

NEGRO ASSAILANT PAYS THE PENALTY

DESPERADO IS TAKEN FROM KISSIMMEE JAIL AND HANGED BY MOB

Swinging in the morning breeze from the limb of a live oak tree at the railroad crossing at Palm Springs about fourteen miles from this city the body of Will Reed, the negro who on Monday attempted an assault upon a white lady near Forest City bears mute testimony that such a crime will not go unavenged in this county. Immediately after the attempted crime Monday Sheriff Hand trailed the negro to the Wekiwa swamp and here he was held up by a posse, organized by Special Agent N. W. Green of the A. C. I. and in the attempt to escape was shot in the leg and captured. The sheriff, to avoid any trouble had the negro carried to Orlando jail, accompanied by Special Officer Green, Deputy James Lee and Roy Tillis, and afterward to Kissimmee after he had confessed to the deputies that he was the man wanted. Tuesday night rumors that the negro was at Kissimmee spread in this city and about midnight fifty determined men left the city on a special train and going to the county jail at Kissimmee sent a deputation demanding the prisoner. The Sheriff was informed that the man who made the demand was an official and went to the telephone to find out. Meantime the jailer was called to the door and before he could draw his gun was overpowered and his keys taken from him. The negro was swiftly carried to the train and taken to Forest City where the lady and two other witnesses testified that the negro was the right man. The negro then confessed the crime and was given five minutes for prayer. He asked forgiveness for the crime and was taken to the tree at the Palm Springs crossing and there swung up. His body was literally riddled with bullets and was left until Wednesday morning when the coroner's jury viewed the remains and brought in a verdict of death at the hands of unknown parties.

Sheriff Hand was notified this morning that a mob had taken the prisoner from the Kissimmee jail and afterward that the negro had been hung at the crossing in this county and brought the body here Wednesday afternoon for burial.

The negro now proves to be the same Reed that last summer terrorized the western part of this county and Orange county shooting at Deputy Williams and several other officers, robbing houses and holding up several men at the point of a gun. He finally escaped from this section and was supposed to be captured in Polk county but afterward escaped. He was a bad negro and had been shot in the hip walking with a limp and derived the name of 'Crip Reed.' It is the general opinion here that a good deed was done when this desperate negro was hung.

Sheriff Hand and his deputies and the men who assisted in the search for the negro Monday afternoon are due much credit for the able manner in which they tracked the desperate negro down. In a blinding rain the sheriff stuck to the trail and was close to his quarry when he tried to cross the Wekiwa bridge. After his capture Sheriff Hand was careful to see that the negro was spirited out of the county and into another for safe keeping and that the mob finally outwitted the officials of Osceola county and secured the prisoner is no discredit to the Osceola officials for they made a determined fight to keep the negro. The men who formed the vigilance committee were determined to have the criminal and it is a source of gratification that he was secured with no bloodshed.

While the people generally deplore the fact that mob law was enforced in the case, the county has been saved the expense of a trial and a lady is saved the humiliation of facing a jury and attendant trial and all the publicity that would naturally result.

DE LAND MINSTRELS MADE A GREAT HIT

A FAIR SIZED AUDIENCE ASSISTED AT THE ELKS' BENEFIT LAST NIGHT

The DeLand Minstrels put up a first class entertainment last night at the Imperial Theatre. The troupe with band and orchestra arrived yesterday afternoon and paraded the streets looking very much like professionals and the entertainment last night was as good as any professional company. The show was staged for the benefit of the Sanford Lodge of Elks and a fair sized audience greeted the players.

The opening was good, presenting the spectacle "In the Land of Dixie," introducing the end men, Speck Campbell, Bill Page, Tot Miller, Cullen Talton, Bob Brown and Weary Miller.

The soloists were above the average in the persons of A. W. Honeycutt, Howard Hodgen, Arthur Wiggins, J. J. Reimer, Cates, Edstrom and Maurice Ziegler.

The following songs were rendered in true minstrel style: "Rap, Rap, Rap on Your Minstrel Bones" Cullen Talton "In the Evening by the Moonlight" Maurice Ziegler "I Want to go Back to the Farm in Michigan" Tot Miller "The Message of the Violet" "When You're a Long Long Way From Home" J. J. Reimer "Aha Daba Honey, moon" Bill Page "Doan You Cry, My Honey" "I Hear You Calling Me" A. W. Honeycutt "I Certainly Was Going Some" "Sometime" Speck Campbell Closing Song Entire Company

Interspersed with the songs were some excellent jokes and the boys rapped the people of Sanford right and left. The best part of the show was the fact that the jokes were new and original.

During the intermission the incomparable DeLand Orchestra entertained the audience with some choice selections and the orchestra aided greatly in making the minstrel show a success as the music is the greatest part of the performance.

The black Mutt and Jeff, Speck Campbell and Bill Page were good and Claude Reimer in songs and impersonations made a hit.

The Ned Stewart Military Niggers, Bill Page, Speck Campbell, James Guss, Tot Miller were great in their dances a la military style. W. H. Schooley of course being the professional class was expected to give the audience something good on the xylophone and he was no disappointment for the numbers rendered were perfect.

The show ended with the side splitting farce entitled "Easy Marks" and the people left the theater with the feeling that they had had their money's worth and some over.

The DeLand talent always receives a warm welcome in Sanford, for they always bring us something good and the minstrel show, for home talent, is one of the hits of the season and easily ranks with the professional entertainers.

A NEW PRESIDENT FOR PEOPLES BANK

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCK HOLDERS SHOWS GOOD CONDITION OF BANK

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples Bank of Sanford was held on Tuesday, Feb. 23rd, 1915, with a full representation of stockholders present.

Following the regular order of business, the cashier's report for the year was read and to the gratification of the stockholders showed that more has been handled by the bank during 1914 than for any previous period, but that the regular semi-annual dividend had been declared and a large amount carried over to the surplus and undivided profit account of the bank.

Election of directors for the ensuing year resulted as follows: M. M. Smith, H. R. Stevens, C. M. Hand, C. F. Williams, S. Puleston, D. R. Brisson, W. M. Davis, R. J. Holly, E. H. McNeill, John Meisch and Frank L. Woodruff.

It will be noted that three new names have been added to the former strong and representative board in the persons of John Meisch, R. J. Holly and Frank L. Woodruff.

Immediately upon adjournment of the stockholders' meeting the board of directors was called to order by M. M. Smith, as chairman.

In calling for election of officers for the year, Mr. Smith in a few well chosen words touching upon his continuous tenure of office as president of the bank since its organization, stated to the board the impracticability of his own regular attendance at its future meetings, owing to the demands of his many land and development interests and suggested the desirability of a local member of the board serving as president. Mr. Smith then placed in nomination Mr. H. R. Stevens, who was thereupon unanimously elected to the presidency of the bank.

Mr. Stevens has served the bank as vice president in a most faithful and efficient manner since his election some seven years ago, and his election as president of the Peoples Bank is the highest tribute to his qualifications and the esteem in which he is held by the board of directors.

Mr. C. M. Hand was re-elected vice president and Mr. Frank L. Woodruff was also elected a vice president.

H. E. Tolar, cashier and R. R. Dent, assistant cashier were unanimously re-elected to their respective offices. As shown by the statement published on another page, the Peoples Bank is in a strong and healthy condition, and is continually forging to the front in importance among Sanford's financial institutions.

STUART BANK ROBBED

Stuart, Fla., Feb. 26.—Members of what is believed to be the same gang which recently attempted a holdup on the Palm Beach Limited of the Florida East Coast railway near here recently succeeded Tuesday morning in robbing the Bank of Stuart of $4,000.

Entering the bank three men leveled guns at Cashier Wallace and forced him to give up all cash in sight. Backing out of the bank they stopped an approaching automobile and forced the driver to speed them away.

At Postawaul, some distance from Stuart, the robbers released the car and made the driver return to Stuart. Two possses have been sent out from here in search of bandits.

Col. Appleyard Here

Among the prominent visitors to the city on Tuesday was Col. T. J. Appleyard of Tallahassee, state printer, secretary of the Florida Press Association and has many other titles and degrees. Col. Appleyard did not have time to visit his many Sanford friends as he was only here for a few hours to confer with President R. J. Holly of the Florida Press Association relative to the big meeting to be held in Miami next month. Col. Appleyard lived in Sanford many years ago and was editor of the Sanford Chronicle, his children were raised here and naturally the city has a tender spot in his heart. He promised to return at an early date when he could spend several days here and renew old friendships.

GOVERNOR URGES RECOMMENDATIONS

WOULD PROHIBIT THE INSURANCE COMPANIES FROM "FIXING" RATES

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 26.—Following up his announced intention to make public from time to time a number of the recommendations which he proposes to submit to the legislature, which convenes in April, Governor Trammell states that he will make recommendations upon the following subjects:

Agricultural Prizes for Boys and Girls. Any policy which tends to encourage and increase agricultural activities is of unquestionable value to our state, Florida has an unlimited amount of rich and productive land and it has untold possibilities for agricultural expansion. The ambitious boys and girls of the state will readily respond to the encouragement which might be offered to them by contests in growing the crops to which the soils of their respective sections are adapted. I suggest the wisdom of legislation being enacted which would authorize the county commissioners of the various counties to offer prizes for such contests. In some few communities in the state contests of this kind have been inaugurated with splendid results.

Graded Corporation Tax. The privileges given to a corporation by the state are valuable to the incorporators and gives them rights and exemptions from liabilities that individuals do not enjoy. It is for the purpose of exercising these privileges that persons form corporations. Many states impose an annual tax on all corporations, and I would suggest the enactment of a law imposing a small annual license tax on corporations doing business in this state say from $5 to $50, based upon capital stock.

Prohibit Insurance Companies. There is considerable complaint that life and fire insurance is excessively high. It is also apparent that the insurance companies have some mutual understanding in the matter of fixing rates. I would, therefore, suggest a law that would make it unlawful for two or more insurance companies doing business in this state, or for officers, agents or employees of such companies to make an enter into any combination or arrangement relating to the rates to be charged for insurance, the amount of commission to be allowed agents for procuring the same, or the manner of transacting such business within this state.

Reform Civil Court Procedure

The court procedure in this state has become more or less antiquated and out of balance with the present day thought and progressive spirit of the times. There is need for reform in the laws and rules which govern the proceedings in our courts.

Florida has an honorable, able and efficient judiciary as any state in the Union. The fault is not with the judiciary, but with the law and rules by which our courts are guided. Under our present system it is impossible to force a trial in a civil case in less than six to twelve months. Every kind of technical dodge that will cause delay is permitted. The law should be so changed as to expedite and hasten trial. A litigant should be able to get a hearing on his case within one or two months after suit is instituted. The pleadings should be simplified and technicalities eliminated in all of the courts. The time allowed for entering and perfecting appeals should be shortened. With a change of our law along these lines much will be accomplished towards giving to our citizens justice without unreasonable delays and without excessive cost.

With the Georgia State League

S. H. LaRoche of this city has signed up with the Georgia State League and will hold the position of Chief of Umpires for the season. LaRoche has been umpiring in the west, but in order to be nearer Sanford, where his family is located he accepted the position in the Georgia League. He is one of the best known umpires in the country and has been with many of the big leagues, both as player and umpire. Having decided to locate in business in Sanford Mr. LaRoche naturally cast about for a position in the south and his many friends here are glad that he will remain here with his family as a citizen. Mrs. LaRoche will operate the Sanitary Pressing Club during his absence.

IS CONSIDERING AN EXTRA SESSION

PRESIDENT WILSON IS DESIROUS OF TAKING UP TREATY MATTERS

Washington, Feb. 26 Possibility of an extra session of the senate after March 1 for consideration of treaties and nominations were being discussed today among administration leaders. White House officials refused to talk on the subject but it was known President Wilson was giving it consideration.

Treaties with Columbia to pay $25,000,000 for the partition of Panama and with Nicaragua to pay $3,000,000 for inter-oceanic canal rights and naval bases, undoubtedly will fail of ratification in this session. The need of action on them is considered by the administration of great importance. Officials also free confirmation of the federal trade commission will be delayed.

The President, it was said, has no thought of an extra session of congress as a whole. Special sessions of the senate have been held hitherto to confirm nominations of cabinet officers.

With only six working days remaining of the present session of congress, prospects of enacting any other legislation aside from the appropriation bills before adjournment was considered by senate Democratic leaders today as very slim, and they were concentrating practically all their efforts towards the passage of the supply measures.

While reports continued today of a revival of attempts to put through the government ship purchase bill, in accordance with the wish of President Wilson, administration senators admitted there was little hope of doing so because of Republican opposition to the measure. Prospects of passing the river and harbor bill in its present form also are anything but bright and it is expected that a joint resolution will be substituted for it, appropriating about $60,000,000 for continued existing projects.

An indication of the intention of administration leaders to "speed up" work on the appropriation bills is seen in the fact that the senate after passing the postoffice appropriation bill yesterday, worked far into the night on the agricultural appropriation bill carrying about $26,000,000. Except for a few disputed items—including an appropriation of $400,000 for distribution of seeds which was stricken out by a senate committee—consideration of the measure has been completed. Senator Martine was to fight for restoration of the provision.

GREAT PROGRESS MADE IN MANY SOUTHERN CITIES IS NOTED

ROMANCE AND REALITY.

What is love? 'Tis not hereafter. Present mirth hath present laughter! What's to come is still unsure: In delay there lies no plenty; Youth's a stuff will not endure.

There's a silly age in girlhood, just as there is with youths. From fourteen to twenty a girl thinks that all she has to do is to frame up an ideal lover, hang his picture in her mind, carrying the duplicate of it in her heart, and watch out for the first fellow to come along who bears any kind of a resemblance to it. She considers this to be a romantic turn of mind. Every young man she is brought in contact with seems to resemble her ideal in some particular; or, at least, she assumes he does.

She expects his heart to be touched by love's flame at their first meeting, and is quite in the mood to be made love to. Eight girls out of ten are ready to wed as for that matter, leaping into a life of which they know nothing. The average young man meets a girl and either considers her jolly good company or mighty pretty, but a bit too shy. He could spend a pleasant evening or a dozen with the charming maiden, but if he was called away suddenly, unable to resume his calls, he might think of her for a fortnight. At the end of that time he would be looking around among a new crowd of girls who surrounded him for a companion, quite as agreeable as she was.

True, he may write a few fervent letters to her, but the fervency of these soon wanes. When a man has scarcely interest enough to open a letter which he knows is from a particular girl, letting it lie about in his collar or handkerchief box for two or three days, and puts off from time to time the irksome task of answering it, he may be said to be off her list entirely.

Young girls cannot bring themselves to believe this. They are sure he was intended for them, and even though his interest may blow hot and then flow cool, he is sure to return to them, finding out how dull life is without them. By the time they have wasted useless years in such delusive hope they begin to wake up. Because a girl likes a certain man it is no reason that her liking will touch a responsive chord in his heart. He may be attracted to just the opposite kind of a girl. She is very lucky if she can come across just the kind of a man she wants. They are not made to order.

A man or woman's looks count for little. It is that subtle quality, indescribable, yet tangible, which draws two hearts together. Ideals usually have to be swept down from their dusty pedestals before they consent to accept the real man when he comes along. Romance is very beguiling, but until a girl is old enough to show common sense in her choosing she is not competent to take unto herself a husband.

When Corsets Were Discarded.

Twice in their history have corsets been discarded or rendered negligible in the seventeenth century when whalebone corsets were quite the rage. Spain, Italy and the Netherlands had surfeited of such fashion and had a new standard of beauty. The corsets and rounded busts ended their social support, and the style of dress was so altered as to meet the requirements of the new fashion.

Union Depot for a Day
 Seats will go on sale for this play next Monday morning at Philips' drug store and as the price is 50 cents straight it will be an advantage to secure your seat early.

A Great Success in Pensacola
 This side splitting farce to be presented Thursday, March 4th at the Imperial Theatre for the benefit of the building fund of the Woman's Club under the direction of Mrs. Olga White Barnes was one of the most successful amateur performances ever presented in Pensacola.

The article below is copied from the Pensacola Evening News:

The opera house was crowded last night from parquet to peanut gallery, all of Pensacola apparently being present to witness the presentation of "At the Union Depot for a Day." The bright little farce comedy, given under the auspices of the Civic League and the able direction of Miss Olga White, had been anticipated with no little degree of curiosity and pleasure, and the eager audience was not disappointed.

What could have been more amusing or truer to human nature than the eddying tide of humanity which came and went through the depot? And where can one begin to give praise when so much is due? But surely Miss Kate Smith as Mrs. Garrulous deserves more than a passing notice she was so delightfully funny in both make-up and role. The part itself was excellent and she played it with a spirit and ease that completely captivated the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Henpeck were played to "the life" by Mrs. Marston and Mr. Gerald Quinn.

And Mr. Sol Cahn and his four children, and Mrs. Bonacker as Miss Arominta Fishwell. There was no scene in the play more delightful than that Mrs. Bonacker as the willing spinster and Mr. Cahn were excellent.

Then there was Mr. Pace and the Baby. Now who would have thought he could have carried off the scene with such ease and grace?

Miss Corine Bass as Miss Beaconsfield of Boston was perfect. In both of these scenes Mrs. Garrulous was excellent, giving her kind advice to Mr. Pace in his care of the infant, and instructing Miss Beaconsfield in pickle making and dress making while this young person was dwelling on the "whyness of the whyness and the thyness of the thyness."

Mr. Steve Fulgum, as the country groom and Miss Edna Covington as the bride were true to rural life and acted their parts perfectly and their conductors, Miss Margarita Moreno as the brides-maid and Mr. M... as the best man were excellent.

Nothing could have been prettier by the way, than the Spanish dance by Miss Margarita Moreno and Miss Viola Roch, given earlier in the play.

And then there was the opera troupe the Ingenue Miss Wagonheim was assisted by Mr. Clarence Avery and chorus. The girls in their white linen suits and caps were lovely and the boys very noble indeed. As far as the music, nothing could have been more effective or sung with better effect. The duo by the prima donna of the troupe, Mrs. Ed Forrester, was one of the most charming musical numbers ever given here on the amateur stage, and the encore was also delightfully rendered.

Mr. C. C. Goodman as Deacon Longface played his part to the life. Mr. Gif Fell as the depot master was good couldn't have been better.

Mr. John Stillman made a handsome and polite ticket agent.

Norris Lewis and John Fenkel, a newsboy and a bootblack played well their parts.

Miss Mildred Kessler as Mrs. Nobus was as funny as could be, and

Mr. Kessler, as Mrs. Chattermuck, and Miss Blanche Reager as her daughter Maria could not have been improved upon.

Miss Mayme Duncan made a lovely Aunt Amelia Saylittle and Mr. Wagonheim as Little Willie was good as Mr. Wagonheim is in any role he attempts.

Malcolm White as Uncle Joshua and Miss Adele Chaffee as Aunt Sary were good, both in make-up and in the perfection in which they played their roles.

Misses Isabel Ingraham, Sara Gold stuffer and Lelia Abercrombie as the school girls were bright and sweet in their parts, and Mr. Frank Gardner, the dude who tried to flirt with them looked "swell" enough to make an impression on any young girl.

Mr. Bonacker and Mr. Max Bear, as two lame automobilists, and Mr. Bonacker in the role of Hans Bick-erstein and Annie Walker as Mike O'Toole were all good.

Miss Madge Cushman as Miss Helen Flighty was charming, and Mrs. Campbell Avery in the role of her aunt, Martha Ancient, who was thrown into hysterics at the thought of a man was irresistible. Miss Florida Zelius made a quaint and patient Sister Maria.

Mr. Tom Bass Covington as Miss Flighty's lover and husband took his part well.

Seek to Revive Industry.
 The government of the Bahama islands is trying to revive the production of sea island cotton, once a flourishing industry there.

Immunity of Children.
 Professor Armbruster asserts that the reason very young children are relatively immune to infectious diseases is that their hearts beat so much more rapidly than those of older persons that the blood flows swiftly through the arteries, and this swiftness of flow makes it difficult for micro-organisms to gain a foothold in the blood stream.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair. At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work." If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

With celery bringing $1.65 per crate here in Sanford who wants to be an editor?

What Sanford needs as badly as a new hotel is a pavilion on the bulk headed lake front.

The Press Association meeting in Miami in March promises to be the big event of the season.

It is a cinch that whatever the Sanford people undertake to do is usually well done.

Sanford is facing one of the best spring seasons in the history of the city and we need a hotel to top it off.

A new business block for First street is among the many items that make us feel like Sanford will soon reach that ten thousand mark.

We have decided that if Sanford keeps growing that a three months daily paper next winter would be the right thing and are making our arrangements accordingly.

The "Build Now" movement is meeting with success all over the south and Sanford should get in the game. Let all the contractors and lumber and supply houses make cheap prices for the next three months and help this movement along. It will mean a great many new houses here in the spring and summer months.

LADIES' GOOD WORK
Ever in the front rank of progress, the women of Florida, through their respective body, the Florida Federation of Woman's clubs, has taken the initiative in securing a state park for Florida, one of the first in the Union to be held and controlled in the way this is to be managed. It is to be called the Royal Palm State park and Mrs. Henry M. Flagler shares with her sisters of the state clubs the honor of having made it possible for the state of Florida to possess as a state park what is probably the only forest of royal palms in the state.

Mrs. Flagler has given the state federation of clubs 1,000 acres of land in southern Dade county to be used as the basis of an endowment fund for the maintenance of the Royal Palm State park. The park itself has been transferred from the state lands to the ownership of the Florida Federation of Women's clubs. There were 960 acres in it as told in the story on the Federation page of The Times a few days ago. Mrs. W. S. Jennings, the president of the state federation, knowing that Mrs. Flagler was interested in the preservation of this forest, got in touch with her and found that she was willing to aid in maintaining it if the state would turn it over to the women's clubs. Mrs. Jennings then went to the board of trustees of the Internal Improvement fund and found they were willing to turn the lands over to be used as a park. People had been stealing the palms and there was constant danger that fire or vandals would wipe out the only forest exhibit of the kind in the state of Florida. The state, lacking a forestry or a park department had little means to take care of the forest and was glad to turn it over to the women which they did not long ago.

The park is located in the lower end of Dade county not many miles from Miami and it is said that a rock road from that city will soon make it accessible to visitors. There are several hundred of the beautiful royal palms growing wild there. That the progressive women of the Florida Federation of Women's clubs will take good care of it is certain and it is also sure that they will improve it and make it one of the greatest beauty spots of the state. No better disposition of the land could have been made.—Tampa Times.

GREAT ATTRACTION FOR CITY

Miss Bargett at Baptist Temple on Wednesday, March 3rd
Enthusiasm is running high in Sanford over the coming of Miss Evelyn Bargett, cartoonist and reader at the Baptist Temple on March 3rd. The advance sale of tickets is very great and it is believed that every seat will be sold. Two box parties have been formed and all of the twenty seats in each have been disposed of by the organizations buying the boxes. Three other box parties are being formed.

Miss Bargett's recitals and apt interpretations, as well as the taste and discrimination displayed in her selections, make her work so fine that her hearers are lifted out of themselves and into the realms of the beautiful. She possesses the rare power of imparting a quivering intensity to everything she reads. Her style dips into all the fountain heads of emotional expression; it glows and palpates; and it is just as apt to convulse you with laughter as it is to blind you with tears. Miss Bargett is also an artist in another sense. She divides her time on the platform between reading and drawing cartoons, and it is in both lines of work that she has achieved such enviable success.

Let the people of Sanford think seriously. The most popular woman cartoonist in the whole range of Lyceum Work is to be in Sanford Wednesday night, March 3rd, at the Baptist Temple and the very low charge of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children is made. Bring the whole family and get a reduction in these prices. Tickets now on sale at Phillips drug store and by Mr. L. A. Sample, publicity manager of the Lyceum Association.

The evening subject will be, "Does Christ Need Me?" Every Methodist in Sanford and vicinity is expected to have part in these services. Others not worshipping elsewhere have a real welcome to the Starr Theatre Sunday, February 28th.

IN the Vanguard

The interpretation of this interesting number on the Chautauqua program by Miss Maude Willis, was a rare treat to Sanford, and those who heard it can well congratulate themselves. She is a woman of broad vision, and possesses a splendidly trained mind, voice and body, and in the Vanguard she had a message worthy of her unusual powers.

The story deals with the present war and so delightfully were the characters drawn and interpreted as to charm the hearer with their naturalness and strength. "A compelling logic is a strong point of the story, and at this time when the world is stunned by the horrors of war, this message of peace so graphically told should be read by every one. Katrina Trank, the author, depicts war stripped of its glory, and the reading of this book by individuals and professional entertainers will do much toward ushering in a will do much toward ushering in a new day of peace and brotherhood.

Mr. Edward Henry Peters of this city and Miss Rachel Cecil Thrilling of Ocala were married in Tampa February 17 at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Samuel Gordon. They were married by Rabbi Shapo with the beautiful marriage rites of the Jewish faith. Mr. and Mrs. Peters are housekeeping in the Harvey cottage on Sanford Heights.

Sow-Sow Club

The members of the Sow-Sow Club had a right jolly time at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. C. E. Henry the genial hostess. The house was simply decorated with quantities of nasturtiums and roses and pleasure ruled the hour. Silvery peals of laughter floated out upon the air and caused the passers by to stop and smile in sympathy; for laughter is catching, like the grip, and soon there were "miles and miles of smiles" all because one happy little bunch of women laughed in sheer delight over—what? "Aye, there's the rub," for who knows but that same jolly group intent upon the pastime of laughter. It is said that Mrs. Henry herself took the cake for the longest, happiest laugh of all. Cake and cream and coffee were served and the guests departed with smiles still beaming upon their homeward way. Mrs. Henry's guests were Mesdames R. J. Holly, J. S. Wilson, Fred Walseman, R. L. Mr. Kuykendall is well known in journalistic circles in the state and at one time had a paper in Gainesville and other points in Alachua county.

The Mutt and Jeff show here Tuesday night was a disappointment to the large audience. Jeff tickled the children but the rest of the performance was very commonplace and a replica of the show last season even to the stale jokes. It is a safe bet that the next time Mutt and Jeff hit Sanford they will not have the house they had Tuesday night. It is a shame that a good play like "Today" should have a poor house and a poor one like Mutt and Jeff should get the money, but there is no accounting for the perverted taste of the American public.

Death of J. C. Pattison

James C. Pattison, 621 1/2 of the Sanford Home, died at 10:30 PM after a lingering illness. Mr. Pattison had been coming to Sanford each winter for the past twenty years for the health and this season on account of ill health was unable to leave the hotel and many of his friends have missed him on the streets.

Mr. Pattison was a native of Richmond, Va. and the remains will be taken there for burial, accompanied by his sister and brother who were hastily summoned.

Mr. Pattison had resided in New York for many years and was prominent in that city, being a member of several clubs.

His many friends here will miss him greatly as he annual pilgrimages to Sanford for the winters made him a large circle of friends.

O. J. Pope Farm Sold

This week the farm of O. J. Pope on Beardall avenue changed hands, the purchaser being Mr. Jno. Pezol of Ohio. This is only one of several real estate deals being made this month, for Sanford's prospects were never brighter than they are today and the prospects at present point to the most prosperous season that the farmers in this section have ever experienced.

Mr. Pezol visited Sanford several weeks ago and left after looking the country over and made a trip over the state with the idea of investigating every part of the state before buying. However, he returned last week satisfied that Sanford has no peer in the vegetable business and this week closed the deal for the Pope farm. Mr. Pezol will move here with his family later in the season and will make this his future home.

There will be no admission fee or silver offering. Just a warm cordial welcome, free for all interested in the cause.

Dinner Party

Miss Margaret Roberts was the gracious hostess last evening at a charming little six o'clock dinner at her home on Laurel avenue. Covers were laid for eight and a delicious six course dinner was daintily served. Those enjoying the pleasant occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge, Mrs. Roberts, Miss Bessie Long, Miss Roberts, Miss Ruth Roberts and Messrs. W. H. Lynn and J. D. Roberts.

Missionary Meeting

A very delightful meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Union of the Congregational church was held at the home of Mrs. F. P. Strong Monday afternoon with a fine attendance. The society is deeply interested in their course of study, which is "The Child in the Midst" for this year, the special subject for the February meeting being "The Child at School." Emphasis was laid upon upon the need of missionary schools, especially the Kindergarten in foreign lands. Authentic information developed that America is playing a leading role in the establishment of these schools, having to her credit, through her various denominations in the mission fields more schools than any other Christian nation. The meeting was led by Mrs. E. J. Moughton and was full of interest. Questions and answers, led by Mrs. Henry Wight was an interesting feature of the program. An enjoyable social hour, during which Mrs. Strong served refreshments closed the pleasures of the afternoon.

A Day in the Union Station

Club members and the public are reminded of the delightful treat in store for them Thursday evening, March 4th when the finance committee of the Woman's Club will present the laughable comedy, "A Day in the Union Station," under the able direction of Mrs. J. W. Barnes. To all club members will be mailed five tickets which they are requested to dispose of at the moderate price of fifty cents, the one price all over the house.

The box office will be opened at 7:30 sharp from Monday morning at the club building. The proceeds will go to the general club treasury to be applied on the expense fund of the club building.

Book Lovers Club

Mr. Henry McLaulin entertained the members of the Book Lovers Club Thursday afternoon with one of the most interesting parties of the winter. Conforming to the patriotic spirit of the season, the George Washington affair gave much pleasure and profit to those enjoying the hospitality of their hostess.

Charming little place cards in the shape of dainty booklets were presented the guests upon their arrival. The guests names in conundrums were upon the first page and these had to be guessed before their places at tables were assigned. On the front, in letters of red and blue, upon the white cover were the words "Book Lovers Club," while the other pages contained receipts of the tempting menu served. The table was centered by alternating rows of red, white and blue flowers, and paper doilies with flags on them carried out the patriotic idea. The dessert of sllibub, topped with strawberries and white cake, the plates resting upon blue napkins further suggested the national colors.

Lilly salad, coddled oysters in ramequins, cheese surprise, pickled cauliflower, dinner biscuit, coffee and dessert were temptingly served and fully enjoyed. With the dessert came the final pleasure of the afternoon for each guest was requested to tell an incident in the life of Washington. Enjoying Mrs. McLaulin's delightful hospitality were Mesdames W. W. Abernathy, J. T. Brady, E. D. Brownlee, J. C. Bennett, R. E. Tolar, Fred Williams, J. M. Wallace, Harry Ward, Geo. Fox, C. C. Woodruff and W. T. Johns.

SENT CUSTER STORY

Telegrapher Who Flashed News of Massacre Just Retired.

After Fifty Years of Active Service John M. Carnahan Receives a Pension—Ticks off 80,000 Words in Two Shifts.

Missoula, Mont.—The news of the Custer massacre was first told to the world in 1876 by John M. Carnahan, then manager and operator in the Western Union office in Bismarck, North Dakota. After an active service of more than fifty years Mr. Carnahan has just been retired on a pension.

Mr. Carnahan began his career as a telegrapher in 1861.

In the fall of 1872 the Northern Pacific railway line had been completed as far west as Bismarck, N. D. Mr. Carnahan was asked to go to Bismarck and manage that office, and in the spring of 1873 he went there and the big chapter in the story of his eventful life began. For it was while he was at Bismarck that he sent to the world the account of the Custer massacre on the Little Big Horn in July, 1876.

Fort Abraham Lincoln the post of the Seventh cavalry and the headquarters of Brigadier General Custer, was at Bismarck. Mr. Carnahan won Brigadier General Custer's friendship and he became the personal friend of the officers at Lincoln. And it was that he and the post surgeon rode out from the old garrison with the Custer expedition when it started in June, 1876, to punish the Sioux. The surgeon and the operator made the first twelve miles with the Seventh cavalry. Then they turned back with the last dispatches which Brigadier General Custer sent.

No word came back to Bismarck from the Seventh cavalry and its commander. But that occasioned no surprise. Expeditions of that sort were a common occurrence in those days.

It was on the night of July 5 when the steamboat Far West came down the river to Bismarck. The Far West brought the wounded of Reno's command and the official dispatches which told of the complete annihilation of the Custer command.

On the morning of July 6 Mr. Carnahan found on his desk in the telegraph office a carpet bag filled with official dispatches. There was an immense lot of them. He "flashed" the news to the East, and then settled down to the transmission of the official story to the department of war in Washington. It was eight o'clock on the morning of July 6 when he began his tremendous task. Not until five o'clock the following morning—21 hours—did he leave his instruments. Then for three hours he slept the sleep of utter exhaustion. He returned to his work, and for 20 hours he sat at his key. It was four o'clock the next morning when he checked off the signature of the last dispatch in that old carpet bag. He had sent 80,000 words in the two shifts.

For two days the eastern newspapers had been clamoring for news, and there was no one to send it. Mr. Carnahan could not leave his official work and there was no other telegraph operator within two hundred miles.

To the New York Herald, the Chicago Inter Ocean and the St. Paul Pioneer Press he sent as much of the news as he had strength to prepare. And that was the way the news of the Custer battle was sent out.

That was the big news article in the career of John Carnahan. But in the professional secrets of 53 years at a telegraph key there must be many incidents stored up which would startle the world if they were told.

PADDY MAKES BLUFF GOOD

Irishman, Singlehanded, Captures Six German Soldiers and Marches Them into English Trenches.

Private George, at Brighton, wounded tells this story.

"Paddy Keenan, an Irishman serving with our regiment, was surprised one day by a German scouting party of six while he was taking it easy a little in advance of our lines. He saw there was no choice between bluffing it or a little trip to Berlin or the grave, so he chose the former. Jumping to his feet he called on the Germans to throw down their arms as they were covered by the rifles of his friends. Paddy ordered them to march in single file toward our trenches. He followed behind with his rifle ready. When the Germans found that the trenches were so far away they were waxy, but as they had previously thrown away their arms they could do nothing against Paddy and his rifle, so they made the best of a bad job and were brought into camp as prisoners."

Makes $16,000 on Seed Wheat.

Atchison, Kan.—Henry Merwick, an Atchison traveling man, whose territory includes several western Kansas counties, says many merchants in that section made money this year by staking farmers to seed wheat last fall, to be repaid on a basis of one-fourth the crop. The expense of seeding is about two hundred dollars a quarter section. One merchant in his territory made $16,000 this year.

Testing War Fabrics.

London.—To test war fabrics, 40,000 recruits in English camps are wearing suits of khaki of different texture over their ordinary clothing.

To Remedy Rattling Windows.

Do not allow yourself to be made wretched and nervous by rattling windows or doors when the comb on your dresser makes a perfect wedge, easily inserted and as easily removed. Especially annoying are such noises in hotels and other strange bedrooms, but even there the comb is at hand and equal to all sizes of cracks.

Millions Spent for Soda.

Authorities in the drug business estimate the number of soda fountains in use in the United States at not less than 75,000 and they are said to represent an investment of $50,000,000. The annual receipts of these supplies of soft drinks may total $50,000,000.

She Knew.

"Darling," he murmured, as soon as they had been seated in the high-priced restaurant, "you can have anything you want on the bill of fare. Shall I read it off to you?" "No," replied the dear girl, "just read it to the waiter."

SOLDIER'S BAPTISM OF FIRE

Average Man's Most Terrifying Position on Field of Battle is When Still.

Everyone of us must have wondered how he would feel in battle for the first time. We may get some idea of how the average man feels in such circumstances from a study of the psychology of battle, just published in Italy, says London Tit-Bits. Lieutenant Colonel Mangiarotti of the Seventy-seventh Infantry carefully examined more than two thousand soldiers who first faced fire in the recent war between Italy and Turkey, and he summarizes their statements in the Rivista Militare. He questioned them one by one.

Out of 2,000 men 1,700 confessed that their most trying moment in the whole campaign was when they first heard hostile bullets whistle about their ears. But almost all of them said they were much less frightened than they had expected to be, and that the scare diminished with each battle.

The average soldier finds the most terrifying position to be that of standing motionless in the front rank, exposed to the enemy's fire without being able to reply. The order to advance or to charge with fixed bayonets is then received as a release from agony. Movement, even into greater peril, distracts the mind and greatly reduces the mental anguish.

Soldiers are seriously affected by the trembling of their superiors. An officer who shakes in his shoes is a coward in the eyes of the rank and file, although the men know that many military heroes—Henri IV, Turenne and Frederick the Great, for instance—trembled on going into a fight.

Colonel Mangiarotti says that officers must understand this feeling. This is especially true of lieutenants, for in battle all officers from captains upward are nonexistent so far as the common soldiers are concerned. They keep their eyes on their lieutenants exclusively. This was brought out when Colonel Mangiarotti asked the men what sentiment animated them when the bullets were falling all around them—was it love of country, religion or their oath of fidelity to their king? "I went ahead," they replied, almost unanimously, "because my lieutenant went ahead."

It seems that once battle is on and the first feeling of terror has vanished soldiers feel as if set free. The fever of combat takes possession of them and they think about nothing else.

Literature of Poverty.

In this age of print, the literature of poverty has swollen to an enormous bulk. Statistical books, explicit and contradictory. Hopeful books by social workers who see salvation in girls' clubs and refined dancing. Hopeless books by other social workers who believe—or, at least, who say—that the employed are enslaved by the employer, and that women and children are the prey of men. Highly colored books by adventurous young journalists who have masqueraded (for copy's sake) as mill and factory hands. Gray books by casual observers who are paralyzed by the mere sight of a slum. Furious books by rabid socialists who hold that the poor will never be uplifted while there is left in the world a man rich enough to pay them wages. Imaginative books by poets and novelists who deal in realism to the exclusion of reality. All this profusion of matter is thrust upon us month after month, while the working-man reads his newspaper, and the working-girl reads "A Coronet of Shame, or Lost in Fate's Fearful Abyss."—Agnes Repplier, in Atlantic.

Cancers That Cure Themselves.

In the annual report of Doctor Hershford of the Imperial Cancer Research fund an announcement of great importance is made. It is to the effect that transplanted tumors fall into two categories, a very small group that grow progressively because they do not produce resistance to their own growth, and a large group that tend to disappear spontaneously because they induce in the body a powerful resistance to their growth.

While this remark is applied only to tumors artificially produced in animals for experimental purposes, it may be that some at least of the apparently extraordinary cures of cancer in human beings have been due to this power of the body to resist the growth of the cancer. If further experiments shall result in the discovery of the method by which certain resistant bodies throw off the cancerous growth, it will be a long step toward finding a way of conferring this power upon those who do not possess it.

A Royal Quarrel.

England has never been at war with Prussia before, but she came near it in 1725, when some Prussian soldiers, traveling through Hanover, were detained by the king's order. Frederick William I and George II had long hated one another, on personal grounds, so the former seized upon this incident as a pretext for challenging his royal cousin to a duel.

Matters went so far that each king named his seconds, but, owing to the exertions of the diplomats, a meeting was averted. Thereupon Frederick William mobilized 41,000 troops on the Hanoverian frontier, and George also made a show of warlike preparations. Eventually a settlement was reached by exchanging the Prussian George had detained for some Hanoverians impressed by Frederick William for his army, and the troops massed for combat were disbanded.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Good Nature.

What Tuberculosis Costs.

It has been estimated that deaths from tuberculosis cost the nation half a million dollars annually through the loss of wages and the value of the things workers would produce if they were not suffering from the disease. To conquer this enemy of the human race more than $20,000,000 a year is expended. That the good work is progressing is shown by the fact that in 20 years the death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced from 245.4 to 158 per 100,000 population.

Fish Die When Drawn From Depth.

In the great depths of the ocean the temperature is little above freezing, no matter what it may be at the surface. When the draughts which are used in the work are brought to the surface containing specimens of animals and fish inhabiting the deep, most of the creatures are dead. In fact, all those from the deeper points are killed by removing them from waters of great hydrostatic pressure to continuously decreasing pressure.

Three Hats for Smart Occasions

HATS elaborate and rich enough to grace the smartest of occasions are shown in the pretty group pictured here. One of them came from that celebrated woman among French designers to whom some excellent judges of millinery would hand the blue ribbon if a contest for supremacy were on.

This delightful and novel headpiece from Madame Georgette is a rather small hat with narrow drooping brim of velvet. The odd crown is like a fan, supported at the left side by a band which narrows to the right until it almost disappears. The crown is made of overlapping strips of a fancy braid and might be effectively managed with velvet or other ribbon.

At the front a tall fancy feather of ostrich and chenille makes a decoration full of dash. The hat is worn at a saucy tilt but its lines are so well managed that nothing of its elegance is lost.

Entirely different in character is the picturesque and exquisite brimmed hat which first came to the eyes of woman kind in a New York establishment. It cannot suffer by comparison even with so good an example of French art as the Georgette turban.

The shape has a round crown of moderate size and a brim with slight curves in the edge. The hat is in white and black, the top crown a rich brocade in raised flowers on a satin ground. Very handsome ribbon, with pivot edge of silver, is draped about the side crown. The brim is of white faced with black velvet. A very unusual ostrich fancy feather with jet stem and ornament is posed on the brim, two of the pomponlike ends near the front and the remaining one at the side.

The third hat is plainer but is a rich and elegant model depending upon its unusual outlines and richness of materials for the distinction that fixes its class. It is of deep sapphire velvet trimmed with plage collar and the handsomest of shaded ostrich plumes. This is also the creation of an American designer, which goes to prove that we can do very well by relying upon the talent of our own millinery designers whether native born or imported.

Any of these delightful hats might be made up in other colors than those described here. If the color harmonies are well thought out replicas of them will lose nothing in beauty.

STRAIGHT LINES NOW

FASHION'S CHANGES MUST BE KEPT WELL IN MIND.

New Ideas Will Be Accorded a Warm Welcome for Many Reasons—Strict Law as to Make and Placing of Sleeves.

Bear in mind when searching for new clothes that all the various loops and folds and tucks that disfigured our coats last year are happily absent. We are dressed now in straight lines, which is the most suitable choice for the average Anglo-Saxon figure. Whatever is plain over the hips is good, provided it is not too attenuated at the hem.

True, the American woman nor her dressmaker is not prone to follow the new law for wide skirts. It may be that the American commercialists are holding back the full swing of this fashion until later in the season when they count on it for combating a dull season in ideas. It will give people new reason to buy if the really wide skirts are forced after New Year's. They will take the place of the frocks from Paris which are advanced by the French designers for the early season in the Riviera and in Cairo.

The tight long sleeve is well established and perhaps no woman needs a warning against the kimono shape, which is still shown in many garments. It is tolerated only when the sleeve reaches to the wrist and when it is tight below the elbow, but this is the only form in which it should be considered by a woman buying new clothes.

The fitted sleeve is much better in every way for the preservation of the armhole has been a nuisance to the wearer. No sleeve is as comfortable as the one set into a regulation armhole that is properly cut. Ah! there's the rub. When is the armhole well-placed? Once out of twelve times. It is too small or too large, too far over the arm, the usual trouble, or too deep at the back. In the cut of a simple armhole there is needed the highest mastery of one's trade as a cutter.

Coats or loose blouses that have the raglan sleeve are not to be avoided. This season, that especial shape is accepted, and it is exceptionally comfortable. It is not strictly fashionable, mind you, and it does not look well on every shoulder, but there is no reason against buying a garment which has it, if the purchaser likes it.

The elbow sleeve in every form is second class. Even in informal dinner gowns and blouses it does not rank with its two successors; the directoire and the Grecian. One shows all the arm, or none. That is the law.

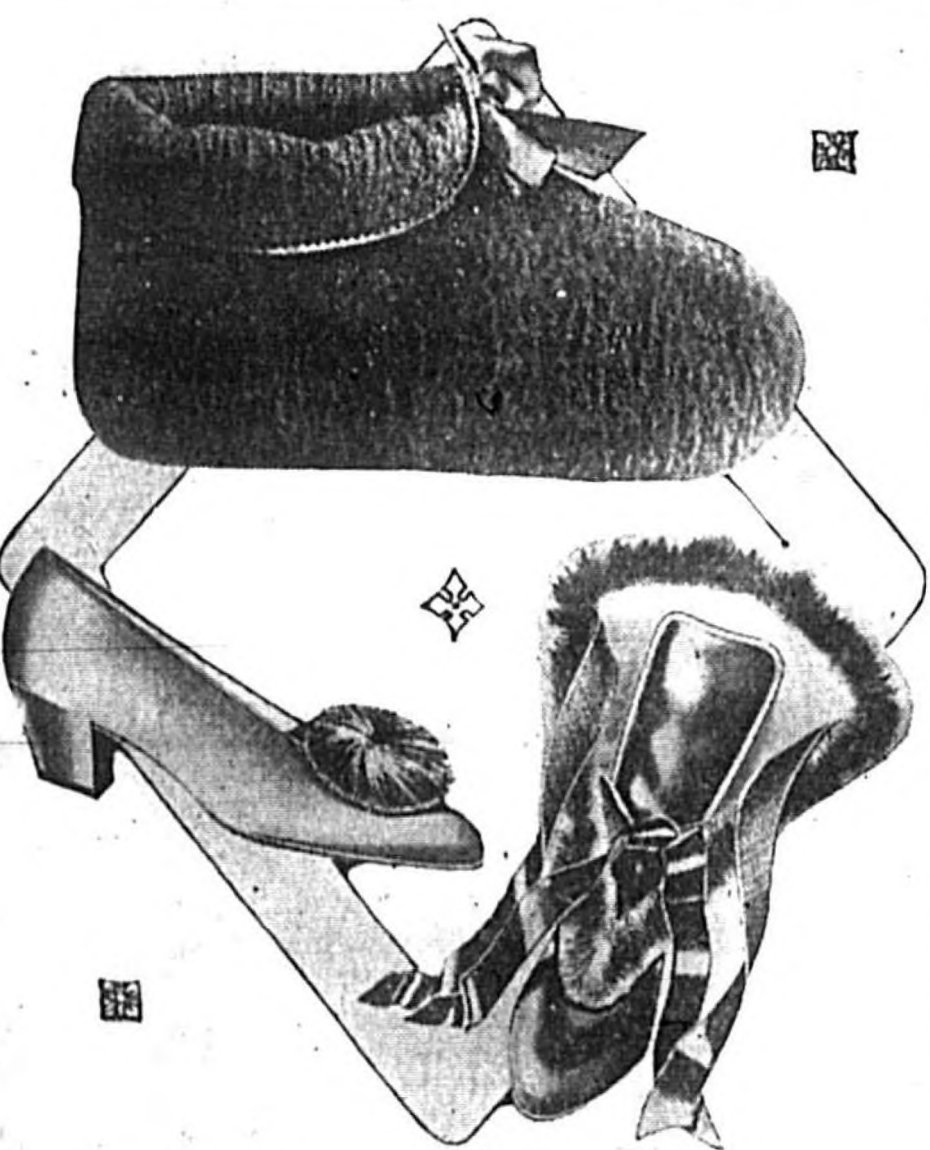

Even as belts on one-piece frocks they have been discarded, giving place to splendid girdles of ornate Chinese embroidery. As waistcoats they have been replaced by fur.

All stripes have not vanished from the fashions. The broadly marked silks like those worn during the French revolution have been revived for whole gowns, not for trimmings, and there is a wonderful new fabric for evening gowns woven in gold and black stripes, the former being the foundation fabric, something like a cloth of gold.

Not new, but still smart, are the three ruffles arranged diagonally about the hips, and very new are the long, tight lace sleeves.

Silver Lace and Satin:
A frock, in one piece, fastening in the back, is made with a black satin foundation and a deep, full chiffon sleeves, and there is an overblouse of satin, cut so that it hangs smooth and wrinkleless from the bust and ends below the waist in a rounded outline. Silver cords reach from the under-arms seams to the back of the waist. The straight satin bodice suggests, in its lines, a coat of mail. There is a slightly rounded neck line, finished with a little rolling collar, as high in back as in front, of silver lace.

Foot Comfort in Cold Weather

IF THERE is anything that ministers more to comfort than warm, soft slippers in cold weather, the name of it will be thankfully acclaimed by mankind. Standing under the edge of the bed, ready to be slipped on, there should be a comfortable pair of slippers for everyone. And for wear about the house in the morning there are several kinds of cozy house slippers. There are luxurious ones for the bedroom and warm "footgloves" of elderdown for the bed, if one sleeps in a cold room.

Slippers are made in such endless variety that even to describe only those intended for wear in cold weather would prove tiresome. Two of several good, reliable kinds are shown here, and a pair of warm carriage shoes to be worn over the feet dressed for the evening function.

The plain slipper of felt, for wear about the house, has a leather sole lined with felt. It is finished with stitching and a silk pompon on the toe. A similar slipper is cut high about the ankle and over the instep, lined with fannel and bordered with fur. This style has a leather sole and low heel and is made both for men and women. It is warm and durable—a great favorite for winter house wear.

For the bedroom the coziest slippers are knitted or closely crocheted of firm yarn. They have leather soles lined with lamb's wool and are made both for men and women. There are many exquisite slippers for the bedroom made of ribbon or brocade silk, but they have not much in the way of warmth to recommend them.

The elderdown bed shoe is a luxury every one should be provided with. Double-faced elderdown, with the two sides in contrasting colors, is used to make these warm foot coverings. In the picture a shoe made for a man is shown. It is made of black elderdown, with bright red lining. There are several patterns by which the shoes may be cut and they are home-made. The edges are finished with crocheted scallops, or worked in button-hole stitch. The material comes in pink, blue, lavender, gray, brown, navy, black, and in several combinations, as well as white. These shoes seem to generate warmth like a down coverlid.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MET FRIDAY NIGHT

BIG MEETING AND SMOKER ON FRIDAY NIGHT, MARCH 12th.

The Commercial Club held their regular meeting last Friday night and on account of the small attendance President Lake adjourned the meeting early. This was necessary because the growers were anxious to hold a meeting in the same place at 8:30 and the Commercial Club was willing to give way to the growers meeting.

There were many matters of importance to come before the club but they were postponed until the next meeting night which will occur on Friday night, March 12th and on that night every member is urged to be present.

On account of counter attractions the attendance at the meetings of the Commercial Club has not been as large as it should be and now that the spring season is at hand the officers are anxious for a rousing meeting to be held to discuss matters of importance regarding the city and county.

At the meeting to be held on March 12th the annual election of officers will occur and the members should endeavor to be present and make it one of the best of the entire year.

After the election a smoker will be held and all the members and those who are interested in the welfare of Sanford and would like to join the club should be present and become members.

The Commercial Club has been one of the most important factors in the city and county and there is much work to be accomplished here this season and it will be started by the club.

Be present on Friday evening, March 12th without fail.

Desperado Ashley Surrenders

West Palm Beach, Mar. 1.—John Ashley, the leader, Joe Ashley, his father and a brother, Will Ashley, three of the five men who held up the Bank of Stuart Monday morning and secured over $4,000 in cash were captured Friday morning and are now in jail here.

The capture was made easy on account of John Ashley being wounded. He practically gave himself up. Bob Ashley, another brother and Kid Lowe have not yet been caught, although the posse is still after them. Kid Lowe is said to have the booty in his possession.

The capture was made in a swamp about six miles west of Hobe Sound. Will Ashley was sighted by the officers and John then called for them to come and take him. He was in a very weakened condition on account of the wound in his face, caused by a shot fired either by himself or one of his party, as they sped through the town of Stuart in an automobile just after the hold-up. John Ashley admits the responsibility for the robbery. He claims that Kid Lowe, who is a relative, shot him to get him out of the way so that Lowe might get a bigger share of the booty.

After the capture John was brought into Hobe Sound in a wagon, and then to West Palm Beach by automobile. He was taken at once to Dr. Peck's office to have his wounds attended to. The bullet entered the jaw, coming out of the opposite side of the face near the eye. The sight of one eye is gone. His condition is considered critical. If he recovers sufficiently he will have to stand trial next month for the murder of the Indian, DeSoto Tiger, with which he began his lawless career, which has equalled in daring the exploits of the James boys.

There is no longer any doubt but that the Ashleys perpetrated the train hold-up at Stuart two weeks ago, the robbery at the Thomas store at Deerfield, the shooting of the hunters' camp at night west of Boynton, and numerous assaults on citizens who they chanced to meet in the Everglades.

Sheriff Baker is gratified over making the capture of the trio so easily, knowing that had it not been for his serious condition, John and his brothers would have put up a fight that might have resulted in some of the officers being shot. The sheriff is determined to get Kid Lowe and Bob Ashley at any cost.

THE BARGELT ENTERTAINMENT

Three days until the appearance of Miss Evelyn Bargelt, cartoonist and reader at the Baptist Temple on Wednesday evening, March 3rd and 60 per cent of the seats in the assembly room have been engaged. If you want to go where the people are to be Wednesday night go to the Baptist Temple. Every seat is a comfortable one. Call at Phillips drug store today and select yours.

Miss Bargelt charms her audience with flashes of wit and humor while her pictures are taking shape under her magic touch, and surprises all by the display of her diverse talents, in each of which she excels.

She usually gives one reading during the evening which occupies twenty minutes or more, and as she talks, she carries the audience from one scene to another in the story. She is reading at all times filled with enthusiastic interest. Best of all these stories often carry with them a lesson which leaves the audience better for having attended. It is not unusual for many people in the audience to be melted to tears during one of these renditions. The drawings, together with the words serve to make the rendition as a whole, decidedly realistic.

Adult tickets, 50 cents. Two for 85 cents. Four for $1.50. Children 25 cents. Two for 40 cents. On sale at Phillips drug store.

WILL START WORK ON NEW CHURCH

PRESBYTERIANS FINALLY DECIDE ON PLANS FOR A FINE NEW EDIFICE

After a long delay and discussion over the plans for the building of the board of deacons of the Presbyterian church announce that the foundation will be started this week and the church will be built as rapidly as possible. The plans for the Presbyterian church are said to be the best of the kind that have been drawn by a Florida architect and combine a beautiful style of architecture with a plan that will give the greatest amount of space and comfort.

The work has been delayed for some time and it seemed that the church would have no home for the summer but with the work started now and the plans definitely decided it is certain that the auditorium will be completed at once and services can be held in the new church by the first of July at least.

The lot at the corner of Oak avenue and Third street is one of the best in the city and the final decision of the officers of the church to keep the lot and build the new building meets with the approval of the entire congregation. The starting of the new church will be the means of bringing the Presbyterians of the city and country together and already offers of assistance from friends at a distance are coming in to the deacons. There is nothing like a new home to give impetus to a church and the beginning of the new Presbyterian church in Sanford means the beginning of a new and better era of church work among the Presbyterians.

The new Presbyterian church will give Sanford three new brick churches in this city all started in the past twelve months. The Baptist church is almost completed and already occupied. The Methodist is more than half completed and this week will witness the laying of the foundation of the Presbyterian.

Act of a Vandal

S. Runge is usually in good humor but just now he feels that he has been imposed upon by parties unknown. Mr. Runge had a fine kumquat tree in his yard that was full of fruit and was the pride and joy of the neighborhood. The other night some miscreant walked into the front yard and pulled up the entire tree and fruit and took them away and Mr. Runge thinks he has a case against the fellow should he ever get hold of him.

New Land Company

The W. J. Westfall Land Co has opened offices in the Welborne block and will do a general land business. They are handling the Astor lands in Lake county, the Chuluota lands and orange grove property in DeSoto county and several other land propositions. H. W. Hoffman has charge of the office.

ANOTHER BLOCK FOR BUSY SANFORD

FIRST STREET HAS BRICK BLOCK FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH

The material growth of Sanford is slow but steady and sure and the buildings that are being erected now are substantial and reflecting in the solid foundations of the future prosperity of the city.

Among the building operations for March is the new brick block that will be erected on First street by F. L. Woodruff that will contain two store rooms and one office room. The block will be erected on the site now occupied by the frame shack that served as a kitchen and general eye sore for the Sanford House for so many years and was occupied by a pressing club and quick lunch and other kinds of business.

The frame building is being made ready today for removal to another part of the city and as soon as this is accomplished the building of the brick block will start.

Mr. Woodruff is a Sanford man who has spent his early life here and who has enough confidence in the city to invest all of his money in his home town. He has recently finished a fine brick building at the corner of Park avenue and Commercial street and a few years ago in connection with N. H. Garner built the magnificent brick building on First street, consisting of two store rooms and offices on the second floor and also owns much residence property in the city and hundreds of acres of farm property.

The fact that Sanford's growth can be traced to the home people and that Sanford men have the confidence in the city is the strongest kind of evidence that the city is on a solid foundation and sooner or later will attract other investors who are not living here.

The new block will be of the new style of hard surfaced brick and when finished will add much to First street. With the completion of the government building the Sanford House property will be almost solidly built up with business houses.

The "Dum Dum" Pepper

How a Ration Plan Did not ever bear of the new variety of peppers called the "dum dum". The name "dum dum" for a new sweet pepper was originated by F. W. Chesbro, a trucker of Palm Beach county. Mr. Chesbro wanted some Bermuda onion seed and sent to a Michigan firm for a supply but, much to his disgust, the seed shipped him proved to be pepper instead of onion. Nothing daunted, Mr. Chesbro made a seed bed and raised the plants, having no index that the peppers would amount to much but the plants thrived and the fruit seemed to be wholly different from anything he had ever seen, being unlike the ordinary pepper produced in Florida as they were very symmetrical in shape and extended to a sharp point. A shipment of these peppers was made to Chicago and the commission man wired Mr. Mr. Chesbro at once for the name of that variety. Mr. Chesbro replied by saying that they were called the "dum dum." The next day the Chicago Tribune gave space on the first page to the following: "Dum dum peppers were offered for sale in South Water street yesterday. They were the first dum dum peppers ever seen in the street, and naturally, in any market in the world. The dum dum pepper is a brand new variety of the green pepper family. It was never known before this year, and has been dubbed the dum dum because it resembles in form the much discussed, snub nosed bullets said to be used in the European war. The dum dum pepper originated in Florida and was received in Chicago by Hall, Wedge & Carter. Whether it will cause the disastrous results that dum dum bullets are said to cause has not yet been ascertained."

It is a physician, dentist or veterinarian dispenses such drugs while in his professional practice on the patient, no record need be kept. In all other cases where he supplies or dispenses such drug he must make a record of the drug and the amount dispensed, the name of the patient and the date, and preserve this record two years.

It is prepared at any time to furnish your collector of internal revenue with a correct statement, covering not more than three months, showing the amount of such drugs received by you, the persons from whom received, the amount received from each person and the date when received.

Do not forget that compliance with the federal law does not relieve you from observing your state laws or city ordinances, if there are any, regulating the use and sale of any of the narcotics.

If you need a partial or a complete list of the persons who are registered in your district, you can get it from the collector of the district on the payment of $1 for every 100 names or fraction thereof.

The Tribune also had an illustration of the pepper. It was an error to state that the pepper originated in Florida as this is not true. The seed came from Michigan but the name dum dum originated by Mr. Chesbro probably will stick to the variety as long as they are raised.—Packer

THE NEW DOPE LAW GOES INTO EFFECT

ALL DRUGS AND PREPARATIONS WITH OPIUM ARE SUBJECT TO LAW

Yesterday, March 1, marked the beginning of operation throughout the country of the Harrison anti-narcotic law, which forbids the import, manufacture, production of, dealing in, dispensing, selling, distributing or giving away, opium, coca leaves or any compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, or preparation thereof except after registration with the collector of internal revenue, and under the regulations prescribed by the provisions of the act.

As druggists are affected more than any other class of people by the act, and after them jobbers, physicians, dentists and veterinary surgeons, the following suggestions from E. Lilly and Company, manufacturing chemists and wholesale druggists of Indianapolis, will be of instructive interest to all:

Obtain a supply of the blank forms at once so as to be ready to comply with the law. Do not put this off as an unexpected delay might be exceedingly annoying.

Make a list of all items in your stock which come under the law, and take an inventory of them, as this information might be needed. It would be an excellent plan, if practicable, to separate your Harrison stock from your general stock and keep it by itself.

After the law is in force, make out all orders for supplies of these items on the regular blank form and make also a duplicate of each order on the form provided for that purpose. Keep the duplicates not less than two years in such a way that they can readily be inspected by the proper officials, if desired.

Do not dispense or supply any of the drugs or preparations covered by the law, except on an order, in proper form, from a registered person or on the prescription of a registered physician, dentist or veterinarian, or unless you are a registered physician, dentist or veterinarian and are supplying your patient in the course of your professional practice.

If a physician, dentist or veterinarian dispenses such drugs while in his professional practice on the patient, no record need be kept. In all other cases where he supplies or dispenses such drug he must make a record of the drug and the amount dispensed, the name of the patient and the date, and preserve this record two years.

It is prepared at any time to furnish your collector of internal revenue with a correct statement, covering not more than three months, showing the amount of such drugs received by you, the persons from whom received, the amount received from each person and the date when received.

Do not forget that compliance with the federal law does not relieve you from observing your state laws or city ordinances, if there are any, regulating the use and sale of any of the narcotics.

If you need a partial or a complete list of the persons who are registered in your district, you can get it from the collector of the district on the payment of $1 for every 100 names or fraction thereof.

THOUSAND DOLLARS RAISED FOR CHURCH

BROTHERHOOD OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH GOES TO WORK

The Brotherhood class of the Presbyterian church held a most interesting and important meeting at the Presbyterian manse last Friday evening, and the meeting brought out a spirit of construction that will ultimately build up a greater Brotherhood class and will also start building operations on the church.

The meeting was called to order by President Minton and various members were called upon to say something for the good of the church and the church work. It developed that the greatest work cut out for the class was a larger membership and the beginning of the new church.

It was definitely decided that the class could and would raise $1,000 toward the building fund of the new church and that the board of deacons should be informed at once that this sum would be available as soon as the same was needed. The class will raise the fund by personal contributions made at the first meeting in each month and every member of the class and all of those who are interested in the work of the Brotherhood are urged to be present at these meetings and contribute their mite.

The members of the Brotherhood think they should start the work of the new church and the auditorium at least can be built at once, thus giving the congregation a house of worship of their own, creating a better feeling and holding the members together.

After the meeting choice chicken sandwiches, coffee and cigars were served and the members lingered long in the evening discussing ways and means for a bigger and better Brotherhood and a new Presbyterian church. The meeting was most enthusiastic and much good will result from these meetings that are to be held once each month regularly.

The Brotherhood class has accomplished much good in the work of the church and is one of the strongest organizations in the city. A committee appointed by the president, consisting of D. L. Thrasher, R. J. Holly, D. D. Caldwell and R. H. Muirhead will have the fund in charge and will devise ways and means for raising same.

All are cordially welcomed.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS THURSDAY AT NOON

WILL RUSH THROUGH WITH IMPORTANT LEGISLATION THIS WEEK

Washington, Mach. 1.—With two and a half days left in the life of the Sixty-third congress, both houses are prepared to sit almost continuously until noon Thursday, March 4, to complete necessary business, and, if possible, to enact a few important measures obstructed by the Ship Purchase Bill fight.

Beginning tomorrow the senate and house will consider conference reports in the great supply bills, approximating $1,000,000,000 to defray government expenses for the next fiscal year. The senate has yet to dispose of the $11,000,000 Indian bill and the rivers and harbors bill. That it will be impossible to pass the senate river and harbors bill. That it will be impossible has been conceded. A joint resolution appropriating a lump sum of $30,000,000 probably will be substituted. War department officials have estimated that it will require this amount to take care of existing projects.

Little difficulty is looked for with any of the other supply bills, although senate increases for submarines in the naval bill program may require some concessions, and the fate of the original bill is doubtful, owing to the McCumber rural credits rider attached unexpectedly in the senate. The house agriculture committee plans to substitute for the McCumber rider the farm loan credits bill approved by the President. If this can be approved by the house in agreeing to a conference report, senate leaders believe it can pass the senate.

The effort to accomplish farm credit legislation is expected to leave little opportunity for consideration of other general legislation, including the Philippine self government and the water power dam site bills. It will also hold back the last effort of Democratic leaders to pass the ship bill.

Debate at High School

Those Free Seeds

Congressman Claude L'Engle sends the following letter regarding those free seeds:

Ortega, Fla., Mar. 1.

R. J. Holly, Ed. Herald:

Dear Friend: I have ordered the Agricultural Department, Washington, to send you the good seed about which I wrote you.

If you run a notice that you are going to get these seeds, and then another notice when you get them, this may be the means of preventing these seed being sown on stony ground or among thistles by getting them in the hands of good sowers ready to receive them in the spirit in which they are sent, thus carrying out the plans of our beneficent government to make the labors of the toiling farmers more fruitful and yield an abundant harvest.

I have to my credit in the Government Printing Office and other places, several hundred books on various subjects. If you express a desire for them I will send some of these to you for distribution among the good people who read your paper. For the seed and for the publication, my frank will be good nine months after March 4th. I think that among the lot I have a number of large wall maps of the United States.

Please let me know if you care to undertake this distribution of pamphlets, books, etc.

Yours fraternally, CLAUDE L'ENGLE.

Ed. Note: We have written him to send the seeds and the booklets and maps but as yet we have not received any of them.
