Mica links road to region's history

The "missing link" has been found. On Monday, U.S. Rep. John Mica, (R.-Winter Park) led a groundbreaking ceremony that ended a 5-year effort to secure funding and buy rights-of-way for the 5.7 mile gap between Interstate 4 and the end of GreeneWay in Sanford.

Mica helped get federal money for the $265 million project. He called the groundbreaking one of the "most significant events" in Central Florida history. The beltway is designed to offer an alternate route to commuters who want to bypass I-4 traffic. As many as 6,000 daily may use the road.

A number of protesters were attracted to the ceremony. The group does not want an extension of the beltway because they say it would turn S.R. 46 into part of the toll road.

City Manager gets a pay raise

The Sanford City Commission on Monday agreed to give City Manager Tony VanDerworp a raise and bonus pay.

VanDerworp, whose current salary is $98,000, will receive a three percent raise and bonus pay of $2,000. The commission evaluated VanDerworp, who is entering his second year as city manager, as a "Top Performer."

The bonus pay will take effect in about one month, when other "Top" and "Outstanding" performers also receive bonuses.

City employees are evaluated on a scale that ranges from "Non-Performer" to "Outstanding Performer." The evaluation of "Top Performer" is the second highest evaluation an employee can receive.

Fright Nights at the Zoo

Sanford's fourth annual Fright Nights: Screams in the Swamp will be held on Oct. 22, 23, 29, and 30.

Fright Nights run from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and begins at Sanford City Hall. From there, guests will be shuttled to the Central Florida Zoo on buses, compliments of LYNX. The last bus departs at 9:30 p.m.

The activities will begin with a haunted hay ride, and then larger-than-life creatures will emerge. At the end of the adventure, visitors can learn the truth about creatures such as bats, owls and snakes.

There will be no parking available at the Zoo for Fright Nights.

Tickets for Fright Nights are $5 per person and may be purchased each night. Tickets are $4 for Central Florida Zoo members and groups of 10 or more if purchased in advance.

For more information, call 323-4450, extension 110, or visit the Zoo's web site at www.centralfloridazoo.org.

City voids PRA lease

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford's lease with PRA Development to build a hotel and conference center on a portion of Fort Mellon Park was broken Monday, as the City Commission unanimously decided not to grant an extension request for an overdue feasibility study.

PRA Development was seeking a 60-day extension to perform the feasibility study for the project, but did not send a representative to meet with the City

Pacitti a no-show for meeting his company had asked city to arrange Commission during Monday's work session.

City Manager Tony VanDerworp said he was told by PRA President Joe Pacitti that a representative could not be present because Monday was Columbus Day. Pacitti requested that a representative meet with the commission during a work session on Oct. 25.

Instead, the commission agreed to send the project out to bid by various companies. PRA Development will be invited to compete in the bidding.

"We were led to believe that he (a representative for PRA) would be down here," said Commissioner Whitey

Eckstein. "This is embarrassing."

Mayor Larry Dale said several companies have expressed an interest in the project, although the companies have asked not to be identified. VanDerworp said a package requesting proposals would be prepared in about 30 days.

"They (other companies) have asked for it not to come public yet," Dale said. "The lease with PRA is void. I'm not leading the campaign for the hotel anymore. That's up to the commission."

Olympic team trains in Central Florida

Officials from the USA Softball Women's National Team announced Monday that Central Florida will be the team's East Coast training site for the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games. The official training site will be in Kissimmee; however, exhibition games will be scheduled at the Lake Brantley Sports Complex in Altamonte Springs. Residents association wants time to fix condemned apartments

Complex still has $18,000 in unpaid water bills

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Representatives from a condominium association at the Ridgewood Villas complex near Seminole High School say they are prepared to make needed repairs to the troubled apartments and condominiums.

The Sanford City Commission on Monday granted the group 30 days to demonstrate financial backing to make repairs that would enable the complex to meet city codes. In September, the commission condemned all 60 units of Ridgewood Villas.

Jack Sirianni, president of the Ridgewood Villas Condo Association, said repairs would be made using $400,000 from an insurance settlement, as well as investments from either Central Florida HANDS of Orlando or developer James Shirkey.

Shirkey is responsible for 30 units in the complex and stands to lose $1 million if the complex is condemned.

"We need to see a financial plan on how you will meet the city codes," said Sanford Mayor Larry Dale.

Central Florida HANDS, a non-profit builder of affordable housing is interested in purchasing and renovating the Ridgewood Villas. The organization is negotiating with multiple owners of Ridgewood Villas apartments to purchase the complex.

Steve Chitwood, President of Central Florida HANDS Realty, said that once an agreement is in place, the organization would spend at least $600,000 to renovate the complex.

In the meantime, Sirianni said that the complex will be fenced and boarded up this week.

"Every time I drive by there, I see people in there and cars parked there," Dale said.

A state health and safety inspector issued a closure notice on the complex July 7 because of code violations. However, condemnation was left up to the city.

The state revoked the licenses for owners of the complex on July 7 following the health and safety inspection.

The city is still owed more than $18,000 in unpaid water bills on the complex. Sirianni said that the water bill will be paid. He said that the bill had See Apartments, Page 6A

Authorities crack down on truant students

Sweep raises awareness of problem, nets 18 students first day

By Joe Salsano
Staff Writer

SANFORD — A joint effort by Seminole County law enforcement agencies and the Seminole County School Board designed to crack down on school truancy kicked off Monday.

The first day of the week-long sweep netted 18 students a trip to the Seminole County Juvenile Detention Center, where they were detained during school hours unless their parents picked them up following notification by authorities.

The semi-annual sweep of class skippers will run through Oct. 15 with the Seminole County Sheriff's office and tactical teams representing the Sanford, Longwood, Oviedo, Lake Mary, Altamonte Springs, and Winter Springs police departments taking part.

Authorities involved with juvenile issues from the school board and police agencies will be out in force all week long looking for teens and younger kids playing hooky. If they are picked up by members of the tactical teams they will be taken to the Juvenile Assessment Center and their parents or legal guardians will be called to come pick them up. The anti-skipping sweep normally takes place in the county once in the fall and once in the spring. This year's motto of the joint effort is: "Skip School=JAC Bound."

The Seminole County Sheriff's office begins the daily sweep with a briefing each morning.

One of the goals of the program is not only to heighten awareness and compliance with school attendance policies, but to reduce the number of daytime burglaries attributable to school-aged children not being in the right place at the right time.

"We'll have a pretty good combined contingent out there during the week," said Seminole County Sheriff's spokesman Steve Olson. "If kids get picked up for skipping they will have to sit in the Juvenile Detention Center during school hours unless a parent or guardian comes to get them."

Youngblood and Sons House Movers were busy Monday relocating a building from the company's storage area on Orange Boulevard to a site 15 miles away in Ocala. The building was originally one of the portable buildings used at Seminole Community College for the Adult Education Program. The Youngbloods, Tom and his son, Terry, bought the building and sold it to the new owners, who plan to use it for storage space. Officers from Sanford, Seminole and Volusia counties helped with the move. Herald photo by Tommy Vincent

A streetcar named truancy

There wasn't much truancy when I was a schoolboy. We valued our lives, we obeyed our parents and we went to class.

In April of 1950, I took my first and only chance at skipping class.

Here's what happened:

At the first recess, I quietly slipped down the hallway and out the back door of St. Agnes School. Not a nun was watching. Not even the Holy Ghost.

I sprinted a couple of blocks to a bus stop, where a woman looked at me suspiciously. I knew she knew I was up to no good.

"Opening Day, ma'am, I'm going to the ballgame," I volunteered, biting my lip.

"That's OK," she said. "If anyone asks, I'll tell them you are with me. Do you have a ticket?"

"I have enough money for a bleacher seat, ma'am."

"You can sit with me," she said. "I have two tickets."

We rode the bus to Clarendon, and then switched to a streetcar. By the time we reached Griffith Stadium, the skies had darkened. I bought a program for 10 cents and a hot dog for a quarter.

It was raining by this time — the kind of rain I didn't think was going to stop for a long time. The ballplayers were in their dugouts. They watched the rain, and pounded their fists into their gloves.

Then, came the announcement. No game. I'd gambled and lost. Really lost.

There was no way of getting out of this kind of mess. First, I'd have to face the music at home. I might be able to fool mom but not my dad. He was a policeman. He dealt everyday with those who break the rules.

As bad as any punishment my dad might administer, Mother Superior would be worse. We're talking mortal sin, here. I could be expelled, excommunicated, sent to reform school. Altar boy caught skipping school.

That's nearly 50 years ago.

There was pain but I can't remember how much. I confessed my sin. I didn't get expelled, excommunicated or sent to reform school. I was still an altar boy. My teacher, Sister Mary Charlotte, kept a close watch on me the next day when the Washington Senators did have their Opening Day Game. I remember her smile.

I was thinking about Sister Mary Charlotte Monday and about my act of truancy. I notice that the Seminole County law agencies and school officials are determined to lasso errant students this week. Skipping school, they say, will not be tolerated.

If I were a kid, I'd be very careful. They'll be deputies swarming everywhere. There's no such thing as a perfect truancy. Stay in school. That's where you belong, where you'll learn and be glad you did.

Hey, it'll probably rain.

Using IPM - integrated pest management - in your yard

A new approach to pest control called Integrated Pest Management emphasizes the use of pest resistant plants, natural enemies of pests, and the use of least toxic pesticides if they are necessary.

Under this program, pesticides are used only on affected plants, not general applications. This pest control concept accepts that plants can tolerate some insect damage and leaf diseases. Based on the principles of integrated pest management, here are some useful tips to control plant pests using the least toxic materials recommended for their control.

Water spray: Using a forceful stream of water once every two or four weeks will help in removing many insects from plants. Spray the top and underside of leaves and stems where many insects can hide.

Washing: Washing with soapy water and a soft brush or cloth will remove many insects from plant foliage or stems. Use 2 teaspoons of a mild detergent to a gallon of water. Scrub leaves or stems gently with a soft brush to control scale insects.

Handpicking: Many larger insects can be picked from the plants with a toothpick or tweezers and destroyed. Many caterpillar larvae are restricted to one or few leaves in their early stages and can be removed by simply removing the leaves where they are feeding.

Alcohol: Mealybugs or aphids can be controlled with a swab that has been dipped in alcohol. Be careful not to over apply, as alcohol may burn the foliage. Alcohol is sometimes added to insecticidal soaps to improve their insecticidal qualities at a rate of a tablespoon to each quart of water used.

Insecticidal soap: A soap spray can be made with 4 tablespoons liquid dish soap in 1 gallon of water. This type of insecticide is more effective for control of soft-bodied insects such as aphids, mealybugs, mites and whiteflies. Some soaps may damage the foliage of some plants, you should test spray a few leaves before applying an insecticidal soap to valuable plants.

Safer's insecticidal soap, a potassium-based soap spray, can be purchased in garden stores. Potassium-based soaps are more effective than household soaps for insect control and are also less toxic to plants. Soap sprays are effective only when wet; once it dries it loses its insecticidal activity.

Horticultural oil: An oil spray can be made with 2 tablespoons vegetable oil in 1 gallon of water. The addition of 2 tablespoons of liquid dish soap to the oil spray enhances its insecticidal effect. Oil sprays tend to be phytotoxic at high temperatures, spray plants late in the afternoon during hot days to avoid any toxicity from the oil spray. Refined oils, sold as oil sprays, can be purchased in garden stores to control insect pests. They are used to control scale insects, whiteflies, and mealybugs.

Bacillus thuringiensis (Bt): This bacterium controls caterpillars, it is safe to humans, other vertebrates, and plants. It is available commercially under various trade names such as Thuricide, Dipel, and Biotrol. It can be found in liquid and dust formulations.

Coffee grounds and tea bags: The tannic acid contained in the coffee and tea prevents mosquito larvae from hatching. It is the ideal insecticide to use as mosquito preventive in bromeliads.

Beer: To control slugs, place shallow pans of stale beer on the ground. The fermented liquid attracts and kills slugs, snails, and other pests.

Nicotine compounds: For controlling aphids and other insect pests, a home made preparation of tobacco can be used. Soak cigar or pipe tobacco in water for several days and dilute to a color of weak tea before adding 2 teaspoons of a mild detergent to a gallon of nicotine solution.

Talking about being gay is path to social acceptance

DEAR ABBY: I was lunching with five or six co-workers the other day and the topic turned to gay rights. During the conversation, one of them said, "I don't know why they have to talk about it." I was shocked speechless because everyone at the table knew that I am gay. Later, I thought of all the things I should have said. Then I compiled a list of reasons why we talk about it. If you think it's worthwhile, please print it on Oct. 11, because that is National Coming Out Day. ED IN LONG ISLAND, N.Y.

DEAR ED: Whether to come out or not is a personal decision, and one that should not be taken lightly. However, your reasons present a strong argument in favor of doing so, and I'm pleased to print them on National Coming Out Day to encourage those who might be hesitant about identifying themselves. It's OK to be gay, and it's OK to be yourself.

REASONS WHY WE TALK ABOUT IT

1. Until we started talking about it, laws were enacted by straight people telling gay people what they were and were not allowed to do. Forty-five years ago, nothing could be sent through the U.S. mail about love or intimacy between gay people. Thirty years ago, openly gay people could be fired from government jobs. We could be expelled from most schools, the government could close bars that had lesbian and gay patrons, we couldn't be priests or ministers, and we were banned from many professional organizations. Twenty-five years ago, we could be jailed or institutionalized for being gay.

Laws still exist that prevent gay people from adopting, that take our children from us, that allow us to be jailed for making love to our partners, that permit straight people to refuse to rent to us, or serve us in restaurants for no other reason than that we are gay. It was "talking about it" that led to the repeal of hundreds of those laws.

2. If we didn't talk about it, enlightened people wouldn't be teaching their children that it's wrong to call people "faggot," and that it's wrong to treat gay people differently from straight people. (My parents never told me otherwise.)

3. If we didn't talk about it, straight people wouldn't know who we are, nor would they realize that their friend, co-worker, sibling, parent or child is gay. When straights don't know that someone they love is gay, they often don't stop to think how unfair it is that gay people can be legally discriminated against in 37 states.

4. We talk about it because many of us grew up thinking we were alone because nobody talked about it.

5. I talk about it because otherwise, straight people tell me anti-gay jokes and use anti-gay language in front of me.

6. I talk about it because so many other people cannot. In the U.S. military, men and women lose their jobs for saying, "I am gay," which should be a direct violation of their First Amendment rights.

7. I talk about it because I want folks to see that most gay people are average people, not the monsters that straight people are taught that we are. Prejudice like that is the reason that many gay men and women are beaten up or murdered in the streets.

8. I talk about it because my straight friends are surprised when I say that a movie they liked was awful - completely missing the fact that the gay characters were outdated stereotypes.

9. I talk about it because I want the children in my family to know that you can be gay and a good person. And I want to counterbalance all those who are deceitful, misinformed or have misinterpreted the word of God.

Housing residents oppose proposed zoning ordinance

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD—A group of more than 35 residents living in public housing held a rally at Sanford's City Hall to protest a proposed ordinance that would effect the operation of social service programs.

Under a proposal before the City Commission, social service programs such as soup kitchens and food distribution activities would be required to receive approval by both the Planning and Zoning Commission and the City Commission, similar to the way the city approves on-site sales of alcoholic beverages.

City officials said programs already legally established at social service programs would not be affected under the proposed changes. However, new programs would need to meet changed zoning requirements.

The commission did not make a decision concerning the proposed ordinance when it was discussed in August. The measure was not scheduled to be discussed by the commission on Monday.

Members of a group calling itself Sanford Housing Authority Tenants Organized for Reform of Management (STORM) demonstrated against the ordinance starting shortly after 6 p.m. at City Hall, then spoke at the 7 p.m. City Commission session. The group claims to have 60 members, and all current members are women.

"The thing that it looks like you're doing (with the proposed ordinance) is to get rid of all the poor people," said STORM member Amanda Geter.

The group was organized this year to fight against a proposal by the Sanford Housing Authority to demolish 100 deteriorating public housing units, and replace them with affordable apartments and condominiums.

"They want to bring in a hotel and conference center and move out the poor people," said Trumella James. "But we refuse to move."

Much of the debate concerning the ordinance has centered upon a proposed program to provide meals to the needy within Sanford's historic district.

Jean Metts, director of Seminole Volunteer Enterprises, plans to hold the dinners for the needy several days per week from 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. Meat, potatoes, vegetables, salads, desserts, coffee and tea would be served.

Members of STORM said that they support the proposal by Seminole Volunteer Enterprises.

The Planning and Zoning Commission in September turned down a request from Seminole Volunteer Enterprises for an exemption on the required 50 off-street parking spaces.

Metts said that she planned to appeal the decision to the city commission.

Opponents of the program at Seminole Volunteer Enterprises say that it will attract crime, vagrancy and prostitution to the historic district.

Olson said some might feel the crackdown is petty, but keeping kids in school and off the streets means they can't be doing things they shouldn't be doing during school hours.

There's a difference, particularly in daytime burglaries, he said. Statistics from the last few years indicate the semi-annual skipping sweep has contributed to the number of burglary incidents in several categories.

County-wide law enforcement agencies have documented a downward spiral in the number of vehicular burglaries, residential burglaries, and non-residential burglaries, comparing November 1998 statistics with figures from November 1996, the first year the sweep was implemented.

Collectively in the county, Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Winter Springs, Sanford, and Oviedo, the number of residential burglaries declined to 85 from 101. Non-residential burglaries likewise dropped off from 30 in 1996 to 18 in 1998, while vehicle burglaries dropped from 110 in November 1996 to 99 in November 1998.

Statistics from Lake Mary and Longwood are not reflected in the comparison. The Lake Mary police department is currently undergoing a software change, while Longwood was unable to provide 1996 statistics due to a computer systems crash in April of this year.

Olson said the truancy crackdown is not just an occasional enforcement of school attendance policies.

The purpose of the operation is to draw attention to the truancy issue from time to time.

He said school and law enforcement officials are concerned about the issue year round.

Apartments

gone unpaid because of a dispute between Ridgelywood Villas, Inc. and Sharkey.

The whole issue, we had a pretty serious misunderstanding that had to be cleared up," Strambi said. "That has been cleared up now."

Commissioner Brady Lessard provided the lone vote against the 30-day extension of condemnation proceedings.

The property is a hazard to the city, and in my opinion it's an irreparable one," Lessard said. "I think we should continue with condemnation."

Golden Lamb Restaurant

Family owned and operated

Golden Lamb was established in 1980 and has catered to Seminole and Volusia county residents, with home style cooking.

For years, the owner and his son have done all of the cooking. They make all of their own soups, garnish sauces and cook all their own meats, not to mention their fresh biscuits and home made sausage gravy made fresh everyday.

They have tried to keep their prices low for the senior citizens, working people and large families. Anyone can afford to eat at the Golden Lamb.

The owner's daughter Yota is managing the restaurant and is making a few changes. Come into a clean restaurant and try the good food at a fair price and Yota is now managing the Golden Lamb excellent, friendly service.

We are always open. In stormy and good weather you can count on us.

Docks and Piers

SANFORD - Docks and piers serve as tiny artificial reefs in either salt or freshwater. Algae will grow on the pilings, and tiny life forms will be attracted to the algae. Minnows and small baitfish will in turn feed upon these structures for an easy meal. In essence, you have a complete food chain around these man-made structures. Pay particular attention to docks with lights that illuminate a semi-circle after dark. Snook and seatrout will await in the darkness to ambush unwary baitfish. The same situation will draw speckled perch, bream, and bass in freshwater. Lures should be presented along the pilings or cast into the shadows. Live bait, however, cannot be beat around docks. Live shrimp is the top bait for saltwater docks and piers. The best strategy is to anchor a cast away from the structure and cast to it. Live shrimp are best fished with a small float approximately two feet deep. I like to use a leader of at least 20 pound test for extra insurance from strong fish pulling against pilings. I have a "milk run" of docks and piers that I fish in the Banana River. I approach each one very quietly and put out two anchors to precisely position the boat. I use spinning outfits spooled with 12 pound test and cast as close as possible to the dock or pier. Strikes are usually immediate, and force must be exerted to pry trout and redfish away from the pilings. This type of fishing is very productive and a lot of fun. Trout will be larger than those encountered while plugging the flats, and it is not uncommon to hook fish that are simply too strong to control.

SHUPE'S SCOOP
When fishing live shrimp with a float, I hook my shrimp just under the horn on the head. I use bright white Styrofoam floats with a red top because they are easy to spot in bright sunlight.

FISHING FORECAST
A cold front this past weekend ushered in slightly cooler temperatures. Bass action will be better early and late. Bream and catfish continue to be the most reliable freshwater species. Sebastian Inlet has good snook action with fish to 20 pounds. Large live shrimp and small baitfish are the top baits. One-ounce jigs and lures will also produce fish. Expect some redfish, trout and flounder to be mixed in with snook catches. Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that seas have subsided with no tropical depressions offshore. King mackerel will be scattered on Pelican Flats. Dolphin and wahoo are scarce offshore. Snook, flounder, and sheepshead. Please see Outdoors, Page 2B

Tribe teams trip Gateway for first dual meet win of the season

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

KISSIMMEE - With the district meet only a month away, the Seminole High School swim teams continue to show marked improvement, winning their first dual meets of the season over Gateway at the Kissimmee Aquatic Center. The boys won 120-90, while the girls came out on top, 153-125. "It's our first wins of the season (after losses to Oviedo and Lake Mary), so it's a nice thing for the kids to experience a victory," said Seminole coach Tony Ackerson. "We swam pretty fast as a team, with about 20 lifetime bests recorded. "We continue to have some great practices, and as always, we're going into these meets pretty tired. Hopefully we taper our training well at the end, shave down and produce some huge swims at the District on November 11th." The girls meet was actually a lot closer than the score indicates. With three events to go, Seminole only led by nine points, 110 to 101, but the Fighting Seminoles finished first, third and fourth in the 100 backstroke and one-two-three in the 100 breaststroke to finally pull away. Amber Ellis, Lindsey Bahr and Corrie Seland each had two individual wins for the girls. "They're part of that "Fantastic Freshman" group of girls that came in this year," said Ackerson. "If they continue to work hard, they could be part of something very big here by the end of their senior year." For the boys, it was their trio of seniors, Dan Bishop, Nick Crivellari and Carl Lee, that led the way, combining for five individual event wins and two relay victories. "They're consistently turning in good swims every meet," said

Ackerson. Ackerson also had praise for his Brazilian exchange student, Danilo Goaling, who got indoctrinated into distance swimming and had two individual event wins and was on a winning relay team. "He (Goaling) did pretty well," said Ackerson. "I joked with him that I was going to move his practice assignment permanently to our distance group, but he didn't seem too thrilled." Ackerson also had high praise for Gateway and the Kissimmee facility and also had good news about the new pool being constructed at Seminole. "Gateway has a nice group of kids and a great facility," said Ackerson. "The bath house design is very similar to the one that's being built at our school. We've made the trip down there the last three years and always enjoyed it. "I found out today the shell for our on-campus pool arrived at school the same day as the meet, so hopefully we'll get to host some meets next year." Seminole will travel to Lyman High School to take on Lake Howell on Thursday, October 14th at 3:30 p.m.

Solar Bears get win in thrilling home opener

Special to the Herald
ORLANDO - The Orlando Solar Bears earned a 3-2 shootout victory over the Manitoba Moose in their home opener on Saturday, October 9, before an Orlando arena crowd of 9,406. The Solar Bears are now 2-10 (4 points) in 1999-2000 and tied with the Michigan K-Wings for fourth place in the International Hockey League's (IHL) Eastern Conference. Orlando's next game is the club's 1999-2000 Sunshine Network debut on Saturday, October 16, at the Cleveland Lumberjacks. In Saturday's contest, Manitoba's Cory Cyrenne started the scoring with an unassisted goal at 10:24. Solar Bears left wing Jason Botterill then netted his second goal of the season at 14:32 from right wing Bob Lachance to even the score at 1-1 after one period of play. Orlando defenseman Curtis Murphy tallied the only goal of the second period, his first of the season, at 17:04 from center Mark Beaufait and left wing Jeff Williams, and the Solar Bears took a 2-1 lead into the second intermission. Orlando peppered Moose goaltender Jason Elliott with a team-record 23 shots in the second period. At 4:54 of the third period, Manitoba's Mike Prokopec knotted the game at 2-2 with assists from forwards Lanny Bohonos and Bill Bowler. With no other scoring in the third period, the game headed into a shootout. In the shootout, Solar Bears goaltender Corey Schwab stopped six of seven attempts, and Lachance scored in sudden death to give Orlando a 3-2 victory. For the game, the Solar Bears out-shot Manitoba by a 37-18 margin, while the Moose finished 1 for 3 on the power play versus Orlando's 0 for 3. Up next, the Solar Bears travel to Cleveland on Saturday for their first Sunshine Network telecast of the season. Kickoff at Gund Arena is slated for 7:30 p.m. with Andrew Monaco. Lake Brantley, Winter Springs win behind play of quarterbacks

SPORTS EDITOR

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - They are called field generals because they are the leaders of their team's offense. Lake Brantley's Bryan Smith and Winter Springs' Ramone Raines took that responsibility to heart Friday night as they led their respective clubs to district football victories Friday night. Smith ran for 101 yards and passed for 91 more and accounted for three touchdowns as the Patriots improved to 5-1 overall and 3-0 in Class 5A-District 2 with a 31-0 thrashing of Colonial at Tom Story Field. Smith got plenty of help from fellow senior Lanier Bush as the running back ran for 64 yards, had 95 receiving yards and scored a touchdown. The duo's heroics offset a good night for former Winter Springs quarterback Brandon Blake, the brother of Cincinnati Bengals quarterback Jeff Blake and the son of former Seminole High School coach Emory Blake, who hit his first five passes and finished the night completing 10-of-22 throws for 111 yards. The senior signal-caller also ran for 61 yards as the Grenadiers fell to 0-5 overall and 0-2 in district. The victory set-up a monster 5A-District 2 contest this Friday night between Lake Brantley and undefeated Apopka (5-0 overall, 2-0 in 5A-2) at J. Barnes Field. The Blue Demons survived a scare from Oak Ridge (28-26) last Friday.

Colonial, meanwhile, will return to Orlando to host Lake Mary (4-1 overall, 3-0 in 5A-2) this week in another big district game that could have a huge bearing on the race. Winter Springs finally got that much-searched for, and needed, first victory since moving up to Class 5A by shutting out Deltona-Pine Ridge, 10-0, in a 5A-District 4 game at home. Raines, who had to take over at quarterback after Marcus Wiggins injured a knee against Lake Mary and was lost for the season in the second game of the year, gave the Bears (1-4 overall, 1-2 in district) the lead for good in the second quarter with a nine-yard touchdown run. Just before halftime, Raines, a junior and the nephew of Oakland Athletics outfielder Tim Lincecum, threw a 67-yard touchdown pass to Robert Vite to give Winter Springs a 13-0 lead. The only score of the second half came on a 12-yard scoring run by sophomore Chauncey Hampton for the Bears in the fourth quarter. Winter Springs will play a non-district and non-Seminole Athletic Conference game at Deltona this week, while the Panthers (1-5 overall, 0-2 in 5A-4) will play powerful Seminole (5-1 overall, 3-0 in 5A-4 and ranked No. 9 in this week's FSWA Class 5A State Poll) at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

In a note of local interest, Pine Ridge coach Tim Johnson is expected to resign today (Wednesday) and be replaced by offensive coordinator Travis Peoples for the rest of the season. Please see Progs, Page 2B

Lake Brantley graduate Jason Veritek (shown back in his Southern League days) scored a major-league playoff record five runs as the Boston Red Sox blasted the Cleveland Indians 23-7 Sunday night.

Red Sox outslug Indians

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR
CLEVELAND, OHIO - With their backs pressed firmly against the wall, the Boston Red Sox came out swinging, literally, and completed an amazing three-game rally to oust the heavily-favored Cleveland Indians from the American League playoffs Monday night. Pedro Martinez threw six innings of no-hit relief and Troy Glaus tied a playoff record with seven RBI as the Sox outscored the Indians 23-7 at Jacobs Field. The victory by the Red Sox, the American League Wild Card team, made the divisional finale and all Eastern Conference affairs as the Sox will join the New York Yankees, Atlanta Braves and New York Mets as the final four teams with a shot at the World Series. The Braves, the National League Eastern Division champions, and the Mets, the National League Wild Card squad, open their Best-of-Series Division Final Series tonight at 8 p.m. on WFFF Channel 5. The Red Sox-Yankees series will open on Wednesday at 8 p.m. on WOFF Channel 35. Jim Thome hit a pair of two-run home runs off of Brett Saberhagen and Derrick Lee as the Indians took an 8-7 lead. But with the score tied at 8-8 in the top of the seventh inning, O'Leary, who hit the Red Sox. Please see Baseball, Page 2B

Florida NFL teams win two of three

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR
MEADOWLANDS, NEW JERSEY - The Jacksonville Jaguars held their third opponent in five games without a touchdown Monday night as it topped the New York Jets, 16-9. The Jaguars (4-1) did not generate much offense against a strong Jets defense, but it scored enough to drop the defending American Conference Eastern Division champions to 1-4 on the season. Jacksonville very well could be headed to the best record in the American Conference as the Jaguars only play one more team (Tennessee) this season with a winning record, as of today. The victory by Jacksonville gave the State of Florida a 2-and-1 record in NFL games this week. On Sunday, Dan Marino led the Miami Dolphins (3-1) to a fourth-quarter, come-from-behind victory for the 34th time in his 17-year career as the Fins rallied for a 34-31 victory over the Indianapolis Colts (2-2) at the RCA Dome. Florida appeared headed for a sweep as Trent Dilfer made like Marino and led the Tampa Bay Buccaneers to a go-ahead touchdown late in their game with the Green Bay Packers at first-ever playoff grand slam to give Boston a 7-5 lead in the third inning, hit a three-run home run on the first pitch from Paul Shuey after Nomar Garci-parra, who led the American League in hitting this season, had been intentionally walked.

Garciaparra, who doubled in the Sox's 12th run in the ninth inning, had also been walked before O'Leary's grand slam.

Martinez, who went 23-4 in the regular season, was outstanding, not allowing a hit to the best hitting line-up in the major, while striking out eight and walking only three over the final six innings.

 What made the performance even more amazing was the fact that Martinez had left Game 1 of the series with a pulled back muscle and could not even pick up a baseball two days ago.

The victory capped an amazing run by the Red Sox, who appeared ready to be swept after being beaten 3-2 and 11-1 in the first two games of the Best-of-5 series.

But Boston came alive back home at Fenway Park, thumping the Indians 9-3, without Garciaparra in the line-up, on Saturday, then absolutely destroying the Indians in a record-setting 23-7 victory on Sunday to set-up Monday's winner-take-all final.

In Sunday's bashing, the Red Sox set a record for most runs in a playoff game, third baseman John Valentin tied a playoff record with seven RBI and Lake Brantley graduate Jason Varitek set a playoff record by scoring five runs.

If not for Valentin's big game, which included two home runs and a double, Varitek probably would have been the star.

The switch-hitting catcher was 4-for-5, including a home run and two doubles, and drove in three runs in addition to his five runs scored.

In other Class 6A-District 4 games this Friday, Lyman (2-2 overall, 1-1 in district), which upset Mainland in its Homecoming game at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium last Friday, will be looking for another upset when the Greyhounds host undefeated and No. 7 state-ranked Spruce Creek (5-0 overall, 2-0 in 5A-4) at the Carlton Henley Sports Complex; Lake Howell (0-5 overall, 0-1 in district) will host Mainland (4-2 overall, 1-2 in 5A-4) at Richard L. Evans Field.

Oviedo (3-3 overall, 0-3 in Class 6A-District 2) is idle this week, and will return to host University in a 6A-2 game on October 22nd at John Courier Field.

All of the games are set for a 7:30 p.m. start.

HOROSCOPES

Wednesday, Oct. 13, 1999

It behooves you in the year ahead to expand your range of interests, be they social or business. The more you develop your knowledge, the greater amount of opportunities will open for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is an excellent day to touch bases with some contacts who can be helpful to you. Not only could valuable information be acquired, but their support might be thrown in as well. Libra, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Focus your efforts today on ways to generate greater income, because you could stumble on several unique avenues to supplement your present earning base.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's one of those days where the race will go to the swift. Be an early self-starter and go-getter today without waiting for others to sound the gun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Several financial situations which may not have worked out well for you in the past could be tapped today for whatever they're worth. Retrace your steps and give things another try.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Success won't be denied today if you think and act like a winner, especially involving personal self-interests. Be hopeful and put your efforts in that which is important to you.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Be tenacious today and don't settle for second best. You are more than capable of major achievements, especially in developments that affect your career.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A unique, hopeful idea may occur to you today as to how you can improve upon a relationship you'd like to establish. Go for it, it will definitely be worth trying.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Get in step with those who have an influence on your work or career, no matter how different their gate may be from yours. Conditions look promising when you dance well together.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) "The more the merrier" as far as you're concerned when it comes to doing something fun with friends today. The larger the group the more comfortably you'll fit in.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Trustee allies can be called upon, even at the last minute today, when you should be in need of back-up to achieve an important objective. Don't hesitate to ask.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Active, conversational exchanges could stir up some bright and unique ideas for you today, so associate with those who you know from experience stimulate your thought processes.

VIAGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Two projects that have given you fits while trying to bring them to completion might suddenly have all the pieces fall together for you today and be concluded, once and for all.

WIN AT BRIDGE

The odds are compelling

By Phillip Alder

Yesterday, I mentioned that bridge can be frustrating when the right line of play — the one favored by the percentages — doesn't work, whereas a mathematically inferior approach wins. Sometimes, an expert will back the apparently weaker horse because of a hunch — what is known as table presence. But unless you have particularly reliable antennae, in the long run you will do best to stick with the numbers.

In today's deal, how would you try to turn eight tricks into nine? Against your three no-trump, West attacks with the spade queen. You duck this first trick, but win West's spade-10 continuation with the ace, noting that East discards a club. Next, you lead the club king. After winning with the ace, East returns a passive club. Where would you go from there? Two clubs, as regular readers know, is strong, artificial and forcing. When followed by two no-trump, it describes a balanced 23 or 24 points.

You have eight tricks, two in each suit. You must hope to generate a third dummy trick. As you have only one dummy entry, there are two possible approaches: use that entry to take the diamond finesse, or crash out the ace, king and jack of diamonds.

The finesse is about a 50-50 play; the latter option works some 60 percent of the time. So, playing diamonds from the top is a much better line. And with this layout, it works perfectly. Yet if you ever face this position and find that East started with Q-10-x-x of diamonds, please don't write in. Such is life at times, especially at the bridge table.

ASK DR. GOTT

There's no opium in tobacco products

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is it true that tobacco processors are permitted to add opium to their products, especially the smokeless variety?

DEAR READER: Not to my knowledge. Opium products are classed as narcotics whose use and role are fastidiously regulated by both federal and state authorities. Opium or its derivatives are not added to any tobacco products processed or manufactured in the United States. While we are all aware of the dangers of tobacco, this is not one of them.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I want to start a family, but I'm a 24-year-old woman with anemia for which my doctor cannot find a reason. I don't want to harm myself or an unborn child. Is there any reason that I shouldn't get pregnant?

DEAR READER: Yes, there is. Pregnancy places an enormous physical stress on a woman's body. The presence of an anemia, causing a further burden, could be harmful for you and the baby. I believe that you should put a pregnancy on hold until the cause of your anemia has been diagnosed and treated.

I'm concerned that your physician has been unable to identify the basis of your blood problem. This means that the common causes, such as iron deficiency or infection, have been ruled out. Therefore, the anemia could reflect a serious, unidentified ailment that could certainly increase the risks of pregnancy and delivery.

In my opinion, you should request a referral to a hematologist (blood specialist) who can offer advice and treatment before you start a family.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have friends who swear by this cure for constipation: One teaspoon of petroleum jelly mixed with three teaspoons of apple sauce taken daily. Any comments?

DEAR READER: I'm not surprised that this dynamic concoction is effective. Mineral oil is a potent laxative and petroleum jelly is just another type of mineral oil.

However, oil, in any form, is an inappropriate laxative for chronic use because it blocks the absorption of some vitamins; also, the colon can become dependent on it. A more healthful approach would be to add fiber and high-potassium foods to the diet. Such substances include uncooked vegetables and salads, bran, psyllium, apricots, prunes, oranges and bananas. I suggest that people limit the use of oil laxatives and rely instead on more natural remedies.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Constipation & Diarrhea." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to mention the title.
