Ike Advises Reduction Of Federal Spending

Officers Break Up Big County 'Theft Ring'; 4 Men, Youth Arrested

Top News In Brief

WASHINGTON — Republican economists in the House hailed today what they claimed was concrete evidence that the White House is backing Congress' drive to cut President Eisenhower's $71.8 billion budget.

Israel announced today it had surrendered authority in the Gaza Strip to the United Nations despite a growing threat that Egypt would demand control of the area.

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today invited West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to visit the United States at the end of May for discussions "on matters of mutual concern."

TALLAHASSEE — State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey sought legislative backing today for $1,100,000 to aid in putting Florida's new pupil assignment law into effect.

CAIRO — The Egyptian government newspaper Al Goum-Houria said today Egypt retained the right to order United Nations Emergency Forces out of the Gaza Strip whenever it wanted to.

Weather
Partly cloudy today and tonight with little change in temperature. Friday considerable cloudiness with widely scattered showers and cooler. Low tonight 50 to 58.

"One of the biggest organized theft rings in Seminole County," said Constable Slim Galloway, was broken up yesterday with the arrest of four men and one juvenile.

Deputy Sheriff H. S. Smart, investigating a breaking and entering case which occurred on Feb. 11 at a curb market on French Ave. and Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway, investigating theft of blankets, quilts and pillows from sleeping cabs of trucks at Hall Brothers Trucking Co. on Feb. 15, combined their efforts when information centered on the same person.

Even though working on different cases, the two law enforcement officers ended up placing charges against the same group of men.

Deputy Sheriff Smart said that wheels, tires, tubes, truck tires, and batteries were stolen, along with outboard motors, a boat, food, clothing, and gasoline.

"We haven't been able to recover everything stolen," said Smart, "but we are not through with the investigation."

Galloway stated that the ring has been active here since the first of the year. The thefts include newspaper racks and coin containers which have been placed along the streets. "We will see a great decrease in stealing," said Galloway as the arrest of the group was announced.

Those in custody include Lloyd Pitts, 29, of Mescia, N. Y.; Howard Burritt, 19, of Mescia, N. Y.; Cecil Presley, 20, of Lake (Continued on Page 3)

Airliner Makes Emergency Landing With 65 Aboard
GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. — An American Airlines DC7 with 65 persons aboard made an emergency landing at the Grand Junction Airport Wednesday because of engine trouble.

The landing was made without incident. Another DC7 was flown to Grand Junction from Los Angeles to take the 60 passengers and five crewmen the rest of the way on what had been scheduled as a Los Angeles-to-Chicago non-stop flight.

The passengers included Barney Russ, former lightweight boxing champion who had been in Hollywood while a film of his life was being made, and Leo Duercher, former manager of the New York Giants who was en route to Canada for a vacation.

Funeral Friday For 16-Month-Old Linda L. Heitman
The infant daughter of T/Sgt. and Mrs. Charles W. Heitman passed away Tuesday afternoon at the Seminole Memorial Hospital after a short illness.

Linda Lellani Heitman, 16 months old, was born Aug. 18, 1955 in Mineral Wells, Tex., and the family had lived in Sanford since last July. The Heitmans and their daughter attended the All Souls Catholic Church here.

Mr. Heitman who is stationed in Iceland, was flown here by the Army last night. Mrs. Heitman is the vice president of the Enlisted Men's Wives Club of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Survivors other than her parents include two brothers, Dale and Edward Heitman, Sanford. Graveside services will be held at 10 a. m. Friday at the All Souls Catholic Cemetery with Father Richard Lyons officiating.

It is in Senior High School that students begin their orientation trips, and are guided in what they can take and study and, reasons why certain subjects should be studied, said Girard.

"The Kiwanis Club has done much work in this field," said Girard, "by upholding the dignity and value of skill trades among the professions."

Some schools have full time counselors, others part time, and some schools have none, said Girard as he urged parents not to press for a final decision from their youngsters who are considering a trade or profession. "Let them choose subjects with reason, and advise them, don't press," he said.

The DCT Program, said Girard, has benefited the youth choosing a profession or trade, by gathering materials supporting each occupation and uses it in his or her progress — interview and test young people going into an occupation.

"If we can encourage, in the DCT Program, one or two more to continue to college the DCT feels that it has done its job," said Girard.

Relieve Inflationary Pressures

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today it might be necessary to slow up federal spending on some projects in order to relieve inflationary pressures.

In his first news conference since Feb. 6, Mr. Eisenhower said he has ordered an intensive review of the budget to determine whether spending for certain projects could be slowed down to achieve a budget cut for fiscal 1958.

He did not identify the projects. His budget for fiscal 1958 calls for spending $71.8 billion dollars.

Mr. Eisenhower said he did not anticipate being able to make any substantial cut which would cause material reduction of federal services or in any way affect the defense and national security of the nation.

Trouble in hearing. Coughing repeatedly, he told reporters in his first meeting with them in a month that he was suffering today from a temporary difficulty with his hearing.

Frequently during the conference he asked reporters to speak louder and more distinctly.

He said that, in view of the Middle East situation and the absence from the country of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, it would be awkward for him to go to Arizona now in an effort to heal his cough and cold.

Other news highlights: He does not think there can be any substantial cuts in foreign aid. His budget for fiscal 1958 calls for $4.4 billion dollars.

He confirmed that he told King Saud of Saudi Arabia recently that Israel is here to stay as a nation. He said he has been consistent for years in his position that Israel is a historical fact and its problems must be dealt with like those of any other nation.

He said the United States is prepared to use the Gulf of Aqaba and its gateway, the straits of Tiran, as an open international waterway.

He said the Middle East outlook is brighter, but there are still (Continued on Page 3)

Hubbell Is Made Honorary Member Of Kiwanis Club

Carl Hubbell, Director of the New York Giants Farm System, received a standing ovation at the Sanford Kiwanis Club when he was introduced by Ed Lane.

The Baseball Hall of Fame when Edwin Rhinholser, club president, told him "We're happy to have the New York Giants with us for what they have added to our community."

Hubbell, acknowledging the honorary membership in the local Kiwanis Club said "The way the citizens of Sanford have accepted us and because of the wonderful response to our being here, we have decided that all of the exhibition games we play here will be open to the public and free."

"You will see some good baseball games here," Hubbell told the Kiwanis Club members, "and we invite all of you to come out to see them."

Other visitors introduced at yesterday's Kiwanis Club meeting included St. Clair Cameron, a member of the Fayetteville, Ga. Kiwanis Club, W. J. Wilson, father of the immediate past president of the Sanford Kiwanis Club A. L. Wilson, and Ens. Freddie Wilson, his son.

Two visiting Key Club members were also introduced, Barry St. John and Wally Pope. The two young men urged Kiwanians to support a car wash next Saturday because "We need the money."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The United States will have to import food by the year 2,000 A. D. if its population continues to increase at the present rate, says Dr. Herman T. Spleth, University of California food-population specialist.

Survey For New Post Office Site Stated This Spring

A survey of the Sanford area looking toward the selection of a new site and the construction of a new Post Office Building will be made, according to a letter received yesterday by Chamber of Commerce Manager John Kridler from the office of the Assistant Commissioner for Planning of federal buildings.

William A. Schmidt, the Assistant Commissioner of Planning, said in his letter "A field survey covering the Federal space requirements at Sanford has been requested."

However, Schmidt pointed out in his letter, that "such surveys are normally scheduled on the basis of relative urgency and work load limitation."

"We do not anticipate the accomplishment of the survey until sometime in the spring," he said.

The survey, which is expected to be undertaken possibly in April or May of this year, originated through a resolution approved by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners and forwarded to the Commission for Planning Federal Buildings on Jan. 28, with an accompanying letter from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The request for the survey included the possible construction of a Post Office in a less congested area and to include offices for the various and many Federal Agencies which maintain separate offices in Sanford.

Schmidt, assured Manager John Kridler of the Chamber of Commerce that the matter "will receive appropriate attention at the earliest practicable date."

Navy Picture Looking Better

The brochure of resolutions from governing bodies of Seminole County and from civic and church organizations, are continuing to be approved and forwarded to Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager to be included in "The Sanford Story" which will be presented to Naval officials and the Congressional Delegation in about two weeks in an effort to retain the Sanford Naval Air Station here.

Already received in the Chamber of Commerce office are resolutions from the Seminole County Board of County Commissioners, the Town of Casselberry, the Town of Altamonte Springs and the Sanford Kiwanis Club.

Other organizations who are preparing resolutions include the First Christian Church, the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Sanford Women's Club, and the Sanford Lions Club.

At least 12 other resolutions are being prepared for presentation and approval of club and organization membership and will be announced as soon as they are approved.

In the meantime, the fund to support the effort to retain the Naval Air Station in Seminole County is growing. Received this (Continued on Page 3)

Dade County Crops Suffer Considerable Damage From Rain

MIAMI — South Florida farmers put their faith in the weatherman's promise of a halt in the rain today, but the unseasonable downpours of the past two weeks already had taken a high toll.

Dade County agricultural agent John D. Campbell said the heavy rainfall since Feb. 19 had done "considerable" damage to tomatoes, strawberries, beans, potatoes and sweet corn.

The downpours also had done extensive damage to the new Sunshine State Parkway on the section between Fort Pierce and Stuart. There were several stretches marked with potholes and cracking pavement. Gullies in gravel road shoulders came right up to the pavement in many places.

Campbell reported that Wednesday's 14 inches of rain in Dade County, coupled with previous downpours, may cause some fields to be a "total loss." More than seven inches of rain was recorded in the county since Feb. 15.

"It will be hard to estimate the financial loss until the rain stops long enough for us to make a complete survey," he said. "But there is evidence of considerable damage now."

Vocational Guidance Forms Integral Part Of School System

The Diversified Cooperative Training program Director, Louis J. Girard, explained the Vocational Guidance program to members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club. Vocational Guidance, he said, has formed an integral part of the school system beginning with the elementary grades.

Vocational Guidance, said Girard, is described by the National Education Association as being the "choosing of an occupation — preparing for it — to assist the student in making a decision for the future."

Girard then word-pictured the financial loss until the rain stops long enough for us to make a complete survey," he said. "But there is evidence of considerable damage now."

It is in Senior High School that students begin their orientation trips, and are guided in what they can take and study and, reasons why certain subjects should be studied, said Girard.

"The Kiwanis Club has done much work in this field," said Girard, "by upholding the dignity and value of skill trades among the professions."

Some schools have full time counselors, others part time, and some schools have none, said Girard as he urged parents not to press for a final decision from their youngsters who are considering a trade or profession.

"Let them choose subjects with reason, and advise them, don't press," he said.

The DCT Program, said Girard, has benefited the youth choosing a profession or trade, by gathering materials supporting each occupation and uses it in his or her progress — interview and test young people going into an occupation.

"If we can encourage, in the DCT Program, one or two more to continue to college the DCT feels that it has done its job," said Girard.

Pinecrest In School Design Contest

It was announced today by John A. Burton IV, A.I.A., local architect, that his firm is entering the Pinecrest School in a national competition for school house design. The competition is conducted by The School Executive Magazine which is a national publication, distributed generally to all schools and school board administration. The program is planned to encourage better design of educational buildings and is open to any architectural firm in the United States or Canada, which has constructed a school or college building in whole or in part in 1956. While the bulk of competition on Pinecrest School was done during the previous year, the final completion date was February, 1956, thus making this school eligible for this competition.

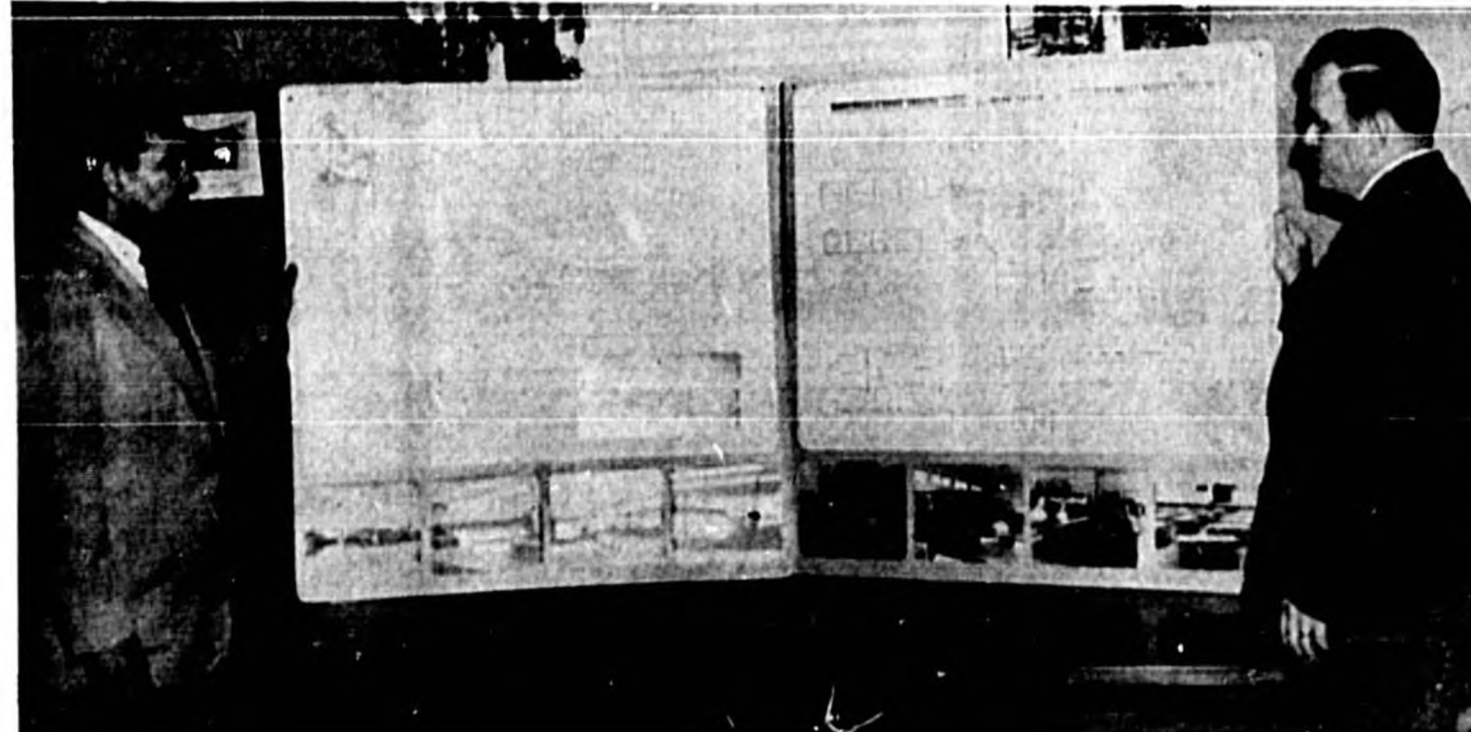

Burton says that the materials submitted to the competition consist of two hardboard mounts on which they have shown the plot plan of the school, the floor plan, drawings of elevations and section through the building, a picture of the rendering of the over-all plant, along with four large photographs of the exterior and four large photographs of the interior, which were taken specifically for this purpose.

In entering Pinecrest School in the competition, Burton states "we have placed heavy emphasis upon the warmth of atmosphere, which is felt to be the most outstanding feature of the school plant and which is created mainly by the large amount of planting adjacent to buildings."

Burton says the extensive planting areas were planned with some amount of apprehension on their part as to just how well the areas thus provided would be utilized and maintained; however, he feels "the Pinecrest P.T.A. has done a remarkably good job in planting these areas and the students are apparently taking a great deal of interest in maintaining them in first class condition." It is felt he says, that this large amount of greenery has a very pleasing psychological effect on the child's feeling toward his school plant.

This competition is being conducted under the auspices of the American Institute of Architects Committee on Competitions and will be judged by a panel of five judges, including three architects and two educators.

Plaques will be awarded to the winning firms and firms receiving honorable mention or special feature citations will be awarded appropriate scrolls therefor.

CHAPTER 16

DOTTIE's sister was smiling at me. Now that she had told me, I could see the resemblance between her and her sister. In a few years, if Dottie didn't need the scales, she would be a chubby, overflowing bundle of sugar and spice like her older sister. Then I realized she had been speaking to me.

"I'm sorry," I said. "What did you say?"

Dottie's sister said, "Jack."

"Jack?"

She pointed toward the door.

"Here he is," she said. "Back again."

I looked, and there he was, back again. He was walking around the front of a black, two-door sedan. He had a raincoat over his arm. He came into the store and grinned at Dottie's sister. I could tell he liked her.

"Louise," he said. "I found Phil's raincoat in the car. He might need it tomorrow."

"Thanks, Jack," she took the coat from him. "That was thoughtful of you."

"Sure," he said. "I'm thoughtful."

He glanced at me without the slightest interest. For that I was grateful. But Louise had to open her lovely mouth. Her voice was hopping with excitement. She was going to love this. "Take a look at this young lady."

He took a look at me. He said, "I'm looking at her and I'm enjoying it. But why?"

Louise giggled; this was rich. She said, "She don't mean a thing to you, you're not kidding with me, are you?"

"Honey," she said to me, "say something. Maybe he'll recognize your voice. Speak!"

"How-wow," I said. "Art-art."

"Down, boy," Jack said. "What is this?"

"Louise," Louise cried. "It's Hester Frost!"

"Hester," Jack said, very slowly. "Hester Frost."

The name had rung a bell with him. His memory wasn't playing tricks. He was remembering, no doubt, that Dottie had told him about a dame named Hester Frost who had come snooping around, minding their business. His face wasn't pleasant anymore. His lips thinned into a hard, tight line. His eyes turned frigid. He looked like a kid who was badly with a switch blade and proud of it. He didn't like me at all. His attitude started the fright churning inside me.

Louise was saying, "She went to grade school with you, she's from the Dodd, Mead & Co. novel. Copyright © 1936 by William and Audrey Kelley Roos. © 1936 by Kelley Roos. Distributed by King Features Syndicate."

been telling me. Grade school!"

"Why, sure, yes!" Jack said. His voice was hearty, playing the big rounds, but his eyes were still frigid. "Sure, little Hester Frost! You sat beside me in Miss Kooner's room. Whatever happened to you?"

"Whatever happened to Miss Kooner?" I asked.

"Say, do you remember Archie Hall?"

"That stinker? Well, it's been swell seeing you again, Jack. I'll be running along now..."

I started for the door. His hand was around my right arm, just above the elbow. I had no idea dancing teachers were so strong. This was painful.

"What's the rush?" he said. "Let's have a drink down the street... for old time's sake."

"Thanks... but no."

"Go ahead, honey," Louise said. "It's all right. Dottie's not the jealous type."

"No, really... I'm late."

"I'll drive you there," Jack said. "Wherever it is..."

"Don't bother,..."

"It'll be a pleasure."

He steered me forcibly toward the door.

"Drop in again, Hester," Louise called after us. "This has been fun."

Jack Walston pulled me into the front seat of the car, file clicked on the headlights, started the motor, his right hand still on my wrist. I never had liked one-arm drivers; I hated this one. At the first corner he turned right. He stopped, parked in the middle of the block. He let go of my wrist. He swung his body around under the steering wheel to face me.

He said, "Hester Frost... is that your real name?"

He was silent for a moment.

"The Bartons have a job teaching at Crescent... the morning after the murder. You got Anita Farrell's job. Coincidence, isn't it?"

"Somebody had to take her place," I said.

"But then you start prying into other people's affairs... why?"

I didn't answer him; I couldn't. Again he said, "Why?"

I heard myself babbling something about being a special investigator for the police... the cops wanted to know why he was so interested in Anita Farrell's apartment... that if he'd answer a few questions I might consider giving him a break.

He was laughing at me. He considered giving him a break. He was laughing at me. He considered giving him a break.

An unwise visitor is waiting at home for Connie as Chapter 17 of "The Blonde Died Dancing" continues here tomorrow.

Monroe; Emory Hawkins, 18, of Lake Monroe, and a 16-year-old juvenile of Messina, N. Y.

Lake County authorities, said Deputy Sheriff Smart, will pick up another Messina, N. Y. man who has been identified as 20-year-old Paul Boleo. He is said to be on a shrimp boat at the present time and is to be taken into custody on his arrival in a Florida port.

Galloway said that the New York boys lived in the Paola section.

The two law enforcement officers were taken to an island in the St. Johns just off Astor where a camp, described as an ideal hideout, was located and where most of the loot was stored.

Deputy Sheriff Smart said charges of breaking and entering will be placed against Buritt, the juvenile, Presley, Hawkins, and possibly Boleo. He said that charges of accessory to breaking and entering charges will be placed against Lloyd Pitts.

Galloway will place charges of petty larceny against the entire group of men.

morning were contributions from the Abstract Corp., General Finance Corp., City Transfer and Storage, and Fred Wilson.

The total amount of the fund has grown to $12,815.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager said yesterday afternoon, "The picture is looking better and better as everyone cooperates in an effort to keep the economy of the Sanford and Seminole County Community sound."

Ike

many problems which can come up. Solution of preliminary phases of the difficulties between Egypt and Israel does not solve the underlying differences.

There is no prospective federal vacancy in sight for Leonard W. Hall, former Republican national chairman. Mr. Eisenhower said that if he had a suitable post, no doubt Hall's name would come to mind.

Budget Cut Move.

The President's discussion of federal spending came amid a growing move in Congress to slice the budget by several billion dollars. House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. said earlier this week he thought as much as 3 billion could be cut.

The President attributed the continuing increase in the cost of living to the fact that, in any period of great prosperity, everybody is competing for dollars and materials.

For this reason, he said he thinks it is advisable to slow down some of the federal spending programs. But he could not speculate on the size of possible reductions.

Luster Named Park Sales Manager

Ray Slayton, president of Oaklawn Memorial Park, this week announced the appointment of Lewis L. (Lew) Luster as sales manager. Luster was formerly in Classified Advertising Manager of the Sanford Herald.

Oaklawn Memorial Park is a perpetual care type of cemetery located on the Sanford-Paola road (20th street extension) about two miles west of the Mayfair Golf course.

Started in 1954 the park now contains one developed and one semi-developed garden—the Garden of the Cross and the Garden of Devotion. While already on the planning board awaiting development in the near future are other gardens including a Masonic garden and others dedicated to leading religious denominations.

The idea of establishing family memorial estates in park-like landscaped cemeteries is not new. The first such memorial park was established in the United States in 1912, and since then the idea has grown steadily in public acceptance. Family burial lots may be purchased at Oaklawn on time payments, before need, with the promise that someday they will be developed into beautiful landscaped gardens. Perpetual care of these gardens is assured by an irrevocable trust fund set aside for that purpose and administered by the Florida State Bank of Sanford.

The gardenlike atmosphere is preserved in memorial parks by the use of simple plaques placed flush with the ground instead of a divergency of granite, stone and marble tomb stones, seen in all old-type burial grounds. Approximately 300 people already own lots in Oaklawn.

The public is invited to visit Oaklawn and hear the soft music of chimes broadcast from speakers concealed in the oak trees, each Sunday from 2 to 6 p. m. Music is also provided in this manner during funeral services.

Lions Win First Game In State Basketball Tourney

By MARIAN JONES

In the University of Florida gymnasium, the Oviedo Lions met Sneads in their first game of the State Basketball Tournament. Approximately 30 Oviedo people made the trip to Gainesville to watch the game in addition to the team, team managers, scorekeepers, and coach.

The game started slow for Oviedo. Sneads jumped into the lead early and maintained that distance through the first quarter, 15-13 in favor of Sneads.

In the second quarter Oviedo began to gain and just as the clock was in the red Ferdinand Duda's field goal tied the score 30-30.

The Oviedo lads seemed to have quite a bit of difficulty in finding the basket for field goals up to that time. And even beyond that time were way off on foul shots. Tom Brown even missing some of his—something we have seldom seen Tom do. On the other hand, the Sneads boys, although small in stature were connecting with their field shots from way out, some seeming almost impossible, but found their way through the net. They were also sure shots at the foul line, missing few.

After the third quarter started Tom Brown and Carl Faby seemed to catch fire and led the surr at the end of third period with Coach Paul Miklers Lions taking a lead 52-48.

From then on it was nip and tuck. The game was tied up at 55-55, 57-57, 58-58. Then the Oviedo Lions went ahead and kept the lead all the way to the end, despite the fact that Sneads tried to overcome it gamely.

With the game less than three minutes to go, the Oviedo lads slowed the game with the crowd roaring for them to freeze the ball. Coach Mikler then sent Jim Hill back into the game as he had been replaced by Mike Duda in an earlier part of the game.

The lads froze the ball as Sneads fouled constantly trying to retrieve it but the game ended 73-63. In favor of the Oviedo Lions.

The game was filled with thrills by ball steals by Luther Duda, Tom Brown, and Ferdinand Duda. The Oviedo Lions will play at 8:45 p.m. Friday evening. The winner of the Laurel Hill and Hillard game will be its opponent.

Oviedo 5th, 6th Grade Inter-Class Games This Week

By MARIAN JONES

Oviedo basketball players are started early in Oviedo. This week the small grades of the Oviedo School are having inter-class games during the fifth period. Wednesday, the sixth grade boys met the fifth grade boys and the sixth grade won 30-11.

Particularly significant in this game was that Jimmy DeShazo, captain of the sixth grade team, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. DeShazo, teacher of the fifth grade. This made Mrs. DeShazo for and against the sixth grade.

Jimmy DeShazo, playing in three quarters of the game was high with eight points. Jimmy Jones, brother of Johnny Jones, playing in two quarters plus two minutes was second high with six points. In the fifth grade we were not able to ascertain the number of points made by Tommy Betsinger but it was only too apparent that he was high point man.

Little Red Hen Lays Green Eggs

NEW ALBANY, Ind. — A little red hen is tuning up for St. Patrick's Day. It lays a green egg almost every day.

John Hubbuch, 77, and his wife, Florence, 72, owners of the "New Hampshire Red" hen, said today the chicken never has laid anything but "turquoise green" eggs.

The green eggs have agricultural experts puzzled.

Gary East, the Hubbuch's county agent, thought it might be something the bird ate. But Mrs. Hubbuch said she fed her entire flock the same diet—"mash cracked corn and whole corn."

Poultrymen at Purdue University said the only explanation they could give was the hen may have had a South American ancestor.

They said the araucana, a wild latin chicken, lays green eggs. But Mrs. Hubbuch said her chicken "looks like a New Hampshire Red."

Mrs. Hubbuch said the green eggs look like any others in the frying pan and "taste just like an ordinary egg."

The problem of coloring Easter eggs also has been solved, Mrs. Hubbuch said.

"I'll leave them just like they are."

Kennedy Calls On Demos To Restore Party Leadership

NEW YORK — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) called on his fellow Democrats in Congress today to re-establish the party's leadership by building "a progressive program any Democratic candidate in 1960 can run on with pride and hope."

That candidate probably will be facing Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Kennedy said in an article in Life magazine. He is "a tough, skillful, shrewd opponent who is 'far from being the pushover some Democrats smugly expect,'" Kennedy wrote. And he will have the advantage of four more years of a build-up which "no single Democratic hopeful can possibly receive."

The Democrats, furthermore, will be "facing an electorate which will not have returned a clear national popular majority for the Democrats in 14 years... outside the South the Democrats have not won a clear majority in both Houses of Congress since 1934."

Penetrating Reappraisal
He warned that if Democrats do not make a penetrating reappraisal of our party and its course "the party faces the real danger of dying, as the Federalist and White parties in the last century, and for some of the same reason — sectionalism, factionalism and evasion of controversial issues."

the Snapshot Guild

If you use your camera and film properly, appealing pictures like this can be yours for the taking this spring.

Be Sure You Have "Beginner's Luck"

Today we were thinking about all the new camera owners who've just joined our "happy breed." Excitement, challenge, adventure, discovery—these and a myriad of other pleasurable sensations await anyone using a camera. And never is this truer than in those first days when the proud new picture taker realizes it's a shutter-finger that holds the world by a string.

Of course, to be sure of getting the best possible pictures, you new camera owners would do well to arm yourselves with certain very basic information. Contrary to the proverb, here's a case where "a little learning" is not "a dangerous thing" at all.

The tips we have in mind are very simple ones—and you'll see that the advice they offer is the kind even veteran photographers often need to be reminded about. First of all, read through the instruction booklet that was tucked into the box along with your new camera, to give you all the information you need about how the camera works. A quick reading—and you'll spare yourself a self-wasted time and needless disappointment later on. For only when you know what your particular camera is designed to do and what its own individual limitations are can you expect the best kind of results from its use.

If any of this information isn't absolutely clear to you, or if you're still not sure about how any part of your camera works, don't hesitate to ask your photo dealer about it. He'll be happy to help you—and you'll be far happier than if your own "experimental technique" caused damage to the mechanism.

Second on the list of "must" reading is the information printed right on the package of every roll of film you buy. Read it carefully before you load your camera for action. That way, you'll be able to determine exactly what you have to do under the prevailing conditions of light and atmosphere.

Though most cameras are constructed to take a lot of abuse, they are precision instruments and deserve as much consideration as you'd give a good watch. Plan to keep your camera away from heat and dust as much as possible when not in use. Avoid a "hot spot" such as the glove compartment of your car, or a "dust-catcher" like the back-window ledge. Instead, just keep it on the seat beside you while in transit.

Gasoline Tender, Freighter Collide; 'Mission' Sinks

NEW CASTLE, Del. — A U. S. Navy gasoline tender and a Liberian freighter collided at "the graveyard of ships" on the Delaware River today. Both ships immediately burst into flames with a terrific explosion.

Five hours later the tender, Mission of San Francisco, sank and blocked the main ship channel to Wilmington, Del., Philadelphia and Trenton, N. J. The freighter, the Elma II, blazed for hours before the flames were brought under control by Coast Guard vessels and a Philadelphia fire boat.

The Coast Guard reported 61 survivors and listed an estimated seven missing, all of them from the Mission which carried 45 men. The Elma had 23 aboard. Among the missing was the Mission's captain, William Allen of Houston, Tex.

The Mission did not carry a pilot, because Allen was licensed for the Delaware River. The only fire-fighting equipment aboard the Elma was a garden hose, one of the survivors told United Press.

Both vessels exploded in a sheet of flame upon impact, rocking homes on both sides of the river and awakening persons as far away as Maryland.

All Souls Cagers To Get Letters

The Holy Name Society, of All Souls Catholic Church, at its regular meeting voted unanimously to purchase and awarding of Block Letters to the basketball team of All Souls School for their outstanding playing this season.

W. Livingston was appointed chairman for this event which will take place in the near future. The Society also went on record as sponsoring a Junior Holy Name Society, comprising of young men from the Seventh Grade through the 12th.

Although working with the Parent organization, the Junior Holy Name will have its own set of officers and regulations as well as conducting its own business.

Entertainment chairman, C. C. Smith of the Sanford Naval Air Station, announced that at the April meeting of the Holy Name, color slides will be shown of points of interest taken throughout Europe as well as a brief narration on each slide shown.

Zoning, Planning Would Offer Protection To County Residents

Any opposition to a plan for overall zoning throughout Seminole County seems to be one of self-imposed fear.

When property is protected from encroachment a good zoning law is a protection since the value of that property is protected.

In a recent editorial it was brought out, specifically, that a zoning law would keep juke joints from building within sight of a church, keep homes protected from lower standards, and reduce the hazard of making substandard neighborhoods out of high standard communities.

It is certainly a self-imposed fear when one would think that farm land would be zoned for an office building or home repairs be stopped because a permit is not issued, or an injunction be taken out against a landowner to keep him from putting a fence around his property.

Such is not the intention, and never will be when it comes to planning and zoning for the county.

Zoning, in its most belligerent form is a protection and not a hindrance. Seminole County, no doubt, in a few short years to come, will be a solid area of homes from the southern border of Seminole County to its most northern boundary. In this area of only a few short miles, there will necessarily be commercial areas, industrial areas, home areas, zones too for motels and night clubs, roadside stands and huge commercial ventures.

The home areas, citizens expect, it is sure, should be protected from loud-noised night clubs and juke joints. At the same time a home owner who spends $50,000 for a most elaborate outlay does not want a $5,500 structure built under the eaves of his house.

Building permits, too, are a protection to the health and safety of neighbors—not an injustice heaped upon them.

Wiring in a home, perhaps, should be completed and installed in such a manner that fire will not be feared in that home or become a menace to the home next door. Plumbing installed so that the health of the entire county would not be threatened. A protection to the homeowner in that he is assured of getting, in materials, all that is necessary to make his home a good one.

There is no intention, it is assured and without a doubt will be carried out to the nth degree, that orange groves will be zoned for an office building, a home, or an industry—not unless the grove owner sells his property for that purpose. It is then, and not until then, that property will be zoned for a specific purpose. The grove owner, too, is protected by the zoning law, for he is protected—protected as long as the grove is maintained as such and not sold for another purpose.

One can readily see that when property, such as a grove or idle land, is sold for commercial use, industrial use, or to be used as a subdivision, the assessed value of that land changes.

It is then, that the small land owner, the farmer, the small tax payer, is assured that the tax burden is equitized. The building permit makes that possible.

With the rapid growth of Seminole County and the vast expansion program ahead of us in the next few years, citizens should be yelling loud and strong for a planning and zoning law to protect them. Homes have been established, businesses have been established, farms are the livelihood, and groves are producing—and they need the helping hand of a law to assure them of their proper place in the economy of Seminole County.

Such is the intent of a planning and zoning law. It is believed that the legislative delegation sees the protective value of planning and zoning. That is the background of thought from the Board of County Commissioners.

Unless this protection is provided for the farmer, the builder, the homeowner, the church man, the businessman, and the industrialist, our county could become a maze of ill-planned, unrestricted, untaxed, and haphazard building we have ever seen.

Many communities have allowed themselves to be strangled out of planned expansion and coherent values by snubbing the protective measures that zoning and planning could provide.

It is the sensible approach to a successful, well-planned, and well-managed county.

Human Considerations

Listening to many delegates speak in the General Assembly debate of the United Nations, one gains a striking impression of the love of truth, freedom, justice, morality and decency that pervades that body. The high-sounding phrases make it seem uncouth to recall that the delegates are subject to human failings.

"I speak only of the facts," one hears. Also, "I speak with candor"; even "with all candor." Only the truth is told, say the delegates. Only moral action is approved of and advocated.

No matter which side of the question they vote on, all is done in all candor for the cause of freedom and justice. Or so it seems if one forgets that the delegates, and their government, are motivated in some degree by the same human considerations that motivate all the rest of us.

From various communities come reports of a movement toward making year-round use of school properties. Municipal officials want school authorities to help augment recreation facilities for children by keeping buildings and grounds available for games and programs.

The proposal might not be feasible in all localities, but generally it seems sound and practical.

U.S. Farmer Has Large Stake In Export Trade

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The farmer has a large stake in export trade.

In 1956 one out of every 10 acres he harvested produced for export. About nine cents of every dollar of cash farm receipts came from the portion of crops sold overseas. For some of the important export crops, his share was much more. Exports brought him 41 cents per dollar of wheat income, 37 cents of tobacco, 33 cents of rice, and 13 cents of cotton.

U. S. agricultural exports in calendar year 1956 were valued at more than 4 billion dollars. This represented a value increase of 30 per cent over 1955 and a volume increase of about 30 per cent. Exports in 1956 nearly equaled the two peak years — the boom year of 1927 and the Korean War year of 1952. Many U. S. commodities set new export records.

The increase in exports was the third in as many years. Stronger foreign demand reflected greater economic activity, rising population, liberalized import policies, increased dollar receipts and sizeable shortages in the importing countries.

The best customers were the United Kingdom and Japan, followed by Canada, West Germany and The Netherlands. These countries took nearly half of all U. S. farm exports. Latin America, Asia and Africa — the least developed areas of the world — have increased their imports significantly since World War II and now constitute a vast potential market.

The Foreign Agricultural Service, the Agriculture Department agency charged with handling export problems — reports the United States is striving constantly to improve trade relations and thus increase exports. Among the ways used are:

1. Government programs, mostly under the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance act of 1954 known popularly as the 480 program, accounted for two-fifths of the exports in 1956. The programs encompass sales for foreign currencies, barter transactions, loans and credits, grants for emergency foreign relief, and donations to private charities for the needy overseas.

Trade Fairs
2. International trade fairs, a new and highly successful market promotion activity, have enabled 3 1/2 million persons abroad to see and sample products from U. S. farms and factories. The United States participated in several trade fairs last year and already has announced it will have big market-promotion displays at fairs this year. The first such overseas event will be the International Agricultural Fair in Verona, Italy, March 10-18.

3. The United States has some "super salesmen" abroad. These are agricultural attaches in 56 ports covering 107 countries. They report, advise, and negotiate in the interests of U. S. agriculture.

4. The GATT General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade conference has made definite progress in reducing trade barriers. The United States has reciprocal trade agreements with 41 countries and exchange multilateral agreements with 33 of these through membership in GATT.

Department economists have assessed the export outlook and found it good. Increasing world population, rising real income, and improved diets are strengthening the demand for agricultural products. This demand is more than offset by increased agricultural production both in exporting countries and in deficit countries.

But consumption of high grade foods—a logical result of higher real income—indicates a larger potential market for certain high-quality U. S. farm products.

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of current interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. My State gives a bonus to Korean veterans. May I apply for it through the VA?

A. No. VA does not administer State bonuses. You should file your application with your State, not with VA.

Q. I am planning to sell my GI home and allow the buyer to take over the GI loan. When should I apply to VA for release from liability to the Government—before or after I sign the sales contract?

A. You should apply to VA for release from liability before you sign the contract. In that way, you will know whether the buyer is eligible to assume your liability before you commit yourself to sell.

Q. My husband, a World War II veteran, died after Jan. 1, 1957, of a service-connected illness. Would I have a choice of receiving death compensation payments or payments under the new Survivors' Benefits Act?

A. You would not have a choice. Families of veterans who

INCOME TAX TIME—It's getting toward "that time." Need help on yours? If you come under the heading of a "small" business man, here's an idea. Write to the Senate Select Committee on Small Business for a 116 page booklet called "Tax Guide for Small Business." It was written at the suggestion of Senator George Smathers. Three weeks ago Smathers was talking to his friend Arthur Godfrey and Godfrey complained about the difficulty of making out his income taxes. Smathers sent him a copy of his booklet. Godfrey liked it so well that he told his television audience about it. Immediately the Committee was over run with requests. After the third day the average reached 500 requests in each mail. Result: rush order for 10,000 additional copies. So, get yours while the Committee still has a supply. After they run out you will have to pay 30c for a copy from the Government Printing Office.

WHITE HOUSE TESTIMONIAL—After Jim Haggerty, press secretary to the President, returned from his recent Florida vacation, he wrote to Congressman Charlie Bennett, "I had a wonderful time at J. Ponce Vedra and got the first real rest and relaxation that I have had in more than a year. It is a perfect spot." (Ponce Vedra Chamber of Commerce please copy).

At the same time, the White House appointment secretary, Bernard Shanley, indicated that serious consideration is being given to the personal appearance of President Eisenhower at the Fort Caroline Memorial service on June 30th. Could he be that Haggerty has been taking to his boss about his Ponce Vedra trip.

SHRIMP BOAT SONG—They're singing that song again. This time it was sung to the new Under Secretary of State, Christian Herter. The whole Florida Delegation was represented, also the Coast Guard. Same old problem. We don't want Mexico shooting up our shrimp boats just because we fish on the west side of the Gulf. We want the State Department to get some sort of treaty agreement: set after Jan. 1, 1957, are eligible only for Indemnity Compensation payments under the new Survivors' Benefits Act.

Q. My son is eligible for schooling under the War Orphans education program, since my husband, a World War II veteran, died of a service-connected disability. I was thinking of going to Europe to get a secretarial job with the Army, bringing my son with me. Could he go to school in Europe under this program?

A. No. Under the law, training in foreign countries is prohibited.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their various benefits should write or visit the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando.

Herlong Reports

Congress is getting down to real work now that preliminaries of beginning a new session are completed. On some days as many as 25 to 30 committees are in session thrashing over many bills, a few of which eventually will become law.

It is the job of these committees to rule out objectionable legislation as well as to approve that which would be beneficial for the country.

Certainly in these times when so many bills are being introduced it is of the greatest importance that every piece of legislation be carefully scrutinized. As a Member of Congress I must spend much of my time studying these bills so that I will know their complete contents and be able to debate them when they reach the House Floor.

My House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax legislation originates, has just approved a bill to increase rates on savings bonds from an average return of three per cent up to three and one half per cent. It must be borne in mind that to receive this rate the bonds under present law must be held for the 10-year maturity period. This period may be lowered to eight years and 11 months.

Yoy may want to know why my committee has voted to increase the interest on these bonds. One of the reasons is that millions of Americans who have their money in these bonds are not sharing in the big increase up. Also, we want another full-time Coast Guard patrol boat in the area. (We now have one full-time and one part-time). The State Department was polite. Said they were sympathetic to the problem.

BUT, after the way they have handled the Middle East, don't expect much help for the shrimpers.

MORE BEDS WANTED—The big push was put on last week for a new 1,000 bed hospital at Bay Pines. A hearing was held on Jim Haley's bill calling for its construction. Here to testify for it were: Melvin Dixon, State Director of Veterans Affairs; J. D. Murray, Ft. Lauderdale, Chairman, American Legion Rehabilitation Commission for Florida; Kenneth Doncaster, St. Petersburg, Veterans of Foreign Wars Service Officer. Testimony: there are now 489,000 veterans living in Florida there is an average of 500 veterans waiting for admittance to Bay Pines on any one day.

BOMBS AWAY—Where will the target range be? For some time the Air Force has been planning to locate a weapons center in Florida. It looked for awhile as if it might go to Fort Myers. But, word was passed down two weeks ago by Secretary of the Air Force Quarles, that they couldn't build it at Fort Myers because the subsoil wasn't right. Instead it will be located at McDill Air Force Base. Republican Bill Cramer was highly pleased to have it in his district. Democrat Jim Haley hit the ceiling because he thinks it would be better to have it somewhere else. He would like to see it located at Sebring; has written a hot note to Quarles suggesting (a mild word) that the Air Force investigate other Florida sites before reaching a final decision.

that has occurred in interest rates.

Another reason is that there has been a decline in sales of savings bonds along with an increase in the number of bonds cashed in for reinvestment purposes.

Money derived from the sales of these bonds goes toward financing the national debt. My committee believes, that as many Americans as possible should share in this debt through the purchase of these bonds. We think it is sounder for the nation to spread the sharing of the debt over as broad a base as possible instead of leaving it in the hands of a few large investors.

The Treasury Department wanted us to give them discretionary authority to increase the interest rates up to four and one quarter per cent which is the ceiling now applicable to other Federal government obligations.

We wouldn't go along with that. To do so would put the Federal government in competition with the thousands of savings and loan organizations, and investors might want to withdraw their money from these private concerns and put it in saving bonds. The latter would only compound the problem. Also, it might drive these individual groups to a higher interest rate thus nullifying our action.

Under the present bill, the discretionary authority to raise interest rates would apply to bonds issued on or after February 1, 1957, and to bonds maturing on or after February 1, 1957. With respect to those maturing on or after February 1, 1957, the discretionary authority would apply to the period following the maturity date of a bond which a holder continues to hold.

Letters To The Editor

Editor,
Sanford Herald

It has been some little time back that some of our city dwellers decided that possibly in due time they might want to develop some country property and that also in lieu of the fact that on route 1702 there was what was considered a safe to some who had the good fortune of saving a few dollars to build from a shack to a better class home, put up the proposition of zoning the county.

Well, it was of no hurt to any body since it would only be zoned along important highways to a depth of 500 feet from the center of said highways. Oh, certainly the public was given the opportunity to vote on its adoption through the efforts of Rep. Volie Williams, but here is where the shoe pinches, the bill was so hidden behind that of the hospital which nearly everybody wanted that they did not realize that they voted to imprison themselves until it was too late. Even one of the County Commissioners' wives asked this writer what it meant, saying that she voted for it, but realized that too late, she did not approve it.

Now while a law, the county can apply that much of the zoning at any time they so desire, that is, 500 ft. from the center of highways, but again I want to thank our State Senator for Sanford for his interest that has been shown in the public, saying that a referendum would be necessary to include all property in the County.

We, who live in the county, do not feel obligated to any person in the County inasmuch that we desire to obtain a permit or submit our plans in order to build

Crop Prices Drop 2 Pct. Last Month

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department's monthly price report showed that the prices farmers received for crops and livestock fell two per cent during the month ended Feb. 13.

a chicken house, repair a porch, make a cow pen, or any of the many things that farmers or county people are of necessity continually having to build.

Senator Stenstrom understands the facts of the hardships that would be incurred on the ones that live out of the city limits.

This bill shackles almost all county dwellers, most of all those that keep stock, chickens, etc. and it makes it a misdemeanor to fix that building, porch, or what have you, without crawling on our knees to find if it is plausible for us to do such things as we must then see if we may get a permit, or if it would stand in the way for the beautifying of the county. Remember folks, your independence is in this bill. Don't wait, investigate the legality of this matter.

Rev. B. W. Miller

Sanford, Fla.

However, the overall price picture showed that farm prices received were still three per cent above those of a year ago.

At the same time, the cost of living and production supplies purchased by farmers rose nearly one per cent to a record high. The rise brought the index of prices paid by farmers to 294 per cent of the 1910-14 base period.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson called the price drop in February "discouraging."

"It is always discouraging when farm prices decline during a month," Benson said, "but we must remember that on the overall picture prices received now stand three per cent above February of a year ago."

Benson said "There is nothing in this report which calls into question the outlook as reported by the department last fall — an outlook for further modest improvement in farm prices and farm income during 1957."

The combination of the general increase in production and living expenses and the drop in prices received caused the parity ratio to fall to 80 per cent, the post-World War II low point first established in November, 1955.

Now Hear This!

JACKY FENWICK

There are no words I could put down here that could possibly express the deep sympathy we all have for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heltman. Their baby daughter, not quite nineteen months old, died suddenly yesterday, after a very short illness. Mr. Heltman is a Tech Sergeant in the Air Force, presently on a tour of duty in Iceland. Adele is the vice-president of the Enlisted Men's Wives Club. Little Linda Leland was such a beautiful child that those of us who have seen her, and know Adele, can not realize yet that she's gone. We can only hope and pray that the Air Force gets Charles home quickly, where he's so badly needed. There is nothing more I can say except to let Adele know that all her friends are available for any help she might need.

It's a little hard to go on with the column in my usual way, after all that's happened, but it's my job to let you know

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

On Friday afternoon, at three p. m. women of Sanford will observe the World Day of Prayer at the Episcopal Church. Nine local churches will participate, and all women are urged to come and join in this global prayer chain which will circle the earth the whole day through. The theme will be "Who shall separate us? Romans 8:35. This year's service has been prepared that we may echo the prayers of those from behind the iron curtain, who sustain themselves through prayer, and find constant reminder of God's grace which would not be apparent to those who have not suffered. The offering from the World Day of Prayer supports the interdenominational ministries in the United States, Alaska and Puerto Rico, with their various schools, hospitals and churches. Also overseas, education for Christian Leadership, mass communication by radio and mobile unit, christian literature, and the same projects that we have in this country. Nearly fifty percent of the budget comes from church women united in prayer on this World Day of Prayer. The service which will be used in all churches, was written this year by Mrs. Seren Vassady, formerly of Hungary, and comes from her experience behind the iron curtain. One hundred and forty-three countries will participate. Mrs. A. B. Peterson is chairman of this event sponsored by the Sanford United Church Women.

Stetson 5 To Play In National Tourney

Team effort carried the Stetson Hatters to victory in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball District 25 tournament last week in Statesboro, Ga. Head Coach Dick Morland said today as he made plans to participate in the national tournament next week in Kansas City. This is the second time the Hatters have gone to the nationals. In 1953 they were beaten in the second round to play by the eventual champions.

At Statesboro, the top-seeded Hatters were held point-for-point in the second half of the opening game by Piedmont College but in the second period with a full court press, the Hatters broke the game wide open and won handily 72-57.

Georgia Teachers scored more than 100 points to easily dispose of the Mercer Bears in the first round of play but the following night found the Hatters much tougher. With nine and a half minutes of play elapsed, Stetson led 30-9 due largely to the sterling defense of Dick Lauer now interned in Seminole High School and brother of SIS basketball mentor Bud Lauer and Dave Howard. The two Stetson guards had completely bottled-up the Profs' high scoring guards, Don Wallen and Bo Warren.

With Stetson leading 16 points at the half, the Profs came out fighting for the ball and as a result the Hatters established a new record for free throws in one game, making 52 of 68. The previous record was 38 against Florida Southern in 1954-1955.

Stetson scored 24 field goals of 53 entries. The Hatters counted 52 of 68 free throws while the Teachers could make 31 of 61. Had the teachers made every free throw, they still would have been one point behind the Hatters. Stetson had 60 rebounds, nine more than the Profs and committed 33 fouls while Teachers were guilty of 39 infractions. The final score was Stetson 101, Teachers 79.

Slavikovic and Moffett fouled out shortly after the second half opened but "team balance continued the Hatters on their victorious way," Morland said. Co-Captain Lauer was carried from the floor by his teammates for his outstanding play. Lauer fouled out before his game and for assists for the season, having 125 this year.

The victory gave the Hatters 16 wins against 7 defeats for the season. Their Florida Intercollegiate Basketball Conference standing was third.

The team will resume practice Wednesday and expect to leave for Kansas City Sunday. The first tournament game is scheduled for Monday, but until pairings are made, the first appearance of the Hatters is not known.

New York Giants' Exhibition Games Free To Public

Carl Hubbell, head of the sprawling New York Giants Farm System, said this morning that the New York Giants would open its gates and charge no admission at any of the spring training exhibition games in Sanford.

"We were thrilled with the reception we received when we came here, and we are extremely pleased with the attitude of the Sanford people. We want to express our sincere appreciation by making all of our home games in Sanford Memorial Stadium free to the public."

This Sunday afternoon, Mar. 10, will be the opening date for the Class AA Dallas Eagles as they tackle Class AA Houston, Tex. Game gets underway at 2 p.m., and the public is invited, as guests of the New York Giants, for the first in a series of free baseball games for an afternoon's entertainment.

Next Wednesday afternoon, Mar. 13, the people of Sanford and Seminole County will get another chance to see a re-match of the two Class AA teams again, but the next day, Thursday, Mar. 14, Dallas will step up to Class AAA competition when they tangle with Omaha in another afternoon performance.

ABC Bowling Championships Open Saturday

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, (AP) — The ABC bowling championships, Saturday open a 51-day run at Fort Worth and competitors will discover that pinboys have become another sacrifice to the machine age.

For the first time in the 54-year history of the event, automatic pinsetters will take over the pin-setting job. It's a concession to sustained speed and reliability.

But they'll still tell stories about the "pinarrows" of the past. Like the Oshkosh Twins. Their names were Bob and Dick Mura-ki, identical to crew cuts, shell-rimmed glasses and heavy combat boots—but they rode to the ABC annually in their own Cadillac.

Beard Growing Giant
Then there was Cliff Merry, a friendly six-foot, four-inch giant from Los Angeles who started growing a beard every opening day—and by tournament's end was being photographed more than the stars.

They tell wild tales of Leon Lewicki, a 130-pounder from Schenectady, N. Y., who supposedly ate more than any man who ever lived. He snacked while working on a box of chocolate bars and ice cream by the gal-lon.

After that, on one occasion he ate 40 pork chops, a dozen hot dogs, a case of pop and two pies. He was heaved out of his boarding house in 1948 at Detroit for getting to the table early and eating everything in a supper intended for six men.

Among the others who followed the ABC wherever it went was a family which included grandfather, son and grandson. But now they are a part of the bowling past, along with wooden bowling balls.

The competitors will supply have to get accustomed to the impersonal factor, and another thing you can believe is that almost anybody has a chance in this bowling merry-go-round.

As example, Pat Romano, a 16-year-old Toledo, Ohio, school boy, in his first attempt rolled 702 good for eighth place in singles in 1956. Ten men won titles in their first starts, and none ever went on to become a star. In 1956, a Syracuse team finished second although only one man averaged as high as 182. And Ed Easter of Detroit was 67 years old when his team won in 1950.

ABC Averages Surprising
There's a major reason and that is the fact that 2,100,000 ABC members last year only four per cent averaged 140 or better, only 11 per cent averaged 170 to 179 and the national average-hold your hat is but 151.

On the record side, there have been only 14 perfect games out of 4,960,390 in 53 years. The top 10-year average is 204.73 and the top single mark is Lee Joug-lard's 775.

In team play, the one game mark is 1186 and the series record is 3234. In the booster division, for teams with less than an 850 average, the records are 1046 and 2883.

You are challenged, str—16 pound balls at 20 paces.

Football Drills At Uoff Providing Visions Of Future

GAINESVILLE—In the nature of a crystal ball, spring football drills at the University of Florida are providing visions of the future.

Action on the practice field so far shows that Coach Bob Woodruff and his staff have a host of newcomers in the backfield who may be featured in next fall's headlines.

For example, future stardom could well be in order for sophomore halfbacks Don Deal and Dave Fannin, speedy duo from Corpus Christi, Tex. Deal, not much in the way of size at 158 pounds, is probably faster than any halfback who has played on the Florida varsity in the past ten years.

It is whispered that Dean can run the 100-yard dash in 9.7 seconds, and while this has not been authenticated it is known that track coach Percy Beard is counting on the Texas comet to bolster his sprint squad this season.

Fannin is a bit more substantially built at 185 pounds, has the necessary speed, and shows promise as a blocker and tackler.

The Florida coaches are also impressed with sophomore-to-be Lamar Tuten of Madison, and Allen MacCartee, Birmingham, Ala., both running at left half-back, and Warren Bennett, right half, outstanding member of the 1956 freshman team from Dade City.

Blair Culpepper, Tallahassee, who held a reserve status last season and retains his sophomore classification during 1957, has drawn hearty praise from Coach Woodruff. Junior college transfer Jim Rhynes, Forrest City, Ark., is another of the fullbacks who will be pushing Letterman Ed Sears, Pensacola, and Charlie Roberts, High Springs, for service on the varsity.

Two top fullbacks on the 1956 freshman squad were Warren (Sonny) Giles, Jacksonville, and Jim Young, Vero Beach. They are performing in the drills in a manner that will make them hard to keep off the playing units.

Quarterbacks Mickey Ellensburg, Knoxville, Tenn., and Wayne Williamson, Tampa, continue to draw plaudits from the Gator coaches, and can be expected to aid letterman Jimmy Dunn, Tampa, in the role of field general.

lowed the ABC wherever it went was a family which included grandfather, son and grandson. But now they are a part of the bowling past, along with wooden bowling balls.

The competitors will supply have to get accustomed to the impersonal factor, and another thing you can believe is that almost anybody has a chance in this bowling merry-go-round.

As example, Pat Romano, a 16-year-old Toledo, Ohio, school boy, in his first attempt rolled 702 good for eighth place in singles in 1956. Ten men won titles in their first starts, and none ever went on to become a star. In 1956, a Syracuse team finished second although only one man averaged as high as 182. And Ed Easter of Detroit was 67 years old when his team won in 1950.

ABC Averages Surprising
There's a major reason and that is the fact that 2,100,000 ABC members last year only four per cent averaged 140 or better, only 11 per cent averaged 170 to 179 and the national average-hold your hat is but 151.

On the record side, there have been only 14 perfect games out of 4,960,390 in 53 years. The top 10-year average is 204.73 and the top single mark is Lee Joug-lard's 775.

In team play, the one game mark is 1186 and the series record is 3234. In the booster division, for teams with less than an 850 average, the records are 1046 and 2883.

Florida, Bolles Swimming Meet Is Saturday

GAINESVILLE—Florida's strong, undefeated freshman swimming team will defend its clean slate next Saturday afternoon when Bolles Military Academy of Jacksonville visits Florida Pool.

The Baby Gators meet with Bolles at 1:00 p. m. will precede the varsity meet between Florida and Florida State to get underway at 2:00 p. m.

To date, the frosh swimmers have downed the University of Miami twice, and captured a triangular meet over the University of Georgia and Athens High School.

Swimming Coach Jack Ryan, commented on the impressive times turned in by the Gator frosh this year, said, "this is the best group of freshmen we have had in my seven years at Florida."

Outstanding members of the squad include free styler Bob Duganne, Miami; Terry Born, Ft. Lauderdale; and Roy Tatchell, Miami; breaststroker Charlie Neil, Dayton, Ohio; and Jim McDonnell, New York; backstroker Brian Mattis, Ft. Lauderdale; and diving specialist Rico Maschino.

SHS Pitching Staff Shows Lot Of Control In Practice Game

A small pitching staff with a lot of control were the highlights of yesterday afternoon's sprinkled practice game for the Sanford Seminoles as baseball mentor Dave Laude called a halt to the game at the end of the fifth inning with the White team taking the Red team 3-1 with cool Ken McMurray on the mound.

Laude looked up into the darkening clouds with steady, yet still threatening, mist as he shuddered and said, "We need a lot more heat to limber up the bodies," he said. "The pitchers need it real hot. One of them could get a lame arm in his kind of weather."

At the end of the third inning he signaled the pitchers to showers and Andy Bracken, principal of Seminole High School, pitched the rest of the game.

Johnny Yeakle showed the indication of being a power hitter for the Seminoles this season as he got 2-2 and tallied one RBI. Both Al Stanley and Ronnie Russi showed promise at the plate. Stanley tabbed one in three tries and scored a RBI, while Russi tabbed one in two attempts.

Eddie Barbour, the pitcher that looks like a hitter, led the white attack with a sizzling double. "The team is enthused despite the weather," Laude said after the game. "They know they're improving and they're working hard to keep up the good work."

Laude voiced grave concern for the pitching staff, however. "We have only two pitchers on the staff and we're afraid we might over use them during the season. Barbour will be counted on for a lot of in-field action this season as well as mound assignments."

Laude said the White team, led by the pitching of Barbour, showed a lot of defensive strength. "If we can bring our pitching staff along and get some insurance there, we may be able to look forward to a nice season."

Laude said, however, that he couldn't prognosticate on the future outlook of the team until he had seen some of the other teams in action.

"The Orange Belt Conference has a reputation for having fast teams," he said, "but we have a lot of enthusiasm, a good senior crew for a nucleus, and some good timber on the way."

Laude said the main problem in pitching was depth rather than quality. His hurlers haven't gone but three innings yet, but he has scheduled another practice game for Friday afternoon and will send them into five inning assignments then.

In yesterday's game his pitching staff surpassed all expectation. "McMurray has a cool, deliberate head out there, and he can back up his attitude with a lot of control," Laude said. Together, McMurray and Barbour surrendered only seven hits and two walks between them. McMurray pitched five strike outs and Barbour felled two.

Laude said that the game had given him a good indication of a genuine starting lineup, but "in some cases it just muddled the water more." Laude said that even though he was releasing a tentative lineup, it was very tentative and was subject to change at any time.

1957 Tentative Lineup for the SANFORD SEMINOLES
Short stop—Ronnie Russi; First base—Al Stanley; Second base—Ray Johnson or Doyle Corley; Third base—Eddie Barbour and or Vernon Kirk; Catcher—Cecil Dandridge; Center field—Johnny Yeakle; Right field—Brentley Schirrad; Left field—a hot race among David Bramlett, Johnny Barley, and Kenneth Hosak.

The season opener will be a night

Uoff Golf Team Headed For Rough Handling At FSU

GAINESVILLE.—Smarting still from their season's opening loss to Rollins, the University of Florida Golf team appears headed for even rougher handling when it meets Florida State in Tallahassee this Saturday.

The Gators, defending South-eastern Conference champions, were rudely shocked by Rollins, 184 to 8 1/2, and now must compete against FSU, which ran its victory string to 19 by downing Auburn 20 to 1 on the familiar Tallahassee course last Saturday.

While only Jim McCoy, Lake Worth, managed a par round of 71 for the Gators in the Rollins match, Florida State's Bunk Berry was two under par with a 70 and Ed Jenkins, and Bob Shave were both one under with 71s in the Auburn match.

Meanwhile, Florida Coach Conrad Rehling states, "If we go over there and play the calibre of golf we are capable of, the match will be awfully close. It will depend on the breaks."

"We have been working very hard on our game this week, and feel that we have the personnel to match Florida State."

Relaxing... Across America!

Behind them are the majestic mountain roadways of Southern California and the picturesque desert drive through Arizona.

And ahead lie the broad highways of Texas ... the scenic roads that wind through Oklahoma and Missouri ... and the great Midwestern turnpikes that lead to the Eastern Seaboard.

What's it like to spend the better part of a week in a 1957 Cadillac?

Well, first of all, there is the restfulness a Cadillac provides. The car is so incredibly smooth and quiet and comfortable that even the longest journey is an occasion for glorious relaxation.

And for the lucky gentleman in the driver's seat, there is the added reward of Cadillac's brilliant new performance.

In fact, the car is so nimble and eager, so responsive and alert that day's end will usually find them well beyond their morning's destination!

And then there will be the many other Cadillac virtues to enhance the pleasure of their journey ... its vast areas of vision to give them the full panorama of America's great beauty and grandeur ... its extraordinary safety and dependability to add to their contentment and peace of mind ... and its remarkable operating economy to remind them how practical their odyssey is.

So there they are—seeing our wonderful land from the finest vantage point on the American road: through the windshield of a 1957 Cadillac!

Of course, you don't have to travel 3,000 miles in this newest "car of cars" to realize why its owners call it "the greatest of all Cadillacs".

The evidence is in our showroom now—and an hour at the wheel will tell you the whole story.

George Missing Man In Senate

By RAYMOND LARR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The missing man in the Senate these days is Walter F. George, the former Democratic senator from Georgia. If George were still in the Senate and backing the Eisenhower administration's Middle East resolution it would have traveled a smoother course.

When George supported the administration on a foreign policy issue it could count on safe and speedy endorsement. Similarly the Truman administration used to depend in its early years on the support of the late Sen. Arthur Vandenberg R-Mich.

Two years ago President Eisenhower went before Congress to ask for a blank check to use U. S. forces in defense of Formosa. The Senate passed that resolution, basically narrower in scope than the pending Middle East measure, by a vote of 85 to 3 on Jan. 28, 1955.

Strong Support
It had George's strong support. Then, too, perhaps, the new Democratic majority in the Senate was reluctant at that time to lay itself open to charges it was rocking the boat on foreign policy.

The Democrats have not been so sensitive this year. Mr. Eisenhower went before Congress eight weeks ago last Saturday with the Middle East "doctrine" that he deemed too urgent to wait for his State of the Union Message.

The House has passed the "doctrine" but the Senate, after lengthy committee hearings, is now entering its third week of debate with the final vote only now in sight—by Tuesday night if Senate leaders' predictions come true.

George, who did not seek reelection last year and now has a desk in the State Department, is not on the Senate floor like a stern patriarch silencing opponents.

However, his absence alone has not accounted for the administration troubles. The administration never persuaded the Senate the Middle East resolution carried the same urgency the Formosa plan had two years ago.

Still Smarting
Furthermore, Senate Democrats are still smarting under the part the Middle East crisis apparently played in enlarging President Eisenhower's election majority last fall. And they have complained repeatedly that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was less than frank in explaining what the proposed doctrine would do.

They also were annoyed because they first learned from their newspapers that a new policy was being framed.

Meanwhile, the GOP side of the Senate was not knocking itself out in an attempt to achieve an early

Colored News Agent To Conduct Course On Making Out Tax Return

An opportunity for colored adults to learn how to prepare their own income tax returns will be sponsored by the Seminole County Adult Education Program.

A United States Government Internal Revenue Agent from the Orlando Office will conduct a course for adults on how to prepare an income tax return beginning Tuesday, Mar. 19. This will be an opportunity for all colored adults to learn how to prepare their own income tax returns. Classes will be conducted for three successive nights, Mar. 19, 20, and 21. Classes will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. and end at 9:30 p.m.

vote on the Middle East measure.

Finally, there were misgivings in the Senate over the Israeli troop withdrawal issue, which would not be met directly by the Middle East resolution. When it appeared for a time the administration might support punitive measures against Israel, a majority of the Senate seemed lined up in opposition to such drastic steps.

The sum of these factors frustrated the administration's bid for a quick demonstration of unity between Congress and the White House.

Ike Invited To Navy Appreciation Day

Other High Officials Are Asked

"If it's worth putting on it's worth being the biggest day that Sanford has ever had," said Mayor David Gatchel who was appointed Chairman of the Invitation Committee for Navy Appreciation Day to be held in Sanford Mar. 30.

Heading the list of those to be invited to the affair are President and Mrs. Eisenhower, Vice President Richard Nixon, Presidential Aide Sherman Adams, Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas, Under Secretary of the Navy Thomas S. Gates Jr. and other high Navy officials, Gatchel announced at the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday.

Jaycee President G. Andrew Speer told the Jaycee group that Harry Cannel and Garfield Willets had been named co-chairmen of the gigantic event.

Chaplain Arnold Lauds Red Cross For Aid To Navy

Chaplain C. L. Arnold of the Sanford Naval Air Station says: "The officers and enlisted men of the United States Navy have come to recognize that the American Red Cross is a friend that sticks closer than a brother". As a chaplain who works close with people who have trouble, "I know what the American Red Cross does for men in the Navy", he said. "I have experienced nothing but admiration for the cooperation which exists between our men and the field workers of the Red Cross. I have never had any problem to face but that the Red Cross was willing to give assistance," commented chaplain Arnold.

Particularly important to the personnel of the Navy is the service rendered to men who are away from home and who receive distressing home news. It is very comforting to know that we have a friendly organization which will step in and give us a first-hand report of the actual condition of our loved ones," said the Chaplain.

Men of the Navy have their financial problems, as everyone does, and for some reason emergencies seem to catch up with our men when they are broke. The American Red Cross is again our friend he said, and (Continued on Page Four)

President Expected In State Next Week To Combat Lingering Cold

Top News In Brief

TALLAHASSEE — Members of the House and Senate appropriations committees continued their check of state institutions today to find out how much money the various agencies will have to spend in the next biennium.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld formally notified the United Nations General Assembly today that Israel has complied with the U. N. order to withdraw from Egypt.

WASHINGTON — A cordial House reception appeared likely today for the administration's request to raise the cost of mailing a first class letter from three to four cents. But its fate appeared to be in the hands of the Senate which killed similar legislation last year.

Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the United Nations Emergency Force, indicated today in Cairo a hitch had developed in Israel's withdrawal from Sharm el Sheikh. Burns said his forces were to take over the Agaba Gulf shore from Israeli forces today. But there was a possibility the Israelis may have to remove their equipment Saturday.

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower probably will go to Florida about the middle of next week for sun and exercise to combat a lingering head cold and cough, the White House said today.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower hopes and expects to be in Florida five or six days before going to Bermuda March 20 for his scheduled conference with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The conference with Macmillan opens Mar. 21, and Hagerty said he expects the President to fly to Bermuda directly from Florida Mar. 20.

Mr. Eisenhower is being treated with antibiotic drugs for his cold and a resultant slight inflammation of the eustachian tube of his left ear.

Cough Better Today
Hagerty said the President's cough seemed to be "a little better" this morning. But he still has a slight ear inflammation and head cold.

Both Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles are out of the country, and Mr. Eisenhower does not want to be far from Washington by air.

Because of this, Hagerty said the President will not go to Arizona or any other western vacation site. Hagerty then said the President expects to go to Florida next week.

Weather
Clearing and colder tonight with chance of frost. Low 31 to 33 Saturday morning; fair and a little warmer in the afternoon.

Red Cross Drive Has Slow Start

Less than $300 has been turned in toward the $10,000 goal for the fund campaign of the Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross, said the Rev. Fred Ensminger, publicity chairman for the campaign, this morning.

That isn't a very good start toward the campaign which is now five days old, he said. If funds continued to come in, throughout the month, the same percentage would be reached, he said. "We would raise less than 20 per cent of our expected budget goal," he said.

The Rev. Ensminger pointed out that already more than 300 hours of work have been expended on the campaign so far. That includes the organizational meeting, the kickoff breakfast, distribution of kits, the film being shown in the local theatre, and radio announcements, he said.

"We have about 300 people involved in voluntary work in this year's campaign," the Rev. Ensminger said this morning. "and we're fully aware that many reports have not been received up to this moment."

Of the less than $300 already turned in, two of the contributions are of $50 denomination and four of them are $25, it was disclosed. Actual amount turned in is $273.

The Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross wants to raise its entire quota this year in order to meet its tremendous budget of the coming year. The organization is faced with a gigantic task of taking care of the needs of many service men and the area as well as do its part in disaster and community work, officials of the organization said.

No Fair This Year For Seminole County Folks

There will be no Seminole County Fair this year, according to an announcement made today by R. Z. Johnson, president of the Legion Fair Association.

Johnson said this morning that "Due to technical difficulties in the contract with a show organization and to insufficient time for proper advertising and publicity, the Legion Fair Association will not stage the annual Legion Fair this year."

The fair was originally scheduled to be held in Sanford at the old fair grounds on McDeville Ave. March 18-23 featuring the "Famous" Strait Shows.

Decision was reached to postpone the annual fair at a meeting of the Legion Fair Association held this week at which members of the show organization met with the local fair association officials.

Had the fair been held, as scheduled, there would have been less than two weeks in which to acquaint the public of the fair and to secure exhibits that would adequately represent the many organizations who would display their wares and accomplishments, said fair officials.

Krider Says Impressed With Local Cooperation On Keeping Base Here

"The cooperation in a united county has impressed me," John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce told the Jaycees yesterday as he again reported on his trip to Washington and advised the young businessmen "how we stand" at present.

"I don't believe I have ever seen a project where everyone was so united," he said, and added, "I haven't met one person who is not behind us."

Praising the Jaycees for their work throughout the year, Krider said "I feel like this year the Jaycees have done an outstanding job—not only in my opinion but in the opinion of practically everyone I have talked to."

Speaking of the resolutions that are being received, Krider commented "Our surrounding communities are coming to our aid—we had an almost immediate response from all of them."

Young Negro Boy Charged With Murder

A 30-year-old Negro man was declared dead on arrival at the Seminole Memorial Hospital last night after being smashed in the head with a concrete block allegedly swung by a 15-year-old Negro boy.

The Negro man and boy apparently had words "about a remark made to a Negro waitress behind the counter in the New York Beer Garden," said Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway.

Freddie Lee Jackson of a West 22nd St. address died of a crushed skull and was pronounced dead at the local hospital by Dr. F. A. Smith.

The 15-year-old boy, who is being held today in the Sanford City Jail, was named by Constable Galloway as Anthony Miller of a Castle Brewer Court address.

Brief Riot Flares At Catawba Prison

NEWTON, N. C. — A brief riot flared Thursday night at the Catawba prisoner when a guard ordered prisoners to turn down their radio.

An estimated 21 prisoners in a dormitory housing 50 convicts began hurling coal through windows and cursing at the guards, who sounded the alarm.

The prisoners knocked out the lights with coal from a store in the dormitory and smashed about 20 windows. Extra guards and state police rushed to the camp in a driving rain.

The disturbance lasted "about 15 minutes." There were no injuries.

Prison authorities immediately began interrogating prisoners from the dormitory in pairs. Prison Superintendent Ruffin Huss said there would be "disciplinary action."
