

Have Varicose Veins? These Tips Will Help

By HENRI H. HENNING, M.D.

WHILE drastic stockings are of great aid to persons with varicose veins, there are a lot of other things that can be done every day to ease the condition. If you have varicose veins, for example, you should avoid sitting or standing in one spot for long periods of time. Remembrance may bring on constipation by making the blood stagnate in the lower areas of the legs.

Walk Around

Therefore, if you spend a lot of time in the evening watching television, be sure to get up and walk around at least once every hour. This is good advice even for those of you who are not troubled by varicose veins; it will help prevent formation of any blood clots which might lead to develop from prolonged sitting.

Rest Your Legs

Even if you are traveling on a plane or train, get up and walk around every half hour or so. And if you are driving, park for a few minutes and get out and stretch your legs.

Exercise

Exercise is good for persons with varicose veins. Walking, swimming and the familiar bicycle type of exercise are especially helpful in stimulating circulation.

We good for you to get your feet up on your desk while you're working, too. If the legs elevate, just explain that you have varicose veins, and elevating your feet makes it easier for the blood to return to the heart.

Rest Your Feet

If you have a workbench instead of a desk, sitting on a high stool with your feet resting on the top rung will be of help. This is good advice, also, for persons who can make use of a stool while peeling potatoes or doing other kitchen jobs.

While I am speaking particularly to women, let me advise anyone suffering from these ailments. They are of circulation and are especially bad for anyone with varicose veins.

Simple Tips

There are many other simple tips which will help you live more comfortably with varicose veins. You'll find several of them in a new booklet, "Varicose Veins," issued recently by the American Heart Association and its affiliates. You can obtain one from your local Heart Association.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
NOTICE is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Florida Milk Commission in Committee Room 21, State Capitol, Tallahassee, Florida, on Wednesday, February 19, 1936, commencing at 10:00 A. M., relative to the following matters:

1. Consideration of the handling of milk in the various milk marketing areas in Florida under the Commission's supervision or regulation from the time it is produced until it is delivered and sold in final form, and determination whether the Commission should fix prices either as minimum or maximum or otherwise, to be paid for such handling or any step involved therein, whether related to or arising from the production, processing, manufacturing, transportation, or sale of milk, and, if any prices are fixed, the amount or amounts thereof, particularly including, but not limited to, determination of what, if any, charges should be fixed to be paid by a producer to a producer-distributor or distributor for:

(a) Milk picked up from the producer's farm and transported to another processing plant without entry into the plant of the producer or producer-distributor picking up the milk, and
(b) Milk received from a producer at the producer-distributor's plant, which, after storage or other handling in that plant, is then transferred to another plant of that distributor or producer-distributor for final utilization.

2. Consideration of existing order or orders of the Commission relating to charges to be made or paid for the hauling or transportation of milk, and determination of what, if any, change or changes therein should now be made, and what, if any, amount or amounts, whether as minimum or maximum or otherwise, should now be fixed by the Commission as the amount or amounts to be charged and paid for the hauling and transportation of milk in the various milk marketing areas in Florida under the Commission's supervision or regulation, particularly including but not limited to the amount or amounts, if any, to be charged and paid for:

(a) The transportation of milk from a producer's farm to a producer-distributor or distributor's plant, and
(b) Transportation of milk in bulk from plant to plant.

3. Consideration of the question whether, in any charge fixed relating to the handling or transportation of milk, or both, any price differential or differentials should be established between milk handled and transported in cans and milk handled and transported in bulk tank trucks, and, if so, the amount or amounts thereof.

4. Determination when the time any order issued by the Commission as a result of such hearing, and investigation conducted by the Commission, shall become effective.

5. Consideration and determination of all matters relating to any of the foregoing that, in the Commission's judgment, should be considered and determined.

All parties interested, and all persons who desire to attend or present such relevant evidence or testimony as may be desired, are invited to appear at the hearing, and to file in advance of the hearing with COLONEL DEXTER LOWMY, ADMINISTRATOR, FLORIDA MILK COMMISSION, DORIS BUILDING, TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA.

Space-Happy Doings Are Spouting All Around New York City

NEW YORK (UP)— Since the satellite race spatulated over the horizon, our eyes in the sky in this tall town. Space-happy doings are spouting all around. The heat is being heated.

A local astronomer has whipped up a $1.95 "do-it-yourself satellite pathfinder," which is reported doing a brisk business among man and papas as well as small fry. Enables you to figure when a satellite will orbit your locality. Does your brainwork. No training needed.

And at the local planetarium, a place a-bustle nowadays as never before, 300 New Yorkers have started a five-week course in "man-made satellites." This includes the basic principles of rocketry, orbits, manned satellites, and speed needed to escape the earth's fell clutch.

Interplanetary Music

The astronomer in charge says the students have asked questions ranging from "what direction does the moon's axis point?" to "Why don't you give us tables so we can take notes?"

The latest flogger thrust into this new-found pie in the sky is the release of two "interplanetary music" records by an outfit that furnishes background music for radio, TV, and the movies. But the range of this otherworldly tunesmanship leaves one wondering just what is the mood of outer space.

The duties of the interplanetary records run from "weird, frightening, suspenseful, ghastly phenomena to celestial, visionary, dream atmosphere." Some of the designations are: "Heavy, unobtainable, primitive world sequester space atmosphere — swirling, cosmic disaster and volcanic eruption." Merited harvest.

Chorus Gerabwin, Cole

The young firm announced in the make-believe space ship on a pretend moon trip down in San Antonio has a much more agreeable idea of the proper music to Sputnik by. The reports say he chose Gerabwin and Cole for the space experiment has long been in an orbit of its own and admittedly out of this world.

Speaking of states, California leads all the rest in the sale of the aforementioned do-it-yourself pathfinder for satellites. New England is second and Chicago is third and gaining steadily.

These gadgets, consisting of two rotatable disks on a base card, have been sold in book stores, museums, and planetariums across the country for three months and sales are nearing a half million.

People Warned About Seasonal Peddlers

FSU Band Will Present Concert At SHS Tuesday

The Seminole High School Band announced today that the Florida State University Band will be in Sanford to present a concert next Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 16, at 7:45 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The band is returning here for its second appearance after an extensive program which they presented in 1956.

The symphonic band is a group of 90 musicians, majority of which are students in the Florida State University school of music. They have gained an outstanding reputation throughout the state in recent years for their high musical standards.

A group of outstanding soloists will be featured in the appearance including a trumpet trio "three candy cornets," a marimba solo by Jack Howard of Fort Lauderdale, and novelty piano numbers by Anne Verran of Cairo, Ga.

The unique percussion ensemble, under the direction of Ramon Meyer of the Florida State University School of Music faculty, will also appear.

During the FSU program, the Florida State Band will present the Seminole High School Band with a check for one uniform.

Seminole High School Bandmaster Ernest Cowley said this morning that the band, so far, has raised $4,060 for new uniforms for the local band. He said, however, that a total of $5,100 is needed to completely uniform the band.

Tommy Bower, a 1957 graduate of Seminole High School and Bob Reely, a 1956 graduate of Seminole High, will be playing in the Florida State University Band when they appear here next Tuesday.

State Gas Tax Collections Here Show Increase

Counties lying within the Central Southern Florida Flood Control District collected nearly $400,000 more in 1958 than they did during the same month a year ago. In addition, almost half the revenue derived in Florida from the 7c gasoline tax was collected in January in Flood Control District counties. Of $9,430,000 collected, $4,641,524 came from that area in January, 1958.

A tabulation prepared by the Flood Control District from a report of the State Comptroller shows that $1,290,269 was realized from the State gasoline tax in the 17 county Flood Control District area in January 1957 and $4,641,524 during the same month this year.

Increases were notable in Volusia county where $271,885 was collected last January and $234,320 in the same month this year. Similar county figures revealed an increase in Seminole from $72,547 to $74,117; St. Lucie from $85,598 to $101,968; Polk $377,763 to $384,038; Palm Beach, $403,107 to $486,233; Osceola, $39,255 to $42,619; and Orange, $397,040 to $439,358.

Okeechobee, Glades and Hendry counties, hard hit by freeze and flood, showed decreases between January of this year compared to that month last year. In round figures, Okeechobee dropped from $73,000 to $20,000; Hendry from $29,000 to $28,000 and Glades from $16,000 to $15,000. Similarly, Lee County dropped from $87,000 to $94,000.

Tax collections from the 7c per gallon Florida State tax showed an increase in January 1958 over the first month of last year in the following counties: Brevard jumped from $181,448 to $210,899; Broward from $314,322 to $636,248; Dade was up from $1,681,480 to $1,738,328; Highlands went from $51,631 to $56,782; Indian River from $40,251 to $55,981; and Martin from $37,680 to $37,968.

Local residents are warned again about seasonal peddlers who are now making the rounds of Florida towns, selling everything from magazine subscriptions to nursery and landscaping bargains and fleecing scores of families out of hard-earned dollars under a variety of fraudulent means.

Two young women were picked up in a nearby town selling magazine subscriptions for the benefit of a non-existent fund.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles, this morning, said that solicitors must obtain a city license at the City Hall for $15, must obtain and carry a State of Florida Health Certificate which can be obtained from any physician or the city physician will issue one for $1, and must register in the City Manager's office where a permit is issued at no cost.

Each solicitor must show these three certificates if requested by any citizen of the city, the City Manager stated today.

"If they don't show the three certificates," he said, "I wish citizens would either notify my office or call the Sanford Police Department."

Most people think that they can get rid of the problem by merely telling the solicitor "I don't want anything," said City Manager Knowles. "But, the truth is, they let the solicitor go on and prey on others in the neighborhood and city."

"Solicitors must show the three certificates—a permit, a city license, and a health certificate," said Knowles.

Legitimates need not worry about the ordinance requiring such permits since their firms always inform them of the regulations. But citizens are warned to report any house peddlers who do not show these permits.

There have been no reports recently in the city of illegal soliciting but nearby towns and cities have encountered the problem and a number of them have been picked up by police.

8:30 Curtain Time For High Fever Follies Tonight

"I'm very pleased with everything," said Chris Carter, director of the High Fever Follies, when queried after the dress rehearsal last night. "The costumes are pretty, and the scenery is excellent."

The curtain will rise at 8:30 tonight at the Seminole High School on the gay production. Only five hundred tickets are left for the three nights of the performance.

Ticket chairman, Mrs. J. W. Hill stated today that sell-out is expected. The box office will be open at the High School tonight.

The Follies will feature a series of comedy skits and dance productions. Productions have been built around stage ads purchased by Chase Fertilizer Co., Odham and Tudor and Yowell's.

An orchestra has been composed with Mrs. Lulu Bailey at the piano. Don Franz on the trumpet, Bill Wagner, alto sax, Mrs. John Bailey, tenor sax, Jim Powell, drums and Bill Clayton, Bass.

Mrs. P. Nickerson Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Pearl Nickerson, 65, died at the Seminole Memorial Hospital at 12:58 a. m. Wednesday after a lingering illness.

Born April 2, 1892, in Oklahoma, she made her home on W. First St. at Monroe Corner, coming here from Laury, Va.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Nina Mae Crozier, Astoria, Fla.; and a brother.

Funeral services will be announced later by Brisson Funeral Home.

28 Prisoners Lodged In Jail

There were three prisoners brought in and three released from the Seminole County Jail during the 24 hours preceding midnight last night, Sheriff J. L. Hobby said this morning.

"We have a total of 28 prisoners now in jail," he said.

Of the total, eight are white male, one white male incompetent, 11 colored male, two colored male juveniles, and six colored female.

Food Assn. Will Hear Defense Talk

Members of the School Food Service Association of Seminole County will meet Monday night at Sanford Grammar School to hear speakers tell them what part the "school lunchroom" will and should play in civil defense.

Names of the speakers were not available but it is expected that a good turnout of school lunchroom personnel will be on hand to hear an important phase of their program.

The meeting is slated to get underway at 7:30 p. m.

Championship Race May Be Held At SOKC Soon

Central Florida racing fans are buzzing over the prospect of a world championship match race which may be run off at the Sanford-Orlando track within the next few weeks.

Pat's Shadow and Surprised, a pair of SOKC stars, have been named by General Manager Jerry Collins as prime prospects to take on Voter's Choice, Miami champion, in a series of match races.

Voter's Choice, second best dog at the Sanford-Orlando track last year, has been hailed as the top greyhound in the world by the West Flagler Kennel Club following a sensational winter campaign. Collins has hurled a challenge to West Flagler to match Voter's Choice with any of three greyhounds, Pat's Shadow, Surprised and Splendor, now in Sarasota, in a series of three match races.

A winner-takes-all purse of $1,000, of which Collins would put up $1,000, would go on the line for the match races. One of these races would be scheduled for the Sanford-Orlando track.

Meanwhile, a fast 10-race card is in prospect tonight with G. H. J. Jim Bowie the probable favorite in the featured ninth.

BUS FIRE TRUCK COLLIDE

GREENWOOD, Miss. (UP)— A school bus collided with a fire truck at an intersection Wednesday slightly injuring 10 children and two adults. Police said the bus entered the blind intersection on a green traffic signal and rammed the speeding fire engine in the side.

THREE LITTLE QUEENS

who will appear in the High Fever Follies tonight, when the production opens at the Seminole High School. Left to right, Eloise Pfeiffauf as Pearl White, Spook Hook as Theda Bara, and Gladys Carter as Mary Pickford.

Hard Freeze Forecast For Florida Tonight

C. Noland Relates UP Development At Kiwanis Club

Members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club heard Charlie Noland tell of the 50-development of United Press from its beginning and the gathering of the worldwide organization.

Noland, 37-year-old business representative for United Press in Florida explained how the UP grew from a small combination of several wire services to the present position in serving newspapers, radio stations, television stations, and business and governmental organizations needing news as a background for their business.

"It was the competition that created growth and made United Press the successful news service that it is today," Noland told the local Kiwanis Club.

Having served on the news-side of the United Press operation, Noland gave Kiwanians an insight into the giant organization which momentarily gathers the biggest news of the day and transmits it to the newsrooms of the hands of clients.

"We serve over four thousand newspapers, radio, TV stations throughout the world with a staff of over 10-thousand newsmen," Noland told the Kiwanis Club.

In Florida, the business representative of United Press, determines the needs of more than 100 clients "and sees that UP staffers fulfill these needs."

Noland was introduced by J. Marion Harman Sr. of The Sanford Herald, program chairman for the meeting.

15-Year-Old Boy Chokes, Pushes Girl Off Roof

NEW YORK (UP)— A 15-year-old boy with a history of strange behavior climaxed by choking a seven-year-old girl and pushing her off a roof underwent psychiatric tests today. If found sane, he faces death in the electric chair.

Francis Michael (Mike) Medaille, who "doesn't know" why he hurled his young neighbor, Kathleen Hegmann, to her death from the roof of their 13-story Bronx apartment house Tuesday, was committed to Bellevue Hospital by Magistrate J. Randall Greel.

"The mental being of the defendant will have to be determined and if it is determined that the boy had capacity, knew the nature of the crime, he will burn in the electric chair," Greel said.

The boy's mouth dropped open as, standing beside his father, he heard Greel's words. Then he nodded.

Greel acted on the proposal of one of young Medaille's three court-appointed lawyers, Sidney Friedman, who said that from "the facts gleaned from the case" the boy should be sent to Bellevue.

The youth was expelled from Cardinal Hayes High School one month ago for absenteeism and flunking three courses. Last month he stole $150 from his parents and ran away to Florida. His father said a teacher in another school and a principal in another had previously suggested psychiatric treatment.

TALLAHASSEE (UP) — The heaviest snow in Florida history fell on the state capital and the Weather Bureau forecast a severe freeze today for the entire peninsula with some of the lowest temperatures of the winter.

A three inch snowfall blanketed the capital city and several other towns in north and northwest Florida.

Carabelle, Shamrock, Briarcliff, Madison, Crawfordville, Quincy and Monticello all reported three inches of snow along with Tallahassee. Panama City on the Gulf coast had two inches. Jacksonville on the east coast had one and one-half inches and Pensacola and Apalachicola had one inch.

The weather Bureau said the snow generally stuck north of the Suwannee River. Snow was reported south of the river but did not stick on the ground.

A few snow flurries were expected on the northern edge of the citrus belt where temperatures of 22 degrees were forecast for tonight.

Hard Freeze Forecast

The Lakeland Frost Warning Service predicted a "hard freeze" over the north and central portions of the state and temperatures as low as 28 degrees in the farming areas a few miles west of Miami.

"Temperatures will be freezing by 8 or 9 p. m. in north and central districts and about 10 p. m. in southern districts," Forecaster Warren Johnson said.

The Weather Bureau said this was the ninth cold wave of the winter, the worse weatherwise in the history of the state. Forecasters said it will be one of the severest of the four hard freezes to hit the "Sunshine" state since the first one on Dec. 12.

President Eisenhower, flying south to Tallahassee, Fla., today to escape Washington weather and trying to get rid of a lingering cold, will find the city covered with snow. So was Moultrie, Ga., where his plane is to land, but the weather was clear and crisp in both towns by early morning.

The previous freezes wiped out practically all of Florida's vast winter vegetable industry and most of the re-plantings since last week's cold wave are not showing above the ground yet.

Citrus May Be Hurt

But citrus growers feared further damage to their trees. A recent estimate reported that about one-fourth of the state's 600,000 acres of oranges and grapefruit was damaged with some killed, but the full loss in production during the next two or three years will not be known for several weeks.

The current freeze also will hurt the cattle and tourist business in Florida as much or more than recent cold waves.

The lower east coast had two days of excellent beach weather this week with the temperatures in the high 70's but the thermometer started falling about dawn in Miami today. Cold northwest winds up to 25 miles an hour swept the beaches.

Florida State University officials at Tallahassee lifted curfew rules Wednesday night so the co-eds could play in the snow with their dates. Snow ball fights dotted the white landscapes for the first time in several years.

In Jacksonville, many youngsters stored snowballs in refrigerators and deep freezers for later use. They are a rarity in that area.

YOUNGSTER THROWN TO DEATH FROM BUILDING TOP— Fifteen-year-old Francis Medaille talks with officials as they stand near the parapet on the roof of a 13-story New York building from which seven-year-old Kathleen Hegmann fell to her death. Young Medaille, who was expelled from school recently for poor grades, allegedly confessed to police he pushed the child to her death. (UP TELEPHOTO)

Local Boxers Fight In Finals Tomorrow

Two Sanford boxers are slated to fight in the finals of the Florida Golden Gloves Tournament in Jacksonville tomorrow night.

Last night, Randy Reynolds, 21-year-old featherweight, won over John Mitchell of Shaw Air Force Base, in a very close fight. It was a unanimous decision for the 124-pound Sanford boxer and a decision which put him in the finals Friday night.

"He's the best one I've fought yet," the young amateur boxer said last night after the decision was announced.

Tomorrow night Reynolds will meet Cleveland Dawson in the finals of the weeklong tournament.

In another fight, Joe Pickens, 21-year-old, 175-pound light heavyweight from Sanford, will meet Chico Brown from Sanford.

Chico Brown defeated Joe Nims last night to win his place in the finals of the tournament.

Hugh Grier, who has trained the two boxers for the State Golden Gloves Tournament, said Chico Brown is "A good fighter."

Both Sanford boxers go into the finals of the tournament with Pickens drawing a "bye" on the first day and Reynolds drawing contests for each night of the matches.

Much Petty Thievery Reported In County

"The weather is partly to blame for the excessive amount of petty thievery going on about the county," Seminole County Sheriff J. L. Hobby said this morning.

"It's everywhere," he said, as he asked for the cooperation of local citizens in curbing much of the petty thievery reports coming into the office.

The biggest item that is being stolen is hub caps, said Sheriff Hobby. And he said that a lot of trouble is being caused where people leave keys in their cars.

Cars are being taken and driven just a short distance and then abandoned, workmen are leaving tools, sheds and project buildings open, giving an opportunity for material and tools to be stolen. "I want to plead with these people to keep their buildings closed and locked to keep intruders out," Sheriff Hobby said.

"A whole lot of the present petty larceny can be prevented and a lot of trouble avoided," the Sheriff said, "if everyone will just cooperate and take care of their property."

Sheriff Hobby asked that those who leave cars in the open, or parked on public roads, to take their keys out.

"Fortunately," he reported, "there were no breaking and entering cases such as we had several days ago."

We'd like to start off the day's column by thanking all of the speakers and everyone else who had a part in bringing Career Day to us. There was much work put into arranging the schedule and selecting the speakers.

The apology section, Delores Bailey wishes to apologize to several people for what was written in one of the last issues. Angelo Compain desires to make amends with Cindy May, whom he incorrectly understood to be interested in brain surgery. Our guess is that she has thought long and hard with her own. No offense is meant, Cindy; you have a pretty cute case in which to carry yours.

Have you seen Pat Freeman's engagement ring? Considering its huge size, it would be a wonder if it ever fits. The student body president believes in spending money on his girl. They make a perfect match, don't they?

Point of no return in physics: everyone's in the bandroom with the prospect of hearing the reed section. Take it from the one who has had it: REALLY HAD IT, DON'T take physics!

Everyone has been congratulating Margaret Benham lately. It's because she's been dating Bobby Morris. She's really a lucky girl. But then again, Bobby has himself a wonderful gal.

Key Club finally came through—they had all the number plates tacked on the auditorium seats for the basketball game Friday. And that reminds us, will the infamous "infants" that sit in the north section not be so inattentive as to tear them off the seats? You know whom we mean, RATS!

There have been whispers about an anti-junior uprising if somebody doesn't do something about the wagger-beaver ex-sophomore who runs out of the auditorium before ALL of the seniors leave. Take care, juniors, YOU NEVER KNOW what the senior class is up to—it's their last year, anyway...

The faculty and Mr. Brackee were kept concerning the excellent report the student body displayed in assembly on Career Day. Let's keep it up on par. We haven't got the makings to be the outstanding example of the worst school in the country, so we might as well try to be the best.

Continuing Miss White as the latest addition, we have now heard from eight SIS teachers who enjoy reading Smoke Signals.

Linda Smith has been sporting a Brantley Schirard in the halls lately. It seems that those two intend on going together for a long time to come.

Somebody please stop playing "Midnight" on the jukebox; that record is driving everyone crazy! It's so-o-o-o-sickening. Can't anyone play "The Stroll" for a change?

Girls are going wild wondering what in the world Pat Donahoe does in his spare time. We thought that Pat was the Cavalier type, but apparently he's got some SPECIAL interests in mind. Tell us, Pat; don't leave us in the dark.

Consensus of opinion: men have more problems than women; in the first place, they have to put up with women. That doesn't bother Winston; he dodges every opportunity.

We'll be going out on a limb again, but here goes. Tomorrow we'll be voting for or against the Teen-age Guide, and before you make up your mind about it, see someone who knows a little more about it than you do. Probably you've got your mind set on the Journalism Club, and now we're all for it. Remember, it's a guide, NOT a set of laws.

Tell us, Rob Reedy, is it Carolyn, Nancy, Janice, Betty Lou, or who? "Variety is the spice of life", seems to be your philosophy.

We're so sorry to hear about Gary Swaim's accident and we hope he has a quick recovery and will return to school soon.

What's the matter Jimmy Edge, don't you like girls? We know some nice girls who would like to date you.

Evyonne Davis and Lamar Fryer are still going steady. Hasn't it been about two years you two? Congratulations!

Linda Humphrey, Cecile Milledge, Beverly Brown and June LaPore sure keep everyone in Home Ec II laughing with their stunts. You're all great gals, we think!

Lately we've been seeing Kathy Carlos with a darling guy in a beautiful Mercury convertible. Who is he Kathy, humm-m-m? Shirley and Gregory are still a number one couple around S. H. S. Good luck, kids!

Everyone seemed to have a real nice time at the dance last Friday night after the basketball game. Thanks go to the swell sponsors.

Lately we've seen a cute little girl working at McReynolds. I think her name is Cassandra Prevatt.

Why is Winston Percy always rotting the halls during class? How do you get away with it Winston? Guys—confidentially, you had better be picking out a car or box of candy for your best gal. Why? For Valentine's day — had you forgotten?

We're having medals made for some of our converted nalk biters who now have long, lovely claws — I mean tails. Good going, gals!

Angelo — did we ever tell you how becoming your red erion sweater is? We're telling you now. (You've hinted for us to print this enough.)

Take heed — "If you've made up your mind that you can't do something — you're absolutely right!"

As we close another column of Tom-Tom talk. If any of you have any items for next week's edition, be sure to see someone in the Journalism Club about it. If you have some sordid expose, leave it on Mr. Ray's desk; he is in charge of all the questionable material rotting the hall. If this club ever gets the idea of raising money— Anyway, keep the news coming in and who knows? Maybe you'll read about it next week.

Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder: What would you do if you had been dating a boy steady for a little over five months and he seemed to think more of his boy friends than he does you? When another boy is around sometimes I think he would I guess even there.

I was used to going a lot of places before I met him, but now I hardly go any place. I think a lot of him and would think a lot more of him if he would pay as much attention to me as he does his boy friends.

Gal or Pal

Dear Gal or Pal: You asked me what I would do — well, here goes. I would sit down and make a list of reasonable places I would like to go and I would tell him that I was fed up with playing second fiddle to his best buddy.

I would ask him in a nice way to make a choice. If he chose his buddy I would try to realize that things would never work out for me as long as he felt that way.

Most of all I would find a guy who appreciates me and wants to do some of the things I enjoy doing. Why not make the most of life — you only have one.

Miss Cry-Shoulder

Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder: I have been going with a boy for about seven months. I am 14 and he is 21. I know I love him very much and he loves me also. He wants to marry me as soon as he can take care of his financial obligations. What do you think we should do?

Sincerely

"Bath"

Dear Beth: I'll be perfectly honest with you and tell you that I do think there is too much difference in age from reading your situation.

Perhaps if I knew both of you I could advise you better. Fourteen is an awfully young age to be thinking of marriage. You have a wonderful lifetime ahead of you, so why make a mistake that can never be changed?

I won't advise the two of you to forget everything, but I do advise that you both date as many people as possible and not see each other for a while. If you hear that Mrs. Bateman has been out, seriously ill with the flu. That Asian flu certainly is vicious, if that's what she had. For that matter, any old kind of flu is not very pleasant. We're glad you're back, Mrs. Bateman.

Well, John Out has finally gotten back his final exam in the art of being a vampire! It came yesterday, and John will probably be busy tonight! I read "Dracula", and I doubt if Miss Chitenden will ever order it for the library. However, it's quite good in places. I never finished the thing, because it got into the part where two girls started corresponding with each other. It was quite gooey. Anyway, it got quite boring, so I put it down.

Well, dear readers, (No, Delores, know you don't like Freshmen), I must put away my rusty typewriter for another week. I have mountains of homework to catch up on, and I might as well start with Algebra. See you next week.

Memo to John: John, when you grow up—considering the possibilities that you might— you will find that "Payton Place", rather than "Dracula", will be more to your taste. But, for the present, you may stay down in your frigid dungeon with all your little vampire friends reading scary novels, and society will delight in view of said. And, John, I fear nor words nor subpoena: Cindy May has agreed to be the attorney for the defense. Good night, John, pleasant nightmares, and do thank yourself in—it gets a terribly cold way down there.)

District Five DCT Convention

By Claudia Wermack

The annual District Five Diverted Cooperative Training Convention was held at the Seminole Trotting Track dining room, Friday, January 31. All members of the Seminole High "DCT" were present.

They left school at 9 o'clock, Friday morning. The meeting was called to order in the dining room by Johnny B. George, state president, from Melbourne.

Devotion was given by the chaplain, from Edgewater High School, Orlando.

Several speeches were then given by different clubs. Bobby Wiederhold was the speaker from the Sanford Club. Bobby spoke on "Soul Conservation".

Following the speeches, candidates for District Five were introduced to the club members.

A lunch period of an hour and a half allowed enough time for the different club members to have the opportunity to visit with the members of the clubs of other schools.

After lunch, everyone again met in the dining room where several skits were given by the different clubs. Sanford's skit was about the life of a high school principal entitled "School Days". Everyone in the club had a part in the skit.

The skits were followed by a short business meeting. Elections were held for the District Five representative and two alternates. Virgil Griffith of Cocon, was elected as representative. Doodie Bessley and Peter Lady were elected alternates. Virgil will attend the director's meeting in Tallahassee and will go to the state convention.

The meeting in Tallahassee will go to the state convention.

The meeting was adjourned at 2:30 P. M. Everyone had a wonderful time and the juniors are looking forward to next year's district V convention which may be held in Sanford.

CLAM FINDS SOLUTION

The Plagiarist Child

The Plagiarist Child, tarantula in the coils of indebitness, has found what they think is a solution — or rather a plastic spray, that is primarily intended for shining shoes but also has other uses. It will not rip, tear, ravel, snag, guaranteed to last for years and years, then turns into something good to eat.

Seriously, this is a new product in an Aerosol pressure can which has many useful applications. The product is a water-proof compound that produces an amazing shine on leather. The can sells for 25¢ for which the soph class receives 10¢.

Tip for salesmen: shine one shoe for your prospect, then offer the can for sale.

Well, as usual, I've gone and fouled things up again. This time I missed out on Career Day as I was sick that whole week. As many of you have said, though, it must have been a wonderful experience. I wish I could have been a part of it.

Memo to Mr. Compain: I knew we had a lot of things around Seminole High, but one thing I thought we had steered clear of was plagiarism! Well, I spoke too soon. My column has been stolen by you. My copyright papers came through last week. So don't be surprised if you are subpoenaed into court for several different offenses, the list of which I have not yet finished making up yet. However, for an example, might I warn you that Mrs. Bateman and I are seriously considering charges of libel, and slander? Really, some of the things you say about me!

As this is being written, everyone is looking forward to the Episcopal Church's dance which was held last Friday. We have every expectation of a marvelous time.

Another report on the Ninth-Grade Glee Club: We are working hard, and hope someday to show the fruits of our labors to the student body. Oh, well, next year when I get to be Big Sophomore maybe I'll see you all from the stage then. That is, if I ever get to be a Sophomore!

Cindy May went to "Lawyer" on Career Day, and every time I think about her standing up in court, arguing with the judge, I might not make a bad lawyer. She usually wins her arguments with me!

Well, John Out has finally gotten back his final exam in the art of being a vampire! It came yesterday, and John will probably be busy tonight! ## True Love Confuses Things Around SHS

This article is directed to the couples who loiter starry-eyed and in the way before the dawn, breakfast and lunch time. True, love makes the world go round, but it certainly confuses things here at SHS.

If you people could see yourselves, I'm sure you would realize the from 9:00 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. is the time you place for such behavior. Every guy should have a gal and vice versa, but save your affection for the proper place, not for public display.

I hope if you're guilty you will give this situation a lot of thought, and let's get it stopped before it breaks off on some of our more respected couples. This is an institution of knowledge, not a love-love club, and we hope it will remain as such.

Not only has this been noticed by the faculty but the students as well and a great deal of criticism has been derived from it.

I hope this article will impress on you couples that your behavior is not appreciated here at Seminole High School.

Couple Of Week

The "Couple of the Week" is Kay Levy and Jimmy Cordell.

Kay is a sophomore and is the vice-president of her class. She is in Glee Club, Latin Club, and has been a cheerleader for two years. Her favorite record is "My Special Angel", but "Angel Smile" is a favorite, too. Her main interests are music, sports, and Jimmy.

Jimmy is a senior and is active in Glee Club and Projectionists Club. His favorite records are the same as Kay's. (Could there be any connection there?) He is interested in cars and "anything else that runs."

Kay and Jimmy make a darling couple. We wish both of you the best of luck.

Profanity Does Not Pay

By Delores Bailey

It displays your lack of sense of decency.

It indicates the state of your inner soul.

It shows your better self is being suppressed.

It typifies the meagerness of your sources of entertainment.

It proclaims the coarseness of your ideas of humor.

It tells the inadequacy of your mind.

It soils the imagination of your hearers.

It hangs vulgar pictures on the inner chamber of others from which you cannot escape.

It disgusts people of fine sensibilities who care for the clean and wholesome things of life.

It nauseates good people who love fun but hate dirt.

It dishonors your parents as well as your relatives and your friends and your home and your GOD.

Rev. Courson Addresses Pupils On 'Making Vocational Choice'

This is the first of two parts of an address made to students of Seminole High School by Rev. Joe Courson on the subject "Making A Vocational Choice."

The second part will be carried as a part of "Smoke Signals" next week.

He spoke as follows:

Sooner or later every young person faces the question "What will I do with my life?" It is one of the most prevalent and pressing problems confronted by youth, so it merits our prayerful study and consideration. There was a time when parents determined the careers of their children in a rather arbitrary fashion according to their own occupations and desires. Frequently, even now, overzealous mothers and fathers try to select their children's task and what is almost as bad, leaders often seek to lead young people into a life-work under the sway of an emotional occasion when clear thinking is very difficult, or through purely human counseling without adequate consideration of the supernatural; hence the need for considering this subject carefully.

IMPORTANCE OF CHOOSING.

Among all the turning points along the trail of life, perhaps none is filled with greater consequences for the future of the individual and of Christ's kingdom than the one having to do with life-work. This is evident from many considerations and calls for thorough investigation on the part of every thoughtful young person.

Deciding one's life-work, and especially doing so early, helps greatly in the matter of educational preparation. It enables the securing of foundational and specialized training needed. Otherwise one's college work may be considerably disappointing. It contributes to forming during plastic years those attitudes and habits best adapted in one's chosen activity. Both are very essential in any field of endeavor.

A recent survey indicated that 36% of the seniors in one college had not decided what to do upon graduation. Every decision helps to avoid errors of inadequate preparation.

It stands to reason that a person cannot succeed satisfactorily in an activity that he dislikes or to which he is not adapted. If his interests are divided or his energies dissipated he will not put his best into it; a misfit and failure is the natural result. The trial and error method of finding one's task is not the best.

Surveys show that 60% of the workers in West Tennessee are dissatisfied with their choice and 75% of Americans are misfits. Even most of those listed in Who's Who in America have tried from one to four occupations before succeeding. Wise guidance in life choice will reduce the percentage of failures.

A person who goes through life conscious of the fact he is not in his proper place is dissatisfied and unhappy, sad to confess that if life were to be done over again he would choose a different task. Just as the magnetic needle is ill at ease until it points to the North, so is a life restless until headed toward its destined goal. Nothing contributes more to genuine unification, readiness, and happiness than the consciousness of being in one's God-ordained place of service. It gives a sense of glory to his task, however menial it may be. Carlyle said, "blessed is he who found his work; let him ask no other blessedness."

Efficiency is reduced if one is engaged in activity other than the one where his talents and interest lie. He is like a round peg in a square hole, or a planet out of its course.

O. S. Mardne said, "man is doomed to perpetual inferiority and disappointment if out of his place, and gets his living by his weakness. Instead of by his strength." But one who has found his proper place has a consciousness of mission which gives him a sense of power and greatly accentuates his success.

This is true not only for the individual but also for the social progress. The progress of the kingdom of God is involved in each person getting into his proper place of service. Nobody else can do the work that God marked out for you. If Galileo had been a physician or Handel a lawyer as their fathers intended the world's loss would have been great. Likewise if Cromwell had been a farmer, Woodrow Wilson a schoolteacher, or if Michelangelo's father had succeeded in keeping him from becoming an artist. "Civilization will mark its highest tide when every man has chosen his proper work."

How shall I find my place of service? There is no patent plan that to the Christian there is no such distinction as sacred and secular work, but rather that all legitimate work is sacred.

Veils Of Secrecy Should Be Removed By Congressional Law

It is unfortunate that the American people must plead for their rights before the very body which has been established to protect and preserve those rights — the Congress of the United States.

Yet plead we must be in order to erase the false barriers which have been erected against our right to know. They are barriers which have been built out of political expediency in the name of "security", barriers which bureaucrats build ever stronger with each passing year.

Under the law, the agencies of the government are instructed to protect their records. That law has been interpreted to mean that the administrators of those agencies can, arbitrarily, decide what the public may not see and hear.

This has been true under both Democratic and Republican administrations. The men in power, seeking to hide their errors perhaps or, maybe, just from force of habit, seem to think the conduct of their agencies is of no concern to anyone but themselves.

The answer — or, part of the answer — is in amendment to existing laws which will stipulate that the laws pertaining to protection of records does not authorize withholding of information from the public. Certainly there are vital matters which must be kept secret — matters dealing with the nation's security in defense and intelligence and scientific fields. But by and large the public is entitled to know what goes on in government agencies. How else can we judge the relative merits of any administration? Or any bureaucrat?

The American people participate directly in government when they cast their ballots. In order to vote intelligently, they must have as much information as possible concerning the policies and the character of the men who seek public office. They must understand, too, ramifications which will accompany the election of a particular candidate or a particular party.

Congress should take steps to remove the veil of secrecy which has been dropped too promiscuously over the operations of our government. The congressmen can do this through appropriate legislation; they can do it by example in their own committees.

Knowledge is not only a right, it is a necessity in our form of government. Any action which unnecessarily restricts that right has a crippling effect, however small, on the processes of democracy.

Behavior Problems Make News

When public figures cut public capers the press is interested because the public is interested. That is why erratic behavior — an argument with a waiter, a punch in the nose at a party, or the like — is fairly sure to be headlined if one of the principals is well known.

Sometimes a public figure — a singer or dancer or actor — says, gets to feeling persecuted after a few shenanigans have been related in print. Witness, the actress, Sarah Churchill, who arrived at the airport late for an overseas flight the other day and demanded that the airline make an exception and let her board the plane. When she was cautioned not to make a scene, she retorted: "Let's make a row. That's what the press wants and they're right here."

Mrs Churchill has the thing backward. It is not the press that has made trouble for her; it is her behavior that the press has reported. The same goes for Maria Callas, the opera diva who blames the press for reporting various incidents in which she has let her temper get the best of her.

It may not be gallant of us to point this out, but the fact is that if the ladies would restrain themselves there wouldn't be any fits of temper to report — and the same goes for the men, too.

People make the news — the press only reports facts about what has happened — facts that people want to read and know about.

Pals 'Till It Hurts - Maybe

Robert Paul Smith wrote a book awhile back. It has the engaging title, "Where Did You Go? Out. What Did You Do? Nothing." It is a funny book about an uninhibited boyhood, and it has hit the best-seller lists.

Now Robert Paul Smith has pushed his luck a bit by writing a Life Magazine article called "Let You Kids Alone." It is a refreshing roundhouse swing at the over-emphasis on guided activity which must often get to be a pain in the neck for children with healthy curiosity and a normal desire to do some things on their own. But Smith's harsh comments are likely to embroil him with a host of earnest parents who are determined to be pals if it kills them.

We don't agree entirely with this redoubtable member of the Smith clan. A certain amount of organized and guided activity seems to us not to be a bad thing. Smith's plea for less of it does make sense, however, a boy poking around down by the creek doing "nothing" may have quite as much fun, and learn as much, as if he had been out earning nature credits for his jocular achievement chart. A Saturday morning of unorganized — even disorganized — sandlot baseball may be more fun than a couple of hours of organized little league ball.

The fact is that parents ought to do a little soul-searching when it comes to deciding how far they are going down the be-pals-with-you — children road. Children are entitled to a little time doing what they want to do in their own way.

Inside Washington

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Washington, Writer WASHINGTON — It now appears almost certain that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will visit Russia this year, perhaps as President Eisenhower's "advance man" before a summit parley is held.

Both Nixon and outgoing Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zorin were careful to say, after their recent unusual conference in the vice president's office, that no arrangements for such a visit had been made.

Nevertheless, the Washington grapevine carries persistent reports that preliminary moves toward a Nixon visit to the Soviet Union already are under way in both Russia and the United States.

Close friends of Nixon say he is eager to go. They feel that face-to-face discussions with the Kremlin leaders will increase his stature and enhance his position as far and away the leading contender for the 1960 presidential nomination.

Some opposition to the vice president's prospective journey is said to have been expressed by the State department. However, insiders say that will not stand in Nixon's way.

ADALAI VERSUS ACHESON — Democrats — and some Republicans — are intrigued by a behind-the-scenes feud between Adlai E. Stevenson and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The two-time presidential nominee and the Truman administration Cabinet member are in pursuit of the same goal: each wants to nail down the unofficial post of chief foreign policy spokesman for the Democratic party.

Stevenson has let it be known that he feels Acheson's approach to foreign affairs is too rigid and lacking in imagination. Acheson has passed the word that he regards Adlai as too visionary and impractical.

The showdown is expected to come February 22 when leading Democrats assemble in Washington for a Harry S. Truman testimonial dinner.

Both Acheson and Stevenson are looking ahead to 1960, when they feel, a Democrat will be elected President. Stevenson is making no secret of the fact that he would like to be secretary of state. Acheson's intimates say that he would like to return to his old job.

OIL THREAT IN S. A. — Despite increasing activity in Latin America, the United States government does not believe that Russia poses much of a threat to American trade and investment in that area.

Evidence indicates that the Russians have selected America's Achilles heel — all development — in the current Soviet effort to impress Latin America. The big three in Latin America — Argentina, Brazil and Mexico — have a policy of not permitting foreign private capital to develop their oil resources. The United States maintains a policy of not lending any official funds for oil development.

In the impasse, very little oil is flowing, as least in Brazil and Argentina. For that reason, Russian offers to provide needed oil equipment touch a sensitive nerve in the two countries.

However, the offers have not been followed by the big sums of money which would be needed to make a significant oil development program possible.

DEFENSES "CZAR" McELROY — Under the Eisenhower administration's reorganization plan for the Pentagon, Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy seems certain to become the most powerful civilian boss of the nation's military establishment the United States has ever known.

Advance reports indicate complete agreement both at the White House and on Capitol Hill on the need for giving McElroy unprecedented authority to allot money, make decisions, and "crack heads."

The three most written about men in history have been Jesus, Napoleon and Abraham Lincoln.

Roberts Misunderstood Evangelist

By ALBIN KREBS

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK — Oral Roberts is possibly the most misunderstood, probably the most flamboyant, and doubtlessly the most controversial of the scores of evangelists who have recently captured the religious imagination of Americans and spread a new spiritual revival across the land.

The tall, forceful, and immensely influential Oklahoma man is second only to Billy Graham in popularity and, surprising to many, he can claim almost as many conversions annually — more than a million.

When Roberts conducts a week-long crusade at Hempstead, N. Y., beginning March 25, he will be the second major evangelist to visit the New York area in less than a year. Graham conducted a 16-week crusade here last summer.

Who is Roberts?

Who is this man Roberts, about whose head controversy swirls? Why do thousands believe him to be truly anointed by God to save souls and heal bodies, while others attack him or dismiss him as a fanatic and faker?

The core of the answer, as well as the center of the controversy, lies in faith-healing.

Actually, Roberts and the Pentecostal Holiness Church, of which he is an ordained minister, are not alone in their belief in the healing power of prayer and faith. Faith-healing is recognized by most Christian denominations, and in the past few years, increasing emphasis has been placed upon healing of physical ills by direct appeal to God.

But in most cases the appeals to the deity have been sedate affairs. Roberts believes, so much so that in the sight of God the entreaties become half-hearted, apologetic and unconvincing.

Begin With Radio About 10 years ago, Oral Roberts began radio broadcasts of his simple, direct, often strident appeals to God to instantly and miraculously cure the ill who came to his tent revivals. The radio talks created a mild storm which was only a preview of the virtual hurricane of controversy his television films were to stir up.

Over 140 TV stations, viewers watched the long "healing lines" of the lame and the halt, the sick, the dying, the crippled, the blind and the deaf as they made their oftuous way up to the platform to be touched and prayed over and "healed" by Roberts.

Time after time, Roberts, his intense voice chanting extemporaneous prayers, constantly demanding heavenly help, clutched a subject's cancerous throat or twisted limb, seeking miraculous cures for supposedly incurable ills. And time and again, the emotion-choked cries could be heard: "Praise God, praise God, I can walk! . . . I can see again, I can see!" "My baby, my sweet little baby is cured, praise God!" "Thank you, sweet Jesus, thank you!"

Listeners Name Him Healer Thus hundreds of thousands of people throughout the world who have watched Roberts on TV or in person or heard his radio sermons, sincerely consider him a man truly touched by God, a divinely sent healer of the sick.

MovieLand RIDE-IN THEATRE STARTS 6:10 NOW SHOWING

NOTHING CONCEALED! THE MUSH MUSH FACTS OF LIFE REVEALED IN EVERY DETAIL!

Children of LOVE FIRST TIME ON ANY SCREEN! "THE BIRTH OF TWINS" IN COLOR

FEATURE — 6:35 — 9:30 ADULTS ONLY

Others, with equal sincerity, look upon the 40-year-old evangelist as an exploiter of the sick, a charlatan willing to use for his own shameless purposes the human misery he finds in others.

What Roberts' detractors cannot ignore is the fact that thousands of people have claimed they were cured through his prayers, that he established the necessary contact between them and God, the Healer. Roberts concedes that many

Get Ready Now Before Insects Start Biting

By HERMAN N. BUNDGREN, M.D.

LET'S talk about insects. Oh, you don't have to rush out to put up the screens. I don't mean to imply that you have to worry about mosquitoes, hornets and bees at this time of the year.

But if you or members of your family are extremely sensitive to their bites and stings, you had better start thinking of doing something about it.

Severe Reactions Severe allergic reactions to such bites fortunately are pretty rare. But there are many persons who suffer considerable swelling at the site of these bites. And every so often we hear of someone who died as the result of a bee sting.

There are extracts from bees, hornets, wasps, mosquitoes and other insects available for immunizing persons against allergic reactions from the attacks of such insects.

If you think you may need protection like this, better see your doctor, so he can begin immunization therapy soon.

Usual Tips I would like to pass along a few other tips which those of you who are allergic to insect bites may find useful next summer.

For one thing, don't take off your clothes, or otherwise strain yourself physically, after being nicked by an insect today.

Washington See-Saw

FLORIDA PRINCESS — It's that season again. First, each state chooses a princess. Then on that fateful night, the wheel spins and one is named Cherry Blossom Queen. Florida's princess will be chosen February 21, following a dinner at the Continental Hotel here. Hour 8:00 p. m., price $3.50 each. Three candidates will be selected by ballot.

The winner will be determined by the spin of a wheel. The princess will be between 18 and 25 years old, a legal resident of Florida — and of course beautiful. The present Princess is Andrea Anderson of Ocala.

DANGER SIGNAL — When the Union of Egypt and Syria was announced, Congressman "the-coon" Bob Sikes told the House that "the United States must indeed direct its efforts more effectively or the handwriting on the wall is plain to be seen." He said that the Congress was too unconcerned and called the Eisenhower doctrine a failure! "Diplomatic defeat can be just as damaging as military defeat."

SOMEDAY HE'LL VOTE — Young Paul Pettenuide, 1834 N. W. 83rd St., Miami, recently had occasion to ask Congressman Dante Fascell to perform a small favor. In thanking the Congressman, Paul wrote: "Anytime a thirteen year old boy can be of help to you, call on me." Fascell's comment: "I certainly do appreciate Paul's offer of help. I hope he lent too surprised one of these days when I call on him. I'm sure there will be an occasion when his assistance can be put to good use."

Could be that Paul will be helping to "ring the bell for Dante Fascell" come next campaign time.

OLD FOES — If Senator Holland gets into a race this year, you can expect his old enemies, the AFL-CIO, to be right on his neck again. In fact, newscasters friendly to the union, already hint that Holland is marked for "purge" by the unions. As in the past, they probably will be fooled by the results of their work. Holland has many loyal union members among his supporters; is hated mainly by the radical left-wing labor element. One of them and has been his support of Florida's right-to-work law, voted as an amendment to Florida's constitution when he was Governor.

REPORTER ON FELLOWSHIP — The American Political Association offers work fellowships to political writers and those who work in political science. For one year they work in various spots on Capitol Hill for experience that will help them when they return to their regular jobs. Here as a winner on one of these fellowships is Norm Gelman, a reporter and editorial writer for the St. Petersburg Times. Gelman will spend the year in Washington with his wife and three-year old daughter, working for different House Committees. He will also write a weekly column for the Times — just to keep his hand in.

BIG CELEBRATION — Congressman Bill Cramer will get all possible benefit from the opening of the new post office building in St. Petersburg. The $2 million building will be dedicated February 16th, with full ceremonies. Present from Washington will be Edson O. Sessions, Deputy Postmaster General and Ormande A. Kleb, Assistant Postmaster General. A big dinner will be staged Friday night by the officials and members of the Postal Employees Association. Saturday's program will include a luncheon, plenty of speeches. Cramer will be the raising of the American Flag. (One which has flown over the Capitol in Washington). The new building will be the central mail handling facility in St. Petersburg.

Guests At Mayfair Inn Model Fashions For World Travelers

"Around the World in Eighty Minutes" was presented Tuesday night in the Crystal Lobby of the Mayfair Inn, when guests of the hotel modeled clothes from the Mary-Esther Shop and One Upman of Winter Park. Mrs. Duke Dumanis, New York attorney, and instigator of the fashion show, introduced Mayfair Inn manager Frank Mcbane Jr., who did the commentary. The guests modeled clothes suitable for Acapulco, Rio de Janeiro, Bombay, Lisbon, Naples, Madrid, Rome, Geneva; anywhere the difficult Paspartou and Phi-deas Fog of "Around the World" may be touched. Only the Mayfair guests were more fortunate. They had delightful companions and did not have to leave the warmth of the hotel. Drip dry cottons with low V necks and bouffant skirts in brilliant colors were popular for the

Methodist Circles

Mrs. Joe Jarrell was the hostess Tuesday evening for the regular meeting of Circle 3 of the W.S.C.S. Mrs. Bob Cole began the program with a prayer followed by two chapters of the study "Disciples to Such a Lord." During the business session, Mrs. Carl Chapman Sr., chairman, introduced Mrs. L. E. Blair and Mrs. W. R. Beasley as new members. Mrs. John Angel and Mrs. Orville Touchton were welcomed as visitors. All members are urged to attend the general meetings of the W.S.C.S. the first Tuesday morning of each month. Mrs. Chester Daniels led a discussion on living conditions among the migrant workers of Florida. As a result of the discussion, the circle decided to collect clothes, which Mrs. Daniels offered to transport to the workers. As a follow up on the recent study of Japan, Mrs. Blair displayed and explained interesting items and pictures from that country. An offering was taken to be sent for mission work in Japan. Valentine refreshments were prepared by the co-hostess, Mrs. A. S. Kinlaw and served to the seventeen present.

Lake Mary Club Sees Cancer Film

A demonstration of fish cookery was presented Tuesday when the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club met at the Chamber of Commerce Building for a covered dish luncheon. Mrs. Theo Stiles and Mrs. Henderson prepared baked flounder with a sour cream sauce that was enthusiastically eaten by the members and guests attending. The tables were decorated in a Valentine theme. Gene Hassett of Orlando, representative of the Central Florida Cancer Association spoke to the group, and stressed the need for more workers in Seminole County. Mr. Hassett stated that Seminole County reveals less interest in the cancer problem than any other territory in Central Florida. He was accompanied by Mrs. Anne Sieczkowski, who has done extensive work with the local organization. A film on cancer was shown to the Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Derslinger, home economist with the Florida Power Corporation in Winter Park explained the orange cake baking contest to be held there March 27. About twenty attended the meeting and the luncheon which followed. President of the Home Demonstration Club is Mrs. Olan Howsall.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor
Covered a lovely party last night at the home of Fanchon McRoberts, invited were Suzie and John Drey, Joe and Roy Symes and children Becky and Sunny, and Midge Dunn. I wasn't but went anyway. We had a delightful time sitting around in the kitchen drinking coffee. The flowers, as I remember them were potted palms and lettuce in a salad bowl. (A little tired too.) Mrs. McRoberts was charming in a dark printed blouse, black skirt, stockings and shoes. Sort of East Lynnhish. Midge was on the way to the airport to meet Carl Hubbell, who was arriving from San Francisco. Carl must have the magic touch, as the foul weather seemed to dissipate immediately. Jean Dooley's parents are visiting here for several weeks from Mrs. Dawson Genter, 210 Washington Drive, Monday at 8 P. M. Eleven members were present and two new ones, Mrs. Bertia Cottrell and Mrs. C. E. McCord.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. V. G. Hasty, chairman. Prayer was led by Mrs. Beth Fisher, Mission Study by Mrs. F. L. Dampier. Reports were given by all chairmen. The minutes were read and approved. The circle voted to meet at 7:30 P. M. instead of 8:00 P. M. for the remainder of the winter and spring months.

All members are urged to attend the Seminole-Halifax Federation Association of Baptist Women's Circles to be held in Deland March 6, 1938 at 7 P. M. Dinner will be served, at 50 cents each. Please telephone Mrs. V. G. Hasty, FA2-6027 for reservations and Mrs. Bea Anderson for transportation.

A most interesting program on "Gates & Doorpost" was given by Mrs. C. A. Anderson, chairman, assisted by several of the members.

Delicious refreshments of Valentine Punch and Cake were served by the hostess Mrs. Genter being assisted by her daughter, Harriette. Valentines were given each member.

Attending were, Mrs. V. G. Hasty, Mrs. Ruby Graves, Mrs. Estelle Gilson, Mrs. Bea Anderson, Mrs. H. A. Morland, Mrs. Fred B. Fisher, Miss Martha Fox, Mrs. Sue Hutchinson, Mrs. F. L. Dampier, Mrs. Dawson Genter, Mrs. Bertia Cottrell, New, Mrs. C. E. McCord, New, and Mrs. Sue Stevenson.

Barbour Named Winner Of P. Schaal Trophy

Eddie Barbour, swift halfback on Coach Jim Pigott's Seminole High football squad, today was named the winner of the oldest consecutively presented sports trophy in the south—the Peter Schaal award to the year's most valuable player.

Nine judges, including Pigott and line coach Dave Laude, agreed that the slim youngster indeed was deserving of the trophy, both to be presented to a Seminole high school grader since Lofton Edensfield won the first such award in 1928.

Barbour's easy knack of detecting weaknesses in enemy play and his ability to quickly pass this word on to the coaching staff for evaluation was termed as "far in excess of the usual school talent possessed by a high school player."

While judges were also agreed that the team's sensational success, climaxed by its stunning 14 to 12 victory over Bishop Moore in the Brahm Bowl game in Orlando, were largely a team effort, Barbour, and junior guard David Stanley, were possibly the most constant game-after-game efforts.

Stanley was described by one judge as "potentially the finest football lineman ever to come out of mid-Florida", while another expressed the belief that, barring injuries, the youngster will be a college stand-out, reaching his peak in his "third or fourth year of pro football."

The trophy will be presented by the donor, a former Sanford Herald sports editor, at the annual All-Sports banquet later this spring.

Previous winners were: 1928, Lofton Edensfield; 1929, Edensfield; 1930, George Moye; 1931, Johnny Courier; 1932, Hendrix Lyles; 1933, Quillian Jordan; 1934, George McClelland; 1935, Elwyn Squires; 1936, Leland McClelland; 1937, Robert Stoinoff; 1938, the late Captain Darrell Ferguson; 1939, Jim Riser.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — A number of dazzling dog facts are evident today in the waiting wags of the Westminster Kennel Club's annual puppy parade. These are, absolutely without order:

- The smallest dogs have the biggest names.
- Whole meat steaks are a new delicacy for chow hounds, man or beast.
- Grey greyhounds are a rarity.
- Just because Tower is full of ticks it doesn't make him a good watch dog.
- Dogs named "Rover" have to wind up with an inferiority complex.
- He Can't Shoot Pools
- Getting a handle for these blue ribbon hounds must be as tedious as balancing the budget. For instance, a peke, one of the smallest dogs in the show, is called "Aldersbourne Keure of Kenthill of Robwood." They can trace his lineage back farther than the Vanderbilt and when he barks it sounds like he's saying, "Stand aside, peasant."
- The biggest animal in the show was "Sir Gelett of Mileside," an Irish wolfhound who eats three pounds of meat at a clip. He stands 7 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds and is six inches taller than basketball's Will the Still Chamberlain. Sir Gelett, however, can't shoot fous.
- Broadway and the ladies have had a resounding effect when it comes to tagging these pampered pups. There are Great White Way overtones in such as "Wishing Well's Brigadoon," a Highland terrier; "MacIeth's Naughty Nanette," a poodle; "Freedom's My Fair Lady," a miniature poodle; "Aldersbourne Keure of Kenthill of Robwood," a dashund known as "Teridon's Kiss Me Kate," and a boxer, "Merry Widow of Clover Downs."
- "The Frayle Wants Cat"
- The doggy set, it may be suspected, also is liquidly cognizant. If you don't think so, get a load of these: "Jericho's Little Brown Jug," a job named "Wee Wee Martini," and "Champagne Caprice," all poodles; "Stith's Sparkling Burgundy," a doberman; "Hauger's Moushine," a schnauzer; "Elyvyn Real Scotch," a terrier, and his running mate, "Sherida's Daiquiri," a peke called "Winelet Venencia," and a St. Bernard named "Brandy Keg's Tinker Bell."

Crusaders Strengthen Grip On Up Poll Lead

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — The Wheaton, Ill. Crusaders, easy victors over a major basketball school at Chicago, strengthened their grip on first place today in the United Press small college ratings.

The Crusaders coasted to a 90-73 victory over Bowling Green Ohio University—rated a major school in basketball by the NCAA—in their only start last week. Wheaton boosted its season record to 17-1, scored its 12th straight victory and recorded its 38th triumph in its last 39 games.

The national-wide board of coaches which rates the small college teams for the United Press gave Wheaton 19 first-place votes and a total of 363 points.

Barons Still Second

The Steubenville Ohio Barons, with a 21-1 record and a 20-game winning streak, remained second with 10 first-place votes and 348 points. Steubenville, which was only seven points behind Wheaton in last week's ratings, now trails by 15. The coaches based their ballots on games played through Feb. 8.

Evansville Ind. advanced to third from fourth while undefeated Western Illinois 18-0 slipped from third to fourth.

The positions of the next three teams remained unchanged from last week. Southwest Mo. State 17-0 was fifth, West Virginia Tech 21-2 sixth, and Tennessee State A and I 21-2 seventh.

Texas Southern 17-3 moved from ninth to eighth while Pacific Lutheran 13-2 slipped from eighth to ninth. St. Peter's N. J. College made its first appearance in the top 10, advancing from 11th to 10th with its 13-2 record.

Each coach picks 10 teams in the order in which he ranks them nationally. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis.

Crusaders Win Easily

Bill Gerig, Mel Peterson, Bob Whitehead and Don Anderson led Wheaton against Bowling Green. The Crusaders held a 47-34 half-time lead and led by 18 or 20 points most of the second half to win easily.

Jim Smith, Steubenville's 6-5 220-pound star, scored 20 points

Florida Nurseries Requesting Site Approval Checks

The business of accrediting planting sites for Florida nurseries picked up noticeably this week in Gainesville offices of the State Plant Board.

Reason for this rash of activity was the transition into law on February 1 of the Plant Board's request that all nursery sites in the state be approved before planting or replanting citrus stock. The law was designed to protect Florida's far-flung commercial citrus from the possibility of infestation with spreading diseases through the introduction of diseased nursery stock.

Also effective on February 1, was the regulation requiring that burrowing nematode certificates accompany all movement of citrus from nurseries.

"Gainesville has informed us that a flood of requests for site approval inspections has hit the office here," according to Charles Youtsey Plant Board district nursery inspector with offices in the Seminole County Courthouse, Sanford. "These petitions will be referred to the district offices for action and recommendations."

District inspectors in the state are responsible for checking all sites, and their findings and recommendations are sent to Gainesville. The Plant Board office there notifies the nurseryman in the notice of disapproval is given by the inspector, usually at the time of the inspection or shortly thereafter. Reasons for this action will be listed and another inspection can be scheduled provided the conditions can be corrected.

"Although Gainesville is being swarmed under at the moment, most of the requests from now on are expected to be made directly to the district inspector," Youtsey said. "The procedure will be the same, however, with inspectors informing the nurserymen of disapproval and Gainesville notifying those on the accredited list."

Approval is needed for every existing nursery and every proposed nursery which intends to plant new land or to replant old land to citrus.

In regards to a new site, approved Eastern Michigan last week. South-west Missouri remained unbeaten by whipping Maryville, 75-54.

val generally can be granted without reservation, provided that the location is on virgin land, and that certain domesticated perennials have never been grown there. Root samples will be taken if there is a question as to the presence of the burrowing nematode which is held responsible for spreading disease.

If there is reason to suspect the site, then the land must be fumigated under supervision and maintained in a fallow condition for a period of six months.

Established sites, or any expansion of an old site may be approved if the location is acceptable, if the history of the nursery is satisfactory, and if the site has received a thorough negative root sampling.

To be considered will be a rule of minimum distances, specifically, 100 feet from small established shrubs or dooryards; 200 feet from larger plantings or domesticated trees, and 400 feet from decline-infested trees. Exceptions among the established trees are citrus trees 15 years or older, and certain nematode-immune trees such as mango, lychee and macadamia.

No minimum distance is required from a healthy citrus grove, provided the grove is 15 years or older, shows no visible signs of decline, and that random samples taken from the nearest four rows to the proposed nursery site are negative.

Replants in the acceptable healthy grove must have been in place five years or more, or must have received burrowing nematode certification before movement from a nursery into the grove, if the replant is located within 200 feet of the nursery site.

Approval of a young grove for a nursery site is permissible when it is known that the grove trees were inspected for burrowing nematodes and found negative before the trees were moved from a nursery, and provided the site qualifies under all other conditions.

Inspectors may approve an established site where the location meets all regulations, and where the history of the site and of the plants brought onto it prove satisfactory.

But a young nematode-infested area or suspicious area, when properly fumigated under supervision of an authorized inspector and kept fallow for six months, may receive site approval, provided appropriate distances are observed. In spite of the assurances, nurserymen should be discouraged from requesting approval for previously infested sites on which a hardy host is prevalent.

The nurseryman should understand that after a site is approved, proper procedures must be observed in order to prevent the site from subsequently being disqualified.

All citrus plantings on unapproved nursery sites and plantings on approved sites which later become disqualified, must be treated with hot water under supervision before being moved to any commercial property.

Cadillac

Not His First... But His Finest!

It was more than twenty years ago that he drove his first Cadillac car home—and since then he has re-enacted that event more than a dozen times.

Now here he is—arriving once again with the newest version of the "car of cars". And as often as he has experienced this happy homecoming, he has never found it more satisfying than it is today.

For here, as he has already discovered, is the finest expression yet of all the things a Cadillac can be!

Here, beyond any question, is Cadillac's traditional leadership in styling and in luxury at its emphatic best.

Here, too, is Cadillac's great heritage of fine performance brought to a new high level of perfection. And here is Cadillac's exclusive Fleetwood coachcrafting... and Cadillac's world-famous value... and Cadillac's great soundness of investment... all advanced in their fullest possible measure.

Certainly then, you owe it to yourself to see and drive this new Standard of the World.

Your dealer will be delighted to arrange for an inspection of your favorite Cadillac—whether it might be the Sixty-Two Coupe or the Eldorado Brougham.

Opening Night Of High Fever Follies Is Termed As 'Smash Hit'

By Virginia Cox

Several stars were born last night when the curtain went up on the High Fever Follies, the revue staged at the Seminole High School for the benefit of the Seminole Memorial Hospital.

An outstanding personality of the evening was Mrs. Camilla Bruce as she danced through two numbers; one as the wife of a n'er-do-well with 24 children, and another as a scrubwoman mimicking models in a dress shop.

Mrs. Bruce's counterpart in the "Face to Face" scene was Hank Johnson, a young Navy man, who appeared in several scenes, and seemed to enjoy every one. As the slovenly Sam Giois, however, he hit his peak. This skit was the highlight of the evening.

"The Fall River Legend," the story of Lizzie Borden and how she almost broke up the Saturday Night hoodlum in a colorful, musical piece. Star of this particular production was Mrs. David (Patty) Gatchel, who literally romped through the scene, having a glorious time. Dutch DeWitt did a good job of calling for the square dance in this sequence.

The High Fever Follies Queen candidates were lovely as they graced the stage before magicians covers. Mrs. Vola Lambertson of DeBary was the winning queen for Thursday night and was presented with a sheaf of roses by Mrs. D. E. Brubaker, general chairman.

Mrs. John McCracken emerged as a versatile actress who switched from seductive lasciviousness to horror with complete ease.

Perhaps the most outstanding musical number of the evening was "A Blue Rhapsody," Marjory Kehlberger sang "The Blues in the Night" extremely well. The show of dancers was excellent, and a solo by Mrs. Spook Hook, compelling. Mrs. Hook also shows as Theda Bara in a comedy sequence and singing "Put the Blame on Me," in a before the curtain solo.

The noisiest sailors in town were those in the "Wobblin' Like a Dame" production number. The girls who made history were magnificent in this scene and their costumes fabulous.

Stalwart scenes during the show was a personality with much fire named Polly Shields. She was terrific as she sang "Neurosis You and Psychopathia Me" with Dutch DeWitt.

The soloist, Jerry Covington, Cotton Brown, Evans McCoy, Marge Leming and Arlene Bryant, were all in good voice.

The High Fever Follies was ably directed by Chris Carter of Jerome Cargill Productions. The show approached professional quality and surpassed it in many ways. The scenery was superb, and made completely in Sanford by a hard working committee.

The small orchestra did more than well. While parts of the show dragged, it is expected that tonight these problems will have been solved. The Follies will once more go down in Sanford history as a smash hit. And there is nothing quite as funny as seeing a group of usually dignified business and Navy men availing around the stage in "tutus". Their skirts were only surpassed by the magnificence of their undershorts.

Weather

Increasing cloudiness tonight and Saturday with showers Saturday followed by clearing and cooler by night.

Bids Invited For NAS $Million Building Job

The Commanding Officer of the Naval Air Station Sanford, Capt. Lionel A. Arthur, has announced that the District Public Works Office, Sixth Naval District has issued invitations for construction contract bids for a project at NAS Sanford estimated to cost over one million dollars.

The bid opening date is March 11 in the office of the District Public Works Office, Building Number 13, U. S. Naval Base Charleston, S. C.

The work will include one rigid frame prefabricated steel warehouse approximately 100 feet wide by 240 feet long, three rigid frame prefabricated steel barracks of H-shape assembly, each wing will be approximately 20 feet wide by 96 feet long, the center section between wings will be of concrete and masonry construction; three rigid frame prefabricated steel hangers each approximately 80 feet by 180 feet; and, a Portland cement concrete aircraft parking area 10 inches thick by approximately 80,000 square yards.

The work will also include the following exterior paving and utilities; electrical distribution system, steam distribution system, sewage collection system and septic tank with drain field, water distribution system, storm water drainage system, compressed air distribution system, bituminous paved roads and parking areas, sidewalks, fencing and guard towers.

The local administration of this work will be under the direction of Lieutenant Commander D. P. Canning, SEC, USN, Resident Officer in charge of construction at NAS Sanford.

Groundbreaking Feb. 19 For New Tourist Info Booth

Final details of the groundbreaking ceremony Wednesday, Feb. 19 were announced yesterday at the weekly Jaycee luncheon.

Ground will be broken for the new Tourist Information Building which the Jaycees will build on a city park site between 4th and 5th Sts.

An Harris, chairman of the committee, told Jaycees that each member should bring a shovel with them to the ceremony. The event will take place at 4 p. m.

Layout of the building will be completed on the Thursday and Friday following the groundbreaking event and the footings will be dug and concrete poured on Saturday.

Two new members were welcomed into the organization yesterday. David Green and John Dickey became active members of the group.

M. L. Baborn Jr., president of the Jaycees told the members at yesterday's luncheon that Bill West will conduct a course in parliamentary procedure early in March. Members of all civic clubs will have an opportunity to participate.

A film "Lifting Shadows" depicting funeral procedures and customs since Egyptian times up to the present day was shown.

Pioneer Night Speakers Revealed

Speakers for the 33rd annual Pioneer Night in Lake Mary on the night of Feb. 22, were announced this morning by Frank Evans, originator of the event.

Evans said this morning that speakers will include S. J. Davis, formerly an FBI agent and now a law partner of Senator Douglas Stenstrom; County Judge Wilson Alexander, appointed Judge of Seminole County by Governor LeRoy Collins on recommendation of the Seminole County Bar Association; and Professor Simon Naph of Southern Union College in Wadley, Ala.

Each of the invited speakers will talk to the old folks for five minutes, Evans said this morning.

"I expect to announce another speaker shortly," Evans said as plans progress for the forthcoming event to be held in the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce Building.

"I urge everybody to bring all those over 60 years old and all of the pioneers registering are invited to see 'For Whom The Bell Tolls' as guests of Manager Milton Hawley of the Ritz Theatre on Feb. 27.

Loveland Postman CoF Play Cupid

LOVELAND, Colo. (UP)— Postmaster Fred Brewer and his crew played Cupid again this year and mailed about 15,000 Valentines for people who merely wanted the Loveland postmark to appear on the envelope.

But Brewer and the Loveland Chamber of Commerce did more for them than that. They saw to it that a cupid, wearing a cowboy hat, was stamped on the envelope in red ink along with the following poem:

"All the world loves a lover
Whose heart beats strong and true;
"And with this lovely Valentine Goes Loveland's wishes too."
People from all over the United States mail Valentines for Brewer to resend from Loveland. He got one such bundle from Albany, N. Y., with 1,450 Valentines in it. Another with 484 Valentines, came from a church group in Winston-Salem, N. C. and, a hospital in New York City had him re-send 250 to 300 Valentines — one for each of its patients.

"We prepare for it quite awhile before hand," Brewer says, "but we don't have to deliver them." Thus, it means extra work — and overtime — for the clerks, but the mail carriers have no more than their normal work load.

New Unemployment Total Awaited

WASHINGTON (UP)— Look for more pump-priming by the government in the inflationary tradition of Franklin D. Roosevelt and look for it soon if President Eisenhower is disappointed in his hope for a business upturn next month.

The hard political fact confronting the administration today is this:

The Republican Party probably could not survive serious depression and unemployment in the term of office of the first Republican president elected since 1928.

If inflationary government spending, pump priming, is necessary to avoid such a situation, the younger elements of the Republican Party most likely will be in favor of priming the pump. Such younger elements of the party as Vice President Richard M. Nixon reasonably may believe that their political futures still lie before them, to be realized only if the Republican Party continues as a going concern.

Nixon would invest Count Nixon among the top level of administration men who would invest right now considerably more in recovery than the two-billion-dollar program already announced. Something around five billion dollars would be more in thinking and there are urgent demands from Congress for even bigger outlays.

Eisenhower's chin's up review this week of administration shot-in-the-arm actions had a built-in trigger for bold additional measures in the matter of six to eight weeks. The unemployment figures for March will prove the President right or wrong in his belief that a business upturn will overtake the recession in that month. If proved wrong, Eisenhower will have no alternative to quick further action.

Pump priming on the scale discussed by some responsible persons in Washington would bounce the public debt well above the new limit at which the administration desires Congress to fix it. That new limit would be 280 billion dollars.

FDR's New Deal conceived pump priming as a depression cure. It did not work very well in the depths of business calamity during which Roosevelt applied it but it might do better in the less urgent circumstances in which it is being used today.

Votes Large Sums

Roosevelt spent between 15 and 20 billion dollars on emergency relief and recovery during his first eight years in office. Congress still was voting large relief sums, however, as late as the summer of 1939. The appropriation for the fiscal year 1940 was $1,200,000,000.

Government recovery loans of nearly one billion dollars for fiscal 1940 were authorized for such projects as water works, sewage disposal, bridges, hospital, toll roads, bypasses, purchase of equipment to be sold or leased to railroads, rural electrification, promotion of American exports.

Budget Slice Approved By Money Committee

WASHINGTON (UP)— The House Appropriations Committee today approved almost intact a slice of President Eisenhower's budget — reflecting a slackoff in the congressional economy drive.

The committee sent to the floor for action next week a $413,145,000 bill, carrying 80.7 per cent of the funds requested by Eisenhower to operate the Interior Department and related agencies in the fiscal year starting July 1. The overall reduction amounted to only $1,338,000.

That compares with last year when the President requested about 101 million dollars more for the same agencies and the committee chopped off 60 million dollars.

In approving the measure today the committee made it clear that it felt the President had gone too far this year with some of his proposals for economies in non-defense spending.

It recommended Congress increase the President's budget by $500,000 for the Bureau of Indian Affairs to build urgently needed schools for Indian children; by $500,000 for forest and land management employe housing; and by $651,000 for forest roads and trails.

The committee said 4,000 Indian children were without school facilities.

However, the three proposed increases were more than offset by other committee-voted reductions. The group thumbed down entirely $300,000 requested to acquire land for Superior National Forest and $1,120,000 for land acquisition by the National Capital Planning Commission to add to the District of Columbia's park, parkway and playground system.

The bill did not include funds for the Interior Department's construction of reclamation projects which are carried separately in a public works money bill to be drafted later. A number of lawmakers from both parties have announced they will seek more funds for these projects than recommended in the budget.

Thus, prospects are the Congress will wind up increasing the President's $73,900,000,000 spending budget, particularly in view of the drive underway to step up defense spending and to offset the business slump with more government spending.

The committee cut $750,000 from the President's budget for geological surveys. It said the funds it allowed were adequate in view of the Atomic Energy Commission's recent assertion that known domestic reserves of uranium are adequate for at least a 10-year supply.

It directed the National Park Service to stop work on restoration of the old U. S. Mint Building at San Francisco pending further study and to spend the $600,000 budgeted for that purpose on "urgently needed camp-ground, trail, and picnic facilities in the national parks."

Time for taking drivers license examinations will be extended in Sanford and Seminole County, according to Seminole County Judge Wilson Alexander and Troop Commander Harry Weaver of the Florida Highway Patrol.

Hereofore, said Troop Commander Weaver, we have spent only 12 hours in Sanford on three days with examinations at three and four hour portions of a day.

Effective March 1, he said, the Florida Highway Patrol will have examiners in Sanford for three full days each week giving citizens 24 hours of examining time.

Judge Wilson Alexander and Troop Commander Weaver worked out the plan for longer hours to provide additional time for citizens to come in for examinations.

"Because of the tremendous growth in population," he said, "this service has become necessary."

The Troop Commander noted that growth in the county can be judged and measured by the frequency of driver license examinations.

Hours for the new longer periods of examination will be from 9 to 5 on Tuesdays, 9 to 5 on Thursdays, and 9 to 5 on Saturdays.

Judge Alexander said this morning that "people of the county should certainly be pleased with the new plans and hours provided by the Florida Highway Patrol."

"We deeply appreciate the close cooperation of the Florida Highway Patrol in their increasing the time spent here and giving our people the opportunity to take the necessary examinations," he said.

"There is no doubt that Seminole County citizens will be able to detect immediately the better service given the public during the new hours which will be established on Mar. 1," said Judge Alexander.

Murray, Vocational Education Director Resigns Yesterday

Fred C. Murray, Director of Adult and Vocational Education for Seminole County submitted his resignation to the Seminole County Board of Education.

Murray resigned in order to accept a similar position in Broward County "where I feel the opportunities will be greater."

The director of adult and vocational education has been in Sanford and Seminole County for eight years. His resignation will become effective at the end of June.

The Board of Education yesterday accepted the resignation "with regret."

They have also set the week of Feb. 24, to meet jointly with the Board of School Trustees to attempt to select a person to replace Murray in the Seminole County School System.

The Board of Education also called, yesterday, for a new open survey "because of the tremendous growth between Sanford and the Seminole County Line."

R. T. Milwee, Superintendent of Public Instruction, this morning said, "We will ask the State Department of Education to send specialists in as soon as possible to complete the survey."

The state plan for purchasing school buses was rejected yesterday by the Board of Education. Buses will be purchased in the future as they have been in the past, by local bids. "We believe we can buy our equipment at lower prices in this manner," he was said.

The board also called for bids to furnish two booster hot water heaters for dishwashers at Pinecrest and Goldsboro schools. The bids are to be opened on Feb. 27.

Russell Predicts Civil Rights Laws Won't Be Passed

WASHINGTON— Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) predicted that the present Congress will not pass any new civil rights legislation during the present Session. He made the statement in a televised interview with Senator George Smathers (D-Fla.) for a program to be released Sunday, Feb. 16.

Speaking as the leader of the Senate's Southern Block, Russell declared that he felt the appointment of the newly-created Civil Rights Board was "unnecessary," but said he felt the Southern viewpoint will be properly represented by the board.

In other fields, the Georgia Senator asked for greater appropriations for the Strategic Air Command "to bridge the gap until missiles become operational," and he asked for greater emphasis on the program to build missile-bearing submarines.

Male Chorus Tenor Section To Meet Early Monday Nite

Members of the Sanford Male Chorus will meet for a regular rehearsal in the lodge room of Sanford Lodge No. 1241, B.P.O.E. Monday night at 8 o'clock. Director Harry M. Weir reminded the group this morning.

The tenor section will meet at 7:30 o'clock, Weir advised, as several additions to the group are expected.

Herald Mailway Edition Being Readied

The Sanford Herald's Mailway Edition is being prepared for publication late this month or in early March, Publisher Fred Perkins said today.

The entire Sanford Herald Staff is working on the annual edition which is mailed to all parts of the world, he said.

There will be more than 72 pages in this year's mailway edition with pictures and news items concerning practically every phase of community life in Seminole County.

A feature section will be on the Sanford Naval Air Station and its component parts. Each of the squadrons and divisions of the Navy installation here will have a separate page in the section. It is expected that the annual mailway will get into hundreds of Navy homes throughout the country.

Another new feature of this year's Mailway Edition will be on Seminole County women. Practically every woman's organization will be a part of the story that will depict the woman's part in making Seminole County one of the fastest growing communities in Florida.

Other sections will feature industry, schools, churches, and the hundreds of homes being constructed in the Central Florida community.

Photography will be one of the important phases of the annual Mailway with hundreds of pictures showing graphically the pictorial story of Sanford and Seminole County's growth.

Not unusual will be the thousands of words which form the news portion of the giant annual mailway. Many of the stories have already been written and are being prepared for printing in the sections making up the more than 72 pages.

Orders are now being taken at the local office of The Sanford Herald for the Mailway Edition as Circulation Manager Frank Volentine prepares the huge mailing lists that will send the edition across the country into every state in the union, into Canada, and many foreign countries.

Bruce McMurray To Get Eagle Scout Award Monday

Bruce McMurray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McMurray of Sanford will receive his Eagle Scout award Monday night at the regular honor court of Troop 34.

Herold Hexenbach will present the award at the meeting to be held at the First Methodist Church at 8 p. m.

Bruce entered scouting as a Cub Scout and has been on the staff at the Boy Scout camp for the past two years.

Weir To Give Talk On Local Hospital At Rotary Luncheon

The regular weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club to be held Monday noon at the Yacht Club will be featured by a talk on the second anniversary of the Seminole Memorial Hospital to be given by Harry M. Weir, hospital administrator.

Weir, a former member of the local club, will be presented by T. W. (Tommy) Mera, general program chairman, while Myron A. (Mike) Reck will preside.

Senkarik Purchases Downtown Property

Downtown Sanford property changed hands yesterday when John Senkarik and Sons purchased Magnolia Ave. stores and sites from Volle A. Williams Sr.

The property dealt was closed yesterday afternoon when the paint and glass company operators purchased the property now occupied by the A&P Tea Co., the Sanford Bowling Alley, and the Nicholson Bulk Co. and a lot on Park Ave. now utilized as a Used car Lot.

John Senkarik said this morning that the purchase price of the property was in the neighborhood of $150,000.

"We purchased this property," said Senkarik, "for investment purposes and plan no immediate changes."

The Senkarik Glass and Paint Co. has been established in Sanford 14 years and now has a branch in Sebring. The company is a partnership of John Senkarik Sr. and sons Jerry Senkarik and John Senkarik Jr.

"We have operated in the same location all of these years," said Senkarik as he made the announcement of the purchase of the Magnolia Ave. property.

This is the first major sale of downtown property in a number of years.
