Mrs. H. I. Johnson is here. A very nice Spring day to all of you. This is what we all call spring isn't it? . . . The Clarence Hittell family spent last weekend here with Claude and Mary Hittell and other relatives. They are from Jacksonville. . . . Wish everyone of you could have seen the Fashion Show held Thursday evening at the HD Center. Every dress that was modeled was just simply "out of this world". The show was very successful and the Monroe HD Club hopes to make it an annual affair. Lucille Fitzgerald, the Monroe president won second prize. Betty Mann, Marion Lee, Rena Hawkins and myself also made dresses for the affair. . . . Helen Harlow is a happy gal these days. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Smith of Alexandria, Va. are here visiting her and her family. Helen has been preparing for this visit a long time. . . . Jessie Mae Muse and Grace Whatley motored to Green Cove Springs Friday afternoon to attend the wedding of Grace's nephew Donald Jones to Janet McFarland. They said it was a very nice wedding. . . . Jean Reynolds was guest soloist in the Upsala Presbyterian Church, Sunday March 31. . . . Rev. and Mrs. Leon Dean and children will spend Easter in Codova, Ala., with relatives. Rev. Dean is minister of the Paola Wesleyan Methodist Church. . . . Sorry to hear that O. E. Hunter is confined to his home because of illness. He has been in the local hospital but has been allowed to go home. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Griffin visited him last weekend from Holly Hill. The Griffins are former residents. His mother also was here from Jacksonville to see him. We wish him a speedy recovery. . . . Hazel Chambliss and Judy Moore of Punta Gorda were on their way up here Sunday by car when it decided to break down, so they fished the trip by bus and then they, along with sister Rena Hawkins, went on up to Ft. Walton Beach, Edlin Field and several other places. In Rena's car. They came back Thursday. A fine time was reported. . . . Lucille Spivey, out at Woodruff Springs, had as her guests Wednesday Mrs. Clarence Tyler of Dundee and sister Mrs. Driggers of Orlando. . . . Robert Martin was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Henry Taylor Sunday. Robert resides in Georgia. . . . Mrs. Bertha Stanley's daughter and family have returned home to Miami after a short visit here. . . . Steve and Mary Davis and Jack and Carol Spivey, children of the Melvin Spiveys, took Mary's mother, Mrs. Gertrude LeGer, up to Clydeville, Ga., where she will visit another daughter. . . . Bing and Alma Cowley have returned from Denver, Colo., where they went to see Bing's mother who has been ill. . . . Mrs.

Paul Dennis and children have gone to Ft. Lauderdale for a short visit. . . . Sorry to hear that Mrs. Benny Bentley is confined to her home because of illness. . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Saxton had her mother and family, the Touchtons, as their guests last weekend. They are from Titusville. . . . Frances Warren's mother Mrs. Bennett of Wauchula has been visiting Frances, Doc, and children at their home on Narcissus Ave. . . . Mrs. Sylvia Stanley and wee daughter are here visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price. They reside in Gainesville. . . . Very sorry to hear also that Mrs. A. J. Hittell is ill. We wish her also a speedy recovery. . . . A. V. Knight, of Plant City, Henry Holdridge and Virgil Holdridge and family of Daytona spent last weekend with the J. C. Sapp family. Mr. Knight is the father of Mrs. Sapp. Sorry to learn that Mr. Sapp has been quite ill with the flu. It will certainly get you down. . . . Mr. Sapp's mother Mrs. G. B. Sapp is also still ill. We wish her a speedy recovery also. . . . And congratulations to Grandpa and Granny Sapp they have a brand new grandson. The young man who weighed 19 pounds and two ounces was born to T. Sgt. and Mrs. J. C. Sapp Jr. Tuesday morning in Sumter, S. C. . . .

Had a call from Carrie Lou Oglesby one day last week telling me how much she enjoyed the thought for the day. She gave me this one and said that she enjoyed it too. Here it is: A small wound shall pass as such, A great wound may dine with me, but I will not permit it to lodge with me.

Police Break Up Pilgrimage

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Patrolmen and police dogs broke up a Palm Sunday anti-segregation "prayer pilgrimage" Sunday and sent 600 Negroes scurrying. Screaming demonstrators fled before the snarling police dogs held on leashes by police. Several persons were bitten. Others climbed on top of automobiles to get away from the dogs. One Negro was thrown to the ground after police said he had tried to kill a police dog with a knife. Police Chief Jamie Moore twisted the knife from his hand. Twenty-six Negroes, some who knelt to pray, were arrested when they did not heed police warnings to move.

Jaycees Defeat By-Law Change

Junior Chamber of Commerce members defeated a proposed by-law amendment which would have changed election procedures at their meeting Thursday noon. The amended by-law would have allowed a voting day to be established for the elections and members could have voted at any time during the day. As it is now, members must attend the luncheon on voting day in order to vote. The amended by-law was defeated after an argument that it did not make clear that no proxy votes would be allowed. The Rev. Paul Bishop of the First Church of the Nazarene was the guest speaker. He spoke on the true meaning of Easter and pointed out the things which illustrated the inner meaning of the fact of the resurrection.

Bank Robbed Of $100,000

MARIANNA (UPI) — Two masked bandits brandishing nickel-plated pistols pulled a smooth bank robbery here early today and escaped with two laundry bags full of cash.

Estimated in some quarters to be the take at nearly $100,000, but the bank vice president who filled the hand-denim bags would say only that it was "a considerable amount."

The early-morning robbery occurred at the Citizens State Bank in this Florida panhandle community of 5,900 just south of the Georgia line.

The men escaped in a bank employee's car and were last seen heading south on State Highway 71. Roadblocks were immediately thrown up by the highway patrols in Florida and Alabama.

The men, heavily clothed and wearing construction-type helmets, walked into the bank at about 8:45 a. m. EST, shortly before it opened, and forced the six employees to lie on the floor.

"I don't even remember what they said, I was so worried about our people," said Vice President Bowers Sandusky.

"But they were sure of themselves . . . not the least bit nervous."

"They made me go to the vault and all the cashiers' drawers and fill up those bags. They looked like the kind of laundry sacks the Navy uses," Bowers said.

The old post office was appraised at $82,500 but when the City Commissioners received the deed the market value was estimated at some $39,000. . . . City fathers approved the form for the deed tying up the postal facility as a library site for 20 years but said Jim Crapps . . . "We'll get our legislators to work for us so we can sell the property . . . build us a new library near the Gen. Sanford facility and with the money from the sale of the First St. property . . . Why, we can buy two trucks."

St. Johns River Marathon has been changed from May 6 to May 19.

City Commissioners plan to go to Tallahassee sometime next week to meet with legislative delegation on pushing for the cigarette tax bills. . . . Majority of the board feel it doesn't pass it will give the board serious, serious budget problems. . . . GOP House member Jan Fortune has already publicly gone on record against the bill.

City Manager W. E. Knowles reported that water consumption was at a danger point last Thursday. . . . Wednesday it reached 2,871,940 gallons with 21 hours pumpage. According to Knowles, this is approaching last year's peak day and the month of June will bring it to peak consumption. . . . Last Friday the city almost had a shut-down in the early evening hours.

The necessity for good electrical codes in the city was stressed with that fire at Fifth and French last Friday. . . . Faulty wiring was blamed for the blaze. . . . Need for re-inspection of wiring for all buildings downtown.

Sanford Trio Pleads Innocent On Mortgages

GAINESVILLE — Circuit Court trials for a trio of Sanford "home" repairmen were set for April 29 after each pleaded innocent Monday to charges that they "stole a mortgage." All three were associated with the now defunct Nova Builders.

They are William Cletus Braden and William A. DeMoss, one-third partners in the firm, and Horace Richard Barnard, a salesman. The third partner, Glen Jones Jr., still is being sought on a similar charge.

Braden and Barnard have been jailed here for several weeks, on file to make bond. Braden is held in lieu of $5,500, and Barnard, $1,000. DeMoss was arrested Friday night in Orlando and posted a $1,000 bond.

Sheriff Joe Cresvase of Alachua County had alerted Orlando police that DeMoss might be in their area. Cresvase said DeMoss came to Orlando each weekend from Atlanta where he was working a home repair business.

Charges against the trio stem from a job Nova Builders contracted to do on the home of Mrs. Bonnie Reed, an elderly widow who lives west of Gainesville.

Mrs. Reed got $1,300 in cash and repairs in return on a $1,500 mortgage, investigators said. The terms of the contract never were met, according to Cresvase. Estimators hired by the investigators said the entire job—including interest, carrying and insurance charges—couldn't have cost more than about $2,600.

3 VAH-7 Pilots To Return Home

Three Heavy Attack Squadron Seven pilots will return to Sanford this week to keep dates with new duty assignments, the Navy announced today.

The three, who are returning ahead of the squadron's scheduled homecoming, are Ledr. Charles Wilson, Ledr. Donald E. Parrish and Ledr. Charlie N. James.

Wilson and Parrish have orders to the Navy's Post-Graduate school in Monterey, California. James will remain in Sanford with Heavy Attack Squadron Three.

All had been deployed aboard the USS Enterprise with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Wilson and Parrish were among the first pilots to join the fleet as qualified pilots in the USA Vigilante super-sonic attack bomber. Each was with VAI-7 when the "Peacekeepers" received their first Vigilante last spring.

James, a three-year veteran of Sanford Heavy Attack aviation, joined the squadron soon thereafter.

City Acts On 17 Dilapidated Vacant Buildings

Property owners of some 17 vacant buildings in the city were told Monday night to clean up their premises within 90 days or city crews will move in to tear down the structures.

Included in the list of 17 is the old hospital building on Oak Ave.

Most of the structures are located on the west side of the city.

In other business, the commission took no action after a discussion to eliminate non-resident recreation fee at the Civic Center for non-residents who own property in the city. The board also talked over the possible free use of the Civic Center by civic clubs but Commissioner Jim Crapps said he preferred to wait until after the facility was paid off.

Tabled action on vacating of the alley north of 17th St. between Park Ave. and Magnolia.

Tabled action to amend the zoning ordinance to allow pet stores in all neighborhood commercial districts.

Set public hearings on May 13 to reconsider a request of the Knights of Columbus for a liquor license at 2502 Oak Ave.

Relused a request by the Sanford Male Chorus for free use of the Civic Center May 20 and agreed to charge the regular standard B classification rate of $21 for the night.

Canal Right-Of-Way Offered Free By Property Owners Along Route

Right-of-way for the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal has been offered free of charge by property owners along the route between Lake Harney and the head of the Indian River.

This information was conveyed to the County Commission this morning in a letter addressed to Chairman J. C. Hutchinson from Sen. Bernard Parrish.

The letter follows a published statement last Friday by Commissioner James P. Avery Jr. protesting that Parrish and the St. Johns-Indian River Navigation Committee had by-passed the County Commission in its planning. Parrish's letter follows, in part:

"Things have been so rushed the past few weeks that I have depended on the Canal Committee to work and report their findings. You know what has happened. They chose a route from Lake Harney to the head of the Indian River. As soon as we realized that the greatest portion was in Volusia County it was a must to get the reaction from the people in that county.

"Almost as soon as the route was chosen the people who owned the property along the route promised a free right-of-way. This right-of-way can be appraised and the value will constitute the local contribution. We can ask the State for an amount equal to this value and apply it to the engineering and right-of-way survey costs.

"Would you be good enough to meet with John Krider, John Brunley and Mack Cleveland to discuss this matter?" (Krider is chairman of and Brunley a member of the navigation committee. Cleveland is Seminole's state senator.)

Parrish's letter concludes: "If your board agrees and the commissioners of Ir-land, Orange and Volusia wish to do so we can ask the Cabinet to set up a Canal District under authority of the 1961 Act, the Governor will appoint a board to manage the district and we will be on our way in an official manner to get this canal." A lengthy progress report on the canal project from Krider also was read into the minutes of the meeting. Krider's report was written before Avery's published complaint last week.

Two more letters in the matter were received today by S. B. (Jim) Crowe, operator of a fishing camp.

Parrish wrote Crowe: "I delayed writing you until after we had received recommendations for the St. Johns-Indian River Canal. Engineers have laid out a route that will be shorter than using the river as it runs and which they are sure will not disturb the shad. I wanted to be sure that this information was correct so that your fears that dredging would ruin the industry of shad fishing might be allayed."

Crowe said that Parrish "has not allayed my fears."

Gov. Farris Bryant wrote this to Crowe: "I do not know of any public presentation which is scheduled in Tallahassee on this project." Krider presented it to the State Board of Conservation two weeks ago at Tallahassee.

"Perhaps," the Governor wrote further, "you were referring to the discussion of the County Commissioners of Seminole County. This is, of course, a matter for their study and review before making a recommendation to the State Board of Conservation."

Accepted funds from Miles Anderson to expand a drainage right-of-way through his farm on Cameron Avenue.

Accepted the lone bid of Mac Asphalt Company, Lakeland, for hot asphaltic concrete for the next six months. The firm offered two types at $6.52 and $7.06 a ton for 3,000 to 4,000 tons.

Approved the plat for the second section of Greenbrier of Loch Arbor.

Set for public hearing May 14 the changing of the name of Old Lake Mary Road to Frank Evans Road at Lake Mary.

Repair Plan Urged

Last December's freeze hit Seminole County's roads harder than the 1960 freeze yet the County has emerged $6,000 ahead over the estimates for the last road damage. County Engineer William Bush informed the County Commission this morning.

"The last freeze still plagues us," Bush said, "with new evidences of damage every day. The Longwood-Markham Road is lost . . . we will have to rebuild it."

The engineer again requested the Commission to set up a definite county repair program for the last five months of this fiscal year. The program was deferred late last year because of the freeze. He explained his department, if it has a definite program and need not "run to the Commission," with each project, can have around more ready. He also said some road repairs can be done cheaply at $2,500 whereas major repairs may run to $8,000 to $10,000.

He was directed to set up a program for the Commission's decision at the next meeting.

In other action the Commission:

Proposed zoning setbacks and non-permanent camping sites at fishing camps were sent back to the Zoning Commission.

Approved the construction of a $12,000 bridge on Tuska-willow Road.

Tabled discussion on a traffic signal at 27th Street and 17.92, with instructions to Bush to learn what the State Road Department wants.

Set for public hearing May 14 the changing of the name of Old Lake Mary Road to Frank Evans Road at Lake Mary.

County Engineer William Bush pointed out street parking is not used by residents or businesses until "in the vicinity of the Naval Air Station." Bogs informed the Commission Navy personnel may use base parking facilities only if they have adequate insurance on their automobiles.

Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. was directed to obtain from the city its desires in the matter, the County Commission indicating it will proceed with plans to eliminate street parking.

The matter came up after James P. Avery Jr. had brought out the SRD wants more right-of-way to four-lane 25th Street between French and Mellenville Avenue. He said to obtain right-of-way on both sides of 25th would cost $250,000 and would "wreck our secondary road fund."

Crackdown Set On Parking On Sanford Ave.

Joint action of the city and county in halting parking on South Sanford Avenue and using the full four lanes as designated by the State Road Department was recommended today by J. P. Bogs, traffic planning engineer, of the SRD DeLand office, to the County Commission.

County Engineer William Bush pointed out street parking is not used by residents or businesses until "in the vicinity of the Naval Air Station." Bogs informed the Commission Navy personnel may use base parking facilities only if they have adequate insurance on their automobiles.

Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. was directed to obtain from the city its desires in the matter, the County Commission indicating it will proceed with plans to eliminate street parking.

Electra Dives To Miss Jet; Five Injured

DETROIT (UPI) — Five persons were injured Monday night when an American Airlines Electra with 52 passengers aboard dived to avoid colliding with an Air Force F101 Voodoo jet fighter.

The near-collision five miles in the sky occurred near Syracuse, N. Y. The airliner was bound from Boston to Detroit.

The pilot, Mel Biederman of Ann Arbor, Mich., took violent evasive action when the jet loomed on a collision course, the airline said.

The sudden plunge came at dinner time, Passenger Ralph McKenney, 17, of Grassboro, Mich., said dishes and coffee flew all over the plane.

"In the back of the plane, by the tail section, people were thrown into the aisles," he said. None appeared to be injured seriously.

Solons Ignore Bryant Warning

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State legislators ignored a warning by Gov. Farris Bryant Monday and introduced millions of dollars in spending bills — nearly $100 million aimed at education alone.

T Bryant said Monday his ambitious program, which also boasts proposals for high education spending, had been misinterpreted in some areas and he would veto any spending he felt had been blown out of proportion.

"The lid's not off," he said. Meanwhile, the Senate came up with:

A Florida Education Association backed bill calling for $88 million in teacher pay raises including $400 across the board and up to $1,000 for some teachers.

A move, with approval of the voters of the state, to use $50 million in state school funds for junior colleges and university buildings.

A bill appropriating $500,000 for a study of a new four-year state university proposed for the Orlando-Cape Canaveral area. The plans would be ready for submission to the 1965 Legislature.

Yank Divers To Be Released

HAVANA (UPI) — New York attorney James H. Donovan announced today he had arranged the release of nine American skindivers held by the Cuban government since February.

Donovan said he would return to the United States with the nine men today. The party was expected in Miami about 10 a. m.

A State Department list released at Homestead, Fla., named the men as Jack W. Browne, Miami; Robert C. Moran, Lockport, N. Y.; and also of Browne's address in Miami; Clifford G. Burns, Lebanon, N. H.; Steven B. Blaine, Omaha, Neb.; John H. Klinger, Miami; Richard Avery, Philadelphia, Pa.; Don Baird, Madison, Ga.; Charles Hooper, Alexandria, Va.; and James Brown, Chester, Pa.

Negro Sentenced In Death Of 2

A Sanford man drew two sentences in DeLand Monday on charges stemming from a Sunday night accident that killed two bicycle riders.

Johnny Jackson, 36, was fined $500 or six months in jail for leaving the scene of an accident and $25 or 25 days for improper brakes.

The sheriff's office said a coroner's jury would be empaneled to consider the deaths of Leonard Chester Shenanski, 37, and Terrill Gamble, 11, both of DeLand. They were riding a bicycle which was struck by Jackson's car Sunday.

Two NAS Jax Men Lost At Sea

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Two pilots flying off the Carrier USS Saratoga in the western Mediterranean were killed Monday in unrelated accidents, the Navy disclosed today.

A spokesman said the victims were Lt. (jg) John H. Richardson, of light photographic squadron 62, and Lt. (jg) James T. Trotter Jr., attached to Attack Squadron 35. Both men were lost at sea.

Store Robbery

ORLANDO (UPI) — An investigation continued today into the robbery of the King Discount Department Store here late Sunday night in which thieves fled with about $5,000 in jewelry, but were unable to open a safe containing between $10,000 and $15,000 in cash.

Casselberry Gets Seminole Plaza

A report from Attorney Kenneth McIntosh, who last month was authorized to deal with the garbage company concerning unsatisfactory service and performance of franchise contract, revealed that ABC had offered to pay $100 per month towards the undetermined amount now due the town an rebate agreement.

The report also advised that residents of the town, as of April 1, owed the company a total of $647.50 and that the company also had lost at least $750 due from residents who moved out of town without paying their bills.

McIntosh advised that as far as he was concerned the company's offer was not satisfactory and that he thought it was time definite action was taken to bring about better service and performance of contract.

After it was pointed out that the original agreement gave the town authority to inspect the company's records at any time, the board agreed that such an inspection should be made through Mayor Fred Heath's office to determine the exact amount due on rebate.

The proposal to hire an objective clerk brought objections from Mrs. Lillian Henning, the elected town clerk, who made a counter offer to put in a full 40-hour week after learning that the assistant would be paid the same hourly wage of $1.25 she is drawing.

Mrs. Henning cited her qualifications and past experience at the job pointing out that she felt it unfair she would be expected to train an assistant in addition to her regular duties while being paid the same amount.

Her offer to work fulltime carries with it a 50 cent an hour increase in salary.

Action on the matter was tabled until a continued session set for next Monday night although the board made it clear that the assistant was being considered only upon a recent request from Mrs. Henning that she be given some help. It also was noted that in the event of illness, vacation and like instances, an assistant who had some knowledge of the job would be a valuable employee.

Stalemate Develops In Canada Elections

MONTREAL (UPI)—Lester B. Pearson's pro-American Liberal party emerged from Canada's parliamentary election today with the most votes but fell short of the majority needed to take over the government.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, whose anti-American and anti-nuclear policy led to a non-confidence vote and Monday's election, refused to concede even though the Liberals won a plurality of seats over his Progressive Conservative.

He can remain in office until he resigns or is forced to step down by the new parliament.

Incomplete returns gave the Liberals at least 127 seats, 25 more than the Conservatives.

The vote climaxed a bitterly fought six-week campaign, in which Diefenbaker, 67, railed against dependence on America and Canadian acceptance of American nuclear weapons as part of the Western weapons network.

Pearson, an avowed internationalist and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, called for integration of Canadian fortunes into the Western alliances and a rapprochement with America.

The greatest rebuke to the Conservative forces came in Vancouver-Quadra, where Grant Beachman, a Liberal, ousted Howard Green, the government's leading anti-nuclear spokesman and minister of external affairs, from a seat he had held since 1956.

Failure of either major party to win a clear-cut victory left the balance of power, as it was in the last Parliament, in the hands of the two

"splinter" groups the right-wing Social Credit party (Socialists) and the Socialist New Democrats (NDP).

With six seats still undecided, the Socialists held 23 seats and the NDP 17.

The next step was unclear as ballot counting ended early today. Diefenbaker told a national television audience, "Naturally I regret the outcome, but it must be noted that no party has won a clear majority and, that being so, no decision can be made in regard to the course that should or ought to be followed."

NORTH ORLANDO'S CHARTER COMMITTEE headed by Jack Spaulding seated, and consisting of William MacKintosh, Frank Gore and Fred Salter, standing left to right, is meeting regularly to draft changes needed in the Village Charter. Spaulding asks residents with ideas on the subject to contact any member of the committee, pointing out that "the more viewpoints we can get, the better job we can do for the future of our community." Parachuting Program Held For 4-H Club

By Mona Grimlead

At least 100 persons, most of them young people, attended last Thursday's program on parachuting held by the North Orlando 4-H Club and presented by Jimmy Godwin, president of Paragators, Inc. Godwin explained that Paragators is an Orlando club which got its name by taking "para" from parachute and adding "gators" since there are so many of them in the state. Participation in the club is strictly a hobby for boys, 16 years old and older, and for men and women who also must be pilots.

Standard dress consists of a green and white uniform with a shield of a gator and an orange and white striped chute decorating the front. As a safety measure the uniform zips from top to bottom so that it can quickly be shed should the jumper land in water, trees, etc.

Anton Kreckek served as a model for Godwin as he showed and talked on the uniform and equipment which includes a helmet and heavy boots, a necessity for protection of the head and feet in landing.

He went on to explain that two chutes are required, the main one in the back and an automatically opening one in front to which instruments are attached. Godwin stressed that proper clothing and equipment are vitally important and said that he also carries a knife and stop watch. On his helmet he carries a mounted camera which photographs his jumps as he descends. In this way he gets pictures of the jumpers in front and back of him as well as the scenery going down.

Broadway Steals Oscar Thunder

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke, recreating their stage roles in "The Miracle Worker," brought the best actress and best supporting actress Oscars back to Broadway today.

The winning actresses — a dynamic professional and a sweet-faced child player — shared the limelight at the 35th annual Academy Awards Monday night with Gregory Peck, voted best actor for "To Kill a Mockingbird," and the best movie of 1962, "Lawrence of Arabia."

Britain's David Lean won the Oscar for best directing with "Lawrence of Arabia," which won seven awards in all — and 62-year-old character actor Ed Begley came away as best supporting actor for his performance in "Sweet Bird of Youth."

Civic Auditorium was filled with about 2,500 stars and celebrities for Hollywood's biggest blowout while more than 2,000 fans cheered from bleachers lining the red-carpeted entrance, and millions watched on television.

Lights brilliantly reflected bejeweled glamor girls and their dates while police held back eager autograph seekers.

It was Hollywood's biggest night of the year and more movietown celebrities — old and new — turned out than in recent years.

Miss Bancroft, currently starring in Broadway's "Mother Courage," was unable to be present to accept her award from Maximilian Schell, last year's best actor, who presented the golden Oscar to Joan Crawford in her place.

In New York, Miss Bancroft said: "I tell you I'm so excited I can't believe it. I didn't think I would win. I don't know why but I just didn't," she said at her Greenwich Village apartment where she watched the awards ceremonies on television with a few friends.

Miss Duke, who at 16 became the youngest performer in Academy Award history to win a major Oscar, said a timid "Thank you."

Peck's acceptance speech was longer: "Thank you, Thank you Harper Lee, Alvin Packula, Robert Mulligan (the author, producer and director) and all my good friends and associates . . . who lent me affection."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR MADEMOISELLE ABBY: I am a Frenchman visiting an American friend I met in World War II. Why do you Americans think we Frenchmen are such devils with the women? I have been married to a lovely Frenchwoman for 16 years and have never had the desire to cheat on her. I have been to parties in this country and everywhere I go women say to me, "Oh, you Frenchmen! Do you mean to say that you do not have a girl friend on the side? Such remarks to me are not funny. JEAN PAUL J.

ing. If your girl friend isn't where she says she'll be, why don't YOU do a little "baby-sitting" — if you can find the right baby?

DEAR ABBY: When we go to a party most of the men sit around and refuse to dance. My husband is the life of the party because he's a wonderful dancer and he loves to dance. They all say, "Oh, you have him all the time!" They must think we dance together at home. The truth is, the only time we get to dance together is when we go out — and then everyone else grabs him. He feels flattered that he is so popular, but don't you think he owes me a few dances? Or should I just sit and be a good sport when I am dying to dance? WALLFLOWER

DEAR J. P.: If "everywhere" you go women inquire about your infidelity, you're going to the wrong places. Many Americans are poorly informed on French culture, just as many Frenchmen believe all Americans to be materialistic, loud and showy. The trouble is, there is just enough truth on both sides to make generalizations believable — and annoying.

DEAR WALLFLOWER: Don't be a wallflower — be a dandy lioness. Insist that the first dance is yours, and if you find yourself sitting alone and tapping your toes, get up and "tap" the woman who is waltzing your husband around. There's a big difference between being a poor sport and a dope.

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend has been going out three and four nights a week and doesn't get home until sometimes four in the morning. She says she is "baby-sitting." I am beginning to wonder if maybe she isn't stepping out on me. I have my suspicions, but how can I be sure? We are supposed to be married next summer. LEERY

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

A. Warren Cahill of Waukegan, Wis., writes, "It was near the close of an evening of duplicate. My partner and I were trying to get back into the running after being fixed on a couple of boards. Hence, my free and easy series of overbids to reach six spades. West looked gleefully at his high card points, doubled and opened the king of clubs.

"My partner won with his ace, led a heart and finessed the jack, played my ace of spades, huddled when West dropped the queen. When he decided that West was false carding, my partner led a spade to his king, cashed his ten of trumps after the jack dropped, took another heart finesse, ruffed a low heart with his last trump and led a diamond and finessed my jack to make all the tricks. If you do publish this hand I hope that it won't lead to similar overbids all over the country."

Actually, Mr. Cahill had overbid, but I have seen far worse overbids succeed. Of course, he was very lucky to make seven and even luckier to be doubled. I just don't believe that anyone could tempt me to double with that West hand. West should realize that his red kings and queen-jack of trumps were in a trap and pass.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

It's spring for sure when— The woman of the house chooses the first warm, breezy day to hang all the family's winter clothes for a good airing.

The man of the house starts straightening his tackle box and tuning up the outboard motor.

The gardener in the family forgets last summer's vow not to plant more flowers than he has time to weed, water, spray and fertilize—and starts buying all the little, fresh, green seedlings in sight.

The woman of the house has a sudden spurt of ambition as she realizes that all the projects she doesn't finish before school is out in June very likely won't get finished until fall.

When all these things begin to happen at once you can be sure, even without a calendar, that spring has finally arrived.

For enlightenment on an all-seasons problem, read Ruth Millett's "Tips on Teen-Agers." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO SEE what can be done by a talented 12 year old boy?

Stop by Senkarik's Paint and Glass Store on Magnolia Ave. and take a look at the very fine paintings done by Craig Orseno, one of Sanford's youngest and most talented artists.

"Craig started getting interested in drawing and painting in the fourth grade," says his father, Joe Orseno. "About six months ago he started taking art lessons from Mr. Edmund Stow out at Indian Mound Village and as a result won second place in the popularity contest at the Annual Art Show held at the Civic Center in February.

Craig's painting of boats and fishing shacks along a waterfront was the one that took everyone's eye at the Art Show. It is included among the ones now on display at Senkarik's.

Though he enjoys painting, Craig has a diversity of other interests, too, Mr. Orseno says.

He is studying clarinet for the Junior High Band, has been a soloist with the youth choir at the First Presbyterian Church, takes part in many sports as well as swimming and water skiing.

He is a member of Scout Troop 545, which is sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church.

Craig's mother, Agnes, is a teller at the Sanford Atlantic Bank and his sister Suzanne, 18, is also active in scouting through Troop 204 under the direction of Miss Francis Cobb.

AN EXCELLENT FILM was shown to the Sanford Lions Club last Tuesday by Al Probst, plant manager for Southern Bell.

It's called "Seconds for Survival" and is a graphic, highly interesting color film put out by Bell on our military and civil defenses.

The photography is fantastic and has been marvelously edited. Al says it's available for showing to schools, civic organizations or clubs. If you need a program, contact him. This is one non-fiction film you'll really like.

JIM LEE, local Lion, has been named chairman of the Lions Eye Bank for District 35-0 (this district, of which Hugh Duncan is Lt. Gov.) Jim is one of seven such men in the state.

Hugh had a birthday last week, too . . .

ONE OF THE BEST examples of what can be done with the money from Easter Seals is to get to know pert, pretty, dark-haired Shirley Jean Long.

She has been chosen by John Appleby, young chairman of this year's Easter Seal Campaign, as Easter Seal girl for 1968.

Fifteen year old Shirley is a charming, active, busy young lady attending public school, and showing little indication that she was born with crippling cerebral palsy.

When Shirley was just 18 months old she was taken to the Harry-Anna Crippled Children's home in Umatilla, which is run by the Elks, where she lived for 11 months while therapists began the long hours of working with the muscles of her arms and legs.

After that she was transferred to the Forest Park School for Crippled Children where she began speech therapy, and more intensive physical therapy to bring control and strength to the muscles of her limbs.

Thanks to the dedicated hours of work with the therapists, the patient learning of how to lace a shoe, tie a knot, and specialized arts and crafts type therapy, Shirley never had to wear braces or be confined to a wheelchair.

She started first grade at Forest Park School, so that she had the advantage of all the special equipment and teachers and further speech therapy and training, but by the second grade she was doing so well that she went on into public school where she has been ever since.

Shirley is now in the ninth grade at Sanford Junior High School and maintains a good B-C average. She does just about anything any other girls in her age group can do, and is doing very well with sewing in Home Economics, in spite of the fact that the tiny detailed movements of the fingers such as working with pins and needles is the most difficult thing for a CP child to handle.

Because of her marvelous progress, Shirley has been released from the jurisdiction of the Crippled Children's Commission for two years, now.

She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Long, sister Betty Ann, 20, and brother Mike, 13, at 2100 Lake Drive. She has another brother, Buddy, 18, in the Air Force.

She is a member of and attends the Central Baptist Church regularly and also is a member of the Willing Workers Sunday School class.

Her parents give most of the credit for her successful habilitation to the wonderful care of the trained therapists, whose work with the muscles, limb control and speech has enabled Shirley to be the sweet, pretty, normal child that she is today.

IF YOU WILL look closely on the society page today you may see an announcement of special interest.

If you are wondering why Folkston?, the answer is . . . "Just got tired of postponements."

The rains came, there was a death in the family, then along came the Semi-Centennial

Fourth Birthday Observed

Riley Brazil celebrated his fourth birthday recently with a party given in his honor by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brazil 31 North Cortez Ave., in North Orlando.

The guests all sang "Happy Birthday" to him as he started to open the gifts.

Balloons were given to each guest as they arrived and following a session of games, refreshments of cake and ice cream were served to the youngsters. The birthday cake was decorated with blue and white.

Mrs. A. Roy assisted the parents with the party. A very special gift to the honoree was a phone call from his grandmother, Mrs. Eugene Hyland, of Tampa, who wished him a happy birthday.

Those enjoying the party with Riley were Dawn and Keith Mallinson, Mike Greanya, Ronny Ryan, Mark and Cindy Sills, Danni, Dick and Robin Roy and his sister, Bonnie.

Spring Reverie

Small boys aren't the only people who envy Big League baseball players.

Millions of us of all ages must wonder now and then why fate has chained us to a desk, glued us to a machine, imprisoned us in a salesman's car, otherwise consigned us to an unglamorous career.

Unglamorous, that is, compared to the carefree, exciting lives these handsome, frisky young heroes enjoy as they plow down fabulous money for playing a game they no doubt would play for free if no one had thought of paying them to play it.

Consider the life of a baseball star.

Every move followed by millions of admirers — some of them girls. Fan clubs. Autograph seekers — some of them girls. Spring training in the sunshine with expenses paid. Travel. Fine hotels. As much good food as you can eat — on an expense account yet. Plenty of sunshine and fresh air. And you can't beat the hours.

But hold it. Did you get your job over the active and talented competition of a half dozen other guys who were just as determined as you to land it? When you boot one on the job — and don't we all? — do 40,000 dedicated maniacs boo you?

Do half a dozen eager beavers sit behind you, waiting and praying for you to slow down a bit so they can take over your work?

Does the whole country know when you are removed from the starting lineup?

In the tension in your job so great you are too nervous to eat before you go to work and too depressed to sleep after you get home?

Do you know what most of the unsung baseball players make? Not the big stars, but the nine-run boys?

Do you want to be washed up in your profession at 35?

Do you want to be away from the family half the time?

Maybe all of us should check our jobs point by point against those that look so posh and cushy? Maybe we'd be more content with what we have.

And of course there's always a way for any of us to be happier in what we're doing. We can merely do it better.

Helen Fuller Says

Aid Bill In Trouble

WASHINGTON—Few programs are dearer to the heart of President Kennedy than aid to needy nations abroad. His eyes spark and his voice takes on a more vibrant tone when he talks of why it is essential to help other less fortunate countries achieve prosperity and stability in order to assure these conditions for ourselves at home.

No one has suspected Kennedy of secretly wishing to prelate over the liquidation of U. S. foreign aid. Why then, some of his supporters ask, did the President appoint to officially review the AID program for him a citizens' committee of men known to be generally critical of the U. S. program of aid abroad? Was he not inviting added trouble with Congress in getting funds for his program?

On the surface it seems that Kennedy has made trouble for himself by the appointment of the Committee to Strengthen the Security of the Free World. This 10-man group under Gen. Lucius Clay, appointed by the President last December brought a report containing numerous fundamental criticisms of the present aid program and recommending cuts in the neighborhood of $500 million in appropriations for next year. AFL-CIO President George Meany was the only member to dissent. Congressional foes of foreign aid cheered the Clay Committee report.

President Kennedy has privately expressed disappointment at the extent of the Committee's fault findings. He remarked to a caller the other day that the Clay Committee had suggested reducing the number of countries to which we should send aid but had not climbed out on the limb with him to specify which of the 100 countries of the world should be ruled off the list of eligibles.

But publicly Kennedy has taken the Clay Committee findings with good grace. In the message on foreign aid which he sent to Congress last week, Kennedy bowed to the Clay report by lowering his own earlier budget request for foreign aid by $120 million. Kennedy also acknowledged in his message that "much still remains to be done to . . . make the best possible use of these programs."

The President and his staff remain convinced that the Clay report in the long run will prove helpful to them with Congress. And if they had the choice of creating the Clay Committee over again or not, they would stick to the strategy that led them to set the committee up in the first place.

By allowing the enlightened opposition to the foreign aid program to go first in presenting its objections and then handling somewhat in the direction of the critics before the appropriation battle even begins, the Administration hopes to disarm some of those who have growing doubts about continuing aid. By immediately writing some committee suggestions into his Foreign Aid Message, the President hopes to induce key conservative committee members like former World Bank President Eugene Black and General Clay himself to testify for the Administration bill before Congress.

Congress, most observers agree, is in a mood to cut appropriations for foreign aid more than the Kennedy Administration considers wise. Faced with a hostile jury, the President is seeking to settle the case out of court by agreement with the enlightened conservatives among the opposition.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Jean asks how it is possible to fall in love at first sight. That's exactly how I fell in love with Mrs. Crane, as explained below. But it is a more dangerous type of love than the "earned" love method whereby most people fall in love and then marry. Scraps of these psychological cases for later use in school discussions.

CASE P-408: Jean J., aged 17, is another high schooler from North Carolina. "Dr. Crane," she asked, "do you believe in love at first sight?"

"And, if so, how do psychologists explain it? For how can a person fall in love in just a moment of time?"

TYPES OF LOVE: There are two methods by which we fall in love. The most usual type is what we psychologists call "earned" love.

In this variety, you start out dating without feeling particularly attracted to the other person.

Maybe, for instance, your first meeting is on a blind date. But after you share many happy experiences together, then you become romantically attracted.

We have a rule in psychology that everything connected with an emotion soon becomes a part of that emotion. This even works in reverse, for when a child is pained because a doctor gives it a shot, the child may later cry just at the sight of the doctor.

In that case, the pain of the needle prick has spread to the doctor who was on the other end of that same needle.

In "earned" love, this same law of psychology also applies. If a young couple of no special fondness for each other, attend a jolly picnic or uplifting concert or delightful movie, the emotions generated will soon be "conditioned" to the other person on that date and thus give him the ability to produce a similar pleasant feeling the next time the couple meet.

This is the basic secret of "earned" love.

Such a young couple become more and more attracted to each other by the many pleasurable emotional experiences which they have shared together.

Finally, they feel devastated at the very thought of being separated so the boy gives the girl an engagement ring and urgently persuades her to marry him.

Don't you remember the fairy tale about "Beauty and the Beast", where the lovely Princess thus actually fell in love with the Beast? A young couple may even dislike each other at the start but still find themselves ardently in love in a matter of months if they will simply develop this mutual emotional "bank account" by the "earned" love method.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," you may protest, "but how on earth can two total strangers fall in love at first sight?"

Well, it happens many times. That's exactly how I fell in love with Mrs. Crane when I was only 16 years old.

She stood up in a church Young People's Meeting to be introduced to the crowd prior to an election of officers.

I had never seen her before that moment. And my heart felt as if it actually turned over. It gave a big flip-flop and I never did recover.

Oh, I dated many other girls and waited 12 years later before I married her, but I never got free from that original "spell".

For love at first sight can be a hypnotic spell, as I'll explain more fully tomorrow.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The most important correction of history since Nikita Khrushchev took Joe Stalin's name out of all the Russian school books has just been made by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

People who saw the ABC television "Conversation With the Vice President" thought they heard him say that he had not sought the presidency in 1960.

If this is the way it was, 10,000 reporters in Los Angeles in July 1960, including this one, must have been nuts.

But you know how these just-before-bedtime television shows are. You only half listen. You don't take notes. You're never quite sure that you heard right what you thought you heard.

The next day's newspapers, however, confirmed it. And the transcript of the proceedings checks it out completely.

The vice president was interviewed by Bill Lawrence, Ed Morgan and John Ruffin, which is as good a team of political reporters as you could ask for. Near the end of the proceedings the transcript reads like this:

MORGAN: "I ask this question generally, as well as specifically. Does a man, an accomplished politician, such as yourself, who has once reached for the presidency, at least for the nomination, and failed, reconcile himself not to reach again, or is it in his blood, and he would like to?"

After clearing the interference of all those commas, which showed even on the television screens, back came this reply:

JOHNSON: "Well, Mr. Morgan, I don't consider that I ever reached for the presidency. My friends put me in the race in 1960. They felt that they should have representation, and my name should go before the convention."

"I doubted the advisability of this, and so stated on many occasions . . . As late as July 5, when I announced I would let my name go before the convention, I did not feel that I was seeking the presidency. My friends thought they ought to have an opportunity to vote for me, and I agreed . . . I didn't feel I was a candidate. I didn't go into any primaries. I didn't go out and ask any delegates to commit themselves to me in 1960. And I have no plans to do so now."

There wasn't time for the three ace reporters to nail the man down on this new version of history. Or maybe they felt this is what Texas is famous for and let it slide.

But it would be logical to observe that if the vice president is no more of a candidate for the presidency now than he was in 1960, he has already started to run for the nomination in 1968.

And his disclaimer could be interpreted as an effort to put himself in the position of not being a once-defeated candidate for the job but a fresh, dewy, tireless yellow rose of Texas just waiting to be picked for the first time.

What most people thought happened in 1960 was a good bit different from this. It forces this writer here and now, with full apologies, to correct all the obviously false and misleading stuff he wrote about events of that time. Like as follows:

In April 1960 the late Speaker Sam Rayburn began to campaign for Johnson for president. (But Johnson wasn't a candidate.) In May Johnson won a near sweep for the presidential nomination in Texas primaries. (But he wasn't a candidate.)

In June Rayburn opened Johnson campaign headquarters. (But Johnson wasn't a candidate.)

On July 5 Johnson announced at a press conference that he was "a candidate" for the presidential nomination. (He wasn't a candidate?) He said he would be a "working president" rather than a talking or traveling one. (Still he wasn't a candidate.)

Then, a week later in Los Angeles, there was that never-to-be-forgotten debate between Kennedy and Johnson, arranged at Johnson's suggestion to discuss campaign issues. Johnson scored Kennedy's Senate absenteeism, his lack of experience, his youthful haste in seeking the presidency, his bad voting record on farm, power and natural resources development.

Or was this all just a bad dream? It must have been because Vice President Johnson now says he was never a candidate.

Contestants are urged to complete first round play on or before date specified. See second player in each pairing will contact his opponent to confirm arrangements for the match.

Incidentally, all leagues are interested in anyone wanting to join their group. Everyone is good enough to bowl in league play and believe me, you'll enjoy yourself tremendously.

One other point on which it appears there is some misunderstanding. All times for the Fall Schedule (correct-Fall Schedule) are open right now.

We will reserve your choice of time for you providing you sign the league reservation form indicating the number of lanes your league will be needing. This Fall Schedule doesn't have anything to do with whether your league is bowling during the summer or not. If you want a special time for the Fall, get your officers together now and make your application.

One of the hottest bowlers in our area presently is Harry Pentecost! Harry shot a 662 scratch series in the Wednesday City League and followed it again on Friday in the Petersen Doubles with a 608. Nice point! Harry.

High singles in this league went to John Uir and Al DePalma who tied with games of 242.

The Thursday AM Shooting Stars L. saw some mighty fine bowling turned in. Ellie Ollham rolled a 201 scratch game and Louise Cadenhead took series with a 533. We're sorry to see Louise moving out of our area. She's been a real asset to bowling and a tremendous competitor, too.

The Ball and Chain League saw Kathy Bukur's 179 and Betty Allen's 498 step to the fore for the women in this league while Clay Mamele represented the men with his 203 532 combination.

The Bill Hemphill Motorettes League top notchers were Elaine Kostival with a hi-single of 216 and Evelyn Mills takes series with her 520. And gee but hasn't Evelyn improved her scores lately? Keep it up, Ev!

One final reminder that we'll be hosting the Junior Tournament this Saturday at 9:30 a. m. Come on out and cheer our youngsters on to victory.

Bees do not produce any sound with their mouth parts; they hum by vibrating their wings rapidly.

The Jet Bowlers-ettes, who bowl on Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., will be going again with either 8 or 10 teams during the summer.

All of those gals who signed-up for the Women's Daytime Scratch League, should be at the lanes on Wednesday at 1 p. m. for the purpose of electing their officers and establishing the rules for the summer season. Fran Morton is the gal doing all of the work on calling you ladies and reminding you of this meeting. But in the event you weren't called, please feel free to come on out and attend the meeting anyhow.

Factory Paint Outlet, first place in team events, Jean Monroe and Irene Dalek, first place in doubles events; Helen Altman, first place in singles events; Clara Barber for all events handicap, Jean Monroe, all-events scratch. The Carlie Lounge donated the trophies.

Mrs. Etta Dorman, chairman of the rules committee, presented the changes to the constitution and by-laws. The changes were voted on and will be entered into the laws.

Mrs. Kathy Bukur, president of the SWBA adjourned the meeting.

Trophies were presented to: Elwood and Mrs. Smith Sponsor Trophy for their team;

Andrew Johnson served as a U. S. senator after completing his presidency.

Officers of the Sanford Woman's Bowling Association were elected at their annual meeting recently.

Elected president was Martha Kinnard; first vice president, Shirley Simas; second vice president, Letha Ward; secretary, Erma Anderson; treasurer, Shirley Martin, and sergeant at arms, Etta Dorman.

The new officers will be installed at the installation luncheon prior to taking office Aug. 1.

Strikes . . . Spares

Last Saturday, our Junior Bowling League had their competition in the National Multi-Graphic Tournament. This means that their scores and those of other junior leagues from all over the country will be made into the A.J.B.C. office in Chicago.

In addition to the competition of the national tournament, each of the local winners in their respective categories, will represent Sanford in the area tournament at Jet Lanes this coming Saturday. These winners will be crowned the City Champs of the Greater Orlando Bowling Proprietors' Association covering all twelve member houses.

In the Bantam Division, the team sponsored by Larry Pivec won the honors. Team members are Kevin Spolski, Darrell Vodopich, John Smith, Stan Hemphill and John DePalma.

Ed Simon sponsored the winning entry in the Junior Division. This team was made-up of Ronnie Harrill, Ralph Unger, Ray Lusk, Chuck Mamele and Jim Woods.

And finally in the Senior Division, the team carrying the sponsor's name of Don MacIntyre stepped into the spotlight. These leaders are Jim Brewer, Joe Watson, John Jernigan, Ricky Harris, and Don Place.

I wish each team the best of luck and hope they win out over all of the other competitors who are coming to Sanford to bowl in this tournament. It's open to the public and is free of charge.

Our Summer schedules are coming along real fine, thank you. The Holler Motors/Navy Wives Friday AM group will probably have 8 or 10 teams bowling during the summer time.

The Jet Bowlers-ettes, who bowl on Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., will be going again with either 8 or 10 teams during the summer.

All of those gals who signed-up for the Women's Daytime Scratch League, should be at the lanes on Wednesday at 1 p. m. for the purpose of electing their officers and establishing the rules for the summer season.

SANDSPUR LEAGUE'S WINNING TEAM was that sponsored by McRoberts Tire Company. This group beat out Welch's by three points down to the wire. At a banquet held at Spencer's Restaurant Friday awards were made and trophies presented to the team, from left, Helen Kadlin, Pat Foster, Marge Kipp and Midge Woods, fifth member Jimmi Livingston was not present. Mrs. Kipp also took high average and high game with a 580-234. Jean Monroe had high handicap series and game with 631-214. (Herald Photo)

Stenstrom Sets Clean Sweep SOKC Championship In Three-Way-Tie

Stenstrom Realty made a clean sweep against Grapeville Nursery to make first place in the Hi-Nooners a certainty.

The C.P.O. Wives and Mar-Lou Restaurant split their points 2-2. Shoemaker Construction won three points from the M & R Bar, and Nationwide Insurance won three points from the Mayfair Inn.

Marie Gnoway converted the 3-7 and the 3-10 split fell for Betty Cox, Etta Dorman, and Anna Herbst. The 5-7 was converted by Kitty Purdy, Charlotte Stenstrom and Nan Quinn.

High game of 191 was rolled by Carol Conely, and a 521 series by Bob Hutton.

Baseball Swings Into Full Gear

By United Press International

You won't be able to tell the players without a scorecard today when baseball's other 18 major league teams—featuring a multitude of new faces—attempt to catch up with the Baltimore Orioles and the Cincinnati Reds.

The Orioles and the Reds were first out of the gate Monday. President Kennedy was among 43,022 fans who watched Baltimore turn back the Washington Senators, 3-1, in the nation's capital while the Reds bounced the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-2, at Cincinnati.

Nine additional openers are on today's schedule, including a pair of night games. The Reds will help the Phillies launch their season under the lights at Philadelphia. The other night game will find the Los Angeles Angels entertaining the Boston Red Sox.

In the other American League openers, the world champion New York Yankees visit the Kansas City Athletics, the Detroit Tigers host the Chicago White Sox, and the Minnesota Twins entertain the Cleveland Indians.

The San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers, who are expected to battle it out for the National League pennant again this year, open on the road. The Giants visit the Houston Colts and the Dodgers play the Cubs at Chicago.

The Pirates launch their home schedule against the Milwaukee Braves and the New York Mets, who lost a record 120 games in their initial season last year, open at home against the St. Louis Cardinals.

More than 70 players changed uniforms during the offseason as every team except Minnesota completed a trade involving at least one key player.

The Mets, obviously figuring that any change has to be an improvement, will use only three of last season's opening day starters against the Cards. Al Moran and Larry Burright give the Mets a new second base combination and Duke Snider, a long-time Dodger favorite, will join 38-year-old Ed Kranepool in the outfield.

The Athletics will open against the Yankees in colorful new attire—gold uniforms with kelly green socks, caps and undershirts—which is almost certain to make them whistle-bait. Home run slugger Roger Maris will be missing from the Yankee lineup because of a pulled leg muscle.

Navy To Give Program For Civic Assn.

By Mrs. Adam Muller
A program entitled "The Navy on the Alert" will be presented under direction of Capt. Joseph M. Tully and Cdr. C. W. Meshier of Sanford Naval Air Station at today's 7 p. m. meeting of the DeBary Civic Assn. Inc. at the Community Center.

Reports will be made on the association's project of getting an electronic organ through exchange of 146 trading stamp books and on the showing of the film, "The Killers of Kilimanjaro" scheduled for 8 p. m. on April 20. Admission to this movie will be free, however a silver offering will be acceptable.

Entertainment scheduled for May 10 will be a program presented by the Angeles Singers of Orlando.

Civic Assn. members who have not made reservations for the 1963-64 Entertainment Series are asked to contact Charles Hillhardt, 400 Mulera Rd., for season tickets. Members also are reminded that 1963 association dues are now payable to Clair Fellows, financial secretary, or at the club meetings.

Baptist Church Is Dedicated

By Shirley Wentworth
Official dedication ceremonies were conducted March 31 for the Northside Baptist Church on Forest City Rd. with Rev. Lloyd Meyer from the Orlando Baptist Temple giving the dedication message and Rev. Harold Brown, pastor, greeting the 80 persons attending.

Special music was provided at intervals by WFTV singing star Mickey Evans and Mrs. Loretta Strunk.

A Tri-Fellowship Bible Conference was held at the church April 3 and April 4 at 10 a. m. on Wednesday and concluding at a special service held at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Longwood HD Club Elects New Officers

By Donna Estes
The slate of officers was presented by the nominating committee at this month's meeting of the Longwood Home Demonstration Club held last Thursday at the Civic League Building on Church St.

The newly elected officers to be installed May 10 at 10:30 a. m. at the HD Center in Sanford are Mrs. Felix Mege, president; Mrs. Barry Hawthorn, first vice president; Mrs. Henry Wagner, second vice president; Mrs. Frances Setje, secretary; Miss Dorothy Heath, treasurer and Mrs. Martha Stout, delegate.

Thirty-five members and three guests were present including Miss Myrtle Wilson, HD agent and Cecil Tucker, county agent.

Tucker gave an interesting talk on lawn pointing out the different types of grasses and soils and showed an interesting film. He also distributed pamphlets "Lawn Care Tips" to those present. This pamphlet is available to the general public in the county agent's office at the Agricultural Center on Hwy. 17-02.

GEORGE MILLS

Business Briefs

"I believe we have proven the importance of specializing," said George Mills, owner of Southern Air of Sanford as he announced the move to expanded quarters on Park Drive and Oak Ave.

Formerly a consulting chemical engineer in the heat transfer and air movement field, Mills set down a strict policy of specializing only in heating, air conditioning and refrigeration when he organized Southern Air two years ago.

Mills said that today's rapid technical progress applies to Sanford as well as other population explosion areas.

"In the past two years we have been more than gratified by the response to our service," said Mills. "Rapid progress in the heating-cooling field makes it a necessity to keep abreast of developments, particularly when they apply to the safety and comfort of the public."

Besides Mills, the staff includes Shirley Mills as office manager, John Dimitry, Taft Harmon and Ponce Elmore.

Lyman To Get New Technical Course

A new technical course will be taught at Lyman High School next year. E. S. Douglas, Vocational and Adult Education Director announced today.

The new course will be in Air-Conditioning, Refrigeration and Heating Mechanics, a busy and expanding field of today's living.

A committee formed of business men, engineers and experienced craftsmen has been at work, devising a course outline for the new tech class.

Eleventh grade classes will study bench and shop work, refrigeration fundamentals, basic cycle of refrigeration, refrigerants, metering devices, evaporators, compressors, condensers and receivers, basic controls, basic electricity and system controls. The 12th grade students will study electric motors, Suicide Pact?

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — (UPI)—Everyone but the police had a whale of a time today when a school of pilot whales swam ashore and tried to commit suicide.

At least four of the burly animals succeeded, but two others injured themselves so badly they had to be shot.

Another two mammals were captured and hauled off to Marineland Studios, an ocean-graphic tourist attraction near St. Augustine.

By high tide Monday night there were still "seven or eight" swimming within the waterway system and showed no signs of going back out to sea, Police Chief Wallace Ferrerra said.

"I hope they do go away ... it's too hot to have dead whales around here," he said.

starters relays and protective devices; drawing, reading and interpreting electrical diagrams, installation and operation, service analysis, electrical and mechanical and further studies of air-conditioning and heating systems.

The two year course will comprise a total of 1,080 hours of study and practical application, Douglass said.

This new technical course will make the third new course in Seminole County Schools. The other two are a mechanical drawing and design drafting class at Seminole High and an electronics course at Lyman.

Geneva School Schedules Annual Egg Hunt

By Louise Grayson
The annual Easter Egg Hunt will be held at the Geneva School this Wednesday at 1 p. m. for all children in the area. Each child attending is asked to bring three crooked and decorated eggs.

Egg cakes and punch will be served by homeroom mothers following the hunt. Those in charge will be Mrs. Margaret Dunn, Mrs. Ann McCurdy, Mrs. Bobbie Brady, Mrs. Doris Eckman, Mrs. Hazel Summersill, Mrs. Polly Caswell and Mrs. Shirley Hoover.

The school will close for Easter Holidays following the hunt. Classes will resume at the regular time on April 16, Mrs. Roy W. Nichols, principal, advises.

Two Local Men New SB Champs

The shuffleboard team of A. C. Madden and Emell Van Roy beat out 64 other teams in the Northern and Central Florida Shuffleboard Tournament held recently at Daytona Beach to take the Championship honors.

Madden and Van Roy were entered with three other teams from the local Sanford Tourist and Shuffleboard Club in the meet held at the Peabody Shuffleboard Club in Daytona.

Madden served the local club as tournament director and Van Roy is a member of the executive board. After being awarded the beautiful Peabody Trophy, they presented it to President Mahlon Wright. The Sanford group will get to keep it for one year.

FEC Derail Move Fails

ST. AUGUSTINE (UPI) — A new attempt to derail a freight train of the strike-bound Florida East Coast Railway failed early today when the train cut through chain wrapped around the tracks.

FEC Vice President W. L. Thornton said the incident the fourth since the wage dispute strike began 11 weeks ago, occurred just south of New Smyrna Beach about 2 a.m.

Box Score

Since the strikes against the Florida East Coast Railway began on Jan. 23, there have been four attempts to damage railway property.

Here is the box score: Feb. 28: Miami Shores. Piece of metal 18 inches long jammed in a switch in an attempt to force train off tracks. Metal bar jerked out of switch when train crossed track at 45 miles an hour.

March 26: Two metal derails wrapped to tracks near FEC sheds at New Smyrna. Clamps removed when passerby warned police.

March 30: FEC bridge set fire at Dania. Firemen doused flames before serious damage caused.

April 12: Chain wrapped around tracks south of New Smyrna. Chain cut by weight of 35-car train. No damage.

Teachers' Pay Bonus Repeal Bill Is Filed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A bill to repeal the controversial 1961 competency award program for superior school teachers was introduced today by Sen. G. T. Melton, Lake City, and others.

The bill would eliminate the special $400 annual pay bonus for teachers graded by their superiors as in the upper 30 per cent of all teachers and who make a grade of at least 600 on the national teacher examination.

The measure was passed at the urging of Gov. Farris Bryant two years ago and over opposition of the powerful Florida Education Association which finally accepted it only as part of a compromise teacher pay raise package.

The Cabinet this week made the first payments under the program. They went to 6,800 teachers over the state at a cost of more than $2 million.

Also introduced today was a bill, urged by State School Supt. Thomas D. Bulley, that would do away with school millage elections.

The proposal, a constitutional amendment, would let the county school board decide the amount of school taxes up to 20 mills that will be levied. Under the present constitution, the freeholders must vote for any amount above 10 mills.

"We do not want the potato growers to be badly hit by this strike," he said, "and we hope this additional service, although still limited to the extent we cannot switch each individual packing house, will alleviate the transportation problems of the shippers in this area."

He said the service was almost primarily at shippers close to the East Coast. Growers near Palatka have been using sidings operated by other railways.

Anti-Poll-Tax Measure Okayed

State Borrowing Probe Set

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Measures to ratify the proposed federal anti-poll tax amendment and to investigate state borrowing cleared committee hurdles and sped to legislative calendars today.

The House voted today to investigate state borrowing and a measure to ratify the anti-poll tax amendment to the U. S. Constitution moved into position for early approval.

Meeting two hours before the house convened, the house public roads committee voted to make an investigation of state borrowing, including the $457 million refinancing of the state turnpike.

But the committee provided for the investigation to be made by a joint six-man committee of the House-Senate Finance and Taxation Committee instead of by the special house committee proposed by Rep. Fred Karl of Volusia, sponsor of the investigation move.

Karl charged the action was aimed at keeping him off the investigation since he is not a member of the finance committee. Other critics of the state bond borrowing under the Bryant administration charged privately the investigation would be a "white wash" of the administration.

The substitute bill that won unanimous approval was pushed by former House Speaker William V. Chappell of Okaloosa, a next-door neighbor and close friend of the governor.

Chappell said he would push for early house adoption of the Finance Committee investigation in an attempt to get it to the senate for action but Sen. John Mathews, Jacksonville, said he'll demand that senate approval be delayed.

He plans to push for an investigation by a special committee.

At a 9 A.M. joint meeting, the anti-poll tax ratification measure was approved by both the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee and the House committee on resolutions and put in line for early action. Only two dissenting votes were cast, by Sen. B. C. Pearce, Palatka, and Rep. Ben Williams of Gulf.

Sen. Spessard Holland made a special trip here to urge Florida to become the 31st state to ratify the amendment which would become a part of the U. S. Constitution if passed by 38 states.

Holland warned that unless the states acted to prohibit poll taxes as a requirement in federal elections, the matter would wind up in the courts and might open the door to federal control of state elections.

"This is a racial question," Holland said, "but it involves both races. The poll tax keeps many citizens of both races from voting." Florida outlawed the poll tax in state elections in 1937 and only five states still collect it.

Combined Issue To Be Asked To Meet Water Boost Needs

City Fiscal Agent Loomis Leedy is expected to tell the City Commission tonight to float a proposed combined bond issue based on franchise utility and cigarette tax now being collected to pay for the city's emergency and long range water improvement program.

Leedy also indicated that a small water and sewer revenue issue would also have to be financed.

He is expected to submit figures on the issue based on from a $200,000 water improvement program up to $1,000,000.

Also expected at the meeting will be engineers Jess Jess Dietz of Clark, Daily Dietz of Clark, Daily be taken to get the emergency program underway.

The first step is expected to be the construction of a water reservoir at a cost of $100,000.

Earlier Leedy had informed the commission to stay within a $650,000 bond issue range due to the bond coverage stretching thin over that amount.

The complete water improvement project had been estimated at well over $1,000,000 to include a new well field, transmission lines and reservoir.

According to earlier figures by Leedy based on 5,300 active water accounts here, an estimated $850,000 issue would mean a need of raising the water rates $10.50 per connection per year.

Teen-Age Blonde Held On Gun Count A 15-year-old blond girl, described as "cute as a picture," is being held in the county jail on charges of carrying concealed weapons pending action by juvenile court.

Judge Vernon Mize, who said the girl already is on probation as an incorrigible, will be given further psychiatric examinations.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby this morning said the girl was taken into custody Monday at Sanford Junior High School, where she is a student, on complaint of the principal, Hugh Carlton.

The girl had been sent to the principal for causing a disturbance in her classroom. Carlton noticed she kept her hand in her large purse. He demanded she open the purse and he discovered a .22 caliber revolver, fully loaded with nine bullets.

Carlton and School Supt. R. T. Milwee reported the girl is "emotionally disturbed" and already has been through the Child Guidance Clinic at Orlando, been treated by a psychiatrist and presently is under the care of a neurologist.

Other members of the committee are Mayor Lawrence Swiford and Frank Gerhardt.

Council OK's Budget Reports Routine quarterly budget and financial reports for the Town of Altamonte Springs presented at the council meeting of the Council Finance Committee by Clerk Jim Palmer were accepted for approval and, including the town's payroll expenditures, were found to be totally satisfactory, Palmer said today.

Palmer said questions raised previously by Committee Chairman Keith Nixon at the April 3 Council Meeting concerning telephone bills and the payroll were acceptably explained and found to be justified.

War Veteran Kills Self Leon Quince Pickering, 86-year-old Spanish American War veteran, was found fatally wounded at about 3 p.m. Tuesday in his Lake Mary home. He was dead on arrival at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby said Pickering had shot himself in the head with a .22 rifle bullet. Coroner Vernon Mize reported he had authorized an autopsy to determine the cause of death before signing the death certificate.

A friend, Frank Evans, discovered Pickering slumped in a chair and notified Sheriff Hobby, who discovered the rifle nearby.

Pickering had been adjutant for many years of Roosevelt Camp 13, Spanish American War Veterans. He was born April 30, 1876.

Surviving are a number of nieces and nephews, all in New England, excepting Harve Pickering who is spending the season at Sandal Springs.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Brisson Funeral Home.
