

Russians Greatly Dislike Rias

BERLIN, 2.—If there is a Soviet spot on the Communist hate line in Germany, it's probably reserved for Rias, the U.S. controlled radio station here.

Rias—Radio in American Service—is our major propaganda weapon in Soviet occupied East Germany. Its broad mission is to get the news and views of the West across to 18 million East Germans and, as one Rias official puts it, "keep them in the Western pattern of thinking."

"Every time the Russians protest about American agents operating in East Germany, we get at least an honorable mention," he says.

To prove it, he pointed to a mention of a late protest note from the Soviets.

"The American Radio Station Rias in West Berlin," complained Soviet High Commissioner Gen. M. Puzhkin, "attempts to create its own network of agents on the territory of the German Democratic Republic and seeks to collect material and organize acts of terrorism and sabotage."

The U.S. high commission first pushed its note back to him 24 hours later with the terse declaration that it was unacceptable, false and defamatory.

But at Rias, station officials are delighted with Puzhkin's attack. To them, it means the station is reaching a sizeable number of East Germans and that Communist bosses are unhappy about it.

Station officials estimate the Reds spend as much, and maybe more, money on "jamming" and anti-Rias propaganda each year than the annual $275,000 congressional appropriation for Rias.

Another well-known Democrat, former Postmaster General James A. Farley, said in an early vote in New York and predicted a "Democratic sweep."

President Eisenhower, also a New York voter, cast an absentee ballot last night.

In addition to choosing the new congress, voters are picking governors in 35 states and hundreds of local and state officials.

The campaign itself closed out last night with major appeals from both sides.

President Eisenhower, from Washington, called the voters "There is no such thing as a free lunch," he said in a nationwide radio-television broadcast that any gain after 11 in the polls doubles the value of the ballot cast by a citizen of opposing views.

The President took rather closely to a nonpartisan approach. He called for voters to make up their minds with their own thinking, where you will get the greatest produce, the greatest honesty, the greatest integrity, the greatest business-like method and economy in government.

Speeches by the 1952 Democratic presidential candidates also appealed to citizens to exercise their right by voting, saying that is the way to make a democracy work.

In addition to the list of what he called Republican efforts to "show you believe that the quest for peace is a noble one, but one of our political parties."

Stevenson, himself, has been especially at the campaign front by his own admission. He said he would not work and Vice President Nixon's assertion only last night that Democratic policies would bring about prosperity to America, except when we had a "cold war."

Nixon, who participated from Denver in the same broadcast with the President, flew back to Washington today, saying the Republican only "tried" to show that there would be a small vote.

Objections Raised To Two New Movies

HOLLYWOOD.—That much-maligned individual, the Hollywood press agent, is up in arms about two new movies.

The Barefoot Contessa and A Star is Born, both portray the studio publicity as unscrupulous characters.

"Every time they need a heavy-handed box office blow about the underdog studio publicity, they do it in the press agent," says Walter Campbell, former president of the Publicity Council and a longtime publicity thumper along the glamour parade.

Edward G. Robinson, the publicity man in The Barefoot Contessa, and Jack Carson in the same "A Star is Born."

They're both nice guys," says Campbell, "but they're not publicity agents, and the characters they play are unscrupulous and unscrupulous in addition, we resent them."

Complaints about these are mainly character, among publicity men, but few in number. He adds that the type of press agent usually depicted in movies couldn't last a week in Hollywood.

The bulk of our membership, Campbell, have worked at the same jobs for years. They're reliable law-abiding citizens, will work hard and their children be the same thing, they attended from our ranks have come out producers, directors, writers, H. W. Hall, Bill Fine and Bill Thomas, and a few other, and others to mention.

Ratigan, Scott Win City Contests; Florida GOP Wins Seat In Congress; Race For Control Of Senate Close

Democrats Control House

End Depends On 3 States

By JACK DELL, AP Political Reporter
Republicans battled desperately today to hold the Senate as a surging tide of voters from yesterday's midterm election gave Democrats control of the House and tumbled seven GOP governors.
Republican hopes of retaining the Senate's half a loaf in the battle over Congress focused on tabulations in New Jersey, Montana and Oregon as Democrats won four GOP seats and the Republicans took three from their opponent.
Senate control stood.
With three races undecided, the Republicans led, including 43 just elected and 21 holdovers. Democrats led, including 22 elected yesterday and 21 holdovers; 1 independent, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.
Republican Rep. George Bender of Ohio crashed through to defeat Democratic Sen. Thomas A. Burke in unofficial tabulations and being the Republicans' closest of the Democrats after Democratic former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney had taken a GOP seat in Wyoming.
The situation in the three remaining states was this:
NEW JERSEY—With all of the state's 3,998 precincts counted, Republican Clifford P. Case had 856,826 votes and Democratic Rep. Charles H. Howell, 860,000. Some clerks were revising their figures and some absentee ballots remained uncounted.
MONTANA—In 886 of 1,094 precincts, Democratic Sen. James Murray had 95,566 votes and Republican Rep. Wesley A. Ewart had 92,994.

GOP Casts Big Vote In Florida

Republican Win Makes History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
William C. Cramer, stocky 32-year-old St. Petersburg attorney, will be the first Florida Republican to sit in Congress since Reconstruction days.
The aggressive, admirably ambitious Harvard Law School graduate who led Republicans to victory in Pinellas County in 1948 defeated Rep. Crampton, camped in the GOP's Florida stronghold.
With 21% of the precinct report, Cramer had 31,913 votes to 29,962 for Campbell who was back in 1948 and from Campbell defeated Cramer for the office two years ago by 1,000 votes.
They were still 1,100 absentee ballots to be counted including 688 from predominantly Republican Pinellas and Campbell said he would make no statement until they had been tabulated.
Hillsborough County, with a predominantly Democratic population of 240,000, cast Campbell his chance for a second election when less than 21,000 voters turned out there. Campbell carried Hillsborough 20,968 to 12,822 for Cramer on the basis of complete, unsplit ballots.
Pinellas County strongly Republican but with only 140,000 population, gave Cramer 35,991 to only 25,304 for Campbell.
Campbell carried Hernando County 1,908 to 212 on the basis of complete unofficial returns.
Pasco County, with four precincts, was split.

VICTORS—Winners of yesterday's contests for two seats on the City Commission were Jack Ratigan (left), president of Seminole County Motors, and F. D. Scott, president of Sanford Auto Parts, Inc.

Balloting In County Is Light

Victors Take Seats Jan. 4

Jack Ratigan and F. D. Scott yesterday won by large majorities contests for two seats on the City Commission.
Ratigan, manager of Seminole County Motors, pulled the most votes in the election, defeating former John Kader, local jeweler, in group 1. A total of 940 votes were cast for the victor and 280 for Kader. Randall Chase, former mayor, and J. T. Sauls, each received one vote in vote in group 1.
Scott, head of Sanford Auto Parts, Inc., accumulated 935 votes for a victory by a comfortable majority in group 2. Herbert Prevat, branch manager for the Interstate Life and Accident Insurance Co., collected 181 votes, and H. F. Ewing Dean, president of Pease-Park Lingerie, 115. Three ballots were spoiled in group 2.
Ballots were canvassed this afternoon at a recessed meeting of the City Commission.
New commissioners will take their seats on the body on Jan. 4. The victors will take over seats occupied by Commr. Kader and Commr. William Stemper. The latter elected not to be a candidate for reelection. Both he and Kader are serving second terms, which are for three years.
Others who will serve with Scott and Ratigan are Earl Higdon, local painter and contractor; John Kader, president of Kader; and Commr. J. Denver Gault.
A mayor will be elected at the annual meeting of the revised commission by the members of the body.
F. D. Scott, victorious candidate for the City Commission on group 2, said, "To all the people of Sanford, I want to say 'Thank You.' This is my hometown as well as yours, and I hope to serve you to the best of my ability. To be elected to our City Commission is an honor and responsibility that I shall never forget. From the bottom of my heart I say 'Thank You.'"
The other winning candidate, Jack Ratigan, who announced the results of group 1, said, "I thank John Kader and I wish to thank the citizens of Sanford for electing me City Commissioner. I will work to the best of my ability to see that the confidence you have shown in me, I will do my utmost, always to work for the best interests of Sanford, and its progress. I will do all in the county for the good of the city."

City Commission Approves Action To Validate Bonds

Approval was given by the City Commission today at a luncheon meeting at the City Hall to an ordinance authorizing the validation of $275,000 in revenue bonds for local sewerage improvements.
The decision was made following considerable discussion, in which the commissioners elect, Jack Ratigan and F. D. Scott participated, and with several commissioners taking refuge in the fact that action in the matter may be cut short anytime up until the bonds are sold.
Purpose of the additional bond issue, it was explained at the meeting today, is to clean up sewerage projects which had been left behind by work done under the first bond issue of 1949.
It was brought out at the meeting by Commr. John Kader that the matter of sewer service charges for commercial establishments will be discussed by the commission at its regular meeting Monday night, with the City's financial affairs and consulting engineers. The public is expected to attend.
Commr. Kader and Commr. William Stemper were reluctant to approve the ordinance today and advocated a delay in time on the matter, but changed their minds after it was explained by City Atty. A. F. Shumaker that action on the bonds could be stopped at any time with little expense to the city and no particular obligation.
Stemper said he thought local citizens were not in favor of that and many more bonds.
The two cautionary comments by Kader and Stemper studied the matter of wanting rules prepared by Commr. J. Denver Gault, and not reading the ordinance aloud for a second time. The meeting today had been in recess from Oct. 25 and made possible such procedure.
Commr. John Kader predicted that those who voted in favor of the measure would be defeated should they decide to be candid again. However, he maintained the city should be given a program, and in the program were (Continued On Page Four)

Six Changes In Constitution Approved By Voters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Florida voters approved all but one of six proposed constitutional amendments in Tuesday's election, including one to extend the regular biennial 60-day legislative session by 90 days.
The amendment provides that the Legislature extend the session by its own action and the 30 days would not have to be consecutive.
It would give legislators a yearly salary of $1,200. They now get $10 a day for each day in session. Expense and travel allowance would remain as at present.
Only an amendment defeated on the basis of an outside referendum would have prohibited spending state funds on any full road extending into more than three counties.
Other amendments which won approval of the voters would:
Allow the Legislature to provide for one or more additional county judges in counties with over 125,000 population. Such acts of the Legislature would not become effective until ratified by voters in the county concerned. At present the amendment would affect only Dade, Duval, Hillborough and Pinellas counties.
Give the governor 20 instead of 10 days after the Legislature adjourns in which to act on bills.
Allow the Legislature to authorize assessment and collection of municipal taxes by county tax assessors and collectors. Voters of the municipality concerned would have to approve the act.
Require the Monroe (Key West) County tax assessor starting Jan. 1, 1952, to assess all property for all state, county, school and municipal taxes levied in the county by any taxing authority.
Provide an additional judge for the Escambia (Pensacola) County court of record and allow the Legislature to provide other additional judges as required.

Herndon Tells Body Of Overexpending

Charging that over-expenditures in last year's County budget equalled two and a half million in taxation, County Clerk J. P. Herndon yesterday presented his annual report to the County Commission on the year ending last month.
The report covered the fiscal year from Oct. 1, 1950, until Sept. 30, 1951. A total of 25 items in the three budgets, general fund, road and bridge fund, and fire and fire contingency fund, were reported over-expended in amounts totaling $5,352,824.
The commission passed without opposition a resolution prepared by Herndon, amending the budget to bring the over-expended items into line by transferring funds from items within the individual budgets to the over-expended items.
In the General Fund, 14 items were bolstered by the contingency and fire contingency items in the amount of $3,545,222.
In the road and bridge fund, four items were bolstered by the contingency and purchase machinery items in the amount of $2,181,760.
In the fire and fire contingency fund, seven items were bolstered by the contingency item in the amount of $6,225,842.
The total amounts of the three budgets was given by Herndon as general fund, $288,962,25; fire and fire contingency fund, $103,000; and road and bridge fund, $305,445,93.

Nobel Prize In Physics Given To Two W. German Scientists

STOCKHOLM—The Royal Swedish Academy of Science awarded the 1951 Nobel Prize in physics tonight jointly to two West German scientists who helped lay the foundation of modern nuclear physics.
The physics award of 181,010 krona (about $35,000) will be split equally between Prof. Walter Bothe, 63, of the Max Planck Institute at Heidelberg, and Dr. Max Born, 73-year-old pioneer in theoretical physics who fled from the Nazis to Britain in 1933 but who since his retirement from the University of Edinburgh has lived at the West German health resort of Bad Pyrmont, in Hannover.
Later tonight the academy was expected to vote the annual chemistry prize to Dr. Linus C. Pauling, controversial California Institute of Technology professor, for his work on protein molecules.
Selection of Dr. Pauling would give to America three of the four 1951 awards from the fund established by the will of the late Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite.
The prize for medicine and physiology was awarded on Oct. 21 to three U. S. scientists—Dr. John F. Enders and Dr. Thomas H. Weller of Harvard University and Dr.

The awards will be presented in Stockholm Dec. 10 by Sweden's King Gustaf VI. Hemingway will be unable to attend because he is still recovering from injuries suffered in two plane crashes in East Africa last January.
The Swedish academy said Born was chosen for the physics award "for his fundamental works in quantum mechanics, especially his statistical interpretation of the wave function." This expression in formulae of the previously mysterious "wave function" within the atom has enabled scientists to calculate various states of the atom.
Bothe was cited for his "coincidence method and the discovery he made with it." From his work a starting point on them the next time it happens."

Kiwianians Hear Vocalist, Speaker

Lunching Kiwanians were entertained today by Mrs. Sam Hoar and Richard Knight, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church, at the Yacht Club.
Mrs. Hoar received loud applause for her singing of Oscar Hammerstein's "Waiting for You" and Liza Lehmann's "Daddy's Sweetheart." As an encore, she sang "The Big Brown Bear."
Knight spoke of the need for better Christian education of our young people. The program was presented by Dr. H. Wayne Rucker.

More Arrests Are Underway In Phenix City

PHENIX CITY, Ala.—Nation al law enforcement agencies today are rounding up defendants accused in a new grand jury report which charged about 40 men with selling multi-line slot machines in Alabama.
The racketeering party fourth interim report returned on election day yesterday contained 30 indictments. Thirty-five defendants were named in the May 11 Democratic primary.
Because of an election law which prohibits the grand jury serving here under federal marshal law until after today to hold grand jury arrests.
Arrests are under way in all areas of the county, with attention on election day defendants to or returning therefrom (except for freedom of movement of branch of the peace).
In a two-page written report being filed with court of the county that has come upon our county because of fraudulent elections, the jury said many voters "have come to regard their right to vote" as a mere paper and passed as pressure by the racketeers.
The jurors charged also that numerous voters now permitted to cast ballots in Phenix City and elsewhere in the county have no business with or talent for the sacred right to vote.
And they promised to "leave no stone unturned" to do everything possible to see that unqualified voters are struck from the list.
The 30 indictments returned yesterday brought the vice cleanup total to 675.

Milk Commission Defines Cash Sales

JACKSONVILLE—The Florida Milk Commission today defined cash and carry farm sale of milk to clear up what it said was "considerable confusion in the industry."
It said "a cash and carry farm sale is defined as one wherein the milk or milk products sold or offered for sale by the owner or lessor of a bona fide farm is produced and processed exclusively on said farm and sold to the ultimate consumer from a stand or other structure situated within the boundaries of said farm."

Cold Weather Poses Threat To Vegetable Industry Here

LAKELAND, Fla.—The season's first cold spell today posed a threat to the Florida vegetable industry as far south as the Everglades.
Meteorologist Warren O. Johnson, head of the Federal State Frost Warning Service, said the chill "could be very bad for the vegetable industry" tonight and tomorrow.
He said it was "going to be very close" in the glades and "growers are going to have to watch."
He explained the vegetable threat was in north and central Florida as well as in the lower spots in the glades.
The Everglades bean crop, he added, probably is the "nicest it has ever been."
Several points in Florida today had record low temperatures for this early in the season. Jacksonville had a 29, Tampa a 39 and Tallahassee 29.
Florida had scattered frost in low areas as far south as central Florida early in the week. North Florida today recorded 32-36 degree low temperatures with some 20s and 30s.
Johnson forecast a low ranging from 38 to 42 degrees near Lake Okeechobee and scattered frost away from the lake.
He predicted temperatures ranging from 38 in the colder sections of the lower east coast area to near 50 closer to the coast.
Johnson said warmer weather was in prospect for Thursday.

Matter Of Courtesy

It is well for employees on every level to realize that their economic welfare is tied to that of their employers and that anything they can do to promote the employers' business will directly or indirectly benefit them.

Too often firms which spend huge sums on public relations programs designed to present themselves to the public in the best possible light see their efforts dispirited by discourtesy on the part of employees. A rude motorist driver, an impolite waiter, an impatient clerk, an unsmiling receptionist, can undo the work of the best public relations expert.

A smile, a kind word, a helpful suggestion, can build business. A firm may be made up of thousands of people, may have millions of dollars worth of property and equipment. Its rating as far as customers are concerned, however, often is dependent on the personality and ability of a secretary who answers a phone.

Courtesy costs nothing. It makes living easier and more pleasant. The employee, or the self-employed, no matter how hard he works, is giving less than his best if he forgets the need for courtesy in dealing with people.

Anthony Eden is no more. He has been made a Knight of the Garter, an honor which carries with it the title of Sir. We shall now have to get used to speaking of him as Sir Anthony Eden, just as acceptance of the Garter made it necessary to put a new handle on a familiar name and call the recipient Sir Winston Churchill. Many still find it hard to prefix Sir to the name of the illustrious premier.

Losing Candidates Follow Practice

NEW YORK (AP)—In the greatest game of politics there is, and the tradition that the defeated candidate must show himself a cheerful loser.

Thus, following protocol, several hundred candidates beaten in the election yesterday, tried to make the most of their defeat.

"The people have spoken. Congratulations on your splendid victory."

And to complete the phony atmosphere of sportsmanship, the winners-or one of their camp followers sent back the following reply:

"Greatly appreciate your cordial message. The great task that the people require us all to think in terms of mutual performance rather than past partisanship."

This is all pure guts and nonsense, both candidates know it.

The people know it. It feels nobody. Why, then, do the politicians, election after election, go through these empty meaningless gestures of Oriental politeness?

Most defeated candidates I have known, whether they aspired to be local dogcatcher or to get a four-year lease on the town hall, were deeply, angrily, embittered men.

A man who has lost a political election is, in terms of fury, the male equivalent of the woman foundling in the 14th century, chiefly because of its social distinction. The comparatively recent Order of Merit is really a greater honor given only to persons of outstanding achievement in science, literature, art and government.

The Garter, however, is so exclusive as to limit its membership to the King, the Prince of Wales, foreign rulers such as the King of Sweden and the Emperor of Ethiopia (admitted only lately), and 25 ordinary members. Today only two of the 25 are commoners, Eden and Churchill. In the past there has never been more than one.

With the non-titled membership just doubled, can the Garter be going democratic?

Whither Football?

One midwestern city has four colleges which used to play football with each other and other teams. One, a technical school, has given up the games because the students' work was so taxing as to leave them little time for college athletics. Now it is strongly hinted that within the next couple of years two more will quit, leaving but one college team in one of the most populous counties of the United States.

The reason given for abandoning the game is the small attendance. The undergraduates do not seem interested in supporting their teams, and the general public does not think their games good enough. Big university football and the professional games have drawn off most of the fans. Television has been no help.

Is this going to happen elsewhere? College baseball has ceased to be an important athletic feature. Will football go the same way in all but a few institutions?

Award For Hemingway

It would be impossible to mistake Ernest Hemingway for anything but an American, though he has spent a great part of his life in other countries. Yet his best work has a universal quality which marks him as one of the outstanding literary figures of our time. It is gratifying to note that the Nobel Prize award for literature this year acknowledges his achievements.

Hemingway's life has been an exciting and filled with adventure as his books. Not long ago, to the great delight of his extreme-pleasure fans, he survived a plane crash in which he had been reported killed.

He is well aware of his gifts and has a craftsman's pride in his ability. Yet he has retained an essential modesty. He expressed his pleasure at receiving literature's highest award and added that had he been on the Nobel committee he would have voted for Carl Sandburg.

Many authors have produced their finest work after they were older than Hemingway is now. Perhaps his best contributions to literature are yet to come.

NEW YORK—The girl's name was Dorothy Dandridge and the reason I had come to see her, in her 10th floor hotel room across the way from Billy Rose's Zigzag field theater, was that I wanted to get a good, long look at her before she left.

I mean success. Big success. A few nights before, I'd seen a preview of a movie called "Carmen Jones" and when it was over, one thing was obvious: Miss Dandridge more than held her own. She had everything in it (including Miss Pearl Bailey, who takes a lot of dominating), and the day after they threw this thing open to the public, Miss D. was going to be lightning.

It won't come quite so swiftly as, say, in the case of Audrey Hepburn, because Miss D. has Negro blood in her, but it will come. I fancy that Darryl Zanuck must even now be tearing his hair out, between chukkers, wondering exactly what to do with his new gold mine. The country does not yet appear ready, alas, to have Dorothy Dandridge play opposite a Clark Gable or James Stewart.

Miss D. turned out to be a beautiful, big-eyed, graceful girl in a black dress, who came into the sitting room fastening a pin into a belt that couldn't have measured more than 22 inches. Her hair was turned off the platof of symphony turning on the photograph, slipped some sherry, listened to what I had to say and then said I might as well come across something interesting now. "I've thought about it, too," she said, "and likely more than you, I'm open to advice. If anybody has any concrete suggestions on how I should be, from here on, I'll take them into my mind."

Fire Fighters Meet Tomorrow

ORLANDO — To "fire proud" Florida, that is the aim of a two-day statewide conference opening here today.

The fire fighters of the state are meeting at the Florida State Hotel, under the leadership of J. Howard Larson, who is also the state's treasurer and its insurance commissioner. "We won't quite make it, to be sure," Larson said, "but we'll break out of our present state of confusion."

Previous conferences have been so fruitful we are determined to push our state and the look as far as these will reach.

Tomorrow we have the help, he said, of all fire fighting forces in the state, these including all special fire districts, all county and municipal fire departments, and insurance companies.

Official representatives of these agencies and more Larson sponsored from Tallahassee, will take part in the two-day conference and on Friday morning there will be a school of deputy fire marshals directed toward the suppression of structure fires.

"One thing I don't think you can do," she told me thoughtfully, "is say you're not going to change. People always change. They should, if you don't grow and become bigger and broader in your ideas and your thoughts, you're wasting your time. It hasn't got much to do with any success, although that always gives you confidence and opens up doors you might not otherwise get. You just grow. I don't believe in standing still."

However, when you're on top, and you change—oh, there's the rub, it's the old friends who crucify you. Even before you change, before you open your eyes, they're the ones who tell you when and how you must change the style of your hat, there comes the ugly, inevitable question, "Say, who does she think she is, anyway?"

Foreigners Invest Much In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Foreigners have been finding a lot of money since the war to invest in this country. Value of their holdings here approaches 24 billion dollars now, three times what it was before the war.

In addition, other nations and their central banks have been building up their reserves—and in the process Uncle Sam's stock of gold has dropped by three billion dollars in the last five years.

But the Federal Reserve Board reports that the private demand for gold the world over is now at a postwar low. The steam has gone out of the frenzy that saw 4 billion dollars worth of the metal flow into private channels since 1944.

And the price of gold—once $50 an ounce and more on the black market—is now down to the legal $35 rate almost everywhere.

Rather than gold, foreign investors are looking to the United States these days for corporate stocks and U.S. Treasury securities.

This has been going on quietly while most of the talk has been about the need of American investments in other lands, especially the so-called underdeveloped ones.

Private investment abroad by Americans is now just about the same as the total of foreign holdings here, the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago notes today in its October business comment. But that is only part of the picture. Add in the U.S. government's investment abroad in loans and so on and the total of American holdings rises almost to 40 billion dollars.

There is another striking difference in American holdings abroad and foreign investments here.

Foreigners have 14 1/2 billion dollars here in liquid assets—that is, bank deposits and U.S. Treasury securities that they could quickly turn into cash. Less than two billion dollars of the total U.S. government and private investments abroad are in short-term liquid assets.

Practically all our government's commitments abroad are long-term loans, the Chicago bank points out. And more than 11 billion of private investments abroad by American citizens are in long-term commitments in the business and industry of other lands.

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am a Korean veteran studying dentistry under the Korean GI Bill. Would it be possible for me to take my internship in dentistry, also under the Korean GI Bill?

A. It would be possible, provided the internship does not exceed one year, and provided it is an integral part of an approved course fulfilling the educational requirements for certification by a Dental Specialty Board.

Q. I have been granted a waiver of premium on my term National Service Life Insurance policy because of total disability. Could I convert my term insurance to permanent plan while the waiver is in effect?

A. Yes. However, you would not be permitted to convert to an endowment plan while you are totally disabled.

Q. I am a Korean veteran with a service-connected disability rated at zero percent. Am I eligible for the permanent GI insurance available to disabled Korean veterans? Or must I have a disability rated at 10 percent or more?

A. You may be eligible for the permanent Korean GI insurance, even though your service-connected disability is rated at zero percent.

Q. I am planning to go to school under the Korean GI Bill, and I want to list my mother and father as dependents for GI allowance purposes. Their only income is a disability compensation check my father, a World War I veteran, receives each month. Other than that, I have been supporting them. Would those compensation payments bar me from declaring them as dependents?

A. No. VA compensation payments may be disregarded in determining dependency of your mother and father. So long as they do not have any other income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance, you would be permitted to count them as your dependents.

new Semi-converters, the visitors old and new at the sight of the fabulous old mansions that line the Atlantic near Palm Beach, the swank hotels and superb land scaping.

It all made for closer relationship between the Americas, and summing up the conference, Dick Pope said: "We have done something here that most of us felt for a long time should have been done. We have brought together people with a common problem. I think we have gone a long way toward solving it. We have brought about an understanding and created good will that will bring handsome dividends and benefit all areas."

Several of the delegates attacked the 10 per cent federal tax on travel tickets. This tax is discouraging travel and hurting all tourists across the country.

Another well-taken point brought up by the foreign delegation was the language barrier, and it was resolved to urge the compulsory teaching of Spanish in all Florida public schools. Both in America and in Latin American countries, it is an advantage to speak both languages. Hotels, airlines, stores and restaurants are seeking employees who can speak Spanish as well as English.

But the convention was by no means all work and no play. A day was devoted to sightseeing in the Gold Coast area. Our foreign visitors were given the thrill of an airboat ride across the shallow grassy waters of the Everglades, enjoyed a visit to Melton's famed Autzrams at Hypoluxo, and saw Florida's colorful Bird Ferry.

Twenty Mile Bend, Col. H. C. Cies, of the U. S. Engineers, explained how Florida's Everglades flood control plan is making available thousands of acres of rich land for cultivation.

"That, I've had already, to a degree," she said "it's such a shame. I think a good deal of it is because the old friends are afraid you're going to slight or reject them. I've never heard them say they want to look your way, if you're near them because they worry and say, 'She might brush me off. She might have no use for me any more.' She shook her head helplessly. "And there's not a thing you can do about it. They've made up their minds, already, to resent you."

Democrats

Although the Republicans lost the House by what may be a margin of 25 or more members, President Eisenhower told a White House news conference he does not see in this result any repudiation of his administration's policies.

Democrats were pleased with the outcome, but it obviously did not reach the proportions some of them had expected — a circumstance that some Republicans said could be attributed to Eisenhower's own last minute campaigning and the vigorous drive made by Nixon.

In a give-and-take, Democrats took away Republican seats in Kentucky, Michigan, Nevada and Wyoming, while the Republicans retaliated by grabbing Democratic seats in Ohio, Colorado and Iowa.

Senator's victory over Burke was preceded in the inaugurations by a successful comeback by former Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney for the Democrats in Wyoming. O'Mahoney beat Republican Rep. William Harrison.

Last previously, Sen. Homer Ferguson, head of the Senate GOP Policy Committee and a recipient of Eisenhower's campaign help, had gone down under an avalanche of Wayne County Detroit ballots.

Before that, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, assistant majority leader, had failed to defeat Democrat Foster Furcolo in Massachusetts.

Social Security Changes Explained

Under the 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Act, there are some special provisions for the ministers of the nation. Most members of the clergy who are employed by nonprofit religious, charitable, educational, or other income tax exempt organizations may begin earning social security credit for themselves after Jan. 1.

Duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed clergymen, missionaries, or members of religious orders may be brought under the social security program at their own option. The only exception to those clergymen who may begin to earn social security on Jan. 1, 1955 are those members of religious orders who are required to take a vow of poverty.

Ministers and members of religious orders who bring themselves under the old-age and survivors insurance program will be treated as self-employed persons. This will be true in the case of those who actually are self-employed as well as those clergymen who are paid a salary by their congregation.

Those who wish to be included under social security must file a certificate with the Internal Revenue Service indicating their desire to be covered as self-employed persons. This must be done within two years after January 1, 1955. And the certificate will be effective for a taxable year only if it is filed on or before the due date for filing the income tax report of the year. That means that those ministers or members of religious orders who want to begin earning their social security next January will file a certificate on or before April 15, 1954.

Then, when they pay the income tax on their net earnings which is due April 15, 1955, they will also make a three percent self-employment tax contribution for social security. They will pay the social security tax on their yearly net earnings from $400 to $4,200. And they will report these earnings for social security purposes as self-employment income on a Form 1040.

Those clergymen who become eligible to begin earning their old-age and survivors insurance will want to get their social security cards if they have never had them. Or, if they have lost their social security cards, they should ask for the replacement. This card is the identification with the social security people as well as the key to future benefit payments. The card can be obtained from the nearest social security office. And free information booklets about the new amendments are available there, too.

Doesn't sound like a tough deal, but he says they look like fish, have feet, legs and small red whiskers. He caught them out of a farm pond. ### GOP Casus

(Continued From Page One) ... cincts, gave Haley 26,823 and Sutton 16,750. Haley carried his home county of Sarasota 5,097 to 5,036 for Sutton on the basis of complete but unofficial returns. He also carried Sutton's home county of Polk 8,838 to 7,232.

In Manatee, with one precinct missing, Haley had 4,708 and Sutton 4,418 in the vote with one precinct still out. Haley had 756 to 188 for Sutton.

Hardee County, with 3 precincts missing, gave Haley 287 to 83 for Sutton and Highlands, where six precincts are missing, Haley had 1,139 and Sutton 56.

"I am deeply grateful for the fine vote accorded me and shall strive to increase the confidence the people of my district have shown in me," Haley said.

Both Cramer and Sutton are former Democrats. Cramer was a Republican in the Florida House in 1951 and Sutton, a former mayor of Lakeland, a Democrat.

Neither of Florida's two senators—Spearman L. Holland and George A. Smathers—was up for reelection. Smathers term expires in 1956 and Holland's in 1958. Florida's other representatives in Congress, all Democrats, were reelected. They are Charles E. Bennett, Dan B. Fassel, M. J. C. Harrison, LeRoy Collins, D. L. Rogers, Fort Lauderdale, and D. R. Matthews, Gainesville.

Three state supreme court justices were re-elected without opposition: Glenn Terrell, Harold L. Schering and John P. Matthews. Wilbur C. King of Zephyr Springs and Jerry W. Carter of Tallahassee were returned as members of the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, also without opposition.

Republicans made a surprisingly strong showing in the vote for governor although their candidate, J. Tom Watson of Tampa died 10 days before election and his name wasn't on the ballot in some counties.

Watson, twice state attorney general and two times candidate for governor as a Democrat, had changed his party affiliation because of his conviction for Florida bribery. He was a two-party state Democratic nominee LeRoy Collins, a Tallahassee lawyer and longtime state senator, received 22,430 votes to 22,616 for Watson with 1,211 of 1,724 precincts reporting.

Republicans decided after Watson's death not to name a replacement but asked voters to give him a heavy vote to keep the GOP eligible for future elections.

Under state law a party must receive more than 20 per cent of the total vote for governor at the next general election to be eligible to conduct primaries.

The attorney general's office said the courts will have to decide if votes cast for a deceased candidate count the 20 per cent requirement.

The vote for governor was far below that of 1952 when the late Dan McCarry, Democrat, got 624,463 and Harry S. Swan, Republican, polled 210,922.

Stetson Will Offer New Program For Developing Young Executives

Stetson University today announced a new course of study to develop young executives for Florida industry.

Superior students who possess certain personal leadership qualities will be selected early next year for the Executive Development Program in the term beginning in Sept. 1955, according to Dr. J. Ollie Edmunds, president of the university.

At the same time Dr. Edmunds announced the appointment of Dr. R. F. Ericson, head of the University's department of economics and director of the executive development program.

President Edmunds pointed out that Florida is the most rapidly growing state east of the Rockies and that the industrial and commercial potential has hardly been tapped and expressed present need and the impending demand for broadly trained and liberally educated men who possess the personal qualifications required for executive leadership in our modern economy.

Since Stetson is a private, Christian university which since a premium upon scholarly excellence in the field of business and economics, the University is advantageously situated to provide the educational and developmental experience essential to those who would fill a portion of the unmet demand for business leadership.

Dr. Ericson said the program has two primary distinguishing characteristics. First, only decidedly superior students who evidence business leadership potential will be considered for admission to the program. Second, the specialized studies in business and economic development will be built upon and will be intimately related to the core of liberal studies of Stetson's General Education program.

The executive development program is a course of study and training which will extend over five academic years. It is planned that students will be brought closely into contact with the realities of the actual business world during the years of study.

To this end, Dr. Ericson said, leading Florida business and professional figures will be brought to the DeLand campus and students will travel to the scenes of business activity for observation and study.

Victory or defeat, he said, "will have nothing to do with the value of our cause."

The President spent most of last evening away from the White House—saluting campaign workers and visiting with Cabinet members. He kept in touch with election returns largely via radio and television.

Before going to bed at 12:35 a.m. Eisenhower told newsmen that, compared to his expectations, some GOP candidates "aren't doing so well, and some are losing."

But he added that some others were making a better showing than he anticipated.

Early in the evening, Eisenhower paid a surprise visit to GOP National Committee headquarters "to thank those people who have been working so hard."

Then, after returning to the White House to pick up Mamie, he went to the home of Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. George Humphrey for dinner.

Two and a half hours later, the Eisenhower made another surprise call—at the hotel headquarters of the Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee.

Eisenhower told the group's workers that elections are exciting things and "you keep hoping and hoping that Joe Daskas will defeat Joe Zilch." He added, "Anyone who went through any struggles in life realizes there must be setbacks."

"He got fortune or had fortune for the moment, we can in the long run win and will win."

"That means our country will be more prosperous and have better opportunity for lasting peace."

The Eisenhower then moved to the apartment of Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, where other top administration officials joined them. The group included Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and their wives and the Humphreys.

As Eisenhower left the Wilson apartment, a newsmen asked: "What do you think of things, Mr. President? How are they looking?"

Smiling, the President replied: "Well, as a matter of fact, there are a lot of close races."

"Some of the ones I thought would be close ones I thought so well, and some are looking."

Then he added that some GOP candidates had surprised him—mentioning in particular Gordon Allott, GOP Senate nominee in Colorado, and a young Republican Democratic former Rep. John Carroll.

Then he added that some GOP candidates had surprised him—mentioning in particular Gordon Allott, GOP Senate nominee in Colorado, and a young Republican Democratic former Rep. John Carroll.

Eisenhower told the group's workers that elections are exciting things and "you keep hoping and hoping that Joe Daskas will defeat Joe Zilch." He added, "Anyone who went through any struggles in life realizes there must be setbacks."

"He got fortune or had fortune for the moment, we can in the long run win and will win."

"That means our country will be more prosperous and have better opportunity for lasting peace."

The Eisenhower then moved to the apartment of Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, where other top administration officials joined them. The group included Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and their wives and the Humphreys.

As Eisenhower left the Wilson apartment, a newsmen asked: "What do you think of things, Mr. President? How are they looking?"

Smiling, the President replied: "Well, as a matter of fact, there are a lot of close races."

Woman Is Held After Shooting

KEY WEST, Fla.—A Navy wife was held on an open charge today after her husband was shot to death during an argument over purchase of a television set.
Peace Justice Ira Albury said Mrs. Elmore Blaton, 28, was being held in Monroe County jail in the shooting of James Blaton, 29, gunner's mate aboard the destroyer T. M. Robinson, Saturday night.

MONEY ROBLEM IS SOLVED

OKLAHOMA CITY — Until a policeman arrived to get the facts, a flapping of speculators' tongues could be heard about how to fish a bank full out of the sewer.
The crowd rallied around an aging man who gazed wistfully down the drain after some fish caught. The man explained he didn't have strength to lift the cast from sewer grating.
Then an Oklahoma City policeman arrived. He was preparing to call the Street Department crew to help retrieve the bank money when he asked a question that has confounded speculators.
"Friend," he said, "how much money did you hope to get?"
It was a dime. "The more you get," he said, "the more money, not bank money."
A man by woman handed the bank back with a snarl.

MAKES LAST RUN—A. C. Lamb (third from left), Sanford who made his last run Saturday as a fireman for the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, yesterday was honored at the A.C.L. shops west of Sanford. He was presented with a large by A. A. Fleida (far right), who represented local brotherhood No. 75. James Forester and Richard Handy headed the gift committee. Others in the picture are (left to right) L. M. Cornell, general foreman at the shops; H. E. Weekley, engineer of the diesel locomotive upon which Lamb was a fireman, and Mrs. Lamb. According to Cornell, Lamb resigned, effective yesterday, upon reaching 70 years of age in order to apply for a railroad retirement annuity. He retired with a "clear record," on which all A.C.L. railroad men desire, according to Cornell, who said he hated to lose men of Lamb's calibre as they are hard to replace, and that he was one of the most "trustworthy" of the firemen. Others present included W. O. Brinson, trainmaster of the Jacksonville district, H. V. Nelson, road foreman of engineers for the district, several other firemen and friends of Lamb. Woman's Death Called Suicide

LOS ANGELES—The death of Mrs. Mary von Elm, 40, wife of George von Elm, the golfer who beat Bobby Jones for the national amateur title in 1926, has been called a suicide by the coroner's office, which said there will be no inquest.

Dr. Frederick Newbarr, county autopsy surgeon, said yesterday she died of nicotine poisoning. Roy A. Ford, 29, Von Elm's golf protegee, who had been drinking with Mrs. von Elm and was with her when she died last Wednesday, told police she drank from an insecticide bottle which he tried to knock from her lips.

Ford is held in $3,000 bail on a morals charge filed after Dr. Newbarr said the autopsy showed evidence of sexual perversion.

PARIS, Oct. 16—Beset with housing problems, Paris is considering a plan to build a suburban development eight miles from the city limits as its 21st ward, Bernard Lafay, chairman of the council (mayor), said he would like to build 20,000 units on property at La Celle-Saint Cloud (west) to the city by Count de Henderin.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

BREAKFAST arrived on a high, wobbly cart pushed by a young colored boy. The tray was crammed with metal-covered dishes in one corner was a new cellophane toothbrush and a small tube of paste.

After breakfast I called Capt. Grodnik on the telephone and told him what had happened. He had no new information.

He said, "A girl answering Mary McVicker's description was reported on a flight to Pittsburgh, but almost any girl of the right age would answer that description. We haven't got a thing. That's why I had to give it to the FBI. You understand? Sorry you had a bad time."

"It wasn't bad," I said. "Darn nuisance I drew one of the superior boys who planning on running for Congress. A U-man as in gee-wha. You know how they are. He'll be a real asset in Washington. Well, what do you think?"

"I don't know, Carney," Grodnik said heavily. "The more I think of it, the more I figure New Orleans is important. We were going to send a man there, but I think I'll go myself. I'd like to look over that boat. But I don't know why. Just playing the hunch, I guess. God knows we don't have any facts to go on."

"No," I agreed. "You base this on the assumption that Stewart was probably Reason's?"

"That, and a girl taking off," Grodnik said. "We figured she was clever, just a girl that Stewart ditched when he left. We know he didn't communicate with her after he ran. I'm beginning to think now that she took off to meet him some place. It has to be something they arranged before he left, so New Orleans looks a mighty possible right now. And it ties in with making that ticket reservation for that cruise."

"So why didn't he take the cruise?"

"I've been thinking about that one, too. I see it like this: Stewart is in Cincinnati, masquerading as a young kid. That's a smart disguise, by the way. And he could look the part all right. The only trick would be to get the part. So here's there in town for a couple of weeks before the boat goes, just waiting. And he hangs around the dock, finally manages to wrangle a little job on board. He says that's a great easy way to make the trip and still be on hand where he's supposed to be. How does that listen?"

"Yes, very sensible. And it worked out fine, too. I didn't tell you, but the boat captain knew what I was there for. And he made sure everybody else knew, too. So Stewart had plenty of warning. And if he had taken up that reservation, even that turn a Keble would have nailed him coming on the boat."

Grodnik chuckled and the receiver vibrated thinly in my ear. "I talked to Keble. He doesn't think much of you. Maybe you'll be interested to hear that he's been transferred to the records division. He won't be able to run anything more."

Just don't let him handle anything important, I said. "Well, I think you've got the right man on Stewart and that boat business. I can't see much we can do before New Orleans, can you?"

"Well, now," Grodnik said thoughtfully. "You know, I was trying to guess just where Stewart and his girl planned to meet. You think she might join the boat somewhere before New Orleans?"

"She'd be pretty conspicuous if she did," I said. "By now most of the passengers know each other by sight. A newcomers wouldn't have a chance of passing without notice. No, I can't buy that one."

"Yeah, well, maybe not. It's all I could think of. So it's New Orleans then. I'm having the cops there check all outgoing ships and planes and trains. The works. But I don't expect much. But there'll be a mob to meet that boat when she docks."

"Fine," I said sourly. "To the devil with the lot of you."

"Yeah, I'm sorry, Carney. I know now you feel I saw Eli Jones this morning. He says you shouldn't worry. Just do your best. But I guess that doesn't help much, does it?"

"No," I said thinly.

"Well, keep in touch, boy. And yell if you want something."

"Okay, captain. Thanks."

Then I went to the Ludlow hospital to see Russell. He was sitting up in bed with a thick bandage on the side of his head.

"Good heavens," he said when he saw me. "What are you doing here, Wilde?"

"I missed the boat, Mr. Purser," I said untruthfully. "Thought you could tell me where to find it. How are you getting on?"

Distance Runner Slowing Down

LONDON, Oct. 16—The time has come at last to take Emil Zatopek at his word. The greatest distance runner of them all is slowing down.

Previously when the personable Czech Army colonel started moaning that the other boys were too fast for him, it became a signal for his opponents to sharpen their guard for Zatopek would come up with another world record and mere mortals would be left far behind.

Nobody could forget how he won the 5,000 meter, 10,000 meter and the marathon at the 1952 Olympic Games in Helsinki.

But in August at the European track and field championships in Bern, the incredible Czech ran third in the 5,000 meter race.

It looked bad as Russia's Vladimir Kuc ran away from the field to win a world record time of 13:36.8. But what made the experts scratch their heads was the way Zatopek didn't even fight for second place, permitting England's Chris Chataway to take runner-up honors without a serious struggle. But within five days Zatopek had come back.

He ran his fastest ever 5,000 meters at Stockholm, finishing in 13:37. The time was only four tenths of a second slower than Kuc's new world mark and two tenths of a second faster than the old mark which Zatopek himself had established earlier this year.

Then in Prague on Saturday, Kuc faced Zatopek into the ground as the Soviet sailor won back his world record 5,000-meter honor from Chataway. The English lad had edged Kuc Oct. 13 in an historic race in London with a world standard of 13:51.6. Kuc did 13:51.2 at Prague. Zatopek finished second in 14:19.

"I advised Kuc against attempting for a world record," Zatopek said afterwards. "because I considered he had not a chance with a strong blistering wind meeting him on the bend into the home stretch. But when he insisted I said 'I will help you.' I helped him for exactly 100 yards. I burst away into a lead but by the end of the straightaway he taved past me like a sprinter."

"I tried to reach him but just could not. Kuc took me after the race that the pace I tried to set was too slow. He was right."

Zatopek planned to run the first lap in 67 seconds. Kuc ran it in 59.

The Czech ace tried to better his own remarkable record of 25:12 for 10,000 meters Sunday. He was ahead of his pace for 6,000 meters but then slowed down to finish in 29:21.

Zatopek is 32, Kuc 27 and Chataway 23. Other challengers: 8-mighty Zatopek are Josef Kovacs of Hungary who is 29, and Brian's Gordon Pirie who is 23.

This has been a strange year for the Czech. He broke the world mark for 5,000 and 10,000 meters but was beaten three times in three months. It never happened before during Zatopek's reign over the distance runners which began in 1948.

"I feel well enough myself," he said at Prague. "but I just do not seem able to get going. I am going on a holiday now. Then I will review my training methods."

Zatopek may come back next year and in 1956, too. But this time it will be a miracle if he proves to experts wrong.

Services Arranged For Four Children

ASHTABULA, Ohio, (AP)—Joint funeral services were arranged today for four youngsters who died yesterday when a stove exploded and burned down a small rural home.

Ashtabula County sheriff's deputies said the stove was fueled with bottled gas. What caused the blast wasn't known.

Dead were Richard H. Tryon, 4, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Tryon, and three children of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gordon Riggs: Kathryn, 11 months, Erlene, 3, and Richard, 2.

Mrs. Tryon, who lived in a house trailer near the Riggs house, was minding the children while the other parents were at work. The explosion blew her out of the house. Flames stopped her rescue efforts.

More Than Million Is Left By Magnate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The will of theater magnate Charles F. Skouris leaves property valued at more than a million dollars to members of his immediate family.

Filed for probate yesterday, the will designated as separate property of his widow Elizabeth a home in Beverly Hills, theater property in San Diego and stocks and bonds standing in her name. To her went in trust all the community property interest her husband held in stocks and bonds in six corporations.

Skouris, 63, died Oct. 22 of a heart ailment.

Chivalrous Man Lands In Jail

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—The chivalry of Morris W. Balken, 30, landed him in jail yesterday.

A cemeterized Marion L. Gleason, 19, had burst into tears when a judge told her she would have to pay a $15 fine or go to jail for three days for speeding. She sobbed that she had no money to pay the fine, and the bailiff started to lead her away.

"Don't let that girl go to jail," shouted Balken. "I'll pay her fine."

Marion expressed fervent thanks and departed.

Then Balken's case was called. He was given the alternative of $35 or seven days after pleading guilty to failing to signal for a turn and driving without a license.

Lacking the $35, he went to jail.

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
1 cup chicken stock or bouillon

1 cup milk
1 cup California sherry
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
3 ounces spaghetti
Chopped parsley

Clean sweetbreads and remove membrane; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Heat fat over medium heat. Add sweetbreads and cook until well browned on all sides; stir in flour. Add stock or bouillon and milk; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Stir in sherry. Cover and continue cooking 30 to 40 minutes.

About 10 minutes before sauce is done, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Turn cooked spaghetti onto serving dish and pour sauce over spaghetti.

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)—Marine Pvt. Willie E. Epps, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Epps of Altamonte Springs, is scheduled to finish four weeks of individual combat training Nov. 7 at the Marine Corps base here.

The course of instruction at this huge training base includes the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications, and advanced schooling on weapons.

The trainees learn that all Marines are basically infantrymen, whether they serve as cooks, typists, truck drivers or with aviation units.

The training is given to Marines scheduled for duty overseas and to all graduates of recruit training before they are assigned to new duty stations.

WAC CENTER, Fort McClellan, Ala. Pvt. Juanita B. Jefferson, daughter of Mrs. Bernice Johnson, 1011 W. 13th St., has just completed basic training at the new Women's Army Corps Center, Fort McClellan.

Prior to entering the WAC, Pvt. Johnson attended Bethune Cookman College in Daytona Beach. She is a graduate of Roosevelt High School, West Palm Beach.

The new $7,000,000 Center includes 22 cream-colored modern functional buildings, situated on rolling land with a view of the Appalachian Mountains. The setting of tree-shaded lawns and attractive buildings suggests an American college campus rather than a military installation.

Fort McClellan is also the permanent home of the Chemical Corps Training Command.

The Center's buildings are of concrete block and have large louver windows set in steel frames. All have built-in circulation fans and natural gas heating. Floors are of asphalt tile.

Each enlisted woman's barracks houses an entire company, and has administrative offices on the first floor, plus a dining room for Army personnel. A lounge with a kitchenette, a laundry room and a drying room are provided on each floor.

The WAC Band, the only WAC Band today, is permanently stationed at the Center. Its regular mission is support of training activities of the Center but it is also a touring and concert organization.

The WAC Center had been located in temporary housing at Fort Lee, Va., since June, 1948, when the WAC became part of the Regular Army.

The Center is the nucleus of the Women's Army Corps. Here all new members of the WAC are received, processed, classified and Crisp fall days bring with them equally crisp fresh cranberries which ripen in late September and early October to brighten our fall and winter tables.

While cranberries are available in many forms—canned, frozen as juice and jelly—fresh cranberries like other fresh fruits have a taste that can't be equalled in any other condition. Experts tell us that good fresh cranberries bouillie, and this treat is applied in selecting berries for packing and shipping. They will not the same kind of bounce into your fall meals in addition to adding their marvelous color.

Probably the oldest way of cooking cranberries is known as "ten minute cranberry sauce."

2 cups sugar 2 cups water
1 cup Fat-Free Cranberries

Boil sugar and water together a minute. Add cranberries and boil, without stirring, until all the skins pop open—about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and cool in saucepan. Makes 2 1/2 lbs. 10 Minute Cranberry Sauce.

First Republican Congressman Begins Work As Plaudits Arrive

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—Florida's first Republican congressman of this century says he's not going to wait until he gets to Washington to begin working for his district.

"I've gone to work as of today," said William C. Cramer, 32, a lawyer, as congratulations poured in for his victory over Rep. Courtney Campbell for the First District seat.

As a matter of fact, Cramer said, he has been working for some time to further several projects needed in his district, being confident of victory.

Among them are getting adequate appropriations to fight citrus decline; for research on the red tide for coastal areas; for a $10 million dollar appropriation for the Tampa harbor; and to come to the West Coast Inland Waterway.

He said he would gladly cooperate with the rest of the Florida delegation, solidly Democratic except for him, and was sure the other members would cooperate with him. Likewise, he said he knew and would work with the many Democratic county and city officials in his district.

He promised to work for the interests of everyone in his district, Democrats as well as Republicans, and for the other three counties as well as his home county of Pinellas.

The other three counties—Hillsborough, Pasco and Hernando—voted Democratic but his big vote in Pinellas pulled Cramer through. Cramer said he got many Democratic votes from people who sincerely wanted a two-party system for Florida.

He said he wanted to see Florida get its share of the proposed $5 billion dollar federal road fund. Cramer went into politics only seven years ago. He had attended the University of North Carolina, obtained a degree from the Harvard Law School and was a naval gunnery officer in World War II.

When he came home to St. Petersburg to practice law but saw a chance to climb with the rising Republican party.

Chunky, energetic and a good campaigner, he was the spearhead of the Republican drive in Pinellas County in 1950 and has been in the van of the party ever since.

He served one term in the Florida Legislature, then ran for the congressional post two years ago, only to lose to Campbell by 1,803 votes.

He began his 1954 campaign almost before the last returns were in back in 1952 and this time he made it.

W. Europe Interprets Elections As Setback For GOP Isolationism

LONDON (AP)—West European editors interpreted the American election results today as a setback for Republican isolationists and the followers of Sen. McCarthy but they assured their readers that President Eisenhower's personal prestige remained undiminished.

There was general agreement that the Democratic gains in Congress would bring new startling shifts in U.S. foreign policy.

A few papers thought that on domestic issues Eisenhower would find as much cooperation from the Democrats as he has had from members of his own Republican party during the last two years.

London's Liberal News Chronicle said: "There has been no sign of any marked reaction against American internationalism, and the worst excesses of anti-Communist fever seem to be passing."

The independent London Times commented: "Happily for America's allies, foreign policy, which played only a marginal part in the campaign, appears increasingly to be left outside the party battle."

Southerners Jubilant After Election Wins

ATLANTA (AP)—Democratic victories in Tuesday's election means Southerners will take over control of the most important House committee and possibly those in the Senate.

Georgians will play highly important committee rolls in the House where the Democrats definitely won a majority.

If the Democrats decide to organize the Senate with the aid of Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind. Dem.), Senators George and Russell of Georgia would resume leadership of two of the most influential committees.

Sen. George said at his home in Vienna today he thought Democrats should assume control in the Senate even by a margin of one vote if necessary.

Sen. George will return to Washington Friday night.

Sen. Russell would become chairman of the Arms Service Committee. He is in Washington.

In the House, Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia will return to the chairmanship of the Arms Service Committee which passes on legislation affecting the country's defense set-up. Vinson, in Congress since 1914, served as chairman of the committee from 1949 to 1953.

Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas will take over the House speakership from Republican Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts. Rep. Clegg of Tennessee will be chairman of the Ways and Means committee and Rep. Coohey of North Carolina will again head the Agriculture committee.

Other Southerners in line to take over important House committees: Rep. Richards, South Carolina, Foreign Affairs; Rep. Harlan, North Carolina, Labor and Education; Rep. Priest, Tennessee, Interstate and Foreign Commerce; Rep. Howard Smith, Virginia, Rules; Rep. Tamm, Texas, Veterans Affairs and Post Office and Civil Service.

Rep. Davis (D-Ia.) is expected to head subcommittees of the two committees on which he now serves: Post Office and Civil Service and the District of Columbia Committee.

Weatherman Says "Narrow Squeak" Saves State Crops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—Florida got a sprinkling of below freezing temperatures last night but a warm trend brought daylight apparently forestalled any crop damage.

Low readings last night were 27 to 33 in the Gainesville area and 38 to 44 in the Everglades area.

The warming trend began during the latter part of the night and apparently prevented the formation of frost. However, the Federal State Frost Warning Service said temperatures were again near the danger point for tender crops in the northern truck farming districts early Saturday morning.

Cross City in northern Florida recorded a low of 29 degrees. Jacksonville 33, Pensacola 34, Ocala 31, Orlando 44, Tampa 43, Clewiston 50, Miami 47, and Key West 63.

A rain area in Louisiana and Alabama was expected to spread into the Tallahassee area this afternoon and into the north and central portions of the state tonight. A few showers will occur in the south and central portions tomorrow, followed by clearing and cooler Friday afternoon and night.

Everything should have come through, said Warren O. Johnson, meteorologist of the Federal State Frost Warning Service.

However, it was a "narrow squeak," he explained.

He added it got cold early in the night and "broke very nicely" shortly after midnight. He explained it was a matter of timing in predicting lower temperatures for the post-midnight period.

North Florida had a low of 27 by 10 p.m., and today had minimum temperatures ranging from 27-34.

Central Florida registered some lows of 31, in the Everglades the low temperatures ran between 30 and 44. The lower east coast minimum readings ran from 42 to 50.

Peninsular Florida has gone through unreasonably cold weather since the first of the month. North Florida has recorded a 25 and scattered frost has formed in south central regions. Frost has collected even in a few isolated spots in the Everglades.

None Are Indicted By Grand Jury

Max Pototsky, 74, who was arrested on a charge of murdering his brother, John, and Charles Anderson, Negro grave worker, is free today after a jury decided not to indict him.

Lack of evidence was given as the reason for the action.

Also released from arrest were three youths accused of attacking a 21-year-old Orlando woman.

Socialite Leaders Face Lie Detector In Miami Robbery

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Some 10 members of the international social set will be given lie detector tests as the result of a missing $23,000 diamond clip, police said today.

Det. Barney Kaplan said the jewelry was missing after a quarrel between Duncan McMartin, Canadian millionaire, and his wife during a Saturday night party at the home of Bruce Fisher.

McMartin went into his wife's bedroom, returned with a tray full of her jewelry, and began fingering it at her feet by a diamond worth $100,000 worth.

Later, when Mrs. McMartin picked up her gems, she noticed a diamond clip pin worth $25,000 was missing.

A thorough hunt by the McMartins after the party broke up didn't reveal the pin but it did turn up a $4,000 pair of diamond earrings they hadn't missed.

Police had hoped to solve the mystery quietly but brought it into the open Wednesday night with an announcement that they plan to call in each of the Miami Beach, Nassau and Bermuda society figures to be questioned individually.

Each will be asked to take a lie detector test, Kaplan added.

Police, host at the Halloween party, owns the Coco Cola Bottling Co. in Nassau and his party was reportedly one of the big events of the holiday in the area.

McMartin was involved in a slapping with movie actor Errol Flynn over letters. The old record, it is believed, cost him $10,000 and court costs.

City Pipe-Laying Nears Completion

Work in the laying of 14-inch steel drainage pipe on W. First St. by the city should be finished tomorrow, according to city engineer Warren E. Knowles.

City workers have done a "remarkably good, fast job" in marking this morning. A total of 2,020 feet is being laid.

Each day, workers will start a section of the pipe laying.

Street resurfacing should start about the end of November. Knowles said a portion of E. First St. will be improved.

Safety Department Announces Action On Driver's Permits

The Driver's License Division of the State Department of Public Safety handled 1,517 revocations, suspensions or cancellations in August, it was announced.

Major activity of the division was the revocation of 1,167 driver's licenses. Next largest was the cancellation of 207 permits and cancellations. The Public Commission returned on a restricted basis a total of 84 permits in August.

Plaintiffs affecting 50 permits in the county residents were: Sanford, Thomas Howard Bryant, Wesley Roger Dahlin, Joe David, Vernon C. Down, Dwight Hubble Durham, Edwin Joseph Stephens, Jr., re-soked; Idella Johnson Cleveland, suspended; Walter Martin Gracy, cancelled.

At Alamogordo Springs, the license of Rodney Allen Goddard was suspended, while in Geneva the license of Michael Masten Jr. funds was also suspended.

Game Commission Finally Filled Up

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The five-member Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission had a full membership today for the first time in two months.

Acting Gov. Johns filled the long remaining vacancy yesterday when he named B. C. Burdette to replace Henry M. Jernigan of Port Pierce.

Burdette resigned as a member of the Collier County Commission to accept the position.

Webb May Sign Contract Starting Bloxham Cutoff Job

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Road Chairman Cecil Webb may sign a construction contract today for a start on the controversial Bloxham Cutoff project.

But he says he will not sign any other new road building contracts until Circuit Judge Hugh M. Taylor rules on an injunction petition which would block the state board from entering into any new agreements during the remaining two months of the John A. Harlan administration.

The Supreme Court yesterday refused to reconsider its decision of Friday which set aside a temporary injunction granted by Judge Taylor against the Bloxham Cutoff project.

Webb said he believed the Supreme Court's action gave him full authority to sign a $100,000 contract with the Smith Engineering and Construction Co. of Pennsylvania for construction of a six-mile leg of the cutoff between State Rts. 10 and U.S. 99 in Wakulla county. But he said he wanted to check with the state general counsel George Dayton before putting his name to the contract.

Judge Taylor granted the temporary injunction against the cutoff on the petition of Louis Dill, member of the Tallahassee chamber of commerce. Dill charged that his taxpayer's and the project of no public value and was proposed to pay off a political debt of John A. Harlan.

He charged the road would be built by Tallahassee and Leon county and serve only as an access road to Wakulla Springs, a commercial resort owned by Ed Ball, head of the Florida duPont interests.

Ball also had charged that the project would cost $10 million and be received through the state road fund in a $1 million dollar monthly operating deficit in the state's primary road fund during the first six months of the administration of Gov. Earl Lee Roy.

Sen. Walter E. George of Georgia, senior senator, said he thought the Democrats should take the responsibility if they have the votes to do so.

Sen. Pastore (D-R.I.) told reporters there is no doubt about it. We now have a definite obligation to the public who have put Democrats in control of both the Senate and the House.

Similarly, Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said, "I don't think the Democrats will run from responsibility if the people force it to them."

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic floor leader, took the attitude that there was no reason for a rush about the issue.

"I don't speculate on a conference," he said in Texas.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, declined to comment on Hayden's suggestion the Democrats might not be inclined to organize the Senate.

From election night, it had been apparent that whichever party won control of the Senate, it would have a very slim margin.

All day yesterday the issue hung in the balance on the close races in Oregon and New Jersey.
