1000 Hired Noise Makers Aid Demonstration For Smith; Women Fight For Tariff Plank

Yorkers Wearing Smith Buttons Are Admitted and Card Holders Held Back

Black Horse Booms Again to Weaken Resolution Committee

Resolution Committee Deadlock But Is Working Out Matters

By R. L. DEAN
The Sanford Herald.
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, June 26.—It is a small clothing store on Fifth Avenue and the proprietor had asked what the plottings of John W. Davis for the nomination, indicating he thought Davis was an excellent choice. When Davis for 25 years been attorney for J. P. Morgan, the proprietor immediately denounced him declaring such a man would never be a Democratic nominee and became an informant. He now just one month ago as the lawyer for a telephone company had succeeded in raising the telephone rates in New York $1.00 per month. Knowledge that Davis had occurred that Davis was ipso facto following of many other candidates are doubtless in the same man stopped Bryan, on streets this morning waving his hand. He declared himself an admirer of Bryan on his coat lapel he wore a button. How could a man supporter of Al Smith with pronounced anti-prohibition and yet be an admirer of Bryan? He couldn't be. The crowd that met at Madison Square today and the whole city of New York is making a terrific fight but he can never hope for votes from many delegates of his own state. It is not that he is not a brilliant speaker and a brilliant writer. He has devoted the intervening years to serious study in the old world and this. He has sought for those reasons, historic, traditional, permanent or temporary, which brought about our act of discouragement at the moment of our might. With pen and voice, with growing power of enthusiasm and of knowledge, he has, as a private citizen, sought to inspire us to better and higher thinking, and juster and more enduring policies. Thus Ohio weels that her son, once her only favorite, has become the nation's favorite.

True to Cause.
"Since that campaign, his dedication to the cause has remained complete," Mr. Baker said. "He has devoted the intervening years to serious study in the old world and this. He has sought for those reasons, historic, traditional, permanent or temporary, which brought about our act of discouragement at the moment of our might. With pen and voice, with growing power of enthusiasm and of knowledge, he has, as a private citizen, sought to inspire us to better and higher thinking, and juster and more enduring policies. Thus Ohio weels that her son, once her only favorite, has become the nation's favorite."

In her name, I present to you Ohio's three-time governor, her successful executive, her constructive leader, her son who bore the banner of our principles bravely and blamelessly in a national contest, her son who has had the vision to see where America's opportunity now is and has the courage and capacity to lead us to that realization.

I present to you the name of Jas. M. Cox.

Opposes Motions For Acquittal of 6 Lumber Dealers

WASHINGTON, June 27.—United States Attorney Peyton Gordon Thursday opposed before Justice Bailey motions for directed verdicts of acquittal of six men charged with conspiracy in connection with the sale of the surplus lumber from army cantonments. He asserted there is no duplicity of conspiracies shown by the evidence, as contended by defense counsel, but only proof of a continuous conspiracy to defraud the United States.

Man Fatally Wounds Wife and Kills Self

SPARTANBURG, S. C., June 27.—Louis Thompson, 34, committed suicide last night at his home near Switzer in this county after fatally wounding his wife by beating her with a shot gun. Thompson, who was a prosperous farmer, was shot through the heart and killed himself.

NEWTON D. BAKER DELIVERS SPEECH NOMINATING COX

Says Former Ohio Governor Has Vision To See And Cure To Follow Faith of Woodrow Wilson

NEW YORK, June 27.—Declaring that former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, "became a national figure at that moment in 1920 when only a few had the vision to see or the courage to follow the new faith—the new political religion of Woodrow Wilson," Newton D. Baker, secretary of war in President Wilson's cabinet, today again placed Cox's name in nomination for the presidency before the Democratic national convention.

"Without hesitation or wavering, he fought the long 1920 campaign, debating without doubt, appealing to our higher emotions, battling back the tide of ill which, rising out of the chaos of the world, finally included us with the peoples of Europe as the children of despair."

"In her name, I present to you Ohio's three-time governor, her successful executive, her constructive leader, her son who bore the banner of our principles bravely and blamelessly in a national contest, her son who has had the vision to see where America's opportunity now is and has the courage and capacity to lead us to that realization."

Jerry Carter Leads in Demonstration For Ex-Treasury Head

NEW YORK, June 27.—Friends of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York turned the Democratic National Convention Thursday into a thronging parade of noisy, terrifying in its formless, terrible din; exhausting in its duration. They howled, yelled, screamed and sang from densely crowded galleries, fringing the uproar with the steady clamor of fire sirens, horns, bells, and every known variety of mechanical noise-maker. They flooded the aisles of the convention floor itself, almost to the obliteration of the Smith delegates who ably aided the clamor. They waved huge Smith banners in the slow, surging march around the floor, and for more than an hour. They carried the demonstration out into the streets to keep it going on and amid showers of torn papers rained down from the tall tops of nearby office buildings.

But that, at all, the bulk of the convention delegations sat or stood in their places, pleased with the vigor and antics of the demonstrators at first, but growing a little restless to get on with the business that brought them to New York.

Roosevelt Pulls Trigger
It was the word of Franklin D. Roosevelt, naming the governor as New York's choice for the presidential nomination, that pulled the trigger to set the mad turmoil going. Long before he reached the stage, however, it was plainly evident that the stage had been set for such an outbreak as has rarely been known anywhere, for any reason.

For the first time, high ranging galleries of the dined old hall were jammed to suffocation. They were there, waiting, these thousands of New York folk, armed with contrivances to aid in the salute to their favorite son they had planned. Only the constant urging signals of the Smith delegates, the New York delegates, upon another busy day of conferences at his hotel headquarters. To date he has not attended a session of the convention and friends said probably he would not. He has been kept busy with a constant string of engagements and has not had time from nomination to admission tickets at the convention.

Roosevelt Speech Feature
Franklin D. Roosevelt's speech nominating Governor Smith was the feature of Thursday's proceedings. It was a masterpiece of oratory, and it was understood by the majority of the delegates.

It had been arranged that when the name of Colorado was called for presenting nominations he would pass, and that when the clerk called Connecticut, that the would yield to New York, and Mr. Roosevelt would nominate Governor Smith.

But when the name of Colorado was called, the delegation announced that they would pass, and that when the clerk called Connecticut, that the would yield to New York, and Mr. Roosevelt would nominate Governor Smith.

CELEBRATION FOR SMITH THURSDAY IS BIGGEST EVER

New York Governor's Friends Stage A Demonstration Which Turns The Convention Into A Pandemonium

Convention Hears Speeches While Waiting For Platform; Ralston, Underwood Boosted

Rumor Pennsylvania Delegation Favors Alabama When the Contest is Apparent

Taggart Begins To Work For Ralston

William J. Bryan Is Received With Big Ovation Once More

NEW YORK, June 27.—Reports that the big Pennsylvania delegation has been doing a little informal nose counting and found itself much inclined to shift to the camp of Senator Underwood during the anticipated ballot struggle on presidential nomination, found favor today in the ears of Underwood men. They professed they had no direct information, however, and sent the rumors along as they had received them for what they were worth.

The Ralston boom hit the convention floor today. Taking advantage of an hour's delay in starting proceedings, Thomas Taggart, pilot of the Indiana senator's candidacy, into action personally and with great vigor visiting about a dozen delegates and talking to Ralston with leaders. He smiled broadly and said he was greatly pleased.

Virginia delegates after a caucus today declared Carter Glass could give his home state delegation in the move to make him the Democratic nominee.

Upon the nomination of Governor Cox by Newton D. Baker, a demonstration was staged and also when Gov. C. McAduo, brother of the great Cox, at mention of his name the convention rose cheering and several western delegations started a parade around the hall. Once again the democratic convention rang with the hurrah for Ralston.

It had been arranged that when the name of Colorado was called for presenting nominations he would pass, and that when the clerk called Connecticut, that the would yield to New York, and Mr. Roosevelt would nominate Governor Smith.

STOLEN JEWELRY VALUED AT $4,000 RECOVERED HERE

Sheriff Hand And Jacksonville Officer Discover Missing Jewelry And Diamonds At Apartment of Andrew Chandler

Following the arrest in Jacksonville early Tuesday morning of Andrew P. Chandler on charges of being the robber, who for the past few months has been responsible for a dozen robberies of the valuable residences in the Avondale section of that city and of the First Baptist Church several weeks ago, Sheriff C. M. Hand and Patrolman C. M. Lovett of the Jacksonville police force recovered $4,000 worth of jewelry and diamonds at Chandler's home in this city Thursday morning.

Chandler, according to reports coming from Jacksonville, is said to have confessed to officers that he is responsible for two robberies in that city but denies implication with at least 10 others, including the theft of valuable papers from the church, the property of Rev. W. L. C. Mahon.

The first word that officers in this city received about the crimes and about Chandler was early Wednesday morning when Sheriff Chandler, who had been in Jacksonville, was called by long distance telephone from Jacksonville. Officers there wanted to learn about Chandler, saying that he was known to have made his home here and that it was believed that he brought his stolen goods here.

Thursday morning the Jacksonville officer, who had arrested Chandler, early Tuesday morning loitering around a home in Avondale, arrived here and with Sheriff Hand went to the apartment at 813 Magnolia Avenue occupied by Chandler and his wife for the past few months. There they discovered the jewelry and diamonds. The collection of stolen goods included a diamond bar pin valued at $2,500 and 15 diamonds out of a brooch.

The officers questioned Chandler's wife and were told that she knew nothing of his robberies. When a representative of The Herald visited the apartment this morning and asked for an interview with her, he was told that she had gone to Jacksonville on a "business trip."

According to officers Chandler, who is about 40 years old, has been living in this city for about six or seven months and formerly was employed by the Hulton Contracting and Engineering Company. It is said that he has only been married for a little over a year. His (Continued on page 3)

MELLON CALLED AS A WITNESS IN TRIAL OF MEANS

Court Upholds Objections of Thomas Felder Who Is Counsel For Former Department of Justice Agent

NEW YORK, June 27.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon Thursday was called as a witness for the defense at the trial of Gaston B. Means, former special agent of the department of justice, and Elmer W. Jarnecke, charged with violating the prohibition laws.

Hiram C. Todd, special deputy attorney general, asked Judge Tolson to restrict the secretary's testimony to topics pertaining to the subject of the indictments.

The court upheld objections to questions put by Thomas B. Fowler, Means' attorney, as to the alleged removal from the Overholt Distillery in Pittsburgh of 2,950 cases and 42,000 gallons of whiskey on forged permits obtained by a man named Goodman.

Felder then asked the secretary whether these permits had been found in the Mellon National Bank in Pittsburgh as collateral for loan to Goodman. This question also was barred.

Secretary Mellon testified that he had an interest in the Overholt distilleries.

Mr. Mellon said he had talked with J. W. Hubbard of New Jersey about the liquor transactions which caused the indictment of Means. He said Hubbard told him he had paid money to a friend for release of whiskey but that he had not given the money to the friend. Mr. Mellon said he then referred the matter to Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair for investigation.

Mr. Mellon described a visit that he said L. H. Schiff, a Washington attorney for former special agent of the department of justice, paid to him representing himself as counsel for the women's clean government association and asking Mr. Mellon to assign him to investigate prohibition affairs. Mr. Mellon said he told the attorney that he would refer the question to Mr. Blair, but that Schiff did not want to discuss it with Blair.

Platform Committee Is Still Struggling On League Nations and Ku Klux Planks

Ten Candidates Are Nominated

McAdoo Delegates are Eager to Vote Before Platform Presented

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, June 27.—Assembling for the fourth session today the Democratic National Convention engaged in clearing away preliminaries to the big fight ahead.

While the Platform Committee is still struggling in secret session to find some agreement on planks covering the Ku Klux Klan and League of Nations issues, the convention itself went in for hearing the remaining nominating speeches.

With ten candidates already placed in nomination at least five more are on waiting list today and several seconding speeches also on program.

Order of business called for a consideration of the platform soon as nominating speeches are completed, but McAdoo forces are pressing to take start on balloting before the platform comes in.

The combined forces opposed to McAdoo, declared McAdoo managers wanted to let their delegations get started on balloting before they are obliged to take a position on the Ku Klux Klan in fight over the platform.

Reports coming from the room where the platform committee is laboring were that there was a division of opinion as to whether to announce the plan by name. Those holding out for mentioning the individual names as such were Senator Owen D. Young, of New York, and Joseph A. Kelley, of New York.

Under instructions from both Senator Walsh and Mr. Baker were under instructions from their delegations to insist that the plan be mentioned by name. Walsh offered a plank to accomplish that end, but his was only one of nearly a dozen that had been prepared. All of these were placed before the entire committee.

Anti-Klan leaders in the convention followed closely the work in the committee and renewed their threats of a fight on the convention floor, unless there was a clear cut declaration in the committee draft. They said they had been having informal polls of the delegations made and expressed confidence that they could muster a majority in the convention.

In the long hours of discussion in the sub-committee, Newton D. Baker was reported to have conducted a single handed fight for a declaration for the League of Nations, practically identical with that adopted at San Francisco four years ago. Alleged against him were William Jennings Bryan and other "wheel horses" of the party who favored a very much modified declaration. Committee members generally followed the lead of Mr. Baker on the world peace and league plank by Owen D. Young, of New York, formerly a member of the Dewey reparations committee, but some additions had been made to it by a committee of three.

Ralston Is Placed In Nomination By Indianapolis Man

NEW YORK, June 27.—In a bright address, Fred VanNoy, of Indianapolis, Thursday placed Samuel H. Ralston in nomination for the presidency.

On behalf of the united and loyal Democracy of Indiana, I desire to place in nomination for the presidency the name of a man who is best available and responsible in this hour of necessity.

"As governor of Indiana he made an unparalleled record for economy and efficiency.

"An United States senator he has shown himself possessed of high sense and purpose. He has been president of the United States during the long trying months just passed he would not have remained stoical and silent. He would have broadcasted his views on the subject of the prohibition of liquor and the restoration of state commission authority over rates on traffic within the United States. He would have been a champion of the people's rights and a defender of the nation's honor." (Continued on page 3) otherwise for purposes of information."

 Both the White House and the state department have maintained that despite the interests of the United States in the early operation of the Dawes plan this government would not participate in any discussion involving political issues or problems in Europe. It has been asserted emphatically also that in the view of the United States there is nothing in the Dawes plan which entails any obligation on its part in connection with the execution of the plan, possible immediate interest of the Washington government in the forthcoming discussions is seen, however, in the connection between German payments under the Dawes plan and obligations of that nation to the United States under the American treaty with Germany.

Tentative Draft of Platform Is Sent To Sub-Committee

 final appeal to some of the members privately.
 After the plan the most troublesome proposition before the sub-committee is the plank dealing with the league of nations. It was decided to take up the most controverted subjects first in an effort to dispose of them before the committee had become fatigued by their long hours and arduous labors.
 Under this arrangement, the league question came up first and after an hour and a half of discussion, a sub-committee of three was named to take several proposals which had been submitted and whip them into shape for consideration. Newton D. Baker, secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson, and a league advocate, headed the committee of three.
 Their instructions to the sub-committee were to take the first paragraph of the plank submitted by former Supreme Court Justice John H. Clarke as president of the league of nations Non-Partisan Association; add that the whole league plank, submitted at public sessions Wednesday by Owen D. Young of New York, who was a member of the Dawes reparations commission and to write in suggested methods for American cooperation with other nations in preserving the peace of the world.
 The first paragraph of the Clarke plank follows:
 "It is of supreme importance to civilization mankind that America be placed and kept on the right side of the greatest moral question of all time and therefore the Democratic party renews its declaration of confidence in the ideal of world peace and in the league of nations and the world court of justice as together constituting the supreme effort of the statesmanship and religious conviction of our time to organize the world for peace."
 Taking up prohibition next the platform builders agreed tentatively on a strong law-enforcement declaration without mentioning either the 18th amendment or the enforcement act. This was in line with recommendations of most of the "dry" leaders.
 A plank declaring for immediate independence for the Philippines under provisions of the Jones law also was agreed upon tentatively. It recites the conditions to independence laid down in that law, the establishment and maintenance of a stable government, have been complied with.
 While the committee was considering the prohibition or law-enforcement plank, John T. Flood of the association against the prohibition amendment, issued a statement declaring that John H. McCann, member of the platform committee for Pennsylvania, would make a fight before the entire committee for a declaration for modification of the Volstead act and that if he failed there he would carry the fight to the convention.
 Besides the Klan, and the league issues, another troublesome question is that of agriculture spokesmen for this industry have expressed varying views as to what they desire but committee members believed they could present a plank which would harmonize all except possibly the wishes of the extremists.
 Only three party "wheel horses" are reported in the committee of 11. They are William Jennings Bryan of Florida, former Speaker; Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska and Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, former chairman of the national committee.
 Associated with them are a number of the newer party leaders, including Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, Representative Finis J. Garrett of Tennessee, Democratic leader in the house of representatives; Senator Key S. Pittman of Nevada; Senator Robert L. Owens of Oklahoma, former Secretary of War; Newton D. Baker, W. H. O'Brien of Indiana, William A. Ayres of Kansas and Joseph A. Kellogg of New York.
 Concluding their public hearings much later than had been anticipated, the committee members decided to describe headquarters for a more secluded place and proceeded to a hotel several blocks further downtown. They gathered around a circular table late in the day and began their labors.
 Chairman Cummings made hour-long reports to newspaper correspondents who crowded the corridors outside of the committee room. At the end of the first hour he announced a discussion of the league without decision, explaining that much of the time had been taken up with the presentation by former service men of a number of propositions relative to the care of the disabled and commuted with reference to those who had been rejected for treatment had not been fully returned to health.

MUNICIPAL POOL IS ENDORSED BY JUNIOR CHAMBER

S. Pond and Roy McKnabb, Luncheon; H. S. Malpas, Glenn Wimblish and Earle E. Jones.
 Preceding the adoption of by-laws, election of officers and the disposal of other business, the meeting was addressed by several members of the visiting delegations. Miss Janet Simmons, assistant secretary of the Tampa Junior Board of Trade, gave an interesting talk in which she outlined the activities of the organization which she represented. Among the accomplishments of the body since its organization a little over a year ago and which Miss Simmons spoke were: eliminated signs along county highways; aided in raising a fund of $7,000 with which to advertise Tampa at the national Realtors Association; organized a citizenship committee; increased voter list in Tampa 100 per cent; did extensive civic work in city; gathered Tampa facts; interested and increased its membership to 325.
 J. R. Calhoun, second vice-president of the Tampa organization and a member of the Hillsborough County Highway Beautification Commission, followed Miss Simmons' talk with one on the work of the county commission. He told of its extensive operations and its accomplishments along beautification lines both in Tampa and in the county.
 L. M. Huck, secretary of the Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce, in a very interesting talk outlined the work of his organization. He pointed out how the junior and senior bodies in his city were working in perfect harmony and how the former had been able to take over a great deal of the work of the latter and dispose of it with much success.
 Among other things that the Jacksonville organization is doing according to Mr. Huck, are: restoring the health and sanitary conditions; securing medical aid for children; increasing facilities in parks and playgrounds, working for a new senior high school; maintaining a training school for the young men along civic and business lines and endeavoring to secure new boulevards and drives.
 In behalf of William M. Madison, vice-president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Huck extended a cordial invitation to the Sanford organization, the fourth to be formed in this state, to become affiliated with the national organization.
 The Tampa delegation was composed of Miss Simmons, Mr. Calhoun, Mrs. F. G. Murphy, Walter Pierce and Joe N. Ganning. Mr. Huck represented both the Jacksonville junior body and also the national body.

Firm Dickson-Ives In Orlando Puts On Big Furniture Sale

The impression that far less business is transacted in the resort town of Florida during the winter months than in the other months of the year, is entirely unfounded, is the opinion of the managers of the Dickson-Ives store of Orlando who are putting on a closing out sale of an extraordinarily large furniture stock this week.
 A visit to the third floor is enough to convince anyone of the confidence the firm of Dickson-Ives has in the summer business of this section of the state, the managers state. They desire to dispose of a $50,000 stock of furniture and believe that now is the time to do it. It is understood that this sale will greatly eclipse the recent Clearance Sale of the firm which also featured this month's merchandising. "Seeing is believing," say the managers, "and our patrons can not realize the magnitude and importance of this sale until they visit the third floor of the Dickson-Ives store and see for themselves."
 "Prior to the Close-Out this was the greatest furniture stock in Central Florida," said S. E. Ives, Jr., the head of the furniture department. "Owing to its size the ranges of styles and values in every kind of furniture are still fairly complete, although as the Close-Out progresses the steadily decreasing size of the stock becomes more noticeable. In order to facilitate the closing out of the immense amount of furniture which remains, further price reductions are to go into effect Thursday."
 Hearing a man who is as thoroughly familiar with the furniture business as Mr. Ives speak in this manner inspires one to believe that if a progressive firm such as Dickson-Ives picks midsummer as the time to dispose of a $50,000 furniture stock, the tide of business in the resort section of Florida does not justify the pessimistic attitude of so many who believe that the tourist trade is essential to economic prosperity.

Baldwin Protests On Parliament Expense

LONDON, June 26.—A frank statement that financial demands upon parliamentarians candidates are becoming too heavy was made by former Premier Stanley Baldwin in a recent address in which he declared that he had expended more than $1,000 in elections during the last three years.
 "Many men are poorer since the war," Mr. Baldwin said. "My demands for money should not be made upon members of parliament and candidates."

Convention Stages Big Demonstration Against Ku Klux

 Inaugurating speeches were heard Wednesday. Alabama, heading the roll of states, placed in nomination Senator Oscar W. Underwood. Arizona had no nomination to present, and Arkansas presented the name of Senator Joseph T. Robinson.
 California's nomination of Mr. McAdoo and the demonstration in his behalf brought the day's proceedings to a close.
 When the convention reconvened in the Colorado ballroom, the name of Connecticut was called, its delegation yielded to New York for presentation of the name of Gov. Smith.
 There was nothing on the surface Wednesday night to indicate that this or any other development of the day had affected the relative standing of the candidates. Both the McAdoo and Smith forces, each predicting victory, kept up their canvass for votes, while the friends of all the other candidates continued to smile complacently at the prospect of a deadlock.
 "Shirley" and "Walter" the hosts of the Democracy gave themselves up Wednesday to nominations and noise.
 More of both are to come. Also, probably more of the sticky heat that "makes your blooming eyes" in the heavy, lifeless air of the drab, though flag-wrapped old Madison Square Garden.
 But if volume of sound is any criterion of the probable volume of Democratic ballots next November, the party ought to be satisfied with today's augury. They made noise enough, first and last to pale the violent thunderstorm which came later to cool the sweating city into an insignificant murmur.
 Some of the noise in convention hall was impromptu and heated with more than atmospheric conditions. Some of it was planned, but all of it was noise of the noisiest kind.
 And the loudest, gladdest and most welcomed cry of the day was the stentorian "aye" with which delegates joined in voting an end to the tumult.
 Decorous Start
 It all started off in most decorous a fashion. Convention business was dispatched as quickly and with a cheerful harmony and the permanent chairman, Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, introduced by his Mississippi colleague, Pat Harrison, as the greatest investigator in the world, came for a rousing welcome. His arraignment of Republican short-comings brought loud applause and then the convention collected itself along into the real business for which it is called, the nomination of a party standard bearer.
 Everybody knew who was to come first when the roll of states was called and Forney Johnston, of Alabama, climbed the rostrum to place the name of Senator Oscar W. Underwood of that state on the ballot. Not all the delegates were prepared for what was to follow, however, and when Johnston reached the point in his address where he dealt bluntly with the issue of organized political conspiracy, hatched in secret, they began to take a new interest in what he was saying.
 It was blazing hot by now, out on the vast floor of the hall. At first, under clear skies, a half acre of glass skylight had been slid aside and the hunting and flags of the ceiling canopy drawn back to give a fine and cooling view of the vast blue above with the shifting cloud masses. On there, looking down into the hall, was a squaring, shimmering work tower on the old hall. Probably many a delegate saw it for the first time as from the streets about it is insignificant against the background of mighty and modern skyscrapers grouped in the famous profile of the Manhattan skyline.

California to Ask Rulers of Spain To Cross Atlantic

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Plans have been made for an international pilgrimage to one of the cradles of civilization on the Pacific Coast of the United States, the spot near Monterey, Cal., where Father Junipero Serra, the first Spanish padre, landed and established the first mission in California in 1770.
 The celebration, to be centered in the restored chapel of Carmel Mission, will begin October 12 and last a week. Those to whom special invitations will be issued will include the king and queen of Spain, the Spanish ambassador at Washington, the president of Mexico and a number of other noted Spaniards and Mexicans.
 The ancient Spanish mission overlooks the Pacific ocean. The body of Father Serra is buried beside the altar in the chapel, but during the observance the coffin will be removed, in the course of a beautiful sarcophagus which is being completed by Jo Mora, the sculptor, in his studio at Pebble Beach, Cal.
 The sarcophagus will be unveiled on October 19, the Sunday that will mark the conclusion of the pageant.
 Thousands are expected to gather for the celebration. In addition to the religious services, there will be music, dances and entertainments typical of the period represented. The fiestas, fan dances, barbecues and mission plays that characterized the Spanish occupation of California will be reproduced faithfully.
 Father Serra is credited not only for his people in the new land, and with administering to many of their secular needs, but also with planting the seeds brought from Spain, for the first farm in western America.
 During the observance the flags of Spain, Mexico and the United States will fly together over the historic customs house of Monterey. A prevailing note will be the costumes of the old mission days, a period that survives today in the geographical names and type of architecture of California.

India's Great Problem Is Isolation of Lepers

MANILA, June 26.—Isolation of the leper is one of the serious problems of India, according to Dr. A. R. J. Douglas of Rangoon, Burma, who is in the Philippines to make a detailed study of conditions of lepers in the islands and the methods of treatment employed at Calcutta where 6,500 lepers are confined.
 "We have 100,000 lepers registered in India and more unregistered," said Dr. Douglas. "There are 10,000 known lepers in Burma alone, with 10,000 more unregistered."
 "Isolation of the leper is one of the serious problems of India. The country is in the throes of several epidemics at present and too much emphasis by the British might bring condemnation from the natives. Complete isolation, as in the Philippines, would be almost impossible in India."

Ireland Tries Regain Its Export Egg Trade

DUBLIN, June 26.—Patrick Hogan, the Free State minister for lands and agriculture, has introduced into the Dail a bill to regulate the export of eggs. Eggs are one of the most important of Irish exports, and the industry has recently shown signs of deterioration. In 1921 Ireland exported $50,000,000 worth of eggs, poultry and fenders, the value of the export being second only to that of cattle.
 For the year ended March 30, 1924, the Free State export of eggs was only about $17,000,000. Part of the diminution is attributed to a fall in prices and the loss of opportunity for continental competitors since the war. Before the war the Irish export was more than 50 per cent greater than the Danish. Now it is less.
 The bill provides for a refund of $15.50 to persons who had paid to see the afternoon performance. "It is very discouraging," he said, "to be forced to treat patrons in such a manner."
 Dr. R. M. Mason, Dr. H. H. McCaslin and the other denizens of this city state that although the rain kept some of their patients yesterday afternoon from keeping their appointments, they were handicapped in their laboratories because of the current being cut off. Much of their mechanical apparatus is of an electrical nature and can not be used without electricity.
 The barber shops lost considerably because of darkness. When the lights went out they were, for the most part, forced to suspend operations. Little could be done until the current was again turned on, the managers stated. J. K. Smith of the Barber Shop said that the barbers in his shop were handicapped during the absence of current and that business was practically on a standstill during that time. The McCaslin shop had practically the same experience, it is said.
 It is understood that all places of business, hotels, bakeries and the like were in most cases forced to suspend work either on account of darkness or because their equipment is operated with electricity.
 In a word the business of Sanford was at a standstill for over an hour and half according to reports coming in from every side.
 As a result of having no current The Herald reached its readers about three hours late, the paper not getting to press until 7 o'clock. After the current was turned on about 45 minutes were required to melt the type metal in the linotype machines, which is heated by electricity.

Demonstration For McAdoo Staged On Nomination Smith

 It is impossible for any but the nearest delegates to hear. Others in the convention hall sitting further away could hear nothing in spite of 24 amplifiers. This may have been reaction among certain persons to intense heat, or it may not have been. However, it was necessary for Chairman Walsh to interrupt the California senator three times in order to call the house to order.
 In this connection it might be added, however, frequently it is only with difficulty that speakers can be heard. Certain of them seem to have some knack which makes their words quite distinct, but from many of them, phrases and often sentences are hopelessly garbled. The attitude of most of those in the Garden, with the exception perhaps of delegates and alternates seems to be that they come to see the speakers and then read what they said in the evening papers.
 What will probably be the most important part of the Democratic platform concerns the matter of campaign contributions. Mr. Bryan, who is chairman of the committee on resolutions, has this to say about campaign contributions: "Recent investigations show that predatory interests have, by supplying Republican campaign funds, systematically purchased legislative and administrative immunity. This practice must stop; our nation must return to honesty and decency in politics. Governmental derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, and elections are public affairs, conducted for the sole purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters. Therefore, we demand that national elections shall hereafter be kept free from public and private contributions. To this end, we favor, first, publicity at the expense of the public so that the candidates, properly before people for federal offices, may present their claims to precede primary and election second—for payment out of the Federal Treasury of reasonable and necessary campaign expenses during the period between nomination and election and prohibition of individual contributions, direct and indirect, to senators or presidential candidates, beyond the fixed limit for both individual contributions and total expenditures, with full publicity."

BUSINESS STOPS WHILE CURRENT IS OFF WEDNESDAY

 fore time for our matinee show to start," said the operator at the Milane exhibiting machines today. "It kept us from having an afternoon show which was, of course rather annoying, but we probably wouldn't have had much of a crowd anyhow on account of the hard rain."
 O. P. Herndon, manager of the Princess Theatre stated this morning that not only had the lack of current kept him from having a matinee but also had forced him to make a refund of $15.50 to persons who had paid to see the afternoon performance. "It is very discouraging," he said, "to be forced to treat patrons in such a manner."

Carolina and Alabama Represented At Camp

JACKSONVILLE, June 26.—Both South Carolina and Alabama will be represented at the annual encampment at Camp Johnston in July, it is announced from the office of the adjutant-general of Florida.
 National guardsmen from South Carolina will assemble at the camp from July 22 to 28, and one or more organizations of quartermasters troops from Alabama from July 3 to 27. Governor McLeod of South Carolina is expected to visit the camp about July 19, and Governor Hardee may participate in a joint review.
 ONE CENT BUS FARE
 LONG BEACH, Cal., June 26.—One cent bus fares between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. have been put into effect here as an experiment by a private bus company. A nickel is paid to the driver before, but a coupon good for four cents in trade at about 100 city stores is given with each ride.

Roosevelt Republicans Smith As Nom

 "The country cries out for sternation and contempt of continued dissensions between executive and the legislative branches of the government the last four years," Mr. Smith continued. "Under the lack of leadership in a white house and a Republican cabinet, we have had all of the good-will between the executive and the congress. These conditions are rare, but I submit no experiment. This man is history; it has brought the best of this state, man and woman, and the constitution, to provide."
 "Therefore we must give country," he said. "A president experienced in administration capable of restoring team work and good-will between the executive and the congress. These conditions are rare, but I submit no experiment. This man is history; it has brought the best of this state, man and woman, and the constitution, to provide."
 "His inauguration as president would mark the beginning of a new era of good feeling and accomplishment between the executive and the congress of the United States."
 Mr. Roosevelt said if Smith was given an opportunity for wider service he "will make dry bones rattle in Washington and no longer will cynics and pessimists point the finger of blame at our executive machinery."
 The speaker referred to the "complete lack of leadership those now in power," and said: "We need a president whom the masses of the people will support and whose great cross-section of public opinion will retain the faith. We need a president who will satisfy some section of every class; the farmer and city dweller, the manufacturer and consumer, the rich and poor have become so separated that the national ideal have arisen acute beyond dreams of our forefathers, calling for the steady guidance of one whose voice will be heard by the vast majority of those who make up the 110,000,000 of population."
 "Confidence and faith in this has been won by the masses of this state. The masses of look to him as a protector, good friend. The honest man knows that he has a personal preference for a demagogue on honest state raise crops valued at hundreds of millions of dollars, willing testimony to his yearning service in their behalf, asking to better living conditions and more economic distribution of produce of the farm."
 "With him we are the governor of ours is the most generous adversary that the Republican party ever had to face, in convention here assembled owe it to the nation to choose a candidate whose name spells victory. He has been elected to office by the overwhelming demonstration of a great electorate."
 "Much of the romance of a politician is in the life story of an error. Born of American-born parents, he took upon himself still a boy the responsibility of supporting a family. A hard earner, toiling with his hands in the space of twenty years without fortune, without fame, with nothing to rely upon but his own indomitable will, his own unflinching perseverance, his own magnificent ability risen to be a commanding figure in the life of a nation."
 A score of 10-foot lithographs of Smith were borne into the arena along with thousands of leaflets. The convention and Smith noise makers in the arena swung into Smith campaign songs but the screech of almost a score of speakers in a straight line poured out beneath the stage into a mass of yelling marchers. Brought with them bands seemed to know no other than "East Side West Side" and the demonstrators strode around the big arena.
 McAdoo delegates are striving to see the spectacle being staged by their rivals.

Indians Must Learn To Fashion New Type Of Tourist Souvenirs

CASS LAKE, Minn., June 26.—Dane Fashioning who over the Indians relinquished their traditional upon the red men, their characteristic creations with the white tribesmen, is crowning upon the efforts of the dexterous tribesmen.
 Dr. W. B. Hoagerty, superintendent of the Duluth Sales Agency, says that the Indians' resistance to exotic collections such as handbags and miniature bird-bark must be revolutionized to capitalize the modern world's passion for novelties.
 The superintendent of the sales agency alone for the compilation of the list of the new type of souvenirs by the Episcopal Diocese of Duluth is attempting to develop teaching its Indian progress to continue in the Hoodooes against the high cost of living must cater to the fastidious, bestowed by custom upon white neighbors.
 BERLIN, June 26.—Walt Hays has been thrown into jail as far as a demand for the Berlin reading club. Novels with explicit content are especially if they are not approved by the censor. The censor is attempting to demand the return of the books. Hays is a member of the Berlin reading club and has been in jail for several days.

Announcing

The Opening Sale of Lots Through the

PINE CREST LOT CLUB

BEGINNING SATURDAY, JUNE 28th, AND LASTING UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT, JULY 5th, 1924, AFTER WHICH THEY WILL BE TAKEN OFF THE MARKET UNTIL OCTOBER 1st, ALL LOTS ADVANCE $50.00 IN PRICE ON OCTOBER 1st.

Pine Crest

Pine Crest is a new sub-division, located on the Sanford-Orlando road outside the city limits. All lots are high and dry, located on the top of a little Pine knoll. This sub-division is close to other sub-divisions whose owners are selling lots as high as $600.00.

Prices

The prices of lots in this sub-division range from $95.00 to $285.00. The $295.00 lots are inside lots facing Sanford Avenue, and priced according to location.

Lot Club

This Lot Club is something new. People have bank accounts now that never had them before. The Xmas Saving Club did it. People purchased Liberty Bonds that could not have if it weren't for the Bond Clubs. People are now buying Fords that could only do it through the Ford Club. And for that reason we are giving you a change to our real estate through this Lot Club. A Five Dollar Bill, or Ten Dollars for the higher priced lots, is the biggest payment you make. And you are given two years in which to pay, WITHOUT INTEREST. Think how much less that makes the lot cost you when you knock off the interest.

Five Free Lots

Beginning in September we will give away, absolutely free, one of these lots to one of the members of the club. We will give one a month for five months. Only Lot Club members will participate in this contest.

Why Sale Lasts One Week

In October and thereafter, when the next session is open, these lots will all sell for considerable more than we are offering them for now. We are conducting this sale for one week only, in order that the local people will have an opportunity to share in this advance in price. After July 5th, these lots will be offered for sale to people in the North and East, at the advanced price and for that reason—no lots at the present price will be sold after July 5th. Get yours now.

HOW CLUB WORKS

$245 Lots

To get one of these front lots, your first payment is $10. The next payment is TEN CENTS and it increases TEN CENTS each week until it reaches $4.80, and then the payments decrease until it reaches TEN CENTS again. Your lot is then paid for in full and think of what it can be sold for then.

NO INTEREST

$195 Lots

These lots call for a Ten Dollar payment first and then it is paid out through our Five Cents Club, a nickel the first week and increases five cents a week for fifty weeks, after which it decreases five cents a week until the lot is paid for.

$124 Lots

The $124.00 lots work on the same plan as the $195.00 lots with the exception that it calls for only $7.50 as the first payment and although it is to be paid through the five cent club it does not take as long to pay it out.

$95 Lots

This price lot calls for an initial payment of $5.00. The next payment of THREE CENTS and then SIX CENTS and so on with an increase of THREE CENTS a week until it reaches $1.60, after which it decreases until it reaches THREE CENTS AGAIN. The smallest child in your family can afford to own one of these lots and by the time it is paid for it can be resold for about $150.00.

athletics at Stetson University.
Prior to going to Deland he will spend two months at Henderson-athletics and member of the faculty of a summer school. Teams coached by McQuillan during his

and was equipped with a siren and pair of galvanizing tongs.
After the demonstration had lasted about three hours the Jerry Carter delegation from Tallahassee seized someone's megaphone and told a Smith section of the delegation that their demonstration couldn't last longer than eight hours because their noisemakers were union labor and they couldn't work longer than that. "I belong to the union myself and know the rules," he said.
Mrs. Wm. G. McAdoo, who sits just back of the Florida delegation, became convinced with laughing over the effect of Carter's comments. Mrs. A. I. Smith, also sitting near did not laugh. Perhaps her mind was on the flowers she was receiving. They kept sending them in. "Gosh you are sending her a regular garden," Carter told the Smiths. "That is a lovely sprit. We'll have to show to the right spirit too. We'll try to send Al a beer garden so he won't feel neglected."
Jerry Carter carried the Florida
banner in the McAdoo demonstration Wednesday. Florida started the demonstration simultaneously with California, and Florida was the last to sit down. Our delegates gave a McAdoo yell composed by Jerry "with McAdoo or 30 days"
as its theme. "McAdoo or 30 days is my motto," Jerry said today.
"I believe there will be a row
when the Resolution Committee reports over the wet and dry question. The committee is going to have to sit down on those who are controlled more by hatred for the Klan than by loyalty to the Democratic party."
This question is likely to take up a lot of time at the convention. I like New York City. If we had this town in Florida, we would advertise it and let people know about it. These New Yorkers don't seem to appreciate what they have.
Reporters in the press gallery
had to fight for their rights Thursday during the Smith pandomium for Smith supporters had glipped in without even a press badge and occupied the seats. When I finally got possession of my seat
I found myself sandwiched between a Catholic priest and a Catholic shop girl. The girl whirled a noise making apparatus that sounded like a giant cricket, the priest kept telling me why one ought to have light wines and beers and a man five seats down kept soaking me in the eye with the end of a big flag he waved.

dencies and Al Smith who sponsored this crookedness on part of state officials for office of president.
Work of the Resolutions Committee is moving rapidly and successfully forward and in all probability a report will be ready tomorrow. (Questions of the Klan and League of Nations have been the cause for much controversy among committeemen, but these matters are steadily being ironed out and compromise will probably result.
Mr. Bryan, who is chairman of the sub-committee on resolutions, declares that members of the committee are the best "bunch of fellows" he ever had to work with,
and that the task of framing a platform will probably be finished tomorrow. Opposition of the Klan to the Ku Klux Klan plank can be grasped more easily by a consideration of the result of mere mention of the Klan in convention yesterday in course of Johnson's address placing Senator Underwood's name in nomination. Here, delegates elected by people to represent them in the selection of a nominee for president of the United States so far forgot themselves as to engage in actual physical combat in the convention hall.
The governor of the state of Colorado was hit on his jaw by a fellow delegate and sent hurling through scanty ozone for a distance variously estimated at from 10 to 30 feet. If what are supposed to be leaders of a large political block of people of the United States so conduct themselves
at the mere mention of the Klan, what will be the result on streets
when Republican Irish argue with the Democratic Ku-Kluxers on relative merits of foreign immigration and 100 per cent. American-ism, foreign policies, prohibition, oil scandals and contributions which would be lost sight of and the presidential campaign of 1924 would evolve into nothing more nor less than a religious war.
If the Ku Klux Klan plank either decidedly pro or con is placed in the platform it would be another strong argument in favor of the theory that if truth were known,
more opposition to the Darwinian evolution would be found among our anthropoid friends or relatives according to your belief than among most inextorable of fundamentally.

CELEBRATION FOR
SMITH THURSDAY
IS BIGGEST EVER

revelry to the strains of The Sid-walk of New York from bands and organ which have made that the Smith battle hymn of today.
Then, too, it was Roosevelt, big, sturdy and destined to be his party's choice as vice-presidential standard bearer, who hurled aside opposing delegates to rip the New York standard from its place and bear it triumphantly into the tumult of greeting sent by the San Francisco convention to Woodrow Wilson, stricken in the White House across the nation.
Now himself struck down by a clinging melody that has robbed him of his strength, he faced the great crowd eagerly, vividly ready for the leading role he was to play in the day of noise and staggering sound. As he drew himself to the speakers stand firmly with both hands he kept himself firm in this trying ordeal for a crippled man.
But there was no hint of suffering in face or voice as he launched into his address.
The hall gave him close attention. There were bursts of applause and occasional din from the galleries that was waved to silence by the Smith lieutenants on the floor.
Meanwhile down on the floor, it seemed as though the size of the convention itself had mysteriously doubled. The passageways and aisles were choked up with humanity although all the seats provided for the delegates and alternates had long been filled. There was rustle and stir and coming and going around every entrance. Furred banners made their appearance to be shuffled along to their appointed places. Brass bands showed up at three different entrances and tingled like the throat with instruments ready. Straw-hatted men with Smith ribbons displayed bob-bed into view everywhere.

Telegraph Tax Will Be Removed July 3

Government war tax on telegrams and messages will be removed at midnight on the night of July 2, according to Manager T. A.
Scott of the local Western Union office.

The tax in the past has been 11 per cent on all telegrams and messages. Taking off this tax will make a great saving in telegraph bills for a number of the Sanford business houses and industries.
Several of them carry on practically all of their correspondence by wire and an 11 per cent tax soon amounts into hundreds of dollars.
It is said that the tax alone for one or two of the business concerns here amounts to many dollars each month, and its removal will mean a considerable saving to them.

Conference at Boston

JACKSONVILLE, June 27.—
Miss Reba F. Harris of the state health educational council has gone to Cambridge, Mass., to take part in a conference of field workers.
Miss Harris is director of the modern health crusade for Florida and chairman of the Florida Health Education Council, and during the conference, which is to be held at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology she will participate in discussions with 100 or more persons actively engaged in health education in all parts of the country,
all phases of the subject.

wife is 16 years his junior.
According to people who know Chandler, he was a man whom anyone would never suspect as being a crook. He is said to have had no visible means of support since last October except that he told friends that he "had a lot of money out and was trying to collect it."
According to officers Chandler is alleged to have made regular excursions to Jacksonville where he would commit a robbery and return to Sanford with his loot. A sufficient length of time in which to let one robbery die down was allowed to lapse, before another was committed, according to police. Although it is estimated that in recent robberies in the fashionable section of Jacksonville valuables and money to the extent of $7,000 have been stolen.
Chandler is being held by authorities in that city without bail.
It is said that he steadfastly enters connection with any robbery was two. It further developed that Chandler has served five years of a 20-year sentence in the federal penitentiary in Atlanta on a charge of grand larceny. It is said that two years ago he was released on parole.
Reports in Jacksonville papers to the effect that Chandler is wanted here on charges of stealing, were discovered to be untrue this morning when both the sheriff's office and police office, gave out the statement that it was not true. He was wanted, however, for passing a worthless check for $500 as part payment on an Essex automobile which he is said to have purchased from the Seminole Hudson-Essex Company. According to officers, Chandler gave the check on a Jacksonville bank and procuring the car, proceeded to Jacksonville
in it last Monday.

150 Telephones Are Out of Order Because of Lightning and Rain

During the severe electric and rain storm here Wednesday about 150 telephones were put out of commission due to lightning and the fact that some of the cables got wet, said Manager Howard Over-lin of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company here today.
About 100 of the phones are still out of order, he said, but work on them is progressing rapidly and it is hoped that all of them will be working again before night. Some of the telephone connections were burnt out by lightning while others are out because of wires in the underground cables getting wet and thereby becoming grounded or short circuited.
Mr. Overlin states that he is doing every thing possible to re-establish all of the connections that are out of order. All distress of wire trouble are thought to have been found and are being rapidly repaired, he added.

Substitutes are generally more expensive in the end than genuine articles. Housewives have learned—they KNOW this is true where bakings are concerned.
Self rising flours are classed as substitutes for plain flour and good baking powder. The use of these special mixtures is very liable to result in false economy, failures and waste on bake day.
Remember there is a big difference, in many ways, between biscuits and other bakings made from these so-called self-rising flours and those made from good plain flour and a dependable leavener. Try the experiment—make a baking from each—convince yourself.
You will find the baking made from flour and baking powder far more attractive in appearance. It will raise higher—retain its full food value and taste better. For best results, do not fail to use Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder, and a reliable brand of plain flour.
Just think of it—the sale of Calumet is 2 1/2 times as much as that of any other brand. It contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the United States Food Authorities. It is pure and sure.
You save when you buy it—you save when you use it.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY PERFECT PEACE.—Thou wilt keep them in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee.—Isaiah 26:3.

WEEP NO MORE Weep no more, nor sigh, nor groan, sorrow shall no more time that's gone;

Exciting news. Watchfully waiting. Madison Square Garden is probably not more than one...

The eyes of the nation are on Madison Square Garden.

A municipal swimming pool is what we want.

The longer the convention lasts in New York the better the news in that little town will like it.

A kick town is one where every one knows what you had for dinner today.

If the talker Al Smith would need a brass band to lead his demonstrations.

Does New York really want Al Smith for president?

When balloting begins the Herald will get a report of each ballot from its own representative now attending the convention.

By the time the various delegates finish all the demonstrations it is doubtful if they will have enough strength left to vote.

The future of the Democratic party will be decided largely by the quality of the nominees named in New York.

A new substitution has gone on the market here. Sanford could well afford to have several executive developments. The more the merrier.

When the convention in New York is over and a candidate has been named possibly we can settle down to finishing some public improvements which are important.

After the last session of the Democratic convention is held people living in New York may not realize that they don't constitute nor control the entire party.

June was a great month for paying bills. The good work should not be stopped. Tuesday marks the beginning of July and creditors will note just who pays up promptly.

Coolidge plans to open his campaign for re-election June 30. He's playing safe, believing that the Democratic convention will be over by that time.

In addition to cutting off the electric power in Sanford the thunder storm Wednesday damaged the telephone service in the city and even yet many of the lines are out of working order.

McAdoo has been in politics but twice years. Which makes him the more ideal candidate inasmuch as he hasn't been in long enough to fall into the ways of a Taggart, Brennan or Mack.

Balloting at Madison Square Garden will soon be in process. If the delegates nominate either Smith or Underwood, a Republican landslide is probable in November. No "wet" candidate has a chance of being elected.

The city merchant should be interested in every movement for the good of the city. Every merchant and every one of his clerks should be affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce and take an active part in building the city.

A young woman has been nominated for Vice-President by the Republicans. The Tampa Tribune wonders if it would be fair to select a young woman to preside over so many old women in the Senate.

When you think it is hot in Sanford just look up in the temperature figures in some other parts of the country. There are some places in the supposedly cool north where the thermometer registers considerably more than it does in this section.

The delegates to the national convention in New York are coffee snobs. This week five tons of coffee were used to make three hundred million cups of coffee.

A Question Of Men

What kind of a man does the average Democrat want as a presidential candidate? Balloting will soon begin in Madison Square Garden. The job of selecting a standard-bearer will soon be under way. There is no telling just when the deciding vote will be cast, but in all probability it will be after a deadlock between McAdoo and Smith. On all sides are heard predictions regarding the outcome, but as yet it is very largely guess work.

The Democratic party has a wonderful opportunity of being victorious in the November election. A disgusted public is waiting for the right man to be brought forward so that Washington may have a housecleaning, after the disgraceful and disgusting scandals recently revealed among those in power.

It is a question of men. If the right Democrat is nominated his party will win. If the wet element secures sufficient power to name a wet candidate, the chances are the Democrats will go down in defeat this year even worse than they did when James M. Cox was the candidate four years ago and was overwhelmingly defeated by Warren G. Harding.

The New York convention seems to have resolved itself into a fight between wet and dry candidates. The future success and power of the party largely depends on the outcome. Liquorites are making a grand play for power. Theirs is a desperate stand. If they fail to win now they never will. They are sparing no expense to carry their point. Backed by some "wet" newspapers they are doing all in their power to create sentiment favorable to Al Smith, their representative.

Al Smith had a tremendous demonstration yesterday at the convention. But note the way in which it was secured. Note the lengths to which Smith and the wet crowd are going. Decide if the Democratic party can afford to have a man of the Smith calibre head the ticket.

He and his managers worked late Wednesday night perfecting plans for the big demonstration. Then yesterday, at the gates to Madison Square Garden, those persons wearing Smith buttons were given preference over those holding the regular engraved tickets of admission. As a result five thousand Smith professional noise makers were admitted to the convention while nearly as many people holding bonafide tickets were forced to remain on the outside. It was these gentlemen, wearing Smith buttons, admitted without tickets, who staged the big Smith demonstration which was probably the biggest political demonstration in many years. It was the crookedness of the part of the gate keepers, sponsored by New York's Al Smith that demonstrated his absolute unfitness for the office of president.

When the balloting starts in New York, probably Saturday, it will be closely watched by millions of interested voters throughout the entire country, who are desirous of seeing a dry and progressive candidate named to carry the party to victory in November.

It is a question of men. Without a strong candidate the Democratic party has little chance of winning. With a "wet" leader it is already defeated.

A Timely Preachment

"Take time by the rein, or take eternity," warns the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

It's a timely warning, considering the millions of folks who are rushing about hither and yon on their summer automobile trips. Never were there so many cars on the roads, never so many drivers using the roads as they are before they are due to arrive.

And the worst of it is, the driver more often than not is the member of the party who escapes serious injury when the train hits his car and maims or kills the people entrusted to his care.

Perhaps there is too little preaching on the subject of responsibility. Perhaps too few automobile drivers are impressed upon them the fact that they are criminals if they take dangerous risks that involve the safety of people riding in their cars or on the roads by travel.

When a driver gets out to take a party on an automobile ride, or an automobile trip, that driver should feel called upon to drive with the greatest intelligence he is capable of showing. He must keep on the alert for any possible danger of discomfort and take far greater pride in landing his passengers safely at their destination than in taking them over their route at a record pace.

Florida has many dangerous railroad crossings and many dangerous curves. And even when a driver is well acquainted with the road he is traversing, these crossings and curves must be figured upon. How much more risky, then, is wild driving through other states where absolutely nothing is known of the road ahead!

During this summer there will be the usual large number of fatalities at railroad crossings, and this just because drivers of automobiles prefer to take a chance than to play safe!

MY DESIRE IS to replace every destructive thought with one which is constructive or creative.—Addalene Menzel.

FLORIDA IN NEW YORK

As has been predicted, the Florida delegation in the National Democratic Convention in New York, is commanding a lion's share of the attention—and again Florida comes in for some healthful advertising. The presence of William Jennings Bryan on the delegation is doing more to draw notice to Florida's representative than all the balloons, streamers, and what-nots that might be devised for that purpose.

POLITICAL TUNES IN

The phrase "politics is first" announced that "politics is in the air" is simply corroborated by the radio, which waxes national conversations through the ether to reaching ears the country over. The political discussion is being carried on in the air, and the delegates to the national convention in New York are coffee snobs. This week five tons of coffee were used to make three hundred million cups of coffee.

As Brisbane Sees It

Beautiful and Plump. Walsh, Good Fight. Watch Senator Robinson. An Imperial View.

UNDERWOOD, Of Alabama; Robinson, of Arkansas; McAdoo, of the United States in general, were all three put in nomination. News columns will tell you what happened in the way of demonstrations.

Most interest was a young woman from California, carried around the floor of the convention for about an hour on the shoulders of young California men.

If you meet those men, praise them. A girl can't grow up in California's sunlight, eat California fruits and other products and weigh only a few pounds.

She was a beautiful girl, a plump girl, with yellowish long hair down her back, her waist made of stars her skirt of striped.

You must give her credit also for not once in the course of her ride around the hall did she stop yelling for McAdoo. She weighed 140 if she weighed an ounce and she was perfect. Three cheers for California!

Conventions are dull. This one is unusually stupid because there isn't any news. Asking "Who do you think will be nominated?" is like looking down a coal hole and asking, "How many lumps of coal do you think there are in the cellar?"

IT WAS PLEASANT yesterday to see the enthusiastic reception to Senator Walsh, of Montana. He is of Irish descent and a Roman Catholic. If there was a man or a woman in the hall who did not cheer and applaud when he walked up to the platform you couldn't see that man or woman from the reporters' stand.

His earnest, sun-browned face, deep-set gray eyes and splendid record as a fighter of the copper combination in Montana and of the oil trusts in Washington, gave him what he deserved—a demonstration of freedom, releasing his votes for some other candidate, if he will be so on condition that they shall not under any circumstances VOTE FOR McADOO.

That interests the McAdoo men. Some of them seem to think that it would help McAdoo.

THE ALLEGED "NEWS" yesterday was that:

When the time comes, if it does come, Al Smith to give his delegates their freedom, releasing their votes for some other candidate, if he will be so on condition that they shall not under any circumstances VOTE FOR McADOO.

That interests the McAdoo men. Some of them seem to think that it would help McAdoo.

THE RECEIPTION given to Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, was most friendly, one of which his state may be proud. Every intelligent Democrat in the hall knew that Senator Robinson has been the leader of sane Democratic progressivism in the house and that he has kept the progressive element lined up with extraordinary skill.

If, after the balloting, you will find Senator Robinson one of the most powerful surviving candidates. He is a good American, and would make good American president.

If you would like, prediction, from sources not usually available, here it is. It comes from a young English woman very well known to all society reporters. Sitting beside Senator Copeland, of New York, on the platform, explaining American politics to him, she said: "I have been through the west, and I know that Al Smith will sweep the country if he runs. I have also gathered the information that beyond question with Al Smith running as the Democratic candidate and La Follette as an independent, Mr. Coolidge would run third."

It would interest you coming from an entirely impartial source. Asked to what extent she had "been through the west," she replied that she had been in Cleveland, Ohio, to see the Republican convention, in Washington, Oregon, Alaska and other points west will "kick kick out of that."

YOU HEAR LITTLE about the League of Nations in the convention. Democrats that committed themselves to it four years ago are asked to apologize. They say "It isn't so much of an obligation." As the war fades into the distance, that that have been in the international arena, they take off a bond issued in their favor. They are not so sure of the theory that the United States is able to take care of itself or manage its own affairs without the help and advice of European nations and European world courts.

TE DEMONSTRATION for McAdoo shows that he and his friends know how to organize political matters. A later day will tell whether they will be able to keep the organization together. It will be a hard task that to keep out live in New York can with difficulty, however bitterly the financial interests hate McAdoo. It is actually bitter, rancorous hatred and "interesting." He must have the interests of his plans when the party is to be national or on...

NO ONE CAN THINK OF ANYTHING BUT POLITICS

Dan Dobb Says

Poor brakes cause auto crashes. Bad breaks cause business crashes. Forecast of this year's crop indicate it will be a poor one. Girls swimming in fancy costumes are liable to come up with a flop on one. Now and then you hear a stream being dragged for someone who didn't ask if it was deep. The new wife and sane husband July isn't half as exciting as old unself and insane Fourth. On coming to a fork in the many young couples consider proper to use it for a spoon. Coal dealers don't make as much money during the summer, but they get their friends back. It is hard on a girl to marry a man whose mother was a cook. Besides helping crops a hard rain might keep our ball game from losing. The best way to argue with a woman is to go out on the porch alone and smoke a cigaret. These are the days the boss is mad when he finds things are going nicely while he was fishing. About twenty-three is the proper age for a girl to marry. If she him reach twenty-four he becomes unruly.

DEMOCRATS' BEST OPPORTUNITY

Certainly there is one general hope as to the results of the Democratic convention that the people of this state would like to see and that is, a general and early elimination of Governor Al Smith, of New York, so that he will not have a lion in for the presidential nomination. If the party desires to do this, it is to nominate Smith to run against President Coolidge. The president has the fact that both wings of his own party, he would be able to beat Smith or even Underwood, and those wisecracks who seem to think that William Jennings Bryan is only fit to give advice but better do some serious and something that will do the most common sense has to say if they have any real consideration for the Democratic party.

WARNING

SUMMER, the sneak thief's harvest time, is here. Every opened or screened window will be an invitation for him to help himself to your valuables. AND it isn't such a baffling problem for him to find the hiding places of valuables. It's a part of his art to know where to look. WHY take chances when for less than one cent a day you can rent a safe deposit box in our fire and burglar proof vaults.

Bobby Pearman celebrates birthday of 15 of his friends

Spending the spirit of July 4 Bobby Pearman celebrated his birthday Thursday afternoon. About 15 little friends were to enjoy this festive occasion.

Lawn was decorated with flags and red, white and blue streamers making each tiny like he was at a real party.

Games were played during the day. Miss Marion Hoolehan prize given in the "Peasants." Jack Gilson pitched the ball most accurately, winning the prize.

Donuts were served during the day and at the conclusion of the time ice cream and cake were served. The cake was adorned with white and blue candles.

Pearman was assisted in lining and serving by Miss Marshall and Mrs. J. N. Bobbitt.

White and blue horns were as favors and each went on their way praising Bobby Pearman for the lovely party.

EVERYTHING SET FOR MASQUERADE AT APOPKA SOON

With but one week left until the night of the great masquerade and street carnival on the "Main Street" of Apopka, Thursday night, July 3, there comes the news that already everything is set for the gala evening. The Program Committee has broadcast the fact that unique lighting arrangements have been made and that vari-colored lights will be used to be in harmony with the brilliant-hued costumes that will be in evidence.

Who the prominent Florida is to be who will award the prizes has not yet been forthcoming although several different rumors are current. Several other rumors are being circulated, one of which is that the 10 piece orchestra may be increased to insure sufficient music for the great number of dancers who will undoubtedly attend.

The Program Committee has made it public known that this affair will be conducted on that night with the utmost refinement and that it will be under the auspices of a local club and the patronage of the city of Apopka.

It is hoped that one of our people will bring back one of the prizes at least with a clever costume for there is evidence of considerable talent here along those lines.

MISS BRIDGMAN BECOMES BRIDE OF R. L. ROBINSON

The impressive ring ceremony was performed.

The bride was lovely in a white satin dress with silk lace and carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies.

Following the ceremony a very informal reception was held.

The young couple left in their car keeping their destiny a secret. They will be away several weeks, returning to make Sanford their home.

Young Stribling Wins Bout In New York on Thursday

NEW YORK, June 27.—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, successfully defended his 160 pound crown against his English challenger, Ted Moore, in a fast 15-round match, the feature bout of the Milk Fund card at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night. It was Greb's fight from the start.

George's sensational school-boy boxer, William L. "Young" Stribling, was given a judges' verdict over Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, in a spectacular six round struggle at the Milk Fund bouts at the Yankee Stadium Thursday night. The verdict was decidedly unpopular with the crowd of 60,000.

The negro middleweight championship of the world changed hands in the next bout when Larry Stridger, hard hitting Harlem boxer, scored a decisive victory over Panama Joe Gans, veteran champion in a 10 round bout.

"Celery Feds" Lose Pitchers' Battle to Atlantic Coast Line

For support by Sanford infielders in the Atlantic Coast Line team in the fourth inning Thursday the A. C. L. team winning the 4 to 2. Twenty-two strikeouts fanned the game, which was a pitchers' duel between Morland of the A. C. L. and Lee of the A. C. L. for his team with three spectacular catches. He also was responsible for stopping the "Feds" rally in the ninth after they had already scored one run and had two men on bases.

Manager Whidden announces that the next game here will be with the Tidewater team on Friday, July 4, and promises to be the fans an excellent game that day. He believes Tidewater will be the strongest semi-professional team in the state and says the Sanford are going to put up a good fight. With McCall pitching, the teams should have a very good contest.

Booms of Ralston And Underwood Receive Big Boosts

(Continued from page 1.) their minds a picture of a young man in the flower of his manly vigor stepping briskly to the platform, Thursday they saw him actually carried there, crippled by the creeping insroads of infantile paralysis, and obliged to prop himself against the speaker's desk once he had been lifted to his feet.

There he stood laboring under a great physical infirmity, but with his mind functioning the same as ever, and smiling gamely in response to the cheers, which unobtrusively were as much at his pluck and his courage as they were for his nominee, Governor Smith. It was noticeable that the convention paid closer attention to Mr. Roosevelt than it had any of those who preceded him with nominating speeches and that he had his audience under control. When he waved for silence he got it, and when he signalled to wait and let him go on, the galleries to wait and let him go on, they obeyed.

Plenty of Noise
But it was noticeable also that the managers of the demonstration which was to follow for Governor Smith had worked their plans out quite as expensively as had the McAdoo managers the day before and that they had not failed to equip their professional demonstrators with all the noise-making and enthusiasm raising devices at their command.

Even before the session began long lines of Smith supporters began appearing in the top galleries and by the time the convention was called to order they were packed in like sardines. Very soon, large bodies of men and boys and some women wearing Smith banners began appearing at the various doors of the convention although the police were supposed to stop at the guard lines a block away all those who held no tickets to Madison Square gardens. At some of the doors the Smith enthusiasts, in blocks of 200 and 300, rushed the doorkeepers and police and in they came equipped with banners, flags and other equipment for the demonstration about to be staged.

They filled the seats of delegates and alternates who had not arrived and they overflowed into the sections of reserved seats and occupied them, and finally they packed the aisles standing five and six abreast. The police and fire authorities closed the doors of the convention hall on the ground that there was no more room inside and left the oring in the streets outside, hundreds of legitimate ticket holders whose seats had already been occupied by the Smith demonstrators inside.

When Mr. Roosevelt's peroration signalled the end of his nomination speech the racket cut loose. In volume of noise produced it exceeded the McAdoo demonstration of Wednesday but it bore all the same accompaniments of professional demonstrators and was lacking in the same way of participation of any great body of delegates. Some delegates to be sure, headed by the New Yorkers, praised about the hall, but they were followed by hundreds of men and women wearing no delegate badges and decorated only with campaign buttons. They were accompanied by bands, they were equipped with automobile horns, horse-fiddles, tom-toms and anything else that would make a noise.

Sirens Shiek
Had-tuned sirens such as are the standard equipment of fire wagons had been placed in the halls, and in the street outside one tremendous siren which would have made a large fire whistle for a good sized town, was set going. It blared "Littlesdookm-j-c

Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Braddock and Mrs. Swanson have moved back to their place here from Delray. They expect to improve their property at Lake Mary.
