

West Berliner Proposes Running Reds' Blockade

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin's Deputy Mayor Franz Amrehn has a solution for the East Germans: try to stop an Allied Berlin convoy. Don't talk. Just ram the convoy through. The Russians won't shoot.

The 46-year-old Amrehn inherited temporarily the job of administering West Berlin's city affairs in the absence of Mayor Willy Brandt, who is on a world tour.

And his dislike for the Communists is based on just as tough a line as Brandt's.

This straight-talking member of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party makes no attempt to hide the depths of the crisis to which he believes West Berlin will be plunged May 27.

On that date, he firmly expects the Russians to carry out their threat to turn West Berlin's communications lifelines over to the Communist East Germans.

He does not deny the Soviet ultimatum against West Berlin already is having its effect, but he says the city cannot be caught unprepared.

For many months, long before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's announcement last Nov. 27, West Berlin has been laying up stocks.

The last public figures were that 200 million dollars worth of essential supplies already had been stored here against the possibility of a blockade. And that figure has been increased vastly since. West Berlin plans include any eventuality and it is estimated the city can live within itself six to eight months.

"Of course," Amrehn says, "no one can be sure that the Russians won't shoot if the Allies choose to ignore an attempt to halt their convoys."

"But," he said, "the Russians will shoot only if they already have made up their minds to do so."

the Russians, or even the Americans, land a man on the moon with a flag and maybe a gun.

Keating said international law now is that each nation controls the "air space" over its territory. He said nobody knows where this quits and where "outer space" starts. Unless an agreement on this is made, he said people may start extending their air space toward the stars.

And this is where he ran into trouble.

"Because of the curved surface of the earth," he said, "the extension would produce an inverted cone which would grow bigger and bigger. At some point these cones would overlap and more than one state would be occupying the same air space."

As any space-minded school boy could have told him, and as Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.) did tell him, this wasn't right.

"At one time," said Fulton, "drafting and dissecting with radial lines a reasonable facsimile of a globe, 'I was going to be a scientist and a math teacher. I don't believe the gentleman is correct in saying the cones would overlap.'"

The idea is not original with me," replied Keating. "I picked it up from a scientist."

Fulton, obviously entertaining the hope this scientist was one working for the other side, explained that perpendicular lines drawn from various points on the earth's curved surface would diverge rather than meet.

Senator Probably Was Playing Hookey

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N. Y.) is an eminent lawyer, a war hero and brigadier general, and a political genius who got elected to the Senate as a Republican at a time when it looked like nobody but Democrats could win election to anything.

It is said to report, however, that when they were teaching rudimentary physics in high school the distinguished senator from Rochester must have been out playing hookey.

Keating, who was a member of the House for 12 years before his graduation to the Senate last November, like all ex-House members probably finds the rarefied air of the Senate hard to take as a regular thing. Anyway, he can't resist going back to the House now and then.

So there he was, in the role of expert witness before the House Space Committee, of which he once was a member.

He was arguing, most persuasively, the need for quick work agreement on control of space. He said this ought to be a lot easier now than it will be after the Russians, or even the Americans, land a man on the moon with a flag and maybe a gun.

Keating said international law now is that each nation controls the "air space" over its territory. He said nobody knows where this quits and where "outer space" starts. Unless an agreement on this is made, he said people may start extending their air space toward the stars.

And this is where he ran into trouble.

"Because of the curved surface of the earth," he said, "the extension would produce an inverted cone which would grow bigger and bigger. At some point these cones would overlap and more than one state would be occupying the same air space."

Most States Plan '59 Tax Increase

CHICAGO (UPI)—Chances are your state's taxes will go up this year, according to the Commerce Clearing House.

The national reporting authority on tax and business law said a state-by-state survey shows that 11 states are thinking of raising their gasoline tax by one to two cents a gallon. New York, in fact, has already done so.

You may also pay more for cigarettes in 11 states. One to two cents more per pack, if pending bills are passed in those states: Arizona, Utah, Illinois, South Dakota and Washington want to hike their sales tax rate while Massachusetts, Nebraska and Oregon are considering the idea of levying sales taxes for the first time.

The survey also showed that Michigan, South Dakota, Texas, Washington and West Virginia are proposing brand new income tax systems. The passage of bills in those states would raise the number of states taxing income to 34, the CCH noted.

In addition, several states plan to make drinking and gambling more expensive while five—Georgia, Tennessee, Montana, Ohio and Oklahoma—want new soft drink taxes.

Three States Hold Line Of Two Taxes

CHICAGO (UPI)—If you live in Nebraska, New Hampshire or Texas, you're one of the vanishing breed of Americans who pay neither a retail sales tax nor a broad-based state income tax.

The Federation of Tax Administrators reports that 30 states now have a sales tax, although only 18 have both.

The FTA also counted up 33 states with a tax on corporate income. It said every state taxes gasoline and motor vehicles and that all but Virginia, Oregon, North Carolina, Colorado and California maintain tobacco taxes.

As for liquor, the 47 states where sales are legal—Oklahoma and Mississippi are both "dry"—all levy a tax on each bottle.

Reds Have Secret, Nikita Flies Home

United Press International
Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev prepared today to fly home from Berlin to Moscow with the draft of a separate peace treaty for East Germany in his pocket.

He also claimed "full agreement" with the East German Communists on a secret plan for joint action to push the West out of Berlin if East-West negotiations fail.

An official communique announcing the result of his talks with East German Red bosses was expected soon. It was expected to restate the unyielding Communist stand on Berlin but not mention the secret plans for joint action against the West.

The West rejects the idea of turning West Berlin into a "free city" and no apparent concessions by the Communist leader change that situation.

Reports from Paris said some differences remained between the French and British approaches to the Berlin crisis, but all spokesmen insisted the basic Western stand was the same.

The Paris reports said the West also was generally agreed on a mid-May foreign ministers meeting with the Soviet Union and possibly a summit conference later in the summer.

But none of the Allies was prepared to accept the Soviet-dictated agenda for such a meeting—Berlin only. The West wants a full European settlement discussed including the German question, disarmament and other related topics.

Escaped Con Back Behind Bars; Two Stolen Cars Found

An escaped prisoner from Georgia stole a car at the Civic Center last night and was arrested in Apopka a short time later, officials said.

James Funderburk, 23, escaped from the Meriwether Prison Ranch, Warm Springs, Ga. After stealing a car in Ocala, he came to Sanford, where he apparently had friends.

Police learned of his presence last night when a Sanford resident reported seeing Funderburk driving south on Palmetto Ave. at 7:40 p. m.

When Sgt. W. R. Cugrave came on duty at 11 p. m., he found the car abandoned at the corner of First St. and Pine Ave. The radiator was still hot. A check revealed that the vehicle had been stolen in Ocala between noon and 4 p. m. yesterday.

Shortly before 11 p. m., John Burton IV, local architect, reported his car stolen from the Civic Center during the concert.

At 12:32 a. m., Funderburk was arrested in Apopka, driving Burton's automobile. Orange County authorities turned him over to the Seminole County Sheriff's department.

Funderburk is now in jail. He will face trial for auto theft here, before returning to prison in Georgia.

County Buries Man Who Died In Jail

Funeral services were to be held at graveside this afternoon for a man who died Monday in the Seminole County Jail.

Since no one has come forward to claim the body of Arthur Buford Taylor, the county has assumed the duty of his burial.

The Rev. J. B. Fisher was to officiate at the 4 p. m. services in Evergreen Cemetery.

Taylor was born Sept. 26, 1912, in Olean, N. Y. He was a resident of Orlando, where he operated a service station.

Survivors include three children and one brother, whose names and addresses are not known. Briston Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Taylor was arrested Saturday in Longwood and placed in the county jail under charges of drunkenness. Death was ruled as a result of respiratory failure and alcoholism after an autopsy report.

League Asks Audit For County Home

Members of the Longwood Citizens League have demanded an audit of county funds allotted to the County Home for the past few years.

The demand was made at a special meeting, called after a committee had visited the Home. Conditions at the "porthouse" were called to the attention of the public through a series of articles in The Sanford Herald.

A spokesman for the League said that evidence has been found that some funds allotted to the County Home had been transferred to other sources, and "much of the money returned to the general fund."

League President Joseph Rogers said that the duty of the organization was to inform the taxpayer where and how his taxes were being spent. "The taxpayers own the home, and have the right to know how it is managed," he said.

Suggestions for immediate needs of those confined to the home were made by the visiting committee. These will be outlined April 1 during a public meeting in the Seminole County courthouse at 8 p. m.

Committees from every club, church, lodge and school are urged to attend to discuss restoration of the building and ways to provide comfort for those in the home. Many have already offered aid.

Rogers urged all county residents to visit the home on 17-92 and inspect the conditions caused by years of neglect.

Symphony Captures Sanford Audience

The Florida Symphony Orchestra is destined for a long run of "annuals" in Sanford.

More than 1,150 children attended the afternoon concert, sponsored by Odham and Taylor. More than 60 adults came last night and went away elated with the first "pops" concert ever presented by the Florida Symphony.

For those who did not come, it was a thing of beauty, leaving the listener dazed in a happy feeling.

From the opening strains of James Oestrelin to "Il Gattino" to the stirring boom of Sousa's "Washington Post" march, the 80-piece orchestra kept the Sanford audience longing for more.

Frank Miller, the Symphony's versatile conductor, gave in to the applause. Two encores were granted: "Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Strauss, and the Over-

By majority vote, members of the Sanford Grammar School PTA last night withdrew from the State and National Parent-Teacher Associations.

Speaking in favor of withdrawal was D. M. Ladd, former FBI official. Ladd pointed out that the best way to serve the child in the local schools is to withdraw from the national group.

The $750,000 subdivision of Malibu Shores in Allamonte Springs will open sometime this month. The development is located east of Maitland Road off Lake Ave.

Lenton A. Brown, 64, died suddenly Tuesday at 4 p. m. He was born March 12, 1894, in Americus, Ga., and had been a resident of Sanford for 25 years. He resided at 2610 Magnolia Ave.

The measure, introduced in both houses of the General Assembly Tuesday, would require any woman giving birth to a third illegitimate child to show cause why she should not be sterilized.

Ask Higher Taxes Or Let Me Alone, Ike Tells Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today challenged congressional critics of his defense policies to have the courage to ask the higher taxes when they call for larger armed forces.

The President warned strongly against reacting to each new international crisis with demands for appreciably larger armed forces.

He said Congress in the past had made some very serious mistakes on national defense. He thought it would be ruinous at this point to change his announced established program of military strength because of new crisis generated by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Furthermore, he told reporters that if Congress forced additional military manpower on him at this time, he had no intention as commander-in-chief of sending added manpower to Europe, but would merely stick these extra troops away in some quiet and convenient place.

Seldom has Eisenhower shown more resolution and vigor in defense of his beliefs than he did at his news conference today.

He said the U. S. could not win a ground war in Central Europe over Berlin or anything else. He accepted the fact that nuclear weapons might have to be used if the Russians were so foolish as to start a war. But he said he did not believe anyone, even the Russians, would launch a self-defeating, self-destroying major nuclear war.

Says Kassem Aids Reds; Break Near

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI)—U. A. R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser today accused Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassem of working with international communism to sabotage Arab unity.

His bitter denunciation of the Kassem regime followed mammoth demonstrations Tuesday in Baghdad in which thousands of youths surged through the streets shouting anti-Nasser slogans.

Counter demonstrations broke out in Damascus where students demonstrated against the death sentence imposed from Baghdad on Iraqi rebel leader Col. Abdel Wahab Shawal, already reported slain.

Nasser delivered a biting personal attack on Kassem and said he was working with communism to sabotage Arab unity but that the United Arab Republic will not "surrender our mission" of uniting the Arab world.

Cairo dispatches made it clear that relations between the U. A. R. and Iraq were near the breaking point. Damascus authorities suspended train service to Iraq while newspapers showed the grave view taken by the U. A. R. over the reported stranding of a Syrian village by Iraqi planes.

UPI correspondent Zaki Salama reported from Baghdad that screaming students armed with sticks, axes and ropes swarmed through the streets in an unprecedented show of hostility for Kassem, whom the Iraqi government accuses of supporting Sunday's revolt.

"Leave our people alone," thousands upon thousands shouted in Baghdad. "We don't want your unity, Nasser. Down with Nasser!"

Buck Rogers Gun 'To Be Too Late'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Space Committee members today said expected development by 1966 of a "Buck Rogers" type weapon against missiles would be far too late.

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) told United Press International the United States must have an anti-missile weapon within two or three years at the latest. Other members agreed.

Rep. James M. Quigley (D-Pa.) said he is worrying about six months from now—not seven years. Rep. B. F. Sisk (D-Calif.) said talk of a "Buck Rogers" weapon or death rays by 1966 "sounds too much like whistling in the dark."

Roy Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, told the committee last month about embryonic work on the new weapon. The committee released the testimony Tuesday night after deleting part for security reasons.

Johnson said the ideal defense against missiles would be a death ray, but he said he did not know what final form the weapon would take.

Johnson also told the committee ALPA is working on a missile warning system that would be able to detect the firing of a missile while it was still on its launching pad in Russia.

New cases were reported last week in Dade and Escambia counties.

Policy Statements Of Bar In Demand

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It is possible, although not likely, that you—the person reading this column—have a spare $200 you could send to Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio).

Shrine Of Hitler Now Fading Away; Few Signs Remain

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—The bricks show through where the stucco finish has fallen away from the walls of the beer hall made famous by Adolf Hitler. The building is empty now, although over the stone archway leading to the courtyard you still can read the words "Buergerbraukeller."

The tables have been removed from the courtyard where brown-shirted youths drank beer and became enraptured to a mustached man with a Hitler Germany that would live forever. The only thing standing in the courtyard now is a portable cement mixer.

A mile or so away, the sun shines brightly on the broad Ludwigstrasse. On each side are the substantial buildings of Munich University. Near the end is a fountain where students lounge and at the far end is a victory arch.

The arch commemorates the German victory over France in 1918. At the other end is the Feldherrnhalle, or "Marshall's Hall." It is uncovered and at the stairway leading to the entrance two stone lions stand guard.

It was between these two lions on Nov. 9, 1923, that Hitler stood. Marching toward him from the victory arch were his brown-shirted Nazi followers. That was the day of the ill-fated beer hall putsch.

For that, Hitler went to jail and wrote his book "Mein Kampf," which contained the blueprint of Nazi conquest. Near at hand, is a huge square which became the site of a Nazi shrine. Many of Hitler's earlier followers fell there and the square became their honored grave.

All the outward signs that made the square a shrine have been removed now.

Douglas, Hayworth Get 'Worst' Titles

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Kirk Douglas, who has won the Harvard Lampona "worst actor" award three years in succession, feels it is about time the boys at Harvard send him the trophy.

"Please send the trophy prepaid," the award film star telegraphed the editors of the Harvard undergraduate magazine Tuesday after he was informed that the "worst actor" title was being retired because he had cornered it.

Nobody in the film colony ever has seen a Lampona trophy, but year after year the lads in Cambridge, Mass., deal out their least longed for honors with a few succinct insults. They panned Douglas for his role in "The Vikings," which the Lampona listed among the 10 worst movies in 1958.

Rita Hayworth carried off the "worst actress" award for her role in "Separate Tables." The Lampona editors even dreamed up a special award for Eddie Fisher, Debbie Reynolds and Elizabeth Taylor, screenplay's top triangle. They earned it, the magazine said, "actors and actresses who despite the lack of entertaining scripts still manage extemporaneously to entertain the nation."

Draw It, Podner, I'm Not Bluffing
PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Police brought a quick end to a threatened duel between a cab driver and a would-be holdup man Monday night.

The cab driver, Roy Dalton, 29, of Lindenwood, N. J., told investigators his passenger announced a holdup, placed his hand in his pocket and threatened to shoot. Dalton did the same.

all around, especially to Scherer who is not aware that a total stranger is soliciting funds in his behalf.

Scherer's money problem arises from the fact that he is the publisher, in effect, of a prospective best seller but is not in a position to have more copies printed because the Scherer best seller is not for sale—it is for free.

Here's the way it is. In the appendix of the Feb. 23 Congressional Record, Scherer inserted the text of a resolution which had just been adopted as a policy statement of the American Bar Assn. The nub of the resolution was that numerous recent decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court had had the effect of severely hampering the efforts of the several states and the nation to protect themselves against Communist subversion. A considerable popular demand has developed for copies of the Record containing the ABA policy statement. Scherer had laid in a small supply and he has two left.

Individuals and organizations alive to the Communist menace in the U. S. have applied to him for 50 to 100 copies in a bundle to be distributed.

Quite apart from its references to the Supreme Court, the long ABA report is a gold mine of documented information on the long-haul objectives of communism. It tells what strategy is back of the worldwide Communist practice of making international promises and of breaking them almost as soon as they are made. In the words of Lenin's reference to treaties and to agreements, the ABA statement relates:

"Promises are like pie crusts—made to be broken." Here's another: "It is necessary to agree to any and every sacrifice, and even, if need be—to resort to all sorts of stratagems, maneuvers, and illegal measures, to evasion and subterfuge."

The authors of the ABA report believe Americans are dangerously ignorant of their global Communist enemy. The report is a good refresher course for the informed and an eye-opener for the complacently ignorant.

The actual military situation in Iraq remains obscure, with the only known facts that the borders are generally closed to air, rail, and road traffic and all foreigners in Baghdad are warned to stay off the streets to prevent a repetition of last July's bloodshed. Conflicting claims reduce it to a propaganda war whose outcome no one is yet willing to predict.

The important Mideastern radio still are noncommittal and most Mideast nations are bending backwards to avoid predictions or taking sides.

However, the outbreak was as predictable as the time and tides and may determine the whole course of Mideastern events. Kassem wants to stay in power. He is considered non-Communist but may have gone so far in surrounding himself with Communists that it is impossible to withdraw.

Some Mideast sources say that Kassem is a prisoner of his own forces in Baghdad and would be killed if he attempted to leave the capital.

Whatever the outcome of the present outbreak, there is no doubt that the results will be judged as a victory or defeat for Communism in the Middle East.

What his testimony boiled down to was that both the International Monetary Fund and the International Bank are running low on cash, and that Uncle Sam right away must step up $1,375,000,000 extra to keep the loan business humming.

The part the members couldn't understand though was that we want to do this right now, when we are about broke ourselves, instead of next year, when we will be better off.

Anderson explained that there may be an international crisis any time, and that "one can never know what he had in mind here. Other Democrats have contended that Anderson's two banks don't really need the money now, but that like wants it to show up on the current budget, which is already in the red, instead of next year, when it would wipe out the small surplus he has promised.

So why, Fulbright asked Anderson, slipping his needle in ever so gently, isn't we wait on this until sometime around the first of July?

Anderson said well there is the Berlin problem ahead, and he wouldn't want the well to run dry at a time like that.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) seemed to think this was right and that maybe it might be Uncle Sam himself next in line for a loan, especially if he has to put up this extra dough now.

Fulbright called attention to the fact that our government this fiscal year is already in a hole for about 13 billion dollars, whereas next fiscal year, which starts July 1, President Eisenhower claims he's prepared to operate in the black.

Powder Ignited In Explosive Iraq

CAIRO (UPI)—Whoever holds Baghdad holds Iraq. There is little surprising in the Iraqi revolt. The only surprise is the matter of timing. The lighted fuse finally reached the powder keg.

Premier Abdel Karim Kassem holds Baghdad and has the air force to back him. Col. Abdien Wahab Shawafa's second division may be the most powerful in Iraq, but as far as is known here, it has no air support and has more than 200 miles between it and Baghdad.

Baghdad remains the military key, despite the obvious economic value of the oil fields, presumably in rebel hands. The proof lies in the military preparations against the revolt Kassem long expected.

The actual military situation in Iraq remains obscure, with the only known facts that the borders are generally closed to air, rail, and road traffic and all foreigners in Baghdad are warned to stay off the streets to prevent a repetition of last July's bloodshed. Conflicting claims reduce it to a propaganda war whose outcome no one is yet willing to predict.

Witness Really Wanted To Say 'Yes'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The witness looked like a banker about to say no.

This was only partly right. He wanted the worst way to say yes. What put the frown lines in his face was the prospect that Congress won't let him hand out the money.

It was Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in his role as U. S. director not of one bank but two, both of them international and both lay lending to people all over the world money that tends to be mostly American.

What his testimony boiled down to was that both the International Monetary Fund and the International Bank are running low on cash, and that Uncle Sam right away must step up $1,375,000,000 extra to keep the loan business humming.

Exam Is Scheduled For GI Murderer

SEOUL (UPI)—The court martial of PFC Kenneth M. Burke, of Del Rio, Tex., on charges of murdering a fellow soldier and trying to murder another recessed for three weeks after a brief opening session to allow time for psychiatric examination of the defendant.

Burke probably will be taken to Japan for examination by military and civilian experts.

The 23-year-old Texan has been charged with killing Pvt. Frank Galgano, of Miami, and wounding SP4 Philip B. Mead of Lancaster, Pa., on Jan. 23.

Mead, who had differences with Burke, is believed to have been the target of the Texan's attack. Galgano, who was riding in a truck with the Pennsylvanian when Burke opened fire with a .45 caliber automatic, apparently was an accidental victim.

Nicaragua Remains Private Preserve Of Somoza Family

United Press International
"Somoza & Sons" could be the sign hanging over any shop in the Americas. Or it could grace the gateway to Nicaragua.

Ever since 1933 this little Central American country, about the size of New York and New Jersey combined, has been the private political preserve of the Somoza family.

When an assassin's bullet ended Gen. Anastasio Somoza's life in September, 1956, his sons took over the store. Luis, then 34, succeeded his father as president. Anastasio Jr., then 32, assumed command of the armed forces.

The arrangement has worked out very well for the Somozas. The sons have kept the family wealth intact and there has been no organized outcry against their administration from within. At the moment, Nicaraguans exiles do not appear to have enough cohesion to issue a serious challenge from without.

Luis last year proposed to Congress (overwhelmingly dominated by his ruling Liberal Party) a constitutional amendment prohibiting a Nicaraguan president from succeeding himself.

The bill also provides that no one related to the president within the fourth degree of kinship—by blood or marriage—may succeed him. The bill, passed on first reading last December, will come up for a second reading next April.

But this will not become an issue until 1963 when the present term expires and until then the Somozas give no indication of relinquishing control of the government their father captured by a military coup.

President Somoza vowed in a speech in early February he would die fighting rather than quit.

Bomb Ban Sought, But Reds Say No
GENEVA (UPI)—The U. S. and Britain yesterday called for a nuclear test ban treaty that would last indefinitely but they reserved the right to withdraw at any time they believed the agreement was not being adequately controlled.

They charged it would give "any nation the opportunity to resume nuclear testing on the slightest pretext."

The U. S.—British offer was submitted to the Soviets at a one-hour meeting of the Geneva nuclear conference.

Wash-Wear Fabrics

By MYRTLE WILSON
Home Demonstration Agent
This term applies to fabrics having a resin treatment that makes them wrinkle and spot resistant and easy to iron.

How do wash-and-wear cottons differ from synthetics?

Cottons are chemically processed at various stages. Since certain characteristics are "built in" synthetic fibers, these fabrics may require little or no processing, depending on the type of fiber.

Does the wash-and-wear process increase the cost?

Miss Elizabeth Dickenon, State Clothing and Textiles Specialist, says: "A good wash-and-wear application costs 3/4 to 1 cent more a yard at the finishing plant level. If the consumer knows she's getting a good product, she probably won't object too much to paying the extra pennies."

How do wash-and-wear fabrics differ?

Wash-and-wear fabrics should require little ironing. Drip-dry fabrics should dry and be ready to wear at once. To be perfectly accurate, every article of both types should be lightly ironed for best appearance.

Does the wash-and-wear treatment eliminate ironing?

Most of the reliable wash-and-wear promotions do not claim that ironing is not necessary. The labels read "minimum care needed" or "Minimum care with little or no ironing."

What should be the washing temperature?

Washing temperatures vary. Washing instructions should come with the garment.

What should be the ironing temperature?

Pass a warm iron lightly over the garment. Again, check instructions that come with the garment. Wrinkles set by body heat require steam pressing to remove.

What qualities should a consumer expect from a wash-and-wear article?

A good wash-and-wear fabric should be color fast, not stretch or shrink excessively, wash easily and dry quickly, iron easily or need no ironing, resist non-oil spots, soil, mildew and perspiration. It should also be crease-resistant, be durable after wash-and-wear treatment, be laundered with other garments without special care, and have wash-and-wear treatment that will last the life of the garment.

Luncheon Thursday

The CPO Wives' Club will give a luncheon on Thursday at 1:30 at the CPO Club with Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Mrs. Richard Boloff and Mrs. John Wirtler as hostesses.

A St. Patrick's Day theme will be used and Mrs. B. E. Mitchell will give a demonstration on liquid embroidery.

All members of the Club and their guests are invited to attend.

Break With Coffee

Housewives should take a few coffee breaks during the day, says Glenn Prickett, a safety specialist at the University of Minnesota.

Prickett said accidents in the kitchen are caused by the same errors which produce a large share of highway accidents — haste and fatigue.

Taking several brief rest periods during the day will pay off in increased energy and greater safety.

White spots on mahogany furniture can be removed by spreading a thick coat of vaseline over the spots. Let it stand for 16 hours, then wipe off.

Old friends, the Carpenter, the wood, the nail.
This time is different.
Now, the wood and the nail are enemies.
The spike draws blood from the palm.
The wrist burns against the wood.

PTAs Pulling Away From National Group

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Florida PTA rapidly are losing grass roots support. In Seminole County, three Parent-Teacher groups have pulled out. More are likely to do so.

PTA officials admit that the National and State Congresses have done little to benefit local groups. For all practical purposes, each PTA in Seminole County is an independent body.

Local PTA groups plan to continue to operate as parent-teacher organizations. Rather than accept some of the views of the National PTA, local groups are voting to pull away.

National PTA leaders apparently aren't too worried. Nothing has been said in way of "explanation" as to what leaders "meant when they said what they said."

Parents and teachers have become disturbed at the "one-world" idea advocated by the National PTA. They do not like the barbs hurled at patriotism by the United National Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization, known more commonly as UNESCO.

PTA groups in Florida, and elsewhere, support the United Nations. They believe in the UN and its aims and purposes. However, they cannot buy the insidious efforts of UNESCO to undermine the very foundations of the American way of life.

UNESCO would have textbooks revised to include only the philosophies of the directors of UNESCO. According to a UNESCO publication, schools should be used to combat family attitudes that favor nationalism.

It would appear that UNESCO is not in favor of the good old American way of life. Congress always is seeking things to investigate. This would appear to be a prize plum.

New Schools Nearer

The Seminole County School Board tomorrow will decide when bids will be asked for the start of the gigantic school construction program.

School officials returned to Sanford from New York last weekend, bringing with them a check for some $3,200,000. Tomorrow, Board members will decide the priority list for new schools in the county.

Construction will be big news for many months as the program swings into high gear. All sections of Seminole County are scheduled to benefit from the program.

School officials have lost no time in transferring a vote of the freeholders into concrete plans for additional buildings. The need for space made it mandatory that new schools be constructed.

The growing population indicates that more schools than planned will be needed in the near future. When the need arises, Seminole citizens once again will rise to the challenge.

13 Churches Slate Revival Programs

Thirteen of the 137 Southern Baptist Churches in the Seminole Association are conducting simultaneous revivals during March and April.

Emphasis on evangelism this year is the beginning of a six-year program promoted by the Southern Baptist Convention. Most of the 32,000 churches in the convention have agreed to cooperate in the activities.

Appearing at churches in the Seminole Association are the Rev. D. D. Locke, DeLeon Springs, March 22-29; Rev. L. A. Hall, Lake Mary, March 15-22; Rev. H. H. McMurphy, Pinecrest, March 11-22; Dr. O. L. Walker, Newton, March 18-22; Rev. Clyde Duncan, Longwood, March 22-29; Dr. Edward Holmes, DeBary, March 15-22; Dr. Pope Duncan, DeLand, First, April 12-20; Rev. ## Air Force May Net Moon Instruments

WASHINGTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — A Discoverer satellite shot tentatively set for late this month might solve America's first attempt at recovery of the baby moon's instruments.

Air Force cargo planes known to have been practicing recovery flights near Hawaii will soon fly the 40 to 50 pound payload ejected from the high flying satellite and try to recover the package in orbit trailing behind the plane.

The instrument package on the 1300-pound satellite will be fired backwards out of the satellite so that it loses orbital speed and returns toward the earth. When it has slowed down sufficiently from its more than 1000-mile-an-hour velocity, a parachute will open and further slow its descent to assist the recovery operation.

Washington See-Saw

By WIN PENDLETON

Three Parties — This is not a society column, but there are three parties that you might enjoy reading about.

Party number one was staged here last week by the Democrats. They were honoring all of the Democratic Senators, Congressmen and Governors who won last November.

It was a $100 a plate affair. The ball room of the Sheraton Park Hotel was packed. The Florida Democratic members of Congress were on hand. Among the speakers was Governor LeRoy Collins. His appearance on a national platform in Washington gave a new boost to rumors that he is working hard to win the vice-presidential spot on the national Democratic ticket next year.

The Governor has said that this is not so. But, those who like to further the rumor point to his recent article against gambling that appeared in a national magazine and to his liberal degeneration policies as being aimed at winning friends and influencing voters... up north where they will be needed.

If Collins should have this idea in the back of his mind, he might find the going a bit tough when he gets to Los Angeles for the convention. For there he is likely to find another Floridian with the same idea — and with much more influence. Senator George Smathers. Anyway, it was a nice speech and the Governor was warmly received.

Party number two was the big Florida State Society Cherry Blossom Princess "wheel spinning" that was staged at the Continental Hotel. The new Florida Princess is Miss Grace McCurdy, 21,

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Herald:

Radio Station WTRR has received numerous calls in regard to "Tel-Quiz." The assumption seems to be that WTRR has authorized this promotion or is somehow connected with it. We wish to establish the fact that WTRR has carried no advertising in connection with "Tel-Quiz" and is in no way connected with the promotion.

WTRR has an established policy of making no calls to the listening audience; a policy established after years of experience during which checks, pranksters, and the like made misrepresentations whereby it was made to appear that WTRR was providing fabulous gifts, awards, etc. for practically no effort on the listener's part.

WTRR has various programs on which awards and gifts are available to listeners. But in all instances, the listener calls WTRR thereby being assured that the entire matter is legitimate and that no misrepresentations are being made.

This is an open letter which we hope you will see fit to place before your readers so that they may be correctly informed as to WTRR's position and policy.

Sincerely,

Honestly Pays Off, Groucho Declares Of His Quiz Show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Groucho Marx delivered the first big-time quiz show to TV nine years ago and has survived to see all the others go down the drain.

His success formula: "Our program is never crooked." Always rated in the top 20 programs, Groucho's "You Bet Your Life," took a back seat for two or three years to the spectacular "Twenty-One" — "64,000 Question" and others. But they've long since passed by the boards and Groucho is riding for his 10th season.

"How does he explain this?" "The public must be drunk," he quipped.

"Seriously, people are interested in the show because we run an honest quiz. We never help anyone, and our questions can be answered by anyone of normal intelligence."

"Some of those other shows relied on geniuses as contestants, while less than 3 per cent of the audience was capable of coming up with the answers."

"The difference between 'You Bet Your Life' and the others is about the same as the difference between wrestling matches and the fights. With wrestling everything is planned out in advance, but nobody knows how a prize fight will turn out."

Groucho had innumerable opportunities to win viewer sympathy by giving contestants "break" but he steadfastly refused to do so.

"It might please the public temporarily if I let a contestant win who needed the money," he said. "But in the long run it would be ruinous."

Locked Door Foils Would-Be Thief

ROME (UPI) — Sergio Ibsico, 20, locked himself in the men's room of a tavern with the intention of looting the place after it closed.

But the tavern's owner locked the room from the outside, too. He was found the next morning and captured. Adding to his humiliation was this — another key to the door had been lying on a shelf all the time.

Transfer Okayed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Cabinet has approved a transfer of one-half interest in a gas and oil drilling lease in Dale County from Commonwealth Oil Co. to the Coastal Petroleum Co.

Reds Shell Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — The Chinese Communists resumed their artillery bombardment of the Nationalist-held Quemoy off these islands today after observing their usual alternate day ceasefire Tuesday, the defense ministry said.

Rockefeller Gets Major Win; Taxes To Be Hiked

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Nelson A. Rockefeller has won his first major political fight as governor of New York and his supporters feel certain the outcome will strengthen his position as a contender for the 1960 presidential nomination.

The 50-year-old multi-millionaire, who has been kept in the presidential picture despite repeated denials of White House ambitions, broke a GOP majority revolt in the state Legislature to put across a two-million dollar spending program and a record tax boost to help finance it. His backers said it was a big gamble, but one which will pay off before the Republican National Convention meets next year.

The argument being advanced by the Rockefeller camp is that by pushing a tax increase through this year, New York state will be

Chrysler Ponders Small Auto Issue

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Chrysler Corp. will produce a small economy car if its competitors do, but won't be much cheaper than the present small Plymouth.

L. L. Colbert, president of the auto company, said Tuesday that Chrysler will not pioneer the field but would be "ready to follow if our competitors come out first."

Colbert said the economy Chrysler probably would have a six-cylinder engine in front, carry six passengers, and run 25 miles on a gallon of gas. He said it would cost only $125 to $150 less than the current small Plymouth.

Two Jets Collide, Both Keep Flying

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (UPI)—Two B-47 jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command collided over Idaho Tuesday—but both landed safely and none of the eight men aboard the planes was injured.

Col. Robert V. DeShazo, commander of the 9th Bombardment Wing, said the collision happened near Twin Falls during a routine training flight.

However, damage was very minor, so the planes remained airborne to deplete their fuel supplies before attempting to land at the base here.

Youths Face Judge; Whose Fault, The Crimes?

BY VIRGINIA COSS
Herald Staff Writer

The mother has six children, all born out of wedlock.

She is supported by a check from the state in the Aid to Dependent Children program.

When the check arrives, she heads for the nearest beer tavern. The children are left at home, or to wander the streets. She said she looks for them. When they go to the movie, she asks them where the money came from. They tell her they have been working.

The grandfather provides a home for his daughter's four children, from six to 14 years of age. The mother works for a local doctor, but she does not live at home. She lives alone.

The grandfather said he has told the boy to be good, and not to touch the property of others. He and his wife both work. They do not know when the children come home. There is no father.

The three boys, eight, ten and twelve years of age, were brought into the judge's office. The mother of the younger two relaxed in a chair. The grandfather of the oldest looked worried.

The boys were charged with entering, or attempting to enter, 23 business establishments within two months. They stole money in amounts from $1 to $10.

The buildings were entered early in the morning (on the way to school) or late in the evening. The area ranged from one end of Sanford to the other.

The 12-year-old was a first offender. The younger boys were released on probation last September after breaking into five stores.

A police officer said that the 12-year-old has cooperated with authorities. He has attended school regularly since switching schools in the past two weeks. He is in the sixth grade.

The judge was stern, but patient. He questioned the boys. The ten-year-old wiped away a tear with his shirt sleeve. He sniffled loudly. The little one sat placidly on the edge of the chair. His face is blank, his foot kicks idly. The sentence is inevitable: the Florida Home for Boys for the second offenders; a year's probation for the older boy.

"This is the result of gross neglect and indifference," the judge told the mother. "You should have checked on these boys to see where they were getting money. You should have known they were stealing. You can't take care of them or control them, so we will have to send them to a school where the community will be protected from them."

The wait for admission to the school is long—four or five weeks. Since the boys are so young, the judge didn't want to put them in the jail where there are no facilities for juveniles.

He had no choice. Until they can be admitted to the school, they must remain in the custody of their mother. They cannot be seen anywhere other than at school or home. The word has gone out. If the parole is violated, even once, they will be taken to the county jail.

The judge advised the mother to notify his office if the boys do not report home on time. She nodded her head, apparently relieved that she will no longer be bothered with them.

The grandfather promises the judge that his grandson will obey the rules of his parole. For one year he cannot be out alone, except at home or at school. He cannot go downtown without an adult.

This was the hearing for three juveniles sentenced by Juvenile Judge Wilson Alexander. Perhaps the boys will learn right from wrong at the Florida School for Boys.

The basic fault lies with the mother, the judge said. Few know, except the judge, law enforcement officers, and the victims of parental indifference.

And, perhaps, those whose faces have been pillaged by three little boys.

Quotable Quotes

United Press International
KINGSPORT, Tenn.—Pilot William Mullen of Tourville, Tex., on giving up his attempt to fly a single-engine plane nonstop from California to Rome when ice formed in his fuel lines over the Appalachian Mountains:

"I'm glad it happened over land. Three more hours and I would have been out to sea."

BOSTON—Mrs. Catherine Byrne, lady lord mayor of Dublin, on her intention of attending the St. Patrick's Day parade in New York:

"I'm looking forward to the parade there. It certainly will be different than in Ireland. We have only a small parade."

HOLLYWOOD—A actor Kirk Douglas, in a telegram to editors of the Harvard Lampoon on being named worst actor of the year for the third straight year and thereby retiring a trophy:

"Please send the trophy prepaid."

MIAMI BEACH—Singer Nelson Eddy, on his fondness for Elvis Presley:

"I even like Presley in that he's interesting in being the crown prince of his particular kind of music."

REDONDO BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Final rites will be held today for Samuel Goddard Austin, 84, former newspaperman and retired Redondo Beach city judge who died Tuesday after a long illness.

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (UPI)—Two B-47 jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command collided over Idaho Tuesday—but both landed safely and none of the eight men aboard the planes was injured.

Ike-Nixon Citizens Chairman Stymied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—For the consideration of Lloyd F. McMahon is suggested herewith two thoughts for the day.

McMahon is national chairman of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon. He has been chairman for a little more than a year and is ready now to accept the job he had believed the chairmanship would lead to a federal judgeship, preferably in the southern district of New York.

The suggested thoughts for today are these:

Nobody loves a loser.

Gratitude and politics do not always mix.

McMahon has a powerhouse of support for his ambition to become a federal judge. His name was proposed to President Eisenhower by two pals, Gen. Lucius

D. Clay and Clifford Roberts, a New York broker who also is an officer of Eisenhower's Georgia golf club.

One version of the McMahon story is that he had reason to believe when he took the Citizens' chairmanship in January 1958, that the reward would be the federal bench.

Eisenhower is strong for McMahon. But there is a hitch. The political leaders of southern New York have refused to okay McMahon's nomination. So likewise have both of New York's Republican senators refused clearance. It looks like as dead a stymie as ever was laid on a putting green—but, maybe not.

United Press International was told that Clay and Roberts are urging the President to proceed without political clearance. Local political leaders have complained before this that the Eisenhower administration had a bad habit of nominating for federal jobs persons who had not been cleared by the home folk.

It is not of immediate record, however, that the President has rejected the negative advice of interested politicians once they have been asked to clear a nominee. That is what he is being urged to do now in behalf of McMahon. Such procedure would make McMahon's confirmation doubtful but not impossible.

It would be stopped cold, however, if either of New York's senators informed the Senate Judiciary Committee or the Senate that the nominee was personally obnoxious.

Gala Party Keeps Princess Out Late

LONDON (UPI)—Princess Margaret danced past midnight this morning at the end of a gala night in a party that included jazz pianist Robin Douglas-Home.

Douglas-Home, 26-year-old nephew of the Earl of Home and former tutor of Princess Margaret, was included in Margaret's party for the first time. His romance with the Swedish princess dated last year.

Princess Margaret, who is president of the Royal Ballet, was accompanied at the performance by her mother, Queen Elizabeth. Her sister, the Queen, went to a Gilbert and Sullivan opera in another theater.

Difference Small, But He Found It; Wasn't Cellophane

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—There is just one little difference between cellophane and nitroglycerine, but 15-year-old James R. Kusterer Jr. found it.

James took it upon himself to whip up a batch of cellophane at home. He took a copy of his formula to school and showed it, with some pride, to his chemistry teacher.

The teacher paled, ran to the phone and called James' mother. She called her husband, a fireman. He called police. Officers contacted the Army at Ft. Lee, Va.

Explosives experts rushed to the youth's home and carefully carried away his concoction.

Through one tiny but important error in the formula, James had produced nitroglycerin, instead of cellophane.

Gotta' Have Stogies

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI)—South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings, a non-smoker, announced the high of a son Monday but forgot to buy cigars.

A box of stogies was supplied by Saul Lavisky, United Press International photographer, so the photographic corps could get pictures of Hollings doing the traditional honors.

Top Racket Prober Isn't Typical Of Solons' Employes

United Press International
Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee, is not a typical congressional employe.

For one thing, he probably is the only capital jobholder whose autograph is coveted by lobbyists. It is nothing unusual for one or more teenage girls to descend upon him with a pad and pencil at the end of a committee hearing.

These youthful admirers might be surprised to learn that Kennedy has at home six children, ranging in age from one to seven. They might also be startled at how much more his autograph would be worth if it were affixed to a check.

Kennedy owes his status as one of the few millionaires on the congressional payroll to his father, Boston financier Joseph P. Kennedy. His original employment came about as a result of his brother's patronage, the brother being Sen. John F. Kennedy (D. Mass.).

But his reputation as the scourge of labor racketeers is his own.

At 32, Kennedy, who is not much bigger than a Little League shortstop, still has the athletic trim acquired as an end on the Harvard football team. He keeps a pigskin in his office, possibly as a reminder of those glory days. Despite his New England background, there is nothing Ivy League about his appearance. He goes about the Senate Office Building with sleeves rolled up, collar unbuttoned and necktie askew.

This usually is the sign of a hard worker, which Kennedy is. He puts in long hours and when public hearings are held the witnesses, often to their discomfort, soon find out that he has done his homework.

Physicians Reveal Aged Health Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Medical Association informed Congress today that it is making "solid progress" in its effort to improve the health care of America's aged.

The report, in effect, was a response to a drive by the AFL-CIO to expand Social Security benefits to include what would amount to a paid-up hospitalization and medical care program for persons 65 and over.

The AMA contends such a program would be a major move toward socialized medicine.

Flight Crews Given Warm Welcome On Sanford Arrival

Tears and laughter greeted the brave sons of Sanford yesterday afternoon when the first of VAH-5's men and planes swooped to a landing at Ramey Field.

Dependents awarmed to the foreground as the men stepped from their planes and disappeared behind welcoming arms. Twenty-eight officers and men were greeted by Capt. James Ramage, commander Heavy Attack Wing One, and Capt. Lionel A. Arthur, commander of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

The squadron, Sanford's first heavy attack group, has returned from six months in the Mediterranean aboard the USS Forrestal. Preparations for their arrival have been completed, even to the painting of offices by the men of VAH-5, long-time rivals.

Nine were relieved by VAH-6 last September after a nine-month cruise with the Sixth Fleet.

Local dignitaries took a back seat to families during welcoming ceremonies, but John Krider, Mayor of Al Wilson and Andy Carraway were present, nevertheless.

At 6 p. m. today, another contingent will arrive in a huge cargo plane. During the wee hours of the morning, the entire squadron will be present and accounted for, as the remainder of the men are deposited on the field.

The Forrestal docked early this morning in Norfolk, Va.

Brookfield Plans Higher Production

When York Manufacturing Company moves to its new location in May, Brookfield Mills will begin expansion.

The manufacturers of Alix of Miami swim wear have been sharing the building on North Elm Ave. with York.

Alix Schneidman, president of Alix of Miami has announced expansion plans, and predicts that within eight months, Brookfield Mills will double its present personnel and machinery. "Operations may even be tripled," he said.

In a personnel change, General Superintendent Abe Gassow has replaced Joel Aberbach as manager. Gassow is a native of New Jersey, and has had experience in both manufacturing and merchandising of clothing.

Gassow already has introduced several new methods of merchandising products, that have resulted in increased production and profit for employer, Schneidman said.

Brookfield Mills is one of four textile plants located in Sanford. It is the third to announce plans for expanded operations.

Brookfield Mills' negotiator, York Manufacturing Co., will break ground on its new plant at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. The site is between Allen of Orlando and HarCar Aluminum on Highway 17-92. York produces fish landing gear and television antennas.

Another textile plant in Sanford will have open house at a new building Saturday afternoon from 24. Piero Manufacturing Co. has moved into the new structure on Pecan Ave. and Fourth St. Pagamas and shirts are produced by the firm.

Oiga Loved Him, Paid, Lawyer Says

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson, the state's prosecutor and not a poet, says Oiga Duncan paid with her life for falling in love.

Gustafson made the observation in arguing for the conviction of 34-year-old Elizabeth Duncan on charges of bargaining for the death of the pregnant wife of her son, Frank.

Gustafson, a precise, methodical attorney, said intense love and hatred mixed in deadly quantities — motivated the "for hire" murder of Oiga, a 30-year-old Canadian-born nurse. He was deliberate as he faced a jury of eight women and four men Wednesday and examined a mass of testimony accumulated in the trial, now in the fourth week.

He pictured the motherly defendant as a "clever, clever woman" but not quite clever enough, whose 30-year-old attorney son was a "spineless jellyfish" and a "liar."

"It is obvious that Frank Duncan never did love Oiga Duncan," Gustafson said, "but Oiga loved Frank and she paid for it with her life."

Deadline Nearing For County Taxes

Last day on which taxpayers can pay 1958 taxes without penalty will be March 31, John I. Galloway, tax collector, said today.

Failure to pay taxes on or before that date, he said, will result in a minimum penalty of three per cent on real estate taxes and one per cent on personal and intangible taxes. He also pointed out that the tax laws require the additional charge of cost of advertising the property as delinquent.

Attention also was called to the fact that interest, advertising and other collecting costs are added to the tax and all become a lien against any property owned by the delinquent taxpayer.

Galloway said the longer the delay in paying taxes after March 31, the higher the penalty cost becomes, all of which makes it to the advantage of the taxpayer to pay any tax due on or before that date.

The interest rate on delinquent real estate tax begins at one and one-half per cent per month with a minimum of three per cent. On personal and intangible taxes the interest mounts at the rate of one per cent per month.

Tax certificates will be sold June 1, 1959, on each parcel of real estate on which the 1958 taxes have not been paid. At the same time, warrants will be issued against all personal property on which taxes are not paid. Sale of the property will satisfy the taxes and cost.

Executions also will be issued on all intangible tax items not paid. These executions will be filed with the Circuit Court Clerk and will become a lien against any real estate the taxpayer may own, Galloway stated.

'Zooming' Stopped By Law Roadblock

A 16-year-old Volusia County youth sped through Seminole County last night at speeds clocked up to 110 miles per hour.

Hot on the heels of his red and white car were the Highway Patrol and sheriff's deputies from three counties.

The juvenile zoomed over the Monroe Bridge, through Sanford and Seminole County via Highway 17-92, into Orange County and Winter Park. He was stopped by a Winter Park police road block, after making a "U" turn back to Seminole.

Police returned him to DeLand and police who began the chase about 9:30 p. m.

3 Places Entered By Thieves Today

U. S. Would Test Red Blockade

Khrushchev Warns Force Would Bring Red 'Resistance'

BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev warned the West today it would meet with "appropriate resistance" if it tried to solve any of the major world problems by force.

Khrushchev delivered the warning shortly before he flew home to Moscow from eight days of conferring with East German Communist leaders and visiting the Leipzig trade fair.

"If the aggressors should try, in spite of everything, to carry through their adventurous aims and—as they say—try to 'break through' anywhere, they would meet with the appropriate resistance," Khrushchev said.

"We would like to believe, however, that those on whom it depends will not permit any irresponsible acts and will take decisions, in the interest of all countries which fought against Hitlerite Germany."

Khrushchev repeated earlier pleas to the West to end the cold war on his terms—by signing a peace treaty with Germany and winding up the occupation of West Berlin.

He said Russia would "continue obstinately" trying to persuade the West to sign a treaty with both German states. He denounced as "irresponsible" those in the West who have charged him with increasing international tension and threatening war.

"Such statements can only be made by those who are deliberately distorting the Soviet Union's peace-loving policy," he charged.

Convoy Would Try Move Into Berlin; Might Use Tanks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. has drafted a plan for sending a test convoy through a Berlin blockade if the Communist impose one.

The need for a test convoy would arise if Russia abdicated its Berlin responsibilities, signed a treaty with East Germany and gave the East Germans control of traffic routes to Berlin.

It can be reported that blueprints for the test convoy and for putting America's 330,000 military men in Europe on increased alert now exist. Further, they can be adapted to whatever needs emerge from Allied conferences.

The plan at it now stands apparently calls for sending a normal size unarmed convoy of four to ten trucks over the 10-mile road from Helmstedt in West Germany through East Germany to West Berlin.

If the convoy were stopped, it might then be strengthened with tanks and so on. What would happen if it drew fire from East German guards was not known.

It can be said that there are plans for Western military forces to establish control of the highway through East Germany if high police dictate.

The increased alert presumably would apply to French and British forces as well as to U. S. Army and Air Forces in Europe.

Experts Say Germs Could Defeat U. S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This country is ripe for a biological warfare Pearl Harbor.

Russia obviously has what it takes to wage germ warfare.

It is possible that many hours and even days might elapse before the U.S. even knew it had been subjected to a sneak attack.

The first intimation might well be an influx to doctors' offices and hospitals of patients suffering from debilitating or incapacitating maladies defying immediate diagnosis.

These conclusions stem from lectures on biological warfare given at the Naval Medical Center Bethesda, Md. in connection with a current course for armed forces medical officers on "the medical aspects of special weapons."

The lecturers, including some of this country's foremost authorities on germ warfare, agreed that:

—No advance warning of a BW attack is currently likely.

—All of the major nations are actively engaged in manufacturing new agents of infection which will defy quick diagnosis, immunization, and treatment with antibiotic drugs.

—BW provides the most effective means of subduing an enemy population without killing it off or destroying its economy.

—The most effective way of waging BW against a nation is by means of clouds (or aerosols) of vapor impregnated with disease-bearing viruses, bacteria or spores. Aerosol generators may be delivered by any means — mines, submarines, planes, or missiles—used to deliver any other weapon.

—The best BW is that which incapacitates, rather than kills, the greatest number of persons in the shortest possible time.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—A man with a flair for luck parlayed a $10 bill into $112,000 at a casino dice table here, according to a "Strip" hotel official.

Ivan Annenberg said the unidentified man held the dominos for one hour and 55 minutes Tuesday night one of the longest dice runs in Flamingo Hotel history. Annenberg, following hotel policy, would not identify the man, saying only that he was from Beverly Hills, Calif.

He Chose To Stand While Testifying

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—They laughed when Walter Jones, 30, those to stand while testifying against Roy Granderson, an old friend he accused of assaulting him.

His old friend shot him in the seat of the pants with a small bore shotgun, Jones said.

Granderson was fined for discharging a firearm inside the city.

'Courage' Leaps, But Changes Mind

ROME (UPI)—Giulio Coraggio, 21, jumped into the Tiber River Wednesday night because his 15-year-old girl friend wouldn't marry him.

After a minute in the icy water he changed his mind, swam back to shore and went to a hospital asking to be treated for exposure.

Coraggio's name is the Italian for "courage."

133 Wives Listed, But 102 Husbands

MANILA (UPI)—The Philippines has 102 incumbent male members in its House of Representatives.

That's why the Manila Daily Bulletin asked why the "congressional ladies" circle, composed exclusively of wives of representatives, has 133 names on its rolls.

Top Navy Chaplain To Visit Tomorrow

Rear Adm. George A. Russo will arrive at the Sanford Naval Air Station at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Admiral Russo is chief of Navy chaplains.

He will be accompanied by Chaplain W. F. Doyle, Catholic chaplain at NAS Jacksonville.

Admiral Russo is touring all southern Naval bases, on a "yet-unacquainted" basis. He will come to Sanford from Jacksonville. He has visited Charleston and Farris Island.

During his stay in Sanford, Admiral Russo will meet with Capt. Lionel A. Arthur, commander of the Naval Air Station, and the two chaplains, Lt. N. W. Hubble and Lt. W. C. Fuller. Discussed will be the Navy's religious and moral leadership programs.

The chief of chaplains will be guest of honor at a luncheon at 12:30, given by the Sanford chaplains.

'Amateur' Bandits Not Amateur At All

MINEOLA, N. Y. (UPI)—The four "reputable" citizens arrested for the $12,000 holdup of a Massapequa, (N.Y.) bank on Monday have confessed they weren't amateurs after all, police said today.

The men were said to have admitted several other holdups, dating from October 1956, and including one less than two weeks before the big one that tripped them.

The previous jobs netted a total of $6,418.64, police said, and according to statements made by the men so far, were carried out sometimes by only one of the group and at other times by only two.

The four were arrested early Tuesday as they divided the bank holdup loot in the kitchen of tavern owner Anatole Hysky, 44, who police said was the leader and recruiter of the gang.

Bears Are Sought For New Bearskins

LONDON (UPI)—The British War Office today happily accepted a Canadian offer to stage a bear hunt to replenish the battered bearskin hats of the Queen's Guard Brigade.

The mayor of Timmins, Ontario, made the offer after reading of complaints that the lowering hats of some guardsmen look bedraggled and bare in spots.

82 Died In February

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Highway Patrol reported today 82 persons lost their lives in traffic during February, at an economic loss of $10,250,000.

The patrol said highway accidents were only one less than the month of February last year.
