Milk Price Control Adopted

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Milk Commission resumed its hearing today after adopting a new form of price controls on grade A pasteurized milk at the retail level.

The group voted 6-3 Tuesday night to set a minimum price that may be charged in retail stores based on the price paid to the producer.

The order, affecting 14 counties, called for prohibiting the retail sale of grade A pasteurized milk below 100 per cent of the producer price established by the commission in the northeast Florida area. The amount received by producers, also set by the commission, is now 81 cents per gallon.

But Commission Chairman J. Grayley O'Leary criticized the move and said, "I do not believe that the milk industry will be satisfied with the 100 per cent floor and their next move will be to raise it. There is no protection to the consumer member in this."

O'Leary said price controls "would be nothing but greater expense to the public."

South Seminole Schools To Have 3,000 Next Year

More than 3,000 children will be attending the new Longwood and South Seminole Elementary Schools and Lynn School in the diversified cooperative, training fall of 1960, County School Supt. R. T. Milwee told the Lions Club yesterday.

Peak school enrollment for this year should be 11,300 in January 1960, Milwee said.

Bids will be opened tomorrow on the new Seminole High School, to be built in the Reservoir Lake-Lake Jelena area. The school will be built on a campus which will have several buildings, swimming pools, tennis courts, and covered walkways, Milwee explained.

"The plant will consist of 10 classrooms, a homeroom, science, music, commercial suite, one arts and craft room, one room, a library, cafeteria, vocal music room, band room, gymnasium, auditorium and administrative suite," he said.

A new school for Hopper, and additions to Croons Academy, Lynn, and Oviedo will begin later in the year, Milwee told the Lions. Following these will be additions to the present Seminole High, which will become a senior high and the construction of a new elementary school in Sanford.

Bids on additions to Midway, Rosewood and Lake Mary Elementary schools will be taken Oct. 1, Milwee said.

Civic Center Gets Newsweek Plug

Sanford Civic Center is pictured in Newsweek Magazine for Sept. 13 in an advertisement showing how adhesives can be used to hold bent wood beams.

"By designing this striking new civic center using laminated wood, architect John Burton IV saved the City of Sanford almost $1 for each square foot of construction costs. In round figures—$18,000," the article says.

Two photos of the Civic Center are shown, emphasizing the beauty and strength of the curved wooden beam support and wood finish.

Killing Tot Sickens Man, Saves Others

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A 23-year-old welder told police today he became so sickened after stabbing his five-year-old stepdaughter to death that he couldn't go through with a plan to kill the other three members of his family and himself.

Earl Mildford Nelson, a native of Roebuck, S.C., admitted pulling a pillow over the head of Cindy Lou Skelton until she became unconscious and then stabbing her to death early Tuesday, the day after she had started kindergarten.

He also admitted beating his wife, Marjorie, 24, on the head with a hammer. She was treated at a hospital.

36 Escape Injury As Airliner Makes Belly-Landing At Air Force Base

PLATTSBURG AFB, N. Y. (UPI) — An Eastern Airlines Martin 404 airliner made an emergency belly-landing on a foam-covered runway at this Strategic Air Command base early today and all 36 persons aboard escaped serious injury.

The plane developed landing gear trouble while on a flight northward from New York City to Massena, N. Y. The pilot discovered the trouble while attempting to make a landing at Burlington, Vt. Municipal Airport.

An Air Force official here said the pilot bailed out the operations tower several times and then decided on the belly landing.

He circled the field for about 34 minutes to burn up his excess fuel.

Air Force personnel spread a thick blanket of foam used to cushion oil fires over a 300-foot wide section of the runway for 4-500 feet.

The pilot then set the two engines plans down in the middle.

An Air Force spokesman who gave newsmen a running account of the emergency landing said that the plane slid almost 1,700 feet before it came to a halt.

Lt. Dave Whalen, a base information officer, said sparks flew out from the plane as it slid along and a small fire broke out. This was quickly extinguished.

At least 200 Air Force personnel stood by to assist the crippled plane. Passengers and crew members were taken to the base hospital and checked by Air Force doctors and an Eastern Airlines doctor. They said the passengers and crew were in "good condition."

Butler Modifies Stand On Convention Votes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler modified his 1960 convention appointment plan today to guarantee that no state delegation would have fewer votes than it had in 1956.

The last-minute revision was expected to head off some southern protests against wiping out an existing "bonus" system which had benefited many southern states.

Under the revised plans, every state and territory would gain at least one non-voting vote over its 1956 strength. Each state would get 2 1/2 votes for each of its Democratic members of Congress. Any state facing a loss of delegates would be assigned "at large" votes to bring them up to their 1956 level.

The District of Columbia would get eight votes, Puerto Rico, six; the Virgin Islands and the Canal Zone, three each. In addition each state and territory would get an extra vote for its two members on the national committee.

Total convention votes under the new plan would be 1,511 as against 1,475 in Butler's original revision. There were 1,372 votes at the 1956 convention.

There were also signs that the party's loyal oath compromise backed by Butler would be adopted.

Camille F. Gravel Jr., national committeeman from Louisiana, warned that it might be a "little inadequate" to keep the South in the Democratic fold next year but said he endorsed the compromise.

He said the Butler-sponsored proposal "is so fair that every conscientious Democrat should wholeheartedly endorse it."

Despite widespread southern complaints about the proposed change, committee members did not feel any serious threat would be raised today to Butler's constitution as chairman. This feeling was expressed both by Gravel and Frank G. Tins, Kansas committeeman who last weekend set up a rival Midwest Democratic conference.

Three days of closed meetings by state chairmen will follow today's public national committee session.

Jupiter Exploded As It Veers Off

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A Jupiter intermediate range missile wiggled out of control today and was exploded in flight 1,900 feet above the ground. Fiery debris showered the cape but no injuries or damage was reported. Officials said the range safety officer pushed the "destruct" button when the Army missile veered from its planned trajectory. The missile erupted in a ball of orange and red flames. Pieces, some of them burning, plunged from the fiery sphere to the ground. No ground fires were started.

Some of the debris fell in the vicinity of the blockhouse housing the launch technicians. But the Air Force announced 13 seconds after the destruction that no one was injured.

Officials said a malfunction caused the rocket to veer off its programmed path just a split second after blastoff, prompting the safety officer to destroy it.

Governor Makes Plug For Central Purchase Plan

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins got in another plug for a stronger central purchasing plan Tuesday as the State Cabinet marked its vote on how to handle state printing purchases.

Collins urged the Cabinet to voluntarily set up a central purchasing department under its own jurisdiction. Such an agreement, he said, would serve as a model for the next Legislature to consider.

The past Legislature rejected the governor's central purchasing plan but finally placed all state printing under the purchasing council headed by Ralph Siler.

Tuesday, the Cabinet postponed for a week adopting rules for administering state printing purchasing under the council. Most of the Cabinet officers said they needed more time to study the proposed regulations.

Glee In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—A new era of good feeling toward Americans burst upon Moscow today.

Glowing reports in the Soviet press and on Moscow Radio of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's reception in Washington dissolved the traditional aloofness toward foreigners.

Even the Voice of America was allowed to report factually and in Russian the news of Khrushchev's arrival. For ten years it has been jammed by Soviet stations.

Broadcasts by the American "Radio Liberation" which mixed commentary, some critical, into its newscasts on Khrushchev were jammed as much as ever before, a spokesman for the American Committee for Liberation said in New York.

Moscow Radio, after broadcasting an account from Washington on Khrushchev's meeting with President Eisenhower, ended with a special weather forecast for the eastern part of the United States (good)—the first time anyone could remember such an act.

The usual stiffness toward foreigners began to unbend when the exchange of visits was announced. By the time Khrushchev landed the feeling was one of holiday mood. And with each passing hour of his visit the feelings toward Americans became warmer.

The Russians regard the Khrushchev visit as a prelude to the end of the cold war and get as if restraints are now off. Their attitude seems to say: "It's okay now."

There were new departures in reporting, and Tass, the official news agency, carried Eisenhower's welcoming speech in full.

The Soviet press told its readers today a "solid wall of 300,000 Americans" gave Khrushchev "stormy applause and ovations" when he arrived in Washington. The reports described the Washington scene as one of overwhelming approval by mammoth, friendly, handkerchief-waving crowds.

Washington was so packed with people, said the official government newspaper, Izvestia, that "there was not even a place to drop an apple."

"Long before the arrival of the airplane, several thousand residents gathered to greet the head of Soviet power," Izvestia said. "Thousands of Americans expressed their approval by stormy applause."

'Want Agreement, Nikita Tells U.S.

Abolish Cold War, And We All Gain, Red Leader Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that "all countries will gain" by "abolition of the cold war."

He told a National Press Club luncheon that "we have come to your country with an open heart."

"We are not here to beg for anything or to force anything on you. Our aim is to see your country, its great people, which has made a tremendous contribution to the development of mankind, to meet your statesmen and public leaders, and to have useful discussion on all questions which today agitate the people of our countries and the whole of mankind," he said.

"We want to reach agreement with the strong and thereby reach agreement with all countries on the abolition of the cold war."

"All countries will gain by this in equal measure."

He said it seems "strange" that some people have expressed "apprehensions" about his exchange of visits with President Eisenhower, as if the Soviet Union had "some sinister designs in expressing readiness to improve its relations with the United States."

"These allegations are simply ridiculous," he said. "We have no intention of producing a quarrel between anybody."

"On the contrary, we are taking every measure to have good relations not only with the U. S. but also with all allies. We would like the meetings between statesmen of the USSR and the U. S. to contribute in turn to the further improvement of relations between the Soviet Union and the United Kingdom, between the Soviet Union and France and other allies of the U. S."

The speech was the highlight of Khrushchev's second day in the United States.

At a reception at the club before lunch, Khrushchev said emphatically he was "very pleased" by the welcome given him thus far by the American people.

Khrushchev ignored the White House's "white tie" designation and declined to wear formal dress to President Eisenhower's banquet for him Tuesday night.

Instead the portly Russian showed up in a black business suit, white conventional shirt and gray silk four-in-hand tie. The attire was similar to that he wore on arrival in Washington seven hours earlier.

Dress for the premier's dinner for Eisenhower at the Russian embassy tonight has been designated as "optional."

Khrushchev seemed to be enjoying Khrushchev's presence far less than the beaming Russian liked being here.

During Tuesday's formal airport welcome, the motored through a quiet but polite multitude of 200,000, a helicopter flight over the capital and the state dinner, Eisenhower was precisely correct and cordial as befitting a host. But he somehow resembled his West Point cadet showing his grandmother through the academy.

Laos Sets Curfew To Curb Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Communist Pathet Lao rebel troops withdrawing northward in Red-shrouded Samnang province apparently have ended government columns attempting to spring a jungle trap on them, Lookian army sources said today.

The government of Laos meanwhile imposed a midnight curfew.

The situation in the remote provinces appeared less serious now that a United Nations investigation commission is on the scene. It was believed the rebels are withdrawing in small bands.

The government ordered the early closing of restaurants, bars, theaters and nightclubs — targets for bomb attacks during a Communist-backed reign of terror in the South Viet Nam capital of Saigon recently.

The announcement said only the curfew was being applied "for security reasons." It did not affect persons on the streets after midnight but further security measures were expected should the feared terrorism develop.

The UN team, headed by Japan's Shiroshi Shibusawa, arrived here Tuesday. So far no program has been drawn up as to where and how the subcommittee will look into Laos' charges the North Vietnamese have supplied the rebels with arms and troops.

Controversy Continues On Reappraisal

The county commissioners rejected the Dowling Appraisal Co. property evaluations yesterday from Robert Dowling, who said they represent "a good appraisal."

This step in the commission's effort to get a revised assessment to place more taxable property on the roll, with resulting increase in income and a promise of lower millage brought on three things:

Refusal by Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker to use the reappraisal by Dowling as a basis for the 1959 tax roll.

A plea by Commission Chairman John Krider for countywide cooperation in efforts to get more tax money in order to provide necessary services and facilities.

A prediction by Krider that "the new population" in the county will vote in people who will equalize taxation and provide more schools, roads and other required services.

It also revealed continued resistance by some citizens to the increase in their property values as recommended in the reappraisal.

Mrs. Walker read a statement in which she said she would not use the Dowling figures in preparing the 1959 tax roll. In it, she explained that she already has "finished" and expects to have it ready to present to the commission "in or about Oct. 1."

She said in concluding: "I suggest that no benefit can be secured in expediting the question of accepting the appraisal at this late date, and that the board of county commissioners should not accept this appraisal without first having an impartial, competent, qualified review made of it, or (Continued on Page 2)

Jimmy Connally, a cousin of the bride, lighted the candles. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Charles Dooley and Miss Barbara Jones. Acting as maid of honor was Miss Jerry Ann Patten, sister of the bride. The bride was radiant in her formal gown of lace over white satin, with a fitted bodice and a floor length bouffant skirt. She wore a fingertip veil of pure silk illusion, held in place by a tiara of seed pearls.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with white flowers, greenery and candelabra with lighted tapers. A reception was held following the ceremony at the home.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Glenn Lee and William Hart, of Oviedo, and Jack Martin, Pelzor, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathers will make their home in Goldenrod where the bridegroom is in business. The bride plans to complete her training in nursing.

The groom is a graduate of Oviedo High School, where he was active in school activities.

Kitchen Efficiency

—The kitchen food preparation or mixing center should be next to the refrigerator or sink, with an adequate work surface at least 36 inches in length, said Verda M. Dale, home management expert. The University of Massachusetts specialist also said electric mixers should be stored there for easy access when needed.

League Holds Plastic Party

A very successful plastic party was held on Monday afternoon by the Friendship League of the Congregational Christian Church, at Fellowship Hall. Twenty-five members were present to enjoy the party and conduct the regular business of the circle. Plans were made for the rummage sale to be held in October. Place and date to be announced later, but meanwhile the Friendship League asks that their friends gather together items to be sold. All proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church.

Dr. J. Bernard Root, pastor of the church for the past 33 years, who is leaving to teach at Piedmont College gave a short farewell talk and promised to come back to Sanford in the near future.

The hostesses, Mrs. W. W. Linn and Mrs. L. A. Lathrop served refreshments, at which time Mrs. Gus Rowedwell was congratulated on the celebration of her wedding anniversary.

Carolyn Crenshaw Weds Orville C. Johnson

Carolyn Collier Crenshaw and Orville C. Johnson III were married Sept. 5 at 8 p. m. at First Methodist Church in Orlando, with the Rev. Dr. E. J. P. Undergrass officiating at the candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olen Crenshaw of Orlando and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franklin Crenshaw of Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lillian Johnson and the late Orville C. Johnson of Orlando.

Linda Haynes, Tampa, was maid of honor and Betty Ball, Orlando, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Wayne Pickering, Orlando (served as best man and usher) were Jimmy Boatwright and Lonnie Peters. Serving as junior groomsmen were Bobby and Stewart Crenshaw 10 and 12-year-old brothers of the bride.

A program of wedding music was given by Mrs. J. G. Baker, organist and Alice Fague, soloist. The church was decorated with tall baskets of white gladioli and pom poms, magnolia leaves, several potted palms and tall candelabra holding lighted candles.

The bride given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle designed with an Elizabethan collar embroidered with paillette. The bouffant skirt featured a peplum of lace attached to deep ruffles of tulle over an underskirt of smaller ruffles.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a satin crown and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. The attendants wore aqua silk organza dresses featuring three tiered skirts and carried bouquets of pink flowers.

Both the mother of the bride and mother of the groom chose blue lace ensembles and pink corsages.

A reception was held in Wesley Hall of the church which was decorated with tall baskets of gladioli, mums and magnolia leaves. The stairway was entwined with fern and white ribbon. Imperped white lines, hand embroidered, long trimmed cloths covered the two tables. One held the three tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom and the other the punch bowl suits and mistletoe.

Mrs. Mattie Crenshaw and Mrs. Earl Crenshaw, cousins of the bride, served the cake and Barbara Geddes and Ann Staunaker presided at the punch bowl.

The former Miss Crenshaw was born in Orlando, graduated from Boone High School and attended Orlando Junior College, where she was a member of the glee club, pep club and letter club.

The groom was born in Hillsdale, Minn., graduated from Orlando Senior High School, received a B. A. degree from Boston University and a LL.B. degree from Stetson College of Law. He was a member of Phi Alpha Theta, Gamma Theta Upsilon and Phi Delta Phi (legal fraternity). He is presently serving in the U. S. Army at Ft. McNeil in Washington, D. C.

Sox Near Champagne; Giants Gain

United Press International
 Out of the champagne ready, look!
 The White Sox may be asking you to pay the cork this weekend.
 And by that time, the Giants should be paying you for the cork on the other.
 For the White Sox, it's virtually all over but the champagne ceremony celebrating their first pennant since 1906. Their "road to nowhere" was a down to earth and for those who mathematics may be a bit rusty, it simply means the Sox end wrap up the whole business by Friday night.

That was made possible when Cleveland fell 6 games behind Tuesday night by losing to Boston, 1-0, after the White Sox had won a 4-3 thriller from the Yankees.
 The Giants are in good shape, too, although not quite in the overwhelming position the White Sox are. San Francisco is two games in front of both Milwaukee and Los Angeles, and the Giants meet the Braves in a two-game series at home starting today, then play host to the Dodgers in a three-game set.

Everything worked out perfectly for the Giants Tuesday. They crushed the Reds, 15-6, while the Dodgers beat the Braves, 5-1, in 10 innings.
 The Giants hammered out 13 hits in routing the Reds. They shelled rookie "Jay" Hook with a five-run burst in the first inning.
 Reliever Don McMahon walked in the winning run in the 10th inning to enable the Dodgers to climb back into a second-place tie with the Braves.
 St. Louis defeated Philadelphia, 6-4, in the only other NL game played. The game between the Cubs and Pirates was postponed because of cold weather.

Ernie Broglio of the Cards gave up five hits in leading Ed Keegan for his seventh victory. Tim McCarver, 17-year-old rookie catcher, collected two of St. Louis' 10 hits and scored two runs.
 The White Sox victory over the Yankees marked the 10th game this season they won by two runs. The White Sox scored three of their runs — including the winning one — with sacrifice flies to effect Mickey Vasko's 20th and Stan Home's 20th.

Frank Minnow broke up a brilliant pitcher's battle between Tom Brewer of the Red Sox and Jim (Moose) Grant of the Boston Braves' sixth-inning six-to-nothing score. Minnow scored four runs with the only run of the game.
 "Moose" Grant's 10th victory for the Braves with a four-hit 9 1/2 triumph over the Tigers in 11 innings.
 Washington and Kansas City split a twilighter, the Senators winning the opener, 1-0, on Charlie Pasquel's three-batter and the A's taking the nightcap, 6-0, on Johnny Kuchar's five-hit effort.

Promoter Returns To Ring Hot Seat In Title Inquiry

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fight promoter Vincent J. Velia takes the "hot seat" again today at the New York state Athletic Commission's million-dollar hearing.
 Velia is trying to survive the bitter grilling of Commission Counsel James P. Frazee so that the license of his promoting organization — Rosenbach Enterprises, Inc. — will not be revoked.
 The license was suspended recently, pending this hearing, because of alleged unscrupulous allegations in the promotion of the June 15 Johnnie Patterson heavyweight title fight.
 Velia hopes to promote Ingemar Johansson's defense of the crown against ex-champion Floyd Patterson next year, which may produce gross receipts of between $5 million and $6 million.
 But Frazee's Johnson, who wants to defend in New York, might break away from Velia's control, were it banned permanently by not promoting in New York state.
 Frazee is trying to prove that attorney Velia-Harlem politician and new president of the Rosenbach organization is "fronting" for the missing Harlem mobster, Anthony (Fat Tony) Salerno.
 Velia admitted he had noticed mobster Salerno hovering about during at least five meetings connected with the Johansson-Patterson promotion; but he did not question the "policy" king because he thought Salerno was present merely as a friend of Bill Rosenbach.
 Rosenbach, recently ousted by Velia from control of Rosenbach Enterprises, has testified before the commission and the grand jury that Velia is fronting for Salerno.

1959 Football Guessing Game Starts This Week

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—The first edition of Fraley's Follies and the week-end football "winners"—along with a few rambling reflections on the sports world in general.
Game of the Week
 Clemson over North Carolina—This is a tough battle which will once again test as it starts. Clemson has a better team than last year's winner. The question is how much the surging Tarheels lost psychologically in the death of Coach Jim Tatum. If they go out to "win this one for Big Jim," Clemson could be in for a rough afternoon.
 The East
 Navy over Boston College—If people had noses, somebody would have a way for noses to bet on people.
 Villanova over West Chester—Why don't they invent a sand wedge in the shape of a hand?
 Also: Connecticut over Springfield and Maine over Massachusetts.

Besmanoff Fights Mochen Tonight

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Willie Besmanoff, a native of Milwaukee, muscles in on some of the Braves' headlines tonight when he tangles with favored Eddie Mochen in a 10-round nationally televised bout.
 Mochen, who has transferred his allegiance from San Francisco to Portland, is going after his sixth straight win in a comeback campaign which he launched this year after being flattened in the opening round last September by Ingemar Johansson.
 Eddie is ranked fourth in the latest Ring Magazine listing while his opponent is not cited. But Besmanoff's camp claims this is all wrong.

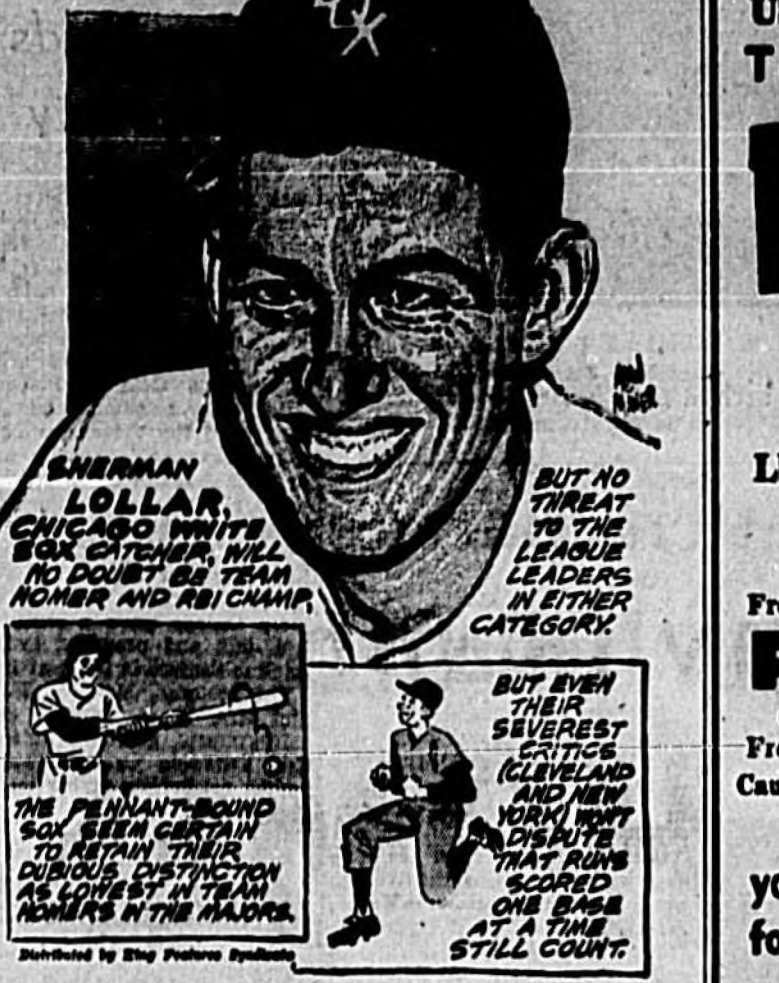

Ring Results

LONDON — John (Cowboy) McCormack 160, Scotland, won by disqualification over Terry Downes 158 1/2, England, eighth round of scheduled 15-round bout.
HALIFAX, N. S. — Balri Richardson, 154, Canada, knocked out Gaston Roy, 150, Canada, (8).
PITTSBURGH — Bobby Gordon, 158, Charleroi, Pa., outpointed Al Hauser, 160, Philadelphia (12).
RENO, Nev. — Frankie Ramirez, 141 1/2, Mexico outpointed Willie Morton, 147 1/2, San Jose Calif., (10).
RICHMOND, Calif. — Sixto Rodriguez, 174, San Francisco outpointed Eddie Cotton, 165, Seattle (10).

Gator Lineup Set For Tilt With Tulane Friday Night

United Press International
 Southeastern Conference football teams lined up for their last hard day of practice today before beginning the 1959 season this weekend.
 Eight SEC teams — Tulane, Florida, Louisiana State, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia Tech and Kentucky — open their fall schedules this weekend. Auburn, Tennessee, Mississippi State and Vanderbilt don't go into action until next weekend.
 Tapering off sessions are scheduled today and Thursday for most squads. Florida is the first to quit its practice field. The Gators fly to New Orleans Thursday for a rehearsal at the Sugar Bowl where they meet Tulane Friday night in the SEC opener.
 Tulane worked hard on their kicking game Tuesday. "We have made good progress," Coach Andy Pinney said. "Most of our veterans are looking good and several of our bright young players need only a little game action and experience to develop."
 Florida will probably start Tampa senior Wayne Williamson at quarterback, with Don Deal of Corpus Christi, Tex. and Bobby Joe Green of Bartlesville, Okla., at halfbacks. Ocala junior Bob

August 11, 1969

Dear Mr. Metz:

My wife and I want to thank you for all courtesies extended us when we purchased a home from you recently. We particularly appreciated the fact that no pressure was used to get us to "sign on the dotted line", as is the case with so many real estate salesmen these days.

We would also like to compliment the Hefbler Organization on the tremendous home buy they have offered the people of this area. It is truly a quality home at a very reasonable price. During the past six months we have looked at quite a few homes and both agree that there have been many priced three to five thousand higher that didn't have the quality workmanship or extra features offered in the Hefbler Homes.

In short we are extremely pleased with our decision to buy a home by Hefbler.

Very truly yours,

P. R. Bender

Patsy Kelly Angling For Series With Zasu Pitts

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Cackling Patsy Kelly, the oldtime comedienne, is working in her first movie in 16 years and hatching a TV series which would co-star Zasu Pitts.
 "What television needs is two old buddies hanging over a back fence," says Patsy.
 A comedy star in two-reelers during the 30s, Patsy is working with her old boss, Hal Roach Sr., to revive a slapstick feminine team. The series is to be based on a pair of charwomen whose ambition is to own identical mink coats.
 "The older generation will remember how great Marie Dressler and Polly Moran were in their movies," Patsy explained. "Well, since then there hasn't been a single successful female comedy combination."
 "Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance weren't really partners, but they came close, and a lot of people thought they were funny together."
 Patsy reached fame with the late Thelma Todd in 24 comedy shorts filmed between 1933-37. Following Miss Todd's death she joined Zasu in a feature film, and later on a personal appearance tour.

 "Zasu and I would make a great team now," she grinned. "We're old friends and anxious to put the show on the road."
 "Our only problem is that Zasu still is working on 'The Gale Storm' program. But there's enough time in the off-season for us to whip our own show together."
 Patsy, as Irish as a barrelful of shamrocks, has a featured role in MGM's "Please Don't Eat the Daisies." The years have touched her lightly and, except for a few added pounds, moviegoers should have little trouble recalling her antics of 35 years ago.

 "My last picture was awful—'Danger, Women at Work.' I played a lady truck driver. But that was 16 years ago."
 "Since then I've managed to keep busy on radio, in nightclub, Broadway plays, summer stock and touring companies. A few times I came close to having my own TV series, but something always interfered.

 "Even if Zasu can't join me in the new series I plan to go ahead with another partner."
 "I've learned that it's much easier for a comedienne to get laughs when she's working with slapstick. That's what Thelma God rest her soul—and I used to specialize in."

Squadrons 1, 5 Go To Carriers

The VAH-1 Tigers will depart Sanford Naval Air Station beginning Friday for the USS Independence. The Tigers will load aboard Saturday and depart Norfolk 21 Sept. The aircraft will depart Sanford and land aboard the Independence the 21.
 Air Operations will be conducted from the Independence until Sept. 25, at which time the ship will return to Norfolk and the Tigers will fly off to Oesana Naval Air Station. The squadron will return to the Independence Oct.

3, for a period of about seven days.
 During this period aboard the carrier, Air Group Seven will give firepower demonstrations for the Joint Civilian Orientation Committee, Armed Forces Staff College students and other observers.
 VAH-5 of the Naval Air Station returned to the USS Forrestal during the weekend. The squadron will be operating both from Forrestal and the shore for the balance of this year.

Ole Earl Pops His Galluses

BASTROP, La. (UPI)—Earl's galluses stole the show Monday night and the audience loved it.
 Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long hooked his thumbs into the straps of his suspenders and declared: "As long as these suspenders have pop in 'em—" and was interrupted by a popped suspender. Long halted an attack on declining gubernatorial candidates as the audience roared. He then fixed his broken strap.

Red Cross Activities Backed By Fund

The United Fund has begun to organize its annual money raising campaign. The Herald will print articles about the drive as it progresses, but at this stage is publishing information about the various groups included in the United Fund and backed by the funds it raises. The Red Cross is one of these.

Col. Jesse O. Gregory, chairman of the Seminole Chapter, American Red Cross, lists for us a few of the activities of the chapter.

During 1959 more than 600 persons have been taught to swim and to revive drowning persons. This program of water safety is one of many services the local chapter performs.

Following the plan of the national association the Seminole chapter sponsors several continuing programs, including preparation for possible emergency and disaster.

It assists men and women of the armed services in both service and civilian related problems; it cooperates with other groups in the training of civilians in first aid and home nursing.

It assists needy families with food, medicine, clothing and shelter; it operates the blood bank; it sends volunteer workers to hospitals and other institutions.

"Our local Red Cross chapter looks to the United Fund of Seminole County for support. It needs both volunteer workers and money for its extensive program of service. Give to it through your United Fund," Col. Gregory urges.

OAKLAND Calif. (UPI)—Officer Leroy Pelley, 35, has been suspended from the police force for 20 days for walking into Deputy Sheriff Robert Hendershot's house and kissing the deputy's wife.

Chief Edward Toothman said the punishment might have been more severe, but there were these facts to support Pelley's claim that it was all an accident:

1. Pelley's house is in the same neighborhood as Hendershot's.

2. The houses are the same model and color.

3. The younger the same age as Pelley's son greeted him with "Hi Dad!" as he came in.

Pelley admitted he had stopped for a few drinks before the incident, but maintained that he thought he was home.

"But when I kissed the woman she said, 'Who are you?'" he added.

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTERBA
OMAHA, Neb. — The two of them share a birthday together—a certain day in January, 75 years apart. But just like every little boy and his grandmother, they share something else, too.

I guess the only way to describe that "something" is to say it's just a look. But it's more. The only way you could know just what that is, is to read the mind of a seven-year-old, and you know you can't do that. Also, you can't read the emotions of an 82-year-old grandmother, for they have gone inward—deeper, to a hiding place—over the long, tired years.

When we drove up, she was sitting on the screened front porch. She had been there, on the swing, for several hours — waiting — reading her Czech language paper, Katolicky Delnick.

We had slipped to the curb quietly. I tapped the horn twice, lightly, and she looked up with the same quick smile that I remembered when I was the age of this little Indian at my side. It would come when I'd do something special to surprise her, like carry in an extra loaf of kumling for the kitchen stove.

Mom has been in this country since the turn of the century, but she still prefers to talk to her native tongue, even though her English is good. As a result, all of us in the family—the four girls and three boys—were weaned on the Czech language.

Now, ever since World War II when I left Omaha, the only time I get to speak it is on these once-a-year trips home. The first two hours are trying, then it all comes back to me.

I told Mother I expected to go to Russia with President Eisenhower. She beamed. "Do you think you may be able to stop off in Czechoslovakia?" And then a black cloud covered her face.

I knew we had relatives there, but we've never discussed it—not since the Communists took over the country.

But she was light-hearted again when I told her I thought a visa could be arranged to visit the tiny village of her childhood.

Why is it that a person wants to go back to see—or hear about—the place of his childhood? That is, if it was a happy childhood. And sometimes even if it wasn't.

Tomorrow, I'm going to stop by the gawky frame house on a dead-end dirt street in another part of the city to just stand there and look at the house where I was born. I know it's still there, and that the road is still unpaved. At least, that's the way it was last year.

I will see the tree in the front yard that I used to climb and hide in, and dream about things I thought I would never see, like the skyscrapers of New York.

And there will be the next-door neighbor who used to come home late at night with too many beers under his belt and cry the tune of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" over the melody of his accordion.

What is there about coming back to the old haunts? I guess maybe it's because that comes closer than anything in bringing back the happy days—the only days you remember as the years roll on.

J. Dan Wright of Sanford finally asked to withdraw his motion for approval after the exchange of opposition and approval views.

The meeting was adjourned with discussion deferred until after the scheduled presentation of the commission's advertising program for the coming season.

Some fresh fruit shippers agreed that grapefruit presented the least variation, oranges the next and tangerines the most as far as quality standards were concerned.

Drug Store Rated Good Influence
NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—The fight against juvenile delinquency may be waged in the corner drug store if a 40-year-old Norfolk pharmacist has his way.

Norman R. Sachs, who describes the drug store as the "traditional family meeting place," has urged his colleagues to take "a more active part in community life."

"Today's pharmacists owe the youth of America an allegiance in good moral conduct," he wrote in a recent issue of the Virginia Pharmacist.

"Tradition has placed the corner drug store as the focal meeting place of persons for years on end. Besides being a local merchant, the pharmacist is a respected professional man. His opinions and his active support may be of great value to the community."

Sachs, who has been in the business for 19 years, says drug stores have a welfare role to play in society.

"More than any other businessman," he said, "the pharmacist is in a position to understand the problem of juvenile delinquency and to give guidance and support to help curb the rising rate and severity of delinquency."

Washington Calling

By MARQUEE CHILES
WASHINGTON—Something of the atmosphere of this strange moment in history is reflected in the reaction in Washington to word that Premier Khrushchev was bringing with him V. S. Yemelyanov who in perhaps the No. 1 figure in the development of atomic energy in the Soviet Union.

With the title of Chief of the Main Administration for the Use of Atomic Energy, Yemelyanov's position corresponds roughly to that of John McCone as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. And this is true even though in recent years the task of directing the Soviet Union's far-reaching nuclear development has been somewhat compartmentalized.

The fact that Yemelyanov was coming to America in the Premier's party signified to some officials here that perhaps Khrushchev was ready for serious exploratory discussion on a nuclear testing agreement. He might be prepared, with his No. 1 atomic advisor at his side, to sever the differences between his American compatriot and the Russian delegate.

The fact that Yemelyanov would accept him as mediator is testimony both to Father Heisburgh's diplomacy and to his often-expressed conviction of the importance of exchanges with the Russians at every level. The two men have been working together since Father Heisburgh is in Vienna attending an atomic conference during the Russians' stay in this country he made Yemelyanov promise to visit his own university, Notre Dame, at South Bend, Indiana. Father Heisburgh has, incidentally, taken a far less critical view of President Eisenhower's invitation to Khrushchev than have some religious leaders.

In many respects Yemelyanov is typical of the new generation of leaders who have come into being in the Soviet Union more or less outside the channel of political orthodoxy. A distinguished scientist, he is a member of the Academy of Science, which gives him a very special status in Soviet life. He receives a high salary, has the use of cars and chauffeur and a larger apartment than most Soviet citizens. These privileges are augmented by the very important administrative position at the head of atomic development.

These new leaders in science and technology, who have cultivated so much in Russia's education, discuss with more freedom than political office holders the issues of the day while completely loyal to their own system and its ideology they do not hesitate to discuss its shortcomings as well as its triumphs. In short, they stand on more realistic ground than those prisoners of the political system who have been able to give only the answers contained in the rule books.

That is why so little hope has been pinned on cooperation with these new men. An expanded program for the exchange of problems atomic information would be one more link that would, or so it is hoped, bring the two peoples closer together and thereby make a war more unlikely. The same attitude is being taken to advance an exchange of information on outer space and the successful moon shot means the Russians will have a lot to contribute.

The skeptics are, of course, full of doubt about the value of such gestures at the periphery of the fundamental differences separating East and West. McCone, who will accept Yemelyanov on a tour of "atomic installations" that he may want to see and that he did not see on an earlier visit to this country, has been most insistent in demanding that the Russian agree to a full schedule of on-site inspections in any nuclear test ban. Sharply differing with the State Department, he has put the number of inspections at 200 a year against "a few," which is the Soviet demand.

Yet, the very fact that these two men do sit down and talk in more or less friendly terms is proof that the world does change. Five years ago, four years ago it would have been quite unthinkable.

Citrus Group Puts Off Quality Action

LAKELAND (UPI)—The Florida Citrus Commission yesterday heard an hour-long argument and took no action on two proposals to tighten enforcement of quality standards on fruit for both fresh and processed use.

The proposals developed general opposition, primarily from fresh fruit shippers and appeared doomed to defeat when and if they came to a vote.

J. Dan Wright of Sanford finally asked to withdraw his motion for approval after the exchange of opposition and approval views.

The meeting was adjourned with discussion deferred until after the scheduled presentation of the commission's advertising program for the coming season.

of to take Yemelyanov on a tour of American atomic installations. The news of his coming seemed to lead encouragement in a project that the ABC chairman has been privately nursing. That is for a greatly expanded program of exchange of the peacetime uses of atomic energy between Soviet Russia and the United States.

McCone first developed a healthy respect for Yemelyanov when the two men met in Vienna during his recent visit to the International Atomic Energy Agency with headquarters in Vienna. They had in the first instance come to a sharp difference amounting almost to a quarrel. Their differences were mediated in a way that brings into sharp focus some of the personalities of the time of half-war, half-peace and while Father Heisburgh is in Vienna attending an atomic conference during the Russians' stay in this country he made Yemelyanov promise to visit his own university, Notre Dame, at South Bend, Indiana. "Today's pharmacists owe the youth of America an allegiance in good moral conduct," he wrote in a recent issue of the Virginia Pharmacist.

"Tradition has placed the corner drug store as the focal meeting place of persons for years on end. Besides being a local merchant, the pharmacist is a respected professional man. His opinions and his active support may be of great value to the community."

Sachs, who has been in the business for 19 years, says drug stores have a welfare role to play in society.

"More than any other businessman," he said, "the pharmacist is in a position to understand the problem of juvenile delinquency and to give guidance and support to help curb the rising rate and severity of delinquency."

They were to pile wood on an

of to take Yemelyanov on a tour of American atomic installations. The news of his coming seemed to lead encouragement in a project that the ABC chairman has been privately nursing. That is for a greatly expanded program of exchange of the peacetime uses of atomic energy between Soviet Russia and the United States.

McCone first developed a healthy respect for Yemelyanov when the two men met in Vienna during his recent visit to the International Atomic Energy Agency with headquarters in Vienna. They had in the first instance come to a sharp difference amounting almost to a quarrel. Their differences were mediated in a way that brings into sharp focus some of the personalities of the time of half-war, half-peace and while Father Heisburgh is in Vienna attending an atomic conference during the Russians' stay in this country he made Yemelyanov promise to visit his own university, Notre Dame, at South Bend, Indiana. Father Heisburgh has, incidentally, taken a far less critical view of President Eisenhower's invitation to Khrushchev than have some religious leaders.

In many respects Yemelyanov is typical of the new generation of leaders who have come into being in the Soviet Union more or less outside the channel of political orthodoxy. A distinguished scientist, he is a member of the Academy of Science, which gives him a very special status in Soviet life. He receives a high salary, has the use of cars and chauffeur and a larger apartment than most Soviet citizens. These privileges are augmented by the very important administrative position at the head of atomic development.

These new leaders in science and technology, who have cultivated so much in Russia's education, discuss with more freedom than political office holders the issues of the day while completely loyal to their own system and its ideology they do not hesitate to discuss its shortcomings as well as its triumphs. In short, they stand on more realistic ground than those prisoners of the political system who have been able to give only the answers contained in the rule books.

That is why so little hope has been pinned on cooperation with these new men. An expanded program for the exchange of problems atomic information would be one more link that would, or so it is hoped, bring the two peoples closer together and thereby make a war more unlikely. The same attitude is being taken to advance an exchange of information on outer space and the successful moon shot means the Russians will have a lot to contribute.

The skeptics are, of course, full of doubt about the value of such gestures at the periphery of the fundamental differences separating East and West. McCone, who will accept Yemelyanov on a tour of "atomic installations" that he may want to see and that he did not see on an earlier visit to this country, has been most insistent in demanding that the Russian agree to a full schedule of on-site inspections in any nuclear test ban. Sharply differing with the State Department, he has put the number of inspections at 200 a year against "a few," which is the Soviet demand.

Yet, the very fact that these two men do sit down and talk in more or less friendly terms is proof that the world does change. Five years ago, four years ago it would have been quite unthinkable.

J. Dan Wright of Sanford finally asked to withdraw his motion for approval after the exchange of opposition and approval views.

The meeting was adjourned with discussion deferred until after the scheduled presentation of the commission's advertising program for the coming season.

Some fresh fruit shippers agreed that grapefruit presented the least variation, oranges the next and tangerines the most as far as quality standards were concerned.

Adrian Bell of the Bell Fruit Co. of Brooksville declared it was impossible to run a packing house successfully under the regulations proposed.

ROME (UPI)—A couple of Italian scientists have created an artificial ski-jump with a kind of plastic "snow" that looks like pressed spaghetti.

The "Trampolino Plastico" was constructed at a little winter resort town in Northern Italy and recently made the official training jump for Italian Olympic skiers. In nearly 12 months of testing, it was proved to be faster and safer than a jump of real snow.

It is made out of prefabricated panels of plastic which look like white in warm cross-pattern.

JAIL PAYS OFF
JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—A local police inspector complained that Chinese convicted burglars of traffic offenses and other minor charges were hiring stand-ins to serve their jail terms. Inspector M. Husin said the Chinese paid as much as $7 a day to others to serve their sentences. This is almost the average monthly Indonesian wage, he said.

Drug Store Rated Good Influence
NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—The fight against juvenile delinquency may be waged in the corner drug store if a 40-year-old Norfolk pharmacist has his way.

Norman R. Sachs, who describes the drug store as the "traditional family meeting place," has urged his colleagues to take "a more active part in community life."

"Today's pharmacists owe the youth of America an allegiance in good moral conduct," he wrote in a recent issue of the Virginia Pharmacist.

"Tradition has placed the corner drug store as the focal meeting place of persons for years on end. Besides being a local merchant, the pharmacist is a respected professional man. His opinions and his active support may be of great value to the community."

TAKE YOUR CHOICE, LADIES, it's short or long this fall, according to Paris fashions. At the short end of the deal is a hobble skirt (left) in a light navy wool ensemble. Beneath the short, form fitting jacket, the dress is sleeveless with a scoop neckline. Going to greater lengths is the charcoal brown crepe daytime dress. The extravagantly bloused tunic top and loose neckline give a top heavy effect with the skirt reaching down to mid-calf.

When Are Books Like A Harem?

UKIAH, Calif. (UPI) — If you were the sheriff of Mendocino County in California and a local judge asked you to buy him the Taj Mahal and six dancing girls, would you do it?

Judge Oscar H. Klee of the Big River Judicial District made no such exotic request; all he wanted was some lawbooks. But Sheriff Rene H. Barolomic contended that it was the same thing. He said he did not have to buy the judge law books any more than he would have to buy him "the Taj Mahal and six dancing girls."

At this point, the County Board of Supervisors decided to settle the whole thing by setting aside $720 to buy the books. The money came out of Judge Klee's salary.

A most welcome visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Smith has been Mr. Smith's brother, Kenneth Smith.

Mrs. C. D. Donaldson has returned from visiting her brother, Roy Whidden, who is in at his home in Tampa.

The P. D. Andersons spent a three week vacation in their home state this year. They visited friends in Deland, Orlando, made a tour of South Florida all the way to the Everglades and many other places near and far in the state.

Included in their itinerary was a trip to Tarpon Springs including the boat trip and sponge diving exhibition, swimming in the Gulf and a boat trip through the mangrove swamps.

Lake Mary has some interesting places and they have no relation to the athletic kind. They are the E. H. Case family—Mr. and Mrs. Case, Barbara and Peggy Miller, who recently attended a "Hamfest" sponsored by the Daytona Beach Amateur Radio Club at Daytona Beach.

Mr. Case has his own "Ham" station in Lake Mary with call letters WANGR. He and his family are extremely enthusiastic about their hobby. Mr. Case is Vice President of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce and they couldn't have picked a better one because he is forever singing the praises of Lake Mary to the other "Hams."

Friends of Mrs. Frank Lee will be glad to know that she is recovering satisfactorily at Memorial Memorial Hospital from surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Huff have had the pleasure of a visit from Mrs. Huff's son, James Palmer. Mr. Palmer has just returned from duty with the Armed Services in Korea. He will now enter Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Abell have returned from a visit with friends and relatives in Indian Head, Md. college in Utah.

Frost Already?

United Press International
With autumn a week away, winter descended on the northern United States today.

The weather bureau predicted a repetition of the 20 and 30-degree temperatures that brought a layer of frost Wednesday to New England, New York state and Michigan.

Light snow was forecast for the northern Rockies, matching the brief snowfall Wednesday near Kinross, Mich.

A tornado broke through the frosty weather pattern in south central Kansas, but no damage or injuries were reported.

The weather bureau said temperatures would be below normal at least through mid-October, except near the Gulf Coast. The coldest regions will be near the Great Lakes and in the Ohio Valley and Northeast.

Steel Firms Refuse Iko Board Offer

NEW YORK (UPI)—David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, today rejected the steel industry's offer to appoint a non-governmental fact-finding board to help settle the 65-day-old steel strike.

"It is a hollow vote when an industry can vote a request by the President of the United States," McDonald said as he entered this morning's session of the 65-day-old steel strike.

General Cooper, executive vice-president of the U. S. Steel Corp., who announced the industry's rejection, declined to say anything further.

Cooper, the 12 major companies' chief negotiator, announced the industry's rejection Wednesday night a few hours after it was revealed that the United Steelworkers Union supported the president's suggestion aimed at settling the strike.

"The companies have not asked for any form of government intervention and will not request appointment of a fact-finding board," Cooper said.

He pointed out that the companies have not sought use of the Taft-Hartley Act, either, but added:

"If the strike called by the union is now assuming the potential of harm to the nation in addition to the serious harm already inflicted upon the companies and their employees—it was for such a situation that Congress prescribed the Taft-Hartley procedure 12 years ago."

The Taft-Hartley Act permits the President to obtain an injunction requiring strikers to return to work for an 80-day cooling off period. The union is strongly opposed to using the act.

U. S. Manned Rocket Success In First Flight On Own Power

X-15 Flies 1,200 mph Up To Nine Mile Height

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—An experimental X15 manned rocket successfully flashed across the desert under its own power for the first time today in the "Kitty Hawk flight" for human space travel.

Test pilot Scott Crossfield brought the ship designed to probe the fringes of space to a skidding halt on a dry lake bed. Fourteen minutes earlier, the X15 was released from a bomber flying at 30,000 feet altitude and its engines cut in for the first time.

The half airplane, half rocket ship flew to a height of nine miles and traveled about 1,200 miles an hour on today's initial powered flight.

Like the Wrights' first heavier-than-air flight 54 years ago, today's X15 only hinted at things to come in ultra-sonic space travel.

The 15-ton rocket craft streaked over the Mojave Desert before Crossfield brought it in for a 200-mile-an-hour landing at Rogers Dry Lake. Because of its abbreviated airfoil surfaces, the ship has to land that fast or stall out.

With crash and fire trucks standing by, Crossfield brought the unwieldy plane in with its nose high in the air to get as much lift as possible out of its stubby wings.

The X15 landed on steel skids at its rear and finally came to rest on the skids and a conventional nose-wheel.

IT'S A BIG ONE, said Soviet Premier Khrushchev as he ogled a turkey shown him by Agriculture Sec. Benson during a visit to a Beltsville, Maryland farm research center. Khrushchev was surprised at the size of the bird. (UPI Telephoto)

Comptroller Asked For Hearing On County Appraisal

County commissioners accepted the Dowling Appraisal Co. property reappraisal this morning as "up to date, fair, equal and valid to the best of our knowledge" and said the appraisal cards will be made available to Tax Assessor Mary Marie Walker.

The commission instructed Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. to telegraph Gov. Collins and Comptroller Ray Green, asking for a hearing on "the appraisal situation in Seminole County."

"If the tax assessor won't accept the appraisal as a basis for compiling the 1959 tax roll there is nothing for the commissioners to do but 'throw it back into Ray Green's lap again,'" Chairman John Krider said.

Mrs. Walker had refused Tuesday to have the appraisal cards in her office until they have been given a final approval by the commission. She also requested they be reviewed.

Commissioner David Gatchel found the suggestion that if the commission accepts the cards "up to this point," perhaps Mrs. Walker will look them over.

The commission received the appraisal but did not officially accept it Tuesday.

The commissioners have the final say on whether to accept the tax roll. Krider said "We must sign the tax roll as being fair and equal and I will never sign one similar to the 1958 tax roll," he said.

County money to pay teachers' salaries will be needed in December, said School Supt. R. T. Milwee. If the schools don't have the money by then, funds must be borrowed by the school board, based on the receipt of tax money, Milwee said.

Asked by Milwee what would happen if the commissioners didn't accept the tax roll by Oct. 1, Krider said he wouldn't predict the results.

"How can the commissioners accept using last year's roll when Ray Green said it was one of the worst in Florida," Krider asked.

By refusing to accept the Dowling appraisal the assessor has saddled the commissioners with wading the taxpayers' money, Gatchel stressed.

Mrs. Walker "has thrown $70,000 of the taxpayers' money right back into our lap, when as late as May 4 she pledged that she didn't want to see this money wasted," Gatchel said.

"We believe that a tax roll starting today can be produced Nov. 15, including book opening and equalization hearings," said Krider.

Mrs. Walker's statement that she would not use the Dowling appraisal in compiling the 1959 tax roll "is completely silent" as to whether she intends to use it or not in the future, Cleveland said.

"I am busy working on the 1959 tax rolls and am unable to attend any meetings of any kind," said a letter from the tax assessor in answering to the commissioners' invitation to attend this morning's special session.

Split-Level Still Found By Officers

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI)—Sheriff's officers found an illegal liquor operation capable of grossing an estimated $100,000 a year in a large deserted home here.

The $35,000 split-level home, located in a fashionable residential section, was on a three-acre plot some 100 yards away from the nearest neighboring house.

Inside officers found 41 35-gallon barrels of mash waiting to be cooked. A big boiler had been chopped in a bedroom floor to accommodate the still's cooking unit.

Jaycees Sponsor Polio Inoculation

The Jaycees will sponsor a polio inoculation Oct. 24 in an effort to spark a countywide drive to have everybody immunized against the disease.

Emphasis will be on school age children, but all residents, white and Negro, are urged to get the polio shots to be given at the new Jaycee building on French Ave. The shots will be given at a cost of only $1 and the Jaycees said they have a supply of vaccine committed for the project.

A full series of the shots will be given, starting Oct. 24.

Khrushchev Can't Fool U. S. With Looks, President Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today firmly rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's prediction that communism will eventually replace democracy and capitalism in the world.

Eisenhower also told a news conference he has reached no agreement whatever with Khrushchev to exclude Laos, or any other so-called "third country" from their forthcoming talks at Camp David following completion of the Soviet leader's cross-country tour.

The president said that no matter how sincere and colorful Khrushchev might appear to the public, he did not believe American would be fooled by the Russian leader's generous forecasts of Communist dominance in the world.

Khrushchev said Wednesday that his oft-quoted remark that Communism would "bury" democracy was meant "historically" and was not meant to mean "the physical burial" of the American people. He predicted anew that communism would supplant capitalism.

Eisenhower said that, thus far, his conversations with Khrushchev had been confined to a general restatement of position and agreement on the agenda for the Camp David talks. Therefore, he said, it was not possible to detect any change in the basic Soviet stand that has led to East-West tension.

Khrushchev was expected to travel to the United Nations a dramatic proposal for a permanent ban on production of H-bombs and other nuclear weapons.

Well-informed American officials said today that would be the next logical step for the free-swinging Russian leader, who already has called for a ban "forever" on nuclear weapons tests.

Sources in a position to know said Khrushchev did not mention the planned disarmament proposal to President Eisenhower during their two-hour "preliminary" conference at the White House Tuesday.

Khrushchev disclosed in a speech at the National Press Club Wednesday that he planned to make the disarmament pitch in his address to the UN Friday.

He said: "The Soviet government intends to submit to the United Nations a proposal which, we hope, will play an important part in the solution of this, the most burning issue of our time."

Khrushchev arrived in New York today and got another cold reception from a massive crowd that jammed the streets.

A luncheon crowd of almost 40,000 persons jammed the few blocks from Pennsylvania Station to Fifth Avenue as the world's top Communist arrived for the beginning of his trans-America tour.

There was polite clapping from a few persons and an occasional isolated cheer. But, as in Washington, Khrushchev got mainly the silent treatment.

Trafficante Trial Ends As Defense Criticizes Cop

CLEARWATER (UPI)—Closing arguments in the bribery trial of Henry Trafficante wound up today with the defense calling the state's star witness an "unscrupulous" policeman seeking promotion.

The case was expected to go to the jury after the judge's charge this afternoon. Trafficante was charged with bribing Detective Sgt. Harry F. Dietrich to protect a lottery ring.

Defense Attorney Mark Hawes inferred that Dietrich trumped up the bribery story while seeking promotion to police chief.

"He's just that unscrupulous," he said.

He said the only evidence that Trafficante ever gave Dietrich any money came from "the slippery mouth of Dietrich." He said no one had ever corroborated the detective's story.

State Atty. Clair A. Davis summarized the state's contention that Trafficante gave Dietrich 10 specific bribes, including cash, tailor-made suits, two cases of whiskey and a television set.

Two-Area Drainage Survey Needed

The Tanglewood and Temple Terrace areas need a complete new engineering survey for permanent drainage relief, County Commission Chairman John Krider said after residents of these sections asked again for relief from high waters.

Petitioners from the Lakemont and Magnolia Avenue areas asked that something be done to relieve flooding around their homes. Recent rains have made the flooding even worse, said Mrs. A. L. Conroy, 1212 Magnolia Ave. Waters seeped into a nearby resident's Florida room, she declared.

An additional drainage well or increasing the capacity of the present well for the area has been sought by the petitioners.

Spot drainages will not solve the situation, according to Krider and a drainage district covering the whole Temple Terrace-Tanglewood area is needed, County Engineer Robert Davis added.

Orange County would have to be consulted because water would have to go through Orange on its way to the Eronochatchee River, Davis said.

The county just doesn't have sufficient funds to put in a drainage well for the area, Krider said. A meeting is to be held with Temple Terrace-Tanglewood residents and the commissioners at 10 a. m.
