All Aboard The Safety Express

Steam Train Schedules Excursions

JACKSONVILLE — A 400-ton steam locomotive and its passenger train is in Florida to help promote rail-highway grade crossing safety. A. Paul Fankhauser, president and chief executive officer, Family Lines Rail System, announced today.

Billed as the "Safety Express," the special train will be operated by the Family Lines Rail System during the latter part of February and early March as part of the nationwide "Operation 1000" program, which is sponsored by National Safety Council and the railroad industry.

The excursions are being jointly sponsored by the Family Lines Rail System and the National Railway Historical Society, which has chapters in several Florida cities, including Tampa and Miami. Trips from Miami will also be co-sponsored by the Gold Coast Railroad Museum.

Ferry trips conveying the train between major cities will be operated as follows:

Feb. 23, from Tampa to Miami, with stops at Lakeland, Auburndale, Winter Haven, Sebring, Okeechobee, West Palm Beach and Ft. Lauderdale; March 2, from Miami to Naval Training Annex (McCoy Air Force Base), near Orlando, with stops at Ft. Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, Okeechobee, Sebring, Winter Haven, Auburndale and Haines City; March 9, from Church Street, Orlando to Jacksonville, with stops at Winter Park, Sanford, DeLand and Palatka.

Schedules will be coordinated with regular Amtrak passenger train service to offer passengers a full round trip from many points. The excursions and ferry trips will be open to the public.

Of special interest to those persons living in the greater Orlando area and surrounding vicinity, will be a trip on Saturday, March 7. This engine will pull the Family Lines Rail System's Safety Express from Orlando's Church Street Station to Tampa's historic Ybor City where patrons will enjoy a lunch of Spanish Bean Soup and a Cuban Sandwich; after the lunch the train patrons will return to Orlando on the train.

On Sunday, March 8, the train will carry passengers on a round trip excursion from historic Church Street Station to Palatka with a Bar-B-Que dinner at Palatka. For those who ride on the train, this engine and its vintage equipment is recreating railroad as it existed during the first 50 years of this century. Then, on March 14-15, it will operate from Jacksonville to Savannah, Ga., and return both days.

Tickets for the Orlando trips may be purchased from the National Railway Historical Society, Tampa Bay Chapter, P.O. Box 4034, Clearwater, Florida 33516, or by over-the-counter sales at Church Street Station, 129 West Church St., Orlando, DeWitt's Railroads, 857 South Orlando, Winter Park, or Southern Model Railroad, 1206 East Colonial Drive, Orlando.

Primary message of the "Safety Express" is portrayed by displays contained in a special "safety center" car in the train's consist.

Other cars in the 750-seat, 19-car train are geared for family fun and include open-window coaches, a food-service-gift shop car, tape-recording car and parlor and observation-lounge cars.

A massive 4-8-4 type former Chesapeake & Ohio Railway steam locomotive, No. 614, will pull the "Safety Express." Built in 1948 to power such crack C&O limiteds as "George Washington" and "Sportsman," the big engine has been on static display at the Chessee's rail museum in Baltimore. Last fall, it was extensively overhauled to pull excursion trains in the Northeast over Chessee System railroads.

Fewer First-Time Home Buyers Now

The percentage of home buyers entering the housing market for the first time has declined from nearly half the market in 1977 to less than one-third in 1980, reports the Family Housing Bureau, a public information service of Chicago Title Insurance Company, in its fifth annual national survey of recent home buyers.

In 1980, first-time buyers represented 32.9 percent of the market, compared to 48.1 percent in 1977, the peak year studied. As inflation mounted in 1978 the percentage of first-time buyers dropped to 36.7 percent and held steady at 36.6 percent in 1979.

Those first-time buyers who did enter the housing market in 1980 paid significantly more for a home than their counterparts in past years, and obligated themselves for substantially higher mortgage payments, the survey said.

The median price of a home purchased by a first-time buyer was $61,450 in 1980, compared to $50,800 in 1979. The average monthly payment was $358, up from $421 in 1979.

As part of a trend that began in 1979, first-time buyers relied more on relatives for help in making the down payment on their homes. And a greater percentage received half or more of the down payment from these sources in 1980.

In 1977, 73.6 percent of first-time buyers came up with the down payment entirely from their own savings and investments. By 1980, this total was down to 51.1 percent.

The percentage of first-time buyers receiving help from relatives in making the down payment was 32.6 percent in both 1979 and 1980, compared to 14.3 percent in 1977 and 8.7 percent in 1978. However, in 1980, 25.2 percent of first-time buyers received half or more of the down payment from relatives vs. 15.2 percent in 1979 and 6.8 percent in 1978.

Latin Chamber's Goal: A Role In Development

By JOE DESANTIS
Herald Staff Writer
Central Florida and the eighties. EPICOT and Little England. A new airport for Orlando, and continued business and population growth.

A slice of sunbelt prosperity. All clear indications that over the next two decades, Central Florida will take on a truly international flavor. A modern day melting pot for the wide variety of ethnic factions which call it home.

That's the premise of Altamonte Springs resident Manuel Toro, president of the fledgling Central Florida Latin American Chamber of Commerce Inc.

Comprised of more than 100 members consisting of doctors, lawyers, civic leaders and businessmen of Hispanic heritage, the year-old organization's goals are many.

"We have to face reality," explained chamber president Toro from his McCoy Jelpet office.

"There are several growing Latin communities in this area, we want to serve in as many ways as we can as a go-between between the American and Latin communities.

The Latin Chamber's centerpiece of those efforts will come later this year, in October, when the organization stages Hispanic Week beginning Oct. 9.

Activities will be held at several Central Florida locations and will include activities ranging from parades to folk ballets to business meetings with Orlando mayor Bill Frederick as well as a host of other activities.

Toro says the chamber is strongly concerned about informing the Latin community in Central Florida of its services, and is concerned over the Hispanic image many Central Floridians have due to the influx of thousands of refugees from Cuba and other Latin American Countries.

"Twelve percent of the tourism market comes from Europe, the rest from all over, but 77 percent of tourism dollars come from Latin American countries," Toro says.

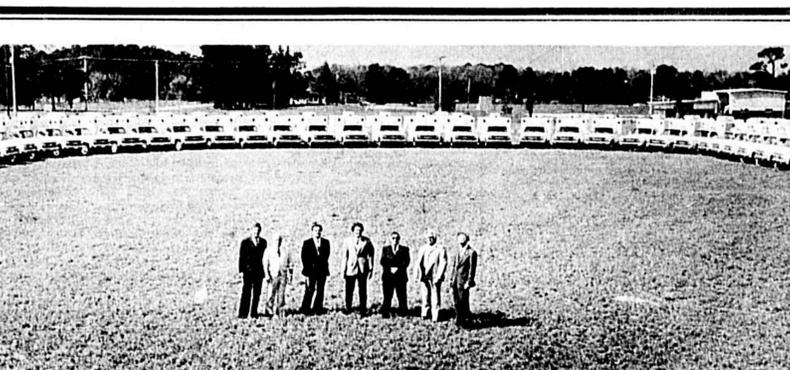

"Most of Florida's trade is handled from Miami, but we in Central Florida are geared to becoming an international area in the future."

FLINT, Mich. (UPI) — Thousands of angry auto workers are claiming up to 99 dependents each or refusing to file income tax withholding forms at all in a growing tax revolt that the Internal Revenue Service is finding nearly impossible to stop.

The grass roots movement has spread in and around auto plants from Flint to Detroit. Most protesters are employed by General Motors Corp. and many are white-collar workers.

Leonard Nawrocki, IRS manager of criminal investigations in Flint, Sunday estimated at least 3,500 workers are falsifying their tax forms or not filing at all. The number of protesters, he said, is growing.

"This is the biggest, or at least one of the biggest, tax protest movements in the country," said Nawrocki. Some workers, he said, file a federal withholding form used by low-income workers who don't earn enough to pay income

Inflation Under 5% Possible In 4 Years'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Budget director David Stockman says the United States should be able to pull inflation down below 5 percent in the next four years if President Reagan's economic program is adopted fully.

He also announced the administration is considering a temporary gasoline tax boost of "1 or 2 cents" that states could use for highway costs.

Stockman was one of three top administration officials who in separate Sunday television interviews defended Reagan's economic plan and said it would help revive the economy.

"The inflation rate will come down," said Treasury Secretary Donald Regan on NBC's "Meet the Press."

"If the program is passed promptly and wholly, you'll see evidence (it is working) by the end of the year," he said. Stockman, appearing on CBS' "Face the Nation," defended the administration as "not that optimistic" in forecasting 4 percent annual growth.

"Getting inflation down below 5 percent in the next four years shouldn't be that extraordinary," he said. "We should be able to achieve that if the entire plan is put into place and supported by Congress."

"What is required is a break with the past," said presidential counselor Edwin Meese on ABC's "Issues and Answers." "That is why the total package is so important and why we can't take one part out or diminish another without damaging the total."

Stockman, architect of the $14.4 billion in budget cuts Reagan has recommended, dismissed protests the tax cuts favor the rich.

"I don't think it's relevant to say, 'Well, does that occur in the $100,000 class, the $50,000 class or the $20,000 class?' We can't fine tune to that degree."

Stockman also said more budget cuts will be unveiled March 19. "Tobacco subsidies and all the remainder of the farm subsidies are being very carefully evaluated," he said. "On March 10, we will have proposals to save literally billions of dollars over the next four years in those areas."

He declined to provide details or state definitely that tobacco subsidies would be included in the cuts. Sunday Stockman gave the National Governors' Association a peek at an "idea under consideration" — the temporary federal gasoline tax boost worth an estimated $1 billion for each penny of increase.

Stockman told the governors at their winter meeting the proposal to add "1 or 2 cents" to the per-gallon gasoline tax for several years would allow the states to "preempt" the federal revenues and use them to offset cuts in payments from the Highway Trust Fund.

He said the idea was "in the discussion stage" at the White House. Regan sounded another theme of the new administration — that taxes should not be used to redistribute the nation's wealth.

"Our tax program is not designed to change society," Regan said. "It is designed to put more money back into the family budget and not the federal budget."

"We are optimistic that we will get the total package, although, perhaps not in the exact form as requested," said Meese.

Orlando Child Is Still Missing

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Police officers say they'll keep looking today for an 8-year-old schoolgirl who disappeared Friday — perhaps in the green and white car of a stranger who said he would take her to a birthday party.

Dozens of deputies combed the woods behind Brook Lake Elementary School Sunday, but came up empty-handed in their search for Tshwanda Rene Leacock who was to celebrate her eighth birthday the afternoon she disappeared.

"All we really know is she normally rides a bus home from school, she missed the bus and she was last seen at the school," said Terry Tressler, spokesman for the Orange County Sheriff's Department.

Ms. Tressler said schoolmates interviewed by detectives tell conflicting stories about what happened to the girl.

Some say Tshwanda ran back to the schoolyard to get her books and missed the bus, others say she hopped into a green-and-white car with a man who told her he was going to take her to a birthday party.

The latter explanation has led to inevitable comparisons with the disappearance of 20 black children in Atlanta, but Ms. Tressler said it is far too early to draw conclusions.

County To Ask State Aid For Libraries

Seminole County Commissioners Tuesday will adopt a resolution calling on the Florida Legislature to provide the funding to the county's library system that it promised by state law. The commission meeting begins at 9:30 a.m.

The law—Chapter 257-17—calls for the state to grant to county library systems 25 cents for every $1 spent locally.

Although Seminole spent $531,014 on its library system during the base fiscal year of 1978-79 and was qualified to receive $132,754 in state grants, it received recently only $58,345.

Of Florida's 67 counties, 54 counties are eligible to receive the state financial assistance, according to Secretary of State Firestone.

"The $3.7 million the 54 counties are sharing is only a fraction of the amount they are eligible to receive under Florida's state aid to libraries law," Firestone said.

Of the money awarded to each county, Firestone said, most will be used to purchase books and materials, develop library branches, purchase or operate bookmobiles and for programming.

The county commission's resolution directed to the Legislature and Gov. Bob Graham notes the Seminole County library system is seeking to

Trip Cost $520...And Wife

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A man who decided to take a taxi cab to Chicago because his car broke down and he missed a bus, finally arrived at his destination, but he had to pay $520 and listen to his wife grieve all the way.

Tracy Sandifer, who drives a taxi for the Yellow Cab company, said he agreed to drive the couple from Kansas City to Chicago for $520. Train tickets would have been only $115. But the man was in a hurry.

"He didn't want to wait for the next bus," Sandifer said. "He didn't want to fly. His car had broken down on the way here. I don't know why he did it."

Standifer says he didn't know his passengers' names because the man was being lambasted by his wife for the entire trip, made on Valentine's Day.

"She was working on him all the way," the cabbie said. "She raised hell every inch of the way to Chicago. She said she was going to leave him. She said she didn't want to spend any more time with a guy who would spend $520 on a cab."

The county commission's resolution directed to the Legislature and Gov. Bob Graham notes the Seminole County library system is seeking to construct branch facilities to meet county needs. During a public hearing at 7 p.m., the commission will consider whether to seek legislation amending the Seminole County Comprehensive Planning Act of 1974 to delete a requirement that four out of five commissioners must vote for a specific amendment to the land use portion of the plan before such an amendment may be adopted.

An advisory committee, appointed by the county commissioners, has urged that the requirement be changed from a four-fifths majority to three-fifths. The requirement is included in special law adopted for Seminole County only. It pre-empted state law which calls for a three-fifths vote.

The majority of the county commissioners are evenly split on the issue with Commission Chairman Bob Sturn "leaning" toward retaining the four-fifths vote and Commissioner Bill Kirchoff supporting retaining the four positive votes. Commissioners Barbara Christensen and Robert Feather, meanwhile, favor a change to a three-fifths vote. Commissioner Sandra Glenn says she hasn't made up her mind and prefers to wait to do so until after receiving input from the public.—DONNA ESTES

Cold War Or Detente?

The Reagan administration could not have raised a more pertinent issue in the current war of words with Moscow than the 1972 Nixon-Brezhnev agreement setting forth a code of conduct for detente.

Even a casual reading of the so-called "Basic Principles" agreement must resolve any doubt that the Soviets have repeatedly and systematically violated the fundamental rules of detente.

A complete list of these violations would exceed the scope of this commentary, but just a few salient examples. The crucial second principle pledges both superpowers to refrain from seeking "unilateral advantage at the expense of the other, directly or indirectly..." Yet, Soviet or Soviet-sponsored proxy forces have been actively undermining pro-Western or neutral states in Indochina, Southwest Asia, the Middle East, Africa, the Caribbean, and Central America virtually since the day the Basic Principles agreement was signed.

In the process, Moscow and its allies have succeeded in extending the sphere of Soviet influence far beyond its historical limits, including those existing in 1972. Several of the incidents explored in detail at Donovan's January confirmation hearings are so disturbing that an objective observer can only conclude that the Senate decided to give pro forma approval to President Reagan's nomination rather than seriously consider the case on its merits.

Those incidents involve the Schiavone Construction Co. of Secaucus, N.J., a firm that Donovan and Raymond Schiavone, the company's president, founded 22 years ago. One of the two principal stockholders in the enterprise, Donovan has been its executive vice president since 1959.

One case involves a successful attempt in late 1977 by a New York City local of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters to place a "ghost employee" (one who performs no work but nevertheless drew a salary) on the Schiavone Construction Co. payroll.

Approximately one year later, the Justice Department subpoenaed three of the company's employees and its records as part of an investigation into efforts by the union to extort money from various firms through such schemes.

Among those called to testify before a federal grand jury was Joseph Di Carolis, senior vice president of the company. "He is my friend of 20 years," Donovan told the Senate committee. "His office is adjacent to mine."

But in an explanation that defies credulity, Donovan testified that Di Carolis failed to even mention the affair to both of his bosses, company president Schiavone and executive vice president Donovan.

Donovan testified that he "was totally unaware of it" before being apprised of the events by the Senate committee. "Even more unamusing is another incident involving the activities of Irving Kantor, a New Jersey businessman who created a phony company, the Kantor Supply Co., on behalf of another man, Joseph Biancone.

In court testimony during a 1970 federal trial, Kantor said the dummy corporation was established as a money-laundering operation to issue fictitious invoices to various companies as a device to collect money from them. Biancone "said certain contractors had to pay cash to his boss," Kantor testified. The boss was Anthony "Tony Boy" Bolardo, identified during Donovan's confirmation hearings as "an organized-crime figure."

It's A Matter Of Integrity

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The most surprising element in the continuing saga of Labor Secretary Raymond J. Donovan is not the persistence of allegations about his business background but rather how the Senate ever approved his selection.

While the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee considers the most recent charges of collusion between organized-crime figures and Donovan's former company, the public ought to know more about the material already on the record.

Several of the incidents explored in detail at Donovan's January confirmation hearings are so disturbing that an objective observer can only conclude that the Senate decided to give pro forma approval to President Reagan's nomination rather than seriously consider the case on its merits.

The State Association of County Commissioners at its meeting in Orlando during the past week considered the question of annexations by cities.

Seminole County commissioners for years have fought any attempt by the cities in the county to annex pockets of territory, completely surrounded by the cities, unless a referendum is held.

The state law on pocket annexation requires that approval be given by both the city residents and the residents of the pockets which the city wants to annex.

The state association went on record endorsing the concept of the pocket dwellers being assured their right to disapprove of an annexation. The state association then went further. In its policy statement it also supports annexation law changes to provide that "municipalities cannot avoid annexation of enclaves approved by residents of the enclaves."

Even though residents of cities vote for county commissioners, under the state association policy they should not have the same right to reject annexation of any territory they do not wish to have become part of their city. Included in the state organization's legislative package is a section called "Functional Transfer."

It states that the State Association of County Commissioners (SACC) supports "either a constitutional amendment or statutory legislation that recognizes the need to provide for a transfer of function from municipal to county level by a simple majority of county residents."

Apparently again, SACC would deny city residents the right to vote on the issue. Among the other items supported by the SACC are:

—Legislation to permit counties, at their option, to join retirement systems other than the Florida Retirement System if improvements in the management and investment policies of the state system do not occur.

—Legislation that recognizes the medical examiner program as a state-mandated function that should be fully funded by the state. In lieu of full state funding, SACC asks that the current method with 75 percent local money and 25 percent state money be reversed. —Legislation requiring state courts administrator to pay for medical expenses connected with an examination of any sexual battery victim.

—The granting of eminent domain power to the state for the purpose of acquiring environmentally endangered land that has been approved by the Cabinet for purchase by the Department of Natural Resources.

—Endorses legislative action to revise state law to remove the exemption for new or expanded pari-mutuel capital facilities from local home rule regulatory authority.

—Removal of the sales tax exemption on motor fuel with the additional revenues to be distributed 50 percent to the counties and 50 percent to be shared by the state and municipal governments.

As a means of property tax relief, the transfer of judiciary system costs back to the state for items such as court reporters, bailiffs' salaries, special public defenders, private investigators, expert witness fees and court facilities.

Soviets Challenge Reagan

The skies are darkening over Poland. With Soviet and Cuban arms flowing over its borders, El Salvador is reverting to something like Hobbes's state of nature, in which life is solitary, nasty, brutish and short.

These define the first brazen challenges issued by the Soviets to the new administration in Washington. In effect, the Kremlin is telling Reagan to put up or shut up. Much can be done to counter this Soviet behavior. For too long the thought that war is "unthinkable" has exerted a paralyzing effect on the willingness of the West to play political hardball.

The primary requirement is to recover our psychological freedom of action. It is not beyond human ingenuity to come up with measures that will exact a very high price for Soviet behavior in Poland and in and around the Caribbean.

To do this, we must of course ignore the counsels of paralysis, no matter how beguiling — such as Anthony Lewis of the New York Times, who wrote as follows in his Dec. 15 column:

"If the Soviets move, how should the West respond? The first necessity is not to take this as a routine step or that but, whatever we do, to act together. Marshall Shulman, until recently the advisor on Soviet affairs to the Secretary of State, put it on 'Meet the Press' that the aim must be 'not to let any daylight show between the United States and its European allies.'"

If there is to be an effective response to the Soviets, we will have to make it. Here are a few very "thinkable" measures that could be taken. 1. We could embark on a campaign of massive aid to all who take up arms against

SCIENCE WORLD Shuttle Arm Built In Canada

By LORRAINE GANE TORONTO (UPI) — Canada has turned over to the United States a 56-foot robot space arm with joints resembling those of a human shoulder, elbow and wrist for use on the new space shuttle rocket plane.

The sophisticated manipulator system is scheduled to be tested on the second flight of the shuttle Columbia, now scheduled for August. The arm will be used to move satellites out of the shuttle's 60-foot cargo hold to be deployed in orbit and it will be used to reach out and retrieve satellites to be brought back to Earth for repairs or modifications.

It will be operated by remote control by an astronaut working in the pressurized shuttle cabin. The operator will use two hand controllers to issue commands which are instantly transformed by computer into a coordinated stream of signals to all the system's components.

The arm bends at its elbow, poises, and then reaches for a target which it grasps. In weightless space, the arm can maneuver a load as big and massive as a bus. The arm has a coating of thermal blankets to protect it from temperature extremes. A television camera allows the astronaut to watch the operation and six floodlights will illuminate shrouded objects.

According to test results, the arm has a lifetime of 100 missions or 10 years. Under a joint U.S.-Canada agreement, a three company consortium led by Spar Aerospace Ltd. spent seven years designing and developing the device. Canada paid the $100 million development cost.

Spar signed a $74 million contract with NASA to build three of the arms. The first arm was turned over to NASA Feb. 11 and Science and Technology Minister John Roberts said the device was "the single most important space project which Canada has undertaken."

Its development, he said, provided a successful foundation for continued efforts in space and the government soon would assess how "to give us an even better thrust in the future."

NASA acting administrator Alan M. Lovelace said the Canadian device would be valuable because its "control system is very much at the forefront in technology in that area." Further purchases of the arm were possible, he said.

NASA approached Canada to join in the shuttle program in the early 1970s. An industrial team including Spar engineers began working on the arm concept and the National Research Council issue a contract with the firm to develop the device.

In an interview, Dr. Art Hunter, who headed NRC's involvement in the project, said development costs will be recovered by "developing a technology where it didn't exist before."

The importance of the technology, he said, lay in its application to environments hostile to man.

currently underway... appear if simultaneously the deployment of neutron weapons was forced?" he asked. He answered: "Not much would be left of people's trust in solving the problem of disarmament, and in the success of ongoing negotiations. Moreover, the negotiations themselves, at least in some cases, would face the threat of being broken off."

Finally, Brezhnev warned that the United States could not hope to maintain its monopoly on the neutron bomb. He wrote that "if the choice of the United States is in favor of the neutron bomb, this will put the Soviet Union before the necessity to meet the challenge, that is to act in the same way as we were forced to act when atomic weapons came into being."

The letter was signed, "Sincerely, L. Brezhnev." Three months later, after West Germany had reluctantly agreed to deploy the weapon, Carter surprisingly reversed himself and called off the neutron bomb. The SALT II negotiations continued, and a treaty was signed in June 1978. The Reagan administration has shown no inclination to revive the SALT II talks, and is now proposing to go ahead with the neutron bomb.

Voltoline Jolts Lyman With :07 Goal As Seminole Captures District Soccer

Sanford Meets Evans At Brantley Tuesday

By BENTON WOOD Herald Sports Writer

Lyman had Chuck Russakov's Seminole soccer crew stymied for 73 minutes Saturday night in the 4A-9 finals.

But Russakov turned loose Jim Voltoline, and the burly senior booted two goals in the final seven minutes as the Tribe captured the district crown 2-1 over the defending champion Greyhounds.

With the 'Hounds holding all-conference forward John Jane at bay, Russakov moved Voltoline to the front with 15 minutes left and dropped Jane back to midfield.

"Nothing was happening so I moved our fastest guy up front," Russakov said of the speedy Voltoline. "He came up with the two big plays that won it."

The first big play came with 7:09 in the contest when Voltoline sped down field and booted the tying goal past Lyman goalie Carl Quisenberry.

Voltoline headed a deflected shot past Quisenberry with just seven seconds to play as the ball barely rolled in the goal for the winning score.

"We had it under control until the final seven minutes," losing coach John Stone said. "But we had a good year. At the beginning of the season we didn't expect to come this far."

But it would be the lone goal past Reno all night. The senior goalie thwarted 14 Greyhound shots on goal.

"John (Stone) and I talked during the week, and we agreed that it would be their offense against our defense," Russakov said. "They controlled midfield most of the night."

Lyman finished its season at 13-5-1. The 'Hounds knocked off Seminole at home earlier in the season 2-0, but the Tribe got revenge Saturday night.

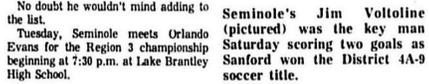

Sanford upped its mark to 13-6-1.

Region III Tuesday 7:30 p.m. Lake Brantley

For Russakov, it is the second major championship in his soccer coaching career. In the 1975 at Coral Gables Russakov guided the 4A power to the state title.

No doubt he wouldn't mind adding to the list. Tuesday, Seminole meets Orlando Evans for the Region 3 championship beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Lake Brantley High School.

Seminole's Jim Voltoline (pictured) was the key man Saturday scoring two goals as Sanford won the District 4A-9 soccer title.

Barrett Still Undefeated Champion

Greyhounds Grab Region Title

By SAM COOK Herald Sports Editor

"We whipped up an everybody." That wasn't any lion tamer talking. It was Lyman's 159-pound wrestler Terry Barrett relaying the conquest of the Greyhounds in the weekend's Region III tournament at Palm Beach Community College in Lake Worth.

Advancing six grapplers to this weekend's state meet in Longwood, Lyman captured the championship 113½ to 105½ over Martin County.

"Our kids wrestled out of their heads. Above their ability," said a still excited Coach Skip Pletzer Sunday evening. "Martin County was a tough team to beat. I'm really proud of our guys. They were 110 per centers."

Lyman grabbed one first, three seconds, a third and a fourth. Lake Brantley also made a strong showing, finishing fifth with a first, one third and two fourths.

Lyman 113½
Martin County 105½
Plantation 96
Merritt Island 74½
Lake Brantley, 69½

Seminole, who lost 109-pound Willie Jones first in the quarter finals and for good in the second wrestle back, scored 11 points. Lake Howell, who had 130-pound Tony Perry, qualify for state with a fourth, tallied 10.

Seminole's other best hopeful, Senior Chip Roll, lost a tough 8-7 decision to Ft.

Lake Brantley's Jeff Horn (left) grapples with Lyman's Glenn Newman in district. Horn won this matchup, but Newman fared better in the Region 3 by taking second place. Horn took third as Seminole County advanced 11 wrestlers to the state meet Friday in Longwood.

Lauderdale's Kyle Lunderman. The aforementioned Barrett was the main whip cracker for Lyman. The tenacious senior secured his second straight regional title and kept his record unblemished at 23-0 with four victories.

In the finals, Merritt Island's Marshall Irbly took Barrett into overtime before the Lyman senior escaped and used a double leg to take a 3-0 edge. Irbly picked up his point for Barrett locking hands for a 3-1 belt clincher.

"Terry wrestled very conservative," said Pletzer. "It was an important match, but he probably could have beaten him worse."

Irbly jumped ahead 2-0 in the first period on a hip toss, but Barrett retaliated with back points in period two. The third session was a stalemate forcing overtime.

"He (Irbly) was the toughest guy I've wrestled so far," said the blond-haired senior. "But I won't meet him until the finals in state, if we meet again, which would be fine with me."

Barrett's teammate David Henley finally broke a two-year region jinx by finishing third, but it didn't come easy, or without controversy or without forfeits.

Henley (130), a three-time district winner, walloped Ft. Pierce's Phil Robinson 14-1 in round one. In round two, he was losing 4-3 when he flip flopped Steve Westman of Deerfield Beach to his back.

Breen turned in three excellent matches before falling in the finals. The veteran senior blanked Eau Gallie's Derek Vanderkauf 5-0 in the semis. "Chris made one mistake and that was it," said Pletzer about Breen, who was winning in the finals before being stuck by Brett McCormick of Martin County at 4:48.

Lyman's last state qualifier was Todd Andrew (149). The 'Hound junior was hampered by penalty points in a disqualification loss to MG's Darrell Grope, then blew a 6-0 lead when he was pinned by Boca Raton's Larry Fish.

"Brian didn't wrestle real well and he'll be the first to tell you that," said Pletzer about his Lake Howell transfer. As awesome as the Greyhounds performed, it was a victory by Lake Brantley's Keith Powers in the 149-pound division which made Lyman unreachable.

Powers handled Martin County's Darryl George 7-1 for his first region crown. "Keith wrestled well the whole tournament," said Brantley Coach Kevin Carpenter. "He controlled the match for the title."

champion Ron Ensign 9-7 in the semis. Ensign is 24-0 on the season.

At 136, Brantley's Rich Farmer ran into another champ-to-be and lost 7-6 to John I. Leonard's Chris Graham who is 23-1.

"I swear Rich had him on his back pinned," said Carpenter. "I don't usually get down on the refs, but this was obvious."

The Big Blue's last qualifier was Robin Graham, who Friday turned in the tourney's quickest pin by sticking Twin Lakes' Duane Duke in 10 seconds.

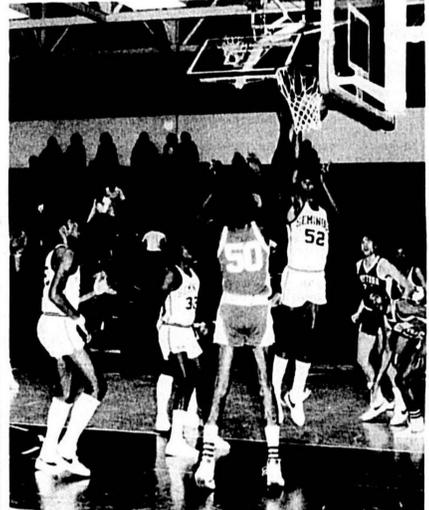

Saturday, however, the burly senior was pinned by Palm Beach Gardens' Ed Grimes in the semis and again by DeLand's Andrew Chavers for the consolation crown. Just last weekend, Graham stuck Chavers.

Another Brantley senior, Mark Peyer turned in two quality performances according to Carpenter. The 123-pounder lost to Boyd Anderson's Algeron (no lie) Hooker 3-2. Hooker later forfeited.

Friday and Saturday the state tournament will be held at the Lyman with Seminole County's largest representation — 11 grapplers — ever to compete.

This is becoming a familiar sight concerning Lyman's Terry Barrett (above). The 159-pounder has had his arm raised 24 consecutive times this year without defeat. Saturday, Barrett won his second straight regional title by whipping Marshall Irbly of Merritt Island 3-1.

Neutron Bomb Quashed After Warning

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Casper Weinberger's recent announcement that the Reagan administration would "very probably" decide to produce the neutron bomb and deploy it in Western Europe created an international furor.

World leaders had thought the neutron bomb issue was defused for good back in April 1978, when Jimmy Carter made the surprising decision to "delay" its deployment. At the time, Carter's turnaround was thought to be based largely on West Germany's reluctance to support the bomb's deployment there.

Another possibility, though, was that Carter backed down on the neutron bomb — which kills people but leaves inanimate objects unscathed and has relatively short-lived radiation effects — because of concern that it would cause the Soviets to break off SALT II negotiations.

A secret message to Carter from Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev lends support to the latter theory. A copy of the Brezhnev letter has been obtained by my associate Dale Van Atta. It was sent on Jan. 8, 1978 — three months before Carter's announced decision to put the neutron bomb in the deep-freezer.

It is a remarkable document, sharply worded and pointedly addressed to Carter personally because, as Brezhnev wrote, "it is no secret that the decision whether to start production and deployment of neutron weapons depends now above all upon the U.S. government, upon you personally, Mr. President."

Noting that the matter was one of "significant acuteness," the Kremlin boss said bluntly: "The seriousness of the subject demands that talk be candid."

He said the Soviet Union's position on deployment of the neutron bomb in Western Europe was "sharply negative." The deployment would not be responsive "to the spirit of the times, to the interest of strengthening peace and detente, to peoples' aspirations."

In a typical burst of Kremlin propaganda style, Brezhnev purported to be moved by the terrible potential for destruction posed by the weapons. "By their nature and their destructive characteristics, neutron weapons can strike not only people wearing military uniforms, but also huge masses of the populations," the future attacker of Afghanistan protested.

"These are inhuman weapons of mass destruction; they are directed against people. Their appearance will not diminish the likelihood of nuclear conflict but enhance it. The reality is that if neutron weapons are ever used, a devastating scythe will sweep across the territories of entire countries, probably not leaving a single inch untouched."

Then the Soviet president issued a not-so-veiled threat: Americans could not expect to escape the "devastating scythe" simply by being thousands of miles away.

"Perhaps some entertain the hope to stay on the sidelines if and when the point is reached that neutron weapons are killing Europeans," Brezhnev wrote. "This calculation is illusory in substance. Today neutron weapons are thought of in connection with one means of delivery, but tomorrow, or the day after, they may be attached to other vehicles of a completely different range — not of hundreds but of thousands of kilometers. Today these weapons have one yield. But tomorrow — it could be ten or a hundred times greater. Such is the law of the arms race..."

Then Brezhnev got around to SALT II. "In what light would the negotiations

Apopka Drops Westside

ORLANDO—The Westside all-stars of Sanford were eliminated from the Florida Junior Boys Basketball League District 4 tournament Saturday by a 36-35 loss to Apopka in the semi-finals.

Westside had advanced to the second round of competition by beating Merritt Island 46-20 Friday night.

The Sanford Junior Boys Basketball League all-stars were defeated 57-30 by Orlando Armory in the opening round of the seven-team tournament.

Westside led Apopka most of the game, but committed some costly turnovers in the final period.

After trailing 7-6 at the end of the first period, Westside took an 18-15 lead in the second period at the half and increased the lead to 27-21 by the end of the third period.

Apopka out-scored Westside 15-4 in the final period.

Dexter Franklin and Terry Miller shared the scoring honors for Westside with eight points apiece. Bryan Debose added six.

Westside had little trouble beating Merritt Island Friday night, with the second team putting in almost as much time on the court as the Westside starters.

Alvin Jones scored 10 points for Westside, while Bryan Brinson, Mike Edwards and Miller each scored eight points.

Sanford managed to stay close to Orlando Armory until the closing seconds of the second period when the Orlando team expanded its lead to 11 points, 27-16. Orlando Armory out-scored Sanford 19-6 in the third period and coasted to the victory.

Albert Albert finished with 16 points for Sanford.

SUTTON WILD

Seminole basketball fans were delicious Friday night when junior forward Lenny Sutton dropped in a basket with just three seconds remaining to beat Mainland 40-38. The victory leveled Bill Payne's Tribe at 14-1, for the season entering Wednesday's district showdown with Lake Howell. Sanford has beaten the Silver Hawks three-or-four times this year, but dropped the last meeting 70-56.

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Darrell Waltrip, truly one of the "good ol' boys" on the NASCAR Grand National circuit, was having himself a "good ol' time" in the Richmond 400 until Richard Petty's orange-and-blue Buick appeared in the rear view mirror.

"That's just what you need after running 380 laps," joked Waltrip, who could afford to laugh a little after winning his first race of the season Sunday and pocketing $100,000 by holding off second-place finisher Ricky Rudd of Chesapeake, Va., and Petty, the Daytona 500 winner.

Waltrip, who only lost the lead briefly after taking it on the 190th lap, easily had the best-working machine on the half-mile Fairgrounds Raceway, speeding his Buick to the finish line in 76.570 mph.

Miss Aldridge Weds Joseph Cavalluzzi

Karen Sue Aldridge and Joseph Cavalluzzi were married Feb. 21, at 2 p.m., at St. Mary Magdalene Church, Maitland. The Rev. Father Robert D. McGuire was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Susan H. Aldridge, Fern Park, and Charles Aldridge, Orlando. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Cavalluzzi, Fern Park.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a white formal gown fashioned along the empire silhouette. The Queen Anne neckline and full Bishop sleeves were lavishly embellished with pearls, iridescents and Alencon lace.

The petal-like skirt of sheer chiffon draped softly into a gentle sweep.

A Juliet cap secured her finger veil of imported illusion which was enhanced with appliques of Alencon lace motifs. She carried a crescent bouquet of white silk roses interspersed with royal blue carnations.

Her bridesmaid was Terri Scott Montgomery, serving the bridegroom as best man. Usher-groomsmen were Guy Cavalluzzi, the bridegroom's brother, and Benny Rios.

The reception was held at the Maitland Civic Center.

After a wedding trip to Denver and Winter Park, Col., the newlyweds will make their home in Winter Park. Both are graduates from the University of Central Florida.

The bride is employed by Dean Winter Reynolds Inc., Winter Park. The bridegroom is a respiratory therapist at Florida Hospital, Orlando.

Families Retreat To Mountains

For years, many Sanford residents have enjoyed the cool mountains of North Carolina during the summer, and in the fall when the leaves have started to turn. For the past few years more and more are buying snowchains and driving up to enjoy the winter scenery and recreation offered in the mountains of N.C.

Mr. and Mrs. B.G. (Bobby and Jackie) Caruthers daughter, Denise, son, Robby, and his wife, Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur (Art and Lois) Mabue, daughter, Marsha; Cheryl Rush and Stephen (Gutter) Parrish traveled in a three-car caravan — complete with C.B. radios to Beech Mountain in North Carolina.

They stayed in a large villa at the Alpine Village on the top of the mountain. There is every form of tourist recreational facilities there: skiing, skating, sledding, tennis, etc.

The younger members had fun skiing, and, according to Jackie, Bobby and Art, enjoyed the sleds, but she and Lois enjoyed the fire!

She said it was very cold and icy the entire week they were there. One night the temperatures dropped to ten degrees below, and the water was run all night to keep the pipes from freezing.

Except for a few falls on the alppery ice, causing a wounded dignity and minor bruises, the group returned to Sanford in A-1 condition and totally in love with the winter scene in North Carolina.

Several members of Mu Alpha Theta, Seminole High School's math honor society, spent the day recently at the Martin-Marletta plant in Orlando. During the morning, there were three 45-minute presentations that featured uses of digital computers which handle Martin's business operations and uses of the analog and hybrid computers which handle the scientific and engineering work.

In another demonstration an engineer drew pictures on a Cathode Ray Tube, using a light pencil and a computer keyboard. After lunch the group viewed a demonstration of both software and hardware in the Pershing Missile System including a re-entry vehicle.

Mrs. Lee K. Davies, the club sponsor, said she was most impressed with the Martin supervisors who were very explicit in telling the students of the availability of jobs and the training necessary to obtain them.

A member of commerce purple martin "Apartment" was donated to the Towers by one of the residents, Frieda Gleiw. With the help of her brother-in-law and wife, Dr. George and Ruth Greene, Wayne Arnold and Lindsey Jeter, the new "structure" was erected on the lawn and is ready for occupancy.

Everyone keeps watching to report when the first "lennan" moves in.

Two young men raised in Sanford, recently visited the General Henry S. Sanford Museum-Library on First Street. Their keen interest, observations and questions were appreciated by everyone, a source said.

Chris Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eoghan Kelley, and Jim Lawrence, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Lawrence, are interested in the history of Sanford and decided to spend some time exploring the many artifacts of the early years of Sanford.

Chris, a student at UCF, said, "In School, we study the history of Europe and different areas of the United States during this period, and we have a museum right here in Sanford that has furniture, pictures, books and interesting objects that connects Sanford in it's early years to the history that we have studied."

Jim, an employee of Sweeney's Office Supply Co., wondered where the oldest house in Sanford was located. He said he had found a Coca Cola bottle in one of the local grocery stores, still being used, that had been bottled in Sanford. He wondered where the bottling plant had been.

Mrs. G. D. (Katherine) Bishop, Jr. who wrote the history of Sanford for the Bicentennial, remembers the Coca Cola Bottling Company used to be on First Street, next to the Armory, the Robert's-Young Tribes Mission Building now.

There is an ever increasing need for blood in our area, and consequently an increase in volunteer donors is necessary to meet the demands.

If you are at least 17 years of age (no upper age limit so long as the health requirements are met) and weigh at least 100 pounds, you could be eligible to become a volunteer donor and life-saver.

The Seminole County Branch office is located at 1302 E. Second Street, behind the hospital. Hours: Monday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Telephone 322-9222 for further information.
