U.S. Envoy Coaxes Israel, Egypt Into Resuming Talks

By United Press International
President Carter's Middle East envoy Sol Linowitz, who successfully coaxed Egypt and Israel to resume the stalled Palestinian autonomy talks and agree to another Camp David summit with the United States, ended his mission today at a meeting with Egyptian Foreign Minister Butros Ghali.

Linowitz had announced the agreement Wednesday in Alexandria, following a 45-minute meeting with President Anwar Sadat. Linowitz had arrived earlier in the day after two days of talks with Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin.

"The parties agreed to resume the autonomy negotiations at a mutually agreed date and to consult regarding the preparation, venue and timing of a summit meeting," Linowitz said in a statement on behalf of Sadat and Begin.

In Washington, President Carter said the autonomy talks could resume in a "few weeks." Official sources would not provide dates or locations, but they expect the two sides to meet within two weeks.

While House officials said a summit meeting between the leaders of the three nations would not be held until the U.S. presidential elections in November.

Polish Miners Working

By DONNA ESTES
WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Tens of thousands of coal miners returned to the pits in Silesia today and the government announced price controls on everything from bread to television repairs in an effort to halt the spread of worker unrest.

There was no word on work orders that persisted in several other Silesian coal mines and factories around Katowice and Cieszkowca despite the settlement that ended strikes by more than 100,000 Silesian miners on Wednesday.

At the manifest Lipcow mine in Jastrzebie Zdroj, headquarters of the strikes, 1,600 miners filed back to their jobs at 6 a.m. for the first time since last Friday, when they struck in sympathy with the shipyard workers of Gdanek.

Saudis Buy Out Aramco

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Barring unexpected interference by the Saudi government, four American companies will continue to have exclusive marketing rights to Aramco oil, even though the firm is now the exclusive property of Saudi Arabia.

The Saudi government has gained 100 percent control of the firm — the Arabian American Oil Co. — to end 47 years of American ownership in the desert kingdom.

Dr. Abdul Hadi Taher, governor of the kingdom's Petroleum national oil firm, said in an interview in the Saudi publication "Saudi Report" that his government bought out the 49 percent interest of its four American industry partners to take full control of Aramco. Aramco officials confirmed the report.

The amicable takeover was negotiated over a period of five years.

The Saudi Report said Wednesday the final payment to the American partners — Exxon, Mobil, Texaco and Standard of California — was in the neighborhood of $1.5 billion, representing net book value.

5 Dead Babies Discovered In Dead Woman's Attic

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — A letter left by a 76-year-old spinster who died last week led to the discovery of five dead babies wrapped in newspapers dating back to the 1920s and 1930s, in a chest in the attic of her home.

"The degree of decomposition was consistent with the dates of the newspapers," Cambria County Coroner John Barron said Wednesday after he and state police made the discovery at the home of Stella E. Williamson in the small community of Gallatin, 30 miles from Johnstown.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A band of late summer tornadoes and thunderstorms swept through the upper Mississippi Valley, downing power lines and damaging homes. At least eight persons were treated for minor injuries. Three tornadoes touched down near St. Cloud in south central Minnesota late Wednesday. Eight residents of the Bel Claire Acres mobile home park were treated and released from a St. Cloud hospital after the tornado ripped through the park. Police restricted all travel into and out of the area to residents while rescue squads helped injured persons. Damage estimates were not immediately available.

School Board Accepts $100,000 Bid For Old Office

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer
The Seminole County School Board voted 4-1 Wednesday to accept a $100,000 bid for the purchase of the old school office at 212 East Commercial St., Sanford.

The bid was made by W. Garnet White, of 107 West Commercial St., Sanford.

The building had been declared surplus by the board.

Board member Robert Feather voted against the sale.

"I don't like having surplus property around, but I don't feel it is surplus," Feather said.

He said the office-space needs of the school board are expanding.

"To give up what would be good office space would not be in the best interests of the school system," he said.

But School Board Chairman Allan Keeth said the board will have several surplus properties soon if it follows the state's Five-Year Survey proposals to eliminate a few older schools.

"Some of them would make better office space as far as I'm concerned," Keeth said. "The board already declared this building surplus. If it wasn't our intent to sell it, we were remiss in declaring it surplus. The only reason we didn't sell it last time (bids weren't taken) was because the bids weren't high enough."

"I'd like to see all of the county school board offices on this property," board member Pat Telson said, explaining that the current building at 1211 Mellenville, Sanford, sits on 22 acres, providing plenty of room for expansion.

"We could use the $100,000 to expand this building," she said.

Feather remained adamant however, stating that it would cost more than $100,000 to replace the office space that exists on Commercial Street.

The building is a 3,383-square-foot structure purchased by the school board in 1955. There were only two bids on the property according to John Colbert, school board director.

White's bid and a $37,000 bid from Federal Liquidators and Auction Co., Inc., of 212 Timber Cove Circle, Longwood.

While said Thursday the building will be used for offices, but said he is "not at liberty" to say who will occupy them.

Youth Wounds Self With Father's Gun

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer
A 14-year-old Forest City youth is in fair condition today after apparently shooting himself in the head while playing with his father's pistol.

Ronald Neals, 1017 Jerome Way, was found lying on the floor of his father's bedroom, at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday by neighbor Don Scarbeau, deputies say. He is recuperating at Florida Hospital-Orlando.

Scarbeau's 15-year-old daughter, Lisa, and two other neighborhood youths said they called Scarbeau to the home after hearing a shot fired.

Moments before, the three youths had left Neals "playing Russian roulette," he had refused to put the gun away, deputies say.

Deputies said Neals, still conscious when they found him, told them the shooting had been accidental.

Deputies say a long-barrel .38 special and five live rounds were found by Scarbeau next to Neals.

Deputies say the bullet entered one side of the youth's face above the jaw, leaving powder burns and exited the other side of his head striking a nearby wall.

While deputies were investigating the scene, Neals' father, Herbert, arrived home. He told deputies he kept the Colt revolver in his bedroom, but his son knew he was not supposed to touch it.

Lake Mary To Mull Housing Development

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer
The Lake Mary City Council, at a 7:30 p.m. meeting today, will consider approving a preliminary plat for "Hidden Pines Estates," a 40-acre parcel to have 20 one-acre lots.

The development is to be located on the old Fort property on Old Lake Mary Road.

At the same time, the council is to inform developer Roy Sikes that if he wants water and sewer service to the site he will have to pay full costs of extending the service.

A representative of the developer had asked the city to seek permission from the city of Sanford for connection to Sanford Utilities through a Sanford subdivision, Ramblewood. City councilmen, at a workshop last week, said, however, the request will be denied and the developer told to pay costs to connect to the Lake Mary city service if he wants those services.

In other business, the council will consider:

- Adopting an ordinance amending 1 1/2 acres near U.S. 17-92 and County Road 427. The property is to be joined with 80 acres already owned by a firm represented by former state Sen. Walter Sims. The council will consider a change in zoning for part of that property, from agriculture to residential, to permit development of 128 homes.
- Passing an ordinance on second reading raising occupation license fees. The fees in some cases will be increased 100 percent, as authorized by the Legislature during the 1980 session.
- Passing on first reading the city's new comprehensive land-use plan.
- A public hearing on the proposed federal revenue sharing budget.
- Setting a proposed property tax rate and designating times for public hearings on the budget.

- ARREST FOR PRESCRIPTION FRAUD
A Casselberry man was arrested Wednesday by Sanford police after he allegedly tried to obtain controlled drugs with a fraudulent prescription.
- James M. Weir, 29, of 411 Eagle Circle, Casselberry, was stopped by Sanford police at the corner of 25th Street and Mellenville Avenue shortly after noon and taken to the Eckerd Drug Store in Sanford Plaza, where he was arrested and ordered held in lieu of $5,500 bond.
- Police say Weir had attempted to obtain an undisclosed drug under a phony name.
- SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — Duncan Renaldo, the Romanian sailor who became the idol of millions of American children in the 1950s as the Cisco Kid, died Wednesday.
- Renaldo, who was admitted to Goleta Valley Hospital this week, had part of a cancerous lung removed two years ago but the cause of his death was not immediately disclosed.
- But it was as the "Cisco Kid" that he became an idol to millions of youngsters as he and his sidekick, Pancho, played by the late Leo Carrillo, brought law and order — with a touch of humor — to the old West in the 1950s.
- OUTBOARD ENGINE STOLEN
Thieves dragged a $1,500 outboard motor through an apartment complex parking lot before loading it onto a vehicle and making their get away Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, police say.
- The 55-horsepower outboard was taken off the boat owned by Michael Voltaine, which was outside his Mariner's Cove apartment, U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford.

FBI: Casino Extortionist Went Too Far With Plan

STALETINE, Nev. (UPI) — The FBI says the ringleader of a scheme to extort $3 million by planting the bomb that damaged a Lake Tahoe casino-boat is a "geometric" has a flair for the dramatic and probably went too much trouble in executing his plan.

"He had gone through great pains in elaborating the device itself, doing things that were perhaps not really necessary to achieve his effect," Joseph Yablonsky, FBI agent in charge told a news conference Wednesday.

The bomb exploded while experts were trying to defuse it Aug. 27, heavily damaging Harvey's Wagon Wheel Hotel-casino.

Three top Reagan backers met Wednesday to announce a drive for campaign volunteers, and were asked by reporters about the controversy over Reagan's remarks about Carter and the Ku Klux Klan.

With Republican Chairman Bill Brock and Reagan campaign manager William Casey standing by, Sen. Paul Laxalt, Reagan's campaign chairman, indicated Reagan has work to do, but it's early in the campaign. I think these incidents will fade.

"After the deviations of the last several days, he's been careful to recognize that hereafter he'll have to be a bit more careful in his characterization of these things," Laxalt said.

Cisco Kid's Renaldo Dead

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI) — Duncan Renaldo, the Romanian sailor who became the idol of millions of American children in the 1950s as the Cisco Kid, died Wednesday.

Renaldo, who was admitted to Goleta Valley Hospital this week, had part of a cancerous lung removed two years ago but the cause of his death was not immediately disclosed.

Lampoon Co-Founder Dead

LIHUE, Hawaii (UPI) — Douglas Kenney, co-founder of the current National Lampoon magazine and co-author of the hit movie comedy "Animal House," died in an accidental fall from a 30-foot cliff on the island of Kauai. He was 33.

Kenney's body had been found Monday but was not immediately identified, police said Wednesday. The body was wedged between boulders on a cliff 30 to 40 feet below a lookout point in Hanapepe Valley, apparently after a fall last week, Kauai Police Capt. Richard Sheldon said.

Comedian Chevy Chase, a friend who was vacationing with him, took charge of arrangements to ship the body back to the mainland. Kenney arrived on Kauai Aug. 25.

Abbie Hoffman

Former Yippie Leader Surrenders In New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman surrendered today to a special state narcotics prosecutor, ending a 4-year odyssey of being a fugitive from a narcotics charge.

Hoffman, 43, slipped into prosecutor's sixth floor office at 80 Centre St., through a back entrance shortly before 9 a.m., avoiding reporters waiting for him at the front entrance.

He was to be processed at special state narcotics prosecutor Sterling Johnson's office and then taken across the street to Manhattan Criminal Court for a hearing before Judge Milton Williams.

Even as a fugitive, Hoffman couldn't stay out of politics. Disguised by plastic surgery and a wig, he testified before a congressional committee, was appointed to a federal commission and received a governor's commendation.

"When he's busy in his role as an environmental activist, Hoffman tended his tomato garden in Finewine, N.Y., population 15, an idyllic island retreat on the St. Lawrence River, not far from the Canadian border.

He disappeared in 1974 after being charged with selling 3 pounds of cocaine to an FBI undercover agent.

For the last four years, he has been living in Finewine, one of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence River, posing as a free-lance television writer named "Barry Freed," he said in a television interview Wednesday.

ABC News said the fugitive Hoffman appeared before a congressional committee looking into a project to dredge the river and met Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, D-N.Y. After the hearing, he even received letters of commendation from Gov. Hugh Carey and was appointed to a federal commission on water resources.

Three weeks ago, Hoffman reportedly called ABC, said he planned to surrender, and wanted to be interviewed first by the network's Barbara Walters. Ms. Walters flew Wednesday to Finewine on picturesque Welleys Island on the St. Lawrence.

She said the ex-Yippie leader, who has had plastic surgery on his nose, sported a beard and a short haircut during the interview.

He lives in a turn-of-the-century cottage with Joanna Lawrence, a former model and the daughter of writer Helen Lawrence. The couple has a 9-year-old son, Allen.

Hoffman's neighbor, Juddie Spottick, said the man she knew as Barry Freed was just a "nice neighbor" who was "just like you or I."

While living as Barry Freed, Hoffman organized a group called "Save the River Committee" to protest a dredging project of the St. Lawrence River, which island residents feared would destroy the ecology of the area.

"Until this fight, the community didn't have a lot of meaning for me," the former Yippie admitted. "If reality didn't have any identity, I mean I really sort of needed the struggle."

Hoffman was a member of the Chicago Seven, a group of radicals charged with masterminding violent demonstrations at the 1968 Democratic Convention. The group was convicted, but an appeals court later overturned the convictions.

30,000 Teachers On Strike

By United Press International
Teachers strikes in nine states today involved schools enrolling some 600,000 pupils. Progress was reported in talks to end the Philadelphia teachers' walkout and the two sides in the Newark, N.J., strike negotiated into the early morning hours today.

Non-teaching workers in the Columbus City School District began a walkout early today that threatened to disrupt desegregation busing in Ohio's capital.

In all, well over 30,000 teachers and other school employees were off the job throughout the country in what was to be the first week of classes for many of the nation's districts. Money led the list of grievances.

Soviet Boy Wins Round

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 2-year-old boy seeking political asylum to keep from returning with his parents to the Soviet Ukraine, will remain in custody of the state until a judge makes a final ruling in the celebrated case.

Juvenile Court Judge Joseph B. Mooney Wednesday denied a motion filed on behalf of the parents of Walter Polovchak, who want him returned to their custody so they can take him back to the Soviet Union.

The motion was filed by the American Civil Liberties Union, which offered its services to Michael and Anna Polovchak.

Fred's Proud As Peacock

NEW YORK (UPI) — NBC president and chief executive Fred Silverman has won a big vote of confidence from the third-place network's directors — an 18-month extension on his contract.

Silverman, hired by NBC in 1973 to lift the network from the bottom of the Nielsen charts, said Wednesday: "I greatly appreciate the confidence the board has shown in me."

Former Clown GUILTY

MINNEOLA, N.Y. (UPI) — A man who entertained children and adults with his clown act on television's Romper Room and Mike Douglas shows has pleaded guilty to charges of recruiting teen-age boys to star in pornographic films.

Harvin Matheson, 64, of West Jolys, Long Island, who was convicted of similar charges five years ago, sobbed as he entered the plea Wednesday before John Cayne in Nassau County Court.

Klu Klux Klan Group Backs Reagan

By United Press International
The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan has informed Ronald Reagan he still has the group's support, whether he wins or not.

Don Black, grand wizard of the Knights of the KKK, which is based in Tusculum, Ala., said Wednesday the Klan will still support Reagan as "the lesser of two evils."

Meanwhile, several Reagan advisers said they hope the brouhaha over the KKK will disappear. "After deviations of the last several days, I would hope that hereafter the Reagan campaign can keep its eye on the political ball — a critical examination of Carter's record," a Reagan aide said.

Reagan, campaigning Monday in Detroit, chided President Carter for launching his campaign in Tusculum, calling it "the city that gave birth to, and is the parent body of, the Ku Klux Klan."

The Klan was actually started in Pulaski, Tenn., and Reagan's "off-the-cuff" remark immediately brought demands for an apology from Southern governors, who said the statement was not only erroneous but demeaning to the South.

Reagan quickly apologized to the South and telephoned Alabama Gov. Fob James and Tusculum Mayor James H. "Shubie" Sparks to voice his regrets.

Yet in Canton, Ohio, Wednesday, Reagan's daughter, Maureen, said for Carter "to open his campaign for reelection in the national home of the Ku Klux Klan is disgraceful."

Reagan's Jacksonville Speech Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Accusing President Carter of inconsistency and incompetence in foreign affairs, Ronald Reagan carries his presidential campaign into the Deep South today for a formidable job of fence-mending.

Reagan was scheduled to leave his campaign residence in nearby Midburg, Va., early today to fly to Jacksonville, Fla., for an address to local business leaders, and then to New Orleans for an old-fashioned political rally.

It will be the former California governor's first trip to the South since his controversial remarks Monday linking Carter, who opened his campaign in Tusculum, Ala., and the Ku Klux Klan.

Candidates Continue Tug-Of-War Over First Debate

By United Press International
The League of Women Voters plans to go ahead and hold its first presidential debate Sept. 21 in Baltimore — if any two of the three major candidates agree. That's a big "if."

Republican nominee Ronald Reagan told United Press International he will not debate with President Carter unless independent John Anderson is included. And Reagan said he feels two debates are enough in any campaign.

Anderson, in Detroit Wednesday, said he will not withdraw voluntarily from participation, even if it means no debates will be held.

President Carter so far has insisted he wants a head-to-head confrontation with Governor Reagan," Carter said.

White House press secretary Jody Powell, asked about Reagan's statement, said: "It's unfortunate, I guess. It's not a total surprise. We thought that was his prime concern — to avoid one on one."

Powell said "we still want a debate" but that Reagan's statement "needs to be clarified."

"After the deviations of the last several days, he's been careful to recognize that hereafter he'll have to be a bit more careful in his characterization of these things," Laxalt said.

Anderson kept pushing for his involvement in any debate.

"If there are no debates it will not be on my head," he said Wednesday. "It is not my responsibility to lie down. By what standard, by what objective standard, does he (President Carter) seek to tell the American people to whom they shall listen in campaign '80?"

There's good news on the dog-bite front: new and improved rabies vaccine has been developed. More effective than the older vaccine, the new formula is also for those who are allergic to the former type of medication. Fewer injections of the new vaccine are required and it may be administered, without side effects in the arm, rather than the abdomen. Although the ease will not be widely available until the end of this year, it is now being distributed on a limited basis to some in your family is allergic to the older vaccine and if they are bitten by a rabid animal, your physician may acquire the vaccine by contacting the state health department or the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta.

Ho Hum, Those Familiar Formulas

President Carter's economic program may not be as clearly political as Ronald Reagan says it is, but neither does it deserve all the fine words the president pronounced over its cradle at the White House.

Mr. Carter nobly declares that these weeks before an election are not time to "seek votes with ill-considered tax cuts," and then proposes $27.6 billion in tax cuts to be effective next Jan. 1.

The president should spare us that kind of posturing. The state of the economy, and especially the downhill course it has taken during the Carter administration, is perhaps the No. 1 issue of the 1980 election.

Reagan calls the present state of affairs a depression, while Mr. Carter insists that it is only a recession and that it is bottoming out.

Reagan's ideas in this regard are still sketchy, and we trust they will be elaborated later. Mr. Carter's lecture on the need to reserve the alarming decline in the productivity of American industry suggests that he is beginning to grasp the problem.

But we hear nothing about the tax on savings account interest, about the double-taxation of dividends, about tax rates on capital gains—all of which need treatment to improve the formation of capital on which "reindustrialization" would depend.

The program relies too much on familiar formulas. The cut in income taxes to offset next year's increase in Social Security taxes only perpetuates the notion that someone can avoid paying the awesome bills coming due for Social Security.

Such promises of federal rescue missions may be designed for maximum effect on those Midwestern and Eastern industrial states which have both a high unemployment rate and a large number of votes in the electoral college.

Of course he is, and there's nothing wrong with that. Reagan is trying to get elected too, and nothing would make a better campaign than a reasoned exchange between them on how they would get us off the inflation-recession seasaw we are riding.

Soft Imports Scrambled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Return with me now to that wonderful year 1966. It was then that a government scientist invented something called a "backscatter gauge."

Would you care to take a guess as to what this instrument was used for?

A machine to keep elephants from bumping into each other during a circus parade? Sorry, sir, I'm afraid that's wrong.

The "backscatter gauge" was indeed created for the express purpose of ascertaining the fragility of eggshells.

Clearly, an instrument that would do for eggs what the "backscatter gauge" would do for elephants would go a long way toward keeping NHSTA's incident in bounds.

The finding that large cars tend to withstand crashes better than small cars impresses me as being almost as significant as the finding that eggs tend to withstand short falls better than long drops.

At the time the "backscatter gauge" was invented, 1,660,000,000 eggs were being accidentally broken each year.

Perhaps there is a lesson in this for auto safety as well.

Strike Threatens Air Travel

WASHINGTON — March 15, 1981, may be a historic day. On it, air travel as we know it today could come to a screeching halt.

What an air controller's strike might mean to the traveling public was given some idea recently when controllers at Chicago's O'Hare Airport, the nation's busiest, held a mere "rule book" slowdown.

Tampa Gas Station Worker Found Dead; Woman Missing

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The body of a gas station attendant — one of two people who have disappeared from single-company businesses in the Tampa Bay area in recent days, has been found in an orange grove near Temple Terrace.

Police said late Wednesday some young boys discovered the body of Jesse F. Albritton, 26, who disappeared Tuesday night from a small service station in Tampa, and alerted authorities. He had been shot, police said.

Cynthia Clements, 19, who disappeared from a convenience store north of St. Petersburg where she was working alone shortly before dawn Monday, was still missing Tuesday, police said.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Democratic Party Chairman Charles Whitehead says he will resign rather than enforce a plank in the national platform denying financial or other aid to candidates opposed to the Equal Rights Amendment.

Whitehead, who headed President Carter's primary campaign in Florida, said Wednesday he supports ERA, but he says the idea of basing party assistance on a candidate's beliefs is unconstitutional.

"It should be forced by the central committee of the party to follow it, I would resign," he said. "I would run for Democratic Party."

Associated Industries of Florida said Wednesday it plans an in-depth study of the first year's experience under the new law in October, but based on what it has learned so far, another 15 percent reduction is justified.

Companies were forced by the Legislature to reduce their rates 10 percent when the statute took effect last fall.

History-Making Crowd Expected For SEC Opener

By United Press International The Southeastern Conference opens the football season in style. Its first league outing, Tennessee versus Georgia, will be played Saturday night before what is expected to be the largest crowd in southern sports history — about 93,000.

In other SEC action on the first Saturday of 1980 college football, defending national champion Alabama, ranked No. 2 behind Ohio State in the preseason poll, meets Georgia Tech at Birmingham, Ala.; Louisiana State hosts 16th-ranked Florida State; Kentucky hosts Utah State; Ole Miss plays Texas A&M at Jackson, Miss.; and Mississippi State visits Memphis State.

Alabama is the defending national champion and they are expected to beat at least one of the other teams. "We're not going to let anyone else beat us," said Alabama coach Gene Stallone.

Libraries Offer Motion Pictures

The cost of going to the movies is skyrocketing. More people are butting their own popcorn and turning on their television sets.

But even the tube deflates many hopes. Subscription channels are costly. Their programming sometimes questionable for family viewing. Commercial television viewers must subject themselves to advertising assaults and other meaningless prattle.

Where can the budget-conscious movie fan turn for diverse and innovative recreation and education? With the help of the State Library of Florida, local public libraries are now going beyond their traditional role as temples of the written word. Services offered to the public by many local libraries are expanding to include an important information, communication and recreational tool—the motion picture.

“Many of the larger libraries in Florida’s metropolitan areas have begun building film collections,” Secretary of State George Firestone said recently, “but even so, it is a costly proposition that imposes severe limitations.”

“The limitations are even greater for the small and middle-sized libraries, where stocking and maintaining a creditable film collection is often difficult or impossible.”

That’s where the State Library of Florida has come to the rescue.

Since the mid-Fifties, the State Library of Florida has served as a “library’s library” by providing resources and materials to public libraries statewide.

“This program has been such a huge success that we have expanded the size of the collection from 1,000 films to 1,863 films,” says State Librarian Barratt Wilkins. Wilkins, who also serves as director of the Department of State’s Division of Library Services—which administers the State Library of Florida—points out that many larger libraries still turn to the State Library to supplement their own materials.

“But the main point,” says Wilkins, “is to offer a service to the smaller libraries that they couldn’t otherwise afford.”

Florida’s 40 state institutions with staff librarians also have access to the miles of celluloid in the collection, says Wilkins, but the State Library is prohibited by federal law to loan its films to universities and public schools.

“We can’t loan directly to groups or individuals, but many public libraries that borrow collection films do make direct loans to the public, as well as having their own in-house film showings.

“If a group or individual wants to look through the catalogue and check out a film, they should look into the policy of their local library.”

The only other restriction on borrowing films from the State Library’s collection is that the films not be used for fundraising. Viewers may not be charged for admission.

Pianist Embarrassed As Mom's 'Show-Off'

DEAR ABBY: I'm 15, and I've been taking piano lessons since I was 8. I guess I'm pretty good, but I'm far from a concert pianist.

Whenever we have company, my mother asks them (right in front of me) if they would like to hear me play the piano. Well, what can they say?

“Then they all start coaxing me and, of course, I have to play. I've asked my mother not to do this to me, but she does anyway. I know she's proud of me, but this is probably bored stiff, and I'm embarrassed.”

Please print this. It might do some good, but don't mention my name or I'll get killed.

COMPANY SHOW-OFF DEAR SHOW-OFF: Appeal to your mother again. In the meantime, I'll help this end by printing your letter. (P.S. Your company is lucky. Ours had to listen to my twin and me play violin duets until we were 11.)

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I announced our plans to adopt a baby, here are some of the comments we received:

“Are you sure you really want to? I've known people who have adopted a baby and then had their own.”

And: “Aren't you afraid?”

DEAR ROSEMARY: Your request is reasonable and could benefit many. Consider it done.

DEAR ABBY: I saw red when I read that letter from “84 IN S.C.,” complaining because her children moved out of her old familiar home and away from lifelong friends because they wanted her in a better climate in a “cheerful apartment” near them.

“84” should consider herself lucky. Some elderly folks find their old familiar neighborhood unsafe. My mother fought relocation until she was mugged, then she couldn't move fast enough. My husband and I were thrilled when we got her into a brand new senior citizens' apartment complex. Everything in her apartment is keyed for retired persons, including the best security features.

Know what Mom said? “I hate it! I can't hang my clothes out to dry. I feel like I'm living in an old folks' home!” (She's 80.)

“I, I, I... Abby, it's self-centered, nit-picking people like my mother who are difficult to understand. Just think of all the poor people of any age who would gladly trade places with ‘84 IN S.C.’ and ‘80 IN FL.’”

Exercise Can Help Stop Pain In Back

DEAR DR. LAMB—Over a year ago I hurt my back. I've had numbness in my legs since then. My doctor sent me to an orthopedic surgeon and his diagnosis was "spinal cord injury." During the day I have little or no back pain—only the numbness in my legs. The right leg is the worst. Usually I wake in the morning with back pain but it subsides after I get up and begin to move around. We have a firm mattress on our bed. I am 48, of slender frame weighing about 140 pounds. How can one tell, other than having surgery, if it is a spinal cord injury or a pinched nerve that is causing the numbness? What can be done to restore normal sensation in the legs? I cannot run and must be more careful in walking than in the past. The orthopedist did not recommend surgery because I do not have severe back pain.

DEAR READER—There are many different causes for back pain and numbness in the legs. You really can't start a good treatment program unless you know what's causing the problem. For that reason I think you ought to see a neurologist in addition to the orthopedic surgeon you've already seen.

By examining various nerve responses, he will know which nerves to the legs are involved or what part of the spinal cord is involved. He can use special tests to tell if you have a ruptured disc or a pinched nerve. If there is a ruptured disc, the symptoms sometimes subside as the disc area repairs itself. In other instances, surgical correction is required. The only way a decision can be made is with a careful examination.

In some instances exercises are very useful in helping to relieve back pain. I do not want you to do any of those exercises without your doctor's permission after he has examined you, but I am sending you The Health Letter Number 13-10, Backache and What to Do about It. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10101.

As the Health Letter I'm sending you explains, by strengthening the trunk muscles and the abdominal muscles you can often provide considerable support to the back. That may prove to be useful for many people with mild back strain because of weak muscles and inactivity. If you exercise improperly or when you're having an acute back condition, it may sometimes aggravate the condition. That's why I don't want you to begin a series of exercises for your back unless they've been carefully examined. Also, you can have medical problems inside the abdomen that cause referred pain to the back and require an entirely different form of treatment.

You do not have the ordinary form of backache because it's worse when you first awaken. In many instances of common backache, it will be relieved by resting in bed. In fact, often the biggest advantage of traction is causing a person to be quiet in bed while the injured back repairs itself.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Friday, September 5, 1980

YOUR BIRTHDAY
September 5, 1980
This coming year you are likely to move around more than you have in the past. In your short jaunts and journeys you will have some interesting experiences and meet some exciting people.

MEANWHILE
Most persons you encounter today should be very easy to get along with, but you could run into one character who might ruffle your feathers. Remember, travel luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are discussed in your Astro-Graph, which begins with your horoscope. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 486, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Generally this should be a pleasant day, but you must guard against treating your resources or possessions carelessly. Have some variables lying around.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Be ambitious and assertive today without doing anything at the expense of others. Everything will turn out OK. You don't need to depend on anyone to get ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Normally you're not the type to harbor a grudge, but today you could treat another poorly because of a past misunderstanding. Be forgiving.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Friends will be cooperative and eager to share with you today if they see you are willing to do so with them. Remember, the choice is yours.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
In important one-to-one relationships today, take care not to overwhelm your interesting experiences and meet some exciting people.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Enjoy yourself today, but don't neglect your responsibilities. You may later try to blame others for problems caused by your presentational inactivity.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You're very productive today as long as you schedule adequate time to complete your tasks. Mail $1 to conclude could get fouled up.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Most of the day you'll be very pleasant and easy to get along with, but if you make too late a night of it your personality and attitude could make an about-face.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Coworkers will match you stride for stride today, provided you set a good example and don't make demands of them to undertake things you wouldn't do yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Your managerial and organizational qualities are very proficient early in the day, so take care of major projects at that time. Later, you may get a trifle careless.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Be patient today in situations you can't personally control and things will work out smoothly. Getting pushy might cause a log jam.

WIN AT BRIDGE

ers on a cruise. A non-stop game got under way almost as soon as the ship sailed.

In the first rubber, our match-point player worked out a brilliant end play to score an overtrick. One of the other players remarked, "We have no chance against you, Joe. You'll win a thousand points from us in overtricks."

Things didn't work out quite that way. Our duplicate player lost game after game trying for those overtricks. Here is an example of operating an overtrick at its worst. Dummy's 10 of hearts was allowed to hold the first trick. Our hero saw a chance to make six or maybe seven and finessed his queen of spades at trick two. West took his king and led the four of diamonds. East took his jack and ace and led second heart. West ruffed and instead of two 30 point overtricks, game and rubber had blown out the port hole.

A rubber bridge player would cash the ace of spades at trick two, go to dummy with a club and lead a second trump. West would get his king, but the contract would be safe.

Some years ago a match-point duplicate player found himself in the company of a bunch of rubber bridge players on a cruise. A non-stop game got under way almost as soon as the ship sailed.

Lake Mary Council Raises Property Tax Rate To $4.50

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary property owners will be paying higher taxes in the new 1980-81 fiscal year.

The city council Thursday night approved a tentative tax rate of $4.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation, up from the $2.84 per $1,000 levied this year.

A combination of reasons was given for the higher tax rate including uncertainty over whether federal revenue sharing funds will be continued in the new year and whether the voters will pass the proposed state constitutional amendment on Oct. 7, raising bonded exemptions from $5,000 to $15,000.

City Manager Phil Kulbes and the city council said the $4.50 rate is only tentative and may be reduced. The ultimate rate cannot be higher than $4.50, Kulbes said.

Kulbes recommended a tentative rate of $4.00 per $1,000 assessed valuation. He said this tax rate would bring the city $256,227 in property taxes and allow $15,000 to be placed in a reserve account.

During the current fiscal year, the city was required to reduce its tax rate to $2.84 per $1,000 assessed valuation from $3 after voters turned down a referendum question asking for authority to raise taxes.

In the current fiscal year, the city received $156,541 in property taxes. The $4.50-per-$1,000 tax rate is expected to bring the city $256,227 which will permit the placing of $46,000 into reserve accounts.

According to the Truth in Millage law, called the TRIM bill, to raise property taxes, advising that the city would receive the same amount of money as this year, four positive votes must be received from the city council.

Kulbes distributed today that four members of the council will approve the increase. At the Thursday night meeting, Councilman Gene McDonald and Francis Mark were absent. McDonald was out of state on business while Mark is isolated at a Georgia hospital for treatment of a heart condition.

A public hearing on the tentative tax rate and the budget was set for Oct. 9. In other action, the council:

- Approved on first reading the city's comprehensive land use plan.
- Marked the 8 percent over the $1.20 rate, whereby the city would receive the same amount of money as this year, four positive votes must be received from the city council.
- Resigned and resigned effective the last day in August, contingent upon his not suffering a catastrophic illness prior to that time.
- Williams said the governor's office contacted him, advising that the conditional resignation could not be accepted and a new unconditional one should be submitted. "I didn't send a new one and the first was accepted," Williams said. "They did it my way."
- Williams has been appointed a special judge by the chief justice of the Florida Supreme Court and will be sitting on criminal cases in Seminole County throughout September, he said today.

Longwood Council Lowers Property Tax Rate To $2

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood's tentative property tax rate of $2 per $1,000 assessed taxable property value, set at a work session of the city commission Thursday afternoon, should generate $256,333 for the city's coffers.

But with the 4 percent loss to the city brought about by early payments by taxpayers, it would actually be closer to $253,292, said City Administrator David Chexney. If the proposed Homestead Exemption Increase is approved by the voters on Oct. 7, Chexney said, the city's property tax revenues would be more in line with the anticipated amount of $253,292 in the city's temporary budget.

Thursday's session was held to meet the Monday deadline for notifying the county tax appraiser of the millage rate and a roll-back rate, under the TRIM (Truth in Millage) Bill, passed by the State Legislature.

Because of an increase in the city's tax base and the 100-percent-of-value assessment of property this year, the value of taxable property in the city has increased from $98,721,110 last year to $147,348,269.

The roll-back rate, which would have assured the city of the equivalent of last year's tax revenue, would be $1.86 per thousand.

Although the $2 per $1,000 of assessed taxable property value appears less than the $2.77 rate last year, it actually means an 8 percent increase in city taxes due to the 100 percent assessment.

The city is scheduled to adopt the tentative $1,483,973 1980-81 budget on Sept. 22. The first budget hearing for the tentative budget and adoption by ordinance will be on Oct. 13. The final hearing and second reading and adoption of the ordinance will be on Oct. 27. At that time, the millage rate will be adopted separately.

The city will be notified of the final (Truth in Millage) Bill by Nov. 13.

Chexney said the city's total income, including water and sewer fees, franchise and utilities taxes, state revenue sharing, permits, licenses, and other sources will be more than $4 million.

Couple Offer Son For Used Car

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (UPI) — A couple offered car salesman Italo Patinella an unusual deal — their 14-month-old son for a 1977 Corvette. He almost accepted.

He agonized over it. But eventually he notified police who arrested the couple — James M. Green, 29, and his wife, Pamela, 21. The child was placed in a foster home.

For Patinella, who says he's been crying about it all week, the incident hit very close to home. His own son, daughter-in-law and grandchild were killed in a Christmas Eve fire two years ago.

"I can't find it easy to talk about," he said Thursday. "I lost three of my own children and this feels like I've almost seen another child lost."

"My first impression was to swap the car for the kid," he said, adding he thought he wanted to provide the child with a good home.

"[But] I know months later that it would be wrong," he continued. "Not so much wrong for me or the expense of it, but what would this baby do when he's not a baby anymore? How could this boy cope with life knowing he was traded for a car?"

Officials said they have never heard of a similar case.

Gov. Graham Accepts Williams' Resignation

Circuit Judge Volie Williams' resignation, effective midnight, Aug. 31, has been accepted by Gov. Bob Graham and the judicial nominating committee of the 18th Judicial Circuit in accepting the nominating committee are Frank Walden, who practices law in Altamonte Springs, and Dr. Charles Park of Sanford.

Traditionally a Seminole County attorney has held this judgeship. The committee will select three names from among the applicants and submit them to the governor for his consideration. The governor usually appoints a judge from among the recommendations.

Massey's committee is currently seeking applications from attorneys wishing appointment to the judgeship relinquished by Judge Joe Cowart, who resigned when appointed to the Fourth District Court of Appeals. Massey said the deadline for applications for Cowart's seat is Sept. 12. The appointee will serve only until Dec. 31.

Last-Minute Settlement Auto-Train Gets Back On Track

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

The Auto-Train to Lorton, Va., will leave Sanford as scheduled today, following a last-minute settlement Thursday night that saved the company's track contract.

The payment of $19,500 to Seaboard Coast Line, owner of the tracks between Sanford and Richmond, Va., and supplier of the engineers and conductors who run Auto-Train's equipment, came two hours after a 4 p.m. deadline set by Seaboard.

This morning, Seminole sheriff's deputies released Auto-Train's Seminole County properties, seized Wednesday for nonpayment of three judgments totaling $35,007, after the company turned over checks for that amount.

But Auto-Train is still not back on track as far as the American Stock Exchange is concerned. Auto-Train stock has not been allowed to be traded since Wednesday's close of the AMEX market.

An AMEX official said today that trading of the stock will not be allowed until the company turns over financial information. The officer, who asked not to be named, said he could not specify exactly what kind of data was being demanded by the exchange, but said the company's agreement with Seaboard did not answer enough of the exchange's questions about it to allow trading to resume today.

Trading was halted on Auto-Train stock when AMEX officials learned Seaboard Coast Line Inc. had notified the Interstate Commerce Commission it would stop providing track use and crews to the car carrier.

Auto-Train owes Seaboard about $4.5 million, spokesmen for both companies say. The pre-payments for each trip will after a 4 p.m. deadline from growing they say.

Additionally, Seaboard and a subsidiary which controls tracks from Richmond, Va., to Auto-Train's northern terminal have guaranteed $2.6 million of a $3 million loan to Auto-Train by Paul Revere Life Insurance Co., a subsidiary of AVCO of Hartford, Conn.

A Paul Revere investment officer said Thursday Auto-Train had missed its August payment on that loan, but had assured them payment would soon be made.

The remaining $400,000 of the Paul Revere loan is guaranteed by Marriott Inc. of Washington, D.C. Officials of the company, which provides catering services to Auto-Train, could not be reached for comment. An Auto-Train spokesman said his company owes Marriott something less than $1 million.

Seaboard Coast Line officials said they will continue to allow auto-trains to run as long as they receive a payment of $19,500 a day in advance of each run. Thursday's payment of the use fee was close enough to the deadline to allow today's train to leave on time, Auto-Train spokesman Phillip Kruever said this morning.

Kruever explained the company intends to pay off some of its millions of dollars of debt by the end of the month, when it begins to receive $3.7 million borrowed from Banque Keyser, Ullmann Et Saussie of Switzerland, an arrangement made through and guaranteed by the British Banking Corp.

The company has the cash to prepay each run, he said, adding service will continue as scheduled.

Auto-Train was hit last week with another tax lien by the Internal Revenue Service for total holds on company property of $2,217,320.01.

IRS records state Auto-Train failed to pay a total of $1,622,971 in taxes early last month. Last week, IRS investigators announced the company also had failed to pay $394,348 in 1978 and filed a second lien.

Late this morning, Auto-Train spokesman Tom Tucker said in addition to the Swiss-British loan, Auto-Train was taking several steps to raise new capital.

An Auto-Train subsidiary corporation, Railway Services, soon will put about $4 million of new stock on sale, Tucker said. That company will complete assembly of freight cars purchased from South America in kit form and perform maintenance on railroad cars owned by private carriers and companies currently paying two- and three-year delays for service from existing railway shops, he said.

The company also is planning a private financing arrangement for another $3.5 million, Tucker said.

Tucker said much of Auto-Train's debt could be wiped out if the company wins an $8 million suit against Bethlehem Steel, which the company claims manufactured defective axles responsible for a 1978 derailment which wiped out many of the company's cars.

Auto-Train employs 550 persons, about 300 of whom live in the Sanford area.

Auto-Train also faces a suit filed last month by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the U.S. Justice

Locks Come Off

Sheriff's department locks came off Auto-Train's Sanford station this morning after company officials paid more than $15,000 in court judgments. The company also paid Seaboard Coast Line just enough to cover today's scheduled run to Lorton, Va.

Department demanding the company repay more than $475,000 in refunds to ticket holders and set up a $500,000 trust to cover refunds in the future.

Daniel Lishardt, attorney for the ICC Consumer Protection division, said Auto-Train has been "falling further and further behind" in making refunds to persons who paid for tickets then canceled their reservations.

"He said the company always has about $4 million from prepaid tickets.

Unemployment Rate Dips To 7.6%; Inflation Rages

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's unemployment rate edged down to 7.6 percent in August while inflation at the wholesale level raged on at a more than 20 percent annual rate, the government reported today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the unemployment rate dropped from 7.8 percent in July to 7.6 percent last month, reducing the number of jobless Americans by 188,000 persons to 8 million.

Total employment held steady, although unemployment in the hard-hit construction industry jumped to more than 18 percent.

In another report, the Labor Department said its Producer Price Index rose a seasonally adjusted 1.5 percent in August, which translates into a compound annual inflation rate of 20.2 percent at the wholesale level.

This was only a slight improvement over July when wholesale prices jumped 1.7 percent — a 22.5 percent annual rate. Although most general unemployment categories showed improvement over the month, teen-agers and black and other minority youths showed increases. The teenage rate increased from 19 percent to 19.1 percent, while the minority youth rate increased nearly a full percentage point to 27.4 percent.

The manufacturing industries showed the greatest improvement in unemployment, witnessing a drop of nearly a point to 9.3 percent, but in the construction industry, which has seen a steady rise since February, the rate escalated 2.2 percentage points to 18.3 percent in August.

Another positive sign came in the manufacturing workweek, which rose 0.5 hours to 39.6 hours, the first increase in the factory workweek since January.

The large increases in producer prices in July and August were in marked contrast to June's moderate 0.4 percent rise. The department also revised its May figures, saying producer prices did not rise at all that month.

The index now stands at 249. This means the same goods that cost $100 at the wholesale level 13 years ago now sell for $249.

Bank Raises Prime Rate To 12%

NEW YORK (UPI) — Citibank, the nation's second largest bank and a financial trendsetter, Friday raised the prime lending rate it charges its most creditworthy corporate customers to 12 percent from 11 1/2 percent.

The move came because of an increase in the federal funds rate that banks charge one another for overnight loans.

These and other short-term rates rose the past few weeks, eased off a bit Tuesday and then moved up Thursday.

The Federal Reserve can control these rates by either pumping money into the banking system or draining it. There has been concern on Wall Street that the Fed plans to tighten credit to curb inflation, which is running at a double-digit rate.
