REPORT SAYS U.S. AIR SERVICE IS 16 PER CENT IN SIZE

Former Experimental Expert

Showing American Tanks Low
With The Other Nations

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—(AP)—W. B. Shearer, experimental expert for the navy during the World War, who has been investigating the naval conditions on the Pacific coast at the request of Senator Will H. King, of Utah, last night made public a report of aviation affairs, which he has forwarded to Senator King. The report reveals the United States air service standing 16 per cent in size and effectiveness as compared with France and Japan, rated at 100 per cent each and Great Britain 58 per cent.

The report, which also deals with the American army air strength in conjunction with the navy, submits the following estimates as necessary increases to bring these services to a standard comparable to the air strength of foreign powers: Officers 4,000; men 20,000, machines 4,000.

Referring to the American navy's surface and submarine craft, which are declared to be essential to the country's defense in co-operation with the air, the report points out that of naval vessels in commission and reserve, Great Britain has 673, the United States 408 and Japan 308.

In the Pacific, it adds, the speed of the United States fleet is only 16 knots as compared with Japan's 22 knots and declares that the greatest American naval guns are outranked 3,000 yards by the Japanese.

Junking Contract To Be Awarded Shortly

Bodies of Four Victims of Air Disaster Are Laid At Rest in Arlington Cemetery

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 9.—(AP)—After consultation with special agents of the Department of Justice Tuesday, H. E. Mau, district attorney, announced that he would institute criminal proceedings against all persons who stole valuable parts of the airship Shenandoah after it was wrecked near Caldwell, Ohio.

The Department of Justice agents had just returned from Caldwell, where it was said they obtained evidence against a number of persons who carried off parts of the dirigible.

To Let Junking Contract
CALDWELL, Ohio, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The contract for junking the Shenandoah, which fell near here last Thursday, will be let with the understanding that the wreckage of the navy dirigible is not to be cut up into souvenirs or used for show purposes, Commander Jacob H. Klein, of Lakehurst, N. J., said here today.

Bids for the junking were still pouring in last night and bidders flocked from far and wide to compete. The first consignment of parts salvaged by the navy was shipped to Lakehurst Tuesday. Other parts are yet to be consigned before junking by outsiders begins.

Department of Justice officials were back on the scene Tuesday investigating the vandalism which attended the wreckage.

Raymond Cole, one of the injured survivors who has been in a Marietta hospital, made the trip to Caldwell this afternoon and reported to Commander Klein. He will depart for Lakehurst tomorrow, John McCarty, the other injured survivor was reported improving rapidly at the Marietta hospital today.

Mrs. Lansdowne was escorted by Knox Lansdowne, her husband's brother.

The bodies of Lieutenant Commander Louis Hancock, Lieutenant J. B. Lawrence, and Lieutenant E. W. Shephard, were laid to rest in Arlington during the morning. The services were held at the graves.

Mr. Neblack, in applying the car brakes lost his balance and fell, the car striking him on the side and inflicting the injuries, it is stated. He was removed to the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital, where Dr. Ralph E. Stevens, railroad surgeon, is attending him.

Dr. Stevens this afternoon stated that because of the patient's age, he is not resting so easily, although his injuries are not of a serious nature.

NEW FISH TRADE LAW IS PROPOSED BY COMMISSION

County Board Moves to Pass
Law at Its Meeting On Tuesday; Road Estimates
Ordered From Engineer

The Board of County Commissioners, at a monthly meeting held yesterday in the court house, authorized George A. DeCottes, council for the commission, to draw up and later present a new Fish Law, containing provision for prohibiting the sale and transportation of fish in Seminole county, and affixing penalty for violations of the act.

Commissioners present at the meeting yesterday included C. W. Entzinger, Boon Steele and E. H. Kilbee, with C. M. Hand, George A. DeCottes and W. C. Woodruff in attendance. Commissioners B. F. Wheeler and John Meisch were absent.

Mr. DeCottes addressed the board with reference to the recent sale of the County Farm, and his progress therewith, and asked that a schedule of release prices for lots in this subdivision be fixed by the commissioners. He was instructed by the board to draw up a contract after $20,000 has been paid, releasing lots for the price of $600 per lot, provided that the property was not divided into over 125 lots.

Road Improvements Ordered

Following an appeal for road improvement by E. A. Douglas, the commissioners authorized Fred T. Williams county engineer to survey and submit an estimate to Mr. Douglas for the grading of the road, beginning at Crippen's Corner, and running south one half block west to Sanford Avenue. Convict forces, under the supervision of Capt. Wynn, were instructed to make repairs on the Tusawilla road, at the request of Mr. Bryant. The Road Siding road was also ordered repaired by the Board.

VICE PRESIDENT RENEWS ATTACK ON SENATE RULE

Dayes Quotes Records to Dis-prove Argument That More
Laws Would Be Passed If Unlimited Debate Allowed

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Renewing his attack on the rules of the senate, Vice President Charles G. Dawes, in an address here last night, quoted records to disprove an argument that more laws would be passed if the right of unlimited debate were taken from the senate.

"It stands for reason," said Mr. Dawes, "that anybody which for the privilege of acting as a unit must make concessions to its individual members will pass more legislation—other things being equal—than a body that does not operate under that handicap. The facts are that in the last five sessions of congress the senate, with ninety-two members, has passed 182 bills and resolutions more than the house of representatives with 435 members.

"The senate passed its larger number of 3113 bills and resolutions in those ten years out of a total of 20,000 introduced. And the house with majority closure, passed its lesser number of 2,930 out of about 82,000 bills and resolutions introduced.

"Since May 12, 1910, sixty-six different times it has been necessary for the majority and minority leaders in the senate, both parties to go as supplicants to every individual member of the senate to get his consent to an unanimous agreement that the senate of the United States could do its business properly and get it through with.

Declaring that defeat is impossible in the fight he is waging, the vice president asserted:

"There is nothing more majestic than the march of a truth among the ranks of the American people. Because it is right, you can't lose. For the time, one presenting the truth may seem defeated. Then he rises stronger by every defeat. Everything, anything happens when an issue is once in the minds of the American people, he gets stronger. Don't any of you feel sorry for me when you read I am getting beat. It is not me. It is not my proposition, it has been fought for by many of the best men in the senate, from the days of Henry Clay to the day of Oscar Underwood. It is not a partisan question."

COUNTY SCHOOL BODY HOLDS ITS MONTHLY MEET

Official Count of Election
Made by Members; Transportation Contracts Awarded

Official count of the school bond election, held last Friday, when the Sanford School District passed the measure authorizing $350,000 for a new high school, was made yesterday at the regular meeting of the Seminole County Board of Public Education, at the office of Supt. T. W. Lawton, in the Court House. Figures announced by Fred R. Wilson, attorney for the Board, show that the total number of ballots cast were 203, of which 195 voted for the measure, and eight votes were polled in opposition. Figures for the precincts show that in precinct 1, of the 85 ballots, 82 were in favor, while three were against. In precinct 2 there was a total of 113 votes polled, of which 113 were for and five against.

The board met during the morning, with C. F. Harrison, L. J. Hartley and Supt. T. W. Lawton, members present, and Attorney Fred R. Wilson in attendance. Mr. Harrison acted as chairman present in the absence of Chairman F. T. Williams.

The board, after some deliberation, decided to continue maintenance of the school building.

Direct Descendants Of Confederate Generals To Be Chosen As Sponsors

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Direct lineal descendants of Confederate generals of full rank who left issue will compose the staff of Sponsors at the United Confederate Veterans reunion at Birmingham, Ala., next year, if plans now under way by General W. B. Freeman, of this city, commander in chief of the veterans, work out.

Gen. Freeman announced Tuesday that he plans to get together for the first time the grand daughters or great grand daughters of the men who held the highest commands in the Southern service during the war between the states. One descendant of each of the full generals will be named to his staff of sponsors and other direct family descendants will be especially invited to attend the reunion. One of the two grand daughters of Robert E. Lee will be invited to serve as sponsor in chief for the entire south.

There were seven generals of full rank in the Confederate army but one of them, General Joseph E. Johnston, died without issue. The others were General Lee, commander in chief, Gen. Samuel Cooper, adjutant and inspector; and Gen. P. G. T. Beauregard, Albert Sidney Johnston; Gen. Braxton Bragg and Gen. E. Kirby Smith. Gen. John B. Hood is sometimes regarded as a full general but he held that rank only temporarily and is officially listed as a lieutenant general.

General Freeman has asked all veterans posts, Daughters of Veterans and other organizations to communicate with him any information that would help him find descendants.

Government Begins Investigation Into Charges Of Mitchell

PEACE DISCUSSED INFORMALLY BY LEAGUE LEADERS

Security Pact For Europe
Comes Up at Luncheon In
Aix-Les-Bains; All Rulers
Are Present at Gathering

AIX LES BAINS, France, Sept. 9.—Peace and security for Europe, the dissipation of international distrust, the creation of good will throughout the world, and the tying up of any active or potential fighting cocks in the European pit, were discussed at this resort Tuesday afternoon over a "cup of tea," with an occasional call for "something stronger" by the men who engineer the League of Nations.

Premier Painleve and Foreign Minister Briand of France, Foreign Secretary Chamberlain of Britain, and Premier Van Dervele of Belgium. Together with some of their advisers, came here from Geneva to talk over with Premier Baldwin of Britain the results of the jurists' conference in London and the draft of security pact so far as it is drawn up.

Real League Heads.
Though chief actor in the long drawn out drama entitled "the security pact" which sometimes threatens to become a tragedy and at other times a comedy, these are the few men who run the league. That body thus far has not even been allowed to discuss the subject at all and all action is being taken outside its stage which was supposedly constructed especially for just such vast international problems.

Just before leaving Geneva, Chamberlain made an impassioned appeal to the world press to help dissipate distrust and being about a feeling of security, when he addressed about 150 journalists from all corners of the globe, who, as guests of Premier Painleve, gathered at a luncheon.

The British Foreign Minister said he would like to take the newspapermen into his confidence of the status of the negotiations, but that there were reasons why he could not do so at this time. He said:

Progress Made.
"We have made progress—more than I dared to hope for. But on the other hand I would be a fool to assert that there are not many difficulties and obstacles still in the way."

That would also characterize the result of today's talk here. The difficulties are by no means confined to Germany. There are still many differences between the former allies.

Premier Baldwin and Foreign Secretary Chamberlain, I am informed, made it clear to Premier Painleve and Foreign Minister Briand that Britain will not recede from its position and will enter the pact only for a guarantee of the Rhineland frontier. In no way will Britain assume any obligation regarding the Eastern frontiers. It is that difference that is delaying the calling of Germany into the conference.

Government Expert Tells Rotarians Of Celery Pest Fight

An address by Dr. E. D. Ball, field man for the Department of Agriculture, on the contemplated work of the government toward the experimentation of the celery leaf-tyer, an insect pest that has recently wrought havoc with the local crops, featured the weekly luncheon of the Sanford Rotary Club at the Seminole Cafe yesterday.

Dr. Ball, who has recently come to Sanford from Washington in connection with these experiments, spoke of the fact that at the present time the government is without any accurate data concerning the leaf-tyer and that exhaustive research must be undertaken to bring about the ultimate removal of the pest. While uncertain as to the best cure that will be evolved, he stated that the condition now confronting Seminole county farmers is similar to that which faced the wheat growers in the West at the time of the Hessian fly outbreak, saying that the experimentation which he has already commenced must bring about a spray, or the cultivation of an impervious grade of celery, and thus reduce the loss to the growers.

When asked if the establishment of a bird sanctuary in this locality would materially effect the ravages by the leaf-tyer, Dr. Ball stated that it would undoubtedly aid the suppression of the tyer, since it is known that certain birds feed on the insect.

Dr. Ball has established headquarters in Sanford at the office of County Demonstration Agent B. F. Whitner, Jr., in the Court House.

War Department To Send Investigator To San Antonio To Question Air Chief

Department Wants Reason For Attack

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Proceedings were initiated Tuesday at the War Department to call Col. William Mitchell to account for his public declaration that administration of the Army and Navy air service had been criminally negligent and "almost treasonable."

By direction of Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, chief of staff, Maj. General Ali A. Helmick, the inspector general, began an investigation with the assignment of Col. George A. Nugent, of his department, as special investigator. Col. Nugent immediately prepared to proceed today to San Antonio, Tex., where Colonel Mitchell is stationed, to ask him in person if he did make the statements attributed to him in published articles.

No further action will be taken by the War Department until Col. Nugent returns and submits his report. Directions given Gen. Helmick by Gen. Hines, however, call for recommendations as to action in the event authenticity of the statement is established.

Since it is not doubted at the department that Col. Mitchell will admit having made the statements under investigation, the preliminary move is merely a necessary routine step, paving the way possibly for trial by an army court martial.

Secretary Wilbur plans, meanwhile, to make no report on the matter to the War Department on behalf of the Navy administration. Such action would be necessary only if the Army officials overlooked some important point, he feels, and this is obviously unlikely.

Mitchell Breaks Silence.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Col. William Mitchell, deposed as staff air chief and now Eighth Corps Area air officer, broke his silence of three days here Tuesday, issuing a formal statement in which he recommends creation by the next Congress of an Aeronautics Bureau under a Secretary of Air, and suggests plans for the bureau's operation.

He says that the entire national defense should be consolidated under the head, who would be held responsible, but that the department should be divided into three sections, under sub-secretaries, —Army, Navy and Air.

Colonel Mitchell refrained from commenting upon his statement of Saturday, nor did he mention the imbrogly his comment stirred up. He confined himself to the department he urges, saying:

"We must apply a remedy to the conditions existing in our whole national defense system, and in aeronautics particularly. Preliminary steps should be taken at once in order that decisive action by Congress to put these measures into law may be taken.

All Under One Head.
"We should consolidate our whole national defense under one head, who would be held responsible for the whole thing. Under him should be three sub-secretaries, one of the Army or the land, one for the Navy or the water, and one for our aeronautics.

"Policies pertaining to our national defense should be recommended by the secretary of national defense to the President upon the advice of the three sub-secretaries. Having three sub-secretaries would insure there being no deadlock, as often occurs at the present time between the Army and the Navy. All supplies to come under the three services should be gotten by a central agency, so as to avoid corruption between the different branches of the government.

Should Be Modernized.
"This system would remain much the same as it is at present, except that it will be modernized. The naval organization would also have little change, any air service that these two departments needed would be permanently assigned to them.

"The secretary of the air, however, should be entrusted with the whole aeronautical development of the government, which is ever more important in time of peace than it is in time of war, because we can employ aviation in useful pursuits during peace, such as carrying the mail, patrolling the forests, surveying the country, aiding explorations and animal in-

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Everybody knew President Coolidge was thrifty, but even for him it was "going some" to evolve a scheme by which the government's to get $160,000,000 worth of public buildings without spending anything.

To begin with, the government has about half as much room as it needs to accommodate, suitably, its numerous personnel in Washington.

The president wants to get the war shacks' occupants into regular, permanent buildings before their present roofs collapse on them.

Picture Story Of Noel-Daly Murder Case

ANGRY CROWDS GATHERED about the police station at Montclair, N. J., after Harrison Noel, 20, college student and heir, was arrested for the abduction and murder of Mary Daly, six. The crowd grew in numbers until precautions were taken to safeguard the prisoner in event of any mob demonstration.

A FACE TO STUDY is that of Harrison Noel, the youthful slayer of Mary Daly, six-year-old girl of Montclair, N. J. He had social advantages, money to spend, his own car and was regarded as a brilliant student. His case is parallel in many respects to that of the famous murder of Bobby Franks by Loeb and Leopold in Chicago.

THE LITTLE GIRL IN PINK, Mary Daly, six who was kidnapped while at play in Montclair, N. J., and carried to Pompton, N. J., 12 miles away where she was shot to death. Harrison Noel, 20 son of wealthy and socially prominent parents, has confessed to the crime.

NONCHALANT, as though his deed were all in a day's sport, Harrison Noel, scion of a wealthy and prominent family, posed for his photograph after, police say, he confessed to the abduction and kidnaping of Mary Daly, six, while she was at play near her home at Montclair, N. J.

THE DEATH WEAPON with which Harrison Noel is charged with shooting to death Mary Daly, of Montclair, N. J., and Raymond Pierce, chauffeur, is held by Chief of Police Riley, of Montclair. Unperturbed, the alleged "thrill murderer" poses for the cameraman. The gun was found in Noel's auto.

TOKYO, Sept. 9.—(P)—This skirts and short ones may be all right for Western women, but the Metropolitan Police Board has issued an order prohibiting the Japanese fair sex from wearing abbreviated or filmy garments in public.

FLORIDA FACTS

The Florida Federation of Women's Clubs is said to be the oldest such organization in the state, being organized in 1895.

There have been fourteen presidents to serve during its existence, only two of whom have died. Mrs. P. A. B. Hamilton of Green Grove Springs, was the first president, Mrs. W. F. Blackman, of Orlando, is the present chief executive.

The federation is accredited with having sponsored and carried through to ratification 98 per cent of Florida laws enacted by the legislature.

There were 94,125 carloads of perishables shipped from Florida by rail, boat, and express, from last September 1 to the end of the season on July 30, according to a report by L. M. Rhodes, commissioner of the Florida State Marketing Bureau.

Tangerines, strawberries, white potatoes, pineapples, cucumbers and celery all showed an increase over last year's shipments.

The total number of carloads per commodity shipped were: Oranges 26,209; grapefruit 20,814; mixed citrus 4,442; tangerines 1,789.

Vegetables and fruits: Pineapples 318; Peaches 4; strawberries 883; cantaloupes 9; watermelons 6,668; celery 8,143; tomatoes 7,634; potatoes (Irish) 5,054; cucumbers 2,087; beans 2,197; cabbage 1,808; lettuce 1,561; peppers 1,209; mixed vegetable 3,206.

Plant City, lying 22 miles east of Tampa, in Hillsborough county, claims the distinction of being the largest winter strawberry producer and market in the world.

It also boasts of having the largest f.o.b. express platform in the state of Florida. The strawberry and vegetable platform of the express company has both Seaboard Air Line and Atlantic Coast Line service, the main lines of both companies passing alongside of the "L" shaped platform.

Hastings, just to the south of St. Augustine, is the largest potato growing and shipping point in the state, and Sanford 25 miles north of Orlando is the largest celery producing city in Florida.

Cucumbers and lettuce are raised extensively in West Orange county in the Winter Garden and Ocoee section. Seeds of the former product are purchased by the farmers in car lots each season.

Mrs. Peter S. Jole, of Tampa and Franklin, N. C., has proposed the planting of flowers along the roadside of every county in the state. This to be done by the county advertising fund or by voluntary resources. She suggests that a week be set aside in September as "Flower Planting Week."

Plain Statements About Statements I Owe

"As one of the many thousands of CREDITORS in Sanford I am under many obligations to merchants in that they have extended me their confidence—CREDIT.

"If I am honest with myself I must admit that every time I receive a monthly statement for something I have purchased, whether I am rich or just one of the great mass of wage earners in Sanford this statement reflects a certain courtesy to me on the part of the merchant.

"I realize that the PROMPT PAYMENT OF MY BILLS is absolutely necessary. That I am doing myself the greatest injury in not meeting these obligations when due.

"That the merchant has a right to expect me to pay—unhesitatingly—full value in dollars and cents—for past values received.

"That CREDIT is for one purpose only. A temporary convenience established for my special benefit, because of the merchant's confidence in me and my ability to pay.

"That if I owe the merchants of Sanford haven't any good reason to expect them to carry my account indefinitely. Bookkeeping, merchandise, advertising, rents, taxes, insurance and numerous other items cost money and must all be figured into a day's business—its expense and profit.

"And as I wish to maintain my credit rating among these merchants I must see that my bills are paid promptly, upon receipt of their monthly statements."

Perhaps They Still Look For Jobs

The brilliancy of the race again makes itself manifest. This time it is in the city of Los Angeles where Carl V. King, secretary of the civil service board of the city, found that applicants for municipal positions depended on ingenious reasoning to serve in the absence of accurate information.

Some interesting answers were given to questions put to those who hoped to get jobs in that city. "What is a labor distribution sheet?" was one question that was answered by one candidate like this, "One that is edited by the laboring class in the form of a newspaper and is distributed for the purpose of keeping their fellowmen enthusiastic."

"What is arson?" caused another man to reply, "The act of trying to poison a person with arsenic."

"What is a morgue?" and a bright young man answered, "A piece of paper held against property for borrowed money."

"What does habes corpus mean?" and the answer was, "The red corpuscles in the blood."

"What is a kleptomaniac?" One applicant thought he had a good answer and said, "A person with a mania causing him to lie unnecessarily."

"What is a moron?" brought forth the reply, "A man who has more than one wife."

Answers found in the examination papers of another class revealed that the motor truck still holds mysteries for some, even in this mechanical age when motors have been considerably simplified and when nearly everyone understands how they work.

"What causes heavy black smoke to come out of the exhaust pipe of a truck?" the class was asked. "It is the only place it can come out," replied a candidate.

"What is the purpose of a fan in a motor truck?" was another question. "To supply fresh air to the carburetor," was given as an answer.

"Give a reason why a motor truck will fail to start when cranked, directed the examiner. "A motor truck will sometimes fail to start if the driver is too weak to crank it," answered one would-be chauffeur.

"If you found a man with a severe cut on the head that was bleeding freely, what would you do," another class was asked. "I would put a tourniquet on his neck," quickly responded one student of first aid.

What Kind Are You, Anyway

Are you one of the many road hogs who endangers traffic by the way he drives?

Florida has too many "insolent jackasses who step on the gas and fight for the right of way at the expense of law-abiding drivers." The time is coming when some of them may find themselves with plenty of time to devote to prison research.

We have all met the fellow on the road, who refuses to dim his bright lights at night and who also takes more than his half of the road. Frequently these saps tear off your rear bumper, or smash one of your fenders, or succeed in driving you into the ditch on your side of the road, while they go merrily on their way ziz-zagging in a dizzy way.

An investigation surely would find such characters incapable of driving an automobile with safety. If they persist in their wild methods, if they continue their wild dashes along the roads, before long it will be necessary to make all drivers pass examinations in order to determine their fitness to officiate at the steering wheel.

How in the world are there so few accidents when there are so many simple minded fools sitting behind the wheel with their feet on the accelerator? It isn't the speed at which a car is driven that counts, but the way in which it is driven. The Florida speed law of forty-five miles an hour is all right and is resulting in no more accidents than we had in the days of the thirty mile limit. It is the driver who lacks responsibility and good judgment who is the cause of the large number of smash-up we see and hear about every day.

The use of a little common sense would avert almost all of the accidents. As Florida grows and the traffic on our streets and country roads increases, more sense will have to be used or pleasure driving with safety will be entirely out of the question.

Are you one of those drivers, who leaves the curb without signalling? Do you blow your horn at street intersections and feel that your duty has been done towards pedestrians crossing at that point? Do you deliberately assume the right of way when you are wrong or because the other car doesn't look or because it is smaller than yours? Do you forget the other fellow when you park your car in one of the few available places and take up room enough for two cars? Do you try to pass a car on a hill or at a curve? Is the horn on your car an ornament or do you blow it before you pass another car? Are you entirely dependent on your brakes in an emergency which often arises at the blind intersection of a highway? Are you one of those guys who stick to the middle of the road regardless? Do you dim your lights and slow down? Do you practice the Golden Rule when driving your car? What about the children, do you think they are not going to run into the street? Do you try to mix gasoline and alcohol?

Just what kind of a driver are you, anyway?

TO BE HONEST, to be kind—to earn a little and to spend a little less, to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence, to renounce when that shall be necessary and not be embittered, to keep a few friends but these without capitalization—above all on the same grim condition to keep friends with himself—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy.—Stevenson.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

An old colored man, who had been crippled in the railroad service, served for many years as a watchman at a grade crossing in the outskirts of a Kentucky town not far from where I formerly lived. By day he wielded a red flag and by night he swung a lantern. He was conscientious and wide-awake and proud of his position of responsibility and authority and for a long time no accident occurred to mar his perfect record.

Finally, though, one dark night a colored man from the country, driving home from town, steered his mule across the track just as the Memphis train came through and abolished him, along with his team and his wagon. His widow sued the railroad for damages. At the trial the chief witness for the defense was the old crossing watchman. Dressed in his Sunday best Uncle Gabe stamped to the stand, took the oath to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. And then, under promptings from the attorney for his side, proceeded to give testimony strongly in favor of the defendant corporation. He stated that he

LOSS OF THE Shenandoah with her brave commander, Lansdowne, and so many of his crew will cause deep sorrow throughout the United States. The lives of these men were not wasted, and because they died in the service of their country they died content, every man.

They will be included among courageous pioneers of the air, builders of a new age and a new freedom for the human race.

BAD AS it was, the disaster would have been greater but for the fact that the United States alone among nations, is able to supply to its dirigibles helium gas, instead of the dangerous combustible and explosive hydrogen gas used by other nations.

SACRIFICE OF these lives will not be wasted. It will turn the attention of Government to manufacture of the smaller "al metal" dirigibles, such as Henry Ford is now manufacturing.

Edsel Ford, taking this writer through the flying machine plant just established, said that he and his father had decided to make experiments with the "al-metal" dirigible, because of the very fact that it would be free from danger of destruction by lightning, a danger constantly menacing great dirigibles of cloth.

DIRIGIBLES THAT the Fords propose to make will be actually lighter than the dirigibles with gas containers made of cloth, and it will be possible to use, in the metal dirigibles, the ordinary dangerous hydrogen gas, because of freedom from lightning danger, from leakage and fire.

THE PESSIMISTIC, of weak imagination, pointing to the disaster of the Shenandoah and the uncertainty surrounding the fate of the seaplane dispatched to Hawaii, will predict failure for aircraft as a whole.

But that will not represent the spirit of men that died on the Shenandoah, or the spirit of the American people.

WHEN the first French railroad train left Paris for Versailles many years ago the train was wrecked and many passengers killed. "That's an end of foolish railroad travel," said the pessimist.

THE FRENCH railroad company hired a troupe of actors and actresses to fill the coaches of the next train. They sat smiling through the windows, as though they liked it, and railroad travel was soon established.

THE ENGLISH will not let any airplane disaster interfere with their interesting plan for a regular air line across the Atlantic. Professor Simmons describes the proposed machine to the British Scientific Association as follows: "An all metal monoplane, wings spreading out 220 feet, with 60,000 square feet wing area (equal to thirty city lots), 3,000 horsepower units built into the metal wings, double decked hull, to carry 100 passengers."

THIS MACHINE will cross the Atlantic in thirty-six hours, making one stop at the Azores. The United States ought to build it before the British do. In any case this nation will eventually, and in Henry Ford's lifetime lead in flying machines, as it does now in automobile manufacture.

MRS. HELEN H. Gardner, a very intelligent woman, left her brain to Cornell University, saying she thought her brain as good as a man's, and wanted to prove it. The doctors announce that it was a big brain, weighing 1,150 grams, exactly as much as the brain of Dr. Wilder, added to the Cornell collection last January.

THE BRAINS of Mrs. Gardner and Dr. Wilder rest side by side on the shelf. Scientists will study them. Perhaps the souls that once inhabited them will be allowed to come back and look at their former residence.

BUT MERE size in brain means little. Particular development of ONE gram in a brain of 1,150 grams might mean the difference between greatness and nothingness. It's the QUALITY in your brain, and the USE you make of it, that counts.

THE ENTIRE flying program of the United States, hereafter, will receive the close personal attention of President Coolidge and he will consult men that know something about FLYING, and about building flying machines.

He will be interested to know what kind of seaplanes those were that the government recently sent to fly to Honolulu, a futile failure, destined, perhaps, to have a tragic ending.

He will ask to what extent the lives of American fliers are risked in the effort to encourage American flying machine builders that don't know how to build flying machines.

THE PRESIDENT will not forget what happened in the war, when the citizens of this country were taxed about a billion to build so-called flying machines that never flew. He will see to it that the flying in the United States, a nation that above all others needs flying service and flying protection, is put on the right basis.

THE PRESIDENT will no longer entrust the lives of flying men to ignoramuses that know nothing of flying. He will not again permit such a flier as General Mitchell to be sent off in disgrace by an amiable Secretary of War stock broker.

PROVIDENCE NEWS

There was a good deal of sound sense and observation in what Attorney General Sisson told the American Industrial Lenders' Association yesterday about the prevalence of crime in this State and country. The record as he presented it, and as it undoubtedly is, should occupy the serious thought of every citizen.

Mr. Sisson is also right in saying that the enactment of more laws will not reform the young generation of the present day, nor prevent the still younger generation coming along from following its path. Unless the work of preparing a child to lead a law-abiding life is done in the home, the law will never catch up with him on his downward path, save to put him in prison.

At a recent luncheon meeting of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce that body very wisely recommended to its publicity committee that all of the money appropriated for advertising in newspapers should be spent with newspapers in this state. During the discussion, those contending that the major portion of funds to be expended by the chamber for advertising should be spent with state papers agreed that if at the end of a certain period the results were not all that was anticipated, the appropriations should again be diverted to northern publications.

TY COBB SPEAKING

MACON TELEGRAPH

Detroit gave Ty Cobb a great testimonial dinner in observance of his twentieth anniversary in big league baseball. A tremendous company sat down to the banquet table with him. The Mayor of Detroit presented him with a grandfather clock toward which the citizens of Detroit had contributed $1,000 and a $10,000 check from the stockholders of the club. Telegrams from all the leading players and managers and officials in baseball were read. A grand opera baritone sang. It was an outpouring of felicitations for the Georgian.

What he said when he arose to speak, however, is more interesting than any other incident of the evening. His words fluttered on his tongue and trembled off his lips. The man who has always had a fiery temper and a ready tongue was at a loss for words, completely overwhelmed by a demonstration of friendship. Finally he said: "Now I see how selfish I have been! My career has been selfish

Parents today live, in alarming numbers so full of excitement and of the desire for amusement that they neglect their children. They leave the upbringing of the little ones entirely to the schools, neglecting that discipline without which the best-natured child in the world is almost certain to be led astray.

We are quite aware of the fact that the conditions of modern life make the adequate supervision of the young increasingly difficult, especially in the large cities. But those conditions must be faced by parents with energy, understanding and firmness. In a homely phrase those conditions do not excuse parents for "laying down on their job." If they don't perform, both by way of example and precept, their natural duty to their children, the most important social duty they have to perform, they must not be surprised when their children bring shame upon them.

Thousands and thousands of dollars have been expended for the north for advertising paid for by various municipalities of Florida, and the results have been good. This advertising has been creditably supplemented by the efforts of Florida newspapers and newspapermen who have secured the publication of much constructive data about Florida that has not cost the state nor any municipality anything, and these newspapers and newspapermen have no hope of reward for their efforts other than to glory in the growth and prosperity of the Sunshine State in which some of them are benefiting indirectly. Indeed newspapers of the state have been one of the state's greatest assets and they have rendered service for which the state at large should give them praise.

As a result of the extensive advertising Florida has received conditions, we believe, have changed. It is no longer a matter of inducing people to come to Florida. They are here, or they will be here just as soon as they can arrange their affairs to permit them to come. And now the proper advertising medium for the various municipalities of Florida to adopt, at least for the time being, is through the newspapers of the Sunshine State. Thousands upon thousands of people are here. It is a known fact that many of the cities that were more extensively advertised are overcrowded. People have gone to the cities they learned the most of through the advertising of those cities. What is the result? Many are casting about for localities that will be more nearly suited to their circumstances. The logical medium of advertising, for the present, should be the newspapers of the state, in order to get these people already in the state located.

Misses Puleston And Newman Entertained By Mrs. J. D. Woodruff

Entertaining in her usual gracious and charming manner, Mrs. J. D. Woodruff was hostess Tuesday afternoon, when she entertained at bridge at her lovely home on Sanford Heights, honoring Misses Olive Newman and Mary Elizabeth Puleston, two of Sanford, who leave shortly for Tallahassee, where they will enter Florida State College for Women.

The dainty color motif of pink and green was artistically carried out in the rooms where the card tables were placed, quantities of exquisite roses being effectively used.

Marking the places of the players were tallies designed with fascinating college girls.

The afternoon passed all too quickly, and when scores were counted it was found that Miss Mildred Holly held high score and was awarded silk hose. In cutting for consolation, Houbigants Talcum powder, Miss Helen Verney was the fortunate one. The guests of honor were presented attractive kodak books as mementos of the occasion.

Following the awarding of the prizes, Mrs. Woodruff, assisted by Mrs. Samuel Puleston and Mrs. W. C. Hill, served tempting refreshments consisting of creamed chicken on toast, potato chips, tomato aspic, sardines, olives and grape ice.

Mrs. Woodruff's guests were: Misses Olive Newman, Mary Elizabeth Puleston, Mildred Holly, Mae Holly, LeClaire Jones, Georgia Mobley, Katherine Pittman, Ellison White, Kitty DuBose, Sara Evelyn Williams, Naomi Seegans, Louise Charles, Carmeta Barber, Lena Bell Hagan, Emily Griffin, Emma Spencer, Helen Verney, Evelyn Anderson of Chester, S. White's Cream Vermifuge has a record of fifty years of successful use. Price 35c. Sold by Laney's Drug Store.

It has never been the policy of Dodge Brothers, Inc., to build yearly models.

When an improvement is discovered, perfected, tested and found good, it is made at once. The car is always up-to-date.

Moreover, the owner does not have to fear that his Dodge Brothers Motor Car will be made obsolete, shortly after he has bought it, by the announcement of radically new types.

SAINTS WIN SLAB DUEL AT TAMPA TO EVEN SERIES

Hewitt Beats Alvarez After Allowing Smokers 2 Runs in First Inning; Tampa Held to Only Four Hits

TAMPA, Sept. 9.—(AP)—St. Petersburg won the second game of the post-season series for the Florida State league pennant Tuesday, defeating Tampa 3 to 2 in a game featured by airtight pitching. The teams are now tied, each having won and lost one game.

Hewitt and Alvarez engaged in a brilliant pitchers' duel in which the former was superior, limiting the Smokers to four hits and not issuing a base on balls.

Tampa scored two runs in their half of the first inning. Sneed singled and went to second when Mitchell erred on Estrada's roller. Weik singled to right, scoring Sneed, and Estrada completed the circuit when Shannon threw wildly past third.

The Saints knotted the count in the second when they bunched three hits with an error, and won in the eighth on a base on balls to Mesner. Shannon's sacrifice and a double by Mitchell.

A record-breaking crowd witnessed the game.

By agreement between the managements of the two teams, Catcher Hudgins and outfielder Allen, of Tampa, and Pitchers Starg and Houston of St. Petersburg, were declared eligible to participate in the series.
