RICHARD J. SCHILL CHECKS REFINISHING JOB

"Refinishing's fun when the hard work's done" is the motto of Bix Service Company on Highway 17-92, Fern Park, who are offering a brand new service to Central Florida... furniture stripping.

Home finishing can be a messy job and removing the old paint or varnish is the worst part. Anyone who has once attempted this "do-it-yourself" task may hesitate to tackle it again.

Since 90 per cent of the work is preparation, Bix can make the rest a pleasure by removing the old finish and keeping the mess.

Bix Service Company is a nationwide franchised chain of 160 furniture stripping establishments. They deal exclusively in stripping and renewing unfinished wood.

This process involves not only the removing of old varnish, shellac, and lacquers, but also painting surfaces—regardless of age. As an added feature, they remove deep-seated mildew and re-glue furniture. The service uses no toxic or other caustic materials relying solely on the exclusive Bix process, by which the finest finish removers developed by the Bix laboratories are used.

Richard J. Schill, local Bix dealer, is an experienced craftsman. He served four years apprenticeship after he operated his own antique restoring business in the Marlton-Bloomton section of New Jersey for 20 years. To become a Bix dealer, he trained in Bix Process Training Centers in New Jersey and St. Petersburg.

As an added service for those with neither the time nor the inclination to finish their own furniture after he has stripped it to the bare wood, he will even re-finish it for you.

Crossing Signals Near At 436, 434 - R. R.

Installation should be started within a few days of signal lights at the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad crossing on SR 436, it was reported this morning by C. W. (Bill) Benedict, district engineer at DeLand for the State Department of Transportation. Contract has been signed between the state and SCL for the installation, Benedict stated. The project is financed by county secondary road funds and accomplished by the railroad.

Benedict also stated that planning has been completed and was forwarded today to Tallahassee headquarters for signal lights at the SCL crossing on SR 434. This, too, will be financed by county secondary road funds and accomplished by the railroad.

County Commissioner Greg N. Drummond gave a "thumbs up" to the county's request Tuesday when he said he had approved an ordinance under county home rule requiring the SCL to have a signalman on duty at the two crossings until the signal lights are installed.

Drummond also said that traffic signals have been approved for installation at SR 436 and SR 434 but installation will be held in abeyance pending four-laning of SR 436 when the signals will be installed at no cost to the county.

The Commission yesterday also approved matching funds for the $850 installation of improved traffic signals at the intersection of 25th Street and French Avenue in Sanford.

50% Vote Predicted

By BILL SCOTT
A record turnout in a Sanford municipal election is anticipated for Tuesday when city voters will decide in races for mayor-commissioner and commissioner on an urban renewal.

Henry Timm, city clerk, and Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections, were agreed this morning that a record turnout is expected because of increased voter interest in the two races for the City Commission.

The two officials predicted that between 3,000 and 3,500 of the city's 6,700 registered voters will cast ballots between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Sanford Civic Center.

Voters also will engage in a straw ballot for information only for the City Commission. The questions: Whether the people favor the second stage sanitary sewage treatment plant, first phase of a drainage program and maintenance of a city zoo. Their appearance on the document is meant for an expression of opinion and for educational purposes only, according to City Manager W. E. Knowles.

If urban renewal receives a favorable expression, then it will ultimately follow that a project for uplifting a blighted city area will be sought from U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Since the cost of preparing a study for a prospective renewal area is considerable, the commission felt it would be proper to first obtain an opinion from voters rather than work up a project which must also be presented again in a second referendum and have it turned down.

This vote would mean expenditures of time and money to no avail.

Three priority items out of $7.5 million overall capital improvements needed by city over next 10 years also were placed on the ballot for "educational" purposes only to inform citizens of estimated costs.

First priority item is the sanitary sewage treatment second stage that has been made mandatory by State Pollution Control Board in previous notices to the city.

Swofford Facing Litigation?

Council - Mayor Are 'Hot At It'

By MARION BETHA
Controversial Mayor of Altamonte Springs, W. Lawrence Swofford, faces possible litigation as a result of his refusal to reimburse the municipality for $266,000 expended "negotiating matters" for the city.

Councilman William Nuckols moved that city attorney, S. Joseph Davis, be authorized to collect the sum from the mayor, which Nuckols asserts was spent without authority or council approval. If the amount is not collected within five days, the attorney was authorized to institute suit for recovery. Davis was also authorized to notify council in writing on the sixth day as to what action was taken. Motion was carried with the only negative vote.

Swofford contends that the expenses were legitimate and that he will not return the moneys.

Councilman Alex Sabbarwal injected that his opposition was to the "confidentiality" which the mayor held, and that in his opinion these should have been encompassed in his official duties and provided in the mayor's regular salary. Swofford intimated that the entire matter was politically motivated by his statement that "this is the right time to bring this up, for some people."

Jack Carr interjected from the audience as to whether there was a written policy upon the matter, and was promptly ruled out of order by the mayor.

Following adoption of the motion, Swofford, obviously disgruntled, turned to Nuckols and remarked, "Well, you're throwing around the people's money as you have done all year. You've wasted about $11,000 of the taxpayer's money." Nuckols countered by offering a motion that the mayor disqualify himself in the coming election on the basis that he served on the election board last year, and this was in violation of statutes. Swofford banged the gavel. "Out of order, out of order, out of order," Davis was authorized to draft an amendment to Ordinance 35 to remove the utility tax from city-owned utilities. The attorney was also authorized to draw a resolution for the purpose of purging and revising the voter registration lists.

Annexation of Orange Avenue from Boston to Essex and Essex to Hattaway Drive was again brought to the attention of council. City must annex the street in order to lay gravity sewer lines in the center of the street. The street would be the only

Sheriff Seeks An Investigator

Although peace reigns following the controversy which ensued when State's Attorney Abbott Herring requested an investigator and another assistant, the problem is not resolved.

At a meeting yesterday of the Seminole County Board of County Commissioners, County Attorney Harold Johnson advised the board that there is no authority to fund the states attorney's request, even under home rule.

Sheriff John Polk then opted that an investigator should be with his department, that he had requested one in March, and had agreed at that time not to ask for another. However, the Sheriff continued, the department is in need of one man, versed in law, to be on call on a 24-hour basis. All investigators would contact this man before going to the states attorney's office. Salary would be $8,700, and total cost of hiring the new investigator would be $8,700. This includes a new vehicle and other expenses.

Sheriff Polk explained the controversy had arisen over the fact that the sheriff's department has to enter a case before a warrant is sworn, and that often later investigation has proved there was insufficient evidence for a warrant. Polk continued that if a constable swears a warrant before there is an investigation it creates a hardship on the one arrested, and since the burden of proof rests with the state, a man is needed to investigate before a warrant is sworn.

Commissioners also had monetary problem in regard to the hiring of a part-time fire chief for the Bear Lake-Forrest City Fire Control District. A misconception existed that the district was requesting a full time man. Proposed salary is $4,900.

Commissioner chairman John Alexander said that he "couldn't buy" that kind of salary for a part-time chief, but Commissioner Dan Felham suggested that the fire commissioners be divided to the county Commission meeting next week to discuss the salary.

Her Battle Ends

Courageous was the word for Gayle B. Sawyer, 17, pretty Seminole High School senior, who ended her battle for survival at 4:30 a.m. Tuesday at the J. Hillis Miller Medical Center in Gainesville.

Gayle, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Sawyer of 2413 Palmetto Ave., has been in and out of the center for treatment many times since it was first discovered in January, 1968, that she was the victim of a kidney disease.

As the cost of her treatment soared, the Gayle Sawyer Fund was set up at Florida State

Bank so that interested friends in the community could share the family's burden.

She was a member of First United Methodist Church, and the Anchor Club, Future Teachers and Tri-Hi-Y of Seminole High School.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by a sister, Diana; a brother, Roby; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Burke Steele.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. Robert Jenkins officiating. Burial will be in Oaklawn Memorial Park, Brison in charge.

Military Judge Silences Witnesses In Courtmartial

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A military judge has ordered potential witnesses in the court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. on charges of murdering 109 South Vietnamese civilians to discuss their evidence only with principals in the trial.

Meanwhile, Secretary of the Army Stanley E. Resor and his general counsel, Robert Jordan, said Tuesday they would tell the Senate Armed Services Committee what the Army knows of the alleged massacre of civilians at My Lai, South Vietnam, on March 16, 1968.

Each witness will be informed that he is authorized to discuss or disclose information or real evidence to you, Mr. George Laitner, Maj. Kenneth A. Raby and Lt. William L. Calley Jr. witnesses of the restriction on public disclosures.

Kennedy handed Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, the prosecutor, an order that said in part: "Each witness will be informed that he is authorized to discuss or disclose information or real evidence to you, Mr. George Laitner, Maj. Kenneth A. Raby and Lt. William L. Calley Jr. witnesses of the restriction on public disclosures."

Kennedy said he would allow "a reasonable time" for news media to impose self-restraints that would assure an impartial trial.

Calley—34—was charged with the premeditated murder of 109 civilians, including women and children, after public disclosure of letters and interviews with persons who said they were eyewitnesses to or participants in the My Lai incident.

Some accounts have placed the number of civilians killed in My Lai as high as 367.

Newsman Have Say

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
An Television-Radio Writers' Guild spokesman said Tuesday that news analysts see in Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's recent speech criticizing broadcast news critics a clear effort of intimidation.

In a CBS News Department program, "40 Minutes," Tuesday night, the Agnew speech and its repercussions were discussed from several viewpoints.

The first half of the hour was a taped report of a question-and-answer session between Cronkite, CBS' top newscaster, and critics of his home town of St. Joseph, Mo.

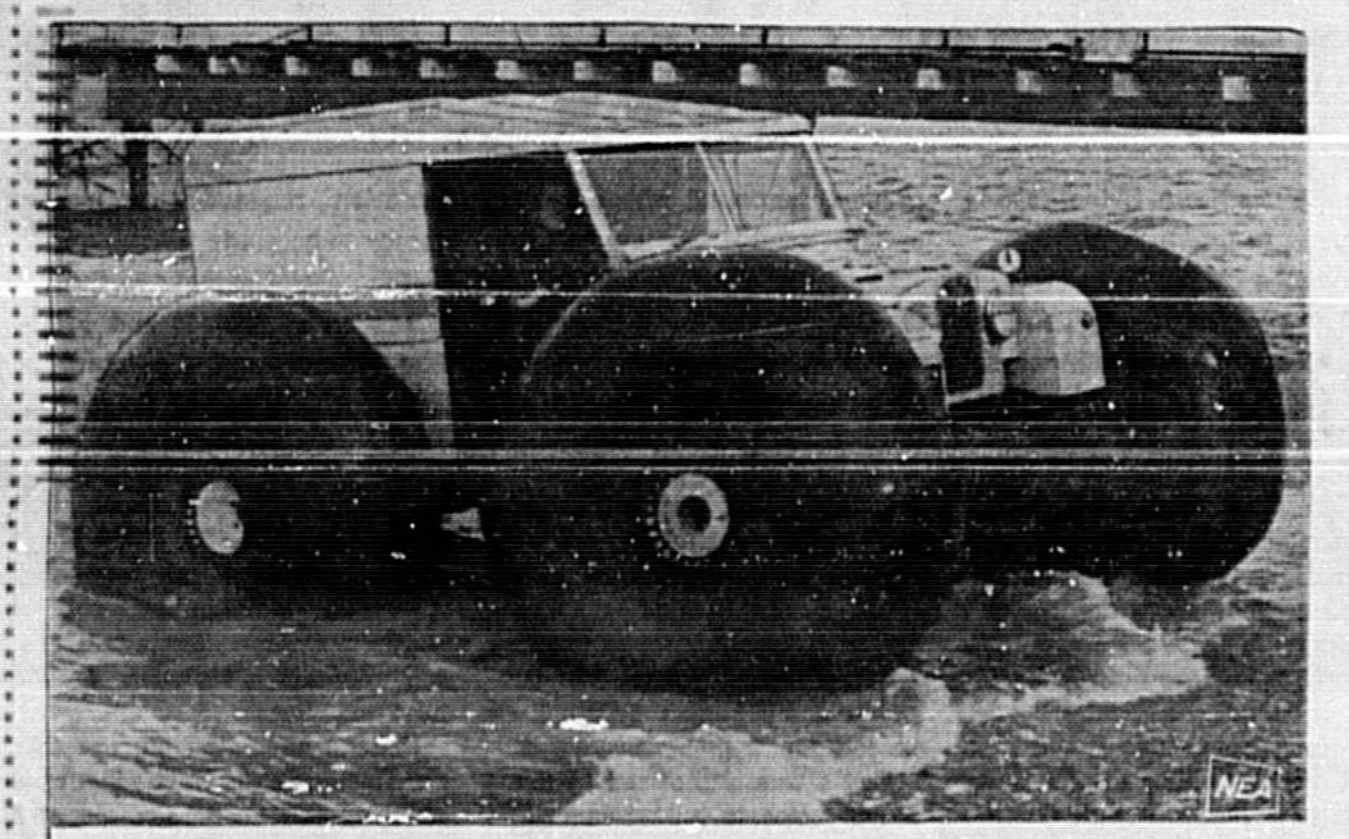

To a question whether the report and broadcasting had not reacted to the speeches, he replied: "No—perhaps we didn't react enough. We reacted to an implied threat to free speech and when there is that, we must react tough, we must react hard."

David Brinkley of NBC said, "If one 'raggle of commentators' was reacted to by another, the 'raggle of commentators' phrase was the vice president's."

Brinkley declared that politicians have always reacted to criticism and "all that's new is that this time it came as a threat."

Food Drive Sponsored By Students

The Student Government Association at Seminole Junior College sponsored a Thanksgiving Canned Goods Drive which ends today. The canned food will be distributed to needy families by the Community Action Center in Sanford.

Clarence E. Bell, president of the SGA, remarked "The students on our campus are concerned about the problems confronting them today. There are families in our community that are in need of food to eat and we are willing to help. With about 1,500 full time students, I hope we will be able to collect over 3,000 cans of food."

The drive is only one of the many community programs the SGA will be engaged in during the year. The food is being collected at the Student Center.

This board maintains that Sanford is polluting Lake Monroe and St. Johns River by pumping effluent without sufficient treatment into the water.

Cost of the project is estimated at $1.7 million, and on the ballot it is described "to authorize the city commission to undertake a project to improve the water quality of Lake Monroe and St. Johns River by pumping effluent without sufficient treatment into the water."

FP&L, Union Strike In 36th Day

By STRAYTON L. DOUTHETT
MIAMI (AP)—Thanksgiving marks the 37th day of the stalemate between Florida Power and Light and some 3,100 striking field workers. Both sides say they see no end in sight.

But both claim they are eager to settle.

"We've said all along we'd be willing to put this in arbitration," said company spokesman Lorrice Seipes.

"Arbitration just isn't going to happen," said J. H. Niles, on official of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in their bid to get a $135-an-hour wage hike.

A meeting with a federal mediator is scheduled for Friday. "We'll be there ready to negotiate," Niles said, but he admitted he wasn't optimistic.

Meanwhile, Niles said no strikers would go hungry on Thanksgiving. "We've seen to it that those who need it have been provided for," he said.

The strikers—stretched from Vero Beach south to Key West and west to Naples and Fort Myers—are getting no strike benefits. "We don't have a strike fund," Niles said, "but we've asked some area unions to pitch in and give us a hand."

Niles said many of the strikers had found temporary jobs and others had moved out of the utility area to work elsewhere.

"I don't know how many of them will come back if it isn't settled pretty soon," he said.

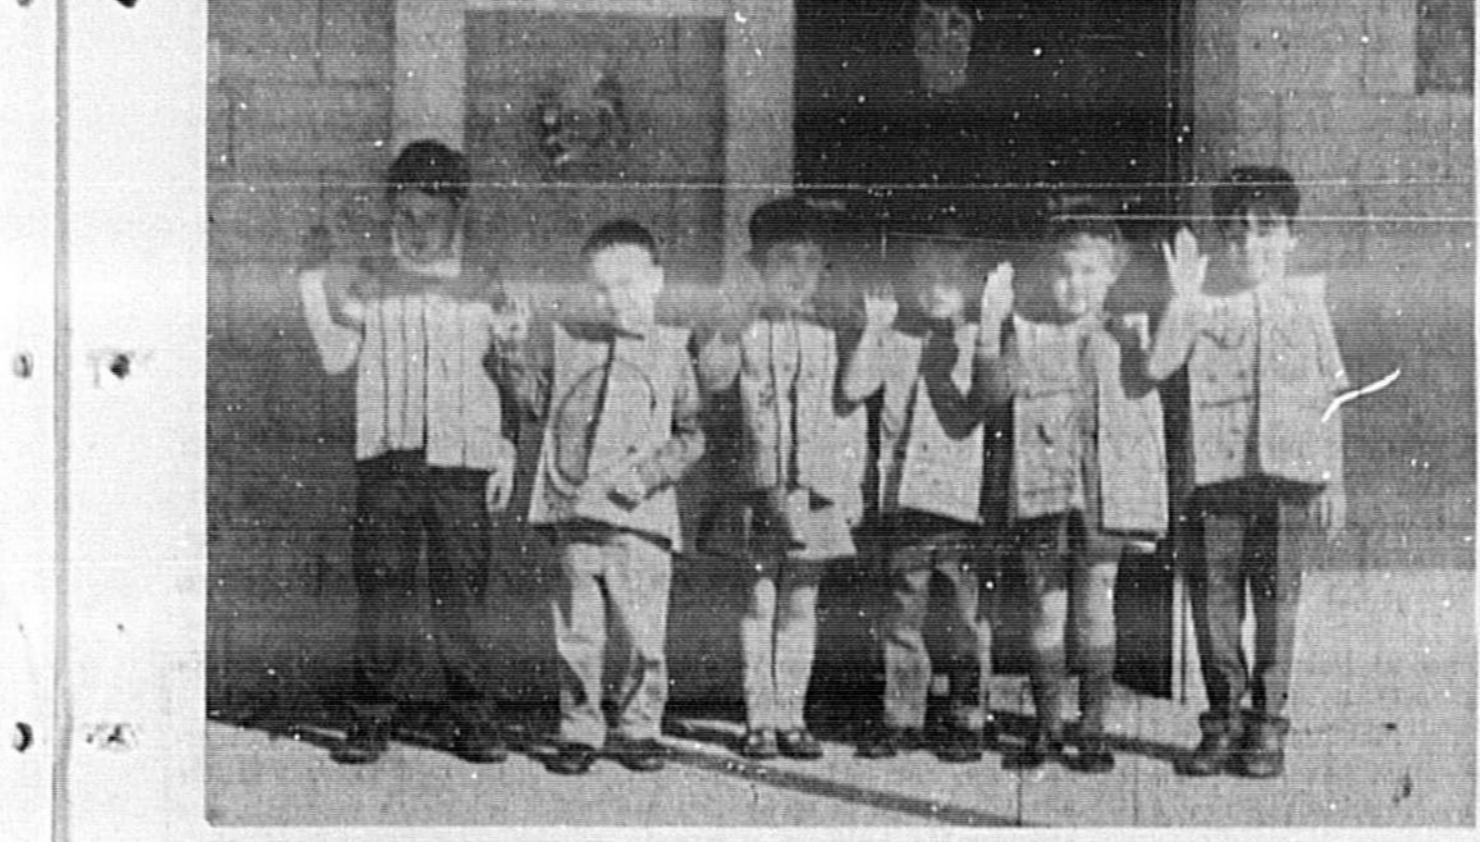

"I'm concerned about this and Florida Power and Light should be concerned. It's not easy to replace skilled help."

The picket lines remain up in dozens of communities across the peninsula and supervisory workers at the utility are working 12-hour shifts, seven days a week to keep the power flowing to FP&L's 1,300,000 customers.

Seipes said he didn't know how long his people could continue to hear up under the increased work load. He said FP&L had not filed any of the jobs created by the strike.

He did say a few strikers had trickled back to work but added that there didn't seem to be any concentrated back-to-work movement.

Except for two brief power outages in Palm Beach and Broward counties, the utility service has been virtually uninterrupted during the strike, which began at midnight Oct. 21, following expiration of the old contract.

Kirk Blasts 'Monster,' Solons

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Claude Kirk Tuesday blamed a "multi-headed monster"—the Cabinet—and the Legislature for making it possible for two boys to be confined in a men's prison.

The Cabinet committed the sins of Donald Douglas, 16, and Richard Copas, 15, after Kirk assigned them to his own custody and placed them in a halfway house for delinquent boys in Tallahassee.

"I have become increasingly aware of the problems which have been swept under the rug by Florida's multi-headed monster—the Cabinet system," Kirk said. "Everyone was responsible, so no one was responsible."

He said the Legislature last session turned down a proposal to make 16 the minimum age for sentencing juveniles to a state prison unless they are convicted of a crime involving loss of life.

Kirk said he would send the same proposal to the Legislature in 1970.

Richard and Donald were sent to the Lake Butler prison center after a judge at Fort Pierce found them "incorrigible" and said they could not be rehabilitated in a boys school.

Crackdown Scheduled

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Two state agencies announced Tuesday plans to speed a crackdown on municipal sewage treatment plants that dump improperly treated sewage into Florida waters.

The plan was worked out by Secretary James E. Box of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services and Nat. Reed, chairman of the Air and Water Pollution Control Commission.

"We've determined jurisdictional areas and defined the method whereby our departments can jointly crack down on the sewage treatment plants that are Florida's worst water pollution sources."

Health officers were concerned that the improperly treated sewage was a hazard to human health and were therefore reluctant to give up their authority to regulate municipal sewage treatment plants.

The agreement provides that the Health Department will retain a considerable amount of its authority over sewage plants. Plans for treatment systems will be reviewed by the Health Department which is to make sure that there are no odor or pollution problems.

Health officers will also check completed treatment systems to be sure of compliance with plans submitted by the engineers who designed the plant.

Coed-Bunnies Play Like House Maids

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Two bright-eyed coeds with bushy tails and sexy mesh stockings will clean a sink, scrub a bathroom and vacuum a rug—all for the love of the great outdoors.

Lisa Mahaffey and her roommate Nancy Sarris wanted to go camping "in the loss of snow" over their Christmas break from the University of Florida, so the two left brunettes opened an apartment cleaning service. Only the girls' domestic quality.

The 20-year-old girls decided to discard regular uniforms for more eye-catching attire. To promote their service, they hit on wearing a modified version of a Playboy Club's bunny outfit. A rabbit's fur tail, satin ears and fishnet stockings are standard equipment.

"We thought we would get more customers dressed that way, and boy, were we right," said Miss Mahaffey, who stretches the leard affair on a 36-23-36 frame.

"We only clean men's apartments, because that way we increase our social life, and besides, they're more fun to talk to," said Miss Sarris, who measures 33-23-35.

One-Year Trial Slated For Everglades Port

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dade County's international jetport will not be in the Florida Everglades, but an existing one-year training facility will be permitted to operate for one year on a trial basis, the Transportation and Interior Departments ruled Tuesday.

The multi-million dollar airport complex, caught in a cross-fire between conservationists and the Dade County Port Authority, would pose a threat to the Everglades National Park, according to a joint department position paper.

The paper released after a full day of meetings between federal and state officials, said the airport would pose a threat to the Everglades National Park, a 1.5 million-acre preserve that flows to the western park area.

"Immediate steps should be taken by the Dade County Port Authority to relocate the proposed commercial jetport," it continued.

The paper was issued by Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe and Undersecretary of the Interior Russell E. Train.

A proposal by the Port Authority to immediately begin training flights for commercial airline crews never got off the ground. The port authority and the two federal departments began talks toward a formal agreement on the training facility Dec. 1. A one-year trial basis would be permitted by the federal agencies, with written stipulations that must be met during the 12-month period.

The stipulations include limited use of airplanes; no fueling of aircraft at the strip; construction of culverts to maintain "historic water flow"; and no flights lower than 5,000 feet over Everglades National Park, a 1.5 million-acre preserve that flows to the south, "except when instrument flight rules prevail."

Volpe said after the meeting "All of us recognize that we must protect the environment. The total ecology of the area; and the ability and need for

Strikes And Spares

BY JOHN A. SPOLSKI

There are nights... AND THERE ARE THOSE NIGHTS! If you were to poll any of the local bowlers and ask them...

Well, on our Saturday night Moonlight Bowling get-together, there are prize payoffs for the various skill categories as well as for something as lousy as leaving just the red pin standing, etc.

It might also mention that those difficult spares worth a bundle of the long-green stuff. For instance, the 3-10 plus and the 4-11 worth $10.

Along about 9 p.m., after the Thanksgiving Classic had concluded, Jim Starr had all of the spectators shouting words of encouragement as a result of him making the 7-9...

We tried our darndest to make a little funny about how lucky he was and the fact that we didn't really mind cheering through from the area of lanes 8 and 10.

Wearing a smile as big and wide as the lanes, Charles Ebbery hopped on up to the pay-out counter for his $10... AND THIS WAS FOR HIS 4-11 CONVERSION!

In less than three minutes time we were shelling out $15 and the tears were really streaming down my cheeks. (The only consolation is that this was the first time we'd ever been stung with this one...)

Overall, there was no small reason why so many people make it a regular habit to be out there at the lanes at 7 p.m. until closing for the "Happy Hours"...

Coming to think of it, Saturday night we were jammed to the rafters, with all the regulars on hand for the Moonlight Bowling, plus the competing spirit of competition to see Maryland Fried Chicken sweeter, and the equally normal Stars of the Lanes competition.

These were the leggers who had qualified by bowling 30 pins or more over their league average and were now trying to duplicate the feat and cash in on those awards: Kathy Cooper, Sarah Lee, Morris Evans, Andy Patrick, Willie Henry, Geri Flowers, Richard Williams and our ultimate winner Bonnie Taconnet.

Bonnie was 65 pins over her regular average and is now wearing the weekly crown reserved for our Bowler of the Week.

Chris Elsea Bonnie Taconnet I've been wanting to feature Chris Elsea's picture for the past couple of weeks, but for one reason or another, it would be omitted. Well, not this week, cause Mr. E. (comparatively new resident of this area and manager of the J. C. Penny store) perceives that kind of a bowler for whom we have a great deal of admiration... a fun bowler. It doesn't matter whether his score is sky-high or down around my level... the guy is having lots of fun.

Of course, these other legmen would crack me up, too. Bill Boatner, Roy Green, Al Bowling and Ray (call me lead bottom) Ceynowa. A fine bunch of top banana... (see, I never did say anything about their bowling ability, did I?)

We The Women:

By Betty Canary

A woman wrote asking me if I really had pets at our house or if I had "loved" them. You can easily tell she asked this question in a perky and not after sipping tea here for a visit. However, perhaps even a visit might not convince her. Who knows? She might go away thinking I had also invented the bag of spilled kitty litter in the back hall, the chewed curtains, the cleaved table legs and the wall-to-wall rawhide bones and balls.

Fortunately, she didn't ask me why we had pets. I have had inches who ang even though the veterinarian and the

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You said in your column that Christ has long hair. Where did you ever get such an idea?

In the New Testament, Corinthians 11:14 it says: "Does not Nature itself teach you that for a man to wear long hair is degrading to him, but if a woman has long hair, it is her glory?"

"Listen here, Abby, if Christ had long hair, do you think that Paul would have mentioned it? No, because it was a disgrace to him, but if a woman has long hair, it is her glory."

DEAR ABBY: I looked it up, and your quote is correct. You got the idea that Christ had long hair from some of the pictures of Christ I have seen.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this on behalf of all the fat people who have someone nagging them half to death to lose weight. I pray that you'll print this because a lot of people need to see it. First of all, if you want to lose weight, you must include when your mother nags me about being fat, she means well, but she does more harm than good.

All fat people feel guilty because they're fat, but when they're nagged about it, they feel worse, so when a person feels sorry for himself, what does he do? He "treats" himself. Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die. And a fat person is not a fat person because he eats too much. He eats what he wants to eat, and he shouldn't say it, he said, "Mrs. L. says it is all the same."

Back in the good old days, when a player said "I'm out of the hand," it meant that he had no more cards to play. In the new days, it means that he has no more money to play.

Let's Major Rufus Patton 1923, the take-out double to ask partner to bid and not to pass. By definition, the take-out double is limited to situations in which the partner of the doubler had made no bid other than a pass.

Some take-out double ideas were extended in the Vanderbilt Club Convention to cover certain situations in which an overcall of an artificial club was made. But it remained for Irving Roth in 1937 to introduce what we now call the Southward. North would say that South would probably make two diamonds right on the nose. This would have been a magnificent bid, as even if he went down, he would have earned with the smallest possible loss.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY:—On the theory that what keeps out colds also keeps out heat, my great-grandmother wrapped her freshly churned butter in a woolen cloth to keep it from getting too hot. I have a hunch that this is a good idea. I put it to rest with a woolen cloth. I have a hunch that this is a good idea. I put it to rest with a woolen cloth.

Beauty after Forty

It is possible for a woman of fifty to be beautiful! And how does she accomplish this miracle? It is fifty but look wonderful. True, I have lost weight, my skin is clear, and my hair is shining. I have a hunch that this is a good idea. I put it to rest with a woolen cloth.

Nixon's Proclamation: Thanksgiving Of 1969

WASHINGTON (AP) — The text of President Nixon's Thanksgiving proclamation: On October 3, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln invited his fellow citizens to "set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of Thanksgiving . . ." This was the year of the battle of Gettysburg and of other major battles between Americans on American soil. To many, this call for a national day of Thanksgiving must have seemed strange, coming as it did at a time of war and bitterness.

Yet Lincoln knew that the act of thanksgiving should not be limited to times of peace and serenity. He knew that it is precisely at those times of hardship when men most need constantly bestow His blessings on mankind. Today, despite our material wealth and well-being, Americans face complex problems unknown before in our nation's history. In giving thanks today, we express gratitude for past bounty and we also confidently face the challenges confronting our own nation and the world because we know we can rely on a strength greater than our selves.

This year, let us especially seek to rekindle in our respective hearts and minds the spirit of our first settlers who valued freedom above all else, and who found much for which to be thankful when material comforts were meager. We are, indeed, a most fortunate people.

New. Therefore, I, Richard Nixon, President of the United States of America, in commensation with Section 6102 of Title 5 of the United States Code designating the fourth Thursday of November in each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 27, 1969, as a day of national thanksgiving.

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

There isn't much more that can be added, other than the fact that I appreciate Pastor L. R. Mansell of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church of Forest City for writing it:

Dear Editor:

Men will die today — Thanksgiving Day — in Vietnam. They will die in a seemingly thankless effort to serve the cause of freedom. And while they die or wade in filthy fatigues through mud and death, we eat festive board to show our thankfulness.

For what?

Do we really know what we have to thank God for? When we raise songs of praise to God in Thanksgiving services, do we know the value and the cost of those things for which we give thanks? Let me name them — some of them — here by way of remembering:

Of material benefits we might form an inexhaustible list. And for these this day we utter thanks. But there are intangibles that are far more vital, intangibles that shape our very lives and mark us as a nation — here is the essence of our heritage, here the heartbeat of our America.

Some have called them the Four Freedoms. Let us name them here:

1. The right to stand in no man's shadow, and shout your inner convictions. God grants that shouting in never gagged to winners, unless closed doors, but that it is seasoned with wisdom.
2. The right to speak with God — your God — as your heart dictates.
3. The right to partake of this earth's abundance through individual effort and initiative.

These are the essence of our heritage. This essence men have purchased with blood, and still the blood payments continue.

Boys may shoot in the streets the shortcomings of this land. They may tear at the bulwarks of learning which set the foundations for our nation. But their burning and shouting and tearing can never build a land of peace and plenty such as that for which we give thanks today. They cannot by such fire turn the mighty turbines of progress, which make possible the achievements of our world.

Let us be quiet this day. Let us look about and give thanks to the great Creator who installed in man the genius of creativity, the God who loves all men and at the birth of His son, the Christchild, willed peace to all men. And let us pray continually for that peace for all men.

THANKSGIVING

For People Who Endure

By DAVID POLING

Thanksgiving is for most of us a pleasant reminder of the bounty of life and of lavish gifts that flow into our homes. The big word is abundance and Thanksgiving is a time to thank God for this boundless creation.

However, for many celebrants Thanksgiving because they know the opposite—the hard times, the uncertain returns, the months or years of distress, misfortune and failure. It is often true that those who have been through trials and discouragement are thankful for God's strength to handle the agony and depression. When the harvest does come and the good years return, they are not so thankful of things as they are for spiritual support that carried them through.

In his new book about Mahatma Gandhi, Robert Payne describes the joy and suffering, strategy and pain that surrounded the slight Indian leader. In 1922, while in prison Gandhi began a fast. This was aimed at the Hindu culture—and conscience—that had enforced such shame and degradation in its official caste system.

Gandhi fasted for the Untouchables and his spiritual commitment broke the hearts of his Hindu opponents. When the news was brought to his prison that reform would begin, he ended his fast with a glass of orange juice. His followers, also in the prison courtyard, broke into prayer and singing, recalling an old Bengali hymn of thanksgiving:

When my heart is dry and parched, come with a merciful shower.
When grace has departed from life, come with a burst of song.

Almost in the same mood, the Pilgrims gathered for Thanksgiving. And they had been through a horror of their own. They really expected much more from the New World. Freedom of worship and political expression were highest on their priority list. But near the top were glowing reports about the new country. They were hardly prepared for sickness, bad weather, eternal winters and late crops.

Should we be so surprised that, when Thanksgiving was declared after their first real harvest, it was so widely celebrated and so reverently observed? They were not observing a legal holiday, they were praising God for life over death. Thanksgiving Day is 100 per cent American. But like all true American events, it can find universal application. America is that way—the very best is always for export. And while other countries and cultures do not have the official designation for the day, they do have people and events that demonstrate an understanding and a sharing.

We can't hold Thanksgiving or bottle it or deny it. It circles this globe, touching our tired spirits and worn bodies. Thanksgiving is for people who endure, reminding us that the greater the contest, the greater the victory.

(The Reverend Poling is president of the Christian Herald Assn.)

'Operation S. Claus' Will Speed Up Friday

"Operation Santa Claus" although not visually discernable, was launched by The Salvation Army some time ago.

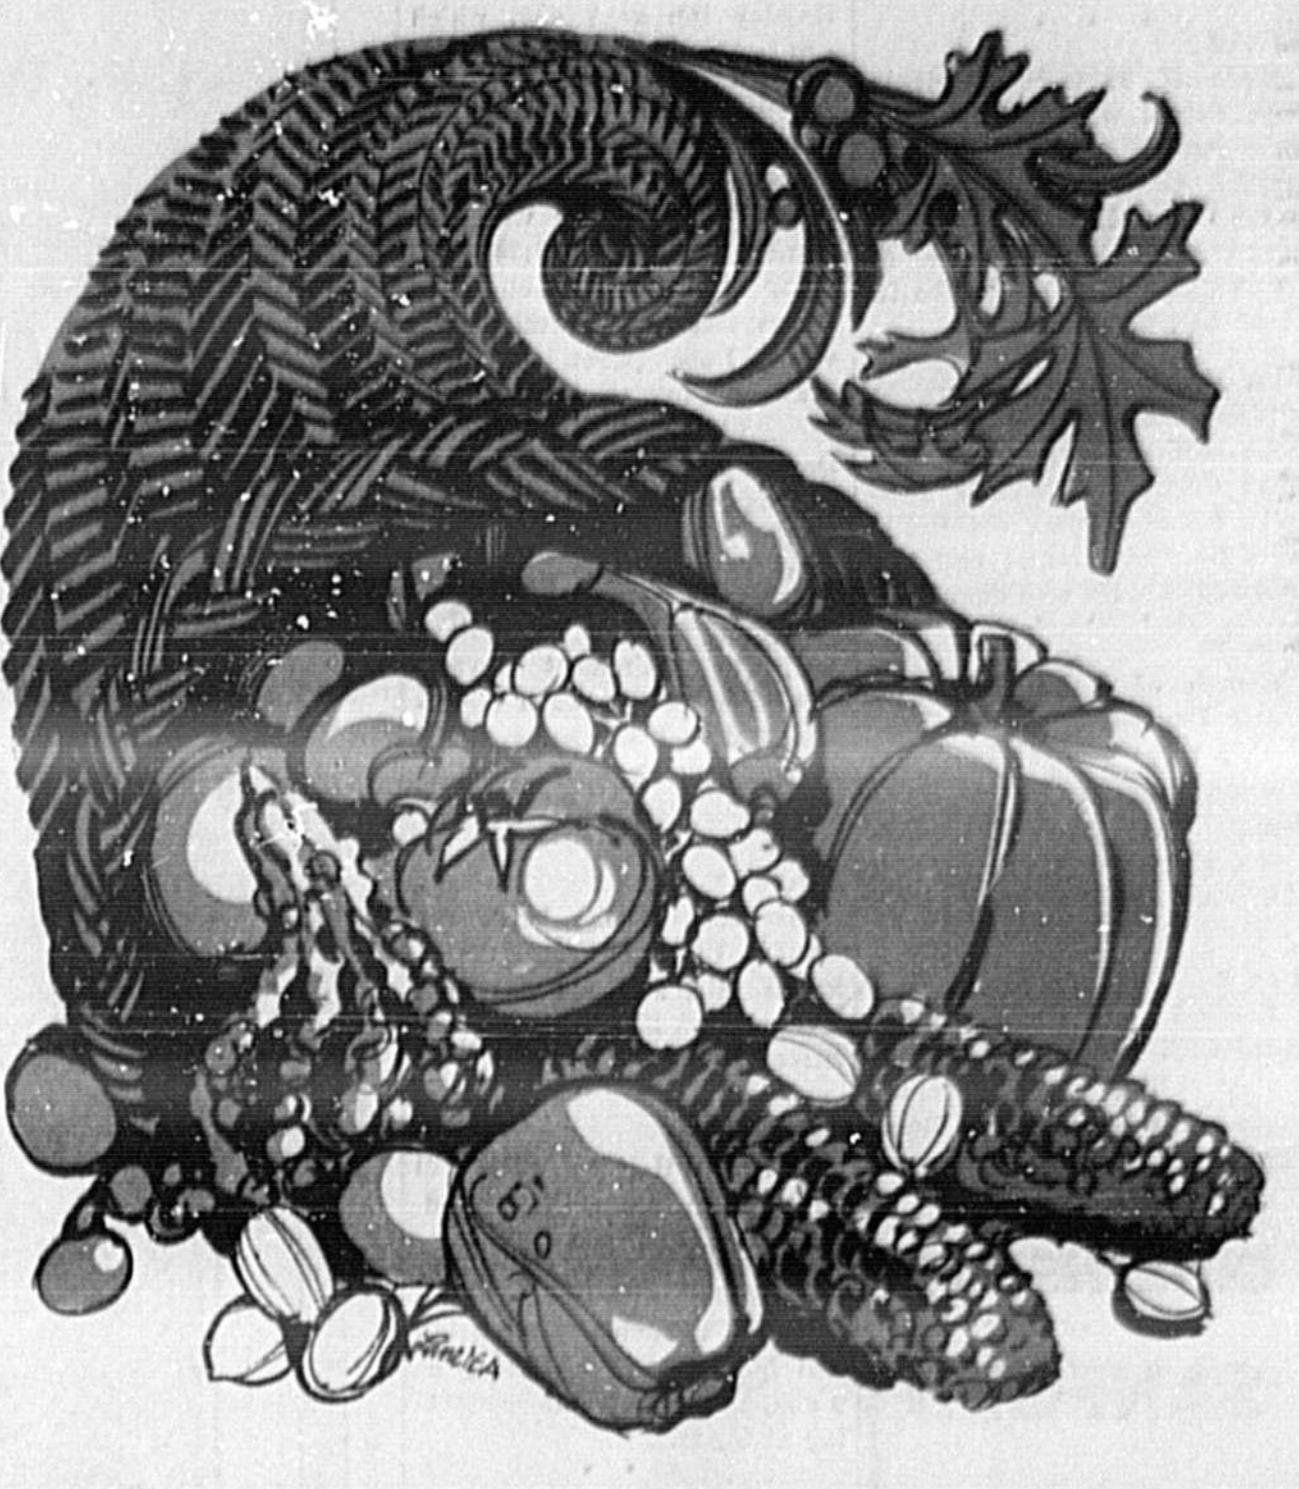

Capt. Jack W. Owens and his wife, Capt. Sharon Owens, and their co-workers of the Sanford Corps, have been busy for weeks preparing for the annual rush to provide Christmas for needy families.

Applications for Christmas last couple of weeks and will be accepted through Dec. 10. The Salvation Army will have the master list of needy families in Seminole County. This list is made up by the county welfare office, State Department of Family Services and the Salvation Army files.

The kettles will be manned by regular Army workers plus members of various civic clubs. Any organizations wishing to participate may get in touch with the Salvation Army.

Funds collected in the kettle drive are used exclusively in "Operation Santa Claus."

Newly persons desiring clothing may call at the Salvation Army headquarters on Dec. 11. Christmas grocery orders will be mailed Dec. 15. The Christmas Toy Day, when mothers who have been notified by mail come and "shop" for toys to give to their children, will be Dec. 19. Over 2,000 new toys are given away at this time, along with 240 dolls. Each doll will be dressed by women in various church and civic organizations, and displayed in the lobby of the Florida State Bank Dec. 15-17.

CORNUCOPIA IN SEMINOLE

Schools Ask $800,000 For New Construction

By BILL SCOTT

A delegation of Lake Mary parents Wednesday sought and received from the Seminole County School Board authorization to keep their nine children in Lake Mary Elementary School over the objections of Supt. John Angel, who sought to have the pupils transferred to a portable Pine Crest Elementary classroom.

With a single dissenting vote by Pat Bate, the board instructed Angel to advise his administrative staff that nine of the 55 children who had refused to accept the transfer may remain at Lake Mary.

Angel said the parents' request was against the recommendation of the administrative policy, which moved the students because of overcrowding.

Joe Hart, parent spokesman, said his group had brought the problem before the board several weeks before but no action was taken and the matter was tabled.

Hart questioned why the board had never taken action on the proposal how the transfer occurred?

Angel said the administrative transfers were made to fill pupil capacities although parents had utilized the freedom of choice form and picked Lake Mary.

Hart brought out that same children had been moved from Lake Mary against their desires and now "you wait until Thanksgiving and want to move them again after they have become adjusted."

Hart said that such actions were cause for the loss of federal funds.

Another parent complained that Pine Crest School is inferior to the Lake Mary facility and said her daughter was forced with threat of low marks to engage in integrated dancing last year at Pine Crest.

Board member Ray Slaton said he felt the board should support Angel as much as possible but believed the children should not be transferred this late in the year.

Alan F. Keith moved to keep the children at Lake Mary and this was seconded by Jean Bryant.

Keith said he could not support the motion.

In another action, the board approved unanimously a resolution asking $800,000 loan from Florida State Bank in anticipation notes to fund construction of Eastbrook Elementary School.

The loan would be for one year at six per cent interest and would be repaid when $3.8 million school bonds are sold, hopefully within the year else Board has problems getting school bonds because of high interest rates and the six per cent limit placed on bonds.

loan will have to be renegotiated with the bank or a millage must be levied to pay off the loan.

Americans Bowing In Thanksgiving

By BOB MONROE

From senior citizens invited to the White House to the child with drumstick at the family table, Americans today observe Thanksgiving. Many share their bountiful board with the lonely and less fortunate.

It is a day of religious observance, family reunions and the traditional rich repast that has marked the occasion since the Pilgrims in Plymouth Colony gave thanks for their blessings in December, 1621.

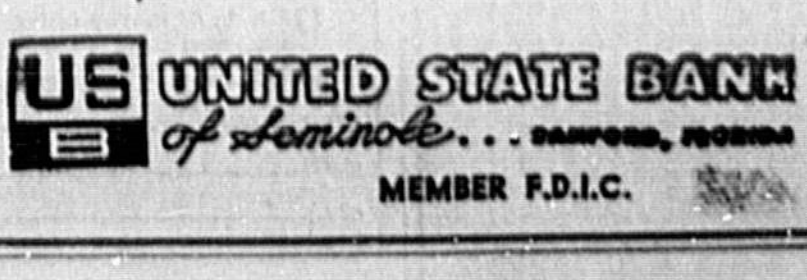

President Nixon and his family invited 227 senior citizens from Washington homes for the aged to share Thanksgiving dinner at the White House. "These folks are dancing on air," said the superintendent in one home. "I just want to see everything I can see—even if I don't eat."

The Salvation Army planned to dish out 2,500 turkey dinners to needy New Yorkers and had a ton of turkey ready to cook in Chicago. The Union Rescue Mission set places for 700 lonely men in Los Angeles.

In Huntington, W. Va., a family of 13 will have a turkey dinner from Washington homes for the aged. (Continued on Page 5A, Col. 3)
