

Charter change receives final approval

By Michelle Jarla
Managing Editor

Specifics for strong-mayor form of government will be determined before election

SANFORD — The decision to change the city's form of government will now be decided by voters.

In another split vote, Commission approved on second reading an ordinance that proposes a change in the city's charter, transforming the system of government from its current city manager-commission structure to a strong-mayor form of government. It will now be up to the voters, who will head to the polls on March 4, whether the change will be adopted.

Mayor Brady Lessard proposed the charter change earlier this year to improve the accountability of government to the city's citizens. In the past, he said residents have expressed frustration over who runs the city — the city commission or the city manager.

"This isn't about Tony VanDerwoop as city manager or Brady Lessard as mayor," Lessard said Monday. "This is about the form of government."

"I believe Commission should be held more accountable," he said. "Confusion exists."

Lessard said city commissioners retain their roles as policy makers in the strong-mayor form of government. The change would be that instead of directing the city manager, commissioners would direct the mayor.

During Monday's meeting, several residents spoke out against the change, including Henry Sweet. As a former member of a city Charter Review Committee, he questioned why another committee wasn't established to study the proposed change in government.

"I felt compelled to express my feelings about the way you are bringing this about," Sweet said. "It has problems in it. This should have gone through Charter Review."

Other residents expressed their concerns about the time between Commission's approval of the ordinance and the March election. They feel there isn't enough time to inform citizens about the referendum or to decide on specifics for the new form of gov-

Sheriff's Office now offering Internet safety courses

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office will be holding a second series of Internet safety courses designed for people who want to oversee children's on-line activities.

The course will cover the basics as well as advanced topics.

The class will be held for two evenings, Wednesday, Jan. 15 from 6 until 10 p.m., and Thursday, Jan. 16 from 6 until 9 p.m., at the National Center for Forensic Science, 12354 Research Parkway in Orlando, near the University of Central Florida.

In addition to teaching information on the use of computers, the course will deal with hacking, protecting your privacy, internet fraud, sex crimes, internet chats, filtering and blocking unwanted sites with software, and searching your computer to see what the children might have been doing.

For additional information contact www.seminolesheriff.org. Pre-registration is required.

Christmas trees become fire hazard after holiday

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Fire Department is urging residents to dispose of Christmas trees immediately after the holiday.

According to Fire Chief Terry L. Schenk, without fail, the most flammable object inside the home this time of year are Christmas trees. Most trees will last for a few months inside a home if watered properly.

After the holiday season of 2001, the fire department acquired a few different types of Christmas trees to see exactly how fast one would flare up. On average, within 10 to 20 seconds of coming in contact with a heating source, each Christmas tree was completely engulfed by fire. In a normal room, that would mean heavy smoke, temperatures reaching 250 degrees and flames within 30 seconds. The explosion of fire and smoke is too fast to allow a homeowner time needed to get a fire extinguisher or call the fire department.

The first rule of tree disposal — never put the tree or branches in a fireplace or wood burning stove. The fire could extend beyond the fireplace or stove and leave your home in ashes. Using your tree as mulch could help your garden grow. You can either grind the entire tree into small pieces (tree chippers are available for rent at equipment rental stores), or cut off the main branches of the tree and reserve the trunk for use as firewood. Tree branches make light mulch that won't compact when wet — the way denser organic mulches do.

It only takes seconds for a tree to destroy a home. If your Christmas tree shows signs of being dry, dispose of it immediately.

Christmas Eve fire

A house fire Christmas Eve morning at 1019 Persimmon Ave. in Sanford resulted in four people not only losing their home, but all of their Christmas gifts. According to Fire Inspector Tim Robles, the fire was located in the attic above the laundry room. First thought to be a faulty clothes dryer vent, it was later shown that the cause was from aluminum wiring that had not been replaced in many years. Although the home was not totally destroyed, the water used in dousing the fire destroyed all of the gifts and caused the family to relocate. They included home owner Robert Evans, his wife, son, daughter-in-law and granddaughter. Robles said the spirit of the season was apparent, as the Red Cross supplied Evans and his family room and board at the Best Western Motel, Seminole County firefighters donated $50 toward necessities, and local Rabbi Gary Fernandez donated food and gifts collected through local businesses.

Local reservists prepare for deployment

By Jamie J. Anderson
Staff Writer

Army reservists gathered Friday at the Robert L. Evans National Guard Armory located on East 1st Street in historic Sanford to prepare for deployment.

According to Specialist Thomas Kielbasa of the Department of Military Affairs, Florida National Guard, Public Affairs Office in St. Augustine, these reservists have been called to active duty in support of Operation Enduring Freedom.

The Bravo Company, 2nd Battalion, 124th Infantry Regiment, are among more than 1,200 reservists throughout Florida who received alert orders on Dec. 16 and were given mobilization orders Thursday.

The soldiers gathering in Sanford make up the 2nd Battalion, headquartered in Orlando. Along with the 3rd Battalion, headquartered in Panama City, these soldiers are part of the 53rd Separate Brigade in Tampa, the largest major command for a National Guard unit.

Capt. Hank Bolduc of Sanford said his men are prepared to go wherever the military sends them. Bravo Company, 2nd Battalion, 124th Infantry Regiment received mobilization orders Thursday.

"The Florida National Guard is imbedded in the community," said Kielbasa. "This will affect families and employers in communities throughout Florida."

According to Kielbasa, no specific dates or routes can be given, but all soldiers must report to Fort Stewart in Georgia for final mobilization no later than Jan. 5. At that time, the soldiers will receive additional briefings, training and review of records.

"These soldiers were at Fort Stewart this summer," said Specialist Kielbasa. "They are very well trained and very skilled."

According to federal law, reservists can be on active duty for as long as one year. However, the president can lengthen that time as needed.

"We're preparing for the worse as far as length of time we will be gone," said Capt. Hank Bolduc of Sanford.

"We are prepared to go wherever they want us to." According to Specialist Kielbasa, this is the largest mobilization of the Florida Army National Guard since World War II and the first time for federal activation since World War II.

Two families receive Christmas cheer

By Jamie J. Anderson
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The staff of the Seminole County Department of Community Services delivered Christmas cheer to two Seminole County families this holiday season.

For the third consecutive year, the 54 employees purchased toys and household gifts for families who, because of difficult economic times, wouldn't otherwise be able to celebrate Christmas.

"It's perpetuating goodwill within the community," said Phillip C. Stalvey, director of the Department of Community Services and coordinator of the Christmas drive. "We're trying to uphold the department's mission statement by serving the community to improve quality of life."

The county learned of the families' financial troubles through its Community Assistance Program, which provides short-term, emergency financial assistance to families in need.

This year, a 26-year-old single mother of four children ages 4 to 10 was one of the recipients of Christmas goodies. She has experienced financial difficulties after undergoing surgery in October.

"I'm so grateful I can't even begin to express my appreciation," she said. "Since October, I've been going through a lot. Because of health problems, I haven't been working, so I'm trying to catch up on the bills."

"It hurt me because I couldn't do Christmas this year," she added. "My children are young, so they don't understand."

The Department of Community Services provided her family with three toys for each of the four children. A household computer was also donated by Jean Jeffcoat, manager of the county's Prosecution Alternative for Youth program.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Last call: For the last three years, Big Brothers convenience store at the corner of Park Avenue and 3rd Street earned a faithful following among the downtown workforce and the residents of the Historic District. In fact, both The Herald and the Orlando Sentinel had set up unofficial news bureaus in the store, operated since August 1999 by the three Al-Khub brothers from Jordan - Emad, Khalidoun and Khaled.

Big Brothers association with the store is coming to an end Sunday, Dec. 29, but not by choice. Delco Oil Company, which owns the building, the gasoline pumps and provides the fuel, decided to sell the building in excess of $500,000. That price was much too steep for the Al-Khubs. Not many details on who the new owner is but word around The Clock is he plans to operate a similar business.

The Al-Khub brothers were good for downtown Sanford. They cleaned up a property that had gone to seed and created a nice store for the downtown neighborhood. Here's hoping they find another opportunity to do business in Sanford.

Best dressed: Athletic coaches aren't known for their style when it comes to dressing. For most, sweats and a T-shirt are the uniform of choice. Given the chance, though, they clean up pretty well. Case in point, Jack Pantellias, former baseball coach at Seminole Community College.

Pantellias was invited to the Sanford Optimist Club to hear David and Rick Eckstein speak. The invitation was extended by the boys' dad, Whitey Eckstein, who serves on the Sanford City Commission. Whitey called Pantellias the night before the speaking engagement to make sure he had the proper attire. The commissioner stressed to the coach that this was a highfalutin affair and only those with a coat and tie would be allowed to attend. Of course the Optimists have no such requirement, but Pantellias didn't know that.

The coach arrived at the appointed hour to find that he had been had. While he was decked out in a sharp looking dark suit with a holiday tie, Whitey showed up in jeans and a Boston Red Sox jacket and spent the majority of the meeting snickering about how he suckered Pantellias. The coach, of course, is plotting his haberdashery revenge.

Mayoral move? Speaking of best dressed, the Sharp Dressed Man, aka Thom Greene, may have more than a passing interest in what happens with the city of Sanford's upcoming referendum on a strong mayor form of government.

Greene is the mayor of Lake Mary, but he has strong ties to the Celery City. His law office is on 1st Street across from Fort Mellon Park and he lived in Sanford for a time. At a holiday open house for Community National Bank, Greene was asked about the ongoing Sanford debate. He smiled and said, "Maybe I'll run."

Was he joking? Probably. He was more serious about what it will take to attract good candidates should the city adopt a form of government which requires the mayor to run the city. For starters, he believes the salary has to be at least in the low six-figures. Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard, who proposed the strong mayor form of government, has suggested the salary should be in the neighborhood of $75,000 a year. Any higher, Lessard says, and the city runs the risk of making job about the money rather than public service.

The city of Sanford has nearly 500 employees, and Greene points out that top managers operating that size company in the private sector earn well more than $75,000. Sanford City Manager Tony VanDerwoop earns about $110,000 annually. A strong mayor would perform the functions of a city manager, so Greene's argument is not without merit.

Where will the salary be set? That's something commissioners will determine in the coming month, but I'm betting it will be closer to $75,000 than $100,000.

During the eight weeks of training, the soldier studied the Army mission and received instruction in drill and ceremonies, rifle marksmanship, weapons, map reading, tactics, armed and unarmed combat, military courtesy, military justice, physical fitness, first aid, Army history, core values and traditions, and special training in human relations.

Newell is a 1996 graduate of Central Christian Academy, Casselberry.

Air Force Senior Airman Ray F. DeSouza has graduated from Airman Leadership School at Langley Air Force Base, Hampton, Va.

During the five-week course, airmen are trained to understand their positions in the Air Force organizational structure, leadership, communications skills, and profession of arms.

The course is designed to prepare and better equip senior airmen to serve as supervisors, managers and rating officials as they progress in their enlisted military careers. The school is the first of three levels of professional military education programs used to develop and cultivate leadership and supervisory skills, and is a required course for airmen to complete prior to being promoted to the rank of staff sergeant.

DeSouza is a communications-computer systems operations journeyman assigned to the 83rd Communications Squadron at Langley.

He is the son of Ray DeSouza of Oviedo.

It's déjà vu all over again

Why bother putting out a newspaper during the month of January. We could simply tell folks, "read last January's Herald and change only a few words."

I recently had occasion to browse through the January 2002 paper, and the headlines were almost, with one major exception, the same as we have had in the past few editions.

The one item that would require change is the headline story on Jan. 2, 2002. "Pan Am begins Service to St. Pete and Baltimore". To make it current, we can say, "Pan Am to stop all flights for at least a month".

Nick Pfeifauf

I guess what didn't surprise me was a headline on the January 2, 2002 edition. "Bridge, Roadwork to close lanes on I-4 and U.S. 17-92." Nothing has changed here - we could run the same story all over again.

On Jan. 6, 2002, the headline story says "County eyes land swap with Sanford", and goes on to say, "the City wants the former FP&L facility for a condominium project." On Jan. 9, 2002, another headline says "County delays decision on FP&L building." Nothing is new here. Eleven months later, in the Dec. 15, 2002 edition of The Seminole Herald, we reported the matter is still being discussed.

There is also a column on Jan. 6, 2002, that questioned when we will actually go to battle against Afghanistan. That is still under discussion.

On Jan. 13, 2002, Marva Hawkins wrote that plans for the annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Celebration in Sanford were underway, and the MLK Chorus was rehearsing, (and they are again). There is a story we could easily repeat, and no doubt will be, in the years ahead.

Then there is me personally. There have been articles in the past announcing that I would be leaving the Herald, (retiring). While I don't expect any more articles to be written about me, (what could be said that hasn't already been said), I will be leaving the Herald once again, after 10 months, for the fourth time. Tommy Vincent says I keep on retiring so they will have more retirement parties for me.

So, in a few more days, I'll be leaving to spend my time at home, sitting on my rocking chair. Perhaps someday, they'll ask me to come back to work again. If I do, I'll have to be off my rocker.

'Publish What You Pay' one way to help

Last summer, hundreds of Nigerian women staged a striking protest at big petroleum companies located in their country's oil-rich southern delta. The women, desperately poor despite the oil resources of their region, blocked the gates of corporate compounds and threatened to take off their clothes if Chevron/Texasco and Royal Dutch/Shell didn't fund local development initiatives.

Cynthia Tucker

Sure, it sounds like a "Saturday Night Live" skit. But the threat of public nudity worked. The spectacle of women as old as 90 stripping off their clothes would have embarrassed corporate executives (and cursed them, according to local tradition), so to fend it off they agreed to employ more local people, invest in infrastructure such as electric power lines, and help the villagers start fish farms and other agricultural projects.

many resource-rich but undeveloped countries. While multinational oil and mining companies pay billions to assorted Third World generals and presidents-for-life, the money rarely buys schools or hospitals or highways. Instead, it is siphoned off to corrupt politicians' private, off-shore accounts. By some estimates, the late Nigerian strongman Sani Abacha, who died in 1998, stole $3 billion during his five years in power. And Nigeria remains impoverished despite its petroleum reserves.

That's why a campaign called "Publish What You Pay" is so important. Backed by philanthropist George Soros and several international human rights and aid groups, the campaign insists that oil and mining companies disclose the payments they make to national governments for the rights to natural resources. At the very least, affluent nations can pressure Third World dictators to spend the money on development. President Bush ought to lend his influence to the cause. While the president has lately taken to claiming support for human rights around the world — he often cites Saddam Hussein's use of chemical weapons "against his own people" — he has done little to boost democracy and development in poor countries.

That is especially true of Africa. President Bush has given AIDS funding short shrift and has barely troubled himself with slavery in the Sudan, the thuggery of Zimbabwe's dictator Robert Mugabe or civil wars throughout West Africa. While South African officials hoped to raise the profile of their country with a visit from Bush in January, the White House has announced that the president, citing a possible war with Iraq, has canceled his planned trip to Africa.

If President Bush is serious about stressing human rights — and not just using the cause to win support for toppling Saddam — he should put his considerable influence behind the "Publish What You Pay" campaign. As a former Texas oilman, the president would bring an extra credibility to the cause. It won't be an easy campaign to win. Multinational companies don't want to change because they find it easy to do business with dictators. As long as tyrants are paid off, they don't demand environmental protections or health and safety regulations. And they put their armies to work protecting corporate interests.

Dictators in resource-rich countries will also resist. The last thing they want is to have to disclose the riches they have looted. While few of them go to great lengths to conceal their theft, they haven't been subjected to the indignity of having actual numbers publicized, either.

But President Bush has remarkable personal appeal at the moment — political capital that he ought to be willing to use to do some good in the world. The "Publish What You Pay" campaign presents a chance to battle tyranny and oppression without sending American soldiers to war. Compared to Iraq, this one is a no-brainer.

Benson should be remembered as parade's founder

To the editor: I was disappointed that in your article about Lake Mary's Christmas Parade you neglected to give credit for the parade's founder.

The parade was the idea of Police Chief Harry S. Benson, who not only started it, but funded the first few years out of his own pocket. It was only after his lead that the Volunteer Fire Department and the rest of the City got behind it.

On his retirement, the fund for the parade was named "The Harry S. Benson Memorial Children's Christmas Fund." Chief Benson was truly a visionary who deserves to be remembered for many accomplishments, not the least of which should be the Christmas parade he founded.

Kettle campaign. This is due, in a large part to the many individuals and organizations that have volunteered to help 'ring the bells.' However, he continued, "Donations via the mail are notably less than last year."

The Salvation Army in Seminole County is expecting to help a record number of people with various needs this year. The number of needy children has already increased from 2,954 in 2001 to 3,500 this year and that number will rise before next week.

Holiday help comes in many forms. Captain Linda Reckline, Corps Officer states, "With the help of the Sentinel Family Fund, CPH Engineers, Inc., and many anonymous donors toys and clothing certificates will be distributed to the 3,500 children, infants and teens. We were also able to donate 100 toys to the Headstart program via the local Kiwanis Club. Through collections at the area Angel Trees, clothing will be given to 3,000 children ages 12 and under (that number is up from 2,554 in 2001). The number of teens assisted has risen from 425 in 2001, to 440 in 2002." Captain Linda Reckline went on to say that "God blesses us in so many ways. The people of Seminole County continue to show how much they care for those who are facing hard times. I know that their wish is to make this a happier holiday for the families who need help. The increased number of families who have never before asked for assistance especially touches us. Because of our caring community these families will no go without a holiday meal and other necessities."

Captain Robert Reckline stressed, "Although we are close to our goal, we are not there yet. We are still praying and are hopeful that others will step forward through their donations to the Red Kettles, through mailed donations and by volunteering at the Red Kettles and our other activities." The funds and clothing and food we gather, during the holidays, means help to thousands during the holidays and throughout the year." He continued, "We are truly blessed by the 70,000 pounds of food that were collected during the recent Share your Christmas effort that was promoted by WESH Channel 2. The number of schools, businesses, groups and individuals that donated was amazing. Even the use of the trailer truck was donated." "This is truly a very caring community."

Persons who want to help and provide volunteer time with the Red Kettle campaign or the upcoming food, clothing and toy distribution, or other activities are encouraged to call 407.322.2642; ext. 225. Donations may be mailed to The Salvation Army P.O. Box 1946, Sanford, Florida 32772-1946.

A nation of servants

The newest thing in the "Park" cities, Vice President Cheney's old neighborhood, is "wrapping rooms." Friends tell me that some people are glassing-in small porches or even building small additions to big homes for permanent space filled with worktables, rolls of wrapping paper, cutters, ribbons and all that.

It seems that social seasons never end anymore among the rich. Folks in plush enclaves of Dallas, particularly Highland Park (that's where the Cheneys lived in his oil days) and the better parts of University Park, are well beyond killer kitchens and Roman baths. Now entertainment, gifts and one-upmanship are an everyday thing, and strivers judge each other not by clothes alone, or personal trainers, or wine cellars, but by how they wrap little things from Neiman Marcus or Saks.

They seem to be beyond New York, too. At least I have never heard of wrapping rooms in Manhattan or Scarsdale, though it is very possible I am living in the wrong part of town. During Christmas party season, my teenage daughter answered an RSVP-seeking call from someone who asked, "Are you the social secretary?" That, I think, is as far as things have gone in the East. People have full- or part-time secretaries who handle invitations, food, flowers and all that.

This is no small thing. The rich are doing their duty in this era of trickle-down economics. In the days leading up to Christmas, the news, print and electronic, was full of patriotic messages chiding us all, rich and poor alike, to spend all we could earn or borrow from Visa or Mastercard (at Mafia rates of 20-percent-and-more interest). An outfit called ShopperTrak, using Department of Commerce and point-of-sales statistics, was widely cited, reminding us that we were not spending enough. The country might go into recession if we continued to hold onto our dollars.

Suddenly, it seems, the American economy is not about production, ingenuity and trade. Consumption above all is our new charge. Remember the good old days when they used to yell at us that we weren't saving enough — and the Japanese were — to give

American industry and banks and such enough money to invest in research and the future? Our betters were concerned that we would be reduced to a nation flipping hamburgers for each other.

Now all we have to do is spend — and then everything will be OK. Easy.

Investment now, at least in the reign of Bush, is about cutting taxes on the rich, who will, presumably, then hire us as wrappers, trainers, secretaries, drivers, nannies and dog-better parts of University Park, are well beyond killer kitchens and Roman baths. Now entertainment, gifts and one-upmanship are an everyday thing, and strivers judge each other not by clothes alone, or personal trainers, or wine cellars, but by how they wrap little things from Neiman Marcus or Saks.

The rest of us can be a nation of servants. Actually, in this new age, we will be less than servants. The code of old-time servitude meant that the more marginal classes were sort of adopted by the rich, provided with some security in terms of medical care and old age. That has changed. You're on your own, buddy! The new servers are, more often than not, independent contractors — "independent contractors" is usually a euphemism for "no benefits" — who are, more often than not, paid in cash. Many in the investing classes hate government interference in the workplace, but demand government responsibility for the health and maintenance of the serving class.

So, the way it works is this: Lower taxes on the rich free up the money to hire the poor to run their errands and tune their bodies, and the marginal classes have second and third serving-job opportunities. And if the serving classes spend and spend and borrow and borrow — which, of course, is exactly what the new Bush administration is doing — the whole thing looks pretty good for a while. A while, however, ends when the new servants become old folks with health problems and personal debts they can't pay.

A happy and prosperous New Year to one and all!

Salvation Army concerned about increased need

To the editor: "We already have applications for assistance from more than 1,360 families and expect that number to rise. That represents an increase of at least 100 families more than last year", said Captain Robert A. Reckline, Corps Officer for The Salvation Army in Seminole County. "We are seeing a noticeable increase in the number of families that do not usually ask for help. It certainly seems to be an indication that the downturn in the local economy is having a dramatic impact on working families," he continued.

Captain Reckline also notes "We are close to achieving our goal of $145,000.00 for the Red

LIFESTYLE

Wife who sits in backseat would prefer to be up front

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I spend one weekend a month with his mother, taking her shopping, to dinner, movies, etc. My problem is I always wind up sitting in the backseat whenever she is with us.

Dear Abby

It's not as though we have a little car and it would be hard for her to maneuver in and out. We have a nice-sized van, and I think she could get in and out of the back just as easily as she can from the front seat.

It has been this way for a couple of years now, and I haven't said anything to my husband because she is his mother. But I feel as his wife I should be honest with my husband.

Please help. We are about to go on vacation with my mother-in-law, and I don't want to have to spend it in the backseat for a six-hour drive.

AFRAID TO SPEAK UP IN PHILLY

DEAR AFRAID: If you want to sit in front, you must be up front with your husband about your feelings. The longer you quietly tolerate the seating arrangement, the longer it will continue. The next time the two of you go to pick up his mother, roll down the window and say, "Hop in the back, Mom; I want to sit next to your wonderful son." And your husband should back you up. Bon voyage, and have a nice trip.

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor of five years, "Christopher," recently confided to me that he is a cross-dresser. At first I gave him credit for being so open about it, but ever since that conversation, I see him dressed only as "Kristin."

Whenever he sees me outside, Christopher comes over all dolled up. He even walks his dog dressed as Kristin — complete with heels and hose. He thinks I don't have a problem with it, but now that I'm actually seeing him dressed in women's clothing, I'm not so sure.

He is now asking me to "do lunch" and wants to accompany me to my all-female gym.

Please help me, Abby. I liked him as Christopher, but I'm really uncomfortable with Kristin. It's to the point where I no longer feel comfortable going outside for fear I'll have to deal with this guy. What can I say to him?

CONFUSED IN MINNESOTA

DEAR CONFUSED: Honesty is the best policy. Say, "With all respect, I think you're lovely as Kristin, but I'm more comfortable with my friend, Christopher." That should get you off the hook.

DEAR ABBY: One of my co-workers, "Helen," celebrated her birthday. It's a tradition at our office to "surprise" the birthday person with a cake, so Helen's closest co-worker went out to buy one. When it came time for the surprise, everyone was astonished to see Helen's age written on the icing!

None of us here is a kid anymore, and that information should not have been included on the cake. The woman who planned the party thought it was hilarious, but Helen was not amused.

Abby, was it wrong for Helen's age to be revealed in such a manner? And how should she approach her friend to let her know it was a bad idea?

CARING CO-WORKER IN THE GARDEN STATE

DEAR CARING CO-WORKER: Yes, it was wrong. Helen deserves an apology. Mentioning age in the workplace can be discriminatory. And unless you want a prankster doing the same thing to you, I recommend that everyone present at the "surprise party" tell the offender it was a bad idea.

The Way We Were: The Sanford men of World War II

Many more men from Sanford were leaving for the war during April through May of 1942. The Sanford Naval Air Station was being built and servicemen began arriving. The civilian population in Sanford was beginning to cope with rationing, blackouts and other inconveniences while they collected scrap metal. Ordinary life went on, though touched by war in business, politics and organizations. So much was happening during this time period that it will take two columns to bring it to you. Again, this comes from Peter Schaal's "Sanford During the World War II Years 1936-45".

the site for the duration of the war or as long as needed. Then it would be deeded back to the city for $1. Should additional land be needed, the Navy would purchase it and this land would also go back to the city.

On May 13, Lt. George T. Swiggum arrived to take command of the Naval Officer Training Base. About 200 of the expected 2,000 were already at work.

On May 26, work began on the first barracks.

Crews started laying 1,150 feet of railroad siding on June 11. On June 19, the city commission stated that 3,400 men would arrive at the Navy base as soon as possible.

Reports of Servicemen

Roy R. Wright, Angus Harriett, Charles C. Carlson, Ensign Paul T. Biggers were in the Naval Reserve. Lewis Wright joined the Navy Medical Corps in Philadelphia. Lt. James Tew was at Pensacola NAS. E.D. Scott became Lt. J.C. USN at Key West. R.A. Newman, Jr., Jack J. Fixler, Sherman Weels and Paul Prescott were in Navy Trace School.

Gay Waits, Leslie Howard, George Wilkinson, joined the Navy. Sid RICHARDE, Jr. entered Naval Hospital Training at Norfolk following a rousing farewell by the Sons of the Legion. William H. Stemper was commissioned as a Navy Ensign and assigned to NTC, Harvard.

Bernard Collins was set for a Navy promotion. R.L. Cornell was a Lt. overseas. Atty. George DeCottes joined the Advocates Office of the USN Blimp Base in Boca Raton.

In training at Mobile shipyards, earning $50 per week, were Charles Dunn, Jr., George Townsend, Otis Badger, E.J. White, A. Taylor, Jr., R.F. Roehik, Otto Trapp and George A. Steward.

E.M. Miller, C.T. Strange and Leslie Moughton were at Pascagoula shipyards earning $45 per week.

In training at Savannah shipyards were Oliver Stapler, G.C. Fellows, Jr., W.R. Hopkins, Alfred Batten, Howlett Fletcher, S.R. Davis and Phil Holland, earning $1.95 per hour.

Waiting assignment to shipyards were Paul Pezold, D.B. Crews, W.E. Rankin, O.L. Farris, C.W. Johnson, C.S. Hawkins, Dewey Gammage and J.C. White.

War Related Events at Home

A.B. Peterson began issuing tire rationing permits. The county was allowed 20 tires, 17 tubes, for official passenger vehicles in February; 52 tires, 89 tubes for trucks. Because of tire rationing, the city commission allowed A.B. Stevens to tether his horse in back of his 1200 French Avenue store.

The first county air raid warning test was proclaimed a partial success. On April 7, a nine county 35-minute blackout, starting at 10:30 was almost 100 percent successful.

Gasoline rationing was already in effect with four stations already closed. Several people were laid off and sales were down fifty percent. Gas dealer A.J. Peterson, secretary of the Gas Rationing Board received supplies for nationwide rationing.

On May 1, county schools were ready for registration for sugar coupon books. Each book held 28 stamps. The first four were good for one pound each, with other value quotas to be decided later. No book was to be issued to anyone with over six pounds on hand.

Sugar rationing became effective May 12 at 2:30 p.m. Around the county, 22,017 persons signed up for sugar coupon books.

Automobile dealer Emmett Hunt volunteered to work with dealers and junk yards in collecting junk for reuse.

The Draft Board said that men, age 35-44 may be drafted in May. Men 45 to 65 years of age were registered for possible defense work.

Ten miles of Daytona Beach were closed in May as trucks picked up debris and bodies from ships sunk off shore by submarines.

Politics

The Registration Superintendent said there were 6,500 eligible voters in the county in 16 precincts, two of which were in Sanford. There were 2,900 white and 113 black freeholders.

On May 5, the hospital bond issue on the primary ballot carried 1,076 to 308, but was lost as not enough people voted.

Mrs. R.H. Holley became acting Postmaster on May 22.

Organizations

Mrs. R.A. Smith was elected president of the Florida Federation of Womens Clubs on April 17. Leo Butler became the first president of the local Florida Farm Bureau chapter. H. Glenn Lingle became president of the Lions Club.

After 11 years, on April 22, Herman Morris resigned as scoutmaster of the Kiwanis sponsored troop 56. Jack Russell succeeded him.

Businesses

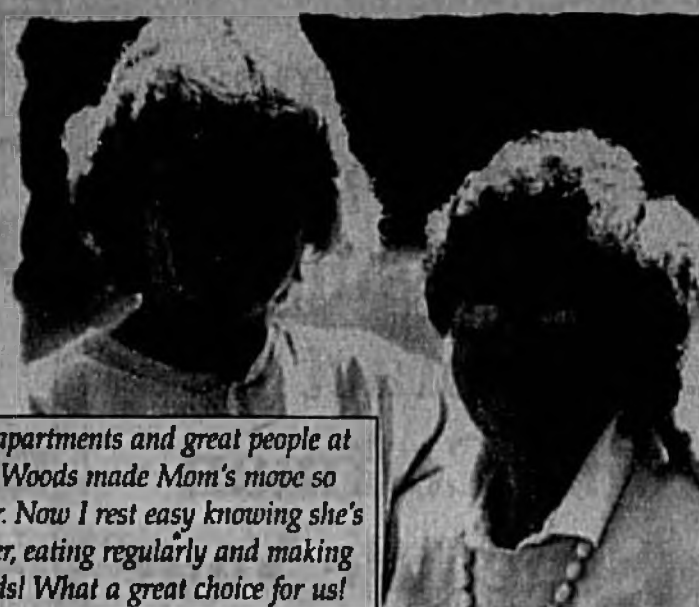

Hesse's Home Bakery was sold to E.N. Robb and his mother-in-law Mrs. H. Wegener.

Although McCrory manager Clarence Redding said the work week had been cut to 48 hours and some salaries raised, 25 girls went on strike demanding more wages and better working conditions.

SPOTLIGHT ON BUSINESS

"Curves For Women" Now Open In Longwood Plaza

"I am a Registered Nurse, Certified Aerobics Instructor, and Lifestyle, Weight-Management Consultant and owner of a "Curves for Women" franchise in the Longwood Plaza, located on Hwy 17-92 about a half a mile north of SR 434. My first "Curves" store, in DeLand, now has over 350 members. "Curves" offers an amazing 30-minute fitness and weight-loss program in a comfortable environment for women. It is a great way for working women to increase energy and deal with busy lifestyles of today. Once women acquire the habit of regular exercise they look better, feel better and become role models for their families.

The 'CURVES for WOMEN' workout is appropriate for women of any age or ability level and everyone works at their own pace for a moderate intensity workout. Because it is non-impact, it is technically as safe on joints as water aerobics. Our goal is optimal wellness and we provide an effective exercise program. The 'Curves' program may be able to improve the health and fitness of women with high blood pressure, stroke, diabetes, arthritis, asthma and fibromyalgia. "I have been excited by the results that members are achieving. Within a couple of weeks, members often report feeling better, sleeping better, increased energy, improved posture, and fitting better in their clothing. I never saw comparable results during my 15 years as an Aerobics Instructor."

The 'Curves' program is exercise women will do, even if they don't like to exercise. 'Spandex' is never required, we wear comfortable clothing and supportive shoes. There are no weight stacks and no special coordination is required. Since there are no specific 'class' times, members come when it is convenient. Each 30-minute workout starts when that member arrives. There is virtually no waiting for someone to finish using a piece of equipment, like at some full service gyms. Our program combines a revolutionary strength training and cardiovascular workout, and is equivalent to an hour-and-a-half in just 30 minutes.

You have to try it to believe it! 'CURVES for WOMEN' differs from other fitness and weight-loss facilities. We provide ongoing support, personal service, and we have fun.

When women acquire the habit of regular exercise they build muscle which increases metabolism, even at rest. This assist in achieving weight-loss goals (along with our unique eating plan). There are no special food products to purchase, but we do sell some vitamin/supplement products developed specifically for women's needs. We offer an exciting 'first visit discount', special rates for family members, full time students, and gift certificates are always available. Most major credit cards accepted.

Longwood hours (subject to change as our membership grows) are currently: Monday thru Thursday 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday we close at 7 p.m. Closed Saturday and Sunday. 2003 hours: We will open earlier on weekdays at 8 a.m. and begin Saturday hours from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Our locations are 394 N. Hwy. 17-92, Longwood, FL 32750 Longwood Plaza Phone: 407-331-1080 and 1782 S. Woodland Blvd., DeLand, FL 32724 Victoria Square Shopping Center. Phone: 386-740-1080.

Since 1968, over 6,700 clients have come to our offices because of a tragedy or serious accident. When you are in this situation, you need to select an experienced, competent attorney to advise and assist you - someone who will listen and understand - a person who has experienced your pain, concerns, and sense of loss. Due to serious personal tragedies caused by accidents in my own family, my law practice has been dedicated to helping accident victims. I understand and have been assisting victims and injured people for over 30 years. Over 80% of our clients have been personally referred to us from past and present satisfied clients. Let our experience and commitment work for you.

PUBLIC NOTICE

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE VOLUSIA/SEMINOLE CONSORTIUM'S 2000-2005 CONSOLIDATED PLAN ONE-YEAR ACTION PLAN FOR 2001-2002

On February 11, 2003 the Seminole County Board of County Commissioners will consider amending the 2001-2002 One-Year Action Plan of the County's 2000-2005 Consolidated Plan. The Five-Year Consolidated Plan and its corresponding One-Year Action Plans governs the allocation and expenditure of CDBG Program funds. Under the proposed amendment, the Board would fund a new CDBG activity which would allocate funds for the construction of a new building to improve services being provided by Kids House of Seminole, Inc. The decreased amounts in the activities below represent either a balance remaining after completion of a specific activity or represent a postponed activity.

ACTIVITIES TO BE AMENDED

New Activity:	Kids House of Seminole-New Building Construction	2001-2002 $ 500,000
Decrease:	Midway Paving (Project Completed)	2001-2002 $ (381,269)
	Lockhart Sidewalks (Postponed)	2001-2002 $ (118,731)

The Seminole County Community Development Office is inviting public comment for a period of thirty (30) days regarding the proposed amendment. Anyone desiring to comment or ask questions regarding this amendment may contact the Seminole County Community Development Office in writing or in person at the following:

Robert Heenan, HUD Grants Manager
 Seminole County Community Development Office
 1101 East First Street
 Sanford, FL 32771
 Tel: 407-665-7384
 Fax: 407-665-7366 or e-mail: rheenan@co.seminole.fl.us

Public comments will be received at the Seminole County Community Development Office until January 28, 2003. All comments will be transmitted to the Board of County Commissioners for consideration at their February 11, 2003 meeting.

Seminole Spokes to meet Jan. 8

The Jan. 8 luncheon meeting of Seminole Spokes will feature Jim Bishop, WDBO Traffic Reporter, discussing traffic problems into and out of Central Florida. For additional information, phone 407-889-5542.

Children test limits when away from home

QUESTION: My 3-year-old can be counted on to behave like a brat whenever we are in the mall or in a restaurant.

James Dobson

'Focus on Family'

DR. DOBSON: Let me answer you with an illustration from nature. They tell me that a raccoon can usually kill a dog if he gets him in a lake or river.

'safer' in front of other people. They will grab candy or speak in disrespectful ways that would never be attempted at home.

enforced. It is a certainty that your strong-willed son or daughter will notice those safe zones and behave offensively and disrespectfully when there.

There is something within the tougher child that almost forces him to 'test the limits' in situations where the resolve of adults is in question.

Therefore, I recommend that you lay out the ground rules before you enter those public arenas, making it clear that the same rules will apply.

Dr. Dobson is president of the nonprofit organization Focus on the Family, P.O. Box 444, Colorado Springs, CO. 80903; or www.family.org.

Collins receives doctoral of education degree from University of Central Florida

Dr. Connie Woods Collins, principal of Crooms Academy of Information Technology recently earned her doctoral of education degree from the University of Central Florida.

Dr. Collins has been in the field of education for over 19 years.

Prior to that she was Operations Officer and Assistant Bank Manager at Southeast Bank.

Dr. Collins says her desire was always to be an educator. She received her B.A. in Sociology from University of West Florida in Pensacola and received her Master in Educational Leadership also from the University of Central Florida.

She joined Seminole County's public education system as an assistant principal at Teague Middle School in 1994. Later she was appointed assistant principal at Seminole High School where she served for six years.

Because of her devotion and love of education, children, and her excitement of others being able to excel, Dr. Collins was named recipient of the Dolores Eugenie Fellowship and the Inventive Graduate Fellowship by the University of Central Florida.

An active member of various educational organizations, she is a member of the Seminole County Association of Supervisors and Administrators, Florida Association of Supervisors and Administrators, and the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

There are more successes in the life of Principal Connie Collins. Since being in the education field, she was named Seminole County Public Schools' Assistant Principal of the Year and was appointed as Principal to the new Crooms Academy of Information Technology in June, 2000.

Five boat loan tips for winter financing

Special to the Herald

ALEXANDRIA, VA. — The upcoming winter boat shows mean winter boat loans. To help the consumer understand the loan process and to get the best deal, marine lending expert Charm Addington, vice president of the BoatU.S. Financing division, has five boat loan tips for prospective borrowers:

- Use a specialist. You wouldn't use a general practitioner for brain surgery, so why would you go to your local bank for a marine loan? Nationwide lenders that specialize in marine finance traditionally offer better deals than a local bank.

- Know what you want. Boat loans are based on specific collateral. Just because you're pre-approved, don't assume that you can spend the money on anything you want. At a minimum, have a good idea of the boat you have in mind when seeking a loan pre-approval, and at best, provide your lender with a purchase agreement. It's also always good to check a boat's value — via one of the marine price guides or through BoatU.S.' free Value Check service — before filling out an application.

- What do you look like? On paper, that is. Many borrowers are surprised to learn that they have "glitches" on their credit report. "Glitches" on a loan application are like a bad hair day at the office — both make you look bad and more importantly, you won't get the best deal on an interest rate. Get a copy of your credit report before you head off to the boat show.

- Blank spots causes problems. Empty lines on a loan application cause delays. Start a backup paper trail that includes a minimum of two years tax returns and W-2's, and a copy of your current pay stub. If you're recently retired, provide proof of retirement income.

- Give yourself breathing room. Because they usually require a survey, used boat loans take about two weeks — about twice as long as new ones. So don't sweat it.

For more information on BoatU.S. marine financing, call 800-365-5636 or visit <http://www.BoatUS.com>.

BUYERS OF HI-TECH TRAILERS GET A BETTER DEAL

Hi-Tech Marine Trailers, the country's premier manufacturer of long-lasting aluminum boat trailers and BoatU.S. have teamed up to give Hi-Tech buyers a complimentary annual membership to the BoatU.S. Trailing Club.

"Hi-Tech trailer owners will now get great benefits such as roadside assistance, six issues of BoatU.S. Trailing, product discounts, launch ramp rebates, free giveaways and more," said Beth McCann, director, BoatU.S. Trailing Club.

"Our focus is on quality and customer satisfaction and this partnership with BoatU.S. will deliver significant additional value to our customers," said Brad Aufdenkamp, president of Hi-Tech Marine.

Hi-Tech's trailers provide a safe and stable tow while enhancing the value and appearance of a boat. Standard features on all trailers include aluminum I-beam

Finally, a trophy for the hosts

LAKE MARY — One of the oddest quirks in sports has finally been ended. Somewhere on a par with the Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox futility in winning a World Series Championship, the Lake Mary girls soccer team has finally won its own prestigious holiday soccer tournament.

The Rams and coach Bill Eissele have won three state championships, 1989, 1998 and 2002, and have been considered a threat for a state title almost every year.

After 20 tries, Lake Mary girls wear prestigious soccer crown

But for 20 years, Lake Mary had played the perfect host in its own tournament, now known as the Michelle Akers Soccer Classic, allowing visiting teams to take home the championship trophy.

That all changed this past weekend as the defending Class 4A State Champions, who were playing in the final of this tournament for the first time since 1989, rolled over four opponents and won in dominating fashion.

How dominant were the hosts?

They bested two defending state champions (Class 3A Satellite in the semifinals and Class 2A St. Augustine-Nease in the Championship Game), three state ranked teams (No. 1 Class 3A Satellite, No. 2 Class 2A Nease and No. 8 Class 4A DeLand), recorded three shutouts (6-0 over Boca Raton and 2-0 over both DeLand and Nease), handed DeLand and Nease their first losses of the season and outscored their opponents, 12-1.

The Rams (11-1-2 and ranked No. 2 in Class 4A) capped off the title run by defeating Nease (11-1-1), 2-0.

Lake Mary took a 1-0 halftime lead on a goal by Jacquelyn Parsons and then got some insurance in the second half when Camille Hanson scored with an assist

Rams take Great Florida Shootout

KISSIMMEE — Don't count out Lake Mary just yet.

The word around Central Florida has been that Oviedo was ready to displace Lake Mary atop the heap in girls' high school basketball.

And to add fuel to the argument, the Lions went out and handed the Rams not only their first loss of the season, but also their first loss at home in memory, 43-35, on December 12th.

But Lake Mary answered the whispers big time this past weekend, with three impressive victories to claim the Championship of the 22nd annual Great Florida Shootout in Kissimmee.

The only thing that could have made the title sweeter was if the Rams had gotten to avenge their loss against Oviedo in the semifinals, but the Lions never got there as they were upset by Melbourne Central Catholic in the first round.

Lake Mary took leads of 18-4 after one period and 30-11 at halftime as it crushed St. Cloud, 62-26, at Osceola High School during Friday's (Dec. 20) first round.

Alexa Kane (11 points), the only senior on the team, and freshman Caitlyn Mitryl (10 points) led a balanced scoring attack for the Rams.

Oviedo, meanwhile, suffered its first loss of the season, being outscored 19-10 in the fourth quarter to drop a 46-42 decision to MCC.

Whitney Tossie scored 17 points and Irimar Hernandez 12 points, but no other Lion scored more than six points.

In other opening round games, Boone routed DeLand, 46-21, and host Osceola thumped Lake Highland Prep, 57-33.

On Saturday, Hernandez scored 18 points and Sis Losauro tossed in 14 as Oviedo bounced back from a 12-5 first period deficit with a 53-36 thumping of St. Cloud.

Lake Mary got a little vengeance for the Seminole Athletic Conference as it advanced to the Championship Game with a hard-fought 48-44 victory over Melbourne Central Catholic (8-2).

The Rams jumped out to a 16-8 first period lead and was ahead on the scoreboard at the end of each quarter, but the Hustlers never let Lake Mary get too far out of reach.

Kane and junior center Meghan Chamberlain led the way for the Rams with 14 points each, while junior Katie Wattam was also in double figures with 10 points.

In the other games, Lake Highland Prep dumped DeLand, 44-38, and the Kowboys advanced to meet Lake Mary with a 60-40 whipping of Boone.

The tournament moved over to the spacious Kissimmee Civic Center for the final day on Monday and the two SAC entries put on a show.

Oviedo (12-1) broke open a close game, outscoring Lake Highland Prep (4-6) 17-8 in the third quarter and 33-14 in the second half, to rout the Highlanders, 53-31, in the Third Place Game.

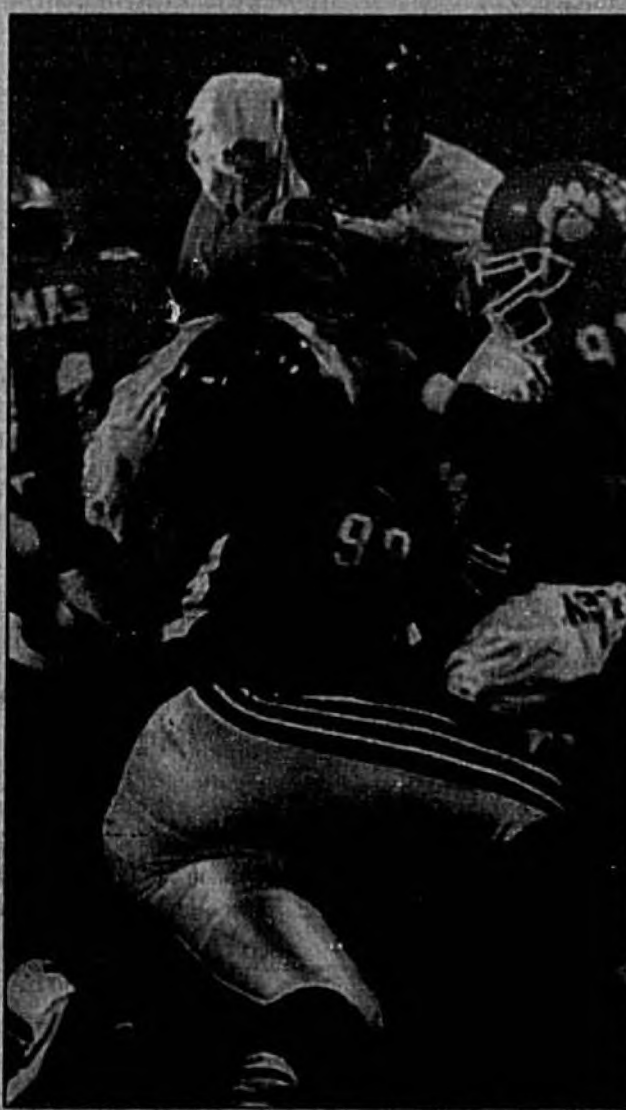

Tossie led all scorers with 17

Texas Tech senior quarterback Cliff Kingsbury (below and right trying to sneak in a touchdown) threw for 375 yards and three touchdowns and finished his career by becoming just the third player in NCAA history to throw for more than 5,000 yards and the Red Raider defense (bottom) completely dominated Clemson in a 55-15 pounding of the Tigers in the Tangerine Bowl Monday at the Florida Citrus Bowl.

Raiders to close out 2002 at home

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — Seminole Community College basketball fans will get a final look at their favorites this weekend as both the men and women will make their final home appearances of 2002.

Both teams have been playing extremely well combining to win 13 of their past 16 games since both squads lost to Tallahassee Community College in late November and are a combined 9-3 in the month of December with nine of those games being played on the road.

Coach Stan Cromartie's men tips off the busy weekend with a game tonight (Saturday) at 7:30 p.m. against Monroe Community College from New York.

This will be the first game at home for the Raider men since November 22nd. The team, which has a 12-4 record and is ranked No. 7 in the state poll, has won four games in a row and has not lost since December 4th at Polk Community College in Winter Haven.

Fans had better turn out for this game as the men will hit the road again for a five-game road trip will not return home until Saturday, January 25th when the Raiders will host Central Florida Community College from Ocala as part of a men-women Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader.

The SCC Health and Physical Education Center will be hopping on Sunday and Monday, as the women will host the SCC Classic.

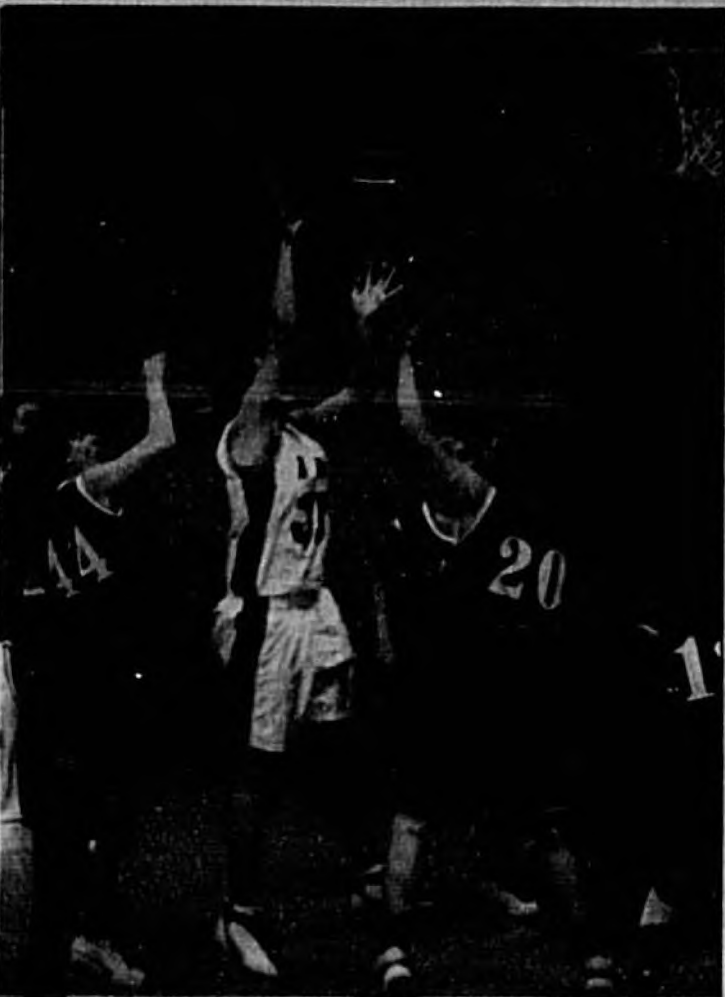

On Sunday, Daytona Beach Community College, 15-1 and ranked No. 5 in the last national poll, will take on Schoolcraft College from Livonia, Michigan at 4 p.m. and the Raiders will face Brookdale Community College from Lincroft, New Jersey at 6 p.m.

On Monday, DBCC will battle Brookdale at 6 p.m. and SCC will take on Schoolcraft at 8 p.m.

Local fans will only have one more opportunity to see the women play at home before the Raiders start defense of their back-to-back Mid-Florida Conference title.

SCC will host Brevard Community College on Wednesday, Jan. 8th and will then travel to Daytona Beach to open M-FC play on Jan. 15th before playing its conference home opener on Saturday, Jan. 25th against Central Florida Community College starting at 6 p.m.

All of the games will be played at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center and admission to all home games is free to the public.

Soccer

The Rams, who lost just one starter from last year's team, ripped 19 shots at the Panthers' goalie, while Lake Mary keeper Natalie Haerens only fended off five, although some were spectacular leaping saves as she recorded her third shutout of the tournament.

In other results from the final day, Satellite (11-2-1) bounced back to hand defending tournament champion Winter Park (10-2) its second loss in a row after a 10-0 start, 3-1, in the third-place game, and Winter Springs (11-4) stopped Seabreeze, 2-1, in an elimination game, then came back to claim a respectable fifth place with another 2-1 victory, this time over powerful DeLand, which had eliminated Oviedo earlier in the day.

Following is a day-by-day roundup of the tournament.
Thursday, Dec. 19
Lake Mary 6, Boca Raton 0
Judith Claessens scored two goals, while Paige Murray, Keilee Rush, Jacquelyn Rush and Jessica Zabel scored one each for the Rams.

DeLand 6, Seminole 0
Stock scored four goals and Evans and Uplike one each for the Bulldogs.

Seabreeze 4, Lake Brantley 1
Brauer scored two goals and Neely one with the other score coming on an own goal. Sarah Amat scored the goal for the Patriots, who came into the tournament ranked No. 3 in the state in Class 4A just behind Lake Mary.

Oviedo 3, Chiles 0
Duda scored twice and Megan Brannon once for the Lions.
Satellite 7, Lyman 0
Brantley scored three times and Cimino, Howell and Vomdran finding the net once each for the Scorpions.

Nease 3, Orangewood 2
Jenna and Jamie Silverberg and Ringelsen scored for Nease, while Miller scored both goals for the Rams.
Winter Springs 4, Clearwater-

Countryside 3, penalty kicks
Danielle Tellerio, Stacey George and Jones did the scoring for the Bears, while Bovien, Durie and Gonzalez found the net in regulation for Countryside.

Friday, Dec. 20
Lake Mary 2, DeLand 0
junior Holly Peltzer scored off a Keilee Rush corner kick 9:38 into the game and the Rams made it 2-0 with 26:20 left in the game when Judith Claessens ripped home a 14-yard shot following an attempted clear of a shot by Camille Hanson by DeLand with 26:20 remaining.

Lake Brantley 4, Lake Howell 1
Lauren Arndt, Kerry Frech, Erin Huber and Sacher scored one goal each for the Patriots. Stewart scored for the Silver Hawks.

Lyman 2, Chiles 1, penalty kicks
Naas scored the regulation goal for the Greyhounds and Yasinae scored for Chiles.
Boca Raton 4, Seminole 2
Vincent Diatler, J. Capineta and Cavalcant did the scoring for Boca Raton. Shaina Decryan and Lauren Kovacik scored for the Fighting Seminoles.

Winter Park 2, Seabreeze 1, penalty kicks
Brauer scored for Seabreeze and Robinson for Winter Park in regulation.
Orangewood 5, Countryside 0
Alba, Donoho, Raborn, Doerk and Brown scored one goal each for the Rams.
Nease 1, Winter Springs 0
Passa scored the game's only goal on an assist from Silverberg.

Saturday, Dec. 21
Lake Mary 2, Satellite 1
Jessica Zabel scored both goals on assists from Keilee Rush, including the game-winner off a Rush corner kick with 8:11 remaining in the game. Brantley scored the goal for the Scorpions.

Oviedo 2, Lake Brantley 1
Jennah Carter and Rickerson scored for the Lions. Erin Huber scored for the Patriots.
Seabreeze 1, Lyman 0, penalty kicks

Nease 1, Winter Park 0, penalty kicks
DeLand 1, Orangewood 0
Stock scored on an assist from Turnbill for the Bulldogs.
Winter Springs 3, Boca Raton 1
Danielle Tellerio had a goal and an assist to lead the Bears, while Keeler and Pagnotta chipped in with a goal each. Murphy scored on an assist from Cavalcant for Boca Raton.

In other results prior to the Akers tournament, five different players scored and had assists for Winter Springs and Silvera stopped six shots as the Bears whitewashed Lake Howell, 5-0, on Dec. 15.
Also on the 14th, Jacquelyn Parsons and Holly Peltzer scored goals and Jamie Dillon had an assist as Lake Mary edged Seabreeze, 2-1. Ashley Money made four saves to get the victory in goal, while Walters led the Sandcrabs, scoring the only goal and also stopping 10 shots in one half as the goalkeeper.
On Dec. 18th, Duda and Brannon scored two goals each and O'Rourke made three saves in goal as Oviedo whipped Seminole, 9-1, and Lake Howell and Lyman battles to a 2-2 tie.

BOAT U.S. MARINE INSURANCE AND "LADIES, LET'S GO FISHING!" ANNOUNCE DATES FOR "NO-YELLING" SEMINARS

BoatU.S. Marine Insurance, a division of the nation's largest recreational boat owners association, and "Ladies, Let's Go Fishing!" (LLGF), the pioneers of the "No-yelling school of fishing" seminars for women, have teamed up for a third year in a row to present seven award-winning seminars in 2003.

"The seminar's objective is to eliminate the stress and uncertainty women feel when entering the marine marketplace and the sport of fishing," said Betty Bauman, founder LLGF. "We combine hands-on learning experiences such as boat operations, backing a trailer, casting, releasing, and net casting, with practical discussions on boat buying, insurance, safety and conservation."

The 2003 LLGF dates are:
- March 7-9: Ft. Lauderdale
- April 11-13: Stuart
- Other dates to be announced include: St. Petersburg; Islamorada; Denver, CO; Oahu, HI; and Costa Rica.

The cost for the two-day seminars is $105 (except Islamorada, $135 and Costa Rica, to be announced). This includes meals, T-shirts, goody bags, door prizes and more. The off-site fishing adventure, which includes tackle, ranges from $12 to $225. For more information, call LLGF at 1-888-321-7299 or visit <http://www.ladiesletsgofishing.com>.

Rams

But the real show came in the finals where the Rams recovered from a six-point third quarter deficit to knock off host Osceola, 45-38.

The contest got off to a very slow start with the Kowboys leading 8-5 after the first period. The teams finally started to show a little life in the second quarter as Lake Mary outscored Kissimmee, 13-10, to send the game to intermission tied at 18-18.

The Kowboys (9-2) threatened to run away with the game as they opened the third quarter with a 6-0 run.

But the Rams remained patient and turned to their top two returnees from last year's 32-1 squad, Kane and Chamberlain, to lead them back into the contest.

The duo combined for 17 points as Lake Mary (12-1) went on a 21-3 run to take a 39-27 lead.

Osceola scored the final point of the period, but would only score six more points over the final eight minutes as the Rams closed out a 45-38 triumph.

Kane led the winner's with 17 points, with Chamberlain just behind with 16 points.

But it was Chamberlain who was recognized as the Most Valuable Player for the eight-team tournament because of her all-around play over the three days.

Kane also made the All-Tournament Team along with Tossie, Osceola's Jennifer Williams (who had 15 points against the Rams) and Brittany Denson, and Melbourne Central Catholic's Elizabeth Sorenson.
