JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 7—A probable 1,938 babies who might have been blind, paralyzed, insane, dead or maimed because of a syphilitic mother were born in Florida during the past 15 months—and for one reason—the Prenatal blood-testing law. Also, at least 2,835 innocent individuals who would have entered marriage with a syphilitic-infected partner were saved from such a fate—and for one reason only—the Prenatal law.

This was revealed this week in the current issue of the State Board of Health's publication Florida Health Notes in pointing out the success of the two laws which have been in effect since October, 1945. It points out that "one of the great public health milestones to stamp out syphilis was the enactment of the Prenatal and Premarital Laws by the 1945 Legislature.

Blood tests of all couples planning to marry in Florida are required under the Prenatal law. The Prenatal law requires blood tests of all expectant mothers.

During the past 15 months, blood tests showed that 1,938 expectant mothers out of 37,478 were infected with syphilis; would probably have given birth to dead babies, or crippled babies, or babies who, because of their congenital condition would have gone through life as private and public charges. "The Prenatal law is the most effective tool devised to aid in the elimination of congenital syphilis," says Florida Health Notes. "And, as progress is made with this weapon, congenital syphilis in Florida should become a rare condition."

The publication also emphasized that out of 42,407 premarital bloodtests, 2,825 were positive. Most of those 2,825 persons would probably have gone into married life blissfully ignorant that they were infected with syphilis. Certainly the innocent partners were saved from infection and a possible life of unhappiness because this condition was found in time.

The continuance of the Prenatal and Premarital laws to stamp out syphilis will result in happier marriages, strong, healthy children and should eventually relieve the insane asylums and state hospitals of patients who might be there because of untreated syphilis.

Recognizing the urgency for strong measures to control syphilis, 32 states have passed similar laws. It is hoped that every state in the Union will soon be enforcing Prenatal and Premarital Laws.

Naming Of Young Colts Fascinating

MIAMI, Mar. 7—Fascinating, this naming of young race horses! Take the bureau colt owned by Mrs. Fred C. Peters of Miami Beach, which is the star of Illinois Juvenile racing this season.

Last summer Mr. Peters was selling surplus yearlings at Lexington, among them this son of Agrarian-Bleeding Girl. The others went rapidly in the sale, but no one seemed to fancy the Agrarian colt. Finally Mrs. Peters came upon the scene and was informed that no one had bid for the youngster. With true feminine grasp of the situation, she walked up to the colt and announced, "I'll keep you." Thus came the name of Illinois Juvenile, which has been officially registered with the Jockey Club.

More often, however, the names of young race horses is a play on the names of their sires, or dams, or both.

President John C. Clark of Illinois has designated his horse-bred Whirlaway as Vortex (which the dictionary defines as whirlpool). Vortex is out of the stakes-winning mare, Pretty Pet, which raced in Mr. Clark's colors.

Taking the cue from the mare (Hanging Boss) Russell Firestone has given the name of Harrope to his Blenheim colt.

The sire is Amphitheatre. The mare is Never Change. The Greenleaf Stable dubbed the offspring Bill Camp. For her sweeping Light-Attraction colt, Miss M. M. Hirsman has selected Auro Boro, which is the pronunciation, if not the spelling of the natural phenomena known as the Northern Lights.

Lester Manor Stable has titled its 2 year old brown Requested filly as Compliance, and Chivalry has been picked by Mrs. H. H. Heighe for a chickie colt sired by Purple Knight.

The sire, Some Pop, was the inspiration for the name Beau Dandy which Calumet Farm has given to a brown colt, by Hull Lea. Haining Star is Allen T. Hirsman's choice for a youngster out of Hyperion Comet.

The dictionary will tell you Halcyon pertains to the kingfisher family of birds, as well as to a state for peacefulness. A bay filly which William Vinoman has at Hialeah by the sire, Halcyon, has been registered with the Jockey Club as Peaceful Birt, Solo is the twin Ogden Phipps took for his filly Isolator, out of Solola.

Shramrock Stables Tequila is the result of the breeding of Coldstream to Carina Rose. Circle B Ranch has dubbed its Our Boop-Marching Along colt as Boot Along, and given the title of John's Date to a Johnstown-Bly Appointment colt.

Fascinating, this naming of young race horses!

"Grass Roots" Boom In U. S. Is Reported By Real Estate Firm

AP Newfeatures
NEW YORK—A "grass roots" boom in small businesses throughout the United States is reported by a national real estate firm. G.I.'s former war workers and others are buying pint-sized businesses, including small farms, at a rate exceeding any similar movement in history, says the E. A. Strout Realty Agency.

Eighty-five percent of all buyers are reported to be paying from 50 percent to all cash for business properties averaging around $7,000 on the west coast and $5,000 east of the Rockies. Western sales are listed as 66 2/3 percent greater than 1946 sales and higher prices of west coast properties seem to be no deterrent.

V. A. Mishla, vice-president of the Strout Agency, said the firm's volume of business since V-J Day had exceeded 45 million dollars, which was 500 percent higher than the volume for any similar period in the past. The total included 8,000 small businesses and farms.

"The decentralization of cities is proceeding at a faster rate than at any time since the automobile became cheaply available," Mishla explains. "The spreading out of big industries, the improvement of highways and the increasing network of airlines is aiding the process."

At no other time, Mishla said, have there been such good opportunities for a man to make a living in the country.

Citing the success of some recent buyers, he said that renewed interest in tourist travel had become a profitable source of income to country hotel and auto court owners and that the pres-

Truman To Address Congress On Greece

President Will Talk To Joint Session; Leaders Anticipate Request For Loan

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—President Truman will address a joint session of Congress at 1:00 P. M. on Wednesday, it was announced today by Senator Arthur Vandenberg following a meeting of congressional leaders at the White House. The President will go into the whole question of the Greek crisis and the critical situation in the Mediterranean and it is expected that he will ask for a loan to Greece.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas told newsmen the meeting had been a harmonious one. They asked him if the President had specially recommended a Greek loan. Connally replied: "He discussed that on Wednesday." Newsmen interpreted that statement of Connally's as an indication that the President will talk in behalf of a loan.

Others among those who talked with the President today said flatly that he'll ask for a direct loan of $250,000,000 for Greece. Presidential secretary Charles Ross told newsmen the President's speech will take about 20 minutes to deliver. It hasn't been entirely written yet.

Meanwhile sentiment is growing among members of Congress for turning the problem over to the United Nations.

Senator Alexander Smith, observed that he believes that is the only way to avoid the creation of two spheres of influence in Europe, one dominated by the U. S. (Continued on Page Four)

Group Okays Appointment Of Lilienthal

Only Dissenting Vote Is Cast By Bricker; Nomination To Be Debated In Senate

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—The disputed nomination of David Lilienthal as head of the Atomic Energy Control Commission was approved by the Senate Atomic Committee today with only one member dissenting. Voting against Lilienthal was Republican Senator John Bricker from Ohio. Taft has indicated that he will oppose the nomination when it reaches the Senate floor.

The committee today also approved the appointment of four other men to serve under Lilienthal on the Atomic Energy Commission. They are William Waymack, Des Moines, Ia., newspaper editor; Lewis Strauss, New York banker; Dr. Robert Bacher, atom scientist, and Sumner Pike of Philadelphia, industrialist and government official. Also approved was the appointment of Carroll Wilson as general manager of the atomic board.

Notes in favor of Lilienthal included those of Senators Tom Connally and Arthur Vandenberg, who were attending a White House conference this morning and cast their ballots by proxy. Chairman Bourke Hickenlooper said he would report the committee's recommendation to the Senate and that he would make every effort to get a final vote on the Senator floor at the earliest possible date.

However, most senators predict a bitter fight in the Senate, with the possibility that debate may continue for as long as three weeks. Lilienthal's arch foe, Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, has promised to put up a fight against Lilienthal's confirmation.

Mud Hens To Play St. Louis Browns Friday Afternoon

President Lee Keyser Says Club Will Spend $30,000 Here

The Toledo Mud Hens will leave a minimum of $30,000 in Sanford during their five week stay, President Lee Keyser told the Rotary Club today as he invited the Sanford public to support the team and come out to see the exhibition ball games which begin Friday with a game against the St. Louis Browns.

Bill Oley, president of the San Antonio Mission, also addressed the club and said that he had seen more big league baseball players within a radius of 100 miles of Sanford than he had seen before in his life. And he added that although San Antonio had not intended to train away from home, they had come here in order to find any competition.

Mr. Keyser said he had brought his team in Sanford because this city has a fine hotel with excellent food, a good ball park and a wonderful climate. And he paid high tribute to "Ike" Ruth as one of the greatest of baseball greats and added that he had been an inspiration to the youth of America.

H. Coleman, local company manager, who received the message by announcement today from McGraw-Hill, company president.

Marshall To Continue With Byrnes' Policy

Potsdam Agreement, Stuttgart Speech Will Be Followed At Moscow Meet

MOSCOW, Mar. 10—Secretary of State George Marshall announced today that he will take his text at the four power conference from the Potsdam Agreement and former secretary of state Byrnes' Stuttgart speech.

Secretary Marshall made his announcement just before the first session of the foreign ministers' council meeting in Moscow to discuss peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

A snowstorm was swirling over the Russian capital and only a handful of curious citizens were in the streets as the ministers drove to the meeting place, the house of the Soviet Aviation Industry, just two miles from the Kremlin.

Movie cameras were grinding away as Secretary of State Marshall arrived at the building. He saw the early part of the meeting, reaching the rendezvous site about 15 minutes before the session was scheduled to begin.

Workers who were cleaning the streets with snow removal equipment cheered Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and his deputy, A. Y. Vishinsky, as they arrived together. Apparently they were the only ones the Russians in the street recognized. Molotov nodded cordially as a wave of handclapping rose from the bystanders.

By contrast, when Britain's Ernest Bevin made his appearance he passed almost unnoticed behind the crowd.

Home For Retired Railroad Men Is Planned By Body

The Railroad Evangelistic Association is seeking temporary headquarters at the Sanford Municipal Airport, and plans a home for retired railroad men here, it was announced today by Luther Hickey, editor of the Railway Evangelist, who addressed the conference last evening at its evangelistic meeting at the Fellowship College auditorium.

Many delegates are arriving daily for the conference. Mr. Hickey declared, and hundreds of letters are being received from retired railroad men and their families from all parts of the country who are interested in locating here.

Much interest in the conference's plans to secure temporary headquarters at the airport has been shown by C. A. Maddy, superintendent of Fellowship College and by Edward Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, according to Mr. Hickey, who revealed that it is the plan to build a permanent building here as association headquarters, and that the group has been working on this plan for the past three years.

Edward Parsy, chairman of the Advisory Board of the conference, is enthusiastic over his reception here, and will address the group at the evangelistic rally tonight.

The conference opened Sunday afternoon with good attendance and many Sanford people were there. They were addressed by the Rev. Bert Crites, retired C. and A. locomotive engineer from Bloomington, Ill. Mr. Hickey addressed the group last evening. The Rev. Bert Crites will speak Tuesday evening. Sometime during the week, Mrs. Edward Kirchner, daughter of Mr. Hickey, will speak in the interests of the women of the conference. It was announced.

BOARD TO MEET
The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Tourist Center, and all members are urged by Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins to attend.

Assassin Hurls Hand Grenade At Meet; Roxas Is Uninjured

MANILA, Mar. 10—A hand grenade exploded today near Philippine President Manuel Roxas, just as he finished a speech in Manila. But the head of the republic was not injured in the assassination attempt.

An unidentified person hurled the grenade at Roxas in the grandstand at Plaza Miranda. The bomb exploded just 20 feet from the president. A photographer who was taking pictures of Roxas was injured seriously by a shrapnel fragment. The large crowd that had assembled to hear the president was panic-stricken.

Roxas left for Malacan Palace immediately after the incident. Police threw a cordon around the scene in an effort to trap the assassin.

Meanwhile government speech makers prepared their election appeals for Filipino approval of equal rights for American investors.

At the same time, last-ditch opposition charged openly that General Douglas MacArthur's wartime return to the Philippines was three and a half years late. They (Continued on Page Six)

U. S. Note Protested By Hungarian Leader

BUDAPEST, Mar. 10—Hungarian Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy said today to be displeased by the recent American note protesting Russian interference in Hungary's internal affairs.

A reliable informant in Budapest said Nagy described the American note as "not very fortunate" and said he felt that it will stir up political passions that will aggravate the situation.

Over the weekend the Russian commander in Budapest, Lieut. General V. P. Sybilov, repudiated the charge in the note and declared that he could not consent to interference by the United States government.

Sugar Stamp No. 11 Becomes Valid Apr. 1

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—The office of Temporary Controls announced today that spare stamp No. 11 in OPA family ration books will become good for ten pounds of sugar on Apr. 1. The current stamp, No. 10, good for five pounds, will expire Mar. 31. The validation of the ten-pound stamp will mark OPA's changeover from the five-pound ration procedure for householders.

"Stamp No. 11 will be good through Sept. 30. But OPA said a second stamp, also good for ten pounds, will be validated July 1, if sugar imports meet expectations."

Official Blames Large Papers For Newsprint Crisis

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—Official ownership of control of paper mills by large publishing houses and large newspapers was blamed by officials of the Department of Commerce today for the difficulties of smaller publishers in getting newsprint in the present "tight situation."

Testifying before a Senate subcommittee on newsprint and paper shortages, Philip M. Hawley, assistant to W. Averell Harriman, Secretary of Commerce, said: "There is considerable ownership of industrial interest by large newspapers in newsprint mills in this country and in Canada, such interests operate in the present tight situation to the detriment of the smaller operator who is accustomed to securing his supplies in the open market."

He said there was "little chance of improving the supply situation by domestic production." He cited two potential sources for increasing the supply: utilization of waste paper and other fibers such as straw and corn stalks as fibrous raw materials, and development of the untapped supply of log pulp in Alaska.

Samuel Gallowitz, vice-president of the Clinton Paper Company, of Brooklyn, was closely questioned by the committee on a contract he made for the sale of 6,000 tons of newsprint at $100 a ton, netting a projected profit of $400,000. He said he had contracted with the Bowaters, Newfoundland, paper mill for 6,000 tons of $84 a ton, and later sold the contract to William K. Friedman of New York City, for $160 a ton. He said Mr. Friedman planned to sell the newsprint in turn to the Knight newspapers, but did not know for how much.

Supreme Court Upholds Claims Of Foremen's Unions

Right To Organize Is Affirmed By Justices In Test Case

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10—The Supreme Court handed down its opinion today by a vote of six to three, that under the law, employees are required to bargain with foremen's unions.

The majority opinion was stated by Justice Robert Jackson, who said there is nothing in the Wagner Act which denies foremen the right to organize in labor unions.

The majority opinion was written by Supreme Court Justice Douglas, with Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Justice Burton also dissenting.

The dispute involved a test case which developed at the Packard motor car company.

Meanwhile, John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers opposed a government request that the supreme court issue an order at once carrying out its decision of last Thursday in the test case. Attorney General Tom Clark made the government request last week, explaining that unless the (Continued on Page Four)

History In The Making

While most of us spent the week-end going fishing, reading comic supplements, shooting crap, or racing over the nation's highways going to places we had no business going, history was being made in Washington. An event of as transcending importance as Pearl Harbor had taken place and most of us scarcely gave it a passing thought.

When the Germans reached Dunkirk in 1940 if they had driven across the English Channel, sealed the cliffs of Dover and marched right up to London, sweeping all before them, annihilating the British army, and conquering the British people, we would have realized in one ghastly moment the full import of what had taken place.

But because the death of the British Empire has been a slow and painful one with scarcely any changes noticeable from day to day, the American people have failed to take seriously the plight of this once so proud and mighty nation and could not realize the sun which never set on the British Empire had indeed gone down.

The British were getting out of Burma and India where they had been for 200 years, to be sure; they had dumped the Palestine problem into the lap of the United Nations; but not until they threw up their hands in Greece, so vital a link in the life line of the Empire, did the true state of affairs in Britain fully dawn upon even the leaders of the American people.

Two long hard wars had taken their toll. But what wars could not do, destroy the spirit of the British people, a year and a half of a Socialist government had finally accomplished. It had crushed the will of the British people. They had neither the financial resources nor the courageous determination in the face of insuperable odds to continue the uphill fight.

In Washington this week it will be decided whether the United States will step into the breach. We have been asked to supply military equipment to the Greek government and lend it a quarter of a billion dollars, something the British do not have. But to what avail, if we support the Greek government, but do not fill in the breach elsewhere?

America indeed is at the parting of the ways. Manifest destiny calls to this country to carry the fight for democracy throughout the world, to relieve suffering, hunger and political oppression everywhere, to make supreme the sacred rights of the individual man. But are we ready?

And what is the alternative?

Father Of Who's Who

Imagine a politician who refused to have his name in a roster of his country's most prominent citizens. This great refusal was made by Joseph Chamberlain, for 25 years the storm center of British politics, and the father of Neville Chamberlain, Churchill's unfortunate predecessor as prime minister.

In 1897, Douglas Sladen, who has just died, came back from a visit to the United States, enthusiastic over our newspaper practice of printing brief personal sketches of the great, planning to issue a biographical encyclopedia containing such information. He called it "Who's Who." Not for years could he get all the men he approached to fill out their questionnaires. Joseph Chamberlain, then perhaps second or third most prominent man in England, hesitated to do so.

It's listing of the subjects' favorite recreations. The more solemn perhaps hesitated to admit to any. Others thought "bridge" or "golf" would sound the conventional. Few would be as bold as Bernard Shaw, who put down, "Anything except sport."

Sladen studied a big family. "Who's Who in America" came upon him. Foreign nations followed suit with "Who's Who's" for various states and fields of work. If there is not yet a "Who's Who in the Ice Business" or "Who's Who on the Farm," no doubt there soon will be. And all of them are children of Douglas Sladen.

Screening The News

As GHIQ Photo Officer for General MacArthur, I helped arrange for picture coverage of the Japanese surrender aboard the Missouri. It was to be an "all for one, one for all" affair, with all pictures to be pooled for world-wide use. The films were to be flown direct to Washington where the embassies—British, Soviet, French, Chinese, etc.—would get their own as well as everybody else's pictures. But after the ceremony a Russian colonel came up to me and announced, "I must send our films to Vladivostok."

"But you've got only one 20th of the coverage. We're going to give everyone all the pictures in the pool."

"I know, but these are my orders," he replied. Months later, when I met a well-known American correspondent just back from Moscow, I understood why the Soviets did not want to contribute their pictures to the pool. He told me the Russian people were being shown a victory film in which the Soviets take Berlin and win the European war without any help. Then the scene switches to the Soviet invasion of Manchuria—and to General Derevyanko taking the Japanese surrender aboard an unnamed warship. The commentary implies that the Soviets won that war singlehanded too. Apparently the Russian photographers on the Missouri took pictures only of Derevyanko and the Japanese delegation, angling their shots so that everyone else appeared only as out-of-focus background. —By Bertram Kalich in Readers Digest.

CHARLESTON NEWS AND COURIER

Among the many things that the newspaper industry does not need is a congressional investigation to see what can be done to help the small business category, we had rather take our chances with the big bad wolves in the world of industry than with the Red Riding Hoods in Washington. By the time congress got through straightening out our problems we doubt if we would have the strength to make a deadline, much less deliver a paper to a subscriber.

Like many a New Dealish project, Senator Murray's "six-point action program" for small newspapers purports to help protect them from monopoly. In this case, the senator sees monopoly among the newspaper mills and injustices in the practices of newspaper syndicates and in the postal rates. He proposes to do good for the freedom of the American press by releasing the small newspapers from the "viselike grip of monopoly."

day, from a lack of sufficient newsprint to meet the demand. The mills are turning out paper at peak capacity, but still the demand outstrips the supply. The News and Courier believes the available newsprint is being distributed equitably by the private purveyors of newsprint. Thanks again, Senator Murray, for thinking about us, but no thanks. Just throw us in that old briar patch of private competition. Give us a money-grabbing, throat-cutting business war, in which any day in preference to a benign government that smother us with love. —Condensed from Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier.

Congressman Lodge Tells About Congressman Lodge Russ Diplomatic Attacks Countering U. S. Radio?

Special to Central Press WASHINGTON—Rep. John Davis Lodge (R) of Connecticut, younger brother of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (R) of Massachusetts, is determined to make his presence felt on Capitol Hill. Observers believe that the younger Lodge, once a Hollywood actor, is proceeding on the theory, "If you don't toot your own horn, the same will not be tooted."

Rep. John Lodge

The congressman used his franking privilege to notify the press and radio of the nation's capital that he had been honored by Speaker Joe Martin, who chose him to read Washington's Farewell Address as part of the congressional observance of Washington's birthday.

The announcement from Lodge's office read: "This was considered an unusual honor to be paid the Connecticut congressman in view of the fact that he is a first term member. Lodge was chosen, it is understood, because of his known accomplishment as a public speaker."

The honor of leading the House participation in such ceremonies is much sought after and the selection of Congressman Lodge again called attention of the full House membership to his legislative abilities.

Congressman Lodge first attracted attention of the older members of the House... by his selection to the important foreign affairs committee, a very signal honor for a first term member.

Washington politicians are not renowned for modesty, but seldom has a freshman congressman praised himself so frankly and resoundingly.

POLITICAL OBSERVERS in Washington believe that the current barrage of Russian diplomatic attacks against the United States is aimed at counteracting the effectiveness of the new American daily radio broadcast to the Soviet Union. They suggest that Stalin and Molotov never took seriously the protest to Washington—sharply rejected by Secretary of State Marshall—that Undersecretary of State Acheson "slapped" the USSR by calling its foreign policy "aggressive and expanding."

Nor were the Russians believed to be serious in Pravda's charge that John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert and leading churchman, was attempting to stir up a war between the Soviet and the United States and Great Britain.

Close followers of Russian tactics say that such outbursts are part of the old Moscow propaganda scheme of maligning the United States as a "counter-measure" to the invasion of the American short wave service.

The Acheson incident, oddly enough, produced something of a phenomenon in Congress. Rep. Emanuel Celler (D) of New York, pioneer New Dealer who consistently has cast a leftist vote, said the Kremlin protest should be "tossed in the wastebasket."

WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATOR ROBERT M. LITTLEJOHN wasn't pleased when members of his staff gave conflicting testimony before the Slaughter committee at the fall hearings on war surplus disposal.

And he is making certain it won't happen again. WAA executives, who might be called to testify at a congressional hearing, are under instructions to "clear it with Mellison"—James A. Mellison, Littlejohn's "Clear it deputy." Mellison will compare the facts, figures and opinions to be offered to Congress. After he has done his work, the entire WAA top days will conduct a dry run of the coming hearing. Tough questions will be asked and efforts will be made to bring forth contradictory statements from the "witnesses."

Presumably, after this intensive schooling, hostile congressmen and tricky questions will be "duck soup" for Littlejohn's boys.

When the glow of Christmas wanes and the youngsters go back to their old loved possessions, it's a good idea to put away some of the new toys received. Store them on the closet shelf and bring them out on special occasions, presents when a child has to be in bed for a few days with a cold. That way they will have something new and interesting for play and won't tire of the toys so quickly.

tween the few policemen assigned to keep back the crowds that weren't there.

In his press conference today, Secretary Marshall said he plans to work for an agreement on a four power treaty to keep Germany disarmed and demilitarized.

Marshall disclosed that he had indicated during his stopover in Paris the importance of a treaty to render Germany helpless for at least 40 years. The Secretary of State declined to say whether French Foreign Minister Bidault or British Foreign Secretary Bevin had promised their support on the proposal to keep Germany disarmed.

Both Bidault and Bevin have called on Secretary Marshall at the home of the United States Ambassador where the Secretary of State is making his headquarters.

Asked whether he would urge that the Austrian treaty be taken up first, Marshall replied that the agenda for the conference is not frozen, and the order of business has not been determined.

Secretary Marshall said that the American delegation would follow the same press policy as at former conferences. Michael McDermott and Charles Bohlen of the State Department will give daily accounts of the foreign ministers' sessions. Only United States news-men will be admitted to these news conferences.

logically expected to provide increasing tonnage for handling through a central market.

"Strawberry offerings on the Plant City State Farmers' Market showed a considerable decline in volume this last week, due to heavy rains, according to a report received from Manager R. E. Johnson. During the six-day report period the market handled 96,516 pints, at daily average prices ranging from 26 1/4 to 34 1/2 cents per pint.

"The rains and cold causes damage at some other points, our week-end reports have indicated. Young cucumber in the Wauchula territory suffered severely. Market Manager Frank E. Conner estimated that during the last week more than 50 per cent of the cucumber growers in that section were replanting, for the third time. Older crops, not actually destroyed, were severely damaged in many instances. However, Manager Conner expressed the belief that a good crop will be produced. Tomatoes have stood the bad weather very well, and normal acreage is indicated.

"Small quantities of okra, English peas, beans and squash are being planted in Seminole County, we have been advised by Manager H. J. Lehman of the Sanford State Farmers' Market. Also, peppers and eggplant are being set in the fields. Celery is in good demand, selling on the Sanford Market as high as $7.50. Cabbage prices have ranged from 75 cents to $1 per 50-pound bag."

Newsprint Crisis

Martin, Republican of Pennsylvania, who hastily had figured out the profit on this deal, said: "Do you mean to say you will make a profit of $456,000 out of this?"

The reply was "yes sir," Senator Martin commented. "Well you certainly are in a better business than we Senators," to which Mr. Gellowitz rejoined: "Well, there are lots of businesses better than being a Senator."

There are approximately 9,000 non-daily newspapers in the U. S. and 1,763 dailies, of which around 1,100 are comparatively small, he related, and 640 of the latter use less than 25 tons of paper per quarter, and 450 use between 25 and 125 tons per quarter, according to testimony of Ed M. Anderson, chairman of the National Editorial Association.

He read into the record the figures for newsprint production and consumption for the last few years and said that while newspapers reporting to the ANPA (525) had an increase of 27.7% over 1945 and an increase of 6.4% over 1941, the weeklies and other small papers were limited to their 1945 use during 1946 and a large number of them failed to get that much. In addition there is practically no newsprint available for new newspapers outside the "black market" at prices from $150 to $300 per ton.

He also read into the record WPB figures breaking down 1941 consumption figures for various uses as follows:

9,000 weeklies, semi-weeklies and tri-weeklies used 2% of the total; 1,100 small dailies used 9 or 10%; commercial printers, magazines, books, etc., 6%; government, and foreign language papers used 7%; and 660 large papers used 75%. Around 200 of the large dailies use over 66% of the total newsprint, he said.

In his opening statement, Senator Homer E. Capehart, chairman of the Senate sub-committee investigating the newsprint shortage said: "If the study of the newsprint supply situation reveals the need of an investigation, this committee will be prepared to take such steps. Our problem is to obtain newsprint in such quantities that the press of this great nation can properly fulfill its responsibilities to the public. We would not permit the free press of America to be strangled by any other means. We dare not permit it to be strangled by the lack of newsprint."

Price Of Bread Per Pound Is Increased

CHICAGO, Mar. 10—Bread goes up one to three cents a pound today in several major cities in the United States due to recent advances in wheat prices. In Atlanta, one grocery chain has announced a 3 cent boost, raising to 17 cents the cost of a 2-ounce loaf.

One to 2-cent increases will go into effect in New York, New England generally, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburg and Los Angeles. Bakers in Chicago and Minneapolis have warned that they soon may have to increase their bread prices.

Citrus rinds, grated and sometimes thinly sliced, make good flavorings for cooked fruits, cakes, pies, puddings, and cooked cereals.

Self Government Is Sought By Formosa

NANKING—Mar. 10—Delegates from the island of Formosa went to Nanking today to demand self government for the island.

The Formosa leaders told news men in the Chinese capital that between 3,000 and 4,000 of their countrymen were killed in rioting on Feb. 28. They said Chinese troops on that day conducted a wholesale massacre which put to shame even Japanese cruelty.

After being under Japan's domination for 50 years, Formosa went under Chinese administration at the end of World War II. Chinese sources put the death toll in the unrest on Formosa much lower, at 500 casualties. Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek declared today that the blame for the rioting lies with "Formosans with communist inclinations and those who served with Japanese expeditionary forces in the Pacific."

Truman On Greece

and the other dominated by Russia.

Senator Smith declared that we cannot afford to leave a vacuum in Greece. He said that if the present government in Greece falls, the Russian-supported elements will gain control. The New Jersey Senator said we can avoid that sort of conflict of interest if we put the matter up to the United Nations, where both the U. S. and Russia have a voice in the decision.

Previously Senator Claude Pepper of Florida and Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio advocated a similar course.

Farmers in 1946 broke all records in production of truck crops, corn, wheat, potatoes, rice, soybeans, tobacco, peaches, pears, plums and cherries.

Pickers of oranges and other citrus fruits are carefully trained. To avoid scratching or bruising the apple they wear gloves to snip the fruit off the branches.

Air, water and heat can rob cabbage of its important vitamin C. The less it is cooked or exposed to the air after it has been cut, the more vitamin C is retained.

Fruits combine with peanut butter to make delicious sandwich fillings. Try peanut butter with apple sauce, crushed pineapple, sliced or mashed bananas, or chopped stewed apricots, or prunes.

Supreme Court

court issues its order immediately there may be a coal strike on Mar. 31. The miners are under instructions from Lewis to work only until that date.

New Jersey's Rep. Clifford Case asserted today that strike dangers are not past, and that they may return in acute form in a few weeks. Case was one of five Republican representatives who went before the House Labor Committee today to argue for a bill which provides for compulsory arbitration of disputes endangering public health or safety. Compulsory arbitration means that instead of interrupting work, both sides in a dispute would be compelled by law to let an arbitration board decide the argument.

One of the congressmen, New Jersey's James Auchincloss, noted that some previous witnesses before the committee had expressed horror over compulsory arbitration; that they regarded it as un-American. But, he said, none of them has suggested anything better. Auchincloss said, compulsory arbitration is the only way out because the country's welfare won't permit things to drift any longer.

He said the attitude of business and Labor leaders toward compulsory arbitration reminded him of the early 1930's, when laws affecting stock exchanges and the security business were being considered. At that time, the New Jersey congressman recalled, one of the governors of the New York Stock Exchange pleaded that the financiers be left alone to correct abuses in their own way and apply their own remedies. Auchincloss said he didn't agree with that policy then, and he still does not agree with it.

Meanwhile a 14-month old CIO strike against the J. I. Case Company in Racine, Wis., has been settled with the membership's approval of a contract. Union officials said it was not a good contract, but that the pay raise of 25 cents an hour was the best to be had.

Against this is the novel turn in an AFL strike at the Cornell-Dubilier Electric Corporation in New Bedford, Mass. When the company could not get deliveries through the picket lines, it hired a helicopter to bring in materials. Officials said they will continue to use the flying windmill to bring finished goods until the strikers go in raw materials and take out back to work.

How you can help YOUR ARMY DO ITS PART FOR PEACE A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF WAR WITH the President's proposal for the discontinuance of Selective Service on March 31, America will rely on voluntary enlistments for the maintenance of the Regular Army at authorized strength. In view of world conditions today, this is a step of the gravest importance to every American citizen. Never before in history has any nation raised and maintained a million-man army by the volunteer system alone. Our ideals, our belief in individual freedom, our safety, our duty to promote world peace — are bound up in this decision. This is your Army, and voluntary enlistment is your choice. It must not fail. With your help it will not fail. The Army must continue to provide adequate occupation forces overseas, to supply these forces, and to help in keeping America strong and secure. Your help and understanding can do much to encourage a steady flow of 3-year voluntary enlistments, necessary to sound training and the efficient performance of the Army's task. When you discuss this subject with your sons, brothers, husbands or friends who may be considering an Army career, bear in mind the advantages offered by a 3-year enlistment. Among them are the choice of branch of service and of overseas theater where openings exist, and the opportunity for training in valuable skills at Army schools. It is a high tribute to the loyalty and spirit of the American soldier that two out of every three men in the present Army are veterans — men who have known the hardships of war and have chosen to continue their service. A job in the new Regular Army is a good job — a job that compares favorably with the average in industry, and has more opportunities for promotion than most. You can help by giving your respect and support to the man who enlists voluntarily — to do his part in carrying out your country's world-wide obligations to build a peace that will endure. R. L. P. SECRETARY OF WAR FOR FULL INFORMATION REGARDING VOLUNTARY ENLISTMENT, CALL AT ANY U. S. ARMY RECRUITING STATION 6 National Building Orlando, Fla.

NEW YORK—Tomato blight, a disease that destroyed nearly one million of the nation's tomatoes last year, is reported by a chemical company (Hohm & Haas) investigator to be starting out worse this year than last.
The money lost last year was believed to be forty and fifty million dollars. This blight is a fungus, which appears on the under side of leaves, and blackens the tomatoes.
Tomatoes have had the blight for many years, but in mild form. It apparently is the same blackening that is common on potatoes, and appears in tomatoes. It appears late in growth and is called late blight. George D. Ruckle, of the University of Florida experiment station, reports that the epidemic of last year started in Florida and eventually involved all areas east of the Mississippi.
Mr. Ruckle says the crop losses can be avoided by use of dilute plus zinc sulfate and hydrated lime.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain
Cruel, many women say, has brought relief from the agony and terrible strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it stimulates appetite, and digestion, thus helps build resistance to disease. In the time to come, it will help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic distress (P.M.D.).

Pope Laments Condition Of World Affairs

Pontiff States Atom Bomb Makes Diplomats Responsible For Lasting Peace

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 11—In an exclusive interview with two correspondents of the Associated Press today, Pope Pius said he had seen little improvement in the world situation during the last year. He warned that the development of the atom bomb and other modern weapons of mass destruction could lead to the kind of war in which the distinction between combatants and non-combatants is robbed of all meaning. Because of the atom bomb, the world's statesmen must strive even harder for agreement on a just and durable peace, the Pontiff added, and nations must give up some of their sovereign rights.

The Pope showed keen interest in the conference of Big Four statesmen now going on in Moscow. One of the correspondents remarked that the opening of the Moscow parley did not augur well for solid achievements toward the goal of peace, the Pontiff nodded assent.

He received the two AP men, Charles Guptill and John McKnight, in his red and gold library. The Pope was bright and cheerful and obviously in much better health than a year ago. At 71, he looked fit.

The Pontiff said that up to now, positive and constructive ideas were few.

Boyle told of the organization of the post, of keeping it going during the past year and commended Post members for their progress of the past year.

Veterans of three were attended the meeting and each member was called upon to give his name, branch of service, and where employed so as to get members better acquainted. Newly elected officers, promised to do their utmost to make the coming year the best in the history of the post. The next meeting will be on March 14 and will be installed at the Officers' 14 meeting, according to Adjutant John Seale.

The following six new members were taken into the post: Dr. Orville Barks, William F. Harrison, F. C. Winn, Jr., Andrew Caraway, Jack Gordy and J. A. Crisp.

Police Begin Hunt For Murder Of Railroad Chief

PEORIA, Ill., Mar. 11—Police today are seeking the slayer of George McNear, Jr., president of the strikebound Toledo, Peoria, and Western Railroad. The 55-year-old executive was cut down by a shotgun blast last night about 400 feet from his home in the fashionable Central Bluff residential district of Peoria.

Since 1941, McNear has defied 13 railroad brotherhoods, which currently are engaged in one of the nation's longest major strikes against his railroad. Three witnesses said they saw an automobile speeding away after the shot was fired. However, police Lieutenant Frank Flood said he does not see how McNear could have been shot from a car.

Flood says two other witnesses, in a position to see the street down which the car would have sped, did not see an automobile. No one could be found who saw the shot fired. Police said that there was added confusion over what happened because all lights were out and the streets were dark. The area was darkened when an electric transformer burned out prior to the shooting.

Voting Favors U.S. Rights In Philippines

Less Than Half Of Registered Voters Go To The Polls In Today's Plebiscite

MANILA, Mar. 11—Early returns from a Philippines plebiscite today show a majority in favor of granting equal trading rights to Americans. Voting in the plebiscite was light. Fewer than one-half of the more than 3,000,000 registered voters cast ballots today.

One of the campaigners for parity in trading was President Roxas, who yesterday was the target of a hand grenade which failed to injure him. Unperturbed by the assassination attempt, Roxas voted in Manila at his family home, which was heavily guarded by police.

The election apparently passed quickly. Although military police throughout the islands had been alerted because of yesterday's incident, they stayed in their barracks. Those who did not cast ballots included former President Sergio Osmena, who lost the presidential election to Roxas. Osmena is a silent opponent of parity. Thousands of Osmena's adherents did not vote either.

Nazi Confiscated Lands In U.S. Zone Returned To Owners

STUTTGART, Mar. 11—A far-reaching German law enacted in Stuttgart today stated victims whose property was confiscated in the American occupation zone during the Nazi regime will get it back. Heavy prison sentences will be the penalty for Germans who fail to report possession of property that did not belong to them before the Nazis seized power.

It has taken the Council of German States in the American zone a full year to draft and approve this restitution law. All the German political parties in the American zone are in favor of the principle of the law as a chance for democratic Germany to right Nazi wrongs. The law will only give back property to Nazi victims in the American zone. But the heads of the four German states in the American zone plan to appeal to France, Britain and Russia to make the law effective throughout the former Third Reich.

Citrus Ban Favored For Another Week

LAKELAND, Mar. 11—Federal marketing agreement committee recommended continuation of present stringent shipping regulations in Florida citrus fruit. The regulations were imposed following the severe freeze in Florida in February. The committee decided to recommend continuation of the regulations for at least one more week.

The committee rejected an ardent plea by Indian River growers for a slight relaxation of the amount of discoloration permitted on No. 2 grade oranges. The committee pointed to heavy orange shipments last week, when more than a million bins left the state. Committee member J. M. Morrow said, "I don't think now is the time to release anything. Our movement already is dangerously high."

Federal citrus inspector H. M. Riley said a tremendous amount of midseason fruit is being lost now due to cold damage. He said many groves which now are showing damage did not appear harmed two weeks ago.

Group Warned Not To Alter Labor Laws

Secretary Of Labor Schwellenbach Insists Changes May Cause New Strife

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach today protested against any reorganization of the Communist Party in this country or its right to elect public officials. Schwellenbach told the House Labor Committee that firing of Communists from positions of leadership in unions doesn't go far enough.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11—Both the Secretary of Labor and the head of the National Labor-Relations Board warned the House Labor Committee today against changing existing labor laws. Labor Secretary Lewis Schwellenbach predicted that labor strikes will be cut down drastically this year, but, he added, major changes in our labor laws may foster strife and chaos instead. Schwellenbach said the processes of labor collective bargaining were dormant during the war, but now they are being relearned.

"There is every reason to believe that if labor and management are given a reasonable opportunity to work out their problems between themselves," the Labor secretary said, "we will not have a repetition of the tensions and disputes of the last quarter of 1945 or the first three quarters of 1946."

Schwellenbach went on to say that there would be industrial chaos for months if Congress altered the closed shop or other forms of union security. The Secretary of Labor said that Congress does decide to pass that kind of legislation. Then it ought to be confined to new contracts. He said it closed shop provisions in existing contracts are cancelled by law, then unions would say the entire contracts were reopened. The Secretary of Labor said the

Secretary Marshall Lines Up Britain And France Against Discussing China

MOSCOW, Mar. 11—Russia suffered a rebuff in her efforts to add China's problems to the list of topics at the Big Four foreign ministers conference. Britain, France and the United States decided not to discuss China, as Russia had sought, unless Chinese delegates are represented at the conference table.

MOSCOW—Britain and France today joined the United States in a move to prevent a discussion of China's political troubles at the Moscow foreign ministers conference, Russia had asked to have the Chinese problem included on the conference agenda.

MOSCOW, Mar. 11—Authoritative sources said today that Secretary of State George Marshall would reject Russia's proposal that the Chinese question be placed on the foreign ministers agenda unless China is called to the conference. It is not believed that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov would agree to have Chinese representatives invited to Moscow. Molotov presented the proposal at the opening conference session yesterday.

Marshall is expected to give Molotov his reply when the council meets later today. It is understood that the State Secretary already has given the Chinese assurances that they would be summoned to the conference if any subject involving China's sovereignty is to be discussed.

Informed sources said the Chinese are perturbed that Molotov has brought up the Chinese question again. At the time of the Moscow conference of 1945, the Chinese protested bitterly that Big Three decisions, with respect to China's future, had infringed upon her sovereign rights.

This issue is supposed to be a shaping up of a test of strength between Marshall and Molotov. Western diplomats agree that Molotov again has seized the offensive which Marshall preferred to keep himself.

In addition, there is much interest as to what the Soviet minister may reply to Marshall's suggestion that the agenda include discussion of a plan for protracted negotiations. (Continued on Page Four)

Molotov Plan Is Protested By China

SANKING CHINA, Mar. 11—China's foreign ministers will not sit in one room with the agenda of the Big Four ministers' conference in Moscow.

The Chinese statement was prompted by the proposal of Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at the opening of the conference yesterday that the Chinese problem be included on the agenda.

China's Foreign Minister, Wang Shih-Chieh, issued a formal statement saying that China had not been notified officially of Molotov's suggestion.

"Foreign Minister Wang said in his statement that it cannot be over-stressed that internal problems of any state represented in the council of foreign ministers do not lie within the scope of deliberations of the council. The statement added that such problems cannot be permitted to form the subject of agreement among other members of the council." Other Chinese foreign office officials said that China does not intend to be bound by action taken at a meeting at which China is not represented.

Senator Begins Drive Against Lillenthal

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11—A drive was on today to line up most of the 14 freshmen Republican senators against the confirmation of David Lillenthal as chairman of the civilian Atomic Control Commission. Senator Harry Cain of Washington, one of the freshmen, was said by his colleagues to be trying to organize the anti-Lillenthal front.

Congressional spokesmen said that despite the committee approval of the former TVA chief, the Senate still will see a long and bitter floor fight over his confirmation.
