"YOUNG" STRIBLING SAYS HE'S READY

W. L. (Young) Stribling posed for this picture at his training camp at Geauga Lake, Ohio, last night to prove that he was rapidly rounding into trim for his coming fight with Max Schmeling, heavyweight title holder.

CLOSE CALLS AND LOSS OF EYE PUT RELATED BY TWO POST ON ROAD TO WORLD GIRDERS HIS FAME IN AIR

Gatty Declares Band Flying Was Worst Experience Of All

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 2.—(AP)—Safe from a jamming through outside doors blocked by police, Wiley Post and Harold Gatty talked briefly in a Roosevelt field hangar last night after their flight around the world.

Gatty presented the fresh appearance, standing in the circle of interviewers over the shoulder of Post, who slumped on a automobile bumper.

Post was restless, his hair rumpled, his shirt collar open. Gatty was fully dressed and seemed less weary than most of the steaming crowd that had waited for hours for the end of the flight.

Both flew drunk glass after glass of water. Each said he was not very tired, Gatty adding that they "got used to it."

Post, the pilot of the Veneta, seemed dazed by the throng of reporters and photographers who came faintly in his soft Oklahoma drawl.

Asked about his flight experience, Gatty declared it was the worst he had ever had. He was working in the oil fields and an industrial accident destroyed the sight of one eye. With the compensation money he bought his first plane.

It was an old craft that had long since seen its best days, and the best hadn't been very good, but the barnstormer who sold it threw in some instruction. Post flew an hour and forty minutes with this man and then took the ship up himself. That was in 1924 and he's been flying ever since.

Gatty, a Tasmanian, began his professional life on the sea, but his eyes too wandered always to the frow, faster element aloft. Trained in the Royal Australian Naval College, Gatty gained wide experience in navigation afloat before finally turning his talents to aviation.

Last Summer he started out with Harold Bromley on a projected non-stop flight from Japan to the United States. They had been in the air 25 hours and were 1200 miles out when a broken engine caused them to ditch in the open sea. Gatty, however, succeeded in directing Bromley back to Japan, where the plucky little navigator was confined to bed for two months with gas poisoning.

After leaving the sea in 1927 Gatty established a navigational school in Los Angeles with a branch at San Diego. He has instructed many famous fliers, including Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, Colonel Art Goebel and others. With Lieutenant Commander P. V. H. Woods of the navy, who taught Col. Lindbergh navigation, Gatty has written numerous text books on aerial navigation.

Like Post he is married, but he has three young sons, whereas Post is childless. He lives in Los Angeles. Post was born in Grand Plains, Texas, but his parents later moved to Oklahoma and still live in that state at Muskogee. He was a barnstormer for several years after obtaining his first plane and then entered the employ of Hall Flying the same ship he has used for the world flight he won the non-stop Derby from Los Angeles to the National Air race at Chicago last year.

Program Is Staged Wednesday Night At Municipal Park

Approximately 500 persons were gathered near the band shell at the foot of Park Avenue last night where they heard the first of a series of weekly community programs which are expected to furnish amusement for local residents here during the summer months.

Listeners last night heard a program arranged by the Sanford Elks Club, and broadcast over the public-address amplifying system brought to Sanford by J. J. Ellis, DeLand, who originated the idea of having a weekly program.

The Gloom Chasers local orchestra opened the program by playing several popular numbers. H. J. Clause, pianist, received much applause when he rendered two vocal numbers following which Miss Elizabeth Clark entertained the audience with several piano selections.

George C. Fellows offered two cornet solos and the program was concluded as the Gloom Chasers again offered dance numbers.

The audience applauded the performance and from all sections the first program was a distinct success. The program was made possible through the cooperation of several local merchants at the Sanford City Commission.

Mr. Tillis announced to the group that any civic or social club in Sanford which desired to arrange and present a program on any Wednesday night during the coming summer months, need only get in touch with him and he will assist them in every detail. A report is scheduled for next Wednesday night, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

HEAT RELIEF IS USHERED INTO MIDDLE WEST

However, Torrid Wave Moves Into South And East Skyrocketing Thermometer

By Associated Press
Relief came to the Middle West today as the summer's first heat wave moved into the East and South. Storms over Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri and other northern and far middle western states crept slowly into Illinois, Kentucky, and Indiana. By tonight the weather man predicted this entire area will have found cooler and more normal summer temperatures.

But as the Middle West breathed a sigh of relief the East and South continued to swell with the center of a torrid wave moving across Ohio, Michigan, and Pennsylvania. Deaths throughout the United States attributable to heat, including drownings in the last 24 hours, were estimated at 250 bringing the grand total to about a thousand.

In Kansas, blighted by two weeks of 100-degree heat, light rains and a southwest wind temporarily ended Summer's siege. Even in Western Missouri, breezes showed the mercury downward.

From the Continental divide to the Pacific Coast, normal temperatures held sway. It was 70 in Seattle; 74 in San Francisco and 82 in Los Angeles.

In the Nation's capital, the mercury for the first time this Summer neared 100.

In Baltimore it was 89; 90 in (Continued on Page Three)

Political Crisis In Labor Government Is Barely Averted

LONDON, July 2.—(AP)—A political crisis which had threatened to end in the defeat of the Labor government in the House of Commons today, was removed last night when the government surrendered to the Liberal demands.

After resolutely refusing to accept the Liberals' demand that all playing fields should be exempt from the land tax proposals of Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, in the finance bill, the government last night decided to move its own amendment to the bill today. This was expected to satisfy the Liberals.

Observers saw a rebuff to Snowden in the government's decision.

This new development was hailed as a triumph for the Liberal leader, David Lloyd George, who was seen as having proved he still has influence with the government, despite the contraction of his political foe that he had sunk to a position of subservience.

The new development means that all the golf courses, the big cricket and football grounds will be exempt from taxation. The golf tracks, polo fields and automobile racing grounds will not be included among the exempted properties, however.

Late last night Sir Archibald Sinclair, chief Liberal whip, announced that the Liberals had accepted the government's new amendment and thus the latest of a long series of "crises" may be regarded as definitely over.

U. S. Attache Slaps Duke But Declines To Engage In Duel

LONDON, July 2.—(AP)—A story that an American consular attaché boxed the ears of a Hungarian duke over a fancied insult but refused to settle the argument on the field of honor was related in the Daily Express today.

William Hodgman attached to the legation at Budapest was recently entertaining guests in a restaurant at the polo grounds when the Duke Heinrich Bornin passed remarks concerning members of his party.

Hodgman is said to have retaliated with a stinging slap to the Duke's head. The duke thereupon challenged him to a duel but Hodgman declined to carry the incident further. He left shortly afterward for America on a leave of absence but the occurrence created a hubbub in diplomatic circles.

LATEST HEROES OF THE AIR

Wiley Post, left and Harold Gatty, who, landed in New York City yesterday afternoon after completing a 10,000 mile trip around the world by airplane in less than nine days, this afternoon received the acclaim of approximately one million residents of New York City who lined Broadway in a spectacular demonstration which has not been equaled since Lindbergh's triumphal return to America in 1927.

'OPEN POOL' FOR RADIO PATENTS IS SEEN POSSIBLE

Anti-Trust Suits May Be Dropped Following Federal Parley

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—The possible creation of an open patent pool in the radio field was announced yesterday by the Department of Justice following a series of conferences with representatives of the Radio Corporation of America and other defendants in the federal anti-trust suit pending against them.

Defendants involved in the suit included the General Electric Company, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

It was said officially at the department that the defendants were willing to capitulate to the government's demands on existing contracts "as to the use by them of their respective patents in the radio and allied fields."

If the usual practice of the department is followed, the suit will be dropped, or ended in a general consent decree.

"It also appeared that the principal defendants," the department said, "would, in addition, consider favorably creating an open patent pool, whereby the use of their patents in the radio and certain allied fields would be open to the public generally upon fair and reasonable terms to be fixed by independent trustees."

The series of conferences, it was learned, have been in progress for several months. The Sherman act suit was filed in Delaware more than a year ago, when the government's charge of a closed patent pool created a sensation within the radio industry.

No further conferences will be held until September, it was said, in order that both sides could consider the proposal for an open pool, advanced by independent concerns in the radio industry.

In a separate legal proceeding, the radio corporation was held guilty recently of violating the anti-trust laws by its system of licensing patents for the manufacture of vacuum tubes. The supreme court refused to review the case allowing the finding to stand.

Miss Haynes Goes To Clearwater As Entry In Pageant

Miss Dorothy Haynes, the attractive 18-year-old girl who was awarded the title of "Miss Seminole County" at a recent beauty contest, left this afternoon for Clearwater where she will enter a state-wide contest which will end on the afternoon of July Fourth with the crowning of one of 36 or more girls, as "Miss Florida."

Miss Haynes was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Haynes, who will remain at Clearwater until late Sunday afternoon. As the guest of the Clearwater Woman's Club, Miss Haynes will be entertained at several parties and entertainments being given in honor of the girls entering in the contest.

Tomorrow night, Miss Haynes will appear at a St. Petersburg and Clearwater Theater in a preliminary revue, while on Saturday morning she will appear in a pajama parade held at Clearwater Beach in connection with the annual outdoor local races. Friday afternoon she will appear in the final bathing beauty contest.

Local interest in the contest also centers about "Miss Orlando," who is Miss Eloise Lissner, a former Sanford resident.

The trip to Clearwater is made possible by the management of the Milane Theater, which is paying all expenses in connection with the Sanford entry.

PUBLIC AROUSED BY PLAN TO STOP BUILDING ROADS

Demands Being Made To Transfer Money For Other Expense

TAMPA, July 2.—Demands for a let-up in new road building in Florida, to be made at a monster mass meeting in Plant Park tonight, are expected to turn the administration's forces squarely against it at the opening of the extra session of the Legislature next week.

Reports yesterday from all parts of the state indicated, however, that the public had been tremendously aroused, and that the demand was growing for transfer of part of the road department gasoline fund in the general fund so as to make unnecessary the imposition of added taxes at this time.

But these were no intimation that the governor and his supporters would drop their fight for a tax on kerosene and an extra tax of two cents a gallon on gas. The insurgent element has declared that if these bills fail the administration will attempt to stop on a sales tax. But this element has announced it will fight all three.

As members of the house were preparing to come to Tampa for the meeting tonight, Chairman Bentley of the road department issued a statement at Tampa that a $1,000,000 federal aid, and 1000 convicts back to prison to become a burden on the state and put thousands of road workers (Continued on Page Three)

Airline Official Is Sent To Hospital In Fray With Cops

MINNEOLA, N. Y., July 2.—(AP) Edward Connetton, vice president and general manager of Air Service, Inc., a company headed by William B. Leeds, was admitted to Nassau County Hospital last night and placed on the sick list with injuries sustained at the near riotous reception in Wiley Post and Harold Gatty at Roosevelt Field.

Connetton was at the field where his company has its offices, with his wife and was seen in an altercation with police. When admitted to the hospital, he was suffering severe lacerations of the scalp, and possible fracture of the skull. A policeman was stationed at the door of his room.

Nassau County police and Connetton was under arrest although no formal charge had yet been placed against him. The police version was that Connetton was injured while being restrained after he had knocked three policemen off their motorcycles, and knocked down two other policemen. He was escorted from the field, they said, and had to be forcibly subdued.

Visitor Sees County As Most Substantial

"Seminole county is the most substantial section of the entire state," said S. P. Rice, policeman, naval stores operator and father of Scott, Ok., who, after a 16-day visit with W. S. Kattamycin, Longwood, left for his home yesterday.

Mr. Rice, who, with his son, W. C. Rice, was in Florida on a combined business and pleasure visit, spent the past week touring the state. Together with Mr. Kattamycin, the two men fished in the St. Johns River, Lake Apopka, and at Sarasota, where S. P. Rice caught a 60-pound tarpon and W. C. Rice, an 80-pound tarpon.

The party also caught many fish in Lake Apopka, including a 15-pound bass and two other species.

BRITAIN TURNS DOWN FRENCH DEBT PROFFER

Avers Proposals Constitute Entire Alteration Of Young Debt Settlement

LONDON, July 2.—(AP)—Great Britain, it is understood, today advised France that the French proposed change in the Hoover plan constitutes an entire alteration of the Young Plan regarding the question of guarantees and it is understood that these proposals are not acceptable to Great Britain.

It was not disclosed that official circles regarded its present negotiations as in an extremely delicate state and refused to comment. It was learned, however, that Great Britain is standing by her original position of accepting the Hoover proposal in its entirety. This implied that any deviation from it on the part of France would unlikely find favor in British eyes.

America threw into its diplomatic deadlock with France last night a warning that the failure of President Hoover's debt postponement plan would result in a memorandum declaration by Germany.

It was contained in a memorandum communicated on instructions of the state department to the French government by Ambassador Kegg in Paris. It was friendly in character, but firm in the assertion that French counter-proposals are not in keeping with the spirit of the president's plan.

The communication showed an adamant stand by the United States against two French demands: a voluntary reduction of the debt and a reduction in the amount directly by a fourth point because the United States is not directly interested.

A French proposal that credits established from Germany's continued payment of unconditional annuities be available to Germany (Continued on Page Three)

Stribling Is Seven To Five Favorite To Beat Schmeling

CLEVELAND, July 2.—(AP)—The world's heavyweight championship battle between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling tomorrow night may be a waste of a success as a fight that it appeared today that the gate receipts will fall far short of the 600,000 promoters hitherto expected.

As Schmeling and Stribling roved into Cleveland for weighing in tonight, officials of the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Ohio, promoting the contest, were hoping for clear and cool weather tomorrow to stimulate the eleventh hour ticket sale. Predictions were made that with favorable weather receipts would be between three and four hundred thousand dollars and sixty thousand.

If the receipts amount to $200,000 net figures will show a slight profit for the Garden. Preliminary start about 11:00 o'clock (Eastern Standard) with the main bout scheduled for about 10 o'clock. Stribling is a seven to five favorite in the betting today but the odds may shift to even money by tomorrow.

OH YEAH?

By PETER SCHAAL

Well, days certainly appear to be flying about the Giants and Phillies. Placed in a position where they had great opportunity to top the crown from the Cards and Macks, respectively, something has gone haywire, and today the faithful few behind both clubs are wondering just what has become of their highly touted athletes.

For instance, the Giants. Starting what is easily a crucial series with the Cards on Monday, they go down to a miserable defeat to put the Cards two and one half games ahead of them. Yesterday they showed signs of evening the series by hitting out 18 hits as against 10 from the Cards, but their pitching went to pieces at the wrong moment. As a result, the Cards took the game 11 to 10, and the Giants' hopes were seriously wrecked. It was a home-run battle with Adams and Menden and Prich getting them for the Cards, and Allen and Verges battling them out for the Giants.

The Cubs made mince-meat of the Phillies by winning another slugfest by a 14 to 13 score. Hornaby hit two homers and drove in eight runs for the winners. That's a league record, driving in eight runs in one game. Scoring was done in practically every inning, and the fans had more than their share of baseball for one afternoon.

The lowly Reds put a stop to the Robins' winning streak, by snapping it with a 4 to 3 victory. Frey held the Robins to five hits, although he weakened in the 8th. The Reds pounded Thurston for 14 blows. The win put the Cubs one and one half games back of the Giants.

The Braves came nearer fourth place when they whipped the Pirates 5 to 1 mainly due to the fine pitching of Frankhouse. Randy Moore's home run with two on in the first inning proved to be the big margin of victory. Paul Wagner returned to the Pirates lineup after a several day lay-off, and drove in his club's only run.

In the American, the Athletics won of course. They whipped the Indians by the crisp-shooting score of 11 to 7. The Indians put over eight and sixth inning rallies but they fell short of the mark. Averill hit a homer with one on in the first frame.

In the meantime, the Senators were humbled into the dust when the Browns shut them out 7 to 0. Blasholder pitched his best game of the year, allowing the Senators but two hits. Goslin and Levey hit homers off Rischer and Burke, respectively.

Leo Gehrig's 19th home run allowed the Yanks to tie the Tigers in the ninth, but the Tigers put over a three run rally off Henry Johnson in the 11th and won an 8 to 7 affair. Stone of the Tigers, got four hits in six tries, as the battling hero of the day.

The Red Sox maintained their fine winning pace by stopping the White Sox 7 to 1. Danny MacFadden held the white hosed boys to five hits, all singles. Berry and Rhyno batted 1,000 for the day, Berry getting four hits in four tries, while Rhyno got three in three tries.

Probably no more interesting announcement of a sports nature has been made than the one which flashed around the world late last night that the NBC network would broadcast the Schmeling-Stribling drama blow by blow, with Graham McNamee at the mike. The exact time is as yet uncertain, but the fight is scheduled to go over the air somewhere in the vicinity of 11:30 o'clock, Sanford time. Keep an eye on the daily papers or this column on Friday morning, and you'll try to enlighten you.

The Winter Park outfit underwent a home-coming after their game with St. Augustine.

PROSPECTS FOR STRONG CLUB ARE SEEN AS BRIGHT

Feds May Secure Fancy Players If Fans Can Lend Financial Aid

By PETER SCHAAL.

While the Feds have been spending the past three days in a thorough drilling getting ready for the r game with the league-leading Islanders in Daytona tomorrow afternoon, their minds have also been revolving about a number of new developments, all of which will insure Sanford of having one of the best ball clubs in the league during the second half.

To a great extent, our having a real club depends upon the response which fans make to a season ticket campaign which has as yet failed of its mark. Officials of the club this morning determined that it would be absolutely necessary to sell 30 season tickets at a price of $10 each before the club could strengthen as it might. So far not more than 10 tickets have been sold, with A. H. Moses, one of Sanford's most ardent baseball fans, leading the list of purchasers.

The Feds learned with great interest late yesterday afternoon that two of the best ball players in the league, Bob Pitman and Al Rogers, third baseman and pitcher for the Winter Park outfit, were anxious to play ball for Sanford. They came to Sanford yesterday with Jim Harper, former manager of the Winter Park club, which has since undergone a change of management although there is still some question as to whether that city will remain in the league.

Both those players intimated that they would play for Sanford for the same terms which they secured as Parkers, and Manager Chyppman went into a hasty conference at once with John Meisch, president of the club, in an effort to determine just what chance there was whether that amount could be raised for the rest of the year. A season-ticket sale was the only hope, so it now rests with the fans.

In the meantime, the Feds feel ready for tomorrow's game with the Islanders. Pat Miller will be unable to play, that much is certain. In his stead, the old reliable Emil Ammen, fresh from six weeks of daily ball-playing in Minnesota, will be stationed in the outer garden, ready to either essay the role of a relief hurler, or be the official right field ball chagger.

Big Lou's Tofaletti claims that he will hold the Islanders at bay without any trouble. He feels that they are too flushed with their Sunday victory over DeLand for them to be back to earth long enough to give a thought to the Feds. He believes that his mates will give him good support for once, and on all those beliefs, he last Sunday, and the echoes of it are heard even yet. Under the present situation as we understand it, a group of the players are handling the reins in place of Jim Harper who was the owner and manager of the club until that time. The veteran central Florida baseball player, Carl Rodenbaugh is temporarily in charge. He should put plenty of life into the Parker machine although it is understood that some of their stars, mainly malady Pitman and Rogers, are anxious to get away from that club. Luck to whatever crowd takes over the Winter Park club.

Since the other sports writers around the circuit venture to select the winners of various games played in our loop, Oh Yeah throws his hat in the ring with the following prediction on tomorrow's contests: Sanford over Daytona; DeLand over Winter Park, and St. Augustine over Cocoa. And for just a second I started to write, Schmeling over Stribling. Had a dream over that fight last night, and believe it or not I saw Herr Maxie stand up there with his big bull neck and take punches which should have killed him. Yet he never even quivered, finally getting the Strib so mad that Strib threw all caution to the winds, with the result that Maxie threw a right hander from the floor with such force that Strib folded up like an accordion! I woke up about that time, thought the situation over, said to myself "what-hell," and decided to string along with Stribling to the finish. He ought to win hands down, despite Maxie's strength as laid down in comparative charts of the two fighters.

HARRY BROWN TO BE THIRD MAN IN ARENA TONIGHT

Popular Orlando Referee Accepts Call To Handle 5 Bouts

By PETER SCHAAL.

Harry Brown, one of the leading fight referees in the state will handle the tough assignment of being the third man in the ring at Municipal Park tonight, where Stanley Peckham, well-known and popular local leather-pusher will mix it with Eddie Stewart, the Miami flash, in Sanford's first fight card in more than two years.

This announcement was made by Promoter Bill Melton, Orlando, this morning, and is expected to meet with the approval of the host of Orlando and Sanford fight fans who are to be in the stands when the opening battle begins.

Brown has seen action in every important ring battle staged in this section during the past five or seven years. He is considered as one of the most thorough exponents of the art of boxing, and knows the rules from the front to the back cover. His reputation does not depend upon the favorable comment which fans have raised following his many appearances in the ring as referee. Brown has a wide following among amateur and professional boxers, most of whom swear by him.

With the announcement of the selection of Brown as referee, Promoter Melton also declared that he was well satisfied with every detail connected with the fight. The headlines, Stewart and Peckham are in perfect condition; the advance ticket sale has been strong enough to indicate that at least 200 fans will be present; the boys who will appear on the preliminary card are bringing already about their ability to knock their opponents low, and the weather, above all, is expected to be cool and clear.

Peckham closed his training session late Monday afternoon we learn, and has tapered down to a healthy and glowing 135 pounds. He intimated to friends at Lake Mary that this Stewart person with all his reputation, would know he had been in a fight, and that he intended to stop Stewart not long after the first bell. That Peckham is more than anxious to take this fight is assured by the fact that he faces a worthy opponent in a Jacksonville ring in 10 days. A defeat here in Sanford would seriously impair his drawing value in Jacksonville, a condition Peckham doesn't want to run into.

Peckham and Stewart will be the headline attraction, appearing in a 10 round bout. As a semi-final affair, K. O. Rocky, 145 pound local negro will mix it with Bearcat Lancaster, 145 pound Orlando boy. Lancaster has the reputation of being a fighter who likes to spatter the blood which he invariably raises on his opponents by well placed blows. He can be depended upon to put up a real fight here in Sanford, for it is rumored that his favorite brown-skin has had leanings toward the Rocky person.

In the main preliminary, Kid Allen, the kinky-haired Coast Line clerk will have his hands full taking on Young Stokes, an Orlando battler who carries his 118 pounds with all the air and assurance of a bantam rooster. Two fast preliminaries, bringing together Orlando battlers will also be seen.

The bouts get under way at 8:30 o'clock. A special section has been reserved for colored people. Popular prices will be asked at the gate.

is ready to start and finish the game.

The line-up will probably be as follows:

The Feds will christen their new uniforms in the Daytona game tomorrow. The uniforms, furnished through the courtesy of 12 local merchants, arrived in Sanford yesterday, and the boys are itching to put them to the test. Some of the players claim that the uniforms will make all the difference in the world to the club. Let's hope so.

Chase Boys Regain League Leadership At Diamond Ball

By E. H. CULLUM.

Chase & Company diamond ball team regained the league leadership Tuesday night by defeating the Independent Merchants Association team 6 to 2, in one of the fastest and best games of the season.

Eddie Rawson was on the mound for Chase, and although it has been considerably over a year since Rawson has been in a game, he let the Independents down with four hits, three of them coming in succession in the first inning. In this inning, Tillis, first man up, doubled; McLellan hit a high fly to center which Weaver misjudged, and when the ball had been reached both McLellan and Tillis covered both McLellan and Tillis had scored; Palmer singled, which ended the Independents hitting until the fifth when Tillis secured a single. Rawson also struck out 12 of the Independents. In the final inning Palmer had a chance to tie the game up. With two out, and the bases choked, Palmer, who is usually a good hitter, especially in the pinches, came to bat with the crowd pleading for a home run. However, the best Palmer could do was to hit to third base. Buddy Lake, playing third, got the ball

James Doonille To Give Up Pine Racing
 NEW YORK, July 1.—(AP)—Major James Doonille, one of the world's greatest pine fliers, announced today that he has decided to quit racing because of "my advanced years." He is 34. But it may not be strictly accurate to say he decided on this point all by himself. "Mrs. Doonille made up our mind that the time has come to give up racing," he said. He expects to spend his remaining years in aeronautical research work.

Celebrating The Fourth

The Fourth of July offers one of the best examples of memorial days, the significance of which is usually little appreciated by a public more interested in the opportunity offered for a holiday than in the serious contemplation of the events which made the holiday possible. The observance of the occasion on which our Declaration of Independence was signed has become to be associated almost completely with the smell of burning punk, gunpowder, firecrackers, and beach parties. We doubt if little time is spent in considering in retrospect the deeds of the "minute men", Paul Revere's ride, Valley Forge, Yorktown, and other historical events in the process of this country's birth.

But even if everyone should pause to reflect on the patriotism of our brave heroes, little benefit would accrue unless their patriotism could be interpreted in terms of the present and would stand as an example to follow in the matter of citizenship. It is well enough to honor the memory of Washington, Greene, "Light Horse" Harry Lee, Patrick Henry, and Thomas Jefferson, but what they did in revolutionary days cannot control the affairs of the nation today. This must be done by the citizens of the present.

A Sermon For Florida

The Manufacturers Record was not referring particularly to Florida when it discussed recently "Taxation that Destroys", but it might well have been. In order to make both ends meet, our Legislature has not attempted to reduce expenses but has contented itself merely with finding new sources of revenue; and this, in spite of the efforts of some very able men who have pointed to the folly of increasing the tax burden at this time.

"The power to tax is the power to destroy. Some of the measures discussed and some that have been passed by more than one legislature in recent months exhibit a determined disregard of the effect of the power they hold. The cry of politicians for more taxes should not be permitted to cripple important industries in the Southern States nor to discourage others from locating in the South.

"The needs of the times may require increasing receipts on the part of states and municipalities to meet mounting expenses. But the same needs require more economical budgets. The program of expenditures for local governments has in some instances gone beyond anything of the past. Instead of efforts apparently being made to economize, the insistent demand is for more taxes. Unfortunately, the move is being directed by politicians against industry, which is the true creator of wealth.

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT

BY SAM LOVE

NEW YORK, July 2—It strikes me that you would have to travel far to find a greater clodpate, noddier of foot than the average male New York voter in the Summer-time. For six days of the week he sweats in heavy woolen garments, traveling miles twice daily in the steaming subway that are quilled at the behest of the board of health. And on the seventh he hurries by car or train to a crowded park or beach, doffs practically all his clothes, and sprawls in the sun until he is burned to such a crisp that he frequently requires hospitalization.

From May until October, New York is a tropical city. Its average temperatures during the four or five months will compare unblushingly with the temperatures of many a jungle village on the Equator, where the natives sit around in loincloths or loaves and only mad dogs and Englishmen—as Miss Beatrice Little put it—go out in the midday sun. Besides, in Equatorial villages, the temperatures shoot sharply at sundown to some reasonable spot in the seven-to-eleven range, and every New Yorker knows the luxurious misery of trying to catch his midnight sleep after a night while the thermometer chins itself at 85 or 90.

These experiences are called "heat stress" in New York and all the other cities where work is done. They are called "heat stroke" in the tropics.

THE COMMISSION
SANFORD HERALD

The privilege of holding the personal of the State Racing Commission provided for in the pari-mutuel racing bill that was passed over the Governor's veto during the regular session of the Legislature was plainly Mr. Carlson's, therefore and in view of the fact that he is on record as opposing the measure the public should not be too critical of his selections for places on the Commission.

track receipts. This means, naturally, that if there are no races there will be no receipts and consequently no funds with which to pay salaries. The gentleman resigning from the Railroad Commission we are told by the Governor is tendering his resignation at once with his successor to be named today. No races, however, may be held until the counties wanting this sport have approved the matter by referendum, consequently there will be no money with which to pay salaries for several months at the earliest. We can't help wondering if these gentlemen are to go on the payroll immediately and if so what will be used for money in compensating them until the anticipated race tracks meet are held. Should this course be followed through an agreement to wait for their salaries until this fund is created the expense will cut rather deeply into the anticipated revenue that would otherwise accrue to the state.

We were not unduly enthused over the plan to legalize racing in the beginning although inclined to the opinion that it is more likely to be held than the probability of some revenue from the activity. But unless a tremendous fund is created the state will probably not be much better off than it was before.

widely understood that these young men were being paid by somebody to wear pajamas. All except one modest dress reformer, who was discovered to have on a pair of blue serge pants under neath and couldn't collect.

It gets as hot here as it does in New Orleans, as hot as it does in Miami, as hot as it does in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. But in all those places the gentry wear cotton and linen suits in hot weather and you never read of heat waves.

It has been suggested that tropical attire for New Yorkers to fit their tropical weather might result in more deaths than the intervals between coolish waves. Things have come to such a pass that, entering to male trade, all the motion picture theatres are refrigerated, many of the restaurants, and department stores and some speakeasies. Entering these places in a sear-sucker suit, it is argued, is flirting with pneumonia.

A Sherlock Holmes might be puzzled by the odd fact that in the lists of heat wave casualties there are seldom any Misses or Mrs. Gossameres. The female victims of heat waves are incidental. True, they figure in the lists, but as the wives and daughters who were axed or the sweethearts who were drowned canoeing. They died for love, not heat. They never seem to mind the heat any more than the same reason—they don't wear anything but pajamas and such clothes as they do wear are not made of wool.

Among the other odd facts about heat waves is that when they are in a town, the heat is not in the town.

GRASS HERITAGE
How many ages did my lean forebears
Stretch limbs along warm grass, when food was done?
How many youths dreamed dreams of love where none
But nibbling sheep could watch them fling their prayers
Upon the wind—or by the whirled, red flares?
Of camp-fires heard old battles
lost and won?
How many women hoping for a son,
Wave sweet-grass cradles,
humming unawares?
And, I their child, am asked to be content
With twenty floors between me and the ground—
Forget the marshes where wing-
shadows pass,
Or tangle with curved reeds that storms have bent!
Not even shriek of drills can stop

LIB bread cast upon the water, money put into life insurance comes back after many days.

Place your finger on your Adam's Apple. You are actually touching your larynx—this is your vocal chord. It contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple, you are considering your throat—your vocal chord.

No one has yet challenged the statement—"Smoking makes you purple." We call these expelled irritants "purple" fumes of chemical compounds that are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. LUCKY is always real smooth throat. And so we say—"Consider your Adam's Apple." BRITAIN TURNS DOWN FRENCH DEBT PROFFER

(Continued from Page One) Industries and not to the German government was termed incompatible with the Hoover plan. A similar objection was offered to a French counter-proposal that $20,000,000 of these funds, be available as credits to Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, and Rumania.

The memorandum was conciliatory on the point of whether these credits should be repaid by Germany over a period of 25 years as urged by America or five years as proposed by France.

The United States held out "the same length of time" for repaying the war debts installments due America, as an inducement for the acceptance of its 25-year proposal.

America declined to enter a controversy over a possible revision of the Young plan. To French fears that such a revision might follow the proposed moratorium, Washington implied that France herself had proposed a Young plan revision in suggesting a plan to relieve herself of guaranteed fund obligations in the event of Germany declared a moratorium on the future.

"The American government not being signatory (to the Young plan) of course cannot undertake to negotiate change," the memorandum said.

Or French fears that the present proposed moratorium would necessitate the making of guarantee deposits, the communication said "the other governments concerned should expressly free France of this anxiety."

Detailed statistics were given to show France a loser by $100,000,000 for the year if she failed to agree to the plan and Germany exercised her right to a moratorium.

The United States expressed a feeling there was some "misunderstanding" on the French side of the sacrifices required of her should she agree to the plan.

"We must assume," the memorandum continued, "that with the present situation in Germany and the failure of the American proposals, then Germany will unquestionably give notice for the postponement of all conditional reparations, as provided in the Young plan, and that this portion of inter-governmental payments will not be forthcoming."

France would receive under a Germany declared moratorium approximately $105,000,000 from unconditional annuities, which Germany would have to continue paying. France would then have to pay $106,000,000 into the International Bank for Settlements as a guarantee fund. She would have to pay war debts to Great Britain and America of approximately $110,000,000.

Under these circumstances, the memorandum pointed out, France would be "the loser during the forthcoming year by over $100,000,000" as compared with her financial position under the Hoover plan.

HEAT RELIEF IS USHERED INTO MIDDLE WEST (Continued from Page One) Detroit, 103 in Wheeling, W. Va., and 105 unofficial in Charleston, W. Va.

Thermometers on Pittsburgh streets blasted out 110 to 115. There was an hourly rise in New York City.

Over Ohio and Kentucky, 90 above was the average. The Louisville weather bureau reported hopes of thunderstorms by Friday. Local rains were predicted for Ohio, along with cooler weather for the Max Schmeling-Young Strilling championship bout in Cleveland Friday night.

Rain clouds darkened New England. In Boston, Wednesday's maximum was 81. Other readings along the seaboard were about the same.

Eighteen persons died in the St. Louis area Wednesday, 18 more in Chicago, where a six-alarm fire was reached. Ohio had ten dead and several hundred injured from the Ford plant in Detroit were treated for prostration.

In the Twin Cities area, a six-alarm death total reached 124.

Thunderstorms over Indiana dropped the temperatures to the lower 60's. Estimates from farm centers were that between 600 and 700 horses have dropped dead during the wave.

A storm in Indianapolis delayed Mrs. Harold Gatty, wife of the globe flier, on an airplane trip to New York.

A closing up of stagnated low pressure areas over the Mid-West was all that prevented cooler high pressure areas from moving eastward.

Public Aroused By Plan To Stop Building Roads

(Continued from Page One) out of employment. Bentley also said that cessation of state road work would turn considerable mileage back to the counties for maintenance. He declared the road building holiday was uneconomical.

Meanwhile, as the public was shouting for tax relief announcements was made of another mass meeting in Tampa Monday night, called by a big group of property owners to protest against present methods of assessing and taxing property.

The group in charge of the meeting, it was said, will present startling figures and diagrams showing how some dead property in Tampa "is taxed to death," while revenue producing properties are down on the assessment scale.

One meeting, to follow closely on the heels of the other, will emphasize the feeling of the people seeking relief at the extra session which, according to the general talk, will be short and harmonious or prolonged and one of the bitterest and most sensational in the history of Florida.

While the mass meeting tonight was called to deal with a specific demand for a road building holiday, friends of the administration will be given a hearing, notably Representative Tomasoello of Okeechobee, who is coming here to defend his program and to protest in turn against interference with road building activities.

Tomasoello probably will go to the bat first.

Mathews of Duval and Robineau of Dale, big shots in the fight to turn over some road department money to the general fund, will be the principal speakers, Watson, of Hillsborough, standing with them in the battle, will be general chairman. This trio will set off the Fourth of July fireworks ahead of time.

Close Calls Are Related By Two World Girdlers (Continued from Page One) struck by the propeller at Solomon, Alaska, Gatty said:

"It's stiff, but it's all right." "We had several close calls," Gatty the navigator, said, "while flying through fog and rain." He did not say exactly what or where they were, although he did say:

"We had two bad hops—Berlin to Moscow and Khabarovsk to Nome." "Blind flying was the worst experience. We had about four hours of it. Through fog and rain, just before night mostly, when we couldn't see."

The Russians, Gatty said, were "very nice—they did everything, they could."

"We had a little difficulty with languages at times," he said. But he spoke a little French and that helped.

Post said he thought he had lost five or six pounds in weight. Their diet, he said, was mainly black bread and water. Gatty smiled and said:

"I don't think I lost any. I feel fine."

As for their plans for the next few days and after, Post said: "Nothing definite. Rest up a bit, I guess."

At this point someone asked them to please give the photographers a chance.

The fliers, conveyed by a police bodyguard through the hangar doors, posed a few moments. Then they were whisked away through a narrow lane of scrambling, stopping men, women and children, including squalling babes in arms, toward New York and their hotel.

WORLD'S LONGEST FLIGHT

16,000-mile flight around the world, a flight which famous aviators last night called the greatest achievement in the history of aviation, was just eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes. The previous world-girdling record, established by the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin two years ago, was almost 22 days. Post and Gatty, although they took almost nine days to get around the world, only spent four days, 10 hours and eight minutes of this time in the air.

Up to the time the fliers arrived the crowd seemed small compared to the one that rushed four years ago to cheer Lindbergh and Chamberlain and Byrd on every possible occasion. But besides the approximately 2000 who stood in apparent docility within police lines by the administration building, hundreds of others were scattered among the hangars and along all sides of the field.

When the round-the-world plane Winnie Mae touched the turf, the crowd broke into motion, yelling and whooping. Then it was realized there were many more than had been estimated. The 150 policemen on duty were powerless before the several thousand enthusiastic witnesses of their determination to see all that happened.

Again Post and Gatty, with the former's wife, fled the field, but remembered a promise made by their representatives here that a general interview would be given the press, they returned again. For half an hour more they talked as best they could with almost 100 reporters each of whom wanted an answer to his question. It was almost 9 o'clock before they got away from New York and the first real night's sleep they have had since they lifted into the air on their great adventure in the rainy dawn of last Tuesday.

There were several famous fliers to greet Post and Gatty at the field. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was there with his wife, Col. and Mrs. Clarence Chamberlin, Bert

The previous world-girdling record, established by the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin two years ago, was almost 22 days. Post and Gatty, although they took almost nine days to get around the world, only spent four days, 10 hours and eight minutes of this time in the air.

Up to the time the fliers arrived the crowd seemed small compared to the one that rushed four years ago to cheer Lindbergh and Chamberlain and Byrd on every possible occasion. But besides the approximately 2000 who stood in apparent docility within police lines by the administration building, hundreds of others were scattered among the hangars and along all sides of the field.

When the round-the-world plane Winnie Mae touched the turf, the crowd broke into motion, yelling and whooping. Then it was realized there were many more than had been estimated. The 150 policemen on duty were powerless before the several thousand enthusiastic witnesses of their determination to see all that happened.

Again Post and Gatty, with the former's wife, fled the field, but remembered a promise made by their representatives here that a general interview would be given the press, they returned again. For half an hour more they talked as best they could with almost 100 reporters each of whom wanted an answer to his question. It was almost 9 o'clock before they got away from New York and the first real night's sleep they have had since they lifted into the air on their great adventure in the rainy dawn of last Tuesday.

SECRETARY MILLS

Blamed for $100,000,000 deficit largely due to increased expenditures for agricultural and relief, additional environmental construction, and a severe depression.

Secretary Mills blamed the $100,000,000 deficit largely on increased expenditures for agricultural and relief, additional environmental construction, and a severe depression.

Secretary Mills, in a statement reviewing the year's operations, said ordinary income had totaled $3,217,900,000 and total expenditures $4,230,000,000. The receipts were $481,000,000 smaller than in 1930 and expenditures larger by $1,230,000,000.

He said customs and internal revenue receipts, the chief sources of government income, had totaled $2,997,000,000 or $212,000,000 less than 1930. Income tax receipts, the mainstay of the government's budget, totaled only $1,900,000,000 or $211,000,000 less. Internal revenue reports indicated that corporate income taxes had reached only $1,000,000,000, a drop of about $220,000,000.

In these six months corporation income taxes showed a decline of $100,000,000 and the individual collector's receipts of $200,000,000 as compared with 1930.

The acting secretary pointed out a severe decline in income taxes from January to June, 1930, when the tax on 1929 incomes showed a decline of $2,000,000,000 in corporation payments and of 49 percent in individual payments reflecting a corresponding decline in corporation and individual incomes during the year.

Customs duties also affected by the depression dropped off to $1,000,000,000 as compared with $2,000,000,000 last year. For the 10 months ending April, 1930, the value of dutiable imports fell off 40 percent and of non-dutiable imports 25 percent as compared with the previous year.

Miscellaneous internal revenue receipts, such as about $100,000,000 for the 1930 year, were also indicated a decrease in the income tax and showed a drop in the income tax. Miscellaneous receipts, other than internal revenue, totaled $1,000,000,000 to $500,000,000.

While collections were going down in astonishing fashion expenditures were creeping upward. The 1931 total of $4,230,000,000 was $1,230,000,000 more than the previous year, Mills said preliminary information showed the principal items of increase were $25,000,000 for the war department; $119,000,000 for the department of agriculture, reflecting chiefly additional outlays for federal aid highway construction and for emergency relief in drought stricken areas; $1,000,000 for the federal farm loan for additional loans under the agricultural marketing act; $1,000,000 for the department of commerce; $244,000,000 in the postal deficiency and increased outlays for loans on veterans' adjusted certificates.

The most important reductions in 1930 were as compared with the previous year, he said, including a decrease of $20,000,000 for the post office, a decrease of $12,000,000 in interest paid on the public debt, and a reduction of $44,000,000 in the refund.

Coded Message Is Used As Evidence In Black Tom Case

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—A coded message scribbled across a printed page in invisible writing fluid was cited to the mixed claims commission yesterday as new evidence of German responsibility for the Black Tom and Kingsland, New Jersey, fires during the World war for which this country is seeking $40,000,000 in damages.

The evidence was presented by the American agent, Robert W. Bonyng, in a supplemental petition for a new hearing in the case involving the two famous instances of alleged sabotage.

Bonyng contended the coded message proved Ted Wozniak, whom he has asserted was responsible for the Kingsland fire Jan. 11, 1917, was a German agent. Previous evidence has indicated Wozniak was near the source of the fire which destroyed an assembly plant for Russian ammunition.

The American agent also contended the message proved a man named Wozniak had been suspected of starting the Black Tom explosion July 30, 1916, which destroyed a Lehigh Valley freight terminal, also was a German agent.

The message, which was claimed to have been written from a German agent in Mexico to another in this country, mentioned both men. The petition filed yesterday also purported to prove that Wozniak was in Mexico with German agents in 1917 when he claimed he was in and Adirondack lumber camp. The claims commission last October decided against the American claim for indemnity from Germany on behalf of American citizens. The American agent filed a petition for rehearing.

Slowly but surely the Brooklyn Robins, who not so long ago were suffering the censures following a berth in the last place, are creeping into the most select of company, apparently ready to knock any of the leaders off if the going gets tough enough.

Yesterday, the Robins took on the Reds. The game ended 3 to 1 in favor of the Pirates. It was decided in the first inning. It later developed, when Herman hit a homer with one on, outside of that fact, Joe Shaute and Carroll hooked up in a pitcher's duel which was one long thrill after another.

The Giants, behind steady hurling by Walker, slipped one over the Cards by handing them a 4 to 3 defeat. Home runs by Verges and Lindstrom were the contributing causes for the Giant victory.

Our Ben Cantwell came to the rescue of Bob Seibold yesterday, pitched one inning, allowed no hits, but walked one man. The Pirates had the game won when Ben went in, for Seibold had been touched for just enough hits and four walks to give them a 4 to 0 lead.

The Phillies took advantage of some weak Cub pitching by setting out a 11 to 6 win. The feature of the game was Chuck Klein's 21st homer of the year, and a fast triple play pulled by Mallon, Friberg and Bartell of the Phillies.

As usual, the Athletics won and the Senators lost. The A's took the measure of the Indians by a 4 to 3 score, in a game which saw the lead see-saw from side to side. For the first time this year, Grove and Ferrell, two of the league's leading hurlers hooked up in what was supposed to be a pitchers' duel. But, they were both nicked for 11 hits, with the A's' hits more timely.

The Browns whipped the Senators for the second straight day. The score was 4 to 3, and the game ended in the seventh when a shower of rain fell. Kress' single drove in Melillo with the winning run in the abbreviated seventh inning.

For the first time in weeks Herb Pennock pitched a steady game, and as a result, the Yanks took a 4 to 2 decision from the Tigers. They got three runs in the third inning on a brace of hits, and a long fly ball.

The Red Sox made it two straight over the White Sox in a 5 to 3 affair which saw Russell outpitch Morra and Faber. They clinched the game with three runs in the seventh inning after they had scored early on three hits and an error.

The Reds are in Daytona this afternoon where, among other things, they are trying out their new gray and blue uniforms for the first time. The uniforms, the new word in comfort and style, carry advertisements of merchants who donated them, and a picture of a stalk of celery, embroidered on the front of the shirt. The following merchants donate the thanks and patronage of every baseball fan in this city, and the officials and players of the club take the means of publicizing them for their contribution in getting a creditable uniform for the field.

PECKHAM WINS DECISION OVER EDDIE STEWART

Lake Mary Battler Has Hands Full But Gets Reward Suiting 200

By PETER SCHAAL Semi-professional boxing made a shaky but apparently satisfying return to this city at Municipal Park last night. There, some 250 persons, most of them a trifle skeptical and with fingers crossed, had gathered to witness an inaugural fight program which turned out to be as interesting and exciting as its promoters claimed for it.

It was the first fight card staged here in more than two years, and, from the opening gun, proved to be one which should have earned the backing of every person present. Staged under the auspices of the American Legion, and direction of Promoter Bill Melton, of Orlando, the card offered everything the rabid fans expected except a complete knockout. Only the poor condition of a make-shift ring, which had neither a suitable canvas floor covering or taut ropes, was a discouraging factor of the night's performance.

The feature bout of the evening, a 10 round go between Stanley "Kid" Peckham, the Lake Mary amateur, and Eddie Stewart, the Miami flash, was a trifle slow in its early rounds, but, once on the other side of the fifth round, developed into a jam-up exhibition of boxing skill, strength, and speed. Peckham, being a home boy, was naturally the favorite, and, when Referee George Deutch raised his hand at the end of the fight, in token of victory, the fans were apparently satisfied with the decision of the two judges and referee.

Peckham carried the fight practically all the way, and kept the Miami boy at arms length with a beautiful display of left-handed punching. The rest of the fight, as an amateur, was apparently unafraid of the deadly right-handed lobs of his speedy, tricky, foe, more experienced yet much too confident adversary. He took what appeared to be, lots of punishment, but in only two rounds, he seemed to be shaken by a barrage of rights and lefts which Stewart turned loose. Peckham was in trouble only one time in the eighth, when the Miami battler jarred him with a series of powerful right handed blows which would have flattened the Kid had there been any real punch behind them.

Stewart, who is said to have appeared in more than 100 ring battles in Florida during the last two years, was all his backers claimed for him, although he appeared to have everything but a real knockout punch. His foot-work was amazing, his poise and bearing one which could have come only after plenty of good training and experience, and he appeared to be able to take everything which Peckham threw at him. He had only one fault, however, and that was a sort of cocky air that indicated that he did not take Peckham seriously. Time after time he threw caution to the winds and laid himself open for a knockout punch by pushing his chin almost in Peckham's face, daring him to hit it. However, as the fight wore on, Stewart saw that he had a

According to averages released today, the state league has a new batting leader as well as league leader. None other than the Daytona Islanders. The Reds are over there today to put a crimp into both their achievements, and Big Louis Tofaletti claims he will do it almost single-handedly. Here's how the clubs are batting, before today's game:

STRIBLING FIGHT HOLDS SPOTLIGHT IN SPORT WORLD

Arrival Of Post And Gatty Fails To Dim Importance Of Fray

By EDWARD J. NEILL. CLEVELAND, July 2.—(AP)—Not even the arrival of the around the world fliers, and the excitement and hubbub that came to town with them, could crowd into the background yesterday the two young heavyweight prize fighters who will headline another Cleveland pageant Friday night.

In the front ranks of the thousands who jammed the municipal airport as Wiley Post and Harold Gatty drifted down out of the sky on the last lap of their globe-girdling dash, was Bill Stribling, challenger for Max Schmeling's heavyweight title, and himself an aviator of unusual ability. Stribling was there to have a good look at the good ship Winnie Mae, to help with the reception, and to present Post and Gatty with a pair of ring-side seats for the festive doings in the new municipal stadium. Although the fliers were soon on their way again to the New York gal, there was a faint possibility that they might fly back to use the tickets.

Stribling went back to his training camp at Geauga Lake for a final workout last night with a mildbox drill that was designed to keep his muscles loose and his judgment of distance at the peak. Schmeling worked for the last time yesterday, at Conestog Lake, almost 100 miles from Cleveland, and he was careful not to suffer last minute injury in his light boxing workout.

As the fighters finished the training grind, interest in the fight throughout the city ran a poor second to the thrills that came with the globe speed conquerors. But by plane, automobile and train the out-of-town advance guard of a crowd that will number between 40,000 and 50,000 traveled into Cleveland. Last night hotels

The Legion expects to stage another fight here next Wednesday night. Benny O'Dell, well-known heavy-weight, was introduced from the ring as being one of the members of heavy-weights soon to be staged here. Carson Cook, local battler, challenged the winner of the Peckham-Stewart fight, and will probably meet Peckham here in about two weeks.

Sanford And DeLand To Play On Diamond

By E. H. CULLUM. A good diamond ball game is in prospect tonight when DeLand and Sanford hook up. Young Bobbie Knight will be on the firing line for the Sanford bats, and from the steady improvement Bobbie has made lately in practice he should be in good form to set the DeLand team back in one, two, three order.

It is understood that a good crowd from DeLand will accompany the team to Sanford tonight, and it is up to the Sanford fans to turn out and give the boys their moral support.

Post And Gatty Will Dine With President

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP)—The globe-girdling fliers, Harold Gatty and Wiley Post, have been invited to luncheon at the White House Monday.

In addition, President and Mrs. Hoover have asked a number of other distinguished aviators to attend in honor of the two globe-circlers.

In the evening the Washington board of trade is planning a banquet for the fliers.

Senator Bingham, who is president of the National Aeronautics association, is in charge of arrangements for the reception. He wired Post and Gatty today: "It would give me great pleasure to have the honor of presenting you to President Hoover."

The girl friend says if the winner of the Bathing Beauty Contest at Daytona Beach Froides on July 4th is not a BLOND then she will know that the judges are not GENTLEMEN.
