Way To Fight War, As Marine Said

By Leon Daniel
SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—It was, as the Marine said, a hell of a way to fight a war.

It was, too. For one thing, there were all these Dominican civilians sitting on their front porches watching.

And then there was the television cameraman filming Sgt. Dennis Lamoreaux busily squeezing off rounds with his M-14 rifle at a rebel who had climbed a tree on a jetty sticking out in the Caribbean. The Third Platoon of Dog Company deployed but it is doubtful that the Marines ever learned to do it "that way" back at Camp Lejeune.

That's the way it is at Checkpoint Dallas. As the Marine said, it was a hell of a way to fight a war.

GERALD J. LANG, ADJ2, has received the award of "Plane Captain of the Month" of Heavy Attack Squadron 11 at Sanford Naval Air Station for "outstanding performance of duty." (Navy Photo)

Civilians had a disconcerting habit of strolling rather casually down a sidewalk and into the line of fire. Then there was another problem. The lieutenant had told the Third Platoon they could not shoot unless they were shot at.

So when shots began whistling toward the Third Platoon from the direction of the jetty, the lieutenant said it was okay to shoot.

Lamoreaux' third or fourth shot brought something that looked a lot like a man toppling out of the tree. Then it began to look more like a war.

The lieutenant said Lamoreaux, of Jacksonville, N. C., had a possible kill.

The sergeant lit a cigarette and his buddies in the Third Platoon were yelling things like "beautiful shot" and "did you see that guy fall out of that tree?"

War at Checkpoint Dallas sometimes seems unreal. A Marine can stand around the corner and buy a cold beer at the grocery store and think it over.

Or he can try out his high school Spanish on the Dominican girls who stop by to say a lot of things that don't sound like "Yankee go home."

Speaking relatively, Checkpoint Dallas is pretty good duty.

Take "Bodcheck Charlie" for example. That's what the boys in Third Platoon call the rebel sniper who fires a few rounds at them every day just after dark.

The Marines say they're going to get "Bodcheck Charlie" one of these nights. They may, too, because they've got a lot more fire power than Charlie and his sniping buddies.

Then there's that old white truck with the sandbags and 80 caliber machinegun on it. The rebels use it occasionally to make a run toward Checkpoint Dallas. But they don't get very far.

County 'Senior Citizens' Resent The Implication

By Dottie Austin
(First Of Three)

"The day a man retires is the day he begins to die," says 86-year-old Frank Miller, judge of the Seminole County Small Claims Court, who puts in a full day's work every day.

"I will leave this world no sooner had the paper come off the press than the telephone began ringing. 'I'd know that beautiful smile anywhere,' said one caller.

Mrs. I. J. Butler Jr., 113 West Jenkins Circle, was the first one to guess the "mystery man's" identity.

You are all right, folks. It is Charlie Morrison. You can fool some of the people some of the time but not all of the people all of the time.

An abundance of coral snakes is reported in the Lake Branley area.

Maj. Harry Williamson of Sand Lake Road killed a 21-inch coral snake on his property the other day. It was his second kill within a few days.

Congratulations to County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Fitzpatrick! They are the parents of a baby girl born last Saturday. She makes No. 7 for the Fitzpatricks. They have five boys and two girls.

A major problem in operating a hospital is "what to do with the visitors?" Well meaning as they may be, visitors clutter up the place and quite often slow down the normal functions by getting in the way. Seminole Memorial Hospital today issued this plea: "Due to the crowded conditions of the hospital, it is strongly urged that visitors: Limit their visit to 15 minutes; two visitors to a patient only; do not congregate in the halls, in order that equipment and the normal functioning of the nursing department can be carried on for the patients' welfare and benefit." And an aside to these well-meaning visitors: These doctors seriously are considering cutting off all visits to their patients.

Land O' Lakes Country Club will hold a disaster benefit golf tournament, pool party and cookout June 6 for the sinkhole victims at Casselberry. The club also has offered its golf course, swimming pool and barbecue facilities to the "Helping Hands." All entry fees will be put in the fund for the benefit of the disaster victims.

Two memorial gifts have been received by United Fund of Seminole County, one in memory of Mrs. Beatrice Rivers and the other in memory of Miss Florence Witte—gifts that will go toward helping the living.

some day, but meantime, I'm not going to let the world leave me behind," added the judge, patting the female reporter on the knee.

Frank Miller's sentiments are obviously echoed by hundreds of other "senior citizens" of this area, who past "retirement" age, who continue in business, putting in long hours on the job as well as taking part in many civic activities and extracurricular activities.

The month of May was designated as "Senior Citizen's Month" by the President's Council on Aging and this reporter was assigned to find out what the "senior citizens" of our area are doing and thinking and what is happening to them.

What we discovered astounded us, (young and ignorant as we are.)

(On of the first things we found out was that we have no "senior citizens" around here. Among those who qualify for the title, the words have an ominous ring and are resented—sometimes fiercely.

The second thing we discovered was that although the figure of 65 has been arbitrarily set as "quitting" time for most workers, a great many of them choose to ignore the bell to "retire to their corner" and keep right on with what they are doing.

Others accept the dictum, hang up their hat and start "taking it easy." They get out the fishing rods and the golf clubs, putter around the yard a while, read a few books they had been saving. Suddenly they wake up one morning to find they are "bored to death" with "retirement" and back to the work-a-day world they go, to "start living again."

Downeasters Take Fight In Stride

LEWISTON, Maine (UPI)—The even tenor of its way is what this town is pursuing, right up to fisticuff time. Easy does it.

Burns Hails Road Bond Victory

Highway Plan To Be Carried To Electorate

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Haydon Burns today hailed passage of his $300 million road bond program as a great victory for Florida and said he will campaign to get it adopted by the people at a special election in the fall.

Burns said the amendments tacked to the Senate approved bill before its passage in the House by a 91-29 vote Monday night were "very mild" in effect and there will be no problem straightening out differences in House and Senate versions when it gets to conference committee later this week.

There are two major differences in the two versions. The House tacked on a conflict of interest provision which the governor said was not really necessary, claiming other state laws took care of such matters.

And the Senate insisted on a West Florida road called the "Tapper Road" which Governor Burns said was not justified and which the House refused to accept.

In its marathon battle Monday, the House members debated chiefly an endless procession of amendments to the bill, not the bond program itself.

In all, the House killed off 21 proposed amendments to the program but approved 13.

Rep. S. J. Davis Jr., of Seminole County, was unsuccessful in tacking on amendments constructing arterial connectors and urban improvements in his county, work on the highway (17-92) from Sanford to Orange City, and increasing the size of the issue from $300 million to $350 million.

Senate OKs Jr. College

TALLAHASSEE (SpI)—Final passage on all phases for a $611,561 appropriation for the proposed Seminole Junior College was voted by the State Senate at noon today.

The Senate, in a move spearheaded by Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., of Sanford, included $365,000 for capital outlay (construction) for the school in the $80 million bond implementing bill.

Previously the Senate had approved two appropriations for the Seminole college, $30,000 for planning and $219,661 for operations during the second year of the biennium. Those latter appropriations will come from the general operating fund.

Senator Cleveland's motion was approved to immediately certify the entire plan to the House of Representatives for its approval.

Should the House and Gov. Haydon Burns approve, the college could commence operations next September in available space in present school facilities.

JOHN ANGEL, principal of South Seminole Junior High School, was honored when the school's unit of the National Junior Honor Society was named the "John Angel Chapter." President Thomas Soard presented the charter to Angel.

John Angel Honored By Honor Students

Charter for John Angel Chapter, National Junior Honor Society, was formally presented by President Thomas Soard to Principal John Angel at an all-school outdoor assembly at South Seminole Junior High School.

Twenty-three new members were tapped and initiated.

Burns Behind New Teacher Pay Hike Plan

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Haydon Burns has thrown his support behind a bill that may give school teachers the pay raise denied them by the state Legislature.

Marion Rep. William O'Neill introduced the bill last Friday on the heels of a demand by the Florida Education Association for an investigation of the "political atmosphere" in Florida in relation to the school system.

The FEA called for the investigation after the Legislature turned thumbs down on a $50 million tax hike that would be earmarked for teacher pay raises.

The investigation sparked angry replies from lawmakers, including Senate President James Connor, who claimed the FEA was trying to "blackjack" the Legislature into voting them a raise.

Other lawmakers called the investigation "ironic" after a recent Supreme Court ruling that property must be taxed at its full value and O'Neill's bill giving the comptroller power to enforce the full value property assessment ruling.

The comptroller under O'Neill's bill, could withhold commissions to local tax assessors and delay approval of local tax rolls that do not meet the market value criteria set by the Supreme Court last week in a Duval County case.

Plan To Save Seats Of All Incumbents

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The big county minority bloc agreed tentatively on a congressional redistricting compromise that would preserve the seat of every incumbent U. S. representative from Florida.

The group, numbering 16, met at the call of Sen. George Hollahan, of Dade, and decided informally to try to stick together on both redistricting and legislative reapportionment, rather than each trying to come up with his own plan.

They also decided, Hollahan reported, to take up congressional redistricting ahead of legislative reapportionment—and to handle both in a special session rather than tackling either of the knotty problems in the two weeks remaining of the current Legislature.

Only Sen. John Spottswood, of Key West, was unhappy with the plan finally agreed to, he said, and adjustments might be made to satisfy him.

He objected to the group's proposal for an investigation of the "political atmosphere" in Florida in relation to the school system.

That would leave Dade County with two congressmen of its own, each representing a district with a population of slightly over 400,000.

At present Dade has two Congressmen, but one also represents little Monroe and Spottswood did not want to be cut off from Dade since geographically it is attached.

Another trouble spot was in the district which includes Brevard County. Sen. James Drossler, Cocoa Beach, was satisfied with a distribution that made a new district composed of Orange, Brevard and Indian River as far as redistricting goes, but he would not want this setup to dictate legislative reapportionment that might make Brevard and Orange a senatorial district whereas now they are separate districts with separate senators.

Orlandoan Loses Cash To Robbers

ORLANDO (UPI)—A prominent citrus grower and packer was robbed of $2,000 in cash in the driveway of his home by three masked gunmen early today.

L. W. Hardman was accosted by two men as he prepared to go to work. They searched him and took the cash, papers and some keys.

Hardman was tied up by the three men who escaped in his 1965 automobile. They left it abandoned and it was found about 45 minutes after the holdup.

Gray-Y Boasts 75 Members At Altamonte

By Julia Bartos
The Gray-Y Club, formed last September in Altamonte Springs, held its first annual Father-Mother-and-Son banquet at the Altamonte Springs Elementary School with a capacity attendance.

Rupert Jenkins, leader of the club, stated that when the club was started there were 30 members and by mid-February the membership had reached 75 boys. He is hopeful that there will be 100 members next year.

The boys participate in all sports activities with the program being to teach each youth good fellowship, sportsmanship, physical fitness and to develop qualities of leadership.

All boys take part in sports, regardless of their ability, and they are taught to enjoy competitive sports and to play for fun.

Jenkins introduced Frank Gray, assistant director of the Winter Park Branch, Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA), who complimented the Altamonte Club on its success in the past year.

There are 87 Gray-Y Clubs throughout the area and Gray termed the Altamonte group one of the finest and largest. He mentioned that a new Y Building will be available for all to enjoy in the very near future.

Many of the boys received ribbons for their achievements in the various sports and several trophies were awarded the club. Included were those for the Northeast Winter Park Branch basketball championship and the Orange County basketball championship.

Look At Work It's Done!

Thanks to space-age research, a dream of man as old as mankind itself may be coming true—the power to perform work simply by looking at it.

This is not magic but a system for operating computers and equipment developed at the Marshall Space Center in Huntsville, Ala. Called a "night simulator," it is intended to be used by engineers to check out giant rockets, but it opens up a whole new realm of other possibilities.

A patient in a hospital or wheelchair, for instance, could cause equipment to go into action by causing a double whammy at certain switches.

The sight simulator is one of a number of "spin-offs" from space research—technical inventions with civilian applications—just revealed to the public at Huntsville.

Other items include a pneumatic artificial heart pump, a fuel cell-powered golf cart and fork lift, a transistor record player the size of a pie box, a three-dimensional television technique and a cordless power drill.

Phenomenal? Not Really

A 22-year-old Russian girl, Rosa Kuleshova, made international news in 1962 when it was reported that she possessed the mysterious ability to read print with her fingertips while blindfolded.

There followed a flurry of similar claims, both in Russia and the United States. A Michigan housewife was said to be able to detect colors by touch, even in complete darkness. A national magazine devoted an article to "dermo-optical perception."

Most scientists remained skeptical, however, especially since among the millions of blind persons, who could be expected to have been the first to make the discovery, none ever claimed the ability.

Now, reports Scientific American, the Russians have explained the "phenomenon," at least on their side of the world.

Carefully controlled tests at the Bekhterev Psychoneurological Scientific Research Institute in Leningrad showed—Rosa peeked.

Thought For Today

"If I am not doing the works of my Father, then do not believe me; but if I do them, even though you do not believe me, believe the works, that you may know and understand that the Father is in me and I am in the Father."—John 10:37-38.

The fact of Christ does not indeed show us everything, but it does show the one thing we need to know—the character of God. God is the God who sent Jesus.—P. Carnegie Simpson.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Single Basic Purpose

United From International

When the fog of dispute and disclaimer is cleared away, it becomes clear that U. S. fighting men are in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic for a single basic purpose. The purpose is defense of the republic and the welfare of the American people.

The American fighting men are on the battle line for the self-centered purpose of defending the American way of life. It is naive and ridiculous to suppose that the United States would mount a ground, sea and air war in and about Southeast Asia merely to prevent Chinese Communists from gobbling up Vietnamese, Thais, Cambodians or whatever.

Equally unrealistic is the idea that U. S. armed forces would be deployed in Santo Domingo today merely to prevent Latin America from being gobbled up by Communists, Chinese or Russian. Our own U. S. welfare is riding on a quarantine of the western hemisphere against more communism. That is our ticket of admission. No other cause would suffice to support or to explain Johnson administration policies in the Caribbean and in Southeast Asia.

Americans with any knowledge of western hemisphere history will understand that the story of global human relations justifies U. S. intervention in the Dominican Republic. The history of global human relations recognizes that extending outward from the boundaries of any great power is what came to be known as: A sphere of special interest.

Within their various spheres of special interest, great powers through the centuries have exercised special powers and authorities. The theory of spheres of influence is well-imbued in international custom. For example: Cuba paid in 1902 a sphere of influence price for the withdrawal of U. S. troops which had obtained Cuba's freedom from Spain. The price was inclusion in the new Cuban constitution of the so-called Platt amendment. This amendment fixed the basis of future U. S.-Cuban relations.

A clause of the Platt amendment authorized the United States to intervene to preserve Cuban independence and to maintain law and order. The amendment also was written into the basis 1903 U. S.-Cuban treaty.

Franklin D. Roosevelt abolished the Platt amendment three months after taking presidential office, freeing Cuba for ultimate Communist conquest. FDR and Harry S. Truman led the United States down a political garden path and away from the original theory of spheres of influence.

The Organization of American States, now so prominently in the news, substituted a collective sphere of influence for the individual interests of its members. Collectives lend themselves to dispute; are slow to act. This is why LBJ by-passed OAS to order U. S. Marines into Santo Domingo.

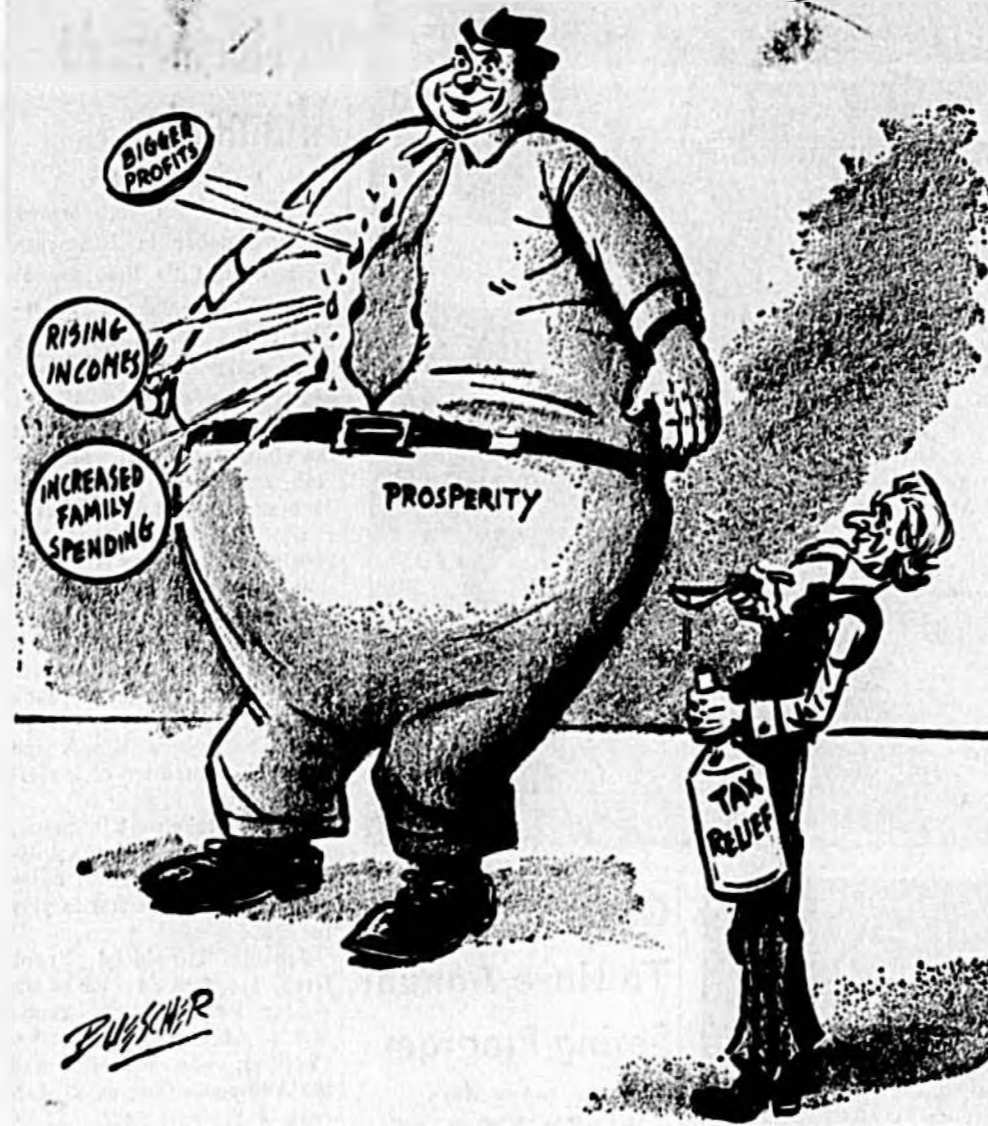

The U. S. sphere of influence in the Caribbean was best understood and best stated by another Roosevelt, Teddy. In a message to Congress Dec. 6, 1904, TR added to the Monroe Doctrine what has come to be called Roosevelt's corollary or supplement. His supplement stated firmly the need and purpose and right of the United States to exercise international police power, however reluctantly, when it became necessary among the nations washed by the Caribbean Sea.

TR never was seized by a compulsion to make everyone love North America. FDR was badly hit by the malady. LBJ was ill of it but is recovering. TR's supplement may be paraphrased like this: What is good for the United States is good for our neighbors. He wrote:

"In asserting the Monroe Doctrine with special emphasis on influence . . . we have acted in our own interest as well as in the interest of humanity at large."

"In our own interest!" Good policy, that! Unbeatable!

EXPANSIVE TONIC

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Norman's case is a classic, so scribble it! And if you wives have husbands who may soon reach the dreaded 40th birthday, then you better start a seductive campaign. Otherwise, your mate can become a slave to $488. If you want him to retain his affection for you, don't let a "platonic pass" drive him to worship Midast CASE 4-402: Norman G., aged 47, is a wealthy broker. "Dr. Crane," his attractive wife began, "my husband is a perfect example of your description of the 'power complex' that afflicts men in middle age."

"Norman used to be very affectionate. And he was generous to a fault."

"Money never seemed to be of much interest as long as we enjoyed our home and children and had enough for the usual American suburban comforts."

"Then a subtle change began to come over him. As I look back, I think it started when he entered the 40s."

"He grew more obsessed with his business and became almost a fanatic about making more money."

"We didn't need it for we had led a happy life. But Norman grew obsessed with a craze for wealth."

"Like King Midas, he seemed to want to gloat over gold. He didn't desire money for what it could buy. Instead, he liked to sit and just revel over the rise in the stock market."

"And this has occurred in direct parallel to the waning of our love life. Do you think there is a connection?"

"Yes, there is usually a definite connection between a man's waning interest in Cupid and his soaring delight in Midas."

"Contrast a young man of 25 with his father, aged 50. Which one is far more interested in love vs. the financial pages of the daily newspaper?"

"As long as the average young fellow has a car and enough cash for a drive-in movie, plus some cheeseburgers afterwards, he has little devotion to money."

"So why does the older male often become the Midas addict, even though he may already have plenty to live on comfortably throughout his remaining years?"

"Subconsciously, many an older male feels that his youthful virility and muscular power are waning."

"But he realizes that 'money is power.'"

"So he shifts his allegiance to Midas instead of Cupid, figuring that if he has wealth, he can buy wife, women and sons, and coerce his companions into a sycophantic deference to his importance."

"Finally, alas, the devotee of money loses sight of the goal for which he originally wanted it."

"So he becomes, like Elias Warner, a fonder of gold pieces instead of his wife's golden tresses."

He enjoys money just for the sight of it.

Life is actually a slave to $488.

Those $488 marks become idols which he may worship all of his waking hours. Beware!

A wealthy man recently died in Chicago. Two friends were discussing him, and one asked "How much did Bill leave?"

"Everything!" replied the other. (Clergymen, use this as a sermon!)

Husbands, wake up! Never make $488 your idol.

And learn how to retain your lifelong erotic vigor, so send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long, stamped, return envelope, plus 30 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, stamped, addressed envelope and 30 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

The article in your May 7 Herald about me, "Senior Citizen Protests Center for Children," implied my protest was somehow associated with old age and its attendant senility. That may be true, and I would be the last to know if it were.

However, I think I have a better explanation. I belong to the fast vanishing breed who believes that you should buy only when you can pay; if you can't pay you do without, or make do with what you have.

Allamonte Springs cannot pay for a Youth Center without going heavily into debt. It has few children and few industries within its corporate limits and by undertaking a project beyond its capabilities, it will of necessity have to curtail its services for the majority of its residents, or raise its taxes. If this facility is for the school children in the county, then Fern Park, Casselberry, Longwood and Orlenia Gardens should join with Allamonte Springs in its project as we, the residents without children, join them in supporting the Seminole County schools.

In line with my "make do" thinking, I suggested that the $8,000 for recreation now held by the town should be used to renovate our old Community House to make it usable for adults and children alike, until some later date when the town can afford a center for children alone. The Besties would dislike the place, as does our Council, but I am old-fashioned—square is the word. I believe — enough to find the stained wood walls, luxuries. Why not a school tax on cosmetics, cigarettes, dog racing, horse racing, other amusements admissions, and alcoholic beverages. (Daytona alone was recently a foot deep in beer cans.)

I would urge all parents, and others, who agree with a parent who is writing this letter, to write their Senator and State Representatives to pass Senate Bill number 351, which will provide additional funds that are so vitally needed by Florida's schools.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The United States has put $150 million aid into the tiny Dominican Republic in the past three and a third years.

That's almost $50 for every man, woman and child. On a man-for-man basis, it equals pouring $9 billion into a country the size of the United States.

Just after the Bay of Pigs debacle in Cuba, President Kennedy picked the Dominican Republic as the most likely nation to go the way of Cuba. He personally became intensely, emotionally involved in Dominican aid. There was a feeling among some men that he almost took over the job of the State Department Dominican desk officer.

President Johnson has taken an equally great interest.

Their object: To make this half island the show place of the Caribbean.

U. S. money financed a great many fine improvements—in agricultural output, rural credit, schools and industrial development. Chunks of money went into financing Dominican budget deficits, into financing imports to hold down inflation, into setting up an agricultural county agent system. There was hope that in another year the Dominican Republic would be self-sufficient in food. The Peace Corps was going strong.

The world price of sugar, the island's major cash crop, had recently fallen to catastrophic lows, but the United States was making up for this with food, cash and credit.

What then went wrong?

The evidence seems to indicate the 22 years of Trujillo dictatorship and the in-and-out governments since had left the people temporarily incapable of understanding democratic processes.

When the government instituted reforms, those hit by the reforms turned against the government. When the government tried to stop bureaucrats from dipping their hands into the till, the bureaucrats became angry. When the government told army officers not to operate on the black market or take a rake-off on government contracts, they turned anti-government.

When the government attempted to cut back on the oversize 35,000-man army and went the police from terrorist methods, a chunk of these men turned sour.

The few able administrators had been so tarred with the fruittill brush as to be ineffective.

On the other side of the political fence, after many years of dictatorship, many people were unhappy because reforms didn't go fast enough.

Of the $150 million the United States put into the Dominican Republic the past few years, only a trickle was for the training of officials, army officers or police in democratic administrative techniques and attitudes.

Practically nothing was done to help the Dominicans set up responsible political parties. Almost no training was given people in the villages in setting up democratic voting and local governing procedures.

The Dominican crisis seems to show that investing millions in economic aid alone isn't sufficient to prevent communism or insure good government (in the short run anyway) if there is little or no experience in democratic self-government to begin with.

Major U. S. successes have been in those countries where for one reason or another we interfered in the internal affairs of the governments and attempted directly to change these governments and educate their people in democratic principles — Japan, West Germany and the Philippines. (Then we bowed out.)

Our major failures have been in those democratically backward countries into which we poured large amounts of economic aid but did little to train and educate them in democracy.

Cat Mothers A Mixed-Up Squirrel

FORT WALTON BEACH (UPI) — The Bill Lee family has a squirrel which refuses to give up its foster mother.

Lee, a fire captain, brought the squirrel home two months ago as a baby. It apparently fell out of its own nest.

The family cat had a litter of five kittens. Lee shoved the squirrel up against the mama cat and the little tyke made himself at home right away.

The cat hardly blinked an eye. In fact, she adopted the tiny ball of fur as one of her own. She looks after the squirrel and keeps it clean as the kittens.

Mama cat is having a little trouble these days, though. She's trying to wean her family but the squirrel doesn't want to give up his reliable source of milk. He just grabs a saucer and lets mama carry him all over the house until he gets a tummyful.

Overseeing the family operation is the Lee's pet boxer, who has been known to play with the squirrel and lick it with his tongue.

Lee allows that the squirrel must be pretty smart to keep hanging on to the mama cat instead of worrying about acorns and stuff like that, at least until the supply is depleted.

"I guess he'll be on his own then," said Lee.

Tom's Tongue Twists Trial To Tactics

PRESTON, England (UPI) — When Thomas Wareing's car collided with a truck police arrested him for drunken driving.

"Rubbish," Wareing told the arresting officer. "Listen to this:

"Swim Sam, swim Sam, swim. Show them you are some swimmer. Swim like the snow-white swan swim. Swim like the snow-like swan. Six sharp, shivering sharks are going to snap your limbs. A well-swum swim is a swim well swum. So swim, Sam, swim."

The policeman was not impressed. He issued a summons.

Wareing's case came up for trial. The 60-year-old businessman recited the tongue-twister for the jury.

The verdict? Innocent.

Go Ahead... Go Cadillac!

Before you buy any car at any price, consider a Cadillac first of all. New or previously owned, a Cadillac is the one way to be sure your investment will buy the most and last the longest.

Whatever you have budgeted for your next car, your Cadillac dealer has a Cadillac to fit your plans. Naturally, if your choice were unrestricted, you would prefer a new 1965 Cadillac like the Sedan de Ville in front. Next best would be a late-model, previously-owned Cadillac such as the black 1963 Sedan de Ville, above. A well-maintained, one-owner used Cadillac is actually the only real rival of a new Cadillac. Because of the popularity of the 1965 model, your authorized dealer is the one logical place to go for the best selection of fine used Cadillacs.

Clay, Liston Meet In Heavyweight Bout

LEWISTON, Maine (UPI)—The first scene, second act of boxing's greatest drama will unfold tonight in a high school hockey rink in this old Maine mill city of 41,000 people.

It's loquacious Cassius Clay vs. scowling Sonny Liston for the heavyweight championship of the world.

This one truly has everything.

It will draw the smallest number of on-the-scene spectators since ring championships were decided on barges back in the days of John L. Sullivan. Yet, through the magic of television, it will be viewed by more people than any fight in history.

It also has all the ingredients of a movie thriller, including a reported plot that the champion, Clay, a militant Black Muslim sect, will be bumped off by gun-toting followers of a rival movement, the Black Nationalists.

And to add spice to this suspenseful drama, it already has been banned in Boston.

Everybody connected with the production of this latest battle for boxing's richest prize insists that Clay is in "NO" real danger.

Nevertheless, officials of Sports Vision Inc., which will televise the fight around the world, took the precaution of plunking down $1,000 for a $1,000,000 insurance premium on the life of the 23-year-old undefeated champion from Louisville, Ky. That figures out to 1,000 to 1 odds against any harm befalling Clay.

It is significant, though, that the insurance policy became effective at midnight Monday night and will remain in force for three days.

The first bit of trouble — if there is any — could occur at the official weigh-in today at 11:30 a.m. (Sanford time) at the Central Maine Youth Center. In this same hangar-like building, commonly known hereabouts as St. Dom's Arena, Liston and Clay will start trading punches at approximately 9:30 p.m. tonight.

Clay has maintained throughout his training period he would provide "a surprise — call it more a shock" at the weigh-in. Monday, though, he said the only surprise he was planning for this ceremony was "complete silence."

The oddsmakers continued to quote Liston as a 13-10 favorite for the return fight. However, the very men he feels are against him, the sports writers, are stringing along with Clay.

A total of 71 chose Clay while 48 picked Liston to win in a press poll. All but six of the writers predicted the bout would end in a knockout. Five selected Clay to win on a decision while one voted for a draw.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Senate Miscellaneous Legislation Committee Monday approved a bill authorizing thoroughbred racing at Seminole Raceway.

The Sanford track, which got into financial difficulties last season and didn't operate, already was licensed for harness racing and quarter horse racing.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Mack Cleveland of Sanford, merely allows the track to add thoroughbred racing during its season, a move track owners feel may help the operation overcome its financial troubles.

Other horse racing bills continue to fight for life and the summer horse racing bill continued its thorny path through the legislature today with a hearing in the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee.

The bill cleared its first committee hurdle Monday. The senate miscellaneous legislation committee, after studying the bill for several weeks, gave it a favorable report.

After the finance and taxation committee the bill must go to the rules committee to get on a special calendar for consideration by the full senate.

In the house the going is even rougher.

The house public amusement committee left an identical bill with a week ago. It is to be reconsidered by that committee at a future meeting.

The bill was introduced by Senators Harry Stratton of Calhoun and George Tappert of Port St. Joe. It authorizes a 30-day summer meeting for 11 tracks, Gulfstream and Tropical Parks between May 1 and Nov. 15.

By Carl Block UPI Sports Writer

Warren Spahn and Frank Lary: A pair of castoffs who can still cast some long shadows.

Spahn, the oldest major leaguer at 44, feels he has something to prove to his former employers at Milwaukee and Lary, a winner of 123 games in 10 seasons with Detroit, believes he can still pitch and is trying to convince the rest of the league.

Both men looked ten feet tall to Gene Mauch's Phillies Monday as they led the hapless New York Mets to a 6-2, 4-1 sweep of a twin bill with Philadelphia.

Viewing the comparative ease with which the two veterans handled the opposition Monday, Mauch and any other big league manager would be glad to add them to his staff.

Elsewhere, in the National League, Cincinnati downed Houston 5-2; Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 6-4; Milwaukee edged San Francisco 4-3; and St. Louis beat Los Angeles 8-4.

In the American League, the Yankees slammed Cleveland 15-5; Baltimore nipped Washington 2-1 and Detroit beat Chicago 8-3 in the only games scheduled.

Maples Hurls Third Consecutive No-Hitter

The Junior League first half Champs, Elks, got the second half off on a winning note Monday by beating Shrine 1-0.

Gary Maples continues to set records in Junior League play. He hurled his third consecutive no-hitter yesterday, striking 21 of the 22 men he faced.

Brad Hollingsworth of Shrine was the only batter to reach base off Maples and he did it via a second inning error.

Maples struck out 13 and did not yield a walk. He has now fanned 39 batters in 29 innings and has walked only four. Maples has not allowed a hit over the last 28 innings. His pitching record is now 5-0.

John Hunt, with a single in the third inning and David Soper, with a second inning single, were the only batters to hit safely off loser Skip Senkarik. Senkarik whiffed six batters and issued two bases on balls. He retired the last 13 batters he faced.

Elks, in winning their seventh straight game, scored the only run of the contest in the second inning when Tommy Gracey bunted home the decisive tally.

This was the second straight 1-0 game in which Elks had two pitchers opposed each other in the last outting, which went eight innings.

Eddie Hitchcock of Elks and Steve Leach of Shrine were both cited for their outstanding glove work.

In other Junior League action, Rotary hurled Civitan under a 17-3 score last night. Bobby Bryant was the win-

Rookie Discounts Rear Engines

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—A rookie driving in his first 500-mile speedway auto race predicted today the rear-engine machines will beat themselves.

Arnold Knepper of Belleville, Ill., who once was a mechanic for the late Tony Bettenhausen, is driving one of the gradually disappearing conventional roadsters in Monday's holiday chase.

Twenty-seven rear-engine machines are in the lineup and only four roadsters.

Knepper qualified on the first Sunday, which turned in to "Illinois day" since Don Branson of Champaign was the only other qualifier. His speed was 154.5 miles per hour—good enough to earn him the berth on the outside of the seventh row — right next to Branson.

"Our strategy is to run the distance," he said. "We plan on running 500 miles. We have no particular pattern of speed in mind."

But Knepper, who has never even seen the "500," implied he plans to play a "waiting game."

"The funny rear-engine cars have changed the pattern of driving entirely," he said. "We know we can't beat their speed, but we think they're going to beat themselves."

"We are in a period of transition and anything can happen. Nobody is real positive about anything—not even Col. Chapman, who started it all."

Chapman brought the first rear-engine Lotus here three years ago and Scotland's Jimmy Clark finished second only to winner Parnell Jones. Last year Clark sat on the pole in a Lotus as the fastest qualifier. The success of the Lotus started the trend at the Speedway to rear-engine machines.

Sunland Yanks Tap Casselberry

By Jim Sacchus Herald Sports Writer

Pitcher Tom Sandage drove in battery mate Tom Bryan with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning to give the Sunland Yankees a 3-4 victory over the Casselberry Indians in Senior League action last night at C. L. Cooper Field in Casselberry.

The winning hit climaxed a see-saw battle by the two teams, which began in the first inning. In the top of the first, Casselberry scored three runs on a long home run by Brent Helms, but Sunland came back in the bottom of the inning when Bryan tied it up with another three-run homer, his eighth circuit clout in as many games.

Casselberry added a score in the second inning, but the Yanks came back to tie it in the bottom of the fourth. In the last of the seventh Bryan led off and was intentionally walked. Donnie Smith followed with a double to put runners on second and third, and Sandage rapped the game-winning hit.

Bryan led the Sunland attack with his home run and scored twice. Sandage had a pair of singles, Smith had a double and Greg Robinson, Donnie Robinson and Addison Stewart all had singles.

Helms led the Casselberry attack with his home run. Chuck Dowell and Darwin Shay each had a pair of singles, Ronnie Skeen belted a double, and Wayne Stophel, Jim Lucas, Leonard Hollis and Jim Miller all had singles.

Sandage chalked up seven strikeouts and shut out the Indians over the last five frames to gain the victory.

In Little League action, Casselberry whipped the Yankees 11-2 behind the two-hit pitching of mound ace Terry Baker. It was the eighth straight victory for the Little League Indians in competition this season, and was their first win in the second half of play.

Casselberry pounded Sunland pitching for 10 hits, including a pair of doubles by Larry Cole, a triple and single by Bobby Means, a pair of singles by David Howe, and singles by Johnny Keim, Doug Kauble, Larry Lego and David Shy.

George Tiffany belted a double for Sunland and Tom Simmons had the other hit, a single.

Baker shut out the Yankees in every frame but the second when they scored twice. He struck out 11 batters.

Allamonte Senators will meet the Bear Lake Pirates in Little and Senior League action beginning at 6 p.m.

Prairie Lake Baptist Wins

A five-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning, gave Prairie Lake Baptist Church of Fern Park a 15-14 victory over league leading Killarney Baptist in a Winter Park church league softball game last night in Winter Park.

Centerfielder Nelson Sturill drove in the winning run with a single to complete a perfect night at the plate. In five trips to the plate he rapped two singles, a double, a triple and the three-run home run. Shortstop Floyd Bailey also had a successful night for Prairie Lake, belting a double, triple and home run. Cleo Jacobs was the winning pitcher, hurling the distance for Prairie Lake. Working with him behind the plate were Don Conway and Herbert Luke.

Parents Learn Of Daughter's Promotion

By Mrs. John Leone
News has been received in Delray of the promotion of Miss Shirley Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill L. Robinson of Smyrna Drive, to director of the school for Aymara Indian Girls in Ancoramas, Bolivia.

Reporting the advancement were Rev. and Mrs. Bob McAden and their children from LaPaz, Bolivia, who have been houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson.

The McAdens are missionaries to Bolivia and work with Miss Robinson in the Lake Titicaca District where Rev. McAden is district superintendent of all Methodist churches in Bolivia. Accompanying them on their visit here was a young Bolivian girl, a graduate of the School of Nursing in LaPaz, who is in the United States on a year's scholarship to study in American hospitals.

VIGILANTE NAVY WIVES Club 211 made a gift of linens to the local unit of the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Rhea Cooper (right) president of the club, presents linens to Mrs. Martha Azzarello, in charge of making bandages for the cancer society. (Herald Photo)

THIS TINY CREATURE is a three day old baby skunk, and the telltale stripes down his back can be plainly seen. Holding the new-born kitten, only survivor of a litter of four, is Sue Maurer of RVAH-13, Jetstream reporter for the EM Wives club. (Herald Photo)

At the recent business meeting in the NW meeting room, Liddy Eyre who resides at the Land of Lakes Trailer Park in Orange City was a guest. Ann Mayer won the door prize, a butter warmer. Hostesses were Judy Lomenick, Ann Mayer and Sue Maurer.

BEST NEWS STORY we've had this week is the birth of a litter of kittens to "grandmother" Sue Maurer. These kittens were some what unusual in that they were baby skunks. It was the first delivery for the Maurer's pet female skunk and only one of the four kittens survived. The tiny creature is keeping Sue busy with bottle feeding every three hours round the clock. She brought the "new baby" to the Herald office Monday and we photographed him for posterity, while the Herald staff stood around in open-mouthed amazement. Sue assured them that skunks are harmless until the age of two and a half months and make very fine, affectionate and devoted pets.

Senate Group OKs Race Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Senate miscellaneous legislation committee approved a bill today authorizing thoroughbred racing at Seminole Raceway.

The Sanford track, which got into financial difficulties last season and didn't operate, already was licensed for harness racing and quarter horse racing. The bill, introduced by Sen. Mack Cleveland, of Sanford, merely allows the track to add thoroughbred racing during its season, a move track owners feel may help the operation overcome its financial troubles.

A bill requiring out-of-state manufacturers and wholesalers to pay the five per cent Florida tax on sporting goods was tossed in the Legislature along with bills affecting the alcoholic beverage industry.

Most of the bills introduced on the House were local in nature, affecting only one county. Although the influx of bills has remained high, the number of bills of statewide application dropped during the last week of the session.

Rep. Bill Reedy, of Lake Wales, introduced a measure to place the five per cent sporting tax on Florida sales by out-of-state manufacturers. The measure would require the wholesalers and manufacturers to register with the State Revenue Commission and pay the tax.

Reedy said the measure would work to the advantage of the Florida retailer by relieving him of any responsibility to remit to the state taxes on purchases of items from out-of-state manufacturers and wholesalers. He said it would place on the out of state firm the same responsibility now placed by law on in-state wholesalers.

Money from the sporting goods tax will be used to finance a bond issue to pay for the purchase of state recreational lands.

There were three measures affecting the alcoholic beverage business in Florida. One, by Rep. Tommy Stevens, of Pasco, would exempt from beverage taxation until July 1, 1967, honey wine manufactured in Florida.

Reps. Bill Basford and Lynwood Arnold, of Duval, introduced legislation requiring bottle clubs to observe the same closing hours required by the state for business holding alcoholic beverage licenses.

Rep. Ray Mattox, of Polk, introduced a bill authorizing persons on parole or probation to work in a business holding a beverage license, provided the employe doesn't prepare or sell alcoholic beverages. There were two appropriation bills tossed in the lower chamber. Rep. Ralph Turlington, of Alachua, introduced a bill authorizing expenditure of $206,325 to increase salaries at the University of Florida's Institute of food and agricultural services. The money would make up for federal funds which will not become available as an-anticipated during the coming biennium. House lawmakers representing counties along the route of the Cross-Florida barge canal introduced a bill appropriating $1 million to buy right-of-way for the facility. Rep. Ralph Carter, of Washington, introduced a bill requiring state and county officers to take a leave-of-absence or resign when running for another office.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In just a few weeks my brother is getting married. He asked Dad to be his best man, and it doesn't sound proper to me. Please give me your opinion. I would appreciate an answer in your column so he can see it, too. Thank you.

JANE

DEAR JANE: It is entirely proper and I think a beautiful gesture on the part of your brother. In these days when diamonds are a girl's best friend, how refreshing for a man's best friend to be his Dad.

DEAR ABBY: I have a pet peeve that sounds so petty and stupid that I am almost ashamed to mention it. It's people who come and sit down beside me on the piano bench while I'm playing. I don't know why this bothers me so much, but it does. Now you know, Abby, you can't tell someone to get up and go sit somewhere else without hurting their feelings. But it would be a big relief to me if I could get them to move in a nice inoffensive way. Any suggestions from you, or anyone who has solved this problem, would be greatly appreciated.

LOST CHORD

DEAR LOST: People want to sit beside you while you're playing because they're fascinated. Change your attitude and regard their presence as a compliment and it might be easier to bear. P.S. You might also change your piano bench for a piano stool.

DEAR ABBY: I am having a problem with my sister. She is always running down the place where I get my meat, groceries and even where I take my dry cleaning. She keeps after me to shop where she shops, and gets mad if I don't take her suggestions. Her husband makes more than mine and I can't afford to spend money like she does. Besides, I have no car and I have to shop near to where I live. Abby, I am satisfied with my life the way it is but she makes me feel like everything I have is second-rate. I'm not jealous of her. I just wish she would leave me alone and quit suggesting things I can't afford. I am older than she is, but she makes me feel like a helpless child. What can I tell her? SISTER TROUBLE

DEAR TROUBLE: Thank her for her suggestions. Then tell her you must shop where it is convenient for you, and the price fits your pocketbook. And if she resumes the suggestions, tune her out and change the subject.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROBERT. There's only one

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Most of the time when you lose a finesse, you break even because you would have been sure to lose the trick later. Occasionally it turns out that the card you finessed against is unguarded in back so that refusal to finesse would have actually gained a trick for you.

NORTH ♠ 7 ♣ 642 ♢ QJ3 ♠ AKQJ2
WEST ♠ A9 ♣ KJ37 ♢ 9554 ♠ 833
EAST ♠ 108 ♣ A553 ♢ 10872 ♠ 76

Today's hand illustrates a play that goes by the name of the obligatory finesse. It is given that name because it is a finesse that can't possibly cost you a trick.

South's four-spade contract is not one of those gilt-edge ones that you can take down to your bank and borrow money on. In fact, it is doubtful that even a cockeyed optimist would consider it a good investment, but the contract is not hopeless.

East wins the first trick with the ace of hearts and returns the suit. South's queen queen will win the trick. Then South will lead back dummy's other spade and here is the spot for the obligatory finesse. South must play a low spade on East's jack or ten, depending on which one he has elected to play.

This is a peculiar sort of finesse since South is actually playing a card that can't possibly win the trick, but this time it does the work of a king. West has to play his ace in any event and the obligatory finesse has worked. Of course, it might go wrong. East, for some peculiar reason known only to himself, might have chosen to hold up his ace and not use it when the queen was played from dummy. He might make that play but of late years we have not found many East players of that type.

We The Women:

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I've been driving my 9-year-old boy to and from school. Now, because the school bus stops nearer our house, my husband makes John take it. Mrs. Lawrence, the boy had a severe hip operation five years ago. I do not want him riding a bus where bigger boys could knock him down. My husband says I am exaggerating his hip weakness to pamper him. How is it pampering a child to want to protect him against more injury that could cripple him for life?

ANSWER: Do you blame yourself for John's hip trouble? I'm just asking. Because it is our certainty that we are to blame for everything that goes wrong with a child which is the root of that destructive maternalism we call "pampering." Psychologists call it "overprotectiveness." It is this certainty that compels us to fasten the child to us least any independent action he takes result in some mishap, some mistake which will expose us to blame.

We're absolutely unaware of this expectation of blame—this pervasive apprehension of attack which directs all our overprotective action. We will explain, for example, our excessive fear that school bus rides will result in more injury to a child's hip as superior love. Accused of "pampering," we'll turn on the accuser with the moral indignation of someone whose capacity for love is bigger and better than anyone else's capacity for it. I think maybe you are overprotective of John. If your fear of more injury to John's hip were not loaded with fear of more blame for yourself, you would have long since asked his doctor to check his hip and tell you whether or not it can survive the hazards of school bus rides.

But this simple answer to reasonable, non-overprotective concern for a child's safety hasn't been available to you, has it? So it becomes my obligation to ask you to begin to wonder if your eagerness to protect John isn't eagerness to protect yourself.

Such wondering can be painful. Invariably it includes the realization that terror of blame is something we have lived with all our lives. It requires us to note our eagerness to justify ourselves to other people, our horror of criticism, our anxiety to please. Only when we are brave enough to know that our anxiety for John's safety isn't glorious love but a terror of blame can we begin to understand our overprotective pampering—and start to outgrow it.

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

At smart New York cocktail parties they are talking about and eating the latest—"chipmunks," homogenized potato chips. They're so good! Instead of having coffee or tea at "break" time in offices, women are eating bananas, the fruit which the sages of India called a "remarkable fruit." They have a calorie count of only 85 per medium-sized banana.

Now that the warm days are here, try making ice cubes of brewed coffee with chicory. When you have a fresher tray of these tasty cubes, have them in cream soda. You can dream up a lot of interesting cooling drinks flavored with coffee-chicory ice cubes.

The new sunglasses have wider and rounder lenses and, strangely enough, they look extremely attractive.

The newest summer hats are lightweight and really beautiful. The famed milliner, Jack McConnell makes a new soft version of a beret, with ruffles and ruffles of tulle edged in shiny straw. These can be worn in a way and at the angle most becoming to you. Black and white is taking the season, although we see much color. Black and white chiffon in afternoon dresses looks wonderful. Plain fabrics are used for dresses and the matching coats are done in a figured fabric and lined in the dress fabric.

The huge straw bag is now the "love" of fashionable women. Men's shirts are now seen with ties of the shirt fabric. They look smart—and who said that men did not go in for fads and styling?

10-11 p.m. NBC. Bell Telephone Hour (Color) The last show of the season and it's a fine one, a musical tribute to Cole Porter entrusted to an excellent cast of performers headed by singing-dancing host Donald O'Connor and including Dolores Gray, Erroll Garner, George London, Nancy Dussault, Doug Croxley and Jean Fenn. Give the production a lot of credit, but the real star is the Porter music. From "Another Opening, Another Show" to "Just One of Those Things" to "Night and Day," "In the Still of the Night," "I Love Paris," "Begin the Beguine," "Miss Otis Regrets," "You're the Top," "I Get A Kick Out of You," "I've Got You Under My Skin" and so many others, every song points up the tremendous contribution made by Porter to American music. He will be missed, but his songs promise to live forever. 7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Mr. Novak. "Boy Under Glass" (rerun) This one concerns a brilliant Negro athlete whose dedication to sports leaves him insufficient time for studies. Should Novak make allowances because of the boy's athletic prowess or declare him ineligible? Is the boy's father right in pushing his son towards sports? To what extent is the boy prepared to sacrifice his personal integrity to pass a re-examination? Wayne Grice plays the confused young man; Frank Silvers his determined father; Juanita Moore his literarily inclined mother and Arch Johnson the boy's high-school coach. 7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. Combat. "Losers Cry Deal" (rerun) Despite the wartime atmosphere, this has the feeling of a collegiate picture of the 30's in terms of character. Most of the action takes place at a poker game as the squad awaits orders. Mike Kellin does an excellent job as a bully who has another soldier so petrified he'll do anything to get the tyrant off his back. The revelation and reformation are a bit of a let-down.

8:20-9:20 p.m. CBS. The Red Skelton Hour. (rerun) Red has three guests tonight: singer Pat Boone, Mimie Will Jordan and comedienne Joyce Jameson. Boone gets three songs to sing, "Good Morning," "Good-bye Charlie" and "St. Louis Blues," and joins Red, Miss Jameson and Will in a George Appleby comedy sketch. In the skit, Boone plays a singer who needs a gimmick and George Appleby is the man who comes up with one. Jordan appears as a TV MC he has been imitating for years, and Joyce is Red's shrewish wife Clara. "The Soda Jerk" is the name of this week's silent spot. 9:30-10 p.m. ABC. Merrill's Navy. "Uncle Admiral" (rerun) Quite funny and, as usual, Captain Binghamton is the Patay who gets the worst of it. Binghamton does an about-face and becomes pals with bumbling Ensign Parker, even promoting him to his side. Reason: Binghamton has learned Parker is related to the Vice Admiral who is scheduled to inspect the Captain's base. 10-11 p.m. CBS. The Doctors and the Nurses. "No Shadow Where There is No Sun." (rerun) A touching story about a high school girl with leukemia who impatiently anticipates the day she'll be released from the hospital and return to school. The hospital school teacher tries to force her to work in his classes to keep her busy. When she inadvertently learns of her true condition, it takes a combination of forces to restore her interest in life and work. This one is handled very effectively with Merrie Spaeth ideally cast as the pain-wracked youngster. Jeff Corey plays the teacher and Michael Strong is her father.

1966 Important In Fla. Politics, Speaker Claims

By Donna Estes
Dr. Paul Douglass, professor of Government and director of the Center for Practical Politics at Rollins College, was guest speaker at regular meeting of the Seminole County Democratic Association in the Altamonte Springs Community House.

Dr. Douglass advised that 1966 will be a most important year in Florida politics when precinct officials are to be elected statewide.

He pointed out that the political structure of both parties is based on the precinct which is the weakest link in the present Democratic system.

Emphasizing that most persons running for office of precinct committeewoman or committeeman have been unopposed, he stressed the need for additional qualified and interested candidates to seek such posts.

He urged the group to call on all voters during the next campaign, reminding the association that its major object should be "good politics." County Commissioner W. Lawrence Swafford reported that 10 new precincts have been formed by the county commission and again affirmed the need of strong precinct organization.

Mrs. Robert Petree explained the Liberty Amendment which has been proposed for addition to the U. S. Constitution and already endorsed by eight states. She said that the amendment would limit the treaty-making powers of the president, force the government to divest itself of certain business interests, and eliminate the income tax.

Mrs. Petree urged those present to write to Senator Mack Cleveland stating their opposition to the proposal. Dr. Douglass stated that the major goal of a certain reactionary group is the repeal of the income tax amendment and that he was opposed to such action. He further stated that he was, in fact, in favor of strengthening the income tax law to close loopholes presently being used to advantage by the wealthy.

Robert Petree, treasurer of the State Young Democrats, explained the Democratic organization in Orange County and told of the great strides made by the party there during the past few years.

During this business meeting a letter was read by Mrs. Wilma Jean Nipper from State Chairman Warren Goodrich assuring the association that its constitution would be approved as soon as recommendation is received from the county chairman and the state committeeman and committeewoman.

An invitation was extended members of the association by the Orange County Democratic Executive Committee to attend a precinct workshop featuring speakers from Washington, D. C., which will be held in Orlando within the next few weeks.

It was decided to continue meetings of the local association throughout the summer with meeting dates set for the third Tuesday of each month.

Area One Step From Higher Education

By Fred Van Pelt
Higher education is coming to Seminole County if... That's an IF in capital letters and it means that higher education has one major hurdle to become a reality... the State House of Representatives at Tallahassee. It is a foregone conclusion that Gov. Haydon Burns will approve. Higher education for Seminole County already has hurdled the Senate committee, the full Senate and the House appropriations committee. According to United Press International, it will come before the full House on Thursday. Rep. S. J. Davis Jr. this morning advised The Sanford Herald that the House appropriations committee gave approval Tuesday evening to the Seminole Junior College. Davis spearheaded the move through committee and said he "will be in there pitching" Thursday before the full House. Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. already had guided the measure through the Senate and had it certified to the House. The junior college would be financed thusly: $30,000 for planning and $219,664 for operations during the second year of the biennium, both to come from the general operating fund, and $368,885 for capital outlay (construction), included in the $80 million implementing bond bill. The implementing bond bill, in the University of Florida appropriation, also provides the Central Florida Experiment Station on Celery Avenue with $117,000 for an office-laboratory building, $40,000 for land acquisition and $31,000 for a greenhouse and "head" (furnace) house. Furthermore, this implementing bond bill provides $7.5 million for construction of the proposed East Central Florida university in Orange County, on SR 520 three miles south of Oviedo at the Seminole County line. The Seminole Junior College would be operated and maintained by the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction. School Supt. R. T. Milwee said today that, if the House approves Thursday, the $30,000 appropriation will be used for planning purposes. Furthermore, he added, Tallahassee state education people said they will send in a team of experts to assist the local educators in planning. It was believed, at the beginning of the thought of a junior college, that it could commence at the beginning of the 1965-66 school year next September but this morning Milwee stated the college could not possibly begin operations until the start of the 1966-67 school year. The Sanford Herald this morning went a step further and telephoned J. P. Wiegiers, president of the Bernarr Macfadden Foundation at New York City, sponsors of the Sanford Naval Academy. The Foundation will complete purchase within the next week of the Mayfair Inn and Motel for Academy purposes from the San Francisco Giants. The present Academy on Mellonville Avenue was purchased by the Foundation from the Giants two years ago. Wiegiers, apprised this morning of the Seminole Junior College and the need of a facility for the first year of operation, agreed that "it is an interesting and pleasing idea" to permit the Seminole

School Board the use of the Academy's Mellonville Avenue facility. The Academy is expanding, and will add a junior class this year and a senior class next year. However, Wiegiers said this morning, all operations will be contained during the next year or two at the Mayfair, to be known as "Commodore Barry Hall." After that, he added, the Mellonville property will become the "junior school," for the Academy's lower grades. "You know," the Foundation head said, "I am for anything for education and I am for anything that's for Sanford. I do not believe there is any terrible problem which cannot be ironed out in our letting the Seminole School Board use the Mellonville facility for the junior college for the first year," until the college facility is built and ready for operation. "That is a fine gesture on Mr. Wiegiers' part," Milwee said, "and undoubtedly we will be in touch with him about it when we have completed our preliminary planning stage."

Scenic Roads Advocated By President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson asked Congress today for legislation to erase auto junkyards and billboards from the nation's highways and make travel more scenic for American motorists.

In a letter to the House speaker and Senate president, Johnson said he was transmitting a package of four bills designed to beautify the 250,000 miles of interstate and primary highways.

Two of the bills would strengthen control on outdoor advertising and junkyards within view of motorists. The President proposed that states—as a condition to receiving federal highway grants after Jan. 1, 1968—control outdoor advertising along sections of highways not owned or used predominantly for commercial or industrial purposes.

In general, such controls would require that no new advertising signs be erected in areas within 1,000 feet of the pavement and visible to passing motorists.

Present billboards would have to be removed by July 1, 1970. While paying tribute to advertising as having "an important and valuable" role in American life, Johnson said: "It is neither in the interests of the advertising industry or the nation, to permit a further decrease of our dwindling natural beauty."

Realty Values Bill In Hopper

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A bill directing a complete reappraisal of all real estate in the 67 counties in order to apply "just value" requirements of law was introduced today by Sen. B. C. Pearce, of East Palatka.

The bill sets out a schedule of time for reappraisals starting prior to Jan. 1 for counties whose last re-evaluation was before Dec. 31, 1967, to Jan. 1 for all counties who had a reappraisal as late as 1963. Each county must begin reappraisal by a company, board of appraisers or local assessor prior to Jan. 1 of the year six years from the date of the first reappraisal under the proposed new law.

Millions Eyed For Jax Area

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House armed services committee has approved an appropriation of $14,778,300 for construction of three naval air stations in the Jacksonville area.

The biggest single amount approved was $6.5 million for an aircraft maintenance hanger and access apron at the naval air station at Jacksonville. The total spending approved for the Jacksonville facility was $11,628,000. The Cecil Field naval air station will receive $3,288,000. A total of $28,000 was appropriated for the Mayport naval air station.

'Spacewalk' Left To Rookie

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — In the black vacuum 180 miles above Hawaii, a lonely man will stand on the edge of a metal precipice and wonder whether to leap off.

If he takes that one step, he writes his own chapter in the history books of the space age.

If he doesn't American forfeits to the Soviet Union another two-month lead in a critical area of manned conquest of space.

Such is the decision that faces rookie U. S. Astronaut Edward H. White when, on the morning of June 8, he opens the right-hand hatch of his orbiting Gemini-4 capsule, stands up in his seat and debates whether to take America's first "walk in space."

Flames Leave Family Homeless

By Jane Casselberry
A Casselberry mother and her four teenage children lost everything they owned, except the clothes on their backs, late Tuesday afternoon when flames completely destroyed their two-story frame home.

The house, valued at $9,100, was located on Highway 17-92, and was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Casselberry, of Casselberry.

When the fire started, the tenant, Mrs. Helen Wilkins, was at work across the highway at Vaughn's Nursery. Her daughters, Betty, 15, and Nancy, 16, were at home. Other children are Sharon, 13, and Robert, 14.

Several church and civic organizations in the area are rallying to aid the family and Fire Chief Paul Bates, of the Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department, has announced that donations of clothing, food, furniture or household goods may be left at the fire station.

Firemen, unable to save the structure, confined the blaze, keeping it from spreading to nearby homes and a lumber company.

Firefighters from Altamonte Springs, Longwood and the Florida Forest Service assisted the Casselberry Department.

First Marines Ready To Depart

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — U. S. Marines, the first unwounded American troops to leave the Dominican Republic since last month's landings, boarded ship for the homeward journey today.

They are to go aboard the Boxer, a converted aircraft carrier lying offshore. It was not certain how many Marines would leave today, but the number was not expected to exceed a few hundred.

The Boxer will not sail at once, because the Marines boarding today will not be a full load for the ship.

The U. S. Navy has ruled that its ships cannot leave the Dominican area until they are fully and economically loaded.

Canal Directors Meet Thursday

A special called meeting of directors of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District will be held in Sanford at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Chairman John Krider said the meeting is to approve amendments to legislative acts and other important business. It will be held at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Earlier, the space agency announced that Tom Stafford would be the first to try it on flight of Gemini-4 set for October. Giltruth claimed that the Leonov flight "did not influence our time" for a "spacewalk" flight.

JAMES COURIER, versatile Oviedo High School athlete, will sign an athletic scholarship with University of Florida this week. Courier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Courier Jr., will play baseball for the Gators. Courier was a football, basketball and baseball star at Oviedo. He was named to the All-State team in basketball.

Davis Pushes Death Penalty Legislation

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A House judiciary committee voted its own approval today of a bill requiring a separate jury trial in capital cases to consider the death penalty.

The measure, pushed by Reps. John Crews, of Baker, and S. J. Davis, of Seminole, was the unanimous recommendation of an interim committee which studied proposed abolition of the death penalty.

Davis said the measure would continue the present requirement for a trial to determine whether a person was guilty of a capital offense. But it would require a second trial to be held with the same jury, to determine the penalty to be imposed.

It would require a majority vote of the jury in the second trial to impose the death sentence.

Jax Prisoners Fail To Escape

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Three Duval County jail inmates held a guard hostage and controlled a cell block Tuesday night before discovering they couldn't get out of the building.

The three prisoners, armed with a sharpened spoon, roamed freely on the second floor for less than an hour as 120 other inmates looked on.

Police, sheriff's deputies and Florida highway patrolmen surrounded the jail on the St. Johns River and bathed the building with searchlights before the prisoners surrendered.

5 Flags Fiesta Commemorated

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House passed a resolution today commemorating the Fiesta of Five Flags in Pensacola.

Danny Roberts Hit In Head By Rifle Bullet

By Barry Lawes
A camping expedition into the Big Tree swamp area by four boys who skipped school Tuesday, ended in tragedy when one of the youths fatally shot himself.

Dead is Danny Joe Roberts, 14, son of Thomas Roberts, 183 East Pine Street, Longwood.

According to Sheriff J. L. Hobby, young Roberts and three companions took the day off from school for a trek into the woods. Roberts, with his friends, Mike Goodall, 14, Joseph Brown, 15, and Kenneth Foster, 13, gathered up camping equipment and went into the woods apparently to spend the day and night.

Young Brown took along his father's .22 caliber rifle. Apparently after reaching their camping site, Roberts began playing with the rifle and it discharged, the bullet striking him in the forehead.

The three boys ran about 1 1/2 miles to summon the Goodall boy's father.

Returning to the scene of the shooting, Goodall and the boys made a stretcher out of a tent and carried the wounded Roberts through the woods to a road where an ambulance took him to Winter Park Memorial Hospital. The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital at about 6:45 p. m. The shooting took place around 5:45 p. m.

Coroner Hugh Duncan, who viewed the body, ruled the death accidental.

Yank Bombers Pressure Reds

SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Air Force and Navy planes maintained round-the-clock pressure on Communist North Viet Nam today, blasting an island radar site and hitting the Vinh oil storage area for the second day.

In South Viet Nam, carrier-based U. S. planes flew more than 80 sorties against Viet Cong troop concentrations, villages, command posts, storage areas and buildings.
