SANFORD MARKET STARTED THIS MORNING PROMPTLY PROVED GREAT SUCCESS

MRS. OSTEN THE FIRST LADY IN TOWN RECEIVED VALUABLE PRESENT

The city market is an assured fact and an assured success. The market opened this morning in good shape but the farmers did not come in early enough for the majority of the buyers and many of them went away, thinking the farmers were not coming into town the first day. The farmers should get on the job early in order that those who are busy can get to market early and get away in time to work.

Mrs. Osten from Monroe was the first one to open up the market, coming in late, but she had a fine display of onions, beans, potatoes, spring chickens, cucumbers, squash, butter and eggs and they were so reasonable that there was but little left when the closing time came.

In recognition of Mrs. Osten being the first farmer on the ground to open the new city market the Herald presented her with a fine money box of Japanned tin with lock and key. Several orders came to her to deliver goods but this is strictly against the rule and the folks who wanted the stuff were forced to come down to the market and make their own delivery. This rule will be strictly adhered to in the future and the buyers are also urged to bring their baskets, as the farmers can neither deliver the goods or put them in paper sacks as the high cost of paper sacks is prohibitive in the face of the very cheap price that is being made for the fresh vegetables.

This is one of the points that the originators of the market idea are trying to make, that if the people of Sanford will come down to the market and carry their goods home said goods can be purchased much cheaper. Mayor Davison, Secretary Marlowe and the editor of The Herald were on hand to assist the farmers and officially open the market and Mayor Davison will appoint one of his officers to see the official market master to see that all weights are right and that the farmers are protected in every way.

The teams are supposed to be backed up to the curbing and the farmers have a bench for the display of the goods and the surplus is kept in the wagons ready for use. As many of the vegetables are now sold by the pound it will be necessary for the farmers to have scales, also measures, etc.

The success of the city market will depend altogether upon first the farmers themselves, and secondly upon the city buyers who should get the habit of coming down early each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings and buying their vegetables, chickens and eggs from the wagons.

The farmers should help to make the market a success by coming in early and making a fair profit on the stuff and treating the customers right. The goods will be sold at the prevailing wholesale price every day. The price to be given by the market master each day before the market starts off.

That the market will prove a big thing for this city is apparent to every citizen who has lived in the cities where they have markets and the merchants of this city who will have three good trading days should be the first to patronize the farmers and help to make the market the great success that this movement deserves.

Remember the days are Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Our National Air
Next to one's country and flag comes the regard for one's National Air.

The rollicking, humorous spirit of Yankee Doodle, the fire and dash of Dixie compel applause. The tune of America has been appropriated by various countries. In this country the association of our words, "My country, 'tis of thee" endears the melody to us. To feel we would stand when the air is played is natural and we SHOULD stand when sung. We

BOAT BASIN SEMINOLE COUNTY PEOPLE WILL HAVE MASS MEET IN COURT HOUSE SAT. EVE.

WAR SITUATION VERY CRITICAL

ATTITUDE OF RUSSIA IS CONCERN OF THE ENTENTE ALLIES.

Students of current events see but little hope of the six months war predicted some time since. The fighting in the fields of the various theatres of war has been most severe during the past two weeks and while the Germans are losing ground they still have plenty to lose before entente allies are on German territory and the constant menace of the Russian troubles at home is ever before not only the entente but their American ally as well.

Russia still looms in the eyes of the world as a portentous obstacle to an early successful issue of the war for the entente nations and the United States over Germany and her allies.

With a far from satisfactory state of affairs existing between the council of workmen and soldiers, delinquency of workmen and soldiers, and high Russian government officials, which in the last few days has resulted in the resignations of the commander of the forces in Petrograd and the minister of war and marine, comes a renewal of the rumor that Turkey is following in the footsteps of Germany and Austria-Hungary and is endeavoring to effect a separate peace with Russia.

The compensation said to have been offered by Turkey embraces a thing that has been the life dream of Dardanelles—the complete opening of the Dardanelles to Russian ships, both merchantmen and men of war. Turkey also would be agreeable if Russia would consent to lay down arms.

A significant statement as to the desirability of Great Britain accepting a separate peace with Austria-Hungary has been made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the House of Commons. There never had been a separate peace, said the Chancellor, but as Germany was always trying to detach some of the

TAKING UP MATTER OF GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF FOODS. ALSO FREIGHT RATES

The Board of Trade has called a mass meeting in the court house next Saturday night at eight o'clock to take up many matters of particular interest to all the citizens of Seminole county.

The mass meeting will be addressed on the subject of food control by the government and the question of the raise in freight rates and kindred subjects that are vital to our citizens and every one in the county is expected to be present and assist in these matters.

There is nothing gained in planting more acres of land in food crops if these same crops are allowed by the government to be manipulated by the speculators and others. We raise the stuff down here for a benefit of the nation and the speculators use it for their own individual profit and the ultimate consumer gets the food at a greatly increased price. The people who raise the food and other crops raised by the northern farmers.

The experts of the food question have discovered that if the government should control the food that we would not be using flour at eight dollars per barrel instead of nearly twenty dollars per barrel and the same is true of other produce.

The time is also ripe for the united protest of the growers and shippers on the raise in freight rates which will mean to the celery growers an added rate of $25 per car and to the orange grower of $30 per car next fall and to the merchant the $15 per cent raise on all the goods shipped in here and the consumer will suffer again.

MACK EXONERATED

Newspaper Man Had Good Excuse For Absence
Tallahassee, May 11.—One would hardly think that the mere dismissal of a committee clerk in one of the several committee rooms of the house of representatives would call for a double deck heading in a great newspaper like the Times-Union, but it did and there's a reason.

Bryan Mack, one of the cleanest and most capable young newspaper writers in the state, is here holding down one of such clerkships, and incidentally keeping an eye on legislative doings and a finger on the political pulse of the state. Mr. Mack was formerly editor of The States, one of the brightest and best political weeklies ever published in the Land of Flowers. For that reason perhaps it did not succeed financially in the same city where "Dixie" flourishes. The erstwhile editor of The States is an uncompromising foe to organized greed and corrupt politics. He was a staunch supporter of Gov. Catts during the campaign which resulted in the election of the latter last fall and made some stirring speeches in behalf of the people's candidate for governor.

For these and other reasons unnecessary to assign, Bryan Mack has political enemies. Naturally enough the Times-Union is one of them. He has, among others, the rabid anti-Catts members of the House. These enemies have been hankering to get "Mack's goat" for sometime, and a few days ago succeeded by a resolution in doing so by having a resolution passed in the house dismissing him from his position as committee clerk, for being "absent without leave."

The Times-Union took the matter up, heralded it abroad and made it appear that Mack was not seriously absent from duty and held his job as a sort of sinecure. In other words, he was rendering no service, but actually grafting from the state treasury to the extent of his salary. Continued on page 4.

Tonight at the Star
Quaint and whimsical touches abound in "Heart's Desire," the latest Famous Players Paramount picture, starring Marie Doro.

Among the especially interesting incidents filmed in this picture is "the festival of the saints" in a French provincial village on the little island of St. Anne's. This is the gala occasion of the year for the peasants and every one is dressed in his best. The odd costumes and queer ceremonies give a pleasing touch to the production and add to the effectiveness of Miss Doro's usual splendid work. As "Fleurette" the charming peasant girl she romps through this most attractive photoplay which may be seen at the Star Friday.

Lyric Tonight
"Darkest Russia" is a tremendously pretentious offering. The entire floor space of the World Studio was for an entire week turned over to the filming of the big scenes in this production.

"Certainly I can play the violin?" demanded Miss Alice Brady in answer to a question propounded to her by one of her friends as to her ability to play the instrument which figures largely in one of the biggest scenes in "Darkest Russia."

Miss Brady not alone plays the violin, but plays it well. She is also an accomplished singer and has appeared in many successful concerts. She is one of the most versatile stars now appearing on the screen.

"No wonder Alice Brady likes to work in the movies so well," exclaimed one of her envious friends who had paid a visit to the studio to watch the filming of a scene in "Darkest Russia." "Just look at the gorgeous gowns and wraps she wears in this picture. I would be willing

The perfection of night potography of the World Film Corporation is responsible for some of the extremely beautiful outdoor night scenes which are seen in "Darkest Russia."

"I never knew a star who so quickly grasps the true inwardness of a star as Miss Brady," delightfully declared Travers Vale, who directed "Darkest Russia," after Miss Brady had done a particularly effective bit of acting for that new feature.

The Sacrifice
In these strenuous times the subject of war and international spying are uppermost in the mind. "Sacrifice," in which the celebrated stage star Margaret Illington makes her motion picture debut, concerns this all absorbing topic. It is a Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company production released by Paramount and is the attraction at the Star Theatre on Monday.

The story of "Sacrifice," which was written especially for Miss Illington by Charles Kenyon, author of several of her greatest stage successes, relates the dramatic story of half sisters, one of whom is the daughter of a diplomat and the other is a cabaret dancer in the neighboring—and hostile—country. The girls become involved in the international spying systems of the countries and one of them is called upon to make the supreme sacrifice for her country.

"The Pillory"
A graphic story of intolerance, said to rival in interest that of D. W. Griffith's picture, has been completed by Philip Lonergan, the scenario writer and produced as a Pathe Gold Rooster Play by the Thanhouser Film Corporation, under the title of "The Pillory."

In the picture a mother is fighting for fair play at the hands of society for her child. Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter" is probably the most widely read American novel. It is a powerful story of old New England. "The Pillory" is said to be an equally powerful photoplay of today.

The star is Florence LaBadie. In the supporting cast are Nellie Parker Spaulding, Marie Haynes, Marie Shotwell, George Marlo, Ethyle Cooke and Yale Benner.
Manager Lane of the Lyric Theatre announces that he will present this picture Tuesday.

Lyric Tuesday
America is interested in one woman. Who?
Who is the woman in whom every woman in America is interested? Right the first time. It is Mrs. Vernon Castle, who is starring in "Patria," the 14th episode of which is the feature at the Lyric Theatre Tuesday.

This is remarkable in view of the fact that Mrs. Castle is extremely young. She is still a slim girl with the air of a finishing school about her. In her early twenties, with the world still before her, she has the amusement loving part of America—and that is all of America, for even the goggle eyed professor of Greek loves amusement—she has, I repeat the amusement loving part of the United States, which is America, at her feet.

If an honest vote were taken, Mrs. Vernon Castle would be overwhelmingly ranked as the most popular woman in America. Why? While the truth of this statement will be readily granted, as will the sunshine on a fair day, the fact that a mere girl is the most popular woman in America will bear analysis.

"The Mortal Sin"
A stirring story within a story is told in "The Mortal Sin."
"The Mortal Sin," the new part Metro wonderplay in which dainty Viola Dana will be seen at the Star Theatre on Tuesday is a gripping melodrama of unusual interest.

In "The Mortal Sin" Miss Dana has one of the greatest opportunities of her career and she has taken full advantage of the possibilities offered.

The part of Jane Anderson is replete with dramatic strength, and gives this versatile little star a chance to display her great emotional ability.

The story tells of the struggles of a young author, George Anderson, who has to eke out a miserable existence by working as a clerk in the publishing house of the man to whom he is trying to sell his novel. His health fails and his devoted wife implores him not to burn the candle at both ends by working day and night. His novel deals with a wife's sacrifice of her honor to bring success to her husband, also a novelist. How the experience of his hero becomes the experience of George Anderson, the author himself, how the sacrifice of the woman of his novel becomes the sacrifice of Jane Anderson is told in this powerful story of the present day.

Clean Pictures that Will Please the Children, Arbuckle's Aim

Fatty Arbuckle has come out emphatically for clean, wholesome plays; free from even a suspicion of a suggestion of double meaning.

"I shall produce nothing that will offend the proprieties, whether applied to children or grown ups," said Roscoe recently in speaking of his plans for comedy two reels to be released through Paramount. "My pictures are turned out with clean hands, and therefore with a clear conscience which, like virtue, is its own reward."

"Children in attendance at moving picture shows," continued Mr. Arbuckle, "sometimes have occasion to ask their parents some rather embarrassing questions about what is being unfolded before their eyes; but this has never happened or will happen at any of the pictures I have directed myself or will direct. In the three years I have been producing my own comedies, I have never had a single elimination which comes pretty near telling its own story."

"Pictures, of course, moving or otherwise, make a deeper impression on a child's mind than written or spoken words, and for that reason alone it is necessary to constantly exercise caution that the subject being filmed does not get out of the moral focus."

"Nothing would grieve me more than to have some mother say, 'Let's not go there today. Fatty Arbuckle is playing and he isn't fit for children to see.' I want them to always speak otherwise of me for as long as I can please the kiddies I don't care who entertains their elders."

Lyric Monday.

Board of Trade
An invitation will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Herald to farmers who wish to centralize their produce and deal direct with Sanford consumers. The plans have been worked out by Mayor Davison and Editor Holly, and by the arrangement fresh vegetables can be had for cash from 6 a. m. to 12 noon on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Knock the false pride off in regards to lugging vegetables home and thereby reduce the cost of living. It's an honor to have the producers offer vegetables to you in this way and if we don't watch our step, we'll consider it an honor a few months hence to be able to annex a ruta baga by strolling four or five miles.

Sergt. C. C. Taylor, on recruiting service for all branches of the army is in Sanford for a few days and would be pleased to talk enlistment to you. He is making headquarters at the Board of Trade office. Come in and see him.

The Sanford and Seminole county growers and shippers are keenly awake to their freight interest as was manifested by the meeting of the Board of Trade Tuesday night, the 8th and as a result and in view of other matters to be reported on in this connection a request came from the audience that a mass meeting of growers, merchants and shippers be held in the court house Saturday, May 19th, at 7:30 p. m. This was unanimously agreed to and urged and every member in attendance urges a big attendance. In behalf of the growers, merchants and shippers a representative of the Board of Trade leaves for Washington, May 21st and prior to that time several things are being done in connection with the interest of the Board of Trade members and in order to report on this the meeting of the 19th is called. It is to your interest to attend.

Two out of town firms want tiling and are writing the Board of Trade for prices, etc. Dealers kindly call and take up the matter with these inquirers.

After a two weeks' stay in Sanford during the early part of the season, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Marlow of Wichita, Kans., enroute from St. Petersburg to Kansas, stopped over in Sanford yesterday for another week's stay. Mr. Marlow likes Sanford too well to miss the opportunity of another stop. Incidentally, they will be Sanford guests the coming season.

The Sanford Board of Trade will in future maintain government market reports daily on its bulletin board. We are handling this matter now and just as soon as arrangements can be completed we will post these bulletins daily. This is a correct, impartial account of selling and buying, giving every detail that is of interest to the truck grower and shipper. It is a true guide and means a lot to you.

When Florida vegetables and citrus fruit are already taxed forty per cent of their selling value for freight, and when the past winter's hardships are counted particularly to the citrus industry and when it is a fact that many farmers must go in debt for next season's supplies, is it quite fair to ask an additional 15 per cent rate advance of him? Possibly railroad roads do need an advance. Possibly every individual, every firm and corporation needs an increase, but now is not the time to delve into traffic secrets and, unknown tongues, mixed classifications and far fetched technicalities agent east of the Mississippi or west of the Ohio as the rate clerk dubs it; the question is, who can afford to withstand present conditions best, leaving things as they are. A freight increase is unmistakably a direct blow to the "plant a crop movement," the human incentive of profit and even necessity is killed and the passing of that incentive puts a damper on action as far as the producer is concerned.

A carriage and automobile painter wants a job. Notify the Board of Trade if you need a man.

Clifton, N. Y., man very much interested in Seminole county farms wants information.

Denver, Colo., man wants to locate in Sanford, looking for a home and staple crop farm.

Superintendent of a military and naval school wishes certain information about Sanford, contemplates locating here to care for winter training of boys of tourists.

The Board of Trade committee without doubt performed well their duty before the county commissioners in regard to the Osteen ferry bridge. The county commissioners are without exception a progressive body that will attempt any improvement that makes a bigger, better county.

The government is advertising daily for stenographers and typewriters. It seems that the demand far exceeds the supply. All you need is qualification and right here in Sanford you have an up to date business college that can complete you and equip you for rapid service within a few weeks. Not only men, but women are wanted. The job is waiting for you and at good pay, all you have to do is to qualify. In the service in this line of work is a duty just as great as on the firing line.

Tote it home and cut down overhead expense.

Do something today to beautify your lot and in so doing you beautify your city. If you own no home or lot, help by finding a trash can to throw your cigarette boxes into. When you open a letter in the post-office don't drop the envelope on the floor, look for the waste can.

Baptist Church Sunday
Mother's Day will be observed in all the services at the Baptist church on next Sunday.
9:30 Sunday School. The offering will go to the mother's babies in the Orphanage at Arcadia.

11:00 The pastor will preach on the subject, "Which is more responsible for the good or evil in a child, the Father or the Mother?"
Mrs. Cecile L. Wallace of New York School of Music and Arts will sing.

The Golden Rule.

The famous phrase in "David Harum" which reads: "Do unto the other fellow the way he would like to do unto you—and do it first," has had almost universal currency, and to most people its novelty, was one of its attractions. But, if you turn to Dickens' "Martin Chuzzlewit," you will find that young Jonas remarks in one place: "Do other men or they will do you." Not so very far apart except in time.—Hartford Courant.

DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Tallahassee, May 7.—Certain newspaper reports sent out from this city and appearing in Sunday's papers, misrepresent the facts concerning the removal of Col. A. H. Blanding and his subsequent reinstatement as the commanding officer of the Second Florida Regiment National Guards. It is true that Adjutant General Christian issued the order relieving Col. Blanding of his command, and that several days elapsed before the Colonel could be located and the order executed by Captain Chapman, who was assigned to that duty. It is also true that pending the execution of the order General changed his very changeable mind and held the order up, finally revoking it altogether.

But it is not true that there was any investigation, trial or hearing of any kind, neither were there any formal charges lodged against Col. Blanding. He was "exonerated" in the light of the same facts and conditions that existed when the order relieving him was issued. Your correspondent was in a way connected with the transaction and is able to give the story as it happened:

We received communications from reliable business men of Arcadia, among them being Thomas Gaskins, Jr., a Spanish war veteran and a thorough military man, stating in effect that the boys of the Second regiment were expecting to be called into Federal service and did not want any more service under Col. Blanding; that they were in possession of facts that would justify the Colonel's retirement, but that the boys did not care to prefer formal charges and institute court martial proceedings which would doubtless extend beyond the time of the call to Federal service and therefore result in the whitewash brush being applied by the Knights of Columbus organization that seeks to control the military offices of the nation; that if some of the boys should fail to tell what they know and the charges fail to stick, would leave their last state worse than the first.

Your correspondent was asked to bring this matter to the attention of Gov. Catts which we did, and the governor asked that he be referred to Adjutant General Christian. The Adjutant at first refused to consider any proposition unless presented as formal charges. Knowing this would not be done and having discharged the mission placed upon us, we dismissed the matter from further consideration.

It was perhaps a week later that General Christian experienced a change of heart on the subject. He stated that he had no jurisdiction over the regiment while on border service, and therefore could not hear charges based on what happened while the regiment was in Federal service, but that he had gone into conditions in the regiment and found some things that he did not know existed. He did not specify these things, but the supposition is that he referred to the pro-Catholic element which his predecessor had left in control of the regiment. As Col. Blanding had brought Protestant officers before an efficiency board of his own creation and had them replaced with Knights of Columbus, it was but natural to conclude that the mantle of Foster had fallen upon the shoulders of his next friend, Blanding. To the writer, General Christian declared his intention of making a clean sweep of the K. C.'s in the regiment and that might he signed an order relieving Blanding of his command. Afterward Gen. Christian stated that Blanding held his position subject to the pleasure of the governor, and as the governor had passed the matter up to him, Blanding had to go and there was no explanation or investigation necessary. He would simply remove him and refuse to discuss the reason why.

There is a Catholic leak in the Adjutant's office at St. Augustine—known to most everybody but the General himself—and Colonel Blanding heard of the order being issued. Hence he could not be found when Captain Chapman went to Bartow to execute the order. In a few days Blanding showed him up at the capital with a bunch of friends. We understand he posed as a rabid anti-Catholic and offered to show where the Catholics, through Secretary Tumulty are trying to oust him from command of the Second regiment. All of a sudden Gen. Christian took the notion that he had "waited long enough for the boys" to produce their evidence against Col. Blanding, and issued another order restoring him to the office. This is the manner in which the Colonel was "COMPLETELY EXONERATED."

Thus it is that Catholics and near Catholics are masquerading as Protestants for political purposes. Puppets of Rome who fought Catts tooth and nail are now writing letters here for political favors and refer to themselves as "we Catts supporters." So the administration don't know who is a friend and who is a foe—and it doesn't particularly seem to give a darn.

Tallahassee, May 8.—After the veto of the governor was sustained by the house in the measure abolishing the Tax Commission, another bill has been introduced to give the Commission more power in the matter of equalizing taxes as between the various committees of the state. The same interests that fought the similar bill a short time ago are now lying in wait for the second proposition to show up.

The big railroad lobby is still on the ground coaching their representatives as to what they want and what they don't want. Section six of the new bill enlarging the powers of the Tax Commission is among the things they don't want. It reads as follows:

"Section 6. Said Commission shall have the power to equalize the assessments for taxation upon the real and personal property in this state of all railroads, railroad companies, and all telegraph and telephone companies, the Pullman car companies, and all persons, firms and corporations operating such properties, so that the assessed value thereof for taxation shall bear the same proportion to its actual as the other real and personal property of said state."

We understand that the "highup" officials of the railroads have informed friends of the bill that they will have to cut out section six or the railroads will fight it. Unless the Federal census are greatly in error these railroads have been paying taxes in years past on about 14 per cent of their true value, while all other real and personal property of the state has been paying on a basis of 37 per cent of its true value. And now that a measure has been introduced to remedy the injustice, representatives of these railroads have the unmitigated nerve to strut around the capital of the state and say, "cut this or that out, or we'll fight it." Has it come to the pass that railroad legislation must be drawn to suit the railroad interests before we can enact it into law? Is personal property more sacred or exclusive that it shall be exempt from the operation of laws that govern other property?

This bill giving the Tax Commission power to equalize assessments throughout the state was introduced in the house last week by Representative N. C. Bryan of Ocala county. By its provisions the Commission is empowered to equalize assessments between counties and to investigate and correct individual assessments, when complaint is filed with it. Section 6 brings the railroads under the Commission's authority to equalize assessments and the lobbyists are going after the bill with hammer and tongs. They talk as though railroad property was too sacred to be considered in connection with the individual properties of the state. This lobby which apparently assumes the prerogative to censor legislation and place its O. K. thereon before it is permitted to become a law, may be able to kill the Bryan bill. If it does it will only arouse the indignation of the people of this state and array a sentiment against railroads that will react for more to their detriment than any possible action of the Tax Commission in the matter of equalizing taxes. It is a very short sighted policy on the part of the management of these roads in their unwillingness to deal fair with the public. They should take warning from the example of the liquor interests and respect the public's rights and wishes before the public takes it upon itself to rise up and put the privately owned railroad out of business. The only wonder is that the long suffering public has not done that very thing long ago.

Tallahassee, May 8.—The newspaper libel bill introduced by Senator Carlson is now on its second reading in the senate. It enables newspaper to publish all matters of public record or judicial procedure, or other matter, without malice, and provide that the truth shall be a defense against any civil or criminal action. It also provides that a retraction of any erroneous matter, if given the same prominence that the original publication received, shall be a defense against any action, either civil or criminal. This bill seems to give the newspaper an equal show with the public and preserves the freedom of the press, while at the same time furnishing restraint for those who would abuse that freedom. The bill will likely be passed by the senate within the next few days.

Confederate Veteran Reunion
The Confederate Veterans will meet at Washington June 4th to 8th, inclusive, to celebrate their twenty-seventh annual reunion. This is the first time the Reunion has been held outside of the geographical limits of Dixieland. At this reunion Washington expects to outdo herself, for Washington is a city where entertaining has become an art. The visiting heroes of the valiant Southland are assured of hospitality that will remain in their minds as a pleasing memory as long as they and their friends live.

Bligs will welcome Gray, and instead of being a strictly southern affair it will become a national event, and one of national significance.

Washington is always beautiful, but in its vernal glory and beauty it is thrice beautiful, and every Confederate Veteran and his friends should not let this opportunity pass to visit the first city in the land, and one of the wonder cities of the world.

Washington will welcome the "Johnnies" with a hospitality, almost Arabian and everything for their pleasure, comfort and convenience will be provided. The Great Plaza, fronting the union station, practically under the shadow of the Golden Dome will be converted into a camp of a thousand tents.

Trolley lines, automobiles and railroads will carry Veterans and their friends to the many Civil War battle fields, and to Mount Vernon, where are located the home and tomb of George Washington.

Washington is pervaded today with the spirit of war; preparation for the great struggle we are entering into with the warring nations of Europe makes the city doubly interesting.

"The rebel yell, "Dixie," and the "Star Spangled Banner" will blend along Pennsylvania avenue, and awaken the echoes, arouse the patriotism as nothing else possibly could.

The railroads are showing their patriotism and interest in the memorable event by giving the lowest rates ever offered, and it is believed that this will be the means of bringing a large attendance.

In addition to this event, others of importance will be held the same week. The Sons of Confederate Veterans, the Daughters of the Confederate Army and the Confederate Southern Memorial Association, in side Regimental reunions, and the social functions which are always elaborate features of the Reunion. A visit to Washington under such circumstances will be both interesting and instructive, and especially so coming at such a time when our country is preparing for war.

CUBAN PLAYERS POPULAR.

American Baseball Clubs Have Secured Many of Them.

Practically every white Cuban ball player—every athlete who is good enough to appear on the winter teams of Havana—has been engaged by American clubs for the coming summer. Twenty of them in all have caught on in this country, the list reading as follows:
Armando Marsans, outfielder, St. Louis, American league; Mike Gonzales, catcher, St. Louis, National league; Angel Aragon, in and out fielder, New York, American league; Joe Rodriguez, first baseman, New York, National league; Merito Acosta, outfielder, Washington; Manuel Cueto, 4th and outfielder, Cincinnati; Tomas Romanach, shortstop, Cincinnati; Emilio Palmero, pitcher, Louisville; Adolfo Luque, pitcher and outfielder, Milwaukee; Fidelio Hungo, infielder, Minneapolis; Jacinto Calvo, outfielder, San Francisco; Rafael Almeida, utility, Montreal; Oscar Turo, pitcher, Wilkesbarre, Eastern league; Hanson Gonzalez, infielder, New London, Eastern league; Joaquin Rodas, outfielder, New London, Eastern league; Emilio Gonzalez, infielder, New London, East York State league; Joe Acosta, pitcher, Vancouver; Andrus Ogasan, catcher and utility, Vancouver.

Musk Radioactive.
It has been recently determined that the penetrating quality of musk is due to certain radioactive properties which it possesses that cause odor of the perfume to be carried through the air in an extraordinary way, says the Indianapolis News. The radioactive property of musk is extremely strange in the antics who carry it to market. If a package of musk is held close to the body for any length of time it produces sores that are similar in character to those caused by pure radium.

Retribution Sore.
Those folks who like to gossip are sure also to be made the subject of gossip. When a fellow lies about others he's sure to have the truth told about himself.

Mechanics in Medicine.
The value of mechanics in medicine has been amply demonstrated and the science of healing is coming to regard with increasing favor the aid offered by mechanical devices. The physician, in private practice, finds it incumbent to meet the advance made by institutions and the result is that the office of the modern physician is coming more and more to resemble a machine shop, just as the hospitals and sanitariums are being gradually converted into health factories.

Not Quite Perfect.
In this neighborhood there is one little boy who seems so well brought up and altogether so desirable a child that for a time we felt sure the neighborhood women wouldn't be able to think of anything to say, but now we understand from a reliable source that it's a perfect shame that his parents are jeopardizing his whole future by not having his teeth straightened.—Ohio State Journal.

Defining the Heart.
The human heart, always a mystery, has become the subject of further speculation, since a Supreme court justice decided that "nobody can plumb its depths." It has been described as broad and hollow, and the jurist says, in effect, that it is bottomless. One is almost driven to the conclusion that, as was the world before the first heart began to beat, it is "without form and void."

CUTTING RED TAPE

By F. A. MITCHEL

Joquin Nunez and Pepita Alvarez lived in a little town not more than a mile from the Texas border. Along that border were strung United States troops to protect the Americans from incursions of the Mexicans.

The bandit generals were as merciless toward their own men as to the citizens. When a deserter was caught his captors did not take the trouble to convene a court martial to try him. They stood him up and shot him. It was among such rank growth that the delicate flower of love sprang up between young Nunez and Pepita Alvarez. Nunez was not a mean spirited, cowardly citizen. Quite likely had he not been honest he would have been a bandit, for he feared no man and, like most Mexicans, when he was injured did not trouble the courts as plaintiff against his injurer, but settled the matter out of court, taking pains to get the drop on the defendant. Nevertheless Nunez was not a bully and was never known to fight without good cause.

One day a bandit troop invaded the territory where the lovers lived. The robbers took everything they could get their hands on without payment, and no effort was made to stop them except by concealing the stores. But there was one thing taken which could not be bought with money and to the taking of which resistance was made. A bandit saw little Pepita with her pretty red cheeks and her dark eyes fringed with long lashes, fell in love with her and determined to possess her.

Nunez had gone away for some purpose and when he returned was told that while Pepita was walking in the outskirts of the town a man from the bandit force was seen to swoop down upon her and carry her off. Her shrieks were heard by the whole town, but so great was the terror of the bandits that not a finger was raised to save her.

Nunez returned but a short time after the abduction. Without dismounting he hurried off after the bandit and soon came within hearing distance of Pepita's cries. The bandit did not stop within the camp, but kept on toward a forest not far distant. Nunez got a shot after him, but he was not within range. The bandit dropped Pepita and, instead of turning and facing his pursuer, changed his course to the Texas line.

Nunez took up Pepita, who revived speedily from the shock she had received, placed her on his horse and took her home. Then he went to the bandit chief and asked that the mercenary who had crossed the border be demanded of the American troops that he might be punished for his attempted crime. The chief, who restricted his men to taking necessities, at once went to the border and, raising a white flag, crossed to the headquarters of the colonel commanding the United States troops. There he found the colonel in campaign uniform—waiver, sword, shirt, trousers and boots—and made a formal demand for the culprit.

Now, there was much red tape among the troops, which was unknown on the other side of the line. The colonel was responsible to the general, the general to the secretary of war, and the secretary of war to the president. The general told the chief that he must refer the matter to the general, who was some 150 miles distant. If the general directed that the fugitive be surrendered the colonel would cheerfully obey the order.

While the negotiations were going on a group of United States troops was standing a few hundred feet north of the border line and a group of Mexicans a few feet south of the line. Among the Americans was the man who had carried off Pepita. He had taken refuge among them, as in medieval times one sought for his life in a sanctuary, though the soldiers were by no means sacred persons. The chief of the bandits was in the colonel's tent making his application for the culprit.

The interview being unduly prolonged, the Mexicans, who were aggrieved at the abduction, became impatient. Among them was the lover, chafing at the delay.

When the colonel informed the bandit chief that he must refer the matter between them to the general the chief asked what would be done supposing the general refused to give up the culprit. The colonel said that in that case nothing could be done. The chief turned toward the group of Mexicans standing south of the border line, took off his great conical hat and waved it. A puff of blue smoke was seen, and a shot was heard. The chief, turning to the colonel, said:

"My request is withdrawn. You may keep the man."
He whose fate had been bound up in so much red tape was a dead body. He had been shot by Nunez from across the border line.
The proceedings having been thus ended the Mexicans dispersed, Nunez being escorted back to the town by his fellow citizens. No one having claimed the body of the culprit, he was buried by the United States troops. The colonel had been saved a lot of correspondence, which greatly relieved him, for it was almost impossible to get the Mexicans—the only means of communication—to carry any message, no matter how important.
The same evening Joquin Nunez and Pepita Alvarez were married with great eclat.

In every yard in this County there should be a garden—a real garden—of a permanent sort, planted with two kinds of vegetables—those that can be canned and those that keep.

THE CITY MARKET

It is little right to advocate planting the little garden. He who has the land should plant it but not all of it. Have the garden in the center of the lot and have the rest in the center of the lot. The market offers more in reducing the high cost of living than anything else. Sanford will have the city market on these days and Saturdays and on these days the farmers can bring up their produce here, back their wagons up to the curb and sell their fresh vegetables direct to the consumer. From this idea a market house will be the next step and in time the idea will make Sanford famous as the central trading place for this section of Florida. And for this reason of Florida. And for this reason of Florida. And for this reason of Florida.

MOTHERS' DAY

Once again has come the day on which men and women honor and reverse the memory of their mothers, whether living in the body of living or in the realm of eternal glory. It is a red letter day in the calendar. It is a day when the heart of every man and woman is drawn to the sacred name of mother.

The time of the year is opportune and well chosen for such an occasion. Florida more beautiful than now—never was the springtime more emblematic of all that is peculiarly fine and gracious in womanhood. On this day, set apart in her honor, we bow in adoration at the shrine of her memory.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The closing meeting of the literature department on Wednesday afternoon at the club house, the most interesting of the year, was one of the most interesting of the year. The department on Wednesday afternoon at the club house, the most interesting of the year, was one of the most interesting of the year.

Do You Remember?

That we are always preaching that NOW is the time to Save? We want to jog up the trail memory that remembers but present things? You have said several times you would start yet you put it off? Delay has wrecked more lives and caused more human misery than all the wars of the world. DO IT NOW! NOW! NOW! NOW!

COUNTY HAPPENINGS

A BUNCH OF INTERESTING ITEMS FROM CORRESPONDENTS—EVENTS OF SEMINOLE COUNTY—EFFICIENT REPORTERS FOR THE HERALD

UPSALA ANE GRAPYEVILLE
 Rev. F. M. Baldwin of Sanford hopes to visit the Sunday school and also to hold service in the evening at 7:30 next Lord's day, to lead us a helping hand, which we surely shall appreciate, especially in the Sunday school as it is often uphill work. This is really Mothers' or Parents' Day in the church.

The boys of the fifth grade attended their school picnic last Saturday with their class at Musson's pool, John Henry and Elmer Lundquist and Elmer Lyner being among those who enjoyed the day.

Miss Ebba Stedt visited Sunday with friends at Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lundquist and two little ones accompanied the Pierson boys in their auto trip to Piedmont last Saturday, returning late the next day.

Charley Tyner, son of Charlotte Tyner now of Tampa, one time resident of Sanford, not having been back in eight or nine years came up on a visit to his uncle, Mr. T. O. Tyner and family last Saturday. On Sunday, he visited the old home place, also the favorite place of the young people, Crystal Lake and later our Sunday school. He remarked on the many favorable changes in Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudgins are rejoicing in the arrival of their furniture from their Illinois home this week, after its having been a number of weeks on the road.

Margaret Ericson has been a guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Magnuson for a couple of weeks in hope of escaping the measles. Her little sisters, Ruth and Esther are sick with them now.

Cool, bright days now, good for farm work. Thermometer reported at 48 deg. Wednesday morning.

A great many were shocked here on hearing of Mr. Buchanan's death of Paola. We express our sympathy to the stricken wife.

A large number of the people here are selling off their hens, as the feed is too high for any profit. Four have purchased small pigs to raise their own pork or to sell. Chicken at 20 cents is too low, but they are fine to eat.

Mrs. A. Derby left for her northern home last Sunday.

Mr. T. O. Tyner has purchased a cow from Mr. Gillilan.

EAST SANFORD

Rev. Arthur S. Peck has his usual appointment at Moore's Station church Sunday, May 13.

Moore's Station annual Sunday school picnic and fish fry will take place Saturday, May 12 at Geneva Ferry. All friends of Sunday school are cordially welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hart and daughter, Ruby spent Sunday at Daytona Beach and had as their guests, Miss Helen Chorpensing and Mrs. Hart's niece, Miss Edna Thompson and were joined by Mrs. Hughes of DeLand.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Chamberlain had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Runge for a visit to Daytona Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dieterich and daughters, Gladys and Marian spent Sunday at Daytona Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tyler and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth, Jr., drove to Epstis Sunday and picniced in the park and enjoyed the beautiful highland scenery.

H. G. Dieterich is spending the week at Jacksonville.

John Ingram is here from Lake

Keeshobee visiting relatives. G. F. Smith is building a barn on Beardall avenue. Charles Dunn has charge of the work.

John Russell is building several more new tenant houses on the Geneva avenue side of his farm.

Last Friday evening the ferryman lost control of the boat as it was making the Osteen side of the shore at Osteen ferry and Okie Weeks' Buick car was thrown into 10 feet of water and the four young people in the car were nearly drowned. Another car in the ferry boat at the same time escaped. Several men with a team were all night getting the Weeks car out of it and it is practically ruined.

PAOLA POINTS

The death of Mr. W. B. Buchanan which occurred last Sunday came as a shock to the whole community. Funeral services were held in the church here Tuesday afternoon, interment being made in the Paola cemetery. Mr. Buchanan was beloved by all who knew him and he will be sadly missed by his many friends. We extend heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Buchanan in the loss of a devoted and loving husband.

Mrs. Jesse W. Kersey and little daughter of Green Cove Springs arrived Sunday evening and will be the guests of Mr. Chas. D. and Miss Frances Pearson for a few days.

A miscellaneous shower was given by Mrs. Oscar and Miss Frances Pearson at Bay View on April 28th in honor of Miss Helen Iserman. Many beautiful and dainty gifts were received by the bride-elect.

Miss Elsa Henschen of Oakland and Miss Bessie Michael of Orlando were week end visitors of Mrs. Oscar Pearson, coming down to attend the shower given for Miss Pearson.

Miss Helen Iserman and Mr. Harold Henschen were quietly married in Orlando Saturday, May 5th at the home of Mrs. C. M. Bruce, Rev. J. F. McKinnon performing the marriage ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Frances Pearson and Mr. Alfonso Carson of Orlando. Mr. and Mrs. Henschen left immediately in their car for Daytona Beach, where they spent the week end, returning to their home in Oakland on Monday.

LAKE MARY ITEMS

The long dry spell has been broken by several good showers which were very much needed on the low lands as well as on the hills.

School closed here last Friday, Rev. F. N. Baldwin of Sanford was a Tuesday afternoon caller here.

Mrs. Louise Nyland, who has been a victim of measles for the past week is getting along nicely.

Rebecca, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Evans has been sick for the past week with fever but seems to be better at the present writing.

Henry Walker, a colored employe of the section killed a monster rattlesnake Tuesday afternoon, his snake measuring six feet and was the possessor of nine rattles.

Mrs. Will Evans was a caller in Sanford Monday.

The marriage of Miss Helen M. Iserman of Topoka, Kansas and Mr. Harold Henschen of Oakland was solemnized last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce at Oakland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. McKinnon. Mr. and Mrs. Henschen left immediately after the ceremony in their car for Daytona and other places along the line where they will spend a few days, before returning to their happy home at Oakland.

TAXES FOR REVENUE

Liquors and Other Luxuries Will Bear the Burden
 Washington, May 9.—In an extended session of the house ways and means committee wrote new and drastic liquor and inheritance taxes into the war revenue bill, but adjourned still in disagreement over many sections and about $200,000,000 short of the $1,000,000,000 it had voted to raise.

The leaders hope to complete measures and a proposed retroactive income tax assessment, which would yield $140,000,000 during the coming year, and other far reaching proposals are held in abeyance to be inserted at the eleventh hour, if necessary to make up the desired total.

Proposed taxes on whiskey were increased by the committee from $1.10 to $2.20 a gallon and on beer from $1.50 to $2.75 barrel. The amount of exempt liquor in a dealer's possession at the time the law becomes effective was reduced from an unlimited quantity to fifty gallons. These changes, it is predicted will result in almost $50,000,000 additional revenue.

Inheritance tax rates were greatly increased over strong protests from Republican members. It was agreed tentatively to increase all such taxes one third, beginning at the present exemption of $50,000 are to impose the following graduated taxes for large fortunes. Above $8,000 and below $15,000,000, 25 per cent, and above $15,000,000, 30 per cent.

As reported today in a revised bill the corporation tax was fixed at 5 per cent and the excess profits tax at 14. Opponents of the increased corporation taxes immediately denounced the changes and upon an explanation by Chairman Kitchin that they were due to a misunderstanding, the old figure of 4 per cent on corporations and 16 per cent upon excess profits were restored.

New taxes written in the bill today include:

Five per cent on all advertising, except newspapers and periodicals; 5 per cent on pipe line transportation charges; on proprietary medicines, a stamp tax expected to produce $6,500,000; 10 per cent on the purchase of Pullman car tickets; 15 per cent on sporting goods; 5 per cent on the factory of new jewelry; ten cents a deck on playing cards, and in addition to other amusement taxes, a one cent tax on every theatre ticket sold to a child under 12 years of age.

Motion of L. P. Hagan, seconded by C. W. Entzinger, Mr. Brumley is authorized to have signs painted and worded as follows: same to be placed at Osteen Ferry: This ferry operated by county, from sun to sun, travel and pass at your own risk. County assumes no responsibility for injury or accident to persons or property.

Motion of L. P. Hagan, seconded by C. W. Entzinger, that Mr. Swope and Mr. Kilbee have authority to drag roads in their respective districts as needed, also to have repaired and put in shape Johnson Hill, and forks of road of Lake

Charm and Geneva road, widened under supervision of Engineer G. R. Ramsey.

Motion of L. P. Hagan, seconded by C. W. Entzinger, Mr. Kilbee is authorized to have about 200 feet of road in town of Geneva, either clayed or trowled.

Honor Conferred. The many friends of Miss Edith Hubbard, in this city will rejoice in the great honor which has been conferred upon her recently by one of the largest and best known musical organizations in the country. Miss Hubbard is an enthusiast in promulgating her theory that wordless songs will eventually feature the music of the nation and it was to give a demonstration of this theory that she was invited to appear before a special meeting of the New York Conservatory of Music about a week ago.

Seay-Caldwell. The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Garner was the scene of a wedding Wednesday afternoon. The wedding though quiet, very impressive and beautiful in its simplicity was that of Miss Charlie Thrasher Seay and Mr. Weidman Caldwell.

the impressive ring ceremony being used. Promptly at the hour of three the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march were played by Mrs. Robert Davies. First came the minister, Rev. E. Darnall Brownlee, followed by the bride's attendants, Misses Alice Caldwell and Corinne Keene. Next came the bride on the arm of the groom. During the ceremony "Perfect Day" was softly rendered by Mrs. Davies.

Late in the afternoon the happy couple left by automobile for a Florida trip through middle and west Florida, stopping over at Dade City, the former home of the bride. The bride's "going away" costume was of apple green tulle and tulle, trimmed with white satin, worn with a beautiful hat of the same material.

Death of M. Frank Maurice Frank, one of the pioneer residents of Sanford died at his home on Magnolia avenue yesterday morning after an illness of several months. Mr. Frank had been in business here since 1850 and about six months ago sold out his clothing store on account of failing health and retired from business.

He was born in Germany on May 8th, 1862, coming to New York while a boy and afterward coming to Florida to locate. He was a model citizen and while of a quiet and retiring disposition took a deep interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the city and was a great reader and student of current events.

The remains will be taken to Brooklyn on Sunday where he will be laid to rest with his people and the funeral services will be held in the Jewish synagogue in that city. Deceased leaves a wife, daughter and son to mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father and they have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Methodist Church Rev. F. E. Steinmeyer is expected home today from Daytona where he has been for the past two weeks, taking a much needed rest. The services for next Sunday are as follows: Sunday school 9:30 a. m. Sermon at 11 a. m. by the pastor. Intermediate League at 6:15 p. m. Sermon at 7:30 p. m. by the pastor.

This is Mothers' Day, a special program will be carried out both in the Sunday school and church services. All members are requested to be present. A hearty welcome also awaits the strangers and visitors.
