Have you voted?
The polls will be open until 7 p. m.

If you haven't turned the levers yet and the polls are still open it would be a pretty good idea for you to exercise your privilege. Really, it's your duty to vote!

You have only to thumb through a few pages of American history to recall how many of our forefathers fought, bled and died just for this right.

Superintendent R. T. Milwee of county schools has announced a special meeting of the board to be held at 1 p. m., Thursday, in the county school offices.

The Herald has been advised that there will be a discussion about holding meetings of the board during evening hours instead of afternoon hours.

They will also ward a milk bid, accept bids on hardware for current projects and handle other routine matters, including work on the budget for the coming year.

Being tied up in the office most of the day, we wonder if many voters illuminated the headlights on their cars as they drove to the polls.

Burns supporters were supposed to "burn their lights for Burns." We assume high backers just walked tall, eh?

Another call from a Clock Watcher today about the difficulty of getting on U. S. 17-92 from SR 434. We'll admit its real bad during peak traffic hours. We've had one fatal accident at that intersection already this year.

Today's caller suggested traffic signals. Might be the answer if they're well advertised in advance. Traffic huns along that section pretty rapidly.

George W. Morgan of Oviedo has been re-commissioned a member of the Board of Social Welfare, District 12, Seminole County.

Casselberry's Town Council made the "financial news" section of the current edition of the publication, Florida Municipal Record. The Record refers to the South Seminole town's establishing its first budget in history.

Gen. Robertshaw flew here Monday night from a speaking engagement in Miami. Officials of Heavy Attack Wing One were engaged in today's conversations and conducted him on a tour of support facilities for the new RA-5C Vigilante reconnaissance bomber.

Marine forces are not scheduled to receive the new Sanford-based aircraft, but the plane's reconnaissance capabilities could pave the way for Marine landings and close air support operations during wartime. This would bring it into close coordination with units under Gen. Robertshaw's command.

Speaking of the soft drink breaks, they offer a welcome outlet from the normally staid commission sessions. City fathers, the press and guests get the soft drink and usually a pack of crackers, candy or peanuts and relax while carrying on idle banter. Then it's back to work for all hands.

Zuckert Defends Planes Used In South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert told Congress today the allegedly "obsolete and outmoded" planes used in South Viet Nam have a better safety record than modern jet fighters being flown in the United States.

"Our B26 and T28 aircraft in South Viet Nam have more than lived up to expectations," Zuckert said in a prepared statement at a closed-session of the House Armed Services Committee.

"Even in hindsight—indeed, particularly in hindsight—choice of these planes was the right decision," he said.

Zuckert went before the committee to answer charges by Rep. Charles S. Gubser, R-Calif., and other members that U. S. fliers in South Viet Nam were losing their lives because of inadequate, unsafe equipment.

Gubser reiterated that charge in advance of today's committee meeting. He also questioned whether the A1E dive bomber now being converted to replace the T28 is not also a potential "death trap."

Zuckert defended not only the B26 and T28 but also the A1E as well-suited for the job and as safe and structurally sound as possible.

Marine General Briefed At NAS

MAJ. Gen. L. B. Robertshaw, director of Marine aviation, was briefed by Sanford Naval Air Station officials today for top level briefings on the local station's activities.

Gen. Robertshaw flew here Monday night from a speaking engagement in Miami. Officials of Heavy Attack Wing One were engaged in today's conversations and conducted him on a tour of support facilities for the new RA-5C Vigilante reconnaissance bomber.

Marine forces are not scheduled to receive the new Sanford-based aircraft, but the plane's reconnaissance capabilities could pave the way for Marine landings and close air support operations during wartime. This would bring it into close coordination with units under Gen. Robertshaw's command.

Voting Heavy In Dade, Duval Counties

MIAMI (UPI)—Florida voters turned out in heavy numbers today to settle the bitter Democratic runoff campaign for governor between Haydon Burns of Jacksonville and Robert King High of Miami.

Record turnouts appeared to be building up in populous Dade and Duval counties, homes of the two candidates who clashed repeatedly during the three-week runoff.

"It looks like it will be a record vote for a second primary in Duval," said Robert Mallard, supervisor of registration in Burns' stronghold.

In High's county, Dade, officials said voting was "pretty heavy" and by 10 a. m. an estimated 64,000 votes had been cast. At the same time May 5, about 49,000 voters had gone to the polls.

In Jacksonville, Burns, talking assuredly of victory in Democratic primary for governor, voted with his wife and made a slight slip of the tongue.

He predicted a "high vote" then later told newsmen "you'd better change that prediction to a 'large vote'."

Burns also predicted he would beat High by "a substantial" margin but refused to name a figure.

He and his wife voted about 9:35 a. m. in the first station precinct about eight blocks from their home, then left an informal news conference on the street afterward.

He said he hoped the weather would remain fair throughout the state "so there can be a clear-cut decision from the people."

"VH" flashing a smile and a "V" for victory, took his wife to their local fire station precinct shortly before 8 a. m. to vote.

High said he felt confident and happy. He and his wife Faith were accompanied by their two young children and High's aides.

Also on the ballot were races for national committeemen and committeewomen for both parties, and a choice between two Republican convention slates of delegates, one pledged to Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater and the other unpledged, but comprised of solid Goldwater backers. The Lyndon Johnson Democratic slate was unchallenged.

High wound up his campaign last night at an all-candidates rally, then—looking worn from lack of sleep and a heavy campaign schedule—sat down at a telephone and began calling his workers in other parts of the state urging them to get out the vote.

Housewife Baited Blackmailer In Supermarket

Francis Lee Floyd was arrested by police as he picked up a dummy package from a store hours after only 90 minutes after Mrs. John Fraser got the call.

Police said Mrs. Fraser, 28, was taking care of her four little children who were sick with the measles when she got the call at home and called them right away.

Less than two hours later, Floyd was arrested in the market where officers planted the sack which the caller demanded.

Voting Here Quiet After Early Surge

The electioneering over, Seminole County voters went to the polls along with their counterparts in the rest of the state to decide which candidates they prefer to represent them.

An early morning surge of voters tapered off soon after the 7 a. m. opening of the polls and remained at a quiet pace for much of the morning.

At noon today, the voting registrar's office, said the pace had picked up slightly and indications were that a "heavier than expected" turnout may result.

Officials expect, however, that as the day progresses and voters finish their day's work the tempo will increase until the polls close at 7 p. m.

Six county races dominate the thinking of local politicians while they also keep a close eye on the gubernatorial race between Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns and Miami Mayor Robert King High.

On the Seminole scene, the races shape up like this:
Democrats—
Tax collector, Marjorie Shepard, incumbent, and Troy Ray.

District 1 commissioner, J. C. Hutchison, incumbent, and Edward Yarborough.
District 5 commissioner, John Fitzpatrick, incumbent, and Harry Cushing.

District 6 peace justice, Linton Cox, incumbent, and Al Davis.
District 4 constable, R. E. Carroll, incumbent, and Charles Thomas.

District 6 constable, Grady Hall, incumbent, and Charles Fagan.
Republicans and Democrats will also choose their representatives to the national committees.

Prisoner Tries To Kill Self
A county jail prisoner slashed his wrists Monday night in his cell in a vain attempt at suicide. He was given first aid treatment by other prisoners prior to being taken to the local hospital for treatment.

Sheriff's deputies identified the man as James Raymond Freeman, 19, of Sanford. He is being held in the local jail on an Alabama extradition warrant charged with having committed a felony.

Deputies said Freeman inserted a razor blade into his cell and used it in the suicide try. Other inmates applied tourniquets to the wrist area and summoned the jailer.

Freeman was treated at the Seminole Memorial Hospital's emergency room and returned to his cell.

Court Considers FEC Motion On Work Changes

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals considered today a motion by the strike-bound Florida East Coast Railway (FEC) to back "emergency" changes in basic work rules and pay rates.

The FEC issued the appeal Monday to kill an injunction throwing out the new work rules and pay scales and returning working conditions to the status quo prior to a strike by 11 non-operating unions in January, 1963.

The injunction was issued at the request of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which was not among the 11 striking unions but which honored picket lines. The FEC has been granted a stay pending appeal.

FEC attorney William Devaney told the three-judge appeals court that the changes were necessary because of emergency strike conditions and were not intended to change terms of the original contract.

Devaney said the railroad—which is now operating at full capacity in freight shipping—would have to cut business by 43 per cent if the old work rules and pay scales were put into effect.

City Then Will Move To Build Lake Project

Private interests have been given until July 1 to build or submit plans for a giant marina at the lakefront or else the city will do it.

This is a gist of discussions held Monday night at the conclusion of the City Commission meeting; the idea being promoted by Commissioner Joe Baker.

He won immediate vocal support from Commissioner Earl Higginbotham and concurring nods from the rest of the city officials.

Higginbotham and Baker insisted that work should be started at once and they offered figures ranging from $10,000 to $15,000 to be placed in the next fiscal budget for the work.

Additional sums would be forthcoming as the work progressed.

Both commissioners pointed to the rapid strides being made in bringing the long-cherished St. Johns - Indian River Canal to a reality.

They noted the interest shown by neighboring counties and stressed that Sanford must "get moving now" if the community is to stay with the surge of canal propositions.

Centerline for the canal is now being decided by engineers with the canal district. With its establishment, it is expected prices of property adjoining it and other phases of the giant project will soar.

It was pointed out last week at a DeLand meeting of Canal District directors that speculators are starting to arrive on the scene.

All indications now point to completion of the watery stretch in about five years. Fill from the digging operations will be placed north of the canal and a four-lane highway built there.

This is expected to replace a similar and parallel road which is being plotted by the State Road Department and which would give West Volusia area residents easy access to the East Coast.

The rights of way for the roadway and canal have been obtained, or are in the legal process of being acquired, by the canal district.

City commissioners envision a spanking new marina to take care of the recreational traffic. Canal district directors state the city's lakefront area would be left for pleasure craft.

The industrial potential of the St. Johns, Lake Monroe and the new canal would be developed on either side of the Sanford part of the lake.

Residential capabilities are also being considered along the entire route of the canal.

Rocky's Hatfield Gets Nod As GOP Keynoter

Morton Favored As Permanent Chairman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scranton-for-president talk highlights Republican deliberations today at a meeting of GOP leaders to ratify a compromise slate of officials for their San Francisco convention.

Looking for unity they may have trouble finding at the convention, GOP arrangements committee members named Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky as permanent chairman and Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield as keynoter and temporary chairman for the July 13 conclave.

Their recommendations were expected to be approved by the full Republican National Committee today.

Actually, both the backers of front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York — opposing candidates in next Tuesday's California primary — found solace in the convention slate.

Goldwater supporters saw no real significance in the compromise, for the Republican governors' organization had urged Hatfield for the post won by Morton.

Rockefeller advocates, on the other hand, stressed that Hatfield emerged with the dual role of keynoter and temporary chairman. Hatfield is a Rockefeller delegate.

State and national party leaders assembled here for their final pre-convention conference were looking beyond the Rockefeller-Goldwater contest in California appraising prospects of other presidential possibilities.

And it was Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania who appeared to be getting the major attention. Scranton-for-president supporters, still without an announced candidate, talked hopefully of a "wide open" convention if Goldwater loses the California primary to Rockefeller.

Their optimism was fed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's statement Monday urging nomination of one who will back "forward-looking Republicanism."

Warren J. Sinsheimer, chairman of a National Scranton-for-President Committee which he said is now organized in 31 states, predicted that if Rockefeller wins in California, Scranton "will be nominated no later than the fourth ballot."

Sinsheimer declined to forecast what would happen if Goldwater won California's 86 convention votes. Many Republicans believe it would be difficult for a "stop Goldwater" effort to succeed in that event.

Morton, who is a prospect for the GOP vice presidential nomination, won the permanent chairmanship held in 1960 by Rep. Charles A. Halleck, without opposition. Morton is now Senate GOP campaign chairman.

Allies Get Brushoff

Apparently proceeding on the theory that as long as there is no war, France can defend herself alone, President De Gaulle has taken another step in separating his country from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The recently announced withdrawal of naval officers from headquarters units of the alliance is but a continuation of De Gaulle's policies that began when he took office in 1959.

French ships in the NATO Mediterranean and Atlantic fleets have already pulled out. French withdrawal from the English Channel fleet is expected next. After that may come removal of France's two army divisions in West Germany from Allied control.

According to De Gaulle, a multinational Western defense, under an integrated command, is an obsolete concept. It is generally understood, however, that if a general war were threatened, France would resume cooperation with NATO.

One begins to wonder if French logic is as impeccable as Frenchmen would like the world to believe. In the meantime, De Gaulle goes ahead with the building of his "force de frappe"—the independent nuclear force—which it is estimated will cost $8 billion by 1972.

This involves the expenditures of $1 billion for a gaseous diffusion plant in France, millions more for the construction of a hydrogen warhead testing station in the South Pacific, more millions for the development of rockets and other equipment.

By 1970, France hopes to have a few Polaris-type submarines, together with a variety of land-based, nuclear-armed missiles.

France currently spends 7 per cent of its gross national product on defense, compared to the 10.5 per cent spent by the United States.

While most Frenchmen agree that they have never had it better than under De Gaulle and are grateful to the man who has brought economic and political stability to the country, increasing about unsatisfied domestic needs, such as housing, hospitals and schools.

Whether French disenchantment with their return to "grandeur" will grow strong enough to have a slowing effect on De Gaulle's policies remains to be seen.

From the standpoint of his erstwhile allies, De Gaulle's withdrawal into splendid isolation appears a costly and futile attempt to unwrite history.

It is as if France's very existence as a nation had not been made possible, twice in a lifetime, by the sacrifices of her allies. It is as if all of America's efforts and expenditures since World War II in developing a global shield against communism had never been made.

Of course, it is only because these things did happen that De Gaulle can act as he does today.

pancreas manufactures 100 units of insulin per day, which is ample to handle your food intake.

At the age of 30 (which is when the usual case of diabetes is discovered), suppose your pancreas produces only 50 units.

Obviously, you would need to borrow an additional 50 units of insulin from an outside animal and inject it daily via hypodermic.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," Alan replies, "but why shouldn't my pancreas make 100 units of insulin now, if it did so when I was 21 years old?"

Well, why does Alan's hair now show a lot of gray when it was jet black when he was 21?

Or why do some people grow bald or develop a host of other ailments that aren't regarded as due to any known germ or virus?

"They are deficiency diseases," is the typical medical answer, "and probably due to a lack of vital trace chemicals."

Originally our cell had the same chemical content as the oceans. But the 44 water-soluble chemical elements soon began to dissolve in rain or melted snow and thus run back into the sea.

As a result, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says that many of those 44 are almost entirely gone from our cultivated farms, so our vegetables are deficient, too, in these chemicals.

So are the grasses of the pasture fields; hence, our meat is likewise reduced seriously in many of such trace chemicals.

During our first 40 or 50 years, this cumulative deficiency may finally deprive our vital organs of their raw materials out of which they build and manufacture gastric juice, thyroxine, bile, insulin, red blood cells and other necessary products for robust health.

If we thus offered our inner organs and tissue cells a daily smorgasbord, or by using whole sea salt or drink a little sea water each day, we MIGHT be able to ward off the deficiency ailments that hit us at middle age.

This is the startling new concept of biochemistry, so ably indicated by the recent work on fluorine, as well as by iodized salt, which has almost entirely banished simple goiter.

True scientists (not the Food and Drug bureaucrats think this new biochemical idea may prove to be far superior to all the cuts drugs and antibiotics before the end of this century arrives.

That's why I explained it to you laymen in this column a couple of years ago, but the Food and Drug Administration has tried to malign me as a quack, though I was simply quoting the leading biochemists.

Then the FDA cracked down even on the producers of sea salt, though they were recommended to my attention by experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture!

Mid cases of diabetes may now be controlled by diet and oral drugs, though the severe diabetic still demand insulin shots.

And the plasmic condition of many diabetic men is largely psychological, so send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

Propaganda At A Price

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dr. Leonard S. Rodberg, a physicist, is employed by the State Department's Arms Control and Disarmament Agency—and thereby hangs a detective story.

As a suspicious reporter, I have worked up some curiosity about an outfit in Washington known as the Council For A Livable World. The Council began life under the name of the Council to Abolish War. Its founder and chairman is Dr. Leo Sillard, a noted Hungarian born physicist. He made a splash at the Pugwash Conference of 1961 by proposing his personal nuclear peace treaty. Under its terms, any American who violated the treaty would be declared an "outlaw" to be shot on sight, and any American who informed on an "outlaw" would be given a $1 million tax-free award.

After this extravagant key note, the Council in 1962 set about to pour money into the campaigns of senators who would support its program.

Among other things, to reduce Defense spending and "to work toward bringing (Red) China into the family of nations." The amount of $23,000 was given by Council members to finance the South Dakota campaign of George McGovern (D) who had lost the 1960 Senate race to Senator Karl Mundt. This time McGovern, with the Council supplying 20 per cent of his funds, won by 600-odd votes, and he soon began introducing unilateral disarmament legislation.

I recently discovered that the Council membership in 1963-64 had donated $14,351.84 (thus far) to the campaign of another little-known Western Senator—Quentin Burdick (D-N. D.), and that Burdick was expected by the Council to make a speech to its Syracuse chapter on May 31.

Burdick tells me that he did not actually accept the Syracuse engagement, but that the Council sent him around a speech manuscript on approval. I managed to acquire a draft of the manuscript. Since it read like a disarmament tract, I surmised that it had been prepared by the State Department, or its Disarmament Agency.

When I called the Disarmament Agency to ask if somebody there had prepared a speech entitled, "Prospects For Controlling the Arms Race," I received a flat denial. But after some sleuthing, I called again and, with some choice remarks on "managed news," I disclosed my information that the speech had indeed been prepared by the man whose name leads this column.—Dr. Leonard Rodberg. This time, the State Department's Disarmament Agency followed through and asked Dr. Rodberg. He admitted he'd written the speech at home in his private capacity, at the request of the Council.

There is my detective story, or part of it. When Senator Burdick declined to make the speech, although under a campaign fund obligation of better than $14,000, Senator McGovern (a $23,000 benefiary) contacted Senator Edmund Muskie (D-Maine) to whose re-election campaign the Council members have thus far given $728.30. Muskie's name was substituted on the speech draft, but he declined to use it and ended up making a speech of his own at the Syracuse meeting.

Well, what goes on here? A disarmament lobby is getting senators on the financial book. It is offering them prepared propaganda that is written by a State Department employe who is "moonlighting" for the Council. Do the Senators who take this campaign money know their sponsors?

"I hereby dissociate myself from Dr. Sillard," Burdick told me after thinking it over. "And I am making inquiries which may lead to renouncing the Council's support. I don't want to be unfair. I want to give the Council a chance to reply to my questions."

"This seems a good note on which to end a chapter of the strange story on the Council which wants us to inhabit a 'livable' world with communism."

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Proposals that would radically shift U. S. cold-war tactics with regard to the Soviet Union are being studied at the White House, Pentagon and State Department.

At the very time the United States is roundly attacking the British government for considering long-term credits to Nikita Khrushchev, key U. S. aides are quietly studying whether the United States should itself adopt the British strategy.

The secret debate is now going on. Decisions will probably be made piecemeal.

Proposition One—The possibility of U. S. assistance in the development of Soviet agriculture should be explored. Proposition Two—The U. S. should be prepared to reduce its restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union.

These two proposals aim at getting Khrushchev to raise production for civilian consumption and lower his arms output. Backers of these proposals argue that if the United States would send the Soviet Union factories for the production of consumer goods, these plants would use raw materials and technicians which would have to be diverted from the Soviet arms effort.

Proposition Three—Explore with the Soviet Union various places, such as Laos and parts of Africa, where the United States and Russia could take joint military action "in their common interest."

The proposers suggest this would reduce points of military confrontation.

Proposition Four—Explore ways in which the United States and Russia could cooperate in economic aid for selected underdeveloped countries.

The planners argue this economic aid would turn into economic rivalry. U. S. and Soviet technicians, they say, would try to outdo each other, thus providing a way to prove U. S. technical and economic methods superior for underdeveloped countries.

Proposition Five—Seek unwritten agreement with the Soviet Union not to give sophisticated weapons to nations which might plunge the Soviet Union and the United States into war.

The U. S. aim would be to keep powerful new weapons from Cuba's Fidel Castro, Red China's Mao Tse-tung and North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh and lessen the chances of guerrilla conflicts escalating into full-scale nuclear wars.

Proposition Six—Push a substantial increase in the exchange of American and Russian scientists.

The proposers argue that if enough U. S. scientists visit the Soviet Union each year, it will be impossible, even with Soviet security precautions, for the Russians to make a scientific breakthrough crucial to defense without the United States learning about it. The Russians, on their side, would have the same advantage. This, the proposers claim, would promote stability.

Proposition Seven—Find ways to send messages to the Soviet elite—those top technicians, scientists, writers, managers and officials who have influence in Russia—telling them exactly what the United States is up to in each major peace move it makes.

This proposal aims at putting Khrushchev and his top aides under some pressure from their own people.

Letters

To The Editor

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 250 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Your editorial of May 15, stating that the "recent defeat of the water control bill was a defeat the people of Seminole handed themselves," was not in keeping with the customary integrity of your newspaper's reporting policy.

By the sin of omission, you have presented a case for a poorly devised bill so as to make it appear as under a halo.

You seem to think that the end justifies the means. Would you condone passage of an act that imposes a property tax, without limiting the voting on it to resident freeholders? Why should renters be allowed to vote an ad valorem tax on property owners? I suppose this is but a mere detail to your editorialist, too minor to be mentioned.

Yet, because of this point, attorneys have questioned the constitutionality of this bill. In the next to the last paragraph of your discourse, you stated that the "commissioners' only desire was to devise a water control plan for Seminole, set up districts, and let the people themselves vote as to what they thought best for their own area." This misinterpretation on your part shows that you are not only unfamiliar with the act's contents, but that you have been listening to an explanation full of eye-wash. If the act were passed, nowhere in it are provisions for people voting on anything but bond issues from then on.

Before defending a bill, an editorialist should first study it, otherwise he is misleading the trust the public puts in him. Actual study would reveal that this bill has as many holes as a Swiss cheese.

In reality, by defeating this act, the people of Seminole County have struck a note for democracy. Because of their wise caution, we now have time to prepare a good act with which we can live and prosper as an informed electorate.

George Bobrow

Editor's note: Most of the writer's letter is a matter of opinion with which The Herald does not agree. Orange County's Commission adopted a similar bill without a vote of the people. True, the bill did allow a levy up to two mills. The Commission can levy up to 10 mills for the road and bridge fund but less than two mills has been imposed. We know of no attorneys who have questioned the constitutionality of this bill or the one adopted in Orange County.

In setting up districts, no projects would have been undertaken except after public hearings had been held. Seminole Commissioners tell us this is the only kind of a bill which will meet the situation in Seminole and they plan to re-submit it to the Legislature for authority to again place it on the ballot.

Garden Club Directs Officer Installation At Smorgasbord

Officers of The Garden Club of Sanford were installed recently at a smorgasbord luncheon at the Civic Center.

Invocation was given by Mrs. B. B. Crumley.

Each table was centered with an arrangement by each circle.

Dirt Gardeners Circle won first prize for its arrangement; second went to Palm Circle, and third to Ixora.

The attendance count was won by Dirt Gardeners Circle with 80 per cent of their members present; Hemocallis Circle was second with 73 per cent.

The members made and wore "crazy" hats. First prize went to Mrs. Alburt Rector for the "craziest"; second to Mrs. D. L. Williamson for the "prettiest"; and third to Mrs. B. D. Owen for "cleverest."

The president's annual report was given by outgoing president, Mrs. D. K. Dorman. She was presented a gift for her devotion to the club, in the form of a check which she turned over to the treasurer for the building fund.

Amid cries of "Stop that woman," by the presiding officer, Mrs. A. C. McReynolds ran into the room crying, "Where is that lady? I'm looking for that lady who has done so much for the Sanford Garden Club."

In the resulting confusion she stopped in front of Mrs. S. C. Dickerson and read to her a tribute for her years of work in Garden Club, and proclaimed the 19th of May as "Tommy Dickerson Day." She also presented her with a life membership from the club.

Mrs. Dickerson had been surprised earlier to find her daughter, Mrs. Peter S. Roy of Jacksonville, present for the luncheon. Mrs. Dickerson is moving to Jacksonville to be near her daughter. Both were presented lovely corsages.

It was reported there were now three life members in the club: Mrs. C. H. Cole, Mrs. Volle Williams Jr. and Mrs. Dickerson; also Mrs. Francis Luecker, who is now a member of the local club and has a life membership in the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff III was thanked for pitching in on three weeks' notice and supervising the flower show held in April. She was presented a gift in appreciation thereof.

Officers installed were: Mrs. Alburt Rector, president; Mrs. J. M. Fahey, vice president; Mrs. R. G. Brinson, recording secretary; Mrs. W. LaMar Meredith, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. B. B. Crumley, treasurer.

As Mrs. Cole installed each officer, that officer was pinned with an orchid corsage of a color appropriate to her duties respectively; purple, blue, yellow, red and yellow, and green.

Delicious roast beef, turkey, ham and all the trimmings were prepared and served.

under the capable catering service of the Lake Monroe Inn.

NEW OFFICERS of the Sanford Garden Club were recently installed at a luncheon at the Civic Center. Mrs. Charles H. Cole, installing officer, turns gavel over to Mrs. Alburt Rector, new president. Other officers are from left, Mrs. J. M. Fahey, vice president; Mrs. R. G. Brinson, recording secretary; Mrs. LaMar Meredith, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. B. B. Crumley, treasurer.

at the Bahia Mosque in Orlando to discuss fund raising projects and ways of helping their husbands and also activities which would acquaint more of the ladies.

The Building Committee has generously agreed to let the ladies use the Mosque on Thursday, June 8 from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. for card games, hand-craft or any activities provided.

This gathering is not limited to members of Shrinedom, and Mrs. Kastner urges all nobles' wives to appoint themselves a one table chairman and invite friends to attend this occasion.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stromton

A quote.
From Al Whitmarsh, an Orlando sports writer.
"Beginning with three-spot MVP Jimmy Courser, possibly the greatest athlete in Orange County history (and watch the argument start there) Orvidio has everybody back."
We won't argue with him about Courser being a great athlete. But Orvidio is in Seminole County—not Orange!

Tomorrow afternoon Seminole High's football coaches—Jim Pigott, Dick Williams, Jim McCoy, Ralph Stamps and John Coibert—will, so to speak, separate the men from the boys.

This annual spring football clinic should be a ball game worth seeing. It'll be whittled into action at the SHS athletic field (to be known as Lawson Field after the first half) at 4 p.m.

Oh, yes, the fans are invited. Go on out and join the festivities.

At halftime the field will be dedicated to the memory of Buddy Lawson, erstwhile Seminole halfback and pass catching phenom who suffered fatal injuries in an auto accident in Orlando several weeks ago. A plaque will be installed during dedicatory exercises.

The contest will be played between a squad as evenly balanced as the coaches could make it according to grade and ability. The teams will be the Reds and the Whites and it'll be a regulation affair.

More than 20 lettermen from last season's championship squad (OBC title holders) will be back and augmented by a host of new material up from the school's undated junior varsity eleven plus some leads from Sanford Junior High's top notch Brave machine of last fall.

And it's a lucky thing, too. This fall, Seminole will be competing in the Metro loop with seven Orange County eleven. The Tribe will need all the ability it can muster.

Anyway, we'll get a good look at what the SHS outfit might come up with come next football season.

A pat on the back to David Lee and Mike Richards who teamed up to hammer out a 4 to 0 win over Hunt's Lincoln-Mercury Comet's in a Little National League affair last Friday.

Lee tossed a scoreless no-hitter at the powerful Hunt side in his part of the act. The co-star, Richards, powdered out a grand-slam home run in the final frame. It couldn't have been more exciting.

This Area May Get Fat Pro Tourney

LAKELAND (UPI) — Central Florida may get a fat professional golf tournament next year—a proposed $100,000-a-fair sponsored by citrus growers.

The proposed tournament, as yet unnamed and undated, would probably be held at the Big Pine Country Club in Orlando in mid-March.

Farless And Noell To Captain Squads In Tribe Tilt

Little Scoring Anticipated In Spring Contest

"Don't anticipate much scoring," was the warning issued to football fans today by Seminole High gridiron coach Jim Pigott. "When the Tribe's annual spring game is played Wednesday afternoon at the SHS athletic field.

"Each of our Red and White players know the offensive formations of the other club and they know the personnel," said Pigott. "and about the only thing we'll really find out Wednesday afternoon is who is hard nosed and who isn't."

The contest will get underway at 4 p.m. During half-time ceremonies the SHS athletic field officially will be renamed Lawson Field. A plaque will be put in place. Workmen today are completing the erection of a chain link fence around the park and soon lights will be installed to illuminate the field for track events.

The field will be named in memory of Buddy Lawson, a Seminole football and track star who recently was fatally injured in an accident. Pigott announced that guard Joe Farless had been named captain of the Reds while tackle David Noell will command the Whites.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spalding
I know you'd be interested in exactly what happened with the men bowlers at the State Tournament in Fort Lauderdale over the week-end.

But I am equally certain that there are some of these same men who'd be just as appreciative if I didn't open my mouth on the subject yours truly included!

I'll summarize it this way! If Big John Ubr is willing to reveal his scores then I'll just have to admit that both of us seriously considered forgetting about bowling and possibly taking up another sport (some of these 'other sports' considered were watching those 'bikinis' on the beaches. Just couldn't get my wife's approval, however.)

I may be wrong but the only real series was that of Gary Fox's 630 in the team event. As a matter of fact, it looked like the Lake Moore Inn team was going to make its move in this event but that proverbial roof caved in on the boys in the ninth and 10th frames of the last game.

Oh well, there's always next year! (The only trouble with that thought is that we've been using it for the last four years now and that 'next year' hasn't arrived!)

Are you all set for this coming Saturday's party for the Junior Bowling League? All of the members will be our guests at which time they'll receive their trophies, special awards, etc., and a complete luncheon FREE at Jet Lanes.

All newcomers to the league are just as welcome and will be accepted for registration into the coming Summer League.

Don't forget, it starts at 9:30 a. m.

It was Steve Barnes who unloaded a Big One during the Seminole County Businessmen's League last Tuesday night.

Bowling for Kondracki & Cline's, Steve shot a high of 240 to finish with a strong 633 series.

Our heartfelt congratulations to Johnny Wright, Eddie Monroe and Pete Peterson of the Bob's Restaurant trio for capturing the pennant in the All Stars Scratch League.

It was nip and tuck right down to the wire with the restaurant-men nocking out the inland Materiala three-sons.

Plans are now underway for a summer league to start next Wednesday. It's fast bowling and gets rolling at 8:15 p.m. You're thru by 10:30 p. m.

That reminds me! This Friday 7 p. m. there'll be the start of another three-man scratch league but this one is limited to a 480 maximum average for the three men on each team. There's still time for

Largest Racing Program Of Year Set For Weekend

One of the largest Central Florida drag racing programs of the year will be on tabs this weekend at Osceola drag strip near Sanford.

Cliff Lord, treasurer of Seminole Timing Association, states that he will count out $1,065 in cash and close to 100 trophies over the two day racing slate.

Stock eliminator will be paid $500, $300, and $200, respectively, for the top three spots on Sunday, with middle stock and little stock receiving $75 and $50 respectively. All other eliminators will each receive $100.

Top competition such as Brownie Chris of Orlando with his 180 mph dragster will be on hand. Glen Blakely of Tampa and R. L. Peyton of Daytona Beach, both with powerful "A" roadsters will compete for middle eliminator honors.

In the stock field and competing for the big money will be such drivers as Hubert Platt of Atlanta with the "Little Georgia Shaker," and Alan Hyder of Dade City with "The Georgia Shaker." Platt's car is a fiberglass Fairlane Ford and Hyder drives a 1963 Aluminum Chevy. From Orlando, and a strong favorite for the top slot will be Bob Tucker and his 1963 aluminum Chevy, "Thunder." Tucker took the last big race money at Osceola March 31.

From Lakeland, will come the "Great Southern Goat" and "The Rebel." Both are aluminum Plymouths of the 1964 vintage. The "Goat" is owned and driven by Hugh Oglesby of Lakeland. The "Rebel" is owned by Sonny Hayes of Lakeland.

From Tampa will be Ronald Coleman with a Ford similar to the one driven by Platt. Many entries from Jacksonville are expected, including "The Reverend Mr. Black," a Plymouth, "Alcoa Presents," a Plymouth, and a new machine by Plymouth sporting the new "Hemi" heads made famous by Dick Petty in February of this year at Daytona.

The gates open at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, and 10 a. m. Sunday.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Glenn (Fireball) Roberts remained in critical condition early today with severe burns suffered when he was trapped in the blazing wreckage of his race car Sunday.

Memorial Hospital officials said the 34-year-old veteran NASCAR circuit driver was conscious but still in critical condition.

Roberts was hospitalized Sunday following a three-Ford crackup on the seventh lap of the $112,000 World 600 stock car race.

It is estimated that Roberts was enveloped by flames for more than 90 seconds. He received burns over about 65 per cent of his body.

It was Roberts' first major injury in 18 years of stock car racing that brought him both fame and fortune.

Beating Hunt's Becomes Fad In Little National

The impossible happened Monday afternoon in the Little National League. Several days ago First Federal jumped into the limelight by handily beating Hunt's Lincoln-Mercury Comet's their first defeat since back in 1962.

Not to be outdone, David Lee pitched the Locomotive Engineers to no-hit, shutout victory, 4 to 0, over the Comet's last Friday.

Now it's become a fad. Monday afternoon Chase slapped Hunt's with its third consecutive loss, 6 to 5, in an extra inning affair.

They know not what to expect! And, worse than that, their hoop lead has dwindled to a mere half game.

In the Little American, the Bankers went at it again and Florida State prevailed over Sanford Atlantic, 6 to 1, behind the effective hurling of Joe Pauline. Andy Steele got a pair of hits for the winners while Mike Rudd and Mike Hickson chipped in a pair for the Atlantics.

Meanwhile, the Shriners put on a late inning surge to come from behind and whip the Kiwanians, 7 to 6. Left Oxford paced the winners at the plate while Tommy Austin was the big stick for the Kiwanis.

Steve Leach picked up his fourth victory in four trips to the hill. It was a Junior League affair.

Rotary, of the same circuit, scored four runs in the first and coasted to a 10 to 2 drubbing of Lake Mary. Buddy Stumpf limited Lake Mary to three singles while teammate Billy Higginbotham had three hits in four trips for Rotary. Corky Stowell had two hits, including a triple.

McRaney's Painters captured third place in the Men's League as they won their fourth straight contest, downing Florida State Bank 8 to 6. L. C. Smith got his second homer of the season and Frank Williams the mound victory.

Don Harvey and Terry Christensen both collected three hits, include one home run apiece, as the Kingswood Builders downed Wilson Malar 17 to 9. Builder hurler, LeRoy Estridge notched his seven mound win without a loss.

The loop's top home producer, Larry Helman of the Furniture, slammed out number six, Berry Baker and Art Natalini had three hits each for the losers.

Twins' Tony Oliva Survives Treatment

By Milton Richman
UPI Sports Writer
Torrid Tony Oliva has been given "the treatment," and it's no use, fella, it doesn't work.

Ask any pitcher and he'll tell you the one sure-fire method of cooling off any red-hot slugger is to graze his whiskers or maybe even pick him with a high, hard one purely by accident, of course.

Like anyone else with a .301 batting average, the 23-year-old Oliva was initiated into the club last Friday night when he was bearded by Baltimore's Steve Barber, who actually was merely trying to drive him back from the plate.

Every pitcher in the American League was watching to see how the Minnesota rookie would react after a brief stay in a Baltimore hospital for precautionary X-rays.

They didn't have long to wait. Monday night he poled his 10th homer of the season to help the Twins lick the Los Angeles Angels, 8-1.

Oliva's two-run homer off losing Barry Lutzman in the first inning was all the cushion Camillo Pascual needed although Jimmie Hall chipped in with four singles and drove in three of the Twins' runs.

The Chicago White Sox solidified their hold on first place with a 4-1 triumph over the Kansas City A's, the De-

Marge Carathers Tops Navy Wives

High game and high series honors were captured this week by Marge Carathers of Navy Wives League when she rolled a 195-334 for the Hook Ovens. For the same outfit, Vera Bolton followed with a 180-511.

Other high games posted included Barbara Rehner's 188-486, Marge Field's 168-473, a 177-471 by Carlotta Bassett, a 170-462 by Jean Adams, a 168-438 by Surry Reno, Pat Willis' 168 and a 163 by Jennie Runnels.

For this week's session Pat Willis came through with two turkeys and one of them with four consecutive strikes.

Marge Carathers also had a pair of turkeys and Barbara Rehner came up with one.

Few splits were converted. Marge Field knocked over the 2-7, Alice Haupt the 5-10, Betty Lillis the 3-9-10 and Jean Brewer spared two difficult ones—the 4-5-7 and the 5-9-10.

The baby split, the 3-10, fell for Vera Bolton and Betty Lillis.

Funeral Held For Morrison

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — DeLensepa S. Morrison, whose distinguished political career ended in violent death on a Mexican mountainside, was buried today with full military honors in a suburban cemetery.

Morrison was to be interred with his small son, Randy, who, with his father and five other persons, died in the crash of a light plane near Ciudad Victoria Friday night.

An estimated 200 state officials, led by Gov. John J. Keithen, were to attend the funeral.

The schedule called for brief services at Gallier Hall, where the caskets of Morrison and his son lay in state since noon Monday, then a procession past many of the civic improvements built by Morrison during his tenure as mayor; a Requiem Mass in St. Louis Cathedral, and another procession to Metairie cemetery, where Morrison's wife, Corinne, is buried.

Lady Bird On Cultural Fling A La Jackie

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson made her strongest bid to succeed Mrs. John F. Kennedy as a cultural leader Monday night by rededicating the famed Museum of Modern Art to "the war against the poverty of man's spirit."

The First Lady rubbed shoulders with frantically clad Bohemians and elegant millionaires who turned out 7,500 strong to toast the museum's new $7 million wing and garden with countless rounds of Champagne. She pressed the switch which illuminated the completely renovated bastion of ultra-modern art declaring that the battle to enrich America's cultural life is just as important as "the war against the poverty of man's necessities."

"We Americans are so often pictured as a society entirely devoted to technological advance that it is good to have this abundant proof to the contrary," she said, looking out from an upper terrace of the museum garden to the vast throng of festive first-nighters.

It was the initial occasion since Mrs. Johnson became First Lady that she starred a spokesman for the advance guard of America's intellectual society. Her unpretentious warmth won her rounds of applause from all segments of the strange amalgam.

Method Of Naming School Head Stirs States' Legislators

ATLANTA (UPI) — A current squabble in the Georgia legislature over whether the state school superintendent should be elected or appointed has echoes across the nation.

In South Carolina, legislators became so embroiled in the issue during their recent general assembly that a filibuster was touched off. After two overnight sessions

Strong Lungs Save His Life

ABERYSTWYTH, Wales (UPI)—Paul Beardsley owes his life to a good set of lungs.

Beardsley, 37, was floating on an inflated rubber mattress Monday at the beach near here when he realized air was seeping out. For two hours, he huffed and puffed to keep the air mattress inflated. In between breaths he waved frantically to swimmers on the beach, but they just waved back.

Finally, his wife realized he was in trouble and a lifeboat picked him up suffering from exhaustion and cramp.

bleary-eyed lawmakers agreed to a compromise whereby the school head would be appointed but subject to a recall election.

In North Carolina, recurrent moves were made during the last legislature to change the system of selecting the school superintendent from elective to appointive, but they were beaten down.

The National Education Association in Washington said the problem is one which arises quite often in many states. But the trend, the NEA said, is toward appointment rather than election.

The Georgia House of Representatives bucked the trend yesterday when it voted to reconsider an earlier move and keep the state school superintendent an elective office in Georgia's new constitution.

But the move was certain to run into opposition when it reaches the Senate where some lawmakers are strong advocates of having the school head appointed by the state school board.

The appointment system was recommended by Gov. Carl Sanders' education commission and was included in the constitution drafted by a special constitution revision commission.

According to the NEA, school superintendents are appointed by school boards in 23 states. In five other states they are appointed by the governor. The remaining 22 states elect the school head by popular vote.

Under the compromise adopted in South Carolina—which still must be approved in a referendum—the school superintendent will be appointed by the school board. But his name will be put before the voters during general elections for a year or no vote on his record. If the voters nix him, the board cannot reappoint him.

turned the fire. There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The UN spokesman said cease-fire negotiations were being carried on and some Canadians had been withdrawn from exposed positions.

Exile Claims Cuban Field Hospital Drop

MIAMI (UPI) — A copy-right story published by the Pompano Beach Sun-Sentinel today said an exile Cuban plane from Florida succeeded in dropping supplies including a complete field hospital to anti-Castro guerrillas in Oriente Province early yesterday.

The Cuban using the pseudonym "Manuel Fernandez" who said he was one of three men aboard the twin engine plane gave the story of their claimed flight to reporter Jack Ford. It was published under the copyright of the Gore Newspapers Co.

The mission, described as the first successful major supply run to Cuban guerrillas since the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion, was staged by the exile "30th of November" organization with the aid of a group called "The International Brigade," the story said.

"At the present time we are fighting on 17 fronts inside Cuba," the Cuban informant said and added:

"Our leaders have taken a page from Napoleon's book on military procedures and are in the process of setting up a supply line to each of these 17 fronts."

The plane took off from "a south Florida air strip" shortly after midnight Sunday and penetrated Cuban radar by flying at about 150 feet altitude until approaching the Cuban coast when it went up to about 1,000 feet, the Cuban said.

The supplies were dropped to waiting guerrillas in the Sierra Maestra Mountains—once Fidel Castro's stronghold—at about 2:30 a.m. and then the plane overflew Santiago, dropping propaganda leaflets on that Oriente capital before returning to Florida, according to the story.

The pilot was described as a veteran of "many clandestine flights over Cuba."

TV Time Previews

The main story, unfortunately, is an overwritten, overacted account of a rebellious 17-year-old girl, Joey Heatherton does the best she can and there's a nice, although brief, performance by Royal Dano as her father.

7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. Combat, "Anatomy of a Patrol" (Rerun) Lots of action in this episode pitting the Germans against the Americans in a fight to recover some vital film aboard a plane shot down in No-Man's Land. The suspense mounts thanks to an absence of straw heroes and villains.

8:30-9 p.m. ABC. McHale's Navy. (Rerun) "The Day the War Stood Still." Loyal fans of this series won't be let down by this one. Captain Binghamton (Joe Flynn) has finally captured McHale's pet prisoner, Fujl, and McHale (Ernest Borgnine) schemes to free him by having bombing Ensign Parker (Tom Conway) broadcast a fake declaration that the war is over. Binghamton falls for the ruse, so much so he insults a superior officer, who uncovers the plot and court-martials loom for everyone.

9-10 p.m. CBS. Petticoat Junction. This episode gives Kate Bradley's three daughters (Pat Woodell, Jeannine Riley and Linda Kaye) more to do than usual but the result is only mildly amusing. Kate (Bea Benaderet) gets trapped in a cave at a most inopportune time, when a business tycoon arrives to inspect the Shady Rest Hotel as the possible base for a big convention. Without Kate, the girls and Uncle Joe (Edgar Buchanan) make frantic but fumbling efforts to impress the seemingly unimpressed tycoon.

9-10 p.m. ABC. Greatest Show on Earth. "The Wrackler." (Rerun) We almost swallowed this yarn about a far-fetched plot to steal a circus elephant. Dennis Hopper and Dean Stockwell are both in big top form as the conspirators.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Garry Moore Show. Fans of Don Knotts are in for a treat tonight because the talented comedian is all over the show. First he appears as a millionaire being interviewed by Garry. Then he is in a skit with Rosemary Clooney as a fire victim trying to collect insurance money from Durward Kirby. In the folksy section, which features Jim Tuller, Don plays a folksy-sounding sensation and is interviewed again. England's Roy Castle does his song-and-dance act, and Miss Conroy, assisted by Joyce de Young of the choral group, sings "Careless Love" and "Miss O'Leary's."

10-11 p.m. NBC. NBC News Special. "Japan: The Defense of India." A fascinating if somewhat literary look at a little-known area of the world, the rugged China-India border, this show is the creation of former Indian Army Officer and now novelist John Masters, who serves as expert narrator and guide. More a feature than a news documentary, it frequently descends to the level of travelogue as it explores the background, training and thinking of the Indian Javan (GI). However, thanks largely to the subject matter under discussion, one never loses interest.

10-11 p.m. ABC. The Fugitive. "Never Say Goodbye." Part II. (Rerun) This concluding episode of a two-part series ends in a chase sequence which must be seen to be believed. One thing is certain: Our fugitive, excellently played by David Janssen, is as noble as any character on TV.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "ONE BOY'S MOTHER" has been on my mind ever since I read it. Four years ago my boy went into the Navy. He was a good Christian boy then. My neighbor told me he wouldn't be "good" long, Abby, he is a better Christian today than he was when he went in. He neither drinks nor smokes. The Navy doesn't make our boys do if they were home. Don't blame Uncle Sam. He had him for only a few months. His mother had him for 17 years. The Good Book says, "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it." (Proverbs: 22:6) ANOTHER BOY'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a mother was upset because she believed that her 17-year-old son had been introduced to drinking in the Army. Your answer was A-O-K, but I'd like to put in my two cents' worth:

First of all, none of the armed services encourages drinking of any type, and anyone who is under age cannot legally buy drinks ON or OFF a Military installation. Of course there are always some idiots who will buy drinks for kids. But that can happen in your own home town or neighborhood. As you said, Abby, "It takes two to violate the law—the buyer and the seller." And the Army sure isn't one of them.

OLE SARGE

DEAR ABBY: About the mother who thought she smelled spirits on her son's breath when he got off the bus from Fort Leonard Wood: She probably did! And somebody should tell her that a "boy" in uniform can get a drink anywhere in the world, which is as it should be. The uniform indicates that instead of a "boy" he is now a man, who, after training, may be called upon to have his 17-year-old guts dumped into a Viet Nam rice paddy. Three points will get you 15.4 that this is the same mother who makes her son wear his uniform to church when he's home on leave so she can show him off as a "man."

R. S. D. (Ex-Sgt.)

DEAR ABBY: If "LOOKING" and others like him do not wish to do a hitch in one of the armed services, there is an alternative—the Peace Corps.

Respectfully,
A QUAKER

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Today's hand has appeared in this column before. The game was rubber bridge. The year was 1981 or 1982. I sat North. South was a much older man who had been one of the world's greatest card players for many years. His bidding wasn't too bad, but it was rather unusual even for those very early days of contract.

His no-trump openings were always strong, so I was perfectly safe in responding with two hearts. He would surely bid again. When his rebid was a jump to three no-trump, I decided to cash my hundred honors and went on to four hearts. This produced a four no-trump bid from him. Now, I finally visualized a slam.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Garry Moore Show. Fans of Don Knotts are in for a treat tonight because the talented comedian is all over the show. First he appears as a millionaire being interviewed by Garry. Then he is in a skit with Rosemary Clooney as a fire victim trying to collect insurance money from Durward Kirby. # We The Women: By Ruth Millet

A recent column listing some of the advantages to a husband of having a working wife brought an interesting protest from a woman reader. She says: "I am a single woman with over 20 years of working experience. Among my married friends it is usually the working couples who are constantly worrying about money and saying how broke they are.

"Many of these couples overshoot the mark financially because they have a false sense of security. When some unexpected event such as an illness occurs, they are thrown into a panic.

"I have noticed that when the man is the sole breadwinner, setbacks are planned for—and usually taken in stride.

"Also I have known quite a few instances where a wife's working seemed to sap her husband's initiative and drive."

Those are all very real pitfalls that a double-income couple needs to watch for. But they can be avoided.

The simplest way to avoid them is for the wife to figure out what her working expenses are, take that out of her own pay check, put everything she earns above expenses in a savings program, earmarked for some special investment, such as a home, college educations for the children, or a neat egg for retirement.

That way the couple won't gear their day-to-day living to two pay checks. The husband will always know he is the family's real breadwinner. And if some big financial crisis comes along the special fund can be used to help weather the storm.

The trick is to save up the wife's earnings — not live them up.

Uncertainty As To Successor Raises Fears

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—Jawaharlal Nehru, India's first and only prime minister, died today of a stroke. He was 74.

His death plunged the country into political uncertainty because there was no clear-cut successor.

Home Minister Gulzari Lal Nanda, senior cabinet minister, took over the government temporarily. But the most prominent mentioned possibility as a permanent successor to Nehru was Lal Bahadur Shastri, a 59-year-old former home minister, who has been handling many day-to-day affairs since Nehru had a first stroke five months ago. Another is Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi.

Nehru, one of the world's leading nationalists, died of the stroke and a heart attack that followed at 1:30 p. m. (4:30 a. m. EDT) without regaining consciousness.

The body will be cremated Thursday morning in accordance with Hindu rites on the banks of the River Jumna at Rajhat beside the tomb of Mahatma Gandhi, the man who led India's fight for independence through passive resistance against the British. Nehru was his devoted follower and successor as leader of the country.

A team of top medical specialists, his daughter and Shastri were at Nehru's bedside when the end came suddenly and dramatically.

Tributes promptly flowed in from world leaders, and it was announced in Washington that Secretary of State Dean Rusk was flying to New Delhi immediately at the head of an American delegation to represent the United States at the funeral.

FRB Endorses DuPont Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Reserve Board endorsed yesterday a bill that could force the Alfred I. DuPont estate to sell its 31 Florida banks.

The bill would put the DuPont banks back under the bank holding company act, from which they were exempted on grounds that the DuPont estate was a charitable organization.

Federal Reserve Board chairman Edward McChesney Martin Jr., said in a letter to the House Banking Committee that he favored legislation to terminate exemptions under the banking act "which cannot be justified in principle."

Water System Contract Let

The announcement was released by Sieg Holmes, chairman of the Lake Harney Water Association planning committee in conjunction with Farmers Home Administration officials.

At the same time a meeting was called for 8 p. m. next Tuesday in the Geneva Community Hall for review of the association's charter, a study of the by-laws and presentation of plans for the complete plant.

GOP Vote Seen As No Loss For Goldwater

MIAMI (UPI)—A slate of unpledged—but pro-Goldwater—Republican delegates defeated an all-Goldwater slate last night in a race that was really a battle for control of the Florida GOP.

A slate of delegates backing President Lyndon B. Johnson at the Democratic National convention, which opens in Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 24, was unopposed at the polls.

The defeat of the GOP slate pledged to Barry Goldwater was apparently not a loss for the Arizona senator, but a slap at GOP congressman William C. Cramer, who state party leaders accused of "trying to take over the Republican party in Florida."

The latest returns showed the Goldwater slate, filed by Cramer, lost to the unpledged slate headed by state Republican chairman Tom Brown of Tampa by a vote of 54,051 to 38,865.

However Cramer and Mrs. Helen Morris, both of St. Petersburg, won a hands-down victory for the posts of national Republican committeeman and committeewoman.

Tax Collector's Race Close To Final Vote

TROY RAY

ED YARBOROUGH

Troy Ray is Seminole County's new tax collector, subject to formal election this fall, having beat out Marjorie Shepard in this county's closest primary vote Tuesday.

The official canvass was held conducted early this afternoon at the county court house, but unofficial tabulations gave Ray the edge. The voter registration of Ray said Ray was ahead by 103 votes as the canvass started this morning. When absentee ballots were tabulated, it showed Ray had received an additional 102 votes to his opponent's 131.

Burns Is Winner By 174,000 Vote Margin

MIAMI (UPI)—Haydon Burns began planning Florida's 2nd state house administration today, strong winner over Miami Robert King High in a Democratic runoff that was both a civil rights protest and another advance for big-city voting power.

The first move for the tall, 52-year-old mayor of Jacksonville was an appeal for north Florida-south Florida unity, and for peace with High, his underdog opponent in the scene in Florida as the days go along," promised High. He told his saddened campaign workers: "We have lost the battle but not the war. This is not the end."

Burns, jubilant at his Jacksonville headquarters, dedicated himself to being "the governor for all of Florida . . . I hold my hand out to the people of Dade County. The state cannot be divided, one part against another."

He called High "an acquaintance, colleague and a friend for the past six years . . . I hope that which is past will be taken as political and that the state will be wiped clean."

Burns, Mayor of Jacksonville for 15 years still must face Republican nominee Charles Holley of St. Petersburg in the November general election. But although the GOP has been on the march in the state, its power has not grown to the point of breaking the tradition of democratic governors. Burns is all but in.

He campaigned on a strong stand against the civil rights bill before Congress, plus pledges to build new highways and work for repeal of the increase into auto tag license fees and the intangible tax on stocks and bonds, and reallocation of sales tax revenues to give more funds to the counties for public education.

On civil rights, Burns promised as governor to use "every legal means" to keep any bill passed by the Congress from encroaching on Florida's rights.

High blamed the race issue as much as anything for his loss, saying he felt the people did not understand that neither he nor Burns could affect the outcome of the congressional debate on civil rights.

In his concession statement, he also made it clear he was looking to 1966, when there will be another gubernatorial campaign because of a constitutional change moving Florida's statewide elections to the presidential off years. The race two years hence will be for a four-year term.

"I shall be looking at the scene in Florida as the days go along," promised High. He told his saddened campaign workers: "We have lost the battle but not the war. This is not the end."

This narrowed the lead slightly but still left Ray in the unofficial victory circle with a scant 156-vote margin.

The Ray-Shepard race dominated attention during the evening as the precincts were sending in their reports.

Meanwhile, the incumbent, Gen. J. C. Hutchinson, lost his County Commission seat to Edward Yarborough. Hutchinson, representing District 1, collected 4,056 unofficial votes to Yarborough's 4,463. The winner was considered a dark horse candidate and is a novice in politics.

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick retained his District 5 seat in another close race with Harry Cushing. The incumbent tallied an unofficial 4,198 to Cushing's 3,723.

Incumbent Constable R. E. Carroll kept his position intact as he won out over his opponent, Charlie Thomas, by a 2,974 to 2,294 count, again the figures being unofficial pending today's canvass. Carroll represents District 4.

Al Davis won out over Limdon L. Cox, 1,302 to 1,147, in the race for Justice of the peace in District 6.

Incumbent Grady Hall was nominated in the District 8 constable race over his opponent, Charlie Fagan. Hall received an unofficial 1,864 votes to Fagan's 1,186.

Seminole County voters also swung their support to Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns in his contest with Miami Mayor Robert King High. Burns grabbed 6,583 votes to his opponent's 2,974.

Commenting on the vote this morning, Mrs. Bruce said it was "one of the quietest we've had in a long time." She added there were no incidents and all phases of the precinct operation's seemed to function smoothly.

On other portions of the ballot, Seminole voters chose Elliot Roosevelt as their Democratic National Committeeman and Catherine C. McCall as committeewoman.

On the Republican National Committee, voters picked William C. Cramer and Helene M. Morris as the Republican National Committeewoman.

Old Settler Settles Back

COLORADO CITY, Colo. (UPI)—There ought to be some mighty pleased residents in the hereafter today—Alexander Hicklin has been reintroduced with a quart of whisky.

Hicklin's dying wish 80 years ago was that his wife bury him with a bottle of whisky in each coat pocket "to treat the boys" when he reached the promised land.

Tuesday, Hicklin's remains were exhumed and reburied in another location because a street in a new development of this southern Colorado community was to run over his resting place.

put a quart of whisky in the new coffin when it was reburied in a new memorial park about a block away.

"I was there when they buried him in 1874," Mrs. Halsey said. "I wanted to be here when they dug him up. If there had been any whisky in the grave, I would have wanted some of that, too."

Hicklin's body was wrapped in a leather jacket—and he had his boots on.
