FRENCH CABINET COUNCIL INSTRUCTS PREMIER POINCARE TO ADOPT FRENCH PLAN

REPARATIONS CUT DOWN TO MINIMUM WOULD BE ACCEUTABLE

NO AGREEMENT

Would Mean Complications But British Have Accepted Plan For Discussion

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Jan. 3.—The cabinet council of French ministers this morning instructed Premier Poincare to move in the conference this afternoon the adoption of French reparations plan as minimum acceptable to France. In event the meeting does not accept the plan Poincare was directed to ask the conference to register formally a lack of agreement among the Allies.

British delegates to the allied conference at an informal meeting this morning practically decided to accept the French reparations plan as a basis for discussion, provided Premier Poincare agreed to discuss the British plan. In this way Premier Bonar Law would seek to place the burden of responsibility for a break up of the conference on the shoulders of Poincare.

The Prime Ministers of France, Great Britain and Belgium, and Marquis de la Torretta, for Italy, emerged yesterday afternoon in a gloomy mood from the first short session of the premiers' council, called to solve the reparations complex. They were well nigh hopeless of agreement, and the members of their delegations talked of the conference breaking up in two days.

The meeting of the premiers yesterday was a continuation of the postponed London conference; it has thus far borne little fruit. Premier Bonar Law remarked that owing to public opinion in France and Great Britain an agreement would be most difficult if not impossible. M. De La Astarie, the French finance minister who was with Premier Poincare in the meeting said, extending his arms:

"England and France are as far apart as that."

He immediately proceeded to Elysee Palace to consult with President Millerand, after which a cabinet council was summoned to meet this morning.

Premier Poincare of France offered at yesterday's conference of allied leaders, a proposal for a reduction of German reparations to fifty billion gold marks.

The French plan offers a two year moratorium, but it exacts productive guarantees to the resumption of payments later by the Germans. Under the French plan the class C bonds would be used to extinguish the inter-allied debts.

The British reparations plan presented at the conference, fixes "the primary obligation of Germany in the form of fifty billion gold marks in 30 year bonds bearing no interest for four years, four per cent for the next four years and five per cent thereafter."

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Felipe Tabos, Cuban consul general, in New York yesterday took steps to begin a search for the German ship Heinrich Kaiser, which sailed for Germany for Norfolk, Va., with Jose Mazas, chancellor of the Cuban consular corps on board and which was last heard of on December 6, when she reported she was in distress and in heavy seas off the Canadian coast.

LAKE IS MAYOR OF SANFORD CITY, ELECTED TUESDAY

BY THE CITY COMMISSION IN MEETING LAST NIGHT TO ORGANIZE FOR THE YEAR

Forest Lake is again the mayor of the city of Sanford, making the ninth time that he has held this high office in this city.

The City Commission met last night to reorganize that body for the new year, Mayor Henry retiring and Dr. C. J. Marshall taking the office of city commissioner. After the meeting had opened the name of Forest Lake was put up as mayor and he was unanimously elected to that position, making a fine talk in appreciation of the election and promising his undivided support to the city in the many improvements that are to take place during the year. In fact all the talk around the table last night breathed the spirit of co-operation and the get-together idea of passing over all former differences among men in Sanford and all work together toward a common end—that of the upbuilding of Sanford. Mayor Henry leaves the commission after a three-year term as City Commissioner and one year term as mayor and has made a record of which he can feel proud, having given his time and attention to the city's affairs in that period as do all the commissioners without one cent of salary.

At the close of the meeting last night the following resolutions were offered:

WHEREAS, The Honorable C. E. Henry, Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida, has served the City as City Commissioner and mayor faithfully and efficiently during his term of office; and,

WHEREAS, His term of office expires January 3rd, 1923; and,

WHEREAS, We regret to lose the services of so faithful and efficient a public servant, and appreciate fully the service he has rendered gratis to the city of Sanford, Florida, for a period of three years time; NOW

THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA:

That we regret the loss of the services to the City of Sanford, Florida, of so faithful and efficient a Commissioner as C. E. Henry, and that we desire to express for the City of Sanford, Florida, our appreciation of the unselfish service rendered by the Honorable C. E. Henry, as Mayor and City Commissioner.

The above and foregoing Resolution was offered by Commissioner Chase, who moved its adoption, and seconded by Commissioner Lake this 2nd day of January, 1923, and upon vote the same was passed this 2nd day of January, 1923, as follows:

FOREST LAKE, Yes
Commissioner,
S. O. CHASE, Yes
Commissioner,
C. J. MARSHALL, Yes
Commissioner.

Attest:
City Auditor and Clerk.

BIG THINGS PROMISED FOR THE COMING YEAR BY THIS LOCAL ORGANIZATION

Today's meeting at the noon hour of the Kiwanis Club was well attended and much business of general interest was transacted. F. C. Honorable Mayor Forest Lake was enthusiastically greeted and responded by asking the co-operation of every Kiwanian during the coming year, stating that all big projects and improvements planned by the commissioners would first be submitted to the various business clubs of the city and that their support would be asked toward carrying out the plans of the city dads. Dr. Marshall, the newly elected city commissioner, was next called upon and he spoke along the same lines.

ROTARY CLUB WAS PRESENTED WITH NEW CAPS

HELD FINE MEETING AT HOTEL VALDEZ YESTERDAY

The Rotary Club held a fine meeting at the Hotel Valdez yesterday with planked shad as the piece de resistance in the bill of fare and plenty of songs and good talks as the entertainment. DeWitt Miller and George McCulloch, of Orlando, were among the visiting Rotarians and Scoutmaster Haddock, of Sanford, was present to discuss the Boy Scout movement.

Harry Kent, of the Kent Vulcanizing Co., was among the new members present and while he escaped the initiation at his first meeting he has something nice coming to him.

President Thrasher made a fine talk on what he expected the members to accomplish in the new year and laid especial stress on attendance. He then presented each member with a blue fox cap trimmed in gold and with a gold tassel and H. R. Stevens thanked him upon behalf of the club calling for a rising vote of thanks. DeWitt Miller spoke on attendance and the encouragement given the members by other clubs had made it plain that attendance was one of the vital things in the life of Rotary. Judge Housholder and R. J. Holly also spoke on the matter of attendance.

Judge Housholder spoke about the adoption of the troop of Boy Scouts and Scoutmaster Haddock made a brief talk on the work of the Scouts and asked for the moral support of all the Rotarians since they had adopted this troop and also asked for a meeting place for them in the near future.

Judge Taylor Is Fortunate In Drawing

BECOMES CHIEF JUSTICE FOR FOURTH TIME

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 3.—Judge R. P. Taylor, for more than 30 years a member of the Florida supreme court, yesterday became chief justice for the fourth time when fortune favored him in the traditional lottery held in accordance with the state constitution to determine that the chief justice be chosen by lot, but the exact method is left to the justices involved.

The honor was awarded yesterday by a "book out," in a ceremony conducted in the presence of only the justices and G. T. Whitfield, clerk of the court. A new law book just in this morning from the publisher and unwrapped, was produced as the jurists stood around a table. Each justice opened the book at random and noted the first letter of the first word of the left hand page. The one who "cut" the nearest to the last letter in the alphabet became chief justice. Judge Taylor, the last to open the book, drew the letter "T." Judge Jefferson B. Browne, the retiring chief justice, was scarcely in the running today, as he turned to the letter "E."

Of the five present members of the court, two—Judges Ellis and West—have never won in the drawing. Judge Ellis, however, came close to winning yesterday. Drawing just before Judge Taylor, in fact, it was believed he had won with the letter "S." The all important one letter was the absorbing interest of the drawing and it is doubtful if any of the participants recall the word itself. Following the ceremony, the book was replaced on the shelf to serve the purpose for which it was originally intended.

If Lady Luck seems to have smiled beautifully on Judge Taylor she has been scarcely less kind to Judge Browne. He presented his first commission as a member of the supreme court six years ago yesterday and in the subsequent drawing won the honor of serving as chief justice for his first term on the bench. He and Judge Taylor began new six year terms the first of this year, they having been re-elected last November. Judge Taylor will serve as chief justice for the next six years.

The incoming chief justice is not only dean of the present court but probably has served on it longer than any other member.

The Bank of England was chartered in 1694.

RIVAL IRISH FIGHT OVER CONSULATE

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Forces of the Irish Free State and of the Irish republic clashed yesterday in streets before the consulate surrendered by Daniel McGrath after his life had been threatened by an anonymous letter writer using the name of the Irish republic army.

Victory perched on the banners of the Free Staters, who gained possession of the consulate and locked about 60 men and women adherents of the Republican cause out in the hall. The indignant losers charged foul play, declaring at least one of their number, Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of the late lord mayor of Cork—had been roughly handled by a city detective aiding the free state representatives.

The rival factions, who began their contest for possession of the senate last week when each began trying to sit the other side out, had agreed to a truce over the holidays, having the offices locked by the neutral superintendent of the building.

The truce ended yesterday morning. A delegation of Irish republicans, about 60 strong, and of both sexes, saw Lindsay Crawford, the Free State's appointee to succeed McGrath, coming down the narrow hall with Theodore Smiddy, Free State envoy to Washington.

Witnesses say they barred the passage way seeking to prevent them from entering. The Free State men are said to have tried to push their way through and a lively scuffle ensued. Police, which were summoned by Crawford and Smiddy and the officers, organizing a flying wedge, bored a passage through the crowd and landed Crawford and Smiddy inside the consulate where they promptly barricaded themselves behind locked doors, refusing to admit anyone, even reporters.

The republicans clamored vainly for admittance. Finally, according to their claim a detective seized Mrs. MacSwiney roughly by the shoulder and hustled her toward the elevator. The Republicans immediately appointed a committee, headed by Mrs. Mary Collins and Mrs. Vera Minarty to wait on Mayor Hylan with a protest.

Among the republicans left standing in the hall was Michael O'Brien who, according to Arthur Brisbane, Irish republican army officer, has been appointed Irish republican consul by Laurence Ginnell, Eamon de Valera's representative. The free stater refused to turn the consulate over to him, he said.

McGrath, who insisted he was not consul, but was merely acting in that capacity, resigned as a protest against the free state government. When he left, he said, he took the records.

ANNUAL RECEPTION

The tenth anniversary of Rev. Father Peck's ministry at Holy Cross Parish was again appropriately observed last evening at the Parish House. This annual event was inaugurated by Father Peck for the purpose of permitting the members and friends of the Parish becoming more fully acquainted and the occasion is always considered an important social event in the church calendar. It also affords an opportunity of personally extending to the Rector the congratulations of his people and friends and expressing the affectionate esteem in which he is held by them.

The privilege of receiving the guests of the evening was assigned to Mrs. Florence Belding, Mrs. R. W. Pearman, jr., and Mrs. Irene Biggers. Refreshments consisting of brick ice cream, in green and white, cake, and coffee, and mints were served to more than 150. In addition to this number there were a great many others who called for a few moments to pay their personal respects to Father Peck.

During the refreshments a number of vocal selections were given by Mrs. Takach, Mrs. Leek and Mr. MacMahon, all of whom are well known to Sanford audiences as the sweet singers of Holy Cross Parish.

This opportunity is taken of wishing Father Peck additional decades of success in his work which has been made possible by the unselfish and untiring efforts he has expended as rector of his parish. It is small wonder that he is revered so highly not only by his parishioners but outsiders as well, for he truly practices the precepts of charity as laid down by the Great Master.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE

Last evening the Sanford Country Club was the scene of one of the most delightful social affairs that has been given in some time. The Club house never looked lovelier than on this occasion. Quantities of holly with clusters of holly berries, bamboo, vines and poinsettias were used. The stairway was entwined with garlands of cedar studded with lovely japonicas. In large gilt letters were the letters "1923." On the mantle in the large living room, a perfect snow scene had been arranged, tiny trees, snow banks and snow men had been placed. At one end was a tiny cupid, girdled with a huge red sash on which was written "1923." On the mantle was another snow scene, here was placed a tiny white grave, around which were many white japonicas, and on top of it were the letters "1922."

The lights were also shaded with cotton sprinkled with artificial snow, and added a charming effect to this pretty scene.

The decorating committee, Mesdames G. D. Hart, E. F. Householder, R. J. Holly and George Knight, are to be congratulated upon the beautiful decorations for this event.

Peter Schaal and his orchestra furnished the music for the dancers, and never has this orchestra played as well as on this evening. In fact the holiday spirit prevailed everywhere.

Laté in the evening sandwiches and coffee were served in the dining room.

This evening was one of the most delightful social affairs given this season, and is another laurel for the Country Club.

DINNER PARTY

Last evening, Mr. and Mrs. George De Cottes entertained most informally at dinner at their home on Magnolia avenue, honoring their guests Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald of Daytona.

The table was centered with a large antique silver basket filled with red roses. At six o'clock a delicious six-course dinner was served, covers being laid for seven.

Following dinner, Mr. and Mrs. De Cottes and their guests attended the dance at the Country Club.

BAGGETT BABY DEAD

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Baggett died this morning after an illness of several weeks with a malady that baffled the skill of the physicians. The little fellow was the pride of his parents and friends and had only been on earth a few weeks to gladden the hearts of all who knew him when he was called into the flowery fields above. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the father and mother and other relatives.

The new year has started in real earnest.

And it looks like it would be a good one in every respect.

The church federation of Chicago says that newspaper advertising is needed by the churches everywhere and newspaper advertising is officially endorsed by the federation.

Looks like there would be some trouble in Louisiana over the kidnapping and murder of two men. The crime is laid at the door of the Ku Klux Klan, but has not been proven.

Bernhardt's part in a new play in Paris has been filled by an understudy and filled very satisfactorily, the papers say. There is no part in the world that cannot be filled—even the part of Bernhardt.

Every dispatch from Ireland says that more men have been executed and the next dispatch says they have not been executed and they kill them off and bring them back to life as easily as Nick Carter could do it.

Girl in Kansas has been elected Justice of the Peace. She was really elected as a joke and refused the office but has since changed her mind and will accept. It may be more than a joke when some of the jokers come up before her.

France has offered to cut the demand on Germany to fifty billions. This is more than Germany offered to do in '78 and the allies should see that the offer is accepted at once and the payments started. We believe that if Germany were assisted financially that she would be able to pay the entire sum and get on her feet much quicker than to make the burden so heavy that it will never be paid.

OUR NEW OLD MAYOR

Forest Lake was made mayor of the city of Sanford last night, being elected by the city commissioners as one of their members. The position of mayor of Sanford now is almost an empty honor. No longer do you need to make a campaign for it, no longer does the mayor sit in judgment upon the petty offenders against the city ordinances, no longer is the mayor the arbiter of the many differences that arise from time to time, no longer is the mayor the central and outstanding figure in city politics. But in the early days when Forest Lake was first made mayor of the city it meant something! It meant playing real politics. It meant going out after them and it meant delivering the goods after you were made mayor by the vote of the people. Mayor Lake is a new mayor but he is also one of the oldest in point of service in the city. This makes the ninth time that he has taken his seat as mayor of Sanford this being the ninth year. This does not mean consecutively for his first term was way back in 1896 when he was a mere boy of 22. He served four years then and leaving the city to engage in the ice business in Miami and in Cuba remaining away until 1907 when upon returning he was elected mayor again and held the office four years again and as he takes the office today it makes the ninth time that he has served the city as City Commissioner along with his position as mayor and his real work will be as the chairman of the Board of City Commissioners, rather than as the mayor.

However, it is a great honor to serve your city as mayor at different times for eight years and to again take up the duties as chief executive after many years. It takes a mighty good man to come back after being out of the harness for years—but Forest Lake is a strong man in politics, a progressive citizen, a good banker being president of the Seminole County Bank, is the Seminole county representative at Tallahassee, which, by the way, is his fourth term in this office and his chances are excellent to be elected speaker of the House.

This in our new mayor Sanford has a new mayor who is an old mayor in point of service. In our new mayor we have a man who will give Sanford a constructive administration and one who for years has been the head of the progressive element of the city, one who started the improvements here many years ago and who has labored for them ever since. Under his administration the first brick streets were laid in Sanford and many other big improvements started and it is fitting that Forest Lake should round out his term of office as City Commissioner with the title of Mayor of Sanford. He has earned it and he will serve as few men can serve because he has years of ripe experience to guide him.

AN EXCELLENT CHOICE

In selecting Miss Rowena Longmire, professor of English at the Florida State College of Women, as its president, the state educational association both honored and helped itself and paid a high degree of deserved recognition to one of the ablest women teachers in the state. Miss Longmire is not, however, the first woman to be president of the State Teachers, as said in the press reports of her election. Miss Agnes M. Harris, formerly professor of Home Economics, Florida State College for Women, and now occupying a high position in the economics department of the federal bureau in Washington having been president of the organization in 1916.

Florida is full of most competent women teachers. In all the schools they predominate, and a woman Miss Clemm Hampton, is chairman of the State Examining Board, the "Flying Squadron." Many of the best schools of the state have women principals, and most of the admitted best teachers in the graded schools are women. Indeed, it is fast approaching the time when even the high schools are going to be headed by women unless more of the young men of the state take up teaching as a serious permanent profession, and fit themselves for the highest places.—Tampa Tribune.

EXPECT CONTI-SCHAEFER BILLIARD MATCH THRILLING ONE

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Roger Conti, the twenty-one year old billiard champion of France, will enter the challenge match against young Jake Schaefer here January 8, 9, and 10, confident of conquering the Chicagoan and thus earn the right to challenge Willie Hoppe, the renowned champion for the 18.2 ball line title championship. The match will be staged in Orchestra Hall, and will be on the usual terms of 1,500 points—500 points being disposed of each night. The contest promises to be one of the most interesting ever played in Chicago and despite the great reputation of young Schaefer, there are many experts who believe the boy from France will this time take his measure. This opinion is shared, especially by those who witnessed Conti's play in the International tournament at New York and who were greatly surprised at the improvement in his playing compared with that shown in the 1921 tournament at Chicago.

That Conti is a real match for Schaefer has been proven recently on more than one occasion. Born in France on May 1, 1901, Conti is the youngest of the players who took part in the recent international and for a youngster he has a remarkable record. In France, before becoming of age, he defeated Douret, one of the best billiard players in France.

In the 1921 tournament in Chicago Conti finished fourth, just behind Cochran. In the last international Conti finished third, ahead of Cochran, and improved his average over that made in the 1921 tournament by figures of 41 8-12 compared to 28 37-61. That shows how fast Conti is coming and how he appears to be a formidable candidate for the championship. His admirers point out that Conti gave Schaefer his first defeat in the 1921 tournament when he beat him in the fifth game 400 to 203.

DO MEN KILL FOR THE LOVE OF KILLING?

We are glad the Palatka News has taken up the cudgel against the unnecessary slaughter of the marine life abounding in Florida waters. An what is true of that is true of the animal life and the bird kingdom of Florida. Every season there is much needless killing by those who delight to brag about what they have done as though it were a deed of bravery or a real achievement.

The incident that has aroused Good-Guerry's ire is that reported by the Sanford Herald, which told a few days ago of the slaughter of a manatee or sea cow in the waters of St. Johns river or Lake Monroe. This is what the News has to say about it:

"Because some man near Sanford recently murdered a fine manatee, commonly termed a sea cow, the occurrence is made much of by the valiant sportsman and the dimensions are paraded with as much pride as if the victim had been a dangerous thing. It is a crime to kill one of those animals, which are attractions to all visitors as well as residents, and are perfectly harmless when in their native elements. Because of the frequent desire to secure one for exhibition purposes only and because of the ruthless destruction by those who have a passion for 'killing something' the manatee is fast reaching the extinction period. Were they dangerous to humans there would be an excuse for the wanton destruction, but whether it be bull, cow or calf, one may enter the water beside it and have no fear. If a boat comes close to a manatee the animal will slowly make off, or, as has been known in numerous instances, will come close to the boat as if it had a desire to be petted. No sportsman will knowingly kill a manatee—any more than a good sportsman will indulge in pothunting."—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

We did not see the article in the Palatka News but it was uncalled for as far as the Sanford fishermen are concerned. They caught the manatee in their net and it stirred up such a fuss they thought it was an alligator in the dark of the early morn, and killed it. They would never have killed the sea cow had they known what it was in the beginning.

ABOUT $2 PER MILE PER YEAR, REPLACEMENT COST FOR BRICK

Save for the washouts on the Apopka highway at Lake Fairview and the bridge on the Winter-Park Maitland Highway in 1915 the brick replacement cost of the seventy miles of brick highways in Orange county has only been about $1,000. Of course, the county spent considerably more for maintenance of the roadsides. In other words or putting it in a new way, the tax payers of Orange county, in eight years, paid about $15 up per mile for brick. The brick is still with us, the highways have carried all the traffic that flowed into South Florida, and the highways would have been as good as the day they were laid had the roadsides been perfectly maintained. Two dollars brick replacement maintenance charges per mile, per year, is a record. We have asked for information about the maintenance charges on asphalt in other counties of Florida. It will be interesting to compare asphalt upkeep totals with brick upkeep totals.

We have reverence for the opinions of others. We are not arguing for brick just to cause friction. As we stated frequently, we are far bricker because when laid properly it makes the best pavement in the world. We should like to have brick laid on a rock foundation but we think brick pavements properly constructed on sand with curbing, adequate roadsides and water proofing are better than any other rival material. We have been charged with being in the brick "trust." We would rather be in a brick trust than in a gum or rubber or asphalt trust but let us say that we are not under the spell of a brick corporation, or any other corporation, we are, and for nine years have been, for brick as a road paving material and will continue to be until it is found unsuitable.

We are looking to the county commissioners to respect the opinion of others. They discarded a petition bearing nearly 1,000 names. They will soon call for new bids on the remaining highway projects, but they have excluded brick. We think that it would be common sense and good judgment to include brick in the new bids. In fact, we are sure that the commissioners will reconsider their action and give brick a chance in the new bidding.—Orlando Sentinel.

COL. FRANK HARRIS FORESEES A LIVELY CAMPAIGN

The veteran editor, Col. Frank Harris, expresses the opinion in his Ocala Banner that the year 1923 promises many thrills in state politics.

He has learned that Geo. W. Schofield, state attorney for the Marion circuit, will oppose Rivers Buford for the office of attorney general, and that there will be no less than six candidates for the office of governor, "all of whom are blessed with the gift of oratory, and are favorably known throughout the state."

Colonel Harris makes this pleasing and impartial comment on four of the known aspirants for the honor of serving the people as Florida's chief executive:

"Hon. Frank Clark, who has served in congress for a term of years, has already made his formal announcement as a candidate for said office. If not his, it is at least the honor of his friends that he has never been defeated for a political office, and he has held a number. He is a fluent and pleasing speaker.

"Hon. Chas. B. Parkhill of Tampa, a member of one of the best and longest known families of the state, and himself has added to his distinction both as a military and judicial officer, it is likewise announced, will be a candidate for this important office.

"Hon. John W. Martin, the gifted and popular mayor of Florida's metropolis, has announced his candidacy and will stand as the representative of the young democracy of the state. Like Mr. Parkhill, Mr. Martin is also a member of a distinguished pioneer family that occupies an honored place in our civic and military annals, and the reputation he has achieved as mayor will stand him in good part in making his campaign for this higher office.

"It is rumored also that Jesse L. Billingsley is also to be reckoned with. He possesses splendid intellectual attainments and is a forceful speaker. He was private secretary to Governor Jennings, and since which time has made for himself as a lawyer a fine reputation, and in the service of Uncle Sam in the big world war made a fine military record, and is now or was formerly at the head of the Legion in this state.

"These are the gentlemen who will enter the gubernatorial campaign from this section of the state, and we understand that the middle and western portions of the state will have candidates possessing records just as pleasing and qualifications just as great as the ones we have named. "So it may be stated for a truth that the next campaign will be a dazzling one and will give the voters some real thrills." It is the judgment of Colonel Har-

JOB FOR EVERY MAN WOULD CURE THE UNREST SAYS HENRY FORD YESTERDAY

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 3.—Henry Ford believes that the "one sure cure" for world-unrest is "to create for every able-bodied man in the world a job of some sort," the manufacturer told a delegation representing the international labor officers of the League of Nations, whose members held a long conference with him at his Dearborn office.

The delegation which came to this country recently to obtain ideas that might be introduced in other countries for the benefit of workers, is headed by Albert Thomas, of France, director of the International Labor Office.

During the interview, M. Thomas deplored the present unstable conditions in many parts of Europe and suggested that equalization of exchange rates might have beneficial results.

Mr. Ford replied that in his opinion the question of bringing the world back to peace and prosperity could not be solved through money, declaring his belief that the solution rested in expansion of industry, improvement of agricultural methods and education of the workers of the world.

Mr. Ford told his visitors that "all the money in the world could be dumped into the sea, and as long as men would put one stone on top of another and till their ground, they would have products to barter and exchange and world commerce would go on without interruption."

The solution is "a job for every man" the manufacturer said. "Let the people of the world once get the idea that all they need is to do a good day's work six days every week and that in this way they can make their own prosperity, and there will be no more talk about unstable conditions for instability will cease to have existed."

Mr. Ford declared that one of the most urgently needed reforms facing the world pertained to more widespread use of farm machinery. He told the delegation that "farmers everywhere" must be taught the use of machines and their economic value before lasting prosperity can come to any people.

The manufacturer added that he believed greater industry on the part of the world's peoples would end war. "If every one has a job that interests him, he will be too busy to think about making war," was the substance of his argument in that connection.

The visiting delegation spent a large part of the day in inspecting the Ford Motor Company plants here, a part of the time being devoted to a study of the Ford trade school where mechanics are trained.

Holiday Week Dull in the Lumber Trade But Demand Strong

Prospects Were Never Brighter For Heavy Volume of Business

The holiday week is always dull in the lumber trade, and this week is no exception. Demand, however, remained remarkably strong up to the very eve of Christmas, and is expected to reassert itself even more strongly immediately after New Year. Prospects were never better for heavy volume of business, and the lumber industry is loudly optimistic. The market is featured by unseasonable strength as the year closes. Retailers' stocks on the whole are very low, due to the unusually good business they have enjoyed for some time and their hesitancy about buying before inventories for filling in purposes. The building outlook being excellent in nearly all cities and larger towns, the yards will soon have to come forward with requirements that will aggregate enormous quantities. The agricultural situation has improved notably of late, and the exception is that farmers, after several years of relative inactivity in such work, will next year undertake extensive building construction and repairs, which probably will be carried on at a pace calculated to make up for much of the time lost. Country yards, therefore, are also preparing for a bigger year than usual. Another promising source for business is the railroads, which have pressing needs for rolling stock and equipment of all kinds, which are definitely planning very important purchases during 1923. The industrial situation as a whole is excellent, with prospects for further improvement which means that demand for lumber is going to be general and run into heavy totals. Exportation, too, is picking up. While the business outlook is thus bright, the question uppermost in many minds is where the lumber that undoubtedly will be needed is to come from. Stocks of all principal softwoods and hardwoods are badly depleted. The mills have for many months sold as much or more lumber than they have produced and are now heavily overbooked. By the time they have succeeded in clearing their files of present orders they will be in the midst of the new buying season and have further reduced their supplies. It looks like a real shortage of all popular construction and fabricating items. The price tendency in the meantime is upward. Production is low on account of the holiday shut-downs, but mills generally will resume cutting at highest possible capacity immediately after the New Year.

INDUSTRY MOVES SOUTH

"The cotton industry is gradually going south to be near the cotton fields and also to avoid the high labor costs of the North. If Muscle Shoals can supply cheap power it will undoubtedly be the center of the cotton spinning industry—at least for the coarser fabrics."—Samuel Crowther in McClure's Magazine for January.

Startling Facts From Bulletin

Forty-Five Millions of People in America Have Low Vitality, Says Well Known Authority. Here Blood Needs of Americans That Are Warning of Approaching Danger.

That only twenty per cent of the American people are really healthy, and that at least forty-five per cent are more or less suffering from some serious malady, is the startling statement contained in a recent bulletin of the leading medical association in the United States, the statement continues. There are 150,000 deaths annually, most of them from preventable causes. 3,000,000 bed-ridden cases and forty-five million persons whose vitality ranges between thirty per cent and seventy per cent.

That death comes on by degrees, in almost every instance it is due to neglect of early symptoms, as Nature always gives fair warning. Indigestion, acid stomach, pain in the side, backache, feeling of weariness, swimming in the head, spots before the eyes, weakness, hot and cold flashes, pains in the chest, headache, and nervousness are indications of the heart swollen and painful joints, pain between the shoulder blades, backache, and irritability are the signs of danger. These are Nature's distress calls for help and should be heeded at once. The stomach must be toned up—and poisons must be driven out of the system, says a well-known authority.

FERRALINE does exactly these things. What is Ferraline? It is a natural remedy that tones up the vital organs and gives Nature a chance to heal and restore worn-out tissues. It both purifies and fortifies the system. FERRALINE is the concentrated liquid extract of a group of well-known minerals, medicinal and curative properties in a natural compound. It contains no alcohol or other poison, there is no other medicine in the world like it.

If your local druggist does not handle Ferraline, send this to Terralene Distributing Company, Tampa, Fla.—Adv.

Why One Advertising Appropriation Was Increased Two partners were debating their advertising policy—planning the campaign for the next six months. There is a retail store which spent in one year $12,000 on its advertising which was 5 per cent of their yearly volume; a fair expenditure in their line of business. In growth of sales they could easily point out the home-coming of the $12,000 with a fair and reasonable profit in its train. For these two partners that expenditure was a profitable short-term investment. One of the partners spoke up: "John," he said, "we have a cash profit in the bank from that $12,000, but we have a greater intangible profit by far—it is piled up for us in the minds of every man and woman in the city. "It is reflected in the attitude of our bankers. "It is present in the minds of the manufacturers who sell us. "It is working on the minds and purses of every one of our customers." "Why," he continued, "this business, because of the advertising we have done, is worth $12,000 more than it was before we began." The two partners increased their appropriation, modestly, it is true. That was five years ago. Today, for it is in a large city, their appropriation is eight times their original amount. Their standing, with bankers, manufacturers and customers is A-1. Their business has grown and grown in a healthy way. And still as one of them put it— "In the last five years advertising has made money for us. Every cent we've spent has come back to us, and brought another with it. But, our real profit—our big profit from that advertising is banked in the minds of the people. Ours is the best known business of its kind in town. And that is worth a lot of money to us." 1922 SAW MANY CHANGES BOXING TITLES

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown" in the domains of pugilism—proof of which is the unusual number of sensational upsets featuring the ring record for 1922. Review of the year shows that three world's and two American titles changed hands. With the exception of the heavyweight ranks, where Jack Dempsey remained supreme but inactive, all the crowns were in jeopardy at some time.

Four of the titles changed hands in New York while the fifth, the world's light heavyweight championship, passed into the possession of the Senegalese, Battling Siki, when he knocked out Georges Carpentier in Paris last September. Siki also acquired the European heavyweight title by his victory. Since then, however, he has lost whatever prestige he gained by drawing a long-term suspension from French boxing authorities for improper conduct and adding fuel to the flames of controversy with unsubstantiated charges that his bout with Carpentier was intended as a frame-up for Georges to win but that he double-crossed the ex-poilu by a "change of heart" during the bout.

Johnny Buff, veteran Jersey City boxer, met double disaster during the year, losing the world's bantamweight title to Joe Lynch, of New York, a former champion of the division, in July and the American flyweight crown to Pancho Villa, the Filipino sensation, in September. Buff, minus much of his former prowess through a long illness, was knocked out by Lynch in the fourteenth and by Villa in the eleventh round. He has not appeared in the ring since then.

Another veteran went down to defeat before stamina and youth when Jack Britton, king of the welter ranks for years and one of the craftiest ring generals of all time, lost a decision and his world title to Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N. J., in November. But a few months before Britton had put up one of the best fights of his career against Benny Leonard, lightweight titleholder, winning on a technical foul in the thirteenth round.

The American light heavyweight title changed possession twice. Gene Tunney, Greenwich Village favorite, took the honors from Battling Levinsky in January by the decision route but lost the crown in May to Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, who gained a decision after a hard-fought 15-round bout.

The situation in the featherweight and middleweight divisions was complicated by decisions of the New York State Athletic Commission which took away the licenses of the respective titleholders, Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, and Johnny Wilson, of Boston, and declared their laurels open to competition so far as the Empire state was concerned. Kilbane was outlawed for refusal to accept a challenge from Johnny Dundee, of New York, and Wilson for ignoring an agreement to box Harry Greb, Pittsburgh mauler.

Dundee and Danny Frush, English boxer, who took up an American residence in Cleveland, were picked by the New York Commission, as logical contenders for the featherweight title and the former acquired what honors the commission was capable of bestowing by knocking out Frush in the ninth round of a contest in August.

Likewise, Dave Rosenberg, of Brooklyn, was declared middleweight champion by the commission after a victory over Phil Krug, of Harrison, N. J., in August, but the honors were transferred to the veteran Mike O'Dowd, of St. Paul, former titleholder, when he won from Rosenberg on a

SPORTING AND ATHLETIC EVENTS TO BE MANY IN SANFORD IN 1923

City Takes New Lease on Life in Athletic Way and New Athletic Field Will Help

Although Sanford will not be represented in the Florida State League this year, or maybe in the next several years, despite this fact, athletic and sporting events will be staged that will keep the fans amused throughout this year of 1923, and with the help of the promised ball park and athletic field, Sanford people will not be forced to ride miles to see a ball game.

The Chamber of Commerce has promised a base ball park, an essential that is necessary in the successful carrying out of any athletic programs and once this park is completed Sanford will be just as live as any towns in the state in the way of ball games, etc.

Sanford is fortunate in having right in our midst home talent to place an exceptionally good base ball team in the field, one that can compete with anything outside of the Florida State League, and with the proper support behind them, and the players given the help they need, it is possible that they can compete with some of the Florida State League teams.

Semi-professionals such as Rive, catcher; Amanns, Chapman and McCall, pitchers, with Burdick, Chittenden, McLucas and Walker, infielders and Spencer in the outfield gives Sanford fine material around which to build a team, an array of material that will be hard to find in other towns the size of Sanford. These players have not been able to demonstrate their real worth heretofore on account of the lack of support. These players have not been able to play regularly as they should because the financial support was lacking on account of a park with no way in which to charge admission, and when they are unable to play regular they are never able to get into the proper shape. They can do this, however, after Sanford's new park is ready for them, and when they get their regular workouts each day they will be a team hard to catch, and, of course, a pride to Sanford inasmuch as they are all Sanford boys and will make up a strictly home team. Efforts will be made to round them into shape immediately upon the completion of the new ball park.

The year 1923 will find other events just as important as base ball. The basket ball teams of the high school are making fine records, the 1923 foot ball squad with Coach Wilkinson and Capt. Jim Stone will be the best team in this part of the state if not one of the very best in the state.

With Otis George, as professional at the Golf Links, there will be many excellent golf players developed during this season. And there are no towns in the state that has any better array of trap shooters.

With all these things ahead of us and the prospects of the banner year in the way of sports and knowing that we just must have the ball park and athletic field, let's every one of us get behind this movement so that when 1923 rolls by we can all say that our work was well done.

The Chamber of Commerce Committee promises a final report on the ball park matter at the next meeting, and from the advance dope given out we are sure the report will be satisfactory, and then Sanford's real athletic activities can date from that day.

Benny Leonard was the busiest champion of the year. The lightweight king fulfilled a strenuous mid-summer program when he fought in succession Jack Britton, Rocky Kansas and Lew Tendler. He lost to Britton on a foul, knocked out Kansas a few weeks later and late in July defended his title against Tendler, Philadelphia southpaw, in a sensational 2-round no-decision bout at Jersey City, N. J. Leonard received the popular verdict at the ringside, but he was given one of the stiffest battles of his career and came close to defeat in the eighth round under a staggering attack by Tendler.

Leonard later defeated Ever Hammer, of Chicago, in a contest at Michigan City, Ind., but a serious infection of the mouth, the result of injuries sustained in the Tendler fight, has since kept the champion out of active competition.

Charley White, hard-hitting Chicagoan, established himself as one of Leonard's most formidable rivals and may be matched with the champion in the near future. White's latest and most impressive triumph was his knockout of Richie Mitchell, of Milwaukee, in the tenth round of a 15-round contest.

Officially Dempsey's heavyweight title was at stake once during the year in a four-round encounter with a middleweight sparring partner, Jimmy Darcy, at Buffalo, N. Y., in July, but there was little risk involved. The New York State Athletic Commission ruled that under the boxing statutes a decision must be rendered, and Dempsey willingly complied with the technicality, receiving the official verdict.

Dempsey also formally accepted the challenge of his dusky rival, Harry Wills, for a title bout, but that was as far as negotiations proceeded, it being agreed that a match could not be promoted before next summer. Wills' prestige gained little from his performances in several bouts in New York with negro opponents, but he remained generally regarded as Jack Dempsey's strongest rival.

Two other figures, meanwhile, created interest in helvweight circles—Floyd Johnson, of Iowa, and Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine sensation. Johnson has developed rapidly and included a knockout of Bob Martin among his victories. He will face his hardest test next month when he meets 1922 SAW—GAL TWO Bill Brennan, rugged Chicagoan.

Firpo came to this country early in the year and knocked out in rapid succession several lesser lights. But while he demonstrated heavy punching ability he showed little boxing skill. Returning to South America, he knocked out Jim Tracey, Australian boxer, and now plans to return in January to the United States. He has received offers to box either Johnson or Brennan.

CELERY SEED

The second half of the Bowling League starts off with done-over alleys, new pins and maybe some new balls.

This is good news to the bowlers and will mean some better games and some better averages.

The new year starts off with a regularly recognized professional at the golf links. More good news for the golfers as it means that from now on these golfers can learn the game as they should.

A beginner, even though he thinks he needs no lessons, will soon develop habits detrimental to his play that will be very hard to overcome. For that reason, if for no other, see Otis George at the club and make a date for a few lessons. You will never regret it.

Let Mr. George see you play so that he can advise you as to the proper length clubs, etc. He will know when you wouldn't—and he is able to take care of your wants right at the club house.

It is possible to turn out a real home talent base ball team in Sanford. And why shouldn't Sanford do it as St. Augustine, Palatka and other towns do. Get behind them and make 'em go.

And this team can start off with a new ball park. That means the five and ten cent sports who have been witnessing the ball games, some paying nothing, will have to put or stay at home. When this can be accomplished, then and then only will Sanford be able to have any kind of a team.

And let a committee of men, some of Sanford's leading citizens, START NOW, and help the High School with their 1923 foot ball squad. Material for the best team in the state is right here in our county, if we will but develop it.

And above all—get behind and keep behind the Chamber of Commerce until they have given Sanford what every village, hamlet, town and city in the state has, and Sanford hasn't—A BASE BALL PARK.

MORE TO ROQUE THAN JUST HITTING THE BALL.

Roque is "quite a game" and the description of it and how it is played, as given by J. Ralph Pickell, editor of the Roundup, Chicago, is very interesting. Underhill says roque resembles croquet just about as much as coal resembles diamonds. His little article on "What Roque Is," was called to the attention of The Herald by Frank M. Markham, president of the Bradentown Roque Club, and it is printed herewith. Says Mr. Pickell:

"Roque is not croquet any more than coal is diamonds. There are elements of croquet in roque, just the same as there are elements of diamonds in coal, but the similarity ends before it begins.

"Since roque is not croquet, what is it?"

"It's this—and then more. "Players procure mallets of varying kinds and coat, which they use to hit balls made of gutta percha, on a ground specially prepared out of sandy clay, through arches which are one-sixteenth of an inch larger than the balls, each arch counting a point.

"Two players use two balls each, the balls being played in the following order:

"Red, white, blue, black. "Partner balls would be red and blue, white and black.

"Colored clips on the arches indicate the point which balls have made. The colored clips match the colored balls.

"The strategy of the game lies in successfully getting rid of the 'hot' ball which is the next ball to be played, while at the same time one uses the two remaining balls to make as many points as possible. Crack players, such as Jimmy Keene, the world champion, and many others who might be mentioned, play many points successfully with all three balls, the most of the time, when you first visit a court you will see the players putting away the 'hot' ball behind an arch, a stake, or some place where it cannot be hit squarely.

"The science of the game lies in one's ability to make bank shots against the cement borders, across the court, or in any way to get life balls, and then 'tie up' your opponent so you can make the points which are as follows: Taking both balls from one stake through the arches to the next stake and then back again, making a total in all of thirty-two for both balls, for the arches including two points for each of the stakes.

"Roque is an international game. World's championship contests are held annually. It has a national association known as the American Roque League. It has a paper known as the American Roque News. There are four divisions in Roque. Diamond division, first division, second division and third division.

"A beginner does remarkably well who plays out of third division in a season. Not many do it. Others remain in third division, forever and always. Watch a star player do it. I looks easy, don't it? It isn't.

"Roque has more scientific plays in it than any outdoor game without exception. It is in a class with indoor billiards. In fact it has been called out-of-door billiards.

"Roque requires a good eye, steady nerve and practice just as any other good game. In its final analysis it is scientific relaxation.

"It is a young man's game which affords old men much pleasure."

"Men who are given to swearing should not take up roque. The balls often just miss, which is 'good as a mile.'"

"Old maids should leave roque alone. Only those women who have been severely tried by the unremitting toil of raising a family, have the patience to learn it."

"In spite of all that has been written here, roque is a wonderful game."

"Purring" Motors Come From Pouring STANOCOLA Polarine In Your Crank Case

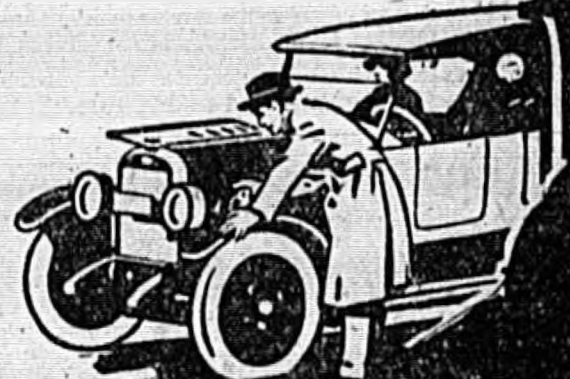

Automobile construction has reached such a high point of efficiency that nearly any car you buy will give you good service if you take the right care of it.

Proper lubrication is, of course, the most essential thing to motor satisfaction—and remember always that the motor is the heart of the car. If the pistons and cylinder walls are lubricated with the right quality and the right weight of oil, you will have no bother or expense with either of the two great causes of trouble—friction and lost power.

Polarine is a motor oil made from the very heart of choicest crude petroleum, refined, filtered and purified so as to produce just the right "oiliness" for every motor. Made in four weights, "Medium"—"Heavy"—"Heavy X" and "Heavy XX." By following the chart of recommendations (which is on display at all Polarine dealers), you can be absolutely assured of getting the proper weight for your motor.

INTEREST IN GOLF SWEEPING ENGLAND

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 3.—Britain is in the grip of the golf fever, if the number of new courses being constructed can be taken as an indication. There are at least thirty courses now being built, the largest number laid out in a single year since 1902 when the rubber-cored ball revolutionized the game. The courses are costing on an average of $50,000 each.

An innovation is found in courses especially designed for the use of elderly people and beginners, which are being installed by many of the English clubs.

NEGRO OUTBREAK AT SAPULPA, OKLA.

(By The Associated Press) SAPULPA, Okla., Jan. 3.—Armed guards today are patrolling the dividing line between the white and negro districts of the city with orders to permit no white persons to enter the negro district and to keep the negroes in their own area while special deputies are watching all roads in this vicinity in an effort to apprehend the negroes who Monday night ambushed five policemen, killing one and wounding the others.

URGENT AMENDMENTS TO IMMIGRATION LAW: LABOR SHORTAGE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Immediate amendment of the immigration quota so as to authorize the secretary of labor to let down the bars for particular classes of workmen needed by the nation's industries is urged by the National Association of Manufacturers in a program of legislation which that body will seek to bring into being during 1923.

The report, made public yesterday by John E. Edgarton, association president, presents conclusions which Mr. Edgarton says have been reached after two years of intensive study of the immigration problem.

It asserts that there is a growing shortage of common labor, which prevents the employment of many skilled workmen, and there is little hope of correcting this situation under the present laws.

Another amendment which proposes to cure the labor shortage is one of providing that quotas allowed the various nationalities should be fixed in terms of net immigration. Under the present law, says the report, there may be an actual loss in the total of aliens from a given country, because many more may leave the country than are permitted to enter.

This was true last year of Italians, of whom 40,000 entered the country, while 53,000 took their departure. Another amendment sought would provide for examination of immigrants before they embark for this country. Immigration of the higher type of alien is retarded, the report declares, because the more intelligent classes refuse to start for America with no assurance that they will be found physically fit when they arrive.

Besides these immediately sought bonuses it will work for a permanent immigration policy, the chief point of which is transfer of control of immigration from the department of labor to a board made up of the labor, agriculture and commerce secretaries. Assent by the United States of its right to register, distribute, educate and otherwise supervise the alien during his sojourn, also is a feature of literacy tests for immigration, but retention of mental and political tests for immigrants in another. Retention of the literacy test for granting of citizenship, however, is favored.

BAR INTERESTED IN TEST CASE AT MIAMI

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 2. In 1916 the legislature in order to meet an adverse decision of the supreme court in the case of Clark V. Ruge, passed a statute which is now section 3060 of the revised general statutes, which provided that when a circuit judge is assigned to another circuit he shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the resident judge. The validity of this act has never been tested.

On account of the congestion of business in Dade county, the Dade County Bar Association has requested of the governor that a circuit judge be assigned to officiate as trial judge from the 1st day of January to the 17th inclusive. The petition had been prepared by the attorney general and according to that official has been made and transmitted to the governor selecting Charles O. Andrews of the 17th circuit as such judge. While Judge Andrews is officiating under that order an application will be made to the resident circuit judge for an order in some case not on the docket for trial, and whether he assumes jurisdiction or not, his action will be made the basis for a test case to be immediately brought in the supreme court. It is the view of the attorney general that the statute is valid, and if valid he points out that the legislature by authorizing the appointment of one additional circuit judge in some circuit of the state having the requisite population, can provide the means by which the congested docket throughout the state can be relieved.

Warm Clothing and Heat in Homes Seems Like Impossible Dream of Luxury to Russian Children

NEW YEAR'S DAWN BRINGS A GLOOMY OUTLOOK FOR THESE RUSSIAN CHILDREN, WHO ARE WEARING TATTERS THAT WERE GARMENTS EIGHT YEARS AGO

Any little tyke out of at least one million Russian children, if given exactly his choice of a Christmas present this year, would have chosen something—anything, no matter what—to keep him warm. If some good fairy should endow him not only with the right to make any good resolution he liked, but with the power to keep it, he would undoubtedly write down, "Resolved: That I will not freeze." During the present extreme clothing shortage in the bitter winter weather of Russia children and adults alike regard warmth, even enough of it to keep them alive, as the supreme boon.

The coming of the New Year in cold Russia finds at least a million children and adults dressed in rags or in single garments of thin floor tacking, their bare skin showing through, or even in newspapers stitched together in the shape of clothes. American Relief Administration workers in Russia have reported to Herbert Hoover, the intense cold, even in the earlier part of the winter, has prevented hundreds of thousands of children, dressed in tatters, from going to the A. R. A. kitchens where they get their one meal a day. Adults in a plight fully as desperate as that of the youngsters, huddle with them in their unheated huts. The price of fuel, like the price of clothing, is prohibitive. A shoeing in Russia costs the equivalent of two days' pay, and the price of every article of clothing is correspondingly high.

American Relief Administration workers estimate that at least a million children and adults will be facing death during the worst weather of the New Year unless clothing is sent to them. To prevent this terrible calamity, the American Relief Administration has evolved a new clothing remittance plan from the famous Hoover food remittance system that successfully saved hundreds of thousands of lives last year. Twenty dollars, sent to the New York headquarters of the A. R. A., 42 Broadway, will purchase one of these packages, and secure its delivery to any designated individual in Russia. The donor will receive a direct receipt from the Russian who gets the clothing, thus enabling him definitely to trace his gift. If the giver prefers, he may mark his package "General relief," in which case it will be distributed to some one of the many cases of terrible need.

HUPP DOMESTIC SALES DOUBLE THOSE OF 1922

Sales of Huppobiles for eight of the 12 different months of 1922 were greater than the highest previous monthly sales record of any other year in the 14 years of the Hupp Motor Car Corporation's history, according to an announcement made last week by O. C. Hutchinson, general sales manager.

The total number of Huppobiles sold in March, 1920, hitherto the biggest sales month, was exceeded in every month in 1922 except January, February and December. Had plant facilities permitted their manufacture, it is certain that several thousand more cars could have been sold.

Huppobile sales this year will total about 35,000 cars. Domestic sales will be more than double those of 1920, the previous largest year. Despite this selling record, Mr. Hutchinson states that Huppobile distributors and dealers have an unusually small number of cars on hand today.

It is officially stated that the output planned for 1923 will be considerably in excess of that of 1922 and that despite enlargement of its plant at Detroit, now nearing completion, the Hupp corporation will be forced to operate at close to capacity every month next year to produce the cars its sales organization has determined will be required. Plans are now being made to increase output up to close to maximum in January, and to raise it still higher in February for the expected sharp buying demand next spring.

"It was our original intention," declared Mr. Hutchinson, "to produce and sell 30,000 cars in 1922, which would have doubled our domestic sales volume. We found, however, that by manufacturing changes we could produce more cars than that. Accordingly, we reached our 30,000 mark in October, with nearly three months of the year remaining.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Bill Green, editor of the Orlando Morning Sentinel sometimes has had misgivings in which he writes some "deceitfully clever" stuff and one of his latest is on the Chamber of Commerce as follows:

I am the Chamber of Commerce. I am the melting pot of all local problems, and 20,000 hearts beat in sympathy with my efforts.

I am a perpetual progress, good fellowship, incessant initiative, faith and hope.

I am the guardian of public affairs, the moorland of civic ideals, the exponent of service and the incarnation of vision.

I am non-partisan, I stand for the rights of every citizen. I loathe patriotism and I encourage success.

I build cities, I enrich citizenship, I increase efficiency.

I am an unflinching friend of the people. Spiritually I offer all that I have to the city of my choice.

I am the Chamber of Commerce.

ALL DEPARTMENTS OF STATE TOO BUSY TO OBSERVE NEW YEAR'S

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 2.—Well wishes for the New Year were given on the jump in the state capitol yesterday where little of the holiday lethargy was in evidence. All of the departments from that of the chief executive down functioned without a let-up, and carpenters, masons and electricians continued their work of remodeling the capitol in order that it will be completed before the New Year has advanced very far.

Governor Hardee was at his desk early in the day, and remained there until late in the afternoon. The executive's secretary, L. B. Edwards, however, was out of the city.

W. S. Cawthon, superintendent of public instruction, is expected to return here within the next few days. He has been in St. Petersburg attending the convention of the Florida Educational Association.

VILLA RETAINS TITLE PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—Panchito Villa, fly-weight champion, easily defeated Battling Murray, of this city yesterday in the principal bout of a New Year's day card. In the last three of the eight rounds, the Filipino made a punching bag of the Philadelphian. Each weighed in at 110 pounds.

GRACE HOWELL READY FOR DISCHARGE FROM STATE INSANE ASYLUM

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Grace Howell, four times tried for killing her husband Sam Howell, in the railroad freight office at Miami four years ago, and committed to the state asylum for the insane last September on a court order, is ready for discharge from the hospital and retrial, according to a telegram received today by Sheriff R. C. Becker, from W. V. Knott, superintendent of the Chattahoochee asylum, who asked that an officer be sent here to get the woman.

Judge E. C. Davls of this circuit, to whose court the case came on a change of venue, said last night that he was uncertain when he would make an order for the return of the woman for trial.

Now that a tickless clock is promised, won't someone invent a Maxim silencer for an auto horn?
