ITALIANS TAKE

Subject Is Thoroughly

Hour and Half Talk

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The question of Italy's debt to the United States was brought to the forefront Tuesday by a visit to the treasury of Baron de Martino, the Italian ambassador, who talked over the whole subject of the Italian obligation of $2,138,543,000.

While the conference was a void of concrete results it marked the first step by Italy with respect to her debt and initiated negotiating which treasury officials hope will proceed until negotiation of funding terms. The ambassador conferred one hour and half with Secretary Mellon and Secretary Winston, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the American debt commission. Baron de Martino's mission was understood to have been largely for the purpose of ascertaining Mellon's views, and there was frank discussion of the problem and the American debt commission.

FLORIDA TOMATO CROP WORTH TEN MILLIONS YEARLY

Acres Increase From 18,040 In 1920 to 50,970 In 1924, According to Bulletin Issued by the State Bureau

Bradenton, May 26.—The tomato acreage of Florida has increased from 18,040 acres in 1920 to 50,970 acres in 1924, says a statement issued here by M. R. Ensign, entomologist and plant pathologist of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

The announcement also pointed out that the annual income derived from the tomatoes raised in Florida now average $10,000,000 which is $2,000,000 greater than the gross income of its nearest competitor, celery.

According to Mr. Ensign, the tomato crop is more susceptible to disease than any other truck product of Florida. The percentage of loss is also said to be extremely heavy, one of the reports of the Bureau of Plant Industry of the United States department of Agriculture, placing the loss at approximately 75 per cent of the crop.

Mr. Ensign pointed out that the greatest disease that affects the tomato is the nailhead rust, which not only does the damage from its effects but also puts the tomato in such a condition as to open it for other diseases that produce decay.

THIRD VENIRE IS ORDERED IN TRIAL OF W. D. SHEPHERD

Work of Selecting Jury To Try Alleged Poison Murderer Drags Slowly; Jury Tampering Charge Pending

CHICAGO, May 27.—The Shepherd trial at adjournment Tuesday and itself set back a week through the disqualification of one of the four jurors sworn last Friday. Three jurors, one venireman tentatively passed by both sides, and seven who had not been examined, occupied the jury box at adjournment today, after eight days of questioning had resulted in 189 veniremen excused from jury duty. The third special venire of one hundred men was in court yesterday.

Harold Hilliar, the youngest of the four young jurors sworn in last Friday, discovered overnight that he was biased against the state, and was opinionated and was prejudiced against capital punishment. As a result the 22-year-old chauffeur was ordered dropped from the panel by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

In qualifying, Hilliar had met the requirements of the prosecution that a juror be willing to vote the death penalty on circumstantial evidence, in the case against W. D. Shepherd, accused of using typhoid germs and subtle poisons to slay his 21-year-old foster son, William N. McClintock, so that he might obtain the youth's estate of approximately $1,500,000.

Twice during the day William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, defense counsel, sought to have Judge Lynch direct the state's attorney, Robert E. Crowe, to drop his investigation of alleged jury tampering at least during the Shepherd trial.

Judge Lynch ruled with the prosecutor, however, that the excluded veniremen no longer were wards of the court and that the state's attorney or the defense counsel, were privileged to summon the veniremen for interrogation as to possible efforts at "fixing."

Mr. Crowe continued to call in discharged veniremen, his aides questioning more than two scores, but no jury tampering was uncovered.

In the one tangible case of alleged jury tampering, the next step is due today when counsel for James Callan accused of having "approached" a venireman in the interest of Shepherd, must make written replies to twenty-three questions of the state's attorney.

The suit brought by the Van Patten Agency, was instituted as a counteraction against the committee, which sued the agency for the accounting of $30,000 alleged to have been advanced by the committee for advertising in presidential campaign last year. Women Who Desire Beauty Are Told To Shun Tobacco By Expert On Diet

LONDON, May 26.—Tobacco used by women has a tendency to destroy their daintiness, according to Dr. Cecil Webb-Johnson, one of England's best known specialists on diet and obesity, in his new book "Women and Beauty." Health and beauty go hand in hand, declares the author, and a grave warning is given to women smokers and drinkers, his theory being that it is difficult for the women of today, and men as well, to smoke or drink within what ordinarily is termed moderation.

"A man often will have his allotted daily ration of so many pipes, cigars or cigarettes, but a woman is more unstable and less capable of self-control than a man," the author contends. As a rule, he believes, a woman smoker does not bear to know what moderation means, any more than a woman drinker.

Concerning the effect of excessive cigarette smoking upon a woman's beauty the doctor says: "Observe a girl who smokes excessively, and you will notice that she also looks undernourished, with staring eyes and a yellowish skin. To make matters worse the smoke-dried throat experiences a false thirst, and thus more liquid than is necessary is consumed and an alcohol habit set up. The cock-tail and the cigarette always go together."

Alcohol generally, Dr. Webb-Johnson maintains, spoils beauty in woman because it makes superfluous fat.

Mrs. John W. Kee entertained with a very delightful bridge party and miscellaneous shower Tuesday afternoon at her home on Oak Avenue honoring Miss Sarita Lake. The rooms were attractively decorated with flowers in the rainbow colors and asparagus fern while the lights were shaded with pink covers and ferns. FIXING PRICE OF WHEAT INCREASE CONSUMER COST

Noted Economist Says Through Farmer Profited, the Public Had to Pay More for Grain; Report Approved by Hoover

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Government price fixing on wheat during the war with Germany, far from reducing the return to the American farmer which he might have obtained in a free market, increased the selling price and multiplied it against influences which would have held it on a lower level, it is declared in an official publication by Dr. Frank M. Surface, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and reviewed and approved by Secretary Hoover. Dr. Surface, who was economist of the United States Grain Corporation which handled the war job controlling breadstuff prices and distribution, has revealed some hitherto undisclosed steps by the grain corporation in carrying out its policy.

Dr. Surface said that the grain corporation during 1919 sought almost entirely to hold up grain prices and as Mr. Hoover noted the introduction, got on what a later would term "the bull side of the wheat market" to the extent of $500,000,000. The war time attempt was as much to hold up the price of wheat, the document is deemed to show, as it was to stabilize and prevent speculation that might have mulcted even to great extent the consumer of the United States and its allies in the war.

On "Bull" Side.
With Mr. Hoover's comment and Dr. Surface's statistic exhibits, the only undertakes to show that European allies, having been two or three times caught by sharp price increases in the American markets which came about after the actual reducing farmer had marketed his holdings, were in 1917 prepared to effectively to control the situation. By centralizing their buying and exercising absolute control over the only markets for export wheat, they were prepared to make a price in the United States hold a level of about $1.50 a bushel in 1917. When the American government named a figure of $2.20 a bushel, and enforced it, the European combination was compelled to submit. Notwithstanding, as the war progressed, sopping up the world's shipping resources, the nations available to the southern hemisphere producers of Argentina, Australia and India grew less and less adequate. The result was a gradual accumulation of a surplus wheat in storage there.

In 1919, consequently, with the ease of shipping from troop and munitions transport, a flood of this comeback grain was turned loose. The American price would have been utterly shot to pieces, Dr. Surface concludes, illustrating facts by studies of the available stocks, had not the grain corporation stepped into the breach, keeping unhesitatingly all offers.

Miss Alice M. Swett Donates Park Site To Orange County

ORLANDO, Fla., May 28.—Orange county's chain of parks has just been augmented by another plot of ground donated by Miss Alice M. Swett, of Plymouth, to be named Wenworth Park in honor of her mother. The plot is located in the triangular area on the outskirts of Plymouth. This announcement was made by Kari Ohman, secretary of the Orange county Chamber of Commerce.

According to Mr. Lehman, the land will be beautified and will become a part of the chain of beauty spots and resting places now being built throughout the county. There are now eleven tracts of lands in the county which have been or soon will be donated to the county for park purposes, the secretary stated. The tracts vary in size from small plots to eight and ten acre tracts.

The Orange county beautification work has been steadily advancing, Mr. Lehman says, until today there is no county in the state that excels it in the quantity and excellence of its beautification work.

EPWORTH LEAGUE CONVENTION WILL BE HELD IN MIAMI

For First Time In History of Organization Two Branches of Methodism Will Be Represented in the Meeting

MIAMI, May 28.—For the first time in the history of the organization, members of the Epworth League from both branches of Methodism, North and South, will meet together in the eastern United States when the annual assembly of the Florida Conference Epworth League (South) and the St. John's River Epworth League Institute (North) takes place here June 15 and 19, inclusive.

While it is understood, according to Angus Williams, of Tampa, president of the Florida Conference Epworth League, that such joint sessions have been held in the Pacific Coast Region, this is the first time that the two organizations have met together in any other section of the country. The League was not organized when the church split over the question of slavery before the Civil War.

The two organizations will have joint class work, platform and recreational hours, but will meet separately for their business sessions. The headquarters of the meeting, which will be known as the assembly-institute, will be maintained at Trinity Church and the class room work and business meetings will be held in Trinity and White temple churches.

The combined strength of Methodism in Miami, representing the two branches, will come together for the entertainment of the visiting Leaguers and the Harvard plan of entertainment will be used, under plans announced by president of the Southern body. This means, he said, that church members will furnish rooms and breakfast free to the delegates, while the latter will be required to turn in dinner and the evening meal. Members of Trinity Church, however, will sell meal tickets and will serve the noon and evening meals in the large church basement, so that all may be together during the meal hour. During this time, the various delegates, principally representing unions, will have their pep songs, yells and stunts. The faculty of the assembly-institute will be drawn from the two branches of Methodism, Harold Smith, of St. Petersburg, president of the Northern organization and Rev. H. W. Blackburn, of Miami Beach, dean of the Florida Conference Epworth League assembly, declare the faculty will be one of the strongest that has been assembled for an assembly or institute work in any state. A daily program calls for sunrise prayer meetings, and morning class work and recreational periods. The business sessions will be held from 12 o'clock to 1 p. m. After this a period for Quiet Hour for a rest and study will be observed. Each afternoon from 3 o'clock until 4:30 o'clock will be given over to directed recreation, with the exception of Wednesday afternoon, when the annual election of officers will take place. Special addresses during the meeting include those by Bishop William N. Ainsworth, of Macor, Ga., who presides over the Florida conference church, of Tuesday evening; Dr. B. J. Thomas, St. Augustine, Fla., Wednesday evening, and Rev. Garfield Evans, Epworth League missionary to Cuba, Friday evening.

State Plant Board To Meet June 8

GAINESVILLE, May 26.—The State Plant Board has called a hearing on June 8 at Gainesville to consider the question of modifying, extending or rescinding the present quarantine regulations applying to the movement of citrus nursery stock from areas infested with scaly bark.

Recent investigations by the board have shed new lights on the disease, which has heretofore been more or less puzzling. Representations by growers have also been considered in issuing the call, the board says.

Dade City—Bank of Pasco will spend $20,000 remodeling quarters.
