DCT Club To Be Formed At SHS

Three Youths Are Taken Into Custody For Stealing Jeep

Louis Girard, coordinator of the Diversified Cooperative Training Program, said this morning that a "D. C. T. Club" will be organized at Seminole High School during the first weeks of the school year.

Girard said that all members of the D. C. T. program at the high school will be members of the club.

"Because the student-learner works in the afternoon, his schedule does not permit participation in many of the extra-curricular activities of the school," he said.

"Therefore, the need for some social activity based on mutual interest is necessary," Girard added. This problem, he said, is met by organizing local clubs having a wide variety of activities.

Explaining the purpose of the D. C. T. Club, Girard said that during the year the club has dances, picnics, plans radio and TV programs for local stations, as well as assembly programs for the school.

The organization is expected to take part in civic and school projects closely related to the community such as Red Cross, TB Association, March of Dimes, and other similar efforts.

"Once a year the club members attend a District meeting of all D. C. T. clubs in their district. At that time district officers are elected and they also participate in the election of a district representative to the State Convention, Girard pointed out.

A chosen location there is a yearly state convention which will be held this year in Miami. Each club selects two delegates from its members for this convention.

There are now over 100 clubs in the State which are grouped together into the Florida State Federation of D. C. T. Clubs.

The local club elects its own officers. However, its constitution and by-laws must be submitted to the State Districtive Cooperative Education Section where they are either approved or disapproved by the Executive Board of the State Federation of D. C. T. Clubs.

One of the most important activities of the club is the annual employer-employee banquet, which serves to (1) express to their employers the appreciation for their participation in the training program (2) give employers a better idea of the job which they and the school are doing (3) bring about a better understanding among employers, school and student learners. (4) and provide a practical learning situation for the students.

For a better understanding by the parents, an "open house" is also held by the club with exhibits and study materials set up showing what the class is accomplishing and the scope of the student training.

Girard extends an invitation to all juniors and seniors to visit the new D. C. T. room at the high school which will be open from now until the school opening. Any questions, said Girard, concerning the program may be asked at any time. Girard may be reached at the high school personally or by calling 378 or 704.

Big 3 Will Offer Plan To Egypt

LONDON (AP)—The Western Big Three determined today to wind up the conference to agree on four or five governments to approach Egyptian President Nasser as a committee in an effort to set the stage for direct negotiations.

"We hope to wind up the conference today," an American Embassy spokesman said.

The West plans to hand Nasser a full report on the discussions during the eight-day closed parity — including the opposing Indian plan supported by Russia, Ceylon and Indonesia. This would leave actual control of the waterway in Egypt's hands, with an international board set up only to advise the Egyptians.

Egypt's reported threat to hold up British and French ships using the canal stunned conference delegates. An official of the nationalized canal board set up by Nasser was quoted as threatening to delay the ships if Frenchmen and Englishmen working as canal pilots quit their jobs.

The British and French Cabinets were called into special sessions to deal with what appeared a new crisis building up.

U.S. Asks Britain To Seek Details About Plane's Fate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is asking Britain to find out whether Red China has any information on the fate of a Navy patrol plane which is missing off the China Coast after an attack by unidentified aircraft.

Britain has diplomatic relations with Red China; the United States does not.

The State Department acted after receiving a formal report from Navy headquarters here that a Martin P4M Mercator with four officers and 12 enlisted men aboard had been attacked at 11:25 a. m. Thursday, local time, north of Formosa while over international waters.

State Department press officer Joseph Reap issued this statement:

"Our Navy authorities have published a preliminary report of the U.S. Navy patrol plane said to be missing and unaccounted for apparently after an attack by unidentified aircraft.

"We have been informed by the Department of Defense that the commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet has undertaken an immediate air and surface search for the plane and survivors.

"The Department of State is endeavoring to obtain whatever information it can regarding the incident and will take such steps as may be indicated after the facts are ascertained."

Highway Group Okays 6-Point Approach To Road Problems

$5 Million Program Proposed

A six-point approach to the present road problems and needs of Seminole County was approved last night at a meeting of the Citizens' Long Range Highway Planning Committee held at Jim Spencer's Restaurant.

John Krider, Sanford City Commissioner and Seminole County Commissioner-elect, proposed "We undertake an overall highway plan for the entire county projecting our needs into the future at least ten years."

In addition, Krider proposed that the program be financed by a bond issue that would total as much as five million dollars.

Krider again brought up for discussion by the Long Range Highway Planning group the proposal that a short route to Ovidio from Sanford be built by using a causeway over Lake Jesup.

Also approved last night by the group, was an invitation to the State Road Board to hold their next meeting in Sanford. William A. Kratzer will extend the invitation to the State Road Board group meeting this weekend in South Florida.

Bruiley Odham, chairman of the Citizens Long Range Highway Planning Committee said last night as the road needs of the county, in every section, were discussed "We should hold meetings with people in every community of the county, Longwood, Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Ovidio, Geneva, Lake Mary." Odham proposed such a meeting so that "we could say people, what do we need in roads for this county?"

Members of the group will be held each month and the membership of the committee will be revised to its full strength. New members of the committee suggested at last night's discussions included Representative Gordon V. Frederick; J. Dan Wright, Warren E. Knowles, Sanford City Manager; Captain Robert W. Jackson, Commanding Officer, NAS; and the Naval Air Station's Public Works Officer.

The state of proposals adopted at the Wednesday night meeting of the committee included:

1—A proposal to contact immediately the appropriate parties of the Seminole County Commission, District Road Board member, and the District Office of the State Road Department and do all that is necessary to get the remainder of Highway 17-92 under construction.

2—A resolution to contact the District Road Board member and request an immediate report on the status of State Road 46 and to request an early letting of the contract.

3—To request that a route be designated on State Road 46 from Mellonville Ave to tie in with the west end of the county. It was proposed that the District Road Board member and the State Road Board be requested to consider the request of a route from Mellonville Ave. west to the Wokiva River bridge.

4—Senator Douglas Stenstrom proposed to the committee that they endorse a request the building of a new bridge across the St. Johns River on State Road 415 to tie in with State Road 46 and tie to Celery Ave. be widened under heavy maintenance, to 24 feet within a 60 foot right of way.

5—The committee also endorsed a program to widen Sanford Ave to the Sanford Naval Air Station.

6—The committee proposed that the Orange County Board of Commissioners be requested to pave the three miles of red brick road from the Orange County line to Stat. Road 50 due to the fact that a large number of Seminole County residents, working at Patrick Air Force Base, use that route as the shortest distance to their work.

"It is time to start planning roads into 17-92 to develop the west side of the county," Chairman Bruiley Odham told the committee as they discussed the overall picture of the road needs in each section of the county.

The next meeting of the Citizens' Long Range Highway Planning Committee, slated for September, will bring the Mayor and leading citizens of all of Seminole County's communities together to plan a comprehensive road program.

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Richard M. Nixon

Ike Will Accept Nomination, Put Record On Line Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Eisenhower goes before the Republican National Convention today to accept nomination for a second term and put his administration's record on the line in the campaign against the Democrats.

Fortified by a unanimous vote of wildly cheering delegates in his reelection bid, he is scheduled to go to the Cow Palace rostrum and before a nationwide radio-television audience just after the convention hears Vice President Nixon, who will return to San Francisco today from Whittier, Calif.

Eisenhower said in announcing his availability for another term last Feb. 29 that as far as he was concerned the main issue of the campaign would be the record of his first term. And aides said in advance of his address today that his emphasis will be right on that point—the record.

It's a record Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, and his colleagues sharply assailed at their party convention in Chicago last week. It's a record the Republicans have been praising loudly here all this week.

Eisenhower told his news conference, "I have answered criticism in my life, and that he feels the opposition attack will do nothing "but rebound upon the people who make it."

Immediately after the convention adjourns the President will leave by special train for three or four days of golf and general relaxation at the plush Cypress Point Club on the Monterey Peninsula, about 125 miles south of San Francisco. He will fly back to Washington early next week.

Renomination of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket put the President in a jovial mood. After watching the balloting on TV in his St. Francis Hotel suite with family members and friends, he made a brief visit last night to Civic Auditorium, where Major George Christopher was host at a ball marking the 100th anniversary of both the Republican party and the city of San Francisco.

Accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, the President got a rousing ovation before switching on his TV set to watch the convention proceedings. Eisenhower visited in his suite for about five minutes with former President Herbert Hoover. He also got in an afternoon nap as recommended by his doctors.

At his news conference, Eisenhower said he now feels "about as good as ever" 24 months after undergoing major abdominal surgery and his heart attack of last Sept. 24.

A HOLLYWOOD THEATRE managed to latch on to an "important" part in a great screen epic. The director was an exacting executive with an unlimited bankroll, so the projected two months shooting schedule stretched out to four months, then to six. Finally the bored "actress" inquired plaintively of a columnist, "Say, who do you think I'd have to romance to get out of this darn picture?"

On The House

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor
Doors in houses are getting to be foolish extravaganzas. Of course, we need a front door and a back door, but the space used by swinging doors inside the house is a perpetually expensive item. It not only is costly to build, but it robs you of usable space for the rest of your life in that house. No doors in some places and sliding doors in others can give you much more house for your money.

The big grower cooperative said about 6 1/2 million boxes of oranges from the 1935-36 crop will go into chilled juice. About 4,800,000 boxes of the 1934-35 crop went into this new product.

Quiz Winners Are Having Big Week

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—Let us note the fact that an 11-year-old winner of $100,000 on a TV quiz program has been seriously questioned about the price of coffee in Brazil.

Leonard Ross, the young financial wizard who won that amount on "Big Surprises" which returns to NBC-TV next month, had barely recovered his breath from platform participation in the Democratic National Convention with young Gloria Lockerman, a CBS-TV $64,000 question winner, when he opened a letter from Sao Paulo Brazil.

"In view of your understanding of finance," a prominent Rotarian named Senor Alavaro Queros Filho wrote Leonard in Tujungo, Calif., "what would you tell us as to whether the present price of coffee is high in the view of the American housewife?"

While Leonard is pondering his answer, which should not take him long, let's see how fame and fortune continued to dog the path of quiz winners.

Take the case of the lawyer Egan brothers, James and William, of Hartford, Conn., whose extraordinary knowledge of everything from baseball to ballet, won them a pot of jack on the $64,000 Question a while back. Today they're bonding up to answer another $64,000 question on The $64,000 Challenge CBS-TV next Sunday night.

William, by the way, now has his own quiz program on a Hartford station. James is resisting pressure to run for Congress.

Due to appear on the same program Sunday is Mrs. Ida M. Sherburne, 76, whose knowledge of horse racing won her $16,000 on the big question.

Apparently there's something about winning on quiz programs that stirs humans to composition. The clack of their typewriters was heard in many parts of the country this week.

Marine Corps Capt. Richard E. McCutchen, who won it all on the big question and won again on the challenge, is finishing writing a cook book. Michael O'Hanlon, New York policeman and Shakespearean authority, hopes to have

GB. Lugosi Famous Dracula Dies At 73

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bela Lugosi, famous of his portrayal of the "Dracula" on stage and screen, and only recently conqueror of himself after 17 years of drug addiction, died late yesterday of natural causes. He was 73.

After a long and active career in motion pictures, the Hungarian-born actor surrendered himself to Los Angeles authorities last year, saying he was a hopeless drug addict and wanted a chance of rehabilitation. He said he had started taking demerol in England in 1938 and never had been able to completely free himself from the use of drugs in one form or another.

He was treated for three months at the nearby metropolitan state hospital in Norfolk, then passed a rigid examination and was released to resume his film career. His last role was in the movie "The Black Sleep."

Director Leroy Says 'Bad Seed' Great Love Story

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Director Markyn Leroy, who believes every successful movie must be a love story, calls "The Bad Seed" the greatest love story he's ever made.

Now that's pretty controversial—even for Leroy. "The Bad Seed" is all about an eight-year-old girl who commits three particularly gruesome murders without valid reason—and a shocking lack of remorse.

It's such a shocker that for the first time in Hollywood history, Warner Bros. is recommending an "Adults Only" label for a movie about a child.

I saw the movie all alone the other day in a projection room. Frankly, it scared me—although, as a work of motion picture art, it's Academy Award bound.

"It's a great love story—the greatest I ever made," Leroy said. "It's the love of a mother for a daughter she knows is a sadistic killer. It tears your heart out to see what that mother goes through when she finds out that her only child is a killer—a child she can't stop loving no matter what."

The "Adults Only" tag is applied and enforced in many European countries but it has never worked here. One top Warner executive explains their unprecedented recommendation came after private showings to civic groups, notably the Chicago police commission.

"We personally had considered it an adult picture and wanted only official confirmation to make our recommendations to theatre owners stronger," the executive added.

"The Bad Seed" works on the premise that the daughter of a notorious slayer can miss the criminal traits—in fact, abhor violence—but the abnormality will crop up in the granddaughters.

One cheerful note, Nancy Kelly, who was pretty much wasted by Hollywood in B pictures when she was out here years ago, emerges as an Oscar favorite in the role of the mother. She created the same role on the stage.

Footnotes to Fashion

News About Hats . . . Femininity has come back in style in the new fall hats, one of the newest styles being an all-feather hat, to be worn for both daytime and evening. They're also making beautiful picture hats of ostrich plumes, draped velvet or satin, tulle and lace, designed to make every woman start dreaming of dining out in exclusive restaurants and night clubs. Hats for less formal occasions show a marked pre-World War I influence. These are also fashioned of ostrich feathers, satins, velvets and fluffy felts, but the brims are not so wide as are those of the hats designed for evening wear. These hats are meant to be worn resting lightly on the head serving to emphasize rather than draw attention away from the slim and simple clothes silhouettes.

Even everyday hats will be pretty and feminine, featuring bloused crowns with practically no brims, and toques and turbans fashioned of wool jersey and velvet with novelty fabrics, feathers, furs and even leather being draped and manipulated as softly as felt.

All styles are designed to show the brow and should be worn tilted back off the face. . . . The Millinery Institute of America reports that, according to leading hat designers the woman who wears glasses should not worry about what hat styles can be worn with glasses, but only with whether or not the design of her eyeglass frames matches the design of her hat.

They say that you should own two or three different types of frames, so that you will always be appropriately dressed. With sportswear you should wear sturdy, practical frames in either a bold dark design or a brightly-colored plastic according to the size and shape of your face. With these should be worn a very simple hat in an unusual color.

For daytime wear light, decorative frames are most suitable and may be worn with a curved-brim hat, draped velvet, fur-trimmed felt or even a feather toque.

Silver or gold-colored metal and rhinestone frames are perfect for that evening out and should be worn with a small hat of a rich fabric or a picture hat trimmed with black and white ostrich plumes.

Now here are a few tips for you schoolgirls who want to be sweet and pretty for those "back to school" dances which you will be attending soon. Choose a hair do that is soft, easy-to-manage and becoming to you.

By all means select your own hairdo, but don't spurn advice or suggestions from your mother or your hairdresser. Have your hair professionally cut and shaped to give it that smooth, well-groomed look then do your own shampooing and setting. A hairdo that can be worn several different ways will probably be most satisfactory.

Husk fresh corn; wrap each ear in a piece of aluminum foil. Put the packages in a pressure saucpan with half a cup of water and pressure cook three to five minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Next time you broil tomatoes, sprinkle the cut halves with sugar as well as salt and pepper. Extra good flavor!

French-fried potatoes, taken from the freezer, usually need about an hour in a moderate oven for heating.

Miss Betty Odham Guest Of Honor At 'Hanky' Shower

Miss Betty Odham, age eight, was honored with a handkerchief shower, Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. A. R. Pinkerton, 1911 Magnolia Ave. The event was sort of a "going-away" party, as Miss Odham is leaving the neighborhood to move into her new home in Grove Menon.

The little girl, whose ages ranged from five to ten, dressed up in their mothers' dresses and shoes for a "hen party."

Card tables, centered with hibiscus from the Pinkerton garden, were set up on the front porch and the "ladies" played "Snap," "Crazy Eight" and "Old Maid."

No prizes were given but the girls all received favors of candy. The small guests were then served a lunch of sandwiches and punch.

Invited to be with the honoree were Miss Paula Egan, Miss Mollie Householder, Miss Anna Fells, Miss Josephine Lee, Miss Elizabeth Ann Sweetney, Miss Bonita Nobles, Miss Sylvia Williams, Miss Sherilyn Williams, Miss Martha Johnson, Miss Sarah Smith and Miss Cassie Louise Pinkerton.

Pep up those baked beans! Add 2 tablespoons of minced onion, 1 tablespoon of molasses, a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce and 1-4 teaspoon dry mustard to a 1-pound can. Mix well and bake in a hot oven until heated through.

French-fried potatoes, taken from the freezer, usually need about an hour in a moderate oven for heating.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

WITH THE approach of May, Michael ran hard in order, he returned, to stay in one place. Colonel Wholley, in command of Washington volunteers, drove him with routine and orders.

He used the war as an excuse for avoiding the Linden home. Charlotte phoned him a couple of times, and then left him alone. Ryerson was a frequent guest at the Linden although now there was little heated about snow and ice trains. Apparently this project had fallen victim to the war.

Michael was a block from his office one afternoon when the Linden carriage overtook him and Charlotte leaned precariously from it.

"Get in, Michael. I must talk to you. Now!" She lifted her voice toward the coachman. "Drive us home, please."

Michael protested but Charlotte brushed him in a forthright manner totally out of character. Her refusal to discuss the coachman's ears, noted Charlotte's smile of malice.

Charlotte squashed his tentative conversation. "Wait till we're home. I want no eavesdroppers." Michael saw the coachman's ears nodding, noted Charlotte's smile of malice.

They elated to Capitol Hill at a brisk pace. What on earth was up with Charlotte? Surely Barclay wasn't missing? No, a dozen years wouldn't drag Barclay from his bank. The knowledge was subtly assisting to Michael. Barclay had money, true; he had Charlotte, regrettable; but he had neither youth nor vigor. Michael's envy, his enduring resentment dwindled to nothing.

Ordinarily Charlotte's alighting from a carriage was a pretty picture. Today she barely waited for Michael's aid. She sped up the long steps to the front door.

"The in the parlor, Fon." She stripped off her gloves, let Michael take her coat. "Wine, Michael? Bourbon?"

"Why," he said, surprised, "bourbon, please."

What was wrong with Charlotte? In the parlor, she leaned against the cold fireplace, her body tense. When Fon appeared with his tray, she dismissed him, asked Michael to pour her a drink. She sat down, touched Michael's hand. Now she drained her glass quickly and sank into a chair. Her fingers drummed at it.

"What's wrong, Charlotte?"

Charlotte was explosive. "Are you really going to war?"

"Any day now."

"Michael," she said, "don't go."

"Why, Lotty," he answered gently.

Some Starting To Doubt Braves Will Win Race

MILWAUKEE (U)—Experienced baseball men, who have been on the Braves' bandwagon since they left the East in first place a month ago, are now beginning to doubt whether Milwaukee will win the National League pennant.

Only two days ago, Manager Bill Rigney of the New York Giants unequivocally picked the Braves to beat out Brooklyn and Cincinnati. Yesterday, after his cellar-dwelling outfit had managed to salvage the finale of the three-game series here 2-1, he changed his mind.

"I'm not so sure now that Milwaukee will win it," Rigney said. "Those guys seem to be on edge. They don't seem to have that certain fire that a first-place team should have. They talk kind of funny too, as if they're not so sure themselves they can win it."

Visiting newspapermen who have joined the Braves' caravan during the past few days compared the Braves' behavior to that of the Dodgers in 1951 and the Indians in 1954 when both lost the flag after holding leads late in September.

"It looks like the Braves are beginning to feel the pressure," one said. "They're looking over their shoulder. They clam up when you ask them if they expect to win. But they want to know how the Dodgers look. They give me the impression they expect to see the Dodgers pull even with them any day now."

Bud Smith Is Only Quarter-Pound Over Lightweight Limit

NEW ORLEANS (U)—Lightweight champion Wallace Bud Smith today dispelled any fears that he would be unable to make weight for tomorrow night's title defense against Joe Brown of New Orleans.

The 27-year-old titleholder from Cincinnati lipped the scales at 135½ before today's workout, only a quarter-pound over the lightweight limit. And trainer Adolph Ritacco said Smith "can sneeze that much off."

Big Lou Viscusi, always a fast man with a word, charged earlier this week that Smith was dodging a date with the scales because he was far over the stipulated limit. The State Athletic Commission ordered both Negro fighters to take a preliminary checkup Monday, but neither man was asked to step on the scales.

Viscusi said the 30-year-old Brown, long awaiting a crack at the crown in 10 years of campaigning, was "only a pound or so over" and would come in around 134½ by official weight time at noon tomorrow.

Neither man has been able to muster enough solid support to rate a decided edge in favoritism. Smith has been impressive at times in gym workouts, particularly with a heavy left hook that has heralded lullaby chimes for opponents in 18 of his 33 victories.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ALL DOG OWNERS

COMMENCING ON AUG. 27, 1956, THE DOG CATCHER WILL PICK UP AND IMPOUND ALL DOGS FOUND RUNNING AT LARGE WITHOUT A TAG CERTIFYING THEY HAVE BEEN VACCINATED FOR RABIES FOR YEAR 1956. AND WITHOUT A CITY LICENSE TAG FOR YEAR 1956. IF IT IS IMPRACTICAL TO CATCH SUCH DOGS FOR THE PURPOSE OF IMPOUNDMENT, THE DOG CATCHER WILL KILL THEM.

ALL DOGS IMPOUNDED WILL BE DISPOSED OF AFTER TEN DAYS, IF NOT REDEEMED.

Under the provisions of City Ordinance, all dogs are required to be vaccinated against rabies, and a City license tag obtained therefor, not later than May 1st of each year, and the vaccination and license tags worn on their harness or collar.

This requirement is not to produce revenue for the City but to protect the health and welfare of its citizens against the dreadful and infectious disease of rabies, which is spread by dogs, and fatal to humans as well as animals.

Therefore, since a number of dog owners have not complied with the foregoing requirements, it has become necessary for the City to employ a dog catcher to enforce this law.

Rebels Are Going Nowhere In Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Montgomery is going nowhere in the Southern Assn.'s steaming pennant scramble, but the Rebels are making it tough for New Orleans to hold on to fourth place.

The Rebs got some fine pitching from Hooks Iott, Chuck Fowler and Bill Voiselle last night and took two from the dangerous Pels 6-3 and 5-2.

FOUR BOOSTER ROCKETS fall away from a guided missile propelled by a ram-jet engine. It was developed by Britain for use in tomorrow's airplanes. The boosters drop off after accelerating the engine to a speed of over 1,000 miles an hour. Shock waves can be seen ahead of the rockets and on both sides of the missile. The engine is most effective at about 1,500 miles an hour. A new speed record by an aircraft (booster) that starts out as a helicopter and converts itself into an airplane in midair was announced by the Air Research and Development Command headquarters in Baltimore, Md. The craft reached speeds of 300 miles an hour, exceeding the old helicopter figure by 46 miles an hour. It was first flight-tested in 1933.

Many Visit Palomar Telescope

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
PALOMAR OBSERVATORY, CALIF.

A mile high atop this granite mountain sits man's greatest window upon the universe—the 100-inch telescope, cool, gray, massive, fascinating.

It is a giant given the tender gaze accorded to a baby.

It is probing staggering distances across the ocean of space to solve some mysteries and crossing more.

This great telescope sees stars enough to fill thousands of them for every human who has ever lived. Each star is a sun, many far bigger than our own sun. Some seem, many astronomers believe, to be giving parents of planets or worlds peopled with life like ours.

This telescope sees star families estimated to be up to two billion light years distant. One light year is six trillion miles, the distance light travels in a year at a speed of 186,000 miles a second.

Even so it has not seen the edge of the universe. From what the big eye sees, there is some evidence the universe is three billion years old—and some evidence it may be as much as five or six billions.

It tells astronomers the universe is apparently still expanding, with the galaxies or milky ways all rushing away outward. The most distant ones seem to be speeding away at 40,000 miles a second.

But astronomers find some evidence that perhaps the rate of expansion is slowing down. If that be so, perhaps the universe will collapse, with ours and other galaxies all rushing back together to form one great atom billions of years from now, perhaps to explode again into a far flung universe.

But you cannot look through this telescope.

And it cannot tell us much more about the Moon or Mars or other nearby planets than much smaller telescopes can.

Every year about 100,000 visitors drive up the 15-mile winding road to the top of Palomar Mountain, 100 miles southeast of Los Angeles to see the telescope which explores by taking photographs or sensitive plates, usually with long exposures to gather far more light and to create clear images which the human eye could not see.

As for Mars or the Moon, the telescope cannot tell us much more than other telescopes, explains Dr. Ira S. Bowen, director of both the Palomar and Mt. Wilson observatories.

The main reason is the shimmering of light as it passes through our own earth's sea of air. This air creates turbulence like that you see over a hot stove or over a summertime highway.

Once in a while the seeing conditions would be good enough for wonderful shots of nearby planets.

But "you can't afford to have the big eye waiting on that night after night. It has far more important things to do," said Dr. Bowen.

The general public cannot come close to it. You can only look at it through the glass window of a gallery part way up the 125-foot-high dome that houses the telescope.

For the big eye would be ruined for its night work if the temperature inside the dome changed as much as five degrees during the day, as it would from the body heat of visitors and the influx of outdoor air by day.

That much temperature change would warp its mirror, 200 inches in diameter. It would take hours to adjust to the cold night air.

When a night's work is done, the slot in the dome is closed and the big room remains at almost exactly the night temperature throughout the day, changing only one or two degrees.

Even a small object, perhaps, only a paper book of matches, dropped the 65 or 70 feet from the observer's cage, could scratch the aluminum surface of the mirror enough to distort the image of distant galaxies. That would require removing the eye to put a new ultra-thin aluminum face on it.

The great telescope cost eight million dollars, donated by the International Education Board and The Rockefeller Foundation. Its glass eye was two years being cast at the Corning Glass Works.

It was 11½ years being polished and ground to precision—with interruptions during the war years—at the optical laboratory of the California Institute of Technology which owns and operates the telescope jointly with the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

The task of aiming the great telescope at some particular pinpoint in the reaches of space is compared with aiming a rifle and hitting a rolling penny 20 miles away. So delicately balanced is the great telescope that a small motor of only one-twelfth horsepower manages to swing the 530-ton scope. The mirror alone weighs 14½ tons.

Weather and visibility are good enough atop Palomar to permit the telescope to work 275 to 300 nights a year, either part of the night, or all night.

THE NEWLY COMPLETED Southern Bell Telephone Co.'s "Fairfax Two" building at Ninth St. and Laurel Ave. (Photo By Jameson)

New 'Fairfax Two' Bell Building Is Now Completed

The new "Fairfax 2" telephone building at Ninth St., and Laurel Ave., is now completed except for landscaping and minor interior work. Completion of this $205,000 structure represents a significant "point of progress" in conversion of the local telephone system to dial which was revealed today by Gordon J. Rothermel, Sanford-DeLand Group Manager for Southern Bell.

The tremendous job of installing the new long distance switchboards costing $104,500 and the new number five crossbar automatic dial switching equipment costing $378,000 will begin within ten days.

Rothermel stressed the fact that the local expansion program will provide more than just dial equipment. Between now and next March 17 additional cables will be extended into all sections of the exchange so that customers will be able to obtain promptly any desired class of service after the installation of the new switching equipment has been completed.

Construction of a new unattended automatic dial central office in De Bary, known as "North 8", will be completed in sufficient time to coordinate with installation of service here on March 17. Plans call for the "De Baryites" to be able to dial one another or directly into Sanford without additional charge. Additional cable facilities will also be installed in De Bary during the interim to provide all residents with the desired class of service.

Blind Negro Woman Is Charged With Murder

A 39-year-old blind Negro woman was bound over to Circuit Court this morning on a charge of first degree murder following a preliminary hearing held before Justice of the Peace W. Hugh Duncan.

Ida Mae Brown is charged with the kitchen-knife murder of Eddie Lee Worthington on Aug. 11 in a Negro cafe in the Goldboro area.

Worthington, alleged to be the husband of the blind Negro woman, was knifed in the throat by Ida Mae Brown in the Orange Blossom Cafe owned by Willis Bailey and located on Southwest Road. He died the day following the killing about noon at Seminole Memorial Hospital, according to Deputy Sheriff William L. Long, the Negro deputy who took the blind woman in to custody on the night of the slaying.

Two witnesses appeared at the preliminary hearing. Willis Bailey, owner of the cafe, was an eye witness and testified that Worthington was heard from the two State witnesses to have her "bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of first degree murder."

Ida Mae Brown was advised that the preliminary hearing was not a trial but was held, at her request, to determine if she had committed an offense of sufficient seriousness to be tried in Circuit Court. She was not represented by an attorney.

The blind woman was committed to the Seminole County jail following an order by Justice of the Peace W. Hugh Duncan that "she be held without bond on a charge of first degree murder until the Circuit Court convenes in November."

Jaycees Receive 'At Scene' Report Of Demo Confab

Volle A. Williams Jr., delegate to the Democratic National Convention from the State of Florida at large, gave the members of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce at their noon meeting yesterday at Jim Spencer's Restaurant, a word picture of the convention as it took place in Chicago last week.

Not only did the speaker give the Jaycees a veritable "at the scene" description of the convention but he pointed vividly to some of the political skirmishes that took place during the five-day Democratic event to gain top place in the nomination of the candidates for President and Vice President.

"To those who take their politics seriously," said Williams, "the Democratic National Convention was wonderful."

David Thrasher, program chairman for next week's meeting of the local Jaycees, said that a most interesting program has been arranged at which time the local group would hear from those who had participated in hurricane investigations and had flown into them. Thrasher said that Comdr. H. C. Cole, Executive Officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station and Lt. J. H. Allison, Station Aerologist, would be the speakers.

Final plans for next week's Jaycee Fishing Rodeo were given to the club members and complete committees announced by Fishing Rodeo chairman Jack Sewell.

Local FFA Chapter To Put On TV Show Tomorrow At Noon

The Seminole Future Farmers of America will be seen in a television show over WDBO-TV tomorrow at noon.

Entitled "Civil Defense" the television program will include Sgt. Burton Clyde, GOC representative, A. J. Clements, president, Billy Thompson, vice president, Roger Jimines, secretary, and Bill West, agriculture teacher of the Seminole High School FFA Chapter.

There will be a dance at the Elks Club in Sanford tomorrow night for members and friends.

Members are urged to attend the Saturday night event along with their friends and guests invited for the occasion.

Voting Machines To Be Used Nov. 6

More than two-thirds of the voters in Florida's Nov. 6 general election will express their choice for President on voting machines, which will include all of the precincts in Seminole County.

An Associated Press survey showed that 27 of the 67 counties, a record number, will use machines either countywide or in some of the larger boxes. Only the major precincts used voting machines in Seminole County in the primary elections but subsequent action by the County Commission placed them in all precincts.

Two other counties — Wakulla and Manatee — are holding referendums on the question.

There also is talk about formulating a plan at the 1957 Legislature for providing state financial help for counties which want to install machines but don't have adequate funds.

Although there has been more voting machines talk the past year than in any year since they first were employed in Florida in 1938.

The recent annual convention of the Florida Supervisor of Registration voted unanimously to endorse a proposal that voting machines be acquired by all counties.

Earl Sellers, publisher of the weekly Washington County News at Chipley, said he had discussed with Gov. Collins recently his plan for state aid to counties to buy machines. Funds would be distributed under a formula somewhat akin to the Minimum Foundation school plan on the basis of local effort and ability to pay.

Sellers said his idea was that many of the smaller counties were unable to find the funds to buy the machines and that the state could help.

Collins didn't express himself publicly on any particular plan for providing machines but he has said he would like to see them used statewide.

Most of the larger counties now use machines.

The secretary of state's office said the counties which had voting machines in the last primaries were:

Alachua, Broward, Dade, Duval, Escambia, Hillsborough, Leon, Marion, Monroe, Orange, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Polk, Sarasota, Seminole and Volusia.

James T. Landon, representative of the Shoup Voting Machine Co., said that to the best of his knowledge the counties which will be using voting machines the first time in November will include: Clay, St. Johns, Brevard, Martin, Okeechobee, Charlotte, Walton, Bay and Pasco.

Highlands also plans to use 10 machines in November and Jackson is making plans for using machines in some of the larger boxes.

St. Lucie is still undecided. Landon said counties which have been considering putting them in their budget for next year include Flagler, Nassau, Bradford and Baker. The machines cost $1,200 or more.

Proponents of machines contend that paper ballots leave the way open for cheating on the returns whereas the machines make it virtually impossible for returns to be altered.

Miss Hattie L. Coles, veteran Leon County registration supervisor, said that when the costs of hiring additional election inspectors and clerks are taken into account, it's no more expensive to operate voting machines than to use hand-written ballots.

Polio Shots Urged

With the opening of school less than two weeks away the Seminole County Health Unit today urges parents to be sure their children are immunized against polio before they start to school.

Dr. Terry Bird, County Health Officer said this morning that only about 30 per cent of the children have received the Salk polio vaccine shots. However, he said, this figure is about the average in the State.

Dr. Bird pointed out that the clinic is open on Tuesday and Friday for giving the polio vaccine injections from 8 to 11 a. m.

At the same time, he said, "We are examining children who are attending school for the first time and also giving the various immunization shots where necessary."

Commenting on the polio vaccine, Dr. Bird said "A lot more of the parents should take advantage of the opportunity to have the immunization shots against polio than are coming in for them."

"In Florida," says Dr. C. M. Sharp, director of Preventable Diseases, State Board of Health, "polio has several times in the past taken an upswing during the months of September and October. In 1954 polio started to rise sharply during the middle of September and reached an exceedingly high peak, the highest of the year, about the beginning of October."

It is felt, Dr. Sharp explains, that the return of children to schools and the increased danger of exposure to polio virus may have a definite bearing on this rise during the early fall months.

The polio situation in Florida is different from that of many other states, points out Dr. Sharp, in that there is such a long summer season and the months of September and October are usually hot.

There have been five deaths in Florida from polio during the first six months of this year, as compared to four deaths for the period of January through June in 1955. There have been fewer cases of polio, however, Bureau of Vital Statistics records show a total of 201 cases of polio reported up to August 17 of this year, as compared to 328 for the same period last year.

"With plenty of polio vaccine available, no parent should deny his child this important protection," states Dr. Sharp. "The federal Salk vaccine is still available to the eligible age group, 0-19 years and expectant mothers. Take your children to your private physician or local health department to receive their shots."

There are also ample supplies of Salk vaccine available through commercial channels for adults over 20 wishing to have this protection.

Marion Loses Case Against Higginbotham

A dispute over the keeping of domestic animals in Sanford between City Commissioner Earl Higginbotham and Paul C. Marion, a resident of the Wynwood section, came to a climax this morning when Judge Vassar Carlton handed down a decision and a final decree.

In a final hearing and an opinion by Judge Carlton of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, the order read that "equities of the case are with the defendant."

Judge Carlton said in the order that "The defendant has not violated any of the ordinances of the city of Sanford relating to the keeping of domestic animals nor has he violated any of the laws of the State of Florida relating to the keeping of domestic animals."

The Judge, in his order also said "The Plaintiff's right to relief based upon the defendant's maintaining a nuisance injurious to health was not proved by the preponderance of evidence."

The long standing argument between the two men was brought to a climax by a final decree also signed and issued this morning by Judge Carlton in which he ordered "the case dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff."

The defendant, Earl Higginbotham, was represented by Volle A. Williams Jr., and the plaintiff by Attorney R. W. Ware and Edgar Waybright of Jacksonville.

Board Has Special Session

The Board of Public Instruction of Seminole County in special session this morning adopted rules and regulations for implementing the pupil assignment law passed by the Special Session of the 1956 Legislature.

The Board stated that each child enrolled in the public schools of Seminole County in the School Year 1956-57 is assigned for the School Year 1956-57 to the school which he or she attended during the last school term, except those children which by promotion are required to attend a different school, and such children so promoted are assigned to the school which they would have attended last year had they been so promoted, and also except those children which in the School Year 1956-57 attended a Seminole County School outside of the attendance area designated by the Board of Public Instruction as serving a particular school. Those children are assigned to the school serving their designated attendance area.

The School Board will assign to a school for the 1956-57 School Year each qualified child not heretofore attending a school by assignment from this Board whose parent applies for admission of such child. Application for admission shall be made on forms approved by the Board and made available at the various schools. Application will be made to the school serving his or her designated attendance area.

The Board expressly reserves the right to change the assignment of any pupil at any time whenever in the opinion of the Board upon consideration of the facts set forth in the pupil assignment law, such reassignment would be in accord with the intent and purpose of said law.

The Board strongly urges that each child register on Wednesday, Aug. 23, in order that all registration forms may be properly processed before the opening of school on Sept. 4. Failure to register on Wednesday may delay the attendance of a child to school for several days.

In other action by the School Board at this morning's special session, two buses for the transportation of children to the Jaycee Fishing Rodeo next Wednesday was approved.
