SALE OF GUNS BY MEXICO BY S. ANNOUNCED

ARMES AND AMMUNITIONS ALSO SOLD

WAR SECRETARY

Announced Friday The Sale of $400,000 Worth of Munitions

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Sale of 50,000 rounds of ammunition for the Mexican government was announced Friday by Secretary Weeks.
The transaction was completed Friday when word came from the Mexican agent that the armament had transferred funds necessary to make one-half of the purchase. The balance to be paid within 30 days. The terms of the sale were announced by Secretary Weeks. The sale was for a cash transaction and the armament was to be delivered at the army depot where they were stored.

Under the terms of the sale the armament will turn over to the Mexican government at Fort Sam Houston and Fort Bliss while the armament will be delivered from the depot at Fairfield, Ohio.
The Mexican government will take its own arrangements for transportation. Orders will be at once for delivery of military supplies to designated military agents. They will reach the depots tomorrow.

Although the statement issued by Secretary Weeks did not disclose the total amount of money involved in the sale on the basis of prevailing prices it would appear to be less than $400,000, as field rifles sell at about $35.00 and surplus ammunition at $18 per thousand rounds, and the armament would be valued at about $12,000 each.

It was reported when first word of the sale of arms to Mexico was public that the Oregon government expected to spend $750,000 for the equipment. Whether, in view of the necessity of making a deal practically a cash transaction, the Mexico City government found itself unable to go ahead with the purchase of the amount mentioned in Secretary Weeks' statement, or whether Secretary Weeks found it inadvisable to authorize any larger sale has not been disclosed.

Mr. Weeks did not say what other equipment the Mexican government had asked for in its original list. He stated, however, that the airplanes to be sold were not equipped with machine guns or other armament and that any equipment to be supplemental to the present deal. The war secretary also said that there was no objection to the sale of field army and artillery ammunition under consideration.

The Enfield rifles were turned over after the United States ended the war to supplement the supply of Springfield rifles and to be stored as surplus. The ammunition also will come from surplus stocks manufactured during the war. So far as known there has been no important deterioration of the rifles. The ammunition is in the country considerable quantities in the last few days of the war, and although the eight which he delivered to Mexico have been used, they are in good shape and are equipped with the war built liberty torches which give them the speed of service planes. They are equipped with machine guns and are well qualified for service in communication work.
While there were no developments Friday in connection with the sale of the arms, the statement of an administration attache in Mexico an authorized statement of administration attache made available at the White house which made it plain that the purpose of the Washington government in the present transaction is wholly one of aiding a neigh-borly state in the maintenance of its own government and stability in its own borders.

The administration viewpoint is that the United States government has stood ready to give its aid through the sale of necessary military supplies to any neighboring country which needs the equipment for its own defense. Where there is any doubt as to the purpose for which the government intends to use the arms, congress need have no fear of sales being authorized.

BORAH DECLARES HIS OPPOSITION TO SOLDIER BONUS

Also Declared in Favor Tax Reduction in Speech To N. Y. Republican

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Declaring himself in favor of tax reduction and opposed to the soldier bonus, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, in an address today before the National Republican Club of New York, said this issue could not be avoided or sidestepped.

"One is either for tax reduction or he is against it," he said. "One has a right to be for the bonus or he has a right to be for tax reduction. But he cannot be for both."
"You cannot take off a temporary burden of $141,000,000 or $150,000,000 and lay on a permanent burden or obligation of $4,000, 000,000, and call it tax reduction.
It would be a dangerous political experiment. It would defeat any party that would undertake it." Senator Borah quoted figures indicating the rate of increase of taxes in the last eight or ten years declaring that "represented the most searching tragedy of American life." In eastern industrial centers the situation was serious enough, he asserted, but in the agricultural regions of the west, "they are losing faith in the government because of unbearable taxes and the mad saturnalia of spending," in which the speaker declared the government continued to indulge.

Out in the great agricultural areas," he said, "where, in the last analysis, must be found the source of national wealth and contentment—the place from which we are fed—is going on a pained, diggested struggle for the preservation of homes and farms such as no man can appreciate who has not witnessed it. Men and women who have tamed the desert, suffered and sacrificed, denied themselves, and under the most adverse circumstances opened up farms, now with 60 years of struggle behind them, stand in mortal dread of the coming tax collector with his ever increasing tall. They have seen their burden mount three hundred and five hundred per cent in the brief space of a few years, and while reflecting over what has happened, they are even more anxious about what may happen.

"What do such tax burdens mean? They mean imperiled and forfeited homes, they mean dissatisfied and discontented homeless life, they mean less educational advantage for the coming generation, they mean separated and demoralized families, they mean economized and enterprized, and last of all, they mean thriftlessness and improvidence and moral breakdown of great and proud citizenship."

"Have we the courage to do our plain duty? Senator Borah asked if he beg the people to understand that he had not done a question of reducing the taxes. It is also this: Can we throw off this national disease of extravagance and waste?"

Congress is the center of fire in the tax cut controversy, the speaker said, but not Congress alone is divided on the issue.
"It seems to me that the administration is not presenting a united front," the senator continued. "At a time when economy is the crying need and when the morale of the forces fighting for economic relief is of the utmost moment, the demands which are coming in for a greater army and for heavy additional expenditures for military purposes should not be presented."

"As I understand, there is nearly $100,000,000 additional for military and armament purposes being asked for. I do not think the additional expenses are necessary or justifiable. The most commanding, the most powerful and the most invincible nation at this time is the nation which is economical, loyal, sound and strong, and whose citizens are prosperous, hopeful and brave."
"If we build up our economic power, give life and energy to our farmers and business men, make it possible for the average citizen to get ahead, to save something, to educate his children, we will be far more invincible than if we have great armies and a national cripple economically."
"The administration has done a fine, inspiring thing in putting out a call for tax reduction, for the curtailment of expenditures.
But nothing has discouraged the supporters more than this grabbing for public funds by the different departments of the government. Who can deny a soldier boy and ask him to share with his country the question of the matter of depression or prosperity if the proposed savings are to be eaten up by wasteful burdens?"

HIRAM JOHNSON MAKES OPENING CAMPAIGN SPEECH

Makes Bitter Attack On Republican Committee And U. S.
Foreign Policy.

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 4.—A bitter attack on the Republican national committee for its action in increasing southern delegate representation to the national convention, a big gun bombardment against the administration for supplying arms and ammunition to the Oregon forces in Mexico and a throwing of the Ohio Republican national committee, which endorsed President Coolidge for the Republican nomination, marked the opening address of Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, in his campaign for the presidential nomination here Thursday night.

Senator Johnson also made a frontal attack on the foreign policy of the administration, reiterated his Chicago speech in favor of referring to his unqualified favoring of a soldier bonus, cautioned the people to look carefully into the Mellon tax plan, although advocating a reduction in taxes in no uncertain terms, advocated help for the farmers by the lowering of freight rates and co-operative societies and finished with a scathing arraignment of those who would have the country join the world court.

"Denounced for interfering,"
"I have recently observed that certain people, including the distinguished Detroit manufacturer, have declared that we should have an election this year," said Senator Johnson, "and perhaps at all; and many politicians denounce me because I do not interfere with the policy of the occasion and have not permitted their plans for a nomination by default to be consummated. I shall not concede that collectors of revenue, United States marshals, postmasters and other office holders may themselves alone nominate candidates for the presidency."

"The leaders on the other side have demonstrated by their recent actions their contempt for the men and women who in reality, constitute the Republican party. Our opponents do not believe in direct primaries or direct legislation. I insist that the Republicans in Ohio shall have an equal right in determining the nominee for president with the Republicans in South Carolina. Obviously, our opponents do not so believe."

"Just as pollution at the source of the stream will pollute the whole stream, wrong and injustice in the selection of delegates to a national convention will permeate and taint the very convention itself."

Review Action of 1920.

Senator Johnson then reviewed the action of the 1920 Republican convention in reducing the southern delegation and said it was "a step in the right direction," as it is a basis for further reductions.
He then told of the recent action of the national committee in Washington "under the order of our opponents," in again giving them the original representation and termed it "scandalous and unfair representation."
"I speak of this outrageous unfair selection of the delegates because there is real service we can render," said the senator.

THE WILSON DAM

In Danger of Breaking And Heroic Efforts Being Made to Save It

(By The Associated Press)
SHEFFIELD, Ala., Jan. 5.— Officials and workmen at Wilson dam were making heroic efforts Friday night to prevent further damage to construction work due to a rapid rise in the Tennessee River. The big concrete mixing plant has been flooded and attention is being diverted toward the coffer dams where an overflow would seriously impair work.

Colonel Spaulding, United States engineer on the job reported tonight that while the crest of the river was not expected until tomorrow, there was small danger of the coffer dams being inundated.
Railroad tracks leading to the mixing plant have been raised as a precautionary measure.

Cattle have been swept down the river from islands above the dam and dashed against the pier.
Driftwood and other debris have also lodged against the pier. The stage of the river was reported at 20 feet today.

The new Florence, Ala., electric pumping station near here on Cypress Creek has been flooded and the old steam plant has been put back in use. The creek was backed up the river in streams in this section as swollen.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The rise in the flood waters of the Seine was slower Friday than Thursday, but the level reached during the night was sufficient to cover large areas of new territory. This compelled thousands of additional water-bound people to take safety in boats or to rely on boat services for supplies.

Many of the big apartment buildings in large towns just west of the city, such as Amboise, Col-ombes and Argenteuil have been cut off. The authorities have found it impossible to get all the inhabitants out of the buildings so a sort of omnibus-skiff service was organized to take the workers to the market and business men to their trains.

The number of people driven from their homes increased during the day to several thousand. A large number of these were removed from Alfortville, where a majority of the houses have become uninhabitable, and from along the Marne, where more than 4,000 buildings are surrounded by water.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 5.—Rivers at many points in this state are near flood stage and reports from eastern Kentucky are that land-slides in some portions of the mountains are causing delay in railway traffic. With the Ohio River in the making flood stage, 28 feet, residents in some of the low sections are said to have been warned to be prepared to move on short notice.

Washing out of the city reservoir was responsible for some shortage of fresh water in Mount Sterling. The Kentucky River was reported to be running high, a mile and one-half wide at some points.

NEW HAYEVN, Ky., Jan. 5.— The Rolling Fork River here Friday reached the highest stage it has attained in years. For two miles, the Jackson highway was washed here and Athertonville is submerged. Many tourists enroute Florida are marooned here.
Mail communication between this postoffice and nearby distribution offices is entirely cut off.
Rainfall has been continuous for 48 hours.

False Statements Get Big Sentence

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 5.— Dwight Harrison, former vice-president of R. D. Dollings Company of Ohio, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and fined $5,000 by Judge Duncan in county criminal court. He was found guilty by the jury several weeks ago of making false statements concerning the holdings of the Phoenix Portland Cement Company of Ohio, which stock was being sold by Dollings Company.

MARCH AGAINST REBELS

TAMPICO, Mexico, Jan. 5.— Five thousand government troops under the command of General Coroboa arrived here Saturday from Monterey and other points to march against the rebels in the oil region. The column will leave Sunday beginning an immediate attack upon the rebels and initiating an advance toward Tampico 90 miles south of Tampico.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Jan. 5.

—Reports received at Matamoros across the river Saturday morning by courier stated that an attempt by the rebel forces under Governor Lopez Delara of the state of Tamaulipas to make an attack on Tampico, has been defeated by the Federal troops.

SEVERAL STATES COUNTY COURT IS PLAN TO BAR THE NORMAND FILMS

Chauffeur Charged With Shooting of Denver Clubman In Court Without Counsel

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5.—All motion pictures in which Mabel Normand is one of the characters, may be barred from exhibition in Ohio, Director of Education Vernon M. Riegel intimated Friday after receiving an "urgent request" from Attorney General C. C.
Crabbs that such action be taken.

In his reply to the attorney general, Director Riegel after reciting the fact that "Jack Johnson" had been barred by the state censor department, said:
"I assure you there will be no deviation from our present policy of dealing with such pictures." "This film star has been entirely too closely connected with distasteful shooting affairs and her name brought into such disrepute as to warrant this suggestion," the attorney general wrote, Mr. Riegel declared. The barring of the Normand films, he said, would be "to the best interests of society and of the legitimate picture industry."

No Action in Gotham.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The New York moving picture commission will take no action toward barring films in which Mabel Normand appears, it was announced today.
Edna Purviance, appear, unless complaint is made, officials said Friday.

The commission, as a rule, passes on the film itself and not on individual actors and actresses.

Greer Without Counsel.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—Horace A. Greer, the slim little chauffeur who drives for Mabel Normand, film actress, appeared today without counsel before Justice J.
Walter Hanby Friday for arrangement on the charge of assaulting Courtland S. Dines, Denver oil operator, on New Year's night with a deadly weapon "with intent to kill."

It has been requested by Attorney General C. B. Griffith to bar all films in which Mabel Normand appears. The attorney general, in a letter to the board, explained that his action was taken as a result of the shooting of Courtland S. Dines at Los Angeles by Miss Normand's chauffeur. He also mentioned the case of Wm. De-mond Taylor, slain in Los Angeles two years ago.

State Bank in Texas Held Up and Robbed

(By The Associated Press)
HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 5.—The State Bank and Trust Company of San Marcos, Texas, was robbed Saturday morning at 4 o'clock by four unidentified bandits, after they had entered the telephone exchange cut all local connections and held employees at bay with pistols. Unconfirmed report says $10,000 was taken from the bank.

DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT TAX.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Democratic leaders if the house are preparing to launch a fight against a number of important provisions of the Mellon tax bill. Among them is the proposal to reduce the surtax rates to a maximum of 25 per cent net on incomes exceeding $100,000.

BROKER IS KILLED.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Edward H. Dolge, wealthy real estate broker of Mount Vernon, N. Y., died in the Lincoln hospital Saturday from pistol shot wounds suffered Friday night when attacked by two thugs on the stairway of Horn's point station of the New York, Westchester, and Boston railroad. He was 55 years old.

Extreme Weather Predicted South

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 5.—The most extreme weather of this season is predicted throughout the north-west. Heavy snows are expected for Saturday night.
The storm is apparently spreading toward the Atlantic seaboard.

PRESIDENT WILL NOT COMPROMISE ON MELLON PLAN

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—President Coolidge is opposed to any attempts by congress to alter the essential provisions of the administration's tax bill.
This statement was made Friday at the White House as the house ways and means committee continued its consideration of the measure and Republican leaders of the house redoubled their efforts to postpone action on the soldiers' bonus until something affirmative is done on tax revision.

Terse comment on the situation at the White House was to the effect that any attempt by congress to compromise the principles embodied in the plan outlined by Secretary Mellon would meet with the president's opposition. Mr. Coolidge, it was asserted, has confidence that congress can be depended upon to refuse compromises in principle and to translate into law the will of the people. The president, it was said, will make no effort to bring pressure upon individual members of congress in support of his views.

Gain From Stock Dividends

Outstanding in the developments of the ways and means committee's consideration of the draft submitted by the treasury was the rejection of an amendment to make gains from stock dividends subject to the regular income taxes. Representative Roney, Democrat, Ill., noted that the amendment which was voted down 12 to 11.
He announced later he would bring up the question again.

If the bill is not amended in this respect, gains from the sale of stock dividends after two years will be taxed only to a maximum of 12 1/2 per cent, the regular normal and surtax rates prevailing within the two-year period.

The committee pressed forward under its agreement to consider administrative features of the bill, then to determine whether a bonus bill should be passed, and finally to act on proposed changes in tax rates.

The Republican steering committee of the house, however, in discussing the legislative program seemed inclined to postpone a showdown on the bonus, and leaders got in touch with the Republican former service men who are demanding a party conference next Thursday on the question with a view to having them alter their plans.

Representative Longworth, the Republican leader, declared he favored postponement of the conference until the ways and means committee had "ample opportunity to act on the tax bill including provision proposing changes in rates. He expressed confidence that those in favor of calling the Republican conference would be inclined to give the committee a chance to pass on the provisions of the bill without forcing a report of bonus legislation.

Representatives who have been circulating petitions for the conference, among them Representative Johnston of South Dakota, and Fitzgerald of Ohio, said they had more than enough names to insure the calling of a conference.
The petitions, they said, had not been filed, however, and it might be decided to give the ways and means committee "a reasonable" time in which to report a bonus bill.

A number of Republican house members who are veterans, they declared, are determined that a conference shall be held for the threshing out of the bonus question.

Pulitzer Building Endangered By Fire

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Flames, starting from a short circuit in the press room of the New York World in the basement of the Pulitzer building Friday night shot up an elevator shaft to the top of the 14 story building which forced a general evacuation of the composing rooms in the upper stories.
Working under the difficulty of having to draw lines of hose up stairs firemen controlled the fire in an hour and employees of the Newspaper returned to their work.

COST OF CITY GOVERNMENT LITTLE PER CAP

BASED ON POPULATION OF 8,000

NICE COMPARISON

With Other Cities Shows Favorably For Sanford's Administration

The per capita cost of running the city government of Sanford for the fiscal year beginning Oct.
1, 1923 and ending Oct. 1, 1924, will be $14.68, according to figures made public Saturday.

The cost is based on an estimated population of 8,000. The total expense of running the city government for the fiscal year amounts to $117,441.98, it was announced.

It is interesting to compare the per capita cost of Sanford with that of other cities in this state.
St. Petersburg has a per capita cost of 18.26 and Orlando $18.50, according to figures recently given out. Other cities have given out the following figures: Tarpon Springs, $15.87; Sebring, $9.82; Sarasota, $13.27; Tampa, $14.46; Lakeland, $15.25; Plant City, $9-49; Fort Myers $11.13; Estero-town, $8.56 and Barbours, $7.10.

This it may be seen that Sanford has a lower per capita cost than Lakeland, St. Petersburg and Tarpon Springs and pays only 25 cents more than does Orlando.
Other cities mentioned above are much smaller cities or do not include in the expenses of the city that Sanford does.

The budget per capita means the amount that each year per person. This does not necessarily mean that a large amount is alarming, it is said. It is based upon what each person is receiving in return.
The per capita cost of Sanford is somewhat larger than other cities because it gives garbage collection free, maintains parks, repairs pavements, maintains a hospital, and makes donations to the hospital, and has a large publicity fund. All of this is in addition to the regular expenses of the several departments which are included under the budget and figured in the per capita cost.

For the reasons given above, for the additional things that this city government provides free that other cities do not, is the reason the per capita cost is high. It was pointed out that the city has a right to feel justly proud of the business-like methods by which the city government is maintained.

AT THE MILANE.
 Mark Twain's "The Prince and the Pauper" comes to the Milane Theatre Friday, and will be found to justify the high praise bestowed on it by all the New York critics. It is brilliant with picturesque scenes of London in the time of Henry VIII. They range from thieves' dens to the pomp and pageantry of cathedral and castle as well as beetle-browed houses and narrow streets swarming with a colorful mob. The marvel of it all is that these atmospheric pictures of Sixteenth Century England should have been recreated in a studio and, most remarkable of all is that the roles of Tom Cobby, the beggar boy, and the young Prince of Wales should be played—and played superbly—by a Polish boy, Tibi Lubin.

As for the production itself, it is a magnificent one, with hundreds of assisting players and a dozen principals looking like old portraits stepped out of their frames. The royal palace, both its exterior grandeur and its interior magnificence, is faithfully reproduced; and the eye never tires of its manifold beauties.

VALDEZ GRILL CLOSED.
 The grill of the Valdez Hotel has been closed for several weeks while extensive repairs and alterations will be made, it was announced Thursday.

ARREST ALLEGED AUTO THEIF.
 Officers Tomlinson and Beckwith Thursday arrested a man giving his name as Francis Carley as a suspicious character. An Overland sedan which Carley was driving was also held pending word received from the chief of police at Huntington, N. Y.

A telegram received later in the day said hold Carley for the alleged theft of the car. Officers from Huntington will arrive in a few days, it is said, to carry Carley back to New York. According to the police, Carley is said to have stolen the car on December 10, 1923 and made his way to this state. When arrested at Sanford Avenue and Twelfth Street, Carley was accompanied by a woman giving her name as Carrie Gabbott. Carley is being held in the city jail. The woman was not implicated in the case.

PROPOSED BILL MEANS MUCH TO ISLAND OF HAITI

PORT-AU-PRINCE, HAITI, Jan. 4. (A. P.)—The Haitian agricultural bill, now pending before the Council of State, is regarded by its proponents as a most important step in the proposal to develop Haiti for the Haitians. Its passage, it is declared will mark the beginning of a new era in the history of this republic.

The main purpose of the measure is the education of the people in the field of agriculture, and the safeguarding of the natural resources of the island. This instruction will begin in the rural districts and prepare students for admission to the Polytechnic Institute in Port-au-Prince. Graduates will be well versed in modern agricultural methods, and capable of going back to the country districts to instruct the people in improved ways of caring for stock and crops. Also they will be able to serve private enterprises as agricultural experts.

In addition to educational work, the new bill provides for agricultural research, the installation of a quarantine system, and a forestry department. Research will be along the lines of climatic and geological conditions and the diseases of plants and animals. The quarantine service will control the importation of plants and animals, from the standpoint of the introduction of disease, and the forestry branch will seek to control the wastage in lumbering and forest fires, and probably embark on reforestation.

There is to be a director general of the new agricultural bureau, who probably will be Dr. George F. Freeman, an American expert on tropical agriculture.

The expense of the new bureau will be met by a budgetary allotment, voted for this purpose by the Haitian government. This will be augmented by communal funds, special credits, the sale of surplus stock from the government farms, and contribution from private concerns for the conducting of specified work.

How to Take Part in Referendum On Bok Peace Award

Travelers will not be prevented from voting in the "referendum" on the American Peace Award, beginning January 7th, because of any section laws forbidding absentee voting. Thousands of hotels throughout the country, varying from the largest metropolitan hotels to village inns, are giving an opportunity to vote wherever they are. This week orders have been coming rapidly to the offices of the Peace Award at 342 Madison Avenue from hotels all over the country. Hundreds of thousands have been ordered by hotel managers for their clients, with at least one ballot box for every hotel and in many cases at least an additional box for the employees of the hotel.

The matter of participation in the "referendum" was commended to the hotels in a letter from General Kincaid of the United Hotels-Company. "It is a pleasure for the United Hotels-Company to cooperate with the American Peace Award in conducting a popular referendum on the successful peace plan. I believe (and Mr. Dudley, President of the American Hotel Association, agrees with me) that the hotels of the country, occupying as they do an unique position in respect to the public, should more largely participate in movements of this kind, which have as their aim the advancement of the public. Perhaps no other industry, including only the newspapers, theatres, so closely maintains the public, and it is very gratifying to us to feel that the public confidence in us and in our geographical location and her fine shipping facilities made this city the logical place for our plant," the Valdez and expect to remain Mr. and Mrs. McCracken are at in the city for a month or two until the new plant begins operation.

Several weeks ago many citizens of the city were invited to see a motion picture at the Milane showing the process of the manufacture of the McCracken type of pipe. A folder issued by the concern describes it as follows:

"The McCracken Concrete Sewer Pipe Machine is the only machine that makes a concrete bell and sewer pipe without the use of pallets to leave under the pipe until they are cured. This not only saves an investment of several thousand dollars for pallets, but saves the labor of three or four extra men to handle the pallets in the plant.

"It is also the only machine that makes a complete pipe in one operation, an all working parts are perfectly timed so that different parts of the machine do not have to be started and stopped to make different parts of the pipe. This means speed of production and uniform quality.

"It is also the only machine that glazes the inner surface of the bell the same as the inner surface of the pipe, which is absolutely necessary to secure a water tight pipe line.

"On all sizes up to and including 16 inches, the machine operates continuously, and it not even stopped between pipe. The pipes are made bell end down and turned over in the carts as they leave the machine and stand on the curing floor on the pipe end with the bell end up. The material is packed so hard that the jackets are removed immediately. On the smaller sizes; six jackets and three cars will make as high as three pipe per minute.

"With our system of making the bells the machine can be set to pack the material as hard as desired. This operation is automatic and is not controlled by the operator, so that every bell is made just alike. The time required to make the bell is from five to seven seconds, depending upon the diameter of the pipe.

"The material is automatically measured and delivered by machine to make each pipe without requiring any attention from the operator, which not only means speed of production, but also uniform quality.

"All pipe six inches to 24 inches in diameter, are made 30 inches long, and we guarantee an average capacity of 30 tons per day. Some of our customers are averaging 45 tons per day.

"McCracken pipes are meeting the requirements of the American Society for Testing Materials Specifications in every particular in every plant where they are in use. The finish and appearance of the pipe has never been equalled. This is a very important factor in meeting competition.

"First you must have quality to meet the test requirement; second, a smooth, clean, straight pipe, and third, speed of production, which means lower costs. These are accomplished by a smooth, steady operation requiring no stops between pipe or in making any part of pipe.

"No other system of making sewer pipe either clay or concrete can compete with an up-to-date plant, properly located, using McCracken Concrete Sewer Pipe Machine."

the committee, "so far as future transactions are concerned would be entirely ineffective since it could very easily be avoided. If such an amendment were enacted, corporations instead of declaring stock dividends could reorganize, the sole effect of the reorganization being an increase in the capital stock of the corporation. Such a reorganization, since it would increase the capital stock of the corporation would accomplish the same result, in substance, as a stock dividend. The movement, however, would not exclude from the capital gain section the gain realized from the sale of stock of the new corporation.

Declaring that the proposed amendment would discriminate unfairly between those corporations which have capitalized their earnings by means of stock dividends and those which have not, Mr. Gregg said that "if it is desired to tax the gain from the sale of stock received as a stock dividend at the full rates, it would seem to be logical to tax the gain from the sale of stock in the same manner."

Action Inconsistent.
 "Such action," he added, "however, would be entirely inconsistent with the theory and principle of the capital gain section, which penalize and would materially discourage investments in stocks."

Among the provisions of the new bill which will not be considered by the committee until it disposes of the bonus question, are those defining earned income and proposing a community property tax. A week or more, committee members said, will be required to complete their study of the administrative sections.

One of the members of the committee, Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, who obtained unanimous consent Thursday to address the house Monday on the changes he believes should be made in the revenue law, made public a letter he had written Secretary Mellon on the question of tax exempt securities.

Would Amend Tax Income Law.
 In his letter Mr. Frear, who is one of the leaders in the insurgent bloc, announced his intention of introducing a bill which, he said, would "reach tax law securities." He proposes an amendment to the income tax law which would stipulate that "the term taxable incomes from whatever source derived should include net incomes received from state and municipal securities and shall be laid and collected the same as all other taxes."

Stipulation also is made that the amendment "shall not be held unconstitutional or void by the supreme court without the concurrence of at least one of the judges and shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding any decision by an inferior court."

Ratification of a constitutional amendment prohibiting further issuance of tax exempt securities, Mr. Frear declared, would at best require several years, and he expressed the opinion that the situation could be met satisfactorily with his proposal.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

A Model for All Sons and Daughters

BY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

 Text of Today's Bible Talk By Mr. Bryan.

(Genesis 47:1-12)
 Then Joseph came and told Pharaoh and said, My father and my brethren, and their flock, and their herds and all that they have are come out of the land of Canaan, and behold, they are in the land of Goshen.
 And he took some of his brethren, seven men, and presented them to Pharaoh.
 And Pharaoh said unto his brethren, What is your occupation?
 They said unto Pharaoh, Thy servants are shepherds, both we and our fathers.
 They said moreover unto Pharaoh, For to sojourn in the land we come; for thy servants have no pasture for their flocks, for the famine is sore in the land of Canaan; now therefore, we pray thee, let thy servants dwell in the land of Goshen.
 And Pharaoh spoke unto Joseph, saying, Thy father and thy brethren are come unto thee:
 The land of Egypt is before thee; in the best of the land make thy father and thy brethren dwell; and if thou knowest any men of activity among them, then make them rulers over my cattle.
 And Joseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharaoh; and Jacob blessed Pharaoh.
 And Pharaoh said unto Jacob, How old art thou?
 And Jacob said unto Pharaoh, The days of the years of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years; few and evil have the days of the years of my life been, and have not attained unto the days of the years of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage.
 And Jacob blessed Pharaoh, and went out from before Pharaoh.
 And Joseph placed his father and his brethren, and gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, in the land of Rameses, as Pharaoh had commanded.
 And Joseph nourished his father, and all his father's household, with bread, according to their families.

By WILLIAM J. BRYAN.
 In a former Bible Talk we studied the fascinating story of the dreamer, Joseph, and traced his dramatic career, beginning with him as a favored son of the patriarch, Jacob, following him to Dothan, to Egypt and to the prison, and leaving him seated by the side of Pharaoh—a supreme illustration of Providential care.

 Today we shall consider him as a dutiful son and a considerate brother, sharing with his family the benefits of the high position to which he had attained. He is one of the new Bible characters of whom no discreditable thought or act is recorded.

Then Joseph came and told Pharaoh, and said, My father and my brethren, and their flocks, and their herds, and all that they have are come out of the land of Canaan! and behold, they are in the land of Goshen." Mankind has not changed much in thirty-six hundred years. The verse above quoted might have been paraphrased thousands of times to describe the migration of families.

A son has crossed the Atlantic made a home in North or South America, and then brought his parents, his brothers and his sisters to share his improved lot in a new country. Or a son has gone from the settled part of the United States to the frontier, cleared a place in the woods or plowed a field on the prairie, or reclaimed an arid section or drained a swamp, and then reunited his family to himself.

 But no so frequently has the son risen to such a lofty prominence, Joseph, however, was not puffed up with a false pride; success did not wear him away from the more humble members of his family. He had reason enough to be resentful towards most of his brethren, had his heart been one that cherished revenge. Were they not jealous of him when he was but a boy? Did they not plot to kill him? And did they not sell him into bondage and almost break the heart of his grief-stricken father?

If they ever repented and tried to find him, we have no record of it. There is no suggestion that their conscience smote them or touched their hearts. It was necessity, not remorse, that took them down into Egypt—consideration for their stomachs, and not a yearning for their mistreated brother.

But Joseph not only harbored no ill will against them, but he took pains to quiet any heart burnings. He told them that it was God's work and that they were merely instruments in the hands of the Almighty, although unconscious of the fact that they were working out a divine plan. And the father, how tenderly he was treated by his beloved son. It is a wonderful picture that is presented in our lesson text.

Joseph first took five of his brethren and presented them to Pharaoh. They differed greatly among themselves and, as that difference was probably manifested in the expression upon their faces, he doubtless selected the five who were most presentable. Old-New Questions.
 The usual questions were asked. Verse three reads as if it were written this very day: "What is your occupation?" "Thy servants are shepherds, both we and our fathers." Then follows the request for permission to dwell in the land of Goshen. Pharaoh's answer is proof of the splendid impression that Joseph had made:

"The land of Egypt is before thee; in the best of the land make thy father and thy brethren dwell."
 He went farther and asked Joseph to give "any able men among them" the care of Pharaoh's own cattle.
 God's law of rewards can be stated in a few words: Go work, and in proportion to your industry and your intelligence, so shall be your reward. That is the basis of all human calculations, except where the law is suppressed by force, evaded by cunning, or suspended by chance. That we are entitled to draw from society in proportion to service rendered to society is the rule, and yet chance plays a part in every life.

Two persons, plant the crops and till the soil; one is blessed with a seasonable summer and a full crop, while the other is visited by drought or flood or frost and loses his labor. Two prospect in the mountains; one finds the precious metals and becomes rich, the other covers the slopes with holes in the earth. Two start out in search of oil; one is rewarded with a gusher, the other sinks his fortune in a dry well.

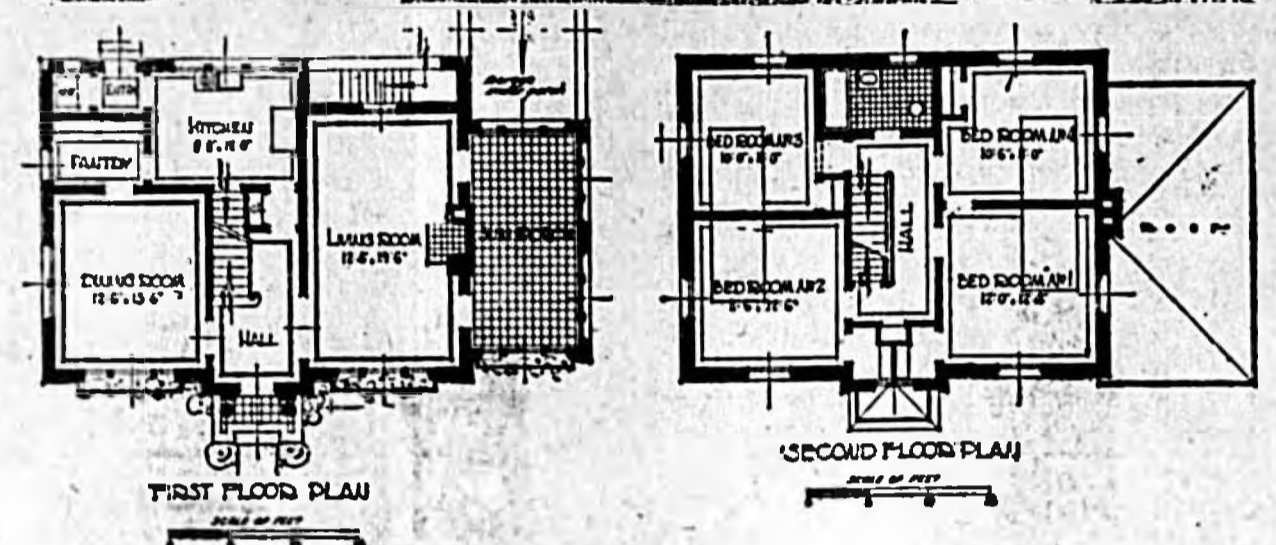

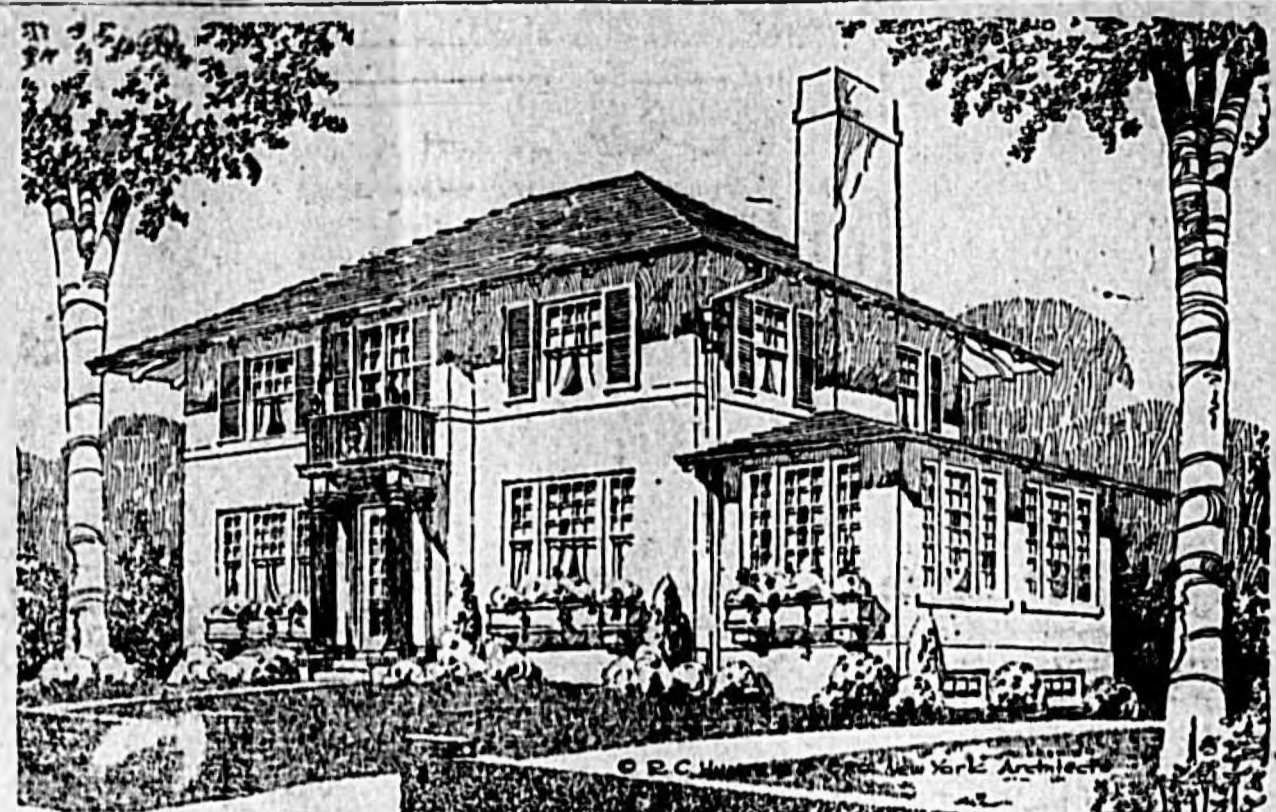

Chances of Companionship.
 Besides the chances, good and bad, that come in our dealings with inanimate things, there are still greater chances that come in companionship with human beings. Sometimes one is killed by a stray shot, intended for some one else; in war millions of innocent people lose their lives because of the sins of associates or because of the greed or ambition of rulers of other nations.

Then one sometimes suffers by the mistakes of friends or shares the success of chance acquaintances. Still more frequently one is drawn into good fortune by relationships to those who have been fortunate, brothers and friends, not to speak of the blessings that come by inheritance from righteous ancestors and the evils that are visited upon their descendants because of the sins of forefathers.

In the lesson for today we have blessings ascending instead of descending and blessings extended to those who were personally undeserving, as man measures deserts. From a larger view, Joseph was simply distributing blessings that came to him from the Almighty and he was sharing them with those whose even intentions were overruled for good, so that men who were at heart murderers became actors in the plan that exalted the brother whom they would have put to death.

What wonderful surprises await us in the future life when we are in a position to see, from beginning to end, the unfolding scheme of events in which we play our little part!
 A Beautiful Word Painting.
 But to return to Joseph and his father: "And Joseph brought in Jacob, his father, and set him before Pharaoh; and Jacob blessed Pharaoh."
 The patriarch, obscure when measured by human standards but mighty in future influence than the monarch before whom he bowed, blessed the ruler of Egypt? Then follows one of the most beautiful of the many word paintings of the Bible.

And Pharaoh said unto Jacob: How old art thou?
 "And Jacob said unto Pharaoh: The days of the years of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years; few and evil have the days of the years of my life been, and have not attained unto the days of the years of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage."
 We can forgive the deception that Jacob practiced when he bought a birthright which he, even in his youth, appreciated, from a twin brother who seemed indifferent to its value—he had been forgiven by Esau; we can even forgive the artifice with which he enlarged his flocks at the expense of an unjust father-in-law who had cheated him in the vital matter of marriage. Esau could hardly have presented the venerable appearance that Jacob did, if he have spoken with the same beautiful reverence.
 "And Joseph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his father's household with bread, according to their families."
 A Moral Badly Needed.
 The moral to be drawn from the son's devotion to the father and his tender care for the latter in his old age is one which is badly needed today.

 (House A-60)

For those who like a plain substantial house, something with a suggestion of dignity and permanence, here is one that will appeal.
 The house is designed to be built of hollow tile with stucco finish. The hipped roof with broad overhanging eaves give good weather protection.
 The group windows with their flower boxes and the well designed entrance give interest to the exterior and offer a pleasing contrast with the plain stucco walls.
 A feature of this house is the garage which is placed under the living porch. A concrete incline leads down from the grade in the rear to the garage floor which is at the same level as the cellar floor. A fireproof door connects the garage with the cellar thus making the car accessible without going out of doors.
 The garage has complete water, lighting and sewer service, all connected to the house supplies at a very slight cost.
 The reinforced concrete floor of the living porch forms a fireproof roof for the garage. In the living porch a quarry tile floor is laid over the concrete. The living porch has been made another room by completely enclosing the openings with sash and screens, and a room that proves to be the most popular one in the house.
 The living room, dining room, kitchen and pantry are all well arranged.
 On the second floor are four corner bedrooms, each with a large closet, a bath room and a linen closet.
 A stairway leads to the attic where good storage space is provided.
 The laundry and other utility rooms are in the cellar.
 Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-60.

the ingratitude of the children themselves, sometimes to those who have been brought into the family by marriage, but whatever the cause, it is a sin to be deplored and a condition to be provided against as far as possible.
 Early in the practice of law, I was convinced by instances that it is not safe for parents to distribute all they have and rely entirely upon the affection of their children and children's children. I have seen such old persons in poor houses and among strangers at the very time when they most needed but tenderness that only filial love can prompt.
 During my senior year in college, each member of my class in political economy was asked to prepare a thesis on "Poverty, Its Causes and Its Remedy." During the Christmas vacation I went out to the county poor farm to gather information on the subject.
 The first man whom I met was a bachelor brother of one of the wealthiest citizens of the county, and the second man was also a bachelor. I began to wonder if celibacy might not be a cause of pauperism; with no one dependent upon him, the bachelor does not feel the need of making provision for the future and reaches old age with nothing laid up for the days when infirmity paralyzes the strength.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS BY CONDOR

BRYAN'S LESSON

But the third inmate interviewed called me back from that line of philosophizing. He had twenty-six children; he told me that his fourth wife had left him, and he entered the poor house. I concluded that there must be some golden meaning between these two extremes. But think of it—a man with twenty-six children in the poor house!

When I returned to Miami this fall, after an absence of two months, I found, in the correspondence that has poured in upon me for more than a quarter of a century, two letters; one was from a woman eighty years old, who wrote of the destitution of herself and her husband, in spite of the fact that they had fifteen children.

Another man, near the end of life, complained that he could obtain no answer from letters written to a son to whom he had given as high an education as the country afforded. During the twenty years that was publishing a paper, I had frequent appeals from parents to assist them in finding wandering sons. If one person is brought into contact with so many illustrations of filial ingratitude, the total number in the nation must be very large.

On the other hand, I know of a multitude of cases of constant, thoughtful and affectionate care for the aged, often at a greater sacrifice than Joseph was required to make. I am sure that the children in these cases derived as much joy from their labor of love as the parents on whom the attention was bestowed.

The Wisdom of God's Plans.

The wisdom of God's plans impresses us more and more as our observations are extended with our years. Nowhere is this wisdom more beautifully manifested than in the reciprocal duties that fall to parent and child. In the course of nature, the parent sacrifices for the child, laboring, the mother directly and the father indirectly, to lead it safely through the perils of childhood and the dangers of youth, up to the time when it can assume the responsibilities that accompany maturity.

Then, after a period of happy companionship, the burden shifts from the shoulders of the parent to the shoulders of the child, and the latter is happy—or should be —to repay a debt of gratitude by making pleasant the parents' path from the time when the shadows begin to lengthen to the setting of life's sun. How is it possible for one to doubt the infinite wisdom and the infinite love of the Great-One who has thus woven our lives together and converted our very interdependence into a beautiful harmony?

OATS RANK HIGH AS POULTRY FOOD

By Seth W. Shoemaker, Director School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

Good oats rank next to wheat as a poultry food, the only objection to them being the husk or husks which are indigestible.

Light weight oats swell and clog in the crop and much energy is expended by the fowl in digesting them. For this reason hulled oats are preferable for feeding poultry. If these are not obtainable, heavy weight oats should be used and cats is also a good poultry feed.

In weight and in other indications of value, whole oats vary greatly. Hence, it is extremely difficult to determine their value by their appearance.

Some oats are two-fifths husk, which are of no value as food.
 The weight of oats varies from 25 to 50 pounds per bushel. Light weight oats are unfit for fowls, while heavy oats with full plump kernels are one of the best poultry feeds.

Some of the by-products of the manufacture of oat cereals are used for poultry feeds. Oat hulls is one of the principal by-products, but should not be used as a poultry feed, as they are worth little more than sawdust. Ground oat hulls are liberally used as an adulterant in some poultry feeds to lessen the cost of the mixture.
 The presence of these adulterants may lessen the value of the feed so as to make it almost useless.

Oat middlings and hulled oats are two of the best preparations made from oats for the use of fowls. Oat middlings is particularly good for young fowls or chicks.

All contracts must be signed and executed not later than March 1, 1924, after which the governor will issue a proclamation naming the books and the prices, which the publishers are required to designate in each volume sold.

Celery Shipments Increased 30 Per Cent in Last Year

Market Reports On Celery Were Issued From Sanford Office, January 22-April 19, 1923.

The 1923 celery deal in Florida was considered one of the most satisfactory in recent years, so far as the financial returns to the growers were concerned, despite the fact that all former records of acreage and production were broken.
 The acreage for the state was estimated at 3,176 acres compared with 2,915 acres in 1922.
 Total shipments amounted to 6, 321 cars, a gain of 30 per cent over the previous season, when the number of cars shipped amounted to 4,897.

Shipping Sections.

There are two distinct shipping sections of celery in Florida. The more important of the two is the Sanford and 1,650 from Manatee part of the state; the other is the Manatee district, in the western part of the state, which produced about 4,600 cars originated from Manatee and 1,000 from Manatee.
 The celery raising land can be said to be fairly well confined to these two sections and little attempt, if any, is made to raise it in other parts of the state.

Yield, Varieties, Quality.

The estimated yield per acre for 1923 was about the same as in 1922, which was 650 crates. The chief varieties raised are the Golden Self-Blanching, New French Strain and the Pearly White.
 Nearly one-half of the crop this season consisted of "French Strain" celery, properly known as the "New French Strain." This was grown from seed bought for an improved strain of the Golden Self-Blanching variety and produced celery that was much taller than the older strains. The quality and condition of much of the celery on the whole, however, was not very satisfactory. During the early part of the season, a large portion of the new strain of celery, on account of its vigorous growth, was cut and shipped while still in an immature stage. Exceptionally warm weather and a lack of rain were responsible for a severe attack of blight during the middle of the season, and further damage was suffered later from insect injury. Despite efforts to control losses from these sources much of the remainder of the crop was rendered unfit for shipment.

Sanford F. O. B. Prices.
 A low range of prices prevailed throughout the greater part of the season and the primary cause can be laid to the heavy acreage and production. Opening 1. o. b. scales on usual terms at Sanford brought $2.25-$2.50 per 10-inch crate, while the previous year the market opened at $3-$3.50. Under the pressure of increasing shipments and a very slow demand, prices gradually weakened until February 9, when the market held about steady at $1.50-$1.75. For about a month there was no change in prices, but on March 12 the market again set in for a long gradual decline in price which continued until the middle of April. Quotations for good stock on April 11 ranged from $1.25-$1.50 and it was not until the close of the season, during the month of May, that the C. O. B. market showed any return of strength. Influenced by the very low railings and the scarcity of good stock at that time, however, a few sales were reported as high as $1.75 per crate.

Receiving Markets.
 As is shown by a study of the table of unloads given below, New York and Chicago were the two principal receiving markets of Florida celery this season. From January, 1923, to April 21, 1923, New York received 989 cars of celery and Chicago took 686. Most of the early receipts arriving on the markets were immature and the fact that California celery was also arriving in liberal supply served to keep opening prices at low levels.

New York Market.
 On January 23 best stock in New York City was quoted mostly at $2.75-$3 per crate of 4-6 dozen stalks, with well blanched selling as high as $3.75. During the same period last year, Florida celery in New York sold at $4-$5. Quotations on best stock continued at $2.25-$3 until February 5, when prices declined to $2-$2.25. The market strengthened somewhat a week later with quotations ranging generally $2.50-$3.25 and held there until March 19, when prices dropped to $2-$2.75. On April 2 the market recovered and sales as high as $3 were recorded. From this point on the arrivals grew light and there was a stronger feeling on the market. Closing prices in New York brought as Chicago Market.

 Trading in Chicago showed a more consistent character than was the case in most other cities. Competition of California celery and increasing receipts from Florida caused prices to decline gradually from the opening range to $2.50-$3.25 until the week of February 26 when quotations ranged $2.25-$3. For a short time thereafter a slightly better feeling was evident and it lasted until the week of March 19. Heavy arrivals and an accumulation of poor stock about that time, however, caused prices to decline again, and a level of $2-$2.75 was reached on April 10.

KIPKE COMPLETES ENVIABLE CAREER IN SPRING OF 1924

Michigan Star Football Player Won Place On All-American In 1922 Season.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 5.—Harry Kipke, one of Coach Yost's chosen All-American football men, completes his University of Michigan athletic career next spring with the close of the baseball season.

Kipke came to Michigan from Lansing, Mich., where he was considered one of the intercollegiate gridiron marvels of the time. In his senior year there he led his team to a state high school title. He figured also in another state title, when the Lansing baseball team, on which he played, won the high school championship. Kipke won 13 letters in various prep school sports.

Kipke did not play freshman football at Michigan which he entered in the fall of 1920. Coaches did not care to take chances of his being injured, and he applied himself to his studies. During his entire college career he has always maintained scholarship proficiency.

In 1921 Kipke was a candidate for the team, and it was early apparent he would win a regular place in the back-field. When the season started he was on the team, and has remained there ever since. Injuries marred Kipke's first year on the gridiron, and it was in his junior year that he starred and was selected by Walter Camp as an All-American half back.

Kipke is one of the fastest men on the back field squad, and looks much better on the court that year than last. He is an outfielder in baseball. It is considered probable that he will break all records for winning letters before he graduates. Already he possesses three football "M.'s" and two each in baseball and basketball. He is expected to win additional letters in both latter sports this winter and spring, bringing his total to nine "M.'s."

Nell Snow, a famous athlete of years ago, surpassed this mark, but at that time students were permitted to compete four years, instead of three.

STUDENTS NEED PRACTICAL SIDE DEAN DECLARES

Demonstration Practice School Should Be Established For Benefit of Students

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 4.—The greatest professional need of any state in a full supply of well-trained school teachers, declares Nathaniel M. Salley, dean of the School of Education and Normal School at the Florida State College for Women, in addressing the need of a great demonstration practice school where the young women of the state may gain actual practice in dealing with school room problems.

That this is true is indicated in the rapid growth of the School of Education at F. S. C., Dean Salley pointed out, in quoting figures to show that during the last year the growth was 75 per cent. "This shows a very greatly increased interest in professional training," he said, adding that "this is not a sudden growth of a year, however, for the growth of the School of Education for the year 1922-23 over the year 1921-22 was no less than it has been this year."

"This shows a demand from the state of Florida that her daughters who are going to be teachers shall have every modern convenience for adequate training for their profession of such great responsibility," the Dean continued. "This means that since our state has built a School of Education—that is, a teachers' college—at the F. S. C. W. in Tallahassee, she needs to take the next step and provide the most modern and most up-to-date practice school for the actual practice of teaching by the students of education before they go out to practice on children generally. A great medical college needs a great hospital in which medical students may be trained in the actual practice of medicine, a law school needs a real court for the actual practice of law by law students, and so consistently the greatest vital need of a School of Education, a college for teachers, is a great practice school in which young students of the profession of teaching may be guided and to a certain extent perfected in the science and art of teaching before

Missouri Valley Conference Team May Play Gators

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 5.—The "Fighting Gators" of 1924 may meet one of the Missouri valley conference eleven on Thanksgiving Day either in Jacksonville or Gainesville, Athletic Director James L. White indicated yesterday in announcing a re-arrangement of the schedule for next season.

The cancellation of the game with Louisiana State; the failure to arrange a game with Kentucky and the changing of Mississippi Aggie to November 22nd, leaves the dates on November 1st and Thanksgiving open.

Director White stated that he would like to bring one of the big games to Gainesville for "Homecoming Day" and was determined that both games be played in Florida. It was explained that the cancellation of the L. S. U. game was made necessary because that eleven had previously scheduled a game with Arkansas.

Although no definite contract has been entered into, negotiations are under way for a game with one of the "Big Ten" eleven which will give Florida an excellent opportunity to do its stuff on "Turkey Day."

The opening game to be played in Gainesville has been definitely booked with Southern College on October 31st, despite the early belief that Stetson would be played. It is possible that in event the November 1 date is not filled with a conference team, either Stetson or Rollins will be met.

The Gators were paid an unusual high tribute by St. Louis University who desired them to journey to the Mississippi Region on Thanksgiving Day for the consideration of $10,000 but the offer had to be rejected because of the heavy traveling schedule already arranged.

It was impossible to book the Kentucky game for 1924 but Director White announced that contracts were being entered into for 1925.

It is understood that an indefinite contract had been entered into between Florida and the Mississippi Aggies to make their meeting an annual affair and that Tulane has been definitely booked for 1927.

The schedule as it now stands is as follows:

- Sept. 27—Florida Freshmen.
- Oct. 4—Southern College at Gainesville.
- Oct. 11—Georgia Tech at Atlanta.
- Oct. 18—Wake Forest at Tampa.
- Oct. 25—University of Texas at Austin, Texas.
- Nov. 1—Open.
- Nov. 8—Army at West Point.
- Nov. 15—Mercer at Macon.
- Nov. 22—Mississippi A. and M. Nov. 27—(open) Thanksgiving; (place undecided).
- Dec. 6—Washington and Lee at Jacksonville.

Spanish Queen Takes Part In A Concert

ROME, Jan. 4.—Queen Victoria of Spain, was the central figure in an impromptu concert held aboard the Spanish battleship "Jaime Prieto" just before the Royal party left Naples on their return to Spain. The King and Queen of Spain lunched aboard the battleship with the Duke of Aosta, the Duke of Pistoia, General Primo de Rivera and others, when someone expressed a wish to hear the crew sing.

An impromptu concert was arranged and both the King and Queen of Spain joined in several choruses. Queen Victoria was invited to sing, and having a fine contralto voice she smilingly obliged, much to the gratification of the assembled guests and crew. Encores were demanded and given and Her Majesty's solos proved the "star" turn of the entertainment.

they are sent out to teach in regular public school positions.

Our plan is to call this practice school The Florida Community School of the Florida State College for Women, Dean Salley continued. "An adequate building of the most modern type built around a great court with teachers and equipment equal to the best to be found anywhere should be provided."

"A great demonstration practice school will be the greatest investment the state can make in meeting the public school needs of the state," he concluded.

Textbooks To Be Picked Strictly On Their Merits

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 4.—Textbooks for Florida's primary schools for the eight-year period beginning next July 1, will be selected strictly on merit, without consideration as to the price. At least such will be the verdict of the subcommission whose recommendations will be opened on February 5, by the full commission which is composed of the same members of the cabinet that make up the Board of Commissioners of State Institutions.

The subcommission has completed its work of examining samples submitted by the publishers, and turned over the sealed report to W. S. Cawthon, secretary of the Book Commission, in whose care it remains sealed until the date of the opening.

Terms of contracts that will be signed with the publishers will provide, however, that prices paid by the state of Florida for its school books will be as low as those paid by any other state in the union. The law governing the selection of books carries the provision that each "contract prepared and executed shall provide that when the life of such contract be extended for any other state of the United States at a lower contract retail price fixed by the publisher than is designated in such contract for such book or books, the same contract retail price fixed by the publisher shall immediately become the price of such book or books in the state of Florida."

Each company contracted with is required to furnish a bond not to exceed $10,000 which "may be sued on from time to time until the full amount shall be recovered" conditioned "for the faithful, honest and exact performance of each contract, in any guaranty company authorized to do business in the state of Florida."

Don't fall to be there! Where? Milane theatre, Sunday night. It will profit you, Free. No collection.

What's the News?

When Columbus and his caravels returned from the New World, the first question shouted from the shore was, "What's the news?"

That's always the question of paramount importance. Years ago folks asked it of the post rider, the soldier returned from the wars, the man who had been down to the settlements, or the neighbor back from the general store.

Today, you find the answer in your newspaper. Through the newspapers the news of the world and of the community quickly becomes public knowledge. And remember this—it takes two kinds of news to make a modern paper complete.

The first tells of happenings near and far—of fires sports, elections, accidents, marriages, deaths, great men, great events.

The second tells of things you eat, wear and use—things you buy, things being sold to your friends and neighbors. This news is advertising.

It's just as important to keep up-to-date on the advertising in this paper as it is to read about what's doing in the world of events.

Advertising is an essential news service. It is distinctly to your advantage to be guided by it.

FOR WORKING WOMEN

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by Union Pharmacy.
