

Saints Come From Behind To Win Over Locals 9 - 7

Lookouts Relinquish 7-2 Lead In Rally In Sixth; Nearly 600 Fans See Tilt

Ancient City Crew Collects 15 Bingles Off Cook And Atwater While Locals Get 12 Hits Off Opponents

The St. Augustine Saints came from behind yesterday afternoon to take a 9 to 7 decision over the Lookouts at the Municipal ballpark before an attendance of approximately 600 fans.

The Lookouts captured an early 7 to 2 lead but lost it when the Saints scored seven times to even the contest which was anybody's until the eighth frame.

Big "Chief" Cook started on the hill for the lookouts but was driven to the showers in the sixth frame. He was replaced by Charles Atwater who went on to get credit for the loss.

The Lookouts big guns started with a bang in the first four innings as they pounded out four of their 12 hits to score 7 runs. During those times they drove Whitley Davis, Saints' starting hurler to the showers and forced Heister to retire after only one inning, but when Carl Weigle ventured on the hill, the Lookout artillery stopped dead. He allowed only two more hits during the game. He got out of a jam in the ninth when it appeared that the Lookouts might knot the count.

Wrenn, Saints catcher led the hitting attack with four hits in five trips to the platter. Hudson collected three in five, Carlock, three in five and Fred Holland did the same.

The Lookouts opened the scoring in their half of the initial chapter when with two men out, Mihalic singled to centerfield and scored when Holland doubled to the left-center field wall.

The Saints knotted the count in their half of the second when Schweigert doubled to centerfield and scored when Skillings duplicated the feat with a double down the leftfield line.

In the third frame, the Lookouts tallied twice: when Brown was safe on an error by Judy Mihalic walked but Holland flew out to left field. Hudson came through with a hot single down leftfield line to score Brown. Mihalic pulled up at second. Carlock singled to right to score Mihalic but Clark grounded out into a double play to end the inning.

In the fourth frame, the Lookouts scored four times. Mighty Watts tripled to the rightfield wall, Cook singled to leftfield to score Watts. Ruggier sacrificed Cook to second but Brown flew out to Skillings in leftfield. Mihalic walked and Holland singled to leftfield to score Cook, sending Mihalic to third. Hudson singled to deep leftfield to score Mihalic and Holland. Carlock went out, short to first, to end the inning.

Lookouts To Meet Ancient City Crew In St. Augustine

The Lookouts travel to St. Augustine for a return tilt with the Saints under the lights of San Marco Park tonight. Pudge Pelham, the big righthander the Lookouts recently signed, is slated to perform on the slab for the local's while Manager Lyle Judy of the Saints has not disclosed his starting pitcher.

The line-up for the Lookouts will be Joe Ringstein on third base, Win Brown in rightfield, Pete Mihalic in leftfield, Fred Holland behind the platter, Bud Hudson on first base, Lew Carlock on second base, Rty Clark in centerfield, Whitley Watts on shortstop and Pudge Pelham on the hill.

Judy will lead off for the Saints to be followed by Gonzalez, first base; Batan, center field; Retenski, shortstop; Lucas, third base; Schweigert, rightfield; Skillings, leftfield; Wrenn, catching and the hurler who has not been announced.

Clyde Line Offers Summer Schedule With Wide Variety

The Sahara desert embraces an area nearly as large as the mainland of Europe.

Effective June 1 the Clyde Line will offer the following schedule: SS "Shawnee" each Wednesday for New York each Friday, arriving in that port Friday noon. SS "Chevrolet" each Friday, arriving in that port Saturday noon. SS "Shawnee" each Tuesday for Miami, arriving in that port Saturday noon. SS "Algonquin" on May 21 and beginning Saturday June 11, and each Saturday thereafter. SS "Algonquin" or "Seminole" for New York direct, with arrival Tuesday morning.

Additional sailings from Jacksonville: SS "Shawnee" for Miami each Monday at 1:00 P. M. from Miami for Galveston, SS "Algonquin" or "Seminole" each Saturday beginning June 11.

Announcement has been made by William B. Clements, district passenger agent of the line that beginning May 1 and until Dec. 15, attractive round trip summer excursion fares will be in effect between the Florida ports—Miami and Jacksonville—and New York City. The fares carry a limit of 60 days, and a longer period of 6 months, varying only slightly in cost.

The fares include stateroom accommodations and meals, with a further and substantial reduction for superior accommodations in dining parlors, outside rooms, some with private toilet and shower, others with twin or double beds, tub bath and shower and private toilet. A wide variety of accommodations is available on all steamer.

Trees Believed To Be Extinct Are Located

CORAL GABLES, May 16.—(AP)—Two University of Miami students, Dr. Woodbury and George Waldeck, "rediscovered" two small trees, native to the lower Florida keys, which were "lost" by botanists for more than 100 years.

The students found the trees during a field trip, picked some leaves and brought them back to Dr. Walter M. Duwell, curator of botany.

Dr. Duwell identified one of the specimens as "Cuban" and the other as "Cuban alaba". He said both were believed to be extinct by botanists who had found no trace of the trees for a century.

New Dealers Intolerant, Says Landon

Presidential Nominee Asserts Measure Introduced By Minton Is Threat To Press

Vandenberg Seeks Spending Changes Proposes To Return Administration Of Relief To States

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP)—Al Landon, Republican presidential candidate, asserted in a prepared speech that "None of us, of this generation, has seen a group so intolerant of views and beliefs of others as are the so-called new deal liberals."

"Only a few weeks ago," he told a daily news association, "Senator Minton introduced a measure which is a direct threat to the press."

He charged that Minton sought to set up a censorship of the press, and said that Roosevelt by taking the initiative in federal city school program, as a political leader, and two congressmen were not allowed to speak in street approved the action of police there.

Williams Home Is Scene Of Fire That Does Little Damage

Mrs. Volle Williams was the most surprised woman in Sanford this morning as she rushed to the door when the fire apparatus came to a clanging halt in front of her home on Third Street, and instead of rushing into the Montezuma Hotel as she expected, the firemen came to tell her the roof of her home was on fire.

The blaze originated in the attic of the Williams residence by two Marys and Park Avenue, who probably caused by a defective fuse. Fire Chief Mark Cleveland reported, and although the roof was blazing when the firemen arrived the fire was extinguished with very little loss. The fire was first noticed by a patrol of a nearby filling station who turned in the alarm.

Be Careful With Fire

A heavy pall of smoke settling down on the Sanford area early this morning and the pungent odor of woods fires apparently burning not so far away raise the question whether perhaps it is not too late to sound a warning against carelessness with matches, cigarettes or camp fires, during this unusually dry spell.

For indeed Florida has gone through one of the most serious droughts this Spring it has ever had. Here in Seminole County we do not remember when there has been so little rain in such a long time. The river is the lowest it has been for many years certainly, and some of the old-timers say it is the lowest it ever has been.

The drought in itself is bad enough. Such crops as are left are rapidly burning up throughout the state, and while the early dropping of citrus fruit through lack of moisture may have a good effect on the market one would not like to see too great a reduction in the crop.

But in the wake of the drought may come an even greater menace of forest fires if the utmost care is not exercised by the people in preventing such fires in the first place and in controlling them in the second. The prairies and forests burn at a time like this almost as if they had been saturated with oil.

Millions of dollars of property damage can result from such fires within a few days. Forest fires may easily envelop valuable citrus groves, destroying thousands of magnificent trees almost before you know it. Houses, barns, and other buildings situated in isolated sections are an especially vulnerable prey to such fires.

And so we say as long as this drought continues unusual care should be exercised, particularly by woodmen, campers, fishermen, and others who have occasion to go into the woods, to avoid any carelessness which might result in forest fires and in this wholesale destruction of valuable property.

The local Fire Department, we are sure, will welcome the co-operation of the citizenry in preventing little grass fires and bonfires which too often in times like these get out of control and endanger surrounding homes.

The Big Oak Of Mingo

The recent death of America's oldest oak tree calls attention to the much older "oldest cypress" located in Seminole County. The Big Oak of Mingo at the ripe old age of 650 was a Spring chicken compared with Longwood's 3,500 year old "Senator." But our "Big Tree" is still alive and kicking.

"Death," says the St. Augustine Record, "of the nation's oldest oak tree, the 650-year-old great white oak of Mingo near Williamson, West Virginia, as recently reported in news dispatches, again directs attention to Florida's giant cypress."

"Located at Longwood, near Sanford in Seminole County, the age-old cypress is also known as 'The Big Tree' and as 'The Senator,' in honor of Senator M. C. Overstreet, who gave it the land surrounding it to Seminole County for a park."

"The Big Tree" is Florida's bid for the oldest tree of its kind in the United States, if not the world, as it is estimated to have begun its growth five centuries before Homer wrote the Iliad, scientists have said.

"Sited in a beautiful woodland grove, the 3,500-year-old veteran rears upward for more than 125 feet, dwarfing other huge cypresses and forest giants that do it homage nearby. It is 47 feet in circumference at the base and almost 18 feet in diameter.

"In comparison, the Mingo oak is 146 feet tall, has a girth of 30 feet at the base and is estimated to be approximately 650 years old. Leaves failed to come out for the first time this year and a fungus which grows only on dead or dying trees was noticed several months ago."

DISPELLING THE FOG

BY CHARLES MICHELSON
Democratic National Committee
A little while ago just before Senator Pepper was renominated in Florida, the minority party spokesman were gravely telling us that the nomination would settle the fate of the New Deal.
That distinguished political prophet, Mr. Frank Kent, for example, as late as April 12th prophesied that Senator Pepper was in the throes of desperation and he referred to the contest between Senator Pepper and Congressman Wileox for the Senatorial nomination as a clear-cut issue, and he saw "a realization that something more than a Roosevelt endorsement was needed to pull him (Pepper) through." We were advised in the same story that those best posted had decided that in the primaries no candidate would receive a majority, and if Senator Pepper and Mr. Wileox faced each other in the run-off, "the Pepper advantage would be slight. The struggle would be a struggle between a Democrat who votes independently of Mr. Roosevelt and who votes subsequently will be simplified." And Senator Pepper, when it came to the voting, polled more than all four of his competi-ters combined.
Mr. Mark Sullivan, another eminent political philosopher, assumed the outcome of the Florida contest, which had not yet come off, would be defeat of the Senator who supported the President.
From this he deduced the moral that the Republicans in States where they had no chance to win the election should vote in the Democratic primary and there support the anti-New Deal Democrat if an "old" said Mr. Sullivan, "speaking of this then imminent primary, 'they are doing this.'" So he advised that in other States under similar conditions they should follow the Florida example and thus teach the President a lesson.
When Pepper came through with better than a two-to-one majority over Wileox, those writers and others like them fired a rather uncomfortable diem. All of them had implied that the New Deal Democrat had no strength except the influence of President Roosevelt. So they were confusioned, according to their own hypotheses, with the thought that the President's popularity was actually the determining factor in local jobs at all with their diagnosis of a declining faith in the President and the success of the reactionary revolt against his policies; nor would it be a comfortable theory to advance in future primaries where the issues were the same.
So all hands apparently abandoned the idea that the waxing or waning of the President's popularity was the deciding factor and are now agreed that it was the distribution of patronage and the handling of the relief funds.
"You didn't have to spread the information," wrote Mr. Kent after the primary, "that if they (the Floridaans) wanted money, jobs or relief, Senator Pepper was the man to tie to." And he also gives publicly the view that Congressman Wileox "has his fight won up to the time the President's new pump priming program was announced."
If it is the columnist's idea, that the distribution of relief funds is to be conducted on a political basis, one might be tempted to ask why money should be spent in Florida, which is hopelessly Democratic in any event? However, they had to make some explanation other than popular support of the President and popular desire to have people in Congress who will aid in carrying out his policies. The relief appropriation was the only thing handy for that purpose.
One advantage of the opposition to an administration is that it does not have to be either consistent or logical. This brings to mind ex-President Hoover's recent long speech, in which he moaned over the "futility" of President Hoover's plan for handling the present business recession, the blame for which he, of course, places on the shoulders of the Pelham Hurls Lookouts To 4 To 2 Decision Over St. Augustine

Locals Produce Three Run Rally In Ninth To Win Tilt

Contreras And Hudson Single In Final Chapter To Aid Considerably In First Victory Over Saints

By JULIAN STEINBERG

SAN MARCO PALMS, Fla., (Herald Staff Writer) — Pelham, Fla. batters hauled the Lookouts to a victory tonight in St. Augustine as they downed the Saints by a score of 4 to 2 after a hotly contested ninth inning rally in which Pelham produced three runs under control from the entire cast of pitchers.

Contreras and Hudson, the two mainstay pitchers of the Pelham team, were the key to the victory. Contreras pitched the first seven innings and Hudson the last two. Both pitchers were in excellent command of their craft and kept the Saints' batsmen off balance throughout the game.

Pelham's offense was led by Contreras and Hudson, who both went hitless in their respective stints. The team's only runs came in the ninth inning when Contreras and Hudson combined to produce a three-run rally.

The Saints' pitcher, who was out of control in the ninth, was the only one to be hit by a home run. The home run was hit by Pelham's catcher, who was at bat in the ninth inning.

Sanford has a By-Product Worth $3,000,000⁰⁰!

By-products often grow to rival the industry from which they spring. For instance, now that canning of citrus fruit and citrus juice is becoming a large industry, it has been discovered that the citrus peel removed in canning makes a splendid cattle feed.

But it grew. Now, although this area's annual production of fruits and vegetables totals $10,000,000—Sanford business is so extensive its payroll alone amounts to $3,000,000.

As the world's markets open even wider to Sanford fruits and vegetables, Sanford business will become more extensive. And as both agriculture and business grow, the standards of living in Sanford will be even higher.

Just as this feed is a by-product of citrus canning, Sanford business is a by-product of Sanford's agricultural interests. It was begun to serve our agriculture.

Another By-Product

Increasing population in the Sanford area has increased the number of our customers—permitting us to provide better and cheaper electrical service in every Sanford home.

Election Returns In Pennsylvania Give Hard Blow To CIO

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(AP)—Democratic state committee candidates smashed a slate backed by labor leader John L. Lewis and Senator Joseph F. Guffey in Pennsylvania's primary and looked today for some avenue to peace in the bitter factional strife.

Returns from 6860 of the state's 8075 precincts assured victory to Gov. George H. Earle for the Democratic senatorial nomination and with 6911 precincts reported for governor. Pittsburgh's Charles Alvin Jones was assured of nomination.

Down before the committee-endorsed Jones, went Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, who was supported by Lewis, Guffey and the CIO—as was Mayor H. David Wilson of Philadelphia, who was overwhelmed by Gov. Earle.

Missing Plane Found With 9 On Board Dead

Craft, Called World's Fastest Commercial Airliner, Is Located By Western Rancher

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—(AP)—The sheriff's office received a report today from a Man Canyon rancher that he had sighted the wreckage of the missing Lockheed plane and that all nine persons aboard were dead.

The plane was located by Walter Peterson, 20 miles north of San Jose, in a rugged area where a two-day search had been in progress. Five hundred men had unsuccessfully hunted in the Sierra Madre mountains, less than 100 miles from here for the Lockheed plane that had been labeled the world's fastest commercial airliner.

The plane, a Lockheed Model 10 Electra, was on a regular flight but was being ferried to St. Paul via Las Vegas, Nev., to be delivered to Northwest Airlines.

Aerial search had been useless because the fog extended upward from the floor of the mountain canyons. The pilot route over the Sierra Madre range was a short cut. Regular commercial flights skirt the edge, using a radio beam the entire distance.

The area in which the plane was located was the site of a two transport crash that killed 14 persons, within a 16-hour period 14 months ago. Thirteen were killed near Saugus, Dec. 27, 1936, on United Air Lines' San Francisco Los Angeles run. Five persons, among them Martin Johnson, noted explorer, died at the crash of Western Air Lines' transport Jan. 12, while enroute from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles.

Among the passengers on the missing plane are the two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry St. John, of St. Paul. Harry St. John, an engineer for NWA, had brought his family here while he oversaw final construction work on the transport. The children were Richard, 3 years, and Judith, 2 1/2 months.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS BARK BACK AT BOMBERS

Roaring three-inch anti-aircraft batteries, searchlights and pursuit planes cooperated to defend the two military airplane factories at Farmingdale, N. Y., against an "enemy" bomber raid. The civilian population cooperated with the defenders by a "black-out." The first in America. The "bomber" bombers were from the General Headquarters Air Force.
