Willkie To Open Formal Campaign At Coffeyville

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Aug. 20.—G. O. P. Presidential Nominee Willkie announced yesterday he would open his formal campaign for the presidency at Coffeyville, Kan., in mid-September, unless President Roosevelt accepts his challenge for face to face debates before that date.

Smiling and exchanging snips with newsmen as he rested here at the home of his mother-in-law, Willkie said he hadn't heard from Roosevelt as yet on his surprise challenge that they debate—the success or failure of the new deal and the third term issue.

He said he would be glad to accommodate the President as to the time of the debates.

The tentative decision to open his campaign at Coffeyville was reached, he told newsmen, after a conference with Congressman Martin, G. O. P. National Committee Chairman. The Kansas town was selected because Willkie taught history in the high school there during 1913 and 1914.

The exact date and subject of that speech has not been decided, he said. A major speech there, within easy distance of residents of Texas and Missouri, would be Willkie's first active gesture toward breaking the so-called solid Democratic south.

Willkie indicated that a trip to the west coast in search of votes in territory where Roosevelt was strong in both 1932 and 1936 would follow the Coffeyville address.

He said he and Martin had decided to have Senator Bridges, of New Hampshire, "kick off" Secretary Ickes, who will give the Democratic party's answer in a radio address tonight to Willkie's acceptance speech at Elwood.

"I hope," Willkie said, "that Mr. Ickes doesn't make one of his usual type of talks because if he does, the Senator will have to get a little rough with him."

Willkie told newsmen he had received many telegrams about his speech and had not heard of a single adverse newspaper editorial.

He intimated he may go to Maine before that state votes Sept. 9 in the first 1940 election.

Martin apparently favored a Maine trip on the eve of that state's balloting, although the old saying of "as Maine goes, so goes"

Seminoles Lose Slugfest To Gainesville By 10-7 Score

Ryan Driven From Mound; G-Men Get To Whitey Hayes For 14 Hits

Sanford Wages Uphill Struggle In Late Innings, But Lead Proves Too Great; Play At St. Augustine Tonight

The Seminoles waged a gallant up-hill fight against Gainesville last night at Municipal Ball Park and even drove big Don Ryan, who has beaten them every time this season with but one exception, from the mound for 14 hits in 6 1/2 innings and won a 10-7 verdict.

Sanford goes to St. Augustine tonight and Manager Whitey Campbell is expected to send Jodie Howington against the G-men. Howington wound up the fifth last night and was nipped for 14 hits in 6 1/2 innings.

Loss of last night's fray caused the Seminoles to drop a full game to the Daytona Beach Islanders who were hammering out a decision over Leesburg. The Sanford first place margin is now a scant game and one-half.

Whitey Hayes, who has turned in some splendid performance with men on base, made his first start in the local ball park and it was none too successful. The G-men pounded on his back for 14 hits in 6 1/2 innings.

As early as the second it became apparent that Whitey was in for a bad evening. The G-men opened up with four runs on five hits. Double-play in the third and fourth throttled any scoring threat, but three runs came across in the fifth on as many hits and two errors.

Red Hyder started the Seminoles off on the right track in the first inning and when Later Marion propelled a double to right field it looked like a Sanford evening, but Roberts hit to the pitcher for a double, play after Willie Skeen was purposely passed.

Andy Johnson's single, a stolen base, a fielder's choice, and an error by Frutty, who was playing third base, gave the Seminoles their first run in the second and they did not break the ice again until the sixth.

Then Joe Justice led off with a hit to center Sk-on crashed a line drive to right, and Roberts tripped to right scoring both runners.

He in turn came in on Johnson's double to right. Johnson called as Ryan cut loose with a wild pitch and Wolfe was guilty of a passed ball.

The Seminoles came within two runs of tying the score in the eighth as Later Marion led off with a hit to center Red Roberts hit to the same spot and went to second on left-fielder Edward's error. Sk-on scored on Andy Johnson's aid hit of the game. Russell cracked a single to left, but Ashton lined out to left, and Bill Daugherty, pinch-hitting for Hudson, went down swinging on a deceptive curve ball.

Mike Mistovich pitched to Ashton and Daugherty after replacing Ryan.

Again, fielding honors went to that footloose outer gardener who were center-field. He and also left-center and right-center in superb fashion. Willie Skeen, Willie ran to deep right-center to spear a fly ball straight with one hand and in the next inning he was over in left-center and running at top speed to pull in a drive by Eddie Moore.

Pratt, Pettus, and Ryan each collected three hits, while Andy Johnson with three hits, and Ed Hyder, Later Marion, and Ed Roberts with two hits each paced the Seminoles who collected 12 runs themselves.

FROM THE PRESS BOX

by BILL BINGHAM

Well, the Seminoles hurled the All-Star bases in fine fashion and now all they have to worry about is being on top when the game is actually played Aug. 30.

According to Mrs. Packard, who has been in the grandstand at Leesburg for the game already getting ready for the big game. Letting of 10 reserved seats before today's game will be reserved for the first seven rows in the grandstand.

In spite of the absence of Hudson and his side-kick, Dopey Dean, Mrs. Packard reports that advance ticket sales are slightly ahead of last year. Almost all the seats for the game already have been sold. This advance sale may be partly attributed to the fact that fans now know what they are in for if they walk away from the game, or if they ever and they don't want it to happen again.

Old drink stands will be erected at both ends of the bleachers as well as the grandstand. Arrangements are also being made to get out a souvenir program containing the pictures and records of Sanford and the All-Star teams and a brief summary of the year's All-Star clashes.

The Seminoles are getting back in their old habits of coming behind in the late innings to pull back names out of the fire, or at least to make it interesting. Saturday night against Leesburg, the Seminoles trailed 5-3 in the eighth inning and scored four runs in their half to win. In the second game, they fell behind 6-0 as they entered their half of the sixth (the nightcap is only seven innings) and scored four runs. Leesburg added one in the seventh and then the Seminoles opened up with five hits to tally three runs in the seventh as Al Nixon won his own ball game with a single to left field.

When Charlie Frye, the Philadelphian pitcher from Hickory, N. C., headed for the mound to stage his debut in the National League game, Coach Hans flagged him, pointing to the handsome seal on his right, or pitching hand.

"Better let me keep that ring for you," offered Hans.

"I'll keep it myself," retorted Frye. "Helps me a lot with my curve ball."

Young Frye was quite surprised to learn that they have a rubric for pitchers who try to wear jewelry on their pitching hands to help them with their

When eight-months-old Carol Nichols grows up, she will look with mingled pride and sadness at this picture. For, seated on her mother's lap, she wears the Victoria Cross, posthumously awarded to her father for "most conspicuous gallantry" with Britain's Grenadier Guards during the evacuation of Dunkirk. King George made the presentation at a private audience granted the widow.

The efficiency of Britain's balloon barrage in coastal defense was indicated by Germany's determined efforts to smash it by recent mass aerial attacks along the southeast coast. Lines of "sausages," like those above, trail long steel cables which enmesh enemy planes.

Buyers Of Seeds Receive Protection

Buyers of vegetable seeds now can read the label and know what they're getting, according to the department of agriculture. The new Federal Seed Act as it applies to vegetable seeds shipped from one state to another is administered by the Agricultural Marketing Service. It went into effect August 9, and provides that each bag, or carton, or packet of vegetable seed must be labeled to tell the buyer what he needs to know when he buys seed.

The Federal Seed Act requires that the kind and variety of the seed be shown on each package. The crops produced must be true to name or as represented on the label. The label must show the name and address of the person or organization shipping the seed.

And—if the seed isn't up to the minimum germination required—the label must show the percentage germination at the time it was tested, the date of the test, and in plainly printed letters the words, "below standard."

Under the act, vegetable seeds must be properly labeled, honestly advertised, and honestly represented in every way.

Britain Ready For Long War, Says Churchill

Admiralty announced that two German transports were bombed in Hagesund, Norway, midway between Stavanger and Bergen, on the Norwegian coast lying closest to England.

It was not stated whether the transports were laden with Nazi troops which might be used in a Cross-Channel invasion.

British bombers in another 1600-mile flight over the Alps last night and early today bombed Italy's largest aircraft plants in Milan and Turin for the third time in a week, the air ministry said, while planes of the British coastal command heavily bombed the French seaport and naval air base of Bône on the Algerian coast.

The British high command said Cuneo was bombed Sunday night as well as Milan, and Turin but that damage was "insignificant." From "Why" it was reported that the port of Rome and its base had been "virtually destroyed" by the weekend British attacks.

Other British bombers struck deep across Germany and bombed the Nazi aluminum works at Rad Rheinfelden and a German chemical works at Waldshut near the German-Swiss frontier. It was stated.

German airdromes at Freiburg, Habsheim and Mulhouse also were "heavily damaged" by British bombs during the night, it was added.

The Swiss, accusing "foreign planes" of bombing a Swiss railroad station near the German border, said that one shed of the Nazi aluminum works was destroyed and that another burst into flames.

Having stepped up the pace and scope of their attacks last Friday night, the British bombers were spreading over virtually all of western Europe, attacking airdromes, aviation plants, war industries and German naval concentrations.

Germany's cat population of 450,000 before the war has been greatly reduced.

Willkie Surprised At President Roosevelt

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Wendell Willkie said last night Secretary Ickes had stated "plain and simple falsehoods," in a radio address last night and that he was astonished that the President of the United States would authorize such speech.

The Republican presidential nominee sent the following telegram to Chairman Joseph Martin of the Republican National Committee:

"Please waste no money in buying radio time to answer Ickes. It is unworthy of answer. Unable to make any reply to the acceptance speech, the New Dealers are evading issue by resort to false, patently untrue, and specifically opposed insinuation and vote for Mayor LaGuardia. The only truthful reference to me in the whole speech is that I rent a small apartment at 1010 Fifth Avenue about a mile away from Mr. Roosevelt's town house just off Park Avenue."

party in Philadelphia and it isn't politically possible for him to back up enough now to bring them in line. Without these leads should go, there will be more Republican voting for Roosevelt this year than ever before.

Said the Republican: "Why just look at the parade of toilers already—Senators Burke and 'Colon Ed' Smith; George White, a former Democratic national committee chairman; Lewis Douglas, John Hanes and former Senator James Reed and that's just the beginning. Roosevelt split the Democratic party by his decision to run for a third term and by the high-handed methods of his managers at Chicago. For every one of these men of prominence, there are hundreds of thousands in the rank-and-file who feel the same way and are swinging over. There'll be more Democrats in the ranks of Republican voters in November than at any time in the history of the party."

ing equal parts of the juice of elderberries and log plums and adding a cup of sugar for each cup of juice, a palatable jelly tasting much like grape jelly can be made, Mrs. Andrews explained.

"A delicious jam results when the soft, undesirable pears which are so numerous at this time of year are combined with the pulp remaining after juice is extracted from hog plums," Mrs. Andrews stated. "This is good either on sandwiches or as a meat accompaniment."

These two new recipes were discovered after it was found that the quava crop had been almost eliminated by the freeze. Mrs. Elizabeth D. Higgs, unit supervisor who is in charge of the canning kitchen, has been scouting the county looking for scrupulous, fruit and glass jars to carry on the work. She has worked and found four or five NYA girls working under her, according to Mrs. Andrews.

An invitation to people of the county was extended by the home demonstration agent to visit the canning kitchen and see the work being done there.

War Jitters Boom Music Business, Especially Pianos

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—War jitters were credited with helping to boom the music business.

William Howard Beasley, of Dallas, Texas, President of the National Association of Music Merchants, said that manufacturers and dealers expected to sell between 135,000 and 140,000 new pianos this year, which would make 1940 the best year for the sale of manual pianos since 1925.

Makers and distributors of other instruments, he said, also reported notable gains in sales, best sellers including trumpets, clarinets, saxophones (which are returning to popular favor after a slump) and guitars.

Mr. Beasley, whose association is sponsoring the annual music industries convention, attributed the expanded sales of musical instruments to four major factors.

"The uncertainties in world affairs, emphasized by preponderant attention given to news of the European war and its implications," he said, "have led many persons to occupy their spare time with music. More and more persons are finding a release from the tenseness and uneasiness experienced today, in some sort of musical expression."

Other factors he enumerated were better music appreciation, brought about through motion pictures and the radio, improved teaching of music in the schools and the advances made in the manufacture of instruments.

Leon Trotsky Is Still Alive After Stabbing

One-Time Communist Leader's Condition Is Considered Extremely Serious

Frank Jackson Named Assailant

Attack Occurred In Study Room Where Exile Was Working

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Leon Trotsky, exiled Communist leader who was stabbed in the head Tuesday night by a man who "called so frequently he seemed to be one of the family," was still alive this afternoon although physicians said he was in an extremely critical condition.

The 60-year-old former Soviet war commissar's assailant was tentatively identified as Frank Jackson, who, despite his name, was believed to be a Russian.

Jackson, who speaks French fluently, was said to be an ardent Trotsky sympathizer who had been admitted to and given the run of the heavily-guarded Coy Coscan villa for almost a year.

Trotsky had moved to the villa two years ago after breaking with Diego Rivera, Mexican muralist, in whose home he and Mrs. Trotsky first lived after their arrival in Mexico from Norway in January, 1937.

The attack occurred between 4:30 and 5:30 P. M. Jackson, who had been allowed entry to the study where Trotsky was at work on his writings, struck the exile's head with a heavy "climbing tool" which was taken in a "back-swing" motion.

Trotsky was reported to have suffered a fractured skull.

Womack To Leave Today To Join Washington Club

Larry Womack, star second baseman of the Ocala Yearlings who was bought by Washington some weeks ago for $1,500 will leave Orlando today to join the Senators.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Club, wired Business Manager John Gansel yesterday to send Womack on post-haste with Charley Gelbert having been released.

Griffith expects Womack to see coach Fred W. McMuray with Washington before the end of the year.

This marks the first player from the State League to hit the majors from the current season's crop. Sid Hudson went directly to the majors from Sanford last year, via the same route—Gansel to Griffith.

Gansel predicts a brilliant future for the young sensation whose batting average through last Thursday was .308.

He was chosen on the All-Star team that will play Sanford Aug. 30. Hank Wayton, Daytona Beach star, will join the All-Star, ranks with Womack's departure.

Perkins Family Sees Movie Filmed And Sid Hudson Play Ball On Trip

Watching a motion picture being made and seeing Sid Hudson, former Sanford star now with the Washington Nationals, pitch a one-hit game were the highlights of the vacation tour of B. L. Perkins, manager of Perkins Men's Store, and his family. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins and their children, Louise, Martha, and Brandon, returned Monday from a two-week trip to Virginia.

"We had planned to leave Richmond Friday morning," Mr. Perkins said yesterday, "but when I called up the state road department to find out the conditions of the roads, I found that no highway going out of the city was open. Flooded rivers and the highest waters since 1936 had washed out roads and bridges as far south as Weldon, N. C., on U. S. Highway No. 1."

The Perkins family was finally able to leave Richmond Sunday and had no further trouble en route home.

Visiting in Washington, Mr. Perkins said they saw Sid Hudson play against the Nationals. Playing for the Sanford Reminiscences last year Sid finished every one of the 27 games he started and with one win gained a relief role, had a 24-and-4 record for the season.

"After the game was over, I went down and talked with Sid a while," Mr. Perkins related. "He told me that he had a lot of people coming to see him and that he was certainly to think a lot of you, as the applause at the game showed."

At Charlottesville, the Perkins family saw a football game featuring Fred McMuray and Madeleine Carroll shooting scenes for the forthcoming Technicolor picture, "Virginia." D. W. Griffith, director, was there also.

On their way home, the Perkins family stopped at Park

"Big Bertha" was attached to a fire hydrant and in nine hours had pumped 150,000 gallons of water into the new reserve without a stop.

Nazis Likely To Lose Even If They Win

With British Fleet Destroyed, Japan, Italy May Step In To Bother Germany

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Indications have reached insiders in Washington that Hitler's battle for Britain is being launched against the advice of conservative Nazis and some German naval advisers. The naval command is reported to have told the Nazi chieftain that the initial success of a direct attack is likely to cost him two-thirds of the initial force before a beach head is established on the Channel. In short, if he sends 600,000 men he'll lose 400,000 of them before he gets a perch on British soil.

Conservative thinkers are supposed to have suggested that the British can be blockaded into a peace agreement that will establish a British-Italian common front, leaving the British fleet intact, and friendly to Germany.

The conservative argument also suggests that a direct attack risks the possibility that the British fleet will be destroyed or scattered, or withdrawn to Canada or elsewhere.

And, without that fleet as a friendly force, Hitler stands to lose more than he gains by "annihilating the British Empire," as he puts it.

Here's the way they figure it out: Germany has no fleet worthy of the name. If the British fleet were destroyed, that would leave the unfriendly American fleet alone on top of the world heap with Japan and Italy right behind it.

Hitler's allies, Italy and Japan, therefore, would have no means of establishing themselves as first-rate powers by grabbing control of the important ports along the coast of world capitals: Gibraltar, Singapore.

And this, after Germany has done all the fighting, lost all the ships.

Left to Germany would be the "young duck" of the world, France, with its war ruin, stagnant in districts, and humbling millions.

Hitler has personally supervised the military ceremony in the Reichstag. As late as July 19, Hitler also assured Russia that Germany's economic recovery was not being limited by Russian inactivity.

And the third named German ally, Japan, has already told the world she'll tolerate no change in the status of the Dutch East Indies, and herself expect to dominate all of Eastern Asia in the future.

These Hitler, without a friendly British navy backing, somewhat of a well-to-do, and a few other countries, Italy and Japan, are carrying out part of their designs in the immediate future. He has written them all bluntly.

Then why launch the Battle of England?

The key to the attack may lie in the speech of Adolf Hitler in Berlin, the last day of August, when he said the German people had the right to make a clear choice. "To break England's power is essential to the ruin of the empire."

It may well be possible that the radical wing of the Nazis and Hitler himself are convinced the British people will break under the strain of attack (even against their own government) and set up a totalitarian state satisfactory to the Nazis.

And this before the British fleet is destroyed or even rendered having it intact in friendly hands.

That line of reasoning is not necessarily sound.

One of the eminent world strategists of our time once told of the plan of British strategy in the dark days of 1917, when the nation was on the verge of defeat.

The British admiralty was asked by the American command how long the British could hold out.

"Six months before we surrendered," was the reply.

"Yes, surrender?"

"Yes, mean the fleet?"

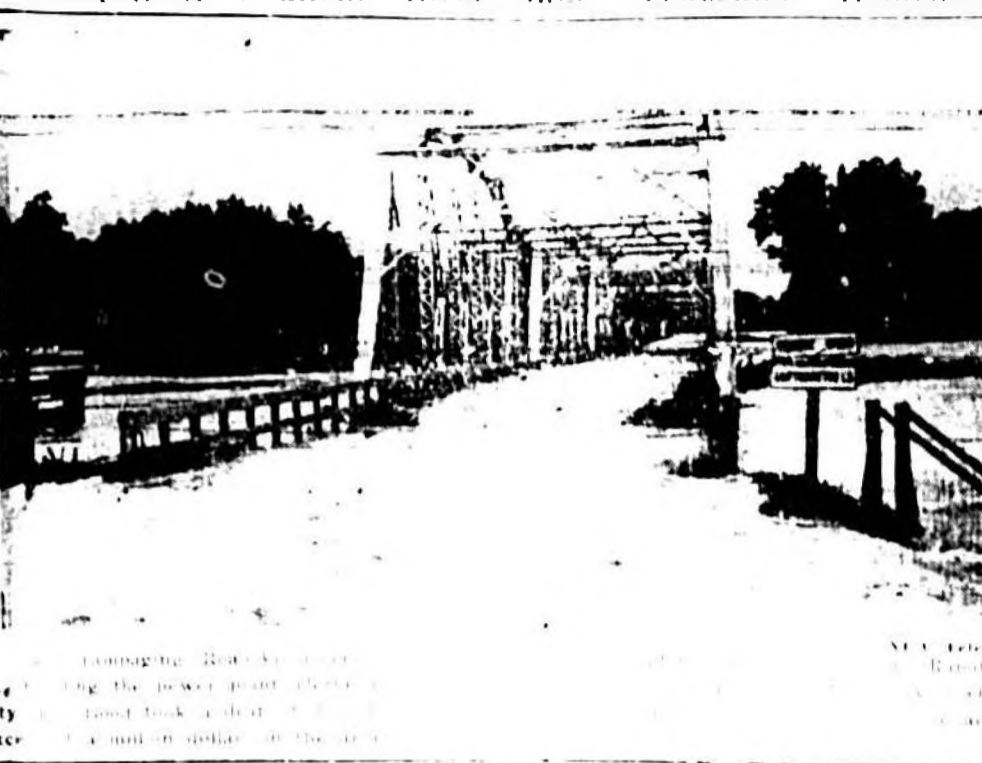

"No," was the reply. "Never. You mean the islands."

Four centuries of tradition are a lack of the British fleet. All of the responsible leaders of that fleet, including Prime Minister Churchill, have been committed to a policy never to surrender the British fleet to any enemy. Because handling over the fleet means handing over the Empire, in their view.

At the outset of the Battle of Britain, therefore, the odds are in nobody's favor.

And above all Hitler stands a chance to lose even if he wins.

Committee Votes 15 To 3 To Reject Amendment Move

No Changes Made In Burke-Wadsworth Conscription Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The House Military Committee today rejected a proposal to amend the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill.

The bill, which would require the federal government to draft men for military service, was passed by the House last week.

The amendment, which would have allowed the government to draft men for non-military service, was rejected by a vote of 15 to 3.

The committee also voted to reject a proposal to allow the government to draft men for non-military service.

The committee's decision was based on the grounds that the current bill was sufficient to meet the government's needs.

Mrs. Bolly Relates Experiences On Trip To Land Of The Midnight Sun

Editor's Note: The Herald regrets a typographical error in yesterday's article by Mrs. Bolly. The first sentence should have read: "I must tell you a little about Alaska, as a whole, it is not only a land of beautiful scenery but possesses almost inexhaustible resources."

The next morning as we were leaving the dining room we were approaching Digby Island on which can be seen the Canadian Government Wireless station and light-house, while just across the turbulent Skeena River, lies the little city of Prince Rupert.

Everybody was on deck watching the Princess dock at the Government floating drydock, 600 feet long, with a lifting capacity for vessels of 20,000 tons deadweight, and a large cold storage plant, where we saw immense quantities of fish.

The ables are gray this morning, and by the time the Princess lowered her gang-plank to let us off, to explore the little city of Prince Rupert, there was a light rain falling, but this did not hinder us, nor the majority of the other passengers. We walked up several flights of wooden steps to a high bridge that carried us to the city.

The first thing we saw was a nice modern school building, a cream brick, with a lovely lawn in front, and in the back a sunken garden, filled with exquisite flowers, roses in quantities, delphinium and many other beautiful blooming flowers.

Prince Rupert is the most beautiful city in British Columbia.

The city is a beautiful one, with a lovely view of the Skeena River and the mountains in the distance.
