

For Dining Drama Plus

To create a dramatic setting for dining that will be the talk of all your friends, think pale furniture against dark walls and floors.

For an entirely new "look" that will be an expression of your own personality, today's homemaker doesn't have to settle for brown woodtone furniture. Manufacturers are bringing out any number of exciting custom color finishes — antiqued off-whites that have subtle suggestions of blue, shrimp, avocado, charcoal or gold accenting the mod-

Highlight seersuckers. That fabric is part of the natural, classic trend that also capitalizes on the surface interest of this classic, easy care fabric.

Some examples:

- A seersucker plaid in bright tones of yellow, pumpkin and deep green. It's a 50-50 blend of cotton and polyesters.
- Even knits masquerade as seersuckers. A manufacturer whips up this airy ripple knit of polyester in a variety of solid colors including sweet potato.
- A leading designer combines the seersucker with stripes of delicate, embroidery-like jacquard. It's a white polyester and cotton blend, with pastel flowers including this soft, salmon pink.
- Seersucker texture takes on the weight and colorings of denim. A striped example, a blend of polyester and cotton, features rich, almost Mexican tones of yam, plum, amethyst and raspberry.
- And finally, the classic white seersucker, in polyester and cotton gains an added dimension with prints. The cross-stitch sampler design is printed in several colors including deep plum.

Gem-Laden Auto Stolen & Found

By GARY TAYLOR

"They obviously had a key!" These were the words of Sgt. Don Ellis, of the Orange County sheriff's department, as he met with newsmen on the scene of the recovered stolen car. "They didn't even leave the spare tire."

It was also learned that the burglar alarms... which were installed on the trunk, windows, doors and hood of the $10,000 auto... did work for the police.

The police said a key was needed to steal the car and its contents. Police personnel manned the Herndon Ambulance helicopter and seven minutes after they were airborne spotted the missing vehicle.

The official estimate of the value of the contents was set at $580,000.

Agents of the FBI, accompanied by deputies from the Seminole and Orange County sheriff's departments converged on an area in South Seminole County to recover a stolen new car with about $600,000 worth of jewelry in its trunk. The law enforcement officers arrived at the scene on east SR 436, west of the Sorrento Apartments (in an orange grove) at approximately 10 a.m. and were still checking the auto for prints as of noon time.

The trunk had not been opened up to this time to determine whether any of the jewelry was still in the auto.

The stolen vehicle was spotted from the air by the Herndon Ambulance helicopter and reported to the authorities. It was stolen from a swank section of suburban Maitland yesterday and belonged to Forrest B. Cheek, representative of Towncraft jewelry makers.

Cheek said the luxury car was taken while parked in front of his house, when he was inside with his two trained watchdogs.

The auto is equipped with a siren, a smoking device and an electric short system aimed at foiling criminals.

While the investigation continued, all news media representatives were prohibited from entering the immediate area pending search for foot prints.

Nixon Seeks To Block Court-Ordered Busing

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon formally asked Congress today to block temporarily all further pupil-busing orders by the federal courts while it wrestles with longrange proposals to equalize the quality of education in all schools.

In an 8,000-word special message, Nixon recommended that a moratorium on new busing remain in effect until July 1, 1973—or until Congress acts on broader legislation at some earlier date.

The chief executive said he was convinced that the Senate and House have the constitutional power, under the 14th Amendment, to call a temporary halt to further court-ordered busing.

In addition to calling for the moratorium, Nixon proposed a new equal educational opportunities law that would channel special federal aid to schools with a large enrollment—over 30 per cent—from poor families. The amount of aid would total about $2.3 billion and would amount to roughly $300 for each pupil coming from a poor family.

Before sending his message to Congress, Nixon held an early morning White House conference with the Democratic and Republican leadership of the Senate and House.

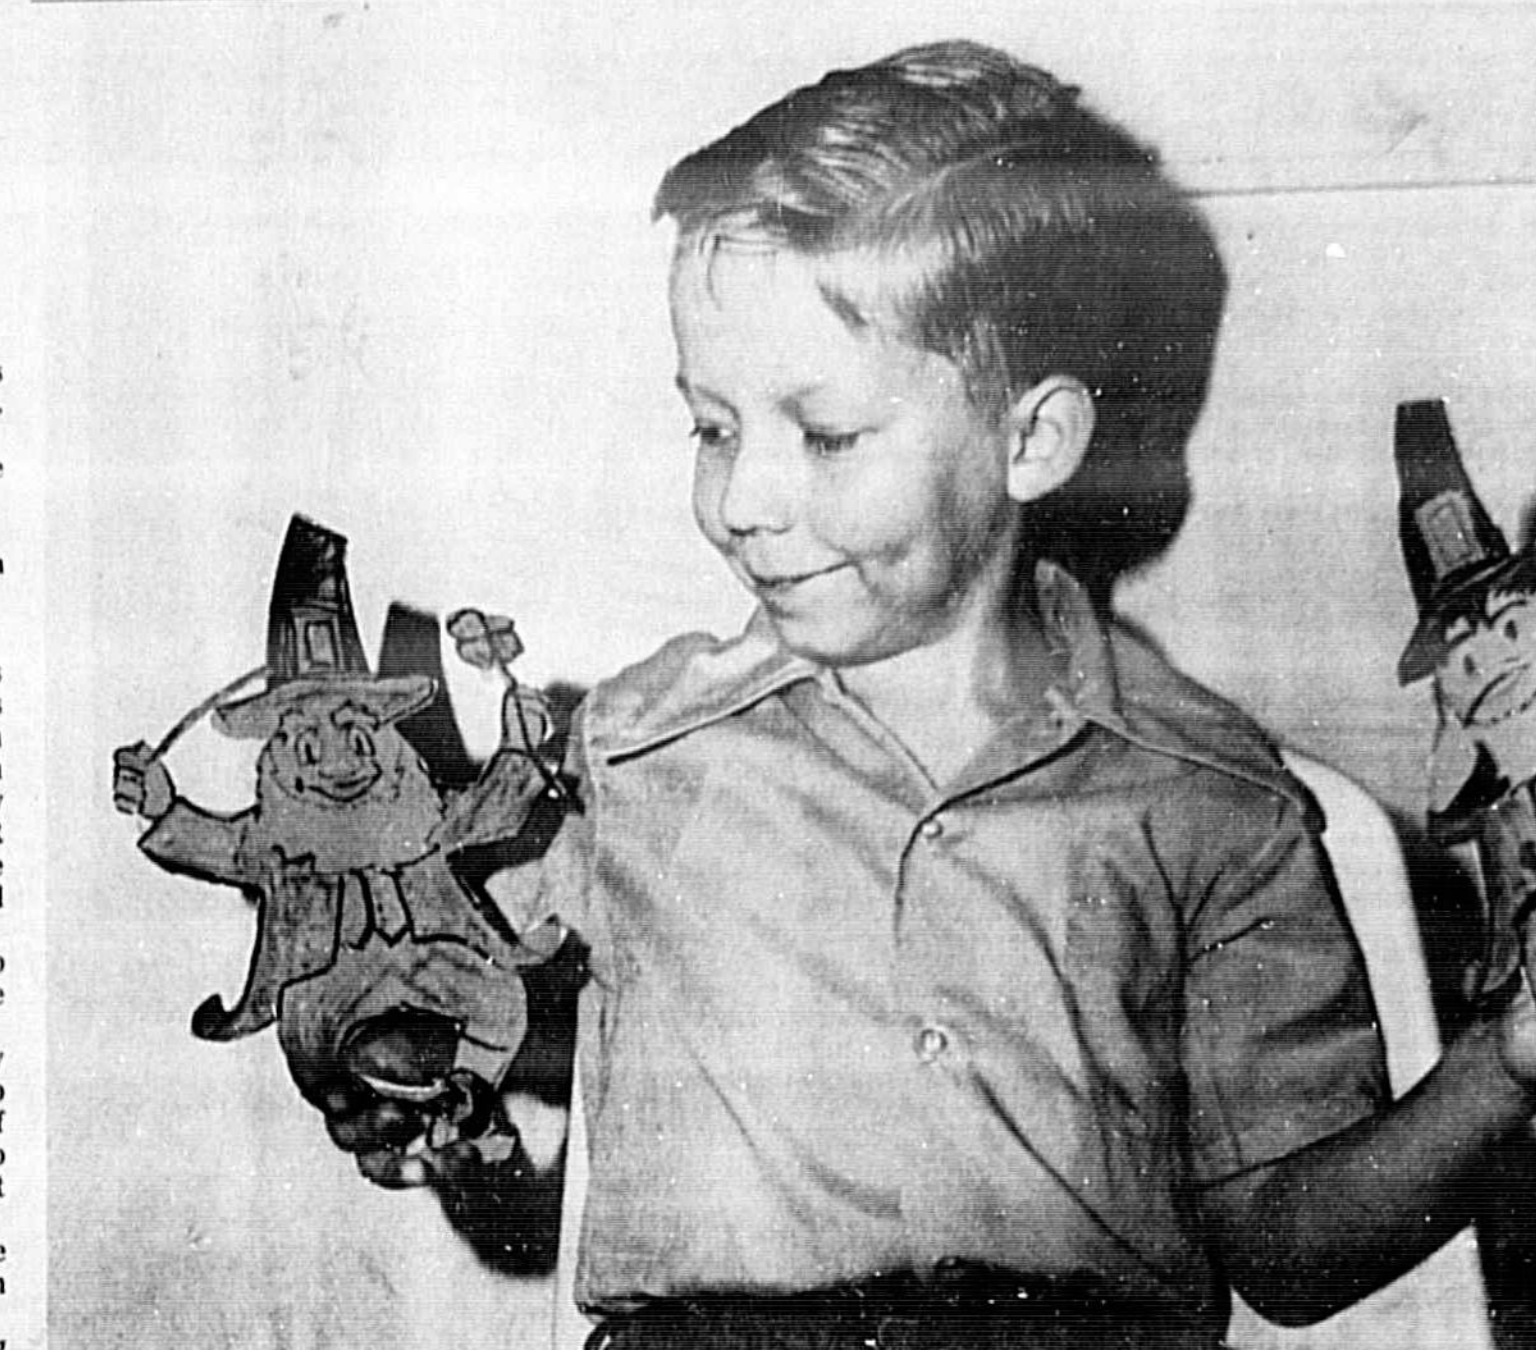

The message was a follow-up to a television-radio address Thursday night in which he argued that his proposals "would focus our efforts where they really belong—on better education for all of our children rather than on more busing for some of our children."

In his message to Congress, Nixon argued that his recommendations "would not roll back the Constitution, or undo the great advances that have been made in ending school segregation, or undermine the continuing drive for equal rights."

He said "this administration means what it says about dismantling racial barriers, about opening up jobs and housing and schools and opportunity to all Americans."

In advance of the message, Nixon said in a letter to the House of Representatives: "I am convinced that the Senate and House have the constitutional power, under the 14th Amendment, to call a temporary halt to further court-ordered busing."

The amount of aid would total about $2.3 billion and would amount to roughly $300 for each pupil coming from a poor family.

Housing Authority Ordered: 'Collect Past Due Rents'

By BILL SCOTT
U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) regional office in Jacksonville has warned the chairman of the Sanford Housing Authority board to collect $5,400 owed in back rents or begin eviction proceedings immediately against the non-paying tenants.

John Smith, chairman, disclosed this information at Thursday's authority meeting. He said he received the information on a letter from the Jacksonville office.

Gordon Bradley, manager for the city's public housing projects, said the renters had no reason for not paying their rents.

Smith directed Linda Williams, authority's new social services director, to consult with tenants who are in arrears and learn why the rents are not being paid.

The authority directed Bradley to negotiate with an attorney for the Board.

The authority asked Bradley to write HUD asking the possibilities of hiring an additional management assistant to serve as a tenant relations officer.

Since the local authority has just over $2,000 in its reserve, it is hoped the federal agency will fund the position at least in part.

Miss Williams reported plans also underway to have HUD fund approximately three-quarters the cost of recreation hall for tenants.

Seminole To Lose Under New Article V Law

By MARION BETHIA
Based upon erroneous population figures, the amendment to Article V, approved Tuesday by the electorate, will mean little to Seminole County in terms of alleviation of the court case works workload.

This was pointed out this morning by Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi at a public meeting to consider the matter.

Judge Salfi gave a resume of the passage of events relative to Article V and said last November provisions were made that within seven days of the March 11 election the state Supreme Court would be requested to certify to the Legislature the number of judges who would be designated under the new constitutional provision, if passed.

In January, the Supreme Court contacted the chief judge of each circuit requesting that statistics be sent, and subsequently a committee was formed in Seminole County consisting of Mack Cleveland Jr., Kenneth McIntosh, Judge Wallace Hall and Judge Salfi.

The committee gathered the statistics into a report and mailed it to the state Supreme Court on Feb. 29. Included in the basic statistics was the notation that Seminole County would need one additional circuit judge and four county judges to handle the case load of the courts.

Supporting statistics were enclosed with this request.

However, according to Judge Salfi, the constitutional amendment provides that before a county judge is moved up to a circuit judgeship a county must have a population of 100,000 based upon the 1970 census.

Seminole County is 17,000 short, according to Judge Salfi, although all of the case loads from the Juvenile Court will go to the now higher courts.

In the interim before the passage of Article V there was a discussion among local judges and it was anticipated that this county would receive one additional circuit and two county judges. Judge Salfi said the

Pastor's Corner Rambling Reflections

By REV. FRED L. NEAL
Congregational Christian Church

An unborn child has the right to life liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The government of this country should protect that right rather than deny it by passing liberalized abortion laws. Make no mistake about it abortion is murder.

If you did not vote you have no right to complain. Many Christians are interested in crown wearing but few are interested in cross bearing.

Shame on us for having against the medical profession that they are taking care of 75 per cent more people than they need to because we have withheld the healing hand of God. Think: Born once, die twice; Born twice, die once. Maybe. Some people take so many pills that half of their joints are ball bearings.

Pity the poor minister who tries to be popular rather than prophetic. Disregard our sins of the flesh that are as black as the night. Disregard our sins against our brothers that are as many as the sands of the desert. Disregard every sin that we have ever committed, save the one sin of playing God and that one sin is enough to bring us to destruction.

Life that ought to be a coat of many colors has turned out for many to be at best, a gray faded T-shirt with the word "peace" scribbled on it.

The sin of the modern church lies in the fact that instead of proclaiming a new way of life she has offered people efficient organizations, beautiful music, stately rituals and poll-tax support.

Love and truth are more important than rules and regulations. God is looking for separators not mixers. I do not understand the politician who votes for liberalized abortion and then votes against capital punishment.

School children, both black and white, have become literal pawns in the palms of prattling politicians. I was against busing 20 years ago when the children of one colored family in our town was bused 30 miles to another town where there was an all-black school. For the safety of our children I favor neighborhood schools.

I have learned a lesson from those who preach a social gospel. While it is true that man shall not live by bread alone it is likewise true that he cannot live a normal life without bread. But I still contend that to seek the spiritual at the expense of the temporal is suicidal.

Christianity works! Try it! You'll like it. My Christ was "a big C" contained in the test-tube or analyzed under a microscope. A person told me the other day that a minister's belt was a fence around a chicken graveyard.

I have shared the above thoughts with you with the sincere desire that they will cause you to think and then become involved in this thing we call life. Not all of the thoughts are original with me. I defend my right to speak about political matters because I am a citizen as well as a minister of the gospel.

I am not naive enough to believe that you will agree with all that I have written. If you choose to disagree let us disagree in love. I close with this prayer: May God forgive us of our egotistical sins of pride, of race, face and place. At the foot of the cross we are all equal. God is no respecter of persons. God is love.

THOUGHTS

We did not eat anyone's bread without paying, but with toil and labor we worked night and day, that we might not burden any of you. It was not because we have more than our share but to give you in our conduct an example to imitate.—1 Thess. 2: 9, 10.

You can preach a better sermon with your life than with your lips.—Olive Goldsmith, novelist.

Your bars shall be iron and bronze, and as your days, so shall your strength be.—Deut. 32: 25.

Few men during their lifetime come anywhere near exhausting the resources of a dwelling within them. There are deep wells of strength that are never used.—Adm. Richard E. Byrd, explorer.

I can do nothing on my own authority; as I hear, I judge, and my judgment is not because I see, but my own will but the will of him who sent me.—John 5: 30.

'Not As Simple As It Looks' Church In Military Hardware Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Church officials, hit by a tide of questions from members about denominational investments in so-called war industries, say the issue has been misunderstood and it is not as simple as it looks on the surface.

For one thing, they say it is impossible to function at all in a fallen world without sharing to some degree its faults.

They also point out that the churches are working to refine their investment policies so as best to uphold their ethical principles. "We're not perfect, but feel we stand somewhat unjustly accused," says the Rev. James A. Christison Jr., head of the American Baptist Home Mission Societies. "We can't avoid risks in this world if we are going to be involved."

REV. RUTH GRANT of First Pentecostal Church of Longwood tunes up the organ for the 13th anniversary celebration of the church Sunday. A dinner will be served in fellowship hall at noon following the morning worship with a gospel sing and fellowship in the afternoon. (Ann Riley Photo)

Other church leaders also have issued explanations and clarifications in the wake of a study by the newly formed Church Corporate Information Center reporting 10 major Protestant denominations have investments totaling $38 billion in firms handling military contracts. The officials noted, among other things, that only a fraction of the companies' operations involved military items—less than 5 per cent for about half of the firms.

In any case, the religious leaders say it is questionable whether the churches actually would be shoring up their principles merely by getting rid of such investments.

As the United Methodist treasurer, R. Bryan Branner of Chicago, puts it: "Do you discharge your moral responsibility by selling your holdings and washing your hands of the whole business, or do you remain in a particular investment and attempt to influence company policies from inside the structure?"

In most cases, so far, the churches have chosen to work from inside—as stockholders—in their expanding efforts to use their industrial holdings in behalf of racial equity in employment, anti-pollution measures and fair dealings with consumers. Selling out generally is considered a last resort, if other efforts fail. Over-all the religious institutional wealth in this country is estimated to amount to at least $180 billion, with large sums invested in corporate stocks.

Revival Services At First Baptist

Walter K. Ayers will be the evangelist in a special revival service at First Baptist Church of Sanford Sunday through March 26.

Rev. Ayer served three years as staff evangelist for First Baptist Church of Little Rock, Ark., and has had 12 years experience in Southern Baptist evangelism, during which time he has participated in over 300 revivals.

Music in the revival services will be under the direction of Richard Holtzclaw, director of the church choir. He will be assisted by Mrs. Shirley Ryan, who directs the church's youth choirs. Accompanists will be Mrs. Doris Milam and Mrs. Grace Sible.

On Monday, there will be a covered dish luncheon for adults at 12:15 p.m. Businessmen and women are invited to come even if they cannot bring food for the meal. Monday will be Sunday School Night and each teacher is urged to have as large a percentage as possible of his class present.

Meet in departments at 7:15 p.m. for prayer then sit together in sanctuary. Tuesday will be Family Pack-the-Pew Night. On Wednesday members are encouraged to invite friends and associates to attend the supper at 6:30 p.m. and stay for the service. Thursday is Youth Night with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes as special guests and youth testimonies. A youth pizza party will follow the service.

Friday will be Children's Night with a hot dog supper for grades 4-6 at 6 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. A scripture ballroom will be given to each one present and gifts to the five boys and five girls who bring the most friends.

Monday through Friday at 7 a.m. there will be a prayer breakfast in fellowship hall.

Methodists Set Revival

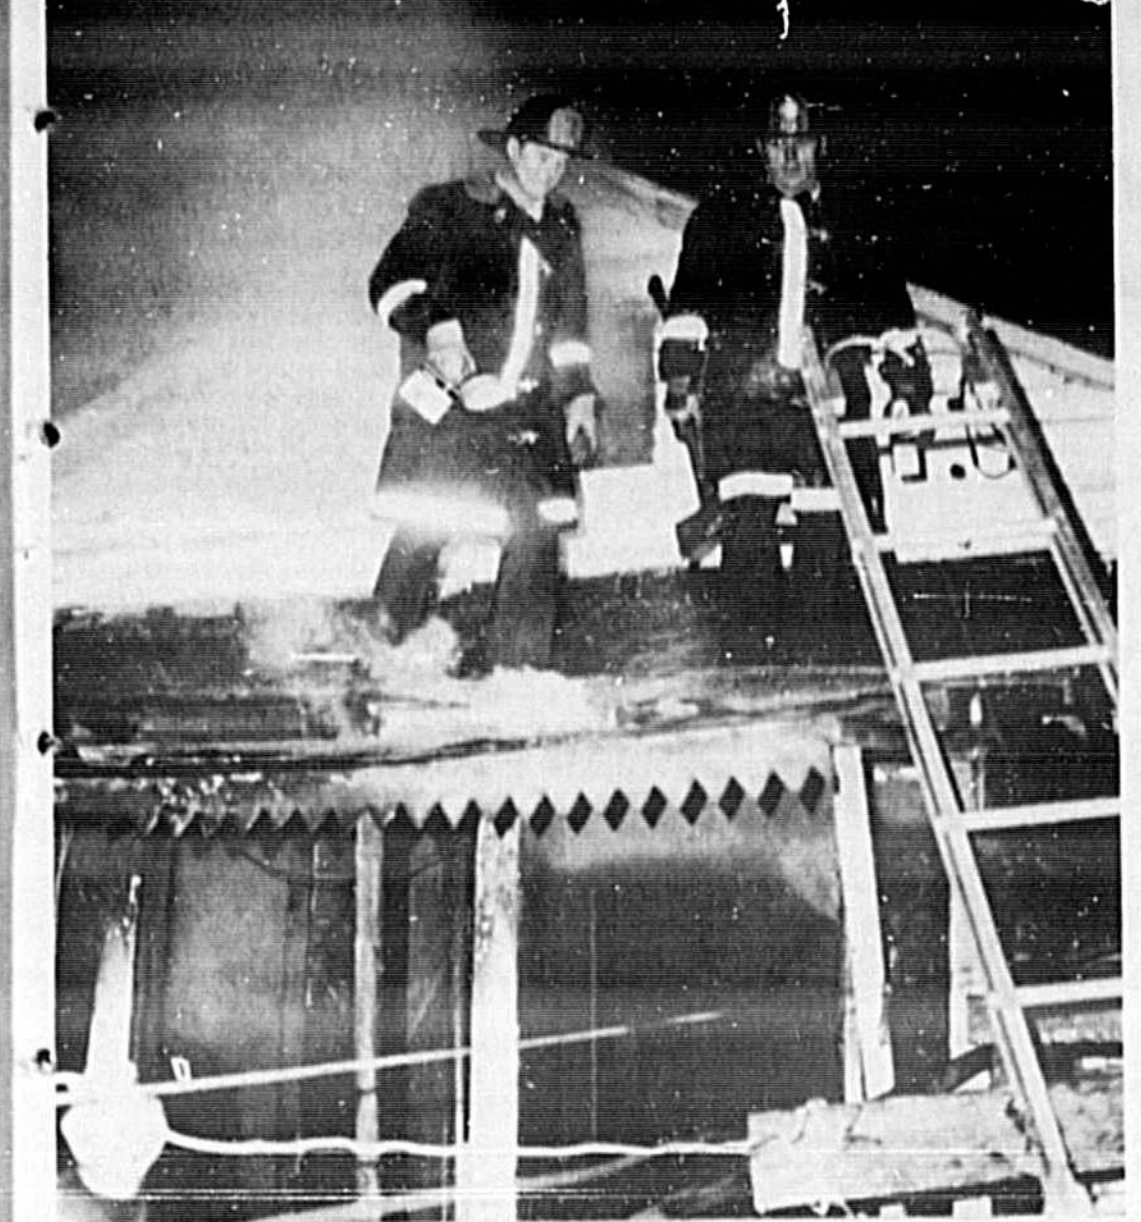

Revival services will begin at Christ United Methodist Church, Tucker Drive, Sunland Estates, located just off SR 427, Sunday and continue through Thursday night at 7:30. Rev. Bernard Harkey, minister, announced.

Rev. Ballard Wilson, in his 18th year as pastor of First United Methodist Church of Umatilla, will be special guest preacher.

A native of Madison, Ga., he attended Young Harris College and the University of Georgia, receiving his BS degree from Florida Southern College, Lakeland. He has a master of theology from Hill School of Theology, Denver, Colo., and joined the Florida Conference in 1963. He has served churches in Ocala, Tampa, St. Petersburg and Jacksonville.

There will be special music for each service. The church extends an invitation to the public to attend.

GLORIA TAYLOR has been retained as part-time youth director at First United Methodist Church of Sanford. She was graduated with a BA degree in Christian education from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and worked for a year and a half as Christian education director at First United Methodist, Columbus, Miss. She is married to Michael D. Taylor, a math professor at Florida Technological University.

By Losing Candidate Mayor, Town Sued

By ANN RILEY
WINTER PARK—At a press conference today Earlene Watkins, unsuccessful candidate in the recent mayoralty election in Eatonville, announced the filing of a petition in state court to contest the election held March 4.

The petition was filed against two parties—Nathaniel Vereen, incumbent mayor and winning candidate, and the Town of Eatonville as a municipality.

That during the mayoralty election at least one polling booth's election card of its structure was altered, changed and tampered with; on election day, Vereen willfully violated the election code by intimidating, forcing and coercing an elector to attend the election held March 4.

The petition also charged on election day Vereen solicited votes by giving containers of alcoholic beverages to electors.

Mrs. Watkins further charged that Vereen was observed on election day standing just outside the polling place talking and shaking hands with persons as they entered the polls to vote (the election code forbids a candidate come closer than 300 feet to a poll).

She stated that on election day certain Eatonville police officers exercised their official authority in such a "deplorable manner" as to willfully stifle the momentum of contestant's campaign and contestant's public support when certain individuals were intimidated and threatened by police officers and told "that unless they remove posters supporting contestant which were inside their place of business the authority of city hall would put them out of business."

The petition specifically states "...The incumbent mayor of Eatonville, and the members of the town council of Town of Eatonville conducted themselves and discharged their official duties in such a manner as to violate the election code of the State of Florida and further employed unsavory and foul tactics to enhance Nathaniel Vereen's position as a candidate."

She charged in the petition that she had complained of continual harassment by policemen on election day and had on two occasions reported same to the Orange County sheriff's department. She was even put under arrest on violation of a city ordinance pertaining to the use of "mechanical devices mounted on trucks."

She said the next step will be to collect affidavits from Eatonville citizens relative to the charges.

Also on the docket is Robert Byland, charged with assault with intent to commit second degree murder.

The incident is alleged to have taken place at 20 at Longwood. Byland is alleged to have shot Jack Bechtel with a .25 caliber automatic pistol.

Three cases involving narcotics violations also are scheduled. These include Robert Kamper Jr., charged with possession of a dangerous drug; Nancy Byland, charged with possession of a narcotic drug, and David and Iris D'Andrea, charged on a four-count information with three counts of possession of a dangerous drug and one count of possession of dangerous drug paraphernalia.

Also docketed are Daniel Salinger, charged with embezzlement; John Fulton, charged with two counts of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny; Douglas Lewis, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony; and Vincent Foster, charged with robbery.

Also facing trial is Thomas Young, charged with assault with intent to commit a felony (rap-e).

many observers had wondered how Nixon would go about fashioning a busing moratorium without risking successful challenge to his plan in the federal courts.

The President noted that the 14th Amendment to the Constitution, under which school desegregation cases have arisen, specifically empowers Congress "to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article."

"Until now, enforcement has been left largely to the courts—which have operated within a limited range of available remedies, and in the limited context of case law rather than of statutory law."

"I propose that the Congress now accept the responsibility and use the authority given to it under the 14th Amendment to clear up the confusion which contradictory court orders have created and to establish reasonable national standards."

The proposed equal educational opportunities law would bar any state or locality from denying equal educational opportunity to any person because of race, color or national origin. It would establish priorities for applying remedies to schools that are busing to desegregate, "with respect to the order of busing."

At A Glance
WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is a summary of President Nixon's statement on busing Thursday night:

MOHATRAP—He wants Congress to pass legislation halting all new court-ordered busing, and requiring every school district to provide equal educational opportunity for all children.

LITIGATION—He wants the Justice Department to intervene in desegregation cases where lower courts "have gone beyond the Supreme Court's requirements in ordering busing."

MONEY—He wants Congress to appropriate more than $2.5 billion over the next year to improve education for poor children.

GOALS—He wants a national committee to upgrade central-city schools and provide better educational opportunity for all.

for in the Eatonville charter and therefore the election is void.

"Based on any one or all of the previous allegations, we are asking that the State of Florida rule that Vereen has no right to the office of mayor... that the contestant Watkins be declared elected..." the petition requested.

Mrs. Watkins also revealed that she had complained of continual harassment by policemen on election day and had on two occasions reported same to the Orange County sheriff's department. She was even put under arrest on violation of a city ordinance pertaining to the use of "mechanical devices mounted on trucks."

She said the next step will be to collect affidavits from Eatonville citizens relative to the charges.

Three cases involving narcotics violations also are scheduled. These include Robert Kamper Jr., charged with possession of a dangerous drug; Nancy Byland, charged with possession of a narcotic drug, and David and Iris D'Andrea, charged on a four-count information with three counts of possession of a dangerous drug and one count of possession of dangerous drug paraphernalia.

Also docketed are Daniel Salinger, charged with embezzlement; John Fulton, charged with two counts of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny; Douglas Lewis, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony; and Vincent Foster, charged with robbery.

Also facing trial is Thomas Young, charged with assault with intent to commit a felony (rap-e).

required only as a last resort, and then only under strict limitations.

The legislation also would "provide for the concentration of federal school-aid funds, specifically on the areas of greatest educational need, in a way and in sufficient quantities so they can have a real and substantial impact in terms of improving the education of children from poor families."

As part of the legislation, Nixon would subsidize busing programs by using $1.5 billion currently available each year under a provision of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act plus $1 billion under emergency school aid legislation already awaiting action in a Senate-House conference committee. The emergency legislation would expire on June 30, 1974 but Nixon asks that it be continued.

The federal aid would be distributed to—Assure, as a condition of getting the money, that a district spend on its poorest schools an amount comparable to that allocated for its best.

False Hopes Seen
By Education Chief

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Education Commissioner Floyd Christian today said President Nixon's call for a moratorium on busing gives false hope to parents of Florida children already being bused.

He said the President "has taken a popular position on this on the basis of 74 per cent rejection of busing in Tuesday's straw poll in Florida."

But, Christian added, Nixon "has left us dangling a little bit." "I'm sure many parents (of children) being bused now will not understand next year when these court orders continue and their children are still being bused," he said.

Like Nixon, Christian said the courts have gone too far in too many cases, but he said the antibusing proposals offered by Nixon on national television Thursday night offer no relief for children already being bused by federal order.

"Most of the difficulties we face in mass busing are the result of federal court orders so it's only appropriate for the federal government to assume responsibility for remedial appropriations," he said.

Christian said Nixon's proposal of $2.5 billion to upgrade inner-city schools "is a fine promise but the President made this promise two years ago."

"We do need money for this program but how do we know we're going to get it," he said.

The state's chief education official said he was not sure whether schools that again be busing was no longer used to achieve a racial mix could be equal.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's request for legislation to halt further busing and upgrade inner-city schools promises to add new fuel to the controversy raging in Congress.

Reactions ranging from angry denunciations of the President by black leaders to warm commendation by busing opponents made it clear Nixon's apparent attempt to find a middle ground has failed to bring the warring factions any closer together.

"In effect he has declared war on the Constitution of the United States," said Henry Marsh III, the black vice mayor in Richmond, Va., a focal point in the busing controversy since a federal court ordered widespread busing covering three counties.

"Thank goodness someone has spoken for the children of America, black and white alike," said Sen. Bill Brock, R-Tenn., a leader of antibusing forces in the Senate.

Nixon without details of his proposal until today but the outline he gave the nation Thursday night was enough to convince some of those on each side of the issue that it will not provide a solution to the busing problem.

Ward Aide To Seminar

Sally W. Fleming, Montgomery Ward store manager at Casselberry, has been invited by Ward's president to participate in a week-long management seminar with other Ward top executives in Chicago next week.

Ward executives will review past and present merchandising sales programs and set objectives for the coming year. During 1972, Ward's is celebrating its 100th anniversary of service to American consumers.

The conference will bring together more than 300 Ward retail and district managers from throughout the United States in the first meeting of this type ever sponsored by Ward's. Ward managers will be a miniaturized reproduction of an original sculpture by Clement Meadmore, nationally renowned sculptor. The original sculpture will be presented to the Art Institute of Chicago by the company later this year.

While in Chicago, Fleming will be participating in a nationwide "Beat the Manager" sales contest which will be under way during the period Fleming is in Chicago. Fleming will be competing with all other Ward assistant retail store managers for national recognition and awards.

St. Luke's Holds Birthday Rites

A special worship service will commemorate the 60th anniversary of the founding of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Slavia, at 3 p.m. Sunday.

It was on March 17, 1912, that St. Luke's congregation was founded and a small church erected from the lumber of old shacks.

Visiting pastors and summer vicars supplied spiritual food during almost a 20-year period. In July, 1934, Pastor Stephen Tuby was called and installed as the first regular pastor. In October, 1934, 13 acres of land were purchased. A parsonage was built in 1935.

The new church was dedicated in 1939 and up until that time all worship was done in Slovak language. In a few years, English served as the language.

In 1941, St. Luke's started a nursery school and then added grades one, two and four in 1947. Each year thereafter kindergarten was added until the present school consisting of kindergarten through grade nine was established.

Unchecked fantasy leads to trouble

By REV. LEE TRUMAN
Copy News Service
Every pastor who does counseling has a host of persons asking for help.

Many of those asking for help feel that the world is lined up especially against them. They pour out a tale of woe which would bring tears to the eyes of a seagull.

If they are not professional help seekers, most often they are suffering from a very common type of immaturity.

This is the tortured individual who accepts as facts things that have never happened.

These poor persons live in a terrible world of fantasies. Their world is turbulent, and everything in their mixed-up world is bad. Yet it is not a world which is real because it does not exist.

One young man was afraid to stay alone outside in broad daylight because he accepted as fact that something, and he was not quite sure what, was going to happen to him with dire results. He covered, cringed and suffered a great deal.

Basically he was not grown up emotionally. As a child he accepted as fact his unreal fears. He kept his immature emotions in a man's body. After a few months of counseling he is now leading a somewhat normal life.

'Candid Chatter'

By DORIS WILLIAMS
Society Editor

Well, I've done it again! Pulverized one of the commandments of the newspaper game, that is ... "When in doubt, leave it out."

In a release this week I stated that Sanford Police Chief BEN BUTLER would probably wear a conventional tuxedo to the Policemen's Ball tomorrow night.

Came into the office and the conversation went something like this — "You're wearing a tuxedo to the ball Saturday, I hope?"

The chief answered, "A tuxedo matter fact, it has a new jacket."

"But you can't blurted out, I already have you wearing a tuxedo in today's paper."

Now in rationalization, I did say PROBABLY and that NANCY would PROBABLY wear something long ... to get me off the hook for this cardinal sin.

The moral to the story is, "Thy shalt not speculate!"

So now that we have the Chief going mad to the ball, I'm told that it is semi-formal, whatever that means these days. Your Sunday best will do, I'm sure.

Tickets are on sale at the door tomorrow night at Sanford Civic Center and the Tampa Police Band will strike up at 9 p. m.

See you there!

Back to the Chief ... he and City Manager PEPPER KNOWLES are frequent visitors in the Herald office and go out to lunch with JOHN SPOLSKI, once and again.

On occasion the gentlemen have been known to visit to the range and practice shooting ... at targets ... and bull, too, PROBABLY.

Being I must believe in living dangerously these days as I risk facing PROBABLE exile ... again.

The Citrus Invitational attracts golfers from all over as well as volunteer workers. Local women golf enthusiasts who worked on the greens without any green remuneration were MURIEL SCOTT, DORIS SPENCER, STELLA BROOKS, FRANCES BANKS, JACKIE CRAWFORD, BETTY KURMIK, MARY ANDERSON AND JANE HUNTER.

These gals did a sensational job and looked smashing in snappy yellow and orange ensembles.

Was chatting with JOANN ROWE who is in the counseling capacity at Seminole Junior College.

Didja know that there are 18 foreign students from 10 different countries enrolled at SJC and the week of April 3-4 has been designated as Foreign Student Recognition Week?

Wrapping up the week will be a luncheon at the Loch Arbor home of LUCY LAYER when Beta Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will entertain the students, among others.

ALICIA SCHMIDT is co-chairman of the fete with Joann.

Is there a doctor in the house? Lots of activity is on the agenda on Doctor's Day on April 23.

At a card party, and luncheon March 21, beginning at 10 a.m. Reservations are being accepted by Mrs. P. L. ELMORE, 322-6286.

Charman of the event is MRS. GONZALO (SHIRLEY) HUMANN and other doctor's wives on the committee are MRS. WILLIAM (NANCY) RAPE, MRS. EDWIN (SARA) EPSTEIN, MRS. FRANK (JEAN) CLONITZ, MRS. F. J. MARIAN, MRS. WELGAND, MRS. JORGE (STELLA) GOMEZ, MRS. NICK (MARITSA) PASTIS AND MRS. G. V. (HILDA) GARAY.

Our own Geneva gem, LIZ MATHEUX, is still under the weather after recent surgery and will be out of circulation for awhile longer.

Joining the hosts and honorees were CAROL AND PHIL ZUFELI, CLAUDIA AND FRANK JASA, GRACE AND RAY MENGANI, the BILL GORDONS, JUNIOR AND SENIOR, WANDA AND FRANK HUBBARD, EDITH AND JOHN ZEILLI AND EVELYN AND ALEX SERRAES.

I get lots of calls and letters thanking the Herald for articles and pictures appearing in the women's section.

At times we go beyond the call of duty to execute what we think is a biggie and nice ... not one word do we hear ... so the question is have we offended in an attempt to serve?

Just this week I received a call from VIRGINIA ROCHE thanking us for the beautiful spread on Seminole Rehearsals No. 43.

Virginia said Noble Grand, MARY HORTON, was ecstatic over the picture and story ... the first publicity under her reign.

It was so simple ... the state president was visiting ... a telephone call ... and we were there, with plenty of advance notice, of course, and Rebekah cooperation.

We welcome your news so all you have to do is "Ask and ye shall receive."

Now to all you bunnies, pussycats, copycats, libbers, plagiarists, etc ... CHECK, MATE!

Barbara Ausfeld, Carroll Hubbard To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tesmer Ausfeld of Atlanta, Ga., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Barbara Nelle Carroll Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Hubbard of Sanford.

Miss Ausfeld is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor Upchurch Sr. of Montgomery, Ala., and the late Mrs. Walter Adolph Ausfeld, also of Montgomery.

A graduate of Sidney Lanier High School, the bride-elect attended Florida State University where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega society. She is presently a student at Auburn University.

Mr. Hubbard is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Seydel, Jr. of Orange City and Orlando, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mills Hubbard of Orange City.

He was graduated from Seminole High School and attended Florida State University, where he was active in the Marching Seminole Band, the AF ROTC Band and the Delmay. He is presently associated with The Red Lobster Inns of American in Albany, Ga.

The wedding will be an event of May 7 at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Montgomery.

Dear Abby

No, kissing won't make you pregnant

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune, N. Y. News Synd. Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this is too dumb to answer. Can a girl get pregnant from kissing? DALLAS

DEAR DALLAS: No. But it's a good kissing.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help me? I am a 13-year-old girl and live with my mother alone a few years ago my father and my two brothers were killed in a car accident. Since I am the only one my mother has left, she babies me something awful. She won't let me go anywhere without her.

I live only one block from school, but my mother walks me to school every morning. If I have to stay after school, my mother comes to school and stands outside waiting for me. It is so bad, Abby, that I don't have any friends left. My mother doesn't even like for me to call anyone on the phone.

If I complain about the way my mother babies me, she cries and says I don't love her. I DO love her, Abby, but I would like to have friends and be like the other girls. I used to be an A and B student. Now I dropped down to C's and D's.

It's gotten so bad that my mother wants to comb my hair in the morning. Please, be my friend, and help me.

FALLING APART

DEAR FALLING: Your mother has suffered a terrible loss, and the shock, plus her loneliness has apparently affected her mental well being, she desperately needs someone to tell her troubles to. And she may need medical attention. Tell your school counselor what you've told me. If you have no counselor, confide in your favorite teacher. Or your minister. When your mother gets the help she needs, she will stop babying you, which will solve your problem and your mother's, too. Good luck, Honey.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please help settle an argument, between my husband and me.

We were invited to dinner at the home of some new friends, and after dinner it was suggested that we play cards, which we did.

After the game started our hostess brought a book to the table and proceeded to read while playing cards. Most of the time she was so absorbed in the book she nearly forgot about the card game.

After we got home my husband said she was the rudest woman he had ever met, that she might just as well have told us to go home the way she read that book in our faces all evening. He also said if they ever invite us back he will refuse to go.

Abby, I agree, she wasn't very polite, but I can understand how she could have started a book and become so fascinated with it she could hardly wait to get back to it, so I really don't hold it against her.

Do you agree with my husband that we shouldn't go back there again? I really like this woman.

OUTPLAYED IN DETROIT

DEAR OUTPLAYED: If you "like" her, see her on your own time. I agree with your husband.

DEAR ABBY: Those letters from secretaries and their dilemmas over receiving pornographic mail addressed to their bosses gave me a great big pain.

In the first place, what is "pornography?" Even the United States Supreme Court can't agree on the definition. It's every secretary's duty to open her boss' mail and give it to him. If he didn't order any of the porno and doesn't care to receive it, I am sure he knows how to put a stop to it. If he did request it, what right has a secretary to withhold it from her boss?

One of my bosses used to get postcards regularly urging him to call a certain number to arrange for a "massage." He laughed and told me to throw such cards in the basket. Another boss I worked for (a well-known political figure) asked me if I would be willing to receive copies of a certain magazine at his home, because his wife wouldn't permit them in the house. I agreed, and brought them to the office in a plain envelope for him to read.

Last you think I'm an old ream, I hasten to explain that I'm happily married, and considered attractive, and have had my full share of "jasses from the opposite sex."

If I were a boss, I wouldn't want a secretary in whose presence I had to watch every word for fear of offending her. A busy executive usually has enough problems at home and doesn't need more at the office.

MODERN SECRETARY

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 67000, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Four clubs were easy and so were three spades. Four spades would come right off if the jack would drop but East had opened the bidding with one spade and almost surely had five or six for the bid.

Could West actually hold the singleton jack? Possible, but unlikely. Was there any other way to score four spade tricks? An end play? Wouldn't work. There was no way to get to the end of

Some Hints on Cleaning Silver Filigree Jewelry

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — K. S. can soak her silver filigree jewelry in a half gallon solution of sodas ammonia and hot water for about half an hour and then use an old soft toothbrush to remove the stains and discoloration. This solution may also be used to clean gold jewelry and diamond rings. Rinse under warm water and dry after the brushing. I have cleaned my wife's Italian filigree silver jewelry this way for years with no ill effects — FRASER

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell K. S. that I think the safest and easiest way to clean her silver filigree jewelry is to use one of those commercial instant jewelry cleaners that are put out under various trade names. Dip jewelry, let stand for a few seconds and rinse off. This brightens the jewelry almost instantly. When the jewelry has stones like pearls, they should not be dipped but the liquid just brushed over the metal part around the stones then rinsed. Tarnished silver chains are easily cleaned this way. Pictures should be removed from lockets before dipping — MRS. J. D.

SATURDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when most of your friends will be interested in attaining the best possible health. Through beneficial treatments they will want to show off to advantage the improved attractiveness. Following this desire for romance, plus new assaults upon prosperity, will be prominent.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Look to an adviser for good ideas that will help you advance in the near future. Plan how to save more money so that you can build up a sizable reserve. Be more thrifty.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Bring out your finest features so you can make a good impression on those you deal with in business. Accept an invitation for a social event extended to you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are able to delve into new pleasures now that could lead to more productive channels in the future. Your intuition is working accurately. Be sure to follow it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There is much activity where friends are concerned, so be sure to join in the fun. Use new systems, since you find your desires have changed. Be careful in travel.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) An ideal time to show your finest talents where bigwigs are concerned. Follow all regulations that apply to you and gain the support of leading citizens in the community.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have to do a specialized study now if you are to follow a new course you have in mind. Making new contacts can be most valuable now. Be sure to try the right ones.

SUNDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you have both logical reasoning power along with a tremendous amount of spirit. A concentrated study in the philosophy of life can bring you some exceedingly excellent results for the future. Remain strong and steadfast in their true application.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can gain needed inspiration by meditating quietly in your own way. Show good friends how much you really like them! Don't neglect important correspondence. Be wise.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are able to make plans which could increase your abundance in the future. Those who did not agree with your methods can now be helpful. Stop wasting valuable time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have the right methods for gaining the support of key persons who can help to achieve your finest aims. Dress in fine style and you can easily put your points across.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Meditation will show you how best to ingratiate yourself into the good graces of persons of high position who can back your particular aims. Show that you have ability.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able to get together with good pals now and mutual enjoyment will be derived if you are courteous and kind. Put yourself in a happy state of mind.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are able to meet with highly spiritual persons and gain much from the conversation. Not a good day for recreational pursuits. Relax with kin tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use your intuitive faculties

MONDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unusually busy day and evening as spring arrives. You can make all kinds of interesting and different plans for the future. Take the time to acquire whatever information is necessary for upcoming plans so you can apply it at the right moment when opportunity arises the middle of next week.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contact those individuals who can be most helpful to you in your business or personal endeavors. Good results will come from talks. Handling transportation matters and correspondence wisely is possible, too, now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Look to modern-minded higher-ups for the support you need for your most important endeavors and get it. Present prosperity can be increased greatly now. Study possessions carefully and know where to make right repairs.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) The personal advancement you desire can be gained now because the planets are favorable, so get busy early going after your highest aims. Wear your best clothes and make right impression on others. Converse intelligently.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Begin the work early that will help you have greater success and happiness in the near future. Do not confide to others ideas which an adviser gives you. Zip your purse, too, so you are not extravagant.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you contact successful and modern friends, you find you get the right advice for improving your own lot in life. Be active in a group affair that can be most helpful to you. Avoid arguments, though.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Know what your position is with bigwigs and get talks done so you will be appreciated them and reimburse you properly. Handle any civic affairs satisfactorily, too. Show you have much ability along such lines.

TUESDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day when you have what seem like good ideas to you but should check them against the practical ramifications before going ahead with them. Listen to what new contacts have to suggest, also, since their ideas may be better than yours.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have obligations that need some new methods if they are to be discharged properly. Out to some charming spot with the one you love and have a delightful evening together. Stay within your budget, though.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) First find out what your partners desire of you and then go ahead and please them with right activity and attitude. Don't be as talkative as in the past. An outsider can help you have a greater success in the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get busy and do a better job in your present work instead of trying to enter a new field that you know little or nothing about. Take the health treatments that help you feel dynamic. Avoid arguments with others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can accomplish a great deal in the business world, so long as that deal results that has you bogged down. You can enjoy some delightful hours which have not been possible for some time. Express yourself well.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take care of those gadgets at home that improve future efficiency. Entertain attractive and interesting people in p.m. Get a new lease on life.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those charming young people who early in life deliberates to such an extent that the goal is missed while others who come to the right decision early are already at their destination. Give a fine spiritual training necessary to overcome this falling. Care with the diet is important.

Child Slayer Given Life; Wife Awaiting Sentence

By MARION BETHA

Ronald Powers, who was found guilty June 22, 1971, by a Circuit Court jury in the beating death of his two-year-old stepdaughter, Lana Bennett, was sentenced by Circuit Judge Clarence Johnson Jr. this morning.

Declaring that he would show no mercy to Powers, the court sentenced Powers to life imprisonment.

Immediately, his attorney, Mack Cleveland Jr., requested Powers be declared insolvent and a public defender appointed for the defendant's petition of appeal of the case. The court said that Cleveland would be appointed as special public defender or the public defenders' office would be court appointed to handle the appeal.

Powers, immaculately attired in a charcoal suit, white shirt and blue and maroon tie, received the sentencing calmly, never for an instant betraying any display of emotion. However, a spectator cried out, "No," as the sentence was imposed.

In what the court termed "an eloquent appeal," Cleveland said Powers was convicted largely on the testimony of his former wife, Charlene Powers, who pleaded guilty to charges of manslaughter in the child's death. Mrs. Powers has since divorced the defendant and is on bond awaiting sentencing.

Newspaper Plant Is Guttled DeLand Fire Loss Over $1 Million

 Of DeLand

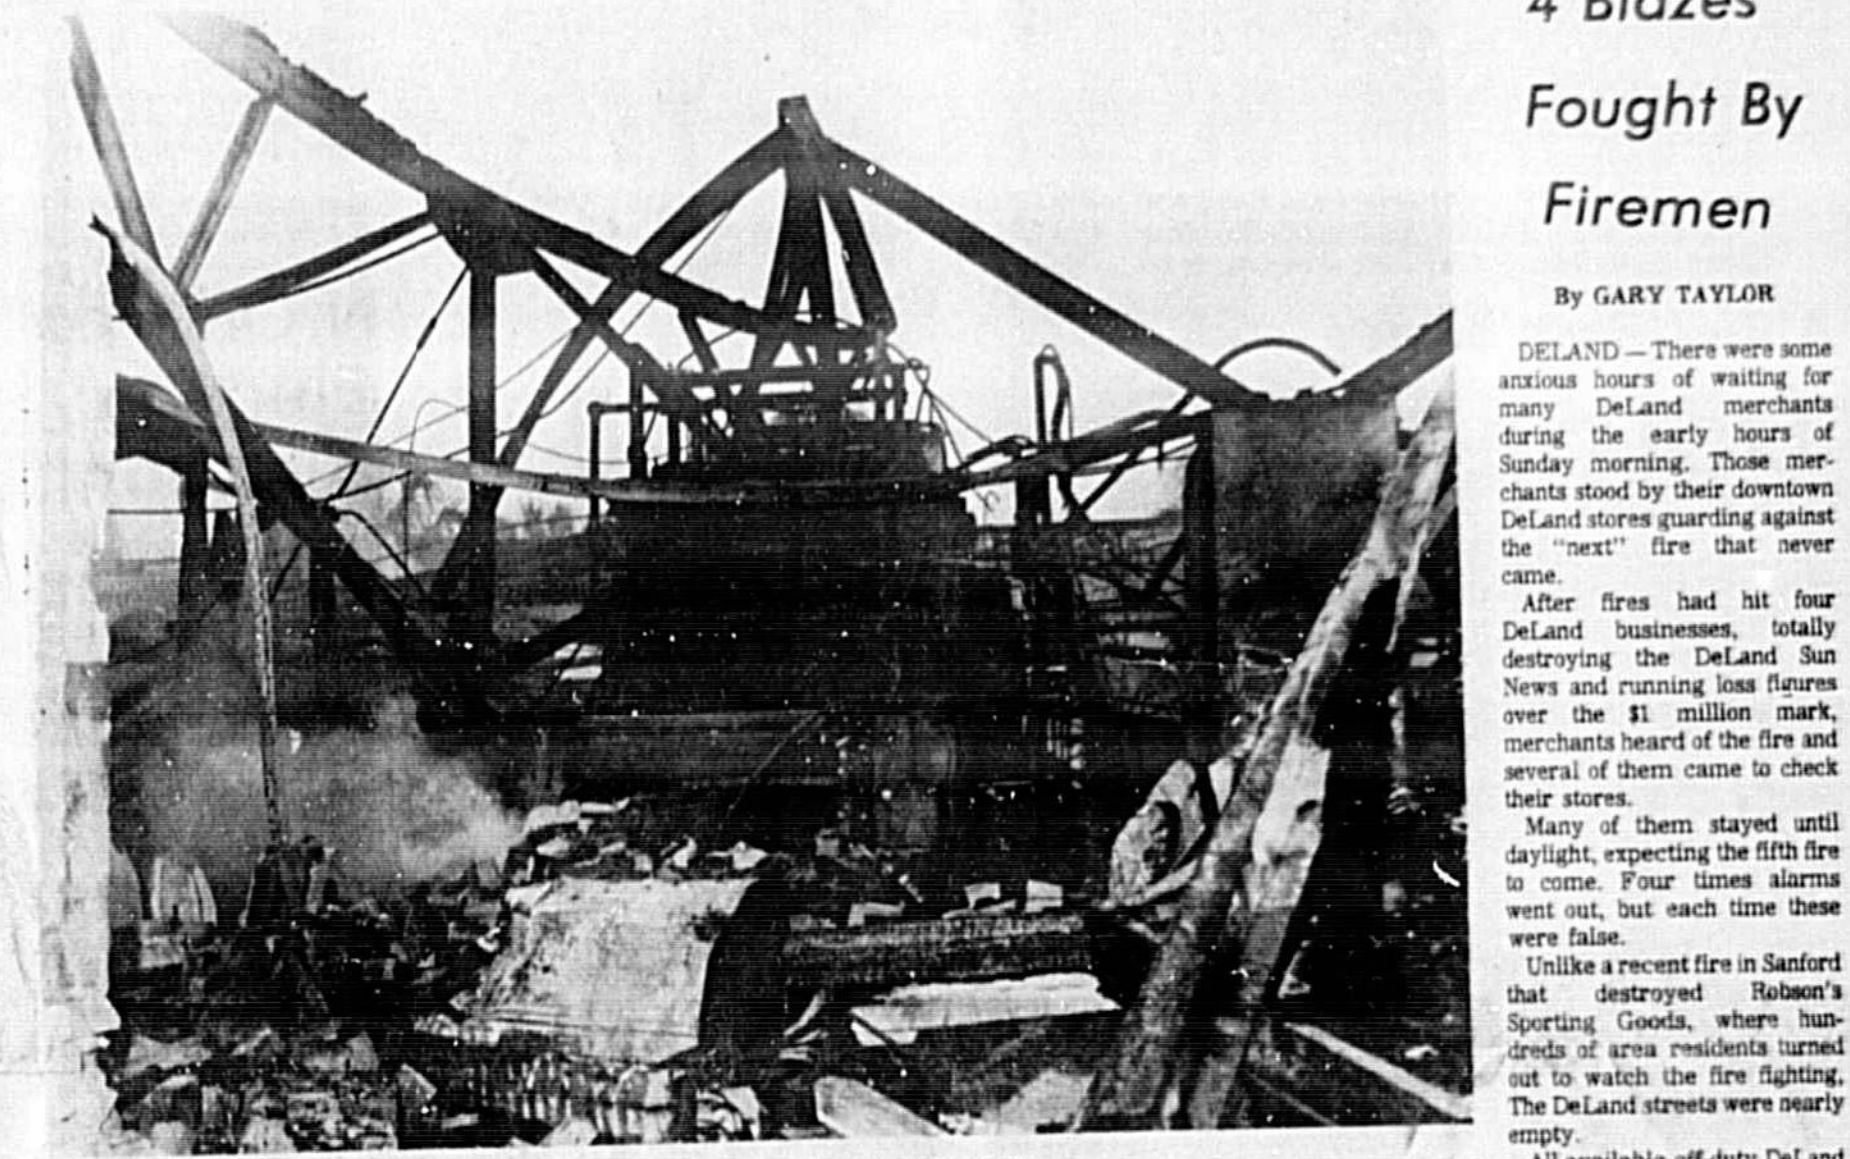

By John A. Spolski

You sit in front of the typewriter trying to write something that'll make sense in helping people to understand what was on the mind of the individuals (s) who perpetrated that incident in DeLand, yesterday.

What makes it all the more trying is that one of the photos which I took at the scene, was a pile of books taken from the building ... trying to save as much as could be negotiated, within bounds of safety.

And of the, perhaps hundreds of books strewn along the sidewalk ... the one resting right on top of the pile was "The Rights of Man" ...

FIRES HIT DOWNTOWN DELAND

The DeLand Sun News' new offset press, valued at $250,000, is shown after the fire in DeLand early Sunday morning. The newspaper was one of four businesses in downtown DeLand which were hit by apparent arsonists. Total losses soared over $1 million. The newspaper was a total loss. (See related photos page 2.)

DeLandite Questioned About Blaze

By SAM FENTON

Sun-News Staffer

The first of four fires which broke out within four hours of each other in DeLand's downtown district early Sunday morning through the DeLand Sun News plant at 119 S. Boulevard leaving a charred hull and a $1 million rebuilding job.

Heavily damaged in the Sun News blaze were the office of the West Volusia YMCA located on the second floor, and the offices of AVCO Financial Services in the southwest corner of the building.

While firemen battled the four blazes, law enforcement officers, called in en masse to assist DeLand Police, controlled traffic and combed the central city area for suspects they believed had set the fires.

Before 5 a.m., shortly after the last fire was discovered in the lobby of the DeLand Hotel, police arrested David Allen Stone, 21, of DeLand. He has been charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony in connection with one of the buildings that was burned.

He is currently being held in Volusia County jail on a $100,000 bond. According to police, Stone's given address is the Rainbow Tavern Apartments on South Boulevard.

City Manager Wayne Sanborn said yesterday that he agreed with statements made by Sheriff Ed Duff and DeLand Police Chief Wesley Farmer that there was no evidence to indicate the fires were in any way connected with a Saturday noon civil rights march conducted in downtown DeLand by area blacks.

163 Acres Near Lake Mary Annexation Discussed

A review of the request to annex 163 acres near Lake Mary was to be reviewed by the Sanford City Commission at today's work session.

Commission a week ago authorized the city attorney to draft an ordinance annexing the property north of Lake Mary Boulevard and near the railroad but later, after a check of legal descriptions by Lynn Risner, city building inspector, it was discovered the property if annexed would add another pocket of unannexed land inside the city limits.

When advised that the property was not contiguous, City Commissioners A.A. McClanahan and Gordon Meyer vowed to oppose the annexation attempt.

Another item on today's agenda was a request by the Sanford Airport Authority to have the city take over its refuse, water and sewer services in lieu of the authority having to establish its own service or hire a private contractor.

City Manager W.E. Knowles, in a memorandum to the commission, opposed having the city assume airport facilities on the basis that Sanford has neither the personnel in or equipment to handle the additional operation.

Knowles is expected to review a request that he look into means of diverting storm flow water from the marina harbor.

He has estimated costs to provide such diversion will be about $65,310 but this does not include storm sewers on the marina island and only those through the bulkhead in the basin.

Another request to be explored by Knowles was the suggestion that a sidewalk be established on the east side of U.S. 17-92 from the Sanford Plaza shopping center to 27th Street at a cost of $5,998 on a state right-of-way.

Also included in today's discussion was the proposed city charter, which was prepared some time ago by a group of local people. The commission has been studying the document before making a final approval and then allowing city voters to approve or reject it in the December city elections.

Both on-and off-duty firemen, along with volunteers and help from outside fire departments, battled the blaze. The fire department is credited with bringing the situation under control quickly and preventing blaze that could have swept through an entire block of downtown DeLand.

The Gulf Life Insurance Company was hit. It is located in the middle of the block and the fire could have engulfed the entire block had the fire department not been able to bring the blaze under control.

A blaze at Mitchell's Cleaners was contained to a storage room in the building and the main plant. Damage there was estimated at over $3,000 by the owner.

Schools To 'Host' U.S. Investigators

By BILL SCOTT

It is reported that U.S. Justice Department officials will be on hand for Wednesday night's 7:30 Seminole County School Board session at Lyman High School to observe the board's procedure for expulsions of students.

An investigation into complaints that black students are being discriminated against as regards to discipline in the county school system was disclosed today that parents of Seminole High School youth requested a formal hearing before the Board before expulsion of their son.

A 3 p.m. Thursday date has been set for the hearing into the expulsion of the teenager, who has received three suspensions this term and has been recommended for expulsion to the superintendent by Jack Hedding, principal.

School policy makes expulsion mandatory after three suspensions unless the school principal intervenes and asks for a waiver of the board's policy.

expulsions, including a white to black breakdown. Supt. John Angel informed the board that no information is kept to designate color of students.

Amid the specter of the U.S. Justice Department hovering over the Seminole County School Board with complaints of discriminatory discipline involving suspensions and expulsions of black school students, information was disclosed today that parents of Seminole High School youth requested a formal hearing before the Board before expulsion of their son.
