first $10. And, if you include your wife it costs $6 a month instead of $3. So, if you both are healthy and spend only $25 a year on doctor bills, it will cost you $72 plus $25 or about $100 a year doctor expense. There are many people who only see the doctor on extreme occasions, and who have already had or avoided the illness of man. They are urged to individuals who prize their health, are moderate in all they do and take no chances. $100 a year would be a big decision to make, a big investment or gamble on the unknown future. Some positions are too small for any extra. J. H. Mason Longwood

It won't be long until stop labor will not be needed in Florida celery fields. Mechanical harvesting of this crop is being done by two major shippers in the Belle Glade area and more industry they also will enter this type of program.

Mayor A. L. Wilson has sent a letter of thanks to the Inara Garden Club for conducting the recent Arbor Day program. "He that planteth a tree is a servant of God, he provideth a kindness for many generations, and faces that he has not seen shall bless him," to Mrs. Yolie A. Williams Jr.

The list of Seminole County citizens who died in action during World War II and the Korean conflict was far from complete when published earlier this week. At least 20 more names have been added from complete with the telephone company to move their cable to the west of the present band.

Financing the collateral needed to finance the bond issue presented another headache and consumed several more months time. Engineering studies, soil studies, suitable fill studies, all had to be made at a cost of nearly $10,000.

First engineering reports came up with a figure of $17 million to build the development, which caused consternation among the city commission and was finally passed down to a more realistic figure of close to $80,000. The site was changed and many more compromises were made.

"Through all these trials and tribulations, commissioners consistently maintained that they would not let contracts for the actual construction of the landfill area until $750,000 had been raised.

"Nevertheless, the idea, as presented by the original 'bankers' group' was a good constructive one and what has evolved will be one of the most important projects the city has ever undertaken," Knowles declared.

In order to make the plan palatable to some of the landowners, plans for a new central fire station and equipment and a new recreation building for the Goldenrod area were added to the $11 million bond package.

"That there were many more hurdles to overcome," Knowles pointed out.

He noted that in the first place the city did not own the lake bottom and special legislation had to be introduced in the 1965 session of the state legislature, which just squeaked through on the last day of the session. In addition, one piece of property, two feet wide and 135 feet long was held by a private owner who ignored letters and telephone calls from City Attorney William Hutchison for eight months, until the city threatened to call for right of eminent domain and condemnation and the owner finally agreed to sell.

Southern Bell telephone cables also cross Lake Monroe, intersecting the planned landfill area, requiring negotiations with the telephone company to move their cable to the west of the present band.

Lakefront Project Trials Detailed

By Dottie Austin
Trials and tribulations that have plagued the city commission since plans for Sanford's "new image" lakefront development was first presented a year and a half ago were described for Jaycees by City Manager W. E. Knowles. "Public opinion to the contrary, the commission has been 'stalling' of this project, but there have been many differences of opinion," Knowles declared. "Despite glowing newspaper reports, there have been many disagreements and voting on various phases has been anything but unanimous," he pointed out. "Nevertheless, the idea, as presented by the original 'bankers' group' was a good constructive one and what has evolved will be one of the most important projects the city has ever undertaken," Knowles declared. In order to make the plan palatable to some of the landowners, plans for a new central fire station and equipment and a new recreation building for the Goldenrod area were added to the $11 million bond package. "That there were many more hurdles to overcome," Knowles pointed out. Knowles displayed sketches of lakefront development plan with pictures representing motel-restaurant-nightclub complex and pool, plus dry storage and utility buildings, superimposed on the site which can be expected. Authority Will Buy 125 Acres

By Paul Brookshire
A 125-acre site along the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad bridge has been designated as site for the Port of Sanford. Simultaneously with the designation, the Seminole County Port Authority, in a special called meeting Thursday night, announced it has agreed to buy two parcels of land on the site.

"This is the first big step in making the Port of Sanford a reality," Brookshire said. "We hope to be able to negotiate the purchase of the remainder of land rather than go to court action," Brookshire said.

The 125-acre site picked by the Port Authority is of rectangular shape. It is bounded on the east by the ACL, on the north by 2,000 feet of frontage and on the south by 3,000 feet on Orange Boulevard. Other miscellaneous land in the west part of the site.

The proposed port will have road access to Orange Boulevard and can be served by a spur railroad line from ACL.

No price was given for the land purchase or to the exact size of the project. One of the parcels is of 200,000 square feet.

The Port Authority previously had budgeted $5,000 for purchase of the site.

San to appear in Orange and Seminole counties. All the checks were made out in the same person, and all bore Vales' forged signature.

By this time, however, the checks had been cashed in three chain food stores where the payee's picture was taken. Huddleston now had something more concrete to go on in February, other had checks being showing up, also made out to "John Taut."

The man who could identify the picture, the subject was now known as "Thomas Albert Lewis." The man who identified "Lewis" was also able to point out where he lived in Winter Park. However, when officers reached the house, it was learned the subject had moved two days previously.

Then, on Feb. 23, his current whereabouts was learned, and Huddleston and Sheriff Hobby requested the Orange County sheriff's department to pick up "Lewis" at his west Orange County address.

It is known just how much money is involved in the forgeries, but Sheriff Hobby said it will run into the thousands of dollars.

RICHARD CURTIS APGAR (right), also known as Thomas Albert Lewis, is being held in Seminole County jail in lieu of $19,750 bond in a series of forgeries and forges throughout the state. Suspect Held In Lengthy Forger Hunt

By Barry Lawes
One of Florida's most wanted forgers is in Seminole County jail today as the result of an exhaustive two-month investigation by his department, Sheriff J. L. Hobby disclosed today.

The man has been identified as Richard Curtis Apgar, 25. At the time of his arrest he gave the name Thomas Albert Lewis.

He is being held under a total of $19,750 in bonds at present, $2,000 returnable to Seminole County on charges of breaking and entering, and Orange counties, as well as in Ohio and New Jersey.

Investigation began shortly before last Christmas, following a burglary at Dixie Gas Industry, Inc., in Goldenrod, during which a small amount of cash was stolen, plus a large quantity of company checks. A cancelled check, bearing the signature of manager A. L. Yates Jr., was also stolen.

On Jan. 10, forged checks made payable to "John Taut" began showing up. The checks were those stolen in the burglary. Seminole Deputy Lon Huddleston began investigation, and by that time, if forged checks were on file at the bank in Orange County, Sheriff's department to pick up "Lewis" at his west Orange County address.

In addition to his parents, survivors include seven brothers and sisters, and his grandmother. Mrs. Ethel Smith, Bridgeport, Pa., and Mrs. Nadeline Kirkpatrick, Conshohocken, Pa.

Prayer service will be at 7:30 p.m. today at Brison Funeral Home. Funeral Mass will be at 10 a.m. Friday at Sanford Nat. Air Station Chapel. Burial will be in Valley Forge.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to All Souls Parochial School. Brison Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.
