BRITISH NOTE REGARDED IN FRENCH CIRCLES POSITIVE DISAVOWAL OF WAR ALLIES

AND FRANK ESPOUSAL OF THE GERMAN CAUSE
BY MANY

POINCARÉ'S REPLY

Will Be Made in Due Time But
Smacks Much of Propaganda

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The British note is regarded in French circles as a positive disavowal of Britain's war allies and frank espousal of the German cause. It is thought Poincaré will reply in due time although officials hold it smacks so much of propaganda that it might properly be ignored.

STENAY, France, Aug. 13.—Disregarding the recommendations of David Lloyd George, the former British prime minister that he should not make speeches on Sundays or in places where war memories would be aroused, Premier Poincaré made two addresses Sunday to emphasize France's unwavering determination not to change her policy toward Germany.

He delivered his first address yesterday morning at Marville at the unveiling of a monument to military and civil veterans of the war.

He came to Stenay to dedicate a war memorial in the town that during most of the war was the domain and pleasure ground of the former German crown prince. His addresses here and at Marville had been written before the last British note was received, although he had the document before him as he spoke.

"Chancellor Cuno," said the premier in his Marville speech, referring to the German chancellors' recent address in the Reichstag, "undoubtedly would not have used such senseless language if the allies had been unanimous in showing him their will in ordering him not to revolt longer against the legitimate measures taken by Belgium and France."

The premier declared that the German government was leading Germany to catastrophe, adding, "we are sure not only of our right, but our method."

M. Poincaré concluded by saying that Germany now, as in 1918, on the eve of her military downfall, was seeking to mislead opinion.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The British government in the publication Sunday of its official correspondence with the allies since June, placed on record its position with regard to the German reparations problem.

Lord Curzon, secretary for foreign affairs, in an elaborate note dealing with the problem, sets forth that the British government regards the occupation of the Ruhr as illegal and is unauthorized by the Versailles treaty, thus supporting the German contention in this respect. At the same time however, he offers to submit the point to arbitration at the Hague or by some other body.

While still adhering to a tone of the utmost courtesy and saying nothing definite with regard to any separate action on the part of England, Lord Curzon emphasizes that he can not agree with the French policy, which he intimates plainly seems to point to an indefinite occupation of the Ruhr.

Lord Curzon still leaves it to the French government to suggest the method of selecting an international commission to examine into Germany's capacity to pay the reparations, but he plainly declares that Great Britain can not accept the decision of the reparations commission on this matter since that commission has become the mere instrument of France's policy.

Lord Curzon declares that the British government still adheres to the plan of former Premier Bonar Law, under which Great Britain would be satisfied to obtain from Germany reparations and allied debts to Great Britain a sum sufficient to meet Great Britain's obligations to the United States.

MISSING BOOKS ARE BROUGHT TO OFFICERS

Records of Bucket Shops
Surrendered to Federal Authorities

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The missing records of the bankrupt stock bucketing firm of E. M. Fuller & Company, which long have provided one chief source of interest in the sensational disclosures that followed the firm's failure, are reported to have been surrendered anonymously to federal authorities on the eve of the promised new indictments of higher-ups in the alleged bucketshop ring.

NEW GOVERNMENT GERMANY TO BE COALITION FORM

Cabinet Selected From
All Parties With Socialists in Power

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Several strikers were killed and many wounded at Hamburg shipyards in a clash with police, dispatches say. The strikers are alleged to have prevented those willing to work from entering the shipyards whereupon the police intervened.

LUEBECK, Germany, Aug. 13.—Communists are holding this city after forcing senate to retire. Reichwehr troops have arrived to attempt to restore order.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Sanguinary fighting of communists and militia occurred in Seitz, Saxony, according to General News dispatch from Berlin. A large body of communists stormed the town hall occupied by soldiers and there was considerable fighting in the streets. The bodies of nine communists were recovered and thirty injured. Many troops were wounded.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The resignations of Chancellor Wilhelm Cuno and his entire cabinet were accepted by President Ebert.

Dr. Gustave Stresemann, leader of the German people's party, has been commissioned by President Ebert to form a new government. After accepting the task Herr Stresemann had a conference with the representatives of the various parties. The greatest difficulty seems to be in connection with the foreign ministry. He will take the post himself temporarily.

It is believed in political quarters that Herr Helffering will be the new finance minister and Herr Sellman will be named minister of the interior, while the name of Herr Rainhaben of the people's party is mentioned as the new Secretary of State to the Imperial Chancellery.

The United Socialists have made it known that they expect to have four seats in the ministry.

Just before Chancellor Cuno called on President Ebert to submit the cabinet's resignation, the Reichstag leaders, representing the present coalition parties and the United Socialists visited the president and discussed with him the prospect of constructing a government on a four party coalition basis. This indicated that the United Socialists had arrived at an understanding with bourgeois parties with respect to their readiness to enter a cabinet which would accept as a platform the program of internal tax and financial measures.

HE WAS JUST A PAL TO THEM

Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone and Thomas Edison have started on their annual camping trip. But they have left their best friend behind. They came to see him, though, before leaving. But they saw him in his flagdraped casket. This picture was taken on front of Dr. Harding's home on the morning of the late president's funeral. Rev. Jesse Swank, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church in Marion, who offered the prayer as the casket was tenderly put into the vault, is on the extreme left. Bishop William F. Anderson, of the Methodist Episcopal diocese of Cincinnati, who pronounced the benediction, is on the extreme right. Ford stands next to the minister, then comes Firestone. Edison is second from the end on the right.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE TAKES REINS

Of Government Today
After the Delay of Funeral

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—President Coolidge took up his duties for the first time at the executive offices in the White House. He will maintain his residence at Willard hotel until Mrs. Harding leaves. He was accompanied by his secretary, Edward T. Clark.

and other political and economic demands which the United Socialists put forward in their campaign against Herr Cuno.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Three times Sunday communists at Rosthausen, near Gelsenkirchen, erected gallows with effigies of Chancellor Cuno and Hugo Stines swinging from them, but each time the police tore them down, the proceedings in which one policeman and five of the demonstrators were killed and ten wounded.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Provincial centers of Germany reported that the food prices and the scarcity of money are leading to serious trouble in many places. Thirteen persons have been killed and a number wounded in collisions between the police and infuriated demonstrators at Neurode near Breslau. At Glatz, Silesia, riots were suppressed easily, but at Hanover three were killed and forty wounded when the police attempted to disperse crowds which were plundering the shops.

The strike movement in Berlin and elsewhere has taken a serious turn. Because of the dismissal of workmen from the shipyards and other industries at Stettin, a general strike is expected there Monday. Light miners at Meuselwitz, near Gera, are on strike, and all the mines and industrial works at Stassfurt, Saxony, are idle. A fight occurred there yesterday between strikers and Nationalists, one man being killed.

The general strike called by the Communists in Berlin has brought a cessation of work in the municipal plants, the gas and electricity supply in some sections being cut off. The waterworks are still in operation.

WAGE INCREASE IS SOUGHT BY BROTHERHOOD

Locomotive Engineers

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE WILL NOT PERMIT STRIKE OF COAL MINERS

Executive Has Conference With John Hays Hammond, Chairman Coal Fact Finding Commission

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 13.—President Coolidge will not permit a coal strike, it was said here Sunday, after a conference between John Hays Hammond, chairman of the coal fact finding commission, and Dr. George Otis Smith, a member of that commission who had hurried to Mr. Hammond's Gloucester home after a conference with the president in Washington Saturday. Dr. Smith returned to Washington Sunday night.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Indications have been given here within the last few days that the government would make a move soon in an effort to avert a strike in the anthracite coal fields.

President Coolidge since taking over his office has been made acquainted with developments in the situation through a conference with John Hays Hammond, chairman of

On Railway Consolidation Bill Passed by Cuban House

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Representations have been made by the state department to Cuban government asking that action on railroad consolidation bill passed by the Cuban house on Friday be delayed until viewpoints of American interests can be presented. Some American interests protested declaring the measure confiscatory.

BERGDOLL'S VICTIM SWISS ONE RUSSIAN

Wounded Man an American Named Speerber, Resident of Paris

(By The Associated Press)
EBERBACH, Germany, Aug. 13.—The man who was instantly killed by Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the American draft evader, has been identified as a Swiss named Karl Schmidt of Lausanne, and the man wounded is said to be Roger Speerber, an American resident of Paris.

Lieutenant Griffin, said to be an American, Faust Gagarin, a Russian and Eugene Nelson, supposed to be an American, who were seated in an automobile outside the hotel in one room of which Bergdoll used his automatic pistol to save himself from being kidnaped are under arrest here.

Bergdoll several days ago returned to Eberbach from Switzerland to meet his mother, who had arrived from the United States. He again took up his residence in a local hotel where he had been living during the last three years until he went to Switzerland.

The local authorities assert that Bergdoll has been watched closely for several days by strangers living in his hotel have expressed the belief that a plot to kidnap the man who is wanted by the United States government had been carefully planned and financed. Rope ladders, black jacks and a supply of plates are said to have been found in the possession of the man under arrest. The automobile in which Bergdoll was to have been taken off is described as a former American.

Local feeling is running high against the men under arrest. Bergdoll continues to be popular with the natives. The populace is gathered to be doubly resentful over the alleged renewed attempt to kidnap Bergdoll as the first attempt made two years ago, and in which a German woman was wounded by a man alleged to be an American detective is still fresh in their memory.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The American Embassy has not been informed officially of the Bergdoll incident in Eberbach. The belief is expressed here that the Baden government, through the German Foreign office will protest formally against the alleged attempt to kidnap Bergdoll. The German press refers to the incident as "a violation of German sovereignty."

CONDITION DROPS

On All Crops Except Fruits and Light Yield is Inevitable

(By The Associated Press)
GAINESVILLE, Fla., Aug. 13.—Citrus prospects have improved during July but the staple crop outlook is unfavorable, according to information compiled by the local Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. Except for fruits, the report says condition has dropped during the month and light yields are inevitable on all of the state's big field crops.

Production of pineapples shows a big increase over last year and both quality and yield of the tobacco crop are better than usual.

Oranges were reported on a 94 per cent of normal basis as compared with 93 per cent a month ago and 89 per cent a year ago, and an average condition on August 1 of 89 per cent. Trees are making excellent growth and are carrying heavy crops of oranges, the report continues, and says that unless some unfavorable factor develops, production will be heavy next season.

Grapefruit prospects have improved during July and show a condition now of 91 per cent of normal, compared with 89 per cent a month ago, 83 per cent a year ago and an average August 1st condition of 81 per cent. While a percentage of groves did not set a heavy crop of fruit, an increased production is expected next season on account of the large number of young groves coming into bearing.

Limes are being harvested and the crop is turning out better than expected, the condition improving during the month.

The state's peach crop was extremely light, 60 per cent of normal, and slightly under usual quality, according to the report. Production of pears has been on the increase for some years and is light again this season, 40 per cent of a full crop.

Pecan prospects have been lowered as the result of unfavorable weather, resulting in some loss of the crop on the trees from disease and shading.

On the East Coast, the pineapple movement is reported as several times as large as last season and, with the plantings of this year, production should show material increases for some years to come.

Unfavorable weather during July, and rains and adverse conditions earlier in the season which prevented cultivation and attention at critical periods are given as the reason for a crop in the condition of practically all field crops. The report says, however, that plantings of sweet potatoes are still being made with better prospects than the party average is showing.

Federal Government Moved to Avert Anthracite Strike

Invites Operators and Miners to Confer With Commission

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The federal government moved today to avert anthracite coal strikes by inviting representatives of both operators and miners to confer with the commission here. Telegrams inviting representatives to come here were sent after members of the post commission conferred with President Coolidge who is keeping in close touch with the situation.

Asks This Lady, "That I'm a Believer in Cardui?"—Had Been So Weak She Had to Go to Bed.

Osawatomie, Kans.—Mrs. E. E. Keast, formerly of Illinois, residing here, says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while, and then some year or so ago I had a bad sick spell."

"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed. I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicines, and everything had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up."

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day there changed to be a Ladies Birth Day Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui."

"I quit all other medicines and took it (Cardui) faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months."

"I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman."

"Do you wonder that I am a believer in Cardui? I certainly am. And I am sure there is no better tonic made for women than Cardui."

"Frozen Paper" is given as a cause of the failure of a small Jacksonville bank. It is rather warm weather for paper to freeze.—Wauchualla Advocate.

The Tampa Tribune thinks a certain disturbing element in Florida politics has been cast into oblivion. They are never dead until the newspapers quit talking about them and that is our idea of killing them and allowing them to remain dead by never mentioning their names again.

Germany is in another turmoil and the people are breaking into shops and taking food, seizing crops and plundering stores in many of the cities. Between the paying of the indemnities and the Bolsheviks Germany is in a precarious condition and only an iron hand can hold the country to a stable government.

Congratulations to Gilbert Leach and all the other gentlemen at Leesburg who have made paper possible from sawgrass. The Leesburg Commercial was printed on this sawgrass paper last week and it is a fine grade of paper the only objection being that it is a trifle dark but this can be remedied. Read what Gilbert Leach says of the paper and plant in another part of the Herald today.

Georgia's chief executive, has said that there will be no more floggings in that state. This is the proper spirit. Floggings make everyone who has any connection with convict camps brutal. It tends to eliminate all the manhood from those in charge of convicts. The next few years in Florida will prove the fallacy of the tale that you cannot work convicts without beating them to death.

Wall Street is supposed to get a shock from the bucket shop exposures today. It may get the shock and on the other hand the ones who intend to expose the bucket shops may get a shock first and their lights go out. New York gunmen are easy to hire and they know how to shoot and they have protection from those higher up. We hope the exposures will be made. It means a cleaner Wall Street from this time forward.

The people have told the operators and the miners of anthracite coal that in the event they start anything in the strike line the people will start a boycott on anthracite and stop using it altogether. This is the proper attitude to take toward miners and operators. They are really in cahoots to bunco the people and the people have found it out. Now let the people take this attitude toward all such troubles and there will be no more troubles. The people get squeezed in all these strikes and the people are the ones to get busy now and do some squeezing themselves.

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll killed one man and wounded another in Germany Saturday when they tried to kidnap him. The ostensible purpose of kidnaping this draft dodger is to bring him back to the United States and find out who was responsible for his escape from jail here. Another reason is that the boys who went over have an antipathy against him that will never be satisfied until he is sent up for twenty years for evading the draft. And some day Grover Cleveland Bergdoll will be brought back to the U. S. A.

All is peace and quiet on the Battery at Charleston again. The election for mayor is over, the ballot boxes are safe in the jail under the protection of the sheriff and the state troops have been taken away from the scene of disorders that looked more like child's play or horse play rather than a serious situation among grown men. To let politics run away with the sober and mature judgment of honest citizens seems so childish that one would hardly think the staid old city of Charleston would be guilty of such a lapse of good sense.

FISH AS A BRAIN FOOD.

The Journal of the American Medical Association declares positively that there is nothing in the theory that fish is a brain food, so those who do not care especially for fish but have been eating it as a duty with the hope that the diet would brighten their intellects may abandon it without fear of ill results.

But, on the other hand, if you relish fish, as many do, you need not limit yourself to one fish day a week on the supposition that that is sufficient for a rounded diet. Fish, says the journal, is an excellent foodstuff that may be used to advantage any day in the week without danger of overdoing the thing.

However, even the latter statement must not be taken as an urge to a fish diet, according to our authority named. Fish, though excellent, is not one whit better physiologically than bread, milk, meat and vegetables.

THE PRINCIPLES OF COOLIDGE.

To the nation as a whole Calvin Coolidge is almost unknown. The following quotations from addresses made during the course of his public life will help to throw light on his character and what may be expected of him.

The first is from an address to the Massachusetts legislature while he was governor—not, it may be noted, while he was running for office:

"Do the day's work. If it be to protect the rights of the weak, whoever objects, do it. If it be to help a powerful corporation better to serve the people, do it, whatever the opposition. Expect to be called a standpatter, but don't be a standpatter. Expect to be called a demagogue but don't be a demagogue. Don't hesitate to be as revolutionary as science. Don't hesitate to be as reactionary as the multiplication table."

Again, while governor: "Man is born into the universe with a personality that is his own. He has a right that is founded upon the constitution of the universe to have property that is his own. Ultimately, personal rights and property rights are the same thing. The one can not be preserved if the other is violated."

This is from another speech during this same period: "Statutes must appeal to more than material welfare. Wages don't satisfy by they ever so large; nor houses; nor lands; nor coupons, though they fall thick as the leaves of autumn. Man has a spiritual nature. Touch it, and it must respond as the magnet responds to the pole. To that, not to selfishness, the laws of the commonwealth appeal."—Pensacola News.

THE RACE FOR 1924.

President Harding was not yet buried—indeed his body was hardly cold in death until certain ambitious statesmen or politicians were busy laying their lines for the 1924 nomination on the Republican ticket.

In the east meetings were quickly held to ascertain the effect of the Coolidge rise to the presidential chair on the 1924 nomination. Of course there is no desire on the part of the politicians to have Mr. Coolidge become the party candidate.

In California the friends of Hiram Johnson were busy getting matters lined up for the fighting senator. In Indiana, Senator Watson held a meeting with political friends while the body of Mr. Harding was en route to Washington, and news dispatches announced that his chances as a candidate were discussed.

Thus it is, that politicians write telegrams of condolence to the widow of the dead president, and before the message is delivered they begin to study how they may profit by the misfortune that has befallen the widow.

These are not the only men who have violated the rules of good taste at least, for selfish purposes. There are several others. And it only illustrates what a cold-blooded, selfish proposition politics is.

This one thing is certain at this writing. That the breach in the Republican party is widening each day. The progressives are making a determined effort to get control of the national convention in 1924 and are in a fair way of accomplishing that thing.

The east against the west seems to be the battle. While Senator Watson is credited to Indiana, he is eastern in political training and practice. He is not in touch with the western people, nearly as well as he is with the eastern high tariff friends. It is believed that Hiram Johnson could carry the primaries against Watson in Indiana. The fight in the central states and west will be against a man so clearly a reactionist as Watson. So too the location of Mr. Coolidge is against his candidacy.—Reporter-Star.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

PRINTING ON SAWGRASS PAPER. In this issue the Commercial sees fulfilled a fond desire of the past three years—an edition printed on paper manufactured from Lake Griffin sawgrass.

Three years ago last month this paper first published the portion of the world it reaches the fact that a new and splendid paper making fiber had been produced and that its manufacture on a commercial scale would be started at once.

Since that time various details of interest connected with the new industry have been published in every civilized country on the face of the earth.

Knowing nothing of the details of pulp and paper manufacturing, the Commercial believed and announced three years ago that a factory would be equipped and would start within a few months. Later we discovered that such a feat would have been as great as building another Hudson River tunnel.

But the factory is built and running and we are printing on sawgrass paper. Now we know that we have assisted at the birth of a very great industry, one that should become Florida's greatest single industrial asset within the next twenty years unless oil or gold is discovered in this fair state of our in that time. But we know also that just the bare surface of the new industry has been scratched and that there remain many problems to solve, many loose ends to gather and put in place, many new ideas to try out and select the best, before the potential value of the discovery of sawgrass paper fiber can be approximately estimated.

A sheet of paper seems a trivial thing yet the production of this sheet of paper you, dear reader, hold in your hand is an achievement that we consider great. And we consider it so because we have stood alongside those whose courage has carried on through the darkest kind of days against odds that seemed fearful at close range. Unexpected obstacles in unsuspected places have been overcome that one thin sheet of paper might come out of the welter of abrasive sawgrass from the shallow water along the edge of the lake. There has been erected a water plant whose capacity is perhaps a little greater than the combined water plants of all the cities and towns in Lake County, for every ton of these sheets requires over thirty thousand gallons of water. And every drop of this water that is used after the pulp is made and the paper is being formed, must be filtered. We mention this merely as a sample of what courage it required to set the stage for the great experiment of producing for the first time on a commercial scale an entirely different raw material from which to manufacture a staple product. Courage won.

It will be several years before we begin to realize the actual value of this new industry. Those of us who have studied its possibilities realize, perhaps, slightly more than those who merely looked on as the work was done and wondered why it was so slow. But even we can not certainly forecast in what direction the greatest value will develop because there are so many angles to the industry that it is entirely possible for it to follow a similar route to that the oil industry took when the little benzine byproduct that was sold by the ounce for clothes cleaning suddenly came into demand for use in internal combustion engines and rapidly assumed the leading place, putting, in a few years, the main products of distillation into the by-product class.

This industry is born but it was not born full-grown. It is still an infant, no matter how large an infant, and it must first crawl, then walk, then come into its full powers of sturdy existence. What it will mean for Florida will depend somewhat upon Florida itself.—Leesburg Commercial.

FAREWELL, NEIGHBOR WARREN!

They knew it would be the last time they would see him. So the home folk stood for hours in the sweltering heat, as an August sun beat down upon them, waiting their turns to view the remains of their kind friend, Warren G. Harding. It was not Harding the president they came to see. It was Harding, their neighbor and pal. This picture shows George T. Harding for a final, lingering gaze upon the familiar feature column—is more than a mile from the Harding home.

Laymen to Assume More Church Burdens Say Methodist Men

Who Are Meeting at Junaluska Conference (By The Associated Press) LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C., Aug. 13.—Laymen of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, are here today for a conference called for the purpose of arousing laymen of the denomination to assume more of the burdens of the church's affairs. G. L. Morelock, himself a layman and head of the Board of Lay Activities, was one of the principal speakers at the conference which will last thru Friday. Delegates to the meeting included some of the South's leaders in the Methodist church who gathered to mingle in the conference that will abound in good fellowship, as Mr. Morelock described it.

An open forum is scheduled for each day of the conference, at which a number of pressing church problems will be discussed. These forums will be led by S. H. Blain, secretary of state of Alabama; Judge M. C. Childers, San Antonio, Tex.; T. S. Southgate, Norfolk, Va., and Judge W. Erskine Williams, Fort Worth, Tex.

Other speakers on the five-day program include: Dr. Ernest C. Webb, University of Texas; Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, who is in charge of the work of the church in Europe; Dr. C. M. McConnell, of Chicago, specialist in rural church work; Judge John H. Clarke, of Youngstown, Ohio, former associate justice of the United States supreme court; Dr. Henry Nelson Snyder, president Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C.; Dr. J. Stitt Wilson, Berkeley, Calif., and Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon.

What County Agents and Counties Are Doing All Over the State

Truckers Start Work and Getting Ready for Fall Business

(By The Associated Press) GAINESVILLE, Aug. 13.—Levy county is assured of a fair this fall as the result of a meeting of citizens, N. J. Allbritton, county demonstration agent, reports to the agricultural extension service of the state university. Interesting extracts from other agents reports this week follow:

Ocala: Truckers who recently started tilling their farms are the real benefit and need of proper drainage, heavy rains having fallen lately; all tilled land is ready for the plow and planter. Fruit and vegetable growers are fighting the proposed increase in refrigerator charges by the railroads.

Santa Rosa—Weather conditions are very unfavorable for cotton, boll weevils doing much damage. Most fields treated by Florida method are much better than non-treated fields.

Dade—A permanent organization has been formed by avocado growers in this county for the sole purpose of studying the avocado and to improve its quality and cultural methods.

Lake—Up to the present, growers have been unusually successful in controlling rust mites. Indications are we shall have much more bright fruit than usual as a result.

Marion—Farmers are planning to co-operatively order their fertilizers; much interest in dipping cattle for the tick, as the owners are not willing to start through another winter with cattle as poor as last winter.

Seminole—Celery seedbeds progressing nicely. Lettuce acreage will be smaller, possibly than last year. New land being brought into cultivation.

Can you answer this? Why does the QUICK SERVICE TRANSFER do three-fourths of the long distance hauling of Seminole County. Answer: Because they have SERVICE as their motto, and in addition to that, their prices are right. See for yourself by calling 408. Also STORAGE. 110-Mon-Tues-Wed-Th

OVERSEAS HIGHWAY FROM KEY WEST TO THE MAINLAND

KSY WEST, Aug. 13.—Monroe county's commissioners stand four to one in favor of a bond issue of $300,000 as the first step toward construction of the proposed Overseas Highway from Key West to the mainland. A date for the election has not been decided upon, but the commissioners have gone on record as favoring the issuance of $300,000 as a starter, and later issue another $200,000, bringing the total up to the county's present limit.

DUVAL COUNTY MILLAGE 41 MILLS FOR THIS YEAR

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 11.—Taxpayers in Duval county are assessed 41 mills as the state, county and school millage for 1923. This is a reduction of seven-eighths of a mill from last year.

DR. CARPENTER NOTES CHANGES IN THE METHODS OF OUR TRAVEL NOW AND IN DAYS GONE BY

What a difference between methods and means of travel nowadays and when I was a boy! The first time I rode in a railroad train men used to stop the train by the use of hand brakes, one brake on end of each car. The engines burned wood and had wide spread screened tops to the smoke stack. Berths in a sleeper were crude and expensive. Now my little granddaughter, seven years old, accompanied me to Baltimore and we rode in a fine sleeping car upholstered and cushioned in latest style. Electric lights now used in contrast to old kerosene lights of the past. Electric fans, screened windows and sleeping facilities unrivalled. Air brakes take the place of men and either coal or oil have supplanted wood as fuel. Fifty to sixty miles per hour does not frighten one now; and while you are going at that rate you can eat in an elegant dining car (at robber prices) and pay the waiter's salary by tips. "The world do move."

Well, if we want luxuries we must pay the bills. Yet a trip from Sanford to Baltimore is comparatively inexpensive. I rarely tip a train porter or waiter on a dining car. I see no reason why I should pay a good price for what I get, then pay the salaries of men who work for very rich corporations. Why should men of modest means pay the employees of the Pullman company? Yet this, and scores of like companies are amassing great wealth while the public, through tips, pay a large part of the running expenses.

Who thinks of tipping the grocery clerk, the young lady who sells dry goods, or the boys at the soda fountain? Tipping is a species of bribery and no one can well define bribery. Should one ask for extra service then one should pay for it. But when one is hired to serve me a meal of victuals for which I pay an exorbitant price, I see no reason why I should further tax myself to enrich the hotel or dining car owners.

Baltimore has a peculiar custom or law as to the ownership of real estate, it is called ground rent. No one owns the ground on which he builds his home or business house, unless he be a descendant of the original owner to whom land grants were made when the city was first founded. When you buy a lot you simply buy a lease, and must pay an annual rent of six percent of the value of the lot at the time you make the purchase. Then you also pay the taxes in addition. One good feature is that while the land on which you have erected your house may, in the course of the years, increase to ten times its original value, yet you continue paying ground rent on the value at the time you bought your lease. A law passed a few years ago gives one the option of purchasing the ground within five years. This law applies only to a purchase made after its passage.

Maryland has some good automobile laws which other states could profitably copy. They have had the ownership law for some years. Since taxing gasoline two cents a gallon, they now give one a license tag at first cost of the tag, thus eliminating the expense of a license and to some extent reducing the cash burden to the machine owner.

Drivers are granted a license only after an examination and an actual test in driving. One must carry the license card when driving. On the back of the license card is a blank for recording any court proceedings against the driver. Should one get into court the second time the judge asks for the license card, and if there is a record of a fine recorded, he usually doubles the penalty.

The officers enforce the law requiring the driver on the left to give the right-of-way to the man on the right. Such a law should be passed by our Sanford City Commissioners. Yet with these and other good features of the law, there are many accidents. Too many fools drive autos. A man who will drive a machine while drunk should be debarred from driving for the balance of his natural life. I am told the fines are very heavy here for drunken or drinking drivers.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION LOSING POPULARITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The late world war, almost exclusively a conflict of science and engineering, gave a tremendous impetus to public interest in engineering study and resulted in a big increase of enrollments in the technical departments of American colleges, according to statistics just gathered for Mechanical Engineering, official journal of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

"Never in the history of the world," says that publication, "were engineers of greater importance and in greater demand than during the period from 1915 to 1920. The 1920 enrollment was nearly 80 per cent greater than that of 1918 and 1914."

Figures assembled by Alan Bright, registrar, and W. F. Rittman, professor of mechanical engineering, both of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, show a sharp decline in enrollments since the war. This, say the investigators, is but a "natural reaction from the abnormal increase of 1918 and 1919, aided by the industrial depression of 1920."

Many upper class students in the middle west have solved the problem of cheap education, according to the report, by attending colleges near home the first two years and later entering a distant engineering school with advanced standing.

TOURISTS IN FLORIDA TRAVEL DIFFERENT FROM OTHER YEARS, WHEN THEY REMAINED AT ONE PLACE

In Olden Times They Remained at One Resort for the Season

Tourist travel in Florida has changed materially in the past five years due altogether to the good roads and to the numbers of automobiles and the fact that tourists to Florida now drive thousands of miles in cars to reach Florida. Naturally when they get to Florida and settle down for a stay they have their cars and the desire to travel round assails them and they go. It is a case of keeping on the wing and this is especially true where they do not get the kind of service and treatment that they desire.

Such a law should be passed by our Sanford City Commissioners. Yet with these and other good features of the law, there are many accidents. Too many fools drive autos. A man who will drive a machine while drunk should be debarred from driving for the balance of his natural life. I am told the fines are very heavy here for drunken or drinking drivers.

Because of some childish quarrel between the District of Columbia and the state of Maryland, owners of cars must have a license from both before they are allowed to travel across the line. You see a large number of cars with two license tags which means by the grace of a good fee you can have the use of the highway in either Maryland or the District of Columbia. What a fine illustration of harmony!

NO ROOM FOR COMPLAINT SWEAT BOX CONDITIONS SAYS DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

J. O. Gates, district supervisor of state prisons for the territory for the territory including Manatee county, has reported to Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. McRae that there is no room for complaint of "sweat box" conditions at State Road Camp No. 18, near Parish, Fla.

Gates was instructed by Commissioner McRae to make a special investigation of the camp following the publication of an open letter recently in the Palmetto News addressed to the commissioner by J. E. Bowdoin who severely criticized conditions at the camp, referring to the solitary confinement cell there as a "sweat box."

The report of Inspector Gates was preceded by a letter from J. C. Hansford, captain at the camp, who denied the allegations made by Bowdoin, who himself addressed a letter to the prison authorities apologizing for and retracting statements made in his published letter.

Captain Hansford reported that in addition to inspections by Supervisor Gates, several other state officials had visited the camp. These included State Physician Willis, Camp Physician Lamb, County Commissioners Harrison and Frier, and others. The solitary confinement cell was described as being a small house eight feet square, seven feet high with a partition running through the center, making two cells four feet by eight, seven feet high, having ample ventilation.

The letter of Inspector Gates reporting on condition at the camp follows:

"In compliance with your letter of August the first, I have made a special investigation of the solitary confinement cell at State Road Camp No. 18, near Parish, Florida.

"I find the house built and used for the solitary confinement of unruly prisoners to have two compartments each of which are the following dimensions, inside: Height in front, six feet 7 inches; height in rear six feet; length of room, six feet nine inches; width of room three feet four inches. There is a hole in the top for natural ventilation and the spaces between the sheathing at the top will admit quite a little air. One sliding door covers both entrances and this door is sufficiently loose to allow quite a little ventilation.

"I inspected this house soon as it was built and in my judgment it was well suited for the punishment of unruly prisoners, and so expressed myself to the captain, Captain Hansford. In my opinion these cells will not impair the health of a man on account of lack of ventilation. These rooms are close and dark but we cannot punish these unruly prisoners by giving them a good bed on a Florida sleeping porch.

"I am inclosing Captain Hansford's answer to Mr. Bowdoin. Mr. Bowdoin made the trip to the camp with me at my suggestion and I can recall no criticism of Mr. Bowdoin while at the camp or on our drive home. I feel that Mr. Bowdoin has a wrong impression and that his letter is in the main untrue. I am sure that the people of Manatee county have given it but little attention. He today informed me that he had written you an apology."

PINCHOT ARMED TO RESCUE HIS STATE FROM BANKRUPTCY

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 13.—Will Governor Gifford Pinchot save the State of Pennsylvania from bankruptcy?

Inheriting from his predecessors a mass of unpaid appropriations amounting to nearly $30,000,000, the fearless, fighting governor of the Keystone State believes it can be done.

"I have four years in which to do it. It should be done in two years," is his characteristic answer, in a remarkable interview appearing in McClure's Magazine for August, in which he outlines the plans of his crusade to clean up Pennsylvania financially.

"Pennsylvania is insolvent," says the man who recently cut his own salary. "She owes millions of dollars she cannot pay and the debt is growing every day. I have known day laborers for the state of Pennsylvania to be three months behind in their pay! It is my job to put Pennsylvania back on a paying basis."

Pennsylvania's condition of insolvency, according to Pinchot, is due largely to the generosity of her legislators and public officials—chiefly the contractors' ring which has notoriously ruled the state for many years; the carelessness and inefficiency of the same legislators and officials, and some dishonesty.

"It is a fearful situation," says Pinchot. "As the legislature meets every two years, the General Appropriation Bill covers two years. Often the money was largely spent by the end of the first year, and for the second year the State lived on its credit. The departments depended on the next legislature to square them up. And it always did. One of the things a new legislature had to do was to appropriate money to pay the state's creditors."

"It was an indefensible system. The departments spent money which they knew they did not have, but hoped they would get. The state was kept insolvent. The new administration was saddled with an enormous burden from its predecessor, and passed the burden on to its successor."

The weapons with which Governor Pinchot proposes to force his remedial measures, through the legislature are, first, patronage, and second, the power given him by the state constitution to veto the general appropriation bill, item by item.

PREPAREDNESS WOULD COST FAR LESS THAN CANDY AND SODA POP

The cost of maintaining the regular army, the national guard and the organized reserve in a high state of efficiency, would be about $350,000,000 a year, writes Herbert B. Mayer in McClure's for August. This may appear to be a large sum, but if it should be divided per capita, it would be only $3.50 for every inhabitant of the country and the total sum would be scarcely more than a third of the amount we spend annually on soda water, candy and chewing gum. The overhead, costing $250,000,000, is fixed, inescapable; the other $100,000,000 would pay for fighting troops, which we lack.

If we consider the army as a protective agency—which, indeed, it is—its efficient existence and that of its affiliated citizen organizations constitute the cheapest form of protection against disaster that we maintain. The average fire department, for example, costs $8 per capita; the average police force $7. In $3.50 a year too great an annual individual premium to pay for national insurance against great military catastrophe?

NEILAN MAKES GRIPPING SCREEN PLAY OF 'THE STRANGERS' BANQUET'

Marshall Neilan, now producing his pictures in association with the Goldwyn organization, is a young producer-director who has gone steadily on from triumph to triumph. His latest picture, "The Strangers' Banquet," made at the Goldwyn studios and released by that firm, is declared by fellow producers, directors, by many famous stars and film reviewers who have seen it privately screened to surpass "The River's End," "Pool's First," "Penrod," "Go and Get It" or any other of his productions. "The Strangers' Banquet" will be the feature at the Milano tonight. It shows a new Neilan—a director who is seeking only big things in his productions and developing them on a spectacular scale.

Mr. Neilan purchased the screen rights to this novel by Donn Byrne several years ago, but held up production until he should have ample resources at his call for doing it the way he believed it should be done. His recent affiliation with Goldwyn Pictures Corporation gave him the unlimited resources and studio facilities of that big producing corporation and the super-feature, "The Strangers' Banquet" is the result.

Two reasons for using MERRY WIDOW FLOUR

Growing children need good biscuits and lots of them. You will find that you can make lighter, fluffier biscuits in less time with MERRY WIDOW Self-Rising Flour because the proper amount of pure ingredients are already mixed with it, and all you have to do is add milk or cold water and shortening, then bake.

And talk about real economy! You can give the children as many as they need, because a twenty-four-pound sack of MERRY WIDOW Flour will make 912 biscuits—regular biscuits, 2 1/4 inches in diameter and about one inch thick.

MERRY WIDOW Self-Rising Flour is made by the Ford Flour Company, millers since 1895, the originators of self-rising flour. In spite of the many imitations, it is holding its old friends and making new ones every day. Here's the proof—over 600,000 more bags of MERRY WIDOW were used in 1922 than in 1920. Try it. You will never change. Ask for it by name.

Ruth and Cy tied!

So goes the headlines on a certain sport page.

Seems like the Big Bambino likes ties. He is now tied with Harry Hellmann for the hitting leadership and tied with Cy Williams for the home-run leadership.

The sporting editor of the Times-Union only mentioned these above ties—but he neglected to mention that the Babe had another tie such as the matrimonial tie which he can't lose as easy as the other ties.

Palatka Pals challenge any club in the state to a playoff for the championship of semi-pro teams in the state. Perry seems to be the only possible contender and though the Pals won't have any easy time it is our bet that they'll end up with state championship honors.

Seems a shame that a town the size of Sanford has not a team to put in the field against the Palatkas. Sanford has easily got the material for one of the state's finest teams but has the poorest support. So we guess it can't be did for a couple of years yet.

Another big leaguer on the retired list now, Charlie Hollocher of the Chicago Cubs leaving the team last week was placed on the voluntary retired list. He showed his gameness by quitting the game when he knew he was through.

Today Orlando and Bradentown will start a five game series in Orlando which is supposed to decide the pennant winners for the second half of the race. Looks like to us that it is already decided—that Orlando will have both halves an dno play-off will be necessary.

PRINCESS NEWS

Today and tomorrow—Lon Chaney and Virginia Valli in "The Shock."

And she told the crippled Gunman . . . "Anything you wish can be accomplished, if the thought is right and the will behind it."

If you were a common thief and knew you were at the end of your rope . . . All because you stole for a beautiful woman . . . How would you feel?

A dope peddler, safe cracker and gunman visualizes himself as other men, on the foundation of hope and desire fulfilled, on the altar of love where a good woman reigned as queen.

Many screen spectacles have thrilled you, but never have you seen anything like the stupendous climax of this powerful story of love and spectacular thrill!

Think of it—a whole city crumbling to dust and ruin before your eyes!

And then the never-to-be-forgotten panorama of a city in flames, with its people running before the fire demon in terror!

Yet your eyes and heart will be focused upon the beautiful romance between Wise Dilling, erstwhile crook, and his beloved—because even in the apex in this tremendous moment of ruin, their destiny is the most absorbing thing on the screen!

Tonight as an added attraction will be Beautiful Bull-Montana in "Snowed Under."

Tomorrow night, Round eight of the "Leather Pushers."

And tonight every one in Sanford with their last name beginning with "C" will be admitted without cost, the treat being on the house.

Wednesday—Helen Chadwick in "The Dust Flower". A comedy, too.

In Clay county plans are being made to plant out a large acreage to strawberries next year; most growers have their fields worked out clean to grow runners. Hundreds of acres of cowpeas have been sown for soil improvement and for hay.

GRAPEFRUIT FACTORY MAKES FINE RECORD

EAGLE LAKE, Aug. 9.—Establishing a record for running later in the year and for having produced the greatest volume of any Florida factory, grapefruit canning plant No. 1 of the Florida Citrus Exchange, operated here by the Winter Haven Fruit Produce Company, closed for the season last week.

Seventy-eight thousand cases, or more than one-third of all grapefruit canned in Florida, were turned out by the plant. The plant was first opened last January, considerably later than other Florida canneries. Its pack has been marketed by the Florida Citrus Exchange. Returns received by the co-operative growers who furnished the fruit are reported to have been very satisfactory.

A county-wide dairy association has been organized in St. Lucie county, representative dairymen of the county taking part. An experimental demonstration in killing weeds along our drainage canals by means of sodium arsenite spray was given.

Eight-Hour Day In Steel Mills In Force Today

Includes Only Blast Furnace Workers at First—Others to Follow

(By The Associated Press)
GARY, Ind., Aug. 13.—The eight-hour day in the United States steel mills here became a reality today. It includes only blast furnace workers at first. The open hearth workers will make a change August 16. Under the new wage system the men will receive four dollars per day where they formerly received $4.80.

Florida Man Surrenders Today to Atlanta Police

Said to Be Bigamist and Bible Reading Made Him Surrender

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Aug. 13.—J. R. Smale, who is said to have formerly lived at Bushnell, surrendered to the police as bigamist. Influenced by reading the bible. He said he had a wife and child at Bushners. He said he married another woman at Punta Gorda and moved to Atlanta. He has a baby girl by the second wife.

RALPH DePALMA INJURED

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Ralph DePalma, famous racing driver, was injured and several spectators were hurt when the car driven by Louis Chevrolet, smashed into DePalma's automobile, forcing him through a fence on the back stretch of the mile oval in the 25-mile race at the Hawthorne dirt tracks yesterday. DePalma was taken to a hospital.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS BEST MEDIUM, LEHMANN TELLS FARMERS' ASSEMBLY

$100,000 spent in legitimate newspaper advertising is worth more than $1,000,000 spent in sign posting along the highways," said Karl Lehmann, of Orlando, secretary of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the State Commission on Highway Beautification, recently appointed by the Florida Development Board, in his address to the Farmers and Fruit Growers Week assembly at Gainesville Thursday morning, August 9.

Mr. Lehmann told the farmers and growers present that Florida had been engaged in a splendid road building program which must continue but that the next step was the beautifying of our highways.

Five things were urged by the speaker, first that the commissioners of each county in the state be urged to appoint at once a county beautification commission of prominent men and women who would serve without remuneration for their services in promoting this important work.

Then, he urged that the county commissioners be asked to establish the legal right-of-way and property owners be urged to set fences on the proper line. Fences that are in the wrong places should be reset. In Orange county, the established line for county roads is 50 feet, 25 feet from the center of the road and state highways, 66 feet. As a matter of fact wherever a legal right of way can be established at least 66 feet it is far better than a narrower space. Florida right of ways are too narrow. It is much easier to get a 66 foot right of way now when lands are cheaper than they will be ten years from now and there is little development along many roads than it will be to get the wider right of way later. Some 45 miles of fences were set back and rebuilt in the first five months after the Orange county commissioners officially established the line in that county.

Unsightly signs along the highways must come down as a third step in the program of highway beautification, the speaker said. Road signs are poor advertising and have no right on the public highways. The county commissioners should order that no signs except those placed by order of their board be permitted on Florida highways and road crews should be instructed to remove all signs found on the highways. Lake county has led in this work and has made most excellent progress, thousands of signs having been destroyed.

It is better to save an old tree than to plant a new one and a sentiment can soon be created that will save many fine old trees from destruction. A fool can cut down in a few minutes what it took God a century to grow. Wherever possible the trees along the highways should be saved. Major C. E. Browne, Orange county's efficient road engineer, has built two way roads at five points in that county in order to save fine old trees. Often these trees can be saved with a little careful thought on the part of engineers and construction companies building our new roads in this state.

In addition to saving old trees, the speaker called attention to the opportunities for adding to the beauties of our roadsides by appropriate plantings. Much of this work can be done even before Florida has rid herself of the "sacred cow" on our highways. There are some things we can plant which the cow will not eat.

Oak trees can be planted in many sections at little or no cost. Oleanders can be used and the stock will not disturb them. Along the fences such fine things as Cherokee and Macartney roses are "cattle proof," as is also the star jasmine, the periwinkle and many others.

Behind fences, along the roads, hibiscus, bignonia or flame vine, poinsettia, gladiola, cannas, palms, etc., can be used in profusion, as well as wisteria, bouganvillea and many other subjects.

A great two day state convention of folks interested in highway beautification in Florida will be held in Orlando in October and before that date it is hoped that every board of county commissioners in Florida will have appointed a beautification commission which will be represented at the convention.

Plans and methods will be discussed the first day of the convention and in the evening slides will be shown, made from actual photographs of work already done on many Florida roadways, pictures showing a stretch of road before and after the removal of the signs and views of work done on streets and in parks of cities, town improvements results in yards, etc.

The second day will be devoted to a motortour through Orange and Lake counties, along certain highways, showing what has already been accomplished in these sections.
