EXCESS PROFITS TAX REPEAL MAY BE RETROACTIVE

SENTIMENT GROWING IN COMMITTEE, SAYS SENATOR PENROSE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—There is a growing sentiment in the senate finance committee to make repeal of the excess profits tax retroactive to last January 1.

It is understood that Secretary Mellon will suggest retroactive repeal of this tax when he appears before the committee today to submit a written statement as to future government needs.

Members of the senate committee are understood to take the position that the Republican party made a definite promise to repeal this tax immediately.

Other matters considered yesterday by the committee included house provisions for taxing insurance companies; administrative provisions of the income tax; repeal of the transportation taxes and an additional tax of $4.20 a gallon on alcoholic liquors withdrawn for non-beverage purposes and diverted to beverage use.

DEVALERA MAKES STATEMENT REGARDING ENGLAND'S STAND, SAYS MAKE AN ULTIMATUM

And Make it Real Meaning Peace or War in Full Term

(By The Associated Press)

DUBLIN, Sept. 7.—On the eve of a meeting of the British cabinet at Inverness, Scotland, to take action on the Irish problem, Eamonn DeValera, the Irish republican leader yesterday quite unexpectedly issued a statement to the press, in which, after reiterating Ireland's earnest desire for peace, declared that peace could never be founded on make-belief.

"Let us lay aside the camouflage and put away the hypocrisy," said Mr. DeValera. "If England is issuing an ultimatum, let it be an ultimatum." War, not peace, would be the outcome of the imposition of England's proposals by force, according to Mr. DeValera, who went on to assert that England had no basis in right for a single demand she was making on Ireland and would not dare to make such demands upon a "power even nearly as strong as herself."

It was announced earlier in the day by the Sinn Fein leaders that there was nothing to communicate; then suddenly came a call, and a typewritten statement was given out.

Though bitterness is to be observed in the pronouncement, it is noted that it does not amount to a rupture of the negotiations; nevertheless its issuance at this critical moment is believed here to add to the gravity of the situation.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7.—"To me, the writing into our constitution of the Eighteenth amendment was unpardonable," said the Right Reverend Thomas P. Gailor, Episcopal Bishop of Tennessee on the eve of the Fourth Synod of the province of the Pacific of the Episcopal church which opened today. "I take no part in politics, I am neither Republican nor Democrat in such questions but politicians of both parties have played politics with the good name and conscience of this country. Whatever in the League of Nations was repugnant could have been written out but to refuse to countenance any measure for universal peace was nothing but a denial of every principle for which this country went to war."

WEST VIRGINIA BATTLE FIELDS SEEM QUIET

BODIES OF TWO MINERS ARE BROUGHT TO CHARLESTON

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 7.—The bodies of two local miners, said to have been killed in last week's firing in the vicinity of the Boone-Logan county line, were brought to Charleston yesterday.

West Virginia's coal fields were reported quiet last night at the offices of Governor Morgan. It was declared that no indications of renewed rifle firing in the recently disturbed regions had been received during the day. Quiet has likewise returned to Mingo county, where firing across the Tug river from the Kentucky side took place last week, it was said.

LOGAN, W. Va., Sept. 7.—The southern section of West Virginia, the scene of the present conflict between miners, residents and public authorities, has been noted for its bloody conflicts, feuds and lawlessness for a century.

The picturesque mountain section, comprising the counties of Wyoming, Logan, Mingo, McDowell and Boone has rarely been without some sort of warfare or smouldering quarrel, likely at any moment to burst into the flame of rifle fire.

Hemmed in by rugged mountains, the early settlers were cut off from the outside world and succeeding generations have so remained to a more or less extent. Roads are few, travel is slow and tedious and the advance of civilization has skirted this mountainous region until today it has gained the reputation of being one of the most primitive sections east of the Mississippi river.

Good Roads and County Agent Raised Many Points

NOTHING IS DONE

ON EITHER QUESTIONS BROU' BEFORE THE BOARD YESTERDAY.

At the meeting of the County Commissioners yesterday, there were several matters up for their consideration and while there were some heated arguments about some of them, it is hoped that the Commissioners and the citizens of the county and city can get together with the board and work out these problems to the satisfaction of all parties concerned.

The members from the Good Roads and Trade Extension Committees were present and asked for the co-operation of the Commissioners toward making the road to Osecola, and connections with the Titusville road and several other places where good roads would do the most good. It was finally decided to have the committees to see just what kind of tentative plans could be adopted after interviewing the business men of Sanford and the Osecola folks and bring the plans to the next meeting of the County Commissioners.

Another warm argument was started over the county agent question. At the last meeting of the County Commissioners when their budget was made up it was decided to drop the county agent and save this item of expense in cutting down the millage. The farmers when it was learned that C. M. Berry the agent had been cut out started a petition and it was generously signed by all the growers in and around Sanford and by many of the business men stating that a county agent was badly needed.

Several arguments pro and con were started and it was finally decided that since the budget had been made up for the year the matter would be laid over until the next meeting at which time it will probably be settled. All of the counties in the state that have any agricultural prospects have county agents and the growers want one for Seminole but since the county pays part of his salary and the government part of it the question will eventually be left to the tax payers and the Commissioners to settle and it will be taken up at another meeting.

The County Commissioners are doing all they can to keep expenses down by trimming their budget and their efforts in this respect are appreciated but the people do not want them to cut anything that is necessary and the agent seems necessary to the farmers. The people are supposed to appear before the County Commissioners when they want anything and make their wishes known and the County Commissioners are supposed to hear these petitions at any time they are brought before them.

GUARANTY BANK AND TRUST COMPANY OF JACKSONVILLE CLOSES DOORS TODAY BY COMPTROLLER

Recent Liquor Cases Responsible for Decrease of Business

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 6.—The Guaranty Bank & Trust Company, of this city, failed to open its doors today having been taken over by the state comptroller at the request of the board of directors. W. M. Bostwick, president, said the bank was placed in the hands of the comptroller because of the withdrawal of deposits due to the indictment of several of its officials in connection with the federal investigation of the liquor situation here exceeded collections. R. E. Wheeler, chairman of the board, indicted by the federal grand jury several weeks ago on charge of conspiracy to violate the liquor laws. J. E. Madigan, cashier, was arrested on information filed by the United States attorney but the case against him was quashed at the preliminary hearing. Wheeler and Madigan resigned some time ago. Bostwick was under indictment for having liquor in his possession. Officials of the bank, which was a private institution capitalized at $100,000 said the deposits on June 30 were one million nine hundred thousand dollars but that after the indictment of Mr. Wheeler depositors gradually withdrew funds. Deposits last Saturday totalled only $142,000. It was stated the depositors would lose nothing as resources amply sufficient to protect them. The bank has $751,000 outstanding in loans and local clearing house association asked to call all loans immediately. Bostwick said the bank was turned over to the comptroller primarily for the purpose of liquidating its affairs and reorganizing.

FOUND ROADS IN SOUTH THE BEST ON BIG TRIP

J. R. and Charles Greenlees returned overland this week from Florida. They made the journey all right until they reached Missouri roads, and day before yesterday their car upset, pinning both of them beneath. Neither was more than bruised and made the rest of the journey to Lawrence without incident. "The roads in the southern states are far ahead of those in Kansas and Missouri," said Charlie Greenlees this morning. "State control of road work in most of the southern states through which we passed, has resulted in the building of concrete roads or dirt roads that are finely surfaced and well kept up. We have always thought the roads of Kansas are bad enough, but our experience with Missouri roads puts them in a class by themselves. The Kansas highways are much better."—Lawrence (Kans.) FLORIDA CALLED BRIGHT SPOT IN GOVT. SURVEY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Some improvement in industrial conditions in the South is shown in the monthly survey of the employment service of the department of labor for August. The brightest spot in the South appears to be in Florida, which reports practically no unemployment and a state-wide shortage of labor. Of the six cities for which reports based on actual count were submitted, four show increases in employment for August over July. They are Chattanooga, Birmingham, and Richmond. New Orleans showed a decrease of 1.06 per cent. In the South Atlantic district, including Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Florida, gratifying increases in railroad occupations and textiles have taken place. Fifteen railroad companies report a total employment of 225,952, an increase of 20,268, and 310 textile mills report a total employment of 99,005, an increase of 2,871. Lumber products plants numbering 103, report the employment of 8,001, a small increase, although operators seem to think the outlook is not encouraging. Twenty-two operators generally are discouraged as to the outlook, while some express confidence that conditions will improve in the near future. Unemployment continues in iron and steel and among unskilled labor, the outlook for the latter class being extremely discouraging. Farm labor is abundant; building is active in spots.

The situation in individual states as indicated by the survey shows: Virginia—Twenty-five textile mills reporting employment of 10,100, show an increase for the month of 101. Unskilled labor shows increased unemployment, with opportunities for that class of labor steadily decreasing.

North Carolina—Reports indicate improved conditions generally throughout the state, 99 textile mills reported 29,038 on the payrolls August 15, an increase of 112 as compared with that of July 15. Textile operators, while not optimistic, expect to be able to continue on full time there. Thirty-six lumber products mills report 2,227 on the payrolls August 15, a decrease in the number employed of 83 as compared with the previous month. Lumber men generally are pessimistic as to the outlook.

South Carolina—Seventy-seven textile mills report employment of 30,061 on August 15, an increase of 1,390. Mill operators generally report full time operations but differ in their opinions as to the outlook. A majority report satisfactory increase in orders and appear cheerful in regard to the future. Thirty-four lumber products concerns employed 2,593 on August 15, an increase of 186 since July 16. Unemployment continues serious in shipping and among unskilled labor.

Georgia—Iron and steel plants and machine shops are running much below normal; saw mills and wood working concerns are practically holding their own, but are not encouraged as to the present outlook. One hundred and nine textile mills, employing 28,898, show an increase in employment over last month of 977 and operators generally are hopeful of the future.

Florida—Practically no unemployment is reported anywhere in the state. A housing shortage that affects practically every city and that will become more acute with the opening of the tourist season, is being in some measure relieved by extensive building program, which have furnished employment to all available building trades workers and in some instances have even necessitated outside assistance. Planting mills are reported as working full capacity. Preparations for the planting of winter vegetables followed by handling the citrus crop, will require all available labor. Lake county reports a shortage of labor for road work. The present statewide labor shortage is expected to be remedied by the usual drift from the north during the winter.

Tennessee—Improvement has been noted in the building trades; otherwise there has been little change.

PUPILS SHOULD HAVE HEALTH CERTIFICATES.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 5.—With the approach of the fall and winter term of school, the state board of health is calling attention, through a bulletin just issued, to the state law which requires that a child entering a public school of this state must have a certificate from a reputable physician "stating that they are free from all communicable diseases and are not carriers of any."

The board's bulletin does not state whether or not this rule is to be enforced or whether it is merely a precautionary move. The board's statement follows: "With the close of vacation time and the opening of the school year, we are reminded that the schools are places of close contact, and possible clearing houses for the spread of disease. "Certain disease germs, notably of diphtheria and typhoid fever, may be present in a person's system and that person not be sick with the disease. "Such a person is called a 'carrier' and is a possible source of infection for others. The attention of parents and teachers is called to Rule No. 13 of the 'State Board of Health Rules and Regulations,' i. e., "All children on entering school in Florida must present a certificate from a reputable physician, stating that they are free from all communicable diseases and are not carriers of any."

"The strict observance of this rule will prevent the occurrence of an epidemic, and serve to protect the health of all the children. "Copies of the state board of health 'Sanitary Code,' which contains all rules and regulations for the protection of health in the state may be had by any teacher or parent by making request for same to the state board of health."

CAUSES OF STUNTED GROWTH ARE GIVEN.

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 5.—Lectures on child nutrition, the fine points in breeding poultry, and the home orchard featured Saturday's program at the conference of home demonstration agents here at the State College for Women. Discussing poor health of children, Miss Estelle Bozeman, food specialist, declared worry, denial of food as punishment, and infrequent bathing and changing of clothes were among the things responsible for stunted growth.

Prof. C. K. McQuarrie of the College of Agriculture, Gainesville, advocated an orchard of at least half an acre for every rural home. The orchard, he said, should be devoted to the production of strawberries, dewberries, blackberries, grapes, figs, peaches, plums, pears and other fruits adapted to this climate. Professor McQuarrie declared that such an orchard, if properly cared for, would furnish the home table with fresh fruit every day in the year.

Other speakers included the Misses Minnie Floyd, Harriet Layton and Ralph Stoutamire, the latter of the Agricultural News Letter of the University of Florida.

The afternoon was devoted to group research work in the laboratories. One feature of the day was a luncheon served at noon by four of the demonstration agents as an example of what should constitute a school lunch. The hot lunch is a special feature of the home demonstration work in Florida.

ADVERTISING SPELLS SUCCESS

EVERY BUSINESS, LARGE AND SMALL, MUST ADVERTISE TO KEEP ALIVE

(From C. O. McLaughlin)

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 2, 1921.
 Mr. R. J. Holly, Editor,
 The Sanford Herald,
 Sanford, Florida.

Dear Bob: As time goes on and I become more familiar with advertising, and the successful business people who do advertising, I naturally notice most anything that comes within my sphere having any relation to it.

I attach for your edification an advertisement I clipped a day or two ago from the New York Times, of August 29. Many of the New York papers, and large papers in other cities are advertising special features, hoping to increase sales and general circulation. This advertisement from the New York Evening Post is interesting. You are aware that the Saturday Evening Post, with its large circulation, and The Country Gentleman constantly advertise for the purpose of increasing circulation. If the New York daily and weekly magazines having tremendous circulation feel the necessity of advertising, it seems to me most anybody engaged in any other business might fairly consider the example.

In the September, 1921 issue of the Silent Partner is an item which appeals to me strongly:

"The business that does not need advertising can afford to advertise for the day when it will require more customers. The business that needs advertising cannot afford to remain silent on the subject of service."

In a recent issue of your paper you called attention to a Sanford organization which really deserves the support, not only of the people of the city of Sanford, but the people in Seminole county.

During my recent visit I said something about advertising to the manager of this organization, and he told me it was no use to advertise. My recollection is that he said it was his opinion people would buy stock if they wanted to, and advertising would not get additional subscribers. Of course, I did not argue the point with him, because my mind is well fixed about advertising and I know that advertising pays when it is properly and intelligently done.

Yours sincerely,
 C. O. McLAUGHLIN.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE FERNALD-LAUGHTON HOSPITAL HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The new members of the executive committee of the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital met at the hospital last night and re-organized the committee, electing A. P. Connelly, chairman, and Mrs. W. F. Blackman, of Lake Monroe, secretary.

The committee discussed many things of importance to the hospital, and will take steps immediately to collect the membership dues that have been due for two years, and have never been collected since no campaign has been made to obtain them. The membership dues are for the current expense of the hospital and are supposed to be paid each year. The first year of the existence of the hospital every one paid up, but since that time, they have not been collected for their dues, and they now owe two years for membership. However, if they will pay up for one year, it will help the hospital and pay the deficit that faces them in the summer time, when there are no patients in the institution, but the expenses are going on as usual.

Miss Kathleen Brady is collecting the dues now, and everyone should pay up when approached. It is for one of the greatest institutions in our midst. No hospital pays expenses, but is dependent upon the public for funds every year. The local hospital is no exception to the rule, but up to the present time has struggled along and managed to pay the bills. It is really up to every citizen in the county to help keep the hospital going by the membership dues. The county pays nothing for the upkeep of the hospital while other counties in the state pay large sums in their budgets each year for the maintenance of the local hospital.

The Fernald-Laughton Hospital is installing a new sterilizing machine, and making several improvements in the operating room that will give the hospital all the necessary facilities for operating this winter. The hospital is the pride of the city and county, and should have the help and support of the people at all times.

HON. JNO. D. JINKINS HONORED.

On his seventh anniversary of the Superintendency of the First Baptist Sunday School of this city, Hon. Jno. D. Jinkins was presented with a substantial purse by the officers and teachers of the school and was asked to use the same on a vacation. It was suggested that he spend the vacation in Atlanta, visiting the Tabernacle Sunday school which is the largest in this section of the country. Mr. Jinkins is one of the recognized Sunday school leaders in the state of Florida.

In the seven years that he has served in Sanford the school has grown from an average enrollment of 180 to 517. He is live, wide-awake, full of pep and enthusiasm. He makes anything go he puts his hand to. He is a member of that school of workers that has as its stimulant: "If you say you can—you can. If you say you can't your canned."

OPEN FISHING SEASON ON LAKE OKEECHOBEE

OKEECHOBEE, Sept. 7.—The fishing season has opened on Lake Okeechobee. Nearly all the crews went out Saturday fully manned and although the exact returns are not all in the indications are that nearly 80,000 pounds of fish were caught on the lake. A good portion of the hauls were scale fish. One crew caught 5,000 pounds of bream and trout but released them, owing to the slack market on scale fish at this time. If the market improves with colder weather a bumper year is expected.

PLAN DUTCH COLONY ON DRAINED LANDS.

TAMPA, Sept. 7.—Jean R. Van J. Blinck, vice copul for the Netherlands, left here yesterday for Moore Haven, where he will confer in perfecting plans for the establishment of a Dutch colony now in prospect. The plan, it is stated, is being promoted by J. Taylor, a Hollander, who has been in this country several years and who, it is said, will leave within a short time to organize the immigrants.

A PRINCESS PANEL

The princess effect that is so much admired, but is so exacting as regards the figure which essays it, yields much of its severity by the addition of a panel. The model pictured is in Palm Beach gray broadcloth, stitched with gray and black silk braid. While the neck is shown in round outline, provision also is made for a deep V with round collar. Medium size requires 3 3/4 yards 54-inch material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 9257. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

AN ALL-DAY FROCK

To express just the smartest lines conceivable, this one-piece frock of check flannel enlists rayon sleeves, round neck, large, graceful sash and straight silhouette. The sash is of velvet ribbon, but satin, faced with Georgette crepe or crepe de Chine may be used instead. The vestee is of plain silk to correspond. It with the bias facing about the neck. Medium size requires 3 yards 44-inch material, with 3/8 yard silk. Pictorial Review Dress No. 9486. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 35 cents. Also 18 to 20 years.

PUBLIC WARNED OF COUNTERFEIT NOTES FOUND BY TREASURY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Detection of three additional counterfeit federal reserve notes was announced by the treasury department and the public was warned to be on guard.

The first described was that of a $50 note of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, which was said to be identical with one recently detected, except the latter was on the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

The second was a $20 note on the Richmond, Va., Federal Reserve Bank, and said to be plainly the work of an amateur. The third was a $10 note of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston and said to be so poor that it could easily be detected by the ordinarily careful handler of money.

The Richmond counterfeit bears a portrait of Cleveland and the signature of D. F. Houston and John Burke. It is printed on two pieces of paper between which silk threads have been distributed. In the portrait of Cleveland, the face is so indistinct as readily to attract attention.

COPIES OF GENERAL LAWS ARE NOW READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 7.—Bound copies of the general laws, passed at the recent legislative assembly, have been received from the state printery and are ready for distribution through the office of Secretary of State H. Clay Crawford, it has been announced. The publication embodies 202 general statutes. It is paper bound and will be supplied to any one desiring a copy at a nominal price.

Three thousand copies have been printed to supply the demand.

TAMPA TIMES IS SPENDING MONEY

In newspaper circles there is much comment on the way that The Tampa Daily Times spends money for news and features. It is the only Florida daily that prints the famous David Lawrence letters. In addition to the full day and night reports of the Associated Press, the Times is building up a highly expensive special news and feature service, in its effort to publish a newspaper that will be interesting to every member of the family in homes all over Florida.

Besides The Times membership in the Newspaper Enterprise Association, which is known as one of the most complete news and feature syndicates in the country, it gives its readers the best comics obtainable—including "Mutt and Jeff," "Bringing Up Father," and "Doings of the Duffs."

Two special features of the Times are its sporting page and woman's page. These features alone cost them an enormous sum.

In all Florida homes where an interesting and complete newspaper is appreciated, the Tampa Daily Times should have a place.

The price of a three months' subscription is $1.75.

Orders should be sent direct to the Times, Tampa, Fla.—Adv.

SKILLFUL SHORT-CUT ARTIST IS EXPOSED

Tough Pitcher Finds Way to Stop Crookedness.

Lands Stunning Blow on Runner's Jaw as He Attempted to Take Cutoff for Second Base—Umpire Saw This Short Turn.

Cotton Tierney, persistent story teller with the Pittsburgh Pirates, says that on a team he played with in a certain minor league, there were two or three other sharpers who made a practice of cutting bases and getting away with it pretty often, since only one umpire to the game worked in this league. Rival teams howled, but the short-cut artists were clever and the umpires always admitted they didn't see the base cutting.

In one game one of these persistent base cutters singled and as the umpire ran over toward third to take a possible play there the runner cut first about ten feet and landed on second. The opposing team howled as usual, and as usual the umpire had missed the play.

The opposing pitcher was a tough guy and he was mighty mad about it. He told the blind umpire:

"You're going to see it if another one of these dudes tries to cut a base, for I am going to fix him so you'll have to see it."

About three innings later one of the base cutters hit, the chance for him, as the umpire was busy elsewhere, and it was evident he meant to take the cutoff for second. The tough pitcher started toward first base as the runner left the plate, and met the player just as he started his short turn, out went his fist, it landed full on the runner's jaw and he went down cold, completely knocked out, well inside the diamond.

The umpire turned around about that time and there by the runner like a dog, with the pitcher standing over him.

"Did you see this one?" shouted the pitcher angrily. "Come and look at his tracks, since he cut the base, then tell me if he's out."

The umpire solemnly announced that the runner was out for cutting first base.

"Yes, and he's out because I tucked him on the jaw," sarcastically answered the tough pitcher, "and he'll stay out until somebody brings him a drink of water."

Sporting Squibs of All Kinds

Paris reports a Dempsey cocknill. Yes, a knock-out in four rounds.

Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world, plans to make his home at Los Angeles.

The Connecticut state boxing commission has decided that moving pictures of ring contests will not be allowed in Connecticut.

A total of 35,964 trotters have records of 2:30 or better, 27,481 pacers are in the 2:25 list and 1,715 new performers at both galts were reported last year.

The central European powers which were not represented in last year's Olympic festivals at Antwerp are expected to take part in the 1922 renewal at Amsterdam.

NOTE TO BABE

Babe Ruth is a big guy, but he has never hit four homers in one game.

Bobby Lowe, Perry Werden and Ed Delahanty all have.

And Bambino with all his terrific slugging has never bounced out enough hits to total 407 bases for a season. Tip O'Neil beat in 1887 accomplished this feat.

George Sisler of the Browns came the nearest to O'Neil's mark in 1920, when he hit for a total of 399 bases.

There is no rest for a super. He no sooner cracks one record than all the high spots of history are trotted out for him to blaze away at. And he's expected to hurdle them or fall a shadow short of greatness.

THANKLESS

Wild Bill Donovan got a thankless job when he took over the steering of the Phillies.

He didn't make good because he did not have anything to make good with.

Rumors of his ousting were to be expected.

and minors, will retire at the end of this season to become an arbitrator of balls, strikes, et cetera.

Quinn came to the Yankees originally from the old Eastern league. For several years he played with the New York team, then wandered into the minors.

He went to the Pacific Coast league and after a successful career, became a member of the Chicago White Sox. There was a controversy over this deal and as a result Quinn came back to New York.

It seems to be the general verdict that, while baseball is the national sport, gambling is something else again.

Rochester has recalled Catcher Fred Ross from Petersburg of the Virginia league and transferred him to Flint of the Mid league.

For the first time in several weeks word comes from Chesty Mathewson. It is that he is still at Saranac Lake and still making physical progress.

Frank Shughnessy finally decided to accept the offer of Syracuse to manage the Stars and Tommy Mulder was thereupon given his release.

The baseball library of the late A. G. Spaulding was recently given to the New York Public Library by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Spaulding.

Paul Sherman, pitcher for the local American Association league baseball team was traded to the Milwaukee club for Jake Northrop, pitcher. The trade was an even one.

Billy Southworth is captain of the Boston Braves. The former Pittsburgh outfielder is putting plenty of pep into the crowd and they displayed a world of aggressiveness.

President Mike Cantillon is enthusiastic about the young talent in the Dakota league and predicts the league will graduate more players this fall than any league of its class.

A recent batch of decisions from the office of Commissioner Landis show reinstatement denied to Harvey Sutherland, John Shovelin, Norman Pitt, Joe Letter and Edward D. Kelley.

The date of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce welcome night to the Sanford Chamber of Commerce conflicts with our "big doings" here in Sanford and as we want Orlando to come up that night and help us celebrate it would never do to have the dates conflict. We suppose Orlando can change the date easily enough.

The membership dues for the Fernald-Laughton hospital are due and payable every year on the first of October or at any date when you think about keeping up your membership. This money goes for current expenses of this great institution and should be paid with the feeling that you are helping to support one of the greatest assets to the county.

Paper money of a smaller size is advocated by Senator Fletcher. Well, we have no objections only the present size seems small enough as long as we are spending it, but when a highwayman holds you up at night the present size of the bills look awfully large in your pocket. Bring back the old "shinplasters" of revolutionary days. The ladies could hide so many of them on their dear shins.

If there is anyone around Sanford who is out of employment they can get a job with the government on the Canadian or the Mexican border in the prohibition service. The only drawback is that the mortality rate on the two "far flung bottle lines" is very high. However, there are probably many hard boiled boys who would take the job if there is sufficient of the mazzina in it to pay.

Reports from Russia say that half a million are starving unless U. S. give them aid. The U. S. ought to stipulate that unless they give Lenin and Trotsky the "bum's rush" out of Russia there would be nothing doing in the soup kitchen. If they believe in Trotsky let them starve and the world would be better off without them—only Lenin and Trotsky should be starved to death first.

The gangster who killed the theatre manager in Jacksonville in cold blood in order to rob the cash box is now cringing in his cell at the county jail and trying to commit suicide in order to escape the rope. Such people are always cowards at heart. Getting a victim at the end of a pistol they are brave enough but when it comes to the crucial test of a man they are usually found to be wanting.

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO?

The schools will open soon, the public schools and the colleges, all over the land. Many of our boys and girls are going to high school and many of them having finished the high school are going to college. Have you stopped to consider what your life work is to be? Few know, and fewer still take any interest in this problem. The Jacksonville Metropolis has the following article on this subject that recalls some very interesting history on this subject and while we hardly want our children to take part in the movies or to be doorknopers the fact remains that money can be made and fortunes can be made in many lines of work.

home town, London, England, after an absence of nine years.

He will, doubtless, visit the music halls where his father and mother in years long past were poorly-paid performers. In particular, he will seek out the tiny theatre where Charlie, aged four, made his first stage appearance, singing the coster ballad, "Jack Jones."

At eight years, he played minor parts in the musical show, "The Yorkshire Lads," and the masterpiece, "From Rags to Riches."

From rags to riches! That is the story of Chaplain's life. Yes, you say, but it was genius that put him at the top.

Not altogether. Hard work was equally responsible. For Charlie Chaplin can remember when his boyhood home was an English workhouse—poorhouse, as we call it. Now 33 years old, his fortune is somewhere in the millions.

That's a big gap. Genius could not bridge it alone. For even a genius finds it a job to get out of the poorhouse level.

Does it require genius to make a million? No. But it does require something exceptional. For instance, exceptional plianthood.

The other day, in New York, James W. Hebron was buried. His first job was in 1877, as doorman at Delmonico's at $1 a day, "Jimmy" was so pleasant, so obliging, so eager to help everyone, that tips flowed in fast.

The Delmonico's rich customers began giving Jimmy real tips—tips on the stock market, on sound investments.

At his death, the former doorman was a millionaire.

There is no absolute formula for success.

The thing that will make one man rich might fall another man.

Henry Ford used a bicycle-repair shop as the starting place of his great industry. Others, who had bicycle repair shops, never got out of them.

Genius and hard work made Charlie Chaplin rich.

Pleasantness brought a million to "Jimmy" Hebron.

Other men build fortunes on thrift, inventions or a simple idea for performing a much-needed service.

In your make-up is some quality, some power, some ability that can be used as a vehicle to financial independence.

Study yourself. Analyze. Find that power. What can you do best? What do you like to do best? What are you best fitted for? Therein is your fortune.

WATCH FOR CROOKS

That Florida is to be favored with the visit of an exceptionally large number of crooks this season is practically certain. Enjoying the distinction of being one of the few states in which there is no unemployment, no hard times and no scarcity of either money or supplies, Florida is peculiarly attractive to the gentry who live by their wits. One terrible tragedy—that of the murder of a movie show manager at Jacksonville, who was killed while trying to guard the box office from the assault of a robber—is sufficient to carry a warning to every other city in the state to be on the lookout for suspicious characters.

This is a field in which the vigilance of the police is especially needed. They should scrutinize every visitor who presents the slightest appearance of suspicion. They should avail themselves of information from police departments of northern cities. The man who can not give a reasonable account of himself should be invited to move on.

And the citizen himself should be on guard at every point. Whether the stranger is trying to sell him something, or interest him in some speculative scheme, or lure him into some evil practice, or merely concerning himself unduly about his private affairs, he should make caution his watchword.

This vigilance is no reflection on the honest tourist, who is here for a definite purpose and is entitled, if he so desires, to carry on any legitimate business or occupation while here. It is not hard to distinguish between the honest man and the crook, if one will employ common sense methods; and it is just about as dangerous as well as unjust to suspect every person one meets as to trust every one. Most crooks carry their own danger signals. Keep an eye out for them.—Lakeland Telegram.

FLORIDA MUST OPEN THE DOOR.

The first settlement in the new world was in Florida, the exact point being in dispute between St. Augustine and Pensacola. In the centuries that have brought growth, progress and civilization to the world this, one of the most favored areas of the globe, has made scant progress as compared to less favored lands. Its population is less than that of a half dozen cities of the country, and yet its potential wealth is ten times as great as all of them combined.

There is no product of agriculture or horticulture that cannot be successfully grown in the state, there is no season during which it is impossible to conjure sustenance from the earth, from the streams or the surrounding seas and there are great forests through whose echoes the woodsman's axe has never been heard, from which to take material for homes for factories and cities.

But Florida is locked up as tight as a drum. With the greatest coast line of any state in this great union, so inadequate are the shipping facilities that the railroads entering the state through the one gateway are able to manipulate transportation in such a way that the state pays extreme royalties for furnishing its almost exclusive products to the great markets of the country. The unlimited potential assets lie dormant as if tied by the steel rails which make their availability practically impossible.

We have a cattle industry unlimited in its possibilities, yet it is as securely locked in by a government quarantine as if the wall of China were around the state; we are spending millions of dollars for good roads, but the door to them is securely locked by the impassable trails leading across the state's border line. In a recent statement on the floor of the United States senate Senator Fletcher pointed out, without contradiction, that Florida paid 25 per cent more to get its products to market than any other state in the union, not excepting California which is three times as far removed from market and which offers practically the same nature or products.

Florida is locked in by railroad control of ship lines as well as rail lines, and if we would open the door we must unite in establishing water transportation on the great free highways in order that the producer may get some adequate return for his products, seventy-five per cent of the proceeds of which he is now giving to the transportation lines.—Palatka News.

WE URGED THEM TO FIGHT BUT THEY'RE TOO PROUD TO BEG FOR THEIR EATS.

Truly, the world is unappreciative, those who undergo the greatest hardships, who sacrifice the most that their fellow citizens may gain, invariably get the short end. It would seem the world is unappreciative of their actions. The following dispatch from New York tells us of the plight of thousands of those fine young fellows, many who gave up their jobs at the call of their country and are now walking the streets of America hungry.

It reads: Jobless, penniless and hungry, hundreds of American veterans of the World War are besieging the Spanish consulate here to sign up with the Foreign Legion which Spain is recruiting for service against the Moor.

In faded and worn uniforms of the A. E. F., the ex-service men, many of whom have been out of work for weeks and months, are quite ready to forswear allegiance to the United States and to serve under a foreign flag on the edge of the Sahara for 30 cents a day.

"We're not doing it for a lark," they declare. "We're doing it to keep life in our bodies. We're hungry."

When a similar recruiting station opened in London last week it was stormed by applicants, most of them former soldiers who were out of work and desperate.

Recruiting began here this week. More than 400 Americans have joined in other large cities.

"These men are not' bloodthirsty adventurers; they are our own soldiers of 1917-1918, reduced almost to starvation because they cannot find work," says Hugh W. Robertson, assistant to the commander of the American Legion department of York-shire.

"These service men were not too proud to fight, but they are too proud to beg. We can't find work for them without the public's co-operation."

There are 200,000 World War veterans out of work in New York state the records of the Legion's department show, with 125,000 in New York city alone.—Reporter-Sitar.

It seems that Daytona is not the first Florida city to plant a Christmas tree. A Melbourne correspondent writes that several years ago a community Christmas tree was planted in the park here and now it is as perfect a specimen as could be found in any nursery; that the Christmas spirit lived with that tree and it is used every Christmas. This same correspondent says that the idea of "plant a tree for baby" originated in Melbourne and that later the idea was taken up all over the South by the Federation of Women's Clubs.

MIGHTY LIVELY EVENING. She asked Him To come to Her home And spend the evening. He went. She met Him at the door; Gave Him a cool handshake, And then He and She Sauntered into the parlor. Mother was there. Father was there. They all played dominoes. Father would butt in And talk of the surtax; Mother wondered why it was Girls wore so short skirts. It was awfully exciting. He hinted for the porch; She said it wasn't screened. Then She went out to make A pitcher of limende That was weak and sleepy, And brought in some cookies That had seen better days, And all the time He was as lonesome and sorry As the last spike up In a game of ten-plas. Maw and Paw kept glancing At the cuckoo clock That never failed to cue; And at nine-thirty, flat, He called for his hat And mentally cursed his luck. Then the three of 'em Went to the door with him. And he lied something scandalous; Said He'd had a good time And He was coming again— And She believed him Until She saw Him later With a r-e-a-l girl Who had trained Her Paw and Her Maw. To actually believe At about eight-thirty That they had a flat tire And had better go at once To some secluded garage To allow the evening's pleasure To begin to run on high. What that first girl needed Were several instructions Sent by mail and male Upon this essential topic; "First Aid to the Worried"— Provided She was anxious For a return date. Yassum. I thank you. —Thorn in Valley-Gazette.

RECEIVES BRUTAL BITE ON CHEEK Bill Simpkins, a substantial farmer living in South Georgia, near the Florida line, was brutally bitten on the cheek last Saturday night by an anopheles mosquito. This bite inflamed one side of his face and almost closed one of his eyes. The mosquito was not overtaken until next day when it was found resting quietly on the bed post. A barrage of torment was shot into him and he fell lifeless on the floor. Torment does not bluff, frighten or scare them; it kills them and does it now. Bill Simpkins says he wants a barrel of it. Won't ever keep house without it. Sold by all merchants.—Adv.

Most schools in Florida stop with the erection of buildings. While these buildings are modern in every respect it would pay the various counties to follow the example of the East's school board which has secured the services of an expert landscape engineer to lay out and beautify the grounds around the school building there. Beautiful grounds attract not only the attention of visitors but they lend to the education of the child and should be encouraged everywhere. Congratulations to Eastie.

A Little Shaver is a boy between four and eight years old. When you suddenly discover you haven't a baby any more but a regular, sure 'nuff little shaver it's a pretty sure sign you've got to do some building. He wants a room of his own. Maybe that means an addition to the house. A playhouse; a dog kennel; a high board fence to shin over; and repairs! Ask Dad—he knows! Dad buys lumber here. He's one of our best customers. GOOD BUSINESS BANDITS HELD UP GAMBLING JOINT.

Several men held up the occupants of a rear room in an alleged West Tampa gambling house late Monday night and escaped with several hundred dollars, according to reliable information that was reported to the Times Tuesday.

"Hands up and don't get unruly," one of the robbers is reported to have commanded when they entered the place "The first man who seeks to run will not have time to regret it!"

The patrons, it is said, were forced to stand with hands up, while two members of the bandit party went through their pockets. There was only a small amount of money in the game, but it is understood the total amount of loot was not less than $200.—Tampa Times

ORDERED TO LEAVE.

T. C. Cassaroff, a Bulgarian, who has been conducting a negro pool room on Sanford avenue, was taken out of his place last night by a band of men, supposed to be Ku Klux, and carried some distance from the city, where he was whipped and told to leave Sanford at once, as some of his actions were distasteful to the people of this section. It is said that this is his second warning and that he will heed it and get out.

NO TROUBLE AT GREINA.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—Jefferson parish officials declared today that they expected no further trouble at Greina, just across the river from this city, where last night, one negro was killed and a negro club room burned in a race clash which grew out of a quarrel originating at a baseball game.
