Soil Survey Makes Progress In County

Progress is being made toward the completion of the soil survey mapping of all the agricultural land in Seminole County, Conservation Soil Workers told today.

According to the soil survey report received from Al Furman and Bureau "Shanty" White, professional soil scientists with the Soil Conservation Service in Orlando, detailed soil surveys were completed on 128,572 acres as of October 31.

The surveys on all the remaining land is scheduled to be completed and in the State office the review before next June 30.

During the next three months Soil Conservation Service technicians will be gathering and compiling information regarding yields based on land capability and management practices and other information to make the soil survey report complete, accurate, and worthwhile.

Land capability is determined by a detailed soil survey made by a trained soil scientist of all land up to a depth of 60 inches.

Such detailed soil surveys reveal such valuable information as: fertility, permeability rate, slope, degree of erosion likelihood or depth of soil, wetness, type of underlying material such as clay, sand, or hardpan, the land capability class, and much other valuable information.

Although the detailed soil survey is most valuable to the individual land owner in determining what type of crops his land is best capable of producing, the completed survey will also be extremely valuable to the county engineer, road superintendent, zoning director, and other county officials.

The completed survey of the county will also speed up the farm planning and the conservation of the soil and water activities in the Seminole Soil Conservation District.

Information regarding the survey work will be available to all land owners and citizens in the district by contacting Ben Wiggin.

Business Briefs

Mr. Kenneth Peloquin, public relations director for the Winter Park Telephone Co. reports that conversion to Direct Distance Dialing last Sunday, Nov. 16, was carried out smoothly, with excellent results reported throughout their Midway and Terrace lines.

There were only a few scattered reports of difficulty from people who misconstructed directions printed in advance advertisements and the new telephone books. But the phone company management was confident that DDD would soon become a familiar thing throughout the nation, occasioning no more trouble than dialing across town.

Pincrest PTA Hears Reports

Pincrest Carnival Chairman Gene Hunt reported a net profit of $1,687 on the Halloween festival at a business meeting of the Pincrest PTA held recently.

The first Saturday of each month has been designated an Everybody-Work Day by the school beautification committee and all PTA members are urged to participate by President Kenneth Mcintosh.

The group voted to adopt President Kennedy's Physical Fitness program and Gerald Covington was appointed to write to the proper sources to obtain exact information as to the set-up of a work-out to satisfy the aims of the program.

A float from Pincrest School will be entered in the Christmas Parade, McIntosh announced, and the membership chairman reported that there are now a total of 195 members and 75 clinic members.

Drew Chevalier, Mike Cato, Mrs. Pat Hardin and Mrs. Jane Armstrong were appointed as a by-laws revision committee, and new proposed by-laws will be voted on at the Dec. 11th meeting along with the proposed budget for the year.

Members were reminded that Tuesday's are Pincrest Skating Day at Melody Rink from 3:30 to 5 p. m. with special rates prevailing.

Four Colleges Coordinate Work

Your Florida private colleges — Stetson University, Rollins, Florida Southern, and Florida Presbyterian — have begun to coordinate their efforts in several fields of mutual interest, according to Stetson Dean W. Hugh McEniry Jr., chairman of the group's steering committee.

McEniry said sub-committees are at work on bringing distinguished authorities and artists to Florida for special observances and to supplement instruction in foreign affairs, religion, and the fine arts.

Other committees are exploring such areas for cooperation as college admissions, curricula, library resources, and foreign study abroad.

"Interstate Highway 4 has made our four colleges neighbors in a far more practical sense than was previously possible," McEniry said. "We feel efficient methods of cooperation can be found to implement the many educational objectives and cultural interests which our campuses share."

The institutions, calling themselves the Associated Mid-Florida Colleges, expect to obtain financial support from an educational foundation for at least one of their projects.

THE PHANTOM

BY LARRY VERBELL
My astrologist says I should spend a few hours today getting to know civic leaders. None around today so I spent a few minutes at the zoo.

You may be having turkey today but the eagle, raven, osceola, Shrike (the non-cub) will be dining on stewed chicken... As a matter of fact, according to Mrs. Arnold Hood, cookkeeper, they eat chicken every day.

A. M. Kidder and sons will take over Allyn and Co. soon.

Say, what's going on at 2545 French Ave.?

No bowl prospects in site for the Seminole High grid-ders.

Casselberry Mayor Carl Stoddard will qualify Friday as a candidate for re-election to the office when he turns in his petition bearing the signatures of 10 registered voters.

Jottings editor Mrs. E. L. Johnson has come up with a good question this week... what DID happen to that proposed Lake Monroe Volunteer Fire Dept.?

Sanford Elks will have a free show of magic by Fred Tirrell and Company to give members and their families an entertaining Thanksgiving evening... show starts at 7 p. m. On Saturday the club will have a big Thanksgiving Dance for moms and dads and their guests.

Got word late yesterday afternoon from Dot Courier, Oviedo town clerk that Ben Jones, Bill Martin and Rex Clonts finally got around to qualifying for the election in Oviedo on Dec. 4. Dot was mighty worried about who would eat all that delicious Pinecrest Inn pie if they weren't going to bother with qualifying. Saw her diet going to pot.

Larry Swafford, Altamonte Springs mayor, did a little pipe-dreaming the other night. Seems the quick approval of a Federal loan for $350,000 for the water system may have shifted the Mayor's ballast from the way he was talking about a $100,000 city hall complete with new fire station and dormitory, new police station, council chamber, offices etc., etc. Oh well, dreams are cheap, says he.

Did you see the good ship "Duzaway" parked at the city dock this week? The owner, who wouldn't give us his name, says he came down from Wilmington, Del., to spend some time in our fair city but found there was no electricity available at the local wharf. Still here, but it does seem funny that if we are reputed to have power available we don't have it.

Oh to be in New England, now that the foliage is in brilliant array. We've been here for years, now, and still miss the seasons, and the mountains that are so nice to lean one's eyes against.

George Sholty, one of the country's top harness horse trainers, who had a stable of 50-some horses at Seminole Park Raceway last winter has decided to spend the winter training season at Pympano Beach this year, instead of locally. However, some of the top stables that will be on hand are John Chapman with 30 head, famed Betch Werner and Billy Popfinger will be on hand with 40 between them.

Agriculture Top U.S. Industry-Kiwanians Hear

"Agriculture is the backbone of the nation's economy," John Evans, Oklawaha grower and member of the Oklawaha Club, said in his address to the Kiwanians of Oklawaha last night.

Evans said that the farm industry is composed of almost four million independent producers and the industry employs some seven million workers.

"This is more than the combined employment in transportation, public utilities, the steel industry and the auto industry," he explained.

"The assets of the agricultural industry are equal to 75 percent of the value of all the corporations in the United States, so you can see that farming is big business even if it is composed of small units," Evans said.

"Another thing that city people might forget is that the farmer is a good customer—he uses more petroleum products than any other single industry. He buys everything a city person does plus the supplies needed to grow his crop," Evans explained.

"Farming creates jobs," the grower said. "Four out of every ten jobs are related to agriculture, in transportation, merchandising, and processing of agricultural products."

Evans pointed out that though the United States is considered an industrial nation, in the last 40 or 50 years, agricultural production has out-grown industrial production three to one.

Evans took exception to a recent book, "The Silent Spring" in which Rachel Carson decries the use of pesticides as slowly poisoning the nation.

"I believe the truth has been magnified all out of proportion," Evans pointed out. "It is true that many of the insecticides will kill you," he admitted, but added, "so will arsenic, and I don't see anyone willing to do away with them."

"I think we have made a decision that man is more important than nature and we cannot live as our forefathers lived long ago."

"We made the decision that we wanted our food clear of vermin and free of rodents and worms and this we cannot have without the use of modern chemicals," Evans added.

"Seminole County agriculture provides about 25 percent of the employment in the county," Evans said. "Few of us realize the greatness of Seminole County's agriculture."

There are some 2,100 counties in the United States and Seminole County ranks 20th in value of vegetables sold, and 61st in value of fruit sold, he stressed.

"I wonder," the grower mused, "if we have ever thought that every time a citrus grower puts in a 100-acre grove, he is putting in a manufacturing plant of equal value to an electronic plant."

"Yet I have never seen a shovelful of dirt turned at the ground breaking for one of these agricultural manufacturing plants."

Evans quoted Emerson who said, "The first farmer was the first man and all historic nobility rests on the possession and use of the land."

NY Republican Party 'Jolted'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The conservative thrust in New York State toward a power position in the GOP party jolted liberal, moderate and Eisenhower Republicans. There probably will be more jolts. Sen. Clifford P. Case, (R-N. J.), instantly proposed countermeasures. Case would organize lib-mod-like Republican office holders in a national alliance. This alliance would be directly opposed to the new-born Conservative Party, Inc. CPI was organized by Republicans resentful of party policy in New York State and nationally. CPI polled more than 126,000 votes for governor in New York Nov. 6 with its politically unknown candidate bucking the Republican and Democratic nominees. The CPI plan is to establish itself in command of 200,000 or more conservative votes in New York. Then it would warn moderate Republicans that these votes would be withheld in New York from any presidential or state candidate who did not meet minimum conservative standards.

weak. Case's proposal better suggests the Republican reaction to conservative rebellion. Case believes his proposed liberal Republican alliance would mobilize party support for such projects as Medicare, federal housing and urban renewal. He believes, also, that his alliance would influence selection of a 1964 presidential nominee. Republican conservatives unhappily feel that their party already is too much mobilized for the projects Case favors and that the liberals long since seized control of Republican national conventions.

Midway School Observes V-Day

The contributions that American servicemen have made to their country and why we observe Veteran's Day was the subject of an informal discussion held at an assembly at the Midway Elementary School last week. American Education Week also received special recognition at the school with a panel discussion by several members of the school including the following: What is American Education Week? by Darleen Oliver; How Did American Education Week Begin? by Annye Refoe; What is the Purpose of American Education Week? by Freddie Perry; How Are American Education Week Objectives Achieved? Samuel Long; Our American Heritage Meets the Challenge of Change, by Patricia Manely; A Modern Curriculum Meets the Challenge of Change, by Dorothy Stephens; Life-long Learning Meets the Challenge of Change by Jimmy Long.

The left-wing Liberal party in New York bargains that way to persuade Democrats to nominate left-of-center national and state tickets. When the Republican party is convinced it needs those thousands of conservative party votes in New York to win nationally or in the state, the policy posture of Republican national and state nominees is likely to change. CPI got on the New York State ballot by petition, a difficult technique. It will remain on the ballot so long as it polls at least 50,000 votes for a statewide candidate. A newspaper headline reported: Conservative Party vexes the GOP. Vexes? The word is too

Busy Santa Gets Help From SNAS Marines

There won't be any jobless children in Sanford on Christmas Day if the Marines have anything to say about it. And they're not only saying something about it, they're doing something. Several games were played with Mrs. J. R. Wells winning the grand prize. Mrs. Williams opened the many gifts which were placed in an elaborately decorated basket.

Refreshments of cake, punch, nuts and nuts were served by the hostess. Guests included Mrs. E. Ehrig, Mrs. Dickie Frank, Mrs. H. H. Fortner, Mrs. Ashby Dunn, Mrs. Harold Keeling, Mrs. J. A. Hamemakers Corner

Well a Happy Thanksgiving Day to all. You are probably not in a cooking mood right at the present time but since this day only comes once a year we can plan for other meals now. You know that Christmas is only a month away now.

From Dale Pavlick of 2621 Laurel Ave. Sanford comes this recipe for Eggplant Casserole. Sounds very good. Hope you will try it soon.

During the business session the group presented a check for $100 to the church. Most of the amount was the proceeds from the recent ham dinner held by the society.

Mrs. Victor Rankin, a missionary, gave an inspiring talk on the experiences of her work for the past 10 years. She and her husband served in the Province of Camagney, Cuba, until conditions were such that their lives were in danger. The work there is now being done by the Cuban people.

Mrs. Forrest Hunt, secretary of the student and youth work, gave a very good report concerning the Circle Y and MYF activities and the correspondence with students away in school and young people in the service.

Also from Mrs. Poole comes these Buttercotch Cookies

- 1/2 cup oleo
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teas. vanilla
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/4 teas. salt
- 1/4 teas. soda

May add 1/2 cup nuts. Mix or soften shortening, stir in sugar. Drop in egg and beat it hard for a few minutes add vanilla, then flour sifted with salt and soda. Pack dough into a bread tin and put in loabox over night or until very cold (take out of pan). Cut in thin slices and bake in hot oven (375 degrees) about 8 or 10 minutes.

A cookie cutter with a handle is quicker than a paring knife for cutting strawberries, nuts or vegetables. Use with a chopping motion.

Rice and Beef "Forcemeat"

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 cup uncooked rice, washed
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 teas. salt
- 1/4 teas. pepper
- 2 theps. Wesson Oil
- 24 oz. cans Hunt's Tomato Sauce
- 1 cup water

Mix beef, rice, onion and seasonings. Form into small balls. Fry in hot wesson oil, turning frequently, until light brown but not crusty on all sides. Add sauce and water. Mix well. Cover. Simmer 45 minutes. Serves 4. These will be good with broccoli, tossed salad and French rolls.

Now try these French Fried Onion Rings.

- 1 large onion, cut in 1/4 inch slices
- Milk
- 1 cup Aunt Jemima Pancake Mix
- 1/2 teas. salt
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 theps. chopped parsley

Separate onion slices into rings. Soak in milk 15 minutes. Place pancake mix, salt and water in bowl, beat 2 minutes add parsley. Drain onion rings, dip in batter. Drain off excess batter. Fry in deep fat (375 degrees)

This sounds good and was sent in by Mrs. Fort Poole of Pinecrest Drive. It's called Oatmeal Cake. I am sure you will like it.

Pour and let stand 1 1/2 cups boiling water poured over

- 1 cup quick cooking oatmeal
- Add 1 stick of oleo, cut in pieces
- Add:
- 1/4 cup white sugar
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teas. soda
- 1/4 teas. baking powder
- 1 teas. cinnamon
- 1 teas. salt

Bake in oven for 30 minutes at 350 degrees. (pan 13 by 9 x 3)

Topping:

- 6 theps. melted butter
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup cream or milk
- 1 cup coconut
- 1 cup nuts

Spread on hot cake, when finished baking and put un-

Former Resident In Current Post

A humorous article entitled, "Let 'em Eat Turkey!" which appears in this week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post bears the by-line of Lt. Col. Walter M. Turner.

Lt. Col. Turner is the son of Mrs. R. W. Turner of Sanford and is married to the sister of Mrs. E. C. Harper Jr., the former Nancy Colum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Colum of Sanford.

The story concerns the holiday foods prepared for American servicemen overseas, and is reported to be amusing and timely.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I owe this old lady an apology. I am a teen-ager. I help take care of an elderly, bedfast woman. She must be about 80. Once in a while she pulls my hair or throws a glass of water at me. Twice I lost my temper and hit her. Once I bruised her arm and the other time I blackened her eye. She told me I couldn't work for her until I learned to control my temper and apologize. Is it my fault that I can't stand old people who aren't mentally right?

KANSAS

DEAR KANSAS: You not only owe this lady an apology, you owe yourself a self-improvement program. Striking anyone (and particularly an elderly, bedfast person) is cruel and inexcusable. Until you can control your temper you should not be placed in charge of anyone. There is always hope for one with a conscience.

DEAR ABBY: That guy who said a wedding ring was only for women is nuts! I have worn a wedding ring, placed on my finger by my beloved wife, for 22 years. To me it is as important as the ring I placed on HER finger. It's gold, but it would mean as much if it were chicken wire.

HOOKED AND HAPPY

DEAR ABBY: I recently moved to a new community and was invited to join a neighborhood bridge club. It meets once a week and the members take turns being hostess. The other ladies all drink coffee and I am the only tea drinker in the club. One lady, when she is hostess, uses her best china to serve everyone else, but she uses a plastic cup and saucer to serve me! When I asked her why, she replied, "Because I don't want to ruin my Wedgewood with tea stains!" I considered this an insult and told her so. She said my manners were worse than hers or I never would have brought the subject up. I'd like your opinion.

TEA DRINKER

DEAR TEA DRINKER: If your neighbor was sincerely concerned about staining her china with tea, she should learn how to wash dishes. Life is too short to be little. Ignore the incident. She is off base a country mile.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. L.: Why don't you visit with your friend in the afternoon? It is obvious that your husband and her husband have nothing in common, so don't force two grown men down each other's throats.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Freak hands produce freak results. At the Tucson regional the scores with today's monotony ranged from 750 plus for East-West when East made five hearts doubled with an overtrick to 1090 plus for North and South.

Don Oakie. The bidding at his table developed in such fashion that West bid five hearts and North chose to double. If South had opened his singleton spade Don would have been down one trick for what would still have been a very good score, but South opened a club.

The North-South plus went to Hermine Baron of Los Angeles. The bidding is shown in the box.

Hermine ruffed the second heart, drew trumps and led her queen of diamonds. West covered with the king and dummy's ace won. The ace of spades was cashed and a spade ruffed and Hermine led the nine of diamonds. West ducked, but Hermine had decided that East would have gone to five hearts with two diamonds

Don ruffed in dummy, led a heart to his king, another heart back to dummy, and a spade toward his hand. North ducked. Don won with the queen, ruffed a club in dummy and led another spade. North went up with the ace and forgot to cash his ace of diamonds whereasupon Don was able to ruff his last club and get rid of his losing diamond on dummy's long spade.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Women claim men aren't good about noticing little things. The truth is, men don't always notice the same things women do.

The same husband who doesn't notice that his wife has made and hung new curtains in the kitchen is sure to say "Boy, something smells good; what's cooking?" if his wife is baking a cobbler or trying doughnuts.

It's not that men don't notice, it's just that they don't always notice what women want or expect them to.

Citrus Control Group Sought

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A Senate Committee approved and sent to the floor Wednesday a House-passed measure authorizing establishment of a Citrus Concentrate Quality Control Committee.

The 12-member committee would advise the State Citrus Commission in setting standards for orange juice concentrate. Members would be appointed for two year terms.

The measure was approved in the House after Gov. Farris Bryant broadened his call of the special reappointment session to include the Citrus Legislation. Supporters of the proposal said the committee had been authorized by legislatures since 1937, but through error, was not re-enacted in 1961.

Lot To Be Thankful For

Thanksgiving is the season of a special American festival which is celebrated from coast to coast by Americans everywhere.

But it was not always so. Much to be thankful for is the manner in which the Pilgrims and Indians came to know each other. It is the legend of the first Thanksgiving that is so dear to our hearts.

The earliest records of the "Tenth Colony," some of which were found among the records of the First Church in Plymouth, indicate that the Pilgrims had suffered a devastating hurricane and had received help from English fishermen and their families who had been established on the Maine coast for about 30 or 40 years previous to the landing at Plymouth.

The occasion for thanksgiving was, in a measure of speaking, the arrival of assistance from Maine and it was their first square meal in a number of weeks. The Pilgrims were steady customers of the Maine folks, who according to the early records in Maine, had discovered the Pilgrims shortly after they arrived in Plymouth Bay.

It is not our purpose to destroy the legend of the first Thanksgiving Day. It is far more satisfying, as literature, than the facts pieced together by scholars, and certainly points a greater moral truth than the actual story indicates. Part of the surviving memoranda indicates there was some discussion as to the idea that the Pilgrims would pay their passengers for their help.

One of the most interesting legends of the Pilgrims is the one which tells of the first Thanksgiving in 1621.

At a meeting of this county we have much to be thankful for, a friendly climate, abundant resources, education, growing industry and agriculture and many more blessings.

Many residents of Seminole County live here because it is a thoroughly delightful area in which to reside, and we like the idea of having one of the lowest tax rates in the whole state. We like to get all we can for nothing.

But it is time we woke up to the fact that if we want these blessings to continue there is a price that must be paid, and the price will go up or our living standard will go down.

Instead of bemoaning the fact that there is a price tag on God's bounty, we should drop to our knees and give thanks for the privilege of living in a country where we can speak with candor, worship in the church of our choice, live in the area that pleases us most, and choose our friends and livelihood.

Our blessings here in Seminole County are more manifold than we know. In our giving of thanks today, let us echo the cry of the priests of ancient Israel, "The Lord God is one Lord; Praise Ye the Lord!"

ANNUAL BOUT UNDER THE MARQUIS OF CRANBERRY RULES

New Political Figures

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The day after election the Democratic National Committee was like a delighted child who found under the Christmas tree a whipping girl he had not asked for or expected. The word was in from Indiana that the impostor had happened. Their man had defeated the unbeatable Republican, Homer Capehart, for the U.S. Senate.

President Kennedy ordered a phone call put in for Terre Haute, Ind. It was answered by 34-year-old Birch Bayh (pronounced by) who until that day was almost unknown outside of Indiana. Overnight he had become a political Jack the giant killer.

"The President congratulated me and said he was looking forward to seeing me," Bayh said the other day when he came to Washington to look for a house and line up an office staff. "Naturally, I said I was looking forward to it, too."

He did not say he was surprised by his victory because one of the unbreakable rules of politics is that you must insist all the time and all the way that you're going to win. But almost everybody else was surprised and that probably included Kennedy at the time he made his phone call.

Most surprised of all was 65-year-old Homer Capehart. He was elected to the Senate in 1944 and has been there ever since. He had never lost an Indiana election. He had a well-oiled political machine behind him. Every major poll taken in Indiana indicated he would defeat Bayh by a comfortable plurality. Capehart was so confident that he went to his farm on Election Day and left Bayh to work the street corner for undecided voters.

Bayh won by 10,944 votes out of 1.8 million. He thinks he won it in the last three days of the campaign and that at the start his comparative youth was a handicap. In the final hours of the campaign the Indiana Democrats poured their money into a teletalk that showed their candidate and his movie star profile to the best advantage. Bayh talks and gestures like a college debating star, which he was. One of the few speaking contests he ever lost was to a girl from Enid, Okla., and he was so intrigued that he married her. Mrs. Marvella Bayh is an attractive blonde and formidable campaigner who made 13 speeches in the last three days of the campaign. Bayh brought her along to Washington and introduced her as "one of the

Spy Charge On Frenchmen

PARIS (UPI) — A 24-year-old French soldier has been arrested on espionage charges for allegedly giving NATO defense plans to a military attaché of the Communist Romanian embassy, police revealed today.

Police identified the man only as second class soldier Pierre-Henri P. The last name in such cases customarily is not disclosed to the public.

The soldier admitted divulging secret military defense plans of Western countries to the Romanian five months ago, police said. They said the Romanian, a lieutenant colonel, left Paris for Bucharest two months ago.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Fear and rage are blamed for the way the groundhog reacts. Fear, however, is the stimulus in this case for it develops before man does not appear, but if the fear is prolonged, then man may be born and thereby begins to dominate this type of animal.

CASE N-488: Jack, aged 2 years, was a stray black dog that came to my grandmother's farm one summer when I was a boy.

He may have been a city dog originally, for he didn't seem very sophisticated in the ways of the rural canine.

One summer day he found a groundhog in the barnyard, too far from the woodchuck's hole to get home without a fight.

So the old groundhog turned on the dog and laid his long teeth. This incensed him and he immediately dashed around and seemed fearful of his foe, as well he might for even an experienced dog may cautiously bite his time, knowing the sharpness of a groundhog's teeth.

But Jack kept barking and backing off in amateur fashion. At an unguarded moment, nevertheless, the groundhog sniped his teeth through the end of the dog's tongue, perhaps as much back of the tip.

Jack whined with fear and pain. Meanwhile he kept circling around on his hind feet until the groundhog swung clear of the ground and was suspended at the end of the dog's tongue. The latter could not stifle a cry because of the weight of the groundhog. If the groundhog had released his hold immediately, the dog's teeth might have damaged the canine. But the groundhog hung on for half a minute.

By that time, Jack's pain and fear had suddenly become replaced by a tremendous rage. When the groundhog finally let go, the dog waded into him immediately without even trying to dodge the latter's teeth, and literally tore him to pieces.

I heard the groundhog's backbone snap at the first bite, and then Jack chewed him up. Thereafter, when our second dog, a collie, would trap a groundhog away from his hole, and begin circling around, patiently waiting for a chance to get him from the rear, Jack would wade right in and kill the woodchuck.

He seemed to disdain the latter's teeth. In fact, he possessed what appeared to be an uncontrolable anger that would not permit the presence of the slightest fear.

Jack's behavior illustrates a very interesting fact about emotions, both canine as well as human.

Fear is a protective emotion which indicates that our psychology is that of an army on the defensive.

It apparently was placed in animals and mankind for producing safety without open combat.

But when a creature is cornered, his fear comes to vanish and he becomes so angry that he acts in disdain of superior numbers and overwhelming odds. Then he will adopt the tactics of the army on offense and actually solicit a fight.

A child who has been bullied and finally fights back and whips the bully, may thereafter relish meeting bullies and actually go out of his way to tackle the latter.

He may even go out of his way thereafter to become the champion of other weaker or more timid youngsters, partly as an outlet for this new rage that has replaced his old-time fear.

Sometimes an intense and prolonged fear, as in Jack's case, will thus actually induce a permanent disdain for the formerly feared object.

Santa Asked To Help Girl Find Lost Pet

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Little Susan Miller has written to Santa Claus asking him for help in finding the family's lost dog.

Susan, writing as only a little girl can write, explained to Santa that the 19 children in her family are "all very sad" that Spot has been missing three weeks.

Susan's letter, the first received for Santa Claus at the post office here, asked his help even if the children do not get any toys.

Lake Monroe Jottings . . .

Mr. E. L. Adams
 Newly. A pleasant Thanksgiving Day to all of you. I hope that it was a very nice one for you. Guess everyone is out of fall by now. I bet there were a lot of wishes made today with the wishbone. Hope everyone made wishes. . . . What about all those hunters bringing home the "beaver"? Lucky Buddy Hawkins got himself a deer on opening day. Pat Goble killed a 17 pound turkey and lots of hunters got squirrels. I wonder what Pat Goble thought when he came upon that grizzly (is that what it is)? Roy Wilson also got a deer. The game must be plentiful this year. . . . This is vacation time for my better half and that is how he spends it "up the river" at his camp. He has had O. M. Mann and some of Orlando up there with him for several days. Now his brother Al is down there with him. . . . Happy Birthday to our Bob and to Steve Swagerty, both 18 today. . . . Mrs. Albert Morris is ill at her home across from the Postoffice. Get well quick. . . . The W. H. Almonds spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Orange Park with their son Paul and his family. Their daughter Elizabeth is here from Athens,

Ga., for the holidays. . . . Steve Hawkins spent the past weekend in Jacksonville with his sister Marie Patrick and family. . . . Former Mayor's Mary Helen Bell and brother her arm. Don't know how long she will have to wear a cast. . . . The M.M. McKendree both celebrated their birthdays last Sunday at their home by having all of their six children with them for the day. They had a big birthday dinner and I had a big gabfest afterwards. Mr. McKendree was 70 years young and Mrs. McKendree 72 years young. . . . So very sorry to hear of Billy Bell being injured in an accident. I wish him a speedy recovery. Right at the present time I understand that he is unable to receive visitors. His schoolmates will have to wait and see him later. . . . Several of the school bus drivers came over Tuesday morning and we enjoyed doughnuts and coffee. They brought me a pair of jumps that are just simply beautiful. They are made on the old timey design of white milk glass with the old fashion lamp shade effect. I am so very proud of them. So sorry that several of the drivers could not come because of illness. Those who did come were Lynn Giles,

Dean Coleman, Clara Matthews, Grace Edwards, Ruth Carson, George Carpenter, Ellen Downey, Jessie Mann, Mary Downey, Audrey Roberts and an old bus driver Sammie Lee Kool. We were very glad to see Sammie and we miss her very much. . . . So very sorry that Olga Hunter's mother continues to be ill. We wish her a speedy recovery also. . . . This will be a long weekend for the kids as no school tomorrow either. Several of the boys said they were going on a camping trip. Hope they will be careful. . . . Have had several inquiries concerning the proposed fire department out here. But have not heard from Mr. Ruby so I could not tell them anything. Sure hope he has found out something and will soon let us know. . . . Mrs. Edith Wise and Mrs. C. E. Giles left Sunday to spend a few weeks in Miami with relatives. . . . Now that I am a little "closer in" to Sanford I can cover a little more territory so can take news from those on Grapeville, Jewett Lane, Beaver Road, West First St., Riverview, Narcessos and the others that I do not know the same of the streets. Call me at FA 2-4723 and I will be glad to get your news. If I don't answer try again a little later as it might be the time for a school bus run. But be sure and let me hear from you. . . . Again hoping that everyone had a wonderful Thanksgiving Day I will close with these thoughts SPEAK TO PEOPLE—There is nothing as nice as a cheerful word of greeting. SMILE AT PEOPLE—It takes 12 muscles to frown, only 14 to smile. BE ALERT TO SERVICE—What counts in life is what we do for others.

Build Nursing Home, Avery To Tell Board

A proposal will be made by County Commissioner James P. Avery Jr., that the county build a nursing home and lease it to a private operator with the county as a favored client.

Avery pointed out that under the present Federal and State welfare programs it won't be long before every aged person has income of some sort, and he says the time when the elderly will appeal to the county for care because of complete indigence is almost a thing of the past.

He pointed out that a year ago he submitted a proposal containing four suggestions for the county home. One was that the present facility be repaired and brought up to the minimum standard for such facilities in the state. Another suggestion was that a new facility be built to provide the same care as the present installation provides.

Indian Army Front Quiet

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The Indian army is still patrolling and still "in contact" with the Chinese along the cease-fire line established by the Communists on the northeast frontier, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

The spokesman refused to say whether there was any shooting by the Indian patrols, continuing the policy of not revealing the Indian stand on the cease-fire.

But it was apparent that the uneasy truce put into effect by Peking Wednesday still stood as United States and British fact-finding missions arranged defense aid talks with Indian officials.

Communist China, in a Peking Radio broadcast heard in Tokyo, charged that two Indian air force planes took "provocative action" over Communist positions Thursday in the western sector of the border, but said the Chinese did not fire on the planes "in accordance with their orders to cease fire."

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru avoided taking a stand on the Chinese cease-fire offer of talks, but it was apparent that India as well as Chinese troops were observing the truce. Nehru warned in a speech Thursday night, however, that "the war with China will be a long, drawn-out affair and it may take years."

Nehru today told parliament there had been no firing and no movement, either to retreat or advance, by Chinese forces since the proclamation of the cease-fire. But he still left unanswered whether Indian forces have been ordered to hold their fire.

Lockheed, Union Talks Back On

BURBANK, Calif. (UPI)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and the International Association of Machinists resumed negotiations today in a last-ditch effort to avert a strike scheduled for Wednesday.

However, each side held little hope for a settlement since neither appeared ready to concede to the other on the key issue of the contract talks—a union shop clause.

Robert R. Simpson, I.A.M. coordinator in the negotiations, warned "the strikes will not be postponed" against the giant aerospace firm, prime contractor for the Polaris submarine missile.

Some 35,000 workers of two of the company's divisions—Lockheed-California Co. and Lockheed Missiles and Space Co.—are involved in the threatened strike.

The move against the two companies becomes effective Jan. 2, 1963. It is the latest in a series of punishments ordered for the Jacksonville firms.

Home Builders Up-In-Arms Over Kennedy Ruling

A survey of Sanford and county homebuilders and realtors revealed today that the local arm of the industry is in an uproar over the recent ruling by President Kennedy that there will be no more discrimination in the sale of homes and multiple dwelling units financed or guaranteed by Federal funds.

One realtor who has over three dozen homes currently on the market under FHA financing says that under the new ruling they are powerless to interfere with the integration of new-home communities.

The indication given by most of the builders interviewed was that there would have to be a serious cutback in the construction of new single family developments and multiple dwelling units in Seminole County.

It was pointed out that the ruling affects any home financing agency that depends on any kind of Federal aid, whether in the form of direct loans or guarantees or backing of any kind. This applies to the currently building luxury apartment structures and cooperative apartment units.

Another realtor said Seminole County is in a particularly precarious situation because of the mushrooming developments in the area which are affected. It will, he declared, call for a great deal of care in handling the negotiations, but actually the builder is powerless if he depends on government funds for his construction.

All agreed that this will do much for the non-government backed conventional mortgage companies operating without Federal guarantees.

Bandits Grab Over $50,000 In KC Holdup

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI)—A gang of bandits wearing black hoods obtained $50,770 in cash in a daylight holdup today at the Armour meat packing plant here.

Police said the apparently well-planned robbery required only a few minutes.

The money was to be used by the Armour credit union in its operations today.

William M. Gilliam, credit union manager, and a Pinkerton guard, Louis Leimen, obtained the cash at the nearby Kaw Valley State Bank. Gilliam said they left the front door of the bank and walked about 100 feet to a side door at the Armour plant. As they entered, they noticed another Pinkerton guard, John Holzapfel, lying on the floor.

When they started toward the prostrate guard, they were surrounded by three or four hooded men, Gilliam said. One of them threatened him with a pistol and whispered, "Let's have it."

He removed the canvas bag from Gilliam's shoulder. Then one of the bandits fired from eight feet at Leimen, but missed. Police said the gun may have contained a blank cartridge, as there was no evidence of a bullet.

Although the two guards ran outside a few seconds behind the bandits, they did not see how they escaped.

Hitler's Plan Coming True?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A West German rabbi predicts that Hitler's plan for a Germany without Jews will be virtually true within the next two or three decades.

The prediction was based on the age division of the Jewish population in Germany and the "adamant refusal of a large majority of German Jews to accept Judaism as a way of life."

The forecast was made by Rabbi Hans I. Grunewald, spiritual leader of the Jewish community in Hamburg, at the biennial convention of the Union of Orthodox Congregations of America.

SAO TOMÉ, Portuguese West Africa (UPI)—A Portuguese air force transport exploded shortly after taking off from this equatorial island off West Africa today, killing 18 of the 23 persons aboard.

Authorities said the dead included servicemen and six women entertainers who apparently were on service leave for shows in Portuguese Angola farther to the south of the mainland.

Airport authorities said the U. S.-built C-54 transport took off shortly before 3 a. m. on the next leg of its long flight from the Angola capital of Luanda to Lisbon.

Fourteen survived, including a badly injured policeman whose young daughter was among the victims.

UN Protests Yank Killing

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—The United Nations Commission on Human Rights (UNCHR) will probably lodge a formal protest early next week over the killing of an American soldier at the edge of the Korean demilitarized zone, an informed source said today.

Game Ends In Fist-Swinging Brawl

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A high school football championship game in the nation's capital, witnessed by a record crowd, ended Thursday in a fist-swinging brawl between players, fans, and police.

Police said at least 23 persons were injured and nine others were arrested. With a crowd of 10,000 persons jammed into the new District of Columbia stadium, the brawl erupted during a game between St. John's of the Catholic League and Eastern High School. St. John's won the game 20-7. An on-field fight among the players set the stage for a battle between the fans.

Thousands of students poured out of the Eastern stands and crossed to the St. John's side of the stadium. Fights broke out and spread outside the stadium to the parking lots, police said.

One hundred policemen were called out to handle the disorder, but it took more than an hour to restore calm.

One policeman was struck on the head and dazed while trying to disperse a crowd of 1,000.

Police said chair legs as well as pipes were used in the fights outside the stadium.

The game was a routine battle between two traditional rivals until six minutes before the end, when an Eastern tackle, ejected for roughness, ran back on to the field and began pummeling St. John's players.

When the game ended, fights between spectators began in the ramps leading to the exits and then spread to the grounds outside.
