Judge Holds Typo Union In Contempt

Violation Of Injunction Against Closed Shop Contract Is Basis Of Citation

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert today ruled that the International Typographical Union is in contempt of court because it has insisted on a closed shop in its contracts with newspapers.

The judge, who issued an injunction against the printers union last Mar. 27, did not penalize the union, but ordered it to prove within 10 days that it is abiding by his injunction, based on the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act. Counsel for the National Labor Relations Board had asked the contempt citation, charging that the union had continued to insist on a closed shop; had discriminated against non-union men in hiring, and had supported strikes against newspapers in violation of the injunction.

The union had insisted it was negotiating with newspapers in good faith, but Judge Swygert ruled it had "deliberately attempted since the issuance of the injunction to continue closed shop conditions in the newspaper industry."

The order specifically directs the ITU:

1. Not to encourage local unions in demands for a contract which would discriminate against non-union employees by setting certain standards of competency for them and none for union members; 2. Not to instruct local unions (Continued on Page Four)

A 'Reluctant' Truman Supporter

ANNOUNCING AT A NEWS CONFERENCE in Washington that he would actively support President Truman, former Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes (right) added that he would "have welcomed an opportunity" to vote otherwise. While he "reserved the right to say harsh and critical things" about the President in the future, he said he would nevertheless speak for Truman in several western states. (International)

Carothers Tells Businessmen Of Prosperity End

Professor Says This Is Not Time For Making Expansions

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Florida Business Conference was warned today that present prosperity cannot continue and that now is the time for businessmen to get "their enterprises into fairly liquid conditions."

The statement came from Dean Neil Carothers of Lehigh University's college of business administration who also suggested that this is not the time for businessmen to make large commitments for long-time expansion.

"Not even the American economy can live in a state of perpetual economic jazz," Carothers declared.

"There are no principles of economics which command that the pattern after other wars must follow precisely after the Second World War, but there is nothing in the science of economics or the conditions now prevailing to indicate that this nation can escape the regular consequences of war and inflation and over-expansion."

Secret Talks In Spy Probe Are Released

Red Propaganda And Over 100 Alleged Soviet Spies Are Caught In Brazil

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee today released heretofore secret testimony claiming that two Communist underground rings were operating simultaneously in the State Department in the 1930s.

The testimony was given Aug. 27, to Reps. Mundt (R-SD) and Nixon (R-Calif.), committee members, at a closed session here by Whittaker Chambers, self-styled former Communist and now an editor of Time Magazine.

The Congressman said Chambers told him he had discussed with Alger Hiss, former State Department official, several persons who might be brought into the Red "cell" to which he said Hiss belonged.

One person mentioned, Chambers said, was Noel Field, then in the department's Western European division. Field was not further identified in the testimony.

"He (Hiss) made a number of attempts to draw Field in," Chambers said. "Only to discover at the showdown that Field was connected with another apparatus."

The testimony appeared in a 1,000-page volume made public by the committee. It covered the private questioning of several witnesses here and in New York. (Continued on Page Six)

Allies Tighten Blockade Of Soviet Zone

Big 3 Issues New Orders Halting Flow Of Goods To East: Soviets Admit Pinch

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Western Allies tightened tonight their counter blockade of the Russian zone of Germany. Eleven new regulations were issued to German officials.

The Russians acknowledged publicly Sunday that the counter blockade is causing economic troubles in their zone. Ruhr coal and steel and machine products from Western Germany were among main products cut off from the Soviet area after the Russians blockaded Berlin in June.

An American and British announcement said that, "although the flow of goods to the east" was "greatly curtailed, leakages exist."

German authorities were told to do all possible to stop goods from the American-British zones reaching the Soviet area. They were given authority to seize all goods reaching the borders with the zone and to grant permission to prosecute the shippers, goods from the Soviet zone arriving at the American or British zonal boundaries were ordered sent back.

Border police were ordered to allow travelers to take only hand luggage containing personal effects to the eastern zone.

West Powers Frame Joint Demand For Council Action To Lift Berlin Block

PARIS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Britain and China demanded in the Security Council today that Israel report quickly on what progress has been made in her investigation of the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte.

The two powers asked in a draft resolution that Israel also indicate "the measures taken with regard to negligence on the part of officials or other factors affecting the crime."

John J. Macdonald, U.S. consul and chairman of the three-power consular truce commission in Jerusalem, reported to the council that Jewish Military Governor Bernard Joseph had "a deliberate Jewish campaign to discredit the truce commission and the acting mediator," Dr. Ralph Bunche of the United States. He said this campaign is developing along lines of the attack launched against Count Bernadotte, the mediator, before he was shot to death in Jerusalem last month.

Bunche himself charged before the council that Jewish authorities took insufficient measures to protect Bernadotte.

"It unquestionably was a well-planned assassination," he said. (Continued on Page Four)

LONDON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today called the Russian expansionists "as imperialistic as the Czar ever was."

"We seek no power," he told the National Union of Manufacturers. "We have no desire to upset their system, but we must resist any attempt on their part to destroy our liberties."

Of Britain herself, Bevin said: "We have ceased to be an imperialist power. We dominate nobody. We accept equality in religion, in color, in status. And in the areas which we still control we are directing our energies towards independence and self-government."

"If we cannot by agreement with our neighbors," he said, "at least let them keep over their side of the garden wall."

"I will not advocate any interference, but finally if they seek to disturb us then they must not be annoyed if we are upset at their intervention and we defend ourselves."

Bevin told the manufacturers' annual meeting "the key to whether we shall have peace for 100 years is in the great problem of the Indian Ocean in the middle east."

Bevin's remarks were reported by the Press Association and as follows: "Telegrams, both British and American, and other foreign news were sent to the meeting. A spokesman for the manufacturers attributed the refusal to lack of space in the conference hall.

Bevin devoted a large part of his address to Britain's postwar recovery effort, including cooperation between labor and industry.

On relations with Russia, he said: "I am not going to worry about (Continued on Page Four)

Control Of Sleeping Pills Left To States

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 14. (AP)—Control over sleeping pills should be a local matter—not a federal government task, U. S. Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger said today.

Opposing a bill designed to "place barbiturates in the same control compartment as morphine," Anslinger said in an address prepared for a convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists.

"So far there has been no smugling of this drug. There is a virtual no interstate illicit traffic. Then why should it be placed on the federal doorstep for control? The states have not shown that they can or cannot control it. Let us have a fair trial for local control."

Farmer's Food Dollar Share To Be Smaller

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The farmer may get a slightly smaller share of the consumer's food dollar next year.

His cut, the Agriculture Department said today, seems likely to average 60 cents, compared with 62 indicated for this year and the peak of 64 cents in 1945 and 1946.

The farmer's portion still will be above the pre-war average of 50 cents.

The department said charges for marketing and processing farm food products have reached new record highs and are expected to show little or no decline next year.

Clerk's Song In Review Puts Red Purge Of Britain In News Again

LONDON, Oct. 14. (AP)—A pretty government clerk's song in an amateur theatrical skit has turned the spotlight on Britain's purge of Communist sympathizers in the civil service.

"We'll Have a Purge," was the prophetic refrain which black-haired Beryl Lund sang for two months in a left wing revue. The amateur skit ribbed the government drive to shove suspected Communists and party-liners out of Civil Service jobs dealing with state security.

Now Beryl herself has been dropped from her job as a confidential clerk at the ministry of supply. The girl who sang satirically "cryptics" and their friends better look out," received a suspension notice charging:

"You are associating with the Communist Party in such a way as to raise legitimate doubts as to your reliability." She refused comment on the charge.

Similar accusations have been made against an atomic scientist, a government minister's private secretary and at least 80 other civil servants in recent months.

Like others who said they had been "purged," Beryl announced she would appeal to the three-man advisory board set up by Prime Joseph Levy, president, said woolen prices and labor costs are continuing to go up, and no relief from advancing clothing prices is in sight. Crawford Clothes, he continued, decided to act now rather than wait for a change in the economic cycle.

Better Types Of Gasoline Forecast By Standard Oil Co.

LINDEN, N. J., Oct. 14. (AP)—Better gasolines to give automobiles more miles per gallon were forecast today by E. V. Murphree, president of the Standard Oil Development Co.

Speaking at the opening of a new Esso research center here, Murphree explained that such gasolines will be needed for improved engines—with higher compression ratios—now being planned by automobile makers. They could average about 30 per cent more miles per gallon than present models using present gasolines.

The higher compression engines, he continued, probably will need 97 or higher octane gasoline compared with the present 84 octane regular gasoline.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY
 So are we all. The net results of our craftsmanship may embarrass us in the end. Let us do a real workmanlike job—Ch. 4:11 They were craftsmen.

John W. Martin, former governor of Florida, is one of the candidates for presidential elector supporting J. Strom Thurmond.

If war with Russia were to break out tomorrow, we wonder how long the stocks of merchandise on Sanford store shelves would last, and how long it would take to replace them.

Governor Dewey has joined the ranks of those who have had rotten eggs or tomatoes thrown at them during this campaign. If Governor Thurmond doesn't have something thrown at him pretty soon, he can hardly be considered in the race.

Abolition of segregation has no appeal for delegates to the National Association of Letter Carriers meeting in Miami in biennial convention. Although they are a part of President Truman's administration, they voted to have the whites meet in one branch, the negroes in another.

Kyuichi Tokuda is a Communist member of the Japanese diet (a governmental group corresponding somewhat to our Congress). When he showed up in his seat the other day wearing a nice new suit of clothes, when nice new suits of clothes are virtually unknown in Japan, neighbors asked him if he had gotten it from the Soviet Union.

"No," Tokuda had to admit. "It came from the United States."

General Eisenhower does not object to the teaching of Communism at Columbia University. There is a difference, however, between the teaching of Communism and the promotion of Communism.
 Some of our college professors are actually promoting it to the neglect of teaching. When students are told the facts about Communism, and all the facts, good and bad, they have no difficulty in choosing democracy.

We don't know a thing about politics and we would be the last person in the world to try to forecast an election, but the Dr. George Gallup, whose business it is to analyze public opinion and who has quite a reputation in his field, reports that 8 of 11 far western states are predominantly in favor of Governor Dewey, only three for Truman, and that in 35 states Dewey leads in 29, Truman in 5, and in one they are tied. None of these 35 states are in the South.

The present Panama Canal is obsolete. We already have ships too large to pass through it. Within the next few years battleships and aircraft carriers will be built too large for it. Elimination of locks and construction of a sea level canal is "a national defense must," says the American Society of Civil Engineers. It will take ten years to build and will cost nearly 2 1/2 billion dollars. But this country would be in a bad fix in the next war if atomic bombs made the present canal impassable.

Senator Taft calls upon the people of Florida to support state rights by voting for Republican Thomas E. Dewey for President.
 If Floridians could be assured that Governor Dewey really believes in state rights, there would be no question about their supporting him, but when the Republican platform promises one thing, and Senator Taft another, while the New York Governor himself studiously avoids the subject, it is hard to tell where the Republicans really do stand on this all important question. However, with respect to civil rights legislation, as well as their housing, public health and other social and economic programs, it would be very surprising if the Republicans were to stand in the same way.

Water Pollution

When the historians of the future discuss the civilization of the Twentieth Century, they are likely to deal not so much with our tile bathrooms and their chrome fixtures as with our barbaric practice of filling our tubs with the water from our polluted lakes and streams. For the true measure of a civilization is not the material things produced but the character of the people developed.

Unfortunately Sanford is not the only city in the United States which continues to dump its sewage into its neighboring waters in spite of a constantly growing population and the hazards of such practice to the life and health of a community, nor is The Herald the only publication in this country repeatedly citing the dangers of this short-sightedness. Colliers Weekly in its current issue quotes U. S. Surgeon-General Thomas Parran as saying that the pollution of our drinking water is equivalent "to 8,000,000 dead and disintegrating mules dumped into our waterways every year."

In the face of such a challenge, many of us like to take refuge in the old saying that what was good enough for our fathers is good enough for us. Our fathers and their fathers before them dumped their sewage into the lake, so why shouldn't we? Some of us seem to forget that when our fathers lived here, not so many other people did, and that instead of "8,000,000 dead and disintegrating mules" to contend with, they had perhaps at the most only a few thousand. Nor is it true that even this relatively insignificant amount of pollution failed to cause disease, deaths and epidemics.

As far back as the Middle Ages people were dying from cholera, typhoid and dysentery by the millions without having the slightest idea that drinking polluted water was the cause of it all. The only thing that protects us from an infinitely worse fate is the little trick we have learned about chlorination which kills the germs but leaves the sewage in the water just the same. As long as the chlorinating system works, and we do not allow too much freedom to our imaginations, we are not likely to suffer any bodily injuries.

Although the chance of any mistake being made is about one in 10,000, it does happen once in a while. In Rochester, N. Y., on Dec. 11, 1940, according to Colliers, a city workman made a simple little mistake in operating the valves which controlled the city's huge water mains, and turned polluted water from the lake into the hydrants for drinking water. Before the mistake could be corrected, 35,000 people were stricken with gastroenteritis. Similar mistakes were made in this country 327 times between 1938 and 1945 causing 111,320 cases of disease.

We spend millions of dollars in this country to protect our fish and wild life. We have game and fish commissions in every state in the union, and the federal government spends added millions on fish hatcheries, game reservations and national parks. Then we thoughtlessly proceed to annihilate millions of fish, game and fowl, at a sacrifice estimated by Surgeon General Parran at over $100,000,000 a year, by poisoning the lakes and streams where they live, eat and breed, with our human and industrial wastes.

Among the little known works of the much maligned 80th Congress was the so-called Taft-Barkley Water Pollution Control bill enabling cities and states to borrow federal funds for the construction of sewage disposal plants. The cost of these plants is estimated at from $15 to $40 per citizen, and for a town the size of Sanford might run as high as $375,000 to $400,000. A small price to pay for clean water.

Honoring Dr. Johnson

King George III of Great Britain, whose autocratic meddling brought about our Revolution, is not much admired in America. It is different with one of King George's ardent subjects, who was utterly scornful of America, yet whose memory is revered by thousands of Americans. This was Dr. Samuel Johnson, dictionary-maker, literary historian, author, and inspired talker and clubman. He is a familiar figure through one of the world's greatest biographies, the life written of him by his admirer, James Boswell.

Dr. Johnson's 29th birthday anniversary was recently celebrated in his native Lichfield, England. Devotees from Great Britain and the United States dined on his favorite dish, beefsteak and kidney pudding, and heard eulogies of the genial sage. Other Johnsonians, who could not be there, remembered the occasion in the Johnson clubs which many of them have formed, in this country as well as abroad.

The Scots have long forgiven Johnson for the definition in his dictionary: "OATS, a grain which in other countries is given to horses but in Scotland supports the people." And Americans can smile tolerantly when they read his remark that they should be grateful for any fate short of hanging. This was the Doctor to a T and his followers love him for it.

 elevated trains.
 "It would be practically impossible, even in urban locations," the council said, "to produce motion pictures without the use of radio." As a further argument, the council said movie people are not as hardy as some other folks. Noting that logging and oil drilling of radio frequencies, the council said its people "are generally not accustomed to working and living in such remote (location) spots—a situation which is common-place to an experienced logging or drilling crew."

Clerk's Song

 service unions and left wing organizations.
 The hush-hush investigations inside the civil service are sure to bring plenty of discussion after parliament meets again Oct. 25.
 British Minister Attlee announced last spring that government employees having any association with Communist or Fascist organizations would be removed from jobs dealing with state security. Although suspected Fascists come under the ban, Attlee made it plain he was concerned principally with Communist sympathizers.
 He warned about the "divided loyalties" of Communists and insisted that "secrets must be preserved." He promised there would be "no general hunt" and said that persons accused of Communist or Fascist associations would be transferred to non-security work and dismissed only if there is no suitable job available.
 Government officials since then have declined all comment on the purge. The only news that gets into the papers is from the accused themselves. So far there have been no complete dismissal reports.

Sen. Boyle

 In this over-all flood control program," he asserted, "and it is very much to our own interest to see that this legislation is passed and also see that our projects take their proper place in the development."
 "It is very gratifying," Mr. Higgins declared, "to have our senator, Mr. Boyle, on this committee to look after our interests." Senator Boyle in turn, pointed out this morning that flood control is a very important matter, and needs immediate attention in Central Florida and the Everglades region. Seminole Boulevard is now flooded to an even greater extent than last year, due to the heavy rains during the past month, and cattle men face heavy losses as stock retreat from flooded pastures, he said, and promised to give the matter of flood control careful study.

 to demand that the "form contract" be signed by employees; 3. Not to support strikes, slowdowns and walk-outs in disputes brought about because the union has violated the Mar. 27 injunction.
 4. To notify all locals that the union is in contempt of court and that the International cannot support any local that insists on contract terms violating the terms of the injunction, insisting on the "form contract" and discrimination against non-union members.
 Today's ruling was expected to have widespread effect throughout the newspaper industry and will clear the way for further negotiation of the year-old strike in Chicago.
 The judge's contempt ruling today likely will be tested in higher court and by agreement may go directly to the United States Supreme Court.
 And in San Francisco prospects of an early end to the 43-day west coast printing strike are "only too hopeful," but there is a chance, says Allan S. Hayward, national CIO organizing director.
 Hayward met yesterday with four employer representatives to offer an agreement under which by the national CIO to end the strike. Employers had said they would not deal with what they termed "irresponsible" union leaders.

 planned, carefully timed assassination aimed directly at the life of the mediator, Bunche, now acting mediator, told the council.
 Western Power delegates met on the Berlin crisis and authoritative sources said they were framing a joint demand for Security Council action to lift the Soviet blockade.
 The council takes up the Berlin issue again tomorrow. Hope vanished for mediation outside the council with Russia's renewed rejection of conciliation efforts by the so-called neutral states.
 American, British and French delegates studied the Kremlin's answer to the neutral states' mediation efforts. The content of the Soviet note still was not made public, but Western sources said it set back the Berlin dispute to where it was six weeks ago.

 Introduced by Rep. Short (R-Mo.) Dewey told his listeners he hopes they "never lose the habit of sending Short back to Con-were in the crowd.

 Mr. Truman meanwhile pushed his hunt through Minnesota born. His mother, Elizabeth Hutchinson Jackson, while aboard a ship at Charleston, S. C., nursed pri-oners from home territory during the American Revolution. She contracted yellow fever and died.

 At the age of 14, Jackson enlisted with the South Carolina forces, was captured by the British, and was struck down by an officer whose shoes he refused to black. Mr. Wilson stated.
 After completing schooling, Jackson studied law and in 1795 was licensed at Salisbury, N. C., and later became U.S. Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina with headquarters at Nashville. In 1799, he became a representative of the new state of Tennessee, and later was a U.S. senator.
 A major general of the Tennessee militia from 1802 to 1814, Jackson became a national figure during the War of 1812. He crushed the Creek Indians at great Harsho Bend and avenged the massacre by the Indians at Fort Mims, Ala., Mr. Wilson pointed out. On Jan. 8, 1815 with a motley force of 5,000 army militia, friendly Indians and pirates, he defeated the confident forces of 12,000 British at New Orleans. The Treaty of Ghent made on Dec. 24, 1814 was not ratified by the United States until Feb. 17, 1815, forty days after the battle.
 General Jackson was elected President in 1829, and people "warmed into the White House," it was Jackson who coined the phrase, "To the victor belong the spoils." One of his greatest feats was to cut the public debt from $52,000,000 to hardly more than $30,000, said Mr. Wilson.

 der the Communist two-year plan fell below targets in several fields. The report on third quar-machinery which formerly came from western Germany." The commission complained of shortages of repair equipment in coal mining and of steel production far below the target.

 our relations with Russia. If I cannot get agreement, the issue that has got to be settled is, can we live together? Who are we do they want to live in? What is the extent of their ambition?
 Where do they want to go?
 "Russia is the one country in the world that is still imperialistic—still an imperialistic as Ivan the Terrible, as Frederick the Great, or as Alexander." He touched only briefly on the disarmament discussions before the United Nations.
 He said Britain had speeded demobilization after the war's end, and now had checked it, with result.
 "The aggression still went on and as it went on we have had to arrest it in our own defense," he said.

 The hush-hush investigations inside the civil service are sure to bring plenty of discussion after parliament meets again Oct. 25.
 British Minister Attlee announced
 last spring that government employees having any association with Communist or Fascist organizations would be removed from jobs
 dealing with state security. Although suspected Fascists come
 under the ban, Attlee made it plain
 he was concerned principally with Communist sympathizers.
 He warned about the "divided
 loyalties" of Communists and insisted that "secrets must be preserved." He promised there would be "no general hunt" and
 said that persons accused of Communist or Fascist associations
 would be transferred to non-security work and dismissed only if there is no suitable job available.
 Government officials since then
 have declined all comment on the purge. The only news that gets
 into the papers is from the accused themselves. So far there have been no complete dismissal reports.

Stetson Hatters' Lineup To Remain Intact For Michigan

DELAND, Oct. 14, (Special)—Starting lineup for the Stetson Hatters in the Milligan College game at Johnson City, Tenn., Saturday afternoon will be practically the same as the eleven which Head Coach Brandy Cowell sent into the Southwestern game here last week.

At ends will be Grant Wilbanks and George Everett, consistent starters all season. Dick Hendry is expected to see some action because of his performance here last week.

At tackles will be George Douglas and Ted Wheat. This position and the guard spot is two men deep in each, and all men are about the same in abilities to turn in a credible performance. Dick McFar and Guy Garrett probably will get the call at guards, and Carl Simmons will be at center.

Chris Steinmetz will be Coach Cowell's choice at quarterback. The Wheeling, W. Va. clash first was action for Stetson in the Mississippi game and was called on to start the Southwestern game. Bill Orr again will be at fullback. The halfbacks for the Milligan game will be Fred Hogan and Fulmer Armstrong, both having given their first starting assignment. They have seen action in the first two games.

How to Celebrate Your Wedding Anniversary

The "Dutch" Millers celebrated their Tin Wedding Anniversary Saturday. Everything had to be tin. Flubs even ate off tin plates, and drank coffee out of tin cups.

When it was time to drink a toast to the "bride and groom," out came the final touch: ice cold beer in cans. And come the Millers' 18th anniversary (Gloss) I expect we'll be toasting them with sparkling beer in bottles!

And I couldn't help thinking that there was a lesson for married folks in the way Dutch and his missus have got along together—in their policy of live-and-let-live, with never a criticism of each other's differences in taste.

From where I sit, it's due to two things: Temperance—as that moderate preference for beer suggests, and Tolerance—for their own differences of opinion—and for the taste of others, whether applied to beer, to politics, or how to celebrate an anniversary.

Gallagher Shows How a Ruined City Became World's No. 1 Headache

EDITOR'S NOTE: (The Western Powers say the Berlin blockade is a threat to peace. Soviet Russia says there is no blockade, and it's all a matter for the Foreign Ministers Council to settle. This is a look into the background of the Berlin situation while the United Nations Security Council, over Russian protests, seeks a solution. Later stories this week will tell how Berliners are living and describe the ideological warfare in Berlin.)

By WES GALLAGHER

Hasty Home Scene Of Circle Meeting
BERLIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—This rubble heap city of three million has become the world's No. 1 headache through too much good-will in 1944 and too little in 1948. The United States and Britain had too much good-will and trust in future international relations in 1944.

The Soviet Union's lack of good-will in carrying out international agreements brings a crisis over Berlin in 1948.

How did it happen? It began around a conference table in London in 1944. At the table was the European advisory commission set up by Russia, the United States and Great Britain. Victory was in the air. Soviet armies were advancing on Germany from the East. The Western Powers had smashed into France and stood on the German borders. Allied air bombs shook the Reich from end to end. Berlin was not the least of the targets.

Russia, the United States and Britain were united with a common aim—to smash Germany. The watchword was cooperation.

The men around the table set up lines for the occupation in Germany without too much trouble. Then it became a question of which city should be the seat of government for the victorious powers. The Russians wanted Berlin—which was deep in their assigned zone.

The Americans were opposed. First, they felt centering of German activity around the traditional capital would revive German nationalism. Second, they felt a harder city which required no special corridors would be better.

The Russians insisted on their choice. It seemed not too important at the time, when all stress was on cooperation. So, the West gave in.

Berlin was set as the Allied capital. U.S. State Department realists said specific and formal agreements should be drawn up providing means of getting in and out of the city through the Soviet-occupied zone.

The American representative, Ambassador John Winant, demurred. He said it was more important to show good-will to the Soviets than haggle over specific agreements. He won out.

The right of the Western Powers to be in Berlin as occupying powers was clearly established by the London agreements. The getting in and out was left to the good-will of the Russians.

Finally, U.S. General Lucius D. Clay and British representatives worked out agreements with the Soviet Commander on moving Western troops to the city and supplying them. The Western Allies were given the use of one railroad and the international highway between Berlin and Helmsdorf, on the British zone border.

Subsequent four-power agreements provided air corridors and worked out the exact number of trains to be moved over the rail lines daily. The Western Powers undertook to feed the hungry population of their sectors as well as their occupation troops. The Russians agreed to this.

These agreements were clear and worked for nearly two years with only minor difficulties.
