BI-METALLISM IS ADVOCATED BY ROOSEVELT

President Asks Power To Boost Amount Of Silver In U. S. Monetary Stocks

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt recommended to Congress today that it declare the American policy to be "to increase the amount of silver in our monetary stocks with the ultimate objective of having and maintaining one-fourth of their monetary value in silver and three-fourths in gold." The policy would be a bi-metallic system.

The President, in fulfillment of his promise with Congressional Republicans, said he should be "authorized and directed to make purchases of all available silver to attain this ultimate objective."

Payments for present silver holdings in this country would be limited to 50 cents an ounce and profits so made would be added to the fund.

Pointing to a world-wide bi-metallic movement as the ultimate solution of the silver problem, Mr. Roosevelt revealed to Congress that he already has begun negotiations with neighboring countries "in regard to the use of both silver and gold preferably by a bi-metallic basis as a standard of money value."

A sudden burst of speed engendered by Presidential pressure made certain yesterday, leaders said, that the House would pass two highly important Administration banking bills before the week end.

One would authorize loans of $100,000,000 through the Federal Reserve Banks and the other would post-pone inauguration of the permanent deposit insurance plan until July 1, 1935.

The House Rules Committee granted legislative preference to the first which will be called up on the floor today with leaders seeking a vote before nightfall. The second approved yesterday by the banking committee after more than two months of consideration, will follow Wednesday or Thursday.

Besides postponing inauguration of the permanent deposit insurance plan which would otherwise have become effective next July 1, guaranteeing deposits on a graduated scale up to 50 percent of those over $50,000, the bill approved yesterday by the banking committee also would:

- Increase from $2,500 to $5,000 the accounts insurable under the temporary plan.
- Permit mutual savings banks in the distribution of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, to insure deposits up to $5,000.
- Repeal the law which requires that all state banks must belong to the federal reserve system after July 1, 1935, in order to have their deposits insured.

Indications Are Seen That Great Britain Is Planning New Move On Debt To U. S.

LONDON, May 22.—(AP)—Indications were seen in circles closely in contact with the war debts controversy today that the British government may be planning a new approach to the problem in its June instalment due the United States.

Any such move, it was plainly seen however, is contingent partially upon President Roosevelt's forthcoming message to Congress on the subject of debts.

"Should the British take such action as is indicated, it would represent a drastic change in the policy manifest in recent days.

Until today official circles stoutly maintained that the first move in the debt situation must come from Mr. Roosevelt.

Now the same quarters hint strongly that there has been a reversal in this attitude, leading to a strong belief that Great Britain may be formulating a new plan for submission to Washington.

WARM DEBATE NAZI GERMANY IS HELD OVER SEEN ISOLATED HOUSING BILL BY LATE COUP

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—The coup d'etat in Bulgaria, placing in power a group considered pro-French and removing men regarded as influenced by Italy, was looked upon in most European capitals yesterday as furnishing one line needed to isolate Nazi Germany in the middle of a military alliance.

While no agreement has been signed, the projected alliance of France and Britain has been widely discussed. If carried out, the defense chain would touch every border of Germany and would be the strongest European combination since the Holy Roman empire.

Soviet Russia has given indications that she is just about ready to enter the League of Nations, and to join in a mutual assistance pact with France and other powers for the protection of European borders.

The pact, of course would be open to Germany, if she returned to the League, but its purposes would be attained equally, regardless of the Nazi government's attitude.

The fact that Bulgaria's new fascist regime immediately announced its intention of recognizing the Soviet union was pleasing to the sponsors of the pact.

Russia and Turkey, another nation whose co-operation is believed to be sought, already are friendly.

The little entente Rumania, Togo-Lavie and Czechoslovakia have not recognized Russia, but French influence is expected to bring them to bear to open diplomatic intercourse, since these nations the essential links in the defense chain.

Poland is the big question mark. France and Germany are regarded now as struggling for Polish support. The great diplomatic accomplishment of the Hitler regime was a non-aggression pact with Poland, entered into despite the friction between the countries which has been almost inevitable since the World War remade the map.

Poland and France have professed friendship time and again, but below the surface there are signs that Poland may act independently at any time.

Poland refuses to be a vassal of France, said a spokesman at Geneva, "but she is willing to co-operate with France."

One thing appeared certain—Poland will demand a permanent seat on the League of Nations Council, if Russia comes in and, as a great power, take such a place. Otherwise, Poland would object to the admission of the Soviet union.

Out of the proposed pact Russia would attain European security which would enable her to devote major attention to the Siberian frontier, where the situation is regarded as tense.

The pact would not obligate the other nations to protect her eastern Russian front, but the Soviet union appears now to believe it can handle whatever situation develops there, provided there is no concern over the European border.

Lois Barthou, French Foreign Minister, returning to Paris from Geneva where he talked with Maxim Litvinoff, Russian commissar for foreign affairs, said that he made "a trip around the horizon" with the Soviet minister.

Persons close to Barthou indicated that Russian co-operation in the proposed alliance was expected.

Foes Claim Enactment Of Measure Would Ruin Hundreds Of Loan Associations

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Testimony that enactment of the Administration's housing bill was imperative to ease the "strain" on the home owners' loan corporations was countered yesterday with the assertion that the measure would mean "ruin" for many building and loan associations.

In making the Senate Banking Committee to approve the legislation, John H. Fahey, chairman of the loan corporation, told of the flood of applications which have been received from distressed home owners.

He was followed by Harry E. Karr, counsel for the real estate board of Baltimore, who objected particularly to the provisions which would authorize formation of national mortgage associations.

Fahey said up to May 11, his corporation had received 1,342,191 applications for aid from mortgage-burdened home owners and that the total amount represented by these pleas was $4,300,684,929 or a sum more than double the $2,000,000,000 voted by Congress for home mortgage relief.

Fahey said about 66,000 applications had been rejected and that 32,017 were withdrawn. The loans closed up to May 11 he said represented $481,052,741.

"That leaves you about 1,000,000 applications to act on?" Chairman Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, asked. The corporation chairman nodded agreement.

Karr said the national mortgage associations proposed by the bill would pay no taxes even though they are organized for profit and "that no building and loan association would be able to compete with them."

He opposed also the insurance provisions of the Administration bill and said the additional levies on building and loan associations "would mean liquidation of the majority of our Baltimore concerns."

Fahey said relief from demands on the loan corporation were expected from the provision of the bill which would allow the government to insure up to 60 percent of existing mortgages.

Other sections of the proposal would allow insurance up to 80 percent of loans for new home building; a guarantee of 20 percent of loans for home modernization and repair and a guarantee up to $2500 of deposits in building and loan associations and similar institutions.

Fahey said at the rate the loan corporation "is going" the $200,000,000 authorized by Congress for taxes and repairs for homes would be exhausted long before the $2,000,000,000 for mortgage financing. He disclosed that about $50,000,000 of the $200,000,000 fund had already been lent for loans.

"One-third of the houses in this country," he added, "are substandard and are really not fit for human habitation."

Plans Under Way For
1934 Poppy Day Sale
Sanford will be called upon to honor the World War dead and give aid to the war's living victims by wearing memorial poppies on May 26. This day, the Saturday before Memorial Day, will be "Poppy Day" throughout the United States and will be generally observed by the wearing of the little red flower of Flanders Fields.

Observance of "Poppy Day" here will be directed by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. H. B. Lewis, president of the local Auxiliary Unit, has announced. Women of the Auxiliary will distribute poppies on the streets and receive contributions for the Auxiliary's welfare and relief work among the disabled veterans and their families.

Organization of a corps of volunteer workers to distribute the memorial flowers throughout the city is going forward rapidly under the leadership of Mrs. J. H. Hintermeister, chairman of the Auxiliary's poppy committee. A large supply of the poppies has been ordered from Lake City Hospital, where disabled veterans have been given employment during the winter and spring making the little paper flowers.

BEAUTIFICATION OF ENTIRE STATE BEING PLANNED

JACKSONVILLE, May 22.—(AP)—With Palatka as a testing ground, the Florida Emergency Relief Administration yesterday prepared to embark upon a beautification program on private as well as public property.

"Under the system which is contemplated," Administrator Julius F. Stone, Jr., said, "the Relief Administration would supply both the plan and the labor necessary to carry out the plan. It would be the responsibility of the property owner to supply necessary materials in the way of plants and fertilizer."

The Administration would have operations on large estates or in conjunction with real estate ventures. The program will apply "only to the assistance of smaller home owners, persons who, while desirous of improving the appearance of their homes, are admittedly unable to do so for economic reasons."

Stone instructed R. E. McDonald, regional administrator for the Palatka area, to begin the program in that city immediately. Progress will be watched for two weeks, and the plan extended to include the rest of the state on the basis of the experience in the trial.

Contemplated improvements at Palatka include tearing down some of the unsightly houses in the city and the renovation of others.

Two general types of activity will be undertaken—"the removal of unsightly structures or accumulations of rubbish and the deliberate improvement of barren or drab localities with beautiful plantings and buildings."

The program will include, Stone said, "the cleaning up and landscaping of waste areas, the demolition of dilapidated edifices, the reconditioning of structures of historical and architectural value which have fallen into decay and the planting of shrubs and flowers along highways, in public parks and on private property. In short, the possible means by which the physical attractiveness of the state may be enhanced will be overlooked."

He added that "the Administration does not wish to sponsor a program which will affect small isolated areas. For the program to be desirable from the standpoint of public benefit there must be an improvement which is apparent generally."

Civic and garden clubs and public-spirited citizens, Stone said, will be asked to co-operate in the venture. Several landscape architects will be employed by the Administration to help local officers in drawing up plans.

Social Workers Are Told To Direct Thoughts To Larger Problems Of Rehabilitation

KANSAS CITY, May 22.—(AP)—Rexford G. Tugwell, a chief advisor of President Roosevelt, told a national convention of social workers last night that they should strive for a condition of society in which their services would not be needed "except in rare and accidental cases."

Asserting that on the whole "our social service is still a handicap on the giving and an insufficient dole on the receiving end," the assistant secretary of agriculture told the sixty-first annual meeting of the national conference of social work it should direct its "thoughts, at least, to the larger problems of rehabilitation."

Tugwell, in his prepared address, pointed out that rural life needs reconstruction as well as that of the city; outlined the present industrial system which he said precludes the re-employment of millions now out of work if it is not changed; praised the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, and deplored an economic situation which he said provides insufficient jobs for the two and a half million Americans who reach the age of 18 every year.

"The essence of the New Deal is that it recognizes and gives expression to the people whose wants are going unsatisfied because of the failure of the industrial and political institutions which they have established in the hope of satisfying those wants," he said. "In other words, the New Deal is attempting to do nothing to (Continued On Page Four)

DARROW HITS AT NRA AGAIN IN NEW REPORT

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Clarence Darrow hurled more polished epithets at NRA yesterday and announced an intention of submitting another report on the disputed monopolistic and oppressive trends of that agency which he defied its spokesmen to answer.

The text of the new Darrow board statement assailing criticism by NRA board officers upon its report alleging monopolistic actions, follows:

"The monopolists and profiteers that were uncovered by the review board's report had their innings yesterday and with their attorneys, paid and unpaid, filled the air with their clamors. When they pause to take breath and reason has a chance to be heard, it may be well to remind the public of certain basic facts, total and no doubt intentionally disregarded in these infuriated clamors.

"This board was not created to analyze industries to devise defenses for NRA, nor to weigh the technical factors of corporation management. It was created for two purposes and two only. First, to discover if under the codes monopolistic practices existed; second, to discover if under the codes enterprises were oppressed.

"In pursuit of these purposes it conducted its investigations and reached its conclusions (1) that in certain industries monopolistic practices existed; (2) that in certain industries small enterprises were oppressed.

"Seventeen days later its report is made public together with the excited ejaculations of General Johnson and Mr. Richberg, who, apparently under the impression that the National Recovery Act is their personal property, break into shrieks of rage at the suggestion that the rules are imperfect or susceptible of improvement.

"But the fact remains that in spite of their curious exclamations they have forgotten their subject: in all their outpourings there is nothing to indicate any rational conclusion as to the findings of the board. It is true that monopolistic practices exist under the specified codes; it is true that small enterprises are oppressed.

"So far as these replies that reply to nothing are concerned, the world is still unenlightened and until some competent authority is willing to adopt the conclusions of the board on these points despite the personal resentment of General Johnson and Mr. Richberg.

"Nevertheless a few passing comments may be in order: "It is too much to expect that Mr. Richberg's state of turbulent emotion, he would see the essential fact about anything, but to those still preserving an empire over their intellectual processes it will be perfectly plain at once that the chaotic competition condemned by this board is the identical thing that NRA seeks to eliminate and that the suggestions made in our report are all to the good of that planned control he is hired to defend.

"It would be easy, if it were worth while, to go through Mr. Richberg's excited periods and show that in every instance it is he that is 'uninformed,' he that speaks of what he does not know; he that misstates, and he that stumbles. This board at present has more serious business on hand. It expects to deliver before the end of this week a second review (Continued On Page Four)

Giants Win Over Seminoles In 1st Contest Of Series

Although they were out-hit by the league-leading Seminoles, the Giants scored a 9 to 6 victory in the opening game of the post-season series which will decide the championship of the Lions Club Junior Baseball League.

The game, played at Grammar School park yesterday afternoon, brought out a large crowd which witnessed a free-hitting contest that was decided by the errors of the Seminoles, team which finished first at the end of the regular season.

Fine fielding performances were credited to Kent Rosseter, Jr., of the Giant team and to Bobby Walthall of the Seminoles, while Stenstrom's pitching in the benches contributed much to his team's victory.

The second game of the series was to have been played at the park this afternoon, with the third game scheduled for Friday afternoon. All games are to start at 5:00 o'clock.

Social Workers Are Told To Prepare For Larger Problems

(Continued From Page One) people, and does not seek at all to alter their way of life, their wants and desires. It finds them hungry, in need of clothing, shelter, being denied the good things everywhere existing around them in abundance.

The obvious situation is that these people call for a redirecting of the management of the institutions and organizations through which they feel they should be able to obtain a portion of these good things that they see lying around everywhere.

Therefore, what is demanded of us in America today is the making of a free man on his feet, presented with opportunity to work for himself and those for whom he is responsible, will rise to the occasion well enough. If men had not always done that we should not be here today.

Thousands of Women Benefited by Cardui
The benefits many women obtain from Cardui give them greater freedom in life. I have four children, writes Mrs. J. L. Moore, of Lagrange, Ga. "Before the birth of my children, I was weak, nervous and tired. I had a lot of trouble with my bowels and my stomach each time and found it so helpful. Cardui did more to my health than any other medicine I had ever used. I can now do my work and enjoy my life."

ing over of the institutions controlled by and operated for the benefit of the few, so that regard of their control they shall be operated for the benefit of the many.

as 'rugged individualism' meant the regimentation of the many for the benefit of the few. The social mission of the New Deal has a somewhat higher standard of individualism—it believes in freeing the many from the regimentation of the few.

"There, it seems to me, is the angle of attack for the social service workers of this country, to sublimate the moral force of personal charity into a sense of social responsibility, and to abandon thought of any exclusive personal mission to be or to do good.

"The chief aim of social work under the great governmental program now under way ought to be concentrated on helping people to help themselves—to take advantage for the reconstruction of American life, of those springs of individual initiative which are so native to the American culture. Citizens must be made to feel themselves a part of a great civil movement which has as its object the creation of a better America for themselves and for their successors.

"The most you can do for people is to discipline the institutions and forces which are inimical to the individual and so to provide freedom for action. You cannot forever go on providing subsistence for the idle at government expense. This will never be more than subsistence and it will eventually kill the thing we are trying to foster.

"A free man on his feet, presented with opportunity to work for himself and those for whom he is responsible, will rise to the occasion well enough. If men had not always done that we should not be here today. The industrial system has been turned into an autocracy which was well on the way to killing this impulse in men. It must be shown that this cannot be tolerated. This is where our duty lies: The rescue of men from oppression. If we can do this our present rescue work will become unnecessary. As social workers this is where your ambitions should lie no matter how seriously you take your immediate work of binding up wounds."

"Finally, one question: Does the Administration wish to be understood as supporting monopolies? "The strange course pursued in regard to this report and some of the explosions from the General and Mr. Rieberg might be deemed to justify such a thought and if the small enterprises, whose grievances are in the files of the board, cannot look to their government for relief where shall they turn?"

DARROW HURLS NEW EPITHETS TOWARD NRA
(Continued From Page One) naming additional industries in which conditions are even worse than in those that have festered Mr. Rieberg's vision. "When his perturbed soul has regained its calm, if ever, we will venture two suggestions to him: First, it is exceedingly unseemly for a man occupying such a position in this country to assume that the nation is his personal property and any criticism of any national activity is a personal affront.

There is nothing in a democracy that is above criticism, not even NRA, and if there could be democracy would cease to exist.

"Second, we should advise him to keep together and well in hand his staff of expert evolutionists. When he comes to read the next report of this board it is likely that he will need more than 187 pages to steer ground its contents.

"We hope also that in common fairness the next report will not be held 17 days to give these young gentlemen a chance to read into it things that do not contain and pervert its meaning by placing things out of their context. If that is to be done, we shall insist that at the same time opportunity be given to us to answer Mr. Rieberg's misstatements, correct his errors and at least try to draw his attention to the realities of the issues involved.

"Finally, one question: Does the Administration wish to be understood as supporting monopolies? "The strange course pursued in regard to this report and some of the explosions from the General and Mr. Rieberg might be deemed to justify such a thought and if the small enterprises, whose grievances are in the files of the board, cannot look to their government for relief where shall they turn?"

CLYDE BARROW SHOT TO DEATH IN LOUISIANA

Southwest's Fiercest Outlaw Trapped In Sheriff's Ambush With "Girl Friend"

SHREVEPORT, La., May 23.—(A.P.)—The eight year trail of murder and robbery of Clyde Barrow, the Southwest's "Number One outlaw" was ended today beside Bonnie Parker, his gun-woman companion in crime, in a hail of bullets from a sheriff's posse 50 miles west of here, near the town of Gibsland.

Both were killed instantly before they could fire a shot, and their bodies and automobile were riddled with bullets.

They drove into the posse's ambush, arranged by Frank Hamer, former captain of Texas Rangers who had followed Barrow's trail relentlessly.

With a heavily armed posse hiding in brush along a paved highway, Barrow's car broke over the horizon racing at an 85 mile clip.

As the car approached, an officer yelled "Halt."

Barrow and the woman answered by reaching for their guns, and then were met by a fusillade from a dozen guns.

Bonnie Parker died with her head between her knees and a machine gun in her lap.

Barrow slumped behind the steering wheel with a revolver in his grip.

The automobile careened from the road, and smashed into an embankment.

Officers continued to fire until the car virtually was shot to pieces, and the bodies riddled.

The "Number One" was picked up this morning by Hamer and three Texas Ranger associates in Bossier Parish where Barrow was reported to have relative living.

They followed the bandit car to Rivensville Parish where the rangers were joined by Sheriff Henderson Jordan and a staff of deputies. The officers got ahead of the car, and laid waiting until Barrow ran into the ambush.

Pair Plead Guilty Of Attempt At Kidnaping

NEW YORK, May 23.—(A.P.)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith came back to official public life in characteristic fashion yesterday, taking swift steps to tackle the revision of the city's antiquated charter.

Within two hours after Governor Herbert H. Lehmann signed the bill creating the revision commission and naming Smith as chairman, the former governor and Democratic presidential nominee in 1928 called a meeting for Friday.

Smith, long an advocate of charter reform that would simplify the city's complicated governmental machinery, is expected to preside over the organization and to outline his views briefly.

Kidnap Charges Face 4 South Carolinians

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 23.—(A.P.)—Sheriff W. B. Smith yesterday said he planned to prefer kidnap charges against four men held in connection with alleged abduction of John M. Gregory, young Greenville man.

Gregory told officers the four men and a woman, mistook him for a gambler who held up a dice game at a gambling house near here last week and took several hundred dollars. He was released seven hours later, he said, after being beaten and mistreated.

The four alleged abductors were taken into custody for questioning at Columbia Monday night.

Demand Made In House For Continued Survey Of NRA; Johnson Holds To All Codes

Nye Says Government Is Fostering Monopoly With Little Man In Death Struggle

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(A.P.)—Declarations that "under the NRA, monopolies and trusts have become more powerfully entrenched than ever before," sprung up on Capitol Hill yesterday with demands for further inquiry into the Recovery agency.

Meanwhile there came from the President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Henry L. Harriman, a statement that business men felt the Industrial Recovery Act has done much good, but there also was a "widespread fear that an act, based on the self-regulation of business with government approval of such regulations, might become an autocratic act, for the regimentation of business by the government."

Senator Nye (R., Md.), who originated the proposal for the Darrow board's study of the situation of little business under the code, made the declaration that the government was fostering monopoly.

Representative Britten (R., Ill.), was author of the resolution calling for a special committee of five House members to investigate "every phase of the basis of the report (the Darrow report) just made public which exposes a condition that is in complete conflict with the desires of the President and his policies."

Should the investigation substantiate the findings of the board, the resolution flatly proposed the investigating committee "recommend to the House proper legislation for immediate abolishment of the National Recovery Administration."

Reading the completion of the Congressional inquiry, Britten would have the review board maintained "as an integral part of the National Recovery Administration." Hugh S. Johnson, Recovery administrator, proposed to President Roosevelt the review board be abolished "forthwith." Word has been passed out that the Administration intends to allow the Darrow board to expire at the end of the month.

Nye in his speech to the Senate said the criticism that Johnson, Donald R. Richberg, chief NRA counsel, and others of Johnson's staff leveled at the report of the review board was a "shameful attack."

"He calls," Nye said, referring to Richberg, "Darrow 'a philosophical anarchist.' Darrow is well able to take care of himself in any controversy with Richberg."

"If Richberg thinks for a minute that Darrow's report was made for the purpose of destroying the NRA then I want to make this record clear first—that the man who suggested Darrow for the board was none other than Donald Richberg."

Senator Long (D., La.), entered the debate briefly when Nye said that Johnson had been an officer in one of the companies operated by Bernard M. Baruch, financier.

"General Johnson told me that he was one of Mr. Baruch's men," Long observed.

Nye said that "in the attitude shown in the departments of the (Continued on Page Two)

Administrators Say No Pacts Can Be Abandoned Outright Despite Opposition

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(A.P.)—Under vigorous pressure from coded industries for continuance of their agreements, Hugh S. Johnson has come to the conclusion that no codes can be abandoned outright by NRA despite the grief some have caused the Administration.

He has laid before President Roosevelt, he said yesterday, a plan for "rationalization" of the service trade codes hotels, restaurants, beauty parlors, barber shops, dry cleaners, etc., which sell service but not goods and he still hopes to cut down the great number of miscellaneous code groups by merging all small industrial codes into the largest groups which can economically be formed.

He repeated again that retail trades—which sell goods instead of service—will continue as they are, and observed that those codes had caused little or no trouble and complaint.

Johnson declined to say just how the simplified procedure on service trades would be operated, pending the President's acceptance of the proposed policy, but it definitely will take off NRA the job of trying to enforce price provisions and similar arrangements in areas where large groups do not want to comply.

In the midst of all the controversy over the Darrow report, the Administration took one step further in the shakedown of his own organization by requesting his advisory boards for industry, labor and consumer to create an executive committee of three species, which under the name of advisory council will pass on all code and administrative orders and try to reach an agreement between the conflicting interests.

At the same time he abolished the compliance board and gave its "single snatching" duties to the compliance director.

Johnson asked that the advisory council of nine be prepared to sit constantly, without rotation of membership, for at least six months' period. The council will have 10 days to act on any code. If it has nothing to report at the end of that time Johnson will act without its advice.

Church Merger Plan Being Bitterly Fought

CLEVELAND, May 23.—(A.P.)—A vigorous attack by a group in the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. was being organized last night against the acceptance by the general assembly this week of the pending merger plan with the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

Led by the Rev. J. Greesham Mather, of Philadelphia, and other fundamentalists, the oppositionists, though unopposed to a merger, say the present plan is unacceptable.

While so-called "conservatives" among the assembly delegates believe the merger will be accepted when submitted Friday, the Mather group has dug five lines of trenches from each of which it stands to render stout resistance.

MINNEAPOLIS RIOTS FATAL FOR DEPUTY OF MUNITIONS

Martial Law Averted By Truce That Ends Bitter Battles In Produce Mart Area

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(A.P.)—Martial law was averted by a truce late yesterday. After street fights between striking truckers and police had resulted in death of a special deputy.

Striking drivers and their employers agreed to a 24 hour cessation of hostilities as Governor Floyd B. Olson and Adjutant General E. A. Walsh came to Minneapolis prepared to call out the National Guard to quell increasingly serious disorders.

Under the truce strike pickets will be withdrawn and no trucking moved. Negotiations to remove cause of the strike will be renewed with vigor.

Street fighting of the last few days was renewed yesterday with unusual fury. Strikers were engaged at use of special police in attempts to move produce trucks.

The City Police Market, which is also the site of most of the wholesale houses, again was the battleground. Hundreds of special police patrolled the district. Pickets surged into the area.

Loading of a truck at the Bearman Fruit Company touched off the most serious riot. A sudden rush of pickets, armed with clubs and stones, carried the special police before it.

With fists and clubs, swinging the two parties surged down an incline. Police dropped their clubs and ran. When the flurry was over, one of the policemen, C. A. Lyman, 50, was discovered to have a fractured skull. He died at a hospital.

Fifty five other persons lay on the pavement injured. Thirty were policemen. Amputations took away the wounded. Many pickets refused to be helped, fearing arrest.

Ex-Convict Quizzed In Robles Case But Refuses To Answer

TUCSON, May 23.—(A.P.)—An alleged participant in the nation's largest mail train robbery was questioned by authorities today concerning the kidnaping of John Robles, six-year-old boy.

The suspect, Joe Newton, refused to make any statements regarding the kidnaping in which a $12,000 ransom was not paid, or the robbery of the Modford, Okla., bank a charge on which he was arrested last night.

Officers said Newton had been under surveillance several days during which time he had made nocturnal visits over a fence in the Sonora, Mexico locality in which an intensive search was conducted for the Robles child before she was found.

With his three brothers, Department of Justice records showed, Newton served a federal prison sentence for participation in the $24,000,000 train mail robbery at Round Rock, Ill., in 1921. Information which June gave officers about his activities led to the surveillance of Newton.

Baggett, 43, employs on the dairy farm of his father-in-law, is in a hospital in a critical condition today. Authorities said Baggett shot his wife and attempted to take his own life.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the tragedy, quoted Baggett as saying he killed his wife Monday, then turned a shotgun on himself during a quarrel. He was under guard at the hospital and attendants said his condition was grave.

The shooting took place at the dairy farm of L. A. Moore, father of Mrs. Baggett, where the Baggetts had been living. Officers said Baggett, who came here several years ago from Sumner, Ga., told them family troubles caused the quarrel which led to the shooting.

Roosevelt Said To Control Political Destiny Of U. S.; His New Deal Termed Futile

Ed Howe Sees President As Dictator Surrounded By 49 Men, Women Aides

ATLANTA, May 23.—(A.P.)—The New Deal is a "reactionary movement" and was tried and found to be a "miserable failure" over 200 years ago, Gus W. Dyer of Nashville, editor of the Southern Agriculturist, said here last night.

Speaking before the Southern States Industrial Council, an organization composed of manufacturers of this section, Dyer said the Constitution forbade the government from exercising any control in the field of competitive private business. He added that the Constitution protects private property against governmental invasion as well as prohibiting the imposition of contracts.

"An effort is being made to pull us all through the same knot hole and it can't be done," W. H. Anderson of Macon, president of the Hill Manufacturing Company, told the group. The manufacturers said he favored high wages and was against the reduction of the wage scale in Southern industry.

The problem of securing wage differentials in order to aid the South was the main theme of the one-day session of the council and John K. Edgerston of Lebanon, Tenn., its president, said that factors of individual productivity as determined by climate, racial differences, opportunities for training and different degrees of mechanization in manufacturing processes were "almost wholly disregarded" in the formulation of the codes.

He said the codes were written by the South's competitors and that their enforcement is almost entirely in the hands of the competitor.

He warned that workers from the North and East would invade this section unless the differential is recognized.

"The only defense made of this revolution is that it is demanded by an emergency," Dyer said in his speech last night. "The conclusion from this reasoning is that constitutional rights may be claimed by American citizens only when the country is entirely free from emergencies."

Franklin Roosevelt, when inaugurated, knew little or nothing of the masses for the very apparent reason that he had never contacted them in making his own living. His entire association had been with the upper classes and later with the political leaders and politicians. He is perfectly familiar with the ambitions and the weaknesses and the greed of our leaders in business and in politics but he missed the yearning of the masses without comprehension of their defects and their abilities and their ignorance and their wishes. He has magnified the failures of our industrial system as they are, but he has minimized the shortcomings of the little business men and the others.
