Sheriff's office warns against check scams

Recently, the Seminole County Sheriff's Office has received two reports involving check scams.

The suspects are finding vehicles for sale on the Internet. The suspect then contacts the seller and agrees to buy the vehicle.

The suspect then sends more than double the amount for payment of the vehicle, and asks the seller to wire the extra money back for shipping, or to keep some of the money. The wire transfer is usually to London.

In both cases, the checks have been found to be for bogus

In both cases, the intended victims did not send "good" money back to the suspect, based upon the amount on the "bad" check, and thus did not suffer any economic loss.

The address from the suspect comes from an area in the Middle East. Due to the crime being perpetrated overseas, there is nothing the sheriff's office can do to investigate the suspects.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office asks that one use common sense when it comes to receivng money from hknown sources.

WINTER SPRINGS - With the state of the world today, everyone from soldiers to civilians to politicians can use a morale boost. Enter Kathy Andrews of Winter Springs and her patriotic muffins.

It all began one day when Andrews was shopping for cooking supplies. When she saw the blueberries and the raspberries, the thought struck her that she could make red, white, and blue

Sanford OKs land buy for Washington Oaks

By Christopher Patton Managing Editor

SANFORD — For 30 years, residents of the Washington Oaks neighborhood say they have never asked for the city of Sanford's help on anything — that is until a new subdivision started construction in their backyards.

In discussions with city leaders since October about the new development, Washington Oaks residents began to see progress made Monday at the Sanford city commission meeting. Commissioners unanimously approved the purchase of two lots for $22,500 apiece from the subdivision developer Maronda Homes for the expansion of a park and traffic improvements to Drew

With the addition of one lot and another parcel dedi-cated to the city through the subdivision platting process, the Washington Oaks Park, located east of South Summerlin Avenue, is subject to grow by about a quarter of an acre. Early indications are the extra land will be used for new playground equipment and a pavilion, but city staff is continuing their efforts to gather input from the community regarding the future of the park. What is to become of Drew Avenue is less concrete as Washington Oaks neighbors were pitted against each other of how the dead-end road would look in the future. Originally a makeshift dirt turn around was at the end of Drew Avenue, but with the subdivision construction the temporary culde-sac disappeared making it difficult for garbage trucks and emergency vehicles to turn around.

Department of financial services warns against consumer frauds

This is the time of year when families come together to share the warmth and joy of the holiday season. It is also the time when financial fraud often strikes. Florida's Chief Financial Officer Tom Gallagher is urging consumers to be extra cautious with their money to avoid financial scams.

"Take steps to protect your personal and financial information this holiday season, especially if you are making purchases online or over the phone," Gallagher said. "Identity theft can be prevented."

Consumers who give out personal or finan-cial information online or over the phone risk having their identities stolen. Consumers should also shred junk mail credit card offers, review all bank and credit card records and check credit reports at least once a year. The Department of Financial Services has created an online resource on identity theft with links to more tips and information on avoiding this growing scam. Consumers can log on to www.fldfs.com and click the "ID Theft" banner to visit this site.

Gallagher said consumers have also reported not being able to find physical addresses or phone numbers for online businesses. One such Floridian enrolled in a health insurance plan online and gave her credit card number to pay for the monthly premiums. Months after purchasing the coverage, she and her husband were hospitalized and their claims were denied. After the denial, the credit card company would not stop the charges, saying they had to receive the request from the insurer.

When making these kinds of purchases, consumers are advised to deal with reputable companies to make sure they have physical addresses and phone numbers to call with questions.

Remember, a company based outside this country is outside of our laws," Gallagher said.

Other types of scams that often find victims this time of year are phony charitable organizations and bogus income tax scams. An individual posing as a local charity may solicit consumers over the phone. Potential donors should ask questions, including what the organization plans to do with the gift, and be wary of appeals that are long on emotion and short on details. A reputable organization will never demand cash. All checks should be made payable to the organization and never an individual.

Moreover, don't fall victim to an income tax avoidance scheme this holiday season. Resist the targe to file for nonexistent refunds, such as social accurity advances and salary reparations. Attempting to collect on an illegal claim can result in a $500 federal penalty. Hundreds of Floridians have purchased low-cost health insurance and other types of coverage, only to discover that the company was unable or unwilling to pay claims, and that no consumer protections were afforded since the company was unlicensed. For more than two years, the department has conducted a public education campaign urging consumers to "Verify Before You Buy." Since February 2001, the company has ordered mines, insurance agents, marketers and affiliates to stop unauthorized insurance trans-

Engineered Homes report record sales

Unlike November temperatures, sales activity for Engineered Homes showed no signs of cooling off.

A sizzling November aided by the continued success of its Buckingham Estate community near Heathrow rocketed Engineered Homes over the $70 million sales plateau for the year's first 11 months.

According to Marketing Director Marilyn Anderson, the Winter Park-based home building company posted its best November to date with 39 home sales for $8.4 million in volume at three Central Florida residential communities. Buckingham Estates, the company's flagship community across from Heathrow, posted $1.2 million in sales volume.

For the January-November period, Engineered Homes has logged $71.7 million in gross volume on 326 home sales - an average of $217,391 per transaction, Anderson said.

The company already has posted more unit sales than it did all of last year (319) and just shy of the company's record $72.8, million in volume posted for all of last year.

Engineered Homes, with communities Seminole and Osceola counties, realized sizable jumps in both production and sales over October figures (30 for $6.6 million), underscoring the vitality of the area's new home market, Anderson said.

"Normally, new home sales have a tendency to cool off during the year's fourth quarter but these haven't been normal times," Anderson said. "The housing market continues to be energized by low mortgage interest rates and buyers continue to take advantage."

November's $8.4 million represented Engineered Homes' fourth highest in its 7year history, even though it is operating with fewer communities and less inventory than

The company was paced once again by its Mission Park and Brighton Lakes commu-nities which combined for 35 of the 40 sales for $7.2 million. Phoenix Home Services to launch new water softener.

Phoenix Home Services, which opened in July to focus on sales and installations of pool heating systems, announced it will be expanding their product lines to include home water softener and reverse osmosis.

Skip West, founder and chief operating officer of the firm, said the product has a large appeal because the water in Central Florida is extremely hard and contains far too much chlorine.

West said a seminar was held recently at Phoenix offices in Sanford to leach Phoenix technicians how to install and maintain this product line.

"The benefits of the softener system are rather significant," said West, including the elimination of chlorine and providing better than bottle quality

Altogether, West said, he Anthony Bassile, managing expects Phoenix to sell as

Stirling founder is star speaker in national teleconference

Roger Soderstrom, founder and owner of Stirling International Realty, Inc., was a featured speaker in a national teleconference with owners and managers of real estate companies throughout the United States and Canada recently. Soderstrom offered the group some timely handson advice: Get to work.

Soderstrom, who developed sophisticated, high-tech Real Estate Showcase centers at Heathrow, the Seminole Towne Center mall, Winter Park Village, Oviedo, downtown Orlando and Dr. Phillips, gave participants an insider's look at Stirling's operations, history and retail marketing strategies. The "tour" included the Stirling Web site, one of the most frequently-visited real estate portals in Florida.

But Soderstrom's biggest "wows" came when he detailed Stirling's December strategy.

"Typically, most real estate agents are taking mental vacations in December," said Soderstrom. "Typically, traffic On its grand opening is down and people have other day, Cold Stone will hold a things - good worthy things on their minds. But if a client has a house on the mar-

The teleconference was sponsored by Hobbs-Herder, one of the largest and most active real estate marketing and management consulting firms in the United States.

Mercantile Commercial Capital relocates To Altamonte Springs

Mercantile Commercial Capital has relocated to larger offices in Altamonte Springs. Chris Hurn, president and chief executive officer of the commercial lending firm, said new space, in the Oasis office building off State Road 434 at 940 Centre Circle, Altamonte Springs, is four times the size of the firm's previous offices in the All Tel building in Maitland.

Hurn said Mercantile Commercial Capital is the only commercial mortgage lender in the area and the United States that focuses exclusively on SBA 504 commercial loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), which provides small business owners the capital to buy or build their own facility.

"For small business owners, SBA 504 is a major economic stimulus package, and we want to encourage every business that qualifies to look at the program," Hurn said.

Hum said SBA 504 loans offer business owners who buy or build their own facility savings of up to 40 percent over the cost of leasing the same facility. Even better, with SBA 504 financing, small business owners can finance 90 percent of the total value of their facility plus closing costs at below-market rates with lengthy 25-year amortizations.

Highway safety helping hands available this holiday season

By Nick Pfelfauf Staff Writer

There will be assistance available for these upcoming holidays. Organizations including the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) and AAA/Budweiser, are all planning to lend help wherever and whenever needed.

Before taking that holiday trip, the FDOT Road Rangers are reminding holiday travelers to set aside some time to perform routine maintenance checks on their vehicles before venturing onto Interstate 4. To avoid unnecessary delays and stress, the Road Rangers recommend checking the amount of fuel before taking to the road, maintaining the proper amount of air pressure in tires, checking automotive fluids, inspecting the vehicle belts for wear and having the battery checked.

Road Rangers travel the interstate and other major Central Florida roads, stopping for motorists in need of help. Uniformed Road Rangers are equipped with first aid kits, cell phones, two-ton jacks, auto flu-ids and an air compressor.

Last year, Road Rangers assisted 1,002 drivers on 1-4 between Dec. 20 and Jan. 1. Eighteen crew members with nine Road Ranger vehicles are dedicated to offering assistance almost 24 hours a day, on the stretch of I-4 that runs through Central Florida. While Road Rangers are generally not available Friday from 10 p.m. to 10 a.m., Saturday, beginning Dec. 28, they will officially become a

The 24hour service is free, although some cellular networks charge for minutes used.

It should also be noted that all law enforcement agencies will be out and on the alert for drivers who may be under the influence of alcohol, or otherwise driving erratically.

AAA Auto Club South is also offering assistance for this holiday season. AAA and Budweiser are again launching Tow to Go. The program was created in 1998 to help fight drunk driving by offering a free ride home and a free tow to adults who may have overindulged. Last year's holiday season saw 1,254 poten-tial drunk drivers saved by this program.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, drunk driving crashes killed 904 people in Florida in 2002.

Tow to Go is simple to use. Adults who need a ride home from bars or restaurants can call 1-800-AAA-HELP. AAA will dispatch a tow truck and take both the driver and vehicle home, free of charge.

"You hate to have to get into this but I also don't want our police officers or our EMTs called to a scene where a child has been run over," he added.

Other Longwood commissioners were reluctant to fol-low Bundy's suggestion.

"There are ways to go about this, but to blanket ban them may not be the way to go about it," said Mayor Dan Anderson.

The Longwood commission voted 4-to-1 in favor of the city attorney to do some research of possibly crafting an ordinance to strengthen state legislation for motorized scoolers. The action passed despite reservations from other city leaders, including Commissioner Brian Sackett who voted against the measure.

"I don't think by banning them we're going to accom-plish anything," he said.

Johnson said the city of Longwood has the right to pass an ordinance to ban scooters, but it doesn't necessarily make it right.

There's a little bit of Barney Fife in some folks who want to impact these kids and that's fine," he said. "If the city leadership in Longwood says this is a priority and they want government to regulate motor scooters so be it. If that's important, then they can did last year and what will continue to clarify in other places in the law this year is you don't need a driver's license or license plate for a kid's toy."

Bundy, along with Longwood police officials, have argued if the state law is opened to the scooters they can be driven on public streets and sidewalks. Currently, motor-ized scooters — electrical or gas — are only legal on private property.

"Going out there and making these things legal — the way we look at it — kind of puts kids in eopardy," said Longwood Police Officer Herb Stewartson.

Stewartson adds that Johnson put nothing in the state statute that requires safety regulations for scooter riders.

"Basically you're just putting kids out there on a 30mile-per-hour rocket with cars," he said. "That was one of the major, major concerns."

Longwood officers are currently responding to com-plaints about scooters, and if they see one in operation, they are to stop and inform the rider of the law.

"Our officers have their discretion to whether or not they are going to issue a citation, answer to their electorate with Stewartson said. "They are moving vehicles you should respect to what their priorities fully capable to give warnings. not have a driver's license nor statutes, they may in fact issue a citation."

To give a ticket to a sevenyear-old scooter rider is the reason the law change was made in the first place, Johnson said. The law had not kept up with technology so deputies across the state were giving citations to children riding the scooters to school, he added.

"What I recommend for those city leaders that feel state government is thrusting themselves upon them is to go ahead and take the time to read the words, and they can see very clearly what we are doing is a very common sense thing," Johnson said. "A kid's toy should not have to have a motor vehicle license to

Johnson said as far as the state mandating scooter use on public roads, the city can do, whatever it wants.

"If the city wants to create a law that says these types of vehicles can't be driven on the sidewalk or that can't be driven in the streets without a helmet, there is nothing in this law that precludes that," he said. "All we are doing is very clearly stating what ought to be obvious to the most casual observer, that is these little are, but a simple phone call if they see someone that should they be a registered would have clarified what he repeatedly violates the vehicle to operate them."

Sanford Main Street President Bill Kirchhoff said the board met last Monday and decided that closing its doors would be the best route. It will be the last Sanford Main Street board meeting, and it could be up to the city if the organization returns.

the functions of the organization, such as planning special events and the design and revitalization of the downtown, before it decided to close.

The other thing that a Main Street organization is supposed to work with is support from the city, and the city decided not to sup-port Main Street financially," he said.

Another sore spot for Main Street organizers was the city's denial to waive special event costs for the group. During the applica-tion process for its annual St. Patrick's Day event last March, Sanford Main Street organizers asked the city to waive about $3,000 in special event fees. The city denied the request.

"You can't keep going and can't put on event because it costs more money than you'll ever get in," Kirchhoff said.

Sanford, however, has continually went back and forth on the issue waiving event fees as it did again Monday night. The city waived

Despite the financial concerns, ultimately the demise of Sanford Main Street could be because of the leadership, said Bob Parsell, a former president of Sanford Main Street.

"I think that the recent leadership has not been looking to the future of Sanford and looking more to the past," he said. "It's unfortunate and I don't know if you can place blame on anyone particularly, but things happened with funding that hurt them."

Parsell, along with three other CRA board members, voted in April to yank the $62,500 contract from Sanford Main Street just two weeks after it was signed. The CRA board reportedly expressed discontent that the organization had failed to take a position on proposed First Street renovations. Part of the contract included that Sanford Main Street build consensus for to construct a turn around on the property, but after a year, the design would be looked at again. If residents didn't like the outcome, the city would be willing to reconstruct the property so it would connect with Cedar Ridge Lane.

Some residents lobbied commissioners Monday to connect the Drew Avenue with the new Cedar Hills subdivision while others lobbied for it to remain a dead end. Commissioners were inclined to grant the neighborhood's wishes either way the majority of the community desired.

"I'm open to either one," said Commissioner Randy Jones. "This really is a neighborhood issue.' One informal petition submitted Oct. 31 by Janet Bell carried 16 signatures from Drew Avenue residents in support of the street to be connected. However, a sur-conducted Commissioner Art Woodruff, netted responses from 25 of the 31 homes on Drew Avenue with more than 70 percent in support of a turn around and only six residents favoring the streets connect-

"We had a couple community meetings and we invited our commissioner to come out," said resident James Davis. "Never during those two community meetings did any of these people that are opposed to the turn around bring the issue up. The reason I assume that they didn't bring the issue to the table because if they did it would have been a resounding 'no' we do not want the street to go through." City staff suggested the road go through on the premise the property purchased from the developer wasn't wide enough to accommodate a cul-de-sac. With the narrow property, staff will have to design a hammerhead or T-style turn around,

"We tried to accommodate everybody's wishes out there, but it comes down there doesn't seem there's enough, property to it properly," said City Manager Al Grieshaber.

Many of the residents living directly at the Drew Avenue dead end supported opening the road up to through traffic.

"What we are faced with us that live down in there (near the dead end) - is there are people on Drew Avenue that will bring their trash to the dead end," Bell said. "There were trucks, cars left there. Drugs, alcohol used there. People around the corner didn't see these things. We saw these things.

"I'm not up here to divide my neighborhood, we're just tired of looking at it," she added.

RAW INJURED

One Jacksonville State University softball player was killed and another critically injured in an automobile accident on their way home to Florida for the holidays.

Tera Marie Ross, 22, a native of Cooper City, was killed when the 2000 Ford Explorer she was driving on the Florida tumpike crossed the median and collided head-on with a northbound 2002 Volvo freight truck, according to Florida Highway Patrol

Ross' brother, Zachary Ryan Ross, 20, and a fel-low softball player, Kelly Melissa Raw, 18, of Oviedo, were passengers in the Explorer. They were flown to Orlando Regional Medical Center in critical condition, investigators said.

Zach Ross was released from the hospital late Wednesday night and Raw remains in the hospital in stable condition.

Raw, a freshman pitcher for the Gamecocks, earned the Orlando Sentinel's Seminole County Player of the Year for her efforts on the Oviedo High School softball team.

The collision ruptured one of five cases of blasting caps that were being taken from Orlando to Eglin Air Force Base in the Florida Panhandle.

Hodges garners MVP honors

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

It's beginning to look like Winter Springs' Brett Hodges is going to have quite a decision on his hands.

But at least he has another year to sort it out. The Bears junior was a standout at quarterback for the regional qualifying football team and most experts figure he will be a highly sought after commodity next fall.

But after his performance so far this season on the hardwood, capped by an amazing Most Valuable Player performance in this past weekend's Winter Springs PAL Holiday Classic, the 6-foot-2 guard's home phone is going to be busy.

Winter Springs ran its record to 8-1 with a powerful three-game sweep to claim the trophy against a strong field in the PAL. The Bears opened the tournament by beating Merritt Island 74-30 Thursday with Jared Benton leading the Bears with 22 points and Jeff Owens tacking on 10 points and 13 rebounds.

That earned the hosts a shot at University Christian from Jacksonville, which beat Astronaut 66-61 to remain See Bears, Page 11

Most Valuable Player Brett Hodges (left) tossed in a career-high 43 points and fellow junior Jared Benton (shooting over a University defender, above) scored 16 points and was named to the All-Tournament Team as the host Bears (8-1) crushed previously unbeaten Cocoa High (5-1), 87-52, in the Championship Game of the 1st annual Winter Springs PAL Holiday Classic at Winter Springs High School this past weekend.

Sophomore Natalie Emmanuelli (shown driving against Johnson County Community College) scored 19 points and handed out five assists to lead Seminole Community College to its 10th victory of the season, a come-from-behind, 74-67, triumph over St. Clair County Community College from Michigan Friday night at the SCC

Raider women claim 10th win of the year

Raiders head coach Lisa Nuxol has to be feeling great after the back-to-back wins gave her squad 10 victories on the season and it was the defense once again that played a key factor in its most recent win.

SCC (10-5) harassed the Skippers (6-3) into 29 turnovers and every one was important as St. Clair nearly blew the hosts out of their own gym by opening the game by scoring the first 14 points and only allowing one shot attempt in the first two-and-a half minutes of

The Raiders seemed to be unable to get motivated after Thursday's exciting win over Johnson County Community College from Kansas and looked to be in for a long night.

Lake Mary's Bryn Mosler finally got SCC on the board at the 15: 40 mark by hitting one of two free throws, but the Skippers answered with a field goal to take a 16-1 advantage.

But the game quickly turned around as Kirsten Harris finally got a Raider field goal with a rebound basket and Mosler found Emmanuelli open for one of her three threepoint shots on the night to cut the lead to single digits at 16-7.

A transition jumper by Jennifer Anderson cut the lead another two points, but St. Clair answered with five points, the final three on a trey from Jessica Volz to make the score 21-9. But Nuxel called two straight well-designed plays that freed-up Harris for jumpers at the foul line, which was followed by an easy fastbreak basket from Rosanna Davis on a find from Emmanuelli and then a dish from Davis to Abena "Bo Bo" Bosia got the Raiders with-

SCC then took its first lead when Winter Springs' Missy Guadagnino hit Anderson for a three and a 22-21 lead.

The Raiders then added six more points to take a 28-26 lead with 6:50 left in the half. See SCC, Page 11

FWC launches new web page for outdoors enthusiasts

Special to the Herald

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) has added a new section to its Web site to help outdoors enthusiasts find recreational activities on the state's wildlife management areas. The section will be activated on Jan. 1.

Whether it is hunting, fishing, birdwatching, paddling, horseback riding or other outdoor pursuits, Florida's wildlife management areas provide more than 5 million acres of land for people to get outside and play.

The Web pages can be explored by area of the state or by outdoor activity," said Lora Silvanima, FWĆ's recreation specialist. "You'll be quickly linked to the details of recreation opportunities on individual wildlife management areas, as well as information on each area's wildlife, natural habitats and history."

To access the section beginning Jan. 1, visit http://floridaconservation.o. rg and click on Outdoor Recreation.

WILDLIFE OFFICIALS NEED INFORMATION ON DEAD BEAR

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) needs help from the public with any information about a black bear that was shot and killed, and then dumped off a dirt lane late Monday in the Summerfield area of south Marion County. Someone had cut off all of its feet.

A citizen notified the FWC about 10 a.m.,

Tuesday, after finding the mutilated, 150-pound female bear in a ditch between Sunset Harbor Road and SE 135th St., just east of the railroad tracks. Bears are rarely seen in the Summerfield area and investigators believe this bear was killed somewhere else and then dumped in the ditch.

Anyone with any information about this incident is asked to call the FWC's Wildlife Alert Hotline at 1-888-404-3922. The line is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Callers may remain anonymous and may be eligible for a reward if their information leads to an arrest.

ANONYMOUS TIP LEADS TO ARREST OF POACHER

citizen led to the arrest Sunday of a Pierson man for killing a doe deer out of season. The anonymous caller said the man tried to give away the freshly killed doe deer to patrons at a bar near Astor early Sunday.

Matthew Raymond Jamagin, 40, (DOB 3/9/63), of 109 Old Bubbly Road, was charged with the first degree misdemeanor of possessing/taking a doe deer, and if convicted faces possible penalties of up to year in jall, $1,000 fine, three year suspension of hunting privileges, and forfeiture of equipment involved in the crime (truck and ATV).

The anonymous caller reported the incident to the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) Ocala office Sunday afternoon. He said the man had brought the dead deer to the bar in the early morning hours in the back of his pickup truck and tried to give it away. Lt. Jeff Gier and Officer Chris Creese used the information provided by the caller and tracked down Jarnagin as he was in the process of dumping the deer carcass in an area off Old Bubbly Road later that afternoon. They wrote him a cita-tion with notice to appear in Volusia County court.

FWC OFFERING GRANTS FOR NONGAME WILDLIFE

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission is soliciting applications for the Nongame Wildlife Grants Program.

The program provides competitive grants for research, management and education projects that support conservation of Florida's nongame wildlife species. It is open to state and local agencies, educational facilities, organizations and individuals.

Projects should address one of the general areas of interest outlined in the program guidelines and must include a clear statement of the anticipated benefits to nongame species in Florida. Awards vary based on available funding and project duration but typically do not exceed $20,000 per year.

Applicants must submit proposals by 5 p.m. Feb. 20, 2004.

The national early signing period was quite productive for Lake Mary High School athletes as four young ladies signed NCAA Division I Letters-of-Intent.

Signing softball grants were Caitlin Mahoney and Lauren Horwath, Meghan Chamberlain inked a basketball scholarship and three-sport star Angle Pressey took a volleyball offer.

Mahoney was one of seven players Michigan State softball coach Jacquie Joseph signed to National Letters of Intent for the 2005 season.

Amanda Carlson, Heidi Charon, Nikki Nicosia, Traci Nicosia, Lesley Noel and Amy Serota were the others who will become Spartans next year. Three of the seven are Michigan natives, three are from Florida and one is from Illinois.

"This is a very good class," said Joseph. "In two years we will have turned over every starter on our team so the pressure to sign a strong, talented class this year was immense. We feel fortunate to have been able to meet all our needs. All seven are academically strong. and have very good test scores and grades.

Mahoney is a shortstop/third baseman, who will be returning 'home.' Her parents, Tom and Lois Mahoney, are graduates of Michigan State's college of business.

Mahoney is three-year letterwinner for the Rams and was named all-state honorable time all-conference and all-county selection in softball (2001, 2002, 2003) and is a two-time offensive player of the year at Lake Mary She hit .447 as a freshman, .427 as a sophomore and .300 as a junior and has 15 doubles, seven triples, eight home runs and 60 RBI during her career for coach Jeannie Fisher.

She also hit .386 this summer for the Clearwater Lady Bombers, with 19 doubles, three triples and six home runs as the team won the 2003 National Pony Championship. The team also finished third at the 2000 ISA Nationals.

"Caitlin has tremendous experience at the club level and has played shortstop for a very good ASA team in the Clearwater Lady Bombers," said Joseph. "She hits with excellent power and can play either shortstop or third base well."

Two of her new teammates, twins Nikki and Traci Nicosia, are from St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Ft. Lauderdale and are the daughters of former major league player Steve Horwath, a hard-hitting lefthanded first baseman, signed with Jacksonville State University out of Alabama.

She is a standout on defense as well as with the bat and hit .324 with 16 RBI as a junior. Chamberlain was one of four players signed by University of North Carolina at Greensboro head women's basketball coach Lynne Agee.

Kristen Boone, Kemena Brooks and Jasmine Dixon also signed National Letters of Intent to play for the Spartans next season.
"We feel that this is one of our best recruiting classes ever at UNCG," said Agee.

The No. 9 nationally ranked University of California women's volleyball program has signed a pair of highly touted high school players - Angie Pressey and Ellen Orchard - to National Letters of Intent, it was announced by Golden Bear head coach Rich Feller.

Pressey is a 5-foot-8 outside hitter from Heathrow, and is the daughter of former Villanova and NBA player Paul Pressey, who is currently an assistant coach with the Orlando Magic.

An outstanding athlete in basketball and track as well as volleyball at Lake Mary, She was an All-Central Florida pick in volleyball as a junior and set a school record with 405 kills in a season. In November, she was a Student Sports All-PowerBar Team Athlete of the Week for the Southeastern United States with 84 kills during the Trinity Prep Invitational.

In track, Pressey has won several SAC conference and district titles and has bests of 19feet in the long jump, 38-feet, 1-inch in the triple jump, 11.85 in the 100 meters and 24.5 in the 200 meters.

And in basketball she has joined with Chamberlain in leading the Rams to a perfect 10-0 start.

Pressey once lived near the Cal campus for a couple of years when her father - who was a member of the 1985 NCAA champion Villanova Wildcats - was a player coach and an assistant for Golden State from 1992-94. Angie Pressey is also friends with Cal's current setter, freshman Samantha Carter, who hails from Apopka. "This is an outstanding recruiting class for us," said Feller. "Angie is surely one of the best all-around athletes to ever come into our program. She has tremendous jumping ability and is a powerful hitter. She has finely honed defensive skills as well.

"Ellen is rated as one of the top middle hitters in the state of Texas. She will bring to our team size, quickness and all-around ability. with the talent to excel in both the front and back row. Ellen is also a well-rounded student-athlete. Both of these athletes have the capability to contribute right away."

Cocoa joined the Bears in the final with a 58-44 victory over Champagnat. Devoe had 24 points and 5mith 10 points for the Tigers, while Davila had 11 points and Colon 10 points for Champagnat. In a weird game, New Smyrna Beach took a 46-18 lead into the final quarter, but behind 15 fourth-quarter free throws and a refuse-to-quit mentality, Lyman (1-6) scored 32 in the final quarter, and very nearly pulled off the rally before falling to the Barracudas (2-4), 58-50.

NSB senior sharp-shooter Rob Ringlehan hit five 3pointers and scored all of his game-high 15 points during NSB's big first-half run, while guard Ed Williams chipped in with eight points, five steals and 10 rebounds.

The Greyhounds got eight points apiece out of Igor Milanovic and Erik Nix, but were limited to 14-of-37 shooting on the day. In the other game,

Astronaut rolled over Merritt Island, 63-50, behind 21 points from Wollters and 14 points from Brooks. Zeller scored 19 points for the Mustangs. But the stars really stepped on the final day last Saturday. Hodges became a one-man wrecking crew for Winter Springs, scoring a career-high 43 points as the Bears (8-1) blasted previously undefeated Cocoa (7-1), 87-52.

But Hodges was not quite the whole show as All-Tournament selection Benton chipped in with 16 points, while fellow junior's Mike Kul (14 points) and Owens: (12 rebounds) also had big hands in the win. Williams led the Tigers with 12 points.

Lyman (2-7) claimed seventh place by pounding Merritt Island (0-6), 77-35, with Robinson leading the charge with 21 points.

New Smyrna Beach got 17 points from Ringlehan to defeat Astronaut, 59-46, which got 16 points from Jones, for Fifth Place.

And Pride scored 21 points and Pinckney 17 as University Christian roughed up Champagnat, 79-50, for Third Place.

Winter Springs will be looking to keep the momentum going when they play in the Tournament at Disney's Wide World of Sports complex, December 27-30.

Jeff Owens (No. 52), a 6-foot-4 junior, had 38 rebounds in the three
