

MURDER WAVE IS SAID SWEEPING OVER GERMANY

Nazi Opponent Gives Graphic Account Of Present Conditions

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—Johannes Steel, former German official who fled from the reich because of his opposition to the Nazi program, said in a copyrighted story in the New York Post yesterday that "a quiet wave of murder is sweeping the concentration camps."

The writer said that inmates of the camps "have, according to a secret order of General Goering (premier of Prussia), been cut off completely from the outside world."

"Their relatives," writes Steel, "have been without news from these prisoners for three weeks. It seems that most of the prisoners place which are beyond human imagination."

"The toll of deaths has been put by absolutely reliable sources at no less than 2000 men and women."

The writer said, "a life and death race between communism and conservatism has begun," and added "The odds are 6 to 4 for the conservative solution."

Steel says: "The army, during the last week, has been able to consolidate its position and the military dictatorship is complete."

(Vice Chancellor Franz) von Papen at this moment is the man who seems everything. He has come out on top.

Steel says Hitler "is the absolute premier of the reichswahr (army) which was once every move he makes and it is waiting for the moment when Hitler's prestige has evaporated to such an extent that he can be put away easily."

Supreme Court Asks Counties To Decide Use Of Bond Funds

National Bank at St. Petersburg presented its bond coupons for payment, the board of administration contended it could not pay them. It claimed Pinellas county had adopted a later resolution directing the gasoline tax funds should be used for purchase of outstanding bonds at the current price, thereby withdrawing the funds from payment of interest and principal.

The supreme court said, however, that once budgeted in lieu of ad valorem taxation, the gasoline tax funds could not then be switched to some other usage, without making suitable and adequate provision for payment of the items to which the gasoline tax funds originally were pledged.

Then, explaining the Kanner bill which set up the gasoline tax funds, the supreme court said it:

"The Kanner bill does not permit the state board of administration to use for the purchase of bonds, gasoline moneys which are already budgeted and appropriated to an interest or sinking fund account in order to provide for road and bridge indebtedness of a county or town or road and bridge district of the state."

"On the contrary, the purpose of the act is to permit the state board of administration, by and with the approval of the county commissioners of an affected county, to use any or all unappropriated moneys derived from the gasoline tax, as credited to the account of the county or road and bridge district for the purpose of purchasing a price below the par value thereof, and at the lowest bid offered, any bond or bonds of such road district, or road and bridge district, or county road bond issue to which the moneys have been credited in the hands of the state board of administration. This they may do to the extent that such gasoline moneys have not been appropriated as a substitute for the levy of ordinary debt service taxes to take care of the interest and sinking fund requirements of the outstanding bonds in the county.

"The Kanner bill merely gives the county commissioners the option of making their ordinary ad valorem levies for bond requirements in due course if they so choose, in order to become entitled by resolution addressed to the state board of administration to direct that the county's share of appropriated gasoline revenues be used for the purpose of purchasing depreciated bonds so as to reduce the ordinary debt requirements to be provided for from time to time by the usual ad valorem tax levies for debt service as the law requires."

The board of administration said it did not know how many counties might be effected by the court's decision. Seventeen counties now are operating under terms of the Kanner bill, which was passed in the 1933 session of the Legislature.

Florida counties receive revenue from three cents of the gasoline tax money collected by the state. It is apportioned on the basis of one cent for population, one cent for area, and one cent for indebtedness incurred in construction of roads later made a part of the state highway system. A number of smaller counties receive from the fund more than they pay into it, while the larger counties receive less.

Stunt Man Eats Razor Blade, Drinking Glass

BRIDGEVILLE, Pa., July 20.—Jack Kraus, who performs stunts on the side, walked into a local store and ate a razor blade and a drinking glass, bit off a piece of what he couldn't do.

So he sat down and showed "em. One of the dooblers was asked to buy two razor blades. Kraus picked them up between his teeth, showed them into bits and swallowed them.

For dessert, Kraus picked up a drinking glass, bit off a piece, swallowed it and swallowed until only the bottom and a small portion of the sides remained.

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTIC
CA. July 3 (via Mackay Radio)—Big things done here this week. We had the tunnels under the snow where we keep the dogs. Last week we had 113 dogs. Now we have 121. Another batch of puppies arrived a couple of days ago. Only four this time. A few weeks ago we found seven canine newcomers in Log town and they are now lively little balls of fur, fat and mischief, always getting under foot in the dark tunnels.

My muscles are aching and so is every joint in my body. Reason? Skiing! It is pronounced "sheeing." Some of the weather lately has allowed us to go out skiing near the houses after our day's work is over, for much needed exercise and variety. I'm not so hot as a skier. Last night I went with a big crowd of them and today most of us can ski down so frequently and so violently on the hard snow last night. In the party were Francis Dane, of Lexington, Mass.; Edward L. Moody, of Danvers, N. H.; and Rich and N. Russell, of Boston, who are dog drivers, are pretty good on skis. Harold Lane, of Boston; Stuart D. Payne, of Durham; N. H.; Carl Peterson, of Merrick, Long Island, N. Y.; and Quinn A. Blackburn, of Seattle, Wash., who are in my class and are eating off of shovels today, and Finn Honne, of Pittsburgh, and Albert M. Hill, of London, Norway. These are two of our experts and some of the things they can do on skis are wonderful. As yet, all but one member of the club has received a number of medals and ribbons in recognition of their work in the field of my interest. We are doing a lot of reading rate of training, observation, transport and other non-fighting types was so high as to drastically reduce the air corps' fighting efficiency.

At the present time it is estimated that, despite the United States has more planes, this country ranked below Japan in fighting planes and on an approximate equality with Great Britain.

The world air powers are estimated to rank: Russia and France, 3,000 planes each; United States (including Army and Navy), 2,800; Japan, 2,500; and Great Britain, 1,400. The announcement in London Thursday that Great Britain would construct 41 additional squadrons of approximately 500 planes would bring that nation ahead of the United States in air fighting forces.

The Baker committee report presents a comprehensive survey of the organization, personnel, training and procurement program of the Army Air Corps and recommends several changes in administration.

It deals extensively with the Army's transportation of the air mails during the recent emergency caused by cancellation of commercial air mail contracts.

The commendation against creation of a unified air force, along the same general line as Great Britain's Royal Air Force, will bring up anew one of the most controversial issues in American aviation.

The Army general staff has strenuously opposed such a move as has Secretary Dern.

tor of FERA, which said that the government is not supposed to "steal" a man's job. He is out of work.

Mr. Tolson made this quotation in explaining that several cases of intimidation of strikers had been reported to the committee. The strikers said they were told that they could not get any emergency relief food unless they returned to work.

Mrs. V. F. McCall read a long list of names of heads of families that had been given scarcely enough food for one person at the Special Service office on South Hughey Street. She gave the names of persons she had questioned as they left service office and listed what they were given.

She said that milk had been refused for the baby of Mrs. H. D. Cleveland and for the baby of Mrs. C. D. Jones and that Mattie Singleton, who is said to have eight dependents in her family, was refused aid. Help was refused to G. R. Gentry because he is now on a strike protesting the local management.

Severe criticism was made against these men that are still working for the FERA and the city workers present were urged by speakers to visit every FERA project and to ask the workers to quit.

George B. Jackson, vice-president of the Central Labor Council, urged the men to stick to their jobs for the good of all. He said that there should positively be no

COURT REFUSES BILL TO UNITE COUNTY POSTS

Supreme Court Rules That It Cannot Be Handed Voters In November Election

TALLAHASSEE, July 21. (AP)—The Supreme Court today affirmed a circuit court injunction restraining the publication of a proposed constitutional amendment for the consolidation of the county offices of tax assessor and collector.

The court said the resolution submitting the amendment had not passed the Legislature properly.

Robert Pleuss, assistant attorney-general who represented the state in seeking a reversal of the lower court decision, said there had been no decision as to whether a rehearing would be sought in the Supreme Court.

The court's opinion was unanimous. It means the proposed amendment cannot be voted upon by the people in the general election in November because the Constitution requires publication in a newspaper of each county before the amendment is printed on the general election ballot.

The Supreme Court said the amendment as finally sent to the Secretary of State by the Legislature for publication, was not the same as that which the Senate considered, and therefore it had not passed the assembly in a manner constitutionally required.

Swope Will Not Be Removed From Job

JACKSONVILLE, July 21. (AP)—Jerome A. Connor, assistant Florida Emergency Relief administrator, said yesterday the Administration had "complete confidence" in U. P. Swope, administrator of the Orlando region, and would keep him on the post. His statement was made in a letter to Frank L. Ferguson, of Orlando, who wrote that he represented FERA clients of Orange county in demanding the dismissal of Swope and Robert M. Shearman, director of operations.

SCHOOL BUDGET FOR 1934-35 SET AT $19,415,032

State Board Figures Revenues Will Be Only $13,400 More

TALLAHASSEE, July 21.—The state department of education yesterday announced Florida's public school budget for 1934-35 is $19,415,032, with estimated revenues of $19,428,432.

The budget covers next term's public school operations in every county in the state except DeSoto, which has not yet submitted its report, and will be considered at the next meeting of the board.

Estimated revenues include $2,293,358 cash on hand, $109,440 in textbooks and equipment, $4,967,078 anticipated from the state school fund and $12,058,557 from the county and district tax sources.

Assessed valuation of property for school taxes was put at $497,978,469. Most of the counties have a 10-mill county-wide school tax levy, while the average levy in the districts ranges from four to 10 mills.

Teachers' salaries will require a fraction more than half of the total expenditures, taking $9,741,810, while other operations will bring the total current expenditures of the year to $13,203,016.

Debt service, such as payment of bond principal and interest, will require $5,642,261, while capital outlays such as building improvements, were estimated at $166,514.

Okeechobee county, with $30,100, has the smallest estimated expenditures, while Hillsborough county leads with $2,297,029, and Duval county is second with $2,297,029, and Duval county is second with $2,207,405.

Duval, Duval, Hillsborough, Palm Beach, Pasco, Pinellas and Sarasota predicted full nine months terms in their schools, while the yard, Dixie, Highlands, Lake, Manatee and Orange estimated "eight to nine months."

After being struck by the venomous reptile the boy was given treatment by Dr. L. V. L. Brown and later returned to his home.

Postal Department's Surplus Is 5 Million

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Postmaster General Farley yesterday reported a $5,000,000 Postal Department surplus to President Roosevelt, the first since 1919.

The postmaster general attributed the surplus to "businesslike management and operation," the practice of "strict economy" and to greater postal receipts due to improved business conditions.

Mr. Roosevelt radiated his congratulations.

NRA DOOMED, SAYS DARROW BOARD MEMBER

Russell Says There Is No Such Thing As "Fair Competition" In Any Industry

NEW YORK CITY, July 21.—Charles Edward Russell, secretary of the Darrow board which conducted a survey of the National Recovery Administration and author of the board reports which criticized N. R. A. methods, sailed for Ireland on the United States liner Manhattan yesterday, saying he hoped to enjoy a good vacation and to meet his old friend Eamon de Valera, President of the Irish Free State.

"I'll study their economic methods, too, for I understand Ireland has made some good strides toward recovery," Mr. Russell said, "and maybe I can pick up some improvement on our lapsed, lame, halt and blind N. R. A. A small nation sometimes may serve as a laboratory test tube for methods which can be applied to larger countries."

"I believe the N. R. A. is on its way out, although some of the chiefs are trying to save its face. When our reports came out they denounced them as communistic and radical and many other things, but then they soon adopted many of the things we suggested. For example, they gave up that price-fixing business."

Power Plant Near Benson Springs Is Again In Operation

The Florida Public Service Company plant at Benson Springs directly across Lake Monroe from Sanford began operations this week after having been idle for several seasons.

This plant has a capacity of 27,500 to 30,000 KWII, and it is being used to generate power to serve the whole Florida Public Service Company system running as far south as Lake Florida in the ridge section.

Announcement of the plant's reopening was made by Miles Cary, official of the company, with offices at Orlando, who said that the plant will use fuel oil which is barged on the St. Johns River from Jacksonville.

A similar plant is owned and operated by the Florida Power and Light Company near Lake Monroe. This plant has a capacity of 10,000 KWII, but, tied in with the Fort Lauderdale plant, it has a capacity of 100,000 KWII.

These two plants serve a territory as far south as Florida Bay below Miami, Fort Myers, Sarasota and Bradenton, and as far north as Hilliard and Callahan, according to an announcement made by H. H. Coleman, local manager for the Florida Power and Light Co.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce today expressed its satisfaction of the fact that this large plant at Benson Springs is back in operation. It is typical, trade body officials state, of the industrial trend in Sanford and vicinity.

Business Has Had Upward Trend In 10 Of 16 Months Of Roosevelt's Direction

WASHINGTON, July 21.—American business has been on the up grade ten out of the sixteen months that President Roosevelt has been in office and has shown a net gain of 44 percent since Mar. 4, 1933, Federal Reserve figures showed yesterday.

Except for August, September, October and November of last year, when business suffered a relapse from the summer boom, and the seasonal let-down over the last two months, plus signs have dominated the industrial picture.

Aside from the causes of this upturn and the preceding decline, the figures make a striking comparison with the movement of American business during the previous Administration. With President Hoover taking office shortly before the depression be-

STRIKERS REFUSE CHANCE TO RUN PLANT 'ON OWN'

Owner Counters Their Demands With Offer Which Stumps Them

MANORVILLE, Pa., July 21.—(AP)—The 50 striking workers of the National Mirror Specialty Company are in a quandary.

A committee of five marched into the office of Leon H. Samuels, owner, and declared: "We demand an eight hour day, a five-day week and a minimum wage of 30 cents an hour."

The "boss" shook his head, thought a while and said: "Tell you what I'll do. I'll turn the plant over to you. You do the managing, fix the hours of work, take your wages out of the profits and pay me a salary as a sales man."

That hit the workers right between the eyes, so to speak, and after a hurried conference the men said they didn't have sufficient managerial experience.

"Then how do you expect a man with experience to do something you can't do?" asked Samuels.

The committee thought some more and then decided: "We'll be back later."

They tried to Pittsburgh to consult Ernest C. Dunbar, mediator of the regional labor board, and now he's trying to settle the difficulties.

2 Escaped Murderers Caught After Break

THOMASTON, Maine, July 21.—(AP)—Two of three convicted murderers who escaped from the Thomaston state prison last night were captured today at Waldoboro by a posse of state police and prison officers. The captured pair are Allen Twitchell and Arthur L'Hallen.

The posse pressed a search in the woods around Waldoboro for the third member of the group, James Mitchell.

The trio fled the prison by scaling a wall, and their absence was not noticed until nearly half an hour later when a routine checkup revealed it.

Orlando's Idle Tell Swope Not To Move Office To Sanford; To Resign Instead

ORLANDO, July 21.—Workers of the FERA who are on a strike in Orange county, Friday afternoon issued a statement through the Orange County Workers Square Deal Association in which they made reply to a statement previously issued by U. P. Swope, regional director of the FERA.

While the committee was still asking for the removal of Mr. Swope, word came from Jerome A. Connor, assistant Florida Emergency Relief director that the administration of Mr. Swope had the confidence of the state headquarters and that he would be retained in the position.

Mr. Connor also stated that Mr. Swope had the power to remove the office to Sanford, if he thought it best for the welfare of the organization.

The statement as issued by the Orange County Workers' Square Deal Association follows:

"We, the executive committee of the Orange County Workers' Square Deal Association feel that U. P. Swope's statement as published in the Reporter Star of July 19 calls for a reply from us. Relative to the removal of regional headquarters from Orlando to Sanford we would like to say that in our opinion Mr. Swope's removal of himself from office would automatically remove the present source of dissatisfaction. Removal of his office would not be in the interest of the workers. As to Mr. Swope's avowal of sympathy insofar as our problems are concerned we believe that "actions speak louder than words." And that Mr. Swope's actions to date show an utter lack of sympathy with our problems.

"As to an informed public opinion to prevent labor agitation, etc., our association is endeavoring to (Continued On Page Four)

HUGH JOHNSON TELLS 'INSIDE' STRIKE STORY

NRA Chief Says Fiasco Was Most Critical Moment In Recent History Of Nation

LOS ANGELES, July 21. (AP)—With the declaration that the general strike in San Francisco was "the most critical moment in recent history" and that it was "a catastrophe to the country," NRA administrator, disclosed yesterday what he said was the "inside story" of the widespread walkout of union workers.

Johnson criticized both the unions and employers.

"When you have to go to a strike committee to get permission to have a bottle of milk for the baby you may know how fully the public has been subjected to a little group with a special interest," said Johnson, "and I can't tell whether that group be big or little or poor."

"It is minority rule. It is democracy. It is tyranny and not to be tolerated for one moment by a free people."

"The extremists on the labor side actually had that system in effect when I arrived at San Francisco. But the extremists on the other side were just as bad. The pressure from a small group of wealthy men to declare martial law was perfectly terrific."

Johnson spoke twice during the afternoon, delivering the same address at the Grand Central airport and the Hollywood Bowl. He flew here from San Francisco, where he is spokesman in the government's efforts to moderate strike troubles.

Now the end of his speech Johnson paid tribute to George C. Lusk, secretary for the Democratic nomination for governor, saying: "He has proved himself under the great weight of national responsibility. He is better to take a proved tool than a political experiment."

Johnson's involvement of a real name to political observers was a surprise since Postmaster General James Farley, who was here Thursday, said the Administration would take a "hands-off" attitude in the California primary elections. Lusk formerly was regional head of the National Emergency Council.

Over 200 Drowned In Poland As Big River Overflows

WARSAW, Poland, July 21.—(AP)—More than 200 persons were dead and damage estimated at about $200,000,000 were reported today as flood waters of the Vistula River touched the very gates of the Presidential Palace in Warsaw.

Deaths and damages have occurred during a full week of high waters.

Now the flood ways in the Carpathian Mountains memories the Polish capital.

The Vistula has risen to a level of 10 feet as compared with a four foot normal, and authorities said if it goes three feet higher the heart of the capital is endangered, for the levees on the left bank are not expected to hold much longer.

Police, soldiers, municipal workers, and civilian volunteers worked manfully in efforts to strengthen the dyke.

Georgian Exonerated Of Killing Employer

FORT VALLEY, Ga., July 21.—(AP)—A coroner's jury yesterday found the death of George Slappey, 65, once Georgia's big steel peach grower, was "justifiable homicide" after his over-zealous planter because of intentions to Mrs. Fagan.

Fagan had been employed by Slappey for about 15 years and several years after the death of the second Mrs. Slappey, the Fagans, both of whom are 38 years old, moved into the Slappey home.

The overzealous testified his gun was discharged during a heated argument when Slappey struck him and that he "did not mean to shoot."

Minneapolis Is Quiet After Riots Which Bring Death To Man

Leader Of Union Of Drivers Pleads For General Walk-Out; 68 Suffer Injury

(The Associated Press)
Quiet ruled at Minneapolis today where yesterday shot-guns roared and 68 persons suffered injuries from buck-shot or beatings in a truck drivers' strike.

Deliveries of milk and ice were made as usual this morning despite announcements 12 hours earlier by strike leaders that no such deliveries would be made today in a protest against police wounding pickets who attacked truck merchandise.

Miles Dunne, leader of a union of drivers, pleaded with two other unions for a general walkout.

Portland's gasoline famine ended when heavy police guards escorted tank trucks from the strike-chicken waterfront to filling stations whose tanks were dry.

The Pacific coast maritime strike will continue, leaders announced.

An ominous tenesness pervaded Minneapolis last night as an aftermath of a stubborn battle between striking truck drivers and police conveying a truckload of merchandise in which one man was killed in a half hundred wounded.

A military censorship immediately clamped down over the identity of the dead man and his affliction as well.

Seattle's casualty list since the start of the strike May 9, stands at two dead, 20 seriously injured, 300 slightly hurt (mostly bruises and cuts from clubs and rocks, and burns from gas bombs) and something over 2,000 gassed.

Mayor Smith of Seattle issued a statement explaining his position: "I have no intention of seeking to rule Seattle by force, but shall act to prevent anyone else from trying to rule the city by unlawful force. Police acted today on behalf of the public of the people, who are being seriously injured because of a controversy between interests representing only five percent."

"I am taking no sides as between the striking longshoremen and the waterfront employers. As acting head of the police department, I found a strong hand was necessary to remove a large crowd of men gathered at the docks for the purpose of unlawfully preventing trains from moving so these men were removed."

Net Profits Of RFC For Year $21,784,386

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation today reported a net profit of $21,784,386 during the fiscal year ended June 30, a survey of its activities revealed last night.

Chairman Jesse Jones, of the corporation, hailed the report as a "decided" indication that business is on the upturn.

However, with respect to the profit shown, no reserves have been set up for cover losses except a $100,000 reserve for self insurance.

For the first time it was revealed that the RFC made a profit of $402,495 on the Administration's bond buying program started last fall.

During the fiscal year, the report showed the RFC disbursed $3,062,802,864.15, of which $288,299,815.05 was repaid.

RFC Has Power To Buy Municipal Securities

WASHINGTON, July 21.—(AP)—Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Corporation said yesterday the RFC has virtually unlimited power to purchase sound municipal securities in order to help city employment projects throughout the country.

The statement was made after Jones had reached a tentative agreement with Mayor LaGuardia of New York whereby the RFC will purchase $100,000,000 of that city's securities from the Public Works Administration to increase New York's borrowing power for PWA projects to relieve unemployment.

"There is practically no limit to what we can do in the way of purchasing good city securities with a revolving fund and offering them for the market widely as so as not to glut the market," said Jones.

"A New York city bond is a good bond. That was proved at the sale last week."

Bernie and His Lads In Screen Debut

Bernie and his lads made their screen debut in "Shoot the Works," the Paramount feature film which will be shown on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Milne Theatre.

Introduced by a fine cast headed by Jack O'Leary, Dorothy Dell, Eddie, Judie, Allison Skipworth and George Karna, Bernie's orchestra plays six new hit tunes by the combined teams of Rainger and Robin and Gordon and Revel. They include "With My Eyes Wide Open, I'm Dreaming," "Do I Love You?" "In the Good Old Winter Time," "Take a Lesson from the Light" and "Were Your Ears Burning?"

Wesley Ruggles who directed "Night Humor" and "Bolo," filmed the megaphone on "Shoot the Works," an adaptation of the light play written by Ben Hecht and Gene Fowler.

"Shoot the Works" is a comedy-melody-romance about a broken-down side-show troupe, the Milky Nelson Enterprises, which survives a shipwreck because it has a flampola slide and a stuffed whale.

Jack O'Leary, as Nicky Nelson, is preparing to launch a vaudeville act with Arline Judge. With the aid of Bernie and his "lads," they manage to win fame and fortune.

The plot of the picture concerns itself with actors and singers on the rise and it centers on the romance of a side-show singer, Jack Oakie, who loves a blues singer, Dorothy Dell, loses her to a big shot and wins her back again. This comedy is heartily recommended to people who want to laugh.

Joe E. Brown fans will go for "The Circus Clown" which shows at the Milano on Wednesday. With a genuine circus for its background, the story is of a circus man's son who does roustabout work until fate gives him a chance to prove his ability as an acrobat. The kids will love this.

The stage show for Wednesday is Colonel Jack George, famous black face comedian and the College Cut-Up Revue, something new and different in the line of music, dancing and comedy. It should be good entertainment.

Showing at the local theatre on Thursday and Friday is "The Personality Kid," the saga of a colorful, eccentric pugilist, Pat O'Brien, who falls to realize that his success is due to the management of his wife, Glenda Farrell. The revelation of her part in his work leads to separation, sorrow and a near-tragedy, but there is a rose-colored ending to satisfy the fans.

Billed with "The Personality Kid," Administration circles predicted today a continuance of the irregular upturn that has proceeded since President Roosevelt took office.

How long this movement will continue is not expected to be known until the results of the recovery program to date can be fully gauged. Whether the upturn is principally the result of huge federal government expenditures and likely to falter when the spending is stopped will not be known for some time, according to many observers.

It was pointed out that while business activity rose in only thirteen months of the Hoover Administration, relief and recovery expenditures were negligible until the last year of the term.

Sheriff Turns In Report For Past 6 Months

year his net earnings for the period were $2568.06.

The report is to be read at Monday's special meeting of the County Commission when that body meets both as a Commission and as an equalizing board.

All county fee officers are scheduled to file their reports for the first six months of the year during the next few days.

A comparison of the two reports rendered by Sheriff McClelland reveals that his revenues decreased in three of six departments. Less money was collected this year in fees and costs from civil cases, attendance at all courts and county commission meetings, and commissions on collections, than was collected last year.

Fees, and costs from criminal and insanity were almost at the same level, the 1934 collection in this account being $3049.91 as against $2978.08 for last year.

The sum of $1445.80 was received for feeding prisoners this year while only $1335.15 was received last year.

Principal increase in revenue is recorded in the account, "All other commissions and remunerations. This year $1464.34 in that account with $701.35 received last year.

The report reveals that if Sheriff McClelland had not paid his son $450 for the first six months of this year to act as jailer in the County Jail, the expenditures for the two years would be about the same amount.

Total expenses for this year are $4390.68, while last year they were $3985.62.

Orlando's Ideo Tell Swope Not To Move Office; To Resign

Mr. Russell was asked for an opinion on the San Francisco general strike and said he thought it would be broken.

"It may be lost nominally," he said, "but no strike ever is entirely lost. General Johnson says labor never gains anything by striking, but I am inclined to think it never gains anything except by striking. They can shoot the strikers down but there now, but it won't always be thus."

Asked what he thought of the new Tammany administration, Mr. Russell laughed and said, "I've followed New York City politics for fifty-two years and I've seen more 'new Tammanies than I can remember. And none of them was very new."

fixing nonsense—an absolute impossibility under the competitive system."

Mr. Russell was not impressed by the plan which would transfer the control of N. R. A. from General Hugh S. Johnson to a board.

"That board of appeals looks like a bluff to me," he said. "They'll be appointed by Johnson and responsible to Johnson, and they'll just be so many more yemen to follow him around. It's the sublimation of stuff and nonsense. I think it was a mistake to choose a military man to head the N. R. A. He has no understanding of the mass of people and no consideration for the little fellow."

The N. R. A. was based on two economic fallacies, according to Mr. Russell. First, that business could be improved by forcing up commodity prices; second, that "fair competition could be enforced."

"There is no such thing as 'fair' competition," said Mr. Russell. "Why prolong a system under which 60 percent of the nation's wealth is held by 1 percent of the population? That situation is the real source of most of our economic trouble, and that is the situation N. R. A. seeks to extend. They talk of regimenting business, but business won't be regimented, particularly not by a drill sergeant whose only idea is to make

STEADINESS IS FEATURE OF BUSINESS

Wholesale And Retail Trades Made Better Showing Last Week Than Week Before

NEW YORK, July 23.—Business through the country, said Dun & Bradstreet in their weekly trade review recently, is maintaining a surprising degree of steadiness, "in spite of the adverse extraneous influences," which it has had to face.

Despite season lowering of activity in the major industries and labor market, volume in both the wholesale and retail trades made a better showing than a week earlier, the review asserted.

"The most encouraging reports on distribution," continued the review, "were received from New England, South Atlantic, Middle Western, and Northwest areas."

"In the Southwest 100 days of drought have brought a distinct lull in most branches of commercial activity."

"While retail sales the past week fell somewhat below expectations, volume was bolstered by successful clearance promotions, particularly in light weight wearing apparel, textiles and housewares, with the total rising 5 to 10 percent above the comparative figures of 1933.

"Despite the uncertainties regarding the final outcome of the fall crops, because of the rapid spread of the drought areas, and of the epidemic of strikes that spread across the country this week, the leading wholesale markets reported activity at the highest pitch reached thus far this year."

16 Die When Large Bus Catches Fire After 40-Foot Dive

OSHINGO, New York, July 23.—(AP)—At least 16 persons, most women, and children rode to a flaming death in a big motor bus yesterday, and the burned and twisted wreckage was searched today for more bodies.

The bus, carrying more than 50 persons to a scheduled baseball game at Sing Sing prison, plunged wildly down a sharp hill in Oshingo, dove off a 40-foot embankment, and burst into flames as it landed in a lumberyard.

Twelve mangled bodies were removed as soon as the fire could be checked.

Four of those rescued died in hospitals.

Half a dozen passengers still are unaccounted for. They are feared dead. Twenty-three of the passengers were in hospitals, two critically burned.

Quincy Earned $25,829 From Its Light Plant

QUINCY, July 23.—This city, with less than 5000 population, made a profit of $25,829 during the last 12 months on its municipally-owned light and water plants.

Combined receipts were $65,000, combined expenses were $40,000.

One of the great expenditures, permanent improvements valued at $1,100,000 were made.

Most of the electric power was furnished at a cost of $100 KW, a cost slightly less than that of a small amount of power generated during the year in the city plant.

Grave Fears Felt For Byrd's Safety

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, July 23.—(AP)—Grave concern for the safety of Rear Admiral Richard Byrd was felt today. The trail leading to his lonely weather observation outpost was lost. The tractor party which set out Friday to bring him back to the main base reported it could not pick up the trail. The group was 50 miles out on the 123-mile run. Orange flags with which a trail had been marked could not be found past that point, the party reported.

SEABOARD OIL CO. WILL ERECT NEW FILLING STATION

$15,000 Structure To Be Erected On Lot Near Court House

Construction of a new Spanish style one-stop filling station which is to be the future home of the Seminole Tire Shop, will begin within the next two weeks at Commercial Street and Park Avenue on the lot once used as a miniature golf course.

This announcement was made this morning by A. J. Peterson, local agent for the Seaboard Oil Co., who added that the building would cost at least $15,000.

Final plans for the new station were received late Saturday. Mr. Peterson said, and with only a few minor changes made by Mr. Peterson and W. A. Patrick, his business associate, they were returned to the Jacksonville office of the Pure Oil Co. today.

The projected station will be built of solid concrete with tile roof. Numerous built-in features needed in every modern one-stop station, and large, airy, and well-lighted offices, stock rooms, and service rooms are other features of the plant.

The main building will be set back from the Park Avenue sidewalk line about 30 feet. A decorative canopy will occupy the center front portion of the main building, and under this canopy will be room for attendants to serve three automobiles abreast.

The main building's west wall, on Park Avenue, will be 104 feet long, or the length of the lot. Facing that wall, the passers-by will see on the extreme right a driveway where wheel alignments and free wheeling adjustments are to be made.

The next room will be the showroom behind which, and extending back 140 feet to the alleyway, will be the main office, the battery and tire repair room, and the stock room.

Brake testing and repairing machinery will be installed in the third and fourth large front rooms into which motorists may drive.

At the extreme right rear of the building as it is faced from Park Avenue, will be a wash rack that is accessible from Commercial Street.

While the main building and (Continued on Page Three)

NRA IS TOLD TO GAMBLE ON FUTURE

Advice Is Based On An Expectation Of Substantial Upswing Of Business In Fall

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—The NRA has been informed by its experts to "gamble" on a substantial fall rise in business and a less than usual slump during the remainder of the summer.

Leon Henderson, chief of the Blue Eagle's research and planning division held this conclusion yesterday on the basis of a mass of statistical and other data. His advice to NRA is based upon an expectation of an upswing.

Henderson's researchers have reported to him that the decline thus far this summer has been less than normal, and that there are now numerous signs of an upward trend in business generally.

There is no expectation, however, of a boom development. Henderson employs most careful language in his estimate of the future. He himself referred yesterday to his attitude as a "gamble" on the basis of the best facts available.

The research chief is paying special attention to what he describes as his "hominid indicators." For instance there has been a gain in the sale of living room rugs, one of the first things which housewives like to replace when funds are available.

There also has been a decline in the number of bachelors, he points out. In one city, for instance, the number of bachelors before the depression was 19,000. This increased to 29,000 at the height of the depression, and is now about 25,000, the expert explains, being that men with funds are less fearful of marriage.

For another thing Henderson's "doubling up" indicator in reference to housing shows that families which have been crowded now are spreading out and filling vacant apartments and houses.

Small personal loans, his figures show, are being paid up in full at an increasing rate. The index on this indicator shows the rate of repaying at a record high for the depression and higher even than in the month when soldiers' bonus payments were largest. Similarly the rate of repayment of building and loan obligations is up, and the amount of unrepaid property held by building and loan associations is down. Repayments to the home owners' loan corporation and farm credit administration are also holding up well.

Henderson said he was paying increasing attention to this type of statistical indicator because, first, it shows the status of the ordinary person better than the customary type of business statistics, and second, because it tends to get at the beginning of the buying process rather than at the end.

Heat Wave Extends Sway Over Nation

By The Associated Press The heat wave extended its sway over a sun-scoured nation today, raising the total lives lost to at least 275. With even more severe temperatures reported in all sections, cities paid with lives and the country with livestock, ravaged crops, and falling water supplies. A survey of the drought damage from the Mississippi to the Rocky Mountains showed thousands of cattle lost, thousands more given up at forced sales, and crop losses at hundreds of thousands of dollars. Millions of persons who found relief at lakes and the seashore over the week-end came back today to baked pavements and steaming sidewalks.

FERA HEADS IN VOLUSIA RECEIVE GRIM THREATS

Miniature Coffins Of Wood Sent Women Relief Officials

By RACHEL FITCHFORD DAYTONA BEACH, July 23.—Grim threats against Mrs. Emeth Tuttle Cochran and Mrs. Mary Moffitt, FERA relief workers, have been made this week, it was learned yesterday.

The person or persons who made the dire warnings, had constructed miniature coffins of wood, bearing the names of the welfare workers and warnings composed of clipped lettering from newspapers. The coffins were said to have been devised for deposit on the doorsteps of the two women.

The one for Mrs. Cochran was found Monday morning on the steps of the home of a neighbor of Mrs. Cochran in Hillcrest. The neighbor turned the gruesome object over to Mrs. Cochran.

The city administration said yesterday it has been informed of the matter and that steps have been taken to protect the women from any harm. City executives have assured Mrs. Cochran and Mrs. Moffitt that the scheme was devised by someone merely to intimidate them, and that the threats in all likelihood would not be followed by violence.

Chief of Police Hanes refused to comment on the matter. The sheriff's office disclaimed receiving any report.

The coffin addressed to Mrs. Cochran was of wood, painted black, and had silver handles. A newspaper clipping bearing her name was attached. A warning was also enclosed.

Mrs. Cochran yesterday refused to comment. Neither would Mrs. Mary Moffitt make any statement.

Both Mrs. Cochran and Mrs. Moffitt have been the target of criticism by dissatisfied FERA patrons. Petitions asking for their resignation were circulated recently among the laborers. And a certain amount of bickering aimed at the entire FERA set-up has been prevalent for some time. Much of it was expressed at mass meetings held several weeks ago.

Fog, Deadliest Of Aviators' Foes, Is Finally Conquered

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 23.—(AP)—Fog, the deadliest menace of the aviator and the mariner, has been successfully made to disappear.

Chemical dissipation of fog over limited areas was tested for the first time last Friday by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Round Hill research station at South Dartmouth. It became known Saturday.

Three minutes after nozzles set into a 100-foot long pipe began pouring a secret chemical into a rolling fog which had enveloped the airport on the Round Hill estate of Col. E. H. E. Green, where the technology station is located, buildings 1,000 feet away stood clearly revealed against a background of turbulent walls of white vapor.

GRAY REVEALS IRREGULARITY IN PRIMARIES

7290 Votes Polled In Jackson County Although Less Than 1000 Were Eligible

TAMPA, July 23.—Evidence of a West Florida irregularity in the recent primaries was disclosed today in an announcement from R. A. Gray, Secretary of State, that of the more than 7000 persons who voted in Jackson county, only 928 had paid poll taxes for 1933 and that only 878 had paid poll taxes for 1932. Payment of poll taxes for both 1932 and 1933 was a legal prerequisite for voting in the primaries, except in the case of exemptions for over-age or military service.

The Jackson County vote in the U. S. Senatorial race was: Pepper 4741; Tamm 2549.

Mr. Gray's information was obtained officially from Mrs. Mary Calhoun, Supervisor of Registration in Jackson county.

The population in Jackson county as established by the federal census of 1930 is 31,000. Marian is the county seat.

Jackson county politicians made no secret of the fact that persons unable to pay poll taxes are permitted to vote in Democratic primaries. This, they explain, is a result of the depression. The large percentage of the population consists of farmers and primary time finds virtually all of their ready cash tied up in fertilizer and new farm implements. In the fall when they cash in on cotton and other crops they can, if they desire, recognize the payment of poll tax a moral obligation in return for a privilege already exercised.

The significance of the Jackson county vote which resulted in a majority of approximately 2000 for Pepper is apparent had Pepper decided to contest the result.

It is understood that many of Jackson county's neighbors also have adopted the depression style of voting without the necessity of complying with state statutes requiring the payment of poll taxes for the two years preceding the year of the primaries.

Legion Head Says Grave Is Being Dug For Constitution

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 23.—(AP)—Edward A. Hayes, national commander of the American Legion, in an address before the International Association of Lions clubs recently, charged that "advocates of the reamendment of agriculture, and the so-called social order, are digging a grave for the Constitution of the United States."

"Today the strange tenets being advocated threaten the very structure upon which our Democratic citizenship is built," Hayes added, but he emphasized that "there is not now and there never will be, so far as this national commander is concerned, any partisan politics in anything he says or does, because in the Legion we are only interested in telling what we know to be the truth."

Roderick Bedlow, international president of Lions, commenting on the speech, told newspaper reporters that "what Mr. Hayes has said must be regarded purely as his own expression as the Legion's national commander and not as a member of Lions."

Ickes Discovers Drone In His Department

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, one of the busiest of the "big dealers," has discovered at least one loafer in his department.

Walking down a corridor in the large Interior Building, Mr. Ickes chanced to look into an office. He was surprised to see a young man, sitting comfortably with his feet on a desk, reading a magazine.

Mr. Ickes entered the office and asked: "Is this the way you receive visitors?"

The young man, without turning his head to glance at the questioner, replied: "What's it to you?"

The secretary returned to his office to learn the young man's identity, then he asked:

Dillinger Is Killed After Walking Into Federal Police Trap

Dillinger Pictured As Having Been Most Dangerous Deeper-ado Of Past Decade

CHICAGO, July 23.—The death of Dillinger Sunday night marked the journey's end for the most dangerous desperado of the decade.

The machine gunning outfit and his gang ranged the country for months clashing with officers, vanishing and reappearing like so many modern headless horsemen. Escapes of the dead man and his henchmen crowded police annals. Dillinger bulled his way from the Crown Point, Ind. Jail; drove through an elaborate official ambush in Chicago; shot his way out of a federal trap in St. Paul; mocked the largest army of the law ever assembled in the Midwest.

With his aides he was captured under dramatic circumstances in Tucson, Ariz., only to take to the crime trail again and blast to freedom through a ring of government operatives at the Little Bohemia lodge in Wisconsin.

The report: "Dillinger sighted," was bulletined from coast to coast. His name was bruited in the Senate chamber and mouthed on the stage. He was the subject of end less editorials, an object lesson to law enforcement officials, a factor in politics. Humorists found in him a fruitful source of gag, and some civic authorities the cause of chagrin.

Some of the mile posts in the life and spectacular crime career of John Dillinger, America's "swart lad man," were: 1922—Born in Moonerville, Ind., a rural village, the son of a highly respected family of Quaker stock. 1916—Entered Moonerville high school to become a baseball star and proficient in his studies. 1924—Robbed an agent Mooreville merchant, Frank Morgan, of $550, slugging him on the street; sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years.

May, 1933—Paroled from Indiana state prison at Michigan City and promptly went on a bank robbery spree. Sept. 15, 1933—Ten convicts released from Michigan City with guns smuggled to them by Dillinger.

On the same day, Dillinger was jailed at Dayton, Ohio, for bank robbery, being transferred to a jail at Lima, Ohio.

Oct. 21, 1933—Freed from Lima jail by fugitives he had helped deliver from Michigan City. Sheriff Jean Barber of Lima was killed.

Jan. 15, 1934—Killed Policeman William P. O'Malley, while robbing an East Chicago, Ind., bank of $23,000, one of a score of bank robberies that netted the gang $500,000 or more.

Arrogant To The End He Reaches For Gun, Too Late To Escape Swift, Bloody Death

CHICAGO, July 23.—(A.P.)—Dillinger's dead; he swaggered from a neighborhood theater last night into raking fire of government guns.

Too late he saw the gleaming steel of the trap set for him. His hand went for his gun.

Three bullets tore into his body—one in the neck, two in the body, and he staggered and fell. It was the end of John Dillinger. The hour was 10:40 P. M. Central Daylight Saving Time.

The place was just outside the Biograph Theater, a neighborhood movie on the northwest side in a territory where the blood of many a Chicago gangster has flowed before.

Had the climax of this bank robber-desperado-killer's career been pre-arranged it could have been no more sensational.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(A.P.)—The government today hailed John Dillinger's end as one of the most smashing blows ever delivered at crime in the United States. It seemed the manhunt would never cease until it captured all members of the Dillinger mob and "anyone who gave them any aid, comfort, or assistance."

There was even an audience loitering about the vicinity of the theater, drawn by the presence of so many Department of Justice agents, that for a time some believed a holdup was planned.

Dillinger, his hair dyed a darker hue, the telltale scars on his cheeks lifted by plastic surgery, gold rimmed spectacles framing his shifty eyes, his nose straightened, carefully groomed black mustache adorning his leering lip, and the whorls of his fingertips obliterated by acid, strode through the lobby and sauntered down the street.

He passed, apparently without recognition, Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago Bureau of Justice Department.

Purvis, seated in a parked car, moved his right arm in a casual signal.

Several agents leaped forward, their pistols gleaming in the garish light.

Suddenly the mask of insolence dropped from the phantom free-booter's countenance.

He darted into an alley reaching for a pistol for a final shot. As he did so a five shot fusillade cut him down. Three of the bullets struck him. Two missed their mark and whizzed into the terrified throngs gathered near the theater striking the legs of two gaping women spectators.

The infamous fugitive sprawled on the pavement in a crumpled heap. Dillinger died enroute to a hospital.

In his pocket was found just $7.60.

The slug which ended his amazing crime career had struck in the neck and coursed up to emerge beneath his right eye.

One federal man, Purvis said, had fired the five shots. He declined to reveal his identity.
