Final Truce Nears As Buffer Zone Is 'At Last' Settled

Korean Agreement Sets Stage For Ultimate Accord Christmas Day

By ROBERT H. TUCKMAN
MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 23—(AP)—Truce negotiators reached a preliminary agreement on a buffer zone clause today, opening the way for a possible armistice in Korea by Christmas.

"We have reached agreement in so far as the wording is concerned," Rear Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, U. N. command subcommittee member told correspondents.

"The only thing left now is for the liaison officers who are working on the map to finish."

Agreement on the buffer zone came at the 20th subcommittee meeting in Panmunjom.

If the agreement is approved by the full truce delegations, an expected, negotiators would have 30 days in which to solve three other tough problems—supervision of the armistice, exchange of war prisoners and recommendations to the belligerent governments.

Fighting will continue in the war zone for 17 months, until all of these points are settled.

Gen. Henry H. Hodges, chief U. N. command subcommittee member, indicated the full five-man delegations could meet Sunday to approve the buffer zone agreement worked out by subcommittee.

Lt. Col. Howard B. Lewis, U. N. command spokesman, said the Allies will present a full program for solving the armistice supervision clause as soon as the full delegations approve the buffer zone plan.

Train Violates Red Signal In Causing Wreck

Investigation Started Into Causes Of
N. Y. Train Crash

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(AP)—The manager of Grand Central terminal today expressed belief that the underground crash of two Thanksgiving Day trains was caused by one of them violating a red stop signal.

Prior to an official investigation hearing slated to open this afternoon, Ernest B. Mourhouse said "we think that a New Haven express ran a red signal just before it smashed head-on into a Stamford local."

Twenty-seven passengers were injured when the two trains slammed together in a narrow tunnel beneath Park Avenue at a point where upper and lower level tracks merged parallel on the same level.

Although both of the eight-car New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad trains were moving north at only 10 miles an hour, the impact threw some coaches against opposite tunnel walls.

Mourhouse said that a yellow light just before the merging point meant to proceed with caution, while a red light meant to stop, and that the signals were interlocking controlled from a tower.

He said the Stamford local apparently had a yellow light and the New Haven train a red one.

Various railroad employees, including James Taylor, 50, of East Haven, Conn., operator of the New Haven-bound train, were scheduled as witnesses at the investigation which will open at 1:30 P. M.

Many of the 1,100 passengers aboard the two trains were bound for holiday destinations.

Near panic in one wrecked coach was averted by Air Force Sgt. Russell E. Harper of Chicago who suffered a knee injury. Harper said:

"I saw glass flying around and I got up and slapped some people when they looked like they were about to get out of hand."

"Women were screaming and a man and wife were trapped under their seat. I smelled fumes and I had some girls break some windows."

The crash occurred at 86th Street and Park Avenue. That part of the tunnel holds four tracks.

Four Complaints Filed In Court By Accident Victims

Four complaints were filed recently at the Court House by attorneys representing persons seeking damages by means of lawsuits for injury received in automobile or highway accidents.

These are due for trial in Circuit Court, the first term of which was recently commenced by Judge M. B. Smith in the afternoon session and additions to the Court House are completed.

Of the four suits, the one in which the heaviest damages, $100,000, is sought is that of Samuel J. Schneider, joined by his husband, William A. Schneider, against J. C. Gibbs, a driver of a 1946 Oldsmobile Buick, and Katherine his wife, of 806 Macfarlane Avenue, who were involved in a collision with a Buick sedan in a parking lot at the intersection of 36th Street and Sanford Avenue, Sept. 4, at a Washington Street and Sanford Avenue, that Mrs. Schneider received permanent back injuries, the loss of the use of her left leg and the loss of a child by miscarriage. The plaintiff is represented by G. W. Spencer.

Light Death Toll Reported In Accidents

Ninety Persons Die In Road Accidents As Compared With 30 For All Other

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's accidental death toll over the Thanksgiving holiday was the lowest since 1948 and far below last year's record 201.

Traffic accidents, as usual during a holiday period, took the heaviest toll.

A survey showed that since 4 P. M. Wednesday until midnight Thursday (local time) 90 persons lost their lives in motor mishaps. Another 30 persons were killed in miscellaneous accidents.

The total of 120 compared with last year's record 201 violent deaths and the previous high for the Thanksgiving holiday of 181 in 1949. The 1948 toll was 114.

A year ago 79 persons were killed in a collision of two Long Island railroad commuter trains in New York City. Yesterday two holiday-crowded trains collided in a New York City Tunnel but no one was killed. Twenty-seven of the 1,000 passengers were injured.

California led the nation in accidental deaths over the holiday with 13 killed in traffic mishaps. Deaths in other states, listing traffic and miscellaneous were: Arizona 2; Arkansas 1; Colorado 3; Delaware 1; Florida 3; Georgia 1; Idaho 1; Illinois 2; Indiana 2; Iowa 2; Kansas 1; Kentucky 2; Louisiana 1; Maine 2; Maryland 1; Massachusetts 4; Michigan 3; Missouri 1; Minnesota 1; New Jersey 5; New York 3; North Carolina 1; North Dakota 2; Ohio 1; Pennsylvania 1; Tennessee 1; Texas 2; Virginia 4; Washington 3; West Virginia 1; Wisconsin 1.

R. C. Maxwell, Sr. Lifelong Resident Of Sanford, Dies

Richard C. Maxwell, 72, died at his home, 300 Magnolia Avenue, in his sleep yesterday. He was born at Fort Reed, now a part of Sanford, June 17, 1879 and had lived here all of his life.

A retired real estate and insurance agent, Mr. Maxwell was a member of the Sanford Club and at one time served as City Clerk. He is survived by the widow, Maybelle Maxwell; three daughters, Mrs. John Paulsen, Mrs. Mary Watkins, Atlanta; Mrs. Jean A. Tommy and Billy King, all of Sanford; Ler and Dick Maxwell, Jr., Jacksonville.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3:00 P. M. at the First Presbyterian Church with Rev. A. G. McInnis officiating. Interment will be in Lake View Cemetery.

Kansas City Bank Held Up And Robbed

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23—(AP)—Two men robbed the Johnson County National Bank and Trust Company at suburban Fairlie Village, Kan., of an estimated $63,000 today.

Bank employees said the men knocked at the door just before opening time and asked to be let in. When the only employee in the bank refused to let them enter, the men pulled a gun and forced her to open the door.

As employees entered, they were held into the lobby.

While one of the robbers, armed with a rifle, watched the employees, the other forced the cashier to open the vault.

Thirteen employees were held captive with a key after the robbers left.

The holdup men fled in a late model yellow convertible.

Russia Protests Violation Of Siberian Border By U.S.; Missing Plane Said Wrecked

Traveler Reports Romanian Army Border Guards Shot Down U. S. Plane

ROME, Nov. 23—(AP)—Clearing skies and ground and air searches on in force today to pin down reports on a U. S. Air Force plane missing since Monday with four men aboard.

One unconfirmed report said wreckage had been spotted on the jagged peaks of mountains in Poland's Bialowieza mountains, 10 miles east of Bialystok.

Another report, from a traveler arriving in Vienna, said the plane was shot down by Romanian army border guards as it touched the ground on its flight from Germany to Hungary.

Neither report could be confirmed officially.

Clouds and fog which previously had hampered the search cleared today. Twenty U. S. planes were sent to sweep the skies above that sector, and Yugoslavians, Italian police and U. S. ground searches were working in the Balkans, trying to check the report of the spotted wreckage.

The U. S. Embassy in Belgrade on Tuesday said the pilot of the C-47 transport plane reported to be shot on by Hungarian and Romanian border guards.

But the embassy report said it apparently received by two later reports, it said he was near the Croatian capital of Zagreb, northeastward from Italy, which lies at the foot of the Alpine Alps.

Hits Taft In Washington Speech

LOOKING A HAND to his ear, President Harry S. Truman attempts to listen to a nearby speaker while waiting his turn to address the Women's National Democratic Club in Washington. The President charged that "special interests" bought the reelection of Sen. Robert A. Taft. The latter countered that the Chief Executive should give priority to his "political altruism."

UN Group Votes European Unity To Create New Balkan Patrol By Congressmen

PARIS, Nov. 23—(AP)—The United Nations Special Political Committee voted yesterday to create a Balkan patrol to keep an eye on the border between Greece and Turkey.

The committee, which is charged with the task of replacing the United Nations Committee on the Balkans, also voted to create a Balkan patrol to keep an eye on the border between Greece and Turkey.

The resolution adopted by the committee thanks U. S. aid for its four-year task of guarding Greece's political independence and integrity.

A Russian amendment to the resolution was voted down by the committee.

France walked out of the conference floor from Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.) and Rep. Howard Smith (D-Va.) that the U. S. will not finance a divided Europe indefinitely.

"We will have supported the foreign aid program, and who did so though they were not always popular, must have help from you," said Keating in a review of the American delegation's view of the Council of Europe. "We will be able to tell our people that Europe will act."

Keating cited the Mutual Security Act's language, and said: "This is the policy of our government. We plead with you to get aside your differences and help together to solve your mutual problems. There has been too little action thus far."

ORLANDO KILLED

(ORLANDO, Nov. 23—(AP)—An Orlando restaurant owner was held last night by a tree in the early morning fog at an intersection on the south city limits.

Alfred Garcia, 51, died of injuries received when his car left the highway at about 1:45 A. M. State Highway Patrolman Harold Cook reported.

Sheriff Dave Starr, who also investigated the accident, said he believed Garcia did not see the road because of the fog. Garcia was found pinned under the steering wheel of his car by motorists at 610 A. M.

INDIANESCA

BATON, Ind., Nov. 23—(AP)—An Indonesian delegation left today for Paris to ask for the same independence for their war-torn nation that countries have in the British Commonwealth.

Soviet Fliers Are Decorated For Notable Performance Of Duties In Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—(AP)—A U. S. Navy plane with a crew of 10 was missing. There appear to be strong reasons for presuming it was shot down by the Russians.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—(AP)—Russia has protested to the United States that an American plane violated the Siberian border. A note from Moscow said the plane was fired on by Soviet fighter craft.

This was learned today, and may explain the decoration of two Soviet navy fliers for outstanding performance of their service duties.

The circumstances paralleled the award given Soviet fliers who shot down an American Navy privateer plane early last year.

While there was no official comment on the matter, it was learned that Russia filed the protest on Nov. 7.

On that date, Hugh Cumming, who is in charge of the embassy at Moscow in the absence of Ambassador Alan G. Kirk, was called in for an interview with Soviet acting Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Neither Moscow nor the State Department disclosed at the time the subject of the interview.

However, it was learned the Russian note was written then. It was forwarded here. The State Department, while withholding an announcement, has (Continued on Page Eight)

High School Youth, Lost Near Jessup On Hunt, Is Found

Vernon Brown, 16, forgot all about the Thanksgiving dinner he was making on the table yesterday afternoon while he enjoyed duck hunting near Lake Jessup, but got lost when it got dark and it was nearly 8 P. M. before he was located and returned home.

Meanwhile, about 50 searchers, including four or five deputies were scouring the swamps and prairie on the west shore of Lake Jessup looking for him, said Sheriff P. A. Mero.

T. V. Brown, Vernon's father, said the boy had been gone at 11:30 o'clock in the morning because he was told by a neighbor that the boy had fished according to their agreement to return to where the automobile had been parked in the hunting area.

The hunting party was Halbert Johnson, Vernon's uncle, and Wesley Johnson, the latter's son.

Vernon explained this morning that he had carried his search, and lost track of time. He shot a good sized mallard and several teal, but he got tired carrying them, and toward nightfall gave them to a man he met, who directed him to the trail back to the automobile. He became lost when it got too dark to find the trail.

Finally he met a party of hunters, including John Brown, who was taking him home, when they met his father, coming back to search for him. Vernon is a sophomore at Seminole High School.

NO HATERING

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 23—(AP)—Vatican sources said today Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac would be "the first to refuse to harken his dignity for his freedom."

They were commenting on a New York Times report from Rome that Premier Marshal Tito plans to send the jailed archbishop back to his native village of Kratie but that he would not be recognized by Tito's Communist government as Yugoslavia's Roman Catholic primate.

Mail Christmas Packages Early, Postmaster Says

Postmaster Joel S. Field opened the Yuletide Season officially today. He issued his annual appeal for early mailing of Christmas greeting cards and gift packages.

"It's later than you think!" the Postmaster warned. "Most people wait until December rolls around before they give the increasingly heavy Christmas mails a second thought.

The Postmaster expects the greatest flood of Yuletide mail in local history. He predicted it would exceed "by a considerable margin" the record-breaking 1950 holiday season when 43,283 pieces of mail were cancelled.

"This year's deluge of Christmas mail will strain post office facilities severely," he stated. "But we'll get everything delivered by Christmas, if the public cooperates wholeheartedly."

Christmas packages for distant States should be mailed by December 5th, he declared. All Yuletide parcel post should be on its way by December 10th.

Christmas cards to friends and loved ones in other States should be deposited by Dec. 15. Greetings

TEEN TALK

AP Newsfeatures

If you want to give some pretty and inexpensive gifts this Christmas, get your sewing machine humming.

A few yards of fabric can make some delightful and glamorous presents. Such fashionable gifts as a crinoline Petticoat or a cuffless wool jersey stocking cap are easy to make and can be mailed by December 5th, he declared. All Yuletide parcel post should be on its way by December 10th.

Preparations to handle this year's Yuletide rush have already begun. The post office is training extra mail clerks and carriers, setting up new sorting tables, hauling out reserve mail sacks, and overhauling delivery trucks. Thousands of bright new postage stamps are on hand, and the post office pens are all getting new points.

To keep Christmas mail on schedule, the Postmaster asks that you—

1. Stop at the post office next week to purchase the extra stamps you're going to need, thus avoiding last-minute crowds. When buying stamps for Christmas cards, bear in mind the desirability of sending the cards by first-class mail. The rate for unsealed cards is 2c and cards mailed in this way do not rate forwarding or return services.
2. Check and revise your Christmas card address list his week. Purchase your Christmas cards early and address and stamp them at once. Then put them in a convenient place for mailing at the proper time.
3. Lay in adequate supplies of heavy cardboard, sturdy outer paper, strong cord, and printed Fourth Class labels for wrapping parcel post. Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight, and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined. Repeat the address inside the outer wrappings, in case they are damaged in transit.

"Above all," the Postmaster said, "please address plainly and completely. Give the full name, house number, street, name of city, zone, and state. And don't forget to write your return address on Christmas card envelopes. Authorities on etiquette say it's perfectly proper, because it helps people bring their address books up-to-date. But a return address is frequently even more helpful to us!"

A Spanish explorer named Juan Diaz de Solis, searching for a southern passage between the Atlantic and Pacific in 1516, was the first European to set foot on the banks of the Platte River in South America.

Bobby Derroult, rookie goal tender of the Providence Reds in the American Hockey League, is a former amateur boxer from Canada. He fought under the name of "Kid Flamingo".

During the Mississippi-Kentucky football game there were 48 passes thrown by both teams. Twenty-five were caught. None was intercepted.

Another pretty gift is a space-saving holder for earrings, pins and bracelets. To make it, take two equal rectangles of color-contrasting rayon satin and velvet—each should be about ten by thirteen inches. Use a half-inch allowance, sewing them back to back with hidden seams, giving you a piece of fabric that is satin on one side, velvet on the other.

Then make into an "envelope" by turning up the bottom edge along the length of the fabric, so that the satin is on the inside. Stitch up the sides of the bottom fold, and then make complete by running equally spaced stitching parallel to the top edge across the bottom fold. Sew the top third of the fabric up for a fold-down flap.

Attach two lengthwise lengths of narrow satin ribbon at one side of the bottom fold. Then, when the jewelry is placed in the compartments, the kit can be rolled up and with the ribbon, be fit to slip securely into any little bag in a suitcase.

You can buy attractive boxes to pack your little home-made gifts, and if you keep in mind the fact that you can make

 Spiritual Discoveries Are Ahead
 Habson asked Steinmetz: "What line of research will see the greatest development during the next fifty years?" After a careful thought, Steinmetz replied: "Mr. Habson, I think the greatest discovery will be made along spiritual lines. Here is a force which history clearly teaches has been the greatest power in the development of men and history. Yet we have merely been playing with it, and have never seriously studied it as we have the physical forces. Some day people will learn that material things do not bring happiness and are of little use in making men and women creative and powerful. Then the scientists of the world will turn their laboratories over to the study of God and prayer and the spiritual forces which have, yet have hardly been scratched." —The Baptist

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

We are not very well acquainted with our real selves. Shut out the world and look inward. Some changes may be indicated. Commune with thine own heart upon your bed, and be still.—Ps. 4:4.

From Tampa comes a folder on the Florida State Fair and Gasparilla Celebration to be held Feb. 5-16 bigger and better than ever.

A story was heard of an Alaskan girl who subdued a bear with a rolling pin. Her husband, if he is wise, will take care not to act like a bear.

Braley Odham of Sanford was the first candidate for governor in this campaign to pay his qualifying fee in Tallahassee. He did it with $1 bills contributed by 625 Sanford friends.

Florida farmers took in nearly half a billion dollars (half a billion, that is) last year, according to the University of Florida. And that ain't hay, even in this day and time when you have to grow two stalks where one grew before.

Constant investigations are causing a great deal of ill health among government employees, writes David Lawrence. We suspect, however, it is not the investigations that are causing the trouble, so much as the guilty consciences.

We see where the bad check artists are at work again, cashing worthless checks, fleeing gullible and unsuspecting people out of their hard earned money. It's a funny thing, as easy as it is to get money out of the government one way or another, there seem to be more people than ever trying to steal their way through life.

A City councilman in Pittsburgh objects to cheesecake charm and calendar cuties on the walls of the City Hall. "Such undraped loveliness demoralizing," he insists. Perhaps he is getting old. However, almost anyone will admit there is a time and place for everything. And some places these "calendar cuties" are found hanging as hardly the right place.

This may be another one of those "phony wars", but American casualties in Korea have already passed the 100,000 mark with 16,972 of them dead. This does not include the hundreds of thousands of South Koreans who have fallen or the perhaps a million or more of enemy troops. For a "phony war" that is a lot of casualties, more than this country has ever suffered in any other war in a similar period of time.

"Everybody I know takes pills," writes Robert Ruark in his syndicated column. "They take all the vitamins, green pills, blue, yellow, red. They take pills to go to sleep. They take pills to get up from the slumber that has been induced by other pills." Pills are a poor substitute for food, exercise and natural sleep. As Ruark concludes, "I have taken my last pill, and you know something nice? Now I can find my razor and my toothbrush, which are things that got lost for years behind a forest of vitamins and preventative that had grown in bottles."

With many medical authorities agreeing that smoking is at least one cause of cancer, how much more likely is it that smoking also is a contributing cause of many other respiratory ailments such as cold, asthma, emphysema, and pneumonia? Nevertheless, many people continue to smoke.

Growth Of Cities

The United States is becoming more and more a nation of urban dwellers, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Three out of every five in the population now live in a city or town of 2,500 or more inhabitants. A century ago, about one in seven resided in places of that size. Consequently, the proportion of the total population living in rural areas has been reduced by one half in the past 100 years.

The population in our larger cities has shown the most rapid rate of growth in the past century. The proportion of the population concentrated in cities of 100,000 or more increased from 5 percent in 1850 to 29 percent at present and the number of cities of that size rose from 6 to 106.

The 5 cities of 1,000,000 or over—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and Detroit—and the surrounding communities that make up their metropolitan areas increased their proportion of the total population from 18.9 percent to 19.5 percent in the past 20 years.

A spectacular increase in population is noted in the outlying areas of the major cities during the past decade. "The distinct tendency for the larger cities to decentralize may well be the pattern of our future population growth," the Metropolitan comments. "In part, the trend is the result of the shortage of housing in already overcrowded cities. Perhaps in greater measure it reflects the desire of families to live in pleasant communities where children can be brought up under safe and healthy conditions."

What's Happening To Christmas?

Drunken parties, speeding cars, suggestive greeting cards and blatant commercialism—those are fast becoming the symbols of our celebration of one of the holiest days of the year, the anniversary of the birth of Christ. Our Christmas orgies of sex, liquor and smashup have reached the point where they are a national disgrace, protests an article in the December issue of Pageant magazine entitled, "Are We Killing Christmas?"

What has happened to the real spiritual meaning of Christmas? It has dissolved into a vulgar, commercialized celebration that has nothing to do with the origin of the "holiday" which, of course, was once called "holi day." Take Christmas cards as an example, suggests Pageant. We send cards that are arty, folksy, humorous and even suggestive—but only rarely spiritual. Many of them have no Christmas meaning whatever. They are illustrated with pictures of cocktail shakers, cigarettes, ships, airplanes, dogs and sometimes even psychiatrists!

But perhaps the grossest travesty on the spiritual joy that Christmas should mean is the "office party"—sometimes held in homes and taverns too—which disguises drunkenness, vulgarity and even lewdness as legitimate Christmas jollification. In all too many homes, Christmas Day is not a time of church and family celebration, but a dull, remorseful hangover of aching or broken skulls. The "observance" of Christmas last year, points out Pageant, took 724 lives, 144 more than the previous year.

The Names Of Seas

There is no surprise in the news that the Red Sea is not red but blue. All seas and lakes tend to be blue or green or variations of those colors, according to the tints of the sky and cloud above. Yet for ages that particular body of water has been called the Red Sea. The reason is variously stated. Some say it is because of the minute reddish animal life to be found in profusion in its waters. Others mention the sandy cliffs which are colored by the rays of the torrid sun.

Sometimes there is more obvious reason for the name of a sea. The Black Sea is generally thought to derive its name from the sudden storms which make it dreaded by sailors. The Greeks, taking a different tack, thought to soothe its evil moods by naming it the Euxine, or "Kindly Sea." There is no record that this bit of appeasement worked. The White Sea, in the far north of Russia, is named for the ice and snow. Strangely there is no "Green Sea" or "Blue Sea," perhaps because all seas are those colors on occasions.

The Atlantic is named from the Atlas mountains of Morocco, the outlying western point of the African land mass. The Pacific was so called because its first navigators contrasted its apparent calm with the roughness of the name when they experienced a Pacific typhoon.

Missing Plane

An American Air Force officer directing the search from an Italian air base said information received by radio from Wiesbaden, Germany, reported the wreckage of a plane had been sighted near the mountain village of Pieve di Cadore.

However, U.S. Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden said it had no information on the reported sighting of the wreckage. Police at Pieve di Cadore said they heard a plane flying over the area Monday evening. A Rome report said a farmer in the area heard a violent explosion that night. The police said they had not heard of the explosion.

Bad weather has hampered the air search for the plane, which was carrying supplies to the U.S. embassy in Belgrade.

One of the American planes which took off from Treviso, Italy, got lost over Yugoslavia in the haze yesterday and strayed from the triangular search area specially outlined by Premier Marshal Tito's government.

A Yugoslav fighter plane forced it down near the port city of Pula, 40 miles from Trieste at the tip of the Adriatic peninsula.

The plane was not damaged and was allowed to return to its base. U.S. Ambassador George Allen took up the incident with the Yugoslav foreign office and an amicable settlement was reached after both sides gave their explanations.

While the search for the missing transport continued today, U.S. diplomats checked a report that the plane had been shot down over Romania. That report came from an unidentified air traveler who arrived in Vienna last night from the Romanian capital of Bucharest.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Now the Russians are indignant. They're complaining this country is playing dirty pool.

It goes back to a phrase tucked away in a bill passed by Congress which the Russians took more than a month to discover. In September the House was debating the mutual security bill to give $7,500,000,000 in arms and supplies to our Allies.

Up stepped Rep. Charles Kersten, Wisconsin Republican, with a few ideas he wanted added to the bill. If able-bodied men escaped from the Iron Curtain countries, he wanted some of the money used to form them into military units which some day might be able to fight for the liberation of their own countries.

And he said, further, that some of the money could be used in helping underground organizations in countries behind the curtain. The other members of the House seemed so captivated by the notion of setting up military units of escapees, that they spent all their time talking about that.

Except for Kersten's own brief explanation, not a word was said about creating or helping underground groups inside the Iron Curtain. Nevertheless, the bill as passed by Congress and signed into law in October says: "Some of the money should be used, whenever the President thinks it worthwhile, for arming escapees 'or for other purposes.' That little phrase—'or for other purposes'—is as wide as the sky.

It would certainly cover—anytime the President chose—Kersten's brief mention of helping undergrounds behind the curtain. In fact, it's wide enough to cover almost anything. This week the Russians started screaming. They charged the act was intended to finance "subversive activity and sabotage" in Russia and other Iron Curtain countries. They want Congress to repeal the act, and have carried their complaint to the United Nations.

This Russian indignation, a good example of how the shoe of the other foot feels, must have amused the American diplomats since the Communist Party in every country is an underground. So if this country poured some money into undergrounds behind the curtain it would only be reversing the deal. But the State Department kept a straight face. It said:

The Soviet complaint comes with "singular ill-grace from a Soviet regime, which, consistently, has supported subversive activities against the U. S. and other nations of the world." But then the State Department added something which is difficult to understand. It said the Russian complaint was "groundless... propaganda." Propaganda it may be, and undoubtedly is, for no one expects this complaint to change relations between this country and Russia. They couldn't be much worse.

But the State Department might have trouble proving the Russian complaint "groundless" when Kersten, who fathered

Thousands Cheer Iranian Premier On Return Home

TEHRAN, Iran, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Thousands of Iranians roared a hero's welcome today to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh upon his return from a lengthy but the phrase—"or for other purposes"—which excited the Russians.

slams, explaining his intentions about the underground and Congress approved the phrase. This whole exchange comes under the heading of diplomatic window-dressing. The Communists have a world-wide underground. In this country, just to take one example, the party's leaders were convicted of conspiring to teach forcible overthrow of the government.

And it seems a pretty safe guess that this country not only was encouraging undergrounds behind the curtain before Kersten mentioned the idea but that the Russians knew it. If we haven't been doing it, we've been sound asleep. We're not playing head-bag with the Russians.

fruitless mission to Washington and a brief but triumphal stay in Cairo. Police estimated that 250,000 thronged the airport to greet the frail nationalistic leader whose government is facing a financial crisis threatening the nation with bankruptcy.

The city was under strict military guard. Rifle-bearing troops were stationed at strategic points to foil any attempt to stage a revolt against Mossadegh's regime, which has been under growing criticism at home for failure to solve the financial crisis stemming from Iran's nationalization of her oil resources.

Foreign diplomats, including U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson, were among the officials who greeted Mossadegh as he stepped from the Egyptian plane which brought him home. The British ambassador did not attend. The frail Premier awaited and almost fainted as he emerged from the plane. He appeared wan and worn from his mission of almost seven weeks. The frenzied crowd pressed against the police lines at the sight of the Premier and roared out "long live Mossadegh."

Thousands of persons who were not at the airport lined the four and a half mile highway into the city as the procession rolled along in bright sunshine. Tons of flowers were strewn along the road before the Premier's car. In Cairo, Mossadegh had urged Egypt and Iran to work closer together in a joint fight against "British imperialism." During his Cairo stay he and Premier Mustafa "El Naha" Pasha of Egypt decided to begin talks soon about tighter economic and cultural pacts between the two nations.

Plantation Estates

By HESS PATTERSON

There is a positive epidemic of guests and parties and visits all over the place for the Thanksgiving holidays and I could not get them all but did hear about the following:
Mr. and Mrs. Barney Anderson of First Street are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boone of Ironton, Mich. They visited the Edward Friedlys of Edgewater this week. The men were all on the Detroit, Mich. police force together.
Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Herard have had as their guests, a young honeymoon couple, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Simard of Montreal, Canada. They had toured the whole state and feel definitely that we have the choice location in a very beautiful state.
Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gould are spending Thanksgiving with their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Frouth of St. Petersburg.
Mr. and Mrs. John McGuiness of Otisville, N.Y. and Miss Mary Bohane of New York City are visiting Dr. Mary Welton and Miss Alice Elliott of Seventh Street.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Unkles of Valencina Circle are spending the holiday week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Jean Livingston of Detroit, Mich., at the Livingstons winter home at Lutz, Fla.

CYPRESS GARDENS, Fla.—Nancy Cooper, Rollins College, will compete with girls from all over the country for the coveted title of "Tangerine Queen" in the Ninth Annual Cypress Gardens on November 23rd. A $100 War Bond will be awarded to the Queen and $25 bonds to the four members of her court.

Naturalist Notes

By MISS I. H. HILBREY

The Audubon field trip was held on Saturday, Nov. 17. In spite of the cold and rain, an unruly southerly wind, the birders met at the Sanford Garden Center. After waiting for 15 minutes for reinforcements, the four—Mr. Davidson, leader, Mrs. Vinup, Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Hilbrey, decided to go ahead anyway.
At Coronado Beach we were well rewarded for our walk along the beach in the icy wind by seeing great flocks of pelicans, cormorants, plovers, terns, sandpipers, skimmers, etc. We also visited Thruway Cocoa the Curlew Bay and back by way of Mims and Geneva.
A great many ducks were sighted, mergansers, ringneck, scaup, baldpate and others. At the St. Johns river between Mims and Geneva we saw five white pelicans and one of wood this. The latter are common in this area.
Because of the rain, most of our nightingale was done from the comfortably heated car, simply rolling down the windows and reaching for the field glasses whenever wildlife was sighted. It was a congenial group, and good natured argument, banter and singing (and very good!) along with frequent stops for a look-see, made the day pass swiftly.
The regular meeting of the Seaside Audubon Society, Monday night Nov. 19, Mrs. Sieg, Finance Chairman, reported $5.00 collected for the educational fund. A change in the by-laws was voted, providing for the election of officers in May instead of October as formerly. This will allow the new officers time to arrange their program for the ensuing year instead of carrying through a program already arranged by the outgoing officers.
The society passed a resolution to endorse the organization of a Junior Sportmen's Association. Mr. Ertter, executive director of the Florida Audubon Society, commented on the step toward better understanding between sportsmen and the society. Many persons here and have the idea that the Audubon Society is against all shooting of wildlife. This is not the case. The Society is against the killing of wildlife not on the official game list and the custom of hunting and killing of birds for the sheer joy of killing.
Mrs. Helen Arendt who modestly declines the title of ornithologist and says she is only a student of wildlife, gave an interesting talk on shells. She brought a large and varied collection of shells to illustrate her talk, and later all who were interested in shells gathered about the table for closer examination and questions. Mrs. Arendt's patience was apparently inexhaustible, and she seemed to enjoy the session as much as the audience did.

GERANIUMS—A large genus of herbs, widely distributed in temperate regions of the earth and commonly called Cranesbill (both names refer to the long beak-like projections on the seeds). The semi-shrubby plants so commonly grown by florists and familiar as house and bedding plants are also known as Geraniums. They are however quite distinct from yet related to the genus Geranium, but being correctly to the genus Pelargonium, occasionally the common name of "stork-bill" is suggested by the shape of the seed like that of Cranesbill for the two Geraniums.
VARIETIES—Pelargoniums fall into four groups: any one of which has enough varieties to satisfy the desires of the collector.
1—Show Geraniums (Pelargonium) also known as Lady of the Marsh Washington is of Pinks and flowered G. These types are not perpetual bloomers. The showy flowers are produced around Easter at the tips of the shoots, rather than several inches back as in the Zonal G. Take cuttings after flowering and grow on outdoors until fall. Pinch from time to time to promote bushiness, but do not pinch after February and the potential flowering buds will not be formed. Grow well during the winter and be careful not to overwater.
2—House Geraniums (Pelargonium) also known as Bedding, Horseshoe, Fish and Zonal G. The last name refers to the zones or rings of color on the leaves. The group has many varieties producing single, semi-double and double flowers in various colors, as well as plants with different attractive foliage colorings and markings. Zonal G. are easily raised from seed. It is an inexpensive plant to raise and plants start anew with the stock of cuttings.

Bama Tide Favored By Touchdown In Clash With Florida Gridders

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 23—(AP)—Alabama and Florida clash tomorrow in battle of slottans seeking to salvage something from the waning football season.

Bama's Tide is favored by a touchdown but the dopesters figure it could easily go either way. Both have won four and lost five so far. For Bama that marks the worst season in its history.

The Gators beat Vanderbilt 33-18 and lost to Georgia Tech 27-0 and Georgia 7-6. Alabama edged Georgia 16-14 and bowed to Vanderbilt 22-20 and Georgia Tech 37-7.

Both boast two of the better down backs in the South. Alabama has Clegg Johnson, an accurate passer, and Bobby Marks, a powerful runner who has scored three touchdowns. Florida is paced by Raywood Sullivan, star tasser, and Rick Cavara, a rugged sophomore ball carrier.

Hobson completed 63 of 117 passes attempted for 233 yards and seven touchdowns. Sullivan has connected on 65 of 138 for 725 yards and three touchdowns.

The lines are about on a par. Alabama has won all three games since the teams remained playing each other in 1948 and holds an 8-3 edge in the overall series. Florida last beat the Tide 14-0 in 1927.

Alabama whipped Florida 41-13 last year but Sullivan, then a sophomore, had one of his best days against the Tide. He completed 12 of 21 passes for 215 yards and a touchdown to break the previous record for a Gator passer.

Coach Red Drew said his Bama squad probably would be in its best condition since early season. All the Tide cripples except O. E. Phillips, lone letterman at center, will be available for duty.

These include Jimmie Melton, a little scabback who suffered a broken jaw in the Tennessee game a month ago. Melton, wearing a plastic mask he has had in his appearances in the last two games.

Gator Coach Bob Woodruff has no major injuries other than bruises suffered in the hard game with Miami last week. Florida will fly to Birmingham today, spend the night there, and come here by bus tomorrow morning.

A homecoming crowd of about 15,000 is expected to hand for the kickoff at 2 P. M. The game winds up the season for Florida. Alabama closes out against its cross-state rival, Auburn, December 1.

In addition to the victory over Georgia and the losses to Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt, Alabama defeated Delta State 49-0; Mississippi State 7-0 and Mississippi Southern 40-7, and Mississippi 19-7, in Villanova 41-18, and to Tennessee 27-13.

Florida's record other than the victory over Vanderbilt and the defeats by Georgia Tech and Georgia includes decisions over Wyoming 13-0; the Citadel 27-0 and Loyola (Los Angeles) 40-7, and losses to Auburn 14-13, to Kentucky 14-6 and to Miami 21-0.

Stetson's Cage Schedule Swelled By Sewanee Game

DELAND, Nov. 23—(Special)—Sewanee has been added to the Stetson Hatters' basketball schedule, Director of Athletics Brady Howell said today.

The Hatters' 20-game schedule opening with an important tilt with the University of Florida in Gainesville on Dec. 9.

Basketball Coach Jay Patton would like to have one or two practice games before that time. Because of this the Hatters probably will play some service team in this area or an independent team from the Daytona Beach area.

The Sewanee game will be played at the Airport Arena Saturday night, Dec. 15.

Meanwhile Coach Patton is dividing his time between the football team and the basketball team. All candidates for the team are working out except Jim Yonge who is recovering from a knee injury at the end of the season.

Bowl Head Slams Back At Critics

ARADENA, Calif., Nov. 23—(AP)—The National Football League's head of the tournament of Rose Bowl football committee, today slammed the charges that post-game college athletes receive special treatment.

Walter Byrd, president of the National Football Association, today said that the Rose Bowl game is a "college football game" and that the players are college students.

Byrd said he was in a sharp attack of the National Football Association's committee, which would open playing in the Rose Bowl to a number of college players.

Hatter Squad To Have Benefit Of 50-Year-Old Plays

DELAND, Nov. 23—(Special)—The Hatter Hatters may come up with some old tricks in the game against Livingston State Saturday night in Deland Municipal Stadium.

According to information reaching Deland in advance of their arrival, members of the 1901 Stetson football team returning to observe the Golden Jubilee of intercollegiate athletics in Florida are bringing with them some of the formations and plays of 50 years ago.

Fred Holtz, of Coral Gables, who played left tackle on the 1901 team will be on hand as will Thomas Carr, center of Plant City, the left guard on that team.

Several other members of the team are expected.

In a mid-week scrimmage, Joe McLean and Red Longshore were used on offense and, according to Coach Jay McMullen, looked very good. Both lads probably will see action Saturday against Livingston.

With Fulmer Armstrong out with an ankle sprain and Gene Bowden off the squad, these two halfbacks are first replacements for Bobby Marks and Jerry Glingher.

E. J. Leathers, the sterling guard from Belle Glade who is working for another mention on the little All-American team, probably will see 60 minutes action this week as he did in the Wake Forest game.

Leathers was the only 60-minute man, although Dave Laude and Herb Werner were close behind.

Americans Stopped In New South Wales Tennis Tournament

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 23—(AP)—Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert lost today to win the doubles title of the New South Wales tennis championships as Australia's top duo of Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor staged an uphill battle to beat the Americans.

Sedgman and McGregor walked off the court victorious, 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, after a gruelling five-set match that lasted two hours and 15 minutes.

The veteran Schroeder, of La Crescenta, Calif. and the youthful 19-year-old Trabert, of Cincinnati, appeared to have the match won on several occasions, but Sedgman and McGregor always rallied.

Youthful Ham Richardson, the U. S. National Junior Champion from Baton Rouge, La. advanced to the final of the junior tourney.

He whipped Ken Rosewall, Australia's best junior, 7-5, 1-6, 6-4, in the semi-finals. He will play Jimmy Head of Australia, for the Junior title on Saturday. Head reached the final by defeating his countryman, Neale Fraser, 6-4, 6-0.

Thelma Long and Mary Howland won the women's doubles final by beating Kenne Ashford and Veron Ashford, 6-2, 7-5.

U. S. Davis Cup Team Sprinkled With New Faces

(AP News Features Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(AP)—More than passing interest is being shown in the coming Davis Cup tennis world cup in faces on the United States squad.

The lone veteran on non-playing captain Frank Shields' squad is Ted Schroeder, the former National champion. Schroeder was on last year's team that bowed to Australia, 4-1, at Forest Hills.

Of the four new faces on Uncle Sam's team, Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., is the youngest. He will not be 18 until next August 24. However, the former National junior champion may be only a spectator because of his inexperience.

Tony Trabert, NCAA and clay court champion, is only 21 and a definite comer. In the Nationals at Forest Hills last September he edged Australia's ace, Frank Sedgman, to five set.

Trabert recently received a furlough from the Navy so he could make the trip to Australia. Trabert was in boot training as a Naval reserve when he was given leave. The Cincinnati athlete has served more weeks of training with the Navy than any other player on the team.

Another youngster on the team is Dick Davis, the Wimbledon and Australian champion from South Georgia, N. J. Davis is 24.

Blind Toporcer Starts Another Career -- Writing

SCARSDALE, N. Y., Nov. 23—(AP)—Al S. George (Spoco) Toporcer is starting on a new career. That's nothing new for a man in his fifties. But it is the case of Toporcer's blind.

Toporcer spent his first eight hours before, following three unsuccessful operations and 10 weeks in a hospital.

Until then, Toporcer has been a highly successful minor league manager. Before that he had been a star major league ball player, then an efficient farm director of the big league club.

Toporcer spent his first eight hours before, following three unsuccessful operations and 10 weeks in a hospital.

Toporcer is far from despondent. He is wasting no time making use of his vast baseball experience and background to launch into a new career—a new life. And he is looking forward to it with as much zest and eagerness as he exhibited when he crashed into the St. Louis Cardinals' lineup in 1921 to play alongside the great Rogers Hornsby.

"I've always intended some day to write several books on baseball," Toporcer said today. "I'll just have to start a little sooner than I expected. I've spent 22 wonderful years in baseball and I believe I can turn out some very interesting books dealing with the playing, administrative, technical and coaching end of it."

Toporcer is not asking for sympathy. He is cheerful and optimistic. His loss of sight did not come as a complete surprise to him. He became resigned to his fate about seven weeks ago after his second operation when the detached retina off his right eye failed to grow back into place. He had lost sight of his left eye three and a half years ago.

"You know," he said, "I'm not too badly off. I've got a wonderful family, a nice home. My wife, Mabel, has been a great comfort to me during all this. She has suffered much more than I have. With her at my side, I look to the future with optimism."

Before he begins work on his books, Toporcer plans to write an article about his eye operations. Although he was unsuccessful, Toporcer believes the new methods perfected in recent months will save the eyesight of thousands of persons who otherwise might go blind.

Toporcer is far from despondent. He is wasting no time making use of his vast baseball experience and background to launch into a new career—a new life. And he is looking forward to it with as much zest and eagerness as he exhibited when he crashed into the St. Louis Cardinals' lineup in 1921 to play alongside the great Rogers Hornsby.

Seminole Squad Meets Lakeview In Benefit Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(AP)—Columbia's Lou Little says the football rules makers are lamping de-emphasize the sport. He hopes they liberalize rather than restrict it.

"Maybe we should do just as the pros do—have no limitation to our substitutions whatever," the chairman of the coaches' rules committee declared today.

"I don't think we would be promoting the interests of football by abolishing the two-plateau system."

The bespectacled Columbia coach is one of the stoutest champions of two-plateau football, now under fire of college groups seeking to have a squad of 33 players.

"What's the main objection to our present free substitution rule?" he asked rhetorically. "It's that it sets up specialized defenses and offensive squads requiring more players and larger coaching staffs and separates the 'have' schools from the 'have nots.'"

"I fail to see it. I think it's possible to have two-plateau football with a squad of 33 players, which is about the size of the old-fashioned rosters."

"You could have one offensive team, one defensive team and another 11 players who might be used interchangeably."

"This especially might work well if we had unrestricted substitution as the pros have."

The professionals can change players—11 five or three, however many they wish at a time—any time the ball is dead. They can shoot fresh talent in and out on each play, so long as the shift is made in 30 seconds.

The colleges' present free substitution rule, which gave birth to the controversial two-plateau football, is not nearly so free as that.

In college games, substitutions can be made only when the clock is stopped. So normally the 11-man rotation shifts are made when the ball changes hands—an average of three times a game.

Substitutions are not permitted after each play, as in the case of the pros, as long as the game officially is in progress.

The free substitution rule is included in the 12 points presented by the Pacific Coast Conference for consideration of the NCAA in its study of the conduct of athletics.

Little said he had sent notices to the nation's football coaches asking their suggestions for rule changes. Replies will be tabulated and recommendations made to the official rules body.

The substitution rule is about the only important one that is being discussed as far as I know," Little said. "Everybody seems very happy with restoration of the fair catch rule."

A National title would depend, of course, on these factors plus the challenging powers of the rest of the season. Tennessee was the pre-season pick for the National title and currently is first in the Associated Press poll.

The contest offers a personal duel, too, between Dixie's top running back, Hank Lauricella of Tennessee, and the area's No. 1 punger, Vito Parilli of Kentucky.

These contests have history to one of Dixie's strongest rivalries. "Both clubs have clinched bowl bids—Tennessee in the Sugar and Kentucky in the Cotton—and their match before a full house of 30,000 provides the only preview to a state of bowl principals against each other."

Kentucky-Tennessee games, in their own right, usually are good enough to secure a major attraction.

Tennessee is accorded a one-touchdown edge. Kentucky enters the tilt still trying to shake the jinx placed on it by the Tennessee teams of Gen. Bob Neyland, in 1948. Neyland never has managed to beat a team the General coached and has only four ties to show with his setback.

The last time Kentucky walked Tennessee—27-0 at Lexington in 1905—Neyland was on a tour of Army duty.

"Bee Paul (Bear) Bryant came in in 1948 to lead Kentucky (then the football wilderness, there hasn't been more than a single touchdown difference in any of the games. The 1948 tilt ended in a scoreless deadlock."

Two years ago Kentucky was a slight chie but found itself outsparked and fell 50 on a Kentucky 11. Seven games ended first quarter touchdowns. Ten in deadlocks.

Tennessee and Kentucky offer a contrast in their attacks. Tennessee relies heavily on the straight power of the single wing; Kentucky uses the T liberally sprinkled with passes.

Their rivalry dates to 1853. Tennessee has 28 victories and Kentucky 11. Seven games ended first quarter touchdowns. Ten in deadlocks.

Diver Directs His Own Rescue From Icy Waters

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Trapped almost five hours in icy ocean waters, William Wood directed his own rescue from one of his closest scrapes in years of deep-sea diving.

The 48-year-old Wood worked two ordinary auto jacks to lift iron bars that pinned him to the Golden Gate.

Searchlights were played on the scene, 3 1/2 miles off Land's End, and scores watched from shore as Wood was lifted aboard his ship, the Salvager, at 7:30 last night.

Although he was rushed unconscious to a decompression chamber for treatment against the bends, Woods was found suffering only from shock and exhaustion.

He told reporters he had started salvage operations he thought might net him "some money for Christmas" for his wife and two daughters in Santa Barbara, Calif. He was seeking to recover brass and copper from a barge that sank off Land's End years ago.

About 2:30 P. M., the tide pushed from bars over him and pinned his legs and feet. Wood was wearing full divers' equipment. He was 25 feet below the surface.

After an hour's struggle, he phoned the Salvager crew to send distress signals.

The Coast Guard brought the eight-pound jacks. They were lowered according to instructions from Wood. After hours of careful maneuvering, Wood dislodged the bars, only to be caught by debris on the way up.

The veteran diver moved that and the crew hauled him up, taking 20 minutes because of the pressure difference.

A Chinese Communist soldier who grabbed the swinging cable was flipped about like a fly on the end of a bull whip. Two fellow Communists rescued him and helped hold the balloon until the official crew arrived. The balloon became docile under their professional touch.

Jets clashed over Korea today for the first time in five days. The fight came just 12 hours after superforts bombed a new red jet base two miles from Red China's Manchurian frontier.

Two MIG-15s were damaged in a battle in bright sunlight between about 30 Red jets and 50 American F-84 Thunderjets, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported. It said all Thunderjets returned safely.

During the night 12 B-29 superforts ignored an angry cordon of Red jets and roared through intense flak in the first bombing raid on the Communists' Uiju jet base.

The strike was effective, Far East Air Force said. It reported all B-29s returned from the raid two miles south of the Yalu River boundary.

This strike is close to the "sanctuary of Manchuria" pointed out to block off the growing Communist air threat and keep the Reds from setting up bases in North Korea close to the battle line.

Allied spotter planes recently reported MIGs nesting in Korea for the first time in the war. The field was Uiju. Red Saboteurs strafed the field Sunday, caught 11 MIGs on a taxi strip and reported eight destroyed or damaged.

Then the big superforts hit last night.

The B-29s spilled 100-pound bombs at the 7,100 foot runway and dropped quarter-ton incendiary bombs which burst jagged chunks of steel at planes hidden in revetments.

Communist jets snarled around the B-29s but F-84s and other fighters made no attempt.

"The whole sky was full of searchlights," one crewman said. "It looked like they were trying to track us."

"We nailed the target and also knocked out a flak battery," another said. "When our bombs exploded the searchlights went out and the flak stopped."

foreign ministers agreed here yesterday on the main principles of a contract to end the occupation of West Germany and give Adenauer's government more freedom. But the agreement falls short of the full independence the Germans want.

The agreement—drafted largely during negotiations at Bonn—was approved by Adenauer, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

Details were kept secret, because five supplementary agreements must first be drafted before West Germany gets her new status. Among them is one covering Germany's contribution to the proposed army which will serve under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic Command.

Nine months of negotiations with the Germans on their army contribution have failed to bring an accord. The Big Three told Adenauer yesterday his government wouldn't get the independence contract until it agreed to supply the troops.

Sulphur Is Found To Speed Wound Healing Process

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—(AP)—Wounds heal faster when certain sulphur compounds are included in the diet, a medical researcher reported today.

Dr. Martin B. Williamson, associate professor of Biochemistry at the Loyola University School of Medicine, said these sulphur amino acids are found in the proteins of eggs, milk, wheat, corn and some other foods.

He told the American Chemical Society's Chicago section that his finding throws new light on earlier discoveries that a high protein diet speeds healing.

Tests on experimental animals showed their wound healing rate was much more rapid on high protein diets than on low protein diets.

However, further experiments showed the addition of a sulfur amino acid to the low protein diet produced nearly the same healing speed as the high protein diet.

He said this indicated that it was the sulfur compounds and not the protein diet that speeded healing.

Dr. Bernard Wolpert of the Miner Laboratories, Chicago, reported that the production of alcohol from sugar can be speeded by a new vitamin-like material found in the by-products of sewage purification systems.

Ex-Klansmen Sent To Prison Again

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 23.—(AP)—David C. Stephenson, former Indiana grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, today was ordered returned to Indiana to resume his life term for the death of a young woman statehouse worker in 1925.

The state supreme court order marked an end in Minnesota counts to a year-long fight for freedom by the plump, balding Stephenson, once a power in Indiana politics.

Stephenson, 56, was convicted of second degree murder for the death of Madge Oberholzer, 24, in March, 1936, he was paroled and given permission first to live in Oklahoma and then Illinois. He disappeared from Cahoonville, Ill., and was sought by Indiana as a parole violator.

He was arrested in a Minneapolis suburb last November and ordered extradited to Indiana. Stephenson obtained a writ of habeas corpus, but the court threw out in district court. He appealed to the state supreme court, which upheld the lower court.

Stephenson argued that the only condition of his parole was that he never return to Indiana. He claimed his parole was revoked when he was found in Indiana political circles.

sets of rails and is a converging point for 32 sets of upper and lower level tracks originating from Grand Central terminal.

Following the wreck, emergency aid came fast. The third rail current was turned off quickly. Police, fire and hospital units raced to the scene within 10 minutes.

When the crash came, the train derailed a year ago on the Long Island Railroad flashed through the minds of many passengers. In that wreck—Nov. 22, 1950, on Thanksgiving eve—79 persons were killed and more than 125 injured when an eastbound train smashed into the rear of another eastbound train that had halted in Queens.

New Haven railroad officials had no immediate explanation for the cause of yesterday's collision. However, police said the express, specially put into service to help handle the holiday rush, went through a switch.

Traffic was blocked in and out of Grand Central terminal for three hours before tracks could be cleared. Some 20,000 commuters and holiday visitors were stranded.

states. It was on the chilly side westward to the Pacific coast.

Temperatures dropped to below zero in parts of Minnesota and North Dakota early today. Lower readings were forecast tonight for most of the mid-continent. A fresh batch of cold air moved into North Dakota and Montana this morning from Canada and was expected to spread over the north central region.

It was mild over most of the Gulf states, the Ohio valley and the Middle and South Atlantic States. For the first time in several days no sub-freezing readings were reported in the South.

Rain fell from parts of Missouri and Arkansas northeastward through the Ohio valley to the lower Great Lakes region and New York state. Thunderstorms were reported in the middle Mississippi and lower Ohio valleys. Some light snow fell over most of Montana and the Dakotas, parts of Minnesota and in the Central Rockies.

naked Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway for an investigation.

Persons familiar with the matter said Gromyko charged that an American plane deliberately crossed the border in the area of Vladivostok, that it was pursued and fired upon by Soviet fighters, and was last seen disappearing toward the sea.

These persons did not say the date of the alleged border violation.

Vladivostok is Russia's great naval base on the Pacific. At the coast, Siberia adjoins Korea.

The Russians are understood to have reported that the U. S. plane was of the reconnaissance type.

The U. S. has several types of reconnaissance planes. Most carry two or more men. The term also could be applied to big patrol craft with a normal complement of 10.

The decorations announced in Moscow were made to Lt. Ivan Lukashov and Lt. Moisei Shchukin, navy fliers. They received the Order of the Red Banner for "exemplary fulfillment of their service duties."

The Moscow press gave front page displays to the awards in a fashion which suggested they were unusual cases, but did not say what the lieutenants had done to merit them.

The Russian press similarly treated the awards given in April, 1950, to Soviet fliers who shot down an unarmed U. S. patrol plane over the Baltic Sea. The 10 U. S. crewmen perished.

but did not materially damage the truck.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning, Mr. Harrison's sleep was interrupted by a call to investigate a collision on Celery Avenue two miles east of Sanford. Cars wrecked in the head on crash were a 1938 Pontiac driven by Olden Gordon, Sanford Negro, and a 1946 Ford driven by Sidney Hillman, Geneva. Neither was injured. Damage was estimated at $10,000 to each car.

Another sleep interrupting call came at 3:35 A.M., and Mr. Harrison hurried to the Osteen Bridge where about 150 feet west of the bridge keeper's house he found a 1951 Mercury Coach in the ditch upside down. Its owner is a Negro sailor, Roy L. Burd. The driver, another locally stationed Negro, Charles H. Williams, was turned over to Mr. Harrison on a charge of reckless driving.

Williams, who, according to Mr. Harrison, had been drinking, was unable to give the name of a Negro who had been riding with him, and who it is believed was injured.

On Wednesday night at 8:50 o'clock, William Oscar Deason of DeLeon Springs, was driving two miles east of Geneva on Highway 46 when his 1949 Oldsmobile coach caught fire. It could not be saved in spite of the efforts of Mr. Harrison and Ratliff wreckers, using extinguishers loaned by the Naval Air Station. Loss was estimated at $1500.

At 7:40 o'clock this morning a 1950 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Roth Jalbert on Fourteenth Street, collided with a 1937 Chevrolet sedan being driven south on Sanford Avenue by Gertrude Smith, Geneva. No injuries were reported by police.

U.S. Agrees To Disarmament Talk With Soviet Russia

Resolution Suggests Big Four Meet Privately To Bring About Disarmament

PARIS, Nov. 25—(AP)—The United States agreed today to meet with Russia for private disarmament talks as suggested by a group of Asian-Arab states, but expressed doubt as to the usefulness of the move.

Iraq, Pakistan and Syria submitted a resolution to the 50-member United Nations Political Committee asking that the Big Four—Russia, the United States, Britain and France—meet privately under the presidency of assembly President Lala Padiarri of Mexico to try to reconcile the Western and Russian disarmament plans.

Ambassador Philip C. Jessup later told the committee the U. S. was ready to do this if the committee agreed. He pointed out, however, that the deputy foreign ministers of the four countries had tried for 14 weeks last spring to reach such an agreement without success.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky told reporters he had not yet decided on an answer to the Asian-Arab resolution aimed at ending the present tension.

Jessup challenged the contention of some of the small powers that it was useless for the assembly to continue discussion of disarmament without prior agreement among the Big Four.

The General Assembly, he said, "should not abandon its efforts in this field. We should leave no stone unturned."

In the first American answer to Vishinsky's major policy address last Saturday, Jessup went on to stress the importance of the Western powers putting on a "foot-proof" system of verifying arms disclosures made by the powers.

He insisted that under the Soviet plan the world would just have to believe the word of the Soviet Union.

At the beginning of his speech, Jessup took note of Vishinsky's "sincere wish in which he requested the Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, to hurry off to the NATO meeting in Rome and leaving behind a second rate representative."

Jessup said he hoped Vishinsky would have the patience to listen to "one to whom he referred with his customary courtesy as a 'second rate representative.'"

The Atlanta-based resolution was submitted shortly after India's Sir Benegal Rau had made a suggestion for a reconciliation committee to try to harmonize the two different views.

INFLUENCE PEDDLING

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—(AP)—Frank McKinney, new Democratic National Chairman, said today he had "assurances" that Frank M. Miles, one of his supporters, has not been invited to government influence peddling.

Jack Steele, writing in the New York Herald Tribune from Washington, said that Miles "has been a central figure for more than 10 years in one of the capital's most unsavory cases involving influence peddling."

BANK CONVENTION

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Nov. 25—(AP)—The 16th annual convention of the American Bankers Association of America named to study railroad operations and financing declared today complete overhauling of the national transportation policy "is essential" to prevent eventual government operation.

AID TO BRITAIN

ROME, Nov. 25—(AP)—Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler, met in closely guarded privacy today with U. S. Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder to seek new American help for the shaky British economy.

The two conferred for an hour for the first time since Butler took office with Winston Churchill's new Conservative government. Spokesmen for the two finance bosses said the session, at the U. S. embassy was completely private, with neither side not admitting a meeting.

MIAMI, Nov. 25—(AP)—Coral Gables policeman, Donald Hunt, 31, was shot twice but not seriously wounded today by a Negro he had arrested for a robbery.

The Negro, Howard Green, 34, was captured after a two-hour hunt in which a score of radio patrol cars participated.

Inquest Is Slated Tomorrow Into Crossing Wreck

Speeding And Faulty Brakes Believed Accident Causes

The official coroner's inquest into the train-car crash, which killed six people and injured 20 others, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Seminoles County Courthouse.

The crash occurred on the Southern Railway tracks near New Orleans, 320 miles from New York, on Saturday night.

The train was carrying 400 passengers, many of whom were returning from the Atlanta Fair.

The Southern Railway has stopped after pulling out from the siding. The Crescent rounded a curve and derailed.

The train was traveling back 80 feet, said George Newton, Birmingham, Ala., a passenger in the third coach of the northbound train. "Everybody was running like a madman," he said.

Normally the Crescent operates over the Southern to Atlanta, over the West Point route to Montgomery, Ala., and thence to New Orleans via the L.A.N.

All of the 400 dead were on the Southern, most of them in the first car, which was smashed like an eggshell. Trainmen said P. J. Powers, Birmingham, engineer of the northbound train, was killed and his body caught in the wreckage. It had not been recovered.

Fifteen Negro dead were removed from the ill-fated car, the "Mississippi," a combination baggage-passenger coach with 22 seats.

Panic flashed like prairie fire through the 400 passengers, many stunned and bleeding. Eye-witnesses aboard the Southern and the Crescent told of an instant of deadly silence, then screams of pain and fright. Men and women who were able scrambled for safety.

And some, with quiet heroism, joined immediately in ministering to the injured.

Only in the first car of the Southern was the horror cut short quickly for its occupants, but there it was the welcome sound of death that stifled all agony and fear.

J. P. Boykin, Woodstock, a part-time preacher, was one of the heroes. Rushing to the shattered train, he helped remove the still living from the ill-fated car.

When hope for survivors faded, he worked through the night, a mighty figure swinging a sledgehammer like it was a hatchet, helping cut through the steel sides to reach the dead.

A few passengers and trainmen in the Southern's cars gathered around the wreckage, some of whom were two attendants on the Southern. Standing on the platform, they watched the tragedy.

Texas GI Is Rescued After Three Nights Buried In Chinese Sector

Harold Whitman, 20, Polk Co., Miss., Found After Being Buried In Korean War

WESTERN FRONT, Korea, Nov. 25—(AP)—A lean Texas GI was rescued after three nights in a battered bunker in Chinese territory while the 44-hour battle of "Little Gibraltar" raged above him.

Harold Whitman, 20, Polk Co., Miss., emerged from the dug-out in good condition when the Allies finished retaking all peaks of the hill Sunday.

Here's a little bit of what Whitman survived:

Artillery pounding, a dirt and stone shower, Chinese tramping on his stomach, an attempted Red bayonetting, snow, wet and freezing weather, and the terror of sleepless nights, always expecting the Chinese to find him.

During all this time, Whitman could move only one arm in the dark and had only one stick of gum to chew on "until there wasn't any flavor left and then..."

Whitman is small and weighs about 125 of 145 pounds and sports a black mustache.

He recalled all details except which night the dugout had raved.

High School Glee Club Has Program At Rotary Meet

Members of the Seminole High School Glee Club entertained the Rotary Club at the regular luncheon today at the Seminole Hotel.

The Triple Trio of the Seminole High School Club under the direction of Miss Olive Reese White entertained the Rotary Club at the regular luncheon today at the Seminole Hotel.

First report of the accident came when a man driving over the accident intersection saw a body lying near the crossing. He reported it to Deputy Sheriff H. O. Swarford of Altamonte who immediately called the County Jail in Sanford for an ambulance. Deputies called Kenneth W. Lewis at the Mosely Funeral Home at about 7:25 A. M. He left immediately for the accident scene.

In the meantime trainmen of the Groveland-Sanford freight, which involved in the collision, didn't know of the accident because of the noise of the train until it was backing out of the station. W. C. Hires, A. C. L. investigator, to blood on the fifteenth box cars. He then phoned Sheriff P. A. Mero's office reporting to Highway Patrolman Bob Morrison his suspicion of an accident down the line.

Contrary to earlier reports that the accident scene was shrouded in fog, Engineer of the Atlantic Coast Line freight, which was struck by the car, J. L. Hobby said, "The fog had lifted just south of Forest City and when we crossed the accident intersection it was not foggy as some papers reported it." The automobile containing the six Negroes was traveling west on the north side of right hand lane at an undetermined rate of speed, commencing skidding 87 1/2 feet from the point of collision at the tracks.

This was determined by the marks on the road which indicated the brakes had been applied at that point.

The trail clearly indicated the car swerved into the south lane or left hand side of the road.

Negotiators Agree On Exact Location Of Cease Fire Line

Haggling Is Hit By Eisenhower In NATO Address

Emphasis Is Laid On Need For Building Up Strength, Unity

ROME, Nov. 25 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower sternly warned Atlantic Pact commanders to stop haggling over command appointments, forget individual national glory and "attempt the impossible" in building true Western security against aggression by quibbling their sovereignty.

He declared that unless Europe's defense line is built strongly, "to east of the Rhine, there never will be peace without fear. The war interrupted as a definite extension to inclusion of German forces in the Atlantic Pact army."

The Atlantic Pact supreme commander addressed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) chiefs of staff in advance of an appearance before the 12-nation NATO council, he is slated to tell its members they must step up their defense efforts for peace through strength.

Testifying as a NATO member, Eisenhower reported that Britain had accepted a proposal to set up an American-led North Atlantic naval command at once. Britain is committed, on paper, to an appointment as commander in chief of the North Atlantic command, but apparently the British want action deferred until a British is put in charge of the projected Middle East command. The Atlantic Pact defense ministers are too unimpressed that this action be postponed until Greece and Turkey formally enter the partnership, probably in January.

Testifying as a NATO member, Eisenhower said Prime Minister Churchill's government has far also refused to accept the American 30 called Garand as the standard rifle for the Atlantic Allies. Britain still is arguing in favor of its own new .280 rifle.

The North Atlantic command structure, the NATO Command, the small arms standardization and the streamlining of NATO military structures are the chief issues being argued down the North Atlantic. It is a matter to be decided here.

Eisenhower warned the chiefs of staff that to one nation alone an discharge the great responsibility for security and order. We must pool sovereignty, we must attempt the impossible.

He urged that there be less dispute over command appointments, and that the great responsibility for security and order be discharged by the members of the Atlantic organization, but there still were great differences to be overcome, such as questions of training, mobilization and reserves of the various countries. He urged utmost cooperation in solving these difficulties.

The American general said that although progress was being made toward meeting the problems, there still was lack of understanding of the common factors involved.

Sen. Taft Denies Truman Charge On '48 Campaign

Byrd Says Time Has Come To End Truman Administration

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Sen. Charles McNary, Democrat, described as "completely false" today the assertion by President Truman that "special interests" poured money into Ohio in 1948 to reelect Taft to the Senate.

Testifying as a Senate hearing, Taft said it was his opponent, not his supporters, who poured out the funds in the campaign. He added:

"They were guilty of every use of money, pouring funds into Ohio from every state in the union. They used false front organizations, they sent campaign agents and outside organizations into Ohio. They based their campaign on lies and misstatements about my personal life."

The campaign agent who had declared, "I represented a 100 percent constituency." In which his opponent, McNary, apparently would stop at nothing.

Taft, now a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year, was reelected to the Senate in 1948 by a popular margin over Joseph P. Kennedy, his Democratic opponent.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said today he regards President Truman as "weaker today than any other possible Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1952 and he does not think the President can be re-elected."

Byrd, perhaps Mr. Truman's bitterest critic within his own party, said however, it is his personal belief "that he is going to run if it thinks he can win," and he added "I've been doing all I can to help him make up his mind. I don't think he can be elected if nominated."

Mr. Truman has said he has decided whether he will run again but is not ready to announce his decision.

Senator Almon (R-Vt.) proposed that the Republican nominate for the vice presidency the Senate's only current woman member, Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. Mrs. Smith said she is not a candidate.

"I know she would greatly appreciate it," he said.

Caudle Testifies, Feared Death In Tax Scandal Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—(AP)—Lamar Caudle, ousted assistant attorney general, testified today that he was "afraid for my life" because of his efforts to stamp out racketeering in Charlotte, N. C., where he formerly was U. S. attorney.

In an emotion-charged appearance before a House Ways and Means subcommittee investigating his prosecution of tax fraud cases, Caudle said he was the victim of the "malicious intent" of Charlotte Police Chief Frank Little and two federal agents.

"(God-forsakenly, the hatred and bitterness they have against me is incalculable," he cried.

Just before Caudle took the witness stand, the committee and Attorney General McGrath reached agreement on opening up Justice Department files dealing with tax fraud prosecutions.

Rep. King (D-Calif.) chairman of House Ways and Means investigating subcommittee, told news that the Attorney General had agreed to make the disputed files available this afternoon.

The development came as the subcommittee called up former Assistant Attorney General T. H. Morris to investigate the handling of tax cases referred to by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

It occasioned a delay in getting the expected week-long hearings under way, and King said they would be recessed during the afternoon to permit investigators to go to the Justice Department for an examination of files relating to the Caudle hearing.

King said the agreement worked out did not mean that the files would be given into the committee's possession. But he said McGrath agreed to let staff investigators check through the records at the Justice Department for such information as the committee specified.

The hearings will give Caudle a chance to explain the outside "pressure" to which he said he was subjected in his tax work.

LOTTERY SENTENCE

OILAND, Nov. 25—(AP)—Grover F. Barnett, 27, drew a one-year prison sentence from Orange County criminal court Judge William M. Murphy today after he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a lottery.

Barnett, who was arrested after a Negro complained that he had not received a ballot payment, told Judge Murphy he had not made payment because his pickup man had not come by for the payment.

A new state law makes the prison sentence mandatory upon conviction of the lottery charge. Barnett, slugged by the size of the sentence, was also ordered to pay court costs of serve another 30 days in prison.

MOSSADEGH WINS

TEHRAN, Iran, Nov. 25—(AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh won a unanimous vote of confidence in the Iranian senate today, paving the way for national elections in the next two or three days.

The vote followed a similar ballot in the Majlis (lower house) yesterday when Mossadegh persuaded the deputies to reverse their earlier decision to postpone the elections until Dec. 15.
