(And at the Best Buy Het !)

What's av ar for you - if you stop out and buy yourself a 1956 Buick right now? Well, first of all-the time is right.

Right now, your present car is at its peak worth.

And, with the whole summer and almost half of '56 still ahead of you, you'll get more enjoyment out of a spirited new Buick this year - if you buy now.

Second, there's the matter of how much more automobile your money buys in the best Buick yet.

We tell you faily that nowhere but in a '55 Buick can you get so much bounty for so little booty.

It's one big reason why Buick now ranks in the top three of America's best-selling cars. Tet, you'll find it priced right close to the well-known smaller cars.

That sure makes Buick a whale of a lot of car, for the money. And look:

Nowhere but in a '56 Buick can you get the absolute smoothness and the electrifying performance of Buick's terrific new Variable Fitch Dynaflow.*

Nowhere else can you get the obedient responsiveness of Buick's big and mighty new 322cubic-inch V8 engine. Or Buick's metchless new handling case and over-level ride buoyancy or Buick's bold new sweep-sheed styling, and solidity of structure, and stretch-out roominees.

Add it all up and the answer comes out the same, any way you figure it: Now's the time to buy your 1956 Buick.

Will you come in - before another sun sets and get set with your best buy yot?

Residents Voice Objections

Everybody had their say last night as the Board of Sanford City Commissioners conducted a public hearing on the rezoning of the southwest corner of French Ave. and 25th St. from an R1-A to a C-T classification.

The property, owned by Howard Hughes was originally divided into three categories, C-1, C-T, and R1-A. The owner told the Board of Commissioners that the depth of the two front lots would not allow the development of the French Ave frontage into a commercial area because of the depth of the lots and requested that four lots directly behind them be rezoned to comply with the front footage.

The request had been taken from the Planning and Zoning Commission to the Board of City Commissioners and back again in an attempt to settle the rezoning request.

However, neighbors within 500 feet objected to the property in their area being rezoned because of noise, lights, traffic, hazard to children, and undesirable promo-

Howard Hughes, giving his side of the request for rezoning to'd the Board of Commissioners, "I Thave had an opportunity to lease this property in deference to these folks but have turned them down. Since it is already zoned commercial it is ridiculous not to rezone the property so that it can be used.

The final motion was to rezone lots 35 and 10 from R1-A to C-T (Commercial transist) moving the alley adjacent to the rezoned Iots which would leave two lots 15 feet in depth, RI-A as a buffer. A prior agreement between Howard Hughes and the Board of Sanford City Commissioners would require Hughes to move a sewer line at a cost of $2,500 before a building is constructed over

Civil Defense Units

The value of trained civil defense units was recently demonstrated in a community. ....High winds lashed the suburban communities in the affected state. Homes were shattered, several lives were lost, and power and telephone lines were put out of order by the winds. Large trees were blown over. blocking streets and making the movement ... of traffic difficult.

A very short time after the brief storm abated, civil defense volunteers were on the Job, along with the regular police and firemen. Had it not been for the volunteers there would have been far too few people to restors order and set traffic in motion.

Civilian defense volunteers acted as traf-" 'Yic police, helped to clear debris from the roads, checked damaged houses to make certhat injured people were being cared fot.

.t may be that civil defense workers, who were enlisted primarily as a precaution against possible enemy attack, may never amain have to function in wartime. We certainly hope so. But the possibility that war may come, and the ability to serve in emi. ergency and disaster, amply justify continnation of the civil defense program.

Just to imagine what might happen here in our own community adds zest to the continuation of the civil defense program and a well trained unit should disaster strike without notice.

systems of the United States. But there is a different picture that many have overlooked. As newer highways are added, as turnpikes and throughways become a part of the overall pattern of travel, higher speeds and daredevil driving build up the toll of deaths as the figures are totalled from over the nation. It is sensible to realize that if speed and ability for speed are held down as the highways, are constructed the death rate on roads and highways would be reduced. But year after year, as automotive ach-ievements are accomplished, speed is one of the attractions which draws customers.

The human element enters the picture in the reduction of traffic fatalities. The wider the road, the faster the speed and the greater the gamble-and with these elements the death rate goes up instead of down.

There is no way to take the human element - there is no way to do away with the desire to gamble on life or death-out of the picture in the construction of superhighways.

Millions of dollars can be spent on the billion dollar pattern of highways for engineers dreams are shattered by the human at the wheel who can do them one botter with their speed and dare-devilism. are, cars becom o + too.
