Abel Urges Steelworkers To Include More Blacks

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - I.W. Abel, presiding over his last United Steelworkers convention opening today, says the union should include blacks in its upper echelons. Abel made his proposal as the field of contanders to succeed him narrowed, lessening the chances of a divisive split in the nation's largest industrial union. At a news conference Sunday, Abel recommended that an additional vice presidency be created and that the duties of the secretary-treasurer be divided. He suggested that a black be considered for the new post.

Deodorants In Clothing?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Three scientists have undertaken a mission that could someday end the battle of sprays vs. sticks and send rollons rolling on into oblivion. They are developing a deodorant that can be processed right into some clothing. In a report to the American Chemical Society here, the researchers said they have successfully treated cotton fabrics to produce a "timerelease" reaction that continuously kills odorcausing germs.

Harrises Face Sentencing

LOS ANGELES (AP) - William and Emily Harris, facing sentencing today, planned a last-minute bid for a new trial by renewing criticisms of the judge and jury at their kid-naping and robbery trial. The Harrises were facing possible multiple, jail terms ranging from five years to life for two kidnapings, car theft, robbery and firearms violations.

TEHRAN. Iran (AP) - The Iranian government has assured the United States it is doing everything it can to catch and punish the guerrillas who killed three American civilians. Many of the 24,000 Americans in Iran stayed home Sunday following the assassination of the three executives of Rockwell International. The police were looking for six men who ambushed the three Californians on their way to work Saturday. NBC News said they were working on the installation of a $500-million intelligence-gathering system for the Iranian Air Force.

Pope Denounces Bishop

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) - Pope Paul VI has denounced a traditionalist French bishop who celebrated Mass publicly in defiance of a papal ban, but a Vatican spokesman said further sanctions against Msgr. Marcel Lefebvre are not expected immediately. Bishop Lefebvre celebrated Mass in Latin Sunday before 7,000 persons in a sports arena in his native Lille, France. This defied the Pope's suspension of him from all priestly functions a month ago, including celebrating Mass and administering the sacraments. The Pope said the French prelate's defiance of his authority was "the most serious" of "dispersive and divisive opinions" threatening the integrity of the Roman Catholic Church.

No Sabotage In Crashes

LONDON (AP) - The U.S. Air Force says sabotage did not cause the crash of two C141 jet transports in which 39 persons were killed Saturday in Greenland and England. The C141 Starlifters left McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey at nearly the same time. One crashed as it was landing at the U.S. air base in Soendre Stroemfjord, southern Greenland, and 21 of the 27 persons aboard were killed. The other went down near Peterborough England, in a thunderstorm, killing all 18 persons aboard. Most of the victims were American military men.

Methodists Demand Changes

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) - Third World delegates at the 13th World Methodist Conference, impatient with the traditionalism of the church's AngloAmerican majority, are demanding a more modern approach to missionary work in the poor nations. Some delegates say if the Methodist movement fails to adjust its missionary work to the demands from Asia, Africa and Latin America, the churches there may form a separate group.

Still No Clues In Case Of Missing Ocala Girl

OCALA (AP) - An Ocala couple whose 12-year-old daughter disappeared five weeks ago still have no lead to her whereabouts or fate, but have learned from letters they are not alone in their plight. "We've heard from so many people and we don't know them. It's hard to believe...," said Joe Scofield, 49, his voice trailing off and tears welling in his eyes.

He and his wife Lena are still waiting for police to come up with a solid lead in the disappearance July 22 of their daughter Dorothy. The seriousminded, church-going girl was last seen when she went to a shopping center to get a pair of shoes and buy her older brother a birthday present.

Police say there have been no solid leads in the case, nothing to indicate whether "Deedee" ran away or was abducted.

Newspaper Reports Cruise

MIAMI (AP) - A Caribbean cruise for state officers of the Police Benevolent Association was paid for from funds obtained in its fundraising activities, says the Miami Herald.

The newspaper also reported Sunday that the Florida PBA picked up the tab for a 20person dinner party that included Col. J. Eldridge Beach, state Highway Patrol commander and occasional adversary of the

The PBA made a $1,600 deposit for the threeday cruise to Nassau last November with a check on its Orlando operating account, the Herald reported. But the $18.546 balance was paid with a cashier's check bought with funds from the PBA fund-raising account, the paper

Charles W. Maddox, the Dade County homicide detective who heads the union, said he thinks PBA directors who took the cruis paid back all but $7,000 or $8,000 of its cost.

Hurricane Frances Brewing

MIAMI (AP) - Frances, the fourth hurricane of the season, was expected to strengthen today but posed no immediate threat to land as it moved northwestward towards the continent. Hurricane Emmy, meanwhile, got caught in a large low pressure system in the mid-Atlantic and picked up speed as it moved away from the United States at 10-15 miles per hour. The National Hurricane Center said Frances was expected to strengthen through the day while maintaining its northwestward movement at 12 m.p.h. Forecasters said the more northwesterly course of the storm reduced the threat to the northern Leeward Islands At 6 a.m. EDT, Frances was centered near latitude 19.5 north, longitude 53.5 west. That's 550 miles east northeast of Antigua and about 1,500 miles souutheast of Miami.

Miami Tourism To Decline?

MIAMI BEACH (AP) - This sun-baked tourism city is in its best convention year ever, but officials say it is just a mirage with a 25 per cent decline in business projected for

"We sell what we've got," said Warren Erickson, the city's Convention Bureau director. "We got the sun, the new (Convention) Hall complex and Miami Beach, but we don't have the new hotels, and some groups are going elsewhere."

Officials blame competition from hundreds of cities who have rushed to get into the $10 billion-a-year business. And they blame the fact no new hotel has been built here since 1968, while cities such as San Antonio, St. Louis, Kansas City and Miami offer untramodern rooms.

Trask In Financial Trouble

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) - The state's lagging economy and an Alabama coal mining business have been blamed by Senate president pro tem John Trask for unpaid debts which have led to suits against him in at least eight counties.

The St. Petesburg Times published a Sunday story saying that banks and mortage companies have filed suit against the Fort Meade Democrat in Duval, Pinellas, Leon, Sarasota, Hillsborough, Polk, Orange and Pasco counties.

The newspaper said Trask owed $718,000 in bad debts.

Reason Triumphs In Platform Debate

While President Ford and Ronald Reagan have some genuine differences over the substance and style of U.S. foreign affairs, the debate over the "morality" of our policy by the Republican National Convention was almost on another sub-

The genuine differences between the two men had been illuminated to some degree in the primary elections when the debate was over the Panama Canal, the strategic arms balance, detente and similar subjects.

By contrast the convention policy discussion was basically political, another effort by Reagan partisans to gain an Mith hour victory. No other Construction is possible considering the substance of "morality in foreign policy" as perceived by the hard-line conservatives - Alexander Solzhenitsyn, the Helsinki conference and Henry Kissinger.

ALC: NO.

President Ford undoubtedly had good reasons for refusing to talk to Solzhenitsyn. It could have been that arms limitation discussions with the Soviet Union were at a critical stage and the President saw nothing to be gained by introducing an unnecessary irritant. But even if timing is put aside, we fail to see how a visit with a Soviet critic could improve our foreign policy. Everything the Soviet author says and thinks is easily available Symbolically a hint that we are looking back at the days of the cold war, which he more or less advocates, would send a cold chill through the world.

By the same token, Helsinki conference results do have a very fundamental flaw because everything depends upon the good intentions of the Soviet Union. On the other hand, a drift back to confrontation poses greater dangers to world stability - and most certainly far less hope to the people oppressed by the Soviet Union.

Finally, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger does have his legitimate critics - we ourselves have occasionally taken him to task. But from our 50-yard seat, his overall yardage looks good. The United States is not involved in any wars, the potential for a Jewish-Arab war is less today than it was a few years ago, our rleationships with our allies is generally satisfactory and we are beginning to make our influence felt on the African continent.

And, for that matter, the foreign policy and national security planks in the platform hammered out by the convention committee are clear-eyed, constructive and moral approaches to our relationships with our friends and enemies.

Apparently the majority at the convention saw things the same way, realizing that the morality issue was nothing more than the third grab at the life ring by a sinking candidacy. The Reagan partisans' efforts to whip up an emotional storm by exploiting three hard right code words henitsyn, Helsinki and Kissinger - did not become an explosive issue because intelligence triumphed over emotion. There's no better tonic for a political party.

Private Push Best

The need for nuclear energy expansion in the United States will demand an estimated six to nine new plants to supply the mriched uranium for fuel.

The House, taking note of the estimated construction cost of up to $42 billion, has approved legislation that would allow private companies to compete with the government in fuel production.

The profit motive should encourage greater efficiency in the and its air force maintains only three fighter amounts of the 30 shares that make up the this question: What are you going to do if your the violation could cause them to lose thousands proposed facilities. In addition to sharing in the plant cost, the ompanies would pay royalties to the government for use of the echnology which is now a federal monopoly.

Under the cooperative effort, the government could naintain security of nuclear materials and the secret processes. And the potential for extraordinary profits would be controlled by congressional review of all contracts. The Nuclear Fuel Assurance Bill merits Senate approval and President Ford's signature, not only to perform the function spelled out in its title, but to relieve the American taxpayer of a ortion of the cost burden.

If you think being a bachelor is a big deal, try eing one when you're hungry. Like at mealtimes. It's a losing battle. The average bachelor has two courses of action open to him. He can cook at home or eat out. And each course has its special pitfails. The poor guy just can't win. The shelves a society are stacked against him.

Let's assume first he decides to eat at home. That means he first has to find a home where he is allowed to cook. And this isn't as easy as it sounds. Just ask this fellow I know very well. He arrived several years ago in an Ohio town to work and started hunting an apartment. He spotted an ad in the newspaper and called the number. "Hello, I'm interested in that apartment you're ertising. Can you tell me more?" "Well, we have a furnished bedroom, living room and bathroom. And no cooking," she added matter-of-factly. "No cooking? How come?"

TOM TIEDE rudeau's Star Is

OTTAWA - (NEA) - Pierre Elliott Trudeau came into the Canadian political scene like a rock through a picture window. Unfortunately, he scattered glass has not only wounded his nation but its relations with the United States as well. Not in modern times has there been more tension between the good neighbors.

Sinking

The prime minister's shabby handling of Taiwan during the Olympic Games was but another reminder that his values are other than those of Uncle Sam. In eight tempestuous years as chief of state Trudeau has for the first time in memory reminded both sides that our 5,500 mile ong border is real and surprisingly fragile; if he is not anti-American, he fits that description well

Much of the litany of Trudeau's manufacured aggravation is well known. He or his office are forever threatening nationalization of U.S. nterests in Canada. He has recently ordered a blackout of U.S. advertisements on the American television programs picked up in the north. He has sharply increased the price of oil. He has instituted policies discouraging U.S. investments in his nation. And, of course, he has missed few opportunities to tell the world of fallout received from residing side by side with the rich unwashed.

Far more important than those irritations, however, is Trudeau's all but incomprehensible abandonment of Canada's military security responsibilities to the U.S. and to the rest of what is randomly known as the free world. In less than a decade the P.M. has reduced the Canadian service from a proud force to a humiliated one, and thereby decidedly relaxed the defense of North America.

One of his first acts after election was to signal a shrinkage of commitment to NATO: since then he has systematically cut the defense force to where it now could not defend Ottawa (against Montreal?) much less the rest of the nation's 3.5 million square miles.

It's not that he's against spending tax money. The Canadian budget has gone up fourfold since 1968, to a present estimate of $42 billion annually. Yet where in 1966 the armed forces accounted for 20 per cent of the budget, it now is allowed only is commonly used these days, you might con-10.7 per cent. DON OAKLEY IRA Plan Allows Nest Egg mything for the little guy. Thanks to the Individual Retirement Account (IRA) act passed by Congress in 1974, an estimated 30 million workers are eligible to set p their own private "tax shelter."

It isn't true that Congress never do

Under IRA, a working person not covered b company pension plan can put aside $1,500 or 15 er cant of total annual income (whichever is lower) in a bank account and pay no taxes on the money until he or she retires and begins withdrawing it, at which time he or she will in most cases be in a lower tax bracket. The author of IRA, Sen. William V. Roth Jr., R-Del., now wants to extend the plan to include nonworking spouses. He has proposed an amendment that would allow a couple to set up either two tax-deferred retirement accounts of $1,000 each or one joint account of $2,000 to cover both husband and wife.

Supporters of the amendment point out that although more and more women are working the nome, more than half of all wives in the United States are still fulltime homemakers. Yet they are not eligible for any type of pension

Nor does the Social Security system adequately cover homemakers, they say. A wife can't draw any Social Security benefits until age 62, even if her husband dies before she reaches

Demoted Aide Vows Battle In Longwood

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD - Veteran city employe Ralph Fisher, demoted and suspended until an investigation by State Attorney Abbott Herring's office is completed, has no intention of resigning and will fight to clear his name.

"I don't intend to resign. I've done nothing to cause me to resign," Fisher said today. He was demoted and suspended by city council Monday night pending investigation of allegations of improper activity in his department. Fisher, who has been the city's public works director since the post was created two years ago and who served as superintendent of the street and water departments for some years prior to that time, said he has retained an attorney to defend himself. "I have found there is at least one honest person

Get The Word J.R. Grant and Councilman Lawrence Goldberg this morning personally notified eight city employes that they have been temporarily suspended from their jobs and four others that they have been fired.

The city council Monday board refusing to vote, ordered suspended employes Jack Wallace, Donald Taft, George Bowling and Wilbert Williams for one day each without pay for "consuming intoxicants during working hours"; Thomas Jackson, street department foreman, for five days without pay for condoning the use of intoxicants during working hours; Frank M. Brown, one day without pay for "misappropriation of city property in that he converted city owned gasoline to private use;" John Whiteside one day without pay for "carrying on personal business during working hours, in that he used his position as city mechanic to work on his privately owned vehicle" and Public Works Director Ralph Fisher "until completion of investigation of other allegations."

Ordered fired were Aaron Pool for "assaulting a fellow employe;" William Posey, Robert Keen and Alan Armondi "for conversion of city owned property to their own private use." Mayor Lormann, in recommending the action, said it was a "corrective measure" based on the city's personnel policy and "not based on legal aspects of the cases." Fisher said the man's voice sounded familiar, but the caller would not identify himself, the type of organization he represented or who the other members of that organization were.

Answering charges against employes in his department Fisher said, "As God is my witness, I have never seen any employe drink beer on the job or at the maintenance shop nor has any beer, to my mowledge, ever been kept in the refrigerator at the shop." Fisher said he went to city Public Safety Director Douglas Keller and the police department investigator more than two
