TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Even on the Cross one may find refuge in the Infinite. Men may kill the body, but the soul belongs to God who will protect his own.
The eternal God is they refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms.—Deut. 32:27.

That's no volcanic eruption they're having over there in Hawaii. That just old Mauna Loa trembling in his boots over the prospects of another Pearl Harbor.

It may have come as something of a shock to come to see that old Ku Klux Justice Black siding with the rest of the Supreme Court in banning segregation in institutions of higher learning.

The French ambassador, Henri Bonnet, does not agree with President Truman. The former told the graduating class at Florida State University the other day, "There is danger of another world war."

Over at Leesburg a young married woman saw a snake, yelled for her husband to come kill it. He got his gun, a .22 rifle, and shot her instead. It might have been better to let the snake get away.

Comptroller Gay's guess that the new sales tax would raise $40,000,- 000 seems to be not far from the mark at the present writing. Latest figures show that during the first six months of this year, the State collected $20,457,274.

President Truman is going to make a speech tonight before the American Association of Better Business Bureaus. May be he is going to explain to these business men how to keep from going broke in the haberdashery business.

Chairman Tom Connally of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee wants to raise and arm a West Germany police force "to offset the 50,000 man police force created in East Germany by the Russians."
As long as we are choosing up sides for the next war, we want to have as many Germans on our side as we can get.

Another gangland killing in typical Chicago style takes place in Tampa. This time Jimmy Lumia, a kingpin of the gambling underworld, had his head shot off as a passenger in the backseat of an automobile rose to fire the blast at the foot of the driver's horn. It may be that the 1948 killing of Jimmy Velasco had something to do with it.

Oh, well, boys will be boys, soot must be served, and the boiling of natural human tendencies in the very young is apt to produce inhibitions and personalunpleasantness. So when teenagers come to a moving picture theater several times in one month, "just for fun of it," there is nothing for the manager to do but to close up the theater. After all, you couldn't ask their parents to do anything else.

Teach your children how to act like adults. That's what parents don't seem to hear these days. That rather unfortunate situation is the result of the present educational system.

It's a good idea to take your

The garden was lighted with Japanese lanterns and decorated with colorful balloons. The table was centered with purple and white gladioli and purple candles in crystal holders carrying out the class colors. Bill Brinson, son of the hostess, acted as chef for the evening.

We like to help you with that.

Giants Run String To 7 Straight Wins

Carl Theis Goes Distance For Seventh Victory Of Year; Walks 2, Whiffs 2

By BILL HERRING
World Series Reporter

The Sanford Giants toppled the St. Augustine Saints last night 2-0 for the local squads seventh straight triumph.

Rockie Carl Theis went the distance for the winners chalking up his seventh win as against three previous setbacks. The big right-hander never appeared in better shape as he effectively twirled five hit ball at the invaders. Then walked two and struck out two.

Sanford got their twin runs in the sixth frame when Marcel Poelker singled sharply to right, went to second on Tom Rose's single, and then stole third. Manager Ed Levy, who filed out with two men on the sacks in the fourth, came to bat facing almost the same situation.

This time, however, the giant of the Giants promptly drove a single to left scoring Poelker with what later proved to be the winning run, and sending Rose around to third. Ed Jackson's ground out sent Rose scampering over the plate for the final tally of the evening.

DIAMOND DUST.—The Sanford pitchers in the last four games have given up a total of four runs. Theumps are hurrying players out of the dugouts after the end of a frame to prevent the incoming affairs was the shortest record this season at MHP: 1-42. Poelker hunted safely again for the umpteenth time this year. Tomek plied that last gap in the Giant infield . . . nicely.

AN IDEAL HOME
By MRS. A. W. HAMER:

As I was putting the last stitches in my mending, there came a knock at the door. As I opened the door, a stranger stood there. "Good morning, Lady," "Jones is my name," "King is our name," I replied.

"Lady, I am looking for an ideal home, and I've been told that you could tell me all that a home should be. "Well, have a seat in that easy chair that John made years ago, for it is long story, I hope you don't get tired."

"You, know, years ago when John and I were very young, we started out with an ideal home in our minds. So as we stood here on this plot of ground, like two little children, we turned up and saw Grandpa and Grandma coming down the road, in their little cart, driving the old grey horse. We were so happy to see them, I'll never forget how sweet. Grandma looked in that snow white apron and little pink bonnet."

Grandpa, putting his hand on John's shoulder, said, "John, what is your problem?" "Building a home, Grandpa." Then, remember son, four walls and a door to go in and out, does not make a home. Grandpa told us how we must have a good foundation to build on, and as he was leaving he said, "John, you have your wings, now fly straight, course. Grandpa took from her apron pocket, a little book and gave it to me, saying "Mary, you will find rest, peace and life everlasting in the pages of this book, read this to your children. And as they left us, we had been taught their advice which was true and good."

As the days passed, we were busy, our foundation laid, our house soon went up. We have lots of windows to God's beautiful sunlight will fill our house and keep us sweet. We hung pictures on the walls. First we hung Godliness, over the open fireplace, where his light will ever shine in our home, second, we hung Love, yes, love our neighbor as ourselves. We hung Faith, that fear may not enter our hearts. We hung Forgiveness, yes, God forgives us and we must forgive seventy times seven. We hung Charity, that we may be ever ready to lend a helping hand. We hung that sweet picture of prayer, pray without ceasing the sin under not in. And yes, that beautiful picture of Hope, a place where much and rust doth not corrupt, a home not made with hands.

Oh yes, you know the physical side of home must be taken care of too. We mothers must be good cooks, seamstress, doctors, nurses, lawyer and very often a mother must be a Judge—let her know that her children will rise up and call her blessed. "I see you have beautiful flowers," said the stranger. Oh yes, "tis there we teach the children the handwork of God, and as they watch the bees, I tell them how the flower is made stronger and more fruitful because of their visit, and as they come up they too must be a blessing to people. When then they must grow strong and sturdy like the big oak trees that shade them and not be blown about by every wind of doctrine. Yes, John has always been a good provider, so patient and kind.

Tell me about the paths that I see leading here and yon. Oh they lead to our good neighbors, you see, we take time to help and help out in sickness or any work they might be behind with. Our Pastor says that he never wants to see those paths grow up with thorns and thistles for that looks as though there was discord, and he says that God doesn't like that. "On to this well trodden path, tell me where that leads? "Oh, to our church that stands on gopher hill. You see, each Lord's day, we dress our children little starched Sunday clothes and take them to Sunday School, and they learn so many things that help to make good boys and girls. And our dear Pastor, Brother Austin has stood on the watchtower for 57 years. He has served us here for many years, he has baptized all our children, married many young people and has helped our aged, and he has been such a comfort to us all. He has pointed out all the pitfalls to our children and told them of the many ways and means that might cause them in fall, he tells them to be not unequally yoked together. Many of our young people have gone out of our church to build their homes, another brother Austin has done much for our church, he has helped our aged, and I would not forget his sweet wife that has stood by his side all these years. Many were the visits she would have loved to have made with him. You see, they reared a lovely family, so he had to remain at home and keep the home fires burning. Now the grandchildren are pointing the way to the Cross. So you see Brother Austin, after Austin's life will be no fixed star, even shining forth.

Your story has meant so much to me, said the stranger—One more question and I must be gone—What are you all going to do without this dear Saint John? With bowed head, he looked up, tears were falling fast. "Well, through all these years he has taught us to be submissive to God's will, so as the sun goes down behind the western hills we will lead them through that beautiful garden of prayer, where the dew is always on the roses, and that great fountain where they can drink and never thirst again—there we will leave them with God and the angels.

Sunday is homecoming, we will meet you at the Church—Good-day." Written and dedicated to Rev. J. W. Austin, pastor of Ebenezer Methodist Church at Sanford and his wife, by one who loves them.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 7 — She seemed to be a girl who was amazingly lucky, and yet her whole life was dogged by ill fortune. That was Jean Harlow, who died 12 years ago today.

"No matter what I do, I always end up on page one," signed the blonde blonde from Kansas City. And she did right in the end, though that was dashed across the Hollywood scene.

She died in a well trodden path, tell me where that leads? "Oh, to our church that stands on McGraw and come to California, later were divorced two years later.

In 1932, she married Paul Bern, film executive. A month later his little body was found on the living room floor of their Beverly Hills home, a bullet in his temple and the gun in his hand. He left a cryptic note:

"Dearest Dear: Unfortunately, this is the only way to make good the frightful wrong I have done you and to wipe out my abject humiliation, I love you, P.S.—created an impression that is still vivid in the public mind today.

It was luck that got her into the movies. A friend bet her she didn't have the nerve to present a resume of introduction to a casting director. Jean took the bet and married Herman Hal Rosson, but a divorce followed a few months later.

Perhaps her greatest love was William Powell. She and the actor had the same kind of humor and enjoyed each other's company tremendously. But whatever plans they had for marriage ended with her death on June 7, 1937.

Powell was at her bedside, trying to comfort her in the last hours of an ultimate agonizing spread to her brain. Doctors gave her two blood transfusions but her breathing faded and stopped, she was only 30.

Her death was a profound shock to her co-workers, because she had been the friendliest of all the stars. It also started the nation's protest against her studio, which had denied a serious illness for a week, saying it was only a cold. Moviegoers mourned as her body was placed in a marble room which Powell bought at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

When she died, Miss Harlow was earning $4,000 a week. But when her estate was figured up, only $43,000 was left.

General Heads For Showdown With Jap Reds

Prime Minister Goes Into Conference With MacArthur

TOKYO, June 7—(AP)— General MacArthur appeared headed for a showdown fight with Japanese Reds tonight after putting 17 policy makers of the belligerent party newspaper Akahata.

The new order brings to 41 the number of Red wheelhorses banned in 24 hours from Japanese political life. Eight of them are members of parliament.

The two moves set the stage for possible strikes, violence and worldwide repercussions.

The Reds were caught napping by the new order. They had just named a "leading group" of eight members to replace the 24 public-bureau leaders who felt MacArthur's wrath yesterday.

A general strike was called to

Truman Declares Economic Aid To Europe Is Vital

General Eisenhower Sees Big Military Expenditures Necessary For U.S.

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 9—(AP)—President Truman declared today that post-Marshall Plan development of aid to Western Europe would be disastrous to peace.

In a world "full of dangers," he declared, the United States must continue its contributions to free nations lest "the Communists move in."

He made it clear in an address prepared for graduation exercises of the University of Missouri that he is convinced "our vital national interest is a health world economy" will not end when Marshall Plan aid stops in 1952.

"You hear a lot of talk that the world is full of dangers, and that our civilization is heading straight for disaster," the President asserted.

"Of course, the world is full of dangers—the world has always been full of dangers, for people in every country and at every period of history."

But in spite of these dangers he said, "our civilization need not wind up in disaster."

"It can go on to greater heights. Those who are frightened and dismayed do not have faith that men will use scientific advancement for good ends. They see only the dangers in the world—not the opportunities."

Mr. Truman's speech was part of a program including his being awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree and membership key in Phi Beta Kappa the scholarly society.

He was in return to St. Louis this afternoon for a reunion of the 38th division in which he served in the first World War.

The President's speech added up to an implied warning to Russia that the emotions stirred up in this country by foreign policy debates do not indicate weakness in a democracy. He explained:

"The democratic process is not always easy. It involves a great deal of debate. Emotions are aroused and feelings are strong."

"But when the shooting is done, and the decision is taken, the resulting peace rests on the solid foundation of the common wisdom of the people."

"Dictators and tyrants, who thought our political debates indicated indecision and weakness, have found to their dismay that instead, those debates are a source

Warren Surprised At Resignation Of 2 Citrus Members

TALLAHASSEE, June 8.—(AP)—Governor Warren today declined to comment on the resignation of two members of his Citrus Commission.

He said the resignations of Loran T. Rice of Haines City and Tom Turnbull of Orlando came as a "complete surprise" to him. He said he has given no thought to their successors.

Rice and Turnbull wired their resignations to Warren yesterday following the selection of W. F. Robinson as commission chairman. In his resignation, Rice charged politics played a part in Robinson's election.

Warren also denied reports that C. V. Griffin had returned as administration adviser and had recommended the selection of Robinson.

The governor said he saw Griffin, who split with Warren six months ago, at the funeral of Dodge Taylor but did not talk with him.

He said he has not discussed the Citrus Commission with Griffin.

Warren said he made no recommendation for the selection of a commission chairman. He said it was not even discussed at a conference held with members of the commission here earlier this week.

When asked if he approved of Robinson's election, Warren declared "anybody that is satisfactory to me is satisfactory to the commission is satisfactory to me."

SEGREGATION

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—The CIO served notice today that it intends "to ignore and to violate, if necessary," any laws, regulations or ordinances requiring its organizations to practice racial segregation.

A statement by CIO President Philip Murray, calling the Supreme Court's segregation decision "a Monday," said the court has in effect segregated the "markets but not services" as the CIO had demanded in the same case.

Taft Asks For Quick Treaty With Japanese

Johnson Charges Delay Against U. S. Military Authorities

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today there should be a quick Japanese treaty because without one the situation with Japan may begin to affect American interests.

Senate Secretary Johnson and Republican adviser John Foster Dulles of the State Department left Tokyo later this month to confer on a Japanese peace settlement with General Douglas MacArthur.

Taft said in an interview that he understood the delay in pressing for a peace settlement for Japan has been largely caused by the failure of the military authorities to agree on what they want with regard to bases.

"Since the advent of atomic weapons and the possibility of atomic warfare," Taft added, "I am told that Okinawa (American island base south of the main Japanese island) is not sufficient because it is too vulnerable to attack."

Taft said he understood that MacArthur, supreme allied commander for the occupation, desired an early peace treaty but he could not say what MacArthur thinks about the fact that critical question of whether the United States should have bases and maintain troops in Japan for a long time with or without a treaty. Most of all state and defense department officials reportedly feel such bases are necessary.

Taft's interview covered a wide range of foreign policy questions.

"But when the shooting is done, and the decision is taken, the resulting peace rests on the solid foundation of the common wisdom of the people."

"Dictators and tyrants, who thought our political debates indicated indecision and weakness, have found to their dismay that instead, those debates are a source

Salt In Wells Is Reviewed At Tourist Center

Experts Will Start 14 Point Program In Near Future

Two meetings were held yesterday afternoon at the tourist center regarding salt infiltration in irrigation wells in Seminole County which some growers have reported has ruined crops.

Within the past year the high spot of the area's economy was the "Trooping of the colors" by experts who conferred with salt conservation experts and officials of the Central Florida Experiment Station in regard to salt infiltration.

The first meeting, called by Soil Conservation officials of the district of which Mr. Jacobson is local representative was attended by a few growers who conferred with salt conservation experts and officials of the Central Florida Experiment Station in regard to salt infiltration.

The second meeting, called by the Soil Conservation Service, was attended by a number of Soil Conservation experts and local officials met and mapped out a 14 point plan of study and research which will be outlined in detail to the experts whom findings will be made available to growers.

This information, said Mr. Jacobson, will be valuable also to the City of Sanford in the standpoint of its water supplies.

Present at the conference of officials were Robert P. Witherspoon, director of the county extension agent; Mr. Jacobson, James Wier, hydrological engineer of the south eastern region; Dr. Phillip Wagstaff, horticulturist of the Central Florida Experiment Station; Malford Morgan, soil conservationist; H. H. Conner, U.S. geological survey engineer; City Councilman Randall Chase; H. James Galt, David Powell, soil scientist and Otto E. Smith, engineer of the Florida Soil Conservation service.

Points of his discourse which he authorized for publication included:

1. The key question in armament in the anti-Communist conflict is "whether they will or can fight." Taft said that with the exception of arms given to Britain the American government "can not be sure that the arms given to European countries can or will be used against Russia."

2. The United States should act if Russia should attempt to sweep over Western Europe, and add therefore to the position that we should be prepared to go to war with Russia if that should occur."

3. Taft declined in response to a direct question to say whether he thought Secretary of State Acheson "should go," as the questioner phrased it. The senator replied, "I haven't said that and I don't think I want to say it."

4. Taft said that on present American policy toward Russia

On June 13, to consider the application of Mr. Willis for common carrier rights on the St. Johns River.

The basis of the denial was that there are no adequate terminal facilities at Sanford.

Mr. Higgins stated that Mr. Willis told the ICC that he would operate in Sanford until the present facilities had been completed, and he requested that the request should not be granted until the facilities had been completed.

It was pointed out, however, that the application can be reviewed when these facilities are available. Mr. Higgins said and declared, "I consider the completion of the dock facilities and terminal at Sanford a more important thing than should be done for the betterment of the community."

The St. Johns River has at present five rights to operate on the river and when the facilities are completed, arrangements can be made to use them common carrier rights for operation, regardless of the action of the ICC," he stated.

"However," Mr. Higgins added, "I am sure that the ICC will grant the rights when these facilities are available."

In regard to the other operating rights referred to in the report, these are held by the Atlantic Transportation Co. and the Sam Loveland Transportation Co. of Philadelphia, and they are for contract carrier rights which will not give Sanford the benefit described, which is published rates, he said.

In their report, the examiners stated that the City Commission of Sanford and the Chamber of Commerce of Seminole County, which includes Sanford, requested Mr. Willis to institute the proposed service, and were "actively pushing this application."

There are no adequate terminal facilities at Sanford, the examiners said, but added that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had committed itself to make a loan of $300,000 for the construction of a warehouse and terminal, if the City Commission accepted the RFC's resolution containing certain covenances as put forward by the City.

After certain preliminaries described by the examiners, they said, the resolution would be submitted to a circuit court for validation of the proceedings and an appeal taken to the Supreme Court of Florida for final confirmation of the validation, a process which the examiners said would take several months.

Nevertheless, prices of most meat and most animals are likely to go higher during the summer. They usually advance during the period of shorted supplies.

"Nevertheless, the gain in demand is probably no greater than the rise that has occurred in incomes. The retail value of meat consumed is probably remaining slightly below a prewar average relationship to incomes."

The department said it is awaiting the results of its market studies, which are to be used in setting the price of pork.

Price increases are likely to be most noticeable in the case of upper grades of beef, the department said.

Market studies were said to show that there is a declining demand for the cuts of pork.

U.S. Economist Is Indicted By Grand Jury For Perjury

Federal Group Says W. Remington Lied In Denying Membership With Reds

Ed W. Remington, Inc., (P)—William W. Remington, government economist, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on one perjury count for saying he ever was a member of the Communist Party.

The indictment was presented to federal Judge John C. Clancy. It charged that when Remington was called on May 25 whether he ever had been a member of the Communist Party he lied.

The grand jury charged that Remington's answer was untrue in that the defendant had been a member of the Communist party.

The grand jury also charged that Remington's answer was untrue in that the defendant had been a member of the Communist party.

Remington, 41, Michael E. Lee, 40, and another man, a former member of the Communist Party, were indicted by the grand jury.

Remington and Michael E. Lee, 40, also a former member of the International Workers Order, were indicted by Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer last month to hold their positions.

Clancy refused to quit. Ed W. Remington, who named Oberlin H. Bentz and Walter Chapman as sources of information in collected war bonds, was indicted by the grand jury.

Various oxides and mineral salts are used in minute quantities and in one case to a total of 200 pounds of glass or silica in the production of glass or silica in the production of glasses, articles including tall glass flasks of red and blue color and vases of delicate shades such as aqua blue, sea green, mint green, and a rarer emerald shade, made by a very secret and exclusive formula.

The next month Remington was suspended from his $10,000 a year job in the Commerce Department.

When Miss Bentz reported her charges on a television program Remington fled to the National Broadcasting Company and General Foods Corporation for $100,000.

The next day he settled for a reduced sum of $50,000. Bentz' story was evidently inspired by the sale of the glass factory to the Rockefellers.

The glass factory is located in the city of Wadsworth, Ohio, and has been in operation for many years.

Prior to the time Wadsworth became a part of the United Kingdom, it established a small plant for glass making in West Africa, and obtained glass which was being imported from Britain. The entire plant failed during hard times in 1941 and Mr. Bentz returned to England to establish his business at Cheltenham, said Mr. Clay.

West Virginia is in need of a plant of sufficient purity for making glass or silica in the production of glass or silica in the production of glasses of temperatures required, said Mr. Clay. The company now makes more than 100,000 pieces of glass a day and the glass is as good as that of the factories of St. Louis, Detroit, Toledo and the United States.

In their report, the examiners stated that the City Commission of Sanford and the Chamber of Commerce of Seminole County, which includes Sanford, requested Mr. Willis to institute the proposed service, and were "actively pushing this application."
