Lindbergh Accused Of Spying On Japan During 1931 Flight

Nipponese Vice-Admiral Says U. S. Policy Of Encircling Island Indicates War Move

TOKYO, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—Japan is preparing to defend herself against what appears to be "America's policy of hostility encircling Japan by every possible means," said a published statement yesterday by Vice Admiral Nobuyoshi Suetaga, commander of the navy's combined fleets.

The statement was made in an interview published in a widely-circulated magazine.

Instances of encirclement, the interview cited, were Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's leisurely flight along the Kuriles in the summer of 1931 and Harold Bromley's abortive attempt to fly the Pacific in 1930.

"It may be mistaken, but I think it is possible they were spying in those islands," the admiral was quoted as saying.

"Someday ago, an American flieropped off from Japan on all alleged trans-Pacific flight attempt had turned back after flying we don't know where. I think the failure was purposeful."

"This reference obviously was in the Bromley-Gatty attempt of Sept. 14, 1930."

"Then Lindbergh stayed in the Kuriles over a week on excuse of bad weather. The length of his stay is grounds for suspicion."

"Today, Americans are surveying the Aleutian Islands on a great scale—using cutters, airplanes, and the telegraph corps."

"I think this means an American policy to surround Japan with every possible means in the event of war before the clash of the main fleets."

The admiral referred to the presumption of Russo-American relations and the soviet's "perfection of armaments in the Far East, where they have stationed a strong army and a powerful air force."

"In the event of an emergency," he continued, "Russia will attack Japan through the air from three directions—north, east and south—while a powerful hostile fleet with a strong air force will attack from the Pacific."

The American navy was not mentioned in this connection.

General Wholesale, Distribution Trade Code Is Approved

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt today approved a code to cover the general wholesale and distribution trade.

Among the provisions of the wholesale code was a grant of power to code authorities for various distributors' code authorities to fix after proper hearings, and, with the consent of the administration, differentials in prices to cover sales of manufacturers who deal both through wholesalers and direct to retailers.

This provision requires that the general code authority, after obtaining permission from General Johnson, shall call in all interests, including the manufacturers of their code authority, to define a price differential "which shall be fair and reasonable in relation to the nature and the extent of the distributing service and the functions rendered by each buying plant."

The 40 hour week is established with wages of 14 and 16 dollars on a population scale basis.

NEW MOVE MADE TO BRING ABOUT NRA COMPLIANCE

Prominent Men Named To Head Emergency Boards In 44 States

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—Fourty-five men of prominence were designated today as directors of national emergency state councils in 44 states.

Their names announced by Frank G. Walker, executive director of the national council, they will assume direction of NRA and AAA compliance as soon as they have accepted the appointment.

Directors for the remaining four states were not named. New York was divided into two districts with a director for each.

The state directors include: Florida, Walter Hawkin, Jacksonville, with state offices in that city.

Aside from compliance, the directors will aid in the creation of consumers' councils where necessary will set up information bureaus for the guidance of the public, and will abolish or create local volunteers committees to replace some of the volunteer recovery committees now in existence.

NRA will finance the new set-up at a cost roughly estimated by Walker at $1,250,000. Each director will take over the compliance work at once, meshing the new organization in with the old. For NRA compliance, the director will be responsible to Recovery Admistrator Johnson.

Experience, Walker said, will be the guide as to the future activities of the directors beyond those now outlined. While they will not participate in the state administration of public or civil works, the Federal Home Owners Loan Corporation, or other special agencies, they will answer inquiries on these agencies, and where complaints are made about them, the council directors will refer such complaints to the proper source. Complaints will not, however, be taken.

Asked by reporters what were the political affiliations of the new directors, Walker replied that he didn't know in many cases, and that he was trying "to keep politics out of the set-up."

The salaries of the directors will range from $4,000 to $6,000, depending on the amount of work required. At present skeleton staff will include a legal advisor, a labor advisor, an office manager and a clerical force. Experience will dictate further expansion. Local officers will be chosen by the state directors.

This provision requires that the general code authority, after obtaining permission from General Johnson, shall call in all interests, including the manufacturers of their code authority, to define a price differential "which shall be fair and reasonable in relation to the nature and the extent of the distributing service and the functions rendered by each buying plant."

The 40 hour week is established with wages of 14 and 16 dollars on a population scale basis.

Auto Owners Aided In Service Offered By Local Tag Agent

As announced yesterday, County Tax Collector and Tag Agent Jno. D. Jenkins and his staff will remain at the Court House tonight until 9:00 o'clock for the purpose of selling 1934 automobile license tags.

Sales today and all this week have been brisk, with almost all persons apparently anxious to beat the dead-line which comes Monday afternoon.

There was no indication at the Court House today that Governor Shultz will order an extension of time for the purchase of 1934 tags, and Sheriff J. F. McClelland is holding his staff in readiness to carry out the state law in respect to auto owners driving without proper tags.

J. M. Leonard, who is equipped to weigh all truck and trailers, stated again today that he will be at the Court House tonight until 9:00 o'clock, and on Sunday from 10:00 o'clock in the morning until 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

As the information requested came back to the committee, they said the Treasury was asked to check income tax reports of the men concerned for any contrary statements.

AUTO INDUSTRY SHARES FORD'S VIEWS FOR 1934

Prediction Made That 1934 Business Will Exceed That of 1933 By Fully 75 Percent

DETROIT, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—The statement of Edsel Ford in Washington yesterday that business conditions at present "look very, very good," is shared by many other leaders of the automobile industry, who believe the combination of increased purchasing power, improved general conditions and an accumulated replacement demand beginning to be felt in growing degree.

Ford, in his statement, given after he had concluded his test before the Senate banking committee, said that his company expects a 75 percent pickup over 1933. This is the general hope of the motor car industry.

Last year the industry produced in the United States and Canada 2,101,000 passenger cars and trucks. As in 1932 and 1931 the bulk of this output was for what has been termed "absolutely necessary" replacement. In the belief that demand, other than replacement for indispensable vehicles, will enter the market in considerable volume, many of the industry's heads expect 1934 production to top 3,600,000 units.

In this connection a recent statement by Alvan McCauley, president of the national automobile

Voice Of Two Black Crows, Favorite U. S. Comedians For 16 Years, Is Stilled By Death

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—The voice of "the two black crows," who for years spouted comedy from stage and screen, was stilled yesterday by the death of Charles Mack, 46, partner in the famous team of Moran and Mack, in an automobile accident at Mesa, Ariz.

Injured in the same accident was Jack Sennett, erstwhile king of movie comedy producers and originator of the bathing beauty motif in the celluloids.

George Moran, the other half of "the two black crows," Mrs. Mack; Mrs. Sennett; and Mary Jane Mack, 18-year-old daughter of the Mack's, were slightly injured. Mrs. Mack was driving when a tire blew out Thursday night and the car rolled over three times on the Apache trail six miles east of Mesa. Mack died in a Mesa hospital.

"This is the end of the two black crows," said Moran later. "And I guess it's the end of my career before the public. The task to go on now seems just too big."

The surviving partner gave Mack credit "for everything we did."

DENUNCIATION OF PRIVATE POWER INDUSTRY HEARD

Spokesman For Ickes Scores Proponents Of Proposed Code

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—A denunciation of the private power industry and its ruling elements for "unusual conduct" and "rebarious practices" was given to the recovery administration last night by a spokesman for Secretary Ickes, who joined in challenging the right of the administration to entertain code for public utilities.

The verbal castigation, directed expressly at the Edison Electric Institute, proponent of the power code, and successor to what was called "the malodorous National Electric Light Association," was delivered by Henry H. Hunt, an attorney for Secretary Ickes, at a public hearing on the electric power code.

Hunt vehemently did his phrase of that John E. Zimmerman, president of United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia, asked the chairman to stop him. This was not done, however, since Hunt was a public representative. He insisted his statements were "factual" and borne out by the record of the federal trade commission power investigation.

Plans were made during the meeting for the district's part in the nation-wide mobilization of Boy Scouts on Saturday, Feb. 3, when they will be addressed by President Roosevelt. It was announced that the President will call upon Scout's of America to perform an unique and distinctive service for the nation.

The county was represented at this meeting by Mr. Lehmann, C. R. Mason, and Bill Dufuse, members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club which sponsors one of the city's Scout troops.

Col. Lindbergh's Income Tax Record Is Being Checked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—An income tax study touching Col. Charles Lindbergh and a host of other past and present names in the air mail field today was revealed as going forward under the direction of a Senate committee.

Members of the Senate air mail investigating committee who already have caused one sensation in the capital this week, disclosed that they had ordered income tax checks also on Walter F. Brown, former postmaster general, others in his administration, and Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the former president.

Investigators explained they had sent about 200 questionnaires to men prominent in companies carrying air mail and those who took part in making contracts for this work during the last administration.

As the information requested came back to the committee, they said the Treasury was asked to check income tax reports of the men concerned for any contrary statements.

Warning Will Be Given Those Minus Licenses

If you haven't yet purchased your 1934 occupational license at the City Hall, and if you don't contemplate doing so on Monday, you may expect to see one of the city's policemen walk into your store or office early Tuesday morning and hear him tell you that unless you buy a license by Jan. 25, you face a fine which will be levied against you in Police Court.

Orders were issued to local police to hold themselves in readiness to visit all stores and office buildings starting early Tuesday. On that day they will be given a list of persons who have not purchased licenses, and although no arrests are to be made until Jan. 25, they will visit and were beginning.

RFC Loan Guarantees Full Re-Payment To Over 350,000 Guardian Union Customers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—

The Reconstruction Corporation yesterday made it possible for 145,000 depositors in Detroit's Guardian Union National Bank to receive payment in full, while those who banking committee was receiving charges that a White House order kept the treasury from acting upon reports of bad banking in Detroit during the Hoover administration.

Alfred P. Layton, a chief national bank examiner, told the committee he was "not guessing, when he asserted the comptroller of the currency was given the authority not to rock the boat and "not to have any more bank failures."

Relief to the Guardian Union's depositors was made possible by a $1,000,000 RFC loan, the second advance to the institution's liquidating agent in recent weeks. A re-examination of assets given as

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS GIVES TIME FOR STUDY

Intricacies Of Dollar Devaluation Being Probed By President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(A.P.)—

President Roosevelt and members of Congress were devoted today to continued work on their special problems, preparing for swing-over next week more fully into their winter work on recovery, and other regular legislative programs. It was the first time in days that there was no press conference at the White House, allowing there time for dollar devaluation intricacies. The Senate and the House were in recess today.

The important spirit of cordiality existed Thursday virtually disappears early last night and the House, without even a roll call, passed the appropriation bill carrying the economy law as it was asked by President Roosevelt.

Passage was agreed to however only after Republicans and moderate Democrats were finally convinced in number of attempts to block the economy extension and to increase funds for payment to veterans.

There were no bulletins like that late Thursday in which a 1934-35 vote assured that the economic provisions, unchanged, would be in the department office appropriation bill when it left the House for the Senate.

ELUCAS SCORES TEAM FOR SORRY DAY LAST NIGHT

Seminole High Boundly Whipped By Inferior Orlando Five, 32 To 4

Declaring that not in years had he seen "such a sorry exhibition of basketball" as that offered by the Seminole High School quintet being handed a 32 to 4 defeat by the Orlando Tigers last night, Coach Leonard McLean cast an anxious eye this morning on the outcome of tonight's game with the DeLand Bulldogs, to be played here. The second team also lost 32 to 4.

"We never seen such a poor showing," he said in commenting on the work of the five first string players he selected as starters. "Of some of the 'B' team players had been in uniform I believe that I would have sent them to the game. Actually, I believe that I could have gone on the floor blindfolded and scored more than four points in 22 minutes of play. Why the team hadn't scored a point during the entire first half, it was a terrible exhibition."

Two games are to be played tonight, the first, between DeLand and Sanford second teams, to start at 8 o'clock. Despite last night's defeat, the team still has a chance to claim the Northeastern Conference title, for Orlando is not a member of this conference.

A report of last night's game, taken from an Orlando press agency, is as follows:

"After claiming the strongest team to represent Sanford in four years, Coach Leonard McLean's squad gave one of the most futile scoring exhibitions ever seen on a local court. Quil Jordan, rated as one of the best forwards in this district, failed to register a single point, while Knight, his running mate, failed to come close.

Much of the Feds impotence was due to the fast guarding of Ezzard and Shaw. These two boys were all over the court, keeping forward in back of the ball line. Not more than a half dozen shots were allowed beneath the hoop, two of which were made. Shaw and Ezzard, however, received capable support from Raybin, Siemons and Hager. Raybin brought the gallery to its feet with his fancy basket tossing. Three consecutive times he tipped the ball through the loop, and seemed on the road to a record scoring performance when Coash Boone withdrew him from the game.

Siemons and Hager were a different pair of forwards than the two boys who played against Ezzard. They stopped breaks down the floor and made Ezzard and Shaw's work easier in the back board.

The Tigers gave little evidence at the start that they would turn the game into a rout. Although they ended the half leading 10-0 their general play was ragged.

Innumerable shots went wide of the basket, while passing, especially in the danger zone was wild. The old trouble of butler fingers kept down the score as forwards began toward the basket.

At the start of the second period the Boone machine began to click. Fast, short passes carried the ball down the floor where Raybin and Siemons tipped it in. As the first strings were under way, Boones hoisted his reserves who carried on the work of the regulars.

The game might have been steeper if Sanford had broken on the defense with more rapidity. Whereas Shaw and Ezzard started

BABE RUTH SIGNS FOR 1934 SALARY OF ABOUT $35,000

Slugger Accepts Terms With Ruppert Minus Customary Fanfare

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—

Two months ahead of the usual schedule and minus all the customary fanfare associated with this momentous event, Babe Ruth and his baseball employer, Col. Jacob Ruppert, came to terms yesterday on the 40-year-old slugger's 1934 salary.

By mutual agreement they withheld the details, pending the actual ceremony of signing the contract next Monday morning in Ruppert's brewery, but it was learned that a compromise was reached at or close to $35,000 after the shortest and most harmonious salary conference Babe and the colonel have had in a dozen years.

The figure mentioned, which Ruth himself indicated was close to the mark, is the Babe's lowest salary since 1921 but still makes him the highest salaried performer in either major league. It is his third "cut" in as many years and represents a total drop of approximately 35 percent in salary since he received his peak pay of $40,000 for the 1930-31 seasons.

The Yankee slugger since then has been signing only on a one-year basis, receiving $25,000 in 1932 and $22,000 last year.

In the aggregate over a period of 18 years, including 1934, Ruth's salary checks from the Yankees reach the staggering sum of nearly $850,000. This will be his 15th season in the American League.

"If the automobile industry were called upon now to replace all of America's worn-out cars," he said, "it would be paid off pensions to veterans with service-connected disabilities" when the economy law was passed a year ago.

To this, Representative Woodrum, Democrat, Virginia, replied that changing amounts would do no good "until the (veterans') regulations issued under basic law had been changed."

For's statement that under the NRA, the additional workers created would "help purchasing power," agrees in general with the views of many of the other motorcar manufacturers. The statement was regarded as particularly significant because the Ford company, of which Edsel Ford is president, is the only unit of the industry which has not signed the automotive code, although complying with its terms.

Contributing to the optimistic viewpoint held by most motorcar manufacturers is the public reaction to new models just intro-

CUBAN JUNTA NAMES HEVIA AS PRESIDENT

Martin Resigned Last Night, With Seizure Of American Plants As One Of Last Acts

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—(A.P.)—Carlos Hevia, secretary of agriculture, was named president of Cuba today.

His appointment was made by revolutionary junta leaders of the revolutionary government which placed Ramon Grau San Martin in power several weeks ago. Grau tendered his resignation last night.

Carlos Mendieta, Nationalist leader, was regarded as another possible choice for president, and the junta remained deadlocked nearly 24 hours over the selection of a new chief executive of the nation. Mendieta approved Hevia's appointment.

Shortly before the announcement was made that Cuba had a new president, troops at Camp Columbus suddenly were assembled, and four three-inch field pieces were mounted at strategic places.

An expectant but undemonstrative crowd of several hundred persons gathered at the presidential palace and throngs of curious also gathered at the naval headquarters where sandbag barricades had been erected.

Hevia is the only Cuban ever to graduate from the United States Naval Academy. For that reason he commanded the revolutionary expedition against former President Machado which landed in August 1931 only to be bottled up promptly by Machado's troops. He was imprisoned and exiled to the United States, returning after the overthrow of Machado.

The government of President Grau San Martin last night shed worth of American property after a strike by employees of the Cuban Electric Company had brought a six-hour complete shutdown of over a hundred million dollars of the company's facilities.

Apparently determined to prevent a lightless, waterless, gasless night at all costs, Col. Fulgencio Batista placed picked machine gunners from his Cuban army

Nearly Half Million Dollars Has Come Into Area Through Local Farm Loan Association

Nearly one-half million dollars have passed into the hands of local farmers through the Seminole County National Farm Loan Association since it was organized, it was revealed in the annual report of the Association's secretary-treasurer, S. E. Andrews, submitted at the first annual stockholders' meeting last week.

The report, covering the period from the Association's organization in June to Jan. 1, 1934, shows that a total of 164 applications were made for Federal loans on Sanford and Seminole County property.

The total amount of money asked for in the 164 applications was $925,325.

Since the middle of September, when first returns on applications began to come in, and to Jan. 1, exactly 68 loans were closed, and local persons involved received $391,200.

Since Jan. 1 and until this morning, an additional 12 applications have been approved and approximately $65,000 has come into the county into the hands of the 12 persons. The total amount received, therefore, is $436,200. Eight of the 161 applications were cancelled, some because the applicant withdrew his request.

Seventy-one applications are pending a decision, Mr. Andrews reported, with additional applications coming in almost daily.

A noticeable speeding up of returns, and quicker action on appraisals, was reported by Mr. Andrews. "The Federal Land Bank is getting this money into the hands of our growers and homeowners much quicker than at first," he stated.

During the meeting, attended by 24 of the Association's 56 stockholders, the 183 officers and directors were re-elected for 1934.

They are: R. B. Chapman, president; J. J. Holly, vice-president; S. E. Andrews, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Chapman, Mr. Holly, John Meisch, Sr., A. Brundly, and Charles Dunn, directors.

The Association is capitalized at $10,000, and the 60 stockholders hold 240 shares of stock valued at $12,455, in the organization. The 24 stockholders present at the meeting represented 1247 shares of the stock.

WYNEKOOP TRIAL JURY ASKED FOR DEATH PENALTY

COUGHLIN URGES REVALUATION OF U.S. GOLD SUPPLY

State Attorney Gives Dramatic Recital Of Murder Highlights

DETROIT, Jan. 15.—(A.P.)—Assistant State Attorney Charle Dougherty today gave a dramatic recital of the circumstances surrounding the operation table death of Rheta Wynkoop, and asked the jury to send the 62-year-old mother-in-law, Dr. Alice Wynkoop, to the electric chair.

The defense asked the Court to allow Dr. Wynkoop to be brought to the courtroom in a wheelchair, but he denied this, saying he would postpone the trial if the defendant's condition does not justify trial now.

The defendant was not in the court room as the arguments were in progress, but her attorney said she is determined that the trial proceed.

Dr. Alice Wynkoop yesterday said she believed she was dying.

Victim Saturday night of a severe heart attack—the fourth she has suffered since she was confined to the jail infirmary after her arrest on charges of slaying her daughter-in-law, Rheta, 23, the 82-year-old physician rallied to the demand of the trial, saying:

"There must be no postponement of the trial. I shall be able to go through with it. I know that I am dying but you shall not stop the trial."

"She told me," said Dr. McNamara, "that nothing would prevent her from going to the courtroom today but death. She looked straight at me and said: 'nothing, not even you, doctor, will keep me from that courtroom today.'

Dr. McNamara issued the following statement about Dr. Wynkoop's condition:

"Pulse 86; temperature 99.6. Heart action slower, softer, but regular. Pain in chest, arm and finger, which was due to a coronary spasm, much improved under medical medication and bandages."

"Patient mentally alert and very restless, sleeping at intervals for short periods. No difficulty now in her breathing, from which she suffered Saturday night."

Dr. Wynkoop's attack was called angina pectoris, pain in chest and arm due to closure or blockage of the coronary arteries.
