Chuluota Meeting Is Well Attended

Charles E. McCune, information secretary of the Chuluota Retired Folks Club, reports that approxima ely 100 persons, coming from Oviedo, Slavia and Pine Hills to join those of Chuluota, attended the lecture and film showing "Communism on the Map."

People came out in heavy downpours the evening of Aug. 17, McCune said, to "listen intently and watch the map of the free world dwindle.

"Several national organizations have been fighting the spread of Communism for the past 10 years or longer," he said, "but since the Laos and Cuban fiascos, these organizations have gained strength in number and in recognition."

A limited amount of informative literature written "to awake and educate the individual and tell him how he can help" was available at the meeting in the Community Club. Sponsor of the event, The Retired Folks Club, has planned to secure additional copies of the pamphlets for diseibution among residents of the community according to McCune.

There was a baby mixup at Seminole Memorial Hospital Thursday with a Sanford mother given the wrong baby. The mistake was discovered three hours

Here's the way Harry Weir, hospital administrator told the story after the Herald found out about the incident: "It's the first time anything like this has happened in my 13 years in hospitals and the head nurse can't remember anything like this happening in 30 years of hospital

Weir explained that at noon

Thursday a Sanford postnatal patient was released at the hospital. Through an error by one of the nurses, she was given the wrong baby.

Weir sald that in most circumstances the iden ification bracelet on a baby's wrist is checked for identification. Apparently this was not done or, as Weir said, there are a lot of occasions when a name is misspelled, bracelet. Weir said the Incident proves the success of the hospital's practice of not removing the identification bracelets from new born babies as many hospitals do.

"It was an unfortunate mistake, but I'm gratified that our system is as fool proof as it is," he added.
