Churchill Finds Name For Thus Far Nameless Crimes

By BRONISLAW MATECKI (Polish Economics Professor and Government Official) LONDON — "Crime without name."

That is how Winston Churchill, in a broadcast made in 1941, described the terrifying accumulation of well-planned barbarities committed by the Nazis on the living bodies of many a European nation and race.

Britain's war leader whose unique eloquence failed him when he searched for a word to convey the suffering of peoples tortured by the German oppressor, finds now the name of this nameless crime in the indictment of the Nazi war leaders—genocide.

Count Three of the indictment reads in part: ". . . They (the defendants) conducted deliberate and systematic genocide . . . in order to destroy particular races and classes of people . . ."

Genocide, the word coined to fit the crime, seems likely not only to play its part in the Nuremberg trials, but may change the aspects of international law in war and in peace.

The creator of the word—Prof. Raphael Lemkin, a noted scholar of international law, formerly a public prosecutor in Poland and now a faculty member at Duke University in North Carolina, says he had no "linguistic ambitions" in writing the name, that he aimed at a legal and humanitarian concept which, if generally accepted, would mitigate mankind's misery.

Why The Name Genocide has two roots—the Greek "genos," nation or race; the Latin "cide," a suffix made from "caedere," killing. Put them together and there is genocide—"killing a nation or 'murderer of a nation'."

In his book, Axis Rule in Occupied Europe (published by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, Washington, D. C.) Dr. Lemkin writes hitherto-used terms for attacks upon nations as a whole are inadequate.

"Denationalization," he declares, does not convey biological destruction and, in addition, sometimes is used to mean the sense of deprivation of citizenship. This author finds terms like "Germanization," "Italianization" or "Magyarization" fail to convey physical annihilation and are to be applied only in such special cases where one nation attacks the national pattern of the other.

Genocide, on the other hand, means what it says: A murderous attack upon a nation or a group weaker than the oppressor. It does not necessarily mean the immediate destruction of a nation—except when accomplished by the mass killing of all its members. It is intended rather to imply a coordinated campaign for the destruction of the essential foundations of the life of national, religious and ethnic groups with the purpose of annihilating the groups themselves.

This genocide was practiced by the Germans upon Jews, Gypsies, Poles, Russians, and other Slavs and, to a lesser extent, upon Frenchmen, Belgians and Luxembourgers.

How It Works Genocide is directed against a group as an entity, and the actions involved are directed against individuals, but as members of such a group.

Lemkin finds in the Hague Conventions a legal basis for the punishment of genocide in war. More important than punishment, however, he declares, is prevention—effective only when impartial investigators are allowed to study the victims' cases.

Further, he advocates prosecution for genocide in peacetime. World War II, writes the professor, taught that not only minorities but whole nations and races, if weak, may be attacked with a view toward annihilation.

Sixteen Die In Northeastern States Storm

Snow Blankets Area Weather Station Reports Winds Of 109 Miles Per Hour

BOSTON, Nov. 30, (AP)—A storm moving over the northeastern states has taken 16 lives and left large areas blanketed with snow. Winds reached 78 miles an hour in gusts at Boston—three miles above the 75-mile level at which a storm is regarded as a hurricane. Winds near 80 miles an hour have been recorded along the Maine coast. In southern New England winds have risen to 80 and 80 miles an hour after a slight lull. The storm today sank a 60-foot Navy mine test boat at the Provincetown wharf but the crew escaped injury. A heavy snow has fallen in the storm area and flurries of snow have fallen in the Great Lake region and Chicago. The snow blanket ranges in depth from three inches in Boston, Newark, New Jersey and New York City to 25 inches in Attica, N.Y. The weight of the snow broke down transportation and communication facilities in New England and upstate New York. Gale winds scattered the Boston area and grounded a freighter, the Fordham Victory, on spectacle island in Boston harbor. Two other boats are missing—a 37-foot cabin cruiser out of Newport, R.I. and a fishing boat from New Bedford, Mass. Seven steamships are riding out the storm in outer Boston harbor. The weather station on Mount Washington, N.H., clocked wind velocities as high as 109 miles an hour. New York Central trains are pulling into New York anywhere from 30 minutes to an hour late. Commercial operations at LaGuardia Field have been halted when a total of 385 flights have been cancelled in the past three days.

Little Damage To Vegetables Reported

Very little damage to growing vegetables as the result of the heavy frost last evening, was reported this morning by growers as the mercury dipped to 28 degrees, which is four degrees warmer than the minimum recorded last Sunday morning, according to B. F. Whitner, weatherman. Most of the few remaining perishable crops such as snap beans, squash or tomatoes had already been eliminated by the previous cold wave. Green vegetables such as asparagus, lettuce and romaine have been only slightly nibbled by the cold, according to both east and west side growers. No damage to cabbage is reported, but it is stated that its maturity has been delayed. Rainfall for November has been but a third of the normal precipitation, according to Mr. Whitner. The measured rainfall is 1.1 inches as compared to a normal of 3.16 inches, a deficiency of 2.06 inches. A resident of Longwood reported that there was ice seen from this morning, also heavy frost. The frost proved to be in excellent condition and fruit in excellent condition with added snow and sleet due to the cold spells. It was reported that the morning's heavy frosts of the Sanford Fruit Commission.

Admiral Explains Seminole County Navy Plans

Chief of 20th Air Force In Pacific Based In Pentagon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29, (AP)—An explanation of why Navy officers in the Pacific changed their minds about the advisability of the Army-Navy merger plan has been laid before the Senate Military Committee. Rear Admiral Forrest Sherman, who served as deputy chief of staff to Admiral Nimitz, gave the explanation in testimony before the committee this morning. Admiral Sherman said that two events disillusioned the naval officers about the merger proposal—events which he said disputed the unified command in the Pacific. The first event, Sherman said, was the establishment within the War Department structure of the Twentieth Air Force to be based on the Marianas for attacks on Japan. The commander of this Air Force, Sherman said, was located in the Pentagon Building, 8600 miles away. The second disillusioning factor, the Admiral went on, was a directive issue by the joint chiefs of staff at the instance of General Marshall. This directive transferred all the Army resources except air in the Pacific ocean areas to General MacArthur. Admiral Sherman then told the committee that in his opinion, the very intensity of the drive for the merger, and what he termed the destructively critical nature of recent statements about the Navy, are leading in the wrong direction. He expressed the view that they are heading toward the conditions that first brought about the creation of a separate Navy Department in 1798. At that time, Sherman said, the War Department had not maintained a sufficient Navy and a naval campaign was imminent. The Admiral urged all possible speed in coming to a decision on the merger plan, saying that the present uncertainty is destroying Navy morale.

Major Louis Bills On Terminal Leave After Pacific Duty

Major Louis B. Bills has returned to his home in Geneva on terminal leave awaiting his release from active duty with the Army Air Force after extended service in the Pacific. Major Bills was a member of the Air Transport Command and piloted the first ATC ship to land at Atsugi Japan. Prior to that time, Major Bills was stationed at Guam as chief pilot of the Air Transport Command there and later he flew from Okinawa with a spearhead unit of Japanese occupation forces. The Major and Mrs. Bills, and their two sons, are visiting J. C. Bills in Geneva. He is planning to take a real estate broker's examination shortly.

Governor Rebukes Marion's Sheriff

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 30, (AP)—Governor Caldwell today took to task Sheriff S. C. Thomas of Marion county for what the chief executive called "a pretty bad record." He warned the Ocala officer that in following a policy of not removing elected officials, there is a point beyond which he can't go and that the sheriff is "knocking at that door right now." Caldwell referred to a State auditor's report indicating that two men charged with selling operations were released from the Marion county jail before they furnished bonds set by the court. He said he probably should have suspended Thomas at that time.

Hess Admits Memory Loss Outright Fake

Deputy Fuehrer Accepts Responsibility For Actions While Under Hitler

NUERNBERG, Nov. 30, (AP)—The one-time deputy Nazi Fuehrer, Rudolf Hess, has made a startling confession. At the war crimes trial here, Hess admitted today that he had been for long a "hysteric all along" and that his role of loyalty to Hitler was an outright fake, which he had attempted for what he called "total peace." Hess declared that he had feigned amnesia even to his own defense attorney. He expressed that he wished to accept full responsibility for everything he had done or had ordered done under Hitler, that he wished to continue on trial as a war criminal with his fellow Nazis. The first witness to testify in the trial of the German leaders took the stand today to outline details of an alleged plot on Adolf Hitler's life concocted by an ace German intelligence officer, General Erwin Lahusen, a member of the German army intelligence section. Lahusen told how Admiral Walter Wilhelm Canaris—known as the "genius" of German secret agents—had plotted for years to kill Hitler. Lahusen pictured Canaris as a man who detested Hitler thoroughly and had led a clique which had plotted against the Nazis from the day they rose to power. Lahusen said he was an aide to Canaris and had been executed after the July 20, 1944, attempt on Hitler's life. Lahusen sought to portray the group led by Canaris as one which had and committed an act also Hitler and his methods. He said that the Canaris group opposed to Hitler's territorial conquests and concentration camps. He said that the group had been organized by a former German spy, Hans Goring, and had not passed up a chance to capture the Fuehrer. He said that the trial conductor, glared intently at a motion picture of the German officer, identified.

Baby Feds Whip Giant Mainland Eleven, 13-12

Scrapping Seminole Squad Comes From Behind To Win Tilt

By JULIAN STENSTROM

The Baby Feds whip entered the Mainland High School gymnasium of Daytona Beach last night at the high school athletic field and when the final whistle blew, Sanford fans were well convinced they had witnessed about the best game played on the local gridiron this season. When Mainland took the field, given buckles went into the receiving position and easily outweighed the locals by 20 pounds per man. The situation looked rough for the Baby Feds. Sanford kicked off and a big bruiser named Marvin Brownlee took the ball on his own 19 and scored 81 yards for a touchdown. On the attempt for the extra point, Whitehurst, Fed tackle, broke in and blocked the kick. With a six point lead, Mainland kicked off to Sanford. After three plays in which they were smothered by the big Mainland line, Grantham kicked to Daytona. A few minutes later the big Baby Buccaneers were near the pay dirt. A few seconds later Mickey McClelland, Daytona halfback, went over center from the four for the second touchdown. (Continued on Page Four)

Recovered Radio Loot Identified

Chief Roy G. Williams' office is still cluttered up with table radios and tubes and other loot recovered when a Chase and Company warehouse employee chanced to find the stolen goods which had been hidden in the warehouse at Thirteenth Street and Elm Avenue by a thief who had made the place his sleeping quarters. One of the radios is marked as the property of Bill Harvey, who formerly operated a radio shop at 210 East Fifth Street, but who stated that he went out of business because he was robbed so often. A number of the radio tubes recovered may belong to him also. The Smoke House has recovered its stolen radio, minus dials, and two radios are marked as the property of Videll Jones.

The salesfolks are wearing badges that say "I'll smile if you'll smile." They've even gone as far as to design a "smile meter" to determine the number they're getting per day. They claim they can measure everything from a toothpaste ad grin down to the ghost of a grimace.

General Miles Insists However, That Point Of Attack Remained In Doubt Till Made

TOKYO, Nov. 30, (AP)—There may be another Pearl Harbor investigation... This one, in Japan. Two of Japan's new political parties—the progressives and the Liberals—are working on a resolution which will demand that the Diet investigate the Dec. 7 attack. One member declared that the Japanese nation was betrayed by a small number of leaders in just the same way as the United States was betrayed by Japanese militarists at Pearl Harbor. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30, (AP)—Testimony before the Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee today disclosed that the Army Intelligence Division suspected that the Jap attack would come at the moment it did. They did not know, however, where that first blow would be struck. The former head of the Intelligence Division, Major General Sherman Miles, told the committee that it was an intercepted Japanese code message that led him to fear that the attack would come at 1:00 P.M. on Dec. 7. The message intercepted was an instruction to the Jap emissaries in Washington to deliver their now famous note to the State Department at exactly 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon. General Miles said that he called General Marshall's attention to the matter. Throughout mid-November, he went on, he was convinced that Japan was facing a crisis, and that she might seek to resolve it by taking drastic action. Consistently, he declared, the Army thought in terms of eventual war with Japan. And Army war plans always had taken into account the possibility of an assault on Pearl Harbor. General Miles recalled that war games had been held in Hawaii years ago, complete with a simulated landing by enemy troops on a Sunday morning. And he said that he had a deal of discussion of the possibility of a dawn air attack. However, it was felt that there was no way of forestalling such an attack except by aerial reconnaissance.

Police Plan Pound For Horses And Cows

The problem of what to do with stray dogs found wandering on the streets was solved some time ago by the establishment on West Sixth Street of a City Pound, and many homeless mongrels here have been adopted by kind citizens. What to do with stray cows and horses presents an entirely different problem to police. During the past two weeks at least a dozen cows and horses have been lost and picked up by police who are puzzled as to know what to do with them, according to Police Chief Roy G. Williams. Sometimes they bring them to jail and quarter them at the city garage until claimed by owners. At other times they tie up the animals or leave them in care of residents near where found until the owners can be located. "What the city needs is a pound for stray horses and cows," said Chief Williams. He predicted that before long there would be another round up of stray dogs, many of which are sick. The other day a negro woman was called to account by police because her dog had bitten so many people and there had been many complaints. When questioned by Chief Williams concerning the reason for her dog's bad conduct, she replied, "I do declare, dat dog done must have some lion in him."

Mrs. Roosevelt Tells AP To Mind Business

NEW YORK, Nov. 30, (AP)—A New York newspaper (The Herald-Tribune) says Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt declined to give any details about the fight between Pals, the pet of her late husband, and Blase, a dog owned by her son, Elliott. Said Mrs. Roosevelt: "I don't see that this is anyone's business except the family's—further I don't know what you're talking about." Then Mrs. Roosevelt asked a newsmen: "I don't see how you even heard about it—how did you get it?" She was told the Associated Press had reported the fight about the fight between the two dogs. Mrs. Roosevelt then said: "Go back to your office and telephone the Associated Press and tell them to mind their own business."

BIBLE READING TODAY

BUT DO NOT FORGET THAT THOUGHTS VERY SOON BECOME WORDS SO GUARD YOUR THOUGHTS: Let the wicked forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts...

ASTRONOMICAL

Take earth, sky, and sea together. The sun does a pretty trick. You must be in the nick. With them (suppose fair weather) Of time, and must believe. The planet spherical. The sun sets; you receive. Notice—no shore bird's merry call, Island lighthouse starts its flash, Now look; eastern horizon a belt of pink (a waltz-of-vision cry. Then wait; up rises (here's the clorama. Along the belt an arc of violet. It's the round world's shadow. Proof? Under the artist's piazza roof. What I hear said is inviolate. Fact, which I neither diminish nor add to.

Victory bond sales are still running behind. As usual the people want the boys brought home but they don't want to pay the bill.

We see where the police in Chicago have invented a foolproof lie detector. If there is any way of getting candidates for office to submit to it just before election when they are promising tax reduction and bigger and better handouts to everyone.

As was freely predicted a few weeks ago with the lifting of gasoline rationing, automobile accidents are increasing all over the country. The old bugles simply can't get used to traveling at full speed all the time day and night on tires that are worn out and frames that are all but disintegrated. Inasmuch as it will probably be several years before most of these cars can be permanently retired from the roads, the only thing that will prevent further increases in accidents is greater emphasis on careful driving and better maintenance.

The great Management Labor Conference in Washington seems definitely headed for the rocks. There is hardly a chance in a boatload that anything more significant can be agreed upon than that there is nothing that can be done about it. Apparently the techniques that strikes are an established part of collective bargaining and that no agreement can be reached until after work stoppages have taken their toll of both sides and have cost the country billions of dollars, must remain. We may be in the atomic age scientifically, but from the standpoint of the political and social sciences we are still a bunch of barbarians.

We are glad to see the city taking action to provide the young people of this community with some form of wholesome recreational facilities. Before the war the excuse was frequently heard that the City did not have the money to build tennis courts, swimming pools, or anything else of a recreational nature. Not much was done along this line for twenty years. But now the City has the money and the need is greater than ever. Young men who have been in the service for the past few years where daily recreation of every conceivable description was a must on every station program from Guadalcanal to Prague simply can't understand civilian delay in getting things done.

Local doctors are criticized for raising their fees from $3 to $3 a day. That is a 25 1/3 percent increase in pay, the first they have had since long before the war began. Prices have, we believe everybody knows, gone up about that much in the meantime. During the war no one worked harder or contributed more to the war effort without complaint than the doctor who has to work into the night to save the lives of the wounded.

Railroad Bargaining

A compliment to railroad labor comes from the Tampa Tribune which quotes from the Railroad Labor Act to show the superiority of collective bargaining as practiced by the older and more experienced brotherhoods as compared with some of the younger and more hot headed unions comprising the CIO.

That act provides, the Tribune says: "Both sides must give 30 days' notice of any intention to change the existing situation. Then they must confer and try to agree. If they disagree, the National Mediation Board steps into the picture on request of either side or else on its own motion."

If the board's mediation effort is successful, an agreement is signed which the board is empowered, if necessary, to interpret. If the board's effort fails, the board asks both sides to consent to arbitration.

If they consent, they name their arbitrators, and these pick neutrals to round out the arbitration board. If the neutrals can't be agreed on, the Mediation Board names them. Any award thus reached by this voluntary arbitration is binding on both sides.

If arbitration is refused by either side, the President appoints a board to investigate and report on the facts within 30 days. During these 30 days, and for 30 days thereafter, no change may be made by either side in "the conditions out of which the dispute arose." Only then may a walkout or lockout legally occur.

There are subsidiary regulations. Collective bargaining is guaranteed. So is the right to organize. Anything like a company union is forbidden. On the other hand, the check off also is forbidden and the closed shop is banned.

Finally, the act provides complicated mediation and arbitration machinery for the settlement of minor, localized or regional disputes.

Strict and honest adherence to these requirements in all labor-management differences, would prevent 99 out of 100 strikes.

Russia's Waterways

The canal connecting the Arctic Ocean with the Baltic has been repaired, the Russians announce. Bombed early in the war, this canal would have permitted boats plying between Leningrad and Archangel to travel only 140 miles. Its destruction required them to go all the way around Scandinavia, with consequent liability to attack.

Canals are far more important in Russian life than here. Russia is blessed with many large rivers, so construction of a few short canals makes it possible to sail from the Baltic to the Caspian and from the Arctic to the Black Sea, besides making innumerable other combinations. Also planned is a waterway joining the Caspian and Black Seas. This, it is estimated, would require 10 times the explosives and effort needed to dig the Panama Canal. Yet it does not deter the Russians from contemplating the project, and in time it will probably be undertaken.

American canals had their heyday before the railroads got really going. Many have been abandoned, but those that remain carry far less than their capacity. Yet there is much bulky freight in no need of quick delivery which might profitably go by water.

Veterans In Politics

Will this war, unlike the last, produce new political figures? Some Pennsylvania Democrats are talking about General Carl Spaatz, head of the bombing force against Germany, as their candidate for governor in 1946.

If General Spaatz ran and were elected, he would succeed one of the very few military men who have attained high political office. Governor Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, besides holding various state offices, fought in the last war and was a major general in this one, commanding the 23rd division until relieved because of his age.

Oregon from 1939 to 1945 had as governor another Major General Charles H. Martin, who commanded two divisions in World War I. Ex-Senate Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri, recently named as judge of the United States circuit court of appeals in Washington, was a colonel in the first war, and a founder and commander of the American Legion. This almost exhausts the list, except for President Truman himself.

A good bet is that General Spaatz will follow the example of General Patton and "Vinegar Joe" Stilwell, who have emphatically refused to run for Congress on the ground of their complete divorce from politics.

Bauer's Radio Shop Has New Location

Frank Bauer, returned Navy chief, has moved his store of electrical supplies, radios and phonographs from its Magnolia Avenue location to 118 North Park Avenue. This gives him much extra space for radio repair, with a separate repairman having a separate booth. The sales room presents a novel panelling in pink, which, when fixtures arrive, will be lighted indirectly. A special room is being reserved for television exhibition, if and when this becomes available to Florida, which Mr. Bauer predicted, ought to be by next Fall.

Mr. Bauer's staff includes Ralph Betts, Everett Hoover, David Howard, in the radio repair division and Mrs. Marion Keeling in charge of the office and sales.

CHINESE TRAGEDY

Baby Feds Whip Giant Mainland Eleven, 13-19

Continued from Page One. Buccaneers touchdown. When they tried to run the extra point, McClelland was called behind the line of scrimmage. The score was Daytona Beach 12, Sanford nothing. Daytona kicked off to Sanford and Alexander returned the ball to the left half for the local and promptly picked up five yards. Alexander came around left end for five more. Percy went around right end for 36 yards and it was a first down for Sanford on Daytona's 30. Percy started around his right end again but suddenly faded deep and tossed a long aerial from the 20 yard line and Bill Jennings, Sanford left end, took the catch in the midst of several Buccaneer backs and broke away for a touchdown. Percy then smashed over right tackle for the extra point. The score at this point was Daytona Beach 12, Seminole seven. Sanford kicked off to Daytona Beach and shortly recovered a fumble on the Buccaneer 37 yard line. Percy and Alexander went to work again, skirting one end after another until the ball was resting on the Daytona Beach five and the big husky Buccaneers were resting all over the field, completely outplayed and beaten down by the greatest scrapping Sanford football team.

HOW MANY JOBS HAS A FLORIDA PINE? ... Hundreds of industrial uses have been found for this most versatile tree and the book is not yet closed. Science is discovering new and important ways to turn Florida pine into useful products. THE TREE THAT OFFERS A GREAT FUTURE FOR FLORIDA! Florida has 26,000,000 acres of forest land, most of it suitable for pine. Properly developed, Florida pine should form the foundation of a golden prosperity as it contributes to Florida's industrial empire. ... and NOW, EVEN SAWDUST HEAPS BUILD PROFITABLE INDUSTRIES!

WOOD BECOMES SUPER-WOOD IN LAMINATES AND PLYWOOD. Revolutionary methods, perfected in wartime, are now available for production of postwar civilian goods. New types of plywood are fire and water-proof and when metal surfaced and backed, are as tough and shock-resistant as armor plate. It has a greater versatility and worth than actual solid wood. Its uses are manifold. Just as sensational is the development of laminated woods, just as widespread its use and Florida pine is ideal for both plywood and laminates. And now sawdust and other scrap material converted into sawdust, can be commercially profitable. Machines now in operation convert the sawdust into briquettes for fuel and into other industrial products. Florida pine, long a source of wealth in the lumber industry, is vastly more valuable now. Our investigations indicate profit possibilities exist in Florida in laminating wood and plywood production, as well as in conversion of sawdust and waste into commercial products. Abstracts on new products from Florida wood, especially prepared for us by the Research Division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, are available from any Florida Power & Light Company manager. ## FASHION SHOW IS PRESENTED BY YOWEL COMPANY AT RITZ THEATER

The fashion show sponsored by the Yowel Company, vocal selections and orchestra numbers highlighted the program of entertainment which was presented at the Ritz Theater Wednesday evening. A packed house of spectators and band buyers enthusiastically received the show. The music was furnished by the Sanford Naval Air Station orchestra and Mrs. W.H. Smith described the gowns worn by the fashion models as follows:

Opening the revue was Miss Daphne Connelly in a long, multi-colored, fur-trimmed coat for any festive occasion in winter. She wore a smart, dark, long-sleeved, multi-colored, fur-trimmed coat for any festive occasion in winter.

Mrs. Anne MacNeill, Mrs. Tom Holt and Mrs. Judy Partin directed the fashion show, the music was furnished by the Sanford Naval Air Station orchestra and Mrs. W.H. Smith described the gowns worn by the fashion models as follows:

Mrs. Cecelia Truluck modeled a smart, dark, long-sleeved, multi-colored, fur-trimmed coat for any festive occasion in winter. She wore a smart, dark, long-sleeved, multi-colored, fur-trimmed coat for any festive occasion in winter.

Mrs. James H. Tangeman looked striking in a Paula dress, two piece grey and black wool. This all-purpose casual was fashioned with a cut out neckline, soft peplum and pencil slim skirt. She wore a fascinating black felt with high crown, broad brim and veil.

There was magic in the colors of the nubby wool boucle dress worn by Mrs. Betty Cutalo. The predominant violet shade was accentuated by the chartreuse and fuchsia bands on the bodice. Mrs. Cutalo wore a grey crushed tulle trimmed with colors to match her outfit.

Paula Brooks was the designer of a graceful silhouette in grey which was modeled by Miss Oleda Dyson. Pearl-grey buttons gleamed against the soft textured wool dress which gave the flattery of deep-winked sleeves and Madras neckline. She added a finishing touch to her costume with a matching cloche.

Miss Connelly appeared again in a youthful looking two-piece lime wool created by Barbara Brooks. The pockets of the cardigan style jacket were decorated with small lime flowers encircled in medallions of brown lace. Her attire was completed with a brown felt off-the-face hat adorned with matching feather trim.

Off for a holiday tea was Miss Carol Skinner in a gay checked taffeta skirt, fashioned with a black crepe bodice, which was repeated in the taffeta trim. A black felt added the finishing touch to the attractive costume.

Typical of Yowel's fashion center was the outstanding ensemble of Miss Truluck which consisted of a classic party-colored gabardine dress, fashioned with bell sleeves, one of which had dramatic trim in contrasting black, with the same trim being repeated on the waist of the dress. An exciting touch was the stitched taffeta hat with stove pipe crown and Casablanca brim.

A master at picking fashion winners, Mrs. Freeman chose a "de" dress of large wool suiting. Her straight skirt was cinched at the waist in black crepe and accentuated again on the at darts. She wore a dashy, chic chapeau designed with a high pinched crown.

Miss Dyson appeared again in a black crepe, vivid with dramatic contrasts of blue and tulle for after dark appeal. She topped her ensemble with an elegant loop shawl black kid ski coat. If you like to new hats like a glider to air, you liked the exciting black off-face one she wore.

Commanding special attention was Mrs. Tangeman in a frothy, girly, turquoise wool suiting skirt. The effective black, mid-length trim on the skirt lent a touch of glamour. She modeled a pert black and turquoise felt.

Significant of every day and dressy was the ingeniously tailored three piece moss green wool suit modeled by Mrs. Cutalo. Her ensemble was completed with a soft cerule lace dickey and a contrasting brown off-the-face hat cleverly done with green feather trim.

Miss Dyson appeared in a startling chartreuse afternoon dress designed with flattering simplicity at the neckline and on the graceful peplum. An eye catcher was the black felt with a wide chartreuse brim and veil.

So fresh and youthful looking was Miss Skinner in a winter white rabbit's hair wool. The bodice was fashioned with gay scallops in alternating colors of red, blue, and green.

Miss Connelly was a picture in a black sheer with scintillating yoke of black sequins. This typical tea-dancing attire was complemented with a sequin butterfly in her hair.

Soft sea-green was combined with daring black to create a splash of color in the Paula Brooks Jersey worn by Mrs. Freeman. The left short sleeve was ingeniously fashioned with matching self-covered buttons from the neckline down.

Like an atomic bomb on America's playground this season will be the startling six-piece play suit modeled by Mrs. Tangeman and Miss Truluck. The complete

With JULIAN STENSTROM. The day of miracles is definitely not over. Last night's win by the Baby Feeds over Mainland's Baby Buccaneers proved it. In all the years we have been covering local football activities we have never seen any Sanford eleven fight, scrap and give their all as did those kids out there last night against a team that was an all-around better ball club than the varsity Feeds faced when they beat Leesburg night before last. You don't have to take our word for it either. Ask any local fan who Retonza Promptly Relieved Distress From Indigestion And His Food Gives Him Strength, Now Says Mr. Vinzant, Suez's Restfully And Feels Fine.

"Retonza gave me more relief than everything else I tried combined," gratefully declares Mr. Walter E. Vinzant, well-known retired farmer and stock raiser, residing on R.F.D. 2, Box 136-A, Lake City, Florida. Mr. Vinzant was born and reared in Columbia County, discussing Retonza he happily stated:

sons from constipation and I had to take harsh laxatives all the time. I hardly knew what a night of restful sleep was like and at times I felt so weak that even my nerves seemed like they would go to pieces.

"Retonza promptly gave me the relief I had been searching for. My appetite is splendid, my food gives me strength and I sleep restfully. The sluggish circulation and toxic feeling also are relieved and I feel better and stronger than in years. Everybody ought to know about Retonza." Retonza is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitution. Today we're going to discuss the baseball situation as it has progressed along from day to day. Here's the latest report.

The other night in St. Augustine they had a club organization meeting but things didn't pan out to well because some people couldn't see putting out a little money to get the club started. It's our honest opinion that St. Augustine is just now beginning to miss their former benefactor, Freddy Francis. Freddy used to have tough sledding in St. Augustine with the Saint fans who delighted in giving Francis the devil when his club didn't produce world winners.

So, the St. Augustine situation may give Sanford just a few more percentage points in the possibility of being able to enter a club in the Florida State League. Sanford is familiar with the old "ery" for funds and there is no doubt that we'll be able to raise more than enough money if we do enter the loop.

However, John Krider came in this morning and wanted us to point out that the meeting slated for tonight will not include a request for funds. The confab this evening is to discuss our chances of entering a club and to organize a baseball association so that appointed representatives can meet with league officials in Leesburg on Dec. 16, and not the self-appointed delegation consisting of John Krider, Ed Whittner and your humble reporter.

In other words, tonight you can leave your pocketbook home and still play an active part in the organization procedure. Fans, this will mean a great deal for Sanford and its summer recreational program. Sanford is a good baseball town and that's something we don't argue about. There are a lot of people who will get a great amount of enjoyment from Sanford's participation in the league. If the Florida State League operates, Sanford has got to be in it. We have two fights on our hands. The first is to get into the loop and the second is to get organized and get plans for operation somewhat underway prior to Jan. 1.

Sanford is about the best baseball town in Central Florida and the folks over in DeLand, Orlando and Leesburg know it and they're fighting for us too. If John Krider in Orlando goes to bat for us the way he did last Sunday at the loop meeting, we can at least attend that meeting tonight at the City Hall. We have a good ball park. We understand some work needs to be done on the lighting system, according to Dentzel Stafford, but this can be ironed out tonight.

SUCHT SHOTS... Coach George Kettles told us the other day that he'll have a better club next season than this year and went on to predict that his 1947 machine will be even better than the '46 eleven. George Andrews, the former Palatka outfielder and great State League hitter, is working at the Base in Orlando and doesn't know if he'll return to baseball as a manager or not. He says he's finished as a player. Here's wishing Ed Whittner lots of luck in the Orlando Open. We wish the high school would clean up that press box at the football field. Hats off to Joe Moss who has been doing a fine job promoting athletics for the Lions Club but it's too bad that some of Joe's brother Lions don't give him a hand with that tough assignment.

Gen. Marshall Warned Short Of Jap Action

Sherman Testifies Short's Answer To Message A totally Inadequate Reply

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—The Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee heard startling new testimony today about the events immediately preceding the Japanese sneak attack.

Major General Sherman A. Miles said that Lieut. General Walter C. Short made what Miles called a "totally inadequate" reply to a war warning message from Washington. General Miles, who was head of the Army Intelligence Division in 1941, said General Short's reply was made on Nov. 28, 1941.

Just before General Miles made his statement, Democratic Representative Bayard Clark of North Carolina cited evidence to the effect that general George C. Marshall sent a warning to General Short on Nov. 27. Clark said General Marshall, then Army Chief of Staff, warned the Army commander in Hawaii that hostile action was possible at any moment. Clark said General Short also was warned to take reconnaissance and such other measures as might be deemed necessary.

The files show a reply from General Short the next day saying that the Hawaiian department had been alerted to prevent surprise.

General Miles was asked by Congressman Clark whether he considered it an adequate response. General Miles suggested that the question be directed to officers who had the message. Clark insisted that Miles give his opinion.

Then General Miles said: "Very well, sir, my opinion is that the message was a totally inadequate reply to the message it purported to reply to."

Earlier the affidavit as to the warning messages was filed with the committee.

Bond Drive Nears End With County Short Of Quota

With the end of the Victory Bond drive only a few days away, Seminole County is still far short of its E-Bond goal of $174,000 the quota set, according to Edward F. Lane of the County Finance Committee.

E-Bond sales to date amount to $69,975 in the county, which amount is 37 percent of the goal, a gain of only one percent during the past week.

Seminole County now is 23rd in the list of counties in E-Bond sales. Okechobee, Baker and Union Counties head the list with completed quotas.

Mr. Lane today announced that bond buyers may apply to either bank or the Post Office and obtain tickets for the Victory Bond Rally at Winter Park High School Friday evening at 8:15 clock to hear the noted authors, Bennett Cerf, Louis Bromfield, Fannie Hurst and Carlton Dickson speak. This county will get credit for any bonds purchased by those who intend to go to this rally, he said.

A Mercedes Benz, 1943 model, the former private car of Herman Goering, Nazi leader and air force chief now on trial, will be shown in Sanford on Dec. 10. The convertible sedan, bullet proofed with armor plate and thick non fracturing glass weighs 3,200 pounds and will be towed here by an Army low vehicle.

It will be accompanied by a staff sedan, with three MPs and two other combat men.

Plans For Local Baseball Club Are Formulated

Enthusiastic Group Of Fans Present At Meeting Friday

BY JULIAN STENSTROM
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

Plans for the operation of a local baseball club were formulated at a meeting of local baseball fans who met at the City Hall.

The group outlined a program which will be put into action immediately. Plans for the operation of a local baseball club were formulated at a meeting of local baseball fans who met at the City Hall.

With the end of the Victory Bond drive only a few days away, Seminole County is still far short of its E-Bond goal of $174,000 the quota set, according to Edward F. Lane of the County Finance Committee.

E-Bond sales to date amount to $69,975 in the county, which amount is 37 percent of the goal, a gain of only one percent during the past week.

Nazis Planned Czech Seizure Early As 1937

Documents Presented Show Germany And Hungary Prepared To Split Nation

KUERNBERG, Dec. 3. (AP)—The German Army high command plotted as early as 1937 to invade and seize Czechoslovakia two full years before Germany's final neighbor fell victim to the second world war.

This was unfolded today, as the American prosecution began its presentation to the Allied military tribunal documents relating to the German conquest of the Czech nation. The evidence was introduced at the opening session of the third week of the trial of 20 German leaders on war crimes charges.

Czechan official documents disclosed that Adolf Hitler declared on May 13, 1938, that it was his unalterable decision to smash Czechoslovakia by military force in the near future. This was four months before the notorious Munich "Peace in Our Time" pact and a year before the Germans goose-stepped into Prague.

The American prosecution told how a month after the Austrian Anschluss in March, 1938, Hitler conferred with German high command chief Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel on the plan for the subjugation of the Czech nation.

The plan was transmitted to the German army, navy and air force commanders showed, however, that the Munich pact may have started off war for a year. This directive told the Nazi commanders will execute the plan to seize Czechoslovakia "must be assured" not later than Oct. 1, 1938.
