GOD'S SERVANTS
God's servants go from the mountaintop of rare spiritual experience and priceless fellowship of the Christian Church and join the multitude. They do not watch the multitude; they become individuals in the multitude. The holy seek amid the crowd. Is not the greatest need of our day a vivid realization that life is one piece and that the sacred must be expressed and applied in secular life, that life is an interplay of the permanent in the passing?—Ernest Brown.

Men Do Not Know How Much Energy Housework Takes

Housework to anyone but a housewife is just another necessary chore that takes just a short time with a minimum of effort. Many men don't realize what a hard job housework really is and what a great amount of energy it takes. Mrs. U. E. Moneus, 66-year-old great-grandmother, who has been doing her housework for 40 years, says she can't feel up to doing her housework, but now, since she is taking HADACOL, she is able to do her housework without a note of trouble. Mrs. Moneus found that HADACOL, a synthetic Vitamin B1, B2, B6, and C, which her system lacked.

Mrs. Moneus says: "I was weak, run-down, nervous and food didn't taste with me like it should. It gave me indigestion. And I had rheumatism. I heard about HADACOL and the radio and how it had helped people who felt like I did. I had aches and pains, too, and I was just a mess. After I started taking HADACOL, and after the third bottle I could feel I was a lot better. I have had 18 bottles of HADACOL and I feel so good. I can do my housework and I am no longer nervous and I have my appetite. I am no longer run-down and I have my energy back. I have been relieved so much."

Wonju Falls To Red Hordes As Fiercely Fighting Allies Retreat Toward Pusan Port

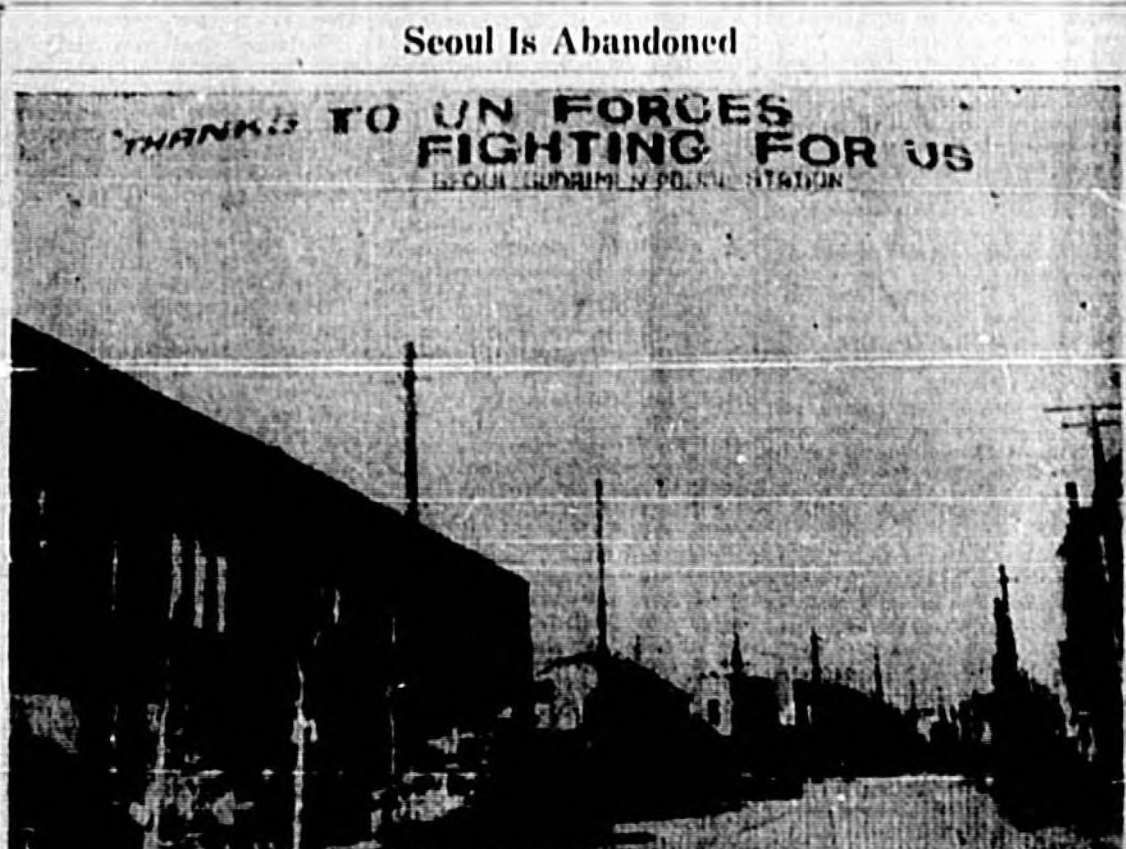

Key Rail Hub Yielded To Matted Force Of Seven Relentless Communist Armies

TOKYO, Jan. 8.—(AP)— Allied rearguard forces yielded the ruins of Wonju to an overwhelming horde of Chinese and North Korean Reds today after a bitter holding action that brought previous times.

Red troops entered the burning road and rail center as U. N. forces withdrew to new positions. The Allies had fought fiercely for the city, 55 miles southeast of Seoul, to buy time for the main body of U. N. forces to retreat southwestward from Seoul on the road leading to the southeast port of Pusan.

Wonju's defenders battled Saturday, Sunday and Sunday night to keep the Red hordes from sweeping into the gateway city to the heart of South Korea. A web of roads lead from Wonju into the interior.

Seoul Is Abandoned

Withdrawing U. N. Tanks Pass Under Seoul Banner. Crusader tanks, which fought a rearguard action in abandoned Seoul, get a final and ironic look at a banner which welcomed United Nations victors last September. While the slogan, "Thanks to U. N. Forces Fighting for Us," still holds in spirit, the capital's liberated liberation has given way to a second Red Occupation. (International Soundphoto.)

Seminole County Road Projects To Be Pushed By Boyle

Seminole County representatives will present plans for primary and secondary projects for this county at hearings of the State Road Department in Tallahassee on Jan. 16. Senator L. F. Boyle will leave for Tallahassee next Sunday. He will represent Brevard county on Monday and Seminole on Tuesday. J. F. McClelland and O. E. Four-acre, county commissioners, will also attend the meeting.

Three primary projects on which State financial aid is expected include the widening of Colley Avenue, State Road No. 415 from the St. Johns River west to Sanford Avenue from its present varying width of 16 to 20 feet to 22 feet. A survey under way for some months is due to be completed soon.

Resolutions have been passed by the County Commission and sent to the Road Department regarding a survey to be included in the 1951 budget.

At the Tallahassee meeting Seminole County will also submit its 1951 secondary program. This program will be outlined at a meeting of the Commission here on Wednesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock.

The County now has available for secondary roads the sum of $185,850. This includes a carry-over of $68,124 from 1950 and federal aid funds.

Farmers' Market Sales In December Reached $439,539

Total sales at the Sanford State Farmers' Market during December were $439,539 for 146,559 units sold, Manager Bandy Anderson reported today.

In comparison with sales of December, 1949, this represented a decrease of 91,785 units, and a valuation decrease of $107,917.

"We do not feel too badly about this decrease," said Mr. Anderson, who attributed it to shortened supplies of produce due to weather conditions. This included the high winds and rain of Oct. 18, the five nights of freezing temperatures that occurred from Nov. 25 to Nov. 30, and frigid temperatures during the second week in December.

"We are very glad to report that our volume and variety at our Market, beginning Jan. 1, has increased daily," said Mr. Anderson, who added that demand is good and prices are firm to high on all produce and fruit offered.

McKinney of Sanford was critically injured, and three other members of the Graham family were hurt in a two car collision at the French Avenue, Twenty-fifth Street intersection shortly after 3:00 yesterday afternoon.

Republicans, Democrats Give Truman Quick Backing To Make U.S. Stronger

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)— Democrats and Republicans in Congress quickly gave their backing today to President Truman's general proposition that the United States must be made strong enough to meet any threat.

But some individual legislators were disappointed that Mr. Truman was not fit in his State-of-the-Union message to revive again such controversial measures as health insurance and federal aid to education.

Many would not comment on some specific points of Mr. Truman's 10-point legislative program. For one thing, the President set the program out in very broad language. The lawmakers wanted more specific information before expressing themselves.

By and large, Administration Democrats applauded the message as "powerful" or "uplifting" or "magnificent." Republicans and southern Democrats were more reserved.

House speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told reporters the message "met the present world situation head-on."

"No one has any grounds on which to say they don't understand the United States position as expressed through the President," Rayburn added. "It is a strong message, but not too strong of positive in the situation with which we are faced."

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, House Republican leader, commented: "It is reassuring that there is to be no more appeasement in Russia. We are all ready to go into the fight which is necessary to make a strong America, both from a military and economic point of view. This is to make sure we are secure from any attack."

Senate Democratic leader McPherson (Ariz.) said the message was "uplifting and will revive a spirit of determination among our people to work for the preservation of free government throughout the world."

He said he completely approved of Mr. Truman's 10-point program.

Another Democrat, Senator Robertson of Virginia, took a different approach.

"I'm for unity," he said, "but I am not for publishing unity at

Eisenhower Makes Plans To Combine European Forces

PARIS, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The French National Assembly gave President Eisenhower a vote of confidence, 333 to 181, today in re-approving his two billion dollar rearmament program. Only the Communists voted no. The measure includes a special billion dollar rearmament program which is expected to furnish three new French divisions this year for General Eisenhower's North Atlantic command.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—(AP)— The top military leaders of France met with General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower today to talk in focus of men and guns of their contribution to his Atlantic army.

Among them was General Alphonse Juin, career soldier and Eisenhower colleague of World War II, who is strongly reputed to be the Atlantic army's ground force commander.

The famous American general paid calls on Premier Rene Pleven and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman early today, and then went to the Defense Ministry to set down to work.

Defense Minister Jules Moch received him privately first, then convened a session of his highest ranking officers and chiefs of staff.

Eisenhower made his tour today with a chief strategist, Gen. General Alfred M. Godeffroy, and two aides, plus two French officers as translators and escorts. Two motorcycle policemen started out on escort but got lost in Paris traffic.

At each ministry the five-star general panned and flamed his famous car-to-car "lie" gun for photographers. But at none of them would he tell newsmen anything of the nature of his conversation.

Rotary Discusses 3 Controversial Foreign Policies

American foreign policy was debated at the Rotary Club luncheon today with several members joining in an informal discussion of the international situation following an outline of the three principal divisions on foreign policy by Jack Ratigan who had charge of the program.

Pointing out that three pertinent and responsible individuals have promulgated three conflicting plans for American foreign policy, Mr. Ratigan said the American government plan contemplated the defense of Western Europe against Communist aggression as well as well as Korea, Japan and Australia.

The Kennedy (former American Ambassador to Great Britain) plan, Mr. Ratigan placed at the other extreme of the Acheson plan and would have the United States withdraw all defense lines to the Western Hemisphere.

The third plan, Mr. Hoover plan, was described as a compromise of the other day two plans and would withdraw from the continent of Europe, but would defend England and use it as a base for operations against Russia, and

President Tells Congress U. S. Won't Resort To Policy Of Appeasement

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Planesmaker Donald W. Douglas said today the nation's aircraft industry can build planes "in any number needed... for national defense." Commenting on President Truman's statement in his state of the union speech that aircraft and auto firms must be capable of turning out 30,000 planes and 35,000 tanks a year, the head of Douglas Aircraft Co. said: "The aircraft industry has clearly demonstrated, and the President, the Air Force and the people of the United States know, that given materials, manpower and authority to go ahead we can build modern and efficient airplanes in any number needed by the government for national defense. 'The aircraft industry's record in the last war has been unmatched in the history of the world and we can do even better this time if need be.'"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)— President Truman said today that the world "step by step" and warned: "We will fight if fight we must, to keep our freedom and to prevent justice from being destroyed."

In a personally delivered "State of the Union" message to Congress, Mr. Truman said that the United States is "willing as we have always been, to negotiate honorable settlements with the Soviet Union."

"But we will not engage in appeasement."

Mr. Truman's 3,500 word message was first of all a defense of the idea of building American and Western European strength in the post-war world which he said is "in our interest."

It was second a general outline of what has been done in far in the way of military mobilization and a broad sketching of what is to come.

"We are preparing for full scale-time mobilization, if that should become necessary," Mr. Truman said.

As part of that preparation, the President said, "I demand greater vigilance, higher taxes, greater wage-price controls."

Stassen Returns From World "Study Trip"

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Harold Stassen today wound up a five-week "study trip" of Asia and Africa on which he will report to Republican leaders in the United States.

The president of the University of Pennsylvania, a 1948 GOP presidential appointee, left the U. S. Dec. 2. Since then he has been in Japan, Indonesia, Thailand, India, Pakistan, Israel and South Africa with side trips to other outposts.

Stassen at a news conference declined to make any specific statement on foreign policy or comment on recent speeches by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev or Senator Robert A. Taft.

He said he had seen a "very interesting" picture of the United States, but that he had "no specific" comments to make.

Europeans Cringe From Bold Action Against Chinese Communist Menace

By MAX HARRISON

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 8.—(AP)— Britain called on the U. N. today to make another effort for a Korean cease-fire, but warned Red China that it might force a break with the free world if it insisted on acceptance of its own terms. In a major policy declaration, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb at the same time pledged British support as long as U. N. troops continue to fight in Korea. He spoke before the General Assembly's 69-nation political committee.

By ARTHUR GAYSON

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(AP)— Britain took the view today that the non-Communist world can hardly brand Red China an aggressor in Korea until all United Nations efforts to obtain a cease-fire fail.

This was disclosed as qualified diplomats reported Commonwealth premiers were considering whether to sponsor a new U. N. bid to end the Korean war.

Even if this move fails, best-informed opinion here suggests Britain and several of her Commonwealth partners will shrink from taking some of the steps contemplated by the United States to punish Red China—on grounds that the commitment too easily could involve them in war with the Chinese Communists.

The "Apparent British unwillingness to go along with a positive American policy towards Red China reflected general West European uneasiness toward the latest United States proposals."

The State Department set forth its proposals in a memorandum sent last week to 59 key non-Communist U. N. member capitals.

A foreign office spokesman was pressed at a daily news conference to tell what the British government thinks of the American proposals.

The executive and finance committees of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will meet in Manager Ed Whitney's office at the Tourist Center tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, President H. James Gut announced today.

Montieth, Crumley Office Will Open In New Bank Annex

B. B. Crumley and Howard Montieth, general insurance agents, today announced the formal opening of their new office in the Drive in Annex of the Florida State Bank.

Formerly located in the Bank Building and in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building, the new office enables them to center their business activity in one place.

Working 18 by 60 feet, the office has its entrance on First Street. The exterior of the building is an attractive shade of daffodil red tile.

The interior color scheme is pleasing and restful to the eyes with its green tile floor, light shaded walls and slim line fluorescent lighting. The six desks and the chairs are of a pearl gray color.

Mrs. Howard Dague and Mrs. J. L. Horton are assistants. Mr. Montieth, a former representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., came to Sanford in 1940 from Haines City, Ga. Mr. and Mrs. Montieth live at 213 West Sixteenth Street. Mr. Montieth is an active Kiwanian and so is Mr. Crumley. Both belong to the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Crumley, a former assistant manager with the Metropolitan Bank, came to Sanford from Eustis about 1938. His home is at Silver Lake. A son, Robert Crumley is with the North American Insurance Co., Orlando. Mrs. Everett Young, a daughter, lives in Jacksonville.

Behrens Boy Injured In Shotgun Blast

The condition of 12-year old Frederick Behrens, whose right ankle was badly injured Friday afternoon by a accidental shotgun blast, was reported this morning at Fernald-Laughlin Memorial Hospital to be favorable.

An emergency operation was performed on the youth and he was given several blood transfusions following the accident, which occurred while he was out in a boat with two friends about a mile east of the St. Johns River Bridge hunting coon.

According to the boy's father, H. G. Behrens, Lake Monroe grows the 12 gauge shotgun used off accidentally when it fell from the boat to the floor of the boat when the outboard motor was started.

Freezing Weather Is Forecast For Northern Florida

LAKELAND, Jan. 8.—(AP)— Florida's already hard hit vegetable growers faced a new freeze tonight. The Federal State Frost Warning Service predicted frost in all sections early tomorrow with temperatures ranging from 29 to 25 degrees in the Jacksonville district to 33 and 31 along the lower east coast. It looks pretty bad for truck crops," said Warren D. Johnson, frost warning meteorologist. "Tree hardier plants in the Glades, Indian River and along the lower east coast will be in jeopardy. Citrus in general faces no threat except for frosty frosts, damaged in the November and December freezes," said Johnson. Trees previously damaged have put out considerable new growth and this is endangered.

Today's Bible Verse: Ignorance and superstition enslave us...

It is about this time of year that most of us begin to wonder whether the new year was worth the celebration we gave its initiation.

Progress is being made in Sanford in combating automobile accidents. There were 131 traffic accidents within the city limits in 1949, only 120 in 1950.

Showing how democracy works in China is the fact that out of some 400,000,000 people in the country, only about 6,000,000 are members of the Communist Party.

Those who sometimes become depressed over the quality of American radio programs should be interested in the nature of the most notable music program being played by the great British Broadcasting System. It is called "I Taw a Puddy-cat." And it goes something like this: "I taw a puddy-cat a-creeen' up on me. I did, I taw a puddy-cat as plain as could be. And so forth."

When Henry Ford left he left $200,000,000 to the Ford Foundation, a charitable and educational institution, and $80,000,000 to his wife. An accounting of her estate just filed reveals that she left another $34,000,000 to the Ford Foundation, and $12,000,000 to be divided equally among her four children.

Why is it, we wonder, that although the Chinese since General Chiang have been a peaceful nation and in modern history one of the most friendly people to the Americans in the whole world, and although they have not even a shadow of a Communist Party, they have been so often the target of the most vicious propaganda in the world?

The Soldier's Comfort

One of the sharpest memories from military life of every "civilian soldier" is of the bleak chill of the barracks which are "home" to most servicemen. It is not a matter of heating, or of the construction of the buildings, although in the case of some of the temporary-type structures there are no more than adequate, if that. It is a matter of the atmosphere of the big open bay, the squad room, in which most men are quartered.

It is an atmosphere with which not much can be done. When "home" is one bunk among sixteen or more lined along the walls of one big room, with a foot locker and a shelf for personal belongings, the possibilities are limited. There is an inescapable air of living in the main passageway of a railroad station. There is, for the homesick lad, the terrible loneliness of a crowd.

There are, in addition, the inconveniences of large group living, such as conflict of hours and habits and the use of one central assortment of plumbing fixtures by forty or so men.

The Air Force has embarked on a noble experiment to do something about this situation, which has seen little change since military men moved from tents and sleeping bags into buildings. A new type of barracks to be constructed at an Omaha base will provide semi-private rooms for all men, with comforts planned to be comparable to those of a modern university dormitory. The most surprising feature is that the Air Force expects to save money, building these quarters at about 75 per cent of the cost per man of standard barracks. This is almost unbelievable.

If it works, this may be the accomplishment of the century in adding to the comforts, such as they are, of military life.

Human Investment

The Communist regime in Peiping has taken another step in its attempts to eradicate all American influence from the areas of China under its control. This is to make all one-time American-supported schools, churches, cultural and relief organizations entirely Chinese-supported, or else absorb them into government agencies. Naturally the aim will not be merely to get rid of evidence of good works done by American funds and American workers, but also to wipe out American influence of thinking, education and cultural development.

This project will put to the test the human investment which has been made in China over a period of generation or more by America through churches, missionary enterprises and relief organizations. Their points of contact, their establishments, are the targets of this new project. These are the facilities and the groups through which some of the most selfless of Americans have offered to China the benefits of medical knowledge, food, modern education, the tenets of Christianity, asking nothing in return but the chance to offer more.

Can this investment be wiped out by a decree from Peiping? Surely not. The Red government can seize assets, close schools and churches, drive out foreign business and cut off foreign contracts. But it cannot erase from the memories of individuals their experiences with Americans who have tried earnestly, often at great personal sacrifice, to help China and the Chinese. The works of these people and their supporters are, amid the upheaval in China today, our "footprints in the sands of time."

More Than One Crisis

Americans, faced by the present crisis should not be stampeded into senseless fright or pessimism. It is not the first time, nor presumably will it be the last, that the country has been in a precarious situation. What most of us need is a background of fact which will provide orientation for us and enable us to think and to act with calm good sense.

Adult education courses can be created or adapted to fill this need. One such is now beginning in New York at Cooper Union, that great stronghold of adult education. The course "America in Crisis," will describe some of the other crises which have been weathered by this country. Prof. Johnson E. Fairchild says "It is hoped that this course will help to bring a sense of balance into our thinking about the grave problems of the present moment."

The value of such a study is obvious. Certainly we all need help in trying to keep our thinking in balance.

Truman Asserts

He gave no details on any of these. Precisely what he proposes will come out piece-meal later in special messages and through submission of specific legislative proposals to the Congress.

Mr. Truman omitted any specific mention of many of the proposals he has called the "Fair Deal"—such as civil rights laws—which Congress in the past has refused to give him.

But he emphasized the possible long-range nature of the program and told the legislators they should give continued attention to "the measures which our country will need for the long pull." He continued: "To take just one example—we need to continue and complete the work of rounding out our system of social insurance. We still need to improve our protection against unemployment and old age. We still need to provide insurance against loss of earnings through sickness and against the high costs of modern medical care."

"Above all, we must remember that the fundamental of our strength rest upon the freedom of our people. We must continue our efforts to achieve the full realization of our democratic ideals. We must uphold freedom of speech and freedom of conscience in our land. We must assure equal rights and equal opportunities to all our citizens."

Replying, in effect, to recent demands by former President Herbert Hoover and Republican Senator Robert A. Taft that this country limit its military aid to Western Europe, the President declared America's national security is too deeply involved to allow any withdrawal of help.

"Our national security," he said, "would be gravely prejudiced if the Soviet Union were to succeed in harnessing to its war machine the resources and the manpower of the free nations on the borders of its empire."

In his report on mobilization efforts the President said American industry must be made capable of producing 50,000 planes and 35,000 tanks a year. But he said he hoped there would never be any necessity to produce that many.

Mr. Truman submitted a ten-point legislative program calling for: "First, appropriations for our military build-up."

"Second, extension and revision of the Selective Service Act."

"Third, military and economic aid to help build up the strength of the free world."

"Fourth, revision and extension of the authority to expand production and to stabilize prices, wages, and rents."

"Fifth, improvement of our agricultural laws, to help obtain the kinds of farm products we need for the defense effort."

"Sixth, improvement of our labor laws to help provide stable labor-management relations and to make sure that we have steady production in this emergency."

"Seventh, housing and training of defense workers, and the full use of all manpower resources."

Rotary Discusses

Calling upon the people to express themselves and pointing out that ultimately the decision must be made by them at the polls, Mr. Raitman said, "For my part I like the Hoover plan. I don't think we can hold Europe against Russian aggression. But because of the English Channel we could hold England and use it as a base for a counter-attack against the Russians. We got into Korea through a mistake. We should now pull out as quickly as possible and hold the line extending from Japan through Formosa in the Philippines and Australia."

H. R. Howe said he thought it was basically a military problem and that our military leaders should select the points which could be most easily defended and let the United States make its stand there. He pointed out that Russia would be at war with the United States now if it had the oil of Iran and the steel of the Ruhr. He said he thought the Hoover plan should be extended to include the Mediterranean area.

Mr. Y. Immerman declared that the Hoover plan was tactically unsound and morally indefensible. He said that we got into Korea as a result of a United Nations directive that the United States was morally committed to uphold the United Nations and must act responsibly. This, he said, was qualified by a prior resolution which is the defense of Western Christianity. He added that he agreed with Mr. Howe on the tactical side of the defense of Formosa and believed there is nothing that can be done now but to pull out of Korea, the best we can do.

Mr. Raitman said that he thought the United Nations, on account of the veto power, was an unwieldy organization that it has had to fall down in the handling of the Korean situation and has placed an impossible burden on General MacArthur in the conduct of the war there. If the Air Force had been allowed to bomb Chinese concentrations, he said the invasion of North Korea could have been stopped, now as a result of UN action which first put us in Korea and then tied our hands, we find ourselves unable to hold Korea.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower said that the decisions of the UN are of defense workers, and the full use of all manpower resources. "Eighth, means for increasing the supply of doctors, nurses, and other trained medical personnel critically needed for the defense effort."

"Ninth, aid to the states to meet the most urgent needs of our elementary and secondary schools."

"Tenth, a major increase in taxes to meet the cost of the defense effort."

The 50,000-planes-a-year figure used by Mr. Truman was the same goal the late President Roosevelt set in May, 1940, when the nation began going full scale into defensive preparations for a war that hit a year and a half later.

The Aviation Industry Association estimated that when the Korean war started the United States was producing only 215 military aircraft a month.

At the peak of plane production—in March, 1944, the United States turned out 9,113 military planes.

When Mr. Roosevelt set the 50,000 goal, the monthly production rate was about 450.

The present tank production program calls for about 4,000 tanks, the majority in the medium, 47-ton vehicles.

The President, in what might have been a reply to defense policy arguments of former Republican President Herbert Hoover and Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared: "Strategically, economically and morally, the defense of Europe is part of our own defense."

"That is why we have joined with the countries of Europe in the North Atlantic treaty, pledging ourselves to work with them. There has been much discussion recently over whether the European countries are willing to defend themselves. Their actions are answering this question."

Mr. Truman said the North Atlantic treaty nations have "atrik" systems of universal military training and several have increased the term of service, while all have moved to improve the quality of training.

"Forces are being trained and expanded as rapidly as the necessary arms and equipment can be supplied from their factories and ours. Our North Atlantic treaty partners, together, are building armies larger than our own."

The President said the people have confidence in General Dwight D. Eisenhower, now in Europe to assume command of the combined forces.

When he spoke of an industry capable of producing 50,000 war planes and 35,000 tanks a year, Mr. Truman went on to explain: "We are not now ordering that many planes or tanks, and we hope that we never have to, but we mean to be able to turn them out if we need them."

"The planes we are producing now are a lot bigger—and a lot better—than the planes we had during the last war."

"We need to think that the B-27 was a huge plane, and the B-29, the B-50, the B-52, and the B-36 can carry five of those block-busters in its belly and it can carry them five times as fast."

However, the President reminded that one B-36 now costs about $3,500,000 while the B-27 cost about $275,000.

As to negotiations for peaceful settlements with Russia, Mr. Truman said:

Military Training Bill Is Introduced

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Senator Malone (R-Nev.) and Russell (D-Ga.) today introduced legislation to set up a system of universal military training (UMT) after the present crisis has passed.

The measure, first to be offered in the Senate since the new session began, provides for a draft of youth between the ages of 17 and 19, inclusive, for a full year of military training.

The program would be started, after the existing crisis, on the recommendation of a special commission the bill would create, and at the discretion of the President.

Malone, in a prepared statement, called UMT "security insurance for our nation and survival insurance for our young men, as a trained man has the best chance of survival" in wartime.

Florida State Taxes Reported Doubled

TAMPA, Jan. 8.—(Special)—Florida state taxes have doubled since 1948 according to figures released today by the Florida Taxpayers Association. Five years ago state taxes per person were $38.56 annually. For 1950 they were $73.90 per person.

Floridians last year paid $34 more per person in state taxes than did citizens of New Jersey; $31 more than those in Georgia and Kentucky, and $20 more than in Alabama. Florida was taxed the eighth highest per capita of all states in 1950. Florida ranked thirtieth.

Per capita state tax collections of the 48 states in 1950 are shown in the table below. "These figures reveal that the generosity of the Florida taxpayers during the season," remarked James M. Fleming, president of Florida Taxpayers Association, "already our citizens pay $13.28 per capita above the being carried out by the United States with very little help from any of the other member nations. Actually, he added, we are now fighting a war with Russia. We are losing our men over there while Russians are only losing Chinese. Meanwhile some UN members, notably the British, continue to trade with the Chinese, and Russia remains a member of the UN which tells us what to do. George A. Boer said that Russia tries to take over a nation by force only when it has failed by inside means. "If the United States should draw a line and tell the world where it will fight to stop aggression," he said, "we would be serving notice to the Russians that they could move in unambiguously over us. I think we know we have got to fight. We have got to do everything in our power to get ready for an all-out war with Russia, and we should try to get just as many allies on our side as we can. If we show the people of Western Europe we are determined to stop Russian aggression, I believe they will put their shoulders to the wheel and do their part."

national average for the 48 states. If the present rate of increase continues, Floridians will soon bear the greatest state tax burden per capita of any state in the nation," said Mr. Fleming.

Forger Makes FBI List Of Ten Most Wanted Criminals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The FBI today added a rubber check artist to its list of "ten most wanted men."

He is the Courtney Townsend Taylor, 48, native of East Hartford, Conn., who is described by the FBI as "perhaps the most ingenious check forger ever to operate in this country."

Taylor who has more aliases than it is feasible to list, is credited with having cashed some $28,000 in worthless checks during the last seven years—$23,000 of them in the last eight months following his conditional release from Onondaga County Penitentiary at Jamestown, N. Y., in April, 1950.

He is under many charges in connection with this recent activity. This FBI said that during a long series of printing and writing frauds, Taylor has victimized large stores in all parts of the country.

His checks usually purport to have been issued by big companies such as Tiffany and Co., the Philip Morris Co., or Macy's Department Store, for which Taylor poses as a traveling salesman.

The FBI said he frequently used out-of-date checks, and these companies' records to improve these checks to such an extent, usually in connection with the purchase of an expensive article.

On the "most wanted" list, Taylor traces Glen Ray Wright, wanted for robbery in Oklahoma City, and captured Dec. 11 at Tulsa, Kansas.

The FBI noted that Taylor committed his first crime at the age of 16 when he stole $4 from his mother's purse and that since that time he has been a professional criminal.

Republicans

Robinson said he referred specifically to the President's proposals for aid to education and health insurance.

But Rep. Burton (D-Ind.), chairman of the House Education and Labor committee, applauded the proposal for federal aid to education. He said: "Since the federal government has invaded every possible source of revenue for the schools, if we believe in a public school system we have to find some means of supporting it."

Chairman Daugherty (D-Mo.) of the tax-framing House Ways and Means Committee: "We shall do what we can to provide the taxes without wrecking our economy."

Rep. Hope (R-Kans.), ranking Republican on House Agriculture committee, introduced Mr. Truman's request for new farm legislation to mean farm subsidy legislation to encourage production in the face of price ceilings.

Hope said if this was so, there would be a "controversy," and he preferred a rise in price ceilings to subsidies.

With mild praise had criticism Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) said the President's proposals were "all right as far as they go, but there are not specific enough and do not go far enough to make the job of the farmer in the face of the price ceiling."

He said there should have been a specific program to help the farmer will be run away with by a clear, emphatic statement that all non-defense expenditures will be slashed.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) promised his cooperation on all means to make America stronger economically and militarily. But he added: "The President's proposals are not specific enough and do not go far enough to make the job of the farmer in the face of the price ceiling."

Pennsylvania Town Terrorized By Lion

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Jan. 8.—Warning that a big mountain lion is on the loose has rattled people for miles around this eastern Pennsylvania town to an unprecedented alert.
George Keller, instructor at Bloomsburg State Teachers College and an animal trader as well, told a radio audience yesterday the lion may have followed a herd of deer here from Canada. He said there may even be two, as lions usually travel in pairs at this time of the year.
